Justice Kadlec Resigns; Audit Shows Shortage in Accounts

Justice of the Peace J. M. Kadlec resigned yesterday following a recent state audit which showed a shortage of about $1,900 in his accounts.

State Attorney General Robert L. Larson, who arrived here Tuesday to investigate the matter, said the shortages began last year.

Larson said the state "suggested" that Kadlec resign his position. He added that the law requires the matter be submitted to grand jury action.

Kadlec, who served as justice for 14 years, is a former county recorder. He was last elected as justice of the peace last November and would have held the office until Jan. 1, 1951.

J. E. Pechman, chairman of the county board of supervisors whose duty it is to appoint a successor to Kadlec, said yesterday the group will not act immediately to accept the resignation and to appoint a new justice.

One application has been received from Attorney Shirley Porter, but Pechman said that the board would await more applications before making an appointment.

Hoover Hits Collectivism In Address

PALO ALTO, CALIF. (AP) — Herbert Hoover declared yesterday that "through government spending and taxes our nation is blissfully driving down the back road" to collectivism and is "on the last mile."

The only living former president said on his 75th birthday that while "we have not had a great socialization of property" the result was being achieved by government spending of the peoples' savings.

Hoover spoke to 10,000 persons at Stanford university at ceremonies honoring him on his birthday. In his address he lashed out at new federal and state proposals for spending taxes.

"Along this road of spending," Hoover said, "the government either takes over, which is socialism, or dictates institutional and economic life, which is fascism."

"The American mind is troubled by the growth of collectivism throughout the world."

"But there is a considerable group of fuzzy-minded people who are engineering a compromise with all these European inventions. They fail to realize that our American system has grown away from the systems of Europe for 250 years. They have the foolish notion that a collectivist economy can at the same time preserve personal liberty and constitutional government."

At West Branch ...

Former President Herbert Hoover wasn't there to celebrate with them, but residents of his hometown, West Branch, turned out to honor him on his 75th birthday anyway.

Despite rain which dampened proceedings, between 75 and 100 persons attended an informal picnic in the Hoover Birthplace park.

Byron S. Hollinshead, president of Coe college, spoke briefly, lauding Mr. Hoover, who addressed the picnic by radio from Stanford university in California.

The picnic was sponsored by the Hoover Birthplace society.

Senate Leaders to Blast DP Bill from Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican senate leaders agreed yesterday to try to blast a house-approved displaced persons bill out of the senate judiciary committee.

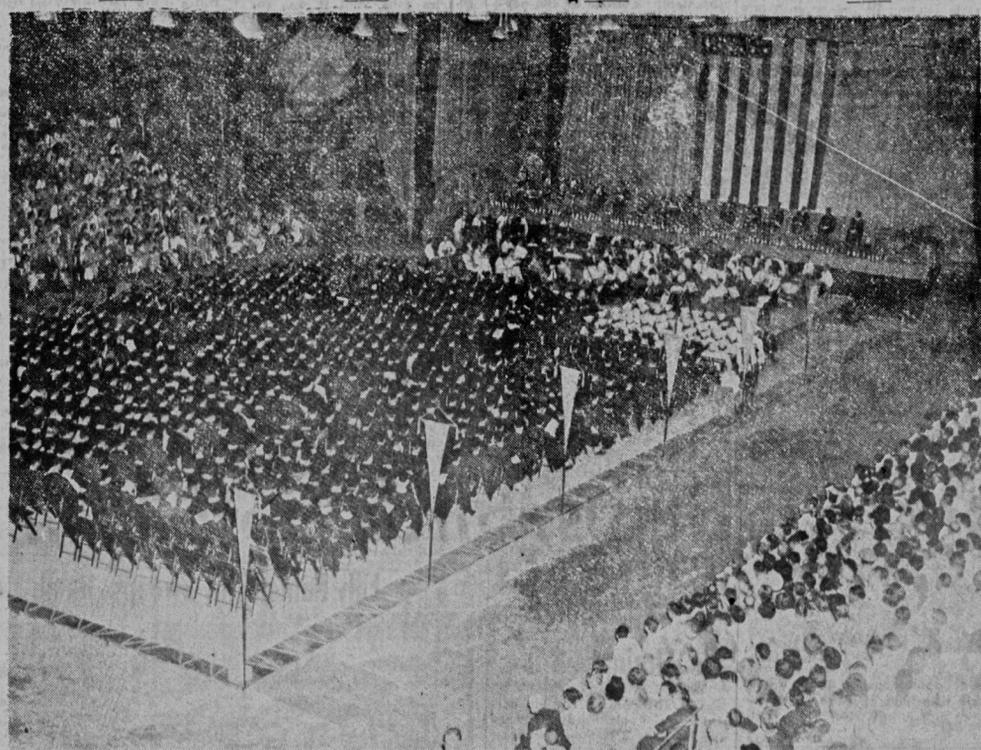

Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, said he and five other Democrats will sign a petition to take the bill away from the committee.

He said Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP policy committee, indicated he and five other Republicans would sign the petition also. Lucas promised it will be brought up for action before congress adjourns.

Lucas said the unusual action will be taken because Chairman Pat McCarran (D-Nev) has refused to pledge any early move by the judiciary committee on the DP bill.

Degrees Go To 872 At Summer Commencement

SUI's Largest Summer Graduating Class Gets Degrees

EIGHT HUNDRED SEVENTY-TWO graduates last night massed before the speaker's stand and heard SUI President Virgil M. Hancher deliver the charge. School of Religion Director M. Willard Lampe gave the invocation. About 5,000 relatives and friends watched the largest summer graduating class in the 101-year history of SUI.

Degree candidates lined the west approach to the fieldhouse as early as 7:15 and began their march into the building at 8 o'clock.

Fifteen Persons Die in Flames As Bus Hits Bridge, Upsets

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) — Fifteen persons met fiery death as a Greyhound bus toppled sideways and burned after hitting a bridge abutment near here early yesterday.

No one aboard the bus escaped unscathed; 12 other passengers and the driver were injured.

The bus was on a run from Indianapolis to Evansville. The accident occurred about 50 miles southwest of Indianapolis.

The bus was rolling along one of the few straight stretches of road in the hill country just north of Bloomington when the accident happened.

Wayne Cranmer, 25, of Indianapolis, the bus driver, gave this version of the accident: "It seemed like the steering gear went out. Either that, or we had a tire blowout. I don't know what happened."

