GOV. WILLIAM S. BEARDSLEY was the major speaker at a ceremony yesterday dedicating the Coralville flood control and reservoir project about four miles north of Iowa City.

Must All Join to Save Natural Resources, Beardsley Asserts

Gov. William S. Beardsley, speaking yesterday afternoon at the Coralville dam dedication ceremonies, told his listeners "the time has come when the scientists, the engineers, the farmers and the conservationists must all join hands in this effort to conserve our natural resources."

Standing on a bluff overlooking the dam site, four miles north of here, Beardsley said it was gratifying to know the people of Iowa have become conscious of the need for conservation of natural resources.

"I'm glad that the people of the entire state are aware of all implications of flood control," he said.

Rep. Thomas E. Martin, Iowa City Republican congressman, said it was "the beginning of an historic occasion" in solving the problem of flood control in south-eastern Iowa.

"With the help and continued cooperation of the people who have been so instrumental in winning the approval of this project by congress, I will be glad to go back to congress for the funds needed to complete the Coralville dam."

Other speakers taking part in the dedication ceremony were Mayor Preston Koser of Iowa City; Col. Clark Kittrell, chief of the Mississippi valley division of the army engineers corps and E. R. Hicklin, Wapello, former chairman of the Iowa flood control association.

At the conclusion of his address, Beardsley accepted a shovel from the hands of Contractor E. M. Dusefberg, Clear Lake, and turned over several shovelfuls of dirt in honor of the occasion.

State Patrol Checks Used Cars' Safety

A statewide safety check of used cars on dealers' lots has been ordered by Iowa patrol headquarters, Patrolman V. F. Johnson said yesterday.

Johnson said he and Patrolman J. L. Smith will soon complete a check of each used car lot in this county. A report will then be sent to headquarters on the condition of each auto. What further action will result was not revealed.

Johnson said out of the first 15 cars checked in this county, only four passed the safety test. One car had 14 visible defects, including bad tires, missing headlights, no brakes and a broken muffler.

The safety check is designed to make highways safer by nipping a possible trouble spot at its source, Johnson said.

Lewis' 3-Day Week Called 'Bold, Overt Act'

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis' decree of a three-day week in the coal fields was denounced at a senate hearing yesterday as "confiscation" of private capital and as a "bold, overt act" to seize control of production and prices.

The Virginia senator and the coal company official aired their views as the senate banking committee, at Robertson's request, opened a full-scale investigation of the coal industry and of Lewis' United Mine Workers union.

AFL President William Green, a one-time coal miner himself, accused Robertson of using the investigation to "prop up the tottering Byrd political machine in Virginia."

Aldermen Approve Ordinance Changes On Parking Meters

Iowa City aldermen last night approved two parking ordinance amendments which extend metered parking to downtown streets where new meters have been installed. The ordinances will become legal upon official publication.

Mayor Preston Koser set the Benton street dedication for 2 p.m. Thursday after the council by resolution accepted it for the city from the Jensen construction company.

Bridge Designer Ned L. Ashton said although final cost estimates have not yet been completed, the bridge would cost $5,000 to $6,000 less than the original $257,000 estimate.

Aldermen set August 15 for a hearing on the 1950-51 city budget which calls for $740,445 in the next fiscal year. The amount to be raised by taxation is $398,285 — a tax levy of $26.96 for each $1,000 assessed property valuation.

The new budget represents a slight increase over the current $667,113 budget. The amount raised for the present budget by taxation was $347,071, or a tax levy of $26.64 for each $1,000 in property valuation.

The council also decided to hold a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. next Monday at the city hall to discuss repair or replacement of downtown streetlights.

Poll-Tax Bill Alive As Filibuster Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern filibustering prevented a vote on an anti-poll tax bill in the house yesterday but failed to kill the measure.

After forcing eight roll calls that took more than four hours, the southerners had to retreat before a determined combination of Republicans and northern Democrats.

Finally, after less than an hour of general debate, the house put over the bill until today when it probably will be passed by a substantial margin.

On a crucial roll call vote yesterday — on a resolution bringing the bill before the house — the vote was 265 to 100.

Judge Rules Rent Control Act Unlawful

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal rent control act of 1949 was held unconstitutional yesterday by a federal district judge.

But that doesn't mean controls are off now. The opinion will be appealed.

The opinion by Judge Elwyn R. Shaw was based on his finding that local option provisions for decontrol by states and municipalities set aside the power of its authority.

Tighe E. Woods, federal housing expediter, said in Washington that the government "will naturally appeal" the lower court's finding.

Woods' Chicago attorney, William S. Kaplan, said he would move for the earliest possible review of the case by the supreme court.

In the meantime, the attorney said, rent control will continue in effect as far as the housing expediter's office is concerned, with full administration and enforcement.

Should the supreme court uphold Judge Shaw's ruling, rent controls would be entirely dead. There is slim possibility congress may take any action to bolster the law during the present session. The act continues controls until June 30, 1950.

Judge Shaw said his finding did not question the war powers of congress, but whether "these war powers may be delegated to states, municipalities or other subdivisions of government."

The ruling was made in denying a motion by Expediter Woods for an injunction to restrain a co-operative apartment management from evicting 18 tenants who refused to buy stock in the cooperative.

Larson Claims Iowa Rent Lift Unchanged

DAVENPORT (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert L. Larson said yesterday he did not think rent decontrol procedures in Iowa would be changed prior to a United States supreme court ruling on the new federal rent law.

An opinion by Federal District Judge Elwyn R. Shaw, Chicago, that the new federal law is unconstitutional because of its provisions for local option probably will have no immediate effect in Iowa, Larson said.

He said any change of policy on the part of the federal government itself under the Chicago decision "would be made known" by action of the area decontrol administrator.

The attorney general and Gov. William S. Beardsley planned to confer later on the Chicago decision. Both are now attending the midwest conference of the council of state governments here.

Beardsley already has approved decontrol at Lone Tree, a small community 16 miles southeast of Iowa City, under provisions of the federal law. Action on a request for decontrol at Council Bluffs is pending.

Tobin Raises Pay For Steel Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin yesterday raised the minimum pay of steel and iron workers employed on government contracts by at least 59 cents an hour.

The secretary acted as administrator of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts act, which sets minimum labor standards on government contracts.

