East Berlin Police Fire On Strikers

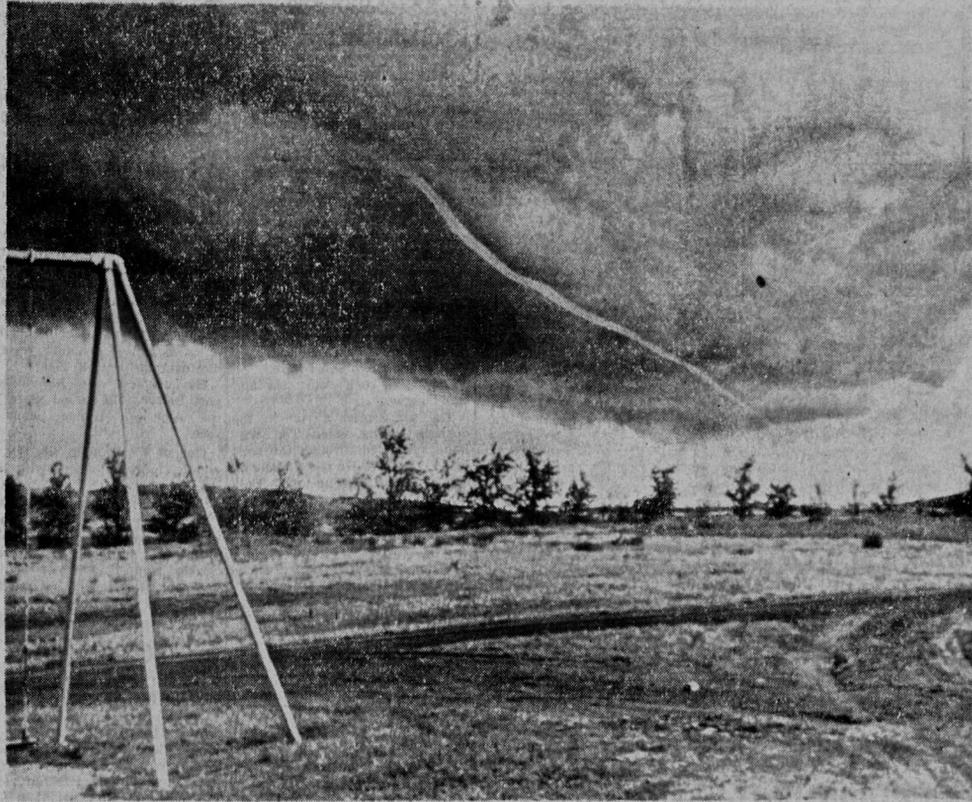

BERLIN (SUNDAY) (AP) — German police from Russian-occupied eastern Berlin opened fire last night and early today on striking railway workers at two elevated train stations in the American sector, west Berlin police reported.

Western sector police said several persons were wounded by the gunfire.

A train coming from the adjoining Soviet sector with a large number of Russian zone police and Russian-controlled railway police aboard entered the Neukoelln station in the American sector about 2:30 a.m. (German time), western police said.

The Russian zone police opened fire immediately on strikers in the station, the western police reported. The number of casualties could not be determined at once because the eastern police occupied the entire station and announced anybody approaching within more than 30 yards would be fired on without warning.

Earlier German police from the Russian sector had fired pistol shots as railway strikers tried to seize the Wannsee elevated station. There was one casualty, a young man was scratched on the arm.

Twister Dies Without Touching Earth

ONE TORNADO WHICH didn't do any damage was this one, photographed near Chadron, Neb., Thursday. The funnel was visible several minutes, but dissipated before touching the ground.

Other tornados wreaked havoc in Indiana, Illinois and Missouri yesterday.

Tornados Hit In Middlewest

List of Dead Reaches 24; 140 Injured

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tornados hammered the midwest last night, killing at least 24 persons and injuring more than 140 others.

The twisters struck in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, and Iowa. They damaged homes, uprooted trees, cut communications lines, smashed windows, and crippled water supplies.

The dead included 12 to 15 at Shelburn, Ind.; two at Terre Haute, Ind.; four near Palestine, Ill.; four near Wood River, Ill., and one each at Clarksville and Cape Girardeau, Mo. About 100 persons were injured at Shelburn, 40 more near Wood River, and three near Palestine.

Hits Terre Haute

The Indiana twister whipped across the eastern sector of Terre Haute, and then struck at Shelburn, to the south.

It leveled 200 homes in the west end of Shelburn, State police, who reported that 12 to 15 persons had been killed, said they had no details.

Early in the evening, 52 persons from Shelburn were brought in to nearby Sullivan hospitals. A nurse said casualties were "filling the halls and basement."

The twisters struck Illinois from both sides. One hit near Palestine, just across the Illinois-Indiana line, and another skipped across the Mississippi river from the west and struck in the vicinity of Alton, Wood River and Hartford.

Power Out

The Red Cross estimated damage in the rural area north of Palestine at from $75,000 to $100,000. The tornado knocked out a water company's power plant serving the towns of Robinson, Oblong and Palestine.

With only a 12-hour supply of water remaining, residents were urged by men in loud-speaker trucks to use water sparingly.

The Wood River area was flooded by a heavy downpour which accompanied the tornado. All power service was cut off, and more than 200 homes and a theater were damaged.

In Clarksville, Mo., close to the Illinois line and about 75 miles northwest of St. Louis, several homes and barns were damaged and a number of trees uprooted.

Hops Mississippi

The Missouri tornado whined and roared through scattered sections in the eastern part of the

Jimmy Stewart, Perennial Bachelor, Pops the Question, Is Accepted

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Perennial Bachelor Jimmy Stewart announced yesterday he will marry Gloria Hatrick McLean in August.

"I'm as happy as a kid," said the lanky, boyish actor.

"I pitched the question to her last night and to my surprise she said 'yes,'" Stewart was quoted as saying by a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer press agent.

Stewart said the proposal followed a quiet dinner in celebration of his 41st birthday.

It will be Miss McLean's second marriage and the first for Stewart.

She is the ex-wife of Edward B. (Ned) McLean of the Hope diamond family. Her father, E. B. Hatrick, of Larchmont, N. Y., is vice-president of the "News of the Day" Newsreel Company.

Formerly from New York but now living in Hollywood, she has two children. She and Stewart met a year ago and have been seeing each other for some time.

Rutledge Resented Actions, Didn't Hate Hattman, He Says

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — A firm denial that he "hated" the man he is accused of killing was made yesterday by Dr. Robert C. Rutledge Jr., 28, of St. Louis.

Dr. Rutledge underwent relentless cross-examination by the state during his second day in the witness box. He is charged with killing Byron C. Hattman, 29-year-old St. Louis engineer, in a hotel room here last Dec. 14.

County Attorney William Crissman asked the pediatrician if he didn't "form a hatred" for Hattman after Rutledge's blonde wife Sydney, 23, told him last Aug. 10 that Hattman had been "forcibly intimate" with her a few days earlier.

"No sir, I didn't," Rutledge replied. "You were feeling resentment, weren't you?" Crissman asked.

"Yes sir. Very strong resentment," Rutledge said. The doctor testified this resentment continued until Hattman's death. The state claims Rutledge struck Hattman from ambush and deliberately inflicted a fatal knife wound from motives of "jealousy, extortion and robbery."