The bus, he said, banged into the three-foot high abutment. The right front wheel was sheared off. The bus, out of control, careened 150 feet down the highway, skidded completely around and finally rolled over on its left side, blocking an emergency exit.

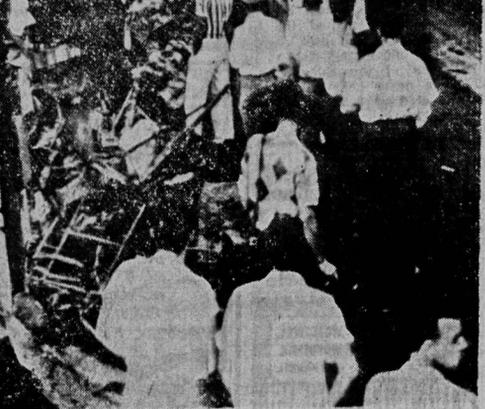

Besides 45 tons of tenting, 2,000 blankets will be shipped, together with 500 pounds of DDT dusting powder, 10 luster bags and 10 bags of calcium hypochloride for water purification.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Eggert were taken to Mercy hospital and later released, police said. Eggert suffered several cuts from his broken glasses and Mrs. Eggert's ankle was injured. Four other occupants of the car escaped injury.

Highway Patrolman J.L. Smith estimated about $300 damage to the car. The accident occurred after Eggert lost control of the car as it hit loose dirt on the side of the highway. The car spun around twice before hitting the embankment head-on. The front end of the car was badly damaged, police said.

Examine Greyhound Bus Wreckage

BURNED WRECKAGE OF A GREYHOUND BUS in which 15 persons met fiery deaths and a dozen others were injured near Bloomington, Ind. yesterday, partially blocks a section of the highway. The bus struck a three-foot bridge abutment, skidded along the road and finally toppled over on its side. Cause of the accident has not been determined, but it was believed a faulty steering gear or a tire blow-out was responsible.

... He Couldn't Get to First Base

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Howard H. Oldfield wept yesterday as he told a divorce judge that his wife, Charlotte, fought with him every day for the past 39 years and wouldn't let him go to ball games.

"I just don't think I have the strength to go on," the gray-haired, 58-year-old deputy county assessor testified tearfully.

Judge Ray Brockmann granted him a divorce and said: "Well, you can go to a baseball game every day in the week now — and shout at the umpire. It will do your ego good."

Hunt Helped Swing Deal On Hotel, Witness Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators were told yesterday that James V. Hunt was paid $86,000 for helping a hotel firm repurchase the Lido Beach hotel for half what it had cost the government.

Hunt received a $5,000 check from the hotel firm while he still was employed by the war assets administration as a $50-a-day consultant, testified Francis D. Flanagan, staff investigator.

The special subcommittee looking to persons who allegedly sold businessmen their "influence" in the government heard also that:

1. Maj. Gen. Harry V. Vaughan, President Truman's army aide, called on Housing Expediter Tighe Woods asking him to "please hurry" the granting of a construction permit to Tanforan racetrack in California. The permit was granted the next day, according to testimony.

2. Albert Lewitt, former secretary to ex-Senator Hawkes (R-NJ), was paid $5,000 by Hunt as a "consultant and adviser." Lewitt said, but seldom gave advice. He denied that the money in reality was a fee for steering Hunt onto the profitable Lido Beach transaction.

3. Lewitt, a registered lobbyist in 1947, sent letters to his paying clients describing fictitious interviews he was supposed to have had with top-ranking leaders of congress.

Two Davenport residents driving here for the SUI commencement were injured about 4 p.m. yesterday when their 1949 Buick sedan smashed into a steep embankment about four miles east of here on highway 6.

French Forces Key to Atlantic Pact: Bradley

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strategy behind President Truman's $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program became clearer yesterday as the military high command disclosed that the bulk of assistance to Europe would go to rearm one powerful France.

General Omar Bradley revealed that a strong French army is at the heart of the administration's plan to build up forces in western Europe.

The idea, he said, is immediate assistance to make our European allies strong enough to delay and hamper any aggressor until the United States could get into action.

Bradley declared the $1,160,000,000 earmarked for European

Hancher Addresses Graduates Of Record SUI Summer Class

A record-breaking number of summer graduates last night received degrees from SUI at ceremonies in the fieldhouse at 8 o'clock.

Topping last year's all time high by 163, the 872 graduates heard SUI President Virgil M. Hancher deliver the charge to the degree candidates.

Hancher declared, "The aims of education must be aimed that can be achieved in terms of individual lives."

He listed five aims of education: developing a healthy body, helping students to be good members of a family, making them acceptable members of society, effective citizens and able to feel at home in their universe and time.

An audience of about 5,000 heard Hancher deliver the charge, which replaced the customary address. A total of 45 states and the District of Columbia were represented by degree candidates. Twelve foreign countries also were represented.

Almost half of the graduating class received advanced degrees, as is often the case in summer sessions when students come back to SUI to take graduate work.

Albanians Charge Frontier Menaced By Greek Forces

LONDON (AP) — Albania, smallest of Russia's satellites, charged yesterday she is being invaded by the Greeks fighting Communist guerrillas along the frontier.

Greek government spokesmen here said "there is certainly no invasion." But they said there had been "big action" against guerrillas for the last four or five days in the Mount Grammos area on the border.

The official Albanian radio at Tirana quoted the Albanian ministry of armed forces as saying fighting had been in progress for four days on a 30-mile front and hundreds of Greek soldiers had been killed or taken prisoner.

Later the Albanian radio charged Greek artillerymen fired 1,000 shells into Albania for five hours late yesterday and wounded two Albanian soldiers. It claimed two Greek planes flew over Albanian soil and one dropped bombs near a village. Both planes were driven off by anti-aircraft fire, the radio said.

At Lake Success it was announced that Albania has sent two appeals to the United Nations to intervene in what it termed a large-scale Greek attack. The Albanian government protested that attacks by Greek infantry, artillery and aircraft "seriously threatens the peace."

The invasion charge coincided with an all-out Greek government offensive against guerrillas in the mountainous Grammos region.

The Greek government reportedly has charged that guerrilla units use Albania as a haven when hard pressed and as a jumping off place for fresh forays into Greece.

Hawaii Takes Over Stevedore Industry

HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. Ingram Stainback ordered seizure of the entire Hawaiian stevedoring industry yesterday as the legislature moved to outlaw picketing in order to break Hawaii's 102-day dock tie-up.

