Steelworkers, Owners Agree To Meet with U.S. Mediators

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a new attempt to prevent a crippling steel strike, the government asked CIO steelworkers and their employers to end their long-distance sparring over a contract and sit down with mediators here Monday.

Philip Murray, union president, telegraphed acceptance of the invitation late today. United States Steel, biggest company in the industry, said it would be represented. So did Bethlehem Steel. Other companies announced they would send in their acceptances upon formal receipt of Cyrus Ching's invitation. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, had expressed confidence that both sides would be fully represented.

The strike now is set to begin in eight days — at 12:01 a.m. Sunday, September 25. President Truman has persuaded the union and the steel companies to agree on an 11-day truce to study the recommendations of his fact-finding board issued last Saturday.

Ching summoned management and union representatives to the mediation session here at 8:30 a.m. (Iowa time) next Monday.

In doing so, he expressed the belief there is a "good possibility" that the failure of the union and employers to start negotiating on the fact finders' recommendations "springs not from irreconcilable fundamental differences in views, but from the meaning of words."

The President's board recommended against the wage increase demanded by the union, but counseled adoption of a pension-insurance "package" paid for by the companies which would raise the operating costs of most steel makers by 10 cents an hour for each employe.

The union, headed by Murray, who also is president of CIO itself, expressed its willingness to accept the 10-cent package of fringe benefits. The steel industry, however, has balked at agreeing to paying the full cost of the pension-insurance program and wishes to negotiate further on this point.

75-Year-Old Woman Hit, Injured by Car

A 75-year-old woman was struck and injured by an auto on Burlington street near the Madison street intersection about 8:30 last night, police said.

Mrs. Sophie Bauman, 407 S. Madison, was struck when she reportedly attempted to cross the street in the middle of the block. She was taken to University hospitals, where officials termed her general condition as "good." The extent of her injuries had not been determined.

The driver of the car that struck Mrs. Bauman, according to police records, was Dean Sticknoth, an SUI law student who lives at 329 N. Dodge street.

Sticknoth told police he turned into Burlington street from South Madison street and did not see the woman step into the street until it was too late to avoid hitting her.

Ilgenfritz Rejected On Roll Call Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate yesterday rejected the appointment of Carl Ilgenfritz to head the munitions board because he insisted on remaining on the U. S. Steel corporation payroll while employed by the government.

No one challenged his qualifications. But many senators objected to the plan to let Ilgenfritz continue to draw the $70,000-a-year salary from U. S. Steel, saying it was a dangerous precedent.

The nomination was rejected on a 40 to 28 roll call.

Homecoming Festivities to Feature Parade

Two new attractions for returning alumni have been added to the annual homecoming festivities Oct. 14-15 at SUI.

They are a homecoming parade—the first to be held at SUI—and an alumni coffee hour in the Iowa Union.

The traditional homecoming dance has been shifted from Friday to Saturday night so alumni may use the facilities of the Iowa Union on Friday evening for the coffee hour and open house. The coffee hour and open house there will take the place of individual open houses formerly sponsored by the Triangle and University clubs.

The homecoming parade will be

VA Cracks Down On Vet Transfers, Change of Courses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The veterans administration has cracked down on unjustifiable school transfers and "course-hopping" by student veterans.

To prevent such abuses, the agency announced a new type of certificate of eligibility for benefits under the GI bill.

The certificate identifies the veterans' school and course. A veteran wishing to change his school or to take a different course must apply for a new eligibility certificate. The old type of certificate did not name the school or course.

Veterans Administrator Carl Gray Jr. said the old certificates may be accepted for the fall semester in order to avoid hardship for the students. After March 1, 1950, the new type will be required of all veterans.

Coder Explains . . .

William Coder, director of the SUI veterans service, yesterday said there is no reason for veterans planning to enroll here and elsewhere in the fall to become alarmed over the veterans administration crack down on unjustifiable transfers and "course-hopping."

"The new ruling, labeled instruction 1A, was dated in Washington Sept. 1. It was received at veterans-administration offices in Iowa early this week, and was to have taken effect Sept. 1.

Following the receipt of instruction 1A, a supplemental telegram was received at all VA regional offices.

It said the ruling in instruction 1A respective to the use of supplementary certificates — to justify transfer from one institution to another — would be suspended temporarily.

Supplementary certificates issued before Sept. 12 will be honored at fall registration.

The new ruling (instruction 1A) covers only those veterans who have studied here and who now desire to change their course of study within the university this fall.

Coder said the veterans administration regional office in Des Moines has wired Washington asking if it would be possible to go through the coming registration the same as in past years, as far as transferring from one school to another within the university.

If the request is granted, veteran students wanting to change their course of study here would be permitted to do so until Nov. 1, with university approval.

The present ruling now says that veterans desiring a shift in their curriculum this fall must submit and have accepted a letter of justification to the Des Moines regional office.

Coder also said the SUI veterans service will attempt to guard the veterans' future objective in graduate work by certifying their enrollment to take care of the amount of advanced work which the average veteran would normally take.

"This will eliminate the red tape of a veteran being forced to obtain a new certificate of justification after getting his master's degree and going on to a Ph.D., Coder said.

Now, This Won't Hurt a Bit . . .

EVEN THE THOUGHT of taking a trip to Guam to see their father failed to convince Kenneth Kalbfleish, 3, or his sister, Bonny, 14 months, that the shot to be administered yesterday at Fresno, Calif., by Chief Hospital Corpsman P.L. Carpenter wouldn't hurt. Their mother, Mrs. Kenneth Kalbfleish, will accompany them to Guam where the father is a civilian employe.

VA to Start Mailing NSLI Checks Jan. 1; Top Dividend — $528

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top dividend checks to be sent to World War II veterans on their National Service Life Insurance will be for $528. Dividends will start going out in January.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray Jr., disclosed this yesterday in releasing the formula to be used in distributing the $2.8-billion dividend among some 16-million veterans and their dependents and heirs.

The dividends, to be paid before next June 30, is not subject to income tax. Veterans must apply for it, and about three-fourths of them have already done so.

The formula, Gray said, is calculated on the basis of a dividend of 55 cents for each $1,000 of insurance, for each month the policy was in force before its anniversary date in 1948; for all policyholders who were aged 40 or younger at the time the policy was issued.

