Congress Passes Grain Storage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress yesterday passed a compromise bill to provide critically needed storage facilities for the nation's bumper wheat crop.

The compromise, which broke a long deadlock, was approved by both senate and house and sent on to President Truman for his signature.

The legislation gives the commodity credit corporation power to provide storage facilities on crops—especially grain—on which the CCC makes loans to maintain crop price supports. Grain must be in storage to qualify for government loan.

The two houses had been deadlocked over senate insistence on authority to confirm CCC directors, and the equally insistent house demand that they be named by the secretary of agriculture without senate confirmation.

The conferees agreed the six-man board will be appointed by the President and approved by the senate. But they also agreed the board shall operate "subject to the general supervision and direction" of the secretary of agriculture.

Legislation to restore CCC's power to provide storage has been bouncing about Capitol Hill for three months.

Brannan Foresees Controls on Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan said yesterday it may be necessary to limit next year's total wheat crop to 1-billion bushels to avoid costly surpluses.

He said that if the bumper crop now predicted actually materializes this year, it may be necessary to cut production 23 percent in 1950 by imposing production and marketing controls on the 2-million wheat farmers.

This year's combined winter and spring wheat crop now is estimated at more than 1.3-billion bushels.

Brannan had warned previously that while the action should help northern farmers, it will be too late to aid many south-central producers who have been forced to sell their wheat at as much as 30 cents a bushel below the support price of $1.89.

Because of the acute shortage of commercial storage space in some areas, Brannan already has asked the maritime commission to lend the department enough ships from its "mothball" fleet to store perhaps 5-million to 10-million bushels of grain.

Exam Schedule

The final examination schedule is reprinted on page 6 of today's Daily Iowan.

U.S. Offers Berlin Plan

PARIS (AP)—The United States submitted a five-point plan to Russia yesterday for unified control of Berlin including the election of a new city government and restoration of a four-power local command council.

The big four foreign ministers agreed to go into a super-secret session today in hope that they can work out some agreement on the Berlin plan. All hope of solving any big German problem at this conference has vanished.

The American plan calls for: A free citywide election under four-power control.

Concession of full powers to the government elected, which will be called a provisional government for greater Berlin.

Drafting of a permanent constitution for Berlin by the city assembly which will be elected.

Restoration, simultaneously with the establishment of the city government, of the four-power commandatura or local command council which used to run the city.

Reduction of occupation costs for Berlin to a minimum.

Secretary of State Acheson submitted the proposal at yesterday's brief 10th meeting of the foreign ministers.

EISLER IN BERLIN

BERLIN (AP)—Runaway Communist Gerhart Eisler, who jumped bail to flee the United States three weeks ago, arrived here by auto last night from Leipzig in the Russian zone of Germany and drove straight to Communist party headquarters.

At Leipzig, Eisler was given a rousing ovation by youthful German Communists when he addressed a rally.

Arnold Made First Permanent Airforce General

PRESIDENT TRUMAN presented General Henry H. (Hap) Arnold, wartime chief of the army airforce, with an ornate commission as first permanent five-star general of the airforce. The ceremony took place yesterday at the White House as the retired air chief stopped en route from his Sonoma, Calif., farm home to West Point for his son's wedding and graduation.

Eight Downed Airmen Sighted

SPOKANE, WASH. (AP)—Eight airforce crewmen who parachuted from a disabled B-29 into the rugged Clearwater national forest area of Idaho yesterday have been sighted on the ground, officials of the Spokane airforce base reported last night.

The eight men were part of a crew of a B-29 superfort which developed engine trouble 60 miles south of Superior, Mont. They jumped into the wooded wilderness after the pilot, Capt. R. W. Schroeder, ordered all but four men and himself to bail out. He then brought the plane to a safe landing at the Spokane base.

The last two of the downed party were found last night a few hours after the other six had been spotted about 30 miles south of Superior on the north fork of the Clearwater river. All were within two miles of one another.

Abe Bowler, manager of the Orofino, Ida., municipal airport, found the first six as he flew his Piper cub over the areas as part of a large air and ground search party.

Bowler said he dropped temporary supplies to the men and a note directing them to a road three miles away.

E. S. Barry, supervisor of the Clearwater national forest at Orofino, reported to base officials that another search plane found the remaining two.

Capt. K. D. McFarland, base public information officer, said the men apparently were in good condition, although it wasn't definitely known if any had suffered injuries.

The sheriff's office at Orofino reported a Pottlatch Forest, Inc., truck had been dispatched from Pierce, Ida., to pick up the men and another was sent to search for the other two.

Proponents Appeal Ruess Will Verdict

The decision of a Johnson county jury to set aside the will of the late J.W. Ruess was appealed to the Iowa supreme court for the second time Wednesday.

Louis R. Ruess, executor of the will, and the other proponents filed the notice in Johnson county district court. Other proponents are Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffelder, Raymond Hoffelder and Hazel Romaine Consamus.

In 1947, a district court jury returned a verdict setting aside the will. The contestants of the will are Mary Ipsen, Elizabeth Ruess, Geraldine Sheridan, Edward Bryan, Charles Bryan and Loretta Loughlin.

The local jury decision was appealed to the Iowa supreme court for the first time last year and the decision was reversed. The case was tried again by another Johnson county district court jury in February of this year.

FEPC Measure Wins Subcommittee Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first piece of President Truman's controversial "civil rights" program started yesterday on the long and probably rough road through congress.

By an unanimous vote, a house labor subcommittee approved an administration bill to set up a federal fair employment practices commission (FEPC) to prevent discrimination in employment because of race, color, religion or nationality.

News Briefs

DETROIT (AP)—Attempts to write a new contract covering 106,000 Ford motor company production workers began yesterday, with "first team" negotiators for Ford and the CIO united auto workers absent.

Gene Prato, who headed the UAW group, said final disposition of the union's demands for $100 monthly pensions financed entirely by the company might be "precedent shattering" in industry.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday turned thumbs down on an export-import bank loan to Spain, dashing the Franco regime's one slim hope of getting any immediate U.S. financial aid.

BLUEFIELD, W. VA. (AP)—John L. Lewis and the Southern Coal Producers association agreed yesterday to begin contract talks with eight-man teams of negotiators today without the usual advance oratory.

MADISON, WIS. (AP)—The Wisconsin senate last night passed a bill setting up a state rent control system. The measure would replace federal rent controls in Wisconsin and would lift all controls a year from now.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator who recently turned down a job as assistant secretary of state, was quoted yesterday as saying he doesn't want to live in Washington because "there's too much Jim Crow."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The federal grand jury investigating Harry Bridges and communism in west coast unions adjourned for the weekend yesterday and a justice department official said contempt action will be filed today against one of eight witnesses who refused to testify.

'Removed' Seniors Get SUI Letters of Regret

Those "we regret to inform you" letters are back again. This time they come special delivery from the registrar's office to inform certain seniors that they can not graduate until they have made up some credit deficiency.

Luckily there is a way out 'hough—for some. If the students can get a letter from the instructor involved stating that the instructor requirement has been satisfied and have it in the registrar's office by June 7, they can be retained on the list of candidates for degrees.

Lost Uranium Vial Found: McMahon

Some U-235 Still Missing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator McMahon (D-Iowa) disclosed last night that the long-missing bottle in the Chicago uranium-235 mystery has been recovered from a buried box, but a tiny portion of the atomic material itself has not yet been found.

McMahon said the loss of the material appeared to be due to "carelessness and negligence."