He raised the minimum in the industry from rates ranging from 45 cents to 62 1-2 cents an hour — fixed 10 years ago — to rates ranging from $1.04 to $1.23 an hour.

Hearing Delay Granted For Rutledge Retrial

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — District Judge J. E. Heiserman yesterday granted defense attorneys a postponement of a hearing on a motion seeking a new trial for Dr. Robert C. Rutledge Jr., 28, St. Louis, who was convicted of murder.

Heiserman advanced the date of the hearing from July 27 to Aug. 1 after defense attorneys told him they needed more time to prepare an answer to the state's written resistance to their motion.

Truman Signs Pact; Finds Stiff Opposition on Arms Program

County Government Budget of $1,010,624 Proposed for 1950

A $1,010,624 budget for Johnson county government in 1950 was proposed at a meeting of the board of supervisors at the court house yesterday.

A public hearing on the budget will be held at the courthouse at 10 a.m., Aug. 8. Persons attending the hearing can express their opinions for or against the proposal at that time.

Set up by the board of supervisors, the new 1950 budget is $63,872 larger than last year's total of $946,752.

The total amount of taxes which would have to be levied to provide for the budget is $679,376. The balance of the budget would come from county income and tax receipts for the remainder of 1949, and $12,500 which the supervisors estimate will remain as a county balance Jan. 1, 1950.

The amount raised by taxation for the 1949 budget was $591,440. Road maintenance accounted for a major portion of the budget increase. The limit on levy for this purpose was raised from 5 to 8 mills by the last legislature.

A road fund of $44,000 is proposed in the new budget as compared to the $20,000 allowed in 1949.

The average for 1949's taxes was $17.38 per $1,000 property evaluation, while the proposed average for the 1950 budget is $16.13. The new lower figure, according to County Auditor Ed Sulek, is due to the fact that a higher evaluation has been placed on a considerable amount of Johnson county property.

Moore Re-Named County Assessor

Guy E. Moore, 701 Kimball road, was re-appointed yesterday to a four-year term as Johnson county assessor beginning Jan. 1, 1950.

The appointment was made by the Johnson county conference board, consisting of the board of supervisors, mayors of nine Johnson county towns and the county school board.

The 1950 budget for the county assessor's office also was set up at the board meeting. The $19,642 total for next year compares with $24,775 for 1949 and $15,981 for 1948.

Following this period interested persons will be taken to the Wolf avenue site of the hospital where pertinent construction details will be flagged so that prospective contractors may obtain an accurate on-the-site picture of the proposed work.

County Government Budget of $1,010,624 Proposed for 1950

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress split widely yesterday on whether President Truman's new $1,450-million arms program should be enacted.

Administration leaders endorsed the President's statement that the plan is essential to block Russian aggression and, generally, looked for its adoption.

But opponents denounced it as far too sweeping and flatly predicted it will never pass without a complete revision.

The chief executive's appeal for prompt approval of the long-awaited arms program was his second action of the day in the cold war with Russia. About two hours before his special message went to house and senate, he signed, and thereby formally ratified the north Atlantic treaty for the United States.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who has helped mold the nation's bipartisan foreign policy, broke with the administration to take a leading role in the opposition.

Backing Vandenberg were such senate veterans as Chairman Walter George (D-Ga.) of the finance committee, and Sens. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) and John Foster Dulles (R-NY).

Chairman Tom Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee, was confident some type program would be passed, but refused to specify the kind.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) strongly backed the President's arguments, saying the program was "vital to our security" to implement the north Atlantic treaty so it will be "as effective as we hope."

Spellman's Charges Denied by Eleanor

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt denied yesterday Francis Cardinal Spellman's charges that she is intolerant and anti-Catholic.

She cited as part of her denial her support of the late Alfred E. Smith, a Roman Catholic in all of his political campaigns, particularly the bitter 1928 presidential race which was marked by anti-Catholicism.

Her brief, restrained reply to the Cardinal's denunciation of her "record of anti-Catholicism" and "unworthy of an American mother" was made in her daily syndicated newspaper column, "My Day."

"I am sure the Cardinal has written in what to him seems a Christian and kindly manner, and I wish to do the same," she said.

Okays Measure . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congress commerce subcommittee yesterday approved a school health bill which Democratic leaders hope will pave the way for passage of the controversial $300-million-a-year federal aid-to-education act.

But an influential source in the house labor committee, which is handling the broader education legislation, said it has little or no chance of house approval at this session of congress.

Five-Year-Old Killed by Auto

Linn Street Accident Victim Dead On Arrival at Hospital: Coroner

George Lumsden, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lumsden, was killed last night shortly after he was struck by a car at 7:34 as he darted from an alley on South Linn street between Washington and College streets, witnesses said.

Police at 9:30 last night said they had found neither the accident vehicle nor the driver. The accident vehicle was reported driving north on South Linn street.

Young Lumsden lived with his mother Mrs. Gladys Lumsden, his 10-year-old brother Donald, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. William Petrak, at 108 S. Linn street.

Dr. D.F. Fitzpatrick, 903 E. College street, said he was driving north on South Linn street about 30 feet behind an Iowa City bus. Suddenly he heard from behind him a thud and a "kind-of-a" scream, the doctor said.

"Just as quick as I heard the noise, I slammed on the brakes and jumped out of the car," Fitzpatrick said.

He said he saw another car, probably the hit-and-run auto, speed by just as he got out of his car. He was unable to identify the speeding car.

Hank Cushing and a Catholic priest from Davenport approached the scene just after the accident. Cushing said no one was in the street but the child. He said the priest sighted the child and told him to stop. The priest rushed to the child, but was unable to do anything, Cushing said.

Fitzgerald said the child was bleeding profusely and vomiting when he reached the spot. "He wasn't dead then, but I knew he would be before he got to the hospital," the doctor said.

Several witnesses said they heard the child scream, but no one could identify the hit-and-run auto.

The child was dead upon arrival at Mercy hospital. Dr. George Callahan, county coroner, said late last night.

After performing an autopsy, Callahan said Lumsden suffered a skull fracture and laceration of the brain.

Indians Cut Yankee Lead To 3 Tilts, 4-2

Mitchell Stars Before 71,354

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cleveland Indians defeated the New York Yankees 4-2 last night, to cut the Bronx Bombers' first place lead in the American league race to three games. Early Wynn, with the help of Satchel Paige in the eighth, bested Vic Raschi before a paid attendance of 71,354.