For older veterans, the dividend declines gradually until it is 20 cents a month, for each $1,000 of insurance, for veterans 55 and over when the policy was issued.

The scale: age 41 at issue, 52 cents; 42, 49 cents; 43, 46 cents; 44, 43 cents; 45, 40 cents; 46, 37 cents; 47, 34 cents; 48, 31 cents; 49, 28 cents; 50, 25 cents; 51, 24 cents; 52, 23 cents; 53, 22 cents; 54, 21 cents.

Gray said the maximum payment of $528 is based on a $10,000 policy in force for 96 months, on a veteran 40 or less when the policy was taken out.

Board of Education Approves Six New Staff Appointments

Six appointments to the staff at SUI have been approved by the state board of education, President Virgil M. Hancher announced yesterday.

David Stout, who has been assistant professor of anthropology at Syracuse university, was appointed associate professor in the department of sociology. After graduating from the University of Wisconsin, he received a master of arts degree from the University of Michigan and a doctorate from Columbia university.

Warren Carier was named assistant professor of English. He holds a master of arts degree from Harvard university. Carier has been an editor and writer for romance language journals and creative writing publications.

Erich Rosenthal was appointed an assistant professor of sociology. He has been on a research project at the University of Chicago. At SUI he will review the relationship of teaching statistics in sociology and in other fields.

W. Grant Dahlstrom will be an associate in psychology on a U.S. public health service grant. Appointed head of the physical education program in the University schools was Jane Fink, instructor in women's physical education.

Ford, UAW Meet Today, Tomorrow

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor company and the CIO united auto workers yesterday scheduled extraordinary weekend negotiating sessions amid reports that the company had made a "feeler" pension offer.

The decision to meet today and tomorrow increased speculation that the company and UAW might be ready to strike out on their own and not wait for steel to fix the fourth-round economic pattern.

Union President Walter Reuther and Chief Ford Negotiator John Bugas refused to confirm or deny the existence of a new settlement offer.

But Bugas said after a long conference that "with each passing day we are one day nearer settlement."

Navy Puts Clamp On Army Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy ordered its officers yesterday to batten down the hatches on criticism of the army and air force.

A telegram from Secretary of the Navy Matthews and Adm. Louis Denfield, chief of naval operations, went out to all commands instructing officers to clear any observations on policy matters with the secretary.

The message left no doubt that the order resulted from Navy Capt. Jack Crommelin's recent blast against the military planners in the Pentagon building. Crommelin charged that the army and air force brass was wrecking U.S. naval power.

'Jazbo of Old Dubuque' Dies After Long Illness

DUBUQUE (AP) — John Mulgrew, 63, who wrote under the name "Jazbo of Old Dubuque," died in a Dubuque hospital yesterday after a long illness.

Mulgrew had contributed to Chicago papers and wrote a column in the Catholic paper for this diocese. He annually printed a book "And Life Goes On," made up of his observations.

SUI to Open Radiation Lab Construction Bids

Bids on the final phase of construction on SUI's radiation research laboratory will be opened at 2 p.m. Thursday in Old Capitol, according to SUI Architect George Horner.

Construction is planned for basement and sub-basement space within the medical laboratory building on the north side. The project will add to the floor space already being used by the laboratory. It will boost the laboratory's space to 9,800 cubic feet.

The radiation research laboratory has been operating for the last two years, with most of its work depending on atomic by-products. Dr. Titus C. Evans came here Jan. 1, 1948, to be head of the laboratory.

The laboratory is engaged in research on the biological effects of radiation and in investigation of problems in cancer using radiolabels from the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atom plant.

The laboratory also delves into certain medical research problems referred to it by various other SUI departments.

The part of the laboratory on which construction bids will be opened next Thursday, involves no special construction problems. Additional shielding, however, will eventually be added around the X-ray machine room and the "hot" laboratory.

A sub-basement will provide storage space for Oak Ridge by-products. The basement will be divided into cubicles, each with concrete walls and a lead-lined door.

In the new laboratory section other structural features and items of special equipment will be provided to protect personnel from harmful radiations and from accidental inhalation or ingestion of radioactive materials.

The investigations of the radiation research laboratory, Dr. Evans said, require painstaking work, very specialized and extensive equipment and techniques of chemistry, biology and physics.

The work requires use of many animals, primarily rats, but also some mice, guinea pigs and rabbits.

As soon as new quarters have been completed, the laboratory will be able to function in such a way as to carry out investigations of interest to other departments both academic and clinical, Evans said.

It also will be able to undertake investigation of certain problems for the Atomic Energy commission and other national organizations, which will then aid in supporting the laboratory's activities.

Hungarian Claims U.S., Yugoslavs Made Him Traitor

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY (AP) — Laszlo Rajk, Hungary's one-time No. 2 Communist, testified in a five-hour confession yesterday that the United States and Yugoslavia blackmailed him into becoming a spy who plotted the overthrow of the Hungarian government.

Rajk named Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, now in a Hungarian prison, as leader of a Vatican scheme to help him take over the Hungarian government by inciting anti-government riots to coincide with a coup to be touched off by the murder of three of Hungary's top Communist leaders.

The tall and slightly stooping Rajk told the court in his marathon confession that American secret agents forced him to spy for them by threatening to expose his earlier career as an anti-Communist stool pigeon.

Rajk, who rose to the post of Hungarian foreign minister, said he often held secret meetings with U.S. Minister to Budapest Selden Chapin to plot intrigue against the Hungarian government.

(In Washington Chapin called a press conference yesterday and described Rajk's testimony as "completely without foundation.")

Van Horn Quits Welfare Board; Fear Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fears of a nationwide coal strike mounted last night as miners welfare fund payments were suspended by trustees, headed by John L. Lewis, due to lack of funds.

'Strike Kickoff' . . .

DENVER (AP) — A high-ranking western official of the United Mine Workers union said last night that a walkout of 8,000 Wyoming and Utah coal miners was the "kickoff of a nationwide strike of UMW members."

The sudden order halting payments was quickly followed by news of the resignation of one of the trustees, Ezra Van Horn of Cleveland. Van Horn, representing coal operators, quit in a letter dated Sept. 14 — indicating it was not prompted by yesterday's developments.

