Defense Rests; Open Rebuttal Against Doctor

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) - The defense rested its case yesterday in the murder trial of Dr. Robert C. Rutledge Jr. and the state immediately sought to knock holes in it.

In rebuttal testimony, Detective Capt. Tom Condon told of questioning the 28-year-old St. Louis doctor and his wife last Dec. 17 following Rutledge's arrest on a charge of fatally stabbing Byron C. Hattman.

Condon testified that:

1. When he asked Mrs. Rutledge if Hattman had forced his attentions on her she replied, "I guess I was as much to blame as he was."

(Mrs. Rutledge previously denied on the stand that she said this.)

2. When he questioned Rutledge shortly after his Dec. 17 arrest the doctor told him Hattman and his wife had visited several bars "and Mrs. Rutledge never could hold her liquor. Then Hattman came home and had sexual intercourse with her."

3. Condon's description of the defendant's answer to a query on whether Rutledge had demanded money of Hattman was: "Yes, when he believed his wife to be pregnant he telephoned Hattman and asked for $200 because he (Rutledge) said he was making only $25 a month and he and his wife could not afford to have children. Dr. Rutledge said he felt it would take about $200 to get a competent and reputable physician to perform an abortion."

Condon took the stand as soon as Rutledge had completed his testimony as the 10th and final defense witness.

County Attorney William Crissman asked Rutledge if he still was taking seconal, a sedative drug. The doctor asserted he had not taken any for several days. He said he anticipated the state might object.

Outside court Crissman had contended use of seconal would tend to enable a person to remain calm and consistent.

Crissman said he did not expect to finish his rebuttal today, after which attorneys must deliver their closing arguments before the case reaches the jury. As court recessed for the day, Crissman called Dick Everett, reporter for the St. Louis Star-Times, who said he was at police headquarters when Mrs. Rutledge first was questioned. The defense objected to any testimony from Everett as "improper," and the court was expected to rule on the objection today.

Trailer-Spokesman Asks Time Extension

PLEADING FOR A TIME EXTENSION for trailer families in camps just off Riverside drive is Eikan V. Kemp, A4, Cedar Rapids (standing). Kemp was spokesman for the 36 trailer families who were ordered Saturday by Mayor Preston Koser (hand raised to his mouth at desk in background) to vacate the camps by June 10. Members of the city council who hear Kemp's plea are seated at the long desk in the center.

Trailer Extension Given Council Grants 90-Day Stay

Trailer residents at the Martin and Jacobs parks in southwest Iowa City last night won a 90-day extension for the June 10 eviction date set by Mayor Preston Koser.

About 150 people attending the council meeting last night cheered as aldermen passed a motion to extend the time limit. The council also voted to work out an ordinance to permit trailers in Iowa City.

Eikan V. Kemp, A4, Cedar Rapids, presented the 36 trailer families' case. Kemp and his family have lived the past year in the area operated by Mrs. Walter J. Martin.

Mayor Koser last Friday served eviction notices on the trailer families to move beyond city limits by June 10. He based his orders on existing city ordinances and complaints made by neighbors in the affected area.

In other actions the aldermen set June 13 for a hearing on a bond issue to pay for Capitol street paving improvements. City Engineer Fred E. Gartzke submitted plans which would cost property owners about $9,800.

The proposal includes removing and paving center islands and widening Capitol street from Prentiss to Lafayette streets.

Consulting Engineer Ned L. Ashton was authorized by the council to prepare alternate plans and specifications for improving the Burlington street bridge. The revision calls for a 48-foot roadway to meet width requirements where federal aid is involved.

Aldermen, chamber of commerce representatives and state highway commissioners met earlier this month to discuss the bridge widening and resurfacing.

Mayor Koser, City Attorney William Bartley, Gartzke, Ashton and council members will meet June 7 with the state highway commission in Ames to discuss the plans.

Robert Noble Trial Scheduled June 20

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP) - Superior Court Judge J. Elmer Peak today set June 20 as the date for trial of Robert D. Noble of Iowa City on a reckless homicide charge.

Noble, assistant secretary of the University of Iowa Alumni association, is charged with having been the driver of an automobile which ran into a group of young persons near the Notre Dame campus in October, 1947, killing a St. Mary's college student and a Notre Dame student.

He pleaded innocent at his arraignment last June. The accident occurred after the Iowa-Notre Dame football game.

Monkey Business Ups Liquor Tax

TOKYO (AP) - When a 60 percent tax on zoo tickets was proposed opponents fought it by parading a monkey and other zoo animals down the street.

The monkey's antics so amused legislators they now have abandoned the move. Instead, they decided to boost the tax on liquor consumption.

UAW Asks Ford Arbitration

DETROIT (AP) - The CIO United Auto Workers last night proposed arbitration of the main issue in the Ford strike. It was the first major step aimed at breaking a 19-day deadlock.

UAW President Walter Reuther suggested that six minor issues be settled first before going to arbitration. After these were agreed upon, he said, the union would sign a strike settlement.

The big question was how to adjust manpower to the rate of production at Ford's two Detroit plants. Disagreement on this point was the spark that set off the strike of 65,000 workers May 1.

The company has proposed arbitration of the issues all along. The union said, however, that its suggested method of arbitration differed from that of Ford.

A Ford spokesman said the company had not received the proposals and until it did there would be no comment.

Reuther asked that an arbitrator suitable to both company and union be selected.

Big Four Ministers Agree On Conference Agenda

Russian Controlled Police Open Fire In Railway Strike

BERLIN (TUESDAY) (AP) - Russian-controlled police killed two railroad strikers, wounded two critically and injured others late last night in a battle at the Zoo elevated station.

Strikers broke into the Westkreuz station early today and their leaders said they intended to occupy all stations in the western sectors of the city during the night.

Soviet-sector police and strike-breakers at first were ordered to get out of the Westkreuz depot immediately, but later strikers accepted a compromise settlement which gave east and west sector police joint control of the station.

Deputy Mayor Ferdinand Friedensburg said that in the fight at the Zoo stations "scores" of railroad strikers were wounded in addition to the two killed and the two critically wounded.

Col. J. D. Steward, British public safety officer, ordered Soviet police to evacuate the Zoo station when they opened fire and gave them 20 minutes to get out.

He said West Berlin police would throw them out if they refused.

The Russian sector police agreed to leave. A train was called up to take them back to east Berlin. The mob of strikers and sympathizers was brought under control and the danger of new bloodshed averted for the moment. The Zoo station is in British Berlin.

Police said at least 1,200 Germans have been injured in the battles that have raged across west Berlin's network of "EI" lines.

Fifteen thousand German rail workers, living in western Berlin, struck at midnight Friday against the Soviet-directed German railway administration to enforce their demand for pay in west marks, more valuable than Soviet marks.

Police said at least 80 persons were wounded by Soviet sector guards. They reported the death of a refugee bystander at Lichtenrade station, in the American sector, although they could not confirm it.

Paul Markgraf, police chief in the Soviet sector, threatened "severe punishment," including death, for persons caught damaging railroad property or attacking the police.

Strikebreaker Resists Arrest

CAUGHT IN THE GRIP of two West Berlin policemen is this Communist strikebreaker. He was arrested during riots at Charlottenburg elevated railway station Saturday. The prisoner appears to be expressing rather unfavorable opinion of his captors. He was one of a group who tried to take over the station from strikers who are demanding pay in West zone marks instead of cheap East zone currency.

Senate Probe Slated For Lillenthal Case

WASHINGTON (AP) - A senate investigation was ordered yesterday into David E. Lillenthal's handling of the nation's atomic bomb and energy program.

Lillenthal is chairman of the atomic energy commission. He has held the post for more than two years, taking over after a bitter senate battle on his confirmation.

Senator Vandenberg (R - Mich) made a point of Lillenthal's "attitudes" toward the nation's atomic secrets and called for a searching inquiry. Over the weekend, Senator Hickenlooper (R - Iowa) had bluntly demanded that Lillenthal be fired.

After a four-hour session behind closed doors, Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) announced that the senate-house atomic energy commission will investigate the charges against Lillenthal.

McMahon did not outline the scope of the inquiry, except to say the committee would consider carefully Hickenlooper's statement. The Iowa senator, the senior Republican on the committee, had asserted Lillenthal's regime has been marked by "incredible mismanagement."