Left Fielder Dale Mitchell was the batting star for the Indians, driving in Cleveland's first run with a long liner to center, and scoring the second run after belting a tremendous triple to left center.

What proved to be the winning run, however, resulted from a passed ball and a wild pitch. After Mickey Vernon had brought in Mitchell from third with a long fly in the fifth, Yankee Catcher Gus Niarhos allowed a pitch by Raschi to get away from him and Thurman Tucker scored all the way from second.

In the eighth, Manager Lou Boudreau singled, was sacrificed to second, moved to third on an infield out, and scored when Raschi uncorked a wild pitch.

It took two singles and a double to provide the Yankees with their first run in the third. George Stinweis followed a single by Raschi with another one, but Raschi was caught trying to get back to second after rounding the bag too far. Phil Rizzuto then doubled to score Stinweis.

The Yankees tallied again in the eighth and sent Wynn to the showers. Rizzuto and Tommy Henrich singled, with the little shortstop racing to third. Paige relieved Wynn at this point and retired the next three men in order, with Rizzuto crossing the plate on Joe DiMaggio's fly.

Television Talk Beginning at SUI

Roof-top's No Obstacle, He Still Makes Par

MADISON, IND. (AP) — Lee Pearson's second shot on the 18th hole landed atop the Madison country club's two-story clubhouse Sunday.

Pearson got a ladder, climbed to the roof, chipped over some trees onto the green — and holed a five-foot putt for a par four.

His 18-hole total was 88, good for only the third flight in the club tournament for which he was attempting to qualify.

Video Planned for SUI Football

Television of four SUI home football games may take place this fall over station WOC, Davenport, Iowa's first television station, Athletic Director Paul Brechler said yesterday.

Brechler said WOC, which opens Oct. 1, wants to take movies of games to be played with Illinois, Indiana, Northwestern and Oregon. After the movies are made, the new station may televise the entire game or its highlights at a later time.

A Big Ten meeting has been called for Aug. 12 in Chicago when, among other things, a television policy for all schools will be discussed, Brechler said. He added that one of the fears coaches have is that their teams may be scouted over video broadcasts.

At least one Iowa game will be televised, however, when SUI plays Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Nov. 19.

Doris Poppo, Hainline Win Valley Titles

A favorite and an underdog won singles titles Sunday in the finals of the Missouri Valley tennis tournament here.

Dick Hainline had an even easier time than expected in defeating Bill Miller in the men's singles, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2. Miller never seemed to make an effort to compete with the Davenport dentist, who was winning his third Missouri Valley title. The match took only 38 minutes.

The outstanding match of the day took place when Miss Doris Poppo, Des Moines, upset second-seeded Mrs. Lucille Davidson, Lee's Summit, Mo., for the women's title. The scores were 9-7, 2-6, 6-3.

Miss Poppo was fourth seeded in the women's division but Saturday defeated top-seeded Mrs. Nina Hamilton, St. Louis, in 12-10, 9-7 fashion.

Doubles champions were crowned Sunday, the matches being played in the fieldhouse in the morning. Mrs. Hamilton and Ward Parker, St. Louis, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Len Prosser, Mission, Kan., 8-6, 6-1. The Prossers had been seeded No. 1.

Hainline and Prosser defeated Parker and Bob Ziervogel in the finals of the men's doubles, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3, while Mrs. Prosser and Mrs. Davidson won the women's doubles over Miss Poppo and Doris Jensen, both of Des Moines, 6-2, 0-6, 6-4.

Locke, Golf Champ, Banned from U.S. Tourneys by PGA

ST. PAUL, MINN. (AP) — Bobby Locke, the British open champion, was scratched yesterday from major golf tournaments in the United States.

The 32-year-old South African's blacklisting by the Professional Golf association came shortly after his belated withdrawal from the $15,000 Inverness invitational golf matches at Toledo Thursday.

It culminated a feud of long standing between Locke and American golf officials.

George Schneider, PGA tournament bureau manager, announced the disbarment with a statement that Locke "has on numerous occasions violated the PGA tournament regulations and the tournament players' agreement of the PGA of America which he signed."

Schneider said Locke's "entry will no longer be accepted in any PGA-sponsored event."

The root of the trouble, officials said, was ducking by Locke of appearances at tournaments and exhibitions.

In England, Locke declared: "As captain of the British PGA, I think I have had disgraceful treatment from the American PGA."

The ban forced Locke to cancel plans to appear in the Tam O'Shanter $65,000 open at Chicago early next month.

Locke cancelled plane reservations to fly from England. He entered the Irish open to be played at Belfast July 27-29.

Across The Sports Desk

By Alan Moyer
The Last of July, the Lull Begins —

About this time of the year news just about quits coming. Across the Desk, coaches are on vacation, no athletic teams are organized on the campus and the lull before football begins to become obvious.

The thing to do, then, is look under the desk and in the drawers that are so full of junk they won't open. Odds and ends always find their way into a drawer, so we'll see what can be found.

From Waterway way comes word that Jack Bruner, Iowa's Big Ten strike-out king and all-American pitcher, is setting down Three-I league batters with the same regularity he did Western conference swingers. So far he's compiled a record of eight wins and one loss, hurling before the home town fans. The White Hawks are currently having their troubles winning ball games but are staying up around the top. Bruner has quickly become the No. 1 pitcher on the club.

The British version of sports — and track in particular — was discussed by Prof. Roland Harper on the campus recently. A member of the 1932 British Olympic team, Harper is now one of two professors of physical education in England, teaching at Manchester university.

In June Harper came to this country with the combined Oxford-Cambridge track teams, to compete against Yale, Harvard and Princeton. Harper told how the teams worked out together, were the best of friends and yet compiled "some of the best times of their careers." This, he said, is in direct opposition to what the American coaches teach or desire.

American coaches, he said, are paid high salaries, sometimes higher than the governors of states, to turn out WINNING teams, while in England there are no professional college coaches. There, he said, the boys compete for the love of competition and the good they get out of athletic competition.

Harper said that "underneath, I think the American boys agree with me, that it's more fun to compete for the love of competition than for the express desire to win."

