AEC Says National Security Hiked Plutonium Plant Cost

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Atomic Energy commission said last night that its Hanford, Wash., plutonium plant cost four times the original estimate because work on the facility was "rushed" in the interest of national security.

The commission said the "overriding consideration" was earliest possible completion of the installation because of its relation to results of the 1948 atomic bomb tests at Eniwetok. For this reason, it said, it did not wait to solve cost estimating problems.

This was the commission's answer to Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia) who had demanded to know why the commission originally estimated cost of the plant at $6,255,000 and later said it would reach $24,950,000.

Hickenlooper cited the revised estimate in support of his charges of "incredible mismanagement" against commission Chairman David E. Lilienthal.

Lilienthal is scheduled to go before the congressional atomic energy committee today to answer in person Hickenlooper's questions about the Hanford plant.

Without waiting for Lilienthal's appearance, the commission issued a statement giving its side of the case.

It said the original estimate was necessarily tentative because there were no detailed plans available at the time.

Construction work was begun by the General Electric company without waiting for completion of design "because the facility is of urgent importance to the national defense," it said.

"If the company and the commission had waited to solve these problems before going ahead with the work on the plutonium fabricating facility," it said, "it would today be many months away from production."

"Rushing the work on this facility, though expensive, was the only choice consistent with the security of the United States."

Nixon Jumps Bond, Extradition Hearing; FBI Helps on Case

Efforts of Johnson county authorities to bring Charles Ralph Nixon, Tompson, Ill. farmer, to Iowa City to stand trial for the theft of a power saw and two sets of wrenches failed yesterday when Nixon did not appear at an extradition hearing in Mt. Carroll, Ill.

Nixon, who was out on $2,000 bond, was arrested at his farm near Tompson by Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy of Johnson county and Agent Ray Connor, Iowa Criminal Investigation bureau, May 24.

At the time of his arrest, Nixon was driving a tractor which had been stolen from Anamosa May 12. The power saw and two sets of wrenches, which had been stolen from the Joseph Novotny farm north of Iowa City the same night, were found on his farm.

The FBI is now on the case, Sheriff Murphy said, since the transporting of the stolen tractor over a state line constitutes a federal violation. The district court judge at Mt. Carroll has ordered Nixon turned over to Johnson county authorities and returned to Iowa City for trial as soon as he is apprehended, Sheriff Murphy said.

Summer Meat Prices To Rise, Experts Say

CHICAGO (AP)—Retail prices of meats and some canned goods will rise this summer at the corner grocery store, experts forecast today.

But for food prices generally, a spokesman for the National Association of Retail Grocers said "no particular advance" was seen.

Berlin Vote Favors Strike

BERLIN (AP)—The railway workers of western Berlin refused to end their 25-day strike yesterday with a don't-trust-Russia vote. The "little blockade" of Berlin thus continues.

The anti-communist strikers voted six-to-one against accepting a compromise strike settlement which Soviet authorities had approved. Of 14,711 valid ballots, 12,626 favored continuing the strike. Only 2,085 workers voted to end the walkout.

After the balloting, Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, U.S. sector commandant, charged the Russians had broken their word on the

Court Decides Bonus Legal

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa supreme court yesterday upheld unanimously the state's World War II veterans bonus acts and made it possible for mid-summer payments unless a rehearing evolves.

State officials said that a specific date for mailing initial checks could not be set because the bonus board intended to delay action until the legal 30-day period for seeking a rehearing before the court expires.

Justice W.L. Bliss, Mason City, wrote a unanimous opinion which denied the contention of an Iowa taxpayer that the 1947 bonus act and an altered 1949 payment plan were unconstitutional.

The suit, described as a friendly test case, was brought by G.F. Knorr, Des Moines property owner. His attorney, Harold Newcomb, argued that the 1947 act failed to meet publication requirements and the 1949 legislature had no right to change payment plans.

Under the 1949 act, bonus payments will be covered by a $50-million fund transferred from the state surplus and by $35-million in bonds financed by a property tax, if more money is needed.

The high tribunal said the 1949 legislature did not contract a debt in violation of the constitution when it changed the payment plan. Lawmakers merely reduced a previously authorized debt, the court ruled.

Green Light Given To Lincoln Project

Plans and specifications for repairing and equipping Lincoln elementary school, and constructing and equipping its addition, were accepted unanimously by members of the Iowa City school board at a meeting in the Junior high school last night.

No objections were filed during the public hearing held in conjunction with the board meeting. Bids on the work will be received up to 2 p.m., June 20, at which time they will be opened and made public.

The board also approved plans for alteration of the heating system at the Henry Sabin grade school. Bids will be received until 7:45 p.m., July 1.

Board members attending the meeting were Alva B. Oathout, president pro-tem, Mrs. K. C. Green, Chan F. Coulter and Irving Weber. Also present were Secretary Chas. S. Gallier; Ivar Opstad, city superintendent of schools, and Verne Miller, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Two Killed, Six Injured In Dynamite Explosion

HARDINSBURG, KY. (AP)—Two men were killed and six injured, one seriously, when dynamite used in a construction project near Bewleyville, Ky., exploded last night.

The construction project, a pipe line, was being built by the Texas Gas Transmission corp., from eastern Texas to Middletown, Ohio.

Cleanup crews moved into the explosion area last night, and it was expected work would resume today. Property damage was slight.

Baltic DPs Appeal to West to Free Their Homelands

BERATING THE 'BOLESHIVIST TERROR,' displaced persons from Baltic nations staged a mass demonstration at Hanau, Germany, Sunday, in an appeal to the western world to liberate their nations from the grip of Russia. The DPs, who have refused to return to their native lands because of this Soviet control, draped a banner across the street and erected a huge painting depicting Stalin astride their trampled countries.