Lillenthal himself called Hickenlooper's blast "a vague and ungenerous wholesale indictment." He said he is willing to stand on the commission's record.

Lillenthal and the atomic commission have been in congressional hot water ever since disclosures over the last two weeks:

1. That an admitted Communist, Hans Freistadt, 23-year-old University of North Carolina student-instructor, was awarded a $1,600-a-year atomic fellowship to study nuclear physics, and that similar grants went to several others whose loyalty has been questioned.

At Chapel Hill, N.C., Freistadt said yesterday he is willing to take a loyalty oath to the United States government, but he added: "I would not renounce my allegiance to the Communist party even if my fellowship is withdrawn."

2. That a tiny cylinder of uranium-235 was missing from the Argonne atomic laboratories in Chicago and the loss was not reported to the FBI for seven weeks. The atomic commission announced

German Unity Top Business

PARIS (AP) - The four-power foreign minister conference opened yesterday with polite skirmishing over the agenda.

In a session of two and a half hours the four diplomatic chiefs of Britain, France, the United States and Russia:

1. Agreed to make German unification their top business;

2. Surprisingly placed an Austrian independence treaty on the slate;

3. Quietly muffled the bombshell Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky proposed to throw into the conference when he suggested that a date be set with China to draft a peace treaty for Japan.

The foreign ministers agreed to omit Japan from their present formal program but left the way open for informal talks later.

Vishinsky was agreeable throughout but there were hints of tough sessions ahead. The agenda for this fourth effort of the foreign ministers council to reach a German settlement is almost exactly the same as that which, deadlocked the previous conferences.

The adopted agenda read: "1. The problem of German unity, including economic principles, political principles and allied control."

"2. Berlin, including the currency question."

"3. Preparation of a treaty of peace for Germany."

"4. Consideration of a treaty with Austria."

The meeting was behind closed doors but the details were given newspapermen by press officers of the French, British and American delegations.

At the very start, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman frankly warned Vishinsky that the west was dissatisfied with the way the New York agreement for lifting the blockade of Berlin was being carried out. He said if the difficulties in Berlin could not be settled there to everyone's satisfaction the foreign ministers would have to consider them.

Hancher Comments On Patrick's Death

President Virgil M. Hancher of SUI yesterday commented on the death of Professor Emeritus George T.W. Patrick, founder of SUI's department of psychology.

He said, "In the company of many others I revered him as a teacher, admired him as a citizen and loved him as a friend. By the force of his teaching and the influence of his example, he has helped many generations of men and women to enjoy richer and better living, and they are his living monuments."

Patrick died at his Palo Alto, Calif., home Saturday at the age of 92.

Haynes, Ashland, Ore., grins happily from the barred window of the sealed car in which he has driven 11,419 miles of the 140,000 miles he needs to collect a $25,000 bet from E.B. Mauldin, Oregon rancher. Haynes has already spent three months and four days in the sealed car; he has 10 months and 25 days to go before he can collect the bet. Starting and finishing point for the junket was Ashland, Ore. He has already crossed eight states, as the seal on the fender indicate. While stopping at Eden Motors in Iowa City yesterday, Haynes said, "This is the umpleth city I've visited; I don't know how many more are ahead of me, but I'm enjoying every minute of the trip."

Braves Win, Take First Cubs Lose 5th Straight, 11-4

CHICAGO (AP) — The Boston Braves took undisputed possession of the first place in the National league race by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 11-4, here yesterday before a Ladies day gathering of 8,155. It broke a first-place tie with the New York Giants who were tied along with the rest of the circuit.

The victory swept the two-game series here and extended the losing streak of the Cubs to five in a row.

The Braves pounded Walt Dubiel for four runs in the first. Eventually they rolled up a dozen blows off Dubiel, who was routed in the fourth, and four successors.

Vern Bickford went the distance for the Braves and scattered ten hits for his sixth win of the season. Among the hits were No. 3 homers by Hank Edwards and Frankie Gustine.

DOWN AND OUT is Chicago Cub Center-Fielder Hal Jeffcoat after being forced at second on a ground ball hit by Herman Reich. Braves Third Baseman Bob Elliott took the grounder and threw to Second Baseman Ed Stanky shown above with the ball after tagging the bag for the out. The umpire is Beans Reardon. The Braves won, 11-4.

Gumper's 3-Hitter, Chisox Rally in Ninth Beats Senators, 3-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chicago White Sox scored twice with two out in the ninth inning to defeat Washington, 3-1 last night behind the 3-hit pitching of Randy Gumpert.

Cass Michael's homer with one out in the eighth, the third hit off Joe Haynes, locked the score at 1-1.

Gumpert launched Chicago's ninth inning uprising with a single and Dave Philley was nicked by a pitched ball. Gordon Goldsberry fouled out and Luke Appling forced Gumpert at third, but Gus Zernial lined a single to left, scoring Philley. Appling scored when Jerry Scalee relieved pitcher Paul Calvert with a single.

Henrich Homer Aids Yankee Win, 10-3

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Henrich's three-run homer, and Allie Reynolds' airtight relief pitching after relieving starter Ed Lopat in the second inning helped the New York Yankees defeat the St. Louis Browns last night, 10-3.

Henrich's four-bagger, his eighth of the season, drove in three of the four runs the Yankees wrenched from loser Ned Garver in the first. When Cliff Mapes tripled off the center field wall to open the second, Bill Kennedy replaced Garver but was little relief to the Browns. Mapes held third as Gerry Coleman bunted safely but both runners scored on Phil Rizzuto's double.

Gophers Need Backs?

Sophomore Half Shines; Minnesota Weaknesses Not Apparent in Spring Intra-Squad Game

By NEAL BLACK (Iowan Sports Editor)

If the Minnesota football team that will probably be the pre-season favorite to carry the Big Ten hopes into the Rose bowl next New Year's day is weak at end and in the backfield as has been predicted it wasn't apparent in Saturday's spring intra-squad game.

Although Billy Bye and Frank Kuzma, Gopher backfield stars of last year, didn't put in an appearance Saturday, the flock of new backs and especially one sophomore looked like Bernie Bierman will have plenty of first rate backs.

Watch George Hudak, 183-pound halfback from Chisom, Minn., when the Gophers get into action next fall. He runs and passes like he'll go places behind that big Gopher line.

Bye hasn't been out for spring training this year because Bierman evidently doesn't feel he'll improve much and also because of the fear of injuries and Kuzma, the hard-hitting fullback who sat Saturday because of injuries.

The Gophers, playing in a chilly drizzle, ran out of the T formation a great deal of the time. They shifted to the single wing, and lined up in that formation part of the time but look for them to use the T a lot.

The Gopher line, although they say it'll be short on depth in the middle should resemble the Bierman lines of old. When you've got a quarter of a ton of beef like Clay Tommemaker and Leo Nomellini to build a line around you've got a big start.

Those two men gave warning that they'll be ripping up opposition lines again this year as they played on opposing teams and blasted through to spill plays a number of times.

With 90 men on the squad and those two guys to start with Bierman should be able to field a pretty fair line.

And with Hudak throwing his long passes and hitting the line along with Kuzma and Bye they could be hard to beat. If Saturday's game was any indication the Gophers will be slinging a lot of passes come fall.

Hudak threw a lot of long ones and in addition to him they have Bill McMoore, Dave Skrien, Don Jobe and Dale Warner to sling the pigskin for them. Skrien's specialty seemed to be a short jump pass from close behind the line.

Skrien also looked like the kind of runner who can get through the line and knows what to do when he gets in the secondary. Gordon Soltau, a 190-pound end from Duluth, was the target of a big percentage of Hudak passes Saturday and you can look for him to play a lot of offensive end for the Gophers.

In one series of plays the white team took the ball in opposition territory. Hudak passed for 20 yards and then ran the ball twice to the 3-yard line. The whites lost the ball and the golds punted out to the 49.

Hudak passed for 21 yards and then threw another that was incomplete in the end zone. After a penalty set them back to the 32 another Hudak pass was good for 8. Then Hudak took the ball in the single wing, fumbled in the backfield, picked it up and gained four yards through the line. The whites lost the ball on downs and one of the other passers took over for Hudak at that point.

