Nab Iowa Highway Killer

MARSHALLTOWN, IA. — A tip from a policeman's wife led to the arrest last night of a man accused of slaying a motorist as he drove along an Iowa highway. A man who gave his name as Alvin Brown, Tulsa, Okla., has admitted firing shots which killed William J. Muldoon, 33, Mason City, Ia., police said.

Mrs. Glen Crouse, wife of a Marshalltown policeman, set detectives on Brown's trail when she saw him enter a downtown hotel. Brown, 21, fitted descriptions of a man seen in Muldoon's car, she told police.

Muldoon, 33-year-old painter was shot and fatally wounded along the highway between Marshalltown and Des Moines. The chief of police said Smith told officers this account of the shooting.

He had met Muldoon about six years ago. He called him up Sunday when he was in Mason City and asked him if he could have a ride with Muldoon to Des Moines. Muldoon told him to meet him at the city limits and he would give him a ride.

Enroute to Des Moines, they got into an argument over a .32 caliber gun. He shot Muldoon in the hip as he ran from his car near the junctions of highway 64 and 65. He got Muldoon back into the car and they drove around for a while. They argued again. Muldoon who was doing the driving turned towards him and he shot him between the eyes. The car ran into the ditch. He dragged Muldoon out in front of the car and covered him with a blanket.

He was being questioned at the city police station.

The shooting had been witnessed by the Rev. von Elbert, of Knoxville. He said he saw Muldoon running from his car at the intersection of 65 and 64 which is about half way between Des Moines and Marshalltown.

"WHO CARES ABOUT POLICE ORDERS?" says this pup. "My master is taking his final exams and I'm just going to stay right here until he is finished." Scoop, seven-week-old cocker spaniel, sadly waits on his private parking perch while Bob Rossie, A3, takes his finals.

City Officials Seek State Financial Aid For Bridge Repair

City officials left for Ames at 6 o'clock this morning with revised plans and cost estimates to seek aid from the state highway commission in financing Burlington street bridge improvements.

Consulting Engineer Ned L. Ashton last night presented new estimated costs of $240,000 at an informal meeting of the city council.

Changes included widening the present 30-foot bridge roadway to 48 feet to meet federal highway requirements and repairing and extending present bridge piers 16 feet upstream to handle the widened roadway.

The plans also included paving the five-street intersection at the west end of the bridge and cutting the bridge corners back 21 feet at the west end.

State highway commission members suggested some of the changes at a council meeting May 3 when Ashton showed plans for a 40-foot bridge roadway to cost $143,500.

Ashton said last night a new bridge would cost about twice as much as repair of the present structure under the revised plans.

Big Four Meetings Fail to End Berlin East-West Deadlock

PARIS (AP)—The big four ended its series of secret meetings last night in a complete failure to break the east-west deadlock in Berlin.

The foreign ministers thus covered half the agenda of the conference that began two weeks ago, without being able to agree on a single important point.

The American delegation held a closed meeting after yesterday's fruitless session to plan the strategy for today. Then the ministers will resume "open" sessions. These are sessions at which official observers report the debates to the press.

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S., Britain and France told Russia yesterday she is violating the New York agreement to lift the blockade by refusing either to settle the railway strike or to bring the strike-stalled trains into Berlin.

The western powers also told Russia there can be no trade pact between eastern and western Germany until rail traffic has been restored. This decision is expected to hit Russia where it hurts.

Western officials have begun to believe the Soviet Union called off the blockade and requested the foreign ministers conference in Paris for one purpose: to resume east-west trade and thus rescue floundering east German economy.

T-H Debate Opens; Lewis Blasts Foes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The battle to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor-management law opened in the senate yesterday. Democratic leaders clung to a slim hope of getting a bill President Truman would accept.

Chairman Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah), of the labor committee, began the historic debate with an angry denunciation of the GOP-sponsored Taft-Hartley act as "dangerous" and "destructive."

John L. Lewis got into the initial skirmish with a telegram to all members of the senate denouncing AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray for a "foul betrayal of American labor" by entering into "secret agreements" to accept a compromise on the repeal issue.

The United Mine Workers president reminded the Democratic majority that it is "pledged by its party platform to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor statute and remove its shame from American life."

To Republicans, those who are "not beholden to special interests antagonistic to labor," his advice was that they go along on outright repeal of the "slave labor act."

Youth Hospitalized After Motor Scooter Accident

Maynard Parker, 17, 1829 F avenue, was taken to University hospital last night after a motor scooter accident at Bowers and Johnson streets. The mishap occurred at about 6 p.m.

The youth's mother said he collided with a parked car after swerving to avoid hitting a dog. He suffered a cut on his leg, Mrs. Parker said, but no bones were broken.

Owners Guarantee Mine Health Fund

BLUEFIELD, W. VA. (AP)—Southern coal mine owners yesterday assured John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers a continued health and welfare fund, but demanded that it be used only for "need and distress" resulting from works in the mines.

Jailed Communists' Wives Join Protest Demonstration

Lie Proposes TVA Projects Under UN

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, suggested last night that the UN promote projects like the Tennessee valley administration to harness the waters of the Jordan, the Tigris, the Euphrates and the Nile.

Lie, speaking at the University of Chattanooga, recommended such projects be given high priority in the $85-million program of technical assistance to the world's underdeveloped areas now under consideration by the UN to implement President Truman's "bold, new program for economic development of backward territories."

He said the near east was "one area in which the same kind of speed, boldness and imaginative planning that characterized the TVA is necessary right now."

