New Testimony Fails to Link Gen. Vaughan with Maragon

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate "five percenter" investigators yesterday revealed previously secret testimony which pictured John Maragon as an attempted smuggler but failed to link President Truman's military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, directly with his activities.

The testimony, made public after the President had accused the investigators of withholding information favorable to Vaughan, told how the mysterious Maragon arranged a flight to Paris on a military plane right after the war to re-establish perfume business contacts.

But the only references to Vaughan in the transcript were allusions by two Republican senators that the trip may have had something to do with the "gift" of seven deep freezers to Vaughan by the Albert Verley company of Chicago which sent Maragon to Europe.

The senators did not bring out any facts to support their suspicions. One witness said David Bennett, president of the Verley company, flatly denied that he got any favors as a result of the freezer incident or his associations with Maragon.

Before releasing the testimony, Chairman Clyde R. Hoey (D-NC) emphasized that he was doing so reluctantly because its accuracy had not been checked and that the transcript, in its present form, might include unfair inferences.

But he said he felt compelled to publicize the testimony because the committee's efforts to be "scrupulously fair" had been misinterpreted. The senators previously had intended to keep it secret for the time being, he said, because it might indicate Vaughan obtained favors for Maragon's employer.

Note Revealed . . .

WASHINGTON (UP)—Mrs. Bess Truman, wife of the President, sent a hand-written "thank you" note in 1945 to the manufacturers of a deep freeze unit which she had been given, but the company returned the note because it was not the donor.

The story of the misdirected note was told in testimony made public yesterday by the senate investigating committee. The testimony was given by Albert Gross, manufacturer of seven freezers given to Washington officials at the suggestion of Gen. Harry Vaughan, the President's military aide. Gross was paid by the Albert Verley company.

Gen. Howley Says Russ Seeking Veto

BERLIN (AP)—Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, retiring U.S. commandant for Berlin, said last night the Russians are trying to regain their veto power in the running of the city.

A four-hour session of the city's four military chiefs was held yesterday, their third meeting since a Paris directive by the big four foreign ministers last June called for four-power meetings here. The directive was issued in an attempt to get things back to normal in Berlin.

Howley told a press conference later that the Russians are attempting to revive the old Allied Kommandatura (made up of the military commanders) which was set up soon after the war to govern Berlin. Many east-west clashes developed in the Kommandatura, frequently resulting in stalemates over important issues.

U.S. Consular Staff To Evacuate Canton

HONG KONG (AP)—The United States consular service announced yesterday it would abandon south China within the next two days as the Communist advance on Canton rolled on unchecked.

A Nationalist Central News Agency dispatch said also that the United States had closed its consulate at Tihwa (Urunchi), capital of fabulously oil-and-mineral-rich Siankiang province which borders the Soviet Union on the northwest.

U.S. Consul General George Hopper said the consular staff would evacuate Canton within the next two days and that about 80 consular officials from the four southern provinces would arrive here by the end of the week.

He said a total of 707 Americans lived within the Canton consular district but half of them were missionaries who would remain. He said 200 businessmen were preparing to leave immediately.

President Criticizes 5-Percenter Inquiry For Allowing Leaks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday tartly criticized senate five percenter investigators for allowing leaks from their closed sessions.

At the same time he asked the press "in common fairness" to suspend judgment on Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, his military aide, until he has stated his case before the senate group.

Vaughan's name has bobbed up frequently in the investigation. Witnesses have testified that he used pressure to help his friends representing private clients doing business with the government.

The President said at his news conference that most sessions of the senate committee have been behind closed doors, particularly when testimony has been friendly to Vaughan. He added that reporters can be sure that Vaughan will make a full statement in open session.

When the interview finally turned to other matters, the President said he would not object to a tax cut next year if congress found a source of revenue to keep the government running.

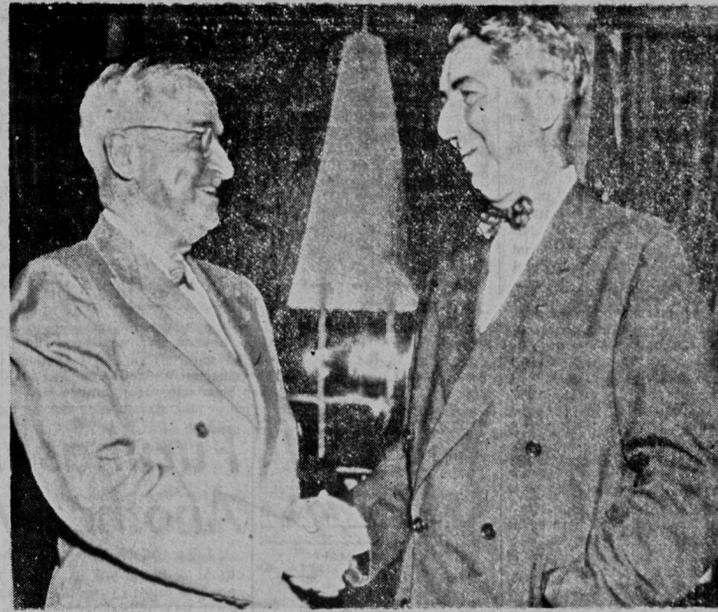

He said 80 percent of the budget is for fixed charges and the government must have funds to meet these. This came in response to an inquiry whether he would give his blessing to a reduction of income taxes and removal of excises.

On the subject of politics, the President said the Democratic national committee has control over its own members and it is made up of Democrats. A reporter had asked him to comment on an announcement by the committee that certain states' rights southern members would be barred from next week's meeting called to name a new national chairman.

Other remarks by the President: 1. Because congress did not appropriate sufficient enforcement money, the government is lifting rent controls in one-third of the areas still under ceilings. Tighe Woods, housing expediter, said in Cleveland Wednesday night this would be done by Oct. 1.

2. The government's decision to permit Yugoslavia to buy materials here for a steel mill had his approval. He said the step was recommended by the national security council.

3. There was no bad news in a report he received from American Ambassador Alan Kirk on the latter's call on Marshal Stalin in Moscow.

Clark Receives Presidential Congratulations

AFTER THE SENATE confirmed the nomination of Atty. Gen. Tom Clark as an associate justice of the supreme court by a 73 to 8 vote, Clark called on President Truman (left) who is shown congratulating the 49-year-old Texas lawyer. Clark will fill the vacancy caused by the death last month of Frank Murphy. The senate also confirmed Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D-RI) to succeed Clark as attorney general.

Chicago Company Submits Base Bid For Vets Hospital

A base bid of $6,597,000 for construction of a new Veterans hospital in Iowa City was offered by the Gust K. Newberg construction company of Chicago.

Bids were opened at 2 p.m. yesterday in the Rock Island district engineers office.

Bids on all phases of construction were lower than earlier government estimates. The government's estimate for general construction was $7,364,783.

Rueben L. Anderson, Inc., of St. Paul, offered an apparent low bid of $1,360,000 for mechanical work on the hospital. The government's estimate was $1,566,387.

The apparent low for electrical work was bid by the Armature and Electric Machine company of Omaha. The firm submitted a $353,712 bid as against the government estimate of $363,642.

A $292,880 bid for installation of electric elevators was made by the Western Electric company, elevator division, Jersey City, N.J. This compared to the $365,700 government estimate.

SIGNS STOP-GAP BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman yesterday signed a stop-gap bill giving many government agencies enough funds to continue operations—and pay their employees—through Sept. 15.

ATLANTA (AP)—Imperial Wizard Samuel Green of the Ku Klux Klan, a thin, fanatical little man, died suddenly last night.

The 59-year-old physician, who had complained of chest pains for a week, succumbed to a heart attack at his home just a few minutes after 6 p.m.

He died as the Klan, and much that the Klan stood for, faced a rising tide of antagonistic public opinion.

For months prior to his death, he had been the target for newspapers and public officials who laid many acts of violence in the south at the Klan's doorstep.

Bitterly, Dr. Green claimed he was the subject of newspaper "persecution," and issued what amounted to a standing denial that his organization was to blame for anything.

He said time and again that any Klansman found violating the law would be banished from the "invisible empire" over which he held sway.

The sharpest indictment of Green's Klan, which he called the Association of Georgia Klans, came from Atty. Gen. Tom Clark who labelled it subversive last April.

As a result Klansmen supposedly were barred from federal jobs and from serving in the armed forces.

Clark charged that the Klan advocated force to deny constitutional rights.

While Green said time and again that he was affiliated only with the Georgia group, he once told a group of novices kneeling before an altar topped by a lighted cross that he was the chief of all Klansmen anywhere.

Just 10 days ago in the wake of an outbreak of floggings, cross burnings and threats by night-riders, Green ordered Klansmen to unmask.

Simultaneously with the unmasking order, which had already been put into effect by 18 southern cities and the state of Alabama anyhow, Green banished three Klansmen around Chattanooga.

'Lonely Hearts' Pair Convicted of Murder

NEW YORK (AP)—Fat Martha Beck and slick Raymond Fernandez, the "Lonely Hearts" killers, who bared every detail of a nightmarish love affair in a desperate grasp for life, were sent on their way to the electric chair yesterday.

A Bronx county jury of 10 men and two women, exhausted after night-long deliberation, found them guilty of the first degree murder of an old widow who had become infatuated by the gold-toothed, toupee Fernandez and moved in with him and his "sister," the 200-pound Mrs. Beck.

The jury's verdict meant that Judge Ferdinand Pecora must pronounce a death penalty when he sentences the pair on Monday. If the appeal by Defense Attorney Herbert Rosenberg fails, they will go to the chair at Sing Sing.

University Officials Expect Registration Decrease at SU

About 9,900 resident students will register for the fall semester at SU, university officials estimated yesterday. Registration starts Sept. 19 and classes begin Sept. 22.

The number represents a decrease of almost 1,000 from the record-breaking enrollment of 10,886 set last fall.

Officials also predicted a sharp drop in veteran registration. They estimated 4,200 veterans will enroll next month, compared to 5,454 last year.

The liberal arts college enrollment, difficult to estimate, probably will show the largest decrease of the university's nine colleges. Officials expect about 5,000 liberal arts students, a drop of almost 1,100.

Graduate college enrollment will continue to rise. Officials expect 250 more students over last fall's 1,841. In 1947 the number of graduate students was 1,518.

The seven other colleges of the university will show about the same enrollment as last September, officials said.

Married students still will find a shortage of housing, but single students will find adequate rooming facilities, officials said.

Use of temporary barracks will provide sufficient classroom space, they added.

Picketing Declared Illegal in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—Picketing of government stevedoring operations in Hawaii ports was made unlawful yesterday.