A Minneapolis writer said the other day in a column that Iowa seems to be hiding in the bushes with a pretty good football team. The only reply to that would be that it would take a big clump of bushes to hide all the talent Bierman has on that Gopher squad.

Maxim Decisions Lesnevich

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sharpshooting Joey Maxim of Cleveland, tonight left-jabbed his way to National Boxing association recognition as American lightweight champion with a unanimous 15-round decision over Gus Lesnevich of Cliffside, N.J.

Lesnevich, who weighed 174 3-4, led during the early rounds but never could catch up with the 174-pound Maxim after the Clevelander started throwing that lightning-like left. The real losers of the fight, however, were promoters Sam and Ben Becker. There was a disappointing crowd of only 6,931 on hand in the huge Cincinnati garden. The gross gate was $56,151.50 and the Beckers had guaranteed Lesnevich $50,000 and Maxim $15,000.

The Associated Press scorecard gave Maxim eight rounds with five going to Lesnevich and two being scored as even.

It was a cautious fight all the way but Maxim admitted after it was over that he was stunned a couple of times by lefts to the head. He said, however, that Lesnevich's lefts to the body were Gus' most damaging blows.

"Those body punches really hurt," he said. "Gus had everything behind them." Lesnevich promptly said he was through with meeting the light heavyweight limit of 175 pounds. "I'm through with that," he said. "No more but heavyweights. Freddie Mills won't give me another crack at the world's light-heavyweight title. "I'm not taking anything away from Maxim. He's a clever guy. He never hurt me but he did have that left."

Estes in SUI Hospital For Checkup; May Return to University

Johnny Estes, former SUI football player who was injured in a playground accident last July, said yesterday at University Hospitals that he might return to SUI when he is "up and about" or he might attend an embalming school.

The Des Moines athlete is in Iowa City for a checkup. His condition is reported as fine and he is expected to be in the hospital for a short time only.

Estes, son of a Des Moines mortician, said that he had been walking on crutches since January and that he is feeling okay.

He has been helping his father by answering the office phone, he said, and he will return to the same pastime when he leaves the hospital.

A physician said that Estes' morale was an inspiration to anyone he was around. The injured player was playing cribbage yesterday when interviewed.

Estes was considered one of the better prospects for the 1948 football team when he suffered a severe pine injury last July. Little hope was expressed at the time that he would recover sufficiently to walk.

He was presented the annual SUI Sportsmanship award April 15, by Tailfeathers.

Five Awarded Nile Kinnick Scholarships

Woodard, Towner, Preps Get Award

Iowa Gridmen Ralph Woodard and John Towner head a group of five Iowans who have been awarded Nile Kinnick scholarships at the State University of Iowa, President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday.

The other three recipients are J. Burt Britzmann, Hawarden, Kenneth Weber, Hartley, and Frank Barile, Newton.

The one-year scholarships are awarded in memory of the late Nile Kinnick and the other Hawks who died during the war. The holder may renew the scholarship if he maintains a high level of scholarship, leadership and participation in campus activities.

Woodard, liberal arts junior from Fort Dodge, has won three major letters as end on Iowa's football team. Towner, a freshman from Des Moines, was all-state football center at North high in Des Moines.

Britzmann is a member of the state championship debate team and played football, basketball and track at Hawarden.

Weber, besides being a member of Hartley's football, basketball, baseball and track teams, also was president of his senior class.

Barile, president of the senior class at Newton, participated in football and track. The alternates for the scholarships are Richard Eggers, Bellevue, Roger Hendrickson, Cresco, and Wendell Stevens, Mason City.

Kinder's Five-Hitter Gives Revived Bosox Win Over Tigers, 4-0

NEW YORK (AP) — The reports of the "death" of the Boston Red Sox appeared to have been greatly exaggerated yesterday as they played brilliant ball to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-0, behind Ellis Kinder's five-hit pitching.

Kinder, pitching one of the best games of his career, nevertheless needed two great catches by center fielder Dom DiMaggio to save his shutout. They came in succession in the first inning with two men on base. DiMaggio raced to deep center and made a one-handed leaping catch of Paul Campbell's liner against the wall.

Then, before he had recovered his breath, Hoot Evers sent another smash to center and the little professor had to leap high and pull down the ball in his gloved hand.

Vern Stephens contributed the chief offensive support, a two-run homer, his 11th of the season. He is two up on Johnny Mize of the Giants.

Tunnel Fails to Sign With Class D Ball Club

Emlen Tunnel, former Iowa grid star, failed to come to terms with the president of Hazelton of the Class D North Atlantic baseball league recently and left the city without donning a uniform.

Tunnel, who plays football during the fall with the New York Giants of the National professional football league, is an outfielder.

Hawks Eye Conference Title

The Iowa baseball team returned to Iowa City this weekend with two more victories under its belt and with the Hawkeyes' eyes on the Big Ten championship.

A pair of wins this weekend in the Northwestern series and a little help from a couple other teams in the league could leave the Hawks in just that top spot when the season's play ends.

Iowa is currently tied for second place with Indiana, 50 percent points behind Purdue. If a lot of things happen this weekend and next, Iowa could take undisputed first place.

The first if is two victories by the Hawkeyes over Northwestern. The second if would be a split between Indiana and Purdue in their series next weekend.

Then if the Ohio State ace hurler, Pete Perini, comes through and beats Purdue the following week, Iowa will cop the flag. Simple, isn't it?

The Hawkeyes looked their best of the season as they beat Minnesota 2-0 and 9-4 last weekend. Jack Bruner had his fast ball doing tricks Friday night as he whiffed 15 Gophers to approach the conference record in that department.

Iowa hitting took an upswing last week as the Hawkeyes garnered 20 hits off Gopher hurler Jack Dittmer came out of a slump to get 4 for 7 in the series to lead Iowa hitters.

John Tedore got that homer he's been looking for when he blasted the ball over the left field fence 350 feet from the plate. It was the first home run hit in the new Gopher park that's been in use this year.

The major league scouts turned out to see Bruner in action again Friday night. Burleigh Grimes of the Brooklyn Dodgers came all the way from the east to see if Bruner had a curve ball.

They agreed after the game that the southpaw ace can throw them when he wants to. The Minnesota coach, Dick Siebert, said Bruner's fast ball that he threw low was sinking off and the ones he threw about waist-high were "doing tricks."

It is reported that two major league scouts who saw the pitcher in action at Purdue said he could pitch winning ball for class AAA clubs right now.

Dittmer has also been the subject of some critical looks from scouts this year. Siebert said Dittmer was probably the best infielder he'd seen in the conference this year.

Iowan Nine Staves off Late Rally to Win, 12-11 In Softball (That's What They Called It) Game

By NIPPER NIPSON

In a puzzling game, somewhat resembling softball, The Daily Iowan Scribes struggled through a 12-11 victory over the WSUI Golden-Voices Sunday behind the fieldhouse.

The Daily Iowan triumph leveled the annual series at one win apiece. WSUI took last year's first battle of journalism, 15-14.

Sore muscles and creaky bones were visible in the late innings after the Scribes held an early 12-4 lead in the fifth frame.

The Golden-Voices pushed across three runs in the top of the seventh and four more in the bottom of the eighth. The Scribes needed a brief consultation with his assistants, Spank Broders and Charlie Carroll, to determine whether or not the foul should be credited as the third strike against the batter. He was immediately assured that it shouldn't, and the game was allowed to continue.

Both teams rapped out 16 hits apiece, with home runs by Hoberst Duncan, Russ Zeleniak and Bob Grub being the big blows of the contest.

The umpiring was sufficient, but there were those who wondered. In the third inning Plate Umpire Joe Krapek ran into an unprecedented situation. There were two strikes on the batter, when a foul ball created the problem. Krapek needed a brief consultation with his assistants, Spank Broders and Charlie Carroll, to determine whether or not the foul should be credited as the third strike against the batter. He was immediately assured that it shouldn't, and the game was allowed to continue.

The slugging centerfielder did not attempt to run on the heel, and will not for several days yet. But his batting eye obviously was as sharp as ever.

DiMaggio went through the batting practice before last night's Yankee-St. Louis Browns game at Yankee stadium. He was not scheduled to play in the game, however.

The slugging centerfielder did not attempt to run on the heel, and will not for several days yet. But his batting eye obviously was as sharp as ever.