Under prosecution questioning, Dr. Rutledge continued to maintain he fought Hattman "in self-defense to save my own life" after the young engineer "drew a knife."

He insisted he met Hattman by appointment to try and pay him money to get him to leave Mrs. Rutledge alone. They fought a bloody battle, he said, and he left the hotel room thinking Hattman was only stunned.

Dr. Rutledge's wife again remained away from the courtroom as she did Friday when he spent nearly all day giving his version of Hattman's death and the events which led up to it. Rutledge was still on the stand when court adjourned in early afternoon until 9 a.m. (Iowa time) tomorrow.

There were frequent clashes between opposing counsel. The defense objected to nearly every question Crissman asked and frequently was sustained. There was a heated flurry when Crissman three times asked Rutledge where, on Hattman's head, the blows fell when Rutledge claims he struck the engineer with a pocket knife he had wrested from him.

Each time Rutledge said, "I can't recall," Crissman said: "This is one of the things that Mr. Barngrover says only you and God know and you don't remember, eh?"

(Defense Counsel W.J. Barngrover had said early in the trial that "only God and Dr. Rutledge know what took place in that hotel room and Dr. Rutledge will tell about it on the witness stand.") When Crissman posed the question the defense objected violently and District Judge J. E. Heiserman ordered the jurors to disregard the remark. It was the first time he had done this during the trial.

Rain, Winds Here

Heavy rains and winds late yesterday were blamed for one auto accident and electrical difficulties.

Jess P. Moffitt, 416 Melrose avenue, drove his car into a fire hydrant early last night at the Washington and Linn streets intersection because driving rain obscured his vision, police reported.

A falling telephone pole dragged down light wires on Cherry lane about 7:30 last night, officials of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company said. A couple of transformers east of Iowa City on highway 6 burned out when lightning struck there about the same time, they added.

CAA said winds locally reached 28 miles an hour at that time. Gusts were recorded as high as 36 miles an hour. A total of 1.5 inches of rain fell, they reported.

Ah-chool! Student Freezes a Sneeze

LEICESTER ENG. (AP) — You can freeze a sneeze, but it thaws out, Michael Hippisley learned yesterday.

Michael, 14-year-old London schoolboy, has been sneezing with uncomfortable regularity for 14 days. Many remedies have been tried, but none has worked.

Yesterday he entered an ice company's cold storage room where the temperature was about 18 degrees below zero.

While inside he had temporary relief.

But when he came out he was freezing — and still sneezing.

Council to Hear Eviction Protest

Shanghai Rocked by Huge Arsenal Blast Within City Limits

SHANGHAI (SUNDAY) (AP) — One of Shanghai's biggest arsenals only three miles from the downtown district blew up with a roar today and burned fiercely as other fires sprang up in and around the besieged metropolis.

The explosion was at the huge Kwangnan arsenal and dockyard on the Whangpoo river about three miles from Shanghai's center.

The blast shook the heart of Shanghai and echoed across the countryside.

(The cause of the explosion was not explained. However, fighting has been reported in the vicinity of the arsenal.)

The situation was extremely confused. Authorities offered only vague answers to the causes of at least 20 fires that raged in and around Shanghai.

The Communists seemed to be pressing their attack at many points on Shanghai's defense perimeter.

The Chinese Nationalist garrison communique described only minor actions, including a drive by 300 Communists on the lower Pootung dock area directly across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai.

It said other Communist attacks were repulsed all the way down the river to Kaochiao, nine miles north of Shanghai, near where the Whangpoo empties into the Yangtze estuary.

Laughwa airfield on Shanghai's southern edge was abandoned about noon yesterday as small arms fire rattled less than two miles away and shells from artillery duels screamed overhead.

Three planes for the use of big-shot Nationalists still stood by, however, and Chinese airlines said they might try to use Laughwa again later.

University Student, Roberta Wee, Dies

Roberta Wee, 22, Des Moines, died yesterday morning in a Des Moines hospital following a lingering illness.

Miss Wee, 19, a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary for women, and the Scottish Highlanders, has not attended school since Easter.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1:30 at the Dunn Funeral home in Des Moines.

She is survived by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wee, 1825 Forty-eighth street, and a brother, Dwaine, a student at Drake university.

Order Hits 36 Trailer Families

Thirty-six families, ordered Friday afternoon by Mayor Preston Koser to move their house trailers beyond city limits by June 10, will protest to the city council tomorrow night.

Mrs. Walter J. Martin, 627 Orchard street, said the case would be presented by Attorney Louis Shulman. Mrs. Martin operates one of two camps affected by the mayor's eviction order. Homer H. Jacobs, 218 W. Benton street, operates the other.

Iowa City's building code prohibits non-permanent family residences such as trailers, Mayor Koser said in explaining his action.

He said the city had been lenient with trailer residents because of permanent housing conditions and as long as neighbors didn't complain.

Mayor Koser gave notice to Mrs. Martin and Jacobs after neighbors in the West Benton street area near South Riverside drive complained about the trailer parks. The mayor was accompanied by City Attorney W. H. Bartley and City Engineer Fred Gartzke.

Mrs. Martin said families had been living in trailers there for about a year. Most of the 36 families are student veteran families and a few work in Iowa City, she explained.

Mrs. Martin said she had been "calling around" to see if she could find places for some of her tenants. Yesterday she had found room for "four or five" in other trailer camps near the city.

As a last resort, she said, she knew of locations about six miles away. This wouldn't be satisfactory because many student tenants don't have cars, she said.

The trailers violate just about everything in the book, Bartley said. They do not comply with the building code in meeting ceiling height, floor area and cubic capacity regulations.

Trailers don't meet lot requirements, Bartley pointed out. Plumbing facilities haven't passed inspection and the trailers are located in a residential zone, he said.

Bartley said other cities have solved trailer problems by revising codes and ordinances. In Iowa City this would mean revision of zoning, building and health laws.

"Health and sanitation is the biggest problem as far as I can see," Alderman Charles T. Smith said yesterday. "If they can beat that problem, then I don't see why the trailers wouldn't be all right."

Walter R. Goetsch, SUI student affairs director, said the university had no part in the eviction, except to see that students living in the two parks have some place to live.

Robert Cotter, married student housing manager, said yesterday he didn't believe any of the uni-

Peace Talks Again Fail at Ford Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Peace talks failed again yesterday to settle the 17-day Ford strike.

Ford and the CIO United Auto Workers set another session for today, one day before a threatened bolt of the negotiations by the union.

The recess was called after the company rejected another UAW proposal and the union appealed to 40 leading Michigan citizens to hear the issues of the strike "explained first hand."

UAW President Walter P. Reuther asked top company officials to join union leaders in the public airing Tuesday night of a troublesome production "speed-up" dispute.

MRS. F.D.R. JR. DIVORCED

MINDEN, NEV. (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. received a divorce in a five-minute private hearing yesterday.

She accused the son of the late president of extreme mental cruelty, an accusation he formally denied.

These Trailer Tenants Facing Eviction

THESE TRAILER RESIDENTS FACE EVICTION June 10 because their homes don't meet Iowa City's building code requirements. Mayor Preston Koser has ordered families living in the trailers at Mrs. Walter J. Martin's lots on Orchard street (above) and Homer H. Jacobs' park on West Benton street to move outside the city by June 10. The mayor's action followed complaints made by residents in the West Benton street - South Riverside drive area.

