Says Deep Freezer Shipment To Vaughan Creates 'Mystery'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fleeting mention of the shipment of a deep freezer to Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan created yesterday what Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) called an "aroma of mystery" in the senate investigation of "five percenters."

But President Truman told his news conference the frequent mention of his army aide in the senate probe had not changed his opinion of Vaughan. He made plain that Vaughan was not going to be suspended, as two other generals have been.

A Milwaukee businessman told the senators he sent the freezer to Vaughan. It was paid for, said witness Albert J. Gross, by the Albert Verley company, Chicago perfume manufacturers.

Several other Washingtonians got home freezers paid for by the perfume company, Gross added — and he was stopped at about that point, while senators and staff members buzzed among themselves.

Chairman Clyde Hoey (D-NC) ruled that the special investigating subcommittee didn't know yet whether the freezers were purchases or gifts. He stopped the line of testimony, pending further evidence.

But Mundt, speaking swiftly, already had slipped into the record a remark that it was the "assumption" Vaughan had not paid for his freezer.

Mundt and a fellow Republican, Sen. Joseph McCarthy (Wis) "reluctantly" agreed to halt the questioning, Mundt complained, however, that Hoey's ruling left "an aroma of mystery."

It was not the only mystery. The Verley company, McCarthy recalled, formerly employed John Maragon, the fabulous former bootblack who visits Vaughan at the White House and has been questioned privately by the committee.

Auto Workers Vote 7-1 for Ford Strike In Michigan Plants

DETROIT (AP)—A whopping strike vote yesterday gave the CIO united auto workers a free hand in calling a Ford walk-out.

UAW President Walter Reuther said, however, there would be no immediate strike. Contract talks will continue for a while at least.

In the state-conducted strike vote, Michigan Ford employees rolled up a 7-1 majority for a walkout. This handed the UAW extra ammunition to back up its drive for worker pensions.

Ford Motor company said the returns did not alter its position. The company refused during two months of bargaining to consider any wage increase.

The union's international executive board met at noon (Iowa time) yesterday to act on election results. It was expected to authorize union officers to order Ford's 106,000 hourly workers out whenever they see fit. Reuther said, however, that no announcement on the board's action would be forthcoming yesterday.

Michigan law made the election necessary. The UAW could not legally call a walkout in the vital Michigan plants, which employ more than 80,000, until a favorable vote had been obtained.

The huge total of 75,230 ballots cast came as a surprise. It was 93 percent of eligible voters.

The final count listed 65,001 for a strike and 9,549 against in 17 Michigan plants. Officials set aside 680 ballots.

Boston Plane Crashes, But All Aboard Saved

PORTLAND, ME. (AP) — A Northeast Airlines plane from Boston crashed and burned on the municipal airport last night. Everyone aboard — 20 passengers and six employees — escaped safely.

The line's office at the field said the two-engine ship would be a complete loss.

Generals Call B-36 Perfect A-Bomb Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. Lemay and George C. Kenney, the nation's top experts on strategic bombing, told congress yesterday the B-36 superbomber is an almost perfect atomic-bomb carrier and that Russia has no defenses against it.

They testified before the house armed services committee which is investigating "ugly rumors" that political pressure prompted the decision to scrap the navy's 65,000-ton carrier, the U.S.S. Unit-

Brannan Plan Dies in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senate agriculture subcommittee erased the last traces of the Brannan plan from a compromise farm price support bill yesterday, then approved the measure unanimously.

It calls in general for government supports at 90 percent of parity next year for the so-called basic crops, and flexible props which could range somewhat lower for others.

Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the seven-man drafting subcommittee, said the compromise would be presented tomorrow to the full committee, which has 13 members. Yesterday's vote made its approval there appear certain, unless some member changes his mind.

Anderson, who has worked on nine different drafts of the compromise, originally advocated a limited trial of the "production payment" or farmer subsidy plan advocated by Secretary of Agriculture James Brannan.

In doing so, Brannan was not abandoning his fight for enactment of his program some time in the future. He and his lieutenants have been speaking on its behalf at farmer gatherings in the hope of laying the groundwork for eventual congressional action.

Under Brannan's plan, the government would make no further effort to support the price of perishable farm products. Instead, they would be allowed to reach whatever level the market would bring. Brannan says this would help the consumers. However, if the farmers' return from a crop failed to match a previously determined "fair income" level, they would get subsidies from the government (which is to say the taxpayers) for the balance.

Uses Former U.S. Planes in Offensive

KASTORIA, GREECE (AP) — Roaring helicopter planes which once belonged to the American navy spearheaded a big Greek army summer offensive against the Communist guerrillas in the neighborhood of the Albanian and Yugoslav borders.

Batteries of American 75-millimeter recoilless artillery joined the planes in a bombardment of guerrilla positions and communications.

The offensive opened Wednesday in the 300-mile square Vitsi pocket against an estimated 7,000 guerrillas.

A secondary offensive is in progress in the Grammos mountains to the southwest against an estimated 5,000 Communists.

MacArthur Turns Down Visit to U.S.

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today he will not return to the United States to participate in high-level conferences on U.S. policy in the orient.

"My specific views with respect to the strategic potentialities of the REA embracing my Far East command are fully on file with the department of the army," the supreme allied commander said.

"There is little that I could add to it," he said.

Gilliland Resigns Post As Subcommittee Chief

GLENWOOD (AP) — Whitney Gilliland, chairman of the Iowa Republican central committee, yesterday announced his resignation as chairman of a National Republican party subcommittee.

Gilliland sent his letter of resignation to Guy S. Gabrielson, newly-elected Republican national chairman. He resigned as chairman of the national committee's executive committee on strategy, responsibility as the chief advocate of expanding B-36 production.

Flooded Streets Stall Autos in Davenport

STREETS WERE FLOODED to depths of two to three feet in Davenport yesterday when more than six inches of rain fell. The water, in some instances up to window level, stalled hundreds of cars. The above photo was taken at Second and Taylor streets, in the western part of the city.

Truman Doesn't Think Nation 'On Last Mile' to Collectivism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said yesterday the remark that the nation is "on the last mile" of the back road to collectivism sounds funny to him and he doesn't think it is so.

The retort, accompanied by a chuckle, came at a news conference when a reporter asked about the speech Hoover made at his 75th birthday ceremony Wednesday at Palo Alto, Calif. The spokesman did not mention the former president by name but quoted the reference to collectivism.

The elder statesman of the opposition party, who was congratulated by Mr. Truman in a birthday message, declared that "through government spending and taxes our nation is blissfully driving down the back road" to collectivism and is "on the last mile."

When the question was put yesterday, the President laughed and asked: "What was that? Say that again. It sounds funny to me. I don't know what that is, but I don't think it is so."

At the outset, the President announced the appointment of Gen. Omar N. Bradley, now army chief of staff, as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff of all the armed services, a job created in the new unification act signed Wednesday.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia university, has been serving as temporary presiding officer of the joint chiefs since February.

The ICC estimated the 40-hour week will cost the rail lines about $380-million a year.

The commission acted on the basis of a rail petition of last Oct. 1 for authority to advance rates by 13 percent, in view of mounting operating costs in which wage adjustments figured as a principal item.

On the rail plea that an emergency existed, they received authority for interim increases of about five percent in December, to be collected while the over-all petition was being considered.

Yesterday's order made the interim increases permanent and added another average four percent. The industry thus fell short by about four percent of what it had asked.

The carriers were authorized to make the changes in rates effective within 15 days — that is, just before the 40-hour week goes into effect. Domestic water carriers were given permission to make the same advances at the same time, to preserve traditional relationships.

Catholics to March In Defiance of State

PRAGUE (AP) — Czech Catholics, in defiance of their Communist government, will march Sunday in a vast "pilgrimage of believers" to celebrate the consecration of two new bishops, a high church source said yesterday.

"The word has gone out all over Czechoslovakia," this source said. The government has forbidden "unauthorized meetings." The bishops will be consecrated without the "placet" (approval) of the government.

The high Catholic source said the bishops will be installed "with the full ceremonies of the Catholic church." At least one bishop, and possibly an archbishop, apparently will be present.

Court Upholds Truman's Loyalty Check Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. court of appeals yesterday upheld by a 2 to 1 vote President Truman's federal loyalty program and Atty. Gen. Tom C. Clark's right to brand certain groups as subversive.

The ruling brought a vigorous dissent from Judge Henry J. Edgerton who said the "subversive" listing caused an organization to lose members, contributions and its reputation.

LINDY INSPECTS CAMP

HOF, GERMANY (AP) — Charles A. Lindbergh visited a refugee camp near Hof yesterday, the camp manager reported. It was learned that Lindbergh is making a private survey of European reconstruction.

