City Aldermen Award Street Light Contract

Iowa City aldermen last night awarded the Heinz Electric company, Cedar Rapids, the contract to replace the downtown street-lighting system with a new mercury vapor lighting system.

The Heinz company bid of $43,284 was the lowest of four bids presented to the council at its meeting last week.

Arguments for and against repair or replacement of Iowa City's "downtown" streetlights cover a period of at least a year. Last September the council met with the chamber of commerce and the junior chamber of commerce to consider the problem of downtown streetlighting.

Since that time the problem has been bandied back and forth with councilmen and businessmen making trips to nearby communities to inspect new lighting systems and electric companies installing sample lights in business blocks here.

After a public hearing in July, the council decided downtown property owners should pay for any repair or replacement of the lighting system.

According to a report submitted by the council streetlights committee, repair would have cost from $12,000 to $14,000; a new system from $36,500 to $42,000. The Heinz company bid is only slightly above the committee's estimate.

Thus the present lighting system, completed in 1928, will be replaced by up-to-date mercury vapor lighting with conduit for wiring and high light poles to beam light on street surfaces.

In other action the council voted a public hearing at 7:30 Oct. 10 on purchase of an additional parking lot for off street parking. The council committee on parking, public safety and police had recommended a lot in the 300 block of South Duquesne street.

The council also decided to advertise for bids on three new trucks for the street department.

Aldermen also approved Mayor Preston Koser's appointment of Albert Delezal as fire chief and Aldermen Frank Fryauf, Wayne Putnam and Charles Smith as a committee to interview candidates for the milk inspector's position.

Injunction Granted To Halt FCC Ban

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal Judge Simon Rifkind yesterday granted a temporary injunction halting the federal communication commission's ban on "give-away" shows.

Under the injunction the give-aways can stay on the air until suits challenging the constitutionality of the FCC's order are decided.

The temporary injunction granted yesterday on the joint petition of ABC, CBS and NBC, will continue until a three-man statutory court has ruled on the network's separate suits for a permanent injunction.

Registration . . .

Students entering the college of liberal arts for the first time must register at the fieldhouse today. No alphabetical schedule will be followed.

Alphabetical registration for students in liberal arts, commerce, education and the graduate college will resume at 8 a.m. tomorrow. Students unable to register at the scheduled time tomorrow may register at any later time, but request to register at a time earlier will not be granted.

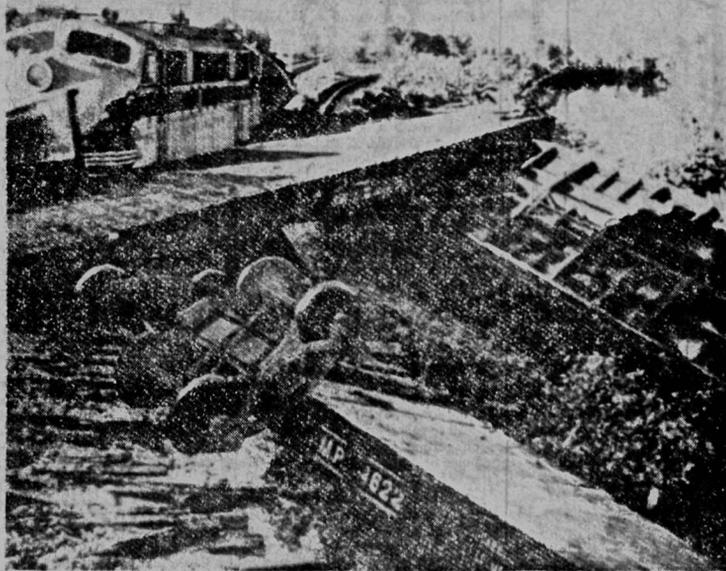

Fees must be paid from Oct. 3 through Oct. 6.

Married Student Housing at SUI Still 'Difficult'

The amount of housing for single students at SUI has increased slightly, but the housing situation for married students is still difficult, university officials said yesterday.

No off-campus married housing is available in the city, Manager Richard Sweitzer said. However, there are some sleeping rooms in surrounding communities, he added.

There are still a few single men's rooms left, Sweitzer said, although there has been a considerable run on single housing in the last few days. Single women's off-campus housing situation is a

None Injured in Freight Train Derailment

THE DIESEL ENGINE and seven cars of a northbound Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad freight train were derailed near Quincy, Ill., yesterday. No one was injured in the accident, but extensive damage was done to tracks and equipment. Freight cars (foreground) lie turned over and scattered after the derailment.

Devalued Pound Rocks World Monies; Russ Denounce Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Lower dollar prices for many raw materials and finished products in most of the world emerged yesterday from the wringer of devaluation.

First reaction in United States markets was relatively limited. Lower prices were paid for many commodities including wool and wool tops, rubber, hides and cocoa, sold on contracts for future delivery.

Trading in stock shares here and abroad reflected business views of prospects in the economic shake-up.

In Britain, which is gambling with devaluation to encourage exports, stock exchanges were closed.

On Wall street, an initial burst of selling faded out, but final quotations were a few cents to $1 a share lower.

Gold mining stock prices went up everywhere — in New York, at London's open-air market, in similar "black market" dealings at Johannesburg, and in Toronto and Montreal exchanges.

Eighteen nations already had followed Britain's lead and devalued their monies. These were France, Sweden, Canada, the Netherlands, Iceland, Finland, Russia, Malaya, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, India, Norway, Denmark, Egypt, Burma and Israel.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer who announced the 30 1-2 percent devaluation of the pound Sunday night, himself rang the firebell for an accelerated export drive by British merchants.

He told a news conference crowded with 400 reporters the British could expect no miracles from devaluation. The British, he said, "must redouble all . . . efforts" to increase exports.

A responsible east European diplomat in the Soviet orbit said it was highly unlikely any country in the Russian sphere would devalue its currency to conform to the shakeup in western Europe.

Moscow's reaction was shown in an Izvestia editorial on Sunday anticipating devaluation of the pound. It said devaluation was a tool of "Wall street bosses" to bring about "liquidation of the sterling bloc and subjection of the pound to the dollar."

The Communist party described devaluation as a "brutal" attack on "real wages in Britain" and a method of enabling Wall street millionaires to buy up British industries at less cost.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) pointed the armed aid bill does not commit this country to equipping a full 50 divisions in western Europe under any country's flag.

Sen. Walter George (D-Ga) who has been calling for a $700-million cut in the $1-billion planned for the European nations, revised his proposal yesterday.

He proposed to allow $300-million in cash and an additional $200-million contract authority to be paid out next year.

Connally offered the bill to the senate on an "all or nothing" basis.

Koser Predicts Aid From Washington For Bridge Project

Federal government financial aid may be forthcoming for widening and remodeling the Burlington street bridge, Mayor Preston Koser said yesterday.

Koser returned Saturday from Washington, D.C., where he conferred with Democratic Sen. Guy Gillette and officials of the public roads administration.

Koser said he believed the government would pay 50 percent of the cost. State officials in a spring meeting with Iowa City officials and the Johnson county road commissioners advised federal aid be sought in revamping the bridge and its west approach.

Koser sought financial aid in planning the repairs and improvements, but was told the fund furnished by congress for this purpose has been depleted and it was doubted whether the fund would be replenished this year.

Koser travelled to the capital to attend the funeral of the late Supreme Court Justice Wiley Rutledge, former dean of the SUI law school.

He reported the government will not act on the Iowa City bridge project until a formal request with plans is submitted by the Iowa highway commission.