Hoeksema Hurls Six-Hit Ball; Purdue Wins to Stay on Top

By NEAL BLACK
(Iowa Sports Editor)

MINNEAPOLIS — Iowa hitters led by John Tedore with a booming homer over the left field fence got 11 hits in the right spots behind the six-hit pitching of Little Hooks Hoeksema to beat Minnesota here yesterday, 9-4.

Hoeksema hurled steady ball for the Hawkeyes and was in trouble in only two innings as Iowa grabbed a sweep in the two game series.

The Hawkeyes had to cut off a ninth inning rally by the Gophers when a pair of singles and a triple scored three runs, but Hoeksema got a man to fly out, another to hit into an infield out and struck out the final man to end the game.

Tedore blasted his homer in the fifth with two mates aboard to put Iowa in front, 6-1, and the fourth on a walk, an error, an infield out and Smith's single. After the Gophers picked one up in the fourth on a walk, a single and a double, Tedore hit his homer in the fifth for three runs. Iowa got another run in the sixth on a single and an error and two more in the eighth on a single by Pinky Primrose, Dittmer's double and a single by Dale Erickson.

Gophers Capture First Big 9 Outdoor Track Championship

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP) — Minnesota's Gophers huddled their way, literally and figuratively, to their first Western conference outdoor track title in history yesterday as one new meet record was recorded.

The Gophers rolled up 19 points in the 120-high and 220-low hurdles to send them winging to a top total of 49 points in the 49th conference championships at Dyche stadium. Defending Champion Ohio State was second with 37 3-4.

The sole new mark was registered by Indiana's Chuck Peters, one of the meet's two double winners, who defended his 220 dash title with a :21.2 triumph.

That broke the record set in 1903 by Michigan's Archie Hahn. Harold Hunt, Nebraska, in 1942.

Times were generally good in spite of nearly an inch of rain that fell last night and early yesterday. A cold north wind held attendance to an estimated 5,000.

Kansas placed fourth with 71 38-45 points, followed by Oklahoma 59, 4-8, Kansas State 52 29-45 and Iowa State 7 4-9.

Bob Karnes of Kansas became the first middle distance star to win both the mile and two mile runs in successive years since the great Glenn Cunningham turned the feat in 1933 and '34.

Ninth Inning Blast Wins for Brooklyn

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers smeared the St. Louis Cardinals, 15-6, yesterday with Jackie Robinson leading the rout by driving home six runs.

Brooklyn broke up a tense struggle with an eight run, ninth inning explosion. Pee Wee Reese started the rally with an infield single and climaxed the uprising with a three-run homer into the left field bleachers.

Robinson slammed out two doubles and a single while Reese, who scored five runs, clouted a double and two singles in addition to his four-bagger.

Dobson Blanks Tribe To Boost Red Sox To Sixth Place, 4-0

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Dobson pitched a classy shutout yesterday as the Red Sox climbed over the Cleveland Indians into sixth place by beating the world champions, 4-0, before the largest seated crowd since Tom Yawkey took over ownership of the Boston A's.

A paid audience of 35,961 fans braved a chilling east wind and gleefully watched Vern Stephens belt a fourth inning two run homer while Dobson pitched his second complete game of the year and his second shutout in consecutive games.

The Indians were able to get only one man to third base. Dobson struck out six and walked two.

The Sox scored a run in the opening inning when Ted Williams grounded through the shift into right field. He raced home on Stephens' double. The fourth Boston run was scored in the fifth.

Yanks Nip Chisox On 9th Inning Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Brilliant relief pitching by Fred Sanford and a two base error by Rookie First Baseman Gordon Goldsberry gave the New York Yankees a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago White Sox yesterday.

Sanford allowed only one hit in six and one third innings. Bill Wight nailed the first two Yanks in the ninth but Yogi Berra's grounder went through Goldsberry's legs for a two base miscue. Wight intentionally walked Bill Johnson but Johnny Lindell followed with a single to left to break it up.

Sanford rescued Starter Frank Shea in the third and the lone hit he yielded was a double by Luke Appling in the eighth.

Wight suffered his first loss in five outings.

Borowy Hurls and Hits Phils To 5-1 Victory Over Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Hank Borowy pitched and hit the Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-1 victory over his former Chicago Cubs mates here yesterday before a ladies day turnout of 18,840. It was his third win of the season and his second over the Cubs.

Borowy walloped a double in the second inning to clean loaded bases and start the downfall of Dutch Leonard. When he scored a moment later on a single by Gran Hamner, Leonard departed for Bob Rush. Hank also added another single as his share in the Phillies 12-hit assault.

The Cubs collected only seven hits off Borowy and didn't get their lone run until the ninth when Emil Verban singled for the third time and counted on another single by Herman Reich.

Nats Beat Browns For 5th Time, 7-6

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators continued their mastery of the St. Louis Browns yesterday, with a two-run rally in the ninth that meant a 7-6 victory.

This was the fifth time the two teams have met, and it was the Senators' fifth triumph.

St. Louis scored three runs in the ninth to grab a 6-5 lead, but Ed Stewart opened Washington ninth with a homer. Then the Senators loaded the bases at Sam Dente tapped a bunt squeeze the winning run across.

The game was wild all the way with 19 walks, a hit batter, wild pitch, a balk and five stolen bases.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An eighth inning explosion that netted seven runs enabled the Boston Braves to rout the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-2 yesterday and take the rubber game of their three-game series.

Missouri Takes Third Straight Big 7 Title

LINCOLN, NEBR. (AP) — The Missouri Tigers won their third successive Big Seven conference outdoor track and field title with an amazing show of team power that clicked for 113 13-45 points on a wet and slow cinder layout yesterday.

The Colorado Buffaloes pulled a surprise in finishing second with 88 4-9 points. Nebraska, the indoor champion, was third with 71 8-9 points.

The only meet record went to Bill Carroll of Oklahoma, who cleared the pole vault bar at 14 feet 1 inch. That event was one of four held indoors because of the wet infield, however, and it took a vote of the coaches to

THIS WEEK'S music

By DONALD KEY

First performance of two symphonies by Iowa composers will be featured on the SUI symphony concert, Wednesday night at 8 p. m. in the Iowa Union.

Thomas Turner, assistant professor in the SUI school of music, will hear his "Symphony — John Brown" performed in public for the first time.

This work was inspired by Leonard Ehrlich's novel, "God's Angry Man." The symphony is divided into four movements titled: "I. Kansas, II. Pennsylvania, III. Harper's Ferry, IV. Charleston Jail."

The sections continue without pause and each is a separate abstract poem based on an episode in the life of John Brown.

When asked to comment on the music, Turner said he preferred not to emphasize any aspect of the composition but would "rather let the music speak for itself."

"Symphony No. 2" by Roger Goeb was the thesis for a Ph.D. degree which Goeb received here in 1945.

Goeb is a native of Cherokee. He was a member of the music department faculty at SUI during the war and has since accepted a position as instructor in musical composition at the Julliard School of Music in New York.

His symphony is extremely modern harmoniously. Its instrumentation is so complete that it even calls for the use of a saxophone.

