Uses Carrot for Color —

Floral Decorator Recommends Simple Arrays

You don't need a lot of exotic or expensive flowers for an attractive floral arrangement, according to Mrs. F.B. Eversole, floral decorator.

The Davenport woman conducted her fourth and last class on flower arranging Saturday before the garden department of the Iowa City Woman's club.

Mrs. Eversole, whose most recent instruction concerned dried and dry arrangements, said setting is the most important point to consider when working out a picturesque floral arrangement.

Lighting, color of the walls and space should, be noted when planning the array, Mrs. Eversole said.

Well-known in gardening circles throughout Iowa, the floral decorator first became interested in floral displays after seeing a "bushel basket" of flora in a single arrangement at an Iowa State fair in Des Moines. She decided to prove that stripping gardens wasn't necessary for effective arrangements.

That's the theory Mrs. Eversole puts into practice today in her displays. The simplest of colorful plants—even weeds in the fields—can be arranged effectively, she said.

As an example, Mrs. Eversole arranged ordinary Iowa cornstalks and tassels into a modernistic display for the Woman's Club audience. She usually works with one, three or five different types of plants.

Fruits, vegetables, autumn flowers, weeds, gourds and even nuts figured in the displays members were arranging at the school. After their arrays were completed, Mrs. Eversole gave criticism and hints to the club members.

One point to remember when arranging displays is the task of moving the plant in the home, Mrs. Eversole emphasized. "The plant is for decoration. Don't try to grow it naturally inside," she warned.

An array should add to the beauty of a home, she continued. "Any materials may be arranged together, providing the textures and colors blend."

To illustrate this, Mrs. Eversole picked up a common carrot and placed it as background for various of the autumnal floral offerings members had brought to the school. The tops of the carrot accentuated the colorful hues.

Mrs. Eversole's idea is that the beauty of flowers shouldn't be a static thing as the Japanese believe; rather it should be enjoyed today, a Chinese philosophy.

DEMONSTRATING THE DO'S and DON'TS of dry and dried arrangements for floral displays is Mrs. F. B. Eversole, (left), Davenport floral arranger. Mrs. Eversole discussed the subject for members of the garden division of the Iowa City Woman's Club Saturday. Mrs. G.E. Grunewald, (center), program chairman, and Mrs. Ray E. Carson, garden division chairman, point out some of the flora used in obtaining pleasing displays. These include dried cornstalks, corn tassels, bitternweet, chinese lanterns, chrysanthemums, cabbage, gourds and squash.

Speech Professor Co-Author of Book

Prof. A. Craig Baird, SUI speech department, is co-author of a new book, "General Speech," published by the McGraw-Hill Book company of New York.

Prof. Franklin Krower, Ohio State university speech department and former SUI speech instructor, and Baird collaborated in writing the book.

The book deals with self-realization of each student, desirable home and community relationships, economic efficiency and adjustment of civic and political responsibility, Baird said.

Based on the authors' concept of speech as social adaptation, "General Speech," emphasizes speech fundamentals rather than public speaking.

Special Reading Classes to Start Monday

Special classes for students interested in improving their reading ability are scheduled to begin next Monday, Prof. James B. Stroud of the department of psychology and the college of education announced Monday.

Classes will continue four days each week for the next four weeks and are offered at 3:30 and 7 p.m. in room 6, Schaeffer hall. Students who desire to enroll must register at the Office of Student Affairs before Saturday, Stroud added.

The course is open to all students except freshmen, who may enroll in a similar course offered by the communication skills department. Enrollment is voluntary with a limit of 45 in each class. No credit is given for the course, Stroud said. Instruction will be given to improve both reading speed and comprehension.

SUI Receives Grants, Gifts Worth $3,625

Gifts and grants to SUI totaling $3,625 have been accepted by the state board of education's finance committee Pres. Virgil Hancher announced Monday.

The largest grant of $3,000 from the Ciba Pharmaceutical Products company of Summit, N.J., is a renewal grant for research in the field of endocrinology under the direction of Prof. W.O. Nelson of the SUI department of anatomy.

Second largest grant of $600, which is to be used to set up a memorial prize in the school of nursing, was from friends of Lillian Plass.

The nursing prize will be awarded by a faculty committee to an outstanding student on the basis of scholarship, performance in practice of nursing and personal qualifications.

A $100 prize will be awarded each year and will serve to perpetuate the ideals of Mrs. Plass. She was the wife of Dr. Everett Plass, head of obstetrics and gynecology in the college of medicine.

