Medical Dean Mayo H. Soley Kills Himself with .22 Pistol

Dean Mayo H. Soley, 42, of the SUI medical college, committed suicide about 9:45 a.m. yesterday in the garage of his home at 1036 Woodlawn avenue.

Johnson County Coroner George D. Callahan said Soley shot himself in the heart with a .22 caliber pistol.

Soley had gone to his office about 8:30 in the morning as usual but left about 9:30 for his home. He apparently went into the house, got the gun and went out to the garage where his wife found him dying a few moments later.

Callahan said there was "no apparent reason for the act except that he has been under a very heavy burden of work and has been somewhat depressed as a result."

Dean Soley had been working — reportedly 16 hours a day — for several weeks on the expansion of the SUI college of medicine requested by the 1949 state legislature. He had made a preliminary report to the legislative interim committee only last Monday on the proposed expansion.

The body was taken to the McGovern funeral home. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Trinity Episcopal church. The family requested no flowers be sent. Funeral home officials reported the body would remain at the funeral home until the time of the service.

Pall bearers will be George L. Horner, university architect; Dr. Nathan A. Womack, head of the department of surgery; Dr. William B. Bean, head of the department of internal medicine, and Paul R. Olson, professor in the college of commerce.

Also Carlyle Jacobsen, executive dean of the division of health sciences and services, and Dr. Wilbur R. Miller, medical director of the Psychopathic hospital and head of the department of psychiatry.

Dean Soley is survived by his wife, Karolina, and three children, Mayo Robert who will be 7 tomorrow, Charles Hamilton, 4, and Jane Elizabeth, 1½.

Colleagues of Dean Soley termed his death a "personal shock," and those who had been in contact with him Monday and yesday morning said he "seemed in good spirits." The faculty had "the greatest respect and admiration for him."

In a statement from his office yesterday afternoon, President Virgil M. Hancher said: "The death of Dean Soley is a grievous loss. I am certain that I speak for all members of the university and the community in extending sincerest sympathy to his family and friends.

"Rarely does a man come to the university community and establish himself as quickly in the respect and affection of everyone as Mayo Soley has done. This respect and affection were firmly based upon exceptional mental powers, pleasing personality, and outstanding loyalty and devotion to duty.

"Although I first met him only a little more than a year ago, his death brings an acute sense of personal loss and is an unmeasured loss to the university, the state and his profession. It seems incredible that so much ability and charm and buoyancy should suddenly be at an end."

Soley came to SUI as dean of the college of medicine July 1, 1948. Previously, he had been serving as professor of medicine and assistant dean of the University of California medical school at San Francisco.

He succeeded the late Ewen M. McEwen, who died Sep. 3, 1947.

In addition to his duties as dean of he medical college, Soley was director of medical services of the University hospitals and research professor in the department of internal medicine.

His research activities centered around diseases of the thryoid, respiratory physiology and anxiety states. He was nationally known for his research in the use af radio-active iodine in the treatment of thyroid conditions. His writings in these fields have been widely published.

These include articles in the American Journal of Medical Science, the Journal of the American Medical association, American Journal of Physiology, Journal of Nervous and Mental Disorders and the American Journal of Nursing.

Dean Soley was a graduate of Bowdoin college at Brunswick, Me., in 1929, and he graduated from the Harvard medical college in 1933. He completed his internship in Massachusetts General hospital in 1935, after which he went to the University of California where he remained until coming here.

He was born in Malden, Mass., April 14, 1907, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Soley. His wife is the former Karolina B. Jump. She is also a doctor.

Dean Soley was a member of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine, the American Heart association, the Society for the Study of Internal Secretions, the Federation of Clinical Research and the Society of Clinical Investigation.

Coplon Denies, Then Admits Staying With Man in Hotel Room

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judith Coplon screamed, "That's a damn lie!" but finally acknowledged at her espionage trial yesterday she spent two nights with a man in Philadelphia and Baltimore hotel rooms.

Blazing with anger, Miss Coplon first shouted a denial of Kelley's accusations and cried bitterly:

"Why are you doing this in front of my mother?"

Then, as Kelley bore down relentlessly with the details as to room numbers, hotels and cities, Miss Coplon lowered her eyes and said, yes, it was true.

But she insisted that although she spent other nights later with the same man in his apartment, and even took an overnight bag with her, there was nothing illicit in their relations.

