McCormick Purchases Times-Herald

CHICAGO (AP) — Purchase of the Washington Times-Herald by the Chicago Tribune was announced last night by the Tribune's editor and publisher, Col. Robert R. McCormick.

McCormick's two-sentence announcement said:

"The Chicago Tribune bought the Washington Times-Herald today. The present management will be continued."

No further details were immediately available.

The Times-Herald was published by the late Mrs. Eleanor M. (Cissy) Patterson, a cousin of Col. McCormick, until her death of a heart seizure July 24, 1948.

Mrs. Patterson, a leading society figure in the nation's capital, wrote the paper to seven of its executives:

William C. Shelton, general manager; Frank C. Waldrop, editor-in-chief; Edmund F. Jewell, advertising director; Michael W. Flynn, supervising managing editor; H. A. Robinson, circulation director; J. Irving Belt, mechanical superintendent; and Mason S. Peters, managing editor. They were given equal shares.

Soon afterward Mrs. Patterson's only daughter, Mrs. Felicia Gizycka, sought to break the will. Under the terms of the will, the daughter had been left a $25,000 annual income, a home on Long Island, N.Y., and some personal property.

But a surprise out-of-court settlement ended the litigation over the estate, which in all was estimated to total some $16,500,000.

The settlement involved a $400,000 lump-sum, tax-paid payment to Mrs. Gizycka.

Acheson Hits Russ Protest Against Italy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Russian protest against Italy's membership in the north Atlantic alliance was rejected by Secretary of State Acheson yesterday within a few hours after its arrival. He called the Soviet objection "utterly without foundation."

At the same time, Acheson took occasion at a news conference to fire a round of his own in the cold war. He denounced the Communist campaign against the Roman Catholic church in Czechoslovakia as a violation of the United Nations' pledges to build up and respect human rights and freedoms throughout the world.

Questioned as to what "tensions and conflicts" behind the iron curtain President Truman had in mind in his Chicago speech Tuesday, Acheson said he had no comment. But other officials declared the record is clear that religious, political and economic forces are working against absolute Communist control of Russia's satellites in eastern Europe.

More Votes than Voters Voids Italy's Pact Tally

ROME (THURSDAY) (AP) — A chamber of deputies vote for ratification of the north Atlantic pact was annulled early today when more votes were cast than there were deputies present.

The president of the chamber, Giovanni Gronchi, announced a total of 546 ballots were counted whereas actually only 469 deputies voted. In the invalid vote, 338 were for approval of the pact and 208 voted against it.

Conferees Meet for Secret Atomic Talk

Secret Atomic Meeting Held

WASHINGTON (AP) — An extraordinary secret session of high officials and law-makers produced indications last night that President Truman has no immediate plan to by-pass congress and share A-bomb secrets with Britain by executive agreement.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and other top-ranking officials discussed U.S. policy on atomic secrets for two hours and 45 minutes with the senate-house committee on atomic energy.

Their momentous meeting was guarded by two police sergeants and the shades of their meeting room were tightly drawn.

At the end of the session Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the joint committee, told reporters:

"The joint committee on atomic energy met with the secretary of state, the secretary of national defense, and the atomic energy commission and General Eisenhower. We discussed the nation's foreign relations in the field of atomic energy. No conclusions were reached and none was contemplated at this meeting."

"A future meeting will be held at the call of the chairman after the elapse of sufficient time for further deliberations."

McMahon met with reporters briefly after the conference and read his prepared statement.

Canada Can Make Atom Bomb: Howe

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada, on the basis of information already in her possession, could go ahead and make an atom bomb on her own if she wanted to, Acting Prime Minister C. D. Howe told a press conference yesterday.

"We could make a bomb if we wanted to — maybe not as good as the American one — but a good bomb, nevertheless," he said.

Howe emphasized, however, that Canada was not interested in producing atom bombs but rather in converting atomic energy to peacetime uses.

"Our atomic research is still devoted exclusively to peacetime uses," he said. "These were in the fields of medicine and industry."

Atomic Employee Still Missing

DALLAS (AP) — The federal bureau of investigation last night maintained strictest silence as to the whereabouts of H. Tracy Snelling, public relations director of the Los Alamos, N.M., atomic project.

Unofficial reports earlier in the day said Snelling had checked in at the Dallas FBI office at mid-morning, after having been missing for one week, then disappeared again.

A charge of embezzling $1,000 in Red Cross money was filed yesterday against Snelling by Texas officials and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Snelling, who headed a recent Red Cross drive, gave the charity's officials a bad check in exchange for the cash.

Sources quoted Tom Carter, FBI special agent in charge at Dallas, as saying Snelling was not taken into custody since there was no federal charge pending against him.

But last night Carter denied having made such a statement and answered reporters' questions with a staunch "no comment."

According to the reports earlier in the day, Snelling announced himself to the FBI receptionist here and said, "I'm the man who has been missing from Los Alamos, and I want to talk to the agents in charge."

The source said Carter said he talked for an hour with Snelling and checked with FBI officers in New Mexico.

A check of both the city and county jails here revealed no trace of the missing man. Snelling left the secret atomic

Ear Today, Bus Fare Tomorrow

Maybe you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear but a Manville Heights bus passenger yesterday made a purse of his own ear.

Observed "wearing" a nickel inside his ear, the passenger was asked whether it was some new type of ornament.

"Not at all," he replied. "I just don't like to have to fish around in my pocket for a nickel when I get on a bus so I keep one up there. It's handy."

The passenger got off at the next stop without offering any identification.

Crashing Plane Slices Buildings, Seven Killed

SEATTLE (AP) — A Chicago-bound non-scheduled air transport plane with one of its two engines dead sliced through two floors of a rooming house Tuesday night and smashed into a residential street, killing seven persons.

Twenty-nine were injured, but death was cheated by mere victims by just two minutes—the interval between the crash and an earth-rocking flaming explosion.

In those 120 seconds nearly all the 32 passengers and crewmen tumbled out to safety.

The death of Pete Chumos, 68, of Seattle, raised the tragedy toll to seven yesterday afternoon. He died of burns suffered while he was visiting in a rooming house which the C-46 hit.