The announcement was made at the end of a day studded with developments in the congressional investigation of the atomic energy commission, headed by David E. Lilienthal.

Other developments:

1. Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) accused Lilienthal of violating the law on atomic secrecy with "brazen effrontery" and of permitting persons to take part in the 1948 Eniwetok A-bomb tests without a full loyalty checkup.

2. Testimony was received that a guard at the Chicago atomic laboratory where the uranium is missing had a police record. Carroll L. Wilson, general manager of the atomic energy commission, said the guard's record showed a charge of grand larceny, but no conviction. He expressed confidence the guard had nothing to do with the loss.

3. Atomic Chief Lilienthal coldly and emphatically denied Hickenlooper's charge of law violation in clearing some AEC employees without a full loyalty checkup immediately. This was necessary, he said, to speed vital atomic work.

4. McMahon said congressional investigators are trying to find out why a new atomic plant at Hanford, Wash., under construction by General Electric company is costing three times more than the original $7-million estimate.

He said no claim of "fraud or malfeasance" has been made, but commented: "This matter will be pursued further."

5. Without explanation, the Lilienthal hearing was postponed at the end of yesterday's stormy session. No date was set for renewed public hearings.

Senator McMahon, chairman of the joint senate-house committee investigating Hickenlooper's charges of "incredible mismanagement" by Lilienthal, said the missing vial was turned up in a box used to bury "hot" radioactive materials from the AEC's Argonne laboratories in Chicago. The loss was discovered last Feb. 8 but was not reported to the FBI until seven weeks later.

LILIENTHAL PONDERS... Over Barrage of Questions

It May Sound Inhuman, But Laughing Is Legal

HUNTINGTON PARK, CAL. (AP)—A man's right to laugh even if it disturbs the peace of mind of a judge was upheld in court here yesterday in a ruling that a guttural does not violate any law.

Municipal Judge Charles Hedgecock dismissed charges of disturbing the peace against John Frazier, 68, on accusations brought by Justice of the Peace Stanley Moffatt.

Justice Moffatt arrested Frazier May 16 at a small cafe where both were having lunch. He said Frazier burst forth with a laugh that was not human and so upset him he could not finish his lunch.

Open The Door, Orall!

You may be knocking but you can't come in! Some birds are crazy—even feathered ones. Orall Smith, Wylie street, Coralville, reported yesterday that a cardinal has been pecking at his window for the past year and a half.

But this bird isn't a quiet attacker Smith pointed out. He's the dive bomber type. From a nearby tree or other handy landing spot the cardinal makes two or three swoops at the window. He has attacked with such violence that at one time he broke his bill and has left blood marks on the window several times, Smith said.

Not alone, the cardinal dive bomber usually has a mate along who patiently waits on a nearby fence while hubby goes through his act.

Chambers Says Hiss Funneled Out Secrets

NEW YORK (AP)—Whittaker Chambers pointed at Alger Hiss yesterday and said the former state department official fed government secrets through him to a prewar Soviet spy ring.

The deal to funnel secrets from the state department to the spy ring was made across a table in a dimly lit restaurant in New York's Chinatown, Chambers said.

The Russian ring also sounded out the possibility of getting documents from Hiss' brother, Donald, the witness said, but Hiss was not sure he could be used.

Chambers, self-styled former courier for the Communist spy ring, said Hiss was connected with the same Russian underground "apparatus" that he was.

He described Hiss and his wife, Priscilla, as stubborn Communists who refused to leave the party when Chambers did in 1938.

"I urged the Hisses to break with the party," Chambers said. "They replied that they would not break. Alger Hiss said what a great pity it was I had broken."

Shortly before the trial recessed for the night, the defense began cross-examining Chambers. Hiss' attorney hammered away with questions intended to show up Chambers as a liar.

Chambers admitted that he committed perjury in 1937 when he took an oath of office for a job with the federal works progress administration.

He swore to uphold the Constitution, he said, at the same time he was working as a Communist for the government's overthrow.

The witness was vague as to what secrets Hiss allegedly passed on to him.

Berlin Strikers Reject Communist Compromise

BERLIN (AP)—Striking railwaymen of west Berlin rejected a Communist-sponsored compromise offer by a vote of 13,477 to 398 yesterday.

That means the work stoppage, which opened with bloody fighting between strikers and Communist strikebreakers May 21, will continue.

SUI Scientist Reports —

Lawns Babied in Los Alamos

Los Alamos is just a name to most persons, but to S.W. Rabideau, instructor in the chemistry department, it's the start of an interesting scientific career.

Rabideau has accepted a job at the Los Alamos scientific laboratory, Los Alamos, N.M., beginning in the middle of July. He said he will be studying "the physical properties of plutonium."

Plutonium is a radioactive substance used in the atomic bomb. The young SUI instructor expects to get his doctor's degree in physical chemistry June 10. For his thesis, he has studied the chemical structure of rare earth compounds through magnetochemistry, a method whereby a substance is observed in a magnetic field to discover how its atoms act.

He does not hold an atomic research, Rabideau said.

Rabideau recently returned from Los Alamos. He said it is a "nice town," not a barren waste as many persons think. Green lawns aren't unusual, though they must be "babied," he said. The climate is cool because the town has an elevation of 7,000 feet.

Los Alamos is not an "open city" like Oak Ridge. Rabideau said no visitors are likely to drop in unexpectedly because a pass is required to enter the gates. To get the pass, the expected guest has to be identified by his host.

Coplon Attorney Fined for Contempt of Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the second time in two weeks, the defense attorney in Judith Coplon's espionage trial was fined $100 yesterday for contempt of court.

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves ordered the fine for Archibald Palmer, valuable New York lawyer, calling him guilty of "obvious contemptuous conduct."

As in the first instance two weeks ago yesterday, Palmer had been questioning an FBI agent at length, and persisted in the questioning after Judge Reeves had upheld the objections of Prosecutor John M. Kelley Jr.

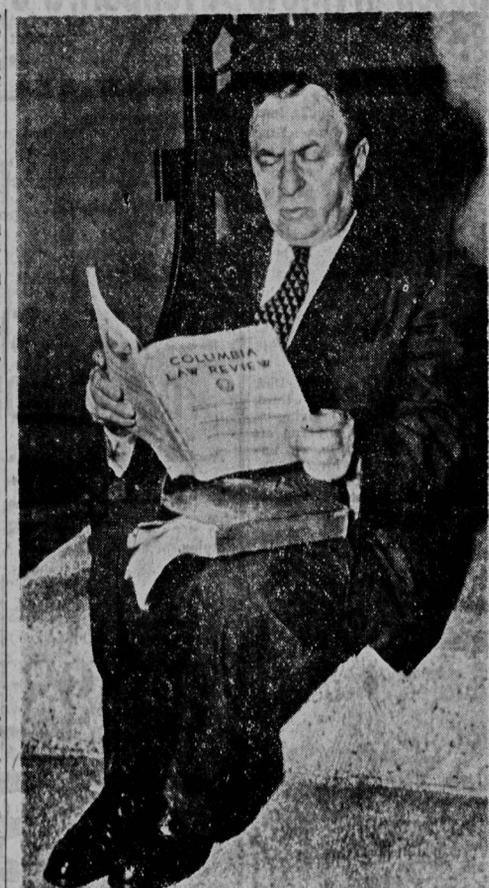

Palmer started to say something about the importance of his questions to "the country's future" when Judge Reeves broke in: "Mr. Palmer, I must fine you again."