Declares Coal Operators Want Coordinator

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The president of the world's largest commercial coal company said yesterday northern coal operators want an industry coordinator for wage control bargaining.

But he denied such a spokesman would function as a "czar" empowered to bring about industry stabilization for fixed prices.

George H. Love, president of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company said the operators' choice for the job is Harry M. Moses. Moses is president of H.C. Frick Coke company, U.S. Steel corporation's coal producing subsidiary.

Love declared purpose of the coordinator is "to bring order and dignity into labor relations of the industry and to avoid the chaos which has too often attended labor negotiations and inconvenienced the public."

Love said Moses' acceptance would involve his resignation as H.C. Frick president and severing of all connection with U.S.

Mayor Koser Cuts New Meter Order

Mayor Preston Koser yesterday ordered the Duncan Meter corporation to ship only 300 of the 575 parking meters approved in a resolution passed by the city council Monday night.

Reduction in the initial shipment was made to permit further study of the need for more meters in Iowa City and for public reaction to the installation of additional meters, city officials said.

When the meters are installed, the parking meter ordinance will have to be amended to include areas served by the new meters and fines for violations. A public hearing will be necessary for amending the ordinance, Mayor Koser said.

Other problems raised by the increased number of meters are more police officers to check violators and office personnel to handle additional money receipts.

According to the report of the council committee on police, parking and public safety, the meters are needed to meet expected demands for parking arising from an influx of traffic due to the new university library, veterans hospital and the Coralville dam.

Steel corporation.

Moses' office reported he was "not available for calls," but said he might make a statement later. Love's statement came as John L. Lewis, united mine workers' chief, indicated his bargaining strategy would be to divide the industry into separate segments in search for the best possible contract for the 480,000 UMW members.

City Council Hears Costs of New Pool

Iowa City's new swimming pool cost $136,925.93 — $129,875.93 for construction and equipment, $7,050.00 for engineering and legal services.

These were the amounts reported by Engineer Ned L. Ashton at Tuesday night's city council meeting. Aldermen passed a resolution accepting the pool and its costs except for a legal 10 percent which can be paid 30 days later.

The city has raised 112,500 by bond issues and public subscription by the Community Dads has brought in about $12,000 to pay pool costs. Another $13,000 must be found in the 30-day period.

Storms Take Toll; Ten Die in Texas

DALLAS (AP)—Storms and cloudbursts of up to 10 inches took 10 lives in north Texas Monday night and yesterday.

A flood warning was issued for a lowland area along the Trinity area — the same meandering stream which hit Fort Worth in mid-day. The flood this time was downstream from Fort Worth.

Four persons drowned yesterday at Garland, small town northeast of here. All were caught in waters of Duck creek, set rising by a 10-inch rain.

Roosevelt Visits Truman in White House

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT JR., stopped in to see President Truman at the White House yesterday after being sworn in as a member of the house of representatives. Although he holds down a spot left vacant by Democrat Sol Bloom, who died while in office, Roosevelt won the right to represent New York City's 20th district as a candidate of the Four Freedoms and the Liberal parties.

Big Four Struggles In Secret Meetings

Girls Vanish After Vivid Lecture

HIGH WYCOMBE, ENGLAND (AP)—Two 13-year-old girls were missing yesterday from the exclusive Wycombe Abbey school.

Authorities recalled that last week lecturer Dr. Janet Vaughan told the girls:

"The world is full of exciting and interesting people and things. It is up to us to go out and find our opportunities."

Truman Housing Bill Cleared for Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The long deadlock on President Truman's multi-million dollar housing bill was broken yesterday at last.

The house rules committee, which killed similar legislation last year, voted 8 to 4 to clear it for immediate house action. The bill already has passed the senate.

A committee coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats, which has been blocking action, collapsed before the threat of Democratic leaders to use new "anti-bottleneck" procedures to by-pass the committee.

Rules Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) announced immediately he would call the bill up for debate next Tuesday, with a vote expected Friday or Saturday.

It calls for a vast program of slum clearance, low-cost housing and farm housing aids. Its cost has been estimated all the way from $9-billion to $19-billion over a 40-year period.

The senate passed it April 21 by a 57 to 13 vote. In the house, however, the outcome is in doubt.

Republican Leader Martin, of Massachusetts, called a meeting of all house Republicans for this afternoon to plan a GOP line of action. Martin has announced his opposition to all "new spending programs" at this time.

Call Condon, Ickes Into Coplon Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Lawyer Archibald Palmer yesterday called Dr. and Mrs. Edward U. Condon and Harold L. Ickes as his lead-off witnesses today in the spy trial of former government girl Judith Coplon.

The decision of whether the Condons and Ickes testify will be up to Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves, who ruled twice yesterday against Palmer. He turned down the attorney's motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, made on the claim that Miss Coplon was carrying documents in her purse needed for her work when she was arrested last March 4.

The judge also denied Palmer's request that the government be forced to produce a highly-secret document dealing with Soviet and Communist spies in the United States.

Joined Communists; Still Loyal to U.S., Says Oppenheimer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Scientist Frank F. Oppenheimer admitted yesterday that he was a member of the prewar Communist party and that he had met Steve Nelson, now Pennsylvania Communist party organizer, who is suspected of espionage activities.

Oppenheimer, who once denied any Communist ties, told the house un-American activities committee he quit the party before taking a job with the radiation laboratory of the University of California at Berkeley in 1941. The laboratory did atomic research.