He was the fourth rooming house occupant to die. It was the first structure in the path of the crippled passenger plane of Air Transport Associates, Inc., of Seattle. A fifth man was killed in another house. One plane passenger was identified among the dead and a second was believed to be the final unidentified victim.

The plane took off from Boeing field in Seattle's south side at 11:03 p.m. (Iowa time) and was barely in the air when its left engine failed.

Its wings sheared utility poles

Grand Jury Summoned In Florida Race Trouble

TAVARES, FLA. (AP) — A hastily-summoned grand jury was called into session late yesterday to consider the alleged rape of a white woman by Negroes that touched off three nights of violence at nearby Groveland. Roving lawless gangs of white men terrorized Negroes and burned several of their homes.

An uneasy truce, enforced by the guns of Florida national guardsmen, prevailed at Groveland.

No Demand for Atom In Treaty

Bomb Secret Safe, McMahon Says; Atlantic Pact Faces Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ratification of the north Atlantic pact will carry no obligation for the United States to share atom bomb secrets with other treaty nations, Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn.) told the senate last night.

McMahon—chairman of the senate-house atomic energy committee—said the exact nature of the military aid to Europe must be decided when congress acts to implement the treaty with an arms program.

McMahon gave his replies to Sen. Kenneth Wherry (R - Neb) and Forest Donnell (R-Mo) who pressed him as to whether any army obligation in the treaty would call for sharing the atom bomb secrets.

McMahon declared: "There is no binding compulsion in the pact as to what kind of military assistance will be given."

It may be, he added, the pact nations could best be defended by keeping the atomic weapons in the continental boundaries of the United States.

The senate held a night session on the treaty clearing the way for a vote late today. Pact supporters say they have the two-thirds necessary to ratify, with some to spare. They also say they are confident of defeating all reservations.

In yesterday's debate backers of the security treaty called it a bulwark for peace and opponents saying it would weaken the United Nations.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) went to bat for the treaty, as did Sen. Raymond Baldwin (R-Conn). Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho) opposed it.

Then, as the session wore on, Sen. Frank Graham (D-NC) delivered his maiden senate speech in support of the pact and Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois, majority floor leader, made a dramatic appeal for ratification.

BORDER GUARDS SHOT

VIENNA (AP) — Two Austrian border police were found shot to death on the Austro-Yugoslav frontier yesterday, the Austrian press agency reported. The ministry of interior said no further details are now known.

Plane Shears Two Seattle Homes, Kills Seven

AERIAL VIEW shows how a C46 transport plane sliced two floors off a three story Seattle, Wash., rooming house (center house, foreground), and then hopped across the street to demolish another house. The plane, which crashed early yesterday, killed seven, four of them in the rooming house. Tail end of plane is shown beside foundation of the demolished home. The crash was the second west coast tragedy involving non-scheduled airlines in little more than a week. The non-scheds are fighting a legal battle for their lives.

Condons Talk with Sen. Myers

Wood Group Unfair As Probers, Condon Says

WASHINGTON (UP)—Dr. Edward U. Condon said yesterday he favors government vigilance against subversive groups but considers the house committee on un-American activities "unfair" and "incompetent" to do the job.

The director of the national bureau of standards appeared before a senate rules subcommittee to testify in support of a resolution sponsored by Sen. Scott Lucas (D-Ill.), to reform congressional investigating procedure; to give witnesses a chance to defend themselves.

Drawing on his own personal experience, he asserted there is urgent need for congressional self-discipline to protect the rights of accused individuals.

Condon was attacked last year by the house committee, when it was under the leadership of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), as "one of the weakest links in our atomic security." He flatly denied any breach of security, and was given a clean bill by federal loyalty boards.

He told the subcommittee he believes Communists should be excluded from federal jobs, and regards President Truman's loyalty check program as a "very good thing."

YANKS FOR TEA

LONDON (AP) — Nearly two hundred Americans will drink tea with the king and queen at Buckingham palace this afternoon.

Brannan Plan Debate Rages

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces fought in the house yesterday to save the Brannan farm subsidy plan from threatened defeat. They shouted that it is necessary to prevent a collapse of the whole farm program.

The opposition responded with a charge that the administration bill gathers its support principally from organized labor—not from farmers. They argued that it would lead ultimately to a peacetime OPA.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan first submitted the subsidy plan to congress as a means of getting cheaper food for consumers and good income for farmers.

Rep. Adolph Sabath (D-Ill), chairman of the house rules committee, kicked off for the administration with a plea to Democrats not to be led astray "by a collusive combination of Republican controlled farm organizations and Dixiecrats."

But some of President Truman's best friends in congress opposed the administration on the issue which will come to a head in showdown voting today or Friday.

Three Democrats who often have carried the administration banner in congressional battles — Albert Gore of Tennessee, Mike Monroney of Oklahoma and Albert Rains of Alabama — helped lead an opposition coalition of Democrats and Republicans.

Lists Tokyo Rose Treason Actions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Testimony yesterday linked Iva Toguri (Tokyo Rose) D'Aquino to seven of the eight overt acts by which the government charges she committed treason.

This was important, because a person can be convicted of treason only on direct testimony of two persons. Another government witness testified Monday to the eight overt acts with which the 33-year-old defendant, a native of Los Angeles, is charged.

Yesterday's witness was George Mitsushio, born here in 1905 and schooled in California and at Columbia university. He went to Japan in 1940 and was an official of Radio Tokyo during the war.

Mitsushio, point by point, corroborated the testimony given earlier by Kenkichi Oki, his close friend and wartime fellow employee of Radio Tokyo.

Westinghouse Rejects CIO Wage Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric corporation yesterday turned down the $500 "package" wage demands of the CIO united electrical workers union because business is falling off badly.

W. O. Lippman Westinghouse vice-president, said orders are down 11.5 percent from last year.

Pittsburgh Trips Brooklyn, 8-6

Kiner Hits 25th, 26th Home Run

BROOKLYN (AP) — Ralph Kiner drove in five runs with home runs No. 25 and 26 yesterday to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-6 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Kiner's second homer came in the top of the ninth, with two mates aboard, and overcame a 6-5 Brooklyn lead. The winning homer came off Don Newcombe, who had just replaced Erv Palica on the mound.