After the judge instructed the clerk to draw up an order fining Palmer $100 for "obvious contemptuous conduct," the defense attorney announced his intention of appealing both fines. The fines are to be paid after the trial.

Miss Coplon's trial began April 25. The government indictment charges her with having pilfered documents from files of the justice department, where she formerly worked, with reason to believe the information would be used to help a foreign power. She was arrested March 4 in New York with Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian employe of the United Nations.

Palmer's latest fine grew out of his questioning of T. Scott Miller Jr., an FBI agent, concerning the papers which the government says were found in Miss Coplon's purse at the time of her arrest.

14-YEAR-OLD KILLS PAL
SIOUX CITY (AP)—Donald Wheeler, 14, was killed yesterday when he was shot accidentally by his young friend, 16-year-old Earl Peterson.

ARCHIBALD PALMER, defense attorney in the Judith Coplon espionage trial in Washington, glowered at a law journal as he sat outside the U.S. district court yesterday after Judge A. L. Reeves fined him $100 a second time for "obvious contemptuous conduct."

Leonard Hurls Three-Hit Shutout As Chicago Tops New York, 3-0

Edwards Hits 2-Run Homer

NEW YORK (AP) — Dutch Leonard, veteran Chicago knuckle ball expert, shut out the New York Giants with three hits last night, winning, 3-0, with the help of Hank Edwards' two-run homer in the sixth inning.

Whitely Lockman's single in the third was the only hit off the 39-year-oldster until Don Mueller lashed a pinch single in the eighth. Willard Marshall's ninth-inning single was the third hit. Leonard retired 14 Giants in succession after allowing the first hit.

Leonard, locked in a scoreless battle with Sheldon Jones, opened the winning rally with a double in the sixth. He moved to third on Emil Verban's sacrifice and scored on Harry Walker's fly ball. Jones then walked Phil Cavaretta, setting the stage for Edwards' homer. It was his fourth since the Cubs bought him from Cleveland.

Bobby Thomson was the only Giant to reach second base as the result of Frank Gustine's error and Johnny Mize's infield out in the second inning.

Hawklets Win Fifth; Tip St. Ambrose, 6-4

City high's baseball team racked up its fifth victory of the season at Davenport Wednesday, beating St. Ambrose, 6-4.

With the score knotted 4-4 going into the seventh and final inning, the Little Hawks pushed across the winning markers on a double by Rox Shain.

Whitey Diehl hurled two-hit ball behind shaky support by his mates who committed five errors. He struck out eight St. Ambrose batters.

Iowa City's next game is slated for tomorrow here. They will meet Rock Island, Ill. in a double-header. The first game is scheduled to get under way at 5:30 p.m. with the finale to be played under the lights.

Woodcock Scores 14th Round KO Over Mills

LONDON (AP) — Bruce Woodcock knocked out Freddie Mills in the 14th round to retain his European, British and Empire heavyweight titles, at White City last night.

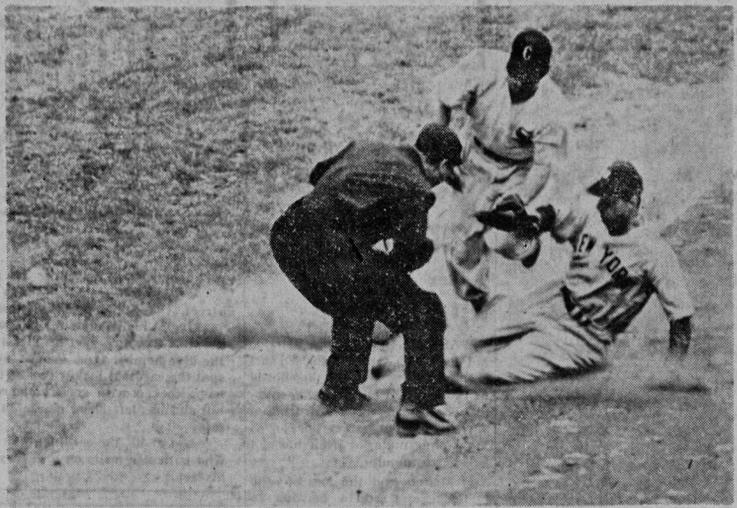

A crowd of 46,000 saw Woodcock end the one-sided fight with a right to the chin after one minute, 27 seconds of the next-to-last round.

Woodcock thus qualified for a Sept. 6 bout against Lee Savold of Paterson, N.J., for the British version of the world heavyweight championship.

Woodcock completely outboxed the world's light heavyweight champion, and set him up for the knockout with repeated rights to the heart.

Mills was down four times before the end. He went down for a count of three in third, took a

Armbruster, Ris Invited by AAU To European Swimming Tour

Dave Armbruster, Iowa swimming coach, and his Olympic champion pupil, Wally Ris, have been invited to tour Europe this summer with a select team of American stars under the auspices of the American Amateur Athletic union.

Neither Armbruster nor Ris has accepted the bid yet, but Armbruster yesterday was pleased at receiving the invitation from Dan Ferris, National AAU secretary.

Other members of the party include Olympic Champions Joe Verdur, Allen Stack and Bruce Harlan; National women's diving Tildist Zoe Ann Olsen of LaPorte City, Iowa, and Barbara Jensen, national backstroke and individual medley champion.

Armbruster has been asked to coach and manage the group. Mrs. Jack Cody of Portland, Ore., has been named women's chaperon.

First European stop for the team will be Paris where the Americans will meet Alex Jany, world record-holding sprinter whom Ris defeated at the Olympics last summer.

Appearances are also scheduled for Germany, Norway and Sweden and probably several other countries.

Ris had planned to attend summer school and graduate in August. He had previously been invited to swim in Norway and Sweden with Verdur this summer, and also had received a bid to swim in Honolulu.

Last summer Reis toured France and Germany with other Olympic team members following the Olympics. The Olympians were entertained heartily wherever they appeared, including Paris where Jany defeated each of the Americans to somewhat avenge his Olympic losses.

Ex-Major Leaguers Denied Reinstatement

NEW YORK (AP) — Organized baseball won a point yesterday when the United States court of appeals denied the request of three former major league players that they be re-instated immediately.

The trio—Danny Gardella, former outfielder of the New York Giants; Max Lanier and Fred Martin, one-time pitchers of the St. Louis Cardinals—is barred from baseball for five years for jumping to the Mexican league in 1946.

The decision upheld a lower court ruling denying temporary injunctions to the players against organized baseball.

Yesterday's ruling, written by Chief Judge Learned Hand and concurred in by Judges Thomas W. Swan and Jerome N. Frank, pointed out that it would "seem highly desirable" that the players' damage suits charging organized baseball with violation of the anti-trust acts be "brought to trial as soon as possible."

Tigers Nip Athletics In Extra Inning, 5-4, On Groth's Base Hit

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers spotted the Philadelphia Athletics a three-run lead in the first innings and beat them, 5-4, in 10 innings yesterday in a game that was practically a repeat of their Wednesday night tussle.

In each game the Athletics pushed over three runs in the opening inning on just one hit. And in each game, the Tigers came back with a single run in the bottom of the inning.

The Tigers tied the game up in the seventh inning Wednesday but waited until the eighth yesterday as Hoot Evers blasted a three-run homer to make it a 4-4 game at that point.

Then Evers broke up the game in the 10th as he did Wednesday. In that case, he drove in the winning run. Yesterday, he doubled in the 10th with two out and scored on Johnny Groth's long single.