In fact, Van Horn reportedly cast the lone vote against suspending the miners' pension and welfare benefits.

In announcing the suspension of welfare payments Union Leader Lewis refrained from saying "strike." But it was widely anticipated the action heralded a walkout Monday when eastern and southern miners are due to resume their three-day week digging duties.

Just in advance of the trustees' action 8,000 western miners walked out.

The multi-billion dollar welfare fund had been seriously diminished by refusal of some southern operators to continue chipping in their 20-cents-a-ton royalty.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), one of the trustees, said the fund had dwindled from $30-million on July 1 to $14-million on Sept. 1.

In Arkansas . . .

FORT SMITH, ARK. (AP) — Contracts between the United Mine Workers of America and coal operators in 17 states may be impaired by a federal court decision announced here yesterday.

Judge John Miller held that UMW contracts with three Arkansas coal operators are invalid under the so-called Freedom-to-Work amendment to the Arkansas constitution.

Miller also held that Arkansas operators cannot be forced under the contracts to pay royalties of 20 cents a ton to the UMW welfare and pension fund, that the welfare funds are not trust funds until they reach the hands of the trustees and therefore are not subject to trust agreements.

HITS A-BOMB USE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.), said yesterday that the U.S. dropped the atomic bomb on Japan to "find out what it would do" — even though the Japanese previously had put out live peace feelers.

The report of the President's steel fact-finding board could steer the U.S. into a new course of its social welfare history.

The board suggested that management alone bear the cost of insurance and pensions, and that the worker himself bear no part.

This recommendation goes a step beyond the New Deal's social security legislation of the 1930's. That legislation provided for sharing the expense of the benefits between the worker and the employer.

Now big industry claims that the worker should be obliged to continue to carry his load of the benefit appropriations.

This board's proposal, however, goes along the path that President Truman has led us — toward more liberal benefits at the expense of industry.

Clarence B. Randall, president of the Inland Steel company, sounded the temper of management yesterday when he said, "In a free America no man should be fully relieved by others of the duty of providing for his future and that of his family.

"We are prepared to make changes and to bear a substantial part of the cost, but we think that the worker who is benefitted also should share in the cost," he emphasized.

"There is no logic in asking industry to adopt a different plan. We are prepared to sit down with the union and review the insurance and pension plan which we now have," Randall concluded.

What Randall means, of course, is that industry is willing to modify its current stand and swing a little farther to the left, but he doesn't want to go there with giant strides.

Actually, big business has absorbed a pretty consistent beating for the last 17 years at the hands of government. More and more the pendulum has tipped toward the oft-mentioned "little man."

Monopoly-busting and corporation taxation have been two clubs that Democratic administrations have swung at big industry.

It now appears that labor has become well organized to wield a pretty mean club of its own. Perhaps we would do well to slow the pace toward the left — by taking "baby steps."

Cheaper by the Dozen —

A story out of Sydney, Australia recounts a rivalry between residents of a street in South Australia and another in West Australia.

The Aussie centers around which can claim more children per home. Patrick street, South Bunbury, West Australia, seems to be the loser — so far — with a mere 110 youngsters in 25 homes.

Fifth avenue, Brompton, South Australia, can claim 87 children in a dozen homes. The State Housing trust, which owns the homes on fifth avenue demands that tenants shall have at least six children to live in the homes.

Senate's Shortest Session —

The senate, which can do anything it darn well pleases with unanimous consent, agreed to an unbelievable proposition on the eve of Labor Day.

They passed a resolution calling for a session at which no member could talk or try to transact business. It was labeled an order.

It read, "Immediately after convening . . . the presiding officer shall, without the transaction of any business, declare the senate in recess until 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday Sept. 7, 1949."

The order provided the senate with its shortest session in history.

Giveaways Keep Giving —

Despite the Federal Communications commission's recent ban on giveaway programs, it seems likely that the Santa Claus radio and television shows are here to stay.

The big networks have already started their battle against the ban and the odds favor their winning.

FCC officials themselves are entertaining little hope that the ban will withstand a long legal fight. There is also the possibility that the ruling will be forgotten before a court decision is rendered.

There will be no immediate stoppage of the "get-rich-quick" programs because the networks are going ahead pending a court decision.

With a decision nothing more than a hazy possibility, we'll still have to stay close to our phones and radios, because they might spin our number.

Devaluation Talks Shake British Labor Structure

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(AP) Foreign Affairs Analyst

Strikes and strike threats spreading from one end of Britain to the other emphasize the view in which the British government is caught by the proposed devaluation of the pound sterling.

The government only recently came through a critical dock strike which centered around unionism and was fomented by Communists merely intent on disruption.

Far more significant, from the standpoint of Britain's world position, is the growing demand for higher wages, which would be heightened by devaluation. Her railwaymen have been threatening to strike over this issue for appears to be coming to a head.

It involves half a million workers, and a group of unions which are, through the labor party, a part of the government which owns the railways.

Nearly four thousand Scotch coalminers who normally produce 5,000 tons a day have just gone out on strike, also against their own government owner, and in rebellion against their the Labor party, which by all accounts is going to have a hard time in the next election anyway.

Also, with evidence that labor leaders are having increasing difficulty keeping the rank and file in line for austerity, it might mean that industrial production, compared with pre-war performances, has been going very well. If it should stop, through strikes or for any reason, the country's position would become almost hopeless.

But exporting is just as vital. Exports have been cut by inability to meet world prices. They are being handcuffed now by the general feeling that devaluation must come, and that contracts can await its arrival. This situation itself promotes what seems to be the inevitable.

Britain's future depends heavily on whether she can balance these conflicting domestic and international conditions.

Germany Gets Face Lifted — But Not High

FRANKFURT (AP) — After two years absence, seeing the face of Germany again reminds you of a man who has been desperately ill and has just recovered to the point of making his first wolf whistle at a pretty girl.

At first glance — and there is plenty to see at first glance — the thing that smacks you hardest is that the German is after you money again, your D-mark. In 1947 a billboard—if you could find one — was something you used to patch the bomb hole in your roof. Today, Kaiser strasse after dark might be neon-cluttered Main street, Kansas City.