"I did not spend the night sleeping with him," she said.

Kelley: "Why did you go to the hotel?"

Miss Coplon: "We went away for a weekend."

Kelley: "To discuss literature and art?"

"I spent the night with him, during which I did not sleep or make any attempt to sleep."

Orders Army 'Bribe' Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A three-pronged investigation was ordered yesterday after a report that a wartime lieutenant colonel got a $1,000 fee as a down payment on work he said he would do helping a client land a government contract.

The investigation was ordered by Secretary of Defense Johnson, Admiral Paul Mather, war assets administrator, and Chairman Hoey (D-NC) of the senate investigation committee.

Jack Steele, in a copyrighted New York Herald Tribune story, said that James V. Hunt, a so-called management counselor here, had accepted a $1,000 fee from Paul Grindle, president of a Framington, Mass., furniture factory.

Grindle was quoted as saying that Hunt, who was an official in the war assets administration after he left the army, had implied he had considerable influence around Washington.

According to Grindle, Hunt tossed off the names of several prominent Washingtonians, as if he were on friendly terms with them.

Among those mentioned, Grindle said, were Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, military aide to President Truman, Secretary of Defense Johnson, and Jess Larson, former war assets administrator.

Riots Flare; 11 Hurt While Crowds Mill At Swimming Pool

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A new order that let whites and Negroes swim together in city parks prompted a racial clash yesterday and an afternoon crowd of several hundred grew to several thousand by mid-evening. Eleven persons were injured amid swinging knives and clubs.

Toward 10 p.m. Iowa time the crowd began breaking up, and a tense situation eased off. Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell estimated the crowd at between 4,000 and 5,000.

A great many of the throng that piled in as the evening wore on consisted of teen-agers just watching to see what might happen. Some car windows were smashed and bicycles were damaged.

Calling in all available reserves, Chief O'Connell assembled a police force of more than 400 men to cope with the trouble. The crowd milled from one point to another, but there never was a mass conflict.

The one person severly injured was a white youth, Rolland Erbar, 20, a cement finisher. He suffered a stab wound in the ribs.

When the trouble broke out, Mayor Joseph M. Darst promptly countermanded the order that let whites and Negroes swim in the same city pools.

Claims Noble Car Snapped Pole 100 Feet Past Accident

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP)—A prosecution witness testified yesterday that an Iowa football fan's car snapped off a utility pole 100 feet beyond the point where it killed two students in 1947.

The testimony of Callix Miller Jr., South Bend, was part of the state's effort to prove that Robert D. Noble, assistant secretary of the State University of Iowa Alumni association, was driving too fast.

Donald Malthauer, Rockford, Ill., now a senior at Notre Dame, testified he saw Noble's car straddling the center of six-lane U.S. highway 31 opposite the St. Mary's college campus entrance. He told the superior court jury some of the group of students ran clear but the two who lagged at the center of the road were hit and killed.

They were Marie Des Pres, 18, Grand Rapids, Mich., student at St. Mary's, for whose death Noble is being tried, and Joseph A. Hailer, 20, former Notre Dame student from Los Angeles. Noble is to be tried later for Hailer's death.

The accident happened on the night after an Iowa-Notre Dame football game. In his opening statement, Defense Lawyer Paul M. Butler contended the students should not have been on the highway because of the heavy traffic.

Russ Seek Finish To Rail Troubles

BERLIN (AP)—Russia expressed a pointed desire yeaterday to end the month-long Berlin railway strike on the heels of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Paris.

Maj. Gen. Pavel Kvashnin, Soviet transport chief here, in answering a letter of the U.S., British and Frence cammanders, declared none of the workers would be punished merely for walking off the job.

An allied spokesman said this exchange might be a basis for settling the walkout.

No Rehearing Decision May Cinch Bonus Pay

DES MOINES (UP)—A taxpayer's decision not to seek a rehearing before the Iowa supreme court yesterday apparently assured Iowa World War II veterans of early bonus payments.

Harold Newcomb, attorney for G.F. Knorr, said he would not ask a rehearing on a supreme court ruling that bonus laws are constitutional, but he will not waive his right to file such a petition.

Under Iowa law, Knorr and his attorney had 30 days from the date of the high tribunal's decision to file a petition for rehearing. The court's ruling was handed down last June 14.