Phillies Equal Homer Record; Top Reds, 12-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies hit five of their six home runs in the eighth inning to tie the major league record for circuit blows in one frame last night as they defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 12-3.

Andy Seminick hit three of the homers, two in the eighth, and the others came off the bats of Del Ennis, Willie Jones and Schoolboy Rowe.

Seminick's two home runs in one inning also tied a major league record held by numerous players and last accomplished by Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees in 1936. His three circuit blows for one game was one short of the major league standard.

The Phils' eight-inning home run spurge matched the mark established by the New York Giants, also against the Reds, on June 6, 1939.

Until the Phillies broke loose the Reds were sailing along on the front end of a 3-2 score with Ken Raffensberger in fine form. Curt Simmons, who allowed all of the Reds' eight hits, was removed for a pinch hitter after hurling seven innings. He was replaced by Rowe.

2-7 Designers Introduce Yin-Yang Philosophy

Self-Analysis Urged In Selecting Clothes

You may think the comics for school and school, but fashion designers are responsible for adding "yin" and "yang" to your vocabulary.

Yin and yang are Chinese words meaning day or sunlight and night or moonlight. They belong to the realm of fashion and personality, applying to everything about you.

Yin-yang philosophy gives new meaning to wardrobe planning. A girl can decide whether her own personality and appearance is dominantly yin or yang and select her clothes accordingly.

Femininity or the "buttons and bows" variety is classified as yin. Yang is the more dramatic type.

One of the first things to consider in this self-analysis is general bone structure. A yin tends to be small-boned and fragile although she may be tall. The more junoesque figure is characteristic of a yang.

Facial features of a yin are small and rounded. Her skin is delicate and dresden-like. Yang features are larger and more angular.

This yin-yang business will even get into your hair. Soft feminine fluffs and curls are for fine yin hair. A yang will style her hair, which is of coarser texture, along sleek dramatic lines.

Voices, too, can be classified. A soft, sweet voice belongs to a yin, while a yang may speak loud, but with more volume.

Since colors are a big part of fashion, it is well to know that a yin is of fair complexion while her counterpart has more vivid coloring.

After this vigorous self-analysis, Miss Yin is ready to plan her wardrobe in terms of frills and femininity. She will go in for delicate colors and soft lines. Her all-over effect is one of gentleness.

Miss Yang will emerge bright and dashing. She will be striking in bold colors and dramatic styles.

For the past several years, fashion trends have been in the direction of yang. Typical was the "inverted triangle" figure with its wide, square shoulders and straight, severe skirts.

With the new look came "back to grandma" styles with the accent on yin. This year's summer dresses feature full skirts and ruffles on the sleeves.

Pure yin or yang types are rare, except perhaps in Hollywood. Many coeds will classify themselves as a combination of yin-yang but all may improve their wardrobes by choosing clothes to fit their personalities.

BRUSHING UP ON THE SEASON'S FASHIONS for their individual types are Shirlee Stevens, A2, Marshalltown, and Jan Casey, A2, La Porte City. Shirlee, who has a yen for "yin", wears a white blouse with lace trim and a full pink skirt. Jan follows the more dramatic "yang" trend with a tailored black summer suit.

World Law Necessary for Peace: Stanley

"No community can have peace without law and government," says Stanley, state executive director of United World Federalists, declared yesterday.

Stanley spoke before the regular meeting of the local Rotary club. He continued that we must have world government for the same reason that nations have to maintain law and governments.

Disillusionment over the failure of voluntary cooperation among nations, as set up by the United Nations, has led many professional and business leaders to realize that a limited world government is necessary, Stanley explained.

To accomplish this, he asserted, there must be a united government to control armaments and to enforce laws directly upon individuals. Undemocratic aggressors could be stopped before they began, he said.

"If we make Russia a fair and a sincere offer," Stanley said, "she might come into a world federation."

Even if Russia chooses to stay out, the rest of the world could still be united in government, Stanley pointed out.

But the United States must signify a willingness to join a world government, he added.

"We are buying time," Stanley maintained. While America is concerned with the Marshall plan and the Atlantic pact, Russia goes her own way, he said.

Dr. Hines to Talk At Medical Meeting

Dr. H.M. Hines, head of the department of physiology, will present a paper before a meeting of the International Congress on Rheumatic Diseases being held in New York. The meeting began Monday and will continue through today.

The paper is a preliminary report on the effect of heat and certain drugs in increasing blood flow in tissues affected by rheumatic diseases. It is based on Dr. Hines' experimental studies of blood flow in body tissues.

Barbara Feucht, research assistant in the department of physiology and an associate of Dr. Hines in the study, said the actual experiments were started last November but previously over a year had been spent developing new equipment for the research.

Other research assistants in the department associated with Dr. Hines in the work are A.W. Richardson and C.L. Imig.

Johnson to Address New York Conference

Prof. Wendell Johnson, director of the SUI speech clinic, will deliver an address before the Speech Rehabilitation conference in New York City June 11. His talk will concern problems in the rehabilitation of patients who stutter.

The conference is being sponsored by the New York university Institute of Rehabilitation and Physical Medicine.

A New-Fangled Method — Student's Invention Lights, Decorates Room

By STANLEY BEITLER

A new-fangled way to light and decorate simultaneously any kind of room or hallway with an ordinary light bulb and a few accessories is being developed by Roger Tilton, an SUI graduate student.

He can make a room look like an Oriental garden or a scene from the ballet, "The sky's the limit," Tilton said. Whatever scene you want in your room, he can provide it even if you want a replica of heaven — with clouds — on your walls.

By use of mirrors, sheet aluminum shapes, and dyed plexiglass around a 1,000-watt bulb, Tilton's projector throws a variety of images on the wall.

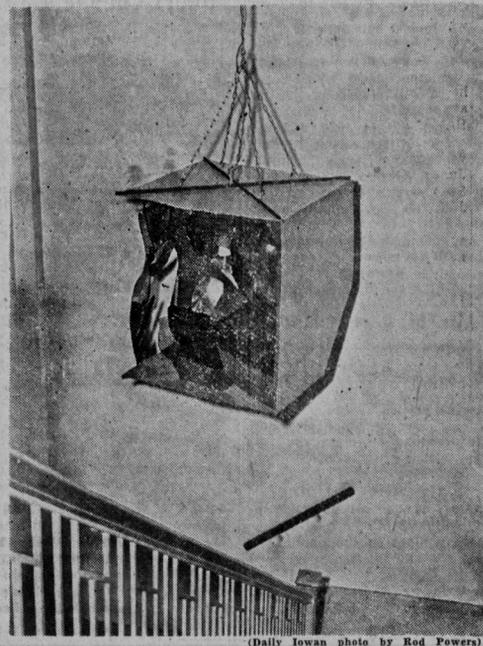

One of his projects hangs from the ceiling in the hallway of the art building. It's a huge thing "only because it's in the beginning stage," Tilton said. "When I finish, the light projector will be compact and easy to handle."

He switched on the hall light and a spectrum of colors streamed from the projector throughout the hallway. Shapes of people were thrown from the projector onto the walls. Also, there were abstract shapes, bright spots of color, and textures (like screen).

"The materials for the projector cost me about $30," he said. Tilton said he hopes to make it available soon for the commercial market at an inexpensive price. "I'd like to find a practical application in architectural decoration for my projects," he said.