The legislative action came at the request of Stainback after he warned in an address to the joint session that the government would not tolerate any union interruption of its operation of the docks.

The rapid fire developments in the 102-day-old Hawaiian longshore strike were:

1. Stainback requested a joint session of the territorial house and senate to consider strengthening laws against picketing that threatens to disrupt the government's plan to end the tie up of island ports by the CIO international longshoremen's and warehousemen's strike.

2. The territorial senate promptly convened a committee of the whole to consider a bill prohibiting picketing of government activity as a means of stamping out the threat posed by the CIO marine engineers in their announced intention to honor ILWU picket lines.

3. Stainback signed executive orders to take over the five remaining stevedoring companies in Hawaii.

Johnson, who had leaned on the President's desk, grinning broadly, during the signing ceremony, announced at once that he has appointed Gen. Joseph McNarney, chief of the airforce materiel command, Dayton, Ohio, to act as "unity expediter" in his newly-created department of defense, known until now as the national military establishment.

The new law is actually a series of amendments to the original unification act. It makes Johnson almost undisputed boss of the army, navy and airforce by vesting him with "direction, authority and control" over the three services. Until now, he exercised only "general supervision."

Communist Charges Clark 'Witch-Hunter'

WASHINGTON (UP) — A Communist party spokesman last night assailed attorney General Tom C. Clark as a "witch-hunter" and urged the senate to reject his appointment to the supreme court.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, a member of the Communist nationalist committee, testified at the senate judiciary committee held an unusual night session to speed up consideration of Clark's nomination. Prospects that the senate will confirm the appointment by a large majority rose when the senate republican policy committee decided against taking a party stand.

Champion Retains NBA Title; Cut Eye Halts Gus After 7th

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP) — Ezzard Charles, hungry for the acclaim of New York's fight fans, gave a savage exhibition last night as he cut Gus Lesnevich to shreds at Yankee stadium and forced the 34-year-old gaffer to a technical knock out at the end of seven rounds.

sharpshooting Cincinnati Negro vastly bolstered his claim to the world heavyweight championship, which he already held in the 47 states controlled by the National Boxing association.

Ruby Goldstein over to Gus' corner at the end of the seventh and told him the former light-heavyweight champion had enough.

Under New York rules, the fight was scored as ending in the seventh round.

Easy Triumph
Charles, who won the NBA title

by beating Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago just seven weeks ago last night, carried every round except one by wide margins. Gus, making what proved a last, despairing stand, shook the mustached Negro with a couple of solid rights in the sixth, which was scored even on the Associated Press card.

But that was the only really threatening gesture by the popular veteran from Cliffside Park, N.J. Ezzard employed his superior height and reach to step around Gus and cut him down at his leisure. Lesnevich's arms were just too short to clip his elusive rival.

Flushed with confidence when it was over, Charles clarified that he would face any contender chosen by Chairman Eddie Egan of the New York commission within six weeks or two months.

Never Shook Charles
He added what already had been obvious to the ringsiders — that Lesnevich never seriously shook him up.

Egan said Tuesday that if the winner last night were matched with the victor in the on-again, off-again engagement between Lee Savold and Bruce Woodcock in London the New York commission would recognize it was for the world title. New York is the only state which has not recognized Charles as champion.

'Baby, It Was Hot Outside' — Charles

NEW YORK (AP) — "Baby, it was hot out there."

That's the first thing Ezzard Charles had to say when he reached his dressing room, swimming in sweat, last night, after stopping Gus Lesnevich.

"Sure, I'm a little tired," Charles said, "but it was the heat. And those lights! That's the hottest fight I ever had."

"No, he never hurt me. He's got a sharp right. I felt it a couple times, but it didn't hurt."

Lesnevich was in good shape. He never bothered me. Sure, I coasted through the sixth, but it was the heat."

Aside from his cut and swollen eyes, Lesnevich didn't seem to be hurt. He said he never was really dazed or hurt, but just didn't have the old zip.

Gus claimed he hurt Charles a few times, but "he's a good fighter and takes a good punch."

However, Gus said, Charles will have to get in better condition or somebody will take him.

It's Official Now

Tam Climax Set Today As All-American Opens

CHICAGO (AP) — They start grabbing today for the gold-crusted brass ring on Tam O'Shanter's golfing merry-go-round.

It's the "World" championship of golf—a $35,200 grand finale to Promoter George S. May's fairways marathon at Tam which opened last Friday with the $20,000 All-American tourney.

The "World" field of 66 pros will be swinging for a top prize of $10,000, by far the richest winning payoff in golf. Second place returns $7,000, third $5,000, and fourth $3,000 which is about winning swag in the average major tourney.

All the play-for-pay boys obviously will have their minds on business in this one, but the form sheet indicates a struggle between All-American Champion Lloyd Mangrum, keeper of the Tam vault, and Samuel Jackson Snead, All-American runner-up, for the bulging jackpot.

Snead still heads the season's cash-collecting column with $25,893. National Open Champion Cary Middlecott is second with $22,104, but his play was fuzzy over Tam's par-7 layout in the All-American, netting him a meager $180. Mangrum, who now has harvested some $26,000 in three straight meets on his home course, is third for the season with $20,584.

The 72-hole "World" whirl is a four-in-one tournament, with concurrent competition scheduled among a select crowd of 12 amateurs, eight women pros (gunning for $1,100 top prize) and eight feminine amateurs.

Rated by their performances in the All-American which closed Tuesday, Frank Stranahan is favored in the amateur, Louise Suggs in the women's pro party, and Alice Bauer of Los Angeles among the gal amateurs.

Whitely Lockman accounted for the only Giant run with his ninth home run of the year in the first inning.

The Braves also collected only five cafties but jammed all of their blows into the fourth and fifth innings against Monte Kennedy.

Says British Golfers Strong

Claude Harmon, Ex-Masters Winner, Warns British Walker Cuppers No Cinch
By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Claude Harmon thinks the American Walker cup team is anything but a cinch to defeat the British golfers in the match at Mamaroneck, N.Y., next week.

Harmon is the pleasant pro at the Winged Foot club, where the competition will be held. He's the same fellow who won the Master's tournament at Augusta a couple of years ago.

He has played a few practice rounds with the Britons and his respect for them grows round by round.

"If the Americans think they will have it easy they are due for a big surprise," he says. "I know that Frank Stranahan and Willie Turnesa won't be overconfident. They met the Britons in the British amateur, particularly Sam McCready, and know what they can do."