$50,000 Bond Set For Dr. Rutledge

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—District Judge J. E. Heiserman yesterday set a $50,000 bond for Dr. Robert C. Rutledge Jr., 28, St. Louis, who was convicted May 28 on a charge of slaying his wife's alleged seducer.

Defense attorneys and Linn County Attorney William Crissman conferred with Heiserman before the bond was set. There was no indication when the bond would be produced.

Rutledge, who has until July 1 to request a new trial, remained in county jail.

Hearing Ordered on Atomic Lab 'Laxity'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The joint congressional atomic energy committee last night ordered a public hearing Wednesday on charges of lax security at the Atomic Energy commission's Argonne laboratory near Chicago.

The action came on the heels of an allegation by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.), that the commission had restored an atomic official to duty after hearing only two of 35 witnesses who had "serious derogatory information" against him.

AMA Ousts Dr. Fishbein

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The American Medical Association, seeking to unify its members for an all-out campaign to defeat any compulsory health insurance plan, yesterday disclosed it was retiring Dr. Morris Fishbein, its editor and generally referred to as the official "AMA spokesman."

Fishbein, now 60, has been a target of criticism from many members of the association who have objected to his public statements on controversial matters, such as health insurance.

The impending AMA action in replacing Dr. Fishbein was disclosed in a report by the board of trustees, which employs the editor of the AMA journal. As the report was read to the opening session of the house of delegates of the AMA in annual session here, it was learned that medical groups from California, Massachusetts, Colorado and Michigan were prepared to offer resolutions demanding Dr. Fishbein's immediate ouster.

Connally Foresees Atlantic Pact OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 12-nation north Atlantic pact, under which an attack on one member would be regarded as an attack on all, won the unanimous approval of the senate foreign relations committee yesterday.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) said the committee's action "will have a tremendously beneficial effect on the world situation." He predicted the senate will ratify the alliance overwhelmingly.

The committee's 13 to 0 vote for the treaty came on the fifth anniversary of the allies' D-day assault on Europe.

Connally said the report has not been printed and will not be made public until today.

Claims Byrnes Let Spy Flee; He Denies It

WASHINGTON (AP)—An elaborate plan to trap a Russian spy seeking wartime plane secrets crumbled when "Mr. Byrnes of the state department" vetoed his arrest, a jet engine expert testified yesterday.

The witnesses, Loren G. Haas of Buffalo, N.Y., did not further identify "Mr. Byrnes" in his testimony before the house un-American activities committee. But the period about which he was talking was 1945, and James F. Byrnes, former senator and supreme court justice, took over as secretary of state in July of that year.

Haas and two other witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Franey of Niagara Falls, N.Y., made it clear in talking to reporters that the reference was to Secretary Byrnes.

Byrnes, now a member of a law firm here, told a reporter: "Never did I tell any official of the government not to arrest

Fugitive Caught, Two Others Flee

Coralville Man Held On $1,000 Bond in Tavern Disturbance

Police last night arrested Stephen Joseph Kiback Coralville, on a charge of assault with intent to inflict bodily injury, after he allegedly pulled a knife on Gene Herleski, a bartender, during an argument at Hammond's tavern, 209 E. College street.

Police Judge Emil G. Trott set Kiback's bail at $1,000 and ordered him to appear in police court at 8 o'clock this morning. Kiback was unable to furnish bail and was confined in the city jail.

Herleski told police that Kiback entered the tavern and ordered a drink, causing a disturbance after claiming a $10 bill had disappeared.

Herleski said he ordered Kiback to leave and the man did so, but later returned and pulled a knife on him. Another bartender called police, Herleski said, but Kiback had disappeared by the time police arrived.

Police said they picked up Kiback at 8:45 last night about a block from the tavern.

Pair Headed Toward Iowa, Leave Trail of 5 Hostages

NORFOLK, NEB. (UP)—One desperado was reported captured at a farm house near Wisner, Neb., last night but the other two were reported fleeing towards Sioux City, Ia.

Radio Pleas Kin Appeal to Trio For Surrender

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Fathers, wives and brothers of three desperados fleeing before law enforcement officers in Nebraska last night urged the three to give themselves "up because 'You haven't a chance.'"

The pleas were broadcast by radio station KSTP.

William B. Hartman, father of 20-year-old Allen Hartman, pleaded with his son.

"Bunny, this is Dad," he said. "Don't shoot it out. Consider what you are up against. All roads are being watched. The police and FBI are closing in. Don't take any more chances. Forget about this thing and give yourself up. You haven't a chance."

"Don't take a chance on killing anybody or being killed yourself. Give yourself up and come home and I'll back you up. We will help you in every way we can. The family is behind you."

Mrs. Rita Bistram, wife of one of the fugitives, pleaded with her 37-year-old husband, Arthur, "to quit running around."

"If you shoot anybody and anybody gets hurt in any way, it's going to go tough on you, so come home and things will be a little better for you here, even if you have to spend the rest of your life in prison."

Mrs. Bistram also appealed to her husband's younger brother, Carl, 26, third member of the fleeing trio.

"Listen to me, Carl," she said. "After all, you're the one who wants to run as fast as you can go. Stop. They'll get you sooner or later. Please come home."

Hospitals Release Bus-Crash Victims

All except one of the six passengers injured when a city bus crashed into a tree after swerving off North Dubuque street Saturday night have been released from University and Mercy hospitals.