Tilton explained his project is an experiment in light used as an esthetic medium. "The principle of light mural is really simple," Tilton said. "The light from the source (bulb) is refracted, reflected and shadowed by the system of dyed plexiglass and other materials. Through light mural, it is possible to decorate your room to suit any occasion."

Tilton is using this experiment as his master of fine arts thesis. He got the idea one day last November while listening to Thomas Wilfred, of the New York Art Institute of Light, lecture on "Light Painting." Wilfred decorated the Hotel Sherman ballroom in Chicago with his light projectors.

For a piano recital in the ballroom, Wilfred set the scene in a Grecian court; for the Rotary club luncheon, the turning wheel, and at night the ballroom was turned into a Persian garden, slowly changing and opening vistas of enchanting beauty.

Summer Employes' Age or Employment Certificates Asked

Employers planning to hire school boys and girls under 18 during summer vacation should have on file age or employment certificates for all of these workers, Mrs. Nellie O. Verdin, manager of the Iowa City office of the Iowa state employment service, said yesterday.

Age or employment certificates are considered as proof of age and serve to protect employers from unwitting violations of federal laws regulating the employment of children, she said.

She pointed out that age certificates may be obtained from local school officials.

Under the fair labor standards act, the minimum age for most jobs is 16, but in occupations declared to be particularly hazardous for young workers, the minimum age is 18.

This act prohibits the shipment or delivery for shipment in interstate commerce of goods produced in an establishment in which — within 30 days of such shipment — oppressive child labor was employed.

Children under 16 may be employed in a limited number of jobs but only under certain specified conditions, Mrs. Verdin said.

Pork Prices Jump — Market Basket Total Rises

Although pork prices took a jump this week other items remained steady or went down only slightly to boost the Daily Iowan market basket index only five cents over last week's total.

Round steak advanced five cents a pound; pork chops, four and bacon, five, the market basket figures show. This is in line with the general spurge of pork prices in the past week in the mid-west.

According to the department of agriculture, butchers on the market have raised about 25 cents, although some have lowered in price somewhat — in some cases as much as 50 cents.

Beef prices have also risen but not as sharply as pork. When one meat begins to advance, the other type of meat usually follows suit, although maybe not as high as in the present rise, it was pointed out. Packers say there are few large hogs on the market. Although there are many small ones, they are high priced.

Besides round steak and pork only two items rose this week, market basket figures reveal. They are oranges, three cents, and sugar, with a one cent raise.

Five items had a lower price this week than last, although three of them dropped only one cent. They were butter, eggs and peas. Spry dropped three cents and flour two cents.

The market basket total of June 3, 1948 was $17.51 as compared to this week's $16.49. Then, in addition to other items, meat were generally higher than they are now.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JUDGE JEREMIAH MAHONEY recalls one citizen called for jury duty who pleaded, "I must be excused from serving this month, Your Honor. My wife's mother is coming from Eau Claire to visit us for the first time in seven years, and I want to be with her just as much as I possibly can."

"You're excused," ruled Judge Mahoney promptly. "We don't want any man on the jury who can lie like that."

Motorists often ignore roadside advertisements, but there's one down in Texas that brings them to a dead stop. It's about 40 miles outside of San Antonio, in a hamlet called Comfort, which is flanked by two even smaller villages named Louise and Alice. The sign adorning a nobby motor-court, reads, "Here is your chance to sleep in Comfort — between Louise and Alice."

Commencement Plans Begin Three Months Ahead — Higbee

It takes a lot of planning to make SUI's commencement exercises go smoothly. Prof. H.G. Higbee, director of convocations, has been drawing up the plans for graduation exercises for more than 20 years.

Arrangements for this year's program, the biggest in SUI's history, began almost as soon as the mid-year commencement was over. "Although I don't work on it every day, I started almost three months ahead," Higbee said.

Higbee's work includes everything from planning the band concerts Wednesday and Thursday nights to the dinners held the day after the exercises.

Already the convocations office has sent out little convention-like pins with a picture of Old Capitol and a gold banner with "49" on it to the more than $1,700 candidates.

The program lists nine events but the commencement play for this year has been cancelled, cutting the list to eight.

Part of Higbee's work is to direct decorating in the field house. The high windows and balconies are now draped with long curtains of black gold, United States and Iowa flags add color.

At the west end of the field house floor a platform for the program is being erected and more draperies will be hung to enclose it. A floor for the university band will also be laid.

In Higbee's office in the basement of Old Capitol is a diagram of the fieldhouse with seating areas for officials, candidates, band and audience carefully measured.

"I've been practicing the graduation on this diagram for a week making sure nothing will bog down," Higbee said. The diagram shows how the graduates will line up behind the armory and march into their seats. Areas in the armory are shown for assembling in case of rain.

Other plans include traffic direction by police, parking cars and ushering. The marshals for the graduation exercises, presidents of the college classes, have their special instructions for seating the candidates.

The president, chaplain, dean, and directors all know where they are to be and when. "Although there is no actual time schedule, I know just about how long everything will take and know the program will last at least three hours," Higbee said.

U-High to Offer Classes in Typing

Classes in beginning typing will be offered at University high school during the eight-week summer term, Principal Myron S. Olson said yesterday.

Pupils in grades seven through twelve may register, he said, but University high students will be accommodated first. If there is room in the classes other students will be accepted.

Classes will meet Monday through Friday from 9 to 10 a.m., beginning June 15 through August 10.

Tuition for the eight-week session is $6. Interested persons are asked to call the principal's office at University high, extension 2259.

Brenton, Paarmann To Present Recital

Lester Brenton, A4, Davenport, French horn player, and Ralph Paarmann, A3, Davenport, trombone and baritone horn player, will present a joint recital Monday at 7:30 p.m. in North Music hall.

Brenton will play "Concerto for Horn, K. 447" by W.A. Mozart, "Elegie for Horn" by Scheurer and "Poem for Horn" by DeLamar-ter.

Paarmann's program includes "Piece in E flat" by Barat, and "Concerto in A flat Minor" by Fitzgerald.

Piano accompaniments will be played by Lester Henderson and Kathryn Rose, graduate students, both of Forest City.

Church to Honor Mrs. B. N. Covert

Students of Westminster foundation and members of the Iowa City First Presbyterian church will honor Mrs. Brainerd N. Covert, former foundation student director, Sunday afternoon.

A reception will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M.E. Barnes at 211 Myrtle avenue, the Rev. P. Hewison Pollock said yesterday.

Mrs. Covert, who completed six years of service as student director June 1, will marry Louis W. Schaller, Cedar Falls, Saturday, June 11.

Henry Linder, 120 N. Dodge street, is chairman of the committee planning the reception.

Harry Wagoner to Go To Foresters' Meeting

Harry Wagoner, farm forester from this area, will attend a state meeting of farm foresters at McGregor Monday.

The meeting will feature classes and practical examples of forestry methods for members of the Iowa farm forestry section.

Income Research By Prof. Johnson Nears Completion

Robert H. Johnson, economist and assistant professor of commerce, will complete research this summer on "A Study of Income by Counties in Iowa."

It will be a study by counties of the total income individuals receive from all sources. The calculations will tie in so that the total for the state will agree with estimates of the United States department of commerce, Johnson said.

"The purpose is to point out exactly what areas have low per-capita income and to find out just what low income is related to, whether it be a lack of industry, agriculture or something else," he said.

A similar study was recently completed by the federal reserve bank of St. Louis for the state of Missouri, Johnson pointed out.