The 36-year-old brother of the famed physicist, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, denied flatly that he ever was disloyal to the United States, that he had engaged in any espionage for the Russians or that he had any knowledge of anyone who did.

Coincident with Oppenheimer's appearance, the University of Minnesota announced it had accepted his resignation as assistant professor of physics. He joined the faculty on Dec. 16, 1946, and was engaged in research on cosmic rays.

He declined to discuss his previous disavowal of any Communist associations. He appeared surprised but also had nothing to say about the action of the university.

Secret File Photos Used in Hiss Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—The courtroom at the Alger Hiss perjury trial yesterday was converted into a showroom of huge photographs which the government said represented the copies Hiss made of secret state department files for a Russian espionage ring.

The photographs, some five feet high and four feet wide, were hung so the jury could see them plainly. Four of them were in hand-writing and 65 were typewritten. The government contends to produce witnesses, expert in handwriting identification, to testify as to the authorship of the written ones.

The typewritten ones, the government charges were copied at home, usually by Mrs. Hiss.

The government charges that all the exhibits are copies or summaries of 1938 state department messages. Hiss is charged with lying when he denied last Dec. 15 under oath that he ever had turned over such copies to Whittaker Chambers, former courier for the Soviet spy network.

New Street Opens In East Iowa City

Seventh avenue, from Court street to Morningside addition in east Iowa City, is now open to traffic, Street Superintendent Willard Irwin, said yesterday.

Street department crews used the city's new $11,435 caterpillar grader in opening up the street.

A large number of drivers from Morningside addition, who formerly used Fairview avenue, now travel the new street, Irwin said.

Russian Veto Still in Force

PARIS (AP)—The big four struggled last night to patch up some sort of working agreement that would leave Germany on speaking terms, even though divided.

There was a two-hour recess in yesterday's conference while Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky left the pink marble palace, apparently to telephone Moscow from the Soviet embassy.

Authoritative sources said Vishinsky had asked that the meetings be secret, with reporters given no briefings by official observers.

Presumably he was scheduled to give an answer yesterday to western proposals made Sunday and Saturday, and perhaps offer counter proposals. These proposals were authoritatively reported to call for Soviet written guarantees of full transport rights into Berlin from the west in return for an agreed rate of exchange between east and west marks to facilitate trade.

Vishinsky's delays in answering the proposals and the break in the meeting suggested the Kremlin was watching closely the diplomatic operations here, and perhaps controlling them directly.

The western powers' latest proposal officially reported under consideration was the creation of a four-power board in Germany which would replace the wrecked allied control council.

Russia would still have a veto on the board and it might satisfy Russia's demand for re-constitution of the control council. Its power would be limited, however, to consultation on general economic matters, to encourage trade and commerce and freedom of movement of individuals and to settle specific problems and disputes as they arise.

It would have little authority but it would provide a means for the four powers to keep an avenue of negotiation open.

The proposal was reported to include an all-German economic trade commission which would function under the four-power board. This commission would include representatives from east and west zonal economic councils.

Refusal of non-Communist Berlin rail workers to accept the formula for ending their strike threatened, however, to nullify any diplomatic agreement reached here on restoring east-west trade.

Whether the foreign ministers would be forced to act as a sort of labor mediation board to get traffic moving remained to be seen.

IC-SUI Land Deal Approved By Court

DES MOINES (AP)—The state supreme court ruled yesterday that it won't be necessary for SUI to give up a plot of land it acquired from Iowa City 59 years ago.

Cecilia Carson, Iowa City, asked the courts to order the university to give up a tract which formerly was a city park, but the high tribunal ruled that transfer of the land was all right.

The land under question, the high court ruled, was "not dedicated to a public use." Therefore, the city was within its power when it turned the plot over to the university, the court said.

In the petition, it was charged that the people of Iowa City had not abandoned their right to the block-square park, which was transferred to the university in 1890 with the approval of the legislature.

The onetime park was bounded by Iowa avenue and Dubuque, Jefferson, and Linn streets in Iowa City.

SIGHT PLANE

SANTA MONICA, CAL. (AP)—The wreckage of a missing twin-engine navy plane with seven rescuers aboard was sighted from the air yesterday on the slopes of the Santa Monica mountains, the armed forces public information office announced.

Virgil Trucks Hurls One-Hitter

Beats A's, 4-0; Hit by Majeski

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Virgil Trucks held the Philadelphia Athletics to one hit last night as the Detroit Tigers started their eastern invasion with a 4-0 victory. Hank Majeski's fifth inning single was the only blow off Trucks' right-handed slants as he registered his ninth win of the season.

Elmer Valo was the only other Philadelphia batter to get on base. He walked with two out in the second inning and, like Majeski, was left stranded on first.

The Tigers' ace right hander fanned six to bring his total number of strikeouts for the season to 74.

Paul Campbell's triple and Aaron Robinson's two-run double were the big blows as the Tigers jumped into a 3-0 lead in the first frame.

They were held pretty well in check by Carl Scheib the remainder of the way except in the eighth. Then Campbell's double and Vic Fertz single produced the fourth Detroit tally.

Yanks Pound Chisox On 8-Run Sixth, 15-3

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees sent starter Bill Wirt to the showers with an eight-run sixth inning and went on to wallop the Chicago White Sox, 15-3, last night before a crowd of 37,683.

The eight run uprising featured Tommy Henrich's 12th homer with two on and made it easy for Vic Raschi to become the major league's first 10 game winner.

Wight was knocked from the box as the first three Yankees hit safely and Gerry Coleman walked to force in a run. Allen Gettel, Chick Pieretti and Clyde Shoun followed him to the mound and were all treated roughly.