Gov. Ingram Steinback signed a bill amending the territorial dock seizure law to prohibit picketing of piers, docks, wharves, landings or warehouses and making it illegal for unions to invoke hot cargo rulings or engage in boycott practices in connection with government dock work.

The law, first such passed in recent labor history by a state or territory, gives the territory a king-sized weapon to combat the 109-day strike of CIO longshoremen.

The law is general enough to apply to all picketing by any union.

House Conferees Okay Coralville Dam Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) of the house appropriations committee said yesterday that house conferees are willing to agree to a number of projects and amounts for construction, including the $2-455,500 Coralville, Iowa, reservoir.

The house committee is deadlocked with senate conferees on army civil functions appropriations.

Truman's Aid Plan Gets Cut By 50 Percent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House last night approved an $869,505,000 program of arming foreign nations after dealing the administration a blow by halving the fund sought for European countries.

The vote on final passage was 238 to 122.

Reps. Paul Cunningham and Karl M. LeCompte of Iowa voted for a trimmed down arms aid bill. Iowa's other representatives, except Rep. Charles B. Hoeven voted against the bill. Hoeven was not recorded as voting. All Iowa's eight congressmen are Republicans.

The members slashed $580,495,000 from the program designed to strengthen non-Communist nations against Russian aggression.

The entire cut was made in the funds sought for western European members of the north Atlantic security treaty.

The bill now goes to the senate. The cut, contained in an amendment by Rep. James P. Richards (D-SC), also limited the whole rearmament undertaking to next June 30, whereas Mr. Truman planned it for two years.

The amendment was adopted by a topheavy 209 to 151 roll call vote.

Seven of Iowa's representatives voted for a 50 percent cut in the European arms fund. Hoeven was announced as in favor of the cut, but he did not vote.

Administration leaders appealed in vain for the full $1,450,000,000 plan as presented by the President. It had been urged as the smallest amount needed to build up the nations in the shadow of Russia's military machine in a hurry and forestall any Soviet ideas of over-running Europe.

But backers of the Richards amendment accepted it as a way of taking a "second look" next spring to make sure the European nations were cooperating for mutual defense before setting up any more money.

In the senate, hearings on the program continued yesterday before the combined senate foreign relations and armed services committees.

The Richards amendment made no changes in the $211,370,000 military aid requested for Greece and Turkey, and $27,640,000 for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

The only other major change in the bill requires that half the supplies sent abroad must be shipped in U.S. vessels and at prevailing shipping rates. It was adopted by voice vote.

The amendment was offered by Rep. Herbert C. Bonner (D-NC), who said its purpose was to guarantee that not all the shipping went to foreign merchant vessels because of lower shipping and labor rates.

Radios Beam Beran's Statements to Czechs

PRAGUE (AP)—The government-controlled press yesterday archived the charge by Catholic Archbishop Josef Beran that he was a prisoner in his palace.

But the Voice of America, the British Broadcasting corporation, and the French and Vatican radios broadcast full accounts of it and many Czechs learned of it in that way. They defied warnings that it is "not advisable" to listen to foreign broadcasts.

Mrs. Seashore's Rites To Be Held Tomorrow

Mrs. Carl E. Seashore, 77, wife of the dean emeritus of the SU graduate college, died at 3 p.m. yesterday in her home at 815 N. Linn street. Death was caused by coronary thrombosis. She had not been ill.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Seashore home with Dr. L. L. Dunnington of the Methodist church and Prof. M. Willard Lampe, head of the SU school of religion officiating. The body will be cremated.

Mrs. Seashore was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes and was born in Iowa City Jan. 20, 1872. She received her bachelor of philosophy and master's degrees at SU and in June, 1900, was married to Mr. Seashore, then an assistant professor of philosophy here. They would have celebrated their 50th anniversary next June.

Mrs. Seashore traced her interest in politics and local government to her father who was Iowa City mayor for three terms. She was one of the founders of the League of Women Voters and edited their county bulletin for two years.

She had served on various civic improvement committees and was a member of several city and university organizations.

Surviving her are her husband and three sons, Robert H. Seashore, professor of psychology at Northwestern university; Carl G. Seashore, consulting engineer at Pennsylvania State college; Sigfried Seashore, an attorney in Lewiston, Idaho and five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

County Republicans Take Stand Against Harrison Spangler

The Johnson county Republicans withdrew support of Harrison Spangler, Republican national committeeman, in a called meeting of the GOP last night.

Spangler has served as national committeeman for 17 years and is a former national GOP chairman. The resolution, which was passed unanimously, said:

"With full appreciation of the service Harrison Spangler has rendered to the Republican party, we approve the recent action of the Iowa state Republican central committee in suggesting that Mr. Spangler resign as Republican national committeeman from Iowa."

Leading the fight for passage of the resolution were Bob Osmondson, state chairman of the young Republicans, Bill Morrison, delegate to last year's national Republican convention and Bob Tyson, executive secretary of the Iowa state young Republican league at SU.

The action was the first official county action in Iowa.

The resolution will be forwarded to the Republican state chairman today, Tyson said.

NAM Leader Talks, Steelworkers Leave

NEW YORK (AP)—Union representatives walked out of President Truman's fact-finding board hearings yesterday when a spokesman for the national association of manufacturers condemned the steel industry for agreeing to appear before the board.

Ira Mosher, former NAM president and now chairman of its finance committee, declared that "management's responsibility in this case required resistance to pressure, even if that pressure came from the White House itself."

Representatives of the CIO united steelworkers of America left as Mosher began to speak. They returned when he finished.

Union Counsel Arthur Goldberg, who termed Mosher's statement "insulting to the board and to the union," explained, "we don't have to take insults from an outsider."

Mosher, who said he spoke only as a NAM official, appeared before the board on the sixth day of the 58 steel companies' case against the union's demands for a 30-cent hourly fourth-round package wage increase.

Yugoslavia Orders Diplomat to Leave

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA (AP)—Yugoslavia yesterday ordered a Czech consular official to get out of the country after accusing him of trying to sabotage the government of Premier Marshal Tito.

An official announcement charged that Stefan Horvat, deputy Czech consul in Zagreb, had committed "unlawful acts" intended to "strain relations between Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia."

The Communist newspaper Borba accused Horvat of urging "hostile and saboteur elements" to commit offenses against Yugoslavia.

Dodgers Fall To Phils' Explosion, 9-5, Drop Full Game Behind Leading Cards

HE GOT GREEDY—Stan Hollmig (17), Philadelphia Phillies' outfielder, is tagged out at second base by Jackie Robinson, Dodger second baseman, while trying to stretch a single into a double in yesterday's game at Ebbets field. Robinson tagged Hollmig after taking a relay from Dodger Left Fielder Gene Hermanski. The Phils beat the Dodgers, 9-5.

Phillies Tally Five in Sixth

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies did everything but roll over and play dead for the Brooklyn Dodgers' Rex Barney for five innings yesterday. But in the sixth, they exploded for five runs, to win the game, 9-5, and drop the Brooks a full game behind the St. Louis Cardinals in the national league pennant chase.

Barney, of course, was not around at the end of the fateful sixth. He was relieved, in turn, by Carl Erskine, Jack Banta, Erv Palica and Paul Minner.

The Dodger scored a run in the third, and another in the fifth, the latter a result of Bruce Edwards' Homer into the left field seats. The Phils got one in the third, and Barney looked to be getting the better of a duel with Hank Borowy.

But in the sixth, three doubles, two home runs—by Del Ennis and Willie Jones—and a walk gave the Quakers their five runs.

The Phils got three more in the eighth, but the Brooks came to life in the ninth, getting rid of Borowy, with two runs.

However, Shotton's men were not up to solving the slants of Jim Konstanty, who relieved Borowy, with the bases loaded, none out and one run in. Hank got credit for the victory.

Konstanty, who won Wednesday's game, got the next three batters, Peevce Reese on a fly which scored Carl Furillo, Spider Jorgenson on a grounder, and struck out Duke Snider. Gil Hodges accounted for the Dodgers' first run of the stanza with a homer.

Mapes' Hit Scores Rizzuto to Clinch Yank Triumph, 5-4

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees edged out the Washington Senators, 5-4, yesterday to increase their American League margin over the idle Boston Red Sox to four full games.

Phil Rizzuto's double followed by Cliff Mapes' single produced the winning run off Mickey Harris in the sixth inning.

It was the seniors' eighth straight loss, their 31st in the last 35 games. Also it was Harris' seventh straight defeat since he was bought from the Red Sox.

Allie Reynolds, third Yankee pitcher, was credited with the victory, his 12th against three defeats. He took over in the fifth and pitched five hitless innings.

Each side got four runs in the fourth inning. Clyde Vollmer opened the Senators' scoring with his 13th homer. Singles by Sam Dente, Harris and Eddie Yost off Tommy Byrne, and a couple of bases on balls gave the Nats' three more.

Tommy Henrich got one run back for the Yanks by banging his 21st homer into the right field stands. Johnny Lindell doubled and continued to third when First Baseman Sam Mele threw wild trying to catch him at second. Gerry Coleman's single, a walk and Al Kozar's fumble of Mapes' grounder gave the Yankees' two unearned runs.

Harrison's 65 Tops Grand Rapids' Meet

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH (AP)—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison found the long Cascade Hills Country club course to his liking yesterday as he shot a 65—seven under par—to grab the lead in the opening 18-hole round of the 72-hole Grand Rapids Open Golf tournament.

Harrison, shooting for $2,500 first prize money, held a one-stroke lead over Jim Ferrier of San Francisco who had a 66 as a result of a red-hot incoming line.

Ferrier tipped in a 40-yard approach for an eagle on the 13th hole and dropped one from 30 yards on the 18th hole for another eagle to give him 30 on the back nine. Par for the course is 36-36—72.

Harrison, playing out of St. Andrew, Ill., had seven pars and an eagle. He encountered his only major trouble on the 489-yard 18th hole where his second shot found a trap to the right of the green.

Harrison, whose short irons paid off for him all day, came out nicely and dropped his putt for a birdie to wind up his day's activities.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, the No. 3 money winner among the nation's golf pros this year, found the going a bit rough on his outgoing nine and had to come on with a birdie and an eagle on the last two holes to post a 54 score at the turn. He added a 33 coming in, missing a six-foot putt on the 18th green.

Long-driving Chick Harbert of Detroit, who was rated a co-favorite with Mangrum in pre-tournament dope, had considerable putter trouble as he finished with a 38-37—75.

Cliff Settergren, Muskegon, Mich., pro, turned in a 69 to stay right up with the leaders.

Braves Outslug Giants, 10-6

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's reviving Braves belted four home runs yesterday as they defeated the New York Giants, 10-6. It was the second straight triumph under acting Manager Johnny Cooney and moved the Braves to within a half-game of the third-place New Yorkers.