State engineers are now preparing additional plans. Meanwhile the city council has authorized further planning here.

Familiar Ceremonies To Start Semester

SUI's fall semester will start officially when the traditional induction ceremonies are held at 8:20 a.m. Thursday. The custom of flag-raising and a brief address by President Virgil M. Hancher will usher in the new year.

Both old and new students will participate in the ceremonies. The university band will play several selections, and M. Willard Lampe, director of the SUI school of religion, will deliver invocation.

The induction ceremonies were first begun by former president Walter A. Jessup and have been a tradition at SUI since they were inaugurated almost a quarter century ago.

According to F.G. Higbee, director of convocations, the induction is the only time during the school year when the entire university body—faculty, staff and students—takes part in a common ceremony.

WILLING TO END STRIKE
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — CIO Longshore boss Harry Bridges declared last night he was willing to recommend to Hawaiian longshore strikers an immediate return to work on the basis of a settlement procedure proposed yesterday by U.S. District Judge George Harris.

NO SECOND FIREMEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential emergency board yesterday rejected a union demand for assigning a second fireman to run diesel locomotives on the railroads.

Nationwide Coal Strike Begins; Schedule Steel, Ford Walkouts

Murray Asks Welfare Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray yesterday said 1-million steelworkers will strike at midnight Saturday unless the industry agrees to establish a company-financed welfare system.

He informed reporters there will be a walkout in the critical steel industry unless management agrees to a new contract calling for a welfare package to cost 10 cents an hour for each worker — six cents for pensions and four cents for other social insurance.

That was one of the recommendations of a presidential fact-finding board. Murray, having swallowed the board's rejection of demands for a fourth round wage boost, said the industry must do the same with one of the recommendations it did not like.

Murray said the steelworkers union, which he also heads, will insist on full acceptance of the board's recommendation and an agreement to write it into a new contract. He said he would not insist that the contract actually be signed by the week's end deadline.

Not one of the 37 steel companies taking part in government mediation talks which got under way here yesterday has accepted the idea of a pension and welfare plan to which the workers contribute no money.

The talks will resume this morning. U.S. Conciliation Service Director Cyrus Ching said yesterday he had asked both the union and management to "think the situation over tonight."

The fact-finding board reported Sept. 10, turning down the steelworkers' demand for a fourth round wage boost. Its findings were made public a little more than three days before a strike deadline.

President Truman moved in and asked for an 11-day truce. The union and the companies acceded. The new deadline falls at midnight Saturday.

The union has agreed to accept the board's recommendations, although it has voiced chagrin at rejection of a new wage increase.

The companies generally have said they are willing to negotiate the board's proposals. Murray balked at that, saying he saw no purpose in further talks unless the companies would accept — at least in principle — the idea of company-financed pensions.

Ford Notified . . .

DETROIT (AP) — The CIO-union auto workers gave the Ford Motor company strike notice yesterday. The deadline is 12:01 a.m. Sept. 29.

A union spokesman said the notice resulted from the inadequacy of the company's offer on pensions. Neither the company nor the union would say what the offer was.

It was learned, however, Ford made a tentative pension offer. Under the reported proposal, the company would finance the pensions and employees would not be required to make contributions.

Union sources estimated the value of the offer at eight cents an hour. It was understood the offer would cover Ford's 115,000 employees, providing pensions of about $50 a month for workers reaching the age of 68, exclusive of social security benefits.

County Grand Jury Opens New Term

Johnson county's grand jury reported yesterday at 2 p.m. to open the September term of district court.

Judge James Gaffney, Marengo, will preside over the court. Judge Harold Evans will preside in Marengo at the Iowa county court.

Seventy-seven cases have been listed on the civil docket to be tried in the September term. Fifteen criminal cases have been listed but disposition has already been made in three of them.

Judge Gaffney said yesterday he will confer with bar members Tuesday and make an assignment of jury cases later. He also will set a date for the petit jury to report for duty.

Some Days It Doesn't Pay to Get Up

RICHMOND, IND. (AP) — A burglar who took $132 in wrapped coins from a theater Sunday night got a surprise when he opened some of the rolls.

He also carried away the equivalent of $28 in slugs put in vending machines in the theater lobby in recent years.

Russia Agrees to Talk With West About Austria

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia belatedly agreed yesterday on a new attempt to settle the long east-west dispute over Austria's future.

Talks will open in New York Thursday. American officials expressed some skepticism over the outcome, but said the discussions may provide a clue to Russia's immediate intentions in the cold war.

A formal treaty restoring Austria to full independence would require the withdrawal of all occupation forces in Austria and also of Soviet troops elsewhere in Eastern Europe.

By agreement with her wartime western allies, Russia is permitted to station troops in Hungary and Rumania only to keep lines of communication open with Soviet forces in Austria. Immediately the Austrian peace treaty is signed, there will be no further excuse for Russia to keep troops in the two neighboring countries.

However, some officials here said they suspect Russia may be unwilling to withdraw these troops in the present stage of the Kremlin's feud with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Earlier negotiations for an Austrian treaty broke off in London on Sept. 1. At that time, Secretary of State Dean Acheson charged the Russians had failed to carry out previous agreements and cast doubt on their good faith.

The state department said Russia agreed to renew the discussions when U.S. Ambassador Alan Kirk, along with the British and French envoys at Moscow, called on acting Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in the Soviet capital Sunday.

Russia and the western powers agreed at Moscow in wartime 1943 that Austria, when in Nazi hands, should not be treated as an enemy country and should be restored to full independence after the war.

Iowa Citian Heads Jewelers' Group

DES MOINES (AP) — W.D. Herten, of Iowa City, was elevated from vice-president yesterday to head the Iowa Retail Jewelers association, at its 39th annual convention here.

Herten succeeds John Gillum of Marshalltown, Mark Swainson of Marshalltown, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The jewelers met jointly with the Horological Association of Iowa during the two-day convention, which ended with a banquet last night.

Nearly 26,150 Railroad Men Face Layoffs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "No pension no work" coal walkouts yesterday burst into a full scale nationwide mine shutdown punctuated by minor violence.

A voluntary strike by nearly all of John L. Lewis' 80,000 united mine workers checked off coal production in 20 states.

Railroads were the first allied industry to feel the effects of the crippling blow. In Reading, Pa., the Reading railroad announced it will be forced to lay off 1,000 workers.

The Illinois central railroad said 130 men would be furloughed immediately.

The Pennsylvania railroad announced it would furlough some 15,000 shop and maintenance employees tomorrow. The Baltimore and Ohio said it would lay off 3,758 workers from next Friday until Oct. 3 and the Chesapeake and Ohio said it would furlough 6,251 employees this week.

Miners are demonstrating their ire at southern coal operators who refused to continue 20 cents a ton royalty into the UMW pension and welfare fund.

In West Virginia, three employees of a strip mine where coal veins near the surface are stripped by power shovels were beaten by what they called part of a motorized caravan of roving pickets.

Officials of the Freeport gas company, which owns a mine at Robey, W. Va., said two tipple workers and a truck driver were beaten.

The state-by-state picture and the number of idle miners in each:

West Virginia, 120,000; Pennsylvania, 100,000 soft coal and 80,000 hard coal miners; Kentucky, 52,000; Ohio, 18,000; Alabama, 18,000; Illinois, 23,000 (not counting 15,000 independent union members); Wyoming, 7,000; Virginia, 15,000; Indiana, 8,000; Utah, 4,300; Tennessee, 10,000; Colorado, 6,000; Arkansas-Oklahoma, 6,500; Kansas - Missouri, 2,000; New Mexico, all 1,200 to be idle today.