Prof. Harper is right. U.S. teams are usually in there to win. Sportsmanship is an important part of the contest, but the prime objective is to win. That's the way people here want it to be, at least it is if attendance marks are a fair yardstick to go by. For England Harper may be right but for the U.S. we don't think so. It's more fun to beat Minnesota than to talk about how much good the boys got out of playing the game.

Harper told his audience that the U.S. suffers very much from having its sports so tied up in high finance. . . . He has a point there, but one that can be batted back and forth and nothing decided.

The question of the summer at City High has been the college Gene Hetrick will attend. . . . The latest is Tennessee, however, next week it may be somewhere else, perhaps Iowa. It would be nice to keep an all-state basketball player. . . . The Iowa High School athletic association coaching school and officials' clinic will be held at Spirit Lake, Aug. 15-19. George Munger, U. of Pennsylvania and Wes Fesler, Ohio State grid coach, will handle the football clinic.

It's likely that the 1899 Iowa football team will hold its 50th reunion at homecoming next October, along with the 1939 team. Homecoming will be Oct. 15, date of the Indiana game.

Nov. 12, when the Hawkeyes go to Madison for the Wisconsin game it will be homecoming day for the Badgers. It's the third time that Iowa's appearance at Madison has been on the occasion of homecoming. That's practically enough times to warrant an investigation.

SUI Graduates Married Here

Mr. and Mrs. Loy M. Booton

Miss Malick, Loy Booton Exchange Wedding Vows

The marriage of Miss Betty Jane Malick and Loy M. Booton, SUI graduates, was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house, 823 E. Burlington street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Malick of Glendale, Mo. She received her B.A. degree from the university in June. Mr. Booton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy H. Booton, Springfield, Mo., graduated from SUI with a B.A. degree in journalism in 1948.

The Rev. Harold McGee performed the double ring ceremony before a fireplace banked with white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length dress of white eyelet batiste fashioned with a fitted bodice, circular skirt and bertha forming the sleeves and collar. Her headress was an open-crown hat of white eyelet trimmed in tulle veiling. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Nancy Lee Miller, St. Louis, was maid of honor. She wore an ankle-length dress of yellow eyelet batiste fashioned after the bride's. Her bouquet was of white muriel daisies.

Bridesmaids were Misses Elaine and Majorie Malick, sisters of the bride. Their gowns were of pink eyelet batiste, similar to the bride's. They carried white ester reed daisies and pink muriel daisies.

Robert Locherie, Osceola, was best man and ushers were John Berg, South Bend, Ind., and Wayne Smith, Des Moines.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the sorority house with Mrs. Lee Blum, Hampton, and Miss Caryl Waldecker, Freeport, Ill., acting as hostesses.

The couple left for northern Wisconsin after the reception. Mrs. Booton is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and Mr. Booton is affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta, social fraternity, and Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising fraternity.

Professors to Talk On Trading Survey

Prof. C. Woody Thompson, director of the SUI bureau of business and economic research, and David Day, bureau research associate, will discuss a retail trading area survey this morning with the Clinton chamber of commerce.

Day said yesterday they will meet at 10 a.m. in Clinton with a committee of the chamber of commerce appointed to investigate possibilities for a trading area survey in that area.

The surveys are meant to show where, why and what people buy within a certain area, Day said. He explained that plans are nearly completed for a southwestern Iowa trading survey in 10 counties to begin in October.

He said the Clinton survey would begin "some time in the future." The exact date has not yet been set.

Day made a "contract" trip to Clinton June 27 to introduce to the chamber of commerce the survey idea.

Singers Present Final Lecture

Four radio artists will appear in "I Come to Sing," a musical and interpretive presentation of American ballads, at the last university summer lecture Friday. The program will begin at 8 p.m. south of the Iowa Union. Studs Terkel (left) will narrate and Win Stracke, Big Bronzy and Lawrence Lane will sing.

Radio Artists to Present American Ballads

"I Come For to Sing," a musical and interpretive presentation of American ballads will conclude the summer session lecture series Friday. The program will begin at 8 p.m. on the campus south of the Iowa Union or, in case of rain, in Macbride auditorium.

Prof. M. Willard Lampe, chairman of summer lecture series committee, announced the program yesterday.

Four artists, Win Stracke, Big Bill Bronzy, Lawrence Lane and Studs Terkel will appear in "I Come For to Sing" which represents a new approach to the art of folk ballads. Three of the four artists will sing from three completely isolated cultures with narration stressing organic rather than historic continuity.

Win Stracke, a bass balladeer, has sung over many of the major radio networks. He was star of "Hymns of All Churches," "Chicago Theater of the Air," and "Democracy U.S.A." Stracke was a featured singer at the University of Illinois folk music festival. He also starred at a folk music concert of the Renaissance society, University of Chicago.

Big Bill Bronzy, baritone and blues singer, is a Columbia recording artist, having produced 260 records of his own composition. He starred at the Carnegie hall "Spiritual To Swing" concert, his "Plow Hand Blues," "Just a Dream," and "White, Black and Brown" are among his top-selling records.

Lawrence Lane, tenor balladeer, is a singer of old English ballads with a special interest in ancient Scotch and Irish tunes. He was a soloist with the Great Lakes choir whose concerts were broadcast over many radio networks and overseas during the war.

Studs Terkel, narrator, is the curator of the Wax Museum, a radio program specializing in folk music of America. Terkel serves as the conductor of the "Hot Plate," a column in the Sunday Chicago Sun-Times, dealing with jazz and folk music. He was narrator of the University of Illinois folk music festival and of the Renaissance society folk music concert, University of Chicago.

'Missouri Waltz' Gets Title at Local Dance

Iowa City was the place where the "Missouri Waltz" was named, according to a recent New Yorker magazine article.

John Valentine Eppel, a musician who often played for dances in Iowa City, wrote the waltz in 1912 and named it at a dance here.

While an employe of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, Eppel led a "scrub" dance orchestra in his spare time, the magazine said. He played the violin and was the only man in the band who could read music.

Eppel hit on the tune during a stroll in the country, and taught his orchestra to play it. At a dance in Iowa City some college students asked him the name of the song.

He assumed for some reason they were from Missouri, the magazine said, and replied offhand that it was the "Missouri Waltz."

In 1914 the song came to the attention of Frederick Knight Logan, well-known composer and director of musical shows from Oskaleson, who publicized it.