Three of the homers came on offerings of Larry Jansen, who was derailed in the third. Bob Elliott and Jeff Heath smacked successive homers in the second and Elbie Fletcher blasted one in the third.

The fourth homer came in the sixth when Jimmy Russell lashed one of Hank Behrman's tosses into the stands.

Johnny Sain, relieved by Bill Voiselle in the eighth, won his ninth game.

Aussies Enter Nationals

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Lawn Tennis association announced yesterday that the four-man Australian Davis Cup team, headed by 21-year-old Aussie Champion Frank Sedgman, will take part in the National Tennis championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 29 to Sept. 5.

'Pickup' Aussies Down Mulloy, Talbert—

BROOKLINE, MASS. (AP)—Sharp and shocking defeat of America's defending and four-time National champions, Gardner Mulloy and Billy Talbert, featured the two quarter-finals played in the National Doubles Tennis championships yesterday.

A pair of "pickup" Australians, Frank Sedgman and George Worthington, beat the U.S. stars, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5, 9-7.

In the second of the quarter-finals played produced advancement for the second-seeded foreign combine of Italy's No. 1 Davis Cup pairing of Gianni Cucelli and Marcello Del Bello.

They won by 7-9, 6-4, 6-2 and default over the sixth-foreign seeded French Davis Cup tandem of Bob Abdesslam and Paul Remy. Remy suffered a pulled arm ligament while serving in the second set and had to default after examination during the intermission.

The tournament's other two quarter-finals were not scheduled until Friday.

One match was to pair the second-seeded American team of Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles,

National singles champion, and Frank Parker of Hollywood, Calif., against the sixth-seeded American team of Jim Brink of Seattle, Wash., and Herb Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The other quarter-final matches the top-seeded Australian Davis Cup pairing of Jack Bromwich and Bill Sidwell and the fifth-seeded South Africans, Eric Sturgess and Eustace Fannin.

Freddie Hutchinson, with ninth inning assistance from Virgil Trucks, held the White Sox to six hits in notching his No. 12 win. He has won the last seven in a row.

The Tigers used two unearned runs, one in the first and another in the third, to close out a 19-inning scoring famine. Billy Pierce, who pitched eight innings on a yield of three hits, was the victim of these two spurts in suffering his twelfth setback.

Don Kolloway walked with one out in the first, and scored on a combination of George Kell's grounder and Cass Michaels' boot of a roller off Vic Wertz' bat.

The game's last run was fashioned when Kell and Wertz hit successive singles with two out in the third, and Kell scored on Herb Adams' throwing error.

Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., dentist turned pro, shot a 33-33-66, four under par. Snead posted a 37-33-70. The Memphis linksman led Snead by two strokes after their opening round at Sioux City, Iowa, Wednesday. Yesterday's exhibition at the Quincy Country club attracted a gallery of 1,000.

Bangaway Triumphs

Iowa's AAU 300-Meter Champions

HAPPY HAWKEYES—The University of Iowa's 300-meter medley relay team, tired but happy, throw their arms around each other after winning the medley event in the National AAU Outdoor Swimming championships at Los Angeles Wednesday night. The Hawkeyes are (left to right) Bowen Stasforth, breast stroker, Wally Ris, free styler, and Duane Draves, back stroker. Ris overcame a four-yard deficit on the final lap to nose out the Brighton "C" team of Atlantic City, N. J. Iowa's winning time for the 300-meter event was 3:18.3.

Tribe Rips Browns With 14-4 Pasting

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cleveland Indians turned on the St. Louis Browns with a vengeance last night, burying them under a 14 to 4 score to partially wipe out the stigma of last night's double defeat by the tail-enders.

Bob Lemon had little trouble racking up his 15th victory while Larry Doby and Mickey Vernon each pored 3-run homers.

It was the only night game in the major leagues.

The Indians lost no time starting to work on Earl Driess. Doby followed up first inning singles by Dale Mitchell and Lou Boudreau with his 18th homer over the right field pavilion.

Wins Left-Handed Golf Championship

FRENCH LICK, IND. (AP)—Experience triumphed over youth in the National Left-Handed Golf championship here yesterday as Alvin Everett, Rome, Ga., won his third title by beating Bob Malone, Fort Worth, Tex., 6 and 4.

Everett held the title previously in 1939 and 1940. He won the first hole of the 36-hole finals yesterday and never was headed holding a four-up lead after the first 18.

The new champion won his semi-final match Wednesday with a 2 and 1 upset victory over favored Jack Walters of Tacoma, Wash., as Malone, only 24, beat Elmer Hoffman, Freeport, Ill., 4 and 3.

Furuhashi Shatters Another World Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The incomparable Hironoshin Furuhashi of Japan put on another world record shattering performance last night to win the 400-meter free style finals in the National AAU swimming meet. The Nipponese swept the first places in the event.

Furuhashi was timed officially at 4:33 flat, 1 9-10 of a second under the listed world record.

Four Japanese swimmers qualified in the 400-meter free style and the Nip team turned in the fastest time in the 800-meter relay preliminary, but got a good scare.

Bulletin

LOS ANGELES — Iowa's Duane Draves and Bowen Stasforth both finished third last night in their specialties here in the National AAU Outdoor Swimming championships.

In the 100-meter backstroke, Draves' time of 1:09.5 gave him third place behind Allen Stack of the New Haven Swimming club, 1:07.1, and Richard Feterman of the University of Miami, 1:08.2.

Stasforth was clocked at 2:47.6 in the 200-meter breast stroke, trailing Joe Verdeur of the Brighton Swimming club, 2:36.3, and Robert Brawner of the Olympic club, San Francisco, 2:42.3.

Japan's relay squad chose to take it easy and led by a couple of yards at 600 meters. Then Furuhashi loated in the first 100 of his anchor sprint. Suddenly he found himself in third place.

As he made the turn he looked up, startled. Then he poured it on, virtually pulling himself out of the water with his powerful stroke to leave his opponents far astern. He finished six yards ahead of Joe Verdeur, anchoring the Brighton Swim club "A" team of Atlantic City, N.J.

The time was 9:16.6. Unofficially, Furuhashi swam the 200 meters in 2:16.6, but he must have finished the last 100 in less than a minute.

The other heat of the 800-meter relay was taken by the New Haven Swim club in 9:27.6. The world record is 8:46 flat, set last year by the U.S. Olympic squad.

In the 400 meter, free style, the Japanese were the only men to break five minutes.

Nip Champion Hironoshin Furuhashi won his heat in 4:44.3, the best time.

Donald Watson, University of Iowa, finished fifth in the second heat of the preliminaries. He was clocked in 5:12.1. He failed to qualify.

Walsh Spins 3-Hitter As Bucs Blank Cubs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates shut out the Chicago Cubs 2-0 yesterday on Rookie Jim Walsh's three-hitter. Russ scored on Ralph Kiner's hits accounted for both Pittsburgh tallies.

The smallest paid attendance of the year, — 6,932 — turned out for Walsh's second mound appearance for the Bucs. It was his first tour of duty in Pittsburgh.

In blanking Chicago, Walsh evened the score with the Cubs. Last week they beat him in his debut by the same score.

Kiner scored Tom Saffell with a single in the first after Saffell had doubled. In the seventh Stan Rojek singled and came home when Kiner tripled to right.

Mrs. Kringle Runs Home Pickle Factory

Mrs. Carl Kringle, 1030 E. Washington street, says she doesn't have a "green thumb" to help her grow flowers but she does have a way with pickles.

"Mrs. Kringle's pickle factory" as some of her neighbors have called it, she has canned 35 pints of 21-day pickles, about 36 quarts of dills and nine quarts of bread and butters so far this summer.

During the war she canned 500 to 600 quarts of garden stuff from two victory gardens, using the water bath method. Although many housewives had trouble with corn spoiling when canned in a water bath, Mrs. Kringle said she had very little trouble with hers.

"Probably my good luck canning makes up for the fact that I just can't grow flowers," she added ruefully.

The pressure cooker she uses for canning now speeds up the work and keeps both her and the kitchen cooler. It doesn't make the hot jars any easier to handle, however.

Although she cans fruit, tomato juice and jellies for the most part, her specialty is the glorified cucumber—the pickle.

She has learned a couple of little tricks to add zest to her dills. She includes a few grape or cherry leaves in the jar and puts in the dill stems.

"Someone told me there is actually more flavor in the dill stem than in the top," she said.

But the pickles "most folks like best" are her 21-day variety. They're a crisp, gleaming dark green color with the right combination of the sweet and the tart.

After gathering the cucumbers from the garden, she spreads them out on the table separating them according to size. The large ones are used for dills, the mediums for bread-and-butters, and the small ones for the 21-day pickles.

Here is her recipe:

In brine that will float an egg, soak small cucumbers for nine days. Use about one cup of salt to five cups of water. Cut each pickle in half. Soak in fresh water for 24 hours. Take one part vinegar to one part of water. Use one tablespoon of alum to one gallon of pickles. Bring to a boil and pour over pickles.

Let stand twelve hours in this liquid. Drain and throw away liquid.

Make syrup of one pint vinegar to one quart sugar, one and one-half teaspoons whole cloves and two sticks of cinnamon. Boil syrup, pour over pickles. Every day for nine days drain off syrup, reheat and pour back over pickles. On the ninth day bring pickles to a boil and seal. And who eats the pickles at the end of 21 days? Mrs. and Mrs. Kringle and their daughter, Mary Lou, and son, Robert. Mary Lou is a senior at SUI and Robert plans to enroll in the Denver university law school this fall.

EXAMINING A JAR OF HER BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES is Mrs. Carl Kringle. On the two upper shelves are 35 pints of 21-day pickles; 36 quarts of dills are on the center shelf, and nine quarts of bread and butters grace the lower shelf. Mrs. Kringle says she can't make flowers grow, but her family agrees that she weilds a mean hand with the pickle.

Derrold M. Foster, Miss Marian Egerer Married in Chicago

Two SUI graduates, Marian Egerer of Chicago and Derrold M. Foster of West Branch, were married Aug. 6 in the Luther Memorial church in Chicago.

They are now living in West Branch where Mr. Foster is temporarily employed. They spent their honeymoon at the Wisconsin Dells.

The Rev. K. B. Neumann performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar adorned with gladioli and candelabra.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Egerer of Chicago, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white chantilly lace over ivory satin and carried a bouquet of white stephanotis with a white orchid.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Dorothy Ludwig of Chicago, wore a gown of pink lace over taffeta styled like the bride's and carried roses and white stephanotis.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LaMar Foster Sr., West Branch. His attendant was LeRay Phelps and ushers were Ted Petersen and William Ludwig.

