SUI's Chinese Worried About Lack of News

No Word from Home Since Cities Occupied

By SHUREI HIROZAWA

Many of SUI's Chinese students are wearing worried looks these days because of a lull in news from China.

Reports from Communist-occupied China have been nil for more than a month now and no one knows how soon news will start trickling out to the west.

All of the Chinese students interviewed on campus yesterday said they have not heard from home for more than a month, or since their homes have been occupied by the Communists as in the case of Nanking and Hangchow.

Word from Shanghai

Focal point now in the China war is Shanghai, where some Communist armies were within approximately eight miles of the city yesterday. Latest reports from Shanghai were received yesterday by the students in Quadrangle Cottage 21 from a former cottage mate who quit school in mid-semester and went home.

Ja Hwan Jean, who was a graduate student in hydraulics here until he left school in March, wrote that Shanghai was "marvelously calm." His letter was postmarked May 8.

Jean said he found the city as "high-pitched" as before he left to come to this country. The war-created speed and abandonment in living were still there, he said.

Streets Crowded

The streets were crowded with vehicles, money was floating around freely and money trading was very profitable for those dealing in it, he explained.

Nationalist soldiers were stationed around the suburban perimeter of the city, Jean said, adding that he thought Shanghai could hold out for a while.

Chi Tung Wang, graduate student from Hangchow, heard from his father last week just before the city fell to Communists on May 4.

Nationalist troops were evacuated and the city was taken without a fight, according to his father's letter, Wang said. Students at the National Chekiang university in Hangchow, where his father is a professor, organized themselves to keep order in the city after the soldiers withdrew, Wang's father wrote.

Letters Uncertain

Now Wang doesn't know when he will hear from his folks again. It won't be until Communist China and the United States establish relations, he believes. Hangchow is the southern anchor in the Nanking-Shanghai-Hangchow triangle.

Two graduate students from Nanking have heard nothing from home since Nanking fell shortly after the peace attempt between the Nationalist and Communist governments failed.

Kwelin Wang, working for his master's degree in sociology, said he has heard nothing from his parents and doesn't expect to until relations are established between the Communists and this country. In a letter written before the occupation, his father mentioned nothing about the political situation, probably because of fear the letter might be intercepted, Wang said.

Hears Nothing

Hsieh C. Hsu said he has heard nothing since the occupation and doesn't know when he will hear from his parents.

John Kwan, G. Peiping, said his father wrote him when the temporary truce was established between the Communists and this country.

Steelworkers Union Asks Fourth-Round Pay Hike, Pensions

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO united steelworkers yesterday formally asked for a fourth-round pay boost for 706,000 workers.

The demand for an unspecified wage increase—plus social benefits including pensions—was made in letters to 835 steel companies. The letters said the union "desires to negotiate."

As the letters went out, industrial and labor executives waited for reaction from the U.S. steel corporation and other steel industries. What happens in steel often provides the answer to what happens in industry generally.

First Fourth Round

The demands of the steelworkers are the first formally served on industry for a fourth-round pay boost.

However, other big CIO unions are falling in line and John L. Lewis, head of the independent United Mine Workers, has served notice he wants more benefits for his half-million soft coal diggers. As usual, Lewis hasn't specified just what his demands are.

Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the United Steelworkers, hasn't indicated just what wage increases he wants. And he hasn't specified just what pensions he desires for the men who make steel.

Wanted Pensions

Murray long has wanted pensions for his CIO members. And some people believe he won't be satisfied unless he gets at least as much, if not more, than the miners are paid.

Formal notification by the steelworkers was taken to conform to the 60-day notice required in existing contracts. Under provisions of the contracts, the companies and the union are required to begin negotiations within 30 days.

N.Y. Tunnel Lane Still Blocked

NEW YORK (UP)—One of the two lanes in the Holland tunnel linking Manhattan and New Jersey still was blocked to traffic yesterday as the result of the chemical explosion and fire which sealed the tunnel, destroyed 10 trucks and injured 70 persons.

Authorities estimated the damage to the Manhattan-bound lane of the tunnel at $500,000 to $1-million. Investigations were underway to determine whether there had been any negligence on the part of tunnel employees or the owners of the truck which was carrying the chemical.

Repairmen worked around the clock to repair the tunnel and unsharpen the worst American Telephone tie-up in history. The New Jersey bound lane of the $47-million tunnel was opened to two-way traffic until the damaged half of the tunnel could be repaired.

"It was the worst tunnel accident that I know of," said Austin J. Tobin, executive director of the port of New York authority, which operates the tunnel.

Artillery Fire Heard Inside City

SHANGHAI (SUNDAY) (AP)—Chinese Communist troops today appeared to have fought into Shanghai's main defense ring and were a scant 10 miles from Woosung, the city's escape to the sea.

Shelling could be seen from skyscrapers. Artillery and demolition blasts, punctuated by machinegun fire, could be heard clearly in downtown Shanghai as the battle raged less than 10 miles from the city at some points.

The Communists were trying by night to move down on Woosung from their positions hardly 10 miles away on the west. If they seize Woosung, Shanghai is bottled up by sea. It stands guard over the Whangpoo river, which carries Shanghai's shipping to the broad Yangtze.

Of the two-pronged attack the Communists are directing at Shanghai, the northwest one is the most persistent. It also appears the Nationalists are fighting back determinedly in that area.

The morning brought no very specific reports from the battle ground, which can be seen from Shanghai's tall buildings. There was nothing new on the southwest front, where the Communists at their most advanced point once got within 10 miles of vital Lungwha air field.

The fighting on the northwest was confused and fluid.

She Was Pinned At an Early Age

They're starting to "pin" them early these days.

College students' custom of pinning fraternity pins to those of the opposite sex as a method of indicating who belongs to whom received a new twist yesterday.

A Riverdale village housewife, used to the wanderings of her daughter, Susan, 2, pinned an express ticket to Susan's playsuit and sent her out to play.

The writing on the ticket said, in effect: I am the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fuller, 473 Riverdale village. If I get lost, please take me home.

Tenant Serves Garlic To Fido, Both 'Put Out'

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A tenant faced eviction yesterday because he fed garlic to his landlord's dog.

Charles Baumgartner admitted giving the dog garlic, but he told the judge he did it to tone up the animal's system.

The case was adjourned with a recommendation from the judge that Baumgartner find a new place to live.

Experts Forecast $3-Billion Federal Deficit Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Experts who advise congress on taxes figured yesterday that the government will run up a $3-billion deficit in the next fiscal year which begins July 1.

They used the presidential budget estimates on expenditures. President Truman, in his budget message last January, estimated that outgo would exceed income by only $900-million in those twelve months.

The government has a national debt of more than $251.5-billion right now. The congressional tax advisers said they believe the government's income will fall off with a "moderate" business decline next year.

The flow of tax money into the treasury fluctuates pretty much with the rise and fall of individual and corporate earnings, because of the income tax.

British Arrest Gerhart Eisler On Polish Ship

SOUTHAMPTON, ENGLAND (AP)—Gerhart Eisler, fugitive Communist from the United States, was arrested and carried off the Polish ship Batory last night by four beefy British policemen.

The squat, spectacled Communist who jumped $23,500 bail in the United States, where two prison sentences are hanging over him, was carried into the tiny cabin of the tender Romsey.