Largely a desk research study since its beginning last September, the project has used census material, census of agriculture figures from 1945 to 1947, and special tabulations of the Iowa employment security commission. Through market research, the study will try to measure marketing by counties. Thus those counties which need aid because of low incomes will receive help from the state, Johnson said.

Johnson hopes to have the research completed by July and to have it published about a month later or in the early fall.

It will be in monograph form rather than as a book and will be distributed by the SUI bureau of business and economic research when it is published.

Farm Worst Hit, Eight Hogs Killed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
RED OAK, IA. A farm eight miles northeast of here, which is operated by Leo Bruce, was reported as the hardest hit in Montgomery county during the recent windstorm.

The barn was destroyed, the roof of the house was blown off, and all the Bruce family's clothing was lost.

The high wind also destroyed a corn crib, damaged a chicken-house, killed eight hogs, and destroyed a $300 farm wagon Bruce has borrowed from a neighbor.

Bruce said he was in the field when he saw the twister approaching. He hurried to the house and hustled his wife and their two children into the basement. They were not hurt. The farm is owned by Charles R. James of Omaha.

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

No May Day Gamboling

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

The fight over whether to oust David E. Lillenthal as chairman of the atomic energy commission is in reality a fight over the future of the American soul. I am willing to grant that those involved in this campaign, including Senator Hickenlooper, Mr. Lillenthal's one-time supporter and now his severest critic, are acting on the highest possible motives.

But the fact remains that if we bounce Mr. Lillenthal on the basis of the petty charges raised against him, we will be taking a standing broad jump away from our traditionally daring American conceptions of freedom and of life, straight in the direction of the tight-shut, sealed and battened, closed-down, fearful and nervous security state.

We are not only deciding what the atomic energy commission is going to be; we are deciding what we are going to be.

THE COMMISSION, under Mr. Lillenthal, has offended the congressional joint committee on atomic energy by granting a fellowship to a man described as a self-avowed Communist, and by waiting some six or seven weeks before reporting the loss of a small amount of Uranium-235 to the FBI.

These charges can be made to sound rather awful; in our present agitated national state there is enough thunder here for even a bush-league orator to mount any platform and have himself a whale of a half hour.

BUT THE FACT IS that the fellowship now in controversy had nothing to do with secret information, and, as regards the loss of material, the commission apparently had no reason to believe that anything surreptitious was involved, and has, in fact, recovered most of the missing substances from wastes. In terms of loss or danger to the public, both incidents weigh very little.

The hullabaloo that is being raised about them is all in terms of potentials, of what would happen to us if the commission were blithely to put Communists into positions concerned with secret data, or if it were to go gamboling over the fields of May, scattering Uranium-235 out of a basket, while singing a song of spring.

THERE IS NO INDICATION that the commission has any such intentions, that it has any partiality for Communists, or that it plans to station agents on street corners to give out uranium samples. It is true that a smoother, slicker operator than Mr. Lillenthal, one who was more concerned about getting along with the important people, would have hesitated about letting the commission get involved in the fellowship incident.

There are thousands of such

ARTIGAS HONORED
MONTEVIDEO, MINN. (UP)—A 13-foot bronze statue of Uruguay's hero, Jose Artigas, has arrived here as a gift from the South American nation for whose capital this town was named.

The statue will be mounted on a granite base and placed on Sheridan parkway in the center of the business district. It will be in place July 1 and dedication ceremonies will be held July 10 during "fiesta days," the summer celebration which honors Montevideo, Uruguay.

smoothies around, but the question for us is whether their sometimes smug circumspection is as valuable to us as Mr. Lillenthal's anxious effort to reconcile the conflicting claims of freedom and security, to strike a balance between the demands of the atomic age, and the traditions of free scientific inquiry.

WE CAN GET any number of executives who will give us dull conformity but it seems to me that that nation is fortunate which finds a man who combines a sense of duty with a passion of freedom, and who tries, in his own thinking, fairly to resolve the conflict between the uncertain atomic present and the great American past.

Interpreting the News — Russ Shifting Branded False

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

A report that Russia has shifted policy due to a form of "mediation" by Andrei Gromyko between the United States and Stalin has been received with considerable skepticism.

The report was published in the June issue of United Nations World, a non-official magazine devoted to international affairs.

The magazine said it got its information from directives sent by Moscow to the chancelleries of eastern European satellites.

It said Gromyko reported to Stalin last Christmas, after a series of confidential exchanges with some 25 American industrialists and financiers, that: "Russo-American rapprochement is feasible; that the United Nations is the place to achieve it; that the American people do not want war; that Truman is genuinely determined to preserve peace; that the small group of American 'jingoists' is losing ground."

That U.S. economic aid to Russia and eastern Europe would be available once the political atmosphere cleared; that the U.S. would never allow the rebuilding of a Nazi Germany; that the U.S. distrusts Russian motives and only a genuine demonstration of good will can convince Americans that Russia sincerely wants peace.

THIS IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN the subject of long debate in the Politburo, ending in adoption of a new policy of working for normalcy in relations with the United States, the lifting of the Berlin blockade and renewal of four-power negotiations in Paris.

First reaction to the report was that you can hear anything in the chancelleries of the smaller European countries and that it is frequently not well founded; that the reported report to Stalin contained nothing he didn't know anyway, along with everybody else in the world.

That if 25 American business men thought they had contributed to conciliation, 24 of them would have sought to obtain public credit long before now; and that there is no real new Russian policy anyway.

The first thought among observers of the Lake Success scene was that if Gromyko was conferring with American industrialists and financiers, Bernard Baruch would be among them or at least that the "old bird dog" would know all about it. I asked him.

"Never heard of it," was his first reply.

Later, after his name had been brought into it publicly, he said: "It's a completely new story to me. I know nothing of it. So far as I am concerned, there is no truth in it."

Since the beginning of the Paris conference the evidence has increased that, instead of adopting a truly conciliatory foreign policy, Russia is merely shifting tactics to meet a current situation. Re-establishment of east-west trade relations is believed to be one of her prime motives.

The cold war has been getting pretty hot for her in that field. Lessening of tension might also have been designed to block the creation of a western German government, cool western ardor for the Atlantic pact and stall western rearmament. At least it seems to be having that effect on the American congress.

But as for policy, Major Patent of the Soviet army probably has put his finger on it in a speech in Berlin. The New York Times quotes him as saying: "If the enemy is stronger one must not run his head into a wall but, after a breathing space, attack and destroy."

A truce for that purpose hardly means "normalcy" in Russian-American relations.

At Paris: Diplomatic Trench Warfare

The Paris foreign ministers conference seems to be heading down the rocky road of failure. In about a week and a half, the conferees have succeeded in deadlocking on the three major issues on the agenda — unification of Germany, Berlin, an Austrian peace treaty.

The latest western plan for a four-power-controlled Berlin is probably being studied in the Kremlin at this minute. Vishinsky will tell the west that he accepts or rejects it at a secret meeting today.

There is little chance for Soviet acceptance. For one thing, the western proposal calls for free elections in the now divided city. The Russians "elected" a puppet government for their sector; there is no reason to believe she will stake her political future in Berlin on a free election. Not after 30 percent of the Soviet-sector Berliners voted against the Communist ticket in the recent rigged election.

There is talk now about how the "get tough" policy has paid off for the west. As a result, it is pointed out, the west has the tactical advantage at Paris. The Russians have to offer us terms; no longer will we have to try to please the stubborn Soviets.