A wedding dinner was served in the Sovereign hotel following the 4 p.m. ceremony and a reception was held at 9 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Foster graduated from SUI in June with a bachelor of science degree in commerce. Mr. Foster received his degree here in physical education. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Other attractions listed on the program for the field day include a furrow queen contest, a band concert, a plowing demonstration and a mass meeting with Harry Linn, state secretary of agriculture, as guest speaker.

Local Apartments May Be Affected By Rent Decontrol

The decontrol of rent in Iowa City, and when it is established, will have much more effect on apartments than on houses in the city, San Whiting Jr., president of the city Landlords and Taxpayers association, said yesterday.

Whiting's statement followed the announcement by Federal Housing Expediter Tighe Woods, that rents in all cities with less than 100,000 population may be decontrolled before Oct. 1. Des Moines is the only city in Iowa with a population of more than 100,000.

Whiting said that a recent survey of Iowa City made by the Landlords and Taxpayers association showed that most houses for single families rented under controls have been sold and are no longer under the jurisdiction of the rent control office.

"Apartments are about the only housing now being rented under controls," Whiting said. The announcement by Tighe Woods said that 350 of the 1,000 counties in U.S. under control would be affected by the action, and a list of half of these will be compiled within a week or 10 days.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

ONE OF America's great newspapermen wrote a special story for Christmas morning a few years ago. He poured his heart into the copy, finished it in the happy glow of a job well done, and phoned his managing editor, "Say, I'm really proud of this piece. It's hokum but it's the best thing I've done in a year." "Great," said the M.E. "There's no news to speak of coming through. I'll give you the left-hand column of the front page. Get the copy down here fast."

The writer gave his piece to a trusted messenger, trimmed the tree for his kids, and went to bed. At 4 a.m. the managing editor phoned him demanding frantically, "Where's that feature? I can't hold the presses 10 minutes more!"

Search for the messenger was fruitless. He didn't turn up, in fact, until late Dec. 26. "Oh, that story you gave me the other night," he recalled when the writer started shouting at him. "It sure was good. I started reading it on the way downtown, and it make me cry so, I took it home and read it to my wife for a Christmas present!"

Miners Paid For Actuary Bridges Hired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine Workers welfare fund paid $12,000 to an actuarial expert hired by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) over and above Bridges' own $35,000 annual salary as a trustee of the fund, it was disclosed yesterday.

Bridges recently defended his acceptance of the $35,000 salary on the grounds that a "substantial part" of it was consumed by legal fees and the cost of independent actuarial advice in connection with his duties as trustee.

Documents placed in the record of a senate banking subcommittee, at the instigation of Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho) showed that last April Bridges employed Russell E. Reagh for actuarial studies and that Reagh's $12,000 fee was paid by the fund.

Bridges promptly issued a statement asserting that Taylor's disclosures were nothing but "a move on the part of Henry Wallace's running mate to cause political embarrassment to me."

He said there was no contradiction of his previous statements because he had pointed out all along that the fund hires experts for the use of trustees.

Bridges acknowledged that Reagh, a former treasury official, and two other experts were employed at his suggestion and paid by the fund. But he said they reported to the full board of trustees rather than to him personally.

But minutes of the trustees meetings, which were included in the documents filed by Taylor, revealed that John L. Lewis believed "Reagh was never employed by the trustees, but served for 'full story' of his work for the Trustee Bridges personally."

Bridges promised to tell the fund when he resigns as a trustee, reportedly next month, and to identify the experts whom he said he paid out of his own salary.

Taylor made no comment on the documents he filed.

Ex-Communist Gets Position on Faculty Of Catholic College

CHICAGO (AP) — Mundelein college, a Catholic girl's school, announced yesterday that confessed Communist Courier Elizabeth Bentley will join its faculty this fall as a political science teacher.

Miss Bentley, who retired to obscurity after giving sensational testimony before the house un-American activities committee last summer, reportedly had been dickering with the college for the teaching job since last spring.

She was converted to Catholicism and baptized in Washington last Nov. 5 by the Rt. Rev. Fulton J. Sheen.

Miss Bentley admitted she joined the Communist party in 1935, went "underground" in 1938 and became a courier for the Communists in 1940, transmitting stolen information from government employes in Washington to Soviet agents in New York.

Her testimony named highly-placed government officials of the new deal era as members of the Communist underground, but all of them denied it or refused to testify.

In 1945, Miss Bentley said, she had a change of heart and went to the FBI with her story. She said she stayed in the Communist party as an FBI informer for the following year and a half.

Born 40 years ago in Connecticut of conservative Republican parents, Miss Bentley was educated in public schools in New York and Pennsylvania. She was graduated with honors from Vassar in 1930, received her master's degree at Columbia university, and studied abroad at the University of Florence in 1934 and 1935.

Vodka Made U.S. Yield: WCTU Chief

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The head of the national Woman's Christian Temperance union charged yesterday "drinking by U.S. officials at the Yalta and Potsdam conferences was greatly responsible for concessions made to the Soviets during the talks."

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin declared in her annual address at the opening of the group's 75th convention: "American representatives wondered at the conferences how the Russians could consume such large quantities of vodka and keep sober, when it had such an intoxicating effect upon the Americans."

"But," she continued, "we have learned since that Stalin and the Soviets outwit the representatives of other nations by plying them with vodka while the Russians drink water from vodka bottles."

Rita to Be Mother; Rumors Confirmed By Irritated Prince

DEAUVILLE, FRANCE (AP) — Prince Aly Khan disclosed yesterday that his actress-wife, Rita Hayworth, is expecting a baby.

His announcement confirmed rumors that have circulated for several weeks. But he revealed no details as to when the baby was expected or where it would be born.

Aly and Rita were married last May 27 in southern France in what has been described as the "wedding of the century" and which followed a dazzling international courtship.

The Moslem prince said he decided to make the announcement after he was deluged with press reports which he termed "completely false rumors."

He said he was annoyed particularly by reports in English newspapers which said the prince planned to have his child baptized in a Catholic church in Deauville, the faith to which Rita was born.

"This report is completely untrue," he said. Equally annoying, Aly said, were "guesses" in the press as to when the baby would be born. He added, "I sincerely hope this official announcement will put an end to all these rumors."

Butter Used to Rescue Pup from Tight Spot

BUTTER WELL AND PULL was the recipe Patrolman Homer Goodman used to rescue this little dog that somehow wedged himself in a three-and-a-half-inch space between two buildings in Oakland, Calif. At left, Goodman rubs the dog with melted butter obtained from a nearby restaurant to make him slippery. Steve Rose (center) of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals tries to pull out the pup, and at the right Rose and Patrolman Don Fullmore comfort the exhausted pup after he was freed. Later he licked off the butter.

Embarrassed Black Bear Invades; Papa Misses

EMBARRASS, MINN. (AP) — A big, black bear leaped into the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Walfrid Makkyla and demolished everything he could get his paws on.

Mrs. Makkyla and her two children saw the animal poke his shiny nose through a kitchen window Wednesday night. They scampered upstairs to wait until Makkyla returned home from his job at a Biwabik mine.

When Makkyla finally arrived, the marauder scooted out of the house and was out of range before Makkyla could draw a bead on him with a rifle.

He fired one shot and missed. The bear did about $300 damage.

Boy Scout Injured In Fall from Tree

Lee T. Smith, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benton W. Smith, 1118 N. Summit street, received face cuts Wednesday night when he fell from a tree in Palisades Kepler state park west of Mt. Vernon.

He was brought to Mercy hospital here where his condition was reported "good" yesterday.

The Smith boy was camping with Boy Scout troop 3, sponsored by the English Lutheran church, when the accident occurred. Other troop members returned to Iowa City yesterday.

IOWA FALLS (AP) — The annual retreat for Baptist Laymen of Iowa will be held in Iowa Falls Saturday and Sunday.

Principal speakers will be Dr. W.W. Adams, president of Central Baptist Theological seminary in Kansas City, Kan., and Dr. Luther Wesley Smith, executive secretary of the board of education and publication of the Northern Baptist convention.

The two-day meet is sponsored by the Iowa Council of Baptist Men. Officers of the council include Harry H. Miller of Sioux City, chairman.

Youth Who Lost Arm 'As Well as Expected'

Robert Libenguth, 18-year-old Riverside resident who lost his left arm in an automobile accident near Riverside Monday night, was "as well as expected," Mercy hospital officials said yesterday.

Lyle Davis, Wellman, driver of the other car involved in the collision, is being held in Washington county jail on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. A preliminary hearing for Davis has been postponed at his attorney's request.

Young CR Mother Charged with Sale Of 6-Month-Old Son

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — A child abandonment charge was filed against a 22-year-old Cedar Rapids mother yesterday accused of selling her six-months-old son for $50.

The alleged transaction took place on the midway at Hawkeye Downs, scene of the All-Iowa fair.

Deputy Sheriffs Larry Condon and Harlan Snyder said Frank and Sally Cannon, Chicago, members of one of the midway shows, told them they bought the child Wednesday for $50 from Patricia Ann Nelson.

Yesterday the child's grandmother, Mrs. George Nelson, came to the midway, the deputies said, and demanded return of the child.

Lena Vogt, county probation officer, said the abandonment charge was filed preparatory to a full investigation. She took custody of the child.

The mother had not been taken into custody and authorities were not immediately certain of her whereabouts.

Wants Explanation Of Shick Eviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Talle (R-Iowa) demanded yesterday that Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray and Housing Expediter Tighe Woods furnish a full explanation of "the proposed eviction of veterans" from the Shick apartments in Clinton.

Talle said in a statement that Clinton has been notified by the veterans administration that a permit allowing the city to operate the veterans housing project will not be renewed when it expires Sept. 30.

"All of the 38 apartments are occupied by veterans," he said, "but the proposed action would affect only the 22 who are not employes of the veterans administration."

"I am amazed to learn that the veterans administration — of all agencies — is seeking to evict veterans and their families from the homes they occupy."

Five new cases in fair condition were Walter McFadden Jr., 12, Dubuque; Le Roy Christopherson, 14, Mayvel, Minn.; Sandra Cota, 7, Elkader; Mary Vanourney, 3, Vinton; and Mrs. Genevieve Fairbanks, 19, Northville.

Transferred inactive cases were Faye Posson, 9, Clear Lake; James Bates, 16, Riceville; Virgil Eckley, 25, Marion; Robert Lewis, 16 months, Waterloo; Roland Squire, 4, Marshalltown, and Miriam Dykema, 26, Morrison, Ill.

Minnesota Uranium Deposit Discovered, Geologist Hints

MINNEAPOLIS (UP) — A University of Minnesota geologist hinted yesterday uranium deposits may have been discovered along Minnesota's north Lake Superior shore.