Bruner's total of 54 strikeouts for the season is eight short of the record of 62 set last year by Marv Rotblatt of Illinois. Second high in strikeouts is Iowa's Bob Faber who fanned 58 in 1946.

Bruner has also moved into second place in the fewest hits permitted department. His record of 23 hits in 48 2-3 innings eclipses that of Mickey Fishman of Michigan who gave up 25 hits in 41 innings in 1942. Rotblatt holds this record also with 18 hits in 54 innings.

A win this weekend would tie Bruner for the lead record in victories with Rotblatt, Gene Jaroch and Pete Perini at six.

Hooks Hoeksema became the only Iowa hurler besides Bruner to go the route in a Big Ten game this year as he beat Minnesota in the second game of the series. He joined Wes Demro as the only Hawkeyes besides Bruner with a conference victory.

Bruner will get the nod to go against the Wildcats Friday and Hoeksema will probably pitch the second game of the series Saturday.

Indians Break Streak, Beat Athletics, 7-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The world champions finally broke into the win column as they pounded out 10 hits and thrashed the Philadelphia Athletics 7-3 last night. It was the Indians' first victory since last Thursday.

Early Wynn, obtained from Washington in a trade, went the route to record his first pitching triumph with the Indians. He set Philadelphia down with six hits, one of which was Hank Majeski's third home run of the season.

Veck, Gallagher Know

Some Days They Shoulda Stood in Bed When It Comes to Trading Ballplayers

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Some days you can't make a nickel trading ball players. Ask Bill Veck of Cleveland and Jimmy Gallagher of the Chicago Cubs.

Veck pried Mickey Vernon and Early Wynn away from Clark Griffith of Washington last winter. That was going to make the world champion Cleveland Indians puncture proof. In return he sent Eddie Robinson and two pitchers, one with a sore arm, to the Senators.

The latest averages show hitting around .307 with seven homers and 22 runs batted in. Not bad for a young man who couldn't figure out why Manager Lou Boudreau didn't play him every day last summer at first base.

Vernon is batting right around his .242 level of last year, give or take a few points. He has driven in 15 runs and hit five homers but you'd have to give the edge to Robinson so far.

Wynn, an eight-game winner for the Senators in 1948, hasn't won yet at Cleveland. He has a 0-0 record but was belted out twice in his only starting assignments against Detroit and Chicago.

Just to top it off, Joe Haynes, one of the sorearm pitchers in the deal, has a relief win to his credit and two fine bullpen chores. Ed Klieman, the other pitcher, was shunted to New York and Chicago where he finally beat Boston the other day.

Gallagher's series of swaps with the Phillies have backfired—at least most of them. Eddie Waitkus, sent to the Phils with Hank Borowy last Dec. 14 for Pitchers Dutch Leonard and Walt Dubiel, has been sensational at Philadelphia.

Waitkus, the much pursued first sacker who was supposed to be headed for Brooklyn several times, is hitting .340 with 14 RBIs to his credit.

As for Borowy, he really has rubbed it in on the Cubs. Hank trimmed Chicago twice in a row, the latest Saturday, 5-1. He has gone the route in each of five starts for a 3-2 record.

How about Leonard and Dubiel? They have

Board Begins Forrestal Case Investigation

Washington — A navy board of inquiry yesterday began a secret investigation into Former Defense Secretary James Forrestal's suicide leap as the nation mourned him as a war casualty.

A navy psychiatrist who attended Forrestal said last night his suicide leap was due to a "sudden fit of despondence."

The psychiatrist, Capt. George Raines, also said the navy was informed that Forrestal had attempted suicide at Hobe Sound, Fla., March 31, two days before he was brought here for treatment.

Forrestal, whose mind apparently cracked under the strain of high office, leaped to his death from a 16th-floor window of the Bethesda, Md., naval hospital early Sunday. He will be buried with full military honors tomorrow in Arlington National cemetery.

The White House announced that President Truman will attend the funeral services which will be limited to top government officials and a few close friends. The President and members of the cabinet, with whom Forrestal so recently served, will provide a blanket of flowers to cover the casket.

The board convened behind locked doors at the hospital. It presumably will determine whether there was any negligence on the part of personnel assigned to watch the celebrated patient.

The first witnesses were Commander R.R. Deen and Medical Corpsman R.W. Harrison Jr., who were on special duty near Forrestal's suite when he plunged from a diet kitchen window.

Raines also was to testify. A navy spokesman said the inquiry probably would not be completed before today. Whether its findings are made public will be up to Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, who succeeded Forrestal barely two months ago.

Funeral arrangements for the 57-year-old former Wall Street lawyer were made after his widow flew back from Paris and conferred with Johnson.

Currier Committees Named for 1949-'50

Currier social chairman Ruth Celke and judiciary chairman Marilyn Beatty yesterday named their respective board members for next year.

On Miss Celke's list were Nancy King, A3, University City, Mo.; Charlene McCorkel, A1, Burlington; Mary Lee, A1, West Des Moines; Ellen Sideman, A1, Des Moines; Dorothy Kamerick, C3, Knoxville; Lileth Hibbs, A3, Hepburn, and Hilda Greenberg, A2, Cedar Rapids.

Miss Beatty named Mary Jane Dorr, A3, Waterloo; Lillian Rose A2, Chicago; Joan Bockenstedt, A2, New Vienna; Janet Robinson, A2, Des Moines, and Betty Bates, A1, Wapello.

Fish Seining

Remove Undesirable Fish from Lake

Seining of rough fish from Lake Macbride has yielded more than 11,000 pounds of carp, 1,600 pounds of snapping turtles, and a large amount of buffalo, according to Roy Reed, supervisor of the Macbride state park area.

Since May 2, workmen have been removing these undesirable fish to make more food available for game fish which have been stocked in the lake.

The work is being done in the upper regions of the lake where the crab and buffalo are spawning. Each day an average of 5,000 pounds of sish have been taken out.

Reed said the work will continue through this week. Fish that are removed, he said, will be sold to the public.

SUI Phi Beta Kappa Initiates 66 Members

Phi Beta Kappa, national honor society, yesterday initiated 66 SUI students into the local chapter in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Donald Torchiana, G, Evanston, Ill., was initiated on behalf of the Alpha chapter at De Pauw university, Green Castle, Ind.

Following the initiation a banquet was held in the River room of the Iowa Union for the initiates and their families. History Prof. Robert S. Hoyt, discussed "The Battle of the Seven Liberal Arts."

Lloyd A. Knowler, president of the SUI chapter, delivered the welcoming address and Jean Galaher, A4, Appleton, Wis., responded on behalf of the new members.

Jurors Selected for Smulekoff, Murray Judgment Suit Here

Trial of the Smulekoff vs. W.E. Murray judgment suit began yesterday in Johnson county district court with the selection of a six-man and six-woman jury.

In the original suit, the Smulekoff Furniture company of Cedar Rapids charged that $919.95 was due them for the installation of carpeting in Murray's home at 407 Melrose avenue.

In a counter-claim, the defendant stated that the furniture company failed to fulfill the terms of the contract. He asked that the suit be dismissed, and a down payment of $400 which he had made on the $1,319.95 total bill be refunded.

Pole Burns Twice, Put Out by Fireman

Firemen were called to extinguish a fire in an electric transformer mounted on a telephone pole at the rear of the Burkley hotel about 12:20 yesterday afternoon. It was the second trip to the same pole, Fire Chief J.J. Clark said.

The last time it was the pole that was on fire. It had been ignited by a live wire rubbing against it, Clark said. No estimate of the damage caused by yesterday's fire had been made last night, Clark said.

Firemen put out the fire that burned out an electric motor on a refrigeration unit at the Maidrite cafe at 12:05 Sunday afternoon, Chief Clark said. Damage was confined to the motor and to some connected wiring, Clark added.

Conservation Job Exams Scheduled

Examinations for the position of state conservation officer will be held at 9 a.m. June 20 in the Iowa house of representatives, Harry Wagoner, Johnson county farm forester, said yesterday.

According to state law, these examinations must be held before appointing a law enforcement officer to any of the conservation jobs.

Applications must be received by the examination commission before June 6. Blanks may be obtained by writing to the state conservation commission, 914 Grand avenue, Des Moines.