Palica was charged with the defeat. He gave up singles to Pete Castiglione and Dino Resticelli before giving way to the giant righthander.

Kiner's first circuit clout came in the third inning, off Ralph Branca, and put the Bucs in front, 2-0. The Dodgers, spearheaded by Roy Campanella, got those two runs and added three more for good measure. Campanella highlighted a three-run fifth with his 14th homer. It came with one on. He tripled in two more runs in the sixth. That put Brooklyn in front 5-2.

The Pirates knocked out Branca in the seventh with a three-run blast that tied the score. Pinch-hitter Dixie Walker's two-run homer featured the rally.

The Dodgers, however, regained the lead in their half of the seventh, scoring once on a single by Gil Hodges and a double by Carl Furillo.

The Pirates used four pitchers, with Cliff Chambers getting credit for the victory. He held the Dodgers scoreless in the eighth and ninth to hang up his sixth win. He has lost but once.

Martha Goebel, No. 2 Girls' Singles, Out Of Valley Tourney

Martha Goebel, St. Joseph, upset Rosalie Meluney, seeded second in the girls' singles division, 6-3, 6-4, yesterday to feature play in the third round of the Missouri Valley tennis tournament here.

Only one other seeded player was knocked out of the tournament, in the boys' singles when John Bean, Okmulgee, Okla., beat Richard Bry, St. Louis, 6-2, 6-1. Bry was seeded fourth.

Iowa City's Jamie Andrews, seeded second in the boys' singles division, beat Alan Austin, Winfield, Kan., 6-1, 6-4 to advance to the semifinal round.

Yesterday's play was hampered by rain in the morning, forcing the postponement of many of the matches until today.

Most of the matches held were played in the fieldhouse. In the late afternoon several doubles matches were held on the clay courts by the library annex.

The top seeded men's doubles team, composed of Dick Hainline and Len Prosser, won their first match from Ben Bishop and Mike Weatherly 6-4, 6-4.

Hainline, seeded first in the men's division will play his first singles match today at 2 p.m. meeting Tom Burke, Omaha.

In the women's division, Doris Jensen, Des Moines, barely squeezed by Mary Hdrlicka, St. Louis, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Tigers Score Three In 8th to Squeeze By Washington, 6-5

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers pushed over three runs in the eighth inning yesterday to squeeze out a win over Mickey Harris and the Washington Senators, 6-5, before a slim crowd of 7,288 customers.

Hot Evers with three singles paced the Tigers' 10 hit attack. With one away in the eighth and the Tigers trailing 5-3 Harris gave up his first walk to George Kell. Vic Wertz singled to right, sending Kell to second.

Evers popped a Texas leaguer into short centerfield, with Kell scoring and Wertz moving to third on the single.

Johnny Groth singled to right, scoring Wertz with the tying run and sending Evers to third.

Johnny Lipon then dropped a perfect squeeze play bunt which Harris was unable to pick up as Evers scored, with Lipon getting a single and credit for driving in the winning run.

Yankees Beat Cleveland, 7-3

CLEVELAND (AP) — The New York Yankees fattened their American league leadership over Cleveland to 4 1-2 games last night by defeating the Indians, 7-3, before a pennant-anxious crowd of 75,370.

The biggest night attendance at any ball park this season watched the Yanks blast Bob Feller from the mound in the third inning in the second of a critical three-game series.

Pitcher Ed Lopat, who had to be jerked in the eighth when the Indians threw a scare into the Yanks by loading the bases, was credited with the victory that squared matters so far. Cleveland beat New York in the series opener Tuesday, 5-4.

The Yanks polished off Feller in a hurry. In the second inning, Catcher Yogi Berra scored the first run with a tremendous home run into the right field stands.

Then in the next frame, Lopat, Hank Bauer and Tommy Henrich each singled to manufacture a second run. That brought up Joe DiMaggio, and he unloaded a triple to right for two more. When Berra singled to score Joe, Feller had to go.

It was the second straight time he had been knocked out of the box as a starting pitcher.

DiMaggio liked Feller's replacement, Sam Zoladak, too. With nobody on, he tagged him for his seventh home run over the left field fence in the fifth inning.

Lopat made another run for New York on his third straight hit — a double to right in the sixth that scored Snuffy Stirrweiss from first.

Blanchard is a lieutenant in the air force, stationed at Shaw field, Sumter, S.C., about 120 miles from here.

Blanchard said his military duties allow him to take weekends off and his superiors have no objection to his using them as he likes. "The Clippers have made me an attractive position and I will play the entire season with them if nothing interferes," he said.

Sauer Bats Cubs To 11-Inning Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hank Sauer drove in all of the Chicago Cubs' runs with two homers and a triple last night as he defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 in 11 innings. The triple came in the eleventh with Andy Pafko on base.

Sauer's 17th home run and his 13th since joining the Cubs, with Pafko on base in the fourth gave the Cubs their first two runs. The big left fielder clubbed homer No. 18 with the bases empty in the sixth.

Del Ennis' single and walk loaded the bases. Andy Seminick's single brought two runs home to knot the count.

Curt Simmons, relieving Roberts, and Dutch Leonard hooked up in a pitching duel until Pafko singled in the eleventh. Then, with two out, Sauer connected with his game winning triple.

Giants Top Reds, Set Scoring Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants established a consecutive inning scoring record yesterday as they whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 5-1, for the second straight day.

Scoring in each of the first three innings, the Giants extended their scoring spree through 14 consecutive innings to better the previous mark of 12, set by the Giants of 1923.

The Giants began the string last Monday, tallying at least once in the last three innings against the St. Louis Cardinals. They added eight more Tuesday (they did not bat in the ninth), and three yesterday for 14.

Oddly enough, Sid Gordon started the streak with his 18th home run, and ended it with his 19th. Cincinnati . . . . . 000 000 100—1 7 9

Plastics Make Picnicking Easier

Long Life Utensils Add Picnic Color

Plastics, having won a place in every room of the house, are now going on picnics too.