Dr. George M. Schwartz declined to reveal results of a summer-long search with Geiger counters by geologists scouring the Superior shoreline between Two Harbors, Minn., and the Canadian border.

But he said he will "strongly urge" the atomic energy commission to make public his report about Nov. 1.

"It's easy to go wrong on calculations," Schwartz said. "We have to check thoroughly before making any announcement as important as this report might be."

He warned this should not be interpreted as meaning a sensational discovery has been made.

"I'm not saying we've found anything startling," he said. "But the public has so much misunderstanding. We need more public information on things like this."

Schwartz said he could release no information because "the work is being paid for by the AEC."

"It wouldn't be fair to your employer if you were to divulge things he paid for," he said, "it would be the same if this were an iron ore report or anything else."

The Minnesota geologist returned yesterday from the north shore where he reviewed findings of Merle Harris, geology instructor, and Paul Melancon, university graduate student, who are toting Geiger counters over the lake shore area. The two will remain at work a week or 10 days more, Schwartz said.

Schwartz said he will collaborate on his report with Dr. Phillip Merritt, assistant director of the AEC raw materials division, who spent several days with the field this summer.

The Geiger counter records, showing the number and intensity of "clicks" on the radio-sensitive instruments, must be calibrated before a full picture can be developed or a report made, Schwartz said.

The prospectors have discovered several deposits of zirconium and thorium, radio-active elements which start the Geiger counter clicking.

Schwartz said his office receives samples of ore supposedly containing uranium every day from people throughout the state. None of the samples has contained the precious metal, but he said, "any one of them might turn up a uranium deposit."

The present AEC-sponsored hunt is the first systematic attempt at finding uranium deposits in the state, Schwartz said.

Margaret Mitchell Buried in Atlanta At Simple Service

ATLANTA (AP) — Margaret Mitchell was buried yesterday in the heart of the city she immortalized in her epic novel, "Gone with the Wind."

As the author was paid final respects in a simple funeral service here, the off-duty taxi driver whose speeding car struck her down issued his first explanation of the accident.

Hugh D. Gravitt, 29, facing murder charges for the accident Aug. 11 which resulted in Miss Mitchell's death Tuesday, said he was hurrying to get medicine for his sick stepson when his automobile hit the author as she crossed Peachtree street with her husband.

Gravitt, held without bond pending grand jury action, prayed in his jail cell as the author was buried in historic Oakland cemetery near the graves of 5,000 Confederate soldiers who inspired her to write her only novel.

Some 300 persons, including relatives and her closest friends, attended the plain Episcopal funeral service for Miss Mitchell in a small ivory-colored chapel yesterday morning.

There were no eulogies and, by the family's request, few flowers. The simple services typified the shy, 46-year-old woman who would have little to do with the fame and publicity that became hers on the strength of her novel.

Confederate and American flags flanked the casket.

New Construction on Campus Begins to Make SUI's Expansion Program a Reality

By HUGH BAILE

New and former students coming to SUI next month will find evidence of the campus planning committee's five-year study for university expansion.

The $400,000 Currier hall addition, completed this month, is the first major unit in the expansion program since World War II. Ready for occupancy when school opens, the addition increases Currier's woman student capacity to 775.

The dormitory housing office plans to close Madison court cottages north of the Iowa Union, because the Currier addition will take care of 150 women who would have been housed in the cottages.

A second expansion program unit completed this summer is the $130,000 botany building west of University hospitals. It contains a laboratory, basement and greenhouse.

Concrete pilings and foundation work for the new $1.5-million library will be completed this summer and superstructural work soon will begin. President Virgil M. Hancher signalled ground breaking for the building May 11.

Library plans were started in 1943. First bids in May, 1948, were rejected because they were $1.2-million over the funds appropriated by the state legislature.

The university advertised bids again last winter and on March 2 of this year contracts were signed for the initial unit of a $3.2-million library plant. University Architect George L. Horner said this first project should be completed by January, 1951.

Fronting on Washington street at Madison street, the building will be a three-story structure about 150 by 300 feet.

Ralph E. Ellsworth, director of libraries, pointed out the first floor will serve general education students, the second floor will be designed for advanced undergraduates and the third floor will be reserved for research graduate students.

A lecture hall on the first floor will seat 250 persons and each story will have lounges, conference and study rooms, Ellsworth said.

When money is available for the second unit of the library building, a similar three-story structure will be erected south of the one now under construction, making a building 300 feet square.

Hillcrest men's dormitory is next in the expansion program. A public hearing was held this month on the addition to be constructed south from the southeast tower of the present building.

Building contracts will be let next month for the addition which will house 137 men, Horner said. The wing should be ready for occupancy a year from this fall.

The Hillcrest addition is the first phase of plans made in 1946 to increase the dormitory's present 550 capacity to 800 men. It is the base of a T-shaped addition which will parallel Grand avenue.

Plans and specifications now are being drawn up for an addition to the women's gymnasium on Jefferson street. Contracts will be let this winter or early next spring, Horner said.

The addition will be a three-story building and will extend west from the present gymnasium to Madison street. The 148 by 72-foot building will house an exercise floor, class rooms, camping laboratory, research laboratory for graduates, shower and locker rooms, offices and crafts rooms.

The addition is so planned it can be integrated with future expansion to the north along Madison street.

University planning and construction office personnel now are sifting information on journalism requirements to get planning underway on the new $500,000 communications building, Horner said.

The building should be through the planning stage this winter with contract ready to let by next fall, he said.

This building, too, will be constructed on a unit basis with future expansion as funds are available. The first unit will house the journalism school, now scattered in several buildings about the campus.

Eventually all communications activities, including journalism, radio, television and information service, will be housed in the proposed building fronting on Dubuque street between Iowa avenue and Jefferson street.

Some preliminary work has been done on a school for handicapped children to be located west of general hospital, Horner said. This will be a $750,000 project.

Another project now being contemplated is a new women's dormitory that will house 800 students. T. M. Rehder, director of dormitory and dining services, said the proposed building will be located near Halley street and Riverside drive west of Riverdale village.

An addition to the Iowa Union also is being considered. To be built south of the present Union building, it will house bowling alleys, special dancing facilities, new food services and a chapel.

Parklawn, housing project for married students, has been on the contract bidding block twice in past years, but both times bids were too high, Horner said. The project has been shelved temporarily until prices come down, he explained.

Projected into future expansion are more space for university utility services, a dental and pharmacy building in the hospital area, a new law building near the Law Commons and South Quad additions.

The long-range program, developed by the committee, was recommended by President Hancher and approved by the Iowa state board of education in 1945, Prof. F.G. Higbee, committee chairman, said.

One of the main reasons for the expansion program is that the university has space to accommodate just over 10,000 students, Higbee said. In 1948 17,000 students were enrolled at the university and 12,000 of them were on the campus.

Present floor space totals about 3-million square feet, yet 31 percent more space is needed, Higbee said. Educational activity occupies 51 percent of this area, hospital facilities 20 percent and student housing 29 percent.

Money appropriated by the state legislature paid for about 78 percent of the educational space. State funds and private foundation grants provided about equal amounts for the hospital center.

Student housing projects were largely self-financed, the university issuing bonds and retiring them on rent and service monies. The only university dormitory paid for by state appropriation was part of the Quadrangle built for the national guard during the first World War.

Construction for educational purposes has been at a standstill for the past decade. Since the university theater was built in 1935, the only classroom space added to the campus has been the erection of temporary barack classrooms, Horner said.

Student housing facilities have fared a little better. Additions were built to Currier and Hillcrest dormitories in 1939 and 1940. South Quad was built during World War II for the navy and the Westlawn nurse's dormitory addition was constructed during the same period.

Hoey Declares 'Freeze' Gifts 'Magnified Out of Proportion'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Clyde Hoey (D-NC) of the senate's "five percenters" committee, said yesterday he believes the gift of deep freezers, which involves Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, White-House military aide, "has been magnified out of all proportion to its importance."

His statement was made after Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) asserted that "sources very close" to President Truman are passing the investigators "leads and information" about Vaughan.

Venue Change Asked of Trott

On a request of change of venue, Police Judge Emil G. Trott yesterday transferred to another court the case against two North Liberty establishments charged with illegal possession of liquor and gambling devices.

The charges, originated by Donald L. Myers, 906 E. College street, were filed against Shannon's and the Lighthouse.

Defending Attorney Frank Messer presented two motions at yesterday's hearing. One stated Judge Trott was not qualified to pass judgment on the case because of former participation in the proceedings, and the second asked for change of venue.

Judge Trott did not rule on the first motion, and on the second assigned the case to the Iowa City justice of the peace court of W.F. Murphy.

Refers Letter . . .

DES MOINES — Gov. William S. Beardsley yesterday said he has referred to the attorney general's office a letter he received from Dr. L.L. Dunnington, Iowa City Methodist minister. He declined to disclose the contents of the letter.

The attorney general's office yesterday received a letter from Donald L. Myers of Iowa City. It included newspaper clippings of recent liquor and gambling raids in Johnson county, referred to "corrupt fraud" and asked "cooperation."

Crash of Airliner in Britain Kills 24

MANCHESTER, ENGLAND (AP) — A twin-engine British airliner hit a hillside near here in misty weather yesterday and the British European Airways said 24 of the 32 persons aboard were killed.

BEA, owner of the plane, said in London 22 persons were killed outright and two others died later.

The company said the dead included 11 women passengers, four children, six men passengers and three crewmen.

BEA said all aboard the plane were British except two from northern Ireland.

SUI Landmark Rolls Out Welcome Mat

Finns Hit Communist Strikers

HELSINKI, FINLAND (AP) — Communist leaders were arrested yesterday in a speedy government crack-down on a nationwide strike offensive which flared into violence Thursday.

A government spokesman has declared the wave of strikes is a planned Communist maneuver to seize power and establish a Communist government in Helsinki.

The government, its army alerted, took fast action after the first blood was spilled Thursday in Kemi, where one man was killed and nine were injured.

The country's central trade union federation also swung into action issuing an ultimatum to the Communist-led unions ordering them to cancel their strike call. It threatened to split the federation wide open.

By a vote of eight to five, the federation's executive committee decided to order four striking unions to call off their walkouts before Aug. 23 or suffer expulsion from the federation.

This move was directed against the following unions: dockers; food workers; building and construction workers; and the forestry workers' and loggers' union. The federation made it plain the textile, leather, shoe and rubber workers' unions, who have scheduled strikes, also would be expelled if current strikes are not called off.

Finnish troops were rushed to Kemi, in northern Finland Thursday after police and an estimated 1,500 lumberjacks fought a brief pitched battle at a lumber-sorting dam. An exchange of pistol snatches echoed through the seaport town.