"You know one reason McCready wasn't afraid of the Americans in the British tournament was that he knew what they could do. McCready was stationed at Maxwell field in Alabama for several years during the war. Stranahan was there, too, and they played a lot of golf together."

"They're a fine bunch, these British players, and they mean business. You know their captain, Laddie Lucas, was one of England's biggest heroes during the war. He was in charge of an air squadron of 17 protecting some English town. He was the only survivor. You won't learn anything from him about it, though."

Harmon continued his explanation of the British golf class. "The big difference I see in their play is that they hit the ball higher," he said. "The British greens are hard, just like this table. A low ball won't stick, as it will on our softer greens. They will be pitching right to the pin."

"They play much faster than the average American golfer. They're usually through with a

Look Out for Chisox — Zernial's Coming Back

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Jac Onslow, cheered by the unexpected quick recovery of hard-hitting Rockie Gus Zernial, said yesterday his sixth place Chicago White Sox might well decide the American league pennant race.

"We're out of the running altogether," the Chisox skipper explained, "but we won't be easy pickings for the leaders with Zernial back in a few days."

Yanks Rally to Nip Bosox, 3-2

BOSTON (AP) — The New York Yankees scored three runs in the sixth inning yesterday after being held scoreless on two hits over the first five and went on to edge the Boston Red Sox, 3-2.

The victory, credited to Lefty Ed Lopat who was replaced at the start of the eighth by Southpaw Joe Page, extended the league leaders' margin over Boston to 6 1-2 games.

Lopat, whose record now is 11-5, gave only four hits. The Sox used two doubles for their first run in the opening inning and the last hit off the Yankee starter was Vern Stephens' 28th home run of the year in the sixth.

In their game winning rally before 32,237 spectators, the Yankees hopped on Joe Dobson, who lost his ninth game, for five hits and all their runs.

Payoff blow in this cutburst was a bases loaded, two-run single which Hank Bauer lined sharply off the wall in left.

Chicago went in front with three runs in the sixth to make the score 3-2 and it stayed that way until the ninth.

Cards Crush Reds As Brazle Tosses 5th Straight, 8-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The big bats of the St. Louis Cardinals were clicking in fine fashion last night and Al Brazle was sharp as he turned in his fifth successive victory — 8 to 0 — with the Cincinnati Reds the victims.

But the Brooklyn Dodgers won also, so the Cards and Dodgers stay deadlocked in the red-hot National league race.

There were four doubles and three triples in the Redbird attack. Tommy Glaviano and Stan Musial had one of each. Ron Northey and Joe Garagiola doubled and Chuck Diering had the other three-bagger.

Herman Wehmeier was the first of the five Cincinnati pitchers. He, like Brazle, was trying for a fifth consecutive victory. It was Brazle's first shutout of the season.

The Redbirds got to Wehmeier from the start with three runs in the first inning. Red Glaviano walked, Ems Slaughter singled and Musial and Northey doubled as the entire St. Louis lineup trooped to the plate in that inning.

The Cards added another in the second for the 12,789 fans, two in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Browns Tip Tribe On Kokos' Homer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Outfielder Dick Kokos' ninth inning home run off Bob Lemon won a 5-4 victory for the St. Louis Browns last night over the Cleveland Indians.

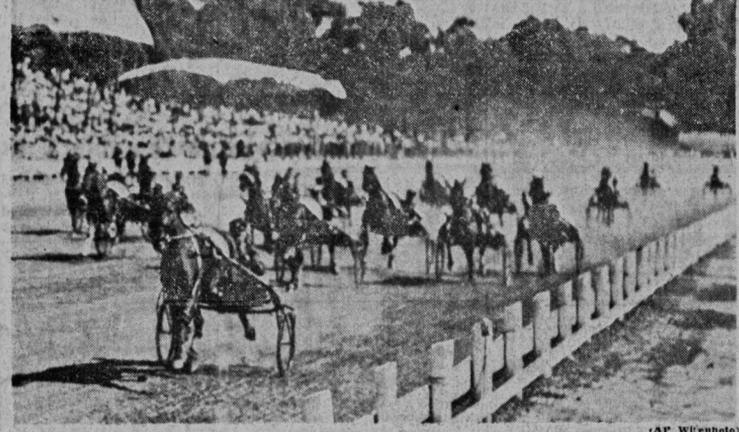

The Tribe went scoreless until the fifth when they tied the game with a four-run rally featuring homers by Lemon and Larry Doby.

The win gave the Browns an even break in their two-game series here, Lemon getting his eighth loss for a 13-8 record.

Lemon yielded three runs in the first inning on four singles and a walk. In the second frame Bob Dillinger tripled to the centerfield fence and scored the fourth Browne run after Ken Keltner caught Dick Kokos' pop foul.

Filly Named Tilly Sweeps Hambletonian Stakes

STRUTTING HER STUFF—Miss Tilly, pulling the lead sulky away from her 17 opponents, crosses the finish line to win the second heat of the Hambletonian stakes at Goshen, N.Y., yesterday. Miss Tilly also captured the opening heat to sweep the 24th running of the rich sulky classic.

Miss Tilly Upset Victor in Hambletonian

By JOHN F. CHANDLER
GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—Miss Tilly, a fancy-stepping filly from Connecticut, trotted the legs off 17 rivals yesterday to capture the $69,791 Hambletonian stake in two blazing heats at Good Time park.

It was the second straight year that the world's premier trotting classic has gone to a horse from the Nutmeg state in consecutive heats. Demon Hanover, a Connecticut-owned colt, won it in 1948. Miss Tilly is owned by Charles W. Phellis of Greenwich, Conn.

With the favored Bangaway finishing far back in both heats, Miss Tilly walloped the bulky field in the initial heat, then came back an hour later and really poured it on.

The bay daughter of Nibble Hanover, took command at the half-mile pole of the first heat and with Driver Fred Egan in the sulky, she finished half a length in front of Volume from the Coldstream Stud, Lexington, Ky.

Then, as the crowd of 20,000 sweltering fans refused to believe she could do it again, Miss Tilly showed them an hour later, winning by about five lengths.

Bangaway, owned by C.M. Saunders, Toledo, had the bad luck to draw 18th post position in the second largest field in the 24 years of the Hambletonian, and he never got into the act.

Favored at 8-5 in the first heat, Bangaway wound up in 12th place.