All this seems to be true. There's one hitch. The Russians seem to be darn poor losers. We haven't compromised our interests but they haven't either.

The result is not a shift in the cold war battle scene with the Soviets on the defensive. It's a complete deadlock — a sort of diplomatic trench warfare.

Even if the Paris conference ends in disagreement, it will stand as the point at which the east and west reached a long-range understanding.

It will signify that the limits of cold war conquest in Europe have been reached. Russia will advance no farther west; the west will not extend its influence behind the iron curtain.

The marginal or no-man's lands — Austria and Germany — may have to be kept in a state of flux. But perhaps the east-west boundary cutting through their middles will become semi-permanent and the divided countries will have a divided peace.

A permanent peace will not be concluded at Paris. In all probability, it will also be impossible to draft a paper peace. But the recognition that neither east nor west can push any further or accomplish any more with sheer force is a welcome development.

Paris may set up a cold war truce. It would be an uneasy, antagonistic truce — but a truce nevertheless. And, perhaps, during such a truce the world's two deadlocked antagonists can back off, take stock and even look around for an easier way to settle their differences.

Soviet Mutterings in the Beard

The Soviet aide stalked out of the conference room angrily. His face was red and you could see he was full of bursting with pent-up emotion.

He slammed the door to the room where the foreign ministers conference was being held and stamped down the hall, muttering under his breath . . .

"Those three birds have gone just about as far as they dare. If they keep acting like this every day, Vishinsky will be pulling out and going home. He's pretty fed up, too."

"Imagine the nerve of those diplomats, refusing to hear the Germans tell how they want their country governed. And after we went to all the trouble to ensure it would be our side those Germans would tell. Why we even hand-picked the delegates."

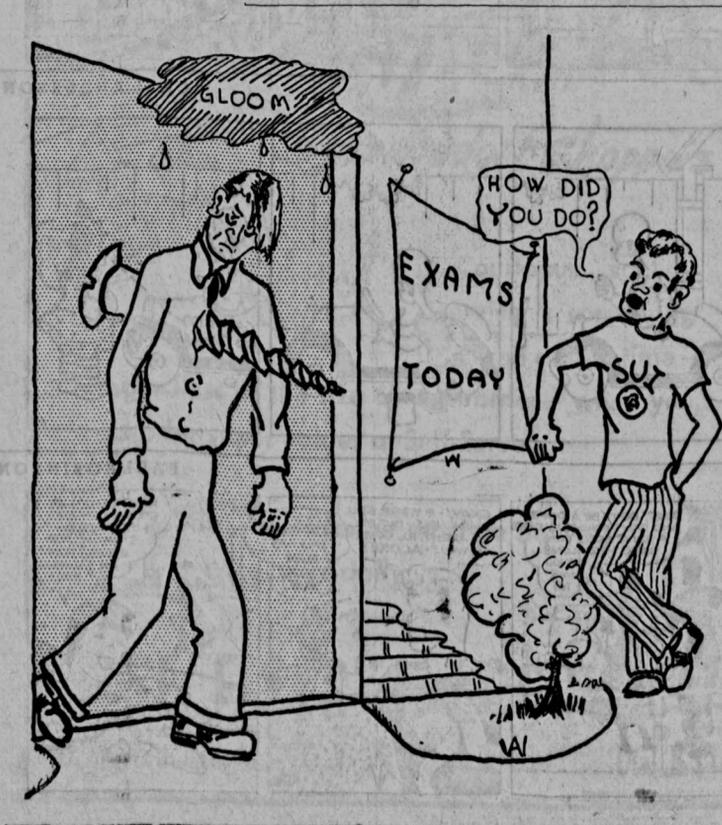

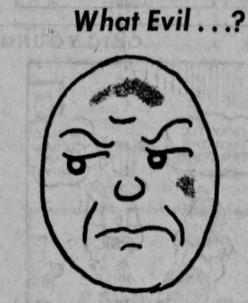

"We've just had more bad luck this year than the Kremlin will tolerate. I'm afraid to go home and face it."

"We prepared ballots in Berlin with just one question, and then they wouldn't write the answer we know they should have for their own good."

"Those westerners told us we couldn't tear down any more factories to haul home where our people really appreciate them — though they don't see much of the goods."

"They're just being plain, stubborn when they keep giving aid to Greece. We went to

Two Car Accidents Cause $325 Damages

A collision at the intersections of College and Linn streets yesterday morning resulted in damage estimated at $200. No one was reported injured, police said.

Involved in the accident were cars driven by Mrs. Zilpha Diltz, 363 N. Riverside drive, and Hazen E. Moore, 1826 G street.

The Diltz machine was going north on Linn street and the Moore car went on College street when the accident occurred, according to the drivers' reports.

Damage estimated at $125 was caused to the radiator, front fenders and bumper of the Diltz car, and $75 damage to the left side of the Moore machine, drivers reported.

In a Memorial day accident one mile north of Waterloo on highway 218, Richard D. Lillard, A3, Jolley, estimated $125 damage done to the grill and fender of the car he was driving, in a report filed Tuesday.

Lillard reported the accident happened in a line of cars near a drive-in theatre. No information was given in the report concerning the other driver and car involved.

Mrs. Nelson said that she will go to Wayland, Iowa, with her husband, where he will become a teacher in the high school.

She received her nursing training in the La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing at La Junta, Colorado. She instructed in nursing arts at SUI and had experience in the same subjects in the school where she received her training.

Mrs. Nelson came to SUI Feb. 7 of this year.

JANE WATSON AND BRIDEGROOM, John Nichol Irwin II, hold hands as they leave the Brick Presbyterian church in New York yesterday after their marriage. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Irwin of Keokuk. The bride is the daughter of Thomas J. Watson, international industrialist, and Mrs. Watson.

Margaret Truman, Bridesmaid, Avoids Marriage Question

NEW YORK (AP)—Margaret Truman, who has parried questions on romance before, avoided another easily last night.

The President's daughter was a bridesmaid at the wedding of her friend, Jane Watson, to John Irwin II of Keokuk, Iowa.

But before the time came for the bride to throw her bouquet to her attendants, Miss Truman left the wedding reception alone and drove away in a taxicab.

Asked if she did not plan to stay to the end, she answered sweetly and non-committally, "No, I'm so sorry, I must run away now."

This was Miss Truman's fourth time as a bridesmaid.

The bride said "I certainly expected to throw my bouquet to Margaret." The bride is the daughter of Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines corporation.

ROTC Engineering Course Broadened

The university ROTC has extended its advanced engineering course to any student whose academic course of instruction leads to a scientific degree, Col. W.W. Jenna said yesterday.

The advanced course is strictly elective and students previously had to be in the college of engineering to enter.

Now the range of students eligible to enter is much wider in scope. Many liberal arts students who were excluded may now enter the course.

ROTC officials explained that the engineering corps is broadening and needs specialists other than persons who are strictly engineers.

Four deaths were reported yesterday at University hospitals by hospital officials.

Jerry Lee Miller, 10-month-old son of Walter Miller, Guttenburg, died at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday. The boy was admitted to the hospital May 26.

Irene Idle, 70, Mucatine, and Morris Preston, 63, Waterloo, both died Wednesday at 4:35 p.m. and 10:05 p.m., respectively. Mrs. Idle was admitted to the hospital May 4 and Preston was admitted April 26.

Traffic Fines Total $25 in Police Court

Fines in police court yesterday morning totaled $25 for two traffic violations.