Iowa City hardware merchants are well supplied with picnic "aids" of this water-proof, non-breakable and light-weight material.

One best seller is a partitioned picnic plate of plastic with a center division for a plastic cup.

These come in a variety of bright colors with cups or glasses of corresponding or matching hues.

They are especially well adapted to "roughing it" when picnic tables are not on the scene.

Another plastic creation is a translucent sandwich box which holds a sandwich, a piece of pie or cake and has an airtight lid to keep the contents moist.

Eating utensils are also available in plastic. Small spoons and forks, transparent or colored, have begun to replace the wooden or paper varieties of past picnics.

Plastic thermos bottle tops, salt and pepper shakers and even tablecloths are also on the market to make a picnic "lighter" and more modern.

PLASTICS GO ON A PICNIC with Mr. and Mrs. John Ford, 615 Templin road. Here Mrs. Ford, a junior at SUI, prepares a "light" picnic lunch with the help of plastic utensils. Ford is a communication skills instructor at the university.

Bishop Brashares To Speak Sunday At SUI Vespers

Iowa Methodist Bishop Charles W. Brashares will speak on "Religion and World Outreach" at the SUI summer vesper service at 7:15 p.m. Sunday on the west approach to Old Capitol.

Prof. M. Willard Lampe, chairman of the university vespers committee, said that in case of rain Bishop Brashares will speak at the Congregational church.

His speech on the general theme of "Religion in Public Life," is sponsored by the Student Christian council. In his address Bishop Brashares will refer to some of his experiences in India where he inspected the church work during the past year, Lampe said.

Born in Williamsport, Ohio, Bishop Brashares was educated at Harvard and Boston universities. He received his LL.D. from Cornell college in 1945. He became Iowa Methodist bishop in 1944, after serving as a pastor of the Methodist church, Ann Arbor, Mich.

President Virgil M. Hancher is scheduled to speak at the last summer vesper service, July 31. His subject will be "Religion and Education."

Moose Drum Corps Ready for Festival

Iowa City's Moose Grenadiers drum and bugle corps will compete Saturday with 47 junior and senior drum corps from Wisconsin and Illinois at a music festival in South Milwaukee, Wis.

The local corps took second place last year.

Thirty-six members of the group, managed by Jack Fromm, Quincy, Ill., will leave here early tomorrow morning for South Milwaukee.

Twenty-four new chrome plated bugles valued at $800, arrived yesterday from Chicago. They will be used for the first time at the festival, Moose lodge officials said yesterday.

Three prizes, $400, $300 and $200, will be given at this year's music festival. The Grenadiers are probably the only Iowa drum and bugle corps entered in the South Milwaukee competition, Moose officials said.

The Grenadiers will return to Iowa City Tuesday.

Speech Conference Begins Tomorrow

The final conference of SUI's speech pathology and hearing conservation summer program will begin at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

George van Bekesy, of the psycho-acoustic laboratory, Harvard university, will discuss "Problems in Bone Conduction Hearing."

He will lead a round-table discussion in his lecture Saturday at 10 a.m. in the senate chamber.

Bekesy was a professor at the University of Budapest, Hungary, before coming to this country in 1936. His published articles on his research in hearing and physiological acoustics extend over a period of 20 years. He is internationally known for his investigation of the dynamics of the auditory mechanisms.

Gardner said a party will be held after the examinations are completed.

Reservations Lag For Group Picnic

Only 10 students have registered so far for the International club picnic Saturday afternoon at Lake Macbride, Asoké K. Gupta, chairman of the club's cultural committee, said yesterday.

More faculty members and students are expected to make reservations at the receptionist's desk at the office of student affairs, he said. Car owners are requested to report to the desk the number of extra passengers they can take.

Leaving the Iowa Union at 3 p.m., the group will return at 8 p.m. Cost of the picnic will be 75 cents a person.

In case of rain the meeting will be held 3 p.m. at the Roger Williams house, 230 N. Clinton street, Gupta said.

SUI Students Learn Pre-School Direction

Four women students majoring in child welfare are cooking this week at the pre-school dining room at 10 E. Market street.

Besides preparing themselves to direct and instruct pre-school children, they also will be able to see that their charges are well fed, Shirley Wilkins, home economics instructor, said yesterday.

The planning and preparing of meals for about 15 children between the ages of 2 to 5 inclusive is part of the requirements for the course in physical growth and nutrition.

The student-cooks are Sarah Myrtle Sperry, A3, Tampa, Fla.; Loraine Sigmon, G, Ashville, N.C.; Carolyn Franke, G, Wellesley Hills, Mass.; and Bertha Elmer, G, Black River, N.Y.

'Being Kind' Wins Vacuum Cleaner

Mrs. Lydia Bailey, 212 S. Johnson street, won a vacuum cleaner on a radio show yesterday morning for "being kind" to dogs.

Mrs. Bailey said that a Cedar Rapids woman, whom she could identify only as Mrs. Krotoska, evidently had heard about her hobby of finding homes for stray dogs and written to "Tell your Neighbor" a Mutual Broadcasting company program about it.

The information "sounded" as if it came from a write-up about Mrs. Bailey in Bill McBride's Daily Iowan column April 29, she said. However, she doesn't know the woman or how she got her information.

Author to Participate In Theater Seminar

Barrett H. Clark, executive director of Dramatists' Play service, New York City, will lead a group discussion on "Community Theater" Saturday at 10 a.m. in the University theater, Prof. Edward C. Mabie, head of the SUI dramatic arts department, said yesterday.

Prominent community theater directors from the Midwest area, dramatic art department faculty members, SUI theater directors and graduate dramatic art students will participate.

The public is invited to the discussion which will be held in the theater's Green room, Mabie said.

Clark, who is an editor and author, is known as a "friend and advisor to most of the prominent American playwrights." He will be a guest lecturer today and tomorrow at the dramatic art department classes, Community Theater and Experimental Theater. The SUI general library contains 75 books written or edited by him.