Winnie Wins Twice In European Council

STRASBOURG, FRANCE (AP)—Winston Churchill, in a vigorous return to continental politics, won two victories yesterday in the consultative assembly of the council of Europe.

His candidate for assembly president, Socialist ex-premier Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, was elected unanimously. Spaak, who looks enough like Churchill to be his brother, was first made president of the United Nations assembly in London and New York three years ago.

Churchill's second successful maneuver was made in opposition to the candidacy of William Whiteley, the labor government's parliamentary secretary of the British treasury, for one of the assembly's four vice-presidencies.

Whiteley ran fifth in a field of six. The assembly is the 12-nation formative group that hopes to become the parliament of Europe in a dreamed-of federation of continental states.

RUSS ACCUSE YUGOSLAVIA

LONDON (FRIDAY) (AP) — Russia has charged Yugoslavia with "behaving not as an ally but as an enemy of the Soviet Union" by allegedly negotiating secretly with the British on Yugoslav claims against Austria, Moscow Radio said today.

House Okays 75 Cent Wage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house voted overwhelmingly yesterday to jump the national minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 but take perhaps 1-million workers out from under the wage-hour law.

It passed 361 to 35 a bill by Rep. Wingate Lucas (D-Tex.), who led a coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats in fighting a compromise administration bill.

The outcome could be counted a partial victory for President Truman, in that it allows the 75 cent minimum wage he asked months ago. This was written into the Lucas bill by vote of the members.

Lucas himself had no figure on how many workers his bill might take out from under protection of the law. Wage-hour administration experts and house labor committee staff members agreed no accurate figure could be given now, but they estimated it would top 1-million.

The administration's bill, sponsored by Labor Chairman John L. Lewis (D-Mich), would have increased coverage of the law by about 600,000 workers. The law now covers approximately 20-million.

The Lucas bill went to the senate, where a minimum wage bill is on the calendar. The senate bill would raise the minimum to 75 cents and tighten federal restrictions on child labor, but not change coverage of the law.

British Architect Crosses Atlantic in Yawl

EDWARD C. ALLCARD, 34-year-old British naval architect, sailed into New York Wednesday after an 81-day voyage from Gibraltar in his seven-ton yawl, "Temptress." The bearded Allcard said he made the voyage because he wanted to be alone. He is shown at the right making things shipshape while waiting for permission to land. Immigration authorities confined him aboard ship because he didn't have a passport, but they hurried to arrange a visitor's permit for him.

Arms Aid Cut Defeated By 8-8 Committee Vote

Probably No Fingerprints Either

FORT WORTH, TEX. (AP) — Police here received a letter yesterday from the Twin Falls, Idaho, police inquiring about a woman suspected of passing bogus checks.

It gave her age, weight and height, then abruptly stated: "She wore a low-cut dress with short skirt, making it very hard to gain a description of her facial features."

Van Horn Resigns Coal Committee Leadership

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.VA. (UP)—Ezra Van Horn was forced to resign yesterday as chairman of the negotiating committee of the northern and western soft coal producers, reportedly because of his $35,000-a-year job as trustee of the United Mine Workers' welfare fund.

The operators merely announced that Van Horn had offered his resignation from Washington and that it had been accepted "with regret." They said that Frank R. Amor, vice president of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, had been named temporarily to succeed him.

But other sources said the operators had demanded his resignation because of the disclosure that he was accepting $35,000 a year as the operator's trustee of the United Mine Workers pension and welfare fund.

The development came as the operators mapped an "all-out" fight to end the abbreviated three-day work week imposed on the soft coal industry by UMW President John L. Lewis. There was crystallizing sentiment for a complete shutdown of the soft coal pits next Monday to force Lewis' hand.

The fact that Van Horn was accepting a salary as trustee was revealed before a U.S. senate subcommittee last week by Mrs. Josephine Roche, director of the fund. She said that Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) is accepting a similar salary as public trustee. Lewis receives no pay, she said.

After Mrs. Roche's revelation, Bridges, who gets $12,500 a year in salary and $2,500 in tax-free expense money from the government, said he earned every penny of his salary from the welfare fund. He said most of it went for attorney fees and other charges resulting from those duties.

Hancher Announces Three Appointments To Faculty at SU

Three new members have been appointed to the SUI faculty, President Virgil M. Hancher said yesterday.

Norman C. Baenziger has been appointed assistant professor of metallurgy in the department of chemistry. Baenziger attended Hamline university, St. Paul, Minn., where he received a bachelor of science degree in 1943.

He received a Ph.D. degree at Iowa State college in 1948 where he did research work on the Manhattan and atomic energy commission projects from 1944 to 1948.

Mrs. Elizabeth Haun has been appointed assistant professor in the school of social work. She began social work in 1933 in Cook county, Ill., and from 1945 to 1948 she was a case work supervisor and chief social worker with the veterans' administration.

Dr. Nathan R. Callaghan Jr., will be a new instructor in clinical prosthetic dentistry.

Callaghan received his bachelor of arts degree at Glenville State college in West Virginia and his doctor of dental surgery degree at Northwestern dental college, Chicago, in 1942. He comes to SUI from private practice in North Carolina.

Bus Driver Denies He Slept at Wheel

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP)—An inquest into the deaths of 16 persons in a Greyhound bus crash near here was continued yesterday until a coroner questioned a passenger who charged the driver was "half awake."

Coroner R. E. Lyons said he wanted to talk with Wilbert Luttrill, Evansville, one of the survivors who told reporters driver Wayne Cramer "nodded" minutes before the bus hit a bridge and exploded.

Cramer testified at a closed hearing here yesterday and vigorously denied he was asleep.

"I had hoped to wind up the case with a verdict tonight (last night)," said Lyons.

Margaret Mitchell Struck by Taxicab

ATLANTA (AP) — A speeding taxicab struck and severely injured Margaret Mitchell last night in front of a theater.

The author of the celebrated novel of Civil War days, "Gone With the Wind," was rushed to the city hospital suffering from concussion of the brain, leg and possibly internal injuries.

She was placed under an oxygen tent and immediate preparations were made for an operation. Physicians described her condition as critical.

Police announced the taxicab driver was arrested and charged with drunken driving, speeding and driving on the wrong side of the street.

The author's husband, John R. Marsh, said his wife saw the speeding vehicle bearing down upon her and tried to dodge it.

Eagles Rate 10-Point Choice Over College All-Stars Tonight

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

CHICAGO (AP) — Philadelphia's Eagles, champions of the National Football league, are a ten-point favorite to defeat a band of 70 college All-Stars before an expected 95,000 to 100,000 spectators in flood-lighted Soldier field tonight.

The All-Star game, now in its 16th year, usually gives the professionals an edge before the kickoff.

The Eagles have the advantage of maturity and experience. They also are a well-knit unit carried over from last year's successful campaign when they defeated the Chicago Cardinals for the title in frosty Shibe park in Philadelphia.

However, the record shows that the All-Stars frequently have triumphed when few believed victory possible — such as the upset of the Chicago Bears in 1947, which followed the equally surprising conquest of the Los Angeles Rams. Both were defeated 16-0.

Stars Have Won Five

The All-Stars have won five games and participated in two ties. The Cardinals' victory last year was the eighth for the National league champions.

The western division of the league has dominated the series. The Bears alone have appeared six times. Philadelphia is the first eastern division team in the series since the Washington Redskins were defeated by the 1943 All-Stars, 27-7.

The weather may plan an important part. The Eagles have trained at Grand Rapids, Minn., in fairly cool weather. The All-Stars, with superior manpower, have sweated in Evanston's 90-degree temperature. Soldier field is a lakefront arena, but it can become a steaming cauldron in mid-August.

Possible Showers

The forecast is for continued humid, sizzling temperatures with possible showers.

Probable Lineups

College All-Stars Philadelphia Eagles: E. Fole (QB), L. E. Ferrante (RB), F. O'Reilly (FB), L. V. Sears (DE), M. Wendell (TE), L. G. Patton (C), C. Redman (WR), C. V. Lusk (WR), W. Fisher (WR), R. G. Kilroy (WR), A. DeRogatis (DB), R. E. A. Wister (DB), M. Sheehan (DB), R. E. Pihos (DB), P. Elliott (DB), G. T. Thompson (LB), J. Williams (LB), R. B. Fritthead (LB), E. Rowan (LB), F. J. Muha (LB).
Coaches: All-Stars: Charles "Bud" Wilkinson, Oklahoma, head coach; Assistants: Bob Dadd, Georgia Tech; Bob Volz, Northwestern; James Aiken, Oregon; George "Lefty" James, Cornell; Homer Jones, Oklahoma; Ray Graves, Georgia Tech.
Eagles: Earle "Greasy" Neale, head coach; Assistants: John S. Kellison, West Virginia; W. E. Murray, Colgate.
Kickoffs — 7:30 P.M. (Central Standard Time).
Broadcasting — Mutual Broadcasting system starting at 7:30 P.M.
Television — None.