Also on the program is Robert Backley's "Southern Iowa Suite." This work was never intended to be anything but "corn." It includes rhythmic parts for banjo, dance tunes, and folk songs.

Backley received his master's degree here and is now superintendent of public school music in Wilkesburg, Pa.

It is pleasing to note that the SUI orchestra has included so many compositions of young composers in its programs this year. Such is indeed commendable.

However, their repertoire reveals a conspicuous absence of classical works. With the exception of the overture, "The Marriage of Figaro," Mozart, Haydn, and Beethoven seem to have been snubbed.

On the program for this afternoon's CBS symphony orchestra broadcast are Gabriel Faure's suite, "Pelleas and Melisande," "Concerto Grosso No. 6" by Handel, and "Serenade in D Major" by Brahms.

The concert, conducted by Bernard Herrmann, can be heard over station WMT at 2 p. m.

Hooksema Hurts Six-Hit Ball; Purdue Wins to Stay on Top

John Tedore with a 11 hits in the right hooksema to beat every 17 seconds.

While June is the month of weddings, May is "getting ready" for brides — and groom. For the former there are all the big preparations — even necessary for small "just family" weddings. Between these planning sessions are shopping sprees for trousseau and the intermingling of bridal showers.

Sometimes the prospective star is almost killed with kindness during this period. Her friends delight in entertaining her and many of them plan to shower her with gifts.

The general American custom is for the entertainer — who never a member of the immediate family — to decide on the type of shower will be given. Kitchen and miscellaneous showers seem to hold first place in popularity with brides.

The dangers of duplicating should be eliminated as much as possible and care should also be taken that the gifts match.

Among the dreams of brides is the one that includes a "chest." That romantic piece of furniture is one gift that a future bride always treasures.

Cedar chests today are very practical. Glamorous new chests find themselves at home in the bedroom, living room, dining room or foyer. They double as telephone tables, servers and coffee tables or as console tables in the foyer.

If the bride-to-be knows exactly the style of furniture she prefers, she can get a chest in the matching period. Cedar chests are available in the traditional, modern, early American, 18th century, Queen Anne and colonial designs.

Wood veneers include maple, American walnut, lime oak, silver gray oak and mahogany.

Attractive cedar chests are also designed to be used at the foot of the bed to hold bedding and linens. Many of the console models open from the top to provide storage space and have imitation drawers for decoration only.

Although the bride makes many wedding plans during this period, this is not a period of "watchful waiting" for the bridegroom. He is faced with weighty financial problems, the details of the wedding trip and the administrative details with the minister, ushers, and best-man. There's also the all-important gift for his bride and attendants and some "trousseau" buying of his own.

The bride and groom will usually choose their wedding rings together. The current vogue is for double ring ceremonies and for plain bands of gold, platinum or palladium.

Fashion, too, is dictating a new trend in wedding dresses. Color is the keynote for these bridal gowns and are especially popular for the informal wedding.

Flower fashions this year are less formal and orange blossoms are apparently on the way out. Daisies and carnations are being featured in early summer weddings.

In direct sequence to the reception is the traditional wedding trip which has returned after wartime limitations. The northern part of the United States still attracts probably more honeymooners than any other section.

The lakes of Minnesota and Wisconsin afford fishing, swimming and cool weather. Big cities also claim their share of newlyweds as do the east and west coasts.

What could be a more appropriate gift for the bride and groom than China and Crystal from WAYNER'S. See the Franciscan and Wedgewood Earthenware . . . each in three distinctive patterns . . . the delicacy of this Earthenware's modeling makes the setting of a beautiful table an easy and pleasant matter. You'll always want to notice the Franciscan and Syracuse China in a variety of patterns . . . especially the Syracuse Appelon in a lovely yellow and blue design.

One of the most perfect wedding gifts you can give is clear, brilliant Crystal. WAYNER'S has such patterns as Karhula . . . a Finnish Crystal, Heisey's Crystolite, Hunt . . . one of whose designs is especially made to match Franciscan's Arcadia Green China, and Imperial . . . which makes the famous Candlewick . . . so delicate in appearance, light in weight and yet amazingly durable . . . Candlewick is a simple design, its very simplicity causes it to blend harmoniously with any decorative motif. Don't miss this wonderful display of plain, cut and etched Crystal at WAYNER'S. A gift of China or Crystal is never to be forgotten.

Bum: "Have you got a nickel for a cup of coffee?" Soph: "No, but I'll get along somehow."

Wedding bells are breaking up that old gang of yours and it means wedding presents are in order. HAUSER JEWELERS have the perfect gift for that wedding. Sterling silver, in the couple's own pattern is always appreciated . . . and the beautiful Kensington serving dishes, trays, goblets and other matching items will be received with open arms.

A very old custom is being revived which will delight the heart of any bride . . . customs from other countries often find their way here and people are quick to adopt them in their own ceremonies. Such a custom is the use of the Coupe de Marriage . . . a fine, pure silver, delicate cup from which wine is drunk after the marriage. The names of both the bride and groom are engraved on the side, as well as the place and the time of the ceremony. See them at HAUSER JEWELERS.

Linen sheets are always a welcome gift. The newest styles offer spirit-lifting colors . . . Caribbean green, Havana lime and Bermuda sand.

The invitation should include the names of friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Even those who live too far away to attend and those who are in mourning should be invited as a matter of courtesy.

"These are my grandfather's ashes." "Oh, so the poor old soul passed on?" "No, he's just too lazy to look for an ash tray."

A young man approaching a cigar counter behind which stood a cute young thing and said: "Do you keep stationery?" "Said the c.y.t.: "Yes, up to a certain point and then I just go all to pieces."

Other suggestions include a wall can opener, kitchen scissors, potato ricer, bread board, rolling pin, glass custard cups, refrigerator dishes and sets of plastic covers of which no one can have too many. Covered casseroles, glass or pottery of small and medium-size, should also be included.

Lamps make lovely gifts but be sure they're in tune with the furnishings of her new home. Hand-painted Chinese column lamps or plain white ones are a good choice because they fit in with modern or traditional rooms.

Engraved invitations are a must if the wedding is large and formal. They should always request the "honor" of your "presence" and never the "pleasure" of your company." If the wedding is small and informal, invitations may take the form of a personal note or a telephone call.

Spy Records Demanded by Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senate investigating group announced subpoenas for government records yesterday under a threat to disclose confidential and "alarming" information of its own if the files aren't produced.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev), chairman of a judiciary subcommittee investigating subversive aliens, said that two subpoenas have been issued instructing the state and justice departments to produce 168 files bearing on the investigation.

McCarran said these are the first of "several hundred" files which he shall subsequently demand.

If the government records are not handed over, he said he would make public hitherto confidential information in the subcommittee files "respecting subversive activities which are being carried on in this country under the active direction and leadership of agents of foreign governments."

"This information is extensive, conclusive and alarming, and includes names, places and events," he said in a statement.

McCarran's subcommittee has been holding hearings on his bill to bar the admission of subversive aliens to the United States and to force the deportation of any already here.

The state department and FBI files McCarran seeks contain information on persons admitted to this country as aliens. This information includes security reports made by the FBI on these persons.

Station's Birthday — 30 Years For WSUI

Radio station WSUI this year is celebrating the 30th anniversary of the beginning of its regular broadcasting schedule in 1919.