SUI Plans Religion Leadership Seminar

A new course, "Seminar in Leadership Training," which is especially designed for local student religious leaders, is planned for the fall semester. Prof. Robert Michaelsen of the SUI school of religion said yesterday.

The school of religion is outlining plans for the two-hour course with the cooperation of the advisory council of the Student Christian council, Michaelsen said. Enrollment will be limited to those who are in position of responsibility in local groups or who are genuinely interested in the subject, he said.

The tentative outline of the course includes an historical survey of church leaders, implications of the Christian faith for student work, study of the function of the student Christian group on campus, organizational methods and procedures and leadership technique.

The seminar will be conducted by a committee from the advisory council in consultation with Prof. Willard Lampe.

Tenor to Present Two Arias Aug. 7

Taxicab Troubles at an End —

People who ride taxicabs in Iowa City from now on should have no more complaints about what they're charged. The Daily Iowan has called all the taxicab managers in Iowa City, and all report they are complying with the city ordinance which requires rates to be posted.

There have been several complaints in the past about taxis charging too much — more than they should for a trip or more to take you back than they charged to take you there.

Actually this complaint is partly true, managers explain. Drivers are instructed to charge more for hauls from bus and train stations and from night clubs than on ordinary calls taken from the dispatcher's office. And with reason . . .

A driver who waits the incoming train or bus may miss several good hauls from the office while he waits for a late arrival at the station. And he may get only one person going a short distance with a multiple number of suitcases. That driver has then taken a chance and lost out financially.

So, too, with the driver who goes out to a night club. He takes a chance the man who called may have changed his mind or taken a ride from a friend, may take several minutes getting out of the building (while the driver loses money waiting), that his customer may become ill in the cab, that maybe there are several persons waiting for him who will emerge quarrelsome and give him trouble.

So taxi rates from a station or a night club in any place in the city are higher than any of Iowa City taxicab companies.

But back to the original problem. Since all managers report they are complying with the city ordinance, passengers should have no trouble determining themselves when they first enter a taxi how much they will be charged.

The city ordinance states companies must " . . . post a schedule (of rates) so it can be seen from the back seat."

Another bit of knowledge which should make Iowa City citizens happy is this: taxicab managers claim Iowa City taxi rates are lower than any other city or town in Iowa.

They explain it this way: because of the flow of SUI students in and out of the city and because there are no industries in the city, Iowa City's per capita income is somewhat lower than elsewhere which means expenses must correspondingly be lower.

Congratulations seem to be in order to several people regarding the manner in which the taxicab rates question has been handled.

To the managers of the taxicab companies in Iowa City go the thanks for prompt compliance with Chief Ed Ruppert's request they post their rates, and thanks also for their cooperation in informing The Daily Iowan of the facts in the situation.

Mob Violence: Baby Steps —

There is something different about the recent flareups of racial violence in the south. It is the attitude of local authorities in dealing with the white offenders.

Two incidents outline this point. After a recent rash of floggings by hooded night riders in Alabama, many officials — including Gov. Jim Folsom — demanded justice. A grand jury was formed and 17 persons were indicted and arrested. Whether justice goes any farther, Alabamians have at least ripped the shrouds off the floggers, exposing many "respectable" citizens.

After an alleged rape of a white girl by four Negroes, white mobs attacked Negro homes in Groveland, Fla. Gov. Fuller Warren — who recently referred to the Ku Klux Klan as "those hooded jerks" — called out the national guard. As of yesterday, the guardsmen were still enforcing peace with bayonets.

This changing attitude on the part of state officials in Alabama and Florida is a step toward progress and tolerance . . . but a baby step.

Two years ago the President's commission on civil rights reported that most mob violence in the south went unpunished because of the indifference of local law enforcement agents.

Now, at least, a few authorities are willing to defy the look-the-other-way tradition and crack down on mob action. The new attitude in both Alabama and Florida has been spurred by two young liberal governors — Folsom and Fuller Warren.

One question immediately arises. Even if Dixie law enforcers efficiently cap the powder keg of racial tension, will it solve anything?

Regrettably, the answer is no. Punishing the members of a lynch mob doesn't stamp out lynching. Neither does preventing a lynch mob from reaching their victims halt lynchings.

Any benefits from proper law enforcement will be superficial. Still, many criminologists believe the fear of being caught is a greater deterrent to committing crime than fear of the actual punishment.

If more members of an aroused mob marching a victim to the old oak outside town had the threat of arrest hanging over them, mob violence theoretically would decline.

And with more and more southerners heaping scorn upon exposed members of mobs, residents would be more reluctant to drop their veils of respectability.

With these considerations in mind, the recent incidents in Alabama and Florida are fairly encouraging.

Polio Price High —

Nearly $30-million was appropriated by congress this year to combat the two leading causes of death in the United States — heart disease and cancer.

For the fight against polio, this year's March of Dimes drive netted $25.7-million, a raise of $4-million over the 1948 total.

These figures do not seem to be out of line. Congress sent $18.9-million to the National Cancer Institute and $10.7-million to the National Heart Institute.

The figures given over to the disease battles are compromise figures. The senate wanted larger appropriations, the house asked for less. Nonetheless, the compromise figures are generous.

In actual expenditures on research, an estimated $50 was spent for each death due to cancer. Each heart disease death cost only about $3 of public and private funds.

Surprisingly enough, each death attributable to infantile paralysis costs in the neighborhood of $1,200 in research.

The polio figure seems strange in light of the air of mystery that surrounds the cancer enigma.

Perhaps congress would have done well to earmark more money for polio research. Increased appropriations would have meant more research, which in turn would have turned the tide of the polio battle.

At any rate, the $1,200 figure seems out of line.

Interpreting the News —

Quakers Point to Peace

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The American Friends Service committee, Quaker organization which won the 1947 Nobel peace prize for its relief work in Europe, has issued a report on American-Soviet relations which challenges the attention of every student of the cold war.

It represents a year's work by a special group which has studied with the aid of both allied and Russian officials, and which can come as near claiming a non-partisan approach as any you can think of. By the same token, it must stand scrutiny as the product of professional pacifists.