Henrich, besides his 12th homer, doubled two more tallies across, while Coleman hit a pair of triples to account for the first two Yankee runs.

Dodgers Clip Pollet, Cards, 7-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Cardinals showed some sparkling fielding with a triple play but the Brooklyn Dodgers poured on the hits and the necessary runs to whip the St. Louis club 7-2 on a rain-soaked field last night. It was the eighth straight victory for Brooklyn.

The 24,669 fans watched Jackie Robinson single home two runs before Gil Hodges lined to Marty Marion to start the one-two-three play in the first inning.

With the bases loaded Robinson scored Peeewe Reese and Mike McCormick. Marion took Hodges' liner, threw to Red Schoendienst to catch Carl Furillo off second. A fast toss to Nippy Jones got Robinson off first base for the triple killing.

Although the Dodgers slugged four St. Louis hurlers for 16 hits — starter Howie Pollet giving up the most runs and drawing the loss. He had pitched five consecutive victories before last night.

Both clubs tallied twice in the fourth — the only time Dodger fielding record by playing through 12 league games without an error, while Bruner established a new conference strike out record and won five games.

He lost one, a 13-inning game to Northwestern.

Both Dittmer and Bruner were potent batters, Dittmer leading all Hawkeye regulars with a robust .356. Bruner had a .313 batting average.

Browne finished second in hitting among the regulars, batting .333 in 18 games.

Ohio State was the only club to place two men on the first team. Notre Dame, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin and Carleton were represented by one player each.

Phils' Eddie Waitkus Shot and Wounded

CHICAGO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Eddie Waitkus, 29-year-old Philadelphia Phillies first baseman, was shot and wounded in his room at the Edgewater Beach hotel early today.

Waitkus was taken to the Illinois Masonic hospital.

Police said he was shot under the heart with a 22 caliber rifle.

Police said they were holding a 19-year-old girl in connection with the shooting.

The girl, officers said, gave her name as Miss Ruth Burns of Boston.

Waitkus was in Chicago with the Phillies who opened a series with the Chicago Cubs yesterday. He played with the Cubs in 1946, 1947 and 1948 after service in the army for three years. He was traded to the Phillies last winter in a deal involving Pitcher Hank Borowy of Chicago and Emil (Dutch) Leonard and Walt Dubiel, Philly pitchers.

Waitkus, a left-handed pitcher and fielder, batted .304 for the Cubs in 1946, .292 in 1947 and .296 last season.

Frisch Makes Chicago Debut, Cubs Fall, 9-2

CHICAGO (AP) — Frankie Frisch made his debut as manager of the sagging Chicago Cubs here yesterday, but the Bruins, continuing their losing ways, took a 9-2 licking from the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Cubs loss was their 32nd against only 19 wins.

Frisch, the Cubs' 20th manager, has promised that the club will have to hustle like his old St. Louis Cardinal "Gas-House" gang. Frisch held top man status with the Cardinals from 1933 to 1937 and with the Pittsburgh Pirates 1940 to 1946.

The Phillies routed Bob Muncie with a five-run spurge in the third inning that included five hits and an error. Two of the runs were unearned. So was another in the fifth. Andy Seminick whacked his 12th homer of the season with two on in the sixth.

Frisch held a 20-minute pregame meeting with his players which also was attended by Richard (Red) Smith, Cub roving talent ambassador, but not by Charles Grimm, ex-manager now "vice-president in charge of baseball."

"I want an aggressive, hard running ball club," he declared. "Yes, my St. Louis Gas-House gang ran those bases, and so will the Cubs."

Frisch plainly could be seen egging Cub runners to take longer off-base leads. But he didn't have many opportunities as both teams skidded and slid over the muddy base paths.

He had kind words for Grimm, whom Frisch said had several "tough breaks" with player injuries. However, he said "no comment" when asked his opinion of the Cubs as he viewed them as Giant coach and before that as a sports announcer.

Why did Frisch come back for a third taste of managerial woes and headaches, even considering the nerve-soothing balm of an estimated $25,000 per-year salary?

"There's just something about being down on that field running the show that gets you."

Feller Wins 2nd; Whips Sox, 10-5

BOSTON (AP) — Romping to six runs in the opening inning when Joe Gordon blasted a four-run homer and Manager Lou Boudreau angrily resented being hit with a pitch, the Cleveland Indians last night whipped the Boston Red Sox, 10-5, before 35,137 fans, Fenway park's largest night crowd.

Cleveland's ace righthander, Bob Feller, struck out eight in gaining his second win of the season. Feller aided his own cause by singling twice, good for two runs.

NY's Hausmann 1st 'Jumper' to Return

CINCINNATI (AP) — George Hausmann, who jumped from the New York Giants to the Mexican league in 1946, returned to the Giants yesterday. He was the first player among the 18 recently reinstated to rejoin his former mates.

Hausmann, a second baseman, will be given a thorough trial, the Giants said.

The club has to keep him at least 30 days unless he asks for a release. He will not count in the 25-player limit during the 30 days unless he appears in a regular game.

Westlake Clouts Pirates to Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Wally Westlake scored practically a one-man victory last night as he rapped a homer, a triple and

gure in a scoring play. He broke the ice for the Bucs in the sixth when he tripled and came home on Ed Stevens' long fly. In the eighth he got a home run, his 11th of the season.

For a time, it looked as if a trio of ex-Pirates — Elbie Fletcher, Bob Elliott and Jim Russell — might lick their old teammates. They were in on all of Boston's scoring plays.

Fletcher fanned in the sixth but was safe when Catcher Ed Fitzgerald lost the ball. He went to third on Pete Reiser's single. Russell then singled to send Elliott home.