The condition of Mary Agnes Tesar, 63, 814 E. Church street, was "fair." University hospitals officials said yesterday. She suffered a broken hip when the bus smashed into a tree 40 feet north of the Bloomington-North Dubuque street intersection at 6:37 p.m., according to police reports.

Clarence Mahanna, 44, 13 1-2 S. Capital street, driver of the bus, was released from University hospitals Sunday.

Robert Vevers, 16, 1006 N. Dodge street, was released from Mercy hospital at 9:30 a.m. yesterday. He suffered a larynx injury. His mother, Mrs. Albert Vevers, also released from Mercy hospital, said last night that "he is feeling pretty well, but he can't talk yet."

Released from University hospitals after treatment for minor injuries were Mrs. Minnie Knoke, 67, 528 N. Gilbert street, and Yvonne Frazke, 22, 715 N. Johnson street.

Passengers said the steering gear apparently was faulty and that Mahanna tried desperately to turn the wheel before the bus hit the tree.

Bob Cheshnes started on the mound for Pittsburgh and gave up eight Dodger hits in seven innings. Hugh Casey hurled the eighth inning. The loss was Cheshnes' second of the year. He has won three.

AN OFFER TO RETURN to the major leagues was made yesterday to the players who three years ago jumped to the Mexican League in favor of Jorge Pasqual's millions. Among the players offered reinstatement by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler were Pitcher Max Lanier (upper left), Infielder Lou Klein (upper right), both of the St. Louis Cardinals, Outfielder Danny Gardella (lower left), of the New York Giants, and Catcher Mickey Owen, (lower left), of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bosox Outlast Detroit, 10-9

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Red Sox outlasted the Detroit Tigers in a free hitting and free walking game yesterday and took a 10-9 decision.

The Bosox clubbed out a dozen hits including a homer and two triples, and were aided by 10 walks given up by Tiger pitchers. Detroit had 11 hits and eight walks.

The game was fought on fairly even terms until the eighth inning when, with the score tied at five-all, the Red Sox pounced on Tiger Relief Pitcher Marlin Stuart.

Catcher Matt Batts led off the inning with a single and Lou Stringer ran for him. Red Sox Relief Pitcher Ted Hughson forced Stringer at second. Stuart then walked Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky to load bases for Ted Williams.

Williams was out, second to first with Hughson scoring on the play. Vern Stephens walked loading the bases for Bill Goodman who singled, scoring DiMaggio and Pesky. Stuart walked Al Zarilla to load the bases and Dizzy Trout was called in to pitch for Detroit.

Billy Hitchcock greeted Trout with a single, scoring Stephens and Goodman to make it 10-5. Trout got Birdie Tebbetts, 10th Red Sox batter to bat in the inning, on a fielder's choice to end the inning.

The Tigers struck back in their half of the eighth as Hughson walked Johnny Groth and Pinch-hitter Dick Wakefield to bring Gorge Vico up with two out. Vico slugged his second home run of the season into the right field stands to make it 10-8.

Stubby Overmire, fourth Tiger pitcher of the day, gave up a triple to Dom DiMaggio in the ninth but held the Boston club scoreless.

The Tigers put on a spirited rally in the ninth as George Kell and Vic Wertz were passed consecutively with none out. Hoop Evers doubled to deep left scoring Kell and sending Wertz to third.

With the score 10-9, none out and runners on second and third Manager Joe McCarthy lifted Hughson in favor of Ellis Kinder. Johnny Groth was passed purposely loading the bases. Johnny Lipon filed to shortstop. Aaron Robinson hit a bouncer back to the pitching mound and reached first on a fielder's choice as Kinder threw out Wertz at home plate.

Joe Gordon's Blast Sparks 9-Run Rally As Indians Rip A's

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians, with Manager Lou Boudreau playing third base for the first time since his minor league days, exploded with nine runs in the eighth inning last night to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 11-5.

A home run by Joe Gordon along with four singles and five bases on balls gave the Tribe the ball game after Boudreau's replacement at short, Rookie Ray (Ike) Boone, helped the A's to five runs in the fourth by making two errors.

Boudreau, who made the change following an afternoon conference with Tribe President Bill Veck and his coaching staff, played third flawlessly with two putouts and three assists.

Young Boone, noted as a smooth fielder, contributed three stinging singles to the 10-hit Tribe attack, but reflected the tremendous pressure of the occasion with his errors. The Athletics, who only made three hits off Starter Steve Gromek and Relievers Mike Garcia and Al Benton, were quick to capitalize.

Wyrostek's Homer Sinks Giants, 4-3

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Wyrostek's three-run homer and Howard Fox's game-winning single enabled Cincinnati to knock off the New York Giants yesterday, 4-3.

As a result of the Giants' loss and St. Louis' win over Boston, only a half game separated the first four teams in the National league.

Fox scattered eight Giant hits, one an inning except in the second, and hammered a single that scored Jimmy Bloodworth with the winning run in the sixth. Bloodworth had singled, and advanced to second on Dixie Howell's infield out.

No Video in Chicago For Walcott-Charles Go CHICAGO (AP) — The International Boxing club announced yesterday that although the Ezzard Charles-Joe Walcott fight for the world heavyweight title June 22, might be televised, it would not be available on video in the Chicago area.

Plans to televise the fight are being considered, the announcement said, but when the deal is completed, it will not permit video from any Chicago stations.

Last week Co-Promoter Joe Louis said he understood there would be no television within 300 miles of Chicago.