After a swift run from the Batory's anchorage to the Southampton docks, he was taken ashore without undue protest. Hatless and wearing a brown jacket, he was led down the gangplank by Inspector W.E. Bray of Scotland Yard in an apparently resigned frame of mind.

He was hustled into a black limousine and sped away.

Earlier, during a conference in the Batory Captain Jan Cwiklinski's cabin prior to Eisler's arrest, a representative of the Polish embassy in London protested strongly.

Polish Protest

A Pole identifying himself as J. Panski of the embassy staff said he would report the incident to his chief.

"We are going to London to report all that has happened to the ambassador, Mr. Jerzy Michalowski," he said. "Mr. Eisler has made a long and strong statement, which we must submit to the ambassador."

Newspaper reporters and photographers were able to view the arrival of the tender with Eisler, although the small vessel had changed coasts in an apparent last-minute effort to give them the slip.

Those who witnessed the transfer of Eisler from the Batory to the tender said four policemen picked him up — one at each arm and one at each leg — and carried him down three flights of stairs through the main lounge and down the gangway to the tender.

Sat Calmly

After that Eisler was described as having sat calmly in the small captain's cabin on the tender smoking a cigaret.

He was not handcuffed when brought off the tender, but Inspector Bray walked sideways holding both of Eisler's wrists. Other policemen surrounded the Communist.

Stowaway

GERHART EISLER

CAPT. CWIKLINSKI

London said the fugitive would be held in Southampton overnight and then taken to the Bow street jail and magistrate's court in London today to face extradition proceedings to the United States.

Southampton police reported a slightly different schedule. They said Eisler would spend the weekend in jail at the Southampton civic center and then appear in Southampton magistrate's court today, when an application would be made for his removal to the Bow street magistrate's court in London.

Warrant

Bow street is the only magistrate's court in England empowered to deal with applications for extradition.

The warrant on which Eisler was arrested police said, was issued under the extradition act of 1870. It was sworn out at the request of the United States.

Eisler's bail bond, which authorities say he forfeited by leaving the country, was posted by the Civil Rights congress. The organization is listed as "subversive" by U.S. Attorney General Tom Clark.

Eisler slipped aboard the Batory as a stowaway just before the ship left New York on her regular run to Gdynia, Poland, by way of Southampton and Copenhagen, Denmark.

After the ship sailed, Gdynia American line officials said, he made himself known and paid his fare to Gdynia. He was reported trying to reach Germany by way of Poland to take a job as a professor of social science in the University of Leipzig, in the Soviet zone.

Poor Aim, Injuries For Human Missile

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Henry Du Bois, 31-year-old human cannon ball was injured yesterday when his "trigger man" aimed the cannon incorrectly.

Usually Du Bois is shot over a ferris wheel into a net. Yesterday, the man behind the gun forgot to figure the wind resistance, and Du Bois went sailing over the net while several hundred spectators at the W.W. DuMont carnival watched.

Du Bois missed the net by only a few inches and the ropes which hold it broke his fall. Doctors said he was badly bruised, but that his condition was not serious.

Wants Ching To Come into Speedup Feud

DETROIT (AP)—The federal government was asked by union officials to intervene in the 10 day Ford strike after another peace parley failed yesterday.

The CIO united auto workers asked Cyrus S. Ching, director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, to step into the production speedup dispute.

UAW President Walter Reuther in a telegram to Ching said the dispute was "no nearer settlement than on the day the strike began."

No Comment

There was no immediate comment from Ford on the union request.

Virtually all the company's 106,000 production workers have been idled by the walkout of 65,000 at two plants May 5.

The negotiations were recessed until tomorrow.

Reuther said the company and union agreed to meet today if desired by either side.

Reuther said he would be attending a meeting of the CIO executive board in Washington starting tomorrow. In his absence UAW Secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey will lead the union negotiators.

Reuther said the company had rejected two proposals both of which he said "represent a common-sense practical approach" for settling such disputes.

Offer Rejected

One UAW offer was made only two hours before the walkout. The other, made Friday, was turned down as yesterday's five-hour negotiating session got underway.

This last proposal asked the company to maintain constant assembly line speed, "adequate and properly distributed manpower," and would not require workers to make up for production lost through "no fault of their own."

Company negotiators turned down the UAW peace bid and presented a counter-proposal.

Ford insisted that the speedup dispute be settled by arbitration. The union has refused to submit the issue to an arbitrator.

Subpoena Six Chicago Profs

CHICAGO (AP)—Six University of Chicago professors, including Atomic Scientist Harold C. Urey, were called upon by a state legislative commission yesterday to answer charges of Communist-front membership.

Subpoenas were issued for the six professors to appear before the Illinois seditious activities commission next Thursday. Laird Bell, president of the board of trustees, was "invited" to appear with them.

The professors are Harold C. Urey, one of the nation's top atomic scientists; Sociologist Ernest W. Burgess; Wayne McMillen, professor of social service administration; Rexford Guy Tugwell, political scientist; Malcolm Sharp, professor of law, and Robert J. Havighurst, professor of education.

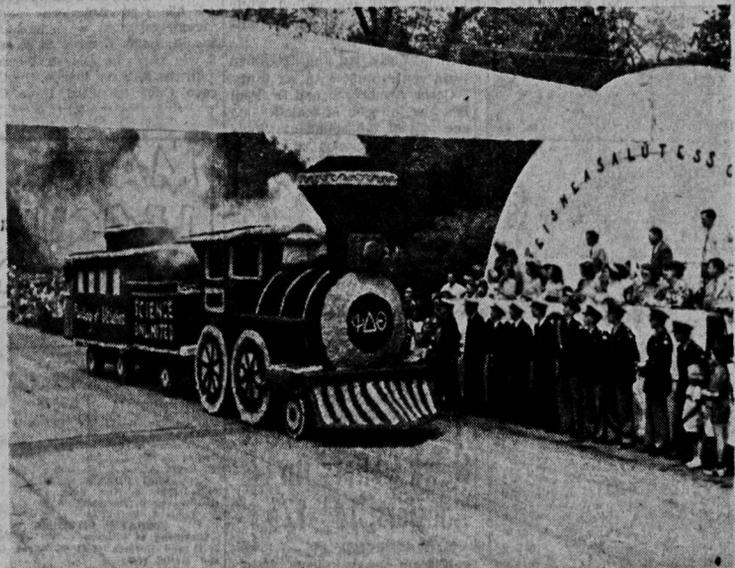

At Springfield, Ill., State Sen. Paul W. Broyles, chairman of the investigating commission, acknowledged that the subpoenas "probably weren't necessary." The men had expressed a desire to defend themselves before the commission.

They were accused by Howard Rushmore, writer for the New York Journal-American, of belonging to Communist front organizations. Rushmore testified before the commission at Springfield last month.

Iowa Edges Badgers, 7-6, To Sweep Series

Pinky's Catch Snuffs Rally

By NEAL BLACK
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

A one-handed, leaping catch by Shortstop Pinky Primrose pulled a baseball game out of the fire in the ninth inning for Iowa yesterday as the Hawkeyes achieved their first series-sweep of the Big Nine season with a 7-6 win over Wisconsin.

Yesterday's win puts Iowa in a tie with Indiana for second place in the conference. The victory followed a 3-2, 10 inning decision by the Hawkeyes Friday behind Jack Bruner.