Knorr's suit, described as a friendly test case, attacked the legality of 1947 and 1949 bonus payment acts. The court denied Knorr's charge that payment methods were illegal and that pre-election publication requirements were not met.

"The decision of the supreme court," Newcomb said, "has been carefully reviewed, and there seems to be no basis for requesting a rehearing and no petition will be filed."

A total of 36,975 applications from Iowa veterans has received preliminary screening. The board has 216,000 applications on hand. Checks can now be written for 17,000 claims.

Iowa veterans of World War II will be paid a bonus on the basis of $10 for each month of domestic service and $12.50 for each month of foreign service. Maximum bonus will be $500.

"Say, how do you get to the senate?" he asked. Someone told him.

Johnson Lists Carrier Revamp at $80-Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson called Russia an opponent of peace yesterday and at the same time announced plans for modernizing two U.S. aircraft carriers at a cost of $80,000,000.

This will give the United States eight carriers capable of launching the heavier types of postwar aircraft, including light bombers, defense officials said. (The navy already has launched planes capable of carrying atom bombs from its large carriers.)

Johnson minced no words in saying that Russia's non-cooperative attitude is the reason this nation must keep a strong military organization in readiness.

He said Russia is "despotic" and conspirational and opposed to peaceful relationships in a free world. He added that this nation cannot place too much faith in the atom bomb.

"Within a few short years we may witness the end of this era of atomic secrecy—an era whose end will be signalled by the explosion of some other nation's bomb," Johnson said.

"From that day on, our advantage in strategic bombing will rest not in monopoly possession of the atom bomb but in our superior stockpile, our production capacity and in the effectiveness and quantity of aircraft required to deliver those bombs."

It was Johnson's first major policy speech since he took the top defense job in March. In his audience at the national war college were President Truman and other high officials. Johnson spoke at the graduation of officers, among them Lt. Col. Louis W. Truman Kansas City, second cousin of the President.

Communist Threatens Beran and Saboteurs

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist government threatened last night to take legal action against Archbishop Josef Beran. It accused him of trying to wreck the nation's peace and disrupt its economy.

Premier Antonin Zapotocky told the nation in a radio address that the government would not tolerate "violations of law" by the Roman Catholic hierarchy and added: "Legal action will be taken against all saboteurs, provocateurs and instigators of discord and unrest."

Senate to Question Johnson, Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and the military high command have been called to tell a senate committee today how close they believe this nation is to war.

They were summoned by a senate appropriations subcommittee which wants to cut up to $1.5-billion from President Truman's $15-billion military budget.

The committee handed Johnson a lengthy memo Monday night asking him to square his opposition to the cuts with testimony he reportedly gave the committee in closed session last week to the effect that there is little immediate danger of war.

No Uranium Lost From Plant: AEC

WASHINGTON (AP) — A flat statement that "no A-bomb uranium is lost" at the great Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic plant was issued by the atomic energy commission yesterday.

Almost simultaneously, Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) of the senate-house atomic committee told newsmen on Capitol Hill:

1. The committee is investigating an "inventory discrepancy" at the Oak Ridge plant.

2. But he believes it is "not of a kind for the American people to become alarmed about."

McMahon's statement followed published reports about a "loss" of uranium—the key ingredient of atomic bombs—at Oak Ridge.

Neither McMahon nor the AEC gave any inkling as to the type of material, if any, that appears to be missing.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN

Claims Parley Shows Foreign Policy Correct

From THE WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — President Truman declared yesterday Russia's refusal "to recognize the important progress" of the western powers in building a democratic western Germany had blocked agreement on German unification at the Paris foreign ministers meeting.

"The American delegation went to Paris with the serious intention of developing a constructive program which would meet the requirements for all of Germany," the President said, "and would safeguard the interests of all four powers in insuring that Germany would achieve its reconstruction along peaceful and democratic lines."

The Russians, he said, "sought a return to Potsdam and its system, which the Russians had rendered unworkable by their misuse of the unlimited veto."

"They refused," he added, "to recognize the important progress which has been made in western Germany since 1945."

At the same time the chief executive acclaimed the progress which the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and France made in ironing out disagreements in the way of completing an Austrian treaty. He declared "we have reason to hope that before the end of the year the treaty may be signed."