In Washington, a source close to President Truman said last night the President has no intention of trying to halt the coal mining walkout for the time being.

This official, who asked to remain anonymous, said Mr. Truman is determined to let the coal industry and John L. Lewis, head of the miners' union, "sweat out" their pension and new contract disputes.

Under the Taft-Hartley labor law the administration would have to prove in court that coal stocks had dwindled to the point where the country faced a national emergency, before an injunction to halt a walkout could be obtained.

AFL Printers Return To Work in Chicago
CHICAGO (AP) — AFL printers returned to newspaper composing rooms yesterday after a 22-months strike, and publishers said they expected to be using "hot type" within the week.

The typesetters voted Sunday to accept a new contract giving them a $10 weekly wage boost and as much "job protection" as the Taft-Hartley law will allow.

Mine Union Official Relaxes as Walkout Begins

AS LONG AS HE DIDN'T have to go to work yesterday, local UMW Union President Tony Russian, of Minersville, Pa., relaxed in bed yesterday and read about the walkout of hard coal miners which he helped to enforce at the nearby Oak Hill colliery. Temporarily, he'll have no use for miner working gear by his bed. Incidentally, his nose and eye injuries, Russian said were inflicted in a local post-election scuffle last week . . . not from hazards of his job.

Cows Mated by Mail

Candy Manufacturer Starts Business That Results in Breeding 30,000 Cows

CARY, ILL. (AP) — Dairy men now have their cows mated by mail.

Otto Schnering, president of a big candy company, is putting artificial breeding of cattle on a business basis, shipping semen from bulls in refrigerator packages by mail or express.

His group of 40 prize bulls have bred cows in four midwestern states — Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Nebraska. His agents, who also serve as breeding technicians, have orders for inseminating 30,000 cows. By year's end he expects his men and veterinarians to handle 100,000 long-distance matings.

Schnering, 57, founded his candy business 33 years ago in a small building on Chicago's north Clark street. The company bears his mother's maiden name Curtiss. It now sells more than a million dollars worth of candy a week.

Chicago-born, Schnering spent boyhood vacations on his father's farm near St. Joseph, Mich. He bought his first farm eight years ago. In 1944, he took over the John D. Hertz place near here. The 850-acre show place is headquarters for 7,500 acres of farms he operates in four counties in northeastern Illinois.

Schnering converted his farms into giant food producing factories. He sells 11,000 ready-to-ry broilers a week. Mink consume the offal from the farm-dressed poultry. Curtis farms are stocked with 8,000 dairy cows, 200 beef cattle, 6,000 pure bred hogs and thousands of ducks and turkeys. Trout grow in man-made, spring-fed streams.

His "improved stud service" is his newest enterprise. Mail orders are handled from farmers who consult a catalogue listing sires by name and record. Four dairy breeds — Holstein, Brown Swiss, Ayrshire and Guernsey — are available.

Successful artificial breeding of animals was done before the time of Christ. Arabs used it in breeding horses. A Russian professor, Ellie Ivanov, developed a method of collecting semen and discovered that when the temperature was lowered the male germ cells could be kept alive longer.

The egg yolk buffer developed by Dr. Paul Phillips of the department of bio-chemistry of the University of Wisconsin made it possible to dilute semen and keep it for a still longer time.

First artificial insemination associations began in the U.S. in May, 1938. E.J. Perry, extension professor of dairy husbandry of the New Jersey college of agriculture, was a prime mover in organizing artificial breeding groups. The six units started 10 years ago in New York, New Jersey, Ohio and Missouri have expanded to 1,063 throughout the country.

A dairyman can build up a top-quality herd from mediocre cows by mating them with bulls of tested inheritance. Schnering believes farmers in the future will be able to get greater milk production from cows.

He points to the national average of 175 pounds of butterfat produced by each cow in a year in the U.S. By proper breeding, farmers can raise and even double that average, Schnering says confidently.

One breeding technician can breed 1,500 to 2,000 cattle a year, mating from a group of top bulls shipped on a whatever-is-available basis. In selective matings from prize bulls, the cost ranges from $10 to $150 per cow.

Semen is taken as needed from the bulls and tested for fertility. The sperm is kept at 34 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

After dilution, some 400 cows can be fertilized. Under natural conditions, one bull is placed with 50 to 70 cows. Schnering said in one case five cows were mated with semen from a bull which had been dead for 17 days.

The cow-on-the-farm population in the U.S. is estimated at 25 million head. Last year, Schnering said, nearly two and one-half million were artificially bred. That was 40 percent more than 1947.

Lena Horne Starts Suit Over Night Club Entry

CHICAGO (AP) — Lena Horne, singer, yesterday sued Caruso's restaurant for $500 damages, alleging she was refused admittance because she was a Negro.

The superior court suit said she and five friends, three of them Negro, tried to enter the near north side dining place last Friday and were refused entry by an employe.

Registration Day Blues

Modern Version of Conga Line

By GIL PEARLMAN

Personally I would prefer to sit through a Roy Roger movie (Trigger included). Believe me, if there is one thing I don't like, it's a Roy Rogers movie. But during the next few days I have little choice.

I arrived at the "waiting room" and took my place in line. There were sixteen in front of me. Fifteen fellows and a female transfer student who had just spent the summer at a girl's camp somewhere in Maine. She seemed to like Iowa.

Three hours later, I started to walk into the confusion. The man at the door, formally known as a "docman", stopped me politely. "What's your name?" he asked. "Pearlman," I answered, full of confidence. I was almost positive I was right.

"That's funny," said he. "Last year when the R's registered, first your name was Pearlman. And the year before that when 'D's' were first, you said Dearman."

"I know," I retorted. "I confuse easily. Besides what's there to get excited about? I only changed one letter. I once knew a man who changed his whole name."

I walked past briskly. Briskly said hello and we went on our mutual ways.

Desiring to sign up for an agricultural course I walked up to the "General Science" poster, only to find that it was the "Romance Languages" desk. "General Science" was listed under "Get Football Tickets Here."

When reaching the desk I witnessed a Quad man crying. It was touching. He had signed for physical education five times, which comprised a full 19 hour week.

I asked for Earth Science at 10:30 on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, thus allowing myself two extra hours of shut-eye. It was offered to me at 8:30. Of course, I refused, point-blank. I am now signed for Earth Science at 7:30 on Tuesday, Thursdays and Saturdays. They can't push me around.

Now that I'm through with registration (12 aspirins later), it occurs to me that there must be an easier way. A simplified formula would be:

Just before high noon all students line up between the 35-yard lines on the football field. (In case of rain, bring umbrellas.) The males on one side, the females on the opposite side. At the signal, eye-o-wa-wa, all rush to the center, thus forming a line of both males and females. One boy, one girl etc. . . .

At this point it seems rather foolish to worry about registration. It is. But can you think of a better way to check the freshman girls in?

Farm Organizations to Meet in Sioux City

DES MOINES (AP) — Representatives of the "big three" in farm organizations will present their views on farm legislation at the national farm conference in Sioux City Friday and Saturday.

The meeting, sponsored by the Republican National committee, will bring together a number of congressmen, big names in the Republican party, GOP leaders from 19 states, and farmers.

Parts of the meeting will be given to formal hearings by representatives of the U.S. senate and house agriculture committees. In separate sessions speakers will include Guy G. Gabrielson, native Iowan and new Republican National committeeman, and Rep. Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan.).