A gift of $25 was received from Mrs. Mildred Cantrell of Iowa City in memory of her husband, Dr. C.M. Cantrell. It will be used for research in cardio-vascular diseases.

Polio List Declines; One Death Reported

Active polio cases at University hospitals Monday fell to six as one death was reported and five patients were transferred to inactive wards.

The polio fatality was Pamela Fahrman, 10, Latimer, who died Saturday at 3:12 p.m.

Paul Tieskotter, 30, Castalia, was the only patient admitted to the active list Monday. He was in "fair" condition, hospital officials said.

Those transferred to inactive wards were Robert White, 5, Nashua; Gayle Bell, 31, Ft. Dodge; Kenneth Knapp, 25, Hampton; Larry Froning, 3, Hampton, and Lowell Forbes, 6, Lone Tree.

Young Republicans To Hear Martin

Rep. Thomas Martin (R-Iowa) will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday at a meeting of the SUI Young Republicans league in room 221A Schaeffer hall, Publicity Director Stan Tripp, A4, Spencer, said Monday.

Martin's speech will be open to the public, Tripp added.

The group will hold a business meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday in the same room to discuss plans for the Big Ten YRL conference at Ann Arbor, Mich. Dec. 2 and 3.

Membership cards will be issued and announcements will be made by the resolutions committee, Tripp said.

Schoenbaum to Talk To CR Spastic Club

W.B. Schoenbaum, director of the hospital school for severely handicapped children, will address the Spastic Club of Cedar Rapids at 7:30 p.m. today on "The Future of the Cerebral Palsied Child."

After his speech he will show movies on cerebral palsy. The meeting will be held at the Memorial coliseum in Cedar Rapids.

The Spastic club of Cedar Rapids is a division of the Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Settlers Crowded —

That's a Lot of Bunk

— In Tavern Bed
By BOB HENNESSY

So you think there is a housing shortage now?

Did you every try sleeping 56 in a bed?

Well, you probably won't have to, but Iowa Citizens about a century ago were doing just that when an influx of settlers made the housing situation desperate.

The story of this fabulous bed is told in a history of Johnson county, written as a WPA writer's project.

The bed was 50 feet wide, but really nothing fancy. The "mattress" was a thickness of brush covered with a foot of "prairie down" (slough hay).

Sleep was cheap in those days. Your share of the bed would have cost you only 25 cents then, with a rebate if a larger sleeper crowded you out of bed.

It all started back in 1839 when a log cabin, built near the present site of the Iowa City post office, was enlarged and converted into a tavern to take care of the rapidly increasing population.

The addition was a log shed 50 feet long, 10 feet wide, with a sloping roof from six to eight feet high. Along the full length of the low side of the building ran a continuous bed where 56 average sized men could, and often did, sleep.

But often these early settlers in Iowa City were no ordinary men, and only 36 or 40 men could squeeze into the bed.

The rest of the sleepers — for the tavern was always crowded — had to sit on the floor or on benches and lean back against the wall.

Their slumbers were understandably more fitful than those in the giant bed, and those unlucky men were probably glad to hear the old ox bell ring to summon the sleepers to breakfast next morning.

This custom of sleeping leaning back against the wall eventually led to the tavern being semi-officially christened "Lean Back" hall.

The main cabin of the tavern was divided into a grocery store, a restaurant and a bar. The bar became famous for a drink concocted of spring water, loaf sugar and whiskey, which sold for five cents and was said to "ward off diseases and prolong life indefinitely."

Lean Back hall became one

Old Benton Bridge Span Severed by Workmen

Workmen Monday began tearing apart the west span of the old Benton street bridge after blasting it down to the river level with dynamite.

The huge steel sections are severed with a flame steel-cutting tool that burns hydrogen and oxygen, workmen said. A dragline is used to move the steel away for salvage.

E.V. Jensen company workers last week finished demolition work on the east span of the 2-year-old structure. The Des Moines company last July completed the new bridge which connects East and West Benton streets.

Local Chest Drive Reaches 70 Percent Of $26,045.74 Goal

Total contributions to the Iowa City community chest reached $18,671.95 Monday or about 70 percent of the $26,045.74 goal, General Chairman Graham C. Marshall said.

The residential division of the fund raising campaign went over its quota Monday, he said, and was a contributing factor to the substantial weekend increase.

But many solicitors still have not turned in their collections to chest headquarters in the City hall, he said. This is especially true of solicitors in the business and professional division where total contributions of $7,098.40 were only 62 percent of the division quota.

More contributions from the University hospitals division pushed them to 108 percent of their goal of $1,562.74. This division was the first to surpass the assigned quota.