Known then as 9YA, the station is believed to be the first voice-broadcasting station west of the Mississippi river, operating on a regular schedule, according to Carl Menzer, director of the station since its founding.

Beginning with a wattage of 100 in 1919, the station now uses 5,000 watts.

Growth of the station may be illustrated by the increase in personnel from practically a one man station to its present staff of nine full-time employees, 25 part-time employees and the more than 500 students who participate in its programs in the course of a semester.

Menzer said, "When I used to broadcast a football game, I was my own engineer, spotter, announcer and laid my own wire to the stadium." He recalls that after a football broadcast he had to ask his listeners to wait while he ran back to the station and continued with the regular program schedule.

The call letters "WSUI" had an unusual origin. When call signal revisions were authorized by the government, the station tried to change it call letters from 9YA to WSUI to note its connection with SUU.

But it was found that the letters were being used by a steamship radio and the station had to wait until the steamship was decommissioned. The government then offered the call letters to the station and they were accepted.

The station was known as WH-AA from the time it dropped 9YA.

Mexican Visitor Chats with President Hancher

SENOR CARLOS ALVAREZ DE LA CADENA (right), Mexico City journalist visiting on the SUI campus, is chatting with President Virgil M. Hancher in the president's office. Cadena talked with Hancher for an hour and a half, after which he remarked "It was gratifying that such a busy man should spend that much time with me."

Mexican Journalist Praises SUI Cadena Compares University to City

After a week's visit on the SUI campus, Senor Carlos Alvarez de la Cadena, Mexico City journalist, said yesterday the American university is a city in itself.

The major difference between the Mexico City university and its American counterpart is the physical layout, he said. In Mexico City the universities and colleges are generally confined to a block square area, while here they take up the whole city.

The plans of study and the conduct of classes are much the same in Mexico and the United States, Cadena said. In the numerous colleges and universities of Mexico City, Cadena said the students are taught the same subjects that are taught in the United States.

Cadena attended a commerce school for three years where he studied commerce, accounting and banking and studied at a university for two years where he took a general course.

He said anyone may attend the universities if he is able to pass the stringent entrance examinations. In addition to universities, the government supports military and naval colleges, agricultural, medical and chemical colleges in Mexico City. The students' tuition and keep are paid by the government, he said.

Of the many universities in Mexico City, National university is the principal one, he said. The National Polytechnic institute is a special school for the trades and technical studies.

In addition to the present schools, Mexico City has plans for starting a university just outside of the city limits next year, he said.

Cadena, who plays a guitar, started writing in the field of music criticism because he has a "good musical ear."

His sports writing career came about because of his intense interest in participating in sports while in school. He said he played baseball and soccer, swam, hiked and was out for track.

After visiting several classes on the SUI campus, Cadena said the students demonstrated intelligence by asking him good questions about his work and his country. He said they showed a commendable curiosity about the world and its people.

He said he thought the State University of Iowa was one of the most important in the United States and that it was well administered.

Cadena will leave Iowa City tomorrow for Grinnell where he will visit the newspaper there for a week. He will also visit the newspapers at Mason City, Des Moines, Hamburg, Ogdan and Osage, and the Iowa Press association in Des Moines.

Accidents Cause $667 Damage

Property damage totalling $667 resulted from four traffic accidents reported yesterday, police said. No injuries were listed in the accident reports.

A parked car at 732 Rundell street was struck by a panel truck driven by Robert E. Jones, C3, Iowa City, Friday at 5 a.m., according to police.

Jones told police $100 damage was done to the front end of the truck and he estimated $250 damage to the parked car owned by Louella Kadera, 732 Rundell street.

Two cars collided in another accident Friday at 12:15 p.m. in the 600 block on Bowery street, police reported.

Dr. Henry E. Hamilton, 425 Rundell street, estimated $100 damage to the right side of his car. No estimate of damage was reported for the other car driven by Mrs. R.E. Stimmel, 1127 E. Davenport street. Dr. Hamilton said damage to the Stimmel machine was apparently limited to a bumper.

A car and a truck were involved in a traffic accident on Court street Friday at 4:45 p.m., police said. The accident occurred as one of the vehicles was making a left

STARTS SATURDAY

If there is one thing I'd hate to be hit with, it is a meteorite. About this time every year I get the meteorite fanatics so badly, it is all I can do to keep from carrying an umbrella day and night.

For the most part here, I'll discuss only meteorites. They're the ones to look out for. Meteors don't usually bother you, unless you're flying pretty high.

The distinction is made for the benefit of any astronomers or semi-astronomers who might take offense and write a nasty letter to the editor. I don't indicate that I know the difference between meteors and meteorites.

Goodness knows, the editor gets enough nasty letters about critics and political columnists without me putting my foot into it.

THE GENERAL public, I'm sorry to say, doesn't realize just what a menace to life, limb and downtown traffic these meteorites are. For example: How many persons know that the largest meteorite ever found is located near Grootfontein, Southwest Africa? Not many are aware of that, I'll bet.

The Grootfontein meteorite is estimated to weigh between 50 and 70 tons, and that's more than our backyard could accommodate, even if we moved the garage.

We have a puny little 15 and one-half ton meteorite here in the U.S., but no one seems to regard it as being worth much. Southwest Africa climate seems to encourage bigger and better meteorites, and for my money they can have it.

Even though it is small, a 15-tonner could certainly knock the wind out of you.

ANOTHER POINT which the general public is ignorant of is that meteors often travel in gangs. Scientists try to explain this fact with some cocked hat idea about meteor swarms being broken down comets.

They point to the Perseid meteor shower, predicted to occur about August 10th, and report casually that the swam of meteors is all that's left of Tuttle's comet.

That just shows what happens once you let a comet get out of hand. If Tuttle hadn't been so slipshod about his comet, it might not have gone to pieces so early.

THE EXPERTS don't seem to be able to do much about meteorites, so they try to keep from worrying by quoting statistics.

They admit that several million meteorites fall into our atmosphere every day, but "probably" not more than one or two out of that whole batch manage to strike the ground before burning up.

That sounds a little ridiculous, doesn't it? Who is counting?

All right, let's assume their figures are correct. I don't know about you, but just about one meteorite like that Grootfontein deal is about all I could stand. I have always bruised quite easily.

HOW DO you get away from a meteorite once you see one headed your way? Well, first of all, you have to be able to recognize one in the distance.

Probably the easiest way to identify a meteorite is by the sound it makes as it falls. The closest I can come to describing the sound is to refer you to the noise a bag of potato chips makes when it is ripped open.

If, when you're in bed tonight, you hear that sound, I'd suggest that you at least put your head under the pillow. It may actually be someone ripping open a bag of potato chips, but then there isn't much sense in taking unnecessary chances, is there?

Better be safe than sorry.

Baha'i Lecturer to Talk on WSUI Broadcast

Mrs. Robert L. Moffett, Chicago, will be interviewed on Prof. Marcus Bach's program, "Religion Groups of America," Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. over WSUI.

Mrs. Moffett is a lecturer on the Baha'i faith, and appeared on Bach's program two years ago, he said yesterday.

She will lecture in Cedar Rapids today and tomorrow before coming to Iowa City.