Relatives of Eppel still live in Iowa City. Two of his cousins are Mrs. Clara Slavata, 430 N. Van Buren street, and Mrs. Helen Graf, 418 N. Van Buren street.

Eppel died several years ago but his son Darrel, who lives in California, still receives royalties from the song. Ray J. Slavata, 424 N. Van Buren street, said yesterday.

He said Eppel lived at Boone, and his orchestra played at university dances and at the old varsity dance hall when it was operated by Guy Ogle, 1110 E. Court street.

Slavata said that as far as the family knows, the "Waltz" was the only song Eppel ever composed.

Economy is Also a Cadillac Word!

OVER THE YEARS, there has come into being what amounts virtually to a Cadillac vocabulary.

There are literally scores of words which, applied to automobiles, call Cadillac almost instantly to mind.

Few can hear such words as "Character," "Prestige," "Quality," "Craftsmanship," "Precision," "Distinction"—and a host of others—without associating them with Cadillac.

But there is one potent word which applies with equal emphasis to Cadillac—but which motorists, in the past, have not so readily associated with the car. That word is Economy.

With its marvelously efficient new high-compression engine, the 1949 Cadillac delivers gasoline mileage which actually approaches that of the popular low-priced cars. It is almost unbelievable for a car so large and luxurious.

And, of course, Cadillac dependability and long life have become traditional. In fact, the full life-span of a Cadillac has never been accurately measured.

Yes, "Economy" is also a Cadillac word and belongs in the Cadillac vocabulary.

Have you inspected and driven a 1949 Cadillac? If not, you owe it to yourself to do so—for it is truly a revelation in what a motor car can be and do.

You are most welcome to visit our showrooms.

Winston Churchill: A Fallen God

Another modern god has slipped from his pedestal. Winston Churchill, head of Great Britain's wartime government, made two speeches recently which seem to indicate that he has stooped to save face.

During the war, the sight of Churchill making the V-for-victory symbol with two fingers of one hand, and holding the ever-present cigar in the other hand, brought to mind such characteristics as brave, determined, fearless, honest, self-sacrificing and capable.

His most recent actions show that he may have lost all the glittering adjectives — except that he is still capable.

Churchill is a capable orator and a capable politician. In a speech before the English house of commons Thursday, Churchill tried to lay most of the blame for the present German troubles at the grave of the late President Roosevelt.

The unconditional surrender policy for Germany, Italy and Japan, which was announced after the Casablanca conference in 1943, was made, according to Churchill "without consultation from me."

"It was not the idea I had formed in my own mind," Churchill said. "But working in a great alliance with loyal and powerful friends across the ocean, we had to accommodate ourselves."

This bit of Churchill prose saved the former prime minister from the anger of any of those "loyal and powerful friends" who may still be alive, and placed the blame on a dead man.

It's unfortunate that there is no concrete evidence to verify or debunk Churchill's statements about the unconditional surrender policy.

Whatever Churchill's motives for shifting the blame, it is a sad thing to see him climb down from the pedestal on which he stood during the lean years of the early 40's.

Economics of Planned Inflation —

Accompanied by an amazing spectacle of ballyhoo, the business cycle has slipped downward in recent months and the value of the dollar has inched upward.

Just how far curves were slipping and dollar values were climbing was the big question. Late last week, the labor department's statisticians came up with an answer. Since 1948, the dollar gained 2 cents in value and, in terms of the 1939 dollar, could now buy 59 cents worth of goods.

That certainly doesn't sound like a serious slump. There are still other hints that the pessimists have miscalculated in their estimation of business conditions.

A recent federal reserve board survey showed that as many as 5.1-million persons intend to buy cars this year — that's more buyers than last year.

Further, twice as many people are in the television market than a year ago. Potential home buyers — a million of them — outstrip the number of homes that can be built this year. And although furniture, household appliances and similar products are satisfying all comers, sales have slipped only slightly.

Said the FRB: "The present situation would appear to highlight the need for more aggressive merchandising programs on the part of many manufacturers, distributors and retailers to tap latent consumer demand."

Other economic crystal-ball gazers claim the nation's consumers have plenty of purchasing power but are holding back for further price declines.

It is becoming increasingly clear that the price level will not be allowed to slip to 1939 levels, when the dollar was worth 100 cents. That great a drop would be considered a major depression today. Skirting complicated economic lingo, the present situation can be regarded as a crevice in the peak of the business cycle curve. It is not the other side of the divide, the slope that plunges straight down.

The government is working night and day to keep the economy inflationary. Credit curbs are relaxed; public works and other "pump primers" are dusted off; deficit financing is projected.

Since it's politically popular, we are destined to live in an era of planned inflation for some time to come. Members of the administration claim it's simple to put a saddle on the bucking economic steed. We'll soon know.

Temporal, Spiritual Mixture —

The letter exchange between Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt brings into sharp focus the conflict between temporal and spiritual matters.

Things started June 23 when Mrs. Roosevelt, in her column, "My Day," said that it would be unwise to use tax money to support parochial schools.

Friday, Cardinal Spellman issued a statement in which he charged Mrs. Roosevelt with "bigotry" and an "anti-Catholic attitude."

Yesterday Mrs. Roosevelt replied that she "has no ill feeling toward any religion or towards any people of high or low estate because they belong to any religious group." As further proof, she pointed to her active support of the late Alfred E. Smith, a Catholic, in all his political campaigns.

The controversy centers around the Barden bill, which Cardinal Spellman opposes and Mrs. Roosevelt supports. The bill would prohibit the use of any federal revenue for aid to any schools that are not government-subsidized.

Actually, it's unfortunate that Cardinal Spellman entered the conflict. He should have realized that separation of church and state is traditional within the United States and for good reason.

A look at Europe in the Middle Ages would prove that the church harmed itself during the Spanish Inquisition and other incidents that mixed temporal with spiritual issues.

If parochial schools received federal aid, they would be forced to give up much of their independence. The government might decide to select the curriculum of private schools — or any number of government controls could be exerted.

The effectiveness of private school education would be lessened if the government were able to jockey into a position of control in parochial schools.

Boys Will Be Boys —

The Japanese Bible market has been cornered by a group of boys who have obtained many of the 2.5-million Bibles which have reached Japan since the end of the war.

The boys have sold them at greatly inflated prices, Japanese churchmen report. The inevitable question: Is a black market involving Bible sales really black — or is it white?