A few contributions still were coming in Monday from the SUI administrative and instructive division which then had collected 79 percent of its quota of $4,165.18.

Iowa City grade and high schools had reached 51 percent of their goal of $781.37. National firms represented in Iowa City had contributed $2,736, or 80 percent of their quota.

Marshall said the active part of the drive was closed but that the offices would be open until the end of the month to process and file collections brought in by solicitors. He said he thought most of these outstanding contributions would be in this week.

Union board member Don Guthrie said complete calendars of events at the Iowa Union are included in the folders being distributed by Union board members today and Wednesday in front of Old Capitol or, in case of rain, inside Schaeffer hall and at the Union main desk.

Housing units including social and professional fraternities, sororities, women's and men's dormitories, cooperatives and married students housing units received folders Monday.

Besides concerts, dances and lectures, the brochures picture the Union's routine activities such as those in the game room, library and soda fountain.

The idea for the folders has been worked on for over a year since Union Director Earl Harper and Frank Burge, assistant director, returned from Union conventions with similar folders from other colleges.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

LEON SHIMKIN, one of the reasons why the publishing house of Simon and Schuster is so sensationally successful, fell subject to a rare spell of depression one rainy evening. In an effort to shake it off, he picked up the advance proofs of Dale Carnegie's How to Stop Worrying and Start Living and opened to a page at random.

The very first sentence that struck his eyes was, "Whenever I feel blue and out-of-sorts, I know that just a few words with Leon Shimkin will cheer me up immediately."

Lee Tracy, famous star of The Front Page, and more recently of The Traitor, told Ward Morehouse, "My favorite manager is Jed Harris. What talent! What temperament! And I never let him bother me. If he telephones and says it's terribly important that he see me immediately, and that he'll be waiting at the corner for me in five minutes, I always say 'okay' without an argument, and just don't go. Why should I? He wouldn't be there anyway."

Instructors to Attend Religion Conference

The Rev. Robert J. Welch and Prof. Robert S. Michaelsen, SUI school of religion, will attend a three-day conference on religion in state universities at the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, this week.

The meeting, which begins Thursday, will include about 60 representatives of all faiths from state universities throughout the country, Michaelsen said.

The conference is sponsored by the Hazen foundation, New Haven, Conn., and will be conducted by Prof. Henry Allen of the University of Minnesota.

Delegates will engage in discussions on "Religion in the Curriculum," "Religious Activities" and "Religion and Counseling."

Campus Building Undergoes Repairs

Repair work started Monday on part of the crumbling east wall of the SUI electrical engineering building.

Several bricks are loose just under the gutters on the southeast side of the four-story building. Monday afternoon some bricks appeared several inches out of line and about ready to fall.

A physical plant employe said workmen also would repair some of the gutting while the wood scaffolding is up. He estimated the work would take about two weeks.

British Students to Debate With Hultman, Shuttleworth

William Shuttleworth, G. Cedar Rapids, and Evan Hultman, L.I. Waterloo, will represent SUI in an international debate with Oxford university of Britain, Nov. 28 in MacBride auditorium.

The two SUI debaters will take the negative side of the proposition, "Resolved: that modern society enjoys the greatest benefits under a planned economy." Prof. A. Craig Baird, SUI speech department, said Monday.

The Oxford team is composed of Robin Day and Geoffrey Johnson-Smith. The two men are now in the U.S. visiting 43 colleges and universities. They arrived in the U.S. Oct. 14.

Shuttleworth is a graduate student in speech. He is a member of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary speech fraternity, an inter-

A persistent spark caused firemen to be called out twice on the same fire early Monday morning.

The fires occurred at 12:20 and 2:40 a.m. in an auto belonging to D.O. Smith, Iowa City. The auto was parked at Benton street and Maiden Lane.

The fire, started by a cigarette, was apparently extinguished but a hidden spark began smoldering a second time, firemen said. Slight damage was caused to the upholstery in the front seat, they added.

Two Rooms Added To Chem Building

Two new rooms, one a laboratory for work in radiation chemistry, are nearing completion in the chemistry building, Prof. George Glocker, head of the chemistry department, said Monday.

The new rooms, to be numbered 307 and 309, are in the southeast part of the building's third floor.

Room 309, the radiation chemistry laboratory, will accommodate about 20 students, Glocker said.

The other room will be a classroom for seminars, faculty meetings, graduate tests and conferences.

Both rooms are lighted by fluorescent lights. Diffused light is admitted from the halls by translucent glass paneling near the ceiling.