ANALYSIS OF THE WORLD'S NEWS AS —

IT HAPPENED LAST WEEK

China War

Foochow Is Abandoned; Shanghai's End Near

Evacuations and executions in Shanghai streets keyed to the scene in China as the week closed. Early in the week, Communist armies were only 225-miles from capital city Canton, 87 miles from the key seaport of Foochow.

Besieged Shanghai had only one side unattacked by the Chinese Communists moving in from north, west, east and southwest. By the middle of the week, Foochow's city government was preparing to evacuate with the attackers only 30 miles distant.

United Nations

Franco Spain Remains Under Tight Restrictions

Members voted 26 to 15 against easing diplomatic restrictions on Franco Spain. South American countries who introduced the move were decisively defeated.

Another rejection was the Bevin-Sforza proposals for distributing former Italian colonies. More than 1,000 fierce tribal horsemen galloped through the town of Azizia in Tripoli, demonstrating against the proposal to make Tripolitania an Italian trusteeship.

United States and British officials made emphatic denials to Slav and Arab charges that western powers were bypassing UN action in trying to dispose of the colonies. But Chief UN delegate Warren Austin declared the plan was the most practicable way to settle the question immediately.

Another slap-down for pro-Russian members was turning down consideration of Gerhart Eisler's removal from the Polish freighter in England. Polish delegates brought up the question as a violation of Eisler's human rights, but the UN refused to consider the case.

English authorities, meanwhile, indicated they might refuse to extradite Eisler to America.

Cold War

Bavaria Rejects Draft; Berliners Snub Russ

As State Secretary Dean Acheson prepared to leave for the conference of foreign ministers pledged to a "no compromise" policy with Russia on Germany's future, Bavaria rejected the west German republic constitution, but indicated they might refuse to extradite Eisler to America.

HIS MAGIC GRIN still works. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. won a congressional seat in New York. He replaces the late Sol Bloom.

promised to accept it if the other 10 states did.

Four states have already ratified, with the other six expected to follow soon.

In German elections, the Communists got set back by a more-than-50 percent lack of support. Then, censorship clamped down and no more election returns got through.

Anti-Communist leaders here called on western allies to push for free elections in their occupation zone. And Communist leaders demanded representation at the big four meeting next month.

Russians in Berlin pulled a series of counter-moves designed to hinder goods movement. Republican John Foster Dulles, foreign policy leader, told reporters the move was in retaliation for western power action to license exports from the Russian zone.

Tass, Russian official-managed news agency, offered to settle the Greek civil war on the recent peace bid basis of Greek guerrillas.

More fuel for the fire came from Generalissimo Franco who charged western democracies with delivering most of Europe to the Soviet Union. The Spanish dictator made only a brief reference to Monday's UN veto on lifting diplomatic restrictions. He told his parliament there isn't any Spanish problem, and even if there was, Spain could wash her own linen without any help from a powerless agency like UN.

In Washington, Arthur Vandenberg told his fellow senators he didn't think the North Atlantic pact committed this country to send troops abroad to quell foreign uprisings. Then he added, a little weakly, perhaps we ought to find out. Economy-minded congressmen worried over costs of the arms program which was rumored to have a $3-million price tag on it, although administration leaders denied this.

John L. Lewis asked U.S. Steel for new contract negotiations and a fourth round of wage boosts for his captive coal miners.

Phil Murray's steelworkers in Pittsburgh will probably start contract negotiations early in June. The union is expected to seek wage increases, a pension set-up and social insurance.

CIO's executive board in Washington voted to recommend the next CIO convention revoke the left wing Farm Equipment Workers' union charter. The AFL executive council voted unanimously to join other world union movements to form a new world-wide trade union federation. Last year the CIO and British Trade unions pulled out of the world federation, charging a Communist-taint.

On the credit side of the ledger this week, one dispute was settled. Railway conductors and the Pullman company ironed out their difficulties and everybody's happy again.

Western Europe is now turning out as many industrial goods as before the war, President Truman told congress. The Marshall plan has helped raise Europe's overall industrial production, but the continent still has far to go before it's self-supporting again, he said.

Here in America, worried chairman Burnet E. Maybank said his senate banking committee will move "very cautiously" on extending consumer credit controls, because of price cuts and the "falling off of business."

Figures released in Washington showed the nation's goods output took its biggest postwar nose dive in the first quarter of 1949. Citizens confronted with shrinking incomes cut their spending so sharply their total savings rose.

April figures, however, showed independent retailers registering a five percent gain over March, and Treasury Secretary Snyder declared he was "confident" of continued prosperity owing to liquid assets at record levels for both business and consumers.

Even though congress didn't get to housing this week, Federal Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods is still concerned with the lack of rental housing. If 85 percent of new construction were rented, and only 15 percent put up for sale, the housing problem would be licked, Woods asserted.

Labor

Ford Strike Drags On; Pullman Dispute Settled

The Ford workers' strike blew up right in the face of Federal Mediator Cyrus Ching his first day on the job. Week-long efforts got nowhere and Ching came on the scene as the week drew to a close.

The Minnesota state government grew disgusted with the Greyhound bus company strike; Governor Luther Youngdahl was scheduled to move in Saturday.

CIO - UAW pickets in South Bend, Ind., skirmished with company guards and city police at the strike-bound Bendix plant. Nobody got hurt, but 1,600 non-strikers couldn't go to work Tuesday.

Winds Injure Several, Cause Much Damage

From Nebraska to Texas, the middle west took a terrific beating from wind and water this week.

Oklahoma was pounded three nights in a row by twisters. At Hastings, Neb., a cyclone did an estimated $50,000 damage to a naval ammunition depot. At least 12 persons were known dead in Texas and 13,200 were homeless.

Sioux City, Iowa, caught a twister by the tail Tuesday and got away with no injuries reported, but plenty of property damage.

Mrs. Rutledge Testifies To Save Her Husband

Sydney Rutledge took the stand in Cedar Rapids Monday to testify in defense of her husband who is charged with murdering Byron Hatman in a Cedar Rapids hotel room last December.

She told the court how she was forced to submit to Hatman's advances but denied she led him on. Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, on trial for his life, testified; and then the defense brought in two surprise witnesses who sought to show how Rutledge came to Cedar Rapids only to pay Hatman to stay away from Sydney Rutledge.

Kay Cusak, SUI graduate from Cedar Rapids, made news when she "struck it rich" on a New York radio program and said she would donate the money she won to an "extremely worthy" Iowa City family.

One Child Expected — Twins Born Instead

In Marion, S.D., Mrs. Arthur Tieszen told her husband to take her to the hospital. The baby, she said, was due.

As her husband helped her into the car, a five-pound, four-ounce girl was born.

He helped his wife back to the house and into bed — just in time, too. A five-pound, 14-ounce boy was born.

A doctor arrived and took Mrs. Tieszen and the babies to a hospital. Arthur felt like a wreck so he went home to their other three children.

Harry Langham, 26, a professional razor blade swallower, left a hospital in England determined to be more careful.

He had actually swallowed a blade and almost killed himself. Twin girls were born with the tops of their heads joined together in a Los Angeles hospital. Doctors said they had a good chance to survive without surgery.

The twins lie with their heads together and their feet facing in opposite directions.

FLOOD DAMAGE IN FORT WORTH, TEXAS

NATIONALIST FIRING SQUADS wasted little time on trials in Shanghai this week. Suspects were quickly executed and the streets were filled with terror. Here an executioner administers the "coup de grace."