Lasting peace may be hard to attain but war is not inevitable, says the report. It lists three major fields in which it proposes changes in American policy — east-west trade, Germany, and use of the United Nations.

The committee would lift the embargo on strategic materials which it says is hurting both sides.

It would seek an agreement for a neutralized Germany as a non-man's-land between the two power blocs. (How to get out of Germany and still guarantee to France and others that there would be no revival of German militarism is a problem on that point.)

It would make greater use of the United Nations. In particular, it would deposit atomic weapons with the U.N. under seal and yield national sovereignty over arms in search of an international control agreement.

(This bypasses the widely-held theory that American monopoly of the atom bomb has been and is one of the great war deterrents.)

The committee will probably obtain more general support for its stand on trade than on the other questions.

It calls economic warfare a two-edged sword, which by cutting both ways has only a small net bearing on relative war potentials. It believes the value of east-west trade to the recovery of western Europe is more important. It would lift the embargo.

It would go still further, and have eastern Europe included in President Truman's "point four" program for the export of American capital and American technical aid to underdeveloped areas, said to work for "freedom from want" in a more stable world.

It believes American tariff barriers should be eased for these as well as for other countries in the light of "the expanding international creditor position of the United States."

The committee does not ignore the traditional position of Russian communism that the conflict between capitalism and communism will never be settled except by war.

But it points to evidence the Russians do not want war, and that the traditional position could be changed by changing historical conditions.

This is a weak link in the committee's contentions, since it soft pedals the difficulty of changing Communists' tenets which are a fundamental part of what amounts to a fixed religion.

However, there are many other observers who have toyed for a long time with the idea that, in dealing with the materialistic Russians, mutually profitable trade might be the one factor which could persuade them to temper their fear and hatred of other systems.

(This is the first of a series of articles on the Quaker peace report. Tomorrow: Germany.)

TO THE EDITOR:

After thinking it over for a week, perhaps I can write a letter concerning the loss of my garden without too much bitterness.

There certainly has been a lot of publicity over just a few gardens, four newspapers and four radio stations that I know of. Perhaps fifteen dollars or a hundred dollars worth of vegetables doesn't warrant anywhere near all that talk.

It's true I did not go through "channel" and get an official "okay" to plant my "cukes" strawberries and onions. However I lived here in Hawkeye last summer, too, and then river bank gardens were left unmolested when the weeds were cut.

I kept all weeds cut to the ground for a swath of at least 10 feet around my garden and in one place I leveled all weeds 15 feet across from the garden to the water's edge.

In short, there were no nearby weeds to be cut by mower or sickles, yet the mower shredded my patch.

At the time, neighbors suggested and volunteered that we seek out the "party" behind all the ground-leveling, so that we could "work over" his garden — and I'll admit it was a tempting idea.

I am more than puzzled at the official attitude toward this little incident. If a student fails to sign on time for his fee payment during registration, it is a mistake on the part of the student in dollars and cents.

If, on the other hand, the university grounds department has made a mistake, don't they believe in even expressing their regrets? Or perhaps they feel they have made no mistake?

Father C. Coughlin Declines Invitation To Preach Sermon

HARBOR BEACH, MICH. — Father Charles E. Coughlin, vitriolic radio priest of the 1930's, was invited yesterday to deliver the sermon at the funeral of Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy, but declined because of a previous engagement.

Coughlin travelled from the Shrine of the Little Flower in suburban Detroit to call on the Murphy family and express regrets that he will be unable to officiate at the requiem high mass tomorrow.

Detroit city officials asked that the body of the red-haired pacifist jurist be brought there today to lie in state at city hall. But Rev. James J. Marvin, pastor of Our Lady of Huron Lake Church from which Murphy will be buried, said the family was undecided.

Murphy's brother, Recorder's Judge George Murphy, said the condition of his sister, Mrs. William Teahan, would determine whether the body would be returned to the city which Murphy served as depression mayor.

Tentative plans called for the cortege, flanked by state troopers, to leave early this morning with federal troops forming an honor guard for the former attorney general, Philippine commissioner and Michigan governor.

Coughlin, founder of the social justice party, had been a bitter enemy of one of Murphy's closest personal friends, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Exclusive Interview with Marshall Tells How — Atlantic Pact to Strengthen U.S.

By JOHN L. STEELE
(Copyright, 1949, By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Former Secretary of State George C. Marshall said yesterday the north Atlantic pact will "immeasurably" strengthen the security of the United States and improve the prospects for lasting world peace.

Breaking the silence on world affairs which he has maintained, except in one instance, since his retirement in January, the eminent soldier-statesman discussed at length the importance and the implications of the pact in an exclusive interview with The United Press.

He previously had endorsed the treaty in a speech here on June 5 at a banquet given in his honor by ambassadors of the 16 European nations receiving U.S. "Marshall plan" recovery aid.

The senate is scheduled to vote on ratifications of the historic treaty today.

Drawing on his unparalleled experience as wartime army chief of staff and postwar secretary of state, the five star general gave the treaty an unqualified endorsement both from military and diplomatic points of view.

He said the 12-nation anti-Communist accord will contribute to world peace by making clear to any would-be aggressors that they "cannot win" a third world war.

He also supported the administration's program for backing up the pact with U.S. arms shipments to western Europe, but indicated he regards the arms program as of secondary importance compared to the treaty itself.

Without entering directly into the senate controversy over whether the treaty "commits" this country to send arms abroad, Marshall repeatedly emphasized that the real value of the pact is not in the immediate steps which are taken under it, but in its "potentials."

He defended the treaty against other criticisms which have been hurled by senate opponents and by Russia and also said that:

Is consistent with the United Nations charter, and furthers its purposes:

Is not aimed at any one country, but only at aggression itself:

Does preserve the constitutional rights of congress to decide when and whether the United States declares war:

Does not call for sending American troops to Europe in time of peace.

Marshall is in retirement at his Leesburg, Va., home. He went there from Pinhurst, N.C. where he had gone to recuperate from a kidney affliction which terminated his services in the state department.