Two green plaid blankets were taken Saturday night from a car parked near St. Mary's church, police said. The theft was reported at 8:53 a.m. Monday by their owner, Ira Montgomery, 11 E. Prentiss street, police said.

Dean Seashore Honored at Memorial Service

Sunday's public memorial service for the late Dean-Emeritus Carl Seashore was described by Union Director Earl E. Harper as "one of the most moving and interesting memorial services I have ever seen."

The main lounge of the Iowa Union was filled to capacity when the University symphony orchestra, under the direction of Prof. P.G. Clapp, opened the program with the slow movement from Tschaiakowsky's "Fifth Symphony."

The speakers' platform was banked with many dozens of red roses—Dean Seashore's favorite flower, Harper said.

Pres. Virgil Hancher spoke of the dean's relationship to SUI. Prof. Walter Miles of Yale university discussed Dean Seashore as a teacher and scholar and Prof. G.W. Stewart of the physics department spoke on the dean as a man.

Prof. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, presided over the service with the Rev. John Craig, pastor of the First Congregational church, acting as chaplain.

The program closed with an extract from Richard Strauss'

"Death and Transfiguration" played by the university symphony orchestra. In spite of the Seashore family's request for no flowers, friends had sent many bouquets of mums and iris, which were taken to University hospitals after the service, Harper said.

A portrait of Dean Seashore, painted in 1927 by Mrs. Mildred W. Pelzer and presented to the dean by his students, was given to SUI Monday by the Seashore family. Harper said the painting will be hung in the front lobby of the Iowa Union for several weeks, before taking its place among portraits of famous SUI men to be exhibited from time to time.

Quakers Make Plea For Program Support

A plea for aid in supporting their international programs was made by the Quakers at the American Friends Service committee conference meeting Saturday in West Branch.

About 250 Quakers attended the regional meeting of the AFS committee, an organization which supports relief activities, understanding among nations and education for peace.

George Willoughby, regional executive secretary, Des Moines, pointed out at a discussion that more financial support is needed this year to carry out the Quaker-sponsored activities.

Quaker youth work includes exchange of college students, seminars with foreign students and conferences on world affairs.

Hawkeyes Prepare For Home Final

Faske's Black-Eye Only Iowa Injury

The Iowa Hawkeyes went through a light exercise session Monday and later watched a movie of Saturday's game as they prepared to meet Oregon on Saturday.

It will be the 27th Dad's day as the Iowans end their 1949 home season with a second inter-sectional game with a Pacific coast rival, UCLA won the first a month ago.

Co-captains of the Iowa team for the Oregon game will be Dick Laster, Des Moines center, Davenport, defensive halfback.

For the first time this season the Hawkeyes got through a ball game Saturday without injury. In previous contests injuries had slowed Iowa's line.

The only physical evidence of the game for the Hawks was a black eye carried by Jerry Faske, who led the ball carriers in the victory with 183 yards in 20 tries.

Faske said he couldn't remember when he received the black eye.

Dr. Eddie Anderson, Hawk coach was mighty pleased with his team's performance in beating Northwestern, 28-21, but said there was little time for celebration.

"Oregon is tough and they will be ready to rebound after that defeat by Southern California," Anderson said. "We are in a rather hard position right after Northwestern and just before Minnesota and will have to be ready for an opponent just as rugged as a Big Ten team."

Maury Kent, who scouted Oregon at USC Saturday, tabbed the Ducks as "powerful but the victims of a vicious Southern Cal. comeback in the second half."

"Oregon muffed several scoring chances in the first half on fumbles, but they did score two field goals," Kent said. "They had an active backfield but Southern Cal. changed its defense in the second half and halted the fast backs."

"The line is strong and Oregon has enough good players so that only three men play both offense and defense."

"Oregon misses Norm Van Brocklin. Quarterback Earl Stelle is a good passer but had trouble with interceptions in the second half."

The Ducks may possess the best running backfield in the Pacific Coast conference with Bob Sanders, George Bell, Woodley Lewis and John McKay, each of whom has averaged between 5 and 7 yards per carry.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE THE SUI FOOTBALL TEAM in action at home arrives next Saturday when the Hawkeyes meet Oregon, 1949 co-champion of the Pacific Coast conference. Bob McKenzie, top pass-catcher in the Big Ten, will be a target for the throws, Earl Banks is the senior guard, and Chuck Denning is a star sophomore line-backer and punter. Oregon's pass-catchers are led by Darrell Robinson, Earl Stelle, quarterback, engineers the attack. Woodley Lewis is a speedy back who has a 102-yard touchdown to his credit.