Extension of Farm Price Support Plan Sought by Senator

WASHINGTON (UP) — Chairman Elmer Thomas of the senate agriculture committee yesterday urged a one-year extension of the present high wartime farm price support program and revealed the administration opposes a proposed senate compromise.

The Oklahoma Democrat said there is "no other course" open to the senate except to follow the lead of the house which already has voted to continue to support prices of some 18 farm crops at a full 90 percent of parity.

He said the farm organizations are hopelessly split on the issue of new farm legislation, that the administration opposes the senate compromise, and that members of the senate themselves are uncertain what course to take.

Thomas added that he had called a meeting of the full committee for Monday. At that time, he said, he hopes it will accept his proposal and reject the compromise farm bill drafted by a subcommittee headed by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM).

Under present law, the so-called Aiken plan of flexible farm price supports is scheduled to go into effect next January. Anderson's compromise would include some features of the Aiken law and some provisions of the present law.

Flying Saucer Type Aircraft Discovered in Maryland Town

WASHINGTON (UP) — The U.S. air force, in cooperation with Maryland state police, has found two weird-looking "flying saucer" type aircraft in an abandoned tool shed at Marley Park, Md., it was disclosed last night.

The contraptions, which an air force spokesman said give the appearance of "flying discs" and one of which is reported to have flown, were discovered by the air force office of special investigation which for years has been probing into the "flying saucer" mystery, with few tangible results.

Capt. Douglas Belk, head of the Baltimore, Md., detachment of the fourth office of special investigation district, and Special Agent A. Von Maucher found the craft.

The air force said the contraptions were built before the war by a Jonathan Caldwell who has since disappeared. But the investigators located a mechanic, as yet unidentified, who said he had helped Caldwell build the craft and that one was flown.

The air force said the craft were in such dilapidated condition that neither could have flown recently enough to have been the "flying saucers" which reportedly were seen in various regions over the past several years.

FCC Votes To Curb Give-Away Programs

WASHINGTON (UP) — The federal communications commission issued a drastic ruling yesterday that may cut the $22-million annual flow of radio network and television jackpot winnings to a trickle.

The FCC voted 3 to 1, with three members not participating, to cancel the license of any radio or television station which broadcasts after Oct. 1 quiz programs involving any participants outside the studio audience.

Such programs, the commission said, are lotteries. So classified were the programs which offer the biggest bonanzas in cash, refrigerators, houses, automobiles and trips to Europe. On most of these programs, the telephone is the wheel of chance by which potential winners are selected.

Radio network officials indicated they plan a court battle to keep the FCC from enforcing its edict. Several spokesmen questioned the commission's right to issue such an order.

"This is a fight which will be waged by the entire industry," Producer Mark Goodson declared.

The biggest jackpots have been offered by ABC's "Stop the Music," with an estimated 15-million listeners and a top prize of merchandise worth $31,000, and NBC's new answer to CBS' Jack Benny, "Hollywood Calling," which already has paid one jackpot worth $31,000.

The FCC ruling made no mention of quiz shows on which participation is limited to studio audiences. In New York, the four major networks reported they broadcast a total of 39 quiz programs. Of these, 22 are limited to studio audience participation.

The American Broadcasting company, which has 13 quiz shows, 10 of them involving listeners at home, was the only network to comment immediately on the ruling. It announced it would go right on broadcasting all of its quiz shows as long as audiences listen to them and said it would start court proceedings as soon as possible to prove that its jackpot programs are not lotteries.

Woods Forced to Drop Some Decontrol Plans

WASHINGTON (UP) — Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods revealed yesterday he has been forced to drop plans to decontrol all of 4.5-million dwelling units originally scheduled to be removed from rent ceilings for economy reasons.

Instead, he said, he will order decontrol of some of the rental areas and urge local officials to police rents in other areas where he doesn't have the money to do it.

Even as Woods revealed his revised decontrol plans, which are due to threatened congressional economics, rent control friends in the senate opened a drive to restore at least part of his agency's funds.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) urged his colleagues to reconsider the vote by which they had agreed with the house to cut the budget from $21,667,500 to $17,500,000.

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala), backed Douglas. He said the issue is "Do we want rent control or decontrol?" But Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), head of the senate conferees, said Woods could come back to congress for more money next January.

"That is the evil in this reduction," interrupted Sen. Francis J. Myers (D-Pa). "That is the dilemma with which the housing expediter is confronted. He dare not spend these funds in the first six months in the hope of a deficiency appropriation."

Senate leaders finally agreed to postpone a vote on the issue until Monday.

Woods, who announced his now-abandoned plan after congress ordered sharp reductions in his budget, estimated that 150 to 200 of the nation's 1,000 rent control areas still will be decontrolled. He had intended to drop controls in a third of the areas.

He said he also will be forced to dismiss about 2,462 of his 5,462 employees throughout the country and to trim his seven regional rent offices to a skeleton basis.

Foreign Arms Aid May Receive Slash in Senate: Dulles

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. John Foster Dulles (R-NY) warned yesterday the senate may follow the house in voting a sharp cut in the $1,450,000,000 arms aid program unless the Truman administration changes its "bull-headed" stand on the issue.

President Truman, State Secretary Dean Acheson and other leaders have demanded the full program be enacted.

Dulles, top-ranking Republican policy leader, lashed out at this "no-compromise" attitude as the senate foreign relations and armed services committees completed public hearings on the hotly-disputed arms bill.

Henry A. Wallace, former progressive party presidential candidate, testified at the final hearing that the program is "aggressive" in nature and might well provoke war with Russia.

The house passed the bill Thursday night after cutting in half the funds earmarked to buy arms for European members of the north Atlantic security pact.

Chairman Millard F. Tydings (D-Md) of the senate armed services committee, caid the house action a "mistake" and promised to lead a senate fight to restore the cut.

But Dulles said administration leaders have only themselves to blame for the $580,495,000 cut made by the house.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait Ends Global Plane Trip

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Richarda (Dikki) Morrow - Tait, a mothered ex-artists' model and realtor, completed her single-engine plane ride around the world early last night.

It took her a year and a day to fly the long way from London back to London — 25,000 miles — but she is the first woman to girdle the globe at the controls of an airplane.

With her was her navigator, Michael Townsend, 26, of Cambridge.

Her husband, Norman Morrow-Tait, an engineer living in Cambridge and doing the dishes and baby-sitting these last 366 days, rushed to Croydon airport to greet her. He took along their daughter, Anna, now nearly three years old.

Richarda phoned him from Prestwick, Scotland, where she had landed to gas up after the over-water hop from Reykjavik, Iceland, earlier in the day.

Wearing a red plaid shirt, brown slacks and black flying boots, she jumped out of the cockpit into the arms of her husband and

Anna. Morrow-Tait kissed her fervently. When she made a motion of protest lit up by a smile, he said "Damn the lipstick."

Richarda then picked up her little girl who was scared by the propeller noise and was sobbing.

Thousands Cheer Connie Mack In New York City's Welcome Mayor 'Dyer' Opens Tribute

NEW YORK (AP) — Cornelius McGillicuddy, baseball's Mr. Mack received yesterday the cheers of 300,000 persons in an official, noisy welcome from New York City.

Actually he only came to town to try to beat the American league leading New York Yankees, but everyone acted as if he had accomplished a feat of mighty heroism. In a way he had. He has been in baseball for 66 years.

Mayor William E. O'Dwyer, in traditional ceremonies on the steps of city hall, gave the tall, stringy 8-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics a distinguished service certificate which proclaimed that "Connie Mack's dignity and modesty have been an inspiration to his teams and to his countrymen."

"This is one of the happiest days I have ever put in and it is all due to Mayor Dyer and the Yankee organization," said Mr. Mack, smiling broadly. Friends felt happy that he got as close to the mayor's name as "Dyer" because the exact details of people's names have never worried Mr. Mack.

"It is my real intention to manage the Philadelphia team in 1950, which will be my 50th year as manager of the club," he said.

It was a regular New York City welcome in sunny baseball weather — a ticker-tape parade up Broadway with sirens bravely sounding, two brass bands playing different tunes at the same time, the police glee club singing "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," hundreds of youngsters carrying bats, and cheers from thousands in city hall park.

The ceremonies were the start of three days of official tribute by New York's millions. Today will be ladies day at Yankee stadium, and tomorrow, before the game between the Athletics and the Yankees, Mack will receive a plaque and gifts and watch his stars of yesteryear play two innings against former Yankee greats.

Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich and all the Yankee stars were on the platform for the ceremonies.

The Little Guy Celebrates a Birthday —

There was a birthday this summer of a little character just about every Iowa student is acquainted with, in one way or another. And in his first year he crammed a lot of useful and interesting experiences into his life.

By now the students returning to our institution know who we're talking about and the new students have a pretty good idea of who this "character" is.

Yes, Herky the Hawk, the little guy with the split personality and beak to go with it, has led Iowa athletic teams for one season now and already he has attained nation-wide—well, state and Big Ten—fame. After just one year he's almost as well known as Wisconsin's Badger and Northwestern's Wildcat, and Herky can do more things—he's versatile.

Not only is he a football player, as shown on Iowa's 1948 football ticket application literature and the information booklet but he has now developed an "overwing" hook shot that is guaranteed to be as good as the one Murray Wier had.

Herky, short wings and tail to match, has no favorite sport, however. He shows the way on the baseball field, wielding a big bat. Then in swimming he's a fancy diver, a muscle-flexer (if there is such a thing) on the wrestling mat and when he joins the track team he's a discus thrower. Herky also likes tennis and golf, pictured with a racket for tennis and just about to can a putt while performing on the golf course.

But most important of his work since coming from the drawing board of his creator, Dick Spencer, managing editor of the university information service, has been Herky's efforts for better sportsmanship. In this department the little guy excels, becoming Herky the "Horrible" or Herky the "Hero."

Herky the Hero gets a big assist in patching up the differences Iowa had with its good neighbors to the north, both in basketball and football. He still leaves plenty of room for good, hard athletic competition, the kind the crowd in the locker room will enjoy much more than the booing, cut-throat sessions that were about to get a firm hold at some football and basketball contests.

"Horrible" is the fan who gets a kick out of seeing the officials and the players on the other team, the "I give 'em all the bird" type as he puffs on a cigar under the no smoking sign.

On the other hand, Herky the Hero is a smart Herky, the kind who knows the poor referees are in a tough spot and are honest — even if their decisions aren't always agreed to by 15,000 Iowa fans.

Hero doesn't boo the opponents. From his store of athletic knowledge he can see that opposing players are sometimes impulsive — almost always nervous — and doing their best. He doesn't want to, but this Herky even keeps his seat when "their best" is a little better than Iowa is doing at the time.