All west Germans date things on the basis of B. C. R. (before currency reform) and A. C. R. (after currency reform). June 20, 1948. That was the day the mark became something you could buy groceries with again. The factory wheels began to turn again, the black marketer quit shuffling his sales of worthless reichsmarks to put on his overalls.

So you can walk the streets imagining you are not in the bomb shattered Third Reich you remember from 1945 — if you don't look up. The face of Germany has been lifted, but not very high.

SAN DIEGO (UP) — Every warship and naval aid squadron of the Pacific fleet is now completely outfitted to handle any emergencies that might arise during atomic bombings, it was revealed last night.

Cmdr. J. C. Oldfield, officer in charge of all atomic decontamination for the airforces of the Pacific fleet, said in an exclusive interview with the United Press that all units now have specialists assigned to them who have been trained in defenses against radioactivity.

"All ships are now equipped for decontamination," Oldfield said. "They are set up to handle two problems, the decontamination of men who have been exposed to radioactivity, and the cleaning of a ship that has been made dangerous."

Oldfield said that as far as the handling of personnel goes, it is very similar to methods of treating persons who have been affected by poison gas.

The men are stripped and washed thoroughly in running water. All clothing that has been contaminated is either thrown away or sent away to be cleaned.

"The Bikini atom bomb tests have showed us some new methods in further cleaning of personnel and in the development of certain material to help prevent the radioactivity from reaching the man," Oldfield said.

"The big problem is in decontaminating a ship once it has entered a radioactive area. However, with techniques and material developed we are getting that licked, too."

Oldfield said the area covered by an atomic bomb blast is not as great as many people believe.

"A ship can become contaminated two ways by an atom explosion," he said. "At the blast, particles of fissionable material are blown into the air and may settle on a ship. Or it may become contaminated by radioactive particles dropped from the cloud formed by the explosion."

Oldfield said that good wind observation and correct manning of ships should keep them away from the cloud danger.

The ships and air squadrons of the fleet are under constant drill on what to do under different conditions arising from atomic warfare.

"Air Pacific puts out instruments to all ships and squadrons and is continuously supplying them with all the latest data as it is gathered for making the fleet as safe as is humanly possible," he said.

Oldfield, whose home is in Sheraton, Iowa, took part in the recent secret atom bomb at Eniwetok. He is a graduate of the navy's radiological safety school on Treasure island, in San Francisco bay.

Real Deal

Used Car Dealer Takes 'Anything'

DETROIT (AP) — Auto Dealer Herbert Teal claims his business has doubled since he began accepting everything from diamonds to doughnut machines as down payments on new cars.

"To me," Teal said, "a set of silver or a rug-cleaning gadget looks just like a used car."

He got the idea four months ago when a divorcee wanted to buy a car. She explained that she had a perfectly-good engagement ring but was a bit short on cash.

"Sold," said Teal and figured that there were hundreds of others in the same position.

His collection thus far includes pianos, washing machines, tools, bonds, and real estate — plus countless other items.

Teal said he calls on his friends in other businesses to appraise items which are traded in.

"Usually," the dealer said, "we call the item to whoever appraises it."

The word got around that Teal would "take anything" as down payment. Soon, he put two and two together and got a modest, but intensive advertising campaign underway.

"I'll admit," Teal said, "that we over-allow on things like diamond rings, but every dealer I know does the same thing on used cars."

Aeronautics Group Sets Three Rules

DES MOINES (AP) — The State Aeronautics commission yesterday established three safety rules for all firms engaged in aerial crop spraying and dusting.

The commission's action follows a series of seven serious aerial crop spraying accidents last June, three of which were fatal.

It listed the rules as:

"1. The plane or planes used should be equipped with a stall warning indicator. (The device gives the pilot advance warning by a horn of an approaching stall. A stall is a maneuver in which it is possible to put a plane either intentionally or unintentionally which results in loss of control.)"

"2. The plane should be equipped with a shoulder harness. (This device would prevent the pilot falling forward into the instrument panel in the case of an accident.)"

"3. All flagmen should be equipped with an appropriate type of fire extinguisher. (Flagmen go to the fields with the crop sprayers and stand at the ends of the field. In most cases they are the ones nearest to the plane in the case of a crash. The extinguisher, the commission said, should be one appropriate for putting out gasoline and oil fires.)"

Navy Undersecretary Kimball Set to Resign

By THE CENTRAL PRESS
WASHINGTON, D.C. — Don't be surprised if Dan A. Kimball resigns shortly as undersecretary of the navy. His difficulties seem to be piling up.

Tipoff that the wind may be blowing outward from the defense department for Kimball came when the navy killed a speech he was to have delivered at Richmond, Va.

The original Kimball speech was highly critical and doubtful about unification. The substitute was highly laudatory and resounding with praise for Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

However, political observers say that Kimball, a Californian of independent disposition, did not like having his thoughts tailored in this fashion. They feel he may quit.

To top it off, Vice-Admiral John D. Price and Rear Admiral Thomas B. Inglis got Kimball in further hot water the next day.

Price and Inglis both told a navy court of inquiry flatly that no investigation was ever requested or made of the "anonymous document" attacking the B-36 bomber program, which was written by Kimball's assistant, Cedric R. Worth.

Kimball had said he requested navy intelligence to investigate as soon as he learned of the document. Fact was he had discussed looking into the matter with Price, and this might have been interpreted as a request to investigate.

However, Price preferred to stick to the more substantial fact — that the navy was not interested in investigations and was wholeheartedly hoping that the matter would "blow over."

Visitors to the Atomic Energy commission's Washington headquarters are inevitably amazed — and reassured — by the elaborate precautions taken against theft of secret information on the atom bomb.

The complex electric-eye fence surrounding the building, the system of badges and uniforms escorts for all visitors, the ever-present reminders to keep safes locked, and the like, contribute to making the AEC a very safe place, indeed.

A final and seemingly ludicrous touch to these measures is that even the telephone books, listing the telephone numbers of the building's occupants, are sternly marked "restricted" in large black type.

AEC security officers say that it is because the phone book provides "too handy" a listing of the AEC's employees. They do not doubt that a spy could get this information, but they don't want to make it easy for him.