Sanders, Bell and Lewis will be in the starting backfield, running T formation plays called by Stelle. Stelle has completed more than 50 percent of his forward passes for over 500 yards.

Our Defense Main Fault In Loss to Iowa: Voigts

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP) — Coach Bob Voigts said Monday Northwestern's biggest fault in losing to Iowa was "our defense."

"We're going to spend the whole week on defense now," he told the players when he showed them films of the contest. The team had no contact work Monday, however.

Only two Wildcats were injured in the game. Halfbacks Ed Tummeliff, who was shaken up, and Dick Alban, who suffered a bruised knee. Both will be ready for Saturday's game at Ohio State.

Banks Absent But Reason Not Known

The United Press reported from Chicago Monday night that the mother of University of Iowa football player Earl Banks said his infant daughter is alive and healthy.

Earlier reports were published here that Banks' small daughter, Wanda, had died last Saturday in Chicago.

Mrs. Odessa Smith, Banks' mother, said that she had talked to her son's wife, Mrs. Dorothy Banks. Mrs. Banks, she said, told her the child was alive.

Reports of the child's death were circulated during Banks' absence from Iowa City. He did not report Monday for the football team's regular workout.

Baseball, Not Grid Career For Davis

WEST POINT (AP) — Lt. Glenn Davis, the "Mr. Outside" of Army's great wartime football teams, said Monday night that if he decided to leave the service when he is eligible for a discharge it probably would be for a baseball career.

"I have talked with several baseball people connected with different teams," he said, declining to identify them.

Davis, backfield coach of the Army Plebe football team and a scout for the varsity, said he was eligible for discharge next June 1.

"I have been offered professional contracts in both baseball and football," he said.

"But, I'm still in the Army and until such time as I am released I can't make any definite statement about my plans."

Hawks Lose Shoaf, Leg Operation Due

Jim Shoaf, 240-pound Iowa tackle who has been sidelined with a leg injury since the opening days of fall practice, will be lost to the Hawks for the remainder of the season.

The senior, and three letter winner, from Grindstone, Pa., said Monday he would not be able to play in any of the remaining games and that he would have an operation on his leg "probably during the Thanksgiving vacation."

"Every time I run or try to play, the leg swells way up," he said. "I'm going to have it operated on so I'll have a chance to play pro football."

Shoaf said his draft rights are held by the New York Bulldogs of the All-American conference, and that he received a letter from them, asking if he would be interested in the professional game.

The 6-foot, 4-inch athlete lettered here in '46, '47 and '48. He graduates from the university in June.

Iowa Faces Oregon For First Meeting In Gridiron History

Iowa and the University of Oregon Ducks, from Eugene, Ore., meet in the Iowa stadium Saturday for the first time in the gridiron history of the two schools.

So far this season Oregon, co-champions of the Pacific Coast conference, have won four and lost two, one of the losses coming at the hands of UCLA. The Californians topped Iowa in the season's opener, 41-25.

The Oregon-UCLA score was 35-27.

Oregon wins have come at the expense of St. Mary's, 24-7, Idaho, 14-0, Washington State, 21-0 and Colorado college, 42-14.

Then Saturday Oregon fell before Southern California, 40-13, after leading the Trojans at half-time, 6-0.

Strangely enough it was UCLA that gave the Ducks, under the direction of Aiken, their first defeat in conference play. That was in 1947 in Oregon's opening league game and they were undefeated in conference play from that time until the Uclans again beat the Webfoots three weeks ago.

After finishing in second place in 1947, the Webfoots went through conference play undefeated last year to wind up with California as co-champions. Undoubtedly disappointed in not being chosen as a Rose Bowl representative, they accepted the Cotton Bowl bid only to go down to a 21-13 defeat from Southern Methodist with Doak Walker and Kyle Rote spelling ruin.

Oregon had 19 returning letter-men to build the nucleus of the 1949 squad. With the loss of all-American Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin and a pair of all-coast ends, among others, Aiken could only summarize Oregon's chances as "pretty good if we get some breaks" before the season started.

Among the Oregon crew figuring to give the Hawks their troubles Saturday is Fullback DeWayne Johnson. Teamed with Dick Patrick and Dick Daugherty at the start of the season, this 212-pound senior leads the best crew of line-backers on the coast.

He is also rated as the best long-distance punter on the squad besides showing better than average talent as a pass receiver.

In Earl Stelle, last year's understudy to Van Brocklin, is a passer of better than average ability as well as possessing capabilities as a dangerous runner.

Darrell Robinson probably will be on the receiving end of most of Stelle's throws, being rated as the team's best pass catcher among the ends.