The Hawkeyes had to call on Bruner again yesterday, this time in a relief role to take over for starter Wes Demro in the seventh inning. Demro got credit for the win.

After Iowa had built up a 6-1 lead Wisconsin got four of them back in the sixth and seventh and threatened to pull out ahead till Primrose stopped the show in the ninth.

A pinch-hit triple by Thornton Kipper led off the Wisconsin ninth. After one was out, a double by Warren Bohnhoff brought the Badgers within one run. Then Bob Shea hit a sharp liner between third and short.

Primrose went far to his right, leaped, snagged the ball and threw from a sitting position to double Bohnhoff at second and ended the game.

The ace of the Badger staff, Floyd Leve, started on the mound but gave way to John Tennant after the Hawkeyes had scored four runs in the second inning.

Demro gave way to Bruner on the mound for the Hawkeyes after Wisconsin had got to him for two runs in the sixth and another pair of tallies in the seventh.

The Badgers were without the services of Charley Lowe, who played a brilliant game at shortstop for Wisconsin Friday. It was learned yesterday that Lowe broke a bone in his ankle when he slid into second base in the eighth inning Friday. He played the rest of the game on what he thought was a sprained ankle Friday.

Both teams were hitting the ball hard yesterday as the Badgers collected three triples and a double and George Hand and Murland Moran tripled for the Hawkeyes.

Iowa tallied a run in the second inning to take the lead on singles by Hand and Primrose and then came back to get more in the third.

After one was out in the third, Demro singled, John Tedore walked and Jack Dittmer was issued an intentional pass to load the bases.

A single by Ed Browne drove in two runs and then Browne and Dittmer worked a double steal to send Dittmer across with the third tally. Hand finished the scoring with a booming triple to score Browne.

The Badgers got one run back in the fourth on a triple and a single but the Hawkeyes retaliated in the same frame with a run on a walk to Primrose, Moran's single and an infield out.

A single, a triple and two errors accounted for two Badger runs in the sixth. A single, an error and another single gave Wisconsin another pair of runs in the seventh before Bruner took over for Demro and put out the fire.

Iowa scored what proved to be the winning run in the seventh with the aid of a couple of Badger errors. Bruner led off and was safe when the Wisconsin first baseman evidently forgot what the game was about. Bruner dribbled an easy one to the pitcher who threw to first but the first sacker watched the ball sail past his ear and Bruner went all the way to second.

Keith Kafer's single sent Bruner sailing around third and into the plate. The catcher was waiting with the ball when Bruner arrived but he dropped it when the Hawkeye pitcher slid into him.

Moran's triple in the eighth went for nothing when he died on third and then Primrose's great catch pulled it out for the Hawkeyes and kept them in the running for a high place in the final conference standings.

Davenport Wins Valley Track Championship

CEDAR RAPIDS — Davenport's Blue Devils gained only one first but parlayed overall team balance to retain their Mississippi Valley Track and Field championship here yesterday, edging a strong Dubuque squad, 89 1-2 — 88 1-2.

Iowa City's Little Hawks captured 30 points for fifth position, 14 1-2 behind Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids and 27 1-2 less than Clinton's River Kings had for third. Wilson of Cedar Rapids was completely shut out.

Boyd Tops 'Gluttons'

Eats Gallon of Ice Cream as Dolphins Consume Nearly 12 Gallons in Annual Contest

SUI's Dolphins downed 11 3-4 gallons of ice cream at the annual Dolphin "Glinton" ice cream eating contest yesterday afternoon at Irving B. Weber's ice cream plant.

John Boyd topped the participants with one gallon while Ervin Straub and Herman Lehman followed with seven pints apiece.

Tom Cady led the freshmen team contestants with six pints. Coach Armbruster and Dr. Paul Brecher, director of athletics, ate one pint of the abundant supply of vanilla ice cream and strawberries while the 1938 champion, Harold Sears, Cedar Rapids, watched the ice cream hungry Dolphins.

The contest has been an annual event for the last 20 years. It all started when Weber, formerly a Dolphin and Iowa's first All-American swimmer, became associated with the ice cream business.

The official championship event is open only to swimmers who have competed in at least one meet. But any Dolphin who has a taste for ice cream is eligible to compete.

Hawk Golfers Tip Hoosiers, 14 1/2-12 1/2

BLOOMINGTON (AP) — Iowa's golf team upset Indiana yesterday, 14 1-2 to 12 1-2. It was the Hoosiers' second loss of the season.

Willard Carlson of Iowa had 70-69-139 for the low score of the day.

Capot Sizzles to Preakness Win

By JOHN CHANDLER

BALTIMORE (AP) — Capot sizzled through a light shower to a new track record yesterday as he won the Preakness stakes by the margin of a damp head in one of the most thrilling finishes in the long history of the classic.

The Greentree stable three-year-old star, second in last week's Kentucky Derby, showed them who was boss this time as he outlasted Isidor Bieber's Palestinian in the drive for the wire in the mile and three-sixteenths event.

Crispin Oglebay's Noble Impulse was third. Calumet farm's Derby winner — Ponder — never got in the act and wound up fifth in the field of nine starters. Mrs. E.H. Ellison Jr.'s Sun Bahram was fourth.

The 73rd Preakness turned into a double photo finish. The judges had to look at the pictures to decide for certain that Capot had the call over Palestinian.

Then they peered at the photographs again to put Noble Impulse officially in third place.

Capot, given a brilliant ride by Toronto Teddy Atkinson, blazed under the wire in 1:56 flat, wiping two-fifths of a second off the track record set by Riverland in the 1943 Dixie handicap.

The time also was a full second faster than the old Preakness record of 1:57 made by Alsab in 1942.

A steaming crowd of 30,184 persons, who first baked in a hot sun and then 27 minutes before post time scurried before a shower, roared approval of Capot. This despite the fact the crowd had made Ponder the favorite at a little better than 2 to 1.

Hawkeye Netmen Defeat Indiana, 5-4

Iowa's tennis team won its first conference dual meet since the war yesterday, slipping by a winless Indiana net team, 5-4. It was the Hoosiers' tenth straight loss.

The Hawks broke even in the six singles matches of the meet but stormed back to win two out of three doubles for the victory.

Senators Tip Red Sox, 5-4

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Scarborough of Washington, who says, "pitching before the president of the United States doesn't make me nervous," proved it emphatically yesterday as he hurled the Senators to a 5 to 4 victory over the Boston Red Sox before Mr. Truman and 18,633 other fans.

Eddie Joost's three-run homer in the eighth broke a 5-5 tie and gave the Philadelphia Athletics an 8 to 5 decision over the league-leading New York Yankees.

Nalon Takes Pole in '500'

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The biggest pre-race crowd in Indianapolis Motor Speedway history — variously estimated at 40,000 to 90,000 — saw all this yesterday:

1. Duke Nalon, Sherman Oaks, Calif., drove his $75,000 Novi Mobil special almost 133 miles an hour to take the pole position for the 500-mile race May 30.

2. Bill Cantrell, Louisville boat racer and salvage driver, set a new 10-mile speedway record of 125.022 miles an hour for a semi-stock car. He drove the bus-engine-powered fageol twin-coach special.

3. The 14 qualifiers were so fast that Mauri Rose of South Bend, the "500" winner the last two years, was shoved clear back to the tenth starting position — the inside of the fourth row.