The plate umpire tossed out three Braves for a rhabarb which started over a strike called on Eddie Stanky. The ejected players were Stanky, Russell and Vernon Bickford.

Brownies Get First Win Over Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe Ostrowski's six-hit pitching gave the St. Louis Browns their first victory of the season over Washington, 7-2, last night after eight straight defeats by the Senators. Ostrowski was aided in his first win of the year by the Browns' four run first inning outburst against Mickey Haefner featuring Dick Kokos' twelfth homer.

Stan Spence's triple, Bob Dillinger's double, Roy Siever's single and Kokos' homer boosted St. Louis into a 4-0 lead in the first inning. That mounted to 6-0 in the fifth when Jack Graham singled across two runs.

Sam Dente's single, Al Kozar's double and Ed Stewart's single gave the Senators their runs in the fifth. The Browns added a run off Mickey Harris in the ninth on Kokos' double and Sherman Lollar's single.

Westlake Clouts Pirates to Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Wally Westlake scored practically a one-man victory last night as he rapped a homer, a triple and

gure in a scoring play. He broke the ice for the Bucs in the sixth when he tripled and came home on Ed Stevens' long fly. In the eighth he got a home run, his 11th of the season.

For a time, it looked as if a trio of ex-Pirates — Elbie Fletcher, Bob Elliott and Jim Russell — might lick their old teammates. They were in on all of Boston's scoring plays.

Fletcher fanned in the sixth but was safe when Catcher Ed Fitzgerald lost the ball. He went to third on Pete Reiser's single. Russell then singled to send Elliott home.

The plate umpire tossed out three Braves for a rhabarb which started over a strike called on Eddie Stanky. The ejected players were Stanky, Russell and Vernon Bickford.

Cerdan Favored to Keep Title In Bout with LaMotta Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Bronx cash and Jake LaMotta's fine condition have cut the odds favoring Marcel Cerdan to 5 to 8 for the Frenchman's first defense of his world middleweight title tonight at Briggs stadium.

The 15 round bout for the 160-pound crown which Cerdan won from Tony Zale last September probably will attract about 20,000 fans and a gross gate of some $225,000. Approximate ring time for the main event is 10:00 p.m. (9 p.m. Iowa time) but it may be moved up if the weather threatens.

The pick here is Cerdan, despite the assurance that granite-jawed Jake will go into the ring the sentimental choice of a majority of the customers. So-called "expert" opinion is about evenly divided with surprising support for LaMotta, who was tabbed "all washed up" less than two years ago. It may be the fight of the year.

LaMotta, at 26 a veteran of 88 rough and tumble fights, is primed for the battle of his life. He may come in surprisingly light for a man who weighed as much as 167 1/2 when he knocked out O'Neill Bell in this city April 18.

Still Jake will have a serious handicap—old cuts around his eyes. The cuts, sustained in a losing effort against Laurent Dauthuille at Montreal in February and sliced open again by Joey DeJohn at Syracuse May 18 have healed on the surface. Yet Cerdan's flailing fists may reopen them.

Since beating Zale into a state of utter helplessness at Jersey City to win by a 12th round knockout Sept. 21, career Marcel has made a movie, fought an exhibition tour and knocked out two men—Dick Turpin and Lucien Kravczyk—in non-title bouts.

The first lecture, "Contemporary Theater," will be given Oct. 24 by John Mason Brown, associate editor of the Saturday Review of Literature. Brown is also the author of "Seeing Things" and "Many a Watchful Night."

Scheduled for Nov. 15 is the lecture "Midway Through Nash," to be given by Ogden Nash, famous writer of light verses. He is the author of "Versus" and "Many Long Years Ago."

Ellsworth Advises Caution in College Texts Investigation

Congress has the right to look into college textbooks but — "watch out for the next step," Prof. Ralph E. Ellsworth, director of SUI libraries, told the Iowa City Kiwanis club yesterday.

He was referring to the current probe of college textbooks and reference materials for communist "leanings" by the house un-American activities committee.

To foresee the next step we need only look back at Germany and what Hitler did there, he warned. Such a step comes from a country wishing to control and stamp out ideas that are different from their own, he said.

Ellsworth spoke on his "Social Memory," emphasizing the importance of the library and education in relation to society and the individual.

"Why is it that with as much education as we have we are still essentially cruel to our fellow men?" he asked.

Ellsworth suggested that America should raise the level of communications media to better educate the people. Normal, substantial and serious news is on page eight while sensational and obscure material is on page one, he said.

Israel Gets 'Diplomatic' Spanking

By JOHN A. SCALI, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The United States is getting tough with the new Republic of Israel.

It's probably only a temporary hitch in the usually friendly relations between the two countries, but at the moment it is very apparent behind the scenes.

Top-rank state department officials are annoyed at what they consider Israel's unnecessary delay in complying with United Nations decisions on Palestine.

Latest evidence of their displeasure is a stiff note to Tel Aviv about 10 days ago. Officials familiar with the note say it was intended as a "diplomatic spanking."

The contents have been kept secret, but it was learned that the state department sharply reminded the Israeli government that it has not yet abided by the United Nations resolution on Palestine passed last Dec. 11.

This resolution, approved by the 58-nation assembly, called upon Israel to permit all Arab refugees from Palestine who want to return to their homes.

It also provides for internationalization of the city of Jerusalem under the United Nations.

An estimated 900,000 Arab refugees, mostly women and children, are living in makeshift camps in neighboring Arab nations and in the Arab part of Palestine.

Thus far Israeli authorities have not permitted any substantial number to return because they believe this problem should be considered in connection with the final peace treaties, yet to be written.

In addition the Israeli fear the Arabs might eventually become a fifth column.