The "big three" are the American farm bureau federation, the farmers union and the national grange.

R.E. Short of Brinkley, Ark., will represent the farm bureau. He is vice-president of the organization. Benton J. Strong of Keosauqua, will speak for the farmers union. He is assistant legislative secretary of the organization. Albert S. Goss of Washington, D.C., will speak for the Grange, of which he is master.

Also to be heard by representatives of the congressional agriculture committees is John H. Davis of Washington, D.C., secretary of the national council of farm cooperatives.

These four will present their views Friday afternoon. The hearing will follow addresses by Gabrielson, Hope, Gov. William S. Beardsley and Axel J. Beck of Elk Point, S.D., chairman of the conference and chairman of the agriculture committee of the Republican National committee.

The agriculture committee representatives also will conduct hearings Friday evening and Saturday morning. Among the committee members present will be Rep. Charles B. Hoey (R-Iowa) and Sen. B.B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa).

Beck has announced that farmers and other interested parties who "don't get a chance to speak will be given an opportunity to get their views incorporated in the record of the conference by filing them in writing with the presiding officer of the hearings."

Addresses will be given Friday night by Howard E. Babcock, Cornell university, Ithaca, N.Y.; Mrs. Arthur Bowring, Merriman, Neb.; Dr. Leo M. Christensen, Lincoln, Neb., and Vincent Kenneally, Raymond, S.D.

Preceding the Saturday hearing and another series of addresses there will be group conference breakfasts. One group will be for farm women, another for young folks and others will be for state groups such as Iowans, Nebraskans, and South Dakotians.

Included among those who will give the addresses Saturday are John Brandt of Minneapolis, president of the Land 'o Lakes creameries, and Earl Wisdom of Des Moines, representing the Iowa Rural Electric Cooperative association.

Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids and Mrs. Charles S. Hickman of Centerville, Iowa's Republican National committeeman and committeewoman, will serve as official host and hostess for the conference.

Broadway's Biggest Noise

By THE CENTRAL PRESS
NEW YORK—The noisiest man on Broadway today is a modest, unassuming fellow named Thomas J. Valentino, who is the king of synthetic sound. His clientele includes radio stations, movie studios, department stores who put on special promotion stunts, play producers, and individuals who want sound effects for their own individual purposes.

TOM VALENTINO, who answers to the nickname "Broadway's Biggest Noise," entered the sounds effect business quite by accident 15 years ago. Since that time he has become one of the top men in the field of sounds effect.

Valentino's entrance into this odd business came about by accident some 15 years ago. At that time he was the proprietor of a small shop on Broadway where he sold sheet music, phonograph records, and had a booth where folks could make a souvenir record to mail to friends. A sort of talking letter.

That gave him the idea that a suitable parting gift for a pal who was about to go to the country to live would be a record of the hustle and bustle of the assorted sounds of a New York City street.

He took his recording equipment and set it up on Broadway and 42nd street. Out of the crowd that gathered to watch him, stepped a man who introduced himself as assistant state manager of the play "Many a Slip," then in rehearsal which was to star Sylvia Sidney.

It seems they were slipping up on getting an authentic off-stage noise of a passing milk wagon. He asked Valentino if he could get it. Valentino thought he could, and did.

That is what started him in the noise racket — excuse the pun. In the last decade hardly an important play has been produced that does not bear the program credit line: "Sound effects by Thomas J. Valentino."

Currently, the loudest job on Broadway is the sound effects for South Pacific, which also entailed working with the cast to see that the off-stage sounds of marching feet and the firing of guns are all properly cued with the songs of Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza.

Each noise is imprisoned on an ordinary phonograph record and for anything out of about 1,000 different items carried in stock, the average price is $2. If he has to make up something special, he charges accordingly.

A dip here and there into the Valentino catalog reveals such sound effects as: bacon frying; autos (coming, going, speeding, skidding, brakes grinding), babble for gossip scenes, surf breaking on the shore, dishes breaking, walking on gravel, putting ice in glass and filling with liquor, and various noises. Getting sounds like machine-gun fire or the rush of water as a submarine submerges involves trade secrets he will not reveal. Otherwise, he'll talk about his experiences.

Once he took his sound apparatus up to the Bronx zoo to get authentic "jungle" animal noises. "It wasn't easy," he recalled, "because the animals up there are well-fed and happy. What have they got to roar about? Believe me, the keepers had to poke them plenty to get some real wild roars out of them."

According to Valentino, the play "Our Town," starring Martha Scott in the stage and screen versions, set an all-time high for sound effects, some 60 in all.

There were the cock's crow at dawn, train whistles, crickets chirping, a horse's whinny, factory whistles, the school bell, rolling thunder, and a clock's chimes, to name a few—all of which had to be run off on cue by an assistant stage manager.

One of the most unusual uses to which Valentino's sound effects were put occurred when Adm. Richard E. Byrd and his crew broadcast from the icy wastes of Little America, back in 1933. Listeners heard them tell about their experiences, against a background of noises of howling winds, the sharp barking of sledge dogs and the crunching of snow.

The talking part of the program was strictly on the level. However, those background sounds — the admiral knew in advance that he could lead a dog to the microphone but he couldn't force it to bark on cue, nor could he make the wind howl when wanted. So, he thoughtfully took along Valentino's record No. 1027, Howling Winds; No. 1155, Barking Dogs; and No. 1198, Walking in Snow. And the laudatory comment relayed to him by wireless convinced him of the wisdom of using canned sound.

CROP Plans Talk On Reorganization

Church, farm and civil leaders from Johnson, Benton, Iowa, Linn, Potosi and Tama counties will attend a meeting of the Christian Rural Overseas program Sept. 14 at Marengo.

At the meeting, which will be at 8 p.m. in the Iowa county courthouse, members will discuss reorganizing CROP county committees for the 1949 food collection; Rev. Paul Figge, district supervisor, said.

State Director Albert W. Farmer, Des Moines, will explain the 1949 CROP program and its 450-carload goal.

From Beginning to End, Registration Is 'Just Plain Work'

WHERE'S YOUR PERMIT TO REGISTER? A guard momentarily stopped Keith H. Harris, Al. 703 N. Dubuque street (second from right), as he started through the registration gate yesterday, but he finally produced the permit and started through the registration mill. Harris is a pre-medical and belongs to the Sigma Chi fraternity.

HURRY UP AND WAIT — the old army game — delayed Harris for a time yesterday, but he finally by-passed the pre-medical advisory table and signed up for one of the physical education skills sections. It's just as well he did, too, because the section he wanted was closed soon after he signed up. Yesterday was only Harris' second registration, but he learned the short cuts rapidly.

FULL APPROVAL OF HIS COURSE schedule was given to Harris, when he did get to see one of the advisors at the pre-medical table. Registration was easy from that point on, since most of his courses were in the science field. Waiting in line, however, was still necessary.

LAST STOP BEFORE THE CHECK-OUT desk for Harris was the chemistry table, where he signed up for a course in qualitative analysis. Since he is not a veteran, Harris was quickly shuttled out of the fieldhouse after completing the university registration. By the time he left the exit gate, the next group of students, Hen-Hus, was going in the registration entrance.

Women's PE Program Adds Horseback Riding

Horseback riding has been added to the activities offered during the fall quarter by the women's physical education department, according to an announcement issued yesterday by the department.

The sport may be elected either to fulfill a time requirement in physical education or to earn academic credit, but does not fall within the basic skills program, the announcement said.