4. The bottoms fell out of two boxes in grandstand "B," injuring two persons severely and 29 others less seriously. Only 12 people were supposed to be in the boxes.
Leslie Clark, 42, Indianapolis, was listed in serious condition with head injuries. Joseph Moscarella, 30, Hollywood, who had come to Indianapolis to see the race, suffered a fracture of the back.

THIS WEEK'S music

By DONALD KEY

Choral music of Johann S. Bach will be featured by the SUI chorus in a Wednesday evening concert at the Iowa Union this week.

From his great "B Minor Mass," the chorus will sing "Et In carnatus Est," and "Crucifixus." The major work of the evening will be his motet, "Be Not Afraid."

Probably the greatest tribute ever paid to the music of Bach was a remark of Robert Schumann, who said, "Music owes as much to Bach, as religion to its founder."

In English the word "Bach" means "brook," and indeed, music flowed from the pen of Bach as clear water flows down a mountain stream.

His works for chorus included 230 cantatas, 5 sacred oratorios, 7 masses, 21 Latin church services, 4 funeral cantatas, 18 birthday cantatas and 28 motets for double chorus.

Other works by him include 48 preludes and fugues for piano, 18 suites, 39 long and 29 short works for organ, 6 trios, 15 two-part inventions, 15 three part "symphonies," 6 cello sonatas, 6 violin sonatas and a number of pieces entitled "Paritite Diverse."

In his spare time he taught school and brought up an orchestra of children.

His motets are similar to his cantatas in construction, but they differ in intention. The motets were written as funeral music and the cantatas, for the most part, are used for regular and special church services.

It has been said that the "Mass in B Minor" brought a new style to the musical ritual of the church. Actually, it is a combination of three cantatas, entitled, "Kyrie," "Gloria," and "Credo."

The choruses to be done Wednesday night are from the latter part of the work, "Credo."

On the last half of the chorus concert, works by contemporary composers will be featured. "Lenore," by Prof. Philip G. Clapp, and "I Am a Man," by Mitchell Southall, an SUI student, will be of greatest interest to Iowa City audiences.

Darius Milhaud's "Babylon" is included in this group. Prof. Harold Stark, conductor of the SUI chorus, said of this number, "It is full of extreme dissonances, but they are very effective."

The CBS symphony orchestra broadcast this afternoon will present a program of contemporary American music.

Included are: "Chanticleer Festival Overture," by Daniel Gregory Mason; "Concerto for Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon, Harp and Orchestra," by Paul Hindemith; "Symphony No. 4," by Bernard Rogers; and Randall Thompson's "Third Symphony."

The program will be conducted by Thor Johnson, and can be heard over station WMT at 2 p.m.

KXEL Broadcaster To Speak in Union

W. E. Pietsch, who broadcasts regularly over station KXEL at Waterloo, will speak on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," at the Inter-varsity Christian meeting Tuesday.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in conference room one of the Iowa Union, Dorothy Rastovac, A3, Johnston, said yesterday.

Pietsch broadcasts the "Good Night Hour" at 11:15 p.m. every night over station KXEL. He also appears on the "Prophecy Hour and Christian Home Program" every Sunday morning from 7 to 8 a.m.

Truman to Ask Fund to Fight Russ Advance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman will ask congress soon for authority to spend $1.45-billion next year to meet Soviet aggression anywhere in the world, U.S. officials said yesterday.

A state department policy statement on proposed foreign military aid stressed that authority will be sought "to make flexible use emergencies as they arise."

By this, officials said, the administration means "complete flexibility to meet aggression anywhere." It does not want the United States committed to spend any specific amount in any specific country.

The policy statement made it clear that "aggression" would cover internal Communist revolutions as well as outside attacks.

The broad authority sought conceivably also could be used to aid non-Communist China should the administration decide to change its present "hands off" policy.

The state department called the arms program "part of the price we must pay for peace and security." It said the plan was drawn up with an eye to rigid economy. Its cost, it said, is low when compared with its benefits.

It added that this country must bolster not only western Europe, but Greece, Turkey and "certain other nations whose security is important to the United States."

The figure $1.45-billion will, however, be "justified" by the administration on the basis of about $1.1-billion for western Europe, about $250-million for Greece and Turkey, and a $100-million "contingency" fund for use elsewhere.

Read a men's fashion magazine recently and was completely disillusioned by an article on formal evening wear. According to the mag, tuxedos and summer dinner jackets are classified "semi-formal."
If one believes this fashion expert, only tails and those Ascot ties-striped pants affairs are considered truly formal. Before reading this I lived under the delusion that I was completely correct and couldn't be "formal" with my lovely moth-ball laden double-breasted tux.

Now I feel like a regular slob.

Teaching Field Offers Jobs

By PAT LOUNSBURY

Teaching jobs in elementary and high schools are on the minds of many SUI students who are surveying the education field for future positions.

The problems of salary, location, subjects taught and the size of a school are all important points considered by the student who is looking for the best teaching job.

The supply of high school teachers is "beginning to meet the demand," according to Miss Frances Camp, director of the educational placement office at SUI. She pointed out that there is an "undersupply of college and elementary teachers."

"There's a tightening in some areas of high school teaching," Miss Camp said, particularly in men's physical education and in social studies.

Iowa Ranks 29th
The placement office is a service agency for graduates of SUI. Its primary function is "to assist the student and the employing official" in the teaching field, Miss Camp explained.

Iowa ranks 29th among the 48 states in its average annual teaching salaries, according to a report by the Iowa State Education association.

Examples of what prospective teachers in Iowa may expect along the line of wages are given by the ISEA report. For cities with population of 100,000 or over, high school median salaries are $3,885 for men and $3,645 for women. Elementary school wages are $3,370 for women in the larger cities in Iowa. Few men elementary teachers are employed in the state.

On the other end of the salary scale, towns of 1,000 to 2,000 population, the median high school salaries are $3,085 for men and $2,590 for women.

Iver A. Opstad, city superintendent of schools, said he believes Iowa salaries have been steadily rising. The ISEA report lists the average Iowa teaching salary at $2,245 and the national average at $2,631.

Location Important
Ann Rutledge, A4, Des Moines, a senior in elementary teacher training at SUI, has signed a contract with the public schools at Peoria, Ill., for the 1949-50 school year.

Miss Rutledge said yesterday that location was the first item of importance when she began considering a teaching position for next year.

The 21-year-old senior will be married this summer and has planned tentatively to live in the Illinois town. "That's why location was most important," she said.

Eldo Harder, A4, Keystone, is a senior preparing for high school teaching. "The high school field looks very promising to me," he commented yesterday, "and I think it's a good profession."

He has used the placement office, advertisements in newspapers and contacts in the teaching field as aids in finding the best possible position.

Harder said the minimum salary he could accept was from $2,500 to $3,000 in Iowa. He is single and said he intends to obtain a masters degree after he has taught in high school.

No Shortage Relief
The North Central association of colleges and secondary schools recently prepared a report on job futures for teachers.

"No measure of relief from the shortage of well-prepared elementary teachers is yet in sight," the report concluded.

"The shortage of high school teachers is fast disappearing," the NEA summary continued. Thirteen of 17 states, not including Iowa, believe that colleges and universities will qualify more high school teachers than can be employed in September, 1949.