Ris Declines AAU Swim Tour; to Go To Summer School

Iowa's Olympic swimming champion, Wally Ris, said last night that he will not accompany the team of American swimming stars who will tour Europe this summer under the sponsorship of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Ris explained that he had "definitely" made up his mind to go to summer school here this summer so that he could graduate in August.

Iowa Swimming Coach Dave Armbruster had previously accepted the AAU's invitation to coach the stars on their tour.

Now that Ris has declined the AAU's offer, the contingent of outstanding swimmers invited for the tour has been trimmed to four.

These include Allen Stack of Yale, who took the 100-meter Olympic backstroke crown; Bruce Harlan of Ohio State, the springboard diving champion; Zoe Ann Olsen of Oakland, Calif., national diving champion, an Barbara Jensen of San Francisco, American backstroke and individual medley titlist.

The group is scheduled to leave New York by plane June 17 to compete in a series of meets in France and Sweden.

Boudreau to Third For Slumping Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians' coaching brain trust shifted Lou Boudreau to third base yesterday in an effort to shake off the club's serious slump.

In an emergency conference called by President Bill Veck, the coaches decided to bench light hitting and slow fielding Kenny Keltner from third and replace Boudreau at short with Rookie Ray Boone.

Trying to find out why the seventh place world champs have fallen to 10 games behind the league leading Yankees were Coaches George Susce, Herold (Muddy) Ruel, and Bill McKechnie. Boudreau attended, too, and Veck presided.

Boudreau, who started his stint at third last night in a game against the Philadelphia Athletics, ordered all players to report at 4 p.m. for last night's game. That's two hours earlier than usual.

JOCKEY KILLED

BOSTON (AP) — Jockey Joseph Molbert, 29, of New Iberia, La., was killed yesterday when trampled by his horse in the seventh race at Suffolk Downs race track.

BOSTON (AP) — The red hot St. Louis Cardinals made it five victories in their last six road games yesterday and 12 out of their last 14 by thumping Boston's Braves, 7-3, easing the pennant defenders out of second place in the ever changing fight for the National league lead.

The Cards, by beating the Tribe for the third successive game here are only a half game out of first place.

The Redbirds, who had scored their first run in the third inning, put the game out of the Braves' reach with a three run attack in the sixth which Enoe Slaughter began by driving out his sixth homer of the season.

George Mungler won his third game against two losses, although being relieved in the eighth by Ted Wilks.

St. Louis ..... 001 003 003-7 11 4 Boston ..... 020 000 010-3 7 3 Mungler; Wilks (6) and Baker; Spahn, Potter (9) and Salkeld, Mad (9). Winning pitcher: Mungler. Losing pitcher: Spahn. Home run: Slaughter.

Majors Spread Welcome Mat For Mexican League 'Jumpers'

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Having decided to welcome the misled athletes who jumped the reservation in '46, organized baseball stretched itself yesterday to demonstrate it really has a heart as big as a Georgia watermelon.

The boys who went south in quest of Mexican gold were assured by Commissioner A.B. Chandler that they will be guests of the house while they and their former big league employers are becoming reacquainted.

The 25-player limit will be suspended for their special benefit, much as it was for the homecoming veterans after the recent war, and the promise is implicit that nobody will get shoved around.

"The baseball commissioner will cooperate with the club owners and made the 25-player limit elastic for a reasonable time to give them opportunity to dispose of the players or make room for them," said a statement from Chandler's office.

Giants' officials were reticent about their plans for using Danny Gardella or any other of their "jumping" players if they should obtain reinstatement, but the Cardinals were justly jubilant at the prospect of having Lanier and Martin and Second-Baseman Lou Klein back in the fold.

The only question in Manager

Eddie Dyer's mind was whether the trio's absence from the big show for three seasons will have dulled their talents.

Should the crafty Lanier come back to take his turn along with Harry Brecheen, Alpha Brazle and Howie Pollet, the Cards would show one of the greatest south-paw quartets of modern times. Martin is a serviceable right-hander.

Mickey Owen of the Brooklyn Dodgers was one of the game's top catchers when he took off for Mexico, but he no longer is a youngster and the Dodgers are fairly well fixed in that department.

Summer Fashions Hit —

Spotlight Play Clothes

Whether you'll be heading for the beaches, the mountains, the lakes or your own back yard for the summer months, there's a problem in your wardrobe.

Play clothes predominate in the summer fashion parade and among the best-sellers are denims and two-piece swim suits. Denims, in faded blue and other colors, are being featured in shorts, slacks and pedal pushers. Colors click in this merchandise in sail cloth — bright red or navy in particular.

The wide-striped T-shirt is a popular companion with denims. Additional styling such as roll collar, zipper collars and novelty stripes has brought the T-shirt back into the woman's wardrobe. Two-piece styling leads in swim suits, it is reported. Especially in the forefront are the elasticized and strapless suits. More interest in pastels, dark shades such as ruby and midnight, and bright tones of apricot and gold is the way colors line up this season.

Cotton skirts are also big sellers with vacationers in small prints, dark tones and flounces. Good toppers for these skirts are the ever-popular batiste peasant blouses and off-the-shoulder styles with lace or eyelet trim.

Brides-to-Be Honored By Gamma Phi Beta

No Eight Ball Jobs Now

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

It seems to me that the biggest difference between the Truman era and the Roosevelt era is that in the Roosevelt era we used to legislate for the ordinary man, while in the Truman era we spend most of our time legislating on behalf of a larger but somewhat vaguer entity known as "the national interest."