Students may register for the course at the women's physical education desk during the regular registration period at the field house. A charge of $30 to $36 per student will be made depending upon the number of students in the class. The fee will cover rental of the horse, instruction and transportation to and from the riding academy by taxi. If a group of five or more students can furnish their own transportation the charge will be $21.

Classes will be held twice a week during the fall quarter for a two hour period at the Uppier Stable between Solon and Ely. Instruction will be available for beginning, intermediate and advanced riders and will include ring riding, trail riding and lectures.

The riding classes will be conducted by Lee Page, an instructor in the riding department at Stephens college from 1945 to 1947. Miss Page was in charge of the riding program at Carleton college from 1947 to 1949.

Jury Acquits Georgia Judge In Love Trial

ATLANTA (AP)—A jury acquitted last night Judge Robert Carpenter of attempted murder after a five-day trial.

The jury was out 59 minutes. The judge's eyes promptly filled with tears and he put his arm around his lovely, 20-year-old stepdaughter, who also fought hard to keep from sobbing aloud.

As soon as the jury announced its verdict, the courtroom broke into cheers, despite an earlier warning by Trial Judge Virlyn B. Moore that he would tolerate no demonstration.

The handsome 44-year-old civil court judge was charged with shooting in the face John Lockwood, 53, his one-time best friend later attorney for Mrs. Carpenter in a divorce suit.

The judge said on the witness stand he fired at the former Philadelphia lawyer to foil an attempt to steal his wife, money and good name.

As soon as he could escape the crowd around him, the judge, his 82-year-old father and his stepdaughter, Barbara, departed arm-in-arm. Barbara dabbing constantly at her lowered blue eyes.

Barbara sided during the trial with her step-father. She testified Lockwood wormed his way into her mother's confidence and affection to break up the Carpenter home.

Throughout its five days the trial was ridden with sensations. The last day was no exception. In a final trip to the witness stand, Judge Carpenter testified he once knocked his mother-in-law down a flight of stairs because she came home "filthy, lousy drunk."

He also testified in denying charges by Mrs. Minnie Sullivan, 62, that he had made improper advances toward her.

The testimony from the two came as the trial of the handsome 44-year-old civil court judge neared an end.

In her testimony, Mrs. Sullivan said Carpenter made advances to her several months ago in the Carpenter home, before the judge and her daughter separated.

She said she resisted and told him to get out of the room. "From then on," she added, "he kept making advanced and dirty remarks, and I told him if he didn't stop I'd shoot him with his own gun."

Carpenter went back to the witness stand and denied her testimony.

Once, he said, "I knocked her all the way down the steps as hard as I could because she came home filthy, lousy drunk." He added that he sold his home so that his mother-in-law could not live with them any longer.

Mrs. Sullivan denied that anything improper took place between Lockwood and her 39-year-old daughter on a trip to Jacksonville, Fla.

A defense witness had testified he saw Mrs. Carpenter and Lockwood sitting on a bed at a tourist court, and that there were bottles of liquor in the room.

Mrs. Sullivan said she and her daughter shared a room, and denied there was any whisky drinking.

During the first four days of the trial, Lockwood testified the judge chased him four blocks the night of July 27 and shot at him four times.

Carpenter admitted shooting at the attorney, but has not admitted hitting him. The judge claimed he was justified.

British Woman Sentenced to Hang

Scientists Peel 'Joe Blow,' Peruvian Mummy

NEW YORK (AP)—An archeological strip-tease is underway at the American Museum of Natural History.

A group of scientists are eagerly unwrapping an ancient Peruvian mummy they fondly call "Joe Blow," but it will be days before they find out for sure whether they are undressing a sack of beans or a bag of bones.

The peeling procedure began Thursday, under the direction of Dr. Junius Bird, assistant curator of the museum. He and about a dozen other scientists from the U.S. and Peru removed layer after layer of cloth with the enthusiasm of a small child opening a favor at a birthday party.

The scientists hope Joe Blow will turn out to be the bones of a Peruvian high priest, who lived

1,500 to 3,000 years ago. They already have found a little feather in the swappings, which indicates to them that they might have the remains of a personage of high rank hiding in the 500-pound, Schmoos-shaped bundle.

Joe is one of more than 100 mummies which were discovered in a burial ground at Paracas, near Lima, in 1927. It has taken the Peruvians since then to unwrap 75 of the mummies. Several turned out to be practical jokes perpetrated by the ancient undertakers, who had bundled up bags of beans with as much handmade yardage as they usually accorded the priests.

That's why the museum scientists are afraid they might not find human remains in the mummy the Peruvians sent up for them to examine. Bird said he would have X-rayed the five-foot high lump, if he'd had an X-ray machine large enough.

As far as he is concerned, it doesn't matter what the wrappings contain. He's a specialist in wrappings, himself. He's a textile expert, and he said the materials would help a lot in science's search for details on the amazing ancient Peruvian civilization, in which brain surgery apparently was performed with great skill.

Most of the Paracas mummies which have been denuded have contained well-preserved bodies sitting in baskets with knees against chin.

The Peruvians believed that a person should be buried in the same position in which he was

PERSONAL

Dear Joe and Jane —

A great big "WELCOME HOME" to you. We've missed you... without you around the old town we begin to feel our age but... the minute you hit town we feel like we've discovered the fountain of youth... we're young again.

Say, fellows, have you noticed this year's crop of peaches? Iowa may be known for its corn but lowa U. has got its peaches. Seem to get better looking each year... or are we growing old...

All in all it looks like a banner year at Iowa... beautiful gals on the campus... a football team that may surprise many opponents (strictly our prediction, no inside dope) and what's more, a banner year for movies at the CAPITOL.

We're starting right where we left off when you went home last June... We have all the "big ones" lined up. If they're worth seeing you'll see them at the CAPITOL.

Remember, the CAPITOL is your theatre operated to give you the kind of entertainment you want. Stop in often... The office door is always open... You tell us what you want to see.

It's only a step from the "Old Capitol" to the "New" where you'll always find Capitol entertainment.

As ever,

Barney Blanks Cubs On 1-Hitter, 4-0

Cavarretta's Hit Foils No-Hitter

CHICAGO (P) — Phil Cavarretta's eighth-inning single spoiled Rex Barney's bid for a no-hitter yesterday but the Brooklyn speed artist pitched a brilliant one-hit, 4-0, shutout against Chicago.

The 25-year-old righthander, who hurled a no-hit, no-run game against the New York Giants, Sept. 9, 1948, the last in the majors, faced a total of 28 batters. He walked the leadoff man in the first, fifth and seventh innings before Cavarretta singled. Three fast double plays helped him out of difficulty.

Cavarretta, who had been shaken up while trying to make a shoe string catch of Jackie Robinson's single to short right in the first of the eighth, connected clearly with Barney's first pitch in the Cub eighth. The ball sliced through the hole between Robinson and First Baseman Gil Hodges for a hit.

The win enabled the Dodgers to gain a full game on the St. Louis Cardinals who lost last night.

Bob Rush, who worked the first six innings, gave up all Brooklyn runs and six of their eight hits. Roy Campanella led the Dodger attack with two singles and a double.

Barney, moving over the .500 class with his ninth victory, struck out six. He needed only one stand-out play to help him along the way. That was a catch by Duke Snider who raced into left center to pull down a drive by Mickey Owen, leading off the sixth.

Former Iowa Star Races To TD For Los Angeles

A former Iowa football star, Dick Woodard, tallied the first touchdown for the Los Angeles Dons Sunday but the Dons went down before the San Francisco '49ers, 42-14.