The committee report further reveals that colleges in 19 states will produce fewer four-year trained elementary teachers than in 1941.

Iowa, however, has had an increase in students who will receive four-year degrees in elementary education this year. The 1941 total was 127, while 188 will graduate in 1949.

Local Bank Named Defendant in Suit

The First Capitol National bank, Iowa City, was named defendant in a $889.50 judgment suit filed yesterday in Johnson county district court by Augusta Bogue, Benton county.

The plaintiff claimed she is administratrix of the estate of Mary A. Apitz, and is entitled to reimbursement for the funeral expenses of the deceased.

She claimed the bank, as trustee under the last will and testament of Charles Apitz, has refused to pay the sum asked and refused to recognize her right to participate in the trust.

She asked judgment with interest and costs and an order directing the trustee to pay the judgment out of funds in hand.

Dor Bodicker, Vinton, is attorney for the plaintiff.

TVA Project Tour Open to Sixteen Students

Sixteen SUI students will be able to participate in the YMCA national study tour of the Tennessee valley project. Executive Secretary Ralph Schlomg said recently.

The 14-day trip will be made in Schlomg's travel truck from June 25 to July 7 under the leadership of Schlomg and his wife.

Arrangements have been made for the travelers to stay at Maryville college, Tenn., while they are studying the government-operated TVA project, Schlomg said.

The tour is limited to eight men and eight women. Total cost will be $80 each which includes room and board, transportation, administrative costs and registration fee.

"The tour is an opportunity for intense study of the TVA project and all its implications," Schlomg said.

A trip through the southern states to become familiar with the problems and people of the south will be an added feature. "Sufficient time will be provided for thorough sight-seeing," he said. TVA staff members will act as consultants in seminar groups and on observation tours.

Schlomg said problems to be studied include private vs. public ownership of electric power; rural electrification, flood control and soil conservation, effects on standard of living, implications for private enterprise, and techniques of regional planning under government control.

Application forms are available at the YMCA office.

Iowa Business Decline Same as 1948 Period

Business declined in Iowa during the first quarter of 1949 compared with the same period last year, according to the May issue of the Iowa Business Digest.

The Digest, publication of the SUI bureau of business and economic research, showed bank deposits in 11 Iowa cities dropped 13 percent in the first quarter of 1949.

Sigma Nus Fined For Lilac Spree

Flowers that were never delivered, proved to be mighty expensive for members of the Sigma Nu fraternity yesterday.

It seems that the four fellows decended on the lilac bushes in Cedar Rapids' plaza at 3 a.m. yesterday. They were busy stripping the scented blossoms from the bushes when Patrolmen Ralph Mikesell and Donald Ankney, Cedar Rapids, cruised by.

The flower pickers—Jack Hornady, Des Moines; Edwin Daisley Jr., Chicago, Ill.; Thomas Clithero, Atlantic, and Richard Rost, Janesville, Wis.—were fined $25 each by the Cedar Rapids police court judge.

Fifteen dollars of each fine was suspended but when the men left Cedar Rapids, the flowers were still in the police station and the four men were $40 poorer.

ANALYSIS OF THE WORLD'S NEWS AS —

IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK

Thursday afternoon, I watched a lady buy a pair of shoes. She was walking past a store window in Cedar Rapids, when she spied a pair of green shoes which was just what she had been looking for. These shoes were cut so the wearer's heel and toe would poke out at opposite ends.

After four seconds of rapid deliberation, the lady walked into the store to inquire about the green shoes. If it had been a man, he would have walked in and asked if they had the shoes in his size. Had the shoes fit, he would have purchased them within eight minutes. If they did not fit, he would have walked out of the store sans purchase within four minutes.

WITH WOMEN, however, it is another matter. It was perfectly obvious when the lady inquired about the green shoes in the window that the store did not have them in her size. The salesman smiled and disappeared into a dark closet.

From inside this closet came the thumping sounds of shoe boxes being relieved of their contents, and soon the smile was in front of the lady with seemingly every type and color of shoe in the store except the green ones.

"This is a poor year for green shoes, madame," the smile smiled. He said this in a tone of voice which let you know that anyone who wears green shoes in 1949 will probably be struck dead with a greased bolt of lightning before the summer is out.

"NOW THIS little number is a marvelous shoe. It has a platform sole, and we're having platforms put on all our better shoes this year." Obviously this is one of the better shoes.

The smile held a black, platform-soled, medium-heeled shoe before the prospective buyer as you would hold the Hope diamond. "You will notice the shoe is all kid leather . . . it is even lined with kid leather. Kid is very smart this year." Take cover, goats! This is going to be a bad year on the herd.

The lady protested that it was not heeled nor tooless, and that black didn't seem very summery. "Oh, that kid leather will be very cool," smile replied, placing the shoe on her foot. "Black is definitely a summer color, and this shoe has been 100 percent successful with us."

THAT is a catchy little phrase . . . "100 percent successful with us." It implies that every woman who leaves the store has a pair of these black kid shoes under her arm, and if you don't buy at least one pair, you'll spoil the record.

Everyone else seems to think these shoes come indirectly as a manna from heaven (channeled through a shoe manufacturer, of course), and you'd better get on the band wagon quickly, or some other customer may snatch them from your feet.

THE LADY is still doubtful. She walks to the mirror and cocks an eyebrow. The smile drops to one knee and feels the foot expertly. "Perfect fit . . . looks like it grew there . . . they'll certainly give you the utmost in comfort . . . give you a lot of support, don't they?"

Well, they may give a certain amount of support, but not as much as that "lot of support" tone implies. The lady won't exactly throw her foundation garment in the garbage can if she buys the shoes.

HOW MUCH are they, the lady asked. Now we're on the back stretch. This deal is going to come to a head soon.

"Fifteen ninety five," replied smile, adding quickly, "if you want a lot of comfort, there's the shoe that'll give it to you . . . smart looking too . . . platform soles are marvelous . . . greatest thing in shoe history . . . kid lined . . . a spring shoe which can also be worn in fall and winter . . . 100 percent successful . . . we certainly need rain, don't we?"

Still no decision. He's getting desperate. "Madame, those are the only shoes in the house that'll fit you."

Well, why didn't he say so? Wrap 'em up. Do we need rain?

Cold War

Blockade Is Lifted; Constitution Approved

The Berlin blockade—greatest battle of the cold war—ended Thursday with the Russians throwing in last minute restrictions on traffic through the area. However the move was only a face-saving gesture for easterners trying at the last minute to stop ratification of the North Atlantic defense pact.

Wary western powers kept the airlift going full blast, and figures proved the tag end of the week one of the busiest days for the airlift boys. Revised figures of the U.S. airforce showed 55 Americans, Britons and Germans killed in airlift operations since the service started last June. Total operation time: 328 days.

Evidence for senate ratification of the North Atlantic defense pact mounted this week as Senators Tom Connally and Arthur H. Vandenberg turned down invitations from State Secretary Dean Acheson to accompany him to the big four foreign ministers meeting in Germany.

The senators said they preferred to stay here and push for senate approval of the pact.

At about the same time Great Britain became the first major power to ratify the pact—Canada was the first nation—Progressive Party leader Henry Wallace told a press conference the pact would cost much more than Acheson's $1-billion first year estimate.