Damage Totals $790 In Three Accidents Involving Five Cars

One car overturned and a parked car was demolished in two of the three accidents reported yesterday, police said. No injuries were listed. Estimated damage to five of the cars involved totaled $790.

Eldwin R. Hay, A2, Iowa City, was fined $12.50 in police court yesterday on a charge of failure to have his car under control.

The charge was filed after Hay's car was involved in an accident in which a car driven by Willard G. Carlson, A3, La Grange, Ill., overturned on wet pavement at the intersection of Davenport and Van Buren streets yesterday at 7:40 a.m.

Hay estimated $300 damage to Carlson's car and $40 damage to the front of his car.

A parked car owned by Sidney C. Abraham, A3, Mapleton, was reported smashed by a truck driven by Harold Conn, Omaha, Neb., Sunday between 2 a.m. and 8 a.m., police said.

Abraham reported his car received $350 damage while it was parked on Riverside drive north of Grand avenue. A witness said the axle of the truck was bent.

An accident Saturday caused $50 damage to each of two cars that collided at the intersection of Washington and Dubuque streets, police said.

Paul R. Hensley, 921 Hudson avenue, and David N. Rapaport, Cedar Rapids, drivers involved, said the accident occurred about 2 p.m. Saturday after one of the cars was stopped for a red signal. The other car rammed it from behind.

U. Hospitals' Last Polio Case Listed as Inactive

Darlene Langreek, 12-year-old West Union polio victim, was transferred to the "inactive" ward at University hospitals yesterday, where her condition was reported as "good," hospitals authorities said.

Darlene, the third polio patient admitted to University hospitals this year, was placed in the "active" polio ward May 12. Darlene was the only polio patient remaining in the "active" ward.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

When Thomas Mann first visited southern California, Mrs. Bruno Frank invited the most important people in Hollywood to a party to meet him. It was a function that would have gladdened the heart of any Sunday magazine editor.

For once the brilliant guests lived up to their reputations. The conversation scintillated. Everything clicked. At the height of the festivities, the late Carl Laemmle, powerful head of the Universal studio, tapped the hostess on the shoulder.

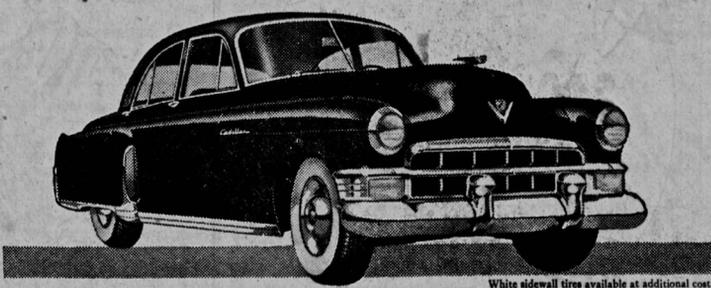

"It's a wonderful party," he told her. "Tomorrow morning, if you don't mind, my secretary will phone to get Mr. Mann's address and a complete list of your guests. I want to have exactly the same party at my house next week."

When a Boy Dreams of Manhood!

IF YOU DRIVE A CADILLAC, the sketch above tells a story. Somewhere on the streets or highways you bring your car to a velvety stop to give a "lift" to a youngster whose thumb is pointed the same way you are—and you watch his face light up as he settles down beside you.

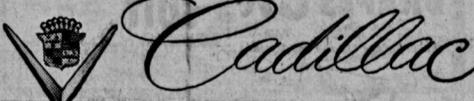

"Boy, a Cadillac!"

You know, without asking, what is going through his head. He's dreaming of the day when he himself grows up to man's estate and has a Cadillac of his own.

It is only natural, of course, that Cadillac should occupy this unique place of honor in the dreams and aspirations of American youth—for Cadillac is the only car in America whose name and crest have been reserved exclusively for cars of the very highest character. It is the only fine-car name that has meant the same—for decade after decade.

This year, the Cadillac name has a special luster—for Cadillac cars are powered by a great new V-type engine—the creative masterpiece of Cadillac's renowned engineering division. Performance is so brilliant, from every standpoint, that it simply must be experienced in order to be believed.

Why not experience it yourself? You are welcome in our showrooms at any time.

County's Aged Get Average of $49.66

An average of $49.66 was paid to 465 Johnson county old age assistance cases for the month of May, the state department of social welfare announced yesterday.

Thirteen recipients of aid to needy blind averaged $56.76 for the same period while 39 dependent children cases received an average payment of $62.17.

Total assistance payments to Johnson county cases amounted to a little over $26,000 cases for 517 cases. This is about the same as payments in March and April although the trend for the state has been upward monthly this year.

More than 54,000 cases received over $2.5 million this month in Iowa, an increase of over $13,000 over last month. Seven cases have been closed since last month, while 30 new cases have been added, the department said.

$3,000 Nutrition Foundation Grant Renewed

Renewal of a $3,000 research grant from the nutrition Foundation, Inc., for the study of B vitamins will enable Biochemistry Prof. George Kalnitsky to continue research started two years ago through a similar grant. The two-year grant becomes effective July 1.

Kalnitsky said that biochemists have a good idea of the role vitamins B-1 and B-2 play in the body and are curious about what other vitamins do.

This grant will be used to continue the study of biotin and pantothenic acid to try and determine what vitamins B-3 and B-4 do in the body.

Four graduate students working under Kalnitsky on this and related problems are Willard B. Elliott, Osborn, Mo., William J. Hartman, Rock Island, Ill.; James R. Gillette, Middletown, and John P. Kaltenbach, Rockford, Ill.

Another Nutritional Foundation research grant renewed at SUI is for the study of the metabolism of tryptophan in the tissues. Work under the $1,000 fellowship is being carried out by Merle Mason, G, Iowa City, under the direction of Biochemistry Prof. Clarence P. Berg.

The one-year grant was originally awarded in February, 1948, and work began last June. The grant has been extended for another year.

The foundation was incorporated in 1941 by a group of leaders in the food industry who were conscious of the need for increased support of basic research and education in the science of nutrition. Almost $1.5-million was appropriated for grants last year.

Six Students In Tornado

Six SUI students escaped injury Saturday afternoon when a tornado severely damaged the Cape Girardeau, Mo., home in which they were spending the weekend.

The students were William Reed, A2, and his five guests, Don McConnell, A3, Big Stone City, S.D.; Charles and John J. Stiles, both Ottumwa juniors; William Hilger, A1, Shenandoah; and Eugene B. Johnson, A3, Clinton. John Stiles said that the students were preparing to go to a party Saturday evening when they noticed the storm coming.

They were in the basement about five or 10 minutes while the twister tore off the south and west walls of the house and destroyed the garage.

After the storm, the students could find no trace of either the clothes they had laid out to wear that evening or the garage which had housed Hilger's convertible. The car was slightly scraped by the garage which was carried away, the students said. They found the car lodged against a tree about 12 feet from where the garage had been. The right door of the car was dented.

Journal Publishes Article by Funke

An article by Prof. Erich Funke, head of the SUI German department, is included in a recent issue of the University of Wisconsin's German language and literature journal, "Monatshafte."

The article is a methodological approach to the aesthetic treatment of literature, Dr. Funke said. "It introduced the student to general aesthetic concepts and principles which he learns to apply in the interpretation of literature," he explained.

The 1948 summer session course, "Formative Principles of German Literature," was based on the ideas presented in the article.

Local Revenue Bureau To Be Closed Monday

The Iowa City office of the bureau of internal revenue will be closed on Memorial day, Clement A. Boyle, deputy collector of revenue, said yesterday.

According to instructions from the bureau of internal revenue, the office will be open Tuesday, May 31, Boyle said. The Iowa City office is in the postoffice building, room 209.

Better Frivol? As Boot for Tire

There's going to have to be a definite improvement in Frivol magazine.

That is the opinion of three liberal arts freshmen at SUI.

It all came about as a result of a tire blow out on the car in which Fred Mathews and Wallace Pixley, both of Ottumwa, and Herb Hunt, Holstein, were riding Saturday.

The boys had no way of repairing the tire until Herb Hunt spied a copy of Frivol in the back seat.

Using the magazine as a tire boot, he repaired the damage. The boys started back towards Iowa City and then the weakness of Frivol showed up — it gave way and the boys were stuck again.

They finally had to buy a new tire. After getting back to their rooms in the Quadrangle, Hunt remarked, "I've had experiences like this before and always got better results using copies of the Saturday Evening Post."