But the people who frequent the mutual windows thought he'd come back the second time. They established him the betting choice for the second spin around the dusty, triangular one-mile course, making Miss Tilly 3 to 1. She and her stable mate, St. Clair, had been sent off at better than 7 to 1 in heat No. 1.

Miss Tilly, the 1948 two year old trotting champ, hadn't been able to do a thing this year before yesterday.

Miss Tilly's second heat clocking of 2:01 2-5 was the fastest mile for any three-year-old trotter before yesterday.

Robinson's Two-Run Homer in 9th Gives Brooks 7-5 Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jackie Robinson's ninth inning home run with Carl Furillo on base gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies last night.

The Dodgers remained in a tie for first place in the National league's hot pennant chase, since the St. Louis Cardinals belted the Cincinnati Reds, 8-0.

Robinson's homer, his 14th of the season, came with two out off Relief Pitcher Jim Konstanty after the Phils had struck from behind with two runs in the seventh to tie the score.

Furillo paced the Dodgers' 11-hit attack off Ken Heintzelman and Konstanty, connected with four hits, including a ninth-inning double.

Special 3-Week Law Course Taken by 24

Law students short of the resident requirements leading to juris doctor's degrees in the SUI college of law can add another three weeks during a special summer session starting today.

Twenty-four students have enrolled in the session for which no course credit is given. Mrs. Luella Lorenz, secretary to Mason Ladd, dean of the college of law, said that two of the 24 students will complete the required 96-week's residence this summer.

Prof. Clarence Updegraff and Prof. John O'Byrne will conduct the session.

Dunnington Involved In Two-Car Collision

James A. Dunnington, son of Dr. L. L. Dunnington, minister of the Iowa City Methodist church, was involved in a two-car collision Monday at the intersection of Gilbert and Jefferson streets, police said yesterday.

Julian Corbett, 534 Clark street, reported no damage to his car but damage on Dunnington's car was estimated at $200. No injuries were reported.

ENGAGEMENT AND APPROACHING MARRIAGE of Miss Mavis Rose Halvorson to Mr. Otto C. Proehl, son of the Rev. and Mrs. A.C. Proehl, 610 E. Bloomington street, is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Halvorson, Decorah. Miss Halvorson is a graduate of Decorah high school and the SUI college of nursing. Mr. Proehl graduated from City high school and the SUI college of commerce. The wedding will be 7 p.m. Sunday at Canoe Ridge Lutheran church in Decorah.

Prof. Van Dyke Plans Mission to Phillipines

Prof. L. A. Van Dyke, director of University high school, has requested a nine-month leave of absence from SUI for a special educational mission to the Phillipine Islands.

He has been asked to help in the reorganization of the Phillipine secondary school program and also to make recommendations for the establishment of schools and curricula in outlying provincial areas.

His leave will be effective from September through June. The request has been approved by Dean E.T. Peterson of SUI's college of education, but the state board of education has yet to act on it.

According to present plans, Van Dyke, his wife and son, Gardner, 14, will leave Iowa City for Manila Monday.

Van Dyke's services were requested by the Fulbright fellowship committee, a federal group. He is one of five American educators chosen to go to the Phillipines.

The U.S. education foundation in the Phillipines and UNESCO are sponsoring the project.

County GOP to Air Demand on Spangler

Johnson county Republicans will meet at 8 p.m. next Thursday to consider the GOP state central committee's recent request for the resignation of Harrison Spangler, national committeeman from Cedar Rapids.

The open meeting will be held in the Johnson county courthouse, County Committeeman William Morrison said yesterday.

He said the local Republicans will vote for approval or disapproval of the state central committee's action and will present results of the vote to the committee.

Comment here on the matter has been both favorable and unfavorable, he said.

Fisherman's Kit Rivals Milady's Clothes Closet

By EDITH FREY

Women who have long endured men's ridicule of the size, weight, and content of their purses will not overlook the fact that August is open season on fishermen and an ideal time for "operation counterattack."

Observe the familiar drama of the male on the eve of departure for a few days' fishing. An efficient-looking kit with elevators and retractable and extendable things is reverently produced from milady's clothes closet — no garage for storing this article.

The kit is laid open upon the polished surface of the dining room table and a careful inspection of doodads begins while tales of the possibilities of the innocent appearing things are unwound by the yard.

Arranged end to end, the assortment in the kit of one man of modest means was found to reach from the dining room of a small house up the stairs to the second floor and half way back down again.

A swift survey shows reels tucked away in drawstring chambray bags, jars of repulsive strips of pork rind in liquid prescribed for "all game fish," insect repellent, "tackle you can trust," sunburn lotion, "split shot sinkers," long nose pliers, your very own sewing machine oil and screw driver, brightly plumed things that you vaguely think are lures.

The real treasures, dainty delicate things that would look pretty sprinkled over the skirt of a formal, are tucked away in a partitioned lucite box with a slide top that rivals your best compact for charm.

You find that all that came out of the kit won't go back in again. Even so it is difficult for you to lift and its weight doesn't include the 18-inch telescope gill, designed for no less than "Moby Dick," that wouldn't fit in the kit.

A list of articles yet to be purchased lies lying on the table shows one large bass oreno (red and white — that must be to go with that red plume thing you ruminate); one Hawaiian splinner (black and yellow rubber tail); one-half dozen leaders for large hook; one duck tail (black and yellow or all black). The kit, of course, is only a mere appendage to the mountain of tents, duffle bags, boots, rods, cameras and air mattresses that has been accumulating in the living room for several days.

The climax of the drama comes the morning of departure when it becomes apparent that a smart looking collection of things, hitherto not displayed, has been purchased for you.

This discovery elicits a variety of responses that may go something like this, "Oh, I didn't know that I needed a new pistol in a holster," or "how sweet of you to buy me a new light meter," or "a creel is just what I've been wanting."

BILL FREY JR., 372 Chapman avenue, views a sample of the "essential" equipment for any fishing trip. Many of the smaller items came out of one kit, but unless you are a true fisherman who knows how to repack the stuff, better resist the temptation to examine the contents.

Prof. Bartow to Attend Parley

Prof. Edward Bartow of the chemistry department will leave Iowa City Sunday to attend a meeting of the International Chemical Union in Amsterdam.

Bartow is a member of the finance committee of the group which meets from Sept 5 to 10. He will return about Sept. 20.

Members of the U. S. delegation have been selected from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Stanford, Syracuse, SUI and Pittsburgh universities as well as from a few of the largest manufacturing companies and government bureaus.