Interpreting the News —

Weak Germany Sought

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(P) Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the recommendations of the American Friends Service committee report on means of seeking peace with Russia would threaten the operation of the European recovery program.

That is the suggestion for turning distribution and allocation of coal and steel from the Ruhr over to the United Nations economic commission for Europe, in which Russia has a voice.

The economic commission, as the report points out, has been playing an important and increasingly effective role in this field throughout Europe. It has contributed to revival of "non-military" trade between east and west.

The Quakers are advocating the United States encourage closer cooperation between the economic cooperation administration and the U.N. commission in preparation for the time when the Marshall plan shall end.

Which is all well and good. So is the report's tacit acceptance of the Marshall plan, although the tie-up between ECA and the American ban on exports of strategic materials to eastern Europe is condemned.

The official American idea is that, while this ban does interfere with desirable trade, it is a price which must be paid in the cold war — a compromise between economic needs and political pressures.

But when it comes to giving Russia a voice in the Ruhr, the Marshall plan is endangered in direct ratio to the role which Ruhr production plays in the recovery program.

(There is a question, too, whether establishment of a new point of east-west conflict is good for any U.N. agency now.)

Even among the allies, the amount of Ruhr production and the manner which it is allocated is a ticklish matter.

The materials are needed. But Britain wants no formation of a German trade pattern which interferes with her own future hopes.

France wants to supplant the Ruhr, as far as possible, as the key productive area of Europe. And French authorities say, almost without exception, they will fight to the last ditch to see to it that German steel production never again exceeds their own. With them, it is a direct military matter.

The Quaker report, of course, does not recommend abolition of the allied control of Ruhr production.

But the matter of production quickly becomes involved in the solution of allocation problems, since they go directly back to the availability of supplies. And Russia is sworn to do everything she can to thwart the purpose of the Marshall plan.

Coupled with the peace report's recommendation for "neutralization" of Germany, giving both east and west non-discriminatory access to her industrial output, this recommendation would interfere with allied control of an important weapon in the cold war.

The Quakers, of course, are suggesting merely these things be tried as part of a broad scale search for peace, and with the realization that such steps could be taken only within a time-limited movement toward full settlement of east-west problems.

Unfortunately, many such individual steps cannot be taken because the goal is not truly in sight.

(This is the fourth of a series of articles on the Quaker foreign policy suggestions. Tomorrow, bolstering the United Nations.)

Kathleen Babich Has Girl; Mother Happy

MILWAUKEE — Kathleen Birmingham Babich, 18, bride of the youth convicted of slaying her younger sister, has borne him a six-pound, nine ounce daughter, her physician disclosed yesterday.

Mrs. Katherine Birmingham, Kathleen's mother, said she was happy over the birth and especially because the baby was a girl. "I've been praying for a girl," she said.

United States coal reserves of some three trillion tons are about half the world's known supply. Coal reserves are believed sufficient to meet demands for several hundred years, "including the production of the total oil demand from coal."

Known petroleum reserves are estimated at about 20 billion barrels. In one coal-producing state,

TO THE EDITOR:

It is easy to see that The Daily Iowan is no different than any other American newspaper. Anything for a drastic headline. Kill the Communists... down with communism... run 'em out of the country... out of the world.

Remember the story Saturday by Ken Rossman? The headline read, "Flees from Communists Twice in 31 Years." The first paragraph, "Tears came to the eyes of a White Russian woman yesterday as she spoke of the terroristic methods used by the Communist party in Russia in suppressing religion."

That's fine, except after reading the story I still didn't know what the terroristic methods were. The whole story is about a Mrs. Olga Butler and tells only of her experiences in Shanghai under the Japanese... how her husband was sent to a concentration camp, etc.

Sure, she felt the Communists twice... Leningrad in 1919 and Shanghai in 1949. But she left those two cities before the Communists arrived. Where is her eye-witness account of terroristic methods?

Mrs. Butler says her family were all monarchists. That's fine. That's the safest way to stay out of the newspapers these days. Apparently, she approves of terrorism under the Czar but not under the Soviets.

I am not disputing Mrs. Butler's claims; what I am complaining about is the way you and other newspapers twist stories to suit some funny idea you have of what the American people want to read.

I'm still wondering where you got the material for the headline and first paragraph in Rossman's story. Why did she say it? What did she say about it? What does she know about it? No wonder there are lots of Americans in this country who are violently anti-American against newspapers and the way they give us the news.

OIL SHALE RESERVE — Some processing retorts in a government demonstration plant near Rifle, Colo.

By the Central Press

WASHINGTON—How long will our petroleum products continue to supply fuel for homes, ships, automobiles, airplanes and hundreds of industrial uses?

What is being done in America to supplement natural oil reserves and assure us of future supplies of the oil so vital to our civilization?

These are important questions on the natural resources front, especially when you realize that world demand for oil is now nearly 10 million barrels a day, and constantly increasing.

Look around you and consider all the uses being made of petroleum products. The farmer runs his tractor to harvest his wheat or cultivate his crops, and sometimes he uses an oil-burning generator for his electric plant.

About 98 percent of new locomotives ordered by railroads are oil-burning types. And how many homes can you count that have changed from hard fuels to oil to eliminate the irksome task of shoveling coal and handling dirty ashes?

In the face of this increased dependence on oil, the hard facts are that new oil discoveries in the United States are becoming more and more difficult.

WHAT, THEN, can be done about this situation?

Synthetic liquid fuels appear to be the most promising answer. They are not yet in commercial production in the United States, but elaborate experiments are being conducted at demonstration plants of the bureau of mines in Missouri and Colorado.

Dr. W. C. Schroeder, bureau of mines synthetic fuels chief, will tell delegates to the United Nations scientific conference on the conservation and utilization of resources, when its three-week session opens Aug. 17 at Lake Success, about synthetic fuels production in the United States.

Natural gas, coal and oil shale are three raw materials from which synthetic fuels are now being produced experimentally.

Natural gas reserves are estimated at 170 trillion cubic feet. It is believed that if 25 or 30 trillion cubic feet are utilized for oil production they would yield between two and three billion barrels. Natural gas is probably the least promising, however, of the synthetic oil materials.

Known petroleum reserves are estimated at about 20 billion barrels. In one coal-producing state, however, it was estimated recently that 60 synthetic fuel plants operating in only part of the state might produce 25 billion barrels of oil.