In general, Mr. Truman said, the results of the Paris meeting, including the solid front maintained by the three western powers in dealing with Russia, "reveal the correctness" of American foreign policies.

The President's statement, soberly assessing the work of the month-long Paris conference, was issued after he had received a report from Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Acheson arrived from Paris at 9:15 a.m. Iowa time. The President met him at the airport, congratulated him on his work in the conference and took him directly to the white house where the two men talked for an hour.

In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said yesterday the big four foreign ministers agreement offered the basis for a "real attempt at understanding" and world peace.

However, he put upon Russia the responsibility for its success or failure because Soviet good will is necessary.

At Paris, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russia's new foreign minister, was thought merely a minor functionary in the Soviet bureaucracy, western diplomats declared, as the result of his actions in the big four foreign ministers conference.

Time after time during the conference, Vishinsky had to refer even minor points to Moscow for instructions. They were points on which the other foreign ministers could make decisions themselves in a moment.

In Moscow, Yuri Zhukov claimed yesterday big four accord at Paris has eased international tension and opened the way for wider agreements. Zhukov is Pravda's foreign affairs specialist.

His long article in the Communist party organ was the first Russian comment on the council of foreign ministers agreement on Germany and Austria.

Aldermen Expected To Discuss C of C Request on Parking

Iowa City aldermen probably will discuss a chamber of commerce request that they work with the community parking committee on parking problems at Monday night's council meeting, city officials said yesterday.

The request followed a resolution adopted by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Monday and was handed to City Clerk George J. Dohrer yesterday.

Members of the community parking committee include four city councilmen, four chamber of commerce representatives and three SUI representatives. Attorney Dan Dutcher is chairman.

The chamber of commerce directors suggested that city officials use the facilities of the community parking committee to determine "the course of action to be taken by the city council in working out the existing parking problem in Iowa City."

Action by the chamber of commerce followed the recent city council approval of 575 additional parking meters for downtown streets. Mayor Preston Koser Friday reduced the number of meters to 280, subject to council approval.

The committee was set up in May, 1946, and made recommendations on off-street parking lots and metered parking on streets in the business district.

Shortages to Slow New Library Work

It will be October before SUI's new library begins to take form and look like a library, Construction Superintendent Del Commune said yesterday.

No work will be done on the library between mid-July and Oct. 1 because steel is not available for the project, Commune said.

So far, workmen have put in about 450 foundation pilings. They expect to have completed the foundation with a total of over 700 pilings when work is stopped in July.

A piling is a concrete column penetrating the earth to bed rock. The column is supported by steel cylinders which are pounded into the earth with a pile driver.

Commune said jobs would have been available to many SUI students during the summer, if he had been able to get steel.

Park Pool Profits $2,066 in 10 Days

About 11,000 persons paid $2,503.95 to swim in City park swimming pool during its first 10 days of operation, City Recreation Director J. Edgar Frame said yesterday.

Of the total, 3,400 were adults and 7,594 were children, including 956 who attended the Moose lodge swimming party Monday afternoon.

Net revenue for the 10 day-period was $2,066.81, after $437.14 in federal taxes was deducted, Frame said.

Dodgers Clip Cincinnati, 9-4

Increase Lead To 1½ Games

CINCINNATI (AP) — The fleet Brooklyn Dodgers last night protected their National league lead with a 9-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, their favorite doormats.

The Dodgers got seven of their nine runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings, before a crowd of 21,935. The start of the game was delayed 45 minutes because of a rainstorm.

Brooklyn wasted time in getting to Starter Howard Fox, scoring once in the opening inning, then again in the fourth and twice in the sixth before Fox left the scene.

Preacher Roe started and was the winning pitcher for the Brooks. He needed help from Rex Barney in the seventh inning but received credit for his sixth win.

Duke Snider homered for the Dodgers while Peanuts Lowrey did the same for Cincinnati.

Odds Nearly Even As Walcott-Charles Title Clash Nears

CHICAGO (AP)—Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati is a shrinking 10 to 13 favorite over 35-year-old Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N.J., in tonight's 15-round Comiskey park bout for the NBA version of the world heavyweight championship.

Fighting in the same ball park where Joe Louis wrested the crown from Jimmy Braddock just 12 years ago to the day, the two contenders for Louis' vacated throne probably will draw a gross gate of around $200,000,

The promoters — the new International Boxing club of Joe Louis, Jim Norris and Art Wirtz — probably can get by on $200,000 as there are no guarantees. Each fighter is supposed to get 25 percent, according to Norris, with a similar cut of the radio and television cash which is estimated at $35,000.