American airlines have real cause for concern over British jet air transport development.

The British supremacy in that field was being pooh-poohed on ground that fares would be too high to command a substantial market. But, suddenly, the English announced successful mid-air refueling jets.

The initial experiment involved a fighter, but authorities say the principle is easily applicable to Britain's new four-engine jet transports.

This means that greater payloads can be carried over longer ranges, thus allowing a deep cut in the fare that would have to be charged otherwise.

New Plastic Material Goes to College

Stay at home all day and go to college, too! Students can't manage this but plastics can.

Housewives are welcoming a new non-woven towel made of plastic rayon which will endure all types of punishment in household cleaning and does not require washing and ironing.

Symphonic Chorus Auditions Members

Auditions for SUI's symphonic chorus are now being held in room 103 of the music studio building, Prof. Herald Stark, chorus director, said yesterday.

The tryouts will continue through Thursday. There are openings in all sections and high tenors and low basses are especially in demand, Stark said.

Rehearsals are held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9:15 in south music hall.

Stark said the chorus will make three appearances this semester. On Oct. 12, the male voices will assist the SUI symphony orchestra in a performance of the "Pastorale" by Franz Liszt.

Rehearsals are held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9:15 in south music hall.

Stark said the chorus is expected to number about 180 voices this fall. "Singers need not be registered students in order to participate, Townspeople are invited to sing," Stark said.

Women of Moose Vote Polio Gift

Membership committee of Women of the Moose voted to make a contribution to the emergency polio fund at a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. F.E. Humeston, 416 Seventh ave.

The group announced the perfect attendance meetings of the chapter would begin with the first meeting of October and continue through the first meeting of June.

Mrs. H.P. Schwab was co-hostess and Mrs. Raymond Calta conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Alfred Jensen was appointed secretary-treasurer to replace Mrs. Humeston who resigned the position.

Though vacancies exist in all sections of the orchestra, string players are particularly urged to audition. Rehearsals are held Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9:15. Orchestra may be taken with or without credit.

Archeologists to Hunt — Indian Relics Near Here

Remains of primitive human life may be the object of a search by archeologists next year in the Iowa river valley above Iowa City.

The search will be for remains of the period just prior to discovery of the continent by Columbus.

Smithsonian institution researchers at Washington, hope to make the archeological survey on land which will be flooded within the next few years by the Coralville flood control reservoir, according to Associated Press.

Dr. Frank Roberts, who supervises river basin projects for the institution, said the project depends on congressional appropriations.

Roberts said if such a survey is made it probably will not be started until sometime next year. "We'd certainly like to do some digging before the land is flooded and our opportunity is gone," he said.

A brief inspection trip over the area was made last winter by a Smithsonian representative.

Snow and weather conditions prevented a thorough survey, but further study was recommended.

Some Indian burial and village sites are in the area, Roberts said. Little attention had been given to this section, he said, and he hardly knew what might be turned up.

One area visited by the Smithsonian representative was the Lisle Hurlbut farm one and one-half miles southeast of North Liberty.

Mrs. Mary Overholt, 602 Clark street, former resident of the farm, said her father, the late Charles Alt, was very much interested in Indian and pre-historic relics which became evident in the area.

Mrs. Overholt still has in her possession a large animal tooth, "about the size of a musklemong," which was found near the old Alt farm and which SUI's scientists once speculated was a remnant of some pre-historic beast.

Cards Stretch Lead, Blast Braves, 7-5

Lead Now 2 1/2 As Dodgers Lose

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals stretched their National league lead to two and a half games last night when they downed the hapless Boston Braves, 7-5, while the second place Brooklyn Dodgers were being drubbed by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

It was the redhot Redbirds' sixth straight triumph and the 13th setback in 14 games for the Bostonians, whom the Birds are out to supplant as league champions.

The Redskins gave the Cards a battle and succeeded in driving starter Max Lanier to the showers with a three-run blast in the seventh. But they could not overcome the effects of their own misplays and an early assault on their star southpaw, Warren Spahn.

After the Cape Cod crew had pushed over a first inning run on Elbie Fletcher's double and Bob Elliott's single, the pennant hungry Birds forged into the lead with two in their half and were never headed. Singles by Chuck Diering, Stan Musial and Marty Marion, plus an error by Ed Stanky accounted for the tallies.

Bruner Hurls 1 Inning As Chisox-A's Divide

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A five-run second inning carried the Chicago White Sox to a 6-3 victory and a split of their twilight doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics last night. Dick Fowler tossed a two-hitter to give the A's a 5-1 first game triumph.

Jack Bruner, former Iowa pitcher recently brought up from Waterloo of the Three-I league, hurled the eighth inning and was touched for two hits and one run.

Wrong-Way Graham is Out Just the Same

SKIDDING IN ON HIS BACK, but only to be tagged out, is Jack Graham of the St. Louis Browns. Red Sox Shortstop Vern Stephens makes the putout after receiving the throw from Catcher Birdie Tebbets. Graham tried to steal second in the second inning of yesterday's American league game at Fenway Park, Boston. Umpire Bill Summers watches the play. Boston kept pace with the league-leading Yankees by dumping the Browns, 12-4.

UCLA Experience Worries Anderson

With still a week remaining before the Hawkeye footballers receive their first test of the year against UCLA, troubles are brewing in the mind of Coach Eddie Anderson.

At the top of the headache list is the thought of how the Iowa sophomores are going to react against those big UCLA veterans. In the Bruins' line are such names as 225-pound Harry Thompson, and 215-pound George Pastre at the tackle posts.

Then there is John Nikcevic, who weighs a mere 207 pounds and was in the Bruin line which beat the Hawks at Los Angeles two years ago.

Hawks Drill Briefly On Stadium Field

Iowa's football team donned its game uniforms yesterday for a brief workout in the stadium, restricted to kickoff and kickoff returns plus some running of plays.

After the completion of the University high - Wapello game on the regular practice field the Hawks went through an extensive signal drill.

There was no scrimmage, the only contact work to date being held to two scrimmage sessions.

The team that held the No. 1 position yesterday was without a single sophomore. The all-veteran outfit, and the eleven that may open against UCLA one week from today had Glenn Drahn quarterbacking and throwing the passes; Don Frey and Mearl Naer at the halfbacks and Iowa City's Bill Greene at fullback.