OIL SHALE reserves are known to be large. They have not been thoroughly explored. Those in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah are the largest and richest yet discovered. Recoverable oil from these is estimated at more than 200 billion barrels, or nearly 10 times more than petroleum reserves.

Oil and water do mix, however, in consideration of extracting oil from oil shale, for one of the main problems in dry western states is to find enough water available for community use and for operation of necessary plants.

Army engineers are now undertaking a national survey of raw materials resources for future development of domestic synthetic fuels. The department of interior's bureau of mines is expanding its demonstration plants, near Rifle, Colo., and Louisiana, Mo., and its officials are optimistic over results of experiments.

Great progress has been made since World War II, according to bureau of mines officials, in the Fischer-Tropsch, coal hydrogenation, and retort processes used in producing oil from natural gas, coal and oil shale.

When Julius A. Krug, secretary of the interior, dedicated a coal-to-oil demonstration plant at Louisiana, Mo., a few weeks ago, he expressed these conclusions after three years as government administrator responsible for the synthetic fuels program:

"FIRST, we have shown that liquid fuels can be made out of coal at a price not too greatly above oil prices, and oil shale at competitive prices...

"Second, the vast oil shale and coal of the nation can now be accepted as part of our liquid fuel reserve thus enormously expanding our known reserves of liquid fuels.

"Third, we have already greatly improved the original foreign processes for making oil from coal and can expect still further economies with full scale commercial production."

Known reserves of raw materials for synthetic liquid fuels are believed to be large enough, in the opinion of Schroeder, to "meet all our needs for centuries."

This is no excuse for complacency, however, for a synthetic fuels industry has not yet been developed in this nation.

Rich petroleum reserves are known to exist, of course, in other parts of the world. In the Middle East, for example, proved reserves, although largely undeveloped, are nearly half again greater than those of the United States.

Secretary Krug gave an impetus to the development of synthetic fuels, however, when he warned recently that foreign oil "is no sure oil in time of war." Synthetic plants, he added, may become an important part of our program of national defense.

Parole Board Deadlocked In Leopold Case

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) — The Illinois parole board was reported deadlocked yesterday over the question of reducing the prison sentence of Nathan Leopold, notorious "thrill" slayer of the 20's.

Leopold is serving concurrent terms of life and 99 years for the 1934 murder of 14-year-old Bobby Franks of Chicago. Richard Loeb, convicted with Leopold in one of the nation's most sensational crime cases, is dead.

The convict sought a reduced sentence because of his participation as a "guinea pig" in wartime malaria experiments.

Parole Board Chairman William J. Hunter said only that the board has not reached a decision and probably will not for "at least four to six weeks."

However, it was learned that the five-man board is split on the question, with two favoring reduction of Leopold's sentence, two opposing and one reserving judgment.

Leopold, then a brilliant young student who admitted trying to commit a perfect crime, was sentenced under a court admonition that he never be paroled.

The parole board earlier ruled, however, that he could be paroled when his minimum time is up, which would be five years from now. If Leopold is given a reduced sentence, he would be eligible for parole Sept. 11.

Leopold, then a brilliant young student who admitted trying to commit a perfect crime, was sentenced under a court admonition that he never be paroled.

Gas, Electric Users To Get Budget Plan

A budget plan which was discontinued during the war will be available for customers of the Iowa - Illinois Gas and Electric company on the date of the August billing, District Manager Robert Lind said yesterday.

Customers will be able to spread the payment of charges for gas and electric service used during the heating season evenly over a 10-month period. The customer's monthly payment will amount to one-tenth of the total estimated bill beginning with the August billing and ending with the May billing. Any differences between estimated and actual bills will be adjusted on the June bill.

Gas heat users wishing to use the plan were asked to contact the company office before the date on which their August bill is rendered.

Eight Polio Patients Enter Active Ward

Eight more polio patients, five from Dubuque county, were admitted to University hospitals over the weekend, bringing the total number of "active" patients at the hospitals to 22.

Jane Utne, 15 months, and her brother, Eldon, 8, children of Alfred Utne, Dubuque, were listed as "active" yesterday. Both were reported in "good" condition by hospital officials.

Others admitted to the "active" ward yesterday were Beverly Flurry, 1, 1-2, daughter of James Flurry, Dubuque; Ruth Paulsen, 2-year-old daughter of Ernest Paulsen, Iowa Falls, and John Christensen, 5, son of Soren Christensen, Mason City.

Also James Lakeman, 5, son of Robert Lakeman, Dubuque; William Smith, 18, son of Harry Smith, Iowa Falls, and George Schmitt, 13-year-old son of Mike Schmitt, Peosta.

The Paulsen girl was in "good" condition; the condition of the others was described as "fair."

Two patients were reported transferred to the "inactive" lists yesterday. They were Ronald Tjalling, 6, Geneva, admitted July 13, and Sylvia Courtney, 9, Victor, admitted July 15.

Minnesota's Polio Death Toll Rises to Fifteen

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's 1949 death toll from poliomyelitis rose to 15 yesterday with the death of a five-year-old Fillmore county girl at university hospitals.

Eleven new cases yesterday and 12 Saturday brought the total number of cases to 266, 181 of them in July.

Yesterday's reports included two cases from Minneapolis, two each from Freeborn, Grant and Murray counties and one each from Stearns, Cottonwood and Winona counties.

Married Housing Gets DDT for 'Fly-Proofing'

Work started yesterday in SUI married student housing areas to repair and "make fly proof" all area garbage houses. The project is expected to be completed in several days.

J. Robert Cotter, manager of SUI married student housing, said the garbage houses are sprayed with DDT every other week and garbage cans are cleaned weekly as part of an effort to keep down the number of flies in the housing areas.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF
 HERE are a few facts on sports which I gleaned from a hasty thumbing through the pages of Frank G. Menke's revised Encyclopedia of Sports, which can answer about four million questions on 118 different games played in America.