The weigh in will be at Chicago stadium at noon today.

Clear skies and slightly cooler weather are predicted by the weather man who ruined the first I.B.C. title promotion in Detroit last week with a series of showers.

Radio and television fans who were denied a shot at the Marcel Cerdan - Jake LaMotta show at Detroit, will be permitted to tune in on this one. There is one exception: the immediate Chicago area will be "blacked out" of the television coverage.

The winner will be recognized as champ in most states except New York and Massachusetts which do not belong to the N.C.A. Chairman Eddie Eagan of the New York State Athletic commission is on record as favoring a "tournament" of eligibles before accepting any champ. The British board of boxing control will tab the winner of their Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold bout Sept. 6, as the heavyweight king.

Chicago Wallops Sain, Braves, 8—4; Frankie Frisch Gets 5-Day Suspension

Across The Sports Desk

By Alan Moyer

History Repeats in the Heavyweight Division —

Twelve years ago tonight the heavyweight championship of the world changed hands. The winner was a 23-year-old kid from Alabama, the loser a puncher who'd held the title for two years.

Tonight it will change hands again.

It was back on June 13, 1935 that Jimmy Braddock won a 15-round judge's decision over Max Baer and thus became the heavyweight champ.

But the 23-year-old kid, who was destined to rewrite the boxing record book in the years to follow, was big and strong, and he could fight—maybe not box as yet, but he could fight. He fought for just eight rounds that evening in Chicago, sending his older opponent to the canvas in the eighth—to stay.

From that date until tonight — barring the never impossible unforeseen — one name in the heavyweight class meant champion. Mr. Joe Lewis proved he was champion 25 times after sendind Braddock to the canvas that June night 12 years ago.

Tonight Joe will be a spectator. He ll watch the NBA version of his crown be taken either by a man he twice defeated or by a 27-year-old fighter who only on occasion was even considered as a worthy contender for his title.

Many fans feel that neither Ezzard Charles or Walcott are of the boxing caliber to be champion of the world. No matter what happens at Comisky park tonight there will be the "I told you so" fight fans.

An early knockout by the veteran Walcott and the grandstand managers will be howling that he should have been champion two years ago, when Louis narrowly decisioned Jersey Joe. A knockout the other way and the youth over age theory will be back in the driver's seat, for a time at least.

A long drawn-out affair, with everyone asleep but the bookies, won't help the heavyweight division or the contenders, so from this corner must come a prediction.

History will repeat itself, twelve years to the night, and to make things complete, to the round. Mr. Walcott, bound and determined to have the title he has twice failed to win, will win by a knockout in the eighth round, just like the Brown Bomber did on June 22, 1937.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs brightened the beginning of Manager Frankie Frisch's five-day suspension when they walloped the Boston Braves, 8-4, here yesterday before a gathering of 8,161.

Johnny Sain again failed to shake his slump. He was battered for nine hits, six of them for extra bases, to suffer his eighth loss against only four victories.

Walt Dubiel, who started for the Cubs, had to retire in the fourth inning because of aggravating a pulled muscle injury in his ide. The Braves immediately pummeled Bob Chipman to give Sain a 3-0 lead in the fourth. But Sain was unable to hold it.

CHICAGO (AP) — Frankie Frisch, manager of the Chicago Cubs, yesterday was fined $100 and suspended for five days by President Ford Frick of the National league.

The suspension was the result of a row with umpire Art Gore at the finish of Monday's Cub game with Boston when a Chicago runner was called out after apparently scoring the tying run.

The flareup came in the last half of the ninth inning with the Braves ahead, 3-2, which was the final score.

As a result of the suspension. Coach Roy Johnson took charge of the team pending Frisch's return.

Big Ten Trackmen Score Upset Victory Over Pacific Coast

BERKELEY, CALIF. (AP)—Little Don Gehrmann, of the University of Wisconsin, running his heart out in three events, paced a surprising Big Ten track and field team to an upset 70-62 victory over the Pacific Coast conference in their annual meet here yesterday.

As the Big Ten squeezed out its fourth consecutive victory over the PCC stars, Gerhmann captured firsts in the mile and the half-mile and then ran the third lap of the important final mile relay event that spelled victory for the easterners.

