American Legion Elects Craig As New National Commander

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — George N. Craig, 40-year-old Indiana attorney, yesterday was elected commander of the American Legion. He is the first World War II veteran chosen for the post.

The 3,344 delegates to the Legion's 31st national convention gave the earnest, soft-spoken resident of Brazil, Ind., an overwhelming majority on the first ballot.

His closest competitor was James F. Green, 33-year-old attorney from Omaha, Neb., who ran second a year ago to Perry Brown of Beaumont, Texas, retiring Legion commander.

Opponents of Craig took the rostrum at nominating time to label him the candidate of Legion "kingmakers."

And it was the big state delegates who gave Craig his thumping majority.

When the roll call ballot was completed, Erle Coker Jr., 28-year-old candidate from Dawson, Ga., moved that the election be made unanimous.

In quick succession Green and Donald R. Wilson, 32, of Clarksville, W.Va., favorite son candidate of his home state, seconded the motion. The convention roared "yes."

Delegates stormed to the stage of huge Convention hall, waving placards and howling as a Hoosier band beat out the rhythms of "The Banks of the Wabash."

Craig said in his acceptance: "My generation has already carried the responsibility of national security in time of war... and now we join, in unity of purpose, our older comrades... in promoting and safeguarding those principles necessary for our continued strength and prosperity as a nation."

Before that the official count gave Craig 1,835, Green 1,379, Coker, 63, and Wilson 55. Twelve delegates were absent.

Craig was nominated by Paul V. McNutt, former war manpower commissioner, governor of Indiana and national legion commander.

Vice commanders elected by a roll call vote were: Milton Book, Lake City, Minn.; David H. Fleischer, St. Louis; Frank E. Lowe, Harrison, Me.; John E. Marti, Reno, Nev.; and Dr. D.R. Perry, Durham, N.C.; William E. Matthews, Smyrna Del., and George Andrews, Central Falls, R.I., also were nominated.

Convention delegates earlier gave unanimous approval to a resolution demanding that the United States "curtail as far as possible any further immigration at the present time."

Backers of the resolution said one of the aims was to guard against entry of subversive elements and Communists.

The resolution, drafted by the convention Americanism committee from a proposal by the Nevada department, urged the U.S. government to "adhere particularly to the laws now in force applying to displaced persons."

This should be done, the resolution said, "rather than place any additional burden on the people of America."

Iowan Named Winner Of Legion Scholarship

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The American Legion yesterday announced the 20 winners of $2,400 college scholarships for sons of deceased war veterans.

The winners, who may attend any recognized college of their choice, included Loren L. Lorenzen, Holstein.

Iowa Legion Wins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Iowa department yesterday won two of the American Legion's annual awards. They were for Boy Scout work and for "most consistent service to the community, state and nation."

House Labor Group May Be Reshuffled To Win T-H Repeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman John Lesinski (D-Mich.) moved yesterday to strengthen administration control of the turbulent house labor committee in preparation for action next year on Taft-Hartley repeal and federal aid to education.

In a letter to each committee member, Lesinski announced he had dissolved "all special subcommittees" as of Wednesday. He asked the various chairmen to send him a "complete report" on subcommittee activities "for future reference."

Lesinski was not in Washington when the letter was made available by a committee member. But he sent word from Detroit that the committees were dissolved "because their work has been completed."