In Roosevelt's day we gave work to the jobless, built homes for the homeless, and set up agencies to which men who were behind any of the characteristic eight balls of the period could come, whether they were homeowners, farmers, youth at loose ends, or whatever.

IT WAS government on a big scale, but it was also government retail, dealing direct with the ultimate consumer, so to speak, in an interview across a table.

What are the characteristic legislative issues of today? They are reorganization of the government, along the lines of the Hoover commission report, unification of the armed services, etc. — very necessary, perhaps, but they are engaged in, not in the name of John Smith, but in the name of the national interest.

THE NATION INTEREST certainly needs to be served, but it could be said that government, since Roosevelt, has, to a degree, given up the common touch, and that it has become a bit high-lutin. It seeks to solve the problem of America and of the world by big, sweeping strokes of policy and administrative reform, but it does not show quite the same interest in whether any particular man, or kind of man, is getting along all right.

We are moving away from the sort of government at retail which was the distinguishing feature of Roosevelt's time; we are in the wholesale business now.

FOR EXAMPLE, there is objection when repeal of the Taft-Hartley act is given priority on the senate calendar over ratification of the Atlantic pact. Work on our basic labor law seems to some critics to be a postponable activity, as compared with the construction of the vast edifice of the Atlantic pact.

And even the objections reveal the tendency in our time to put the vast edifices first, ahead of the homely concerns of our everyday living. We are solving our problems these days on a level so exalted as to be beyond fingertip reach of common men with common troubles.

AND IT IS NOT only in the field of foreign policy that we are operating at these lofty heights. In home concerns, too, this sort of elevation shows up; the problem of making our government more efficient cannot, apparently, wait; but minimum wage legislation seemingly can.

And you can get up much more interest in Washington over unification of the services than you can over housing, or social security, or health.

This is the heyday of the general idea, as opposed to concern over what goes on in the side streets or on the hot pavements. The problems of mankind arouse our fervor, while men with problems wait.

IN AN unprecedented time of high prices plus unemployment, we have, to a degree, given up dealing directly with the ultimate consumer, across a table; we work, instead, in the name of wider and vaguer concepts, supposed to embody his highest needs.

But the problems which men face today are particular and specific. They have not changed merely because our approaches to them have. The man who, in Roosevelt's day, used to talk to government across a little table, is still there, waiting and looking up.

also the assistance of the Soviet Union.

From the standpoint of background, Mao was taught by the communists that the first real step toward complete revolution in colonies and underdeveloped countries must be the overthrow of foreign capital.

Taking all these things together with Mao's 1946 statement that there will have to be a period of capitalism before communism can be established, Communist China would seem likely to be a place in which foreigners can trade, but not one for long-term investment.

party paper in Moscow, a member of the Chinese party's central committee outlined the general policy in April at a meeting of the democratic union of Chinese youth. Here are some of the points made:

As soon as Nationalist power was broken a consultative council would be called to form a central government for China.

This will be the first step on the long road of eliminating "imperialism, feudalism, bureaucratic capitalism," which can be accomplished "only when China is an advanced industrial country and when it is absolutely independent economically of foreign powers."

The need for an arms industry was stressed. Nationalization of industry will come, but "the existence of private undertakings which are of advantage to the national economy must be permitted during the period of rehabilitation and development."

The Chinese Communists expect to carry out their program more rapidly than was possible after October, 1917, in Russia "since China has a hard-working population of 400-million, and has the guidance of the Chinese Communist party, of Mao-Tse-Tung, the leader, and

'Palimpsest' Pays Special Tribute to RFD

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's rural mail carriers are the object of special tribute in the newly published issue of "The Palimpsest," a monthly magazine published by the state historical society of Iowa.

"The beginnings of rural free delivery in 1896 ushered in a new era for the Iowa farmer," William J. Petersen, superintendent of the society, says in tracing the backgrounds of RFD.

The magazine, in addition to Petersen's review, contains three sections by Mary C. Ludwig who writes concerning Iowa's rural mail carriers:

"They have taken great pride in their ability to get the mail through. Since that first day in 1896 when the three rural free delivery pioneers started from morning sun, the rural mail carrier, always aware of his motto, 'service with a smile,' has become an integral part of every Iowa farmer's life."

In tracing the backgrounds of RFD, Peterson notes that the first delivery of mail in Iowa apparently occurred in the fall of 1833 when George Ord Karrick brought the mail weekly from Galena to Dubuque.

On April 19, 1836, Antoine Le Claire was commissioned as Iowa's first postmaster — at Davenport.

In 1838 a steamboat mail line was inaugurated between St. Louis and Dubuque and 28 such boats plied the Mississippi along Iowa's eastern border that year.

In 1855 a postoffice was established at Sioux City and in 1861 the post office department — following outbreak of the civil war — changed the point of departure for the overland mail from St. Joseph to Council Bluffs.

During those days, the mail between Council Bluffs and Sioux City was carried by stagecoach.

As the years passed, five railroads had reached the Missouri by 1870 and many Iowa towns began getting their mail by train. And in November of 1896 became one of 10 states chosen for a government test of the idea of rural free delivery.

Morning Sun was chosen and Albert L. Roberts, Bert McKinley and William Blair began horseback delivery of mail over three routes averaging 45 miles each.