The two all-star teams battled on even terms down to that final relay event with the Big Ten aces holding a 65-62 advantage and the PCC needing victory in the event to come from behind and win.

However, Mal Whitfield, Ohio State's great middle-distance ace, ran the anchor lap for the victors as they breezed home in the good time of 3:16.1.

Mostly, the times and distances were not anything to brag about. The only record that fell was the shotput, posted by Lou Davis of Stanford with a toss of 54 feet 8 3-4 inches to rub out the old mark of 53 feet 11 1-2 inches set by Stan Anderson of Stanford in 1939.

The final result of the meet might have been closer, but Sprinter Mel Patton, of USC, elected to stay out of the 220 yard dash because of his continuing complaint of a pulled muscle. As a result, the Big Ten pulled down a one-two, with Charley Peters, Indiana, and Tom Mason, Minnesota, finishing in that order. The winner's time was :20.7 seconds.

Valo's 'Grand Slam' Dips Cleveland, 8-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Elmer Valo's fifth inning "grand-slam" homer was the telling wallop as Philadelphia leveled Cleveland's world champions for the seventh time this season in a 8-2 victory last night. The victory advanced Philadelphia to second place in the American league pennant race.

Lou Brissie posted his seventh pitching victory with Bob Kennedy the only thorn in his side. The Cleveland outfielder homered with the bags empty in the fifth — the first of four hits Brissie allowed — and then crossed the plate on Johnny Berardino's fly after a seventh-inning triple.

Philadelphia's first run was unearned as Eddie Joost reached first when Jim Hegan let the third strike slip through him. Wally Moses' double brought him home.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Willard Marshall tripled in the top of the 12th, then crossed the plate with the winning run on Wesley Westrum's long fly to give the New York Giants a 6-5 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. Joe Lafata sparked the New Yorkers' cause with a grand-slam homer in the sixth.

Del Rice tied the contest in the eighth with a triple to right-center field, scoring Enos Slaughter and Nippy Jones.

Dave Koslo went all the way for the Giants, allowing nine hits and gaining his second victory of the season. Reliefer Ted Wilks gave up the winning tally after he came in for Ken Johnson, who in turn replaced George Munger on the mound.

Football Applications Mailed to 45,000

The largest mailing of football tickets application material in Hawkeye history, 45,000 copies, will be dispatched from the University of Iowa department in mid-July, Frank J. Havlicek, business manager of athletics, announced Monday.

Havlicek stressed, however, that no ticket orders will be accepted in advance of the mailing of the application material. Any such orders will be returned.

Persons who will receive the applications include alumni in midwestern states. persons who have purchased tickets during the past five years, "I" men, and members of the "I" club.

A mechanical sorting system will put the entire process at its peak efficiency, Havlicek said. This system was used last year to increase speed and accuracy in handling orders.

'Producer' Gets the Goods

Dapper 'Con Man' Swindles Widowed Mother; False Promises Lure Her to New York

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Red-haired Reseda Corrigan, distraught and exhausted, was on her way home last night after a harrowing 10-day search for the distinguished-looking'' swindler who captured her heart and disappeared with her $5,000 widow's insurance money.

Aboard an airliner en route to Chicago, she told how her suitor, who has been identified as confidence artist Sigmund Engel, wooed her, fled and then sent her on a wild goose chase to New York.

She said her suitor, whom she knew as Sam Engel, disappeared after she refused to elope with him to Reno. She had been "captivated" by him and wanted a regular wedding.

"A week ago Sunday he called me from New York and said he'd meet me at Grand Central station and was staying at the Waldorf hotel," she said. "I waited two hours at the station but he didn't show up. I called the hotel and learned he wasn't registered."

"I had no money," she said. "He told me to come to New York and not bring any money, or clothes. He said he would return my $5,000 and buy me new clothes."

Mrs. Corrigan, who has been widowed for three years and is the mother of three children, sings professionally at clubs and private parties. She said Engel, posing as a movie producer, praised her voice and offered her a job in pictures.

"He had a distinguished continental manner and wore fine clothes — and a homburg hat," she said. She said she wasn't afraid to lend him her late husband's insurance money because she thought "he had lots of money."