Finkbine Fantasy —

Fence Gets Pink Paint

Not pink elephants, but a bright colored pink fence appears in the front yard of barracks 1104 Finkbine park.

Most fences in the married students housing area are white or unpainted, but this one is pink and covered with drawings for children.

The paint job, just completed a day ago, was done by Art Student David Driesbach. The Driesbach fence encloses an area of about 10 by 12 feet where 18 month old John Driesbach plays.

Drawings of Toys
Two boards about half a foot wide run around the bottom and top of the fence with chicken wire between the two boards. These are the boards that have been painted pink and are covered with drawings of children's toys.

Mickey mouse, a drum, tricycle, ice cream cone, airplane, sailboat and many more children's playthings are painted on the pink background. These toys appear in a variety of colors.

The drawings appear for the public to see rather than John Driesbach, however, because he plays inside the pen and the drawings are on the outside.

"There'll be a lot of little art critics inspecting my paint job," Driesbach said. Driesbach picked the color pink to fit in with the green trim on the metal barracks, and he thought the boards needed decoration.

Neighbor Helps
"There was a notice in the Villager saying that all fences should be uniform in color and style," Mrs. Driesbach said laughing. "I guess our fence just isn't uniform."

Driesbach and his neighbor James Fischer, C4, 1105 Finkbine, painted the fence together. The Fischer's have one child too, who will use the enclosure when he is older.

The fence was painted with a special paint so that John and the other children wouldn't be poisoned when they chewed on the boards. The paint used contained no lead.

Driesbach's sprinkling can is also painted pink, as are the few stones surrounding the small flower pot in front of their barracks. These objects are covered with designs and drawings also.

The Driesbach's came to SUI in December from Rockford, Ill. Driesbach is working for his M.F. A. in art and served 3 1-2 years with the Marine corps in the south Pacific.

Prof. A. Leo Levin Quits Law Post for Pennsylvania U. Job

Prof. A. Leo Levin, SUI college of law, has resigned from the faculty to take a similar position on the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, Dean Mason Ladd said yesterday.

Dean Ladd said Levin will teach at the Northwestern university this summer and join the faculty at Pennsylvania this fall.

Members of the Law Students association and members of the law faculty yesterday gave Levin a fountain pen desk set "in appreciation for his able teaching and contributions to the SUI law school," Dean Ladd said.

"Prof. Levin has been a scholarly and brilliant member of the law faculty," the Dean said. "We dislike losing him very much, but we are sure that he will be a distinguished success at the University of Pennsylvania."

Dean Ladd also announced that a year's leave of absence has been granted to Prof. Robert S. Hunt, to engage in special research in legal history at the University of Wisconsin. He will leave the SUI faculty this fall.

1949 PAPER DOLL QUEEN, SUE WINTER, 517 Templin road, received a corsage and silver identification bracelet from John Boyle, president of the recreational center student council Friday night. Miss Winter, University high senior, was chosen to reign over the 5th annual paper doll dance at the Community building by elections in the four Iowa City high schools.

Business BRIEFS

Golfball dispensers, golfball pickers, new flood lights, a small playground for children, a 10 foot sign of a model airplane and the word "Golf," plus concrete tee bases are improvements listed for the new Iowa City Airport driving range, Manager Gene Chapman said yesterday.

Chapman, formerly a "pro" at the Iowa City and later the Elks' country club for seven years, opened the range about two weeks ago. Business has been very good, he said, despite "non-golfing" weather.

He also sells "pro" golf clubs and balls and gives golf lessons at the range on the south side of the airport just off highway 218.

Most of the tees will be concrete although a few will be grass. All will feature dispensers, however, that will take the backache out of golf.

The golfer doesn't have to stoop down to put the next ball on the tee. He merely trips the dispenser which sends the next ball down a trough to the tee.

The dispensers have a "bucket" which contains about 45 golf balls. The price will be measured by the "bucket."

The picker, which looks like a farmer's disc, picks the golf balls from the ground and puts them in a special compartment.

Don Penner, Morris, Minn., has been named assistant manager of the local J.C. Penney store. He succeeds Jerry Chamberlain who has taken a similar position at the Janesville, Wis., store. Chamberlain, an SUI graduate, had been here 11 years.

Penner, 30, began with the Penney company as a shoe salesman in the Morris store. He was assistant manager there before he came to Iowa City.

Penner is married. His wife is not here yet as he had not found a home.

Joseph Wayner of Wayner's Jewelry is improving the show windows by lowering the ceiling and adding incandescent flood and spot lights to give better accent to the display.

Wayner, who is beginning his third year in business here, plans to lower the windows' ceiling from 86 inches to about 50 inches.

Atom Researchers Required To Take Non-Communist Oath

The atomic energy commission last night ordered everyone holding a commission research fellowship to take a non-Communist oath, the Associated Press reported.

This order will affect several SUI graduate students who have atomic energy commission research fellowships and 497 persons throughout the country.

Three of the SUI students are Philip R. Malmberg, G. Iowa City; Robert E. Holland, G. Iowa City; and Bruce K. Nelson, G. Winchester, Va. Malmberg and Holland are doing research in nuclear physics under the direction of Prof. James A. Jacobs.

No one will be exempted from taking the pledge, the press report said, even if they are doing work that is not secret.

The report also said that research fellowships will no longer be given to Communists or persons with questionable political backgrounds.

The action was the result of congressional pressure upon the atomic energy commission to tighten the nation's security, the report stated.

In the commission statement, 257 persons were said to be studying under commission fellowships, with 240 more due to start such studies July 1. Of these, 103 are engaged in secret research work.

Prof. George Glocker, head of the SUI chemistry department, termed the commission's action as "sensible" and said he thought "the average American would not mind telling his political views."

Glocker is a member of the board which approves atomic energy commission post doctoral research fellowships in the physical sciences.

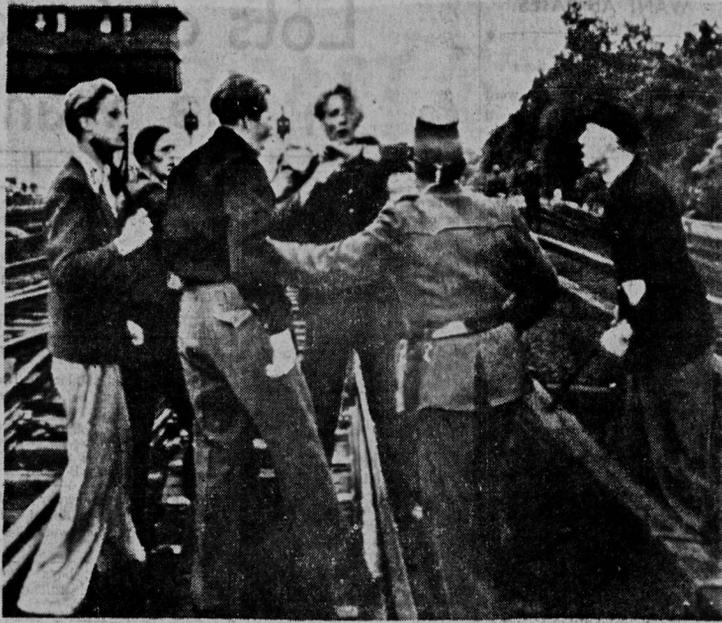

He explained that these fellowships are a means of creating "a backlog of highly trained people." They are not trained in secret work, he declared.