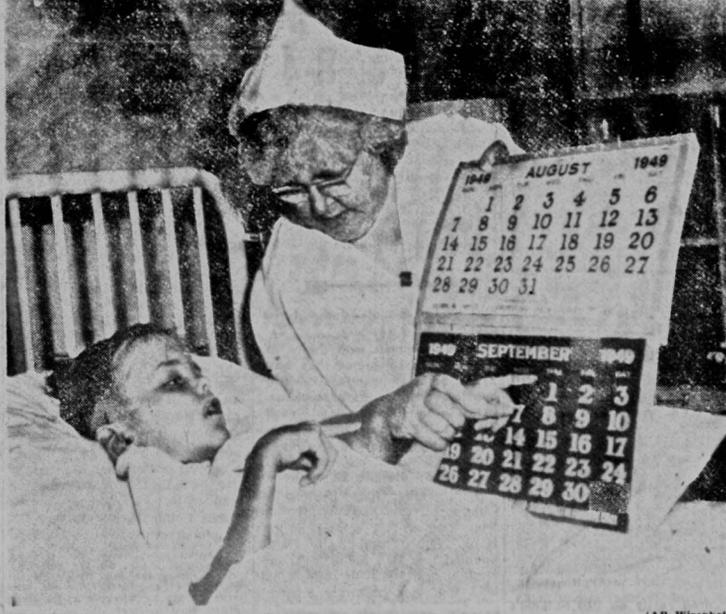

The move gives Lesinski power to reshuffle the subcommittees and attain a better balance, from the administration's viewpoint, if he desires.

The most important change undoubtedly will come in the subcommittee handling federal aid to education.

That group is headed by Rep. Graham Barden (D-NC), author of an education bill that touched off bitter religious debate earlier this year and resulted in deadlocking all such bills under Lesinski's jurisdiction.

Although the legislation was killed for this session, administration forces hope to revive it next year with a compromise to soothe ruffled feelings of the contending parties.

Four subcommittees are involved in the Lesinski move.

August Was Lost for This Youngster

AUGUST WAS A LOST MONTH for Johnny Albus, 7, Chicago, who was unconscious for 41 days after being struck by an automobile July 20. He is looking at a calendar held by Nurse D. Diederichsen at Delnor hospital in suburban St. Charles. Johnny regained consciousness Tuesday night and became fully awake Wednesday. He suffered a fractured skull and brain concussion in the accident.

Truman Says 'Cold War' Slackening

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said yesterday the war of nerves is slackening off very decidedly, but he declined comment on reported Soviet troops movements near the Yugoslav border.

Secretary of State Acheson Wednesday termed these reports part of the cold war of nerves. Mr. Truman told his news conference on the tenth anniversary of Hitler's invasion of Poland he sincerely hopes that the cold war between the Soviets and the west will end in surrender, as the shooting war did four years ago.

Surrender by whom he did not say, but he implied he meant Russia. He refused to elaborate, asserting he meant just what he said.

His remarks came in response to a request for a statement on the ten-year lapse since the start of the last war. He said he is hoping that war of nerves—which he termed disappointing—will cease and everybody will get in a mood for peace.

Then, he added, the United Nations will work as it was intended and pave the way for generations of world peace.

The president also said: 1. He intends to keep Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan as his military aide.

2. He expects congress to pass his whole "fair deal" program by the end of next year's session. He still stands on his original budget recommendations.

3. Some unnamed oil companies are trying to block a $203,000,000 loan to Mexico to develop her oil resources. He predicted an eventual agreement with Mexico on her loan request.

Mr. Truman would not answer a question whether he believes Vaughan had been given a fair deal by the senate committee investigating the "influence industry."

But when he was asked if he contemplated any change in his military aide, he replied emphatically: I do not.

French President Writes to Amvels

DES MOINES (AP) — National Commander Harold Keats of the American Veterans of World War II said yesterday that the president of France wrote in a letter that French-American wartime unity "must be followed in peace."

President Vincent Auriol of France wrote the letter in response to an invitation to attend a national Amvels convention here tomorrow, Sunday, and Monday, Keats said. Auriol was not expected to come.

"We do not forget that twice within 30 years the sons of the great and courageous American people came on our soil to fight for the liberty and independence of our nation," Auriol wrote. "You have mixed your blood with ours for a common ideal; that of a lasting and prosperous free country in which it is your and our urgent duty as men of good will to organize and to become strong."

"Our linking of arms in the brotherhood of war must be followed in peace."

September Brings First Snow, Frost

CHICAGO (AP) — September brought record-breaking cold weather and the first snow and frost of the season to the midwest yesterday.

The cold had swept down from Canada Wednesday on the heels of wind, rain and hailstones and started temperatures plunging downward.

Brief snow fell in Duluth, Minn., and frost overnight was reported in Iowa, Minnesota and west and north central Nebraska.