Jobs for Students Still Available Here

There are still part-time board, handyman and service jobs available to SUI students attending summer school, Robert L. Ballantyne, manager of the student aid and the placement bureau in the student affairs office, said yesterday.

Ballantyne said there were also a few permanent, full-time, off-campus stenographic positions open to capable people who would be living in Iowa City for a year or more.

The service jobs open are in gasoline stations and soda fountains and require the student's evening and Sunday hours. The board jobs are in the restaurant, with working hours during the meal times.

Handyman work includes yard jobs, wall washing, window puttying, and semi-skilled carpentering and plumbing jobs. Hours of work for most of these jobs can be arranged at the student's convenience, Ballantyne said.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A few years go, the late Tom Lamont, a senior partner in J. P. Morgan and Co., dropped into a little church where he had worshipped as a boy and listened unnoticed while the preacher solicited funds to patch the leaking roof. "O Lord, send us succor," was his plea.

When the plate was passed, Mr. Lamont dropped a hundred-dollar bill into it. When the preacher saw it, he sighed happily, and announced, "The sucker has been provided."

Lincoln once was asked by a New York firm for information on the financial condition of one of his neighbors. He obliged with the following: "Yours of 10th instant received. I am well acquainted with Mr.——, and know his circumstances. First of all he has a wife and baby; together they ought to be worth $50,000 to any man. Secondly, he has an office in which there is a table worth $1.50 and three chairs, worth $1.00. Last of all, there is in one corner a large rat-hole which will bear looking into. Respectfully yours, A. Lincoln."

Klan Officer to Tell Legislature Of Groups' Alabama Activities

BIRMINGHAM (UP)—A Baptist preacher claiming to be a Ku Kux Klan official said last night that he will tell the Alabama legislature "all about the Klan and its recent activities."

"We don't want to see the return of carpetbagger government or Negroes running things," said the Rev. Alvin Horn, identifying himself as a member of the Alabama Klan's board of governors.

He said he would tell the full story of Klan activities to a house judiciary committee hearing in Montgomery today on the senate approved bill to remove the hoods from the Klan and similar masked groups.

His mention of "recent activities" was the first hint from a purported Klan source that the organization might be connected with the wave of violence in the Birmingham area in the last month.

The federated Ku Klux Klan of Alabama disclaimed knowledge of the incidents when they first began coming to light last week.

Horn is a Baptist preacher in Talladega. Several months ago a mob in white robes flogged two white women in Talladega in a raid setting the pattern for the violence. The Klan also denied participation in the Talladega incident.

A number of Klansmen and Klan sympathizers reportedly went to Montgomery, the state capitol, to oppose the demasking bill at today's hearing.

Thousands of citizens, representing veterans and men's and women's civic groups, were adding to the clamor for an end to mob rule in north Alabama.

John J. Playfair, president of the state CIO, denounced the terrorists in a message to every CIO local in Alabama, comparing the "bedsheet hoodlums" with "Hitler's Gestapo and Stalin's secret police."

Muscatine Man Held For Carrying Pistol

Fred H. Charlier, Muscatine, was jailed here yesterday morning under $1,000 bond on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, police said.

Charlier was picked up in the alley near the Hohenschuh mortuary at about 3 a.m. yesterday, police said. He was carrying three watches and a .32 caliber pistol. Early checks indicated the possessions were his.

Preliminary hearing was continued until Tuesday at 8 a.m.

The sculptures are "Fish Form" by Leroy Burkett, Lincoln, Neb.; "Cock" by Houston Chandler, St. Louis; "Triptych" by Stanley Kearl, Waterbury, Conn.; and "Polar Bear" by Carl Roseberg, Batavia. All the sculptors are graduates.

The exhibition also includes a sculpture by Prof. Humbert Albrizio, SUI sculpturing instuctor, titled "Samoan Figure."

Most of the exhibition pieces were done by well-known living artists including Jacques Lipchitz, Henry Moore, Jean Arp, Alexander Calder, Theodore Roszak, Seymour Lipton, Isamu Noguchi, Alberto Giacometti, David Hare and Peter Grippe.

Prof. Roberts Opens Lectures on Atom

The atomic age is coming and it is as natural as the age of the gasoline engine and the airplane, according to Prof. Hew Roberts of the SUI college of education.