When it came time Saturday night to write the Haul for today there wasn't an idea to be had in the house. I crawled up on the studio couch with the day's quota of direct mail circulars and fought off a strong desire to go to sleep.

Movie Quiz May Make Radio, TV Look Sick

NEW YORK (AP)—A $1-million give-away show designed to make radio's jackpots look like two-bit carnival raffle prizes is going to sweep across the country about July 1, Anheuser-Busch heiress Bonnie Busch said yesterday.

The heiress and her husband, Ray Jackson, see a big jackpot for themselves, too, in selling their packages of quiz movies, answers and donated prizes to movie house managers, many of whom are paying the rent these days with the proceeds from candy and cigaret machines.

They are piling up enough prizes to fill a warehouse—but they also are making their questions harder than the run of the mill radio queries.

The Jacksons are calling their program the "Santa Claus Quiz Show." Weekly 10-minute movies, each consisting of 10 scenes which are to be identified on quiz cards by name, date and place, will be shown from July 1 until Christmas, when Santa Claus will present the biggest quiz bonanza in history to the lucky national winner.

Miss Busch, a past master at dreaming up quiz shows, has planned this program as the movies' answer to what television and radio are doing to box office receipts. Her plan is to put quiz programs into the theaters and lure people back again in numbers equal to those of the good old "free dish" and "banknight" days.

The wise guy who gets the highest score in his local theater for scribbling answers in the dark will get a few little things like a washing machine and a refrigerator—but no radio or TV set—with a total value of $1,000. When he wins the state movie contest, he'll get another $5,000 in the usual quiz show loot. And then, when he wins the national contest, he'll get $100,000 in prizes to take home with him, including a house, a car, and just about everything else you can think of that doesn't need an aerial.

Jackson ran off a sample "Santa Claus Quiz Show film" at a sneak preview, and if he'd been awarding any prizes he could have taken them home with him.

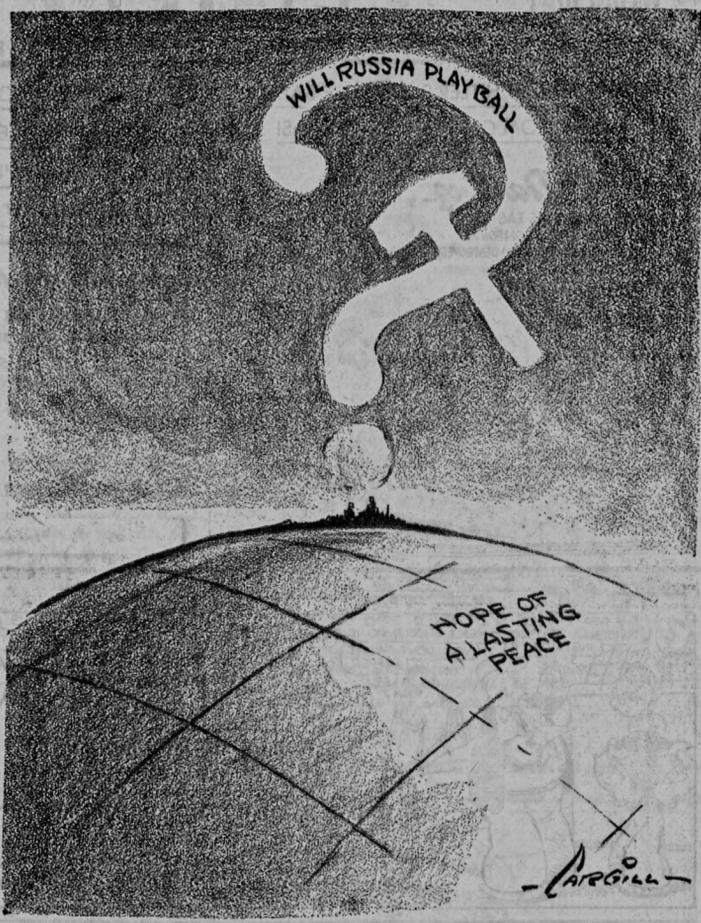

for not a soul knew the answers. Some of the questions acted out by mobs, pearl divers and sundry other folks, in costume and out, apparently asked: Where is the Mardi Gras held, who created it, when and where; who rode the last horsecar and when did it lead the first electric streetcar ever made; and who saved his brother's life when captured by giant shellfish, and where.

One of the questions looked easy. It was: who made the first solo flight across the Atlantic, and when and where did he receive a boisterous welcome from mobs throwing ticker tape.

Obviously, to those who were scrambling the answers, it was Charles A. Lindbergh, riding through New York in 1927.

No, said Jackson. That's not enough to win a quick, deep freeze. "Nobody put down the street," he said, "or the hour of the day. We promise not to make things too tough, though, he said. We're arranging for commentators and columnists to drop a few clues for us."

German Peace Treaty: History of Disagreements —

The big four foreign ministers conference opened in Paris yesterday with an air of hopefulness and a history of failure.

Ever since Potsdam, the big four have been deadlocked over postwar Germany. The Berlin airlift was a symptom, not a cause. Its lifting has enabled the big four to turn their attention to basic disagreements.

The cold war became more or less official when Gen. George Marshall became secretary of state early in 1947. Soon after, the U.S. "got tough" via the Truman doctrine and the Marshall plan.

Marshall's first mission was the Moscow foreign ministers meeting in March of 1947. Russia demanded $10-billion in current reparations from Germany; the west, pumping money into Germany, refused to have the Soviets siphon it out. The meeting ended in a stalemate. Three months later, Marshall spoke at Harvard university, proposing the now famous Marshall plan.

In December, 1947, the foreign ministers met to try again. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov again demanded heavy reparations from Germany. Molotov called the establishment of an "all-German democratic government" as outlined in the Potsdam declaration.

By then, the big four powers had gone far in concluding peace treaties with Hitler's satellite states. Only Austria and Germany lacked—and still lack—peace treaties.

At the December meeting, Secretary Marshall supported the French claims to the Saar basin and told the Russians that the Polish-German border settlement would have to wait until after a German peace treaty is signed.

The Soviets held a considerable psychological advantage at the conference. A Soviet puppet state was being built in east Germany—one prepared to take over and communize all of Germany when the occupation armies retreated. While the Polish border issue remained unsettled, the Poles were absorbing German Silesia into their economy.

That conference ended in failure. The meeting in Paris now is the first one held since. A lot has happened since the big four foreign ministers met last.

In May, 1948, the western powers met in London and decided to set up a separate government in western Germany over Soviet objections. On June 18, 1948, they introduced new currency into west Germany and their sectors of Berlin.

Retaliating, the Russians clamped down the Berlin blockade. The airlift began. Big four diplomats, meeting in secret sessions in Moscow, failed to end the blockade. Later in the year, the UN tried to settle the blockade question—and failed.

Since February of this year, the U.S. and Russia have been discussing informally the ending of the blockade and the calling of a big four foreign ministers meeting. The blockade ended less than two weeks ago on May 12; the foreign ministers convened in Paris yesterday.

The question of a unified Germany will come up. The Soviets haven't given up their dream of using a puppet east Germany to engulf all of Germany. The west has other ideas and is reluctant to pull its occupation troops out. Westerners want Germany unified, but under conditions similar to those of the newly-approved Bonn constitution for west Germany.

The Russians may ease their reparations demands. They recently told east Germans that they would waive all reparations claims if the Germans would immediately set up a puppet east Germany.

Time has settled many boundary issues. The Silesian basin, for all intents and purposes, is part of Poland. The Saar basin has been absorbed by the French.

Russia will still demand part of the output of the mighty Ruhr valley. The west has recently internationalized the Ruhr, giving about 16 western nations a share in management and output. This is the west's strongest bargaining point.

This, briefly, is the cold war history of the east-west split over Germany. The current big four foreign ministers meeting may go down as another deadlock or may be remembered as a strategic date in 20th century history. The choice is up to the Paris conferees.

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT Keeping Tabs On a Secret

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

Since the discovery of the atomic bomb, ours has been a society with a secret. We are now learning that life in a society with a secret is very different from anything we've known before.

FIRST OF ALL, you have the press, which, naturally wants to keep tabs on the atomic energy commission. But how do you keep tabs on a secret? How do you discuss the undiscussable and review the unreviewable?