Don't Wait; Order Grid Tickets Now

Frank Havlicek, SUI business manager of athletics, yesterday advised prospective purchasers of single game tickets for any of Iowa's five home football games to file their orders immediately.

The demand for single game tickets, or tickets for various combinations of games, is unusually heavy, Havlicek said.

The record sale of season tickets will end tomorrow. The Iowa ticket office will then begin filling the huge pile of orders for single game duets.

It is likely that a record opening game crowd will see the UCLA game here Sept. 24. The Bruins will be the first Pacific coast team to appear in Iowa City.

The attendance high for an opening game was set in 1947 when 31,050 saw Iowa batter North Dakota State, 59-0.

To date the homecoming game with Indiana, Oct. 15, and the Iowa clash with Rose bowl Champion Northwestern, Oct. 22, are attracting the most attention from ticket buyers.

Illinois opens the series of four straight home games Oct. 8, and Oregon, joint champion of the Pacific Coast conference, closes the home season Oct. 29.

Rock Island Raps IC Cardinals, 5-1

Rock Island bounced the Iowa City Cardinals down another notch in the National Football league standings here Wednesday night, whipping the Cards, 5-1.

Horace Long, Rock Island's fireball pitcher, handcuffed Iowa City with five hits. A pair of singles by Third Baseman Eddie Colkert and Left fielder Al Cherry combined to score the only Cardinal run in the first inning.

Long pitched a complete game, leading to a 5-1 victory. He was aided by Tom Saffell, Johnny Hopp followed with a hit to right that should have been a routine single.

However, Baumholtz charged the ball and it got past him for a triple, scoring Saffell. Hopp counted a moment later on Ralpin Kinner's fly.

possible scattered showers tonight.

The collegians' strength stems from the key quarterback position. Jack Mitchell, Oklahoma's 1948 field general and ball handler, is thoroughly familiar with the offense. He will have help from Frank Tripuka, Notre Dame, and Norm Van Brokin, Oregon. Since Mitchell played under Wilkinson at Oklahoma and is well versed in his system, he probably will play most of the time when the Stars have the ball.

All-Stars Loaded

The stars are loaded with outstanding players. The backs include Don Doll, Southern California; George Talaferro, Indians; Jerry Williams, Washington State;

Bobby Stuart and Rip Rowan, of Army; George Guerre, Michigan State; George Sims, Baylor; Clyde Scott, Arkansas; Harper Davis, Mississippi State; Joe Geri, Georgia; Shorty McWilliams, Mississippi State; and Bob Goode, Texas Aggies.

Barney Poole, end from Mississippi State, will captain the All-Stars. The Eagles attack is a two-punch wallop consisting of Steve Van Buren's devastating runs and Tommy Thompson's passing. The Stars feel that with Charles Bednarik, Pennsylvania, and Myrl Greathouse of Oklahoma backing up the line, they may be able to throw a halt to Van Buren.

Bruce Higley Wins

INDEPENDENCE, KAN. (AP) — Bruce Higley of Iowa City, Iowa, defeated Earl Unruh, Independence, 6-0, 6-1, in the opening matches yesterday in the Kansas State Open Tennis tournament.

Ted Tagged After Perfect Peg

(AP Wirephoto)

Dodgers Dip Phils, Capture Loop Lead

Rossie's Pro Record: 6 KO's

Bob Rossie, former local amateur boxer, has now compiled six knockouts in 15 bouts since turning professional a year ago.

The popular Rossie is now living in LaCrosse, Wis. His professional bouts are being booked out of St. Paul, Minn.

Rossie now holds the Iowa state middleweight title. He dethroned Jack Parks of Des Moines in a six-round decision earlier this summer.

Since his victory over Parks, Rossie has won two consecutive one-round knockouts.

Rossie is scheduled to fight the main event at Marigold garden in Chicago, Aug. 22. His opponent has not been announced. Another tentative bout is carded against Dolphus Edwards of Des Moines at Duluth, Minn., later this month.

Rossie's complete professional record follows:

Baumholtz' Error Gives Bucs 3-2 Win Over Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Pittsburgh whipped the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 2, to capture the rubber tilt of their three-game series yesterday.

The Pirates capitalized on a fielding miscue by Frank Baumholtz in the eighth for the decisive run.

With Walt Dubiel and Bill Werle in a 1-1 deadlock, Stan Rokaj opened the eighth with a single. He was forced by Tom Saffell. Johnny Hopp followed with a hit to right that should have been a routine single.

However, Baumholtz charged the ball and it got past him for a triple, scoring Saffell. Hopp counted a moment later on Ralpin Kinner's fly.

Heafner's 66 Tops Tam Golf; Favorites Fall

CHICAGO (AP) — As favorites faltered, hefty Clayton Heafner bagged a six-under-par 66 for a one-stroke lead in the first 18-hole round of Tam O'Shanter's $35,200 carnival, the "World" championship of golf.

Heafner, a runner-up in the 1949 National Open, whipped around Tam's par 36-36-72 in 33-33 using 33 putts for his one-stroke margin over Henry Ransom and Johnny Palmer, who had 67's.

The year's biggest disappointment was Defending Champion Lloyd Mangrum's collapse for a whopping 76, four over par.

The year's top money-winner, Slammin' Sammy Snead, also was somewhat lack-lustre with an even par 72, some 30 places behind Heafner.

The scene of a $10,000 top prize in the 72-hole scramble, however, generally had the boys crowding close behind Heafner.

Four players were bracketed at 68, two strokes off the pace. In this quartet were Jim Ferrier, who fizzled a chance to take the lead when he failed to better par on the back nine after an opening 32; Ed Furgol, kink-armed veteran from Pontiac, Mich.; Jim Turness of the famed golfing family, and Dick Metz.

Another foursome was deadlocked at 69, including National Open Champion Cary Middlecoff; Chandler Harper, the consistent rapper from Portsmouth, Va.; Dandy Jim Demaret, and Willie Hunter.

In Promoter George S. May's "World" sideshows, two veterans, Patty Berg and Babe Zaharias, shot 74's to share the first round lead in the women's $1,600 pro meet; Frank Kovack of Waukegan, Ill., paced the men amateurs with 70; and Pretty Alice Baer of Los Angeles topped the women amateurs with 76.

The Aftermath

SEVEN ROUNDS TOO MANY—

The slightly disfigured features above belong to Gus Lesnevich the 34-year-old Cliffside Park, N.J., boxer who was battered into a seventh round TKO by NBA Heavyweight Champion (in 47 states) Ezzard Charles in New York Wednesday night.

Alumnus Ris Leaves For AAU Swim Meet

Wally Ris, Iowa's Olympic swimming star, left for Chicago yesterday where he will board a plane for Hollywood to be a guest at a swimming party prior to the National AAU outdoor championships.

Ris received his B.A. degree at the summer commencement Wednesday night.

The special swimming party in Hollywood is being staged by the former American Olympic champion and movie star, Buster Crabbe. Ris was invited to attend by Jimmy McHugh, song writer who is helping to stage the AAU meet in Los Angeles, Aug. 16-19.

Ris will compete in the AAU 100-meter free style. He won that event in the Olympic games at London last summer.

In addition, the Iowan will join Duane Draves, Hawkeye back stroker, and Bowen Stafford, breast stroker, to represent Iowa in the 300-meter medley relay. Distance Swimmer Don Watson will also compete in the championships, representing the Hawk-eyes.

You Can't Argue — Who Says Cards Are Old?

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — If we had called them the Cardinals of old instead of the old Cardinals it would have been all right.

But we had to go around and intimate that the St. Louis club had many men on the roster who would be carrying the weight of too many years in the stretch run of the National league race, and Brooklyn's youthful Dodgers would pull away to win handily.

It was just a case of sloshy thinking on our part. We don't know where we got the idea that the Cardinals as a club are old, unless the fact that four or five of them played in a World series seven years ago left the impression. So much has happened since 1942 that it seems long, long ago.

Anyway, we left ourselves wide open on that one, and our friend, Bob Burnes of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat gently sets us straight, pointing out that, all in all, the Cardinals are no older than the supposedly boyish Dodgers.

"On the infield," Burnes writes, "Dodger First Baseman Gil Hodges is 25. That makes him older than either Nippy Jones (just 24) or Glen Nelson, who won't be 25 until next November. At second base, Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson is 30. The Cards' Red Schoendienst is 26."