Gophers Defeated By Lack of Spirit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — If you're still wondering what brought on Michigan's 14-7 upset over Minnesota's football team Saturday, it appeared Monday that the intangible thing called spirit, or will to win, was the moving force.

For that you have the words of athletic officials themselves. Minnesota's head coach, Bernie Bierman, said after the game:

"They (Michigan) were up; we were flat. We had enough opportunities to win four games. Michigan just outgaited and outthusted us."

The Wolverine coach, Bernie Osterbaan, admitted he couldn't put his finger on any one thing, but that "we lacked a spark at Northwestern; against Minnesota we had it."

Several reasons were cited for the difference in spirit. But perhaps the most often mentioned was the fact that Michigan had lost to Army and Northwestern, while Minnesota had defeated Northwestern by two touchdowns and then handed Ohio State a drubbing.

Michigan was smarting under its two defeats and was in the right mood to battle anybody or anything to a standstill.

Bierman, in a broadcast interview, said he "could see Thursday night that we were in for a licking, although I did cheer up and become a bit optimistic Friday night in Jackson." That was after a chalk talk.

Thursday night when he was asked how he felt, his answer was: "Were you ever sentenced to be hung?"

Tulane-Irish 1950 Game to Be Last

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane university will break off football relations with Notre Dame after the 1950 game, the university reported here Monday.

Horace Renegar, director of public relations at Tulane, said, "Schedule consideration precludes continuing the Tulane - Notre Dame football series beyond the present contract of 1950."

Notre Dame will play Tulane in New Orleans on Oct. 14, 1950 as the final game under the existing contract.

Notre Dame handed Tulane a 46-7 defeat this year at South Bend, Ind., to topple Tulane from the unbeaten ranks.

The teams played a four-game series beginning in 1944, with Notre Dame making a clean sweep, scoring 158 points to 12 for Tulane.

As Northwestern Knows —

Faske Proved Coach's 'He Could Be Best'

A stocky blond athlete has shown that he is ready to play football and becoming more so every Saturday. Ask Northwestern.

Jerry Faske, SUF's junior right halfback, is the player who Saturday justified Dr. Eddie Anderson's characterization, "he could be one of the best because he has all the qualifications."

The athlete from Brooklyn, N.Y., a schoolboy all-American, has proved in races he is the fastest back on the squad. He has strong drive, powerful legs, and is hard to tackle.

But except for a few flashes he never was all that he could be as a ball-carrier. It seemed to some that he never could quite "come through."

That was prior to Saturday, when the Hawkeyes upset Northwestern, 28-21.

Faske's contribution to that victory included: 132 yards by rushing in 20 carries, an average just over 9 yards; a 16-yard touchdown run; a running left-handed surprise pass which was gathered in by Bob McKenzie for the Hawks first touchdown; a 48-yard sprint in the final minute which almost developed into an "all the way" dash and some good blocking.

It would take a long search of records to discover when an Iowa back has traveled as far as 183 yards against a conference opponent—or against any opponent.

Faske gives credit to the linemen, and that is as it should be, for the forwards took care of their opponents in unusual style. Faske was quick to get to the holes and clever after emerging into the secondary.

Up to Saturday, Faske had made 93 yards in 15 attempts for the good average of 5.2. He had shown signs of improvement in practice but no one imagined he would cause the coach of Northwestern's Rose Bowl champs to declare, "Faske beat us."

Now the eastern lad has 276 yards in 35 carries for a 7.9 average and a solid first place among Iowa carriers.

His mark for the entire 1949 season was 288 yards on 72 carries. His best previous gaining performance was 89 yards in 15 attempts against Indiana a year ago.

Anderson did not even know until a few days before fall practice opened that Faske would be on the 1949 squad. He had not reported for spring drill and said he was through with football.

He had a change of heart in late summer and asked Anderson if he could return. Coaches invited him back with the understanding that he must be ready to play football.

He showed them Saturday.

Oklahoma Gains on Second Place Cadets

For the first time this season Iowa gained a place in the Associated Press weekly football poll, after downing Northwestern, 28-21. The Hawkeye victory, putting them 22nd in the nation, knocked the Wildcats completely out of the standings.

NEW YORK (AP) — Idle Notre Dame still rules the roost as the Nation's No. 1 football team according to 84 percent of the voters in the fourth weekly Associated Press poll.

Despite an open date in the Irish schedule, 120 of the 143 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the balloting put Notre Dame on top for the third straight week. A week ago they received 146 of 179.

Army, on a 63-6 romp over Columbia, strengthened its runner-up position. The Cadets drew 12 first place votes and a block of seconds and thirds for a point total of 1,218 as compared to Notre Dame's leading 1,387.