The best solution, they say, would be to resettle them among the Arab nations.

The state department contends the Israeli should help solve the immediate problem by permitting several hundred thousand Arabs to return to their former homes.

State department officials object to wholesale resettlement. They believe it would be a big financial drain on the none-too-rich Arab nations and that delay in solution of the problem might be disastrous for the refugees.

Two factors suddenly made the solution of the refugee question extremely urgent:

1. The Arab nations negotiating with the Israeli for permanent peace abruptly announced they would refuse to take part in further discussions unless the refugee problem is solved immediately.

2. It became clear the $32-million fund appropriated through the United Nations for refugee relief will be exhausted some time in August. No additional money is in sight.

Acting Secretary of State Webb decided to send a formal note to Israel, stressing that quick action is needed to preserve the uneasy peace in the middle east.

The Israeli government has replied in a conciliatory spirit. But unfortunately settlement of this dispute will only partly dispel the state department's annoyance with Israel.

The question of Jerusalem remains, along with the potentially ever more explosive problem of Israel's boundaries. Israeli troops now occupy about 30 percent more territory than was allotted the new state under the United Nations partition of November, 1947. They won it in battle with the Arabs and don't want to give it up.

But President Truman is on record saying that if Israel wants territory not assigned it by the UN it must give up other areas in exchange.

I'D RATHER BE RIGHT

Hours of Decision Needed

By SAMUEL GRAFTON (New York Post Syndicate)

President Truman now says as how he'd like congress to be held in session as long as necessary to finish up his program. To this one responds with a moderate, "Goody!"

You don't hear them saying they hope to make time later this summer to handle the matter of Lillenthal; they're ready now.

THE PRESIDENT does not select moments in this or any similar way; he does not seem to bother about timing. In his case it is almost always "liberalism" which is the issue, in a rather diffuse, generalized way — rarely any specific liberal proposal, selected for its appropriateness to the moment, isolated and presented for action.

The President's apparent concept of his reform program as a large basket of work, to be kept on the congressional desk, from which a bit is to be taken out every now and then, when no other thing else is on, strips reform of its urgency. When reform is stripped of urgency, its chances are hurt very much indeed.

AND REFORM is urgent. The civil liberties issue split the Democratic party last year; it is not an issue which can wait. Our 40-cents-an-hour minimum wage law, based on the price and wage levels of eleven years ago, is an anachronism; in effect, we have no minimum wage law today.

Many social security schedules must be similarly dated. Housing is as urgent as homelessness. But the President does not translate these urgencies of our common life into clear legislative urgencies; each issue sinks down into the "program," without a bubble.

AND WHEN an issue does mature — or happens to come up for action — its fate is often clouded at the last moment, by too routine an approach, or by an unnecessary attempt at compromise, or by failure to go to the public.

The issue, whatever it is, is then put back in the basket, to come up again. But, each time, something of great value is lost, a mobilization of minds is dissipated, a moment is lost — and moments are the currency of statesmanship.

FOR ALL THESE reasons, Mr. Truman's plan to avert a premature adjournment is not of itself the answer. It is not only more weeks and months of congressional sittings which we need; we need those hours of decision, in which a nation's desires speak so clearly through its elected head that all men, thus confronted, know that the time of avoidance is past, that they have an appointment with history which must be kept.

Supreme Court Voids Standard Oil Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitterly divided supreme court Monday struck down, 5 to 4, exclusive-sales contracts between Standard Oil company of California and independent gasoline dealers.

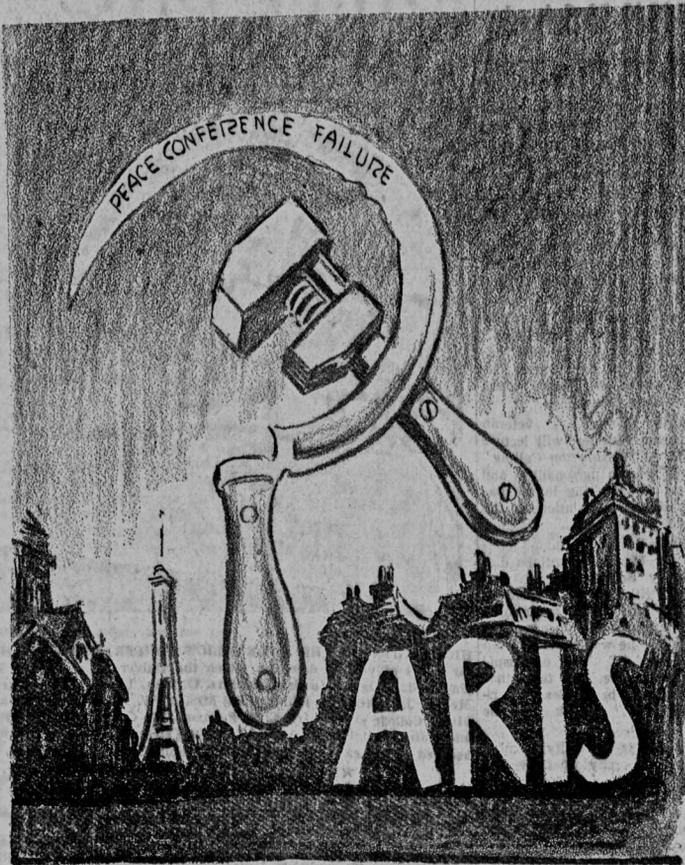

Under the contracts, the dealers agree to buy all their fuel from Standard Oil of California. The majority of the supreme court held that the contracts lessened competition and violated the anti-trust laws.