Charged with failing to stop for an arterial stop sign, John R. Homes, 363 N. Riverside drive, and Alfred W. Altenecker, A1, 330 Rocky Shore drive, were each fined $12.50.

Richard Dalbey, Des Moines was caught Wednesday by highway patrolmen for speeding in a 25-mile per hour zone and passing another vehicle in a no-passing zone. He was fined $30.

In another speeding violation Wednesday, Forrest F. Huett, New Rochelle, N.Y., paid a fine of $17.50. Wednesday's police docket listed 32 persons who paid $53 in traffic fines. Three cases were dismissed.

Council Says Trailers Can't Add to Areas

Trailer park owners can't expand existing facilities, Iowa City aldermen decided at Wednesday night's council meeting.

The action arose from a report that a new trailerite had moved into the Martin trailer park near West Benton street and South Riverside drive.

Mrs. Walter J. Martin, operator of the park, said yesterday one new tenant had moved in the area. Mrs. Martin said she informed the newcomer if any complaints were made by either city officials or neighbors, he would have to move.

She also said that "three or four" tenants had moved out during the past week.

The question arose—if three or four tenants moved out, would three or four moving in as replacements be interpreted as expansion of existing trailer facilities?

This question was put to members of the council's public grounds and buildings committee which will amend city ordinances to permit trailers.

Chairman Frank Fryauf Jr. said as long as trailers didn't take up any more space, replacement wouldn't be expansion of facilities.

"If one trailer goes out, another could go in," he said.

Alderman Clark F. Mighell said he didn't think the areas should give any appearance of becoming trailer camps until the city code had been revised.

"There is no quota," Mighell said. He didn't think trailer replacements should be permitted.

The intention of the council was to "protect the people there now" and not new tenants moving in, Alderman Wayne E. Putnam Jr. said. He did feel that if there was a vacant trailer already in a park someone could move in.

Trailer park operators shouldn't take in new trailers until code revisions are made, Putnam said. Then owners could allow additions to their parks if they complied with trailer laws.

Operation Gives Boy Wire Mesh Stomach Wall

(AP Wirephoto)

"I'LL BE ABLE TO PLAY BALL like the other fellows after one more operation," Harold Hilton, 12, Manheim, Pa., said yesterday after doctors inserted a tightly-knit wire mesh screen to serve permanently as an abdominal wall. The operation was one of a series made necessary because the boy was born with his bladder outside his body. The baseball in Harold's hand was given to him by Sam Chapman, Philadelphia Athletics outfielder.

Extradition of Nixon Asked by Beardsley

Extradition to Iowa of Charles Ralph Nixon, Thomson, Ill., was asked yesterday by Gov. William S. Beardsley, according to an Associated Press report.

Charged with the theft of a power saw and two sets of wrenches from a farm north of Iowa City, Nixon is being held in a Mt. Carroll, Ill., jail awaiting an Illinois hearing set for June 9.

In the requisition asking Gov. Adlai Stevenson to grant the extradition of Nixon, the Illinois farmer is also charged with the theft of a tractor from Jones county.

The theft of the saw and wrenches was reported to Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy May 12, the same night the tractor was stolen. When arrested at his farm in Thomson, Ill., Nixon was riding the tractor, and the wrenches and saw were found on the premises.

Tests Taken by 26 — State Dental Exams End Today

Thirteen SUI graduating dentistry seniors are among the 26 students who will complete state dental board examinations today.

Besides the SUI seniors, nine dentistry seniors from other colleges and four dental hygienists are taking the tests. Dental hygienists, usually women, are highly trained dental assistants, Prof. George S. Easton, director of the dental infirmary, explained.

Written examinations started Monday morning and were finished Tuesday noon, Easton said. The clinical work started Tuesday afternoon and will end this noon.

Experts to Discuss Survey with Harlan

Eugene Harlan, associate advisor in commerce and journalism at SUI, will meet in Chicago today and tomorrow with a group of public relations experts who are interested in a recent survey he conducted.

Harlan and Jean Gavronsky, A4, Centerville, have just completed a summary of replies from 52 universities and colleges concerning the current status of public relations instruction in American colleges and universities.

The Chicago group is interested in assisting the instructional program by providing guest lectures, internships, case history material and other services.

Harlan was asked to go to Chicago with all expenses paid to take part in an "off the record" round-table discussion on public relations.

Let Students Okay Testing Conditions, Says Exam Service

Students should have a chance to judge testing conditions, according to a list of suggestions for test administration sent to all instructors yesterday by the university examinations service.

Instructors could add questions to their tests asking students whether or not they were allowed enough time for the test, if there was sufficient supervision and if the room was comfortable.

The list of 21 suggestions in booklet form was compiled by the university committee on examinations headed by Prof. E.F. Lindquist, Exam Service Director R.L. Ebel said.

The committee met with several SUI instructors and a committee from the Student Council to consider their suggestions. The student committee, including Mary Qualley, A3, Larry Walker, C3, and Joy Lawrence, N3, contributed several ideas.

The list suggests that tests be short enough to allow the student to finish within the allotted time. It also advises instructors not to use the same exams in succeeding years.

For better tests, the examinations service advises that all details for giving the test be worked out in advance. Instructions should be clear enough to avoid questions and proctors should know their exact duties, the list says.

Cheating should be handled "quietly but firmly," the booklet advises. The best policy is to plan the test to make cheating difficult. The list recommends that cheaters be penalized equally, and that students be allowed to leave the test room as soon as they finish their tests.

The list is the first effort combining faculty and student opinion on examinations, Ebel said. The exam service has issues testing suggestions before but never in such a united form, he added.

IC Hospital Needs Rank 60th in Iowa

Iowa City ranks 60th among Iowa communities on the priority list for federal hospital aid, the state health department revealed yesterday.

The revised list gives Gurhrie Center top priority rating for aid under the federal-state, five-year hospital construction program.

The priority ratings are based on the percentage of hospital bed needs now actually met in the communities.

Davenport and Muscatine with 27th ratings and Fort Madison and Keokuk each ranking 41st were among the cities placed ahead of Iowa City on the list.

ROTC Honorary Accepts 7 Frosh

Seven freshman ROTC cadets were accepted into company B2, Pershing Rifles, national military society, last week.

The new members are Albert Carlson, Colfax; Robert Grieme, Independence; Raymond Scott, Albia; Richard Scott, Albia; Frank Lohman, Burlington; William Stanford, Cedar Rapids, and David Hart, Iowa City.

The new members marched with the company in the Memorial day parade, participated in the group's picnic at Lake Macbride Monday afternoon and heard Col. W.W. Jenna and Maj. Graham Marshall speak at a banquet Monday night.

Jaycees Plan July 4 Festivity, Golf Contest

Plans were made last night by the Iowa City junior chamber of commerce for the local showing of the "Opportunity Drive" covered wagon to be here Monday, for the Jaycee sponsored golf tournament tomorrow, and for the Iowa City July 4 celebration.

Iowa City is one of 20 Iowa towns chosen for covered wagon appearances. The wagon, one of the original forty-niners used in the gold rush 100 years ago, will be on display in downtown Iowa City.

The Jaycees will aid the showing of the wagon and help publicize the "Opportunity Drive." The golf tournament is for all local youth under 20. The winner will go to the Waterloo tournament this summer, however other Iowa City youth may also enter that meet.

The Jaycees will have the Fred Shew Rides, Grandview, for July 4. That celebration will also feature a "high class" horse show sponsored by the Iowa City saddle club.