In its efforts to solve this by no means inconsiderable problem, large portions of our press have been acting with all the grace and surety of a blindfolded man trying desperately to pin the tail on the donkey.

IN GENERAL, the more discontented sections of our press blithely make use of two diametrically opposed attitudes regarding the matter. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays they argue that no atomic secrets remain because of what they consider our naive action in publishing the Smyth report in 1945.

BUT ON TUESDAYS, Thursdays and Saturdays they yelp that the so-called do-gooders and social visionaries should be fired out of the atomic energy commission, because they are not qualified, they say, to hang on to our wonderful, terrible atomic secrets.

So far as the atomic secret is concerned, now we have it, now we don't. We gave it away, but we must be sure to keep it at all costs. It sounds pretty mixed-up, but I suppose it's the kind of level you have to expect discussion to hit in a society with a secret.

ONE FEATURE of the arm's length relationship between the press and the secret is that every so often some paper bobs up with an atomic scoop.

Since the commission is allowed, and even encouraged, to keep its own business to itself, the scoops sometimes don't turn out too well—as in the case of the current sensational disclosure in one journalistic quarter that three-fourths of a pound of Uranium-235 had disappeared.

This, has, apparently, turned out to be one ounce, six-sevenths of which has already been recovered in innocent wastes, where the rest probably is.

No whit daunted, however, critics of the commission are now demanding public hearings; i.e., everybody.

they want more information from and about an agency against whom their general complaint is that it doesn't keep secrets well enough. That's how curious life can get to be in a society with a secret.

TAKING IT from the other side, however, we now have to consider the position of the commission itself, holder of the secret. It wants to do the right thing. It knows it isn't subject to some of the normal democratic checks.

On its own, therefore, it tries to preserve the integrity of democratic processes, and the traditions of free scientific inquiry, even going so far as to give a fellowship (though in a non-secret field) to a man described as a self-avowed Communist. It pays due respects to medical science, distributing isotopes for research.

In other words, it tries to act as if an anxious public conscience were watching it closely, even though, under the circumstances, that cannot quite be.

BUT THESE MOVES further inflame the conservative opposition, which interprets them only as signs of weakness in handling a great trust. The commission's efforts to keep all aspects of the situation in mind are merely alarming to those who would simplify our whole problem to the easy business of just keeping a secret.

Watching these cross-purposes at work, one feels suddenly that to live easily with a secret is as hard for a nation as for a man.

MEANWHILE, those who have unquestioningly swallowed the simple equation that absolute secrecy equals absolute safety are confronted by Senator Brien McMahon's argument that congress and the public should at least be told how many atomic bombs we have; that otherwise it is impossible for men in responsible legislative positions to figure the future, to avoid serious miscalculations.

On this level our safety would seem to lie not so much in secrecy as in giving up some secrecy.

SUCH IS LIFE in a society with a secret. Somehow one feels that this cannot be the final human condition, that there must be something better than this ahead, for us, for the world, for everybody.

Interpreting The News — Defeated Russ Might Purge

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. A lot of Germans in the Soviet occupation zone apparently have learned the Communist definitions for unity and justice and want no part of them.

Trying to rush through a "People's Congress" for an "All-German government" to counter the western German government sponsored by the allies, the Communists called an election, handpicked a list of delegates for a single ticket, labeled it "for the unity of Germany and a just peace treaty" and asked a yes or no vote.

They bragged that at least 10-million of the 12-million eligibles would vote yes, and handed back the right to vote to former nazis in order to take advantage of all the available German nationalist sentiment.

They used the election tricks which have so often given the dictators 90 percent or more of the vote. Berlin dispatches said that invalidated ballots had been counted "yes." Announcement of the returns, after first scatterings showed the Communists were in trouble, was held up for 20 hours, an old political trick which allows for many "adjustments."

Still 33.9 percent of the Germans were shown to have said "no."

Taken in connection with the anti-Communist sentiment displayed by the Germans in the western zone since the war, the vote just about settled any Russian idea that they could produce a regime in the east which would obtain any serious consideration as an "All-German" government. On-the-spot interpretation was that they might be compelled to scrap their carefully planned strategy for the foreign ministers meeting in Paris this week.

A few hours before the returns were announced the National Democratic Party paper, representing the nazis whose aid had been recruited by the Communists, came out with victory claims. But soon the Soviet military press changed the tune to cries of "doublecross" directed at splinter parties who refused to go along. "Lying propaganda" from the west also was cited as a reason.

These alibis are not likely to prove of much help to the German Communists who failed to produce, even though they did get a majority. Their failure is in sharp contrast to the result of simultaneous elections in Soviet-satellite Hungary and Bulgaria, where better trained and better disciplined Communists got the usual 95 percent vote. If usual practice is followed, there will be a purge of Communist officials in Germany and a reorganization of the Social Unit party, formed under Communist compulsion soon after the war.

Hiss Trial Starts This Week; Chambers Fate At Stake, Too

By JACK V. FOX United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP)—Alger Hiss goes on trial this week.

The 44-year-old Hiss, a man whose official and social connections once reached to the very top of the government, will be fighting to save a brilliant career that could end with 10-years in prison.

It has been five months since a grand jury charged him with perjury, accusing him of lying about his involvement in Communist espionage with former Communist courier Whittaker Chambers and about stealing secret documents when he was one of the top officials of the state department.

Now, after numerous delays, both the government and the defense are ready to hear those accusations put before a jury. The Hiss case was on the district court calendar for yesterday but both the defense and prosecution agreed it was likely the starting date will be tomorrow.

Facing a criminal charge will be a unique experience for Hiss, one of the "bright young men" of the new deal who rose to become one of the late President Roosevelt's advisors at the Yalta conference and secretary general of the San Francisco meeting where the United Nations was born.

In recent weeks Hiss gave up his $20,000-a-year post as head of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace and devoted himself to preparation for a battle that will mean everything to him, his wife and their two children. His attorneys will be veteran Edward McClean and Paul Lloyd Stryker, the famed lawyer who once defended Tammany chieftain Jimmy Hines.

The indictment, returned last Dec. 16 by the top grand jury that indicted 11 top U.S. Communist leaders now on trial, contains two counts of perjury, each punishable by five years imprisonment. They are:

1—That Hiss lied to the grand jury when he denied turning over confidential state department documents to Chambers, knowing they would wind up in Russian hands.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP will meet in conference room 1, Iowa Union at 8 p.m., May 24.

SCIENCE AND SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY club meeting May 24 has been postponed until September.

SALESMEN SUMMER JOBS. The jobs require a car, offer an opportunity for practical sales experience and may lead to permanent employment after graduation. The companies are well established, have very good sales records, and a progressive attitude toward employees. Full information may be secured at the office of student affairs, and appointments with company representatives will be arranged.

FUTURE TEACHERS of America, annual picnic will be held May 26 at Lake Macbride. Members planning to attend should sign up in the education office, East hall. Guests are invited.

STUDENT COUNCIL meeting in senate chamber of Old Capitol at 7:30 p.m., May 26.

FRIVOL. People interested in working on next year's Frivol will meet in room E-105 East hall at 7:30 p.m., May 24.

New Republic of Germany Established

BONN, GERMANY — The Federal Republic of Germany, embracing all of the country under the control of the western powers, was officially born yesterday. It came into being when its constituent assembly put the new 48-article constitution, written after weeks of labor, into effect. On that hour western Germany's new black, gold and red flag was raised over her public buildings.

The west decided to form the state after the Big Four council of foreign ministers broke up in deadlock in London in 1947. It was proclaimed just as the Big Four met again in Paris for the first time since the London debacle. Federal Germany includes all the states in the United States, British and French occupation zones, but the door was left open for the Russian zone to enter.

Eighty-eight non-Communist German statesmen signed the constitution in a brief, colorful ceremony. They were the non-Communist members of the constituent assembly, the 11 ministers-president of the western states and the president of the state legislature in western Germany. Two Communist members of the constituent assembly refused to sign.

Hundreds of black, red and gold flags fluttered in Bonn. Thousands of Germans waited outside the parliament building and cheered the news that the republic had been proclaimed. The German politicians who framed the constitution will now dissolve the assembly and go home. One of them, Communist Max Reimann, may wind up in jail.