He labelled the agreement the Atlantic "war" pact, because if the "United States is going to ship arms to Europe, I don't see how we can help but regard it as anything but a war pact."

Secretary Acheson came out flatly opposed to Spain's diplomatic recognition, and Michigan's Vandenberg and others joined him. Vandenberg also asserted he was against Spain's entry into the pact.

A democratic western Germany seemed in the offing this week as the three western allies approved and a constituent assembly at Bonn, Germany, voted a democratic constitution for a west German republic.

United Nations

UN Votes in Israel As Arabs Walk Out

Israel Wednesday became the fifty-ninth nation to join the UN, and as Israel was voted in, six Arab nations got up and walked out. After sulking until the next day they were in their places when the assembly re-convened.

Israel abstained on her first chance to vote: Dutch-Indonesian dispute discussions. The assembly—in view of the cease-fire agreement reached at Batavia—put off discussions until fall.

UN's social committee approved a draft of the first world convention on international transmission of news and right of correction. Purpose of the draft is to protect correspondents against discrimination in news coverage.

Britain Nationalizes Steel; Princess Visits Pope

Britain's house of commons voted $2.6-billion to nationalize the steel and iron industry. According to the bill's provisions, the labor government would take over all the major steel-producing units in Britain except the British subsidiary of the American-owned Ford Motor company.

A gigantic 97 percent government-controlled corporation would result by May 1, 1950. Significance of the act is that while Winston Churchill's conservative party has been opposing it, socialists have claimed the act would "break the back of private capital."

While the labor party exulted, another battle raged on Britain's home front. Religious leaders in Britain claimed Princess Margaret Rose's visit to see Pope Pius XII was against all tradition since England left the Roman Catholic church. When they protested to the king, Britain's monarch is understood to have told them the visit was his daughter's own business.

China War

Pincer Movement Tried; Nationalists Seek Peace

Pincer movements aimed at nipping off one by one all China's remaining Nationalist garrisons began to converge this week. In the Hankow area, the governments central news agency reported a peace move "in full swing," but details have been lacking.

Early in the week, Chinese Reds were said to be within 20-miles of Shanghai. Twin prongs of the pincer were pointed at Nanchang and Fukien province on the coast.

Canton, Nationalist capital, seems to be the objective of the Communist advances.

Congress

Hint Dixiecrat Purge; Stands Firm on T-H

President Truman named Henry D. Smyth, author of the famed "Smyth report" on the A-bomb, and Gordon Dean, Nazi war trial prosecutor, as members of the atomic energy commission.

A scholarship awarded by the atomic energy commission drew congressional fire when Senator Kenneth McKellar told state department officials the student-teacher exchange program was unnecessary "claptrap."

McKellar's gripe stemmed from a fellowship awarded to Austrian-born Hans Friesdorf, 23-year-old admitted Communist. A Florida congressman charged "Communists and long-haired agitators" with starting fair employment proposals.

Chairman Powell, Negro leader of a house labor sub-committee, smiled broadly at the charge, waved a copy of the administration bill and remarked, "President Truman, wrote, and the chairman of the Democratic party introduced it in the senate."

The chief executive got into more hot water when he made an off-hand remark that there were too many birds (Byrds) in congress. Newsman took the president as he sounded and the capital was rife with rumors about a purge of Dixiecrats in the 1950 congressional elections.

House action passed a bill to census available housing next year and bring out the truth about the housing shortage. The executive committee of the United States Savings and Loan league charged government proposal in congress would spend the "most money for the least shelter." President Truman's huge housing program sailed through a house banking committee on a 14-7 party line vote. Chairman Spence (D-Ky) predicted, "A smashing victory for the administration before the house next week."

Labor

Ford Workers Still Out; Bugas' Baby Stalls Talks

With three more Ford plants closing Wednesday, a total of 152,000 auto workers were out of work because of the strike. Only a 15,000 skeleton crew remained. Even Chrysler laid off men because a plant furnishing window frames was shut down.

A six-pound four-ounce boy stalled negotiations momentarily when John S. Bugas, a chief Ford negotiator, was late while he waited for his wife to give birth to the boy. Bugas passed out cigars and the fruitless negotiations resumed.

Strike fever pervaded all over, it seemed. Several hundred Pan-American employees in Havana, Cuba, went out when the company rejected what it termed "impossible demands." More than a fourth of Dave Dubinsky's garment workers struck four hours in New York paying tribute to a slain labor organizer. Minneapolis bus workers resumed negotiations after two weeks, but nothing was gained by either side.

The Economy

Surpluses Predicted; Wallace Sees Depression

With near-record crop surpluses predicted this year — Iowa will have a probable 305,000 bushel wheat crop — the house passed a bill giving the government authority to provide storage bins for farmers' crops, especially grain. This would keep crop surpluses off the market to prevent glutting, but conservatives in the house shouted "socialism" and passed bitter words about the 1948 presidential campaign.

Meanwhile the agriculture department said the outlook is for more meat at cheaper prices. "Meat production now is generally increasing," said spokesmen. Economist Sumner Slichter declared further price cuts this year were preferable to wage hikes, which "under present conditions, will not be particularly effective in sustaining demands for goods." Price cuts increase the purchasing power of the working man, he declared.

And in San Francisco, Henry Wallace rattled the skeleton in the closet of the 1929 crash and said there was "deep uncertainty" on the west coast. "This isn't the mild recession they talk about in other parts of the country," he warned. California's unemployment boded evil for the nation, he prophesied.

Looking at things from the brighter side, members of the atomic energy commission told President Truman they expected electricity from atomic power to be used on an experimental basis within five years.

State Rests Prosecution In CR Murder Case

Jurors in the Robert C. Rutledge murder trial in Cedar Rapids were promised they would hear Mrs. Sydney Rutledge tell the complete story of her alleged seduction by the murdered Byron Hattman. By the end of the week, the state had presented its full charges. The St. Louis child specialist celebrated his 28th birthday in jail.

Oscar Fetters, 62, was granted his request to stand trial for a murder charge filed against him in 1914.

Robber Slugs Manager, Escapes with $800

An armed robber slugged the manager of a local finance firm after ordering the binding and gagging of a secretary and customer and escaped with nearly $800. He is thought to be the same man who the next day tried to rob a Des Moines money-lending office and escaped after wounding a woman office worker.

The American Association of University Professors took a stand for rent controls and the citizens' committee organized to fight de-control actions.

SUI started on its new library and was visited by the legislature's interim committee who advocated more medical school equipment to turn out more doctors.

A man bought a local car with a bad check and got away, traded it in Davenport and got away with both swindles. Fraternity students went on a fun spree and donated SUI plaster statues to sorority girls.

Names in the News

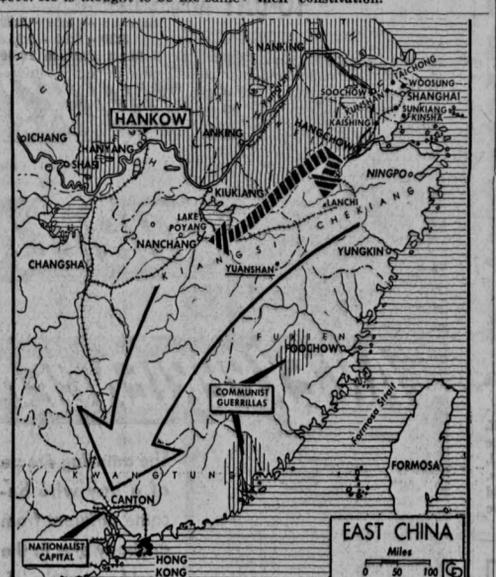

Frank "Boss" Hague, 73-year-old political ruler of Jersey City, N.J., was defeated in a municipal election after 32 years of machine politics.