Woodard, first string center for the Hawks last year, intercepted a Frankie Albert pass early in the game and ran 33 yards for the touchdown.

NEW YORK (P) — Outfielder Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees was stricken with influenza yesterday and was ordered to bed by the club physician.

Football Tickets Available Despite Records

Tickets for all University of Iowa home football games are still available despite new records in sale of faculty, spouse, and season tickets, Frank Havlicek, athletic business manager, said yesterday.

"With the exception of the UCLA and Oregon games, the only tickets left are those on the goal line," Havlicek said. "For the UCLA game, 20-yard line tickets on the east side and 10-yard line tickets on the west side are available. Seats on the 30-yard line game may be purchased for the Oregon game."

Married students desiring spouse tickets, good for athletic events, for either husband and wife have two alternatives in securing them. Havlicek also announced. Students may purchase a spouse ticket for $17 including tax which will admit the holder to all dual intercollegiate athletic events throughout the year or they may purchase individual tickets for individual games, Havlicek said. It was announced that for Saturday's UCLA game, the bearer of the spouse ticket must be accompanied by a person with a properly marked ticket for the first game and starting with the Illinois fray, the ID card of the student member must accompany the spouse ticket.

A Couple of Surprises From the Hawkeyes?

LOS ANGELES (P)—There's a lot of UCLA coaching staff doesn't know about the Iowa football team, the Bruins' opponent Saturday at Iowa City.

"But I hear they've got a fine sophomore fullback and two very good ends," commented Coach Red Sanders yesterday as his squad practiced on pass defense.

Sanders' team whipped Oregon State, 35-13, Friday, but he was not satisfied with the Bruins' open field tacking "and we used a kind of sieve system on pass defense."

Sanders said he probably would use the same starters against Iowa but Leo Hershman may go in at the blocking right halfback position.

Phil Rookies Stop Cardinals, 4-3; Cut Margin to 1 1/2 Tilts

ST. LOUIS (P) — Rokies John (Jocko) Thompson and Ed Sanicki, recently recalled from Toronto, combined their talents to lead the third place Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night.

The defeat was a costly one for the Redbirds, as it cut their first place margin to one and a half games over the second place Brooklyn Dodgers, who handed the Chicago Cubs a 4-0 defeat in the afternoon.

Thompson, a 29-year-old left-hander who won 14 and lost five for the Maple Leafs, went all the way despite giving up 11 hits to receive credit for his first major league triumph of the season. He had a three-hit shutout over six innings, but tired in the last three, when the Cards raked him for eight hits and all their runs.

Thompson had enough, however, to retire the dangerous Stan Musial on a grounder to Dick Sisler for the final out of the game with the potential tying and winning runs on the base paths.

Sanicki, a 22-year-old outfielder, who slammed 33 home runs for Toronto, batted in three runs for the victors. He followed a fourth inning single by Del Ennis with a home run smack into the left field seats.

The Phils tallied what proved to be the winning run in the seventh when Mike Goliat, another Toronto alumnus, walked, raced to third on Richie Ashburn's single, and crossed the plate while Red Schoendienst was throwing out Granville Hamner.

Howard Pollet, who was gunning for his 20th triumph, was the victim of the first three Philadelphia runs, and was charged with his ninth setback. He allowed six of the Phils' eight hits in the six innings he worked. Alpha Brazle worked the seventh and Gerry Staley the eighth and ninth.

Kiner Smashes 50th Homer but Pirates Bow to Giants, 6-4

PITTSBURGH (P)—Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh left fielder, smashed his 50th home run of the year last night to establish National league record but the New York Giants nipped the Pirates 6-4, as Dave Williams homered in the first of the 10th with one on.

Kiner, who got his circuit clout in the second inning, became the first player in the National league twice to hit 50 or more homers in a season.

Williams' homer came off relief Pitcher Harry Gumbert, the fourth Buc hurler. Starter Jim Walsh suffered an injured hand and had to leave the game in the fifth when hit by a line drive off bat.

The only other National league players to hit 50 or more in one season were the late Willson, of the Chicago Cubs, who set the circuit record of 56 in 1930, and Johnny Mize, of the New York Giants, who tied Kiner for the home run championship in 1947 when each had 51.

In the American league, the late Babe Ruth, of the New York Yanks, had 50 or more in four seasons. He hit 54 in 1920 and 59 in 1921, set the major league record of 60 in 1927 and got 54 in 1928. Jimmy Foxx, of the Philadelphia Athletics, hit 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenburg, of the Detroit Tigers, also had 58 in 1938.

Macks Tally in 8th To Dip Browns, 7-4

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The Philadelphia Athletics pushed across three runs in the eighth inning to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 7-4, last night. Dick Fowler went the route to register his 14th pitching victory.

Fowler hurled two-hit ball over the last five innings for his first victory of the year over the Browns. Homers accounted for all of St. Louis' runs. Roy Sievers collected his 14th in the second and Dick Kokos connected with his 23rd, with two mates aboard in the fourth.

Both Fowler and Al Papp were generous with bases on balls. Papp handed out 10 walks and Fowler issued eight free tickets.

Isbell Resigns as Baltimore Coach

BALTIMORE, MD. (P) — Cecil Isbell, former Purdue and Green Bay Packers backfield star, resigned yesterday as coach of the Baltimore Colts in the All-America football conference "for the good of the club."

R.C. Embry, vice chairman of the Colts' board of directors, announced that Walter Driskill, president and general manager of the Baltimore club, would take over the head coaching job for the remainder of the season.

Winslow to Captain Hawkeyes In Grid Opener Against UCLA

Don Winslow, 220 pound veteran tackle from Iowa City, was selected yesterday to captain Iowa's grid forces in their season's inaugural Saturday against UCLA.

The Hawkeyes, who spent yesterday afternoon perfecting signal drills in Iowa stadium, will face an unexpectedly formidable foe in UCLA. The Bruins decisively rapped Oregon State, 35-13, Friday night to avenge a 28-0 setback suffered in 1948 and displayed a powerful ground gaining attack.

Mauri Kent, who scouted the UCLA-Oregon State game, reported that the Bruins "looked fast and smart, with plenty of power and good experienced personnel. Their running attack worked for 327 yards so they attempted only six passes, completing half."

Harry Sanders, in his first season in charge of the Bruins' football fortunes, has installed a foot wing and a balanced line attack which his charges have apparently mastered, Kent told Iowa Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson.

Kent said he was impressed with the fleetness of Ernie Johnson and Howard Hansen and the spinning of Fullback Cliff Schroeder in the UCLA backfield.

Anderson has indicated intensive emphasis on defense this week for the SUI gridders in an effort to thwart the offensive potency exhibited by the Bruins against Oregon State.

A 'scout' team, drilled by Kent in UCLA formations, will sample the effectiveness of the Hawks' defense against Bruin plays, Anderson revealed.

The Los Angeles invaders are slated to arrive by plane in Cedar Rapids Friday noon and will motor to Iowa stadium Saturday about noon.

Anderson reported that the twice-daily practice sessions, in effect since the outset of preparations for the season's opener, will conclude no later than tomorrow preparatory to the resumption of classes Thursday.

Bill Reichardt, fullback candidate, is one of several players responding satisfactorily to treatment for injuries suffered in practice drills, Anderson said.

Football Briefs
COLUMBUS (P) — Coach Wes Fesler sent his Ohio State football team through a two-hour practice session yesterday and then promptly scheduled a scrimmage for tomorrow — four days before Saturday's opener with Missouri.