Justice Douglas assailed the decision as helping to "remake America in the image of cartels." It will spur big oil companies to set up service station networks of their own, he said, thus dealing a blow to small business men.

SENATE CONFIRMS GRAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate yesterday unanimously confirmed the nomination of Gordon Gray, Winston-Salem, N.C., publisher, to be secretary of the army, thus completing President Truman's new defense "team."

Great Oaks from Little Acorns —

Iowa City aldermen Monday night took an action that may have far reaching results among the farmers and businessmen of the community.

The city council leased 575 parking meters to be placed in parts of the downtown business areas where parking meters haven't yet been installed. Some of the meters are three hour meters — a change from the present setup where two hours was the longest an autoist could park without incurring a fine.

This action makes us wonder what will be the attitude of the farmers of Johnson county to the addition of more metered area in Iowa City.

Some of the county's farmers met with the municipal parking committee last December, and the results weren't too pleasing — to the businessmen, at least.

The farmers who attended came mostly to air their complaints about meter parking in Iowa City. Some went away feeling better about the whole business. Some went away convinced they were right about what they thought in the first place.

Those who left feeling greater understanding had heard chamber of commerce members tell about Iowa City's parking problem, which led to meter installation in the first place. They heard city councilmen tell about efforts to get off-street parking lots so metered areas wouldn't have to bear the whole brunt of parking problems.

Those who left convinced the police department was after their dollars were the ones who probably thought policemen hid around corners waiting for the red flag to pop up indicating a violation and ran out to ticket the car.

Actually, parking meters in the downtown area in Iowa City serve two definite purposes; they are a means to keep traffic moving, and they provide money to purchase more off-street parking lots.

The first purpose was what prompted the city council to order meter installation a few years ago. The farmer-businessmen meeting brought out the explanation that before meters were used, the streets in the business area filled up early and the cars never moved out all day long.

Last year, the council saved enough money out of the parking meter revenue to start buying a parking lot in the 300 block of East College street.

That helped relieve the congestion — but not much. Parking was still a problem. The addition of a second lot on the northeast corner of Burlington and Gilbert streets will do more when the lot gets operating.

City aldermen have plans to start operation as soon as possible.

More meters as leased Monday night by the council means more revenue which, according to Iowa law, must be used for parking lot purchase. So Iowa City is probably scheduled for more parking lots within a few years.

This brings up an interesting problem: since parking lots must be purchased within four-tenths of a mile from the metered area, where will Iowa City find business property which can be purchased for a reasonable sum?

And another question: won't this state law artificially inflate business property in metered areas?

It's going to be hard for the council to find property that will fill the bill. It's going to be hard to imagine that business property will be artificially inflated on the whole transaction.

In the face of these difficulties it seems unfortunate that the legislature didn't liberalize the use of the parking meter funds when the law was worked over in the last general assembly. The funds might have been made available to buy street lights, traffic signals and parking lots.

Business Cycle: Also a Political Barometer —

Reflections on political strategy while observing the Democratic farm conference in Des Moines:

The new deal political outlook — as the nation will soon find — is geared toward a "bust" economic period. Not that it necessarily advocates a bust, of course. But the new deal was a depression baby.

It was originally an attempt to lift the nation out of the depression of the early 30's. Under these conditions, the parity price system, minimum wage scales and social security were born.

Historians in the future might look back on the 1945-48 period and laugh. Here was a time when a new deal administration, complete with anti-depression tools, was trying to cope with an inflation.

Here was a time when the government guaranteed a floor on farm prices while the market prices soared through the ceiling. Here was a time when the government guaranteed many workers a minimum of 40 cents an hour while labor's money income soared to record heights.

If the new deal political outlook was at a disadvantage during a depression, it is regaining an advantage as the price level slowly recedes. This, essentially, is the theme of the Des Moines meeting. It will probably be the theme of our entire political symphony before too long.

The two largest farm organizations have frowned upon the Brannan plan. But the average farmer — watching the price of wheat drop or reading about the continued potato glut — is not so sure.

Organized labor is still asking for pay increases. But the average worker — seeing increased unemployment and new production cutbacks — is beginning to look twice at new deal proposals for more social security, more welfare benefits.

The Republican party has been content — if not successful — in throwing up a verbal barrage against new deal promises. But recently this has changed and will change more.

Senator Taft recently declared that the GOP cannot simply oppose social programs but must reconcile reasonable reform with budgetary wisdom.

Now it is rumored from Washington that forces within the GOP are mapping a counter offer to lure farmers away from the Brannan plan in 1950. The issue in these men's minds, apparently, is not subsidy and control versus little or no aid for farmers. It is rather how much subsidy and control is wise for the farmer and the economy as a whole.

In short, the roller-coaster curve of the business cycle is also the temperament thermometer of the nation's political thought. As business conditions slump off, proposals for individual security and overall economic health receive widespread attention — and votes.

By the 1950 election, this may well be the key thought behind the strategy of all political parties.

Bonus Board Has Headaches

DES MOINES (AP) — All of the people who ask the Iowa soldiers bonus board about state bonus payments available for World War II service are not veterans.

Some are deserted wives. A few are parents trying to check on a lost son.

Others are bill collectors. Ed Kallmyn, executive secretary of the bonus board, looked over the incoming letters, sorted them, and sighed:

"I wish we could help some of these people but we can't. The others might as well know that we are not a bill collecting agency."

The board has issued applications to men who entered World War II service from Iowa asking detailed information from them to determine whether the state owes them a debt. It has received 180,000 replies and expects more.

But it also has received a lot of indirect replies by mail and by telephone.

"He left me with two children," a read one letter. "Can you help me collect part of his bonds?" "Do you have any information on this couple? I think she was a WAC. They came here and then —"

"He is behind in his alimony payments two months. What can you do?"