Bartow said and the chemists will consider the preparation, purification and standards of chemical compounds. In addition, names will be considered for 10 chemical elements.

The SUI professor also will stop in London, Paris and Rotterdam.

Coder Says 2,000 Vets Pre-Register

At least 2,000 veterans have completed pre-registration for the fall semester at SUI, William Coder, director of the veterans service center, said yesterday.

Coder said that although yesterday was the last official day of pre-registration, veterans would still be allowed to pre-register for the next few days.

This registration is only for the information of the veterans administration and not for SUI, Coder said.

A Thumping Success

Drum-Fingered Guests Break Up Seance As Host Loses All Faith in People

NEW YORK (UP) — Vic Perry has invented a game that is a lot more fun than playing charades or 20 questions. He breaks up haunted houses.

Knocking the tar out of a ghost is much easier, he claims, than pinning the tail on the donkey or spinning the bottle. It's not nearly so taxing as tiddley winks or mah-jong, he says.

All you need, according to Perry, is a haunted house, or a house that thinks it is haunted. The rest is up to you, and you don't need a sheet to do it.

Twenty-nine-year-old, 300-pound Perry, a magician since he was 10, claims he's been the third party in eternal triangles composed of men and ectoplasm all over the world. He's scared the living daylight out of ghosts, by posing as a ghost himself.

Perry obligingly gave a demonstration of his ghost-baiting technique at a seance held by occult author Stewart Robb. He got Robb so confused that Robb will never be sure again whether the spirits in his garret are 100 proof.

Sitting in a darkened room with five other persons, Perry knocked on the seance table, thumped a chair, used ventriloquism to throw his voice through a trumpet. Robb was beside himself with joy.

"Oh, good," he declared. "We've made a contact. Someone in this room is psychic. Let's all sing Jingle Bells."

The six perspiring people sang Jingle Bells. Then the trumpet threw itself across the room—or, rather, Perry gave it a heave ho. "The Psychic Research society will hear about this," said Robb, rushing out of the room. All the guests left.

Perry roared. He told the others what he had done. The other five roared. They told him what they had done. Their hands hadn't been idle, either. They, too, had been thumping to beat the band.

"Ah," said Perry. "You see how easy it was."

Robb, when told of the little joke, was not amused.

"Such an abuse of hospitality," he said. "I'll never believe in people again. My faith in spirits goes on."

Six Instructors Quit SUI Botany Posts

Prof. Walter F. Loehwing, head of the SUI botany department, said yesterday six of his instructors have accepted positions at various schools in widely-scattered parts of the country. All six received their Ph.D. degrees at SUI.

Robert E. Burns, botany instructor will go to the University of California, Santa Barbara, for further work in plant physiology. Wayne J. McLirath, an assistant professor in plant physiology, will have a similar position at Texas A & M, College Station, Tex. He will do research work in mineral nutrition.

Wayne C. Hall, assistant professor of botany, will go to the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., where he will work on plant growth and development.

Samuel N. Postlethwait, botany instructor, will go to Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind. For the past two years he has been engaged in research here on the weed killer, 2,4-D. Prior to that, he did the same kind of work at the University of West Virginia. Postlethwait will teach and do additional research at his new post.

Edward C. Sybil Jr., assistant professor of biology, will teach and do research in plant physiology at Notre Dame university, South Bend, Ind.

Herald D. Bennett, assistant professor of biology, will do research on anatomy at the University of West Virginia.

City Park Road to Get Dust-Control Treatment

Calcium chloride will be spread on the ridge road in the northwest part of City park within the next few days in an attempt to settle the dust, Street Commissioner Willard M. Irvin said yesterday.

The calcium chloride compound serves to draw moisture out of the air, pulling the dust with it, Irvin said.

Residents on Templin road adjacent to the west side of the park have complained about the excessive dust caused by heavy traffic through the park.

June Report Shows —

Personal Incomes Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal incomes, the mainstay of consumer buying power, increased in June, the commerce department reported yesterday.

The rise helped push such incomes for the first six months of 1949 to a level 2.6 percent higher than the first half of boom time 1948.

The report estimated that the flow of personal income from all sources reached an annual rate of $213.5-million in June. (This figure was arrived at by taking income for June, adjusting it for seasonal factors, and multiplying by 12.)

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, sentiment among businessmen has become "generally better," Nourse told reporters while calling at the White House with associates to give President Truman a fresh picture of the economic scene.

The White House went ahead with plans for fighting unemployment by concentrating on federal spending in troubled areas.

Also, the Steelman letter set a standard for determining when a section is so troubled by unemployment as to require a transfusion of federal dollars to pep up its economy.

Perhaps more significantly, however, factory payrolls were credited with a slight increase in June after having declined steadily since last September. Wages rose in the non-durable goods industries and steadied in the durable goods lines, the department said.

Dividend payments to investors also were up in June, as were most other sources of personal income — receipts of owners of unincorporated business, net rents received by landlords, and practically everything from paycheck to relief checks going to persons as distinguished from corporations.

This strengthening in consumer buying power, indisputably one of the major bulwarks of the economy, furnished background for a psychological development reported by President Truman's chief economic adviser,

Whether it will even be accepted by the governments as an authoritative adviser remains to be seen.

Since it will deal with an agenda set up by the committee of foreign ministers, it is more akin to a convention than a parliament. It is a place for international straw votes.

The council is a new manifestation of the long-standing campaign for unity and eventual federation of Europe. But so far, no part of national sovereignty has been surrendered into its care. The assembly is not even empowered to discuss immediate federation—or at least that is the view of the committee of ministers in fixing the agenda.

Yet that is the real dream of most of the delegates, whose activity in this field led to their appointments by their countries.

The assembly may seek to put pressure on the ministers to have federation included in the objectives of the council. Adoption of a program is on the agenda, and a program which does not lead toward federation is not likely to satisfy such delegates as Winston Churchill.

The old warrior is at odds with his government. He feels the council should start slowly and feel its way along before striking out for a goal which may be unattainable.

The council is expected to

International Straw Vote

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(AP) Foreign Affairs Analyst

Delegates from 12 nations met yesterday in a council which they hope will become a super-national parliament for Europe.

They met in Strasbourg, where the tides of war have run—eastward, westward, eastward—for centuries.

The council of Europe has been called a parliament, but actually it is only a forum. Its committee of ministers is comprised of formal government officials, guides of national foreign policies, but its members sit as individuals in a consultative assembly which has no legislative authority whatever.

One of the proposals is expected to include establishment of an international court to pass on alleged violations of the human rights code.