Ordinarily the Bucks would skip contact work in the final week before the opener. But Fesler was unhappy about the Buckeyes' offensive work.

ANN ARBOR (P) — Michigan's end problems appeared alleviated yesterday as the Wolverines closed the final week of drills for the 1949 opener with Michigan State. Coach Ben Oosterbaan seemed set on the offensive combination of Harry Allis, the Flint, Mich. junior, and Irv Wisniewski, lanky veteran from Lambertville, Mich. Dr. Eddie Anderson.

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — The Minnesota secondary is going to be a line of football specialists in defense, Coach Bernie Bierman indicated yesterday as almost the entire practice session was devoted to the No. 2 squad.

With Keith Stolen of Duluth in the pivot spot, Bierman ran the defenders through two hours of scrimmage against University of Washington players.

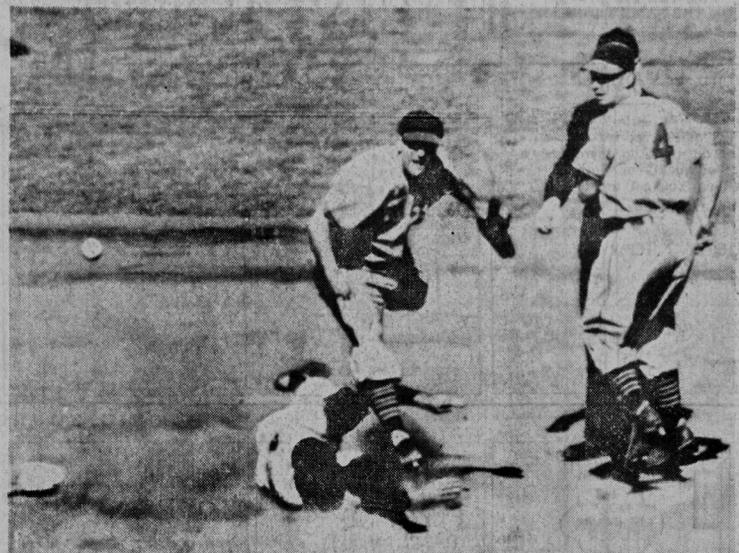

CHAMPAIGN (P) — Center Bill Vohlaska, End Tony Klimek and Fullback Bob Rylowicz yesterday returned to the Illinois football squad after being injured. They will give the Illini nearly full strength for the Iowa State game Saturday.

SOUTH BEND (P) — Frank Johnson, left guard, and Red Sitko, leading ground gainer, may be unable to see action for Notre Dame against Indiana Saturday.

Johnson has a torn knee ligament that has been slow responding to treatment. Sitko injured his knee in a tackling drill last week and has not participated in any workouts since.

He threw to Mickey Vernon at first to nip Ed Lopat, who grounded into the play. The play took place in Yankee stadium yesterday as the Yankees downed the tribe. Joe Gordon, second baseman of the Indians started the fielding play. The umpire is Bill McKinley. The Yanks won, 6-0.

Prof. Ross SUI Faculty Golf Tourney Champ

Russel M. Ross, assistant professor of political science, captured top honors in the all university faculty half tourney on Finkbine field Saturday afternoon with an 18 hole total of 76. Ross also won the long driving contest held in conjunction with the tourney which attracted 40 faculty participants.

Leo Sweeney merited second place in the meet and Dr. Erling Thoen posted a victory in the blind bogey competition.

"Bucky" O'Connor, SUI golf coach, expressed the hope that this faculty tournament will develop into an annual affair.

Other tournament leaders were: Dr. Stanipfili; Joe Runner; Dr. Funk; Dr. Snayder; Bob Graham; Dr. Grievie; L.W. Hills; Harold Saunders; Dr. Norton; Dr. Boulware; Jim Ludke and Clifford Rasley.

MILLER QUALIFIES

ST. LOUIS (P) — Clancy Miller, veteran golfer who "never won anything," set the pace in the qualifying round of the Western amateur golf tournament here yesterday with an even par 36-35-71.

BRUINS WIN, 9-5
PUEBLO, COLO. (P) — Elvin (Stubby) Stablefeld, Des Moines' ace righthander, maintained his season-long mastery over the Pueblo bats last night as he pitched the Bruins to a 9-5 victory in the Western league final playoffs.

Robinson's NL Bat Lead Slim

Slaughter Closing in On Brooklyn Standout

(By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) Jackie Robinson's lead in the National league batting race, which once measured some 35 points now has melted to three points over runner-up Enos Slaughter of the St. Louis Cardinals.

With the Dodgers and Cards engaged in a rough-and-tumble pennant scrap, Slaughter continues to hack away at the mark of the Brooklyn Second Baseman who has set the pace for months.

Averages including Sunday's games showed Robinson hitting .344 to .341 for Slaughter. Stan Musial of St. Louis, third in the race, trails Robinson by 12 points at .332.

Robinson collected five hits in 19 trips during the first five games of the Dodgers western trip, losing three points from his .347 of a week ago.

With eight hits in 20 at bats at Sportsman's park, Slaughter boosted his average two more points to continue his steady gain.

Kiner, hot on the trail of Babe Ruth's all-time homer record, hit three more during the week to make his total 49. He also gained ground on Robinson in the runs batted in race. Robinson still leads with 120 but Kiner has 118 RBIs.

Ted Wilks, St. Louis' chunky relief ace, still tops the pitchers with his 11-3 record. Ralph Branca and Preacher Roe of the Dodgers share second honors with identical 13-5 season marks.

In the American league Ted Williams of Boston, who led in five batting specialties a week ago, took over a sixth — most runs batted in — last week.

The Red Sox star belted in nine runs during the week to raise his total to 153. He took the honors from his teammate Vera Stephens.

Through games of Sunday, Sept. 18, Williams was the top batter with a .351 percentage; had scored the most runs, 143; made the most hits, 188; and the most doubles, 39, and homers, 40. Dale Mitchell of Cleveland had the most triples, 23.

George Kell of Detroit ranked second with 341; Bob Dillinger of St. Louis was third with 316; Dom Dimaggio of Boston fourth with 313; Mitchell fifth with 312; Cass Michaels of Chicago sixth with 307; Johnny Pesky of Boston seventh with 306 and Bobby Doerr of Boston eighth with 301.

Leadership in the pitching division went to Boston's Ellis Kindler.

Slow Motion—Badgers Win 1896 Grid Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Western conference historians have got around to awarding a football championship to Wisconsin—the one in 1896.

The Badgers won two games, lost none and tied one in that inaugural conference season. Chicago, under Amos Alonzo Stagg, won three and lost two against conference teams that season.

In later years, a linotype operator was setting the official standings and listed Chicago as the conference title holder for 1896. The listing stood until modern-day researchers defended Wisconsin's position that the Badgers not only whipped Minnesota and tied Northwestern that year but also soundly defeated Chicago, 24-0.

Chicago graciously conceded the title and Wisconsin accepted.

Spahn Wins 19th By Beating Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tight pitching by Warren Spahn and a 12-hit attack on three Cincinnati pitchers gave the Boston Braves a 6-2 victory over the Reds here yesterday in a contest that attracted only 1,144 fans.

It was Spahn's 19th pitching triumph as against 13 setbacks. Ken Raffensberger, the loser, now has won 16 and lost 16.

Nursing a 3-2 lead going into the ninth the Braves hopped on relievers Kent Peterson and Ewell Blackwell for three runs on four hits which included a two-run triple by Eddie Stanky.