Oklahoma, another of the seven major unbeaten, untied clubs in the top 10, moved up a peg to third on a 48-0 rout of Nebraska. Ten experts who apparently noted that the Sooners yielded only a net gain of four yards to Nebraska's ground attack, rated them first. They piled up 1,143 points, only 75 behind Army.

The other first place ballot went to Michigan State which finished in 12th position.

The wave of upsets had a telling effect on the rankings. Minnesota tumbled from third to seventh after dropping from the unbeaten ranks on a 14-7 loss to Michigan.

North Carolina's first setback to Louisiana State, 13-7, dumped the Tar Heels from sixth to 13th. Kentucky, tripped by Southern Methodist, 20-7, fell from seventh to 14th. Pittsburgh's surprising loss to Indiana, 48-14, dropped the Panthers right out of the rankings. Nobody voted for Pitt which was 16th a week ago.

Northwestern suffered the same fate after bowing to Iowa.

California picked up added support on its 21-7 win over Washington and took fourth place with 919 points.

Michigan regained prestige by its victory over Minnesota. The Wolverines fell out of the top 10, for the first time in several years last week but now they're back in sixth position.

Start Practice Drills For Iowa Swimmers

Practice opened Monday for the SUF swimming squad, with Coach David Armbruster directing the Hawkeyes for the 34th season.

The Hawks, second in the 1949 National Collegiate championships, have a nine meet schedule which opens Jan. 14 at Wisconsin.

The team will be without Olympic Champion Wally Ris, sprinter; Dave Brockway, place-winner in the NCAA diving; Dick Maine, backstroke and Ervin Straub and Kenny Marsh, sprinters.

With the three top men lost in the sprints, Armbruster has his biggest rebuilding job there. He will be counting on Bob Busch, Rusty Garst, and Wally Nicholson, a sophomore.

Bowen Stassforth, back as a junior, should bolster the stronger breast stroke division and will be helped by Larry Larimore, Dick Keithier and Sophomore Bud Dahl.

Top divers returning are Jack Wilson, a veteran varsity performer and Jack Wichman. Sophomore Frank Ladue is rated as a top newcomer.

Captain Duane Draves is Iowa's strongest man in the back stroke division. Henry Griesback rates as number two man.

Don Watson, who is the Iowa 440-yard record holder, appears top man in the distance free-style. Paul Huttering and Jim Suth, a sophomore, are possibilities.

Frosh Play Today

City high's frosh - sophomore football team will be shooting for its fourth win of the year when Marengo visits City high stadium this afternoon. Game time is slated for 4 p.m. Coach Bob White's charges have a record of three wins against two losses for the season.

'Face Facts' - Brown To Fascinated Audience

You get nowhere by pretending what has been, hasn't been, or what is, isn't, John Mason Brown, associate editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, told a fascinated audience Monday evening in the first of SUI's lecture series in the Iowa Union this season.

Darting with apparent flippancy from Mae West to communism, Brown anchored his varied comments to a sincere invitation to "face facts."

Condemning emphasis on racism and minority groups as such, the speaker urged common sense. "By all means" read Little Black Sambo to the kids, he said. Reformers may tell you this story intimates negroes are afraid of tigers.

"Well, who wouldn't be afraid of a tiger?" he declared, "except Frank Buck—after he gets home." As one of America's foremost dramatic critics, Brown had much to say about the American stage and Hollywood, making striking comparisons between the latter and foreign films.

"Hollywood promises you in movies things you never have experienced or never will experience," European films says. "See this because it has happened to people and it may happen to you, again."

But Brown sees hope for Hollywood, praising "honest, growing-up" films such as the "Snapepit," "The Last Weekend," and "Home of the Brave."

The Broadway success "Death of a Salesman" was recommended by the speaker in that the author "writes about an everyman," whose enemy is "age."

"He finds himself condemned to live with himself; he discovers what he really is." His tragedy is threefold, Brown explained. "He is seen through by his sons, by his wife and by himself."

Termining the play "high tragedy"—that which imposes a definite pattern on life, Brown indicated a need for such patterns in a day when "life seems so like hit-and-run driving."

The Press-Columnists of Iowa will meet Saturday at SUI to install newly elected officers, Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, school of journalism director, said Monday. The school will be host to the columnists.

The officers to be installed include Robert Burrows Sr., Belle Plaine Union, president; Duane Dewel, Algona Advance, vice-president, and John M. Henry, Des Moines Register and Tribune, secretary.