But these people might be used in secret work if the need arose, and if they were Communists, this country could not possibly use them.

Prof. Arthur Roberts, secretary of the federation of American scientists and a SUI physicist, said the commission's "action is on the same level as requiring members of a labor union to declare their political views."

"It makes no sense," he added, "but it is better than an FBI investigation. Roberts said he was 'still against' the commission's action.

Violence Flares in German Rail Strike

(AP Radio Wirephoto)

ONE OF MANY SCENES OF VIOLENCE in the German railway strike yesterday was this scuffle between a west Berlin policeman (uniformed, back to camera) and young Communists. The Communists were attempting to take over the Charlottenburg railroad station in Berlin. Railway employes are striking against their Russian bosses in protest against being paid off in Soviet-sponsored currency instead of the four-times more valuable west German mark. (Story on Page 1.)

Burt French Players' Production 'Overpowering' — In 'Home of the Brave'

By BOB SENNISH

It has been the custom of this column to restrict its reviews of live theater to the productions of the University players. And it required a real man-sized production to shake off this awful localism.

The Burt French Players, a group whose talent and energy no longer require fanfare, opened last night at the Coe College Theater with "Home of the Brave," a first-rate play written by a first-rate playwright, Arthur Laurents. Also first-rate was the French production.

Burt French is, in the opinion of this reviewer, one of the best things that could happen to the life theater — especially out here in the provinces where theater is kept pretty simple and very basic. French is clearly an intelligent and experienced young man who can act and direct the pants off any role or production put before him. Furthermore, he is so ingenious as to think of theater in terms of what happens on the stage as well as the box-office. This is rare, very rare.

All this comes through in the current run of "Home of the Brave," one of the most overpowering things I've ever sat through. The play sets up the problem of anti-semitism as it existed in the armed forces. As a spectator, the grotesqueness of this great American mythos (and I refer to "hate-Jewism" as a mythos) comes at you like a bludgeon — and for at least three trip-hammer acts, there's no ducking.

The lines read like the real low-down on how G.I.'s talked and on how they thought. As a war play, this one bears more stark authenticity than any I know. Playwright Laurents wasn't fooling. Neither are French and his group. As Coney, French does a truly beautiful job of revealing how the outwardly hard-boiled Jew in service suffered enough to make Lazarus look like a piker. His direction, firm and exact, shows through in those scenes which high-light the South Sea isles as seen by American troops.

The supporting cast shapes up amazingly well. This production is not a jewel in the rough. It is a finished, near-professional work of art. That so much talent could have been unearthed in Cedar Rapids should really turn its citizenry on its ear.

But because such a noble enterprise is not without financial considerations, its success depends pretty much upon the turn-outs. Let me personally urge every one of you who reads this column to turn up at either Monday or Tuesday night's performance. Coe College; curtain at eight o'clock. Such things are rare.

Professor Barnes Article Co-Author

An article co-authored by Prof. R.M. Barnes, head of the college of engineering's placement bureau and personnel, and E.B. Williams, recent SUI graduate, has been published in the May issue of "Modern Management."

The article in the official publication of the National Society for Advancement of Management concerned "The Automatic Time Recorder," a new machine that measures movement in time and motion studies. Work on the machine was done while Williams was working at SUI on his masters degree in science which he received in June, 1948.

Barnes was recently appointed professor of engineering and production management at UCLA. Williams is now work analyst for United Airlines.

Miss Lounsbury said yesterday anyone interested in joining the staff should attend the meeting. She said she is particularly interested in anyone who has had experience on high school or college yearbooks. Positions are open for typists, copywriters, office and sales staffs.

The letters will urge the purchase of bonds during the drive which opened Monday and will continue through June 30.

County co-chairmen for the drive are Ben S. Summerwill and Frank Williams. The county quota is $733,042.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

IN AN EXCLUSIVE dress shop in Beverly Hills, a regular patroness saw a new creation she fancied and asked the price. "A thousand dollars," said the proprietor without batting an eyelash.

The lady recoiled and exclaimed, "This time you've really gone too far. New look or not, you're never going to get a thousand dollars for that dress. In fact, I'll bet a hundred dollars you don't."

"It's a bet," he replied, "and furthermore, when I do, I'll even tell you who bought it."

As luck would have it, the proprietor did sell the dress for a thousand dollars just a few days later, but he never figured a way to break the news to the lady with whom he'd bet. The purchaser, it seems, was the lady's husband, making a little gift to his private secretary.

William Boswell to Manage Municipal Pool

A former member and captain of the University's swimming team, William Boswell Jr., Marshalltown, has been hired to manage the nearly-completed municipal swimming pool here, J. Edgar Frame, city recreation director, said yesterday.

Boswell, 26, manager of the Marshalltown pool last year, has managed the Indian Hill Country club pool, Winnetka, Ill., and the Naval Hospital pool at San Diego.

Frame also announced that the Iowa City recreation commission operators of the pool have hired life guards and check room personnel for the opening of the pool about June 1.

A test filling of the pool will be directed next week by the pool engineer Ned L. Ashton to check filter and inlet equipment. If the tests prove satisfactory, Ashton said, the pool will be ready for immediate swimming.

Admission prices, according to Frame, will be 15 cents for children and 40 cents for adults. Swimming suits and towels can be rented at the pool, the recreation director said.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED

A marriage license was issued yesterday in the Johnson county clerk's office to Jack Richard Hafford and Lois Marie Hastings, both of Iowa City.

Case of the Lost Boat —

River Craft Vanishes

The university's Iowa river rescue boat needed rescuing itself yesterday. The white metal rowboat vanished from its moorings at the Market street boathouse sometime Friday night. It was found anchored in mid-stream below the Union footbridge.

Two members of the Dolphins club took a canoe out to bring the boat back yesterday. Dolphin Vice-president Bowen Stassforth, A2, Los Angeles, said the matter looked like someone's practical joke since the boat was securely beached Friday night. The boat has been "kidnapped" before.

The other member of the university men's swimming club, Dave Brockway, A3, Marshalltown, said he learned of the boat's disappearance when the police called yesterday morning to notify him "if is, or was, a drift."

The patrol boat is maintained by the university to help canoeists in distress. Members of the Dolphin club provide two-man paid crews to patrol the river afternoons and evenings during the canoeing season using a five-horsepower outboard motor.

Stassforth said he and Brockway fished five capsized canoes and their paddlers out of the river during the all-university canoe races last week.

The river patrol was begun about 24 years ago as an unpaid activity. Stassforth said. The patrol finally came under the sponsorship of the university which now pays the crews.

Dolphin 'Daring' Saves 'Derelict'

BOARDING THE "DERELICT" Dolphin Dave Brockway, A3, Marshalltown, scrambles into the university's river patrol boat which was stranded in the middle of the Iowa river sometime Friday night. Bowen Stassforth, A2, Dolphin vice-president from Los Angeles, holds the canoe steady. Apparently some "nautical" individual swiped the boat from the Market street boathouse and anchored it in mid-river downstream for a joke. None of the boat's equipment was missing.