Following are the questions The United Press reporter asked him, and his responses:

Q. Do you regard the pact's pledge to consider an attack on one signatory as an attack on all, with the consequent commitment that each nation will take such steps as it deems necessary, as an "automatic" commitment for United States participation in any European war?

A. No. The United States can wage war only if congress declares war. The treaty does not infringe on the power of the congress in this connection, nor does it alter, I think, the relationship between the authority of the congress and of the President as defined in the constitution.

The undertaking on the part of the United States to consider an attack on any of the Atlantic pact nations as an attack on itself, in reality, little more than formal recognition of the factors which affect its national security.

The language of the treaty makes it clear that in the event of an armed attack each nation must decide for itself the measures it should take to restore and maintain the security of the north Atlantic area, and then it must take those measures.

Depending upon the nature and gravity of the attack, there are numerous measures short of the use of armed force and widely differing degrees of armed force which might suffice to deal with the situation.

Q. Do you regard the pact as falling within the scope of S-239 (Vandenberg resolution) which you endorsed last year and which in the framework of the charter and objectives of the United Nations?

A. The north Atlantic pact not only is within the scope of the senate resolution but appears to me as the direct implementation of the advice of the senate as expressed in that resolution.

In particular, the following provisions of senate resolution 239 were used as a constant guide for the United States representatives in negotiating the north Atlantic treaty.

Progressive development of regional and other collective arrangements for individual and collective self-defense in accordance with the purposes, principles and provisions of the charter.

Association of the United States, by constitutional processes, with such regional and other collective arrangements as are based on continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid, and as affect its national security.

Contributing to the maintenance of peace by making clear its determination to exercise the right of individual or collective self-defense under article 51 should any armed attack occur affecting its national security.

The pact is consistent with the charter of the United Nations and seeks to further its purposes and principles. The primary purpose of the United Nations — the maintenance of international peace and security — will be served am sure, by the north Atlantic pact.

Q. In what manner do you believe the pact will be beneficial to the security and national defense of the United States and of the other co-signatories?

A. The two world conflicts which have occurred in the past 35 years have made it unmistakably clear that an aggression of any of the free nations of the Atlantic community involves all of those nations.

This is an inescapable fact. There can be no doubt the emergence of a threat to one of the nations would have been cause for some action on the part of the United States in order to deal with the situation. Our national security would appear to dictate such action, in my opinion.

The time has long since passed when this country could defend itself adequately by waiting until an attack physically reached its shore. In the world of today we know that an all-out armed attack anywhere in the north Atlantic area by any major power would in fact be aimed at the United States.

The time and place to repel such an aggression is not after it has reached our coast, but where ever and wherever it begins.

If we make it reasonably clear in advance we will deal adequately with such an attack whenever or wherever it occurs, there is, in my opinion, good reason to believe that we will stop it before it starts.

Guatemala Still After 40 Killed In Army Revolt

GUATEMALA (AP) — A military revolt against the government of President Juan Jose Arevalo flickered out yesterday.

Calm spread over this capital after 24 hours of battle that followed the assassination Monday of Col. Francisco Javier Arana, chief of the armed services.

Loyal troops and civilian volunteers Tuesday night gained control of Fort Guardia de Honor, the seat of the revolt.

Police Director Victor Manuel Sandoval said 40 persons were reported killed. (The U.S. state department announced no American citizens were among the casualties.)

The government's terms were "unconditional surrender," the police director said.

Sandoval, stressing that he was speaking unofficially, said Arana and a sub-director of police, Lt. Col. Enrique Blanco, were slain together by unidentified men after Arana steadfastly refused urgings to overthrow the government.

"It is my guess that the perpetrators then used Arana's death as an excuse to launch an attack on the government," he said. "The revolution was led by a group of men in Fort Guardia de Honor. Among those fighting were many who belonged to a political party which was backing Arana for president. All state ministers were loyal to the president and stayed with him throughout the fighting Tuesday night."

It was the first full-fledged rebellion to develop from 20 plots reported directed against Arevalo's regime since he was elected in 1944 to a six-year term in the presidency.

Arana, a congressional appointee, was shot while on a drive with Blanco southwest of the capital.

Lost 2-Year-Old Likes Police

Radio Editor Claims U.S. Press Distorts Situation in Germany

The German situation is not as tense as the American press would have you believe, Tom Wuriu, armed forces radio news editor at Frankfurt, Germany, told the Iowa City Lions club yesterday.

Wuriu, an SUI graduate, is visiting his mother Mrs. Mimi Youde Wuriu, 716 E. Bloomington street. He emphasized that out of many calm and matter-of-fact happenings in Germany, American newspapermen are sending exaggerated and distorted stories home.

They aren't plotting, but are naturally anxious to get their stories published in America, he said. Therefore they lean towards sensational news.

Wuriu said the east-west German occupation border is undefined in many areas, so that men may go over the border without knowing it.

Although the situation in Germany is serious, he said, it is not critical. Economically, "the Germans are 50 to 75 percent better off than they were two years ago," Wuriu said. He credited their present "sound" currency as having greatly improved the situation there.

Police Court Gets $79.50 from Fines

Police Judge Emil G. Trott yesterday fined Robert Donovan, route 4, $12.50 on a charge of operating a vehicle without a valid operator's license and $12.50 for failure to appear in court on a summons.

Clarence Parizek, 430 N. Dodge street, paid $12.50 for employing an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle as a chauffeur.

Tuesday's police docket indicated that 32 persons paid a total of $42 in fines for parking and meter violations.

Gangland Warfare Breaks Out In Hollywood; Four Wounded

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Gangland warfare broke out in Hollywood yesterday with the attempted assassination of Mobster Mickey Cohen by a burst of gunfire that wounded the little racket chief and three others.

The shooting took place in front of a swank filmland restaurant while Cohen, apparently the principal target, and the others were leaving after an early-morning snack.

The attempt to wipe out Cohen was linked immediately with a current Los Angeles vice investigation which the swarthy mobster was credited with touching off because of a feud with police.

When the smoke of more than a dozen shots had cleared Cohen was found to have escaped with only a slight shoulder wound. But Edwards (Neddie) Herbert, 38, his aide and target of another recent assassination attempt, had a bullet in his spine and was paralyzed from the hips down.