Roberts addressed an audience of about 150 adults at 8:00 p.m. last night in the chemistry building auditorium in the first of a series of lectures designed to explain atomic energy to persons with little scientific background.

Roberts declared that the only way we can learn to understand the social problems that the atomic age will present is to look at them through the eyes of the scientist.

The series of lectures to be presented each Tuesday night during the next six weeks is an SUI follow-up of experiment in adult education in atomic energy.

Young 'Air Veteran' Lands Here

JOHNNY'S GOT HIS WINGS NOW. John Boyles, Jr., 7, (right) arrived here yesterday to spend the summer with relatives after being unaccompanied in a United Airlines plane from San Francisco. The pilot gave Johnny his wings, intiating him into a children's future pilots organization. Shown with John is Stewardess Margaret Schwertley.

Lad Logs 1600 Miles —

Seven, But Seasoned

A seasoned traveler, seven-year-old John E. Boyles Jr. now has 1,600 miles of air travel to his credit.

Arriving on a United airlines plane from San Francisco yesterday, John plans to spend the summer here visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. X. Boyles, 229 Melrose court, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn F. Houston, 1133 E. Court street.

The boy received special permission from the airlines to make the trip.

His only comment was that the trip "tickled him." Stewardess Margaret Schwertley looked after John and remarked that he was "a very good boy."

The young traveler can also boast membership in a children's organization of airlines future pilots. The pilot gave him his wings when he was taken up front to see the plane's controls.

John Chittenden, 8, grandson of Prof. and Mrs. E. W. Chittenden, 1101 Kirkwood avenue, is flying alone from Seattle, Wash., and is expected here today.

SUI Band Needs Woodwind Players

The woodwind section of the SUI summer band still needs players, Assistant Band Director Arnold L. Oehlson said yesterday.

There are vacancies in other sections but flute, oboe, and bassoon players are most needed, Oehlson said.

Anyone with experience on a musical instrument and who is interested in joining the band should see Oehlson or Band Director Prof. C.B. Righter in room 15 of the Music building.

Rehearsals are held at 3 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday each week in South Music hall.

Drawing Room Comedy —

'Juliet' Light Fare

— Has Slow Start

By CARL BRAHCE

John Van Druten's "There's Always Juliet" opened SUI's 11th annual fine arts festival play series at University theater last night. Although most of the early "laugh-bringing" lines failed to go over, the play progressed to a successful close.

The drawing-room comedy required precise emphasis on the right words for the tricky dialogue to be effectively humorous. Since there is little action, the small cast of four must keep the audience interested with continuing spontaniety. The play takes place in England and an accent is required, adding to the difficulty.

The play began with a too heavy attempt to dramatize and the accent was overdone. Ardis Kresensky, as Leonara Perrycoste, began too fast with a stitled accent. But as she continued, she slowed down and most of the bright quips went over.

Dwight Houston, the American man of experience, was portrayed excellently by Harrold Shiffler, except for occasional lines in which he appeared rather smug. This gave a stuffiness to parts of his speech.

Julie Elder, as Florence, was a trifle stiff as the disapproving maid but interpreted her role well. The wordy Peter was well represented by William T. Countryman.

The scenery was commendable, and there were few mistakes in lines.

Police Shown Crime Investigation Methods

Iowa peace officers left their classrooms yesterday for practical demonstrations of the criminal investigation methods they have learned during the first two days of their five - day short course here.

Mike Howard, SUI wrestling coach, demonstrated the use of judo and Kay Oslund, Remington Arms corporation field representative, gave a firearms demonstration.

Under the supervision of Prof. F.L. Holcomb, director of the short course, a road block was set up on a highway north of Iowa City, and its use was demonstrated and discussed.

Prof. Sam Fahr of the college of law discussed criminal law and Ollie White, Iowa City police department, lectured on report writing.

R.W. Nebergall, chief of the Iowa bureau of criminal investigation, and Gifford Strand, special agent of the bureau, set up a murder scene complete with fake corpse and clues. They gave members of the advanced investigation class 20 minutes to find the clues, take pictures and collect any evidence.

Nebergall and Oslund demonstrated the use of firearms to the group last night.

TALKS AT GRINNELL

Prof. Jack T. Johnson of the SUI political science department is lecturing on international relations to 300 high school students attending a YMCA camp meeting at Grinnell this week. Johnson lectured to the group Monday and will speak to them again Thursday.