"At shortstop Brooklyn's Pee-wee Reese was 30 last month. The Cards' Marty Marion will be 32 in December. At third, Billy Cox will be 30 this month. The Cards' Eddie Kazak just reached 29 last month and Tommy Glaviano won't be 26 until October. At three positions Cardinal players are younger . . ."

"Take the outfield. Each team has one performer in the thirties—The Brook's Mike McCormick is 32, Enos Slaughter is 33. Carl Furillo, Marv Rackly and Gene Hermanski all are 27. Dick Whitman is 29. They have two youngsters in the outfield, Duke Snider, who is 23, and Tommy Brown, who is 21.

Cards Are Younger
"Ron Northey of the Cardinals is 29. Charley Diering is 26 and Hal Rice is 25. The Cardinals' average outfield age is 28 1-5. The Dodgers without including Snider and Brown, average 28 3-5. With them, the average is an even 27."

"On the catching side, Roy Campanella will be 28 in November, Bruce Edwards is 26. Joe Garagiola just turned 23 and Del Rice won't be 25 until October. A clean edge to the Cardinals, figuring that Bill Baker gets into a game only on rare occasions.

"Now as to the pitching, the Brooks are much younger, we'll grant. Only two Brooklyn hurlers are in their thirties . . . by contrast, the Cardinals have six pitchers 30 or better . . ."

"But we always have been told that what a good pitching staff needed was poise and experience. If you have age, that's the place to have it—on the pitching rubber . . ."

"Now before we get some letters inquiring if this isn't an about-face on our attitude of a year ago, the answer is only a partial yes.

A year ago the Cardinals averaged a bit older than the Dodgers, with such players as Terry Moore, Babe Young, Don Lang and Del Wilber on the roster. They've been replaced by younger men.

Cards Subs Solid
"The principal argument last year, however, was not so much of age as it was of chronic injury. Cardinal players a year ago hustled back to the lineup ahead of time when they were in no condition to play. This year, if Marty Marion needs three or four days off to rest his back, he can take it . . . the replacements are solid."

That closes the discourse on vital statistics for today, and we are indebted to Bob Burnes for calling our attention to our two-base error. You just can't argue with birth records.

Rain Stops Giants, Braves in 7-7 Tie

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants and Boston Braves had to settle for a 7-7 tie yesterday when rain halted a potential Giant rally with Billy Ripken on second base and one out in the last of the eighth inning.

Home runs accounted for all Boston runs. Ed Sauer smashed one off Adrian Zabala with two on in the fourth and Tommy Holmes hit a pinch homer off Relief Kirby Higbe in the sixth. Elbie Fletcher's circuit dunt in the seventh ended the Braves scoring.

The Giants, coming from behind for the second time after blowing an early 2-0 lead, tied the score in the seventh on a rally featured by singles by Hank Thompson, Whitey Lockman and Willard Marshall. Ray Mueller hit a homer in the Giants' fifth.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pee Wee Reese's 14th home run, hit in the eighth inning with two on, gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 10-7 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and a clean sweep of the three-game series last night.

The victory gave the Dodgers undisputed possession of first place with a half-game margin over the idle St. Louis Cardinals.

Before Reese's homer broke up the nip and tuck battle, Andy Seminick came through with his 17th and 18th home runs of the season for the Phils and Duke Snider delivered No. 18 for the Dodgers.

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher, pulled a muscle in his back while singling in the fourth inning and was taken to the Temple university hospital for an examination.

The Phils started off with two runs in the second on a walk error, stolen base and an infield out. They counted twice again in the second on the first of Seminick's homers.

Brooklyn came back with three in the third. Blix Dannelly walked one in and Eddie Robinson singled the other two across.

Seminick's second homer gave the Phils their fifth run in the fourth but Snider matched it with one on in the fifth to put the Brooks on even terms.

Red Sox Nip Yankees, 7-6

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's Red Sox won the game they believed was a "must" to keep in the American league pennant fight yesterday when they downed the leading New York Yankees, 7-6, before a cheering throng of 30,818.

The third place Sox once again are within 1-2 games of the New Yorkers.

Left Hander Mel Parnell, the Sox ace, pitched the final four innings in relief and, after a shaky sixth, quieted the obstreperous Yankee bats the rest of the way to win his 17th game of the year.

Bobby Doerr, who had hit only a harmless double in this three game series, lined a 3-0 pitch into center field to score Ted Williams from second with Boston's winning run in the sixth inning.

Ted Williams lined a fierce homer into the Sox bull pen in right center in the first inning for the first Sox run. It was his 29th of the season and his first of three hits.

Miss Margaret Elizabeth Farmer, 1948 SUI graduate, and Lowery LeRoy Cowperthwaite, former speech instructor here, were married at 11 a.m. yesterday in the Iowa City Trinity Episcopal church.

Following a wedding trip to home in Richmond, Va., where played at the Richmond Area University center. He received his master's degree in 1946 and expects to receive a doctorate in speech in February.

Mrs. Cowperthwaite was formerly a student counselor at Mt. Sinai hospital in Chicago. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret G. Farmer, Paris, Ky., and M.H. Farmer, Washington, D.C. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Cowperthwaite of Colby, Kan.

The Rev. Harold F. McGee solemnized the marriage rites at the double-ring ceremony yesterday. Yellow gladioli decorated the church.

The bride, wearing a long-sleeved white lace gown with a fingertip veil and an 18-inch train, was given in marriage by her father. Her matron of honor was Mrs. D.L. Howie, Newport, R.I., and she was attended by Miss Nancy Farmer, Washington, D.C., and Miss Mary Ellen Warstler, Chicago.

Mrs. Howie wore a satin gown of an "ashes of roses" color, fashioned with long puffed sleeves. The attendants' dresses were of turquoise satin.

They carried colonial bouquets and the bridal bouquet was of white gladioli centered with an orchid.

Mr. Cowperthwaite's best man was Kim Giffin of Lawrence, Kan. Ushers were Richard W. Peterson of Council Bluffs and John A. Oostendorp, Muscatine.

A reception was held in the church parish house after the ceremony.

Local Woman Seeks Tropics To Inspire Art

BY VIRGINIA BOYLE

Because she can't find a tropical atmosphere in her Iowa City studio, Mrs. Mildred Pelzer is leaving next month for Hawaii.

Mrs. Pelzer is the artist who painted the murals which appear in the lobby of the Hotel Jefferson.

She has spent the last three winters in Florida and says she wishes a place for a while, then tries to catch its mood and spirit in her paintings. She'll follow this same procedure in Hawaii.

The Iowa City artist, who has been painting all her life, came here as a bride in 1918.

"In all of my paintings I try to create a feeling for design and arrangement," the white-haired artist said. Although her work isn't of the Picasso variety, and you can tell a flower is a flower, a tree a tree, she is definitely changing her style toward the more modern trend she claims.

She also arranges exhibits. Her own paintings have been shown all over Iowa. She has exhibited pictures in Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and in Wisconsin and New York. There were many exhibits of her work in Florida.

Her studio, a quaint house about three miles northwest of town which she planned and built in 1939, contains stone from one of Iowa's oldest colonies, the Amanas. A soap factory was being torn down in the colonies and Mrs. Pelzer persuaded them to sell her stone and hand-mitered beams, including one which was bent from the weight of the soap drippings.

With an eye for art, Mrs. Pelzer located the site for her studio. A huge picture window, one of the first in the Iowa City area, overlooks some of Iowa's most picturesque scenery.

This week Mrs. Pelzer is holding an open house and exhibit of her paintings at her studio house. For every painting at the studio now, she has done 20 others in her lifetime, the Iowa City artist said.

LOOKING TOWARD NEW HORIZONS is Mrs. Mildred Pelzer, Iowa City artist, who lives in a studio house three and a half miles northwest of town. Mrs. Pelzer, who has spent the last three winters in Florida, plans to leave Iowa City for Hawaii in September. In Hawaii she hopes to find inspiration for more paintings to add to the large number she already has.

U. Hospitals Admit 11 New Polio Cases; 42 Under Treatment

Eleven new active polio patients were admitted to University hospitals yesterday, bringing the number of cases to a season high of 42.

Admitted yesterday in "fair" condition were Roland Squire, 4, Marshalltown; Eva Stripe, 23, Ottumwa; Richard Boyd, 25, Rutland; Robert Witham, 10, Algona; Roderick Bakken, 3, Ridgeway; Diana Phillips, 21 months, and Richard Nelson, 6, both of Cedar Falls; Neil Gohring, 14, Belle Plaine; Stella Inks, 11, Alden, and Miriam Dykema, 26, Morrison, Ill.

In serious condition was Richard Mehem, 9, Dumont.

Robert Smith, 7, Dubuque, and Patricia Johnson, 5, Rock Island, Ill., were removed to the inactive list in fair condition.

Nurses Needed . . .