Jack Dittmer and Bob McKenzie were at the ends; Don Winslow and Harold Bradley, tackles; Bob Lage and Earl Banks, guards and Dick Laster, center.

Fullback Bill Reichardt, sidelined with a bad knee recently, exercised the leg with a lot of running but did not take part in any drill except a brief session in punting Jim Shoaf, 240 - pound tackle was still out with an injured knee.

Earlier, in the stadium, the coaches staged four 100-yard races, not necessarily according to position. Arnold Caplan and Don Woodhouse were winners in one race, Mike Riley and Bob Longley tied in another, Lage bested the linemen and Dittmer finished first in the final sprint.

Red Sox Top Browns, 12-4

BOSTON (AP) — Junior Stephens paced a 17-hit attack with his 37th and 38th homers as Lefty Mel Parnell protected the Boston Red Sox' pennant chances yesterday by notching his 23rd pitching decision with a 12-4 triumph over the lowly St. Louis Browns.

Stephens' four baggers were consecutive, against relief pitcher Tom Ferrick in the fifth and seventh innings. They accounted for three runs to boost Stephens' RBI total to 149. In the homer department he pulled into a tie with teammate Ted Williams.

Lou Stringer, filling in for ailing Bobby Doerr at second base, came up with his first homer in 33 trips to the plate at the expense of port-sider Joe Ostrowski in the eighth with Billy Goodman aboard.

Stringer also collected a two bagger, a pair of singles and a base on balls. Al Zarilla banged four singles and drew one pass for another perfect performance at the plate.

This 14th triumph in 21 starts against the Browns enabled the Red Sox to continue two and a half games behind the top place New York Yankees, who bested the Detroit Tigers, 4-1.

Bucs Dim Brooklyn Pennant Drive, 9-2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates made the pennant hopes of the Brooklyn Dodgers look a little dimmer last night as they battered three Flatbush hurlers for 10 hits and a 9-2 win. Three walks issued to Ralph Kiner helped with the Dodger downfall. Bill Werle went all the way for Pittsburgh, scattering seven hits equitably over the distance.

Raffensberger in 3-Hit Triumph, 2-1

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ken Raffensberger was in rare form yesterday, holding Philadelphia to three hits while Cincinnati reached Ken Heintzelman for seven to win, 2-1.

It was one of the fastest games of the season in either major leagues, being completed in one hour, 32 minutes.

The seventh place Reds scored their two runs in the first inning after two were out. Danny Litwhiler counted first with his 10th homer of the season and two singles and Granville Hamner's error.

Blue Hawks, Wapello Tie, 6-6

University high of Iowa City appeared on its way an opening game Eastern Iowa Hawkeye conference victory here yesterday afternoon but a fourth quarter Wapello touchdown turned the contest into a 6-6 tie.

The Blue Hawks actually lost the ball game by a matter of inches when the point-after-touchdown attempt by Carter Morgan struck the goal post above the cross-bar on the right upright. Bob Ewalt had posted U-high's lone touchdown on a line plunge from the 6-inch line.

The tally put the Blue Hawks in front, 6-0, and they seemed on the way to victory. But late in fourth period Wapello drove into U-high territory via an aerial attack, seemed stalled when a penalty pushed them from the 15 to the 20 yard line, then struck for a touchdown on a pass that traveled 10 yards.

Right Halfback Duane Lynch grabbed the throw on the 10 and raced untouched into the end zone. Fullback Bob Mathews lost the pass.

For the first half of the game neither team could penetrate very far into enemy ground. U-high got into a hole right after the kickoff but got its running attack going and escaped without damage.

When the Blue Hawks did three for their touchdown it was a ground offensive that gained the yards. Ronnie Coldsnow, Ewalt, Morgan and Halfback Dean Evans manned the backfield at the time.

Southworth Says He'll Return

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Billy Southworth will return next season as manager of the Boston Braves, and there will be no "head chopping" among the players of that club, he said yesterday.

"Billy the Kid," who left the 1948 National league pennant winners just a month ago without saying goodbye to his players, ended a four-week press pursuit yesterday afternoon to have his say.

Southworth said he received a diagnosis on his health Wednesday, and that he had been pronounced physically sound. The 56-year-old skipper, who has three years to go on a $250,000 five-year contract with the Braves, said he had lost eight pounds through "hard physical work" the last month, and was down to a near-normal 172.

"Billy" scheduled a press conference to clear up his unexplained departure from the Braves. "Will you be back in Boston as manager next year?"

Billy fired back: "The answer is definitely 'yes.' There has never been any question about that. My only reason for leaving was to recuperate, and now my doctors tell me that I'm going to live. So I'll be back."

Next came the question: "There have been reports that should you return there would be wholesale changes in the club personnel, especially among players who have been quoted as being dissatisfied. How about it?"

Billy answered: "Reports of dissatisfaction on our club have been exaggerated."

BILLY SOUTHWORTH, who left his job as manager of the Boston Braves to regain his health, has told reporters he will return to the Tribe next season. His announcement was as sudden as his departure from the baseball scene, when he didn't even say goodbye to the players. The 56-year-old skipper has three years to go on a $250,000 five-year contract with the Braves.

Williams, Stephens Nearing 300 Mark in RBI Department

CHICAGO (UP) — Ted Williams and Vern Stephens, the one-two punch of the Boston Red Sox, probably will slam into the all-time record book in runs batted in this year, but they might finish just as the all-time record holders did — without the pennant.

Williams and Stephens have batted in a total of 290 runs in games through Sept. 15, and looked certain to go over 300 before the season ends.

But Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the powerhouses of the mighty New York Yankees, set the all-time record for two men batting in runs in one season with 347 in 1931. Yet that Yankee club finished in the runner-up spot in the American league chase and Connie Mack's Athletics took the pennant.

Gehrig and Ruth each hit 46 homers that year with Lou driving in 184 runs and the Babe 163.

The same Yankee pair holds second in their own record with 339 runs batted in in 1927 when the New York team, rated by many as baseball's best in history, captured the flag as the Babe belted 60 homers and sent 164 runs across the plate. That season Gehrig was first with runs batted in with 175 and 47 home runs.