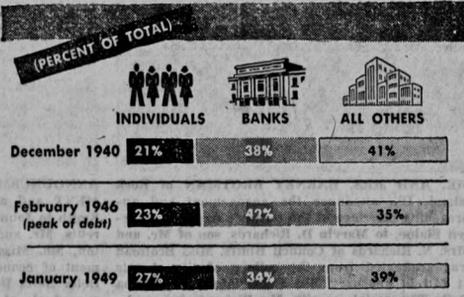

Mary Ludwig writes that the new idea took hold at once and soon Iowa farmers were writing "enthusiastic letters requesting rural service in their area."

"Since there were no mailboxes provided by the farmers," she says, "Bert McKinley recalls that the carrier . . . blew his whistle as he approached the farmhouse and 'the kids came running out to get the mail.' One farm family finally fastened an old leather boot on a post to serve as a mail box."

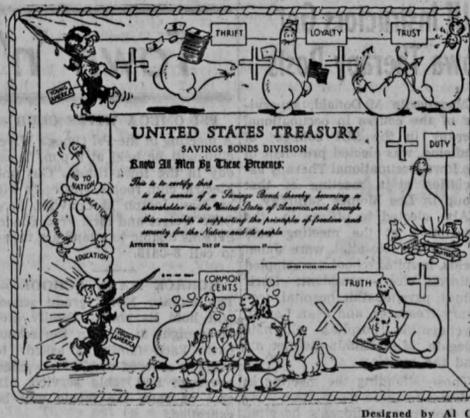

Iowa's second experimental route was begun at New Providence in September, 1897. Alonzo Hall was one of the carriers.

From these rude beginnings, "The Palimpsest" articles relate, rural mail service has grown in Iowa until there are 1440 rural routes in the state which cover 65,098 miles and deliver mail to almost half the state's population.

Ford Men Demand New Pension Plan

DETROIT — "Too old to work, too young to die," is the theme of the CIO United auto workers in their demands for worker pensions in the new Ford Motor company contract.

Skilled worker's savings are small and unskilled labor has almost nothing to show after a life's work, the UAW says. After 25 years experience, the union says a 60-year-old worker is entitled to a pension.

Retirement security is nothing new, but the UAW's way of financing it is. The union wants the company to foot the entire cost of the $100-a-month pensions instead of the usual arrangement of both workers and employer contributing.

Negotiations on a new contract are just getting underway. How the agreement looks when it is signed sometime after July 15 will set the pattern for the rest of the auto industry.

In addition to the pension, the UAW wants health and medical care programs financed by a company contribution of five percent of the payroll. On top of this is a "cost of living" wage adjustment, estimated at eight to 10 cents an hour.

Both company and union have declined so far to estimate the costs of the program. But an indication came from Canada where UAW demands are basically the same.

Ford of Canada estimated that the pension and other demands covering 14,000 workers would run about $13-million. Ford has 106,000 production workers in the U.S., indicating the outlay necessary here.

Ford and the UAW negotiated a pension plan — based on employee contributions — two years ago, but it was turned down by the membership. Even the same program put into effect now would cost Ford more than it would have two years ago because workers aren't changing jobs at as rapid a rate. The UAW says it is "impossible" to live on federal and state old age dodes. Under the social security program the average married worker gets a return of $37 a month. That is added to in hardship cases to bring payments to a high of around $65.

There is no doubt that the company will reject any plan that doesn't require workers to contribute, but might again agree to recycled program. The UAW could be setting its sights high in order to wind up with a better "deal" in negotiations. The old pension plan provided a $100 a month pension for a workers earning $200 a month after 30 years. The $100 included social security benefits.

A Glutted Market? —

The record-shattering number of SUI students who are scheduled to receive their sheepskins Friday will find job prospects the least promising of any year since the war began.

SUI will contribute 1,700 to the American college total of 320,000 graduates this month. Added to that figure are about 1,200,000 high school graduates.

Excluding the number of high school graduates who will continue their education, about a million persons will swarm over the labor market in the next few weeks.

A survey taken last April showed that over 3,000,000 workers were unemployed at that time. This figure represents an increase of about 800,000 over last year's jobless total.

However, the outlook is not entirely gloomy even though jobs are scarce for the first time in this decade.

There are shortages in teaching, medicine, dentistry, nursing, medical-service occupations and social work. Starting salaries will remain at the record high levels of last year, the survey concluded.

The main reason behind the stiff competition and handicaps that will face the new inexperienced worker is business' inability to absorb large numbers of college graduates in a short period of time.

During the lean war years the supply of college graduates was just about cut off and it is only now that anything like a normal supply of college-trained personnel is being turned out.

It looks as though next year's total number of college graduates will near half a million. For those students who are about to enter college, vocations should be given more thoughtful attention. Unless they have exceptional qualifications they may find that their best chances lie in occupations that do not require college training.

Perhaps we're coming to the end of an era. "The good ole college days" may be replaced by four years of intensive preparation for a business world that can afford to be discriminating.

People Need a Place to Park —

The park board's decision to limit parking for the time to Templin road was a wise and just one. Iowa Citizens with homes on Templin road were living there, many of them, when Iowa City did not yet count this area within the city limits.

These people have seen seasons come and go in the city park — have probably watched their children playing hide-and-seek among the trees which line Templin road.

Their very natural reaction to actions to cut down these trees was one of alarm, a fear of seeing the old things go — nostalgia.

And so when the park board decided to leave the trees there for awhile to see how the situation worked out, they were doing a good job of practicing democracy. It may be that the trees will still have to go.

Parking likewise will present a definite problem in the smooth handling of the swimming pool crowds.