Francis P. Matthews, Omaha lawyer, was named new secretary of the navy.

Gerhart Eisler, former number one Communist in the United States, tried to skip the country in a Polish freighter. He was stopped when the ship docked in England.

Bonn, birthplace of German composer, Beethoven, was selected as the capital of the new west German republic. The big three approved as a German constituent assembly ratified their constitution.

CHINESE COMMUNISTS tried to squeeze off another bite of Nationalist China last week. Objective: take Canton, the capital.

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to call to your attention an error which was made in quoting me concerning the reason for the Young Progressive sponsorship of the meeting to be addressed by Dr. H.J. Phillips.

The misquote is in the final paragraph of the article in the paper of May 12. It says "The Young Progressives group is sponsoring Phillips because it wants to awaken the campus to the threat to academic freedom as represented by him."

Now I do not consider Prof. Phillips a threat to academic freedom, nor do I feel that the lack of academic freedom in Washington which has resulted in the dismissal of the three professors is of any special kind.

Academic freedom is indivisible. If it is destroyed in Washington, Georgia, New York or Indiana as it has been in recent months by similar firings, then it is a threat to all of us. If it is destroyed for Communists or for supporters of the Progressive party, it threatens all of us. These are the lessons of Hitlerism. Persecution of one "scapegoat" leads to the persecution of all groups which do not follow the dictates of the dominant group.

Therefore, I would appreciate the correction of this error. Herman Schuchman 932 S. Van Buren

The sentence should have read " . . . as represented by his (Phillips) case." —The Editor

Business BRIEFS

Iowa City's second annual Thrift Days ended yesterday after three days of bargains, marching Scottish Highlanders, windows trimmed in Scotch plaid, 4-H style shows, home shows by the merchants and flourishing sales in most of the participating stores.

The 4-H style shows, held Thursday and Friday nights in the Community building, were a "tremendous success" according to Secretary Robert Gaige of the chamber of commerce. The home shows, also held in the Community building Thursday and Friday, weren't so well attended, he said.

SUI's colorful all-girl Scottish Highlanders added to the Thrift Day's Scottish hue when they marched in the downtown area Friday noon.

The Zesto Drive-Inn, now being built west of Iowa City on highway 6, across from Finkbine golf course, will open in about two weeks, Owner Robert Schmitt said yesterday.

The store will feature Zesto "ice-cream," malts and sundaes, Schmitt said.

"Zesto" is an ice cream-like food but is made from a somewhat different formula than ice cream, he said.

"The best way to describe it," Schmitt explained, "is to say that Zesto is to ice cream like coke is to pop."

Schmitt, former manager of the O.K. tire shop in Iowa City, returned here last fall from Texas where he was in business for a year.

Bremers clothing store is now undergoing a complete interior redecorating job, Manager Harold Redquist disclosed yesterday.

The front part of the store is being painted buff, trimmed in rust. The men's clothing section and the offices are being finished in pearl gray, augmented by modernistic black, maroon and gray wall paper, he said.

The location of the Iowa City Surplus store was moved recently from 408 E. College street to the Dunkel hotel building, 4 E. College street.

A full line of shoes and clothing is now being carried in the store in addition to the regular line of army and navy surplus goods, Owner Woodie Abodeely said yesterday.

Abodeely is now in his third year of business in Iowa City.

Little Susie Heeds Dr. Miller's Warning

TEMPTING BUT DIRTY. Two-year-old Susan Schinkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Schinkel, 308 Finkbine park, is taking Dr. Charles Miller's advice against wading in the "dirty water" of the Iowa river. Miller, director of SUI's student health department, Friday warned against the danger of polluted water, broken glass and the swift current. Said Susan: "I can wait. Only about 17 more days and I'll be trying half-gainers in the shallow end of Iowa City's new swimming pool."

Steve Park Wins Fellowship

A former SUI journalism student, Alexander G. (Steve) Park, has been awarded a $3,900 area research training fellowship by the Social Science Research Council in Washington, D.C.

Park's fellowship will permit him to continue research investigations toward his Ph.D. thesis at Columbia university. Included in the fellowship will be the financing of trips to Harvard university, Washington, D.C. and Stanford university for special library work.

STEVE PARK

While at SUI, Park was managing editor of The Daily Iowan and a columnist on world affairs. He received his B.A. and M.A. from SUI in 1946 and 1947 and served as graduate assistant in the journalism department.

His wife, also a former managing editor of The Daily Iowan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Starr, 812 Kirkwood avenue, and a graduate of SUI. Mr. and Mrs. Park have three children, Bob, 5, Steven, 2, and Elizabeth, four months.

Park has been studying in the Russian institute at Columbia university for the past two years. On June 1 he will receive a certificate as a member of the second class to be graduated from the institute.

At Columbia he is studying in

Runaway Car Bags Cars, Tricycles, Hurdles Hedge

Friday-the-thirteenth was a bad day for C. E. Tanberg, 825 N. Johnson street, according to police.

Tanberg's car went visiting during the noon hour Friday, without benefit of driver, and damaged two parked cars, smashed two tricycles, and hurdled a hedge before coming to a stop two blocks from home, police said.

The owner of the wayward vehicle explained that he had parked the car in front of his home, with the gearshift in reverse and front wheels cramped to the curb.

Dr. T. Lyle Carr, associate in internal medicine at SUI, told police the runaway car ran through his front lawn hedge, and struck two tricycles before hitting his parked car, on its downhill jaunt.

Dr. Carr said his car was parked at 527 Ronalds street when the accident occurred at 12:45 p.m.

Police said the Tanberg car also struck a parked car owned by Donald L. Prevo, A2, Bloomington, before it came to a halt.

Estimated damage to Tanberg's car was $100, according to his report. Dr. Carr said damage to his car amounted to about $75.

Many say that an early end to the civil war and power in the hands of one central government would be best for China. They maybe they can hear from home again. As one Chinese student put it, "The people of China are tired of war. All they ask for is peace."

Yunan is close to the Indo-China border where Communist bands are believed to be active.

Many of the Chinese students here feel that the Communists will gain power over the whole country or at least over all the most important regions in a short while. Many reject the Nationalists regime as corrupt but wonder what the Communist rule would be like.

Ching I. Kung, G. Tientsin, also heard from his wife during the temporary truce. His wife said little about conditions there except that the hospital where she works was opened again after the occupation by Communists.

Kwo Tsung Chen, graduate student from Tanshin in the far western province of Yunan, said the last letter from his father said the people there are confused as to the issue at stake between the battling forces.

The letter further stated that nobody can tell what the situation will be in the near future. Since this letter, Chen has written three times to his father without reply. He doesn't know when he will get another letter from home.

Hickenlooper Protests Giving Of Scholarship to Communist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) charged yesterday that the atomic energy commission let a $3,600-a year science scholarship go to a student after its own investigation showed he was a Communist.