The advice and behavior of Herky the Hero is the kind that would be nice to see all around the Big Ten this athletic year. The other schools are working to improve sportsmanship in their own ways. Our way is through Herky, a method that caught on fast last year and should be even more popular this year as the little figure that means IOWA.

We didn't start from scratch in trying to better sportsmanship here. The starting point was somewhat below scratch until just a year or so ago. Iowa has been known as one of the roughest places in the conference to visit as a member of a visiting team. Fans who recall the basketball season of 1947-48 will admit that it got pretty tough for opposing teams, a situation that didn't do much for the Iowa fans.

Our pal Herky had a huge job in front of him when he arrived on the scene a year ago. His job is still big, not as big as it was, but big enough to keep him plenty busy, busy being Hero and leading Iowa teams to victory.

U.S. Grabs 3-1 Lead In Walker Cup Play

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — It was the same old story all over again yesterday as Uncle Sam's amateur golfers slammed their way to a 3-1 lead over the British at the outset of the two-day Walker Cup matches at the Winged Foot club.

By winning all but one of the Scotch foursomes contested in a high wind, the defending American swingers will need only to break even in today's eight singles jousts to assure their 11th victory in the 12 times the international series has been played since 1922.

Yesterday's only defeat fell to what Captain Francis Ouimet had listed as his No. 1 American combination. Little Willie Turnesa, the U.S. champion, and Ray Billows succumbed to some fine, steady golf by Joe Carr and Ronnie White of the British side.

Engagement Announced

THE ENGAGEMENT AND APPROACHING MARRIAGE of Miss Carolyn Squier to George Edward Wainwright, Marlon, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Squier of Coralville. Miss Squier was a SUI student during the fall and spring semesters and Mr. Wainwright studied here during the 1945-47 year. He is the son of Mrs. Am'e Wainwright of San Diego, Calif. Both Miss Squier and Mr. Wainwright are employed by The Daily Iowan. They will be married in Iowa City Oct. 1.

Former SUI Student to Play 'Sheik'

Studied Dramatics, Got Degree Here

After hunting 11 years, movie producers last week found a man to play the role of Rudolph Valentino in a movie based on the life of the famed screen lover of the 1920's.

He is Tony Dexter, former SUI graduate student from the small southeast Nebraska town of Talmage. Dexter, who has never appeared on the screen, was chosen by Producer Edward Small from some 75,000 applicants.

Publicized as a 29-year-old war veteran, Dexter will appear in "Valentino as I Knew Him." Valentino was the idol of women movie fans when he died in 1926 at the age of 31.

The end of Small's search signalled the start of another search at SUI for the man named Dexter. The alumni office records contained no file on Tony Dexter. Neither did the graduate college files, nor the registrar's, nor the theater's.

Finally Prof. E.C. Mabie, director of the university theater, suggested Dexter had attended school here as Walter Fleischmann. "There's no doubt about it," Paul Dave, dramatic arts instructor, said when he saw a newspaper photograph of Dexter.

Fleischmann, the son of Rev. and Mrs. Walter Fleischmann of Talmage, Neb., enrolled as a graduate dramatic arts student at SUI in the summer of 1936. He received his B.A. degree in 1935 from St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., where he made a national tour with the college choir. He received his M.A. degree here in August, 1938, and taught at High Point college, High Point, N.C. He returned to Iowa City under his stage name, Walter Craig for the summer session in 1942. Shortly after that he entered service.

Tony Dexter as Valentino

The Real Rudolph Valentino

Dave recalled Fleischmann had been a "top flight" dramatics student, was "quite a dynamic" person and had a "good voice." From physical height and characteristics, Fleischmann would closely resemble Valentino, Dave commented. Fleischmann played Jim Couwell in "Two Hundred Were Chosen" by E.P. Conkie. The play, directed by Mabie, was the dedicating performance for the opening of the University theater in November, 1936.

He played the lead role, Richard II, in "Richard of Bordeaux" by Gordon Daviot presented in August, 1938. He was Hotspur in the April, 1938, production of Shakespeare's "King Henry the Fourth."

He also was cast as David Naughton, the male lead, in "Claudia" by Rose Franken, presented in June, 1942.

Fleischmann also played in "Elizabeth the Queen" by Maxwell Anderson, August, 1936; "Clive of India" by Liscomb and Minney, April, 1937; "Pride and Prejudice" by Helen Jerome, December, 1937; and "The School for Scandal" by Richard B. Sheridan, July, 1942.

Des Moines Men to Study Rabies Control

DES MOINES (P) — A city-county-state committee was named yesterday to "formulate a plan of rabies control" for Des Moines and Polk county.

The committee was appointed by Mayor Heck Ross at a conference of city, county, state and federal officials, a private veterinarian and a kennel club officer.

"We've got to get down to business," said Dr. H.E. Ransom, city health commissioner, who moved that the mayor name a committee. Rabies has increased at an "alarming" rate in the city and the remainder of the county this year, a group representing official and private veterinarians reported recently.

Both Ransom and John Rand, chief city sanitary inspector, pressed at yesterday's meeting for quick decision on establishment of a control program.

Although no decision was reached, much of the discussion concerned a possibility of mass inoculation of dogs against rabies here.

Youth Turned Over To Illinois Authorities After Arrest Here

James B. Stroup, 19, Lanark, Ill., who was being held by Iowa City police on a charge of robbing a cafe in Aledo, Ill., was given into the custody of authorities from Mercer county, Ill., yesterday afternoon.

The Illinois authorities said Stroup would probably be charged with larceny.

Iowa City police apprehended the youth yesterday morning after he allegedly tried to change a large amount of small change into bills.

The youth admitted robbing a cash box in an Aledo, Ill. cafe and he had over $86 in cash which was on his person when arrested, Iowa City police said.

Operator of the Aledo Cafe claimed that over $100 was stolen, Illinois authorities said.

Stroup told Iowa City police that he rode to Iowa City in a Rock Island, Ill., taxi.

Building Gets Beauty Mask

WORK ON THE TELEPHONE BUILDING, which is underway here, does not include painting. Although it looks like paint from a distance, the change in color is due to a masking tape put over the brick while the seams between bricks are getting a new coat of mortar. The job, which will take about two and a half more months to finish, will waterproof the building, George Hibbard, chief tester with the telephone company, said.

U-Hospitals Report 9 New Polio Cases

Nine new polio admissions with five transfers to the inactive list brought to 30 the total number of active polio cases at University hospitals yesterday, hospital authorities said.

All new admissions were from Iowa with only one in poor condition. He was Adrian Strands, 5, Decorah.

Eight admissions in fair condition were John Pruet, 20 months, Cedar Rapids; Nora Reekman, 20, Clinton; James Deatshe, 7, Williamsburg; Dennis Stoddard, 4, Northwood; Clifford Seibert, 16, Greeley; Mrs. Carrie Caraway, 35, Monmouth; James Kilby, 6, Mason City; and Gerald Aanas, 13, Waterloo.

Transferred to the inactive list were Richard Boyd, 25, Rutland; Darlene Feckers, 18, Radcliffe; Diana Phillips, 21 months, Cedar Falls; Jerry McClimon, 10, Clinton; and Marilyn Ringen, 17, Swego.

REDUCE MILK SUPPLY

LONDON (P)—The ministry of food announced yesterday that daily milk supplies for restaurants will be cut 50 percent tomorrow.

Two Scouts Leave For Kansas Camp

Two Iowa City senior scouts left early this morning for a week-long senior scout air encampment at Smoky Hill airbase, Salina, Kan.

Dick Moore, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Moore, 330 E. Church street, and James Wagner, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner, 315 E. Davenport street, left by bus at 3:30 a.m. for Des Moines, Scout Field Executive Jack McDavid said.

The youths are leaving Des Moines by army air transport for Salina, where they will explore the field of aviation, McDavid said. They will spend time on Link trainers, air mechanics, flying, athletic and social activity.

Crazed Chicago Gunman Dead, 10 Injured in Shooting Spree

CHICAGO (AP)—In the smoky glare of floodlights, the bullet-riddled body of a crazed Negro gunman was hauled from a narrow arca-way between two buildings early yesterday. It marked the end of Chicago's "greatest gun battle."

The Negro, Ernest Craig, 28, went on the shooting spree when policemen tried to arrest him for shooting a child. He held off more than 200 policemen in a flaming three-hour siege until finally driven from his barricaded home by fire and tear gas. A fusillade of police bullets cut him down.

The toll was one dead and 10 injured, including eight policemen. Five officers and a woman spectator were shot. Two officers were burned in the eyes by tear gas and another's arm was cut by shattered window glass. The Negro's home was burned out by fire.

Thousands of spectators, who dodged behind cars and in and out of basements, watched the spectacular battle in the west side Negro district.

Police Commissioner John C. Prendergast who narrowly escaped after being trapped in a vicious cross-fire, called it the "greatest and toughest" gun battle in his 43 years on the force.

Police said Craig took a shot Thursday night at Lawrence

Mack, 17, a Negro neighbor he had hired to redecorate his home. He accused Mack of stealing one of his pistols. However, the shot went wide, the bullet slightly wounding Drake Atkins, 2-year-old Negro child.

When detectives went to Craig's home, he fired at them and missed. Some 40 squads of reserves were called in and the siege war on.

Craig, armed with two pistols ran wildly from the front to rear of his home, firing from the windows. Police poured a steady fire into the windows from machine guns, rifles and pistols. They dumped in tear gas, but Craig held out.

When the shots inside stopped, Commissioner Prendergast led a party of five high police officials into the burning house. But Craig was still very much alive. He opened fire on them from the top of the stairs on the second floor. Prendergast and the others flattened against the wall as police reserves behind cut loose with a volley.

Two Auto Accidents Cause $360 Damage

Two traffic accidents in Iowa City yesterday injured one person and caused an estimated damage of more than $360.

The accident occurred on highway 218 near the Iowa City airport. Wehmeyer told police $100 damage was done to his car and Mead estimated $160 damage to his vehicle.

Another accident at the intersection of Riverside drive and Iowa avenue at 6:40 a.m. yesterday involved a truck driven by Charles Rippey, Guttenberg, and an automobile driven by D.F. Roggentine, South Amana.

Damaged estimated at $100 was done to the Roggentine vehicle and Rippey reported $3 damage to his truck.

Elusiveness in College —

Officials at SUI expect an enrollment of approximately 9,900 resident students for the fall semester.

This figure represents a decrease of almost a thousand from the record-breaking enrollment of 10,886 set last fall.

In any event, there will be a lot of students who will be getting their first taste of college a month from now.