We would like to suggest one solution which might relieve the growing pains of Iowa City's swimming pool. If the city government would cut the curbing on the north side of Park road, cars would find parking space within easy walking distance of the pool.

Diagonal parking would help the situation along even more. That's the type of parking the park board decided on along Ridge road. Such a trial might even give the park board time to work out its problem and find some other spots to put the cars of the 1,000 persons who can crowd into the pool if it's filled to capacity. We think it's worth a try.

Walters Announces Campus Chest Goal

The goal for the fall Campus Chest drive is 100 percent student-faculty participation, Gaige Walters, chairman of the Student Council Campus Chest committee, said yesterday.

The Campus Chest drive will start Nov. 8 and run through Nov. 15, Walters said.

Funds obtained through the Campus Chest drive will go to four organizations in these proportions: 50 percent to World Student Service fund, 20 percent to United Negro college fund, 20 percent to CARE, and 10 percent to the American Cancer society.

The Campus Chest committee was recently placed on a year-round basis by the Student Council. Other officers are Robert Kramer, A2, White Plains, N.Y., publicity chairman; Gilbert Pearlman, A2, Des Moines, speakers' bureau chairman, and Etta Mueller, A3, Van Meter, secretary.

Walters said the committee would use a large thermometer to gauge campus participation in the drive.

Coralville Project To Be Discussed

A pre-bidding conference will be held today at the site of the Coralville flood control project north of Iowa City, Col. R. L. Dean, engineer for the Rock Island district, said yesterday.

A portion of the session will be devoted to a general information period at which time certain phases of the contract requirements will be discussed, he said.

Lt. Col. H.K. Howell, who received his master's degree in engineering from Iowa State college at Ames in 1947, will be assigned as resident engineer of the project, Dean said.

Insects 'Unnerved' — City Buys New DDT Sprayer

Iowa City's new $1,450 insect sprayer was used for the first time yesterday at the city dump. Marlen Messer, Cedar Rapids, who sold the sprayer to the city, said yesterday that it was the only machine of its kind now used in Iowa. He is training city employees in the use and care of the sprayer.

Street Commissioner Willard M. Irvin is acting foreman of the crew and Leonard Prizler is the operator. Ted Crawford is the truck driver.

The six percent DDT carbonyl spray used is a general insecticide that kills most insects upon contact. M.H. Anderson, Iowa City representative of the chemical firm, said yesterday. He said the chemical causes a "nervous breakdown" in the insects.

Anderson said the city will use the sprayer in its extensive fly control program. Workers will spray the city dump once a week and also will spray all low and insect-breeding areas in the city. Most areas would not need to be sprayed more often than once in four to six weeks.

"Authorities now believe there is some relation between flies and polio cases," Messer and Anderson said.

This type sprayer is rather uncommon in the middle west, Messer said, but is used extensively in the East by U.S. government agriculture and health authorities. He said he will conduct experiments with a similar sprayer in Linn county for Iowa State college.

The sprayer does not use large quantities of water. Highly concentrated chemicals are disseminated by forced air, Messer said.

W. Chambers Names Second 'Confederate'

NEW YORK (AP) — Whittaker Chambers yesterday named Julian Wadleigh as a second state department employee who helped him obtain government secrets for a prewar Soviet spy ring.

Chambers resumed the witness stand at the federal perjury trial of Alger Hiss, also named by Chambers as a source of state department secrets.

Chambers, who has admitted he was a spy ring courier, said he had a "confederate" in the state department's trade agreement section who was not Hiss.

"His name is Julian Wadleigh," Chambers said.

Henry Julian Wadleigh, formerly of the state department, said he had no comment yesterday when reached at his home outside Washington.

Chambers also testified yesterday that he twice lied under oath to the committee. It also was brought out that a few months ago Chambers said he had no "independent recollection" of getting his microfilmed "pumpkin papers" from Hiss.

Earlier in the Hiss trial, Chambers testified that the microfilms were given him by Hiss among a number of secret state department documents funneled through Chambers to the prewar spy ring.

Modern '49'ers Meet with an Old Timer

GREETING THE COVERED WAGON which rolled into Iowa City yesterday morning are (left to right) Harry Dunlap, Ben S. Summerwill and Frank D. Williams, welcoming committee members. The wagon is an original Conestoga, used during the last century by pioneer families, and now the symbol of the 1949 U.S. Opportunity bond drive.

Wagon Wheels Herald 'Opportunity Drive'

A century after the gold rush of 1849, one of the Conestoga wagons used during the period rolled into Iowa City yesterday morning for a day.

Replacing horses, however, was a flat-bed semi-trailer on which the wagon was drawn.

The sturdy old Conestoga, used in the symbol of a new "gold rush" — the 1949 U.S. Opportunity Bond drive.

On hand to greet the caravan was Harry Dunlap, chairman of the welcoming committee, and Ben S. Summerwill and Frank D. Williams, co-chairmen of the county bond drive committee.

Dunlap said, "We felt it a privilege that Iowa City was one of the 20 Iowa communities chosen in this tour. Johnson county has always maintained its quota in bond drives."

The wagon is one of 30 vehicles air-transported to as many states from Independence, Mo. It will be on tour in the U.S. until the bond drive officially closes June 30.

The covered wagon, often called "the vehicle of empire," was first designed and built by the Pennsylvania Dutch in the rich Conestoga Valley in Lancaster county, Pa.