The founders of the council are Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Ireland and Italy. The ministers this week admitted Greece and Turkey, and Iceland is expected to come in when its parliament meets in the fall. Western Germany is likely to be included when its government is established.

So far the council is merely another place for argument and consultation. Were it not for its committee of ministers, it would actually be operating at an extremely low level. No matter how inevitable European federation may seem, the step by step difficulties seem almost insurmountable when considered individually.

Three DP's injured in Munich, Germany.

Three Jewish displaced persons were injured yesterday when German police fired into a crowd of 1,000 which had gathered to stage a march on a Munich newspaper.

The DP's were protesting a letter criticizing German Jews which appeared in Sued Deutsche Zeitung (South German newspaper.)

Twenty-two state legislatures have now passed resolutions in favor of a federal world government, according to a survey released recently by George Olmsted, Des Moines insurance executive and president of United World Federalists of Iowa.

Fourteen legislatures have adopted world government resolutions this year: Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Maine, Maryland, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee and Washington.

In all except Tennessee, the legislation was largely the result of the United World Federalists' legislative program.

Eight other state legislatures had taken similar action in previous years: Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Missouri, Rhode Island, Utah and Virginia.

While 14 states adopted world government legislation during 1949, only three legislatures voted down such resolutions: New Mexico, Ohio and Vermont.

Olmsted commented, "This strong support for world government in nearly half of the state legislatures, which are traditionally close to the people, is another indication the American people are not only ready for world government, but are demanding it."

"This demand has already been reflected in congress, where the resolution for world federation (House Concurrent Resolution 64) has now been introduced by 19 senators and 103 representatives."

"The action of six states in calling for a U.S. constitutional amendment to enable America to join a world government is especially significant. When 32 states adopt this measure, congress will be legally obligated, under article V of the constitution, to call a convention to propose the constitutional amendment."

"This simple amendment, permitting the United States to join a world government when an acceptable world constitution is drawn up and approved by congress, is an essential step toward world government."

"I regret that Iowa, because of the state senate's failure to act upon the constitutional amendment resolution which the house adopted by an overwhelming majority missed the opportunity to be one of the first states to strike this blow for world peace."

"However, we expect that the constitutional amendment resolution will be adopted by many more states during 1950 and 1951, and I confidently hope Iowa will be one of those states."

May Call Parliament Session

Parliament may be called into special session to deal with this country's increasingly serious economic position, political quarters believed yesterday.

A sort of climax in the situation is expected when United States, British and Canadian delegates meet in Washington early next month on economic questions.

But anxiety here is becoming acute now because British correspondents stationed in the United States are telling Britons that a serious anti-British wave of sentiment is sweeping the country.

For more than a week, the British correspondents have been pouring in long cablegrams about an allegedly serious surge of criticism in the United States of the British labor government's policies and the country's failure to solve its economic problems.

Because of the anxious situation there is increasing talk of a general election before the government completes a year from now its allotted five years in office.

Government leaders have insisted so far that the Laborites will stick it out for the full term. Conservative newspapers, taking full advantage of the government's predicament, are talking more and more emphatically of the possibility that the government may be forced to call an election this fall.

The latest suggestion is based on the assumption that the United States is tied up with subsidizing the labor government's domestic experiments in welfare and nationalization policies and that it will attach such objectionable conditions to any further aid that the government will have to seek the answer from the voters.

It is in discussing such possibilities as this that political quarters suggest that parliament may be called into session before its scheduled meeting Oct. 18 after the summer recess which started July 23.

In a dispatch which is typical of those in conservative newspapers, Lord Rothermere's Evening News said Tuesday:

"There is mounting fear on the part of British cabinet ministers that stringent American conditions may be attached to helping Britain out of her dollar crisis."

Says Foreign Policy Shouts at Russ, But Carries Small Stick

NEW YORK (AP)—The foreign policy of the United States now seems dangerously close to being one of shout loudly at Russia but carry only a small stick, James P. Warburg of New York said recently.

Warburg, banker, new deal orator and former OWI official, presented his opposition to legislation calling for military aid funds for western Europe in a memorandum to Senators Tom Connally (D-Tex.), Brien McMahon (D-Conn.), Claude Pepper (D-Fla.) and Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

Warburg expressed doubt that the proposed budget of a little more than $1-billion for our north Atlantic pact allies would accomplish its purpose of stopping the Communist army on the European continent until the full force of American military might could be brought to bear.

But he said he was not calling for a larger appropriation. He said the provision of the pact aimed at stopping aggression was valid but that the United States should not commit itself to the strategy it will employ in meeting that aggressor.

Our primary aim, Warburg said, should be strengthening the United Nations and working toward world government on the assumption that Russia does not want war.

A.B. Thomas & Son, route 4, Iowa City, will exhibit Duroc hogs at Iowa State fair's national livestock show Aug. 26 through Sept. 2, according to preliminary entry lists announced this week by exhibition officials.

Whether it will even be accepted by the governments as an authoritative adviser remains to be seen.

Since it will deal with an agenda set up by the committee of foreign ministers, it is more akin to a convention than a parliament. It is a place for international straw votes.

The council of Europe has been called a parliament, but actually it is only a forum. Its committee of ministers is comprised of formal government officials, guides of national foreign policies, but its members sit as individuals in a consultative assembly which has no legislative authority whatever.

One of the proposals is expected to include establishment of an international court to pass on alleged violations of the human rights code.

Lost in the Woods

HELENA, MONT. (AP)—The fight against grasshopper hordes in millions of acres of Montana and Wyoming range and crop lands may take another year to win, officials say.

Threat of the crop-raunching locusts has been crased on 2,695,000 of the most heavily-infested acres of eastern Montana and Wyoming. But billions of the insects on millions of acres which are not so thickly infested are laying eggs along fence rows and dry ditch banks which will hatch new hordes next spring.

Dr. James A. Pepper, Montana state entomologist, estimated there were 6-million additional acres in Montana alone where grasshopper population is large enough to be a crop menace next year.

Hershey Spikes Talk of Feud Over Coralville Dam Location

H. Garland Hershey, chairman of the Iowa Natural Resources council, said yesterday he was in agreement with the army engineers on their placement on the Iowa river of what is now known as the Coralville dam.

When asked about unfavorable comment on the project now under way, Hershey said, "In for a dam on the Iowa river, I relieve the army engineers' cost-benefit ratio (an attempt to balance the cost against the benefits to be gained) worked favorably."