A state health department appeal from Des Moines yesterday sought more nurses to aid the fight against polio in Iowa.

Hospitals in Iowa City, Davenport, Dubuque and Des Moines sorely need nurses, Dr. Walter L. Beiring, department commissioner, declared.

"The hospitals in the cities mentioned, in assuming the responsibility for the care of polio patients from all over the state, have already drained their resources to the limit," he said. "The demand for nurses is so great that the American Red Cross is unable to assign as many as are needed."

Court Offices Get Cleaning

Birth certificates and fishing licenses come and go in the Johnson county courthouse—but the dirt on the courthouse walls just stayed and stayed.

That was the case until early this summer when the county board of supervisors decided to do something about the 12-year collection of dirt on the walls and ceilings.

At the close of the spring semester, the board hired SUI students not enrolled in the summer session to attack the dirt menace.

Makeshift ladders and scaffolds materialized and before long a "trial run" in the supervisors' office proved to the supervisors that the walls and ceilings were actually paint of a different color.

Two, and sometimes more, students have been on the house-cleaning job all summer and work should be completed by Sept. 1.

J. E. Pechman, chairman of the board of supervisors, said yesterday that parts of the courthouse's interior would be repainted in the near future.

Work has already started to make the county jail more eye-appealing—from the outside. Bright aluminum paint is being put on the outside cell bars.

Two More Mondays Of Free Swims Set

Free swimming parties for Johnson county children will be sponsored Monday by the junior chamber of commerce and Aug. 22 by Iowa City Lodge No. 4, A.F. & A.M., City Recreation Director J. Edgar Frame said yesterday.

The close of the independent study unit for three semester hours credit is Aug. 31, and the four semester hours course closes Sept. 7.

The group will return to Iowa City September 13, Kyle said.

Shanghai Trade Revival Unlikely in Near Future

SHANGHAI (UP)—American officials and businessmen today see little hope for a revival of foreign business in the near future in this Communist-occupied city, once the greatest trading center in the far east.

A survey among leaders of the American community here revealed that the optimism which was fairly prevalent in the first few weeks after the Communist occupation May 25, has been replaced by uncertainty and gloom.

U.S. consular officials said the best index to this changed attitude is the fact that out of the 1,500 Americans who elected to remain in Shanghai under Communist rule, an estimated 500 to 700 are now anxious to leave.

A combination of both economic and personal factors was said to be responsible for this new attitude on the part of Americans, including the following:

1—A general feeling of insecurity among the foreign community as the result of intense anti-American and "anti-imperialist" propaganda, and a series of humiliations suffered by foreigners. Americans are growing more and more fearful of any brush with the police, however trivial.

2—The extremely unfavorable exchange rate — now 2,200 Chinese Communist dollars to one U.S. dollar — which makes the cost of living prohibitively high for Americans, and discourages export and import trade.

3—Increasing wage demands on the part of the Chinese employed by foreign firms, despite the sharp decline in foreign business since the Communist occupation. The authorities have made little or no effort to restrain workers who have forced their demands on employers by a series of lock-outs and sit-down strikes.

4—The Nationalist blockade which has prevented all but a few foreign ships from entering the port since it was imposed June 25. American shipping officials here say frankly they would be willing to attempt to run the blockade if anticipated profits made the risk worthwhile. The high insurance rates and unfavorable Shanghai exchange rates discourage any such attempt.

The pessimistic feeling among American business men is shared for the most part by British and other foreign businessmen, as well as a large number of Chinese traders.

They contend that even the unskilled Chinese laborers, who alone have benefited as a result of the occupation through a sharp increase in wages, will suffer in the long run as a result of the business decline.

A minority group of Americans who still hope for an improvement in the situation, believe the state department's China "white paper" may influence the Communists to take a more tolerant view of the American community here.

They argue that United States aid to the Nationalist government has been a major factor in the anti-American feeling and they contend the state department condemnation of the Chiang Kai-Shek regime will go a long way toward easing that hostility.

Price Changes Rule Bond Market Action

NEW YORK (AP)—Irregular price changes ruled the corporate bond market yesterday.

Trading again was on the light side. The total of $2,860,000 compared with $2,817,000 for the preceding session.

Not since Monday has the bond section seen anything like a flurry of real buying. There was enough demand yesterday, however, to lift a number of railroad, utility and industrial obligations by fractions to more than 2 points.

Many issues remained on the losing side.

Several railroad lines scored gains, and The Associated Press average of 20 rails climbed 3/8 of a point to 91.1, its highest level since last March 10.

Legion Chief Urges Big Civilian Reserve To Fight Aggression

ST. PAUL (UP)—Perry Brown, national commander of the American Legion, yesterday urged support of a proposed program to build up the nation's civilian reserve armed forces.

The Beaumont, Tex., man told opening sessions of the state Legion convention that strong reserve components are needed to guard against aggression.

Veterans oppose the "idea of draining the treasury to finance a huge professional force," and favor a small regular force with large civilian reserves, he said.

Brown called for support of Legion sponsored legislation to expand reserve ranks through a program combining military and educational training of young men.

Meanwhile, former Minnesota Legion Commander Col. E.B. Miller became a candidate for national committee member. Endorsed by the sixth district caucus, he will oppose Roy Anderson, Austin committee man since 1943.

Miller, assistant state commissioner of aeronautics from Brainerd, was department commander in 1945-47.

He said his entrance into the race was delayed because of the illness of his wife, who is recuperating from an operation.

Miller flew to Milwaukee yesterday to address the Wisconsin Legion convention as a member of the national defense committee. He will return today.

Welcoming speeches yesterday were made by Gov. Luther Youngdahl and St. Paul Mayor Edward Delaney.

Score Card Shows 'DiMag' Struck Out In New York Court

NEW YORK (UP)—They needed a score card in court circles here yesterday.

In felony court yesterday, Joe DiMaggio, a 22-year-old unemployed youth, was charged with felonious assault for striking a doctor with a pair of scissors and biting him on both wrists. He was committed to Bellevue for 10 days for observation.

Another Joe DiMaggio, a 50-year-old unemployed man with a record of 12 convictions, appeared in police lineup yesterday morning.

"Are you Joe DiMaggio?" asked acting police Captain Frank Phillips.

"Yes."

"I see you are first in the lineup today."

DiMaggio nodded.

"You entered a railroad car without permission. You were trying to steal a bag?"

"I wasn't trying to pick up anything," DiMaggio replied.

"Well, you didn't score. Your batting average isn't so good."

"No, I got two strikes on me because of my record."

"This is your third strike," Phillips said.

In magistrates' court the second DiMaggio was sentenced to 100 days in jail for disorderly conduct by Magistrate Doris Byrne.

T-H-E Joe DiMaggio, Yankee clipper, was in Boston with his teammates yesterday for a game with the Boston Red Sox.

Brown & Bigelow Declare Dividend

ST. PAUL (UP)—Brown & Bigelow directors yesterday declared a 25-cent quarterly dividend payable Sept. 13 to holders of 1,268,645 shares of stock of record Aug. 22.

A $1.50 quarterly dividend was ordered paid Aug. 31 to preferred stockholders of record July 31.

Charles A. Ward, president and general manager, reported earnings of 83 cents a share on common stock for the six-month period ending July 31.

Interpreting the News — Soviet Prison System

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(AP) Foreign Affairs Analyst

The United States and Britain are waging an intensive campaign to make everybody aware of Russia's political prison system.

Britain charges before the economic and social council of the United Nations that 10-million people are in Russian "slave labor" camps. The United States proposes an investigation by an 11-man commission empowered to hold hearings anywhere in the world.

The U.S. proposal is reported to go a bit farther than the British had anticipated, since there are conditions in the democratic world which Communists will certainly use for counter-propaganda.

The American attitude is that there is no logical comparison between isolated situations in the democratic sphere and the deliberate Russian system.

Russia takes the whole thing as an allied effort to get spies into Russia and will have no part of it. So the whole discussion is expected to end in propaganda, without action.

The Russians admit and defend their system. It is as old as Russia and not merely a Communist innovation, though it has Communist embroidery.

Nicholae Radescu, former prime minister of Romania, reports more than a million such deportations from his country alone. There have been similar reports from other conquered areas, especially the Baltic states.

The forced labor camps also are spreading throughout the Communist sphere in eastern Europe. There the political aspects seem to outweigh economic considerations. They are primarily prisons, whereas the Russian camps are both prisons and centers of labor recruiting.

At Rawicz, a small town in former German territory, the Polish government works an estimated 7,000 political offenders. Not far away, at Sieradz, there is another camp. There is one near Katowice, and one at Warsaw. Any motor tour is said to produce evidences of the rapid growth of the system.