Japanese Cabinet Meets To Plan Typhoon Relief

TOKYO (FRIDAY) (AP) — The toll of yesterday's typhoon rose to 79 dead, 39 missing and 351 injured today as the Japanese cabinet met in emergency session to plan a relief program for approximately 150,000 homeless refugees from torn and flooded homes.

In Tokyo and Yokohama harbors, 21 Japanese ships were sunk, 10 others traded or grounded and at least 28 badly damaged.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — City police last night halted a demonstration on the steps of New York's capitol by a "civil rights" group demanding a state probe of a riot that prevented a concert by Paul Robeson near Peekskill.

Police Chief Philip Coffey said the crowd watching the demonstration was becoming "unruly" and he wanted to prevent possible disorder.

He told reporters that leaders of the Albany chapter of the American Civil Rights congress, which sponsored the demonstration, "willingly agreed" to call off the program when speakers were drowned out by spectators.

Shouts of "Go back to Russia," "Get a job," and "Where did you ever fight?" came from the crowd, estimated by police at 3,000.

The 100 demonstrators had marched to the capitol from the American Labor Party club. Carrying placards supporting Robeson, they paraded two abreast on the sidewalk for about 10 blocks through the business district.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, now vacationing at his Pawling farm, directed Westchester county officials Monday to submit a full report on the incident last Saturday near Peekskill.

At least eight persons were injured, two seriously, in the clash between members of the concert audience and a group of veterans protesting Robeson's scheduled appearance. The Negro baritone never reached the wooded grove for the concert. He was intercepted by friends.

Concert proceeds were to go to the Harlem division of the Civil Rights congress. The congress has been labeled subversive by the U.S. justice department and Robeson frequently has been identified with leftwing activities.

Greek Army Clashes With Albanian Troops

ATHENS (AP) — The general staff disclosed yesterday that the Greek army fought an engagement recently with regular Albanian troops, and declared the clash occurred on Greek soil.

The implication appeared to be that Albanians invaded Greece. Greek troops did not go into Albania but were held back "with great pains" by their leaders, a general staff statement said. The Albanians have charged that Greek army units invaded their territory on a "30-mile front."

The general staff said the fighting took place south of Kroustalopyi when the Greek ninth division tried to shut off an escape route used by Communist-led Greek guerrillas. In the fight with the Albanians, the Greek army lost 14 killed and 201 wounded, the general staff said.

Pearson Says Vaughan Involved In Tax Case

Siren Leads to Sailor's Downfall

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — The temptation of a siren led to the downfall of another sailor yesterday.

Destroyer Crewman Robert Wilson, 23, was booked on a drunk driving charge after a squad car forced him to the curb in a wild chase in downtown San Francisco.

Wilson had chosen old "25", veteran ambulance of long service with Central Emergency hospital, for his joy ride because he wanted the thrill of scattering traffic with its siren.

Called As Last Five Percenter Probe Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Columnist Drew Pearson testified yesterday that Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan once tried — unsuccessfully — to meddle in a jury-fixing case against W. T. Burton, wealthy Louisiana oil man who later was convicted of the charge.

Burton, a multi-millionaire oil man with a two-year prison term hanging over his head, said last night that he doesn't know "a thing" about Vaughan's alleged attempt to help him beat a $135,000 tax evasion charge.

He said he doesn't know Vaughan and he doesn't know Columnist Drew Pearson, who told the "five percenter" investigating committee that Vaughan tried to exert his influence in Burton's behalf.

Pearson, once tagged as an "S.O.B." by President Truman because he persistently criticized Vaughan, the White House military aide, described the alleged incident to senate "five percenter" investigators who then recessed "indefinitely" their inquiry into the capital's busy "influence industry."

Pearson was the final witness in the four-week-old inquiry which has titillated the capital with testimony about smuggling, pressure in high places, race track construction permits, perfume maker junkies to Paris, and the celebrated gift of deep freezers to members of the White House inner circle. He was called as:

1. President Truman told his weekly news conference his warm regard for Vaughan had not been chilled by testimony picturing the barrel-chested, cigar-smoking general as a man who just couldn't resist doing favors for his friends.

2. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis), a "five percenter" investigator, said the President, in effect, was approving not only what Vaughan may have done but what he might do in the future.

3. Former housing expediter Frank R. Creedon filed a statement with the committee in which he denied ever telling James V. Hunt, the alleged "influence salesman," about legal loopholes that would qualify the Foxboro, Mass., race track for a hard-to-get construction permit.

4. He said the hearings will be resumed when Hunt and David A. Bennett are well enough to testify. Bennett is president of the Albert Verley perfume company, Chicago, which paid for the freezers.

5. McCarthy apologized to the Schenley distilling company for using its name while asking investigation of charges that the aide took money from "liquor interests." The senator said he meant "national distillers."

6. He said California turkman William Hells will be asked to testify when the hearings are resumed. It was brought out previously that Vaughan accepted Democratic campaign contributions from Hells.

There was some uncertainty in official circles yesterday over whether Vaughan violated military regulations when he handled Democratic campaign contributions.

But if he did — and no one was willing to go on record as saying he did — he's not likely to be called to task for it.

Aid to Western Europe Insufficient, Experts Say

PARIS (UP) — Two European experts said yesterday that western Europe cannot win financial independence within the time limit set by the Marshall plan, and hinted that American aid here should be increased or extended past its now-scheduled end in 1952.

The first formal admission that the Marshall plan nations will still be in the red three years from now took the form of a report to the council of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation by two top OEEC officials.

OEEC Secretary General Robert Marjolin and Belgian Baron Jean-Charles Snoy advised the council that the "economic readjustment" in the United States has killed European hopes of early recovery.

Marjolin, outlining the report at a press conference yesterday, said that Europe's continuing economic plight "is a problem for the United States as for Europe, and also for the whole of the free world."

The press conference was called to announce the official division of the $3,776,500,000 which OEEC officials hope congress will appropriate for the Marshall plan during 1949-50.

Marjolin told reporters that the American recession had sharply reduced European exports to the United States, cutting deeply into expected dollar earnings.

The OEEC officials did not try to estimate the extent of western Europe's dollar deficit at the end of 1952, but he pointed out that even before the effects of the current crisis were felt the council believed the deficit at that time would run about $3-billion.

The final allotments, unofficially published Wednesday night, give Britain a total of $62-million — $556-million less than the estimated dollar deficit, but $122-million more than the OEEC had offered earlier.

Britain's share last year was $1,239,000,000. France also took a cut in the new Marshall plan budget, from last year's $980,900,000 to $704-million. Belgium, Luxembourg, Greece, Indonesia, Iceland, Norway, Portugal, Sweden and Turkey will get more this year than last.

Western allied authorities were unable to say whether the German mob action was encouraged by the Russians or whether it was just eagerness of the east zone Germans to go west. It appeared to be a bit of both.

The Communists held celebrations all along the border. They lit bonfires and tried by means of loudspeakers to induce west zone youths to desert to the east.

Late last night a majority of the "invaders" returned to the Soviet zone. They went back with parcels under their arms and food in their baskets. Some were reeling drunkenly and others were accompanied to the border by relatives they had visited over the line.

Rebel Planes Drop Bombs on La Paz

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA (AP) — Rebel planes bombed La Paz yesterday for the second time in a six-day old revolution which the government has branded as Fascist-Communist.

There were two raids, the first at 8 a.m., when a single bomb fell near the state's radio and telephone offices but did not explode and a second attack came at 1 p.m., when three bombs fell near the runways of the capital's airport.

Anti-aircraft batteries broke up the second raid.

The revolution has split the country in two, with the front running roughly north to south from the border of Brazil to that of Argentina.

East Zone Germans Smash Barricades In Holiday 'Invasion'

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP) — More than 42,000 Russian zone Germans "invaded" western Germany yesterday without papers or authorization from the allied side. Last night most of them had returned to the east.

The invading Germans smashed through border barriers, overwhelming western police and U.S. soldiers along a 600-mile frontier from the Baltic to Czechoslovakia. They forced their way into both the British and American zones.