The Iowa senator told a reporter he has protested to the commission against this action. But he said that so far as he and other members of the senate-house atomic committee can learn the award has not been cancelled.

Declining to identify the student other than to say that he is enrolled at an eastern university, Hickenlooper said he is prepared to document his charge when the committee opens hearings May 23 on operation of the commission's fellowship fund.

The commission has explained that it does not require advance security checkup of a student when the course involves no atomic secrets. It explained this would menace "freedom of inquiry and education." It said a full investigation is required if the program of study proposed by the applicant involves access to secret data.

The scholarship program, intended to combat the shortage of scientists, is administered by the national research council and the commission does not interfere with its selections, the commission explained. Hickenlooper said, however, that the final decision on awards is the commission's.

Chairman David E. Lilienthal has noted that all who are employed by the commission must pass security tests.

This week, Hans Friestad, North Carolina university student who was awarded a scholarship, acknowledged he was a Communist after this was disclosed to the house by Rep. Cole (R-NY). School officials said Friestad's course is of non-secret nature.

Cole said that the commission had an FBI report on Friestad and the scholarship was granted him "in the face of that fact." Hickenlooper said, however, that his reference was to another student.

University YMCA To Hold 1st Annual Banquet Tomorrow

The first annual banquet of the university YMCA will be held tomorrow in the River room of the Iowa Union, Executive Secretary Ralph Schloming said yesterday.

The general secretaries of all Iowa YMCA's and faculty members, students and alumni have been invited, Schloming said.

"World Order Through World Community," will be the theme of the banquet. Students who will speak on how to prevent a third world war are Bhagwat Singh, India; Jay Zawodny, Poland; Ibrahim Salem, Palestine; Hans Umstetter, Germany, and Yutaka Nakahata, Hawaii.

Board directors taking office will be Rev. John Craig, Congregational church, president; Prof. Manfred Kuhn, sociology department, vice president; Johnson, secretary, and William Coder, veterans service director, treasurer.

Executive board members to take office are Walt McMahon, C3, Clinton, president; Bill Davis, A3, Burlington, vice president; and Tom Burner, A2, Iowa City, secretary.

Sharps and Flats chorus will sing "The Glory of God in Nature," Beethoven, and "For the Beauty of the Earth," Koehler.

Schloming will give the annual report of YMCA activities for the past year.

Banquet reservations should be phoned in to the Y office, Schloming said.

White House Claims Presidential Rebuke Typographical Error

WASHINGTON (AP) — A letter from President Truman that appeared to rebuke Speaker Rayburn and other Democratic house leaders was all mixed up by "typographical errors," the White House said yesterday.

"No slap at any persons was intended," it was emphasized. A picture of the letter, which spoke sharply of "compromisers" on the labor bill in congress, was published in a union newspaper. It mentioned no names.

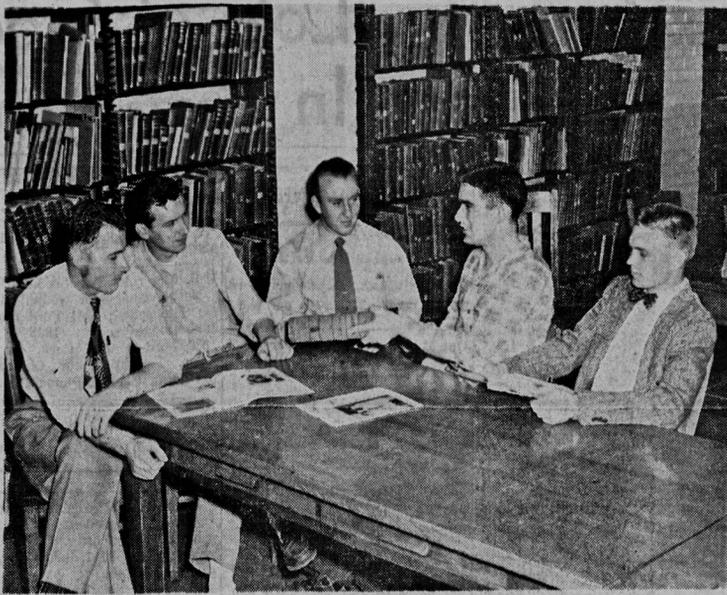

Rayburn and other friends of the President in the house, recently tried, without success, to engineer a compromise to get a Taft-Hartley act repealer through the house.

When the photographic reproduction of the letter was called to the attention of White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross yesterday, he said that he had checked the text of the letter with Mr. Truman and had discovered some "typographical errors."

One paragraph of the communication addressed to A.F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, read: "The compromisers got nowhere, as I was sure they wouldn't, and they never had any consideration whatever for me."

These 19 words contained two errors, Ross said after his huddle with the chief. He said the President meant "compromises" instead of "compromisers," and that the end of the sentence should have been "never had any consideration whatever from (instead of 'for') me."

Ferry to Operate Out of Davenport

ROCK ISLAND, ILL. (AP)—The only ferry operating across the upper Mississippi river will be placed in service between Rock Island and Davenport, probably within a week.

Fred A. Kahlke, veteran river man and boat builder, said yesterday he plans to operate the service using a new fifty-two foot gasoline powered boat. It has a capacity of 50 passengers.

The new ferry will replace the old picturesque "W.J. Quinlan," a double decked stern wheeler, which was condemned two years ago.

Kahlke said ferries formerly operated at Cassville, Wis.; New Boston, Nauvoo and Quincy, Ill.; Louisiana, Mo., and Dubuque and Clinton have all been discontinued in recent years.

Meeting 'Highly Successful' — Collegiate Conference Closes

The two-day All-Iowa Collegiate Conference closed yesterday with the delegates terming the meeting "highly successful" and the SUI sponsoring committee resolving to hold another meeting here next spring.

Highlight of the conference was the banquet Friday at which guest speaker Paul S. Weaver advised delegates that it's time to agree upon a "universal set of values."

Referring to personal experiences gained in Europe, the Stephens college dean said human destiny hangs upon our ability to achieve a set of values which will bring world peace.

Featured during the conference were workshop periods at which students from the participating schools could discuss common problems on student government and campus activities. One section on student cooperatives stressed the fact that room, board and supply costs can be lowered substantially by students forming co-op stores and housing units.

An example of lowered living costs was given by Bob Huddleston, organization director of Consumers Co-op Association. He stated that student co-ops at the University of Kansas were operating at around $42 a month for room and board. Huddleston said that there is no reason similar units cannot be set up at SUI.

After presenting workshop reports at a combined assembly in Old Capitol, the visiting delegates were taken on a tour of the campus.

World Government Past 'Dream' Stage, UWF Leader Says

DES MOINES (AP) — The idea of world government has progressed from the "starry-eyed dreamer" stage to an issue of widespread concern among the people, Iowa members of the United World Federalists were told here yesterday at their second annual convention.

C.M. Stanley of Muscatine, a member of the organization's national executive council, gave the keynote address.

The issue of world government will be decided affirmatively or negatively within the next few years, Stanley asserted. He urged members to accept the challenge and take advantage of the "tremendous feeling" in Iowa for world federation.

David M. Stanley of Iowa City, son of C.M. Stanley, gave a report on progress of UWF in Iowa as state executive UWF secretary. He said there are 30 chapters in Iowa, 13 of them added within the last year, with a membership of 1,118.