One woman among the victims, Miss Dee David, 26, received four .38-caliber slugs in her back. She had gone to the restaurant with one of Cohen's henchmen and got the bullets as the party was leaving.

Investigator Harry Cooper, assigned to guard Cohen by the state attorney general's office, was the only one armed. He suffered serious injuries. He took two .45-caliber bullets in the abdomen and was given blood transfusions.

Cooper had been assigned to stay with Cohen by Attorney General Fred N. Howser while state investigators conducted an inquiry apparently linked to the current vice investigation. The sheriff's department and police were asked to "lay off" Cohen during the investigation and Howser assured law enforcement agencies the little mobster and his aides would remain unarmed.

The entire group had gone to Sherry's, a late-evening dining spot popular with the theatrical profession.

The small group gathered in front of the restaurant awaiting their cars when the fusillade began from across the street.

The shooting came from behind a low retaining wall across Sunset boulevard. The group made a perfect target standing in the floodlighted restaurant entrance.

Doctor Appeals Suit Brought by Farmer

The district court scheduled a hearing for 9 a.m. Wednesday on Dr. F.E. Rugger's motion to set aside an $891 judgment against him in favor of Milo Kulhavy. Rugger filed the motion Tuesday.

He claimed in his petition he was not aware the case had been brought before the court until he read about it in a local newspaper, and failure to appear to defend his claim was not his fault. Kulhavy charged in his suit that Rugger, an Oxford veterinarian, had improperly vaccinated his hogs for cholera, resulting in the death of three sows and 41 small pigs.

Air Science Instructor Finishes Summer Duty

Capt. Charles A. Birk, ROTC instructor of air science, returned yesterday from ROTC summer camp at Brooks field, San Antonio, Tex.

Maj. E.O. Culver, instructor of military science, said Birk was among a group of 10 instructors of air administration who were released early from duty at summer camp because their part of the instructional plan was completed.

Summer encampment at Brooks field officially ends Saturday.

Summer Symphony — Concert Well Received

By DONALD KEY

The first concert of the SUI summer session symphony orchestra was enthusiastically received by a large audience in the Iowa Union last night.

Prof. Philip G. Clapp, conductor, and the orchestra presented a program that was excellent in precision and filled with dramatic climaxes.

A first performance of the concert overture "Cyrano de Bergerac" by Philip Bezanson, SUI music theory instructor, opened the program in a light, dance-like, but melodious mood.

The overture has a background of modern syncopated rhythm, sometimes several rhythms going at one time. It makes excellent listening and was heartily approved by the audience.

The Beethoven "Eroica Symphony," which comprised the last

Two Polio Patients Die; Total Now 13

The fifth and sixth polio deaths of the year at University hospitals were reported yesterday by hospital officials.

Walter Ulrich, 14, Alden, died at 12:30 a.m. yesterday. He was admitted Sunday.

Manning Hollingsworth, 36-year-old Casper, Wyo., resident, died at 9 p.m. Tuesday. He was admitted to the hospital Monday.

Two new polio patients were admitted to the "active" ward yesterday and two other patients were transferred to the "inactive" list.

The new patients were Carol Raun, 5, daughter of Robert Raun, Clinton, admitted for diagnosis Monday, and Marvin Smith, 26, Marion, admitted Tuesday.

Smith's condition was described as "serious" yesterday by hospital authorities and the Raun girl was in "fair" condition.

Transferred to inactive wards were Mrs. Dorothy Sheerer, 36, Cedar Falls, and Ralph Schoulter, 10, McGregor. The total number of "active" polio patients now at the hospitals is 13.

Larew Buys 6 SUI Temporary Cottages

Six temporary metal cottages located south of Law Commons were sold yesterday by SUI to Eugene Larew, Iowa City, for a total of $2,700. SUI Architect George Horner said.

The cottages housed single men and the three trailers which were also sold had been rented by married students.

An expandable trailer — number 473 Riverdale — was sold for $105 to Don Ayres, Iowa City.

Two trailers at Hawkeye village were sold. Trailer No. 25 was sold to Irving Krsemer for $50 and trailer No. 21 went to Josh Mann for $33.50, Horner said. Mann and Kramer are from Iowa City.

The units were sold by sealed bids which were opened by Horner and the finance committee of the state board of education at 2 p.m. yesterday.

Horner said there are no plans at this time for the sale of additional SUI temporary housing structures.

Pickets Raid Firm In Hawaii Strike

HONOLULU (AP) — A raid on the offices of a new non-union stevedoring company yesterday touched off the first major violence in Hawaii's 81-day dock strike.

Twenty-eight men were arrested and 19 were injured, including two police officers.

Police Capt. Eugene Kennedy said the raid by about 300 pickets was directed by loudspeakers from a longshoremen union sound truck. "Get the cops first," was one of the instructions broadcast, Kennedy said.

The raiders, armed with clubs, rocks and knives, struck when only four police officers were at the scene, the police captain related. They scaled a 12-foot wire fence to get at 25 to 30 non-union dock workers. A brief but bitter fight ensued. It was all over in 10 minutes — before police reinforcements arrived.

Officers of the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's union declined to comment except to say they were investigating the clash.

Special 'Villager' To Be Out July 29

SUI's married student weekly newspaper, "The Villager," will publish its first special edition July 29, Editor John Weber said yesterday.

Purpose of the special edition is to experiment in methods of publishing the paper, Weber said. It will be printed on off-set presses. Normally the paper, which has a circulation of 1,000, is mimeographed.

Weber said that the special edition of "The Villager" will contain photographs.

Former SUI Librarian on 'Town Meeting'

Milton Lord, former director of the SUI libraries and now president-elect of the American Library association, is a member of George V. Denny's radio program, "Town Meeting of the Air," which is making a tour of world capitals this summer.

Town Meeting of the Air is dedicated to the discussion of world affairs and is broadcast every Tuesday evening at 7:30 over American Broadcasting company stations.

During the world tour, the broadcasts will be made from foreign capitals and will be recorded for re-broadcast at their regular