Reimann was sentenced to three months imprisonment for calling his colleagues "allies quislings." The British suspended his sentence to permit him to continue his work as an assembly delegate, but they indicated they may re-arrest him at the end of the last session.

Yackshaw Elected Quad Council Head
Robert Yackshaw, a Quadrangle proctor, maintained the Quad's tradition last night when he was elected president of the housing unit's council for the next school year. Yackshaw is a graduate student from Clinton.

Plans Pedal Push Through Europe

PREPARING FOR HER BICYCLE TOUR THROUGH EUROPE this summer, Claire Ferguson, Des Moines, straps on her bicycle bag in order to determine just how much equipment she can pack without overloading the bike. Miss Ferguson will be allowed to take only the minimum essentials including a bed roll on the tour but is looking forward to a "wonderful experience."

Europe Draws SUI Students

Steamship Agency Swamped with Applications; France, England, Holland Favorites

France, England and Holland are among the more popular places many SUI students are planning to visit during their summer vacations this year.

Some are planning to continue their education abroad, while others are going on commercial tours or just visiting the foreign places they've "heard about but never seen."

Fred W. Boerner of Boerner's Steamship agency said that in the 30 years he has had the agency, he has never "had a year like this before."

He has been swamped with applications for steamship accommodations this summer and he said it would be impossible to take care of all the requests.

Boerner said the summer is an especially busy time for steamship companies because so many students and teachers are limited to traveling then.

Many students planning to tour Europe have received no booking for return passage, Boerner said. Obtaining booking for the return trip is much more difficult "because everyone wants to come home at the same time," he explained.

Reservations to 1953 have been made with his agency for European travel as far ahead as 1953. Last year he said he booked four people for passage and had to turn down 72. This year he has had to turn down many more.

Boerner said many students have inquired about the possibility of working their way across on ships and he stated that this is "almost an impossibility."

"American steamship companies don't hire students for one voyage or just the summer and foreign companies only hire citizens of their own country," he said.

Planning to fly to Paris and then bicycle through France, Belgium and Holland are Larry Fryer, C3, Des Moines, and Bob Williamson, C3, Sioux City. They plan to leave the United States on June 16, spend a week in Paris and bicycle as much as they can over the continent. They will spend a total of 62 days abroad.

Plan to Bicycle Also planning to bicycle over the continent is Claire Ferguson, LI, Des Moines. Accompanied by Dorothy Lou Green, Des Moines, an SUI graduate, the girls will join the American Youth Hostel tour

Nylon - Doctor's Aid

SUI Hospitals Need Old Lingerie

Girls, if you're packing to go home for the summer and you find any old white nylon slips, blouses or hose — don't discard them — the surgery department of University hospitals needs them.

Nylon material makes excellent surgical bandages for skin grafts or burned patients because it does not stick to the wound, Dr. William Huffman, assistant professor of otolaryngology, said yesterday.

Dr. Huffman received the idea of collecting "used" nylon from a surgeon in Minneapolis who has used it for some time. Texton, a commercial nylon, is used by many hospitals but the material is "very expensive," Huffman explained.

Huffman said he believed the material could be sterilized by "live steam," but that he would consult his friend on the method to be used.

In making the bandages, the material will be cut into small pieces and placed against the wound. Over this nylon layer, cotton gauze will be placed.

When this dressing is removed, the nylon does not tear the outer layer of skin and thus it speeds the healing process and makes it more comfortable for the patient.

Collecting containers have been placed in the nursing service office of University hospitals and Westlaw's post office. "Any contributions from students will be gladly accepted," Huffman said, "but colored nylon cannot be used."

ALGER HISS TRIAL

NEW YORK — Alger Hiss will go on trial next Tuesday, May 31, a federal court judge ruled yesterday.

the continent for two weeks spending an additional week at an international summer camp in Holland.

Carolyn Brenton, A4, Des Moines, accompanied by her sister, Jane, a student in Boston, Mass., will leave on the Queen Elizabeth for a tour of Europe. Like other students Miss Brenton plans to return in August to attend the fall session of school.

Eisler Perjury Cited by U.S. For Extradition

LONDON (AP)—The United States formally asked Great Britain yesterday to extradite Gerhart Eisler, not because he is a Communist, but because he lied.

The American request was sent to the British foreign office and immediately relayed to the home office where Home Secretary James Chuter Ede was giving the case personal attention.

Ede is to decide whether the German Communist is a political refugee. He told commons last week he would not grant extradition if he decides Eisler is a political refugee.

Yesterday's move by the United States completed legal arrangements for Eisler's appearance in Bow street court today to fight extradition.

Defense attorneys plan to argue that Eisler, as a Communist, was a victim of political persecution by the United States and is entitled to political asylum.

The United States, however, prepared a case based entirely on the contention that Eisler fled the United States while on bail from a perjury conviction. The case did not refer to him as the Communists' No. 1 agent in the United States.

Documents were flown to London to support the American argument.

Sketch of Proposed Wesley Foundation Building

AN ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the proposed Wesley Foundation building which will be constructed on the site of the present Methodist student center, next door to the Methodist church. Construction may begin within a year or a year and a half. The building will contain a chapel, music room, library, offices, a 30 by 50 foot lounge, dining room, kitchen, dark-room, recreation room, nursery, living room, guest rooms and classrooms.

IC Churches Plan New Buildings

Lack of adequate space for SUI student activities and church group meetings has led to extensive building plans for three Iowa City churches and three SUI student groups.

The Baptist, Aquadas Achim congregation and the St. Thomas More chapel are planning new church buildings.

The Methodist, Presbyterian and Episcopal student groups have proposed plans for new student centers or additions to present centers.

The Presbyterian church is planning a religious education addition to the west side of the Presbyterian church at 26 E. Market street. The estimated cost of the addition is about $100,000, Rev. P. Hewison Pollock, pastor, said.

Tentative plans, drawn by Henry L. Fisk, Iowa City architect, include a chapel, kitchenette, lounge, offices and Sunday school classrooms. A special feature will be a room equipped with a movie screen and projector.

The Methodist Wesley foundation has plans for a $175,000 student center to be built at the present Methodist student center site, next door to the Methodist church.

About $95,000 has been raised by Iowa Methodist churches, SUI students and the Iowa City Methodist church for the new center, Student Director Robert R. Sanks said.

The Trinity Episcopal church parish has made tentative plans for an addition to the parish house at 320 E. College street.

Plans drawn by Forrest Bodey, Iowa City, call for a two-story addition at the rear of the parish house, extending east to the church next door. The estimated cost is $36,000.

The Baptist group is planning a new church on the 80 foot by 150 foot lot at 500 N. Clinton street, where Baptist Judson house for married students is now located.

The new church will cost about $125,000, of which about $80,000 has been raised, Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, pastor, said recently.

Plans drawn by Charles Zalesky, Cedar Rapids architect, include a chapel, Sunday school

Stover Condemns Complete Reversal Of Foreign Policy

Fred Stover, president of the Farmers' Union of Iowa, said here last night that the United States cannot have the Atlantic pact and still maintain the high standard of living otherwise possible.

"Something must be done to arrest the reversed trend of U.S. foreign policy during the last three years," Stover told about 60 students in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

He included the Marshall plan, the Truman doctrine and the Atlantic pact as indications of the "complete reversal of our foreign policy."

Stover referred to a "myth" as the basis of our foreign policy. "Our foreign policy is based on the assumption that the Soviet Union is a very great danger," he said.

Terming the present as a "fear-infested twilight," he emphasized the importance of basing judgments on facts during this period.

Stover said the Atlantic pact is "not only dividing the world geographically into an east and west, but more important, it is dividing the world politically into a left and right."

Wolf Pup Problem Nets $35 Bounty

DES MOINES (AP)—County Auditor Harold Anderson went to County Attorney Ed S. Thayer yesterday with a problem of how to dispose of seven baby wolves which had been turned in for bounty.

The auditor pays $5 bounty on each wolf turned in, but ordinarily the wolf carcass or skin is produced.

Thayer ruled that the wolves should be killed by the county sheriff in the presence of a deputy county auditor, and that the bodies be disposed of by the sheriff.

Harold Wicker of Granger, who turned in the baby wolves in a bushel basket and collected $35 in bounty, said he found the seven pups Sunday.