On only three other occasions have any two men on one team combined to go over the stratospheric 300 mark in the department.

Gehrig entered the record books again in 1937 when he teamed with Joe DiMaggio to total 326. Gehrig had 159 and Jolting Joe 167.

The other two entrants in the column were Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics. Simmons sent home 165 and Foxx 156 for a 321 total for the A's also in 1927. To finish second to the Babe and Gehrig.

The same pair pulled the trick again in 1932 when Foxx belted 58 home runs to drive in 169 runs and Simmons sent over 151.

That the 300 total is not easy was demonstrated by the leaders, too. In 1928 Ruth and Gehrig totalled 284, best in the league, but 16 short of 300. In 1929 they had 280 and Simmons and Foxx had 274. In 1935 Detroit's Hank Greenberg and Goose Goslin teamed for 279 to lead, while Hal Trosky had 162 and Earl Averill 126 for Cleveland in 1936.

How high Williams and Stephens would go in the record column was uncertain. They had slight chance to surpass the 347 marks of the 339 of Ruth and Gehrig, but they might beat the two Simmons Foxx scores or Gehrig's mark with DiMaggio.

British Golfers Gain 3-1 Lead Over U.S. In Ryder Cup Play

GANTON, ENG. (AP) — By the margin of tantalizing inches, Great Britain gained a three-to-one advantage over the United States yesterday in the opening foursome golf matches for the treasured Ryder Cup.

A snaky eight-foot putt by Lloyd Mangrum that skirted the cup on the 36th hole let the British pair of Dick Burton and Art Lees win their team's third victory, 1 up.

Mangrum and Sam Snead needed to win the last hole to get a split, which would have been worth half a point to the Americans. Cup matches end on the last green even if they are tied.

Two other surprising victories sky-rocketed British hopes of winning the Cup, trophy of world supremacy for professional golf teams, for the first time since 1933.

Jimmy Adams and Max Faulkner defeated Johnny Palmer and E.J. (Dutch) Harrison, two and one.

Fred Daly and Ken Bousefield whipped Skip Alexander and Bob Hamilton, three and two.

Only the rainbow-hued Jimmy Demaret and his husky partner, Clayton Heafner, could salvage any American glory on a leaden day that brought the first rain here in almost three months.

They cut down Sam King and Charlie Ward, four and three, gaining three holes in the afternoon round.

The three-to-one British edge was "just what I expected," insisted British Captain Charles Whitcombe, although before the matches he said he would be happy with an even break the first day.

"My boys will whip them again today," he predicted.

Today the team feud between the pro ends with eight singles matches.

Laughter was missing from The American camp. Angry silence replaced the wisecracking of practice days. Captain Ben Hogan had nothing to say. He forced a grim smile, then herded his squad away.

The great players America can offer couldn't manage the tight little Ganton course that was covered with 10,000 spectators.

They found deadly enemies in its many treacherous sandtraps and made first hand acquaintance with gorse, a prickly little evergreen that abounds in Ganton's rough.

Faced with the necessity of winning six of today's eight singles matches to assure an American victory, Hogan shuffled his line-up and substituted long-driving Chick Harbert of Detroit for Alexander, who was wild in spots yesterday.

Byrne Hurls 2-Hitter As NY Clips Detroit

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Byrne granted only two singles yesterday as he pitched the league-leading New York Yankees to a 4-1 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in the first of a two game series.

The triumph was the erratic southpaw's 15th of the season and it protected the Yanks' two and one-half game margin over the runner-up Boston Red Sox. The Sox thumped St. Louis, 12-4, in Boston.

Byrne, as usual, was his own worst enemy. He walked six and fanned six, with the free tickets leading to the lone Detroit run.

Freddie Hutchinson also pitched well for the Tigers, yielding six hits in the six innings he worked. But two of the blows were doubles by Bobby Brown which drove home three runs.

Hutchinson left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and the Yanks tapped reliever Ted Gray for their final run in the last of the seventh without hitting the ball out of the infield.

Coleman scratched a hit to short, moved to second on a groundout, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on Rizzuto's grounder to Eddie Lake.

GI, 4 Britons Escape from Russ Prison

BERLIN (AP) — Four western soldiers, an American and three Britons, broke to freedom Thursday night from a Soviet prison in which they said they were tortured, beaten and poorly fed for months.

The American is Pvt. John J. Sienkiewicz, 26, of Baltimore, Md., a veteran of 21 months of tough campaigning in the Pacific war, who disappeared from his unit of the 16th infantry regiment here last Nov. 5.

The Britons, who face charges of being absent without leave at the time of their arrest 18 months ago, were identified by British army authorities as John Boniface, Morris Sullivan and Arthur Taylor.

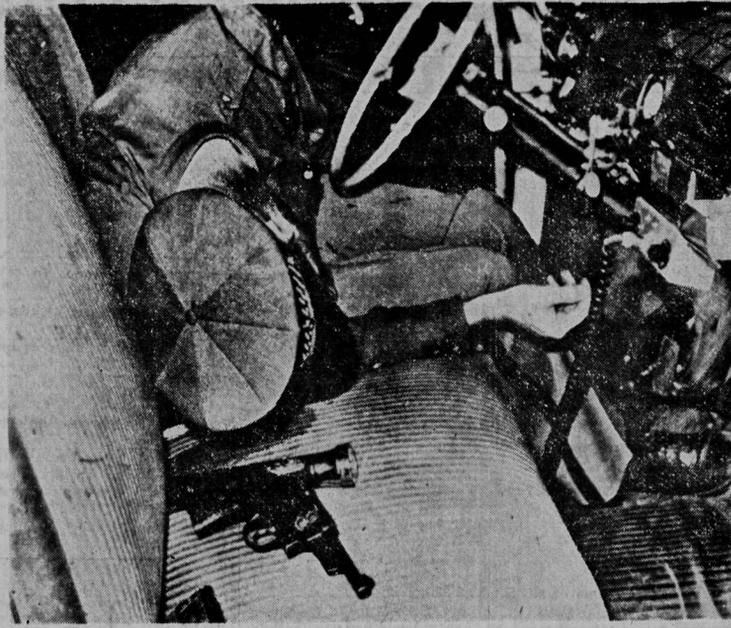

Weary, dirty and marked by prison pallor, the four made their way on foot to safety in the western sectors early yesterday. All were hospitalized. The Britons were reported "in poor physical shape." The U.S. army said Sienkiewicz was "in generally weakened physical condition, but not undernourished."