The first college football game took place in New Brunswick, N.J., in 1869, with Rutgers beating Princeton, 6 goals to 4. Rutgers didn't repeat the victory until Nov. 5, 1938! . . . Some of the Princeton spectators tried to intimidate the sons of Rutgers by a blood-curdling yell they had used themselves as a battle-cry in the Civil War. Thus was born the college cheer . . . Golf didn't really take hold in America until 1913 when a former caddy, Francis Ouimet, defeated England's best, Harry Vardon and Ed Ray, in the finals of the U.S.A. Open. There are now 4,817 golf courses in the United States, as compared to 2,500 in all the rest of the world. . . . Man O'War was beaten just once in his entire racing career. The horse that accomplished the feat bore the appropriate name of Upset.

Banker Held In $50-Million Numbers Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — Police moved in on a $50-million-a-year gambling ring yesterday and arrested 10 persons, including a Cincinnati banking official who allegedly rigged the figures of a reputable financial institution to gyp bettors.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced the arrest of Dennison Doble, secretary of the Cincinnati clearing house; Anthony Strollo, alias Tony Bender, one of the top underworld figures in the east, and eight others.

Hogan said the policy or "numbers" ring was "the biggest in existence" and made "fantastic profits" by rigging the daily figures of the Cincinnati clearing house.

He said Doble admitted rigging the total figures of the clearing house, an institution where representatives of the city's banks meet each day and balance or clear checks drawn against each other.

Hogan said that Augustus Marchetti, assistant district attorney, had reported from Cincinnati that Doble was under arrest and had admitted rigging the clearing house figures.

(In Cincinnati, an official of the Hamilton county prosecutor's office said that Doble had been subpoenaed to appear before the New York grand jury in connection with the lottery ring. Thomas Stueve, head of the criminal division of the prosecutor's office, said that "as far as I know no criminal charge has been filed against Doble, at least in Hamilton county.")

In the policy or numbers game, most popular in the slums and among New York's foreign born, a player picks three numbers. The payoff is based on the 2nd and 3rd figures from bond sales up to noon in New York and on the 2nd digit in the Cincinnati clearing house figures.

The winning number yesterday would have been 765. The bond sales were 2,760,000. The Cincinnati figures were $45-million.

Thus, taking the 2nd and 3rd figures from the bond sales, 7 and 6, and the 2nd figure from the bank clearings, 5, the winning number would be 765. Numbers can be purchased from one cent up. Winners pay 500 to 1, but the odds against winning, even if the figures are not rigged, are said to be upwards of 2,500 to 1.

In addition to Doble and Strollo, eight persons were arrested in the New York Metropolitan area, five in New York and three in New Jersey.

They included: William Tiplitz, 48, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Zwillman, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Levinson, all arrested in Newark. Mrs. Levinson is a sister of Zwillman. Hogan would not reveal the names of the others arrested, but he said three were employed by the New York Journal-American.

Strollo was arrested in Cliffside, N.J. He will be held overnight in Cliffside and appear in Bergen county court today for arguments on bail.

Strollo was arrested on a New York warrant charging him with conspiracy and conspiracy to contrive a lottery.

The ring was smashed, Hogan said, with the arrest of Tiplitz in a Newark phone booth and a raid on a swank Newark home owned by the Zwillman's which served as the ring's main office. The rigging worked this way, the district attorney explained. Tiplitz would go to the office of Kean, Taylor and company, a brokerage house in Newark with a branch on Wall street, and get the noon bond figures.

He then would phone Zwillman at the ring's headquarters and give him these figures, Hogan said. Zwillman would make a quick check of his books and determine the number with the smallest payoff. Zwillman then would telephone this number to a member of the gang in New York, who would relay it to Cincinnati in code. This then would be the number announced by the clearing house, Hogan said.

British to Discuss New Strike Threat

LONDON (AP) — The British cabinet met yesterday to discuss the threats of new railway and mine strikes as 15,000 workers on the London docks streamed back to their jobs after a 26-day stoppage.

The cabinet also was expected to discuss effects of the dock tie up and decide whether to revoke the emergency powers by which soldiers and sailors unloaded strikebound ships where work stoppage had paralyzed the great London port.

The powerful national union of railwaymen threatened a slow-down strike on Britain's nationalized railways and a specialist union whose members operate most of Britain's mine elevators and pumps served notice for a strike Aug. 15 unless new wage demands are met.

Governor Arrives at Dam Site

(Daily Iowan photo by Wayne Goltz) IOWA'S GOVERNOR, WILLIAM S. BEARDSLEY, was greeted by Rep. Thomas E. Martin, Iowa City, and construction company officials upon his arrival at the Coralville dam site four miles north of Iowa City. Beardsley (center) and Martin (right) took part in dedication ceremonies yesterday afternoon. (See story on page 1.)

Curiosity Began Study Of Chinese Language

Chinese calligraphy is as profound as its culture, Mrs. Spencer McCrae, 112 E. Benton, said after studying the foreign writing for three months.

"But learning Chinese for ordinary speech and writing is not as difficult as my friends said it would be," she said.

Mrs. McCrae began studying the foreign language because she was "very curious about zig-zag strokes of the Chinese calligraphy when I first saw my Chinese friends write to their folks at home."

With the help of Kitty Kao, G. Peiping, China, Mrs. McCrae has been learning to hold a pen-brush and to write what she described as "grass-like" characters. Kitty stayed at the McCrae home.

Since April Mrs. McCrae has been copying simple words that her friends prepared for her. Gradually, the foreign language is becoming familiar to her. She now can copy words like "America," "China," "democracy," her own name and simpler characters.

"To hold a pen-brush properly was just as difficult as to use chopsticks," she said. It looks simple, but it takes time to clamp the bamboo pen-holder vertically.

Mrs. McCrae said that with the help of her Chinese friends she succeeded in obtaining a pen-brush, a piece of solid ink, paper and an ink slab which, according to the Chinese, are collectively known as the "four precious things in a scholar's room."

She said stories about ancient Chinese calligraphers who tried various ways of writing beautiful characters are "very interesting" to her. She told of one who was said to have suspended his wrist with a rope hung from the ceiling in order to withstand the strain in practicing day and night.

"I can't imagine how the Chinese can possibly read the minute characters in Chinese newspapers," she said.

(Daily Iowan Photo by Bill Cheng) WRITING HER NAME IN CHINESE is Mrs. Spencer McCrae, 112 E. Benton. She started copying the Chinese figures three months ago when she was curious at seeing a Chinese friend write "zig-zag strokes" in a letter home. Mrs. McCrae now can copy words like "America," "China" and "democracy."