The opportunity for their entry came from Russian celebration of "Peace day" on the 10th anniversary of the starting of World War II. The Soviets relaxed their border controls for the occasion. The apparent reason for the enthusiastic German response to lowering the barriers was the desire for such items as food, shoes, and something to drink.

Shopkeepers in the American zone did a rush business in these items, exchanging one west mark for 5.40 east zone marks.

Western allied authorities were unable to say whether the German mob action was encouraged by the Russians or whether it was just eagerness of the east zone Germans to go west. It appeared to be a bit of both.

The Communists held celebrations all along the border. They lit bonfires and tried by means of loudspeakers to induce west zone youths to desert to the east.

Brooks Win, 11-8, Drop 2nd To Reds, 4-3

Trail Cardinals By 2 Games

BROOKLYN (AP) — Dixie Howell tripled in the 10th and scored on Ted Kluszewski's double to give the Cincinnati Reds a 4-3 overtime victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the second half of an afternoon-night doubleheader last night. The Dodgers had won the opener, 11-8.

The split dropped the second place Brooks two games behind the league leading St. Louis Cardinals, who came through with a 4-0 triumph over the Phillies in Philadelphia.

Herm Wehmeier went all the way for his ninth victory. He held the Dodgers to eight hits.

Both teams blew chances to win in the ninth. The Reds had runners on second and third with Lane out against Preacher Roe, but Joe Hatten came in and stopped them cold. The Dodgers, in their half, had runners on first and third with one out, but Wehmeier stopped Pinch-hitters Gene Hermanski and Marv Rackley.

Homers by Peanuts Lowrey and Kluszewski gave the Reds an early 2-0 lead. The Dodgers went ahead 3-2 in the fifth, but the Reds drew even in the eighth on Red Stallcup's run - scoring single.

Burt Shotton was chased out of a ball game for the first time in his three seasons as Brooklyn manager in the first game.

Walks Help Chisox To Win Over Nats

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Weik, rookie Washington right handed pitcher, walked 13 batters in seven innings last night and the Chicago White Sox defeated the Senators, 3-0, before 4,219 persons. Randy Gumpert pitched the distance on a yield of four singles for his 11th victory.

Chicago scored its first run in the sixth on Gumpert's perfect squeeze play bunt. Before the winning Chicago pitcher collected the game's only run batted in, a walk to George Metkovich, Eddie Malone's double and an intentional walk to Floyd Baker loaded the bases with one out.

Cleveland Wins 17th Extra Inning Tilt, 2-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians won their 27th straight extra-inning contest last night, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1, on Larry Doby's single to left in the 11th inning. His hit off Carl Scheib scored Thurman Tucker from second.

Bob Lemon, pitching his 17th victory, seemed untouchable until the ninth inning. But in that frame, with the Tribe leading, 1-0, Sam Chapman stepped up and swatted his 20th home run over the left field fence.

Then in the 11th, Tucker led off with a single and took second on Scheib's wild pitch. Doby's single ended the game, putting the world champs 1-2 games behind second place Boston and 4-1-2 behind the Yankees.

Giants Slap Bucs on HR's, 9-5

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Kiner clouted his 39th homer of the season — a four run hit — but the New York Giants collected homers on their own plus eight other hits to whip Pittsburgh's Pirates, 9-5, yesterday.

Kiner connected in the fourth and the bases-loaded swat gave the Pirates a temporary 4-3 lead. The Giants came back with two in their half for a 5-4 edge but the Pirates tied it up again in the top of the sixth.

In their half the Giants went ahead for good on Bill Rigney's homer, and two more runs on Bobby Thomson and Henry Thompson bagged the other New York homers.

Spahn's 17th Victory Dumps Chicago, 8-4

BOSTON (AP) — Supported by a 13-hit attack, Lefty Warren Spahn became the National League's first 17-game winner yesterday as the Boston Braves swept a two-game series with the last place Chicago Cubs with an 8-4 victory.

The most potent Boston blows were a homer and a pair of singles by Catcher Bill Salkeld that drove in five runs.