There have been many charges of brutality in the Russian camps. They have been compared with those of Hitler. In the main, from hundreds of such reports, I get the impression that such brutality is usually the result of carelessness for human life, or poor organization and shortages of vital food and medical supplies, rather than deliberate.

But through the whole thing runs a vast difference in thinking, one of the most difficult factors in the great gap between east and west.

Announce Pheasant Hunting Regulations

BISMARCK, N.D.—Pheasant hunters in North Dakota will have 45 days to hunt pheasants this year, it was announced yesterday.

The pheasant season will run concurrently with the federal migratory waterfowl season. The season will open Oct. 7 and run through Nov. 20.

Also announced yesterday was a three-cock daily bag limit and a six-bird possession limit. This marks a slight improvement over last year's rules.

However, shooting of hens will be prohibited during this year's season.

Pheasant shipping regulations have not changed from last year's. Non-residents will be permitted to ship or carry six birds from the state, but residents will not be allowed to send any pheasants out of the state of North Dakota.

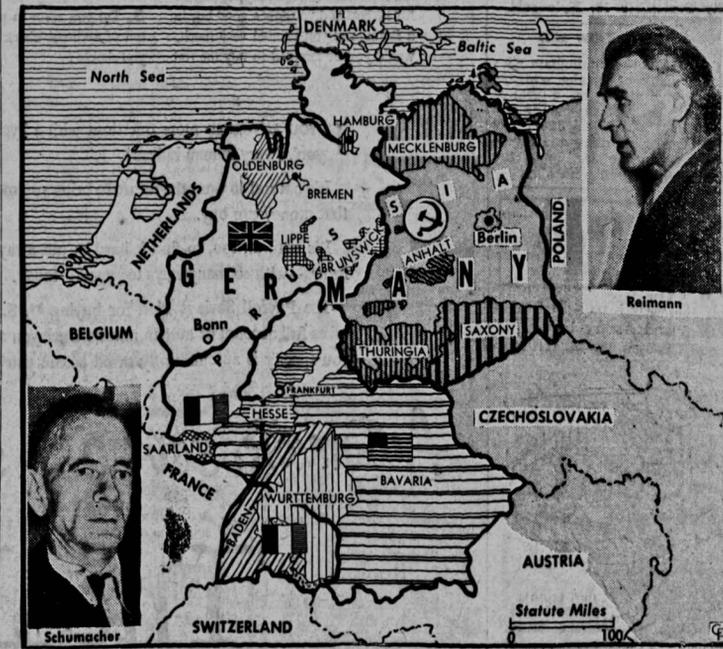

An open season on sharp-tailed grouse will also begin Oct. 7 in western North Dakota. The season will run 24 days this year.

POLIO VICTIM

SIoux CITY (UP)—Mrs. Leland Anderson, 20, Estherville, died in a hospital here yesterday of bulbar polio.

Mrs. Anderson, the wife of a veteran and mother of a year-old daughter, entered the hospital Wednesday night and was put in an iron lung.

West Germany to Elect Parliament

CANDIDATES FOR PARLIAMENT of the new German republic are ignoring Communist menace in their zeal to criticize allied policies to win votes in Sunday's elections. The republic, with the capital at Bonn, will be made up of 11 states in the three western zones. Four hundred members of parliament will be chosen. Dr. Kurt Schumacher, leader of the leftist social Democrats, has attacked allied policies bitterly. Max Reimann, Communist leader, has been battling with western powers for several years. The election will be the first free one in Germany in 17 years.

Hospital, Popcorn Company Make 'Iron Lungs'

By THE CENTRAL PRESS
MUNCIE, IND.—Every community has its gadgeteering inventor, but one such mechanical wizard became the hero of this region recently.

He is Jack Reichart, 68, a popcorn and barbecue machine manufacturer who, when a local hospital told him they were in desperate need of an iron lung for anti-polio treatment, came up with a workable machine in 10 hours.

Made from two steel alcohol barrels, a vacuum sweeper, plywood, a motor from one of his barbecue machines, understructures contributed by a bedding manufacturer, a shaft made by an outboard motor concern and other parts from many other contributors, the Reichart home-made "lung" worked.

Little Rue Steele, 8-year-old son of a bus driver, was placed in the makeshift iron lung. He showed improvement within a week. Since then, Reichart has

Polio Count Hits 500 in Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Minnesota's 1949 polio count passed the 500-mark yesterday as 21 new cases were reported by the state health department.

The new cases, eight of them in Hennepin county, raised the total to 504, with 25 deaths.

Seven of the eight Hennepin county cases were from Minneapolis, bringing the city's total to 82 cases, and one was from suburban Richfield, which now has a total of 49.

Polk county reported four cases and Freeborn two.

Wisconsin Theater Owner Faces Suit

MADISON, WIS. (UP)—A Green Bay theater owner faces an unfair labor practice charge because he allegedly fired all ushers who asked for a raise.

The Wisconsin employment relations board said late yesterday that it would hold a hearing in the case at Green Bay Aug. 25.

Robert H. Karatz is accused of discharging the ushers of the Starlight theater at Green Bay when they elected a spokesman to appeal for a wage increase.

Karatz is head of the Valley Outdoor Theater company which owns the Starlight.

Must Crush State Forces: Thompson

NEW YORK (AP)—A Communist trial defendant yesterday admitted teaching that a working-class dictatorship cannot arise until a capitalist state's government army and police force are smashed.

And such a dictatorship, modeled after Russia's, can happen here said Robert G. Thompson, Communist chairman in New York state.

Thompson said the Communist party understands that historically the ruling class of this country "is very unapt to give up control of industry and the police power."

Moreover, he said, the ruling class is apt to meet every move for social progress with violence.

Communists feel that no people's front coalition could take over a ready-made government machine, Thompson said.

completed three more iron lungs, adding improvements as he went along, and is preparing to put together five more.

The hospital has only one standard machine, which cost about $2,500, at the time Uellie Brown, hospital superintendent, called on Reichart for help.

His first machine, he says, cost about $200, but was given free, as were those that followed.

Workers in his small plant have volunteered lunch and overtime hours, laboring night and day to help, during an infantile paralysis outbreak which now has 28 patients in Ball memorial hospital.

Hospital facilities became over-loaded when besides patients from its own community, it took sufferers from three adjoining counties where polio equipment was not available.

"I never saw an iron lung before I went out to the hospital to see one Monday," the amiable, white-haired inventor said.

He got considerable help through the foresight of Miss Brown, the hospital superintendent. She had saved a pamphlet and magazine article telling how emergency lungs were built in 1940 at Marquette, Mich., during a polio epidemic there.

When Miss Brown called Reichart, he said he'd do anything he could and asked to see the material she had.

"It was her idea, her plan," he points out. "I simply coordinated the effort."

His small factory in which electric equipment was made for B29s during the war, became an assembly plant for iron lungs here. During the first hours, sponge rubber mats for the machines were flown from Lafayette, Ind.

Plywood was donated by a lumber company, hardware parts by local stores. A vacuum sweeper was also donated. Steel alcohol barrels, provided by a silver plate company, are welded together at the Reichart plant.

Half a dozen other local shops and factories are contributing work, material and brains where they are able—all free of charge.

Reichart points out that this is not the first time a community has prepared iron lung equipment. Others have done it before.

"We've had the experience now, though, and I think we can not only improve on the machines, but can help other towns when they get in trouble," he said.

When the second iron lung was delivered to the hospital, Reichart had added a rectangular glass window at the suggestion of hospital officials.

Two sponge-rubber armholes also were added so that doctors could reach the patients with both hands from either side of the lung.

Reichart has enlisted the aid of Sylvan Ketterman, an organ manufacturer, to make better bellows for his future "lungs." He has improved air-regulator controls so that air is pumped in and out of the machine, instead of only out as was the case when only the vacuum sweeper device was used.

Reichart plans to prepare blueprints and instructions which can be airtailed to any hospital which is faced with a similar emergency.

Controls Hurt Farmers: Kline

JACKSON MILLS, W. VA. (AP)—A national farm leader said yesterday any rigid system of government controls over farm production and marketing would cripple the farmer's efforts to improve his income.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of the West Virginia farm bureau, Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, said present day conditions make government farm programs necessary.

However, the Iowan asserted, any system in which actual market prices are set and administered by the government with rigid production and marketing controls would eventually stifle initiative and cripple the farmer's efforts to improve his income by more efficient operation.

"If we are sincerely interested in improving the living standards of the farm family, our first concern will be to enhance the individual farmer's ability to earn," Kline said.

"In addition," he added, "we must protect his right to earn in an expanding dynamic economy."

"High production per man in agriculture as anywhere else is the first essential for high living standards. A high support guarantee by the government cannot take its place, since such guarantees are inevitably conditioned on control programs which block the individual's efforts to improve his income by producing more and better products."