Pep Heavy Favorite To Retain Crown; No Radio, Television

WATERBURY, CONN. (AP) — Hardly any among early arrivals for tonight's featherweight title expects Eddie Compo of New Haven to dethrone Willie Pep of Hartford, the champ.

But a surprisingly large number, including those close to wily Willie, look for plenty of action.

Although Pep, who becomes 27 on fight day, is a 1 to 4 favorite over the challenger, the 21-year-old Compo and his handlers ooze confidence.

The fight is slated for 8 p.m. (Iowa time). There is to be no radio broadcast or television.

Neither Pep nor Compo expected any difficulty coming in at 125 or under. Pep, reported in top shape for the first defense of his crown since he recaptured it from Sandy Saddler in February, said he expected a tough fight, but that he'd win.

Compo told newsmen that he planned to wear down the champion. "Pep will look good against me in the early rounds, but I'll be faster later on. I'm in the best shape of my life."

Compo, who has suffered one defeat in 62 starts, is an aggressive little boxer, but is not a stiff hitter. He relies on his speed and ring skill.

The champ, showing signs of wear and tear after a 145-pound career during which he has won 142 times, drawn once and lost twice, nevertheless, is rated as packing too much ring savvy for Compo.

THREAT REVEALED

CHICAGO (AP) — Fight Manager Howard Frazer told the Illinois Boxing commission yesterday that he had to pay large sums of money to gamblers after a 1947 fight to save the life of his fighter, Johnny Bratton, and himself. "If I hadn't have given that money out," Frazer said, "He'd have been dead before he left the arena."

Disaster Ship Death Count Rises to 120

TORONTO (AP) — The known death toll in the Noronic ship disaster rose to 120 yesterday as sorrowing relatives sorted through a pitiful pile of belongings in the almost hopeless task of identifying victims.

Only 45 of the victims have been officially identified and disaster workers feared that some of the charred bodies might never be identified. Officials doubted if the death toll would rise much higher.

Identification of most of the remains will rest on X-rays, and such fragmentary clues as melted jewelry, a signed shaving brush, a child's blue felt hat, a half-burned comb and a melted blue raincoat.

Of the total of 685 persons connected with the Noronic, 235 passengers and the 170 crew members have been accounted for. Officials believe the 160 "missing" passengers, shocked by the horror of the flash fire which snuffed out 120 lives in 15 minutes, returned home without reporting they were safe. All but 20 of the passengers were Americans.

In Ottawa, Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier indicated the disastrous shipboard fire was not due to negligence by its owners, the Canada Steamship Lines. He told parliament in a preliminary report on the disaster that the firm had complied with Canadian fire and accident provisions.

The department planned a formal government investigation, open to the public, later this week.

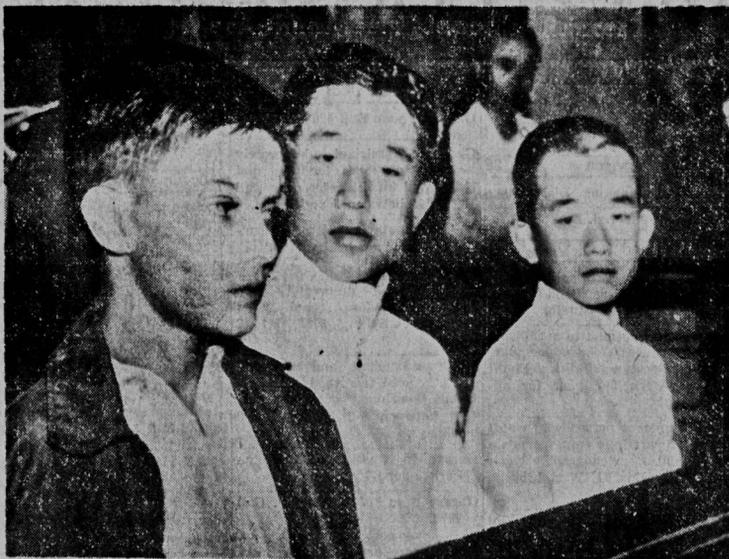

Woolworth Heiress Returns for Health

NEW YORK (AP) — Barbara Hutson, thin, pale and wearing "last year's clothes," came home yesterday to try to regain her health. The Woolworth heiress, now Princess Troubetzkoy, arrived on the Queen Elizabeth after three years abroad. She revealed that she was here solely for extensive medical checkups.

"I'm feeling very badly," she said in a low, strained voice. "I'm suffering from some odd complaint. Nobody knows what it is." "I hope you'll refute the myth that keeps following me," she told reporters. "The myth that this trouble is from dieting. I haven't dieted since I was 20 and I'm 36 now as you all know."

She said she had undergone four operations, "mostly intestinal," during the past four years and that her weight was down to about 92 pounds because of her illness. "I normally weighed 100 pounds—that was when I was playing tennis," she said.

Hearing on Murder Rests After 4 Days

MARSHALLTOWN (AP) — Both sides rested yesterday afternoon in the murder case against Alvin Junior Brown, 20, of Tulsa, Okla. He is charged with slaying William J. Muldoon, 35, Mason City, last June 6.

Yesterday was the fourth day of a hearing to determine the degree of Brown's guilt. He recently entered a surprise plea of guilty. Brown was hitchhiking and Muldoon had given him a ride. District Judge E.O. Tankersley is expected to rule, when the hearing is resumed this morning, on two defense motions. Final arguments will follow.

One of the defense motions attacked the county attorney's information filed against Brown and contends that under its first degree murder cannot be considered by the court.

The other claims the evidence has not shown any indication of either first or second degree murder.

Brown testified earlier yesterday that he shot Muldoon because Muldoon "threatened to turn me over to the law." He contended he shot Muldoon accidentally and unintentionally.

Salesman Pleads Guilty of Extortion

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — A Le Mars turkey raiser and feed salesman pleaded guilty yesterday to extorting $400 from a woman there. He was sentenced to two years in a federal prison.

Hubert M. (Bert) Rollinger, 56, made no mention during the brief court proceedings to his previous story that he bilked the woman, Mrs. Clara Mieras, 60, of $18,000 in a "phony diamond deal."

Rollinger, who previously served a prison term, was charged with use of interstate telephone service in calling Mrs. Mieras from Las Vegas, Nev., last Jan. 18 and talking her into wiring him the $400.

Jury Selected in Case Against Rath Employee

WATERLOO (AP) — A jury of eight women and four men was selected yesterday for the conspiracy trial of Russell Edsill, 40, Rath packing company employee.

The charge is in connection with rioting at the plant during a 1948 strike in which one man was killed. Edsill was indicted with 10 others.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

If there is one joke about old age and the infirmities thereof that Al Jolson, George Jessel, and Eddie Cantor haven't pulled on one another in their many radio programs and banquet speeches, it is not the fault of their industrious gag writers and researchers. The "latest" has Mrs. Cantor surveying Jolson's huge collection of medicine bottles without labels. "How can he tell which one he's supposed to use?" she asks Cantor. "What's the difference?" he answers. "No matter what they're for, Jolson's got it."

Russell Crouse, co-author of Life with Mother, decided to catch the Wednesday matinee of a two-day-old play that had been accorded murderous notices by the critics. Anxious to avoid giving the impression that he was coming to gloat over the corpse, Crouse sidled unobtrusively to the box-office and said, "I'd like a seat in the last row of the orchestra." The treasurer looked surprised, but handed him a ticket. "This is in Row D," protested Crouse. "I asked for the last row." "Mister," said the treasurer, "at this performance Row D is the last row."