Sienkiewicz said he was nabbed by a Russian officer when he rode a street car into the Soviet sector by mistake Nov. 5 and his name, carried on his identification card, led the Russians to believe he was a Polish displaced person being used as a spy.

The stockily built soldier told tales of ice water dunkings, of long questioning, of standing 24 hours in a cell without room to sit or kneel and of "having the hell slapped out of me." He said he was "questioned day and night" for the first 16 days of his arrest.

Sienkiewicz is one of seven children of Mrs. Mary Sienkiewicz of Baltimore. He worked as a stevedore in the interval between his World War II service and his reenlistment in May, 1948.

Colorado State Patrolman Killed in Car

(AP Wirephoto)

SHOT IN THE CHEST AND ARM Colorado State Patrolman Harold Bechtelheimer lay dead in his patrol car near Colorado Springs Wednesday night. He had halted a man suspected of robbing a liquor store and the man opened fire without warning. Several hours later detectives arrested Daniel Valenzuela, 21, who they said orally confessed the killing. Bechtelheimer, 40, managed to say into his radio microphone just before dying: "Help, I've been shot."

Believe Property Taxes Here Will Increase

Johnson county officials said yesterday they are waiting for action by the state tax commission which will indicate how high property taxes will be here next year.

There are definite indications that property valuations here have shown a considerable increase this year.

Figures tabulated by the city and county assessors show that real estate and personal property values in Iowa City have jumped nearly $500,000.

This means taxes will be higher for persons whose property values have been increased. However, in some cases less tax will be paid because the millage rates are figured to cover the city, county and school budgets for next year, and an increase in property valuation will help to decrease the millage rate.

Refugees Force Plane To Land in Sweden

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Five armed Polish refugees yesterday commandeered a passenger plane over Poland and forced its crew to fly across the Baltic sea and land in southern Sweden.

The plane landed at a military airport near Nykoeping, the five fugitives begged Swedish authorities not to send them back to their Communist-dominated homeland, but were unable to get an immediate answer.

Mobster Gets Taken For 'Ride' in N.Y.

VALLEY STREAM, N.Y. (AP) — The crumpled body of a wax-faced, stocky, red-haired man found shot six times in the head on a lonely road Friday night was identified yesterday as that of Philip "Little Farfel" Cohen, 41, a former "stockholder" in the infamous Murder, Inc., gang of the 1930's.

The New York World-Telegram said it had learned that the one-time protegee of the late Louis "Lepke" Buchalter, boss of Murder, Inc., had been taken for a one-way ride because he had headed a new mob that was shaking down every important bookmaker in New York City.

The body of "Little Farfel" was discovered sprawled in a cutoff leading from the Southern State parkway on Long Island.

$148,588 in School Aid

Johnson county has been allotted $148,588 for school aid it was announced yesterday by the state department of public instruction. This is part of the $14-million in the state fund.

The allotment is divided into two categories: general aid and supplemental aid. Payments of general aid will be on the basis of 90 percent of valid claims. Distribution of supplemental aid will be at the rate of 58 percent.

Men's Orientation Plans Finished; Starts Monday

Final plans for men's orientation groups have been made, Ross Williams, Quadrangle, chairman of the orientation group, said yesterday. Several changes have been made, he said.

Orientation leaders will meet Monday at 2 p.m. to discuss plans and arrangements. At 7 p.m. the first mass meeting for freshmen will be held in the chemistry auditorium. The program was originally scheduled to be held in the fieldhouse.

At the chemistry auditorium speakers from the athletic and military departments will appear. Leonard P. Raffensberger, freshman coach, Col. W. W. Jensen and D. A. Armbruster, swimming coach. Sports activities originally scheduled for Monday night following the speeches have been cancelled.

Tuesday evening the second mass meeting will be held in Macbride auditorium at 7 p.m. Speakers from various campus organizations such as Union Board, YMCA Student Council and Tailfeathers club, will be introduced, Ross said.

During Tuesday night's meeting, freshmen will be divided in groups and assigned leaders. The upper-class leaders will meet at 10 p.m. in 221A Schaeffer hall to discuss arrangements for the Open House at the president's home.

The freshmen men will attend Open House at the president's home on Wednesday and Thursday evenings for the first time in organized groups.

Boy Dies of Polio; Total Cases Drop

One polio death, one admittance and three transfers to the inactive list brought the number of active polio cases now under treatment at University hospitals down to 25, hospital officials said yesterday.

Joe Specht, 14, Bellevue, died at 2:15 a.m. yesterday.

Admitted to the hospitals yesterday in "fair condition" was Mary Parsons, 2, Amara.

Harren Johnson, 5, Martelle; Peter Baker, 6, Columbus Junction, and David Felland, 10, Iowa Falls, were transferred to the inactive list.

State Rests Case in Marshalltown Trial

MARSHALLTOWN (AP) — The state rested its case yesterday afternoon at the hearing to determine the degree of guilt of Alvin Junior Brown, who has pleaded guilty to a charge of murder. The defense called three witnesses before the hearing was adjourned for the weekend.

The charge was filed in connection with the fatal shooting last June 6, of William J. Muldoon, Mason City salesman, with whom Brown had hitchhiked a ride.

Dr. Earl Keyser of Marshalltown asked permission to testify again and told the court he believed he was mistaken when he testified earlier that he had seen Muldoon's billfold.

Dr. Keyser had said Wednesday that he identified Muldoon at the hospital from articles in Muldoon's billfold. He said yesterday it could have been a key case he was shown instead of a billfold and he believed he had confused two cases in his mind.

SISTER NOW ENEMY

NANKING (AP) — A well-informed source said yesterday that Mrs. Sun Yat-Sen, sister of Mm. Chiang Kai-shek, probably will be chosen first chairman of a Communist-sponsored coalition government expected to be formed in Peiping on Oct. 10.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no need for strikes. With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

What Are These Strikes About? These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law Which Are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.