It was chosen to be the symbol of the $1,040-million quota bond selling drive because this is the 100th anniversary of the gold rush and in this manner the treasury is commemorating it.

Transportation for the vehicle is being furnished by the International Harvester and Fruehauf Trailer companies. Driver and custodian is Jerry Carr of Des Moines, an employe of International Harvester.

Johnson county bond sales have reached the $494,512 mark of the $733,042 quotas. Summerwill and Williams reported. State sales to date are $28,544,183 or 57 percent of the 50-million quota.

Now is the time to read the Want Ads.

Is Lost Long Dog A Long-Lost Dog?

A controversy over the ownership of a confused dachshund reached police headquarters yesterday.

According to police information, a woman lost the dog in 1948. He turned up this year, presumably as a vagrant, and police reportedly gave him to another woman.

Yesterday, the dog turned up again — he had left his second owner and returned to his first home. Who owns the doggy is the $64 question.

The dachshund, the two owners and police are awaiting further developments.

Funeral Services For Daniel Toomey Set for Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Patrick's church for Daniel Charles Toomey, 68, who died Sunday morning at Mercy hospital after a brief illness. He lived at 119 S. Linn street.

The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Hohenschuh mortuary. The Knights of Columbus members will recite the rosary at 8:30 p.m. today. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery at Parnell.

A son, the Rev. J.E. Toomey, will celebrate the solemn funeral mass. The funeral sermon will be given by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. P.J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Patrick's church. A brother-in-law, the Rev. L.J. Murphy of Keokuk, will serve as deacon and the Rev. L.J. McMahon of St. Ambrose college, Davenport, a former Iowa City resident, will be sub-deacon.

Mr. Toomey was born August 4, 1880, in Iowa county, the son of John and Anna Toomey. He spent his boyhood in Holbrook, Iowa, and later engaged in business in Parnell and Williamsburg before moving to Iowa City in 1921.

Mr. Toomey was a member of the fourth-degree, Knights of Columbus, the Moose lodge and St. Patrick's church.

Survivors include four sons: D. C. Toomey, Los Angeles, Calif.; Paul Toomey, Manson, the Rev. J.E. Toomey, St. Ambrose college, Davenport, and J.N. Toomey, Iowa City. Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Edward J. Wilkinson, Davenport; a sister, Lillian Toomey, Parnell, and four grandchildren.

Leaking Windows In Tunnel of Pool Made Waterproof

Windows in the observation tunnel at the south end of the new City park swimming pool, have been made leak-proof, Contractor M.D. McCreedy said yesterday.

Water had been leaking through since it was filled a week ago, McCreedy said.

Workers repaired the leaking windows without lowering the water in the pool, he said. The windows are three-fourths of an inch thick, and made of specially-hardened glass set in rubber gaskets to keep water from leaking through.

Persons in the tunnel can observe divers and swimmers under water through 10 windows. Engineer Ned L. Ashton, pool designer, said the tunnel is a valuable asset to the pool because people could learn swimming movements by watching swimmers.

Opening date of the pool now depends upon linking electric power lines with pumps which will circulate water through filters, city recreation officials said.

Street department workers yesterday began grading a car parking area and the ridge road in City park for pool customers, Park Superintendent George Turecek said.

The park commission board last week decided to limit parking to the area north and west of the pool where trees had been cut down and to straighten the road.

Students Fined After Dip in New IC Pool

A dip in Iowa City's new swimming pool at 1 a.m. Sunday morning cost two SUI students $12.50 fines in police court yesterday. Ronald Petersen, A2, Clear Lake, and Jack Bailey, A1, Mason City, pleaded guilty to a charge of unauthorized swimming before Police Judge Emil Trot.

George Tesla, A2, Waterloo, was fined a total of $35 on charges of intoxication and resisting arrest.

For disturbing the peace, Donald Linell, 317 First street, was fined $12.50, and Lyle N. Yates, A1, Hawarden, paid a $12.50 fine for improper passing.

Charged with drinking beer on a public street, Ronald Kelley, A2, Reinbeck, and Robert Galloway, A1, Waterloo, were each fined $7.50.

A $7.50 fine was paid by Jacob Blakely, Route 4, Iowa City, charged with intoxication.

Saturday's police docket listed 34 persons who paid $40 for traffic and meter violations.

Revise Iowa Health Code, Shaffer Says

Iowa's legislature must revise the present state code to give public health committees operating authority and funds, Van Vechten Shaffer, chairman of the Cedar Rapids Health council, said last night.

Shaffer told 50 persons at an Iowa City Public Health committee meeting that until such legislation is passed they could tackle "specific problems" — immunization, fly control, restaurant sanitation, communicable disease reporting and garbage disposal.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE of the most successful businessmen of our time made his first big killing in the glove business. In those days, the most expensive gloves were imported from Europe, and the duty was as high as the total cost of manufacture.

As I heard the story, he imported a quarter of a million dollars' worth of gloves at one time—but gave peculiar shipping instructions. All the LEFT gloves were consigned to Boston, all the RIGHT ones to New Orleans.

When the shipmates arrived, nobody claimed them, and in due course, they were auctioned off by the customs authorities with other unclaimed articles. Who on earth wanted a shipment of left gloves? Our hero picked them up in Boston for a fraction of what the duty would have cost. Then his agent did the same with the RIGHT gloves in New Orleans. And thus another great American fortune was founded.

The richest of the Rothschilds was asked, "How did all the members of your family amass such vast fortunes?" The old baron smiled faintly and answered, "By always selling too soon."