Kline said the American farm bureau federation believes that a price collapse or a great depression does not necessarily follow an inflation.

"We are determined to prevent a 1932 in 1952 or sooner," he said. "For this reason we advocate government support programs which will make it possible for the farmer to operate in reasonable security against such disasters."

"However, we have not asked for and do not want a program under which the government sets a profitable price for farm products. The government support price should be a means of protection, not an incentive to uneconomic production," Kline said.

Law Curriculum to Require Another 16 Weeks of Study

Two summer sessions or an extra 16 week semester of work will be added to the curriculum of all beginning students in the SUI college of law, Dean Mason Ladd of the law college said yesterday.

The new curriculum which will begin next fall, will not be required of students now enrolled in the law college.

Developments in administrative and public law, requiring law graduates to be fully familiar with the new and rapidly expanding field, has made the program necessary, Dean Ladd said.

The extension of the curriculum is paralleled in other leading law schools by the adoption of four year programs; but by the new SUI system, it will still be possible for a student to graduate in three calendar years, the dean pointed out.

Students can attend summer school after their first and second years of study and graduate in June of the third year.

In the new curriculum there will be certain required seminar studies: making possible individual consideration of the students' needs.

The program also will stress extensive practice in more common, everyday needs of the practicing lawyer, such as examination of abstracts of title, drafting of legal instruments, probate, and trial and appellate practices.

"The extended program is one of the most forward-looking steps taken in the history of the SUI law college and should be of immeasurable value to the graduate in obtaining the job of his choice as well as furthering his legal career," Dean Ladd said.

Consumer Funds Up $2-Billion; Sales Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve board reported yesterday the funds consumers have available for "all kinds of goods and services" rose $2-billion in 1948 to a record $132-billion.

Intimating there is no reason for consumer demand to fall off, the board said liquid assets in the United States have expanded steadily for nearly a decade to bring the gains since Pearl Harbor to $87-billion.

But despite this increase in liquid assets, the board disclosed in another report that department store sales are down. It said they dropped 13 percent on an annual basis in the week ending Aug. 6 and 11 percent in the four weeks ending the same day.

Thus far in 1949, department store sales were five percent under the level for the same period last year.

The commerce department reported Tuesday that the annual rate of personal income — another indication of the money people have for all types of purchases — amounted to $315.5-billion in June, compared with $312.9-billion in the preceding month.

Mountaineers Go West for 3 Weeks

Thirty-five veteran climbers of the Iowa mountaineers will leave Iowa City and Midwest next morning for the sub-freezing temperatures of the Pacific northwest mountain country.

The climbers will travel in a caravan of four automobiles and one truck with 1,750 pounds of personal gear and a half ton of ice-climbing equipment. They will eat dehydrated foods and sleep in tents or sleeping bags.

In training for the event since last winter, the climbers will ascend Mt. Adams, Mt. Rainier, Mt. Baker, Mt. Shuksan, Glacier Peak and Mt. Olympus, all in the Washington state area. They will have to carry from 30 to 50 pounds of equipment, depending upon the time in high altitudes.

John Ebert, founder of the Mountaineers and chief operator at WSUI, is director of the annual summer outing. The group will return Sept. 5.

No Phonies Here — 'Baldies' Rise And 'Shine'

BRAINERD, MINN. (AP) — A new organization has been formed near here for men who comb their hair with a handkerchief. It's the National Baldheaded Association, incorporated, whose 150-odd members all answer to the name of "Curly."

The association was founded at the summer home of former Rep. Harold Knutson of Minnesota, himself a prominent baldy. It grew out of a St. Cloud, Minn., organization that boasted such members as James Farley and Frank Walker, former postmaster-general, and movie actor Don Ameche.

With a brand-new charter, the NBA hopes to recruit a lot of talent of the polished-rate variety, but some stern rules are involved. Naturally, toupees are taboo. The use of hair-restorers is unthinkable.

And the NBA frowns on the gent who lets his side-fringe grow and then combs the lend strands over his bald spot. No, you have to let your hair rise and shine if you want to belong to the NBA.

"We don't want any phonies," said Charles Rieger of Minneapolis, the new second front row sitter of the outfit (or vice-president). "Most of us are egg-bald and we can tell the insincere joiner as far away as you can spot Knutson's shine."

Rieger produced a membership card of the association, which has a cluster of what appear to be seven large eggs on it. These, it develops, are bald pates as viewed from the top, and the NBA offers $10 to anyone who can identify the heads.

So far, nobody has collected.

Police Call Deaths Murder and Suicide

ROBINSON, ILL. (AP) — Two elderly spinster sisters were found dead in their farm home yesterday in what authorities said was a murder and suicide.

Police said the elder sister, Lucy Richard, 73, apparently stabbed 50-year-old Faith Richard in the heart with a pocket knife and then stabbed herself several times in the chest.

Faith, an invalid who had never walked, was found dead in bed while Lucy's body lay on the floor nearby. They lived with two other unmarried sisters and a bachelor brother. The sisters were away at a church concert and the brother was at work in the fields when the deaths occurred.

Police found a note, of which the only legible part read: "Good night here; good morning over there."

Judge to Rule on Garbage Disposal

MUSCATINE (AP) — District Judge Matthew Westrate said yesterday he will rule within two weeks on a case testing the legality of the city's garbage ordinance.

The case which may affect several other Iowa cities, including Iowa City, if the ordinance is declared illegal, was brought against the city by Ed Dora, businessman. He appealed his $25 fine for violating the ordinance.

Attorneys for Dora argued the ordinance violates state law because the city must first establish a sanitary district before passing the ordinance.

Jolson Doesn't Need Money, But Work's His Meat 'n Drink

NEW YORK (AP) — "I wouldn't do this for a hundred thousand dollars, so here I am doing it for nothing," said Al Jolson in an attempt to explain his series of personal appearances in 18 metropolitan movie houses in three nights.

He gave a better explanation to one of his audiences. "I don't need the money," he said. "But getting out in front of a crowd like this and entertaining your eye and meat and drink to me. And I've been hungry for quite a spell."

This is a real working junkie, for the famous mammy singer. "I can't do like some of those other characters in Hollywood who go around to theaters and say hello and goodbye," Jolson explained. "I'm here to sing to you."

The schedule for the first night's outing called for Al to sing two songs at each of the six theaters visited. He obliged with "California, Here I Come" and "After You're Gone."

But by the time he had reached the fourth theater, where he changed shirts and had a brief rundown, he couldn't be held back any longer even though it might mean disrupting the schedule. He tossed in "April Showers" for good measure — a really wonderful job, too — and at the sixth theater he also added "Chinatown." Jolson is especially pleased that the tour has given a chance to reach audiences that, for the most part never saw him in person. For the younger people, he is only a character in a movie, "The Jolson Story" — they don't even remember him as a movie star, let alone as Broadway's greatest singing personality.

U.S. Starts Stream of Relief to Ecuador

QUITO, ECUADOR (AP) — Sister American republics led by the United States sent a swelling stream of mercy planes to this earthquake-devastated country yesterday.

Transport craft laden with medicines, plasma, food, tents, clothing and other relief equipment landed every few minutes at Quito and Guayaquil airports which resembled small versions of Berlin's Tempelhof during the airlift.

Army Unveils New Weapon

Three Rugged Females Join M. P. Ranks, Learn to March, Handle Weapons

NEW YORK (UP)—The army has trotted out its newest weapon, the female M.P.

Pvt. Marjorie Shepherd, 20, of Minneapolis, is the U.S. 1st army's newest M.P., and so another field formerly reserved for men has been invaded. She is one of only three women M.P.'s in the entire American army.

Just after the first of the year the army bug hit Miss Shepherd. She wanted to be an army stenographer and decided to join in February. Her basic training was a ten-weeks course at Camp Lee, Va., which is now chiefly WAC headquarters.

One day a call for volunteer duty with the M.P.'s went out. She volunteered along with almost the entire body of recruits. They all went through a double screening, and Marjorie didn't find out that she'd been chosen until after her graduation from basic training.

She and the other two girls who were chosen went to Camp Gordon, Ga. They had the same exercises as the men. They practiced judo for long sessions, and marched with the men, as well as learning guard-house procedure.

They even directed traffic at Augusta, Ga., to gain experience. They had training in three different types of weapons, including the .45 and a sub-machine gun. They also learned how to use a bayonet, as well as fingerprinting and M.P. laws.

The worst training as far as Miss Shepherd is concerned was a long night hike without light of any kind, through rattlesnake country. But her nerve lasted, and the result was that she graduated in June, 1949.

After leave, she reported to 1st army headquarters in New York, where she is doing paper work substituting for people on leave. After she's finished with the two-and-a-half years left in the army, Miss Shepherd plans to go to Seattle, where she graduated from high school, to work on juvenile delinquency.