Just what these new students — and the returning ones as well — will gain from their college experience is pretty much an individual matter.

Some will come here with the idea that college is a place to spend four years going through a maturing process. Others will feel that college is a place to hide out to keep the labor market from being glutted.

Still others will feel that they are going to a trade school on a collegiate plane.

Actually, college should serve these three functions and at least one other. College should be viewed as an opportunity for a student to pursue that elusive something that turns out responsible members of society.

Nailing down that elusive sense of responsibility is not an easy task but is no less important because of its elusiveness.

Here at SUI we have a concentration of Iowa's younger population. Students gather here from every city and hamlet in the state. Out-of-state and even out-of-country students make up nearly a quarter of our enrollment.

Similarly, here at SUI we have a concentration of some of the top professors in the nation.

However, the new student will find that the relationship between student and teacher is not like the student-teacher relationship in high school.

It frequently happens that there are 200 students in a class. The student finds that he is nothing more than a name in a grade book.

It is in this situation that the student finds himself very much on his own. No teacher will stand over him leading him by the hand. If the student wants to get something out of a course, he can; if he doesn't want to, he won't.

To paraphrase a creaky bromide, "What an SUI student gets out of college is in direct proportion to what he puts into it."

Shortcuts to Success —

If good grades are what you're looking for when you come to SUI, you'd do well to jot down these ten sure-fire steps that lead to a successful college career.

1—Look alert. Take notes eagerly. (If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.)

2—Take newspaper clippings to class that deal with the professor's subject. (This demonstrates fiery interest and gives the professor timely items to mention to the class. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, take any old clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.)

3—Nod frequently and murmur, "How true!" (To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.)

4—Sit in front near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake.)

5—Laugh at his jokes. (You CAN tell when he cracks one. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.)

6—Ask for outside reading. (You don't have to read it. Just ask.)

7—If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. (It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.)

8—Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. (If you do math in psychology class and psychology in math class, match the books for size and color.)

9—Ask any questions you think he can answer. (Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he could not answer, and in your younger brother's second-grade reader at that.)

10—Call attention to his writing. (Produces an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with you. If you know he's written a book or an article, ask in class if he wrote it.)

Paste these study aids inside your hat, abide by them and you'll be one of the best students in the school.

Whether you want to do any work in addition to the ten rules is strictly optional.

Like Father, etc. —

The painful business of bringing report cards home to the parents is going to be reversed. Dr. John L. Davies, director of correspondence study in the extension division at SUI, has made a study of the interest and abilities of Iowa adult education students and turned up some interesting facts.

The one that makes this tale amusing is that I.Q.'s decrease after 25 years of age (although the decrease rate is less than one percent a year).

Imagine the situation then when Dad brings home his report card to his Ph.D. son. Son will probably say something about how hard he worked when he was in school and how maybe it would be well if Dad would apply himself more seriously to his studies. If Dad's I.Q. hasn't slipped too much, maybe he'll be able to come up with something about "like father, like son."

Interpreting the News — Russia Starts War on Self

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Russia, after letting her satellites take most of the initiative in the Cominform split, has finally declared war herself — in the modern economic, diplomatic and propagandist fashion — on the government of Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

Short of an old-fashioned rupture of diplomatic relations or physical attacks no more drastic step could have been taken than the note informing the Belgrade government that Russia considers it an open enemy.

At first glance the Russian action seems a bumbling and profitless thing.

To be sure it serves warning on the European satellites against Titoism — which holds that communism is separable from Russian domination.

It suggests a belief in Moscow that Russia can insinuate herself between Tito and the Yugoslav people and perhaps stage a coup in favor of a pro-Moscow regime. But Tito holds his people by the same methods used by Russia, which gives mighty small room for successful revolt.

The note specifically bids Tito to turn to the west for his economic needs, something he already has been doing.

Coupled with Tito's seizure of Russia's share of the Yugoslav assets of the Danube Shipping company, the situation would seem to eliminate the last western doubt that the Cominform split is real.

In this respect Moscow's action should enhance Tito's chances for western loans and trade, and may turn out to be the greatest favor Russia has done him since the war.

There is an air of unreality about the situation which makes one wonder whether there is something in it which we cannot now see.

Is Russia preparing for some dramatic move in the Balkans, perhaps concerning Macedonian nationalism? Or reinforcement of the Greek guerrillas? Or might she be anticipating some move by Tito himself against Albania?

There is a good chance that an attempt to carve out a Macedonian state from Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Greece would start a war, and a Balkan war would almost certainly mean world war, which it is inconceivable that Russia should contemplate.

The evidence recently has been that Russia is withdrawing from, rather than increasing her interest in, the Greek civil war.

That Tito or his Albanian partisans should make some move to regain domination of Albania, which they held before the Cominform split, is not inconceivable. But Tito's interest in economic relations with the west, which would be damaged by such a move, would seem to outweigh his political interest in Albania, which has little or no economic value.

Students of Russian practices have pointed out that with them communism is not only an economic and political theory, but also involves a strange sort of logic.

It is perfectly possible under it for Communists to take steps which actually seem to violate their self-interests. This is a strange anomaly in their materialistic approach. But it seems to be there.

Thus, in their fanatical logic, Tito is a heretic. And for a fanatic there is only one possible way to deal with a heretic. Wipe him out.

By this note, then, Russia draws the issue squarely. If Tito survives, he proves to all the world's Communists that Moscow and communism are separate.

It would be a blow to Russia's idea of world revolution which might well prove fatal. Russia, therefore, now takes the position that Tito cannot and must not survive. The question in world chancelleries is, what risks will she take to see that he does not?

School Closing Not Necessary: AMA

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Medical Association warned last night that closing of schools and places of recreation and amusement in the face of a polio wave may "bring more trouble than good."

The AMA said editorially in its journal that it was against "disturbing or altering unnecessarily the normal pattern life in the community."

"Whatever is done to upset the usual routine of children in a household or of adults in their habits is likely to bring more trouble than good as far as control of infantile paralysis is concerned," it said.

The AMA said public and private schools should not be closed during a polio outbreak, nor their opening delayed except for specific reasons. However, it said schools to which children are transported by bus from widely separated areas, or boarding schools exclusive of colleges and universities, should delay opening if there is polio in the area. "Summer camps should open as usual unless there is an outbreak of poliomyelitis in the area in which the camp is located," it said.

"Places of recreation and amusement need not be closed; however, the attendance of children at such places should be discouraged."

Jackie Robinson Proud of Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, "Proud to be a Negro and proud to represent my race in baseball" said yesterday that he couldn't understand why any black man should want to become white.

Robinson commented on a Lock magazine article by Walter White, head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who said it may eventually be possible through the use of chemicals to wipe out the Negro race.

"If God had wanted us to be white he would have made us white," Robinson said. "I'm proud of my race and my color. Never under any circumstances would I want to be white."

The brilliant second baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers, who is generally considered to be the most valuable player in the National league this season, said he and his wife had discussed the controversial article at length.

"I know Mr. White pretty well and he is a nice guy," Robinson said. "And of course it is everybody's own business what they want to do and I wouldn't want to try to advise anyone else."

"I'm in no position to comment on whether anyone should want to be white or black," Robinson, former honor student at the University of California at Los Angeles where he was also a star backfield man on the football team, was "down in the dumps" anyway as he peeled off his baseball togs in the Dodger dressing room.

Brooklyn had just lost a tough game to the Philadelphia Phillies and Jackie was being consoled by his old friend, Bill Robinson, the tap dancer, who is not a relative. "You tell 'em, Jackie," said Bill Robinson. "We've both got a lot to be proud of."

"As far as I'm concerned, if it had not been for my color I never would have been a success as a dancer." Several friends of Robinson urged him not to comment on the matter but the star infielder, who conducts his own radio program during the off-season, said he felt it a privilege to do so.

Bill Robinson, who once described Jackie as "Ty Cobb in technician" approved his straightforward attitude on the controversial subject.

At the finish, Jackie, a big turkish towel wrapped about his midriff, shook his head in wonderment and said, "Why in the world would I want to be white?"

Over 4,000 Pedestrians Killed This Year

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 4,000 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents over the nation in the first six months of 1949, the National Safety Council estimated yesterday.

The problems of pedestrian safety and accident prevention in general were highlighted by the death of Authoresse Margaret Mitchell from injuries suffered when she was struck down by an auto on an Atlanta street.

The council said it is unable to compile exact totals of pedestrian deaths for any year until much later, but that it estimates the incidence for the first six months of 1949 at 30 percent of the total traffic death toll.

Known traffic deaths were 13,810 for the first six months, or exactly 100 less than for the first half of 1948. This represented a reduction in deaths of one percent, but actually the improvement over 1948 was much better because of the large increase in travel this year.

Travel is up six percent, the council said, and on the basis of vehicle mileage, there were only seven deaths in every 100 million miles for the first half of 1949, the lowest rate in the nation's history.

Safety experts attributed the lower rate to a rising public awareness of the need for traffic safety. The President's highway safety conference has done much to foster this awareness, they said.

Four SUI Students to Attend Student Congress at Illinois

Four members of the SUI Student Council will attend a 10-day student congress on the University of Illinois campus starting Wednesday.

The conference, which will bring together 1,000 students from all the country, will be attended by Dick Dice, Student Council president; Joan Tripp, Student Council secretary; Sue Gronna and Ross Williams, Student Council representatives.

Dice has been chosen to lead a discussion group on student government. He also will lecture to student officers on the duties of student governmental representatives.

The congress will discuss problems of campus life, federal aid to education, academic freedom, discrimination and segregation on campus, relations with foreign student organizations, and the subsidization of college athletics.

Among the speakers who will address the congress are Vice-President Aben W. Barkley and Adlai Stevenson, governor of Illinois.

One Killed, 3 Injured In Two-Car Collision

BROOKLYN, IOWA (AP)—A Detroit woman was killed and three persons were injured yesterday in a two-car collision on highway 6 near here.

The dead woman was identified as Miss Sara Eileen Blakely, 61, Detroit. A passenger in her car, Miss Ethel Foreman, Detroit, was injured seriously.

Injured also in the crash were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brodwell, Des Moines. The couple and Miss Foreman were taken to separate hospitals at Grinnell.

Authorities said the cars collided when Miss Blakely's auto attempted to pass another vehicle on an approach to an overhead pass at a railroad crossing.

BRUIN TOOK OVER A BOAT in Duluth, Minn., Thursday and the crew gave undisputed possession. When the bear climbed into the boat, three men went over the side, abandoning their attempt to capture the animal. Bruin nipped one man on the seat of his pants for good measure but was shot by police shortly after his boat ride. Several northern Minnesota cities have experienced invasions by hungry bears during the past two weeks because of a short wild berry crop.