The Tribesmen won their 12th start in the 18 games they have played since Manager Billy Southworth retired on sick leave and Coach Johnny Conroy took charge. They settled matters against starter Doyle Lade in the fourth inning when Salkeld homered after Tommy Holmes had singled.

Spahn, who had beaten the Cubs in three of his four previous tries, had a bad second inning. Hank Sauer and Andy Pafko doubled and Bob Scheffing homered to pull the Cubs into a 3-1 lead that was promptly erased.

Tigers Rap Bosox For 15 Safeties, 7-0

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers finally broke the spell Boston's Mel Parnell has cast over them throughout his big league career and beat him 7-0 in the Red Sox' final 1949 appearance here yesterday.

Fifteen Tiger hits—all singles—and Art Houtteman's effective pitching sent the major leaguers' leading winner down to defeat after nine straight victories over Detroit, four of them earlier this season.

Parnell, the first man in the majors to win 20 games, was after win No. 21, but instead suffered his seventh defeat. Houtteman, who scattered seven Red Sox singles and didn't allow a man to reach third, was credited with his 13th victory of the year.

Anderson Says Fans Quick to Criticize

Many football fans are a little too quick to criticize individual action of a coach and players, according to Dr. Eddie Anderson, SUU grid mentor.

Speaking before the Iowa City Rotarians yesterday noon, Anderson emphasized that no one can tell what kind of football player a boy is by the way he looks in a uniform.

Spectators are sometimes impressed by the way one player executes a particular maneuver and then wonder why the coach doesn't exploit that player's talents to a greater extent, he said.

On one play a boy may be out of position and happen to make a spectacular tackle. Out of position on a later play he may let through the opponent's winning pass, though the spectators aren't likely to notice he is to blame for it, Anderson explained.

"If we're 40 points ahead or 40 points behind, we can put anybody in there, but when games are close, like a number were last year, it's a different matter."

Anderson cautioned that with sophomore backs this year, the Iowa team might not get the kind of help it needs in the clinches. Fans shouldn't expect too much, he added.

Page's Relief Job Saves Yanks' Win Over Brownies, 4-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The New York Yankees pulled out another of their now famous "squeakers" yesterday, edging out the St. Louis Browns, 4-3, to strengthen their hold on first place.

With the help of the Detroit Tigers, who walloped Boston, 7-0, the Yankees picked up a full game on the runner-up Red Sox and now lead by three lengths.

A seventh inning home run by Hank Bauer with Gerry Coleman on base provided the Yankees with their winning margin. Bauer's clout off wild Bill Kennedy snapped a 2-2 deadlock and provided enough cushion to offset a one-run attack in the ninth.

Once again it was Joe Page, the Yankees candidate for the most valuable player award, who saved the game. The ace relief hurler replaced winner Tommy Byrne in the ninth with the bases loaded and only one out. Singles by Pinch-hitter Ned Garver and Bob Dillinger and a hit batsmen had filled the bases.

Page got Jerry Priddy on a short fly to the outfield, forced in the Brown's third run with a base on balls to Roy Sievers, and stranded three runners by forcing Sherm Lollar to sky to Joe DiMaggio in centerfield.

Bromwich Defeated by Larsen in Tennis Meet

FOREST HILLS (AP) — Art Larsen, a limber-legged little gemster from San Francisco, rallied from the verge of defeat yesterday to eliminate famed John Bromwich of Australia and enter the quarterfinals of the national tennis championships.

The 23-year-old Larsen, a left-hander of about 130 pounds, surrendered the first two sets to Bromwich in a tense stadium match and then came back to outplay and defeat the fourth-seeded foreigner by scores of 3-6, 7-9, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Pollet Blanks Philadelphia, As Cards Up League Margin

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Howie Pollet shut out the Philadelphia Phillies with five hits last night as the St. Louis Cardinals maintained their National League lead with a 4-0 victory.

The Cardinals, by winning, increased their league lead to two games, as the Brooklyn Dodgers split a two-night doubleheader with the Cincinnati Reds. The Reds won the night "half" of the 'winbill with a run in the 10th inning after deadlocking the contest with a run in the eighth inning.