School for Handicapped To Close for Vacation

The hospital school for severely handicapped children will re-open Sept. 6, officials of the school said yesterday.

Classes for the children will not begin until Sept. 12, however. Enrollment this fall will be increased to 27 with the admission of four new pupils.

Two students, Lucile Foster, Muscatine, and Carol Dawson, Dubuque, completed their training here last week and will return to public school this fall.

The school closed Friday for a five-week vacation.

AUDUBON (P)—The Audubon board of health yesterday declared a "polio epidemic exists in the city," and asked parents to keep children from public gatherings.

Tulsa Girl Seeks Miss America Title

WINNER OF THE OKLAHOMA BEAUTY CONTEST Sunday night is Georgine Leeka, 19-year-old University of Tulsa student. She will represent her state in the annual Miss America sweepstakes at Atlantic City Sept. 5-11. Miss Leeka is 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall, weighs 122 pounds and has green eyes.

Unconscious Since Accident 206 Days Ago; Brain Injured

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS (P)—This was Joan Edwards' 206th day in the world of the "living dead."

The blonde, 24-year-old girl has been unconscious since Jan. 17 when she suffered a brain injury in an automobile collision.

An eminent Dallas brain surgeon said she could "go on indefinitely" in her present state. She underwent exploratory surgery last month in a Dallas hospital, where the surgeon found extensive and irreparable damage to the "mid-brain."

He sent her home with her desperate parents to Rankin, Texas, with the advice: "nothing can be done."

"It has been my misfortune," said the surgeon, "to see more than my share of these cases. I have known persons with such injuries to live four years and longer."

Joan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Edwards, have moved her to a San Angelo chiropractic clinic for "spinal adjustments."

There, Mrs. Edwards sits at Joan's bedside from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily, waiting and hoping her daughter will break through the invisible barrier.

Joan's arms are paralyzed and crossed, folded across her chest. She has limited use of her left leg, but her right leg is drawn stiff by the same paralysis that has numbed her brain.

Radio 'Happy Birthdays' To Ethel Barrymore, 70

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Ethel Barrymore turns 70 Tuesday, celebrating 57 years in show business, and the admiring world has a birthday present for her.

It's a round-the-globe radio greeting via everybody from President Truman to Somerset Maugham.

The radio birthday card was the idea of Director George Cukor and Producer Charles Brackett, president of the Motion picture academy. They got the American Broadcasting company to scuttle around the world with tape recorders and dig up the friends of the first lady of drama.

Author Maugham, who wrote two of her stage hits, "Constant Wife" and "Lady Frederick," was tracked down at Monte Carlo. A recyder followed Winston Churchill, another close friend of the great actress, to Italy, missed him and now is shagging him to London.

Miss Barrymore never misses a baseball game or boxing match if she can help it, so sportswriters will be on the program, too. Herbert Hoover recorded his greeting from Palo Alto, Cal. Eleanor Roosevelt, Tallulah Bankhead and Katharine Cornell were among celebrities who spoke their happy birthdays into a recorder in New York.

Recordings of Statesman Bernard Baruch from Washington and Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne from Genesee Depot, Wis. will be broadcast on the show. Dozens of Hollywood stars from Judy Garland to Charles Laughton will chime in.

'Upside Down' Baby Receives Operation

COUNCIL BLUFFS (P)—Physicians yesterday operated on a newborn baby girl to correct an "upside down" condition.

The infant weighed five pounds and one ounce at birth last night. An attending physician said the condition results from "failure of closure of the partition between the chest and abdomen. The result is an opening between the two cavities, allowing some of the intestinal contents to fill the chest cavity."

The child has been kept in an incubator. Earlier, doctors said if she survived surgery she had a good chance for normal life. She was reported in good condition yesterday following the operation.

The hospital did not reveal the names of any of the persons involved.

Nepal Graduate to Aid Country as Engineer

He's just a little fellow, but Mukunda Thapa, G, will be doing big things when he returns to his home in Katmandu, Nepal.

Thapa, who received his M.A. degree in hydraulic electrical engineering from SUI Wednesday, plans to work for the government of Nepal in planning more electrification for that country.

Thapa was sent to SUI last September on a fellowship granted by the Institute of International Education. He was chosen by authorities of Calcutta university and was the only student to represent his native country.

"It was really an honor to come here," he said. "I believe only a few people from my country have studied in universities in the United States."

"Nepal," he said, "has a lot of potential water power from the rivers that come down from the Himalaya mountains, but so far my country has only three power plants."

Thapa plans to gain additional experience by working in the United States for a year and a half before starting to work in Nepal.

Nepal has no coal, he explained, but has three rivers almost as large as the Mississippi. These could produce electricity for jute, lumber and textile industries. "Eventually," he continued, "we will be able to export more finished goods."

Thapa graduated from the college of engineering of Calcutta university in India. Previously he had attended government schools in Nepal for 10 years.

"Our public school system is somewhat different than yours," he said. "It is owned and run by the national government. The system is divided into three parts, primary, middle and high school."

When asked about the social life of college students in Calcutta, Thapa said it is much like that in the U.S. "We go to movies, play games and go to lectures and discussion groups. Of course, there isn't any dating system like you have."

He went on to explain that in both Nepal and India there is little contact between opposite sexes. "Our parents arrange things," he said, "but we don't want to marry anyone we don't have to."

Thapa, who came to the United States by plane, says that "you just can't see anything, the planes go so fast. I'm going back by ship!"

Arrest 3 Omahans On Burglary Count

COUNCIL BLUFFS (P)—Three Omahans were turned over to tawattamie county authorities yesterday in connection with the burglary of an oil station two and a half miles north of here on highway 30.

The men were arrested after police had traced ownership of a car abandoned by the oil station burglars after a 70-mile-an-hour, shot-punctuated pursuit by David Dennie, the station's owner.

Those arrested were Lloyd L. Benson, 23; Russell B. Noble, 28, and Fred P. Mueller, 16. All were booked as fugitives and signed waivers of extradition to Iowa.

Benson denied - and his denial was corroborated by Noble - having any connection with the burglary. He said he had been loaning his car to Noble for about two weeks.

Police said Noble admitted the hilltop burglary and implicated Mueller.

Details of the pursuit of the station bandits through nine miles of hills near Council Bluffs were given police by Dennie, 46.

Customers' Corner

Have you ever noticed the date stamped on each carton of A&P eggs? It is put there to protect the quality and freshness of this perishable item.

An egg that is Grade A when it is inspected and packed could become Grade B or C by the time you buy it if it has been improperly or slowly handled.

We don't want that ever to happen to an A&P egg. We never sell eggs more than a few days after grading even though we know they will stay fresh longer. Each carton is dated, and eggs unsold by the shown date are removed from sale even though they are still of good quality.

If you should ever find that any of our egg cartons bear old dates or that any eggs fall to live up to our high quality standards, please tell us about it. Please write:

Paging Buck Rogers —

Geiger Counters Sold

— In Sport Goods Store

NEW YORK (P)—The uranium rush of '49 is on, pahdner, and the "sniffer" business is booming. Yessirree, pahdner, there's uranium in them thar hills, and prospectors from the Arctic circle to Cape Horn are rushing lickety split to find it.

The intrepid miners are using Geiger counters, little gadgets that click like click beetles, to find their precious ore, so they can win the $10,000 government reward for substantial uranium deposits.

The counters are nicknamed "sniffers," because they scent radio-active minerals as accurately as a pointer points out a dead duck. When anything radioactive is around, the sniffers click like castanets, and then all the prospector has to do is dig—sometimes for miles.

Abercrombie and Fitch, which calls itself the world's most exclusive sporting goods store, is selling little Geiger counters, which consist of metal cases about the size of a lunch pail and earphones. They cost $54.50 each, plus tax, and are guaranteed to announce the presence of radioactive ore—providing such ore is present, of course.

The minute A and F announced the instruments were in stock, orders came in from Canada, Texas, California, Montana, and even uptown Manhattan.

The store sold 22 in a week and exhausted its supply. More than 100 persons wrote letters asking for sniffers. Others telegraphed or telephoned. A lot came in to carry their own little counters home with them.

Walter S. Haynes, second vice-president in charge of merchandising the counters, said several indulgent old ladies had bought sniffers as "toys" for grandchildren in college. Two engineers bound for the South American uranium rush ordered a couple.

A man in Montana wanted to use his counter in an airplane, but scientific-minded A and F salesmen told him that would not be possible unless he kept within 20 feet of the ground.

"Only yesterday we got a wire from the head of a big radio company asking for a sniffer," Haynes said. "He wanted to carry it along on a hunting trip in Michigan."