A large problem confronting them, he said, was whether dams that would check soil erosion and aid flood control best should be on the head waters of the Iowa river or on the main stem.

After the decision on this matter was reached, the question arose of where on the main stem to place the dam.

"The quality of the land both above and below the dam was, of course considered," Herhey said.

A large number of acres will be flooded above the dam by the lake, but Hershey emphasized that it will be possible to farm many additional acres except during flood season.

"About 10 years ago, the army engineers started working on the prospective dam on the Iowa river.

They drilled and sent cores of earth into my geological office for examination."

Then, after this preliminary work, the army engineers were required by law to send to the governor of Iowa the proposals for this dam, he said.

"About a year-and-a-half ago, former Gov. Robert D. Blue set up a special committee, on which I served, to study these proposals."

This committee, he said, reported favorably on the project and agreed on the present Turkey creek site rather than the Hoosier creek site located upstream from the present project.

The army engineers had recommended the two dam sites, explained Hershey, but the committee considered the Turkey creek site as the better one because there would be more room for a lake in the scenic, heavily-wooded area in its vicinity.

Hospitals Admit Two New Polio Patients, List Three 'Inactive'

Two new patients were admitted to active polio wards at University hospitals yesterday and three were transferred to the inactive list. The total number of active cases is now 33.

Virgil Eckley, 25, Marion, and James Bates, 16, son of J. E. Bates, Riceville, were admitted yesterday. Both were in "fair" condition, hospital officials said.

John Hartford, 13, Dubuque, was transferred to the inactive list in "good" condition. Bobette Patterson, 5, Muscatine, and Raymond Pope, 26, Ft. Madison, also were put on the inactive list, both in "fair" condition.

Dr. W. D. Paul, associate professor of internal medicine at University hospitals, said yesterday that polio patients from 35 Iowa counties, besides four out-of-state patients, had been admitted to University hospitals this year.

Most of these cases, he said, have been successfully treated and discharged.

Entertainment for the evening was furnished by five vaudeville acts.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN the rising young orchestra conductor, Thomas Scherman, enlisted in the Army, he attempted to organize a band at the induction camp. Volunteers were asked to name the instrument they wanted to play. After he had assorted the applications, Scherman sought out a barrel-chested lad from up-state and told him, "You're the only man in camp who volunteered to play the trumpet. Everybody else seems determined to play a bass drum."

"Well," said the up-stater, "I wouldn't want to be the one to cause you any trouble. Give me a bass drum too!"

When John Nance Garner was vice president, the late and lamented Huey Long once questioned him on a matter of senate procedure. "I'm half for the bill we're discussing and half against it," confessed Long. "What do you think I ought to do?" "Saw yourself in half," suggested Garner. "That's what I think you ought to do anyhow!"

United Speeds Up Air Service West

Inauguration of five-mile-a-minute Mainliner 300 (DC-6) service at Omaha yesterday provides Iowa City with the fastest air service to the Rocky mountains and west coast in its history, according to B.D. McWilliams, United's station manager here.

McWilliams said that through close connections with four-engine flights in Omaha, passengers from here are now able to reach Denver in about four and three-quarter hours and Los Angeles in nine hours.

Passengers leaving Iowa City at 1:50 p.m. (Iowa time) now reach Denver at 4:40 p.m. (Iowa time) and Los Angeles at 11 p.m. (Iowa time).

BEHIND THE SCENES at commencement exercises last night, Dean Stoner, WSUI engineer made sure the program was "on the air." He was located under the stands on the north side of the fieldhouse.

SUI Graduates Its Largest Summer Class...

GRADUATION TIME came to SUI last night as 872 students packed the fieldhouse floor (above) to receive their degrees. Friends and relatives of the graduates were seated in the seats on both sides of the fieldhouse. Last night's graduating class was the largest class in SUI history to receive diplomas at the end of a summer session.

Daily Iowan Photos by Jim Robinson and Roy Barron

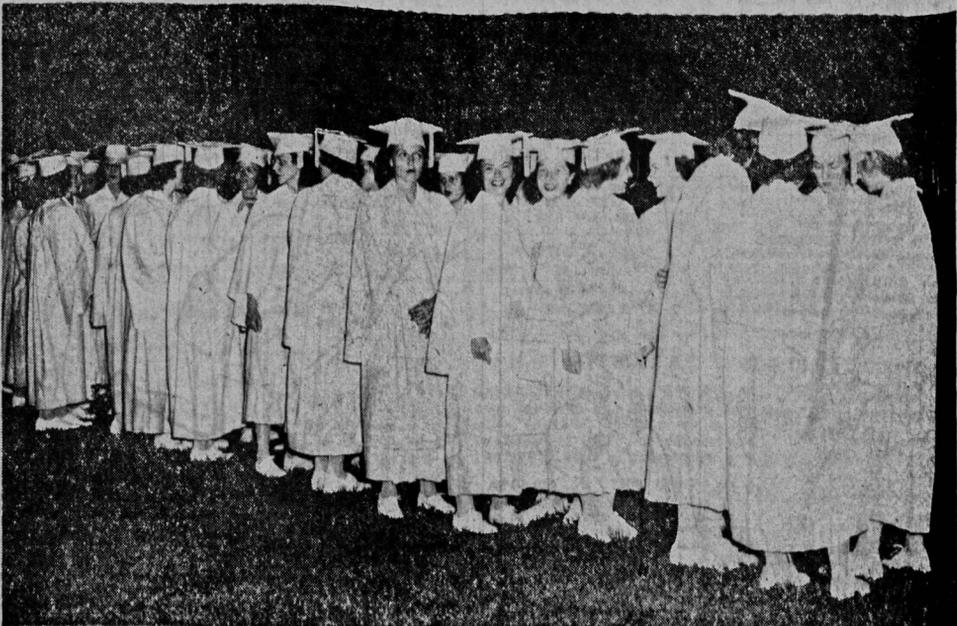

"WE CAME ALL THE WAY back from our four-day honeymoon in Chicago just to get our degrees," giggled Betty Lou Berens, who used to be known on the SUI campus as Betty Lou Ehlke, Hawkeye photographer. She and her husband, Robert Berens, were graduates in ceremonies at the fieldhouse last night. Mrs. Berens got her B.A. and her husband received a B.S. degree.

A FEW MORE minutes to these SUI student nurses about to receive their degrees doesn't matter now. Experts at waiting after several years of college, they are having a get together before lining up to receive their diplomas.