In chalk-up, up his 17th victory as against eight defeats, the Cardinals' ace southpaw received plenty of help from the Phillies.

After sending one run across the plate in the first inning on singles by Red Schoendienst, Niopy Jones and Enos Slaughter, the Cards collected three unearned tallies in the sixth.

The defeat dropped the Phils into the second division with the New York Giants taking over fourth place.

Anderson Says Fans Quick to Criticize

Many football fans are a little too quick to criticize individual action of a coach and players, according to Dr. Eddie Anderson, SUU grid mentor.

Speaking before the Iowa City Rotarians yesterday noon, Anderson emphasized that no one can tell what kind of football player a boy is by the way he looks in a uniform.

Spectators are sometimes impressed by the way one player executes a particular maneuver and then wonder why the coach doesn't exploit that player's talents to a greater extent, he said.

On one play a boy may be out of position and happen to make a spectacular tackle. Out of position on a later play he may let through the opponent's winning pass, though the spectators aren't likely to notice he is to blame for it, Anderson explained.

"If we're 40 points ahead or 40 points behind, we can put anybody in there, but when games are close, like a number were last year, it's a different matter."

Anderson cautioned that with sophomore backs this year, the Iowa team might not get the kind of help it needs in the clinches. Fans shouldn't expect too much, he added.

Two Year Pact for Eddie Sawyer (right), manager of the Philadelphia Phillies. Above he shakes hands with Club President Bob Carpenter after signing the contract at a "satisfactory increase." According to the announcement, Sawyer will have "broader duties" and reportedly will have the last word on player sales. Sawyer came to the Phils from the Toronto club of the International League.

Iowa Footballers Begin Running Plays

Harder Drills Set For Next Week

The 63 man squad that began workouts for the '49 football season got down to harder drills yesterday but Coach Eddie Anderson said the really hard work would not start until next week.

The Iowa coach was generally pleased with the condition of his men and prescribed work on running plays during both the morning and afternoon drills for five combinations of backfields. Individual instruction and drills kept the linemen busy during most of the forenoon practice and part of the afternoon session.

In the afternoon the different units went through touch scrimmage, with both running and passing plays getting plenty of practice. Anderson said he didn't know when the contact scrimmages would start, but that stiffer workouts are on schedule for next week.

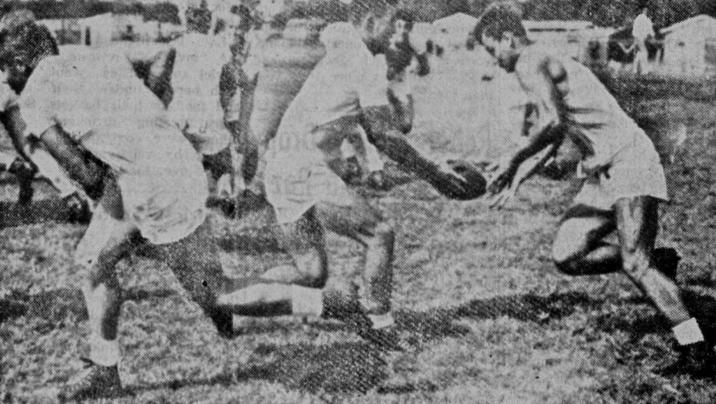

"I don't want to take any chances in early season," he said, "yet we must have the men in the best of shape for the tough opener with UCLA."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE new phone operator at a midtown publishing house was obviously a total stranger to a switchboard, but she was so pretty and anxious to please, nobody had the heart to fire her.

One of the senior partners, seeking to talk to John Steinbeck in California, was connected in turn with a cousin of the late Gertrude Stein in St. Louis, the Martin Beck Theater in New York, and Steinbach's Department Store in Asbury Park.

He preserved his equanimity, however, until just past noon when he confronted the flustered operator and announced in a tone of icy rage, "This time you've gone too far. You now have me conversing with myself!"

H.T. Webster took time out from his work on a new book about poker to tell about a jet plane that whizzed perilously close to his home in the country one morning. "Don't worry, Mr. Webster," his gardener assured him. "That's just grandma in the plane she won last week in a radio quiz contest!"