"He owes me a lot of money. Please attach his salary."

"We have been getting that by mail and by phone and it will increase now that the supreme court has settled the legality of the bonus law," Kallmyn said.

"We don't have authority to give out confidential information. When we receive letters asking for it we explain politely. We try to do the same thing over the telephone. I hope these people will understand."

The attorney general's office has not issued an official opinion to the board to hold up answers to extraneous inquiries but has said orally that the board was justified in doing so until the law is cleared up.

The law was cleared up yesterday when the state supreme court decided the 1949 legislature set up a legal method of paying the World War II bonus.

The board is operating currently with 33 employees on a limited budget of $50,000 loaned by the legislature. Many of the bonus board workers feared that the high court might delay in handing down a decision on the bonus' legality.

If the court had not decided by Sept. 1, the board said it might have run out of money.

Only 39 Take Medical Exams

Thirty-two SUI medical college graduates today will complete the three-day series of examinations given by the State Board of Medical Examiners. They must pass the exams in order to become licensed physicians in Iowa.

A total of 39 medical college graduates from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Nebraska and Iowa are taking the examinations.

Members of the examining board here to give the exams are Dr. Aldis A. Johnson, Council Bluffs, and Dr. M. A. Royal, secretary of the board, of Des Moines. Dr. Arthur Woods, State Center, is chairman of the board.

Doctor Royal said the number of graduates taking the exams "is the smallest in a number of years."

"This is because we are at the end of the accelerated program inaugurated under war-time conditions," he said.

The examinations are given twice a year, here at SUI in June and in Des Moines in December.

Nursing Applicants Arriving 4-Per-Day

Applicants for admission to the school of nursing are arriving at the rate of four a day for physical examinations, interviews, pre-nursing tests and tours of the hospitals, Amy Frances Brown, assistant professor of medical nursing, said yesterday.

Miss Brown said this schedule will be stepped up next week and for the next three weeks, with the registrar's office inviting eight candidates per day for five days a week.

In addition to the exams and interviews the applicants participate in a well-rounded social program including teas and picnics. They are housed overnight in Westlawn when necessary, Miss Brown said.

Mrs. Frank Nye, Westlawn housemother, is hostess for the teas. She is assisted in planning the social events by Janet Allbaugh, president of the freshman class in the school of nursing.

One tea was held Monday and another will be held tomorrow in the parlors at Westlawn.

M. Ludwig Named To Journalism Post

Merritt C. Ludwig, 118 Central park, has been appointed assistant to the director of the SUI school of journalism, Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director, announced Monday.

Ludwig received his M.A. in journalism from SUI last Friday. He received his B.A. here in 1948. While an undergraduate, Ludwig was city editor of the WSUI news bureau, a Daily Iowan reporter, and editor of the Villager, SUI married students' housing area weekly newspaper.

During the past year he has done research on Wallace's Farm and served as research assistant in radio journalism.

Law Graduates Begin Exams

While the rest of the SUI students started the summer session standing in registration lines and looking for new classrooms, 50 graduates from the law school were perspiring over the first part of their bar examinations.

Together with 10 students from other law schools, these students began a three-day session of written and oral examinations yesterday under the watchful eye of a five-man board of examiners.

The written examinations will be completed tomorrow noon, and the oral examination will be held in 106 Law building Friday morning.

Hatter, Cartwright and Cornwall have been members of the board for several years, and Powers recently returned to the board after being discharged from the army.

The results of the examination will be announced Friday after the impromptu oral examination is completed.

A Gusher?

Students May Have Kansas Bonanza

An SUI student may be kneeling on the steps of Old Capitol Monday, apologizing to his four business partners for his lack of faith in their oil well investment.

Pete Hackes, G. Pelham Manor, N.Y., promised his comrades that he would publicly retract his "doubting Thomas" attitude if the oil well venture in Kansas that he and his comrades invested in "paid off."

The four students, other than Hackes, who have an interest in the well are Keith Glasgow, A4, Clement Hess, G, and James Larson, A3, all of Iowa City, and Donald Gossard, G, Council Bluffs.

Glasgow, mutually appointed leader of the five, is a close friend of Wallace A. Haney, Glenwood, who has been successfully oil prospecting for eight years.

Haney offered Glasgow and his comrades a chance to buy part of one of his ventures and the students "acted first and thought later," Glasgow said.

They scraped up $7,000 to pay for their part of the lease on the land and to share part of the drilling costs.

The well is being drilled in Bartlesville sand, highest oil producing formation in Kansas and Oklahoma, just outside of Yates Center, Kan.

Work started May 23 and should be completed by the end of this week. An old well driller who has missed oil only four times in his life is doing the drilling, and his reports, Glasgow said, are encouraging. He is using a cable-type drill which is slower than a rotary drill but more accurate.

An 80-acre plot of land has been leased and if the first well produces, seven more will be drilled, Glasgow said.

Car-Truck Accident Injures One Woman

An Iowa City woman was injured in a car-truck accident yesterday morning on highway 6, according to driver's information.

The driver of the car involved estimated $300 damage to the front of the Skarda machine, and no damage done to the truck.

Drivers involved in an accident Sunday afternoon at 24 1-2 S. Clinton street reported $100 damage to the two cars, police said. Ward M. Coulter, 2106 Muscatine avenue, estimated $30 damage to the trunk lid of his car. He reported he was backing from a parking stall when the accident occurred.

The student-driver of the other car, Laurel Lloyd Haring, 323 N. Capitol street, estimated $70 damage done to the right front fender, tie rod and spring of his car.