Airforce Officers To Seek Recruits At SUI Next Week

An airforce officer team will visit SUI Monday through Nov. 4 to interview college men and women interested in careers as officers in the United States airforce, Maj. J.E. Mestemaker said of the Iowa Union.

Mestemaker, here to make advance arrangements, said the visit to SUI is part of a nation-wide program being conducted by the airforce to build up an officer corps composed largely of college graduates.

Students will have the opportunity to learn about the various officer training programs, the requirements and processing procedure.

Those who are qualified may submit applications and be examined by the airforce officer team so they can begin training as soon as they finish college, he said.

Officers in the team will explain these three types of training: aviation cadet pilot training; aviation cadet navigator training and airforce officer candidate school.

To be eligible men and women must be between the ages of 20 and one-half and 26 and one-half, either married or single, citizens, have completed at least two years of college, be in good physical condition and meet high moral and personal qualifications.

In any of the training programs, students who for any reason fail to complete the work, are returned to civilian life, Mestemaker said.

Dean Davis to Address Kiwanis at Noon Today

LAFF-A-DAY

Two Iowa Citizens Fined for OVI; Dismiss Petit Jury

Charles Vermae and Tim Joseph Kelly Jr., both of Iowa City, Monday pleaded guilty in district court to charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Both men were fined $300 and costs of court action and their drivers' licenses were suspended for 60 days. Vermae was allowed 60 days to pay the fine.

After shuffling about 10 criminal cases, District Judge James P. Gaffney dismissed the petit jury until Thursday.

Most of the cases have been pending since a grand jury returned 15 indictments more than three weeks ago. Some cases already have been disposed of by the court.

The first case scheduled to go before the jury Thursday is that of Ralph Guy. He is charged with assault with intent to inflict bodily injury.

Albert Lee Cady and Charles E. McCaughey waived jury trial Monday and will appear before Judge Gaffney today.

Cady and McCaughey are charged with assault with intent to commit great bodily harm in connection with alleged assault July 30 on Raymond Meeker, Iowa City high school student.

Albert C. Slade and George Paul Leeney waived jury trial and will go before Judge Gaffney Wednesday on OVI charges.

An OVI charge against Mrs. Wilma W. Baschnegal was continued until next Monday.

Larceny charges against Richard Smith and Jack Hull will be tried later in court term, Judge Gaffney said.

SUI Men to Attend Inter-Frat Meeting

SUI will send three representatives to the National Inter-Fraternity conference in Washington, D.C., Nov. 24 through 26.

Charles Dodd, A3, Newton, LeRoy Phelps, A3, Downers Grove, Ill., and Graham Marshall, fraternity business service manager, will attend the NIC meeting, Inter-Fraternity Council President Dodd said Monday.

Undergraduate representatives to the conference will discuss current fraternity problems on college campuses.

Dodd is a member of Phi Gamma Delta and Phelps is president of the SUI chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

RFC Loans $10 Million to Kaiser-Frazier

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kaiser-Frazier Corp., Monday obtained a $10-million loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corp., to help finance dealers who handle the firm's automobiles.

It was the second RFC loan granted the company this month, coming close on the heels of a $34-million advance the firm will use to produce a new low-priced car.

Chairman Harley Hise of the RFC disclosed that the company has been required to put up collateral on the loans estimated to be worth more than $78-million.

Security for the larger loan includes a first lien on all physical assets of the company and its various subsidiaries, including land, machinery, building and equipment at the Willow Run, Detroit, plant. These properties alone recently were appraised in excess of $58-million.

Electrical Impulses May Cure Blindness

EVANSTON (AP)—A means of making the blind see, the deaf hear and the paralyzed walk—by sending electrical impulses into the brain or muscles—was seen as a possibility Monday night by a scientist in brain research.

He is Dr. Wendell J. S. Krieg, 43, professor of neurology at Northwestern University's medical school. He told a university meeting he believes that great advances will be made in the next decade in such research on humans.

Under his theory, electrical impulses, duplicating the normal nerve impulses involved in sight and hearing, could be conveyed to the brain by a series of electrodes distributed over the skull.

Since muscles can be made to contract by direct electrical stimulation, "It should be possible to permanent electrodes at motor points and activate the muscles whenever desired," he said in his prepared talk. He added:

"It is only a technological step to devise an appliance to scan the visual field in the same manner as a television scanner and to transmit that which is seen and recorded to the cortex (brain covering) in the same sequence and scanning pattern."

To produce the sensation of hearing, he said, "it would seem possible to carry a series of terminals to the auditory area of the brain whereby separate tones, in different combinations and sequences, could be applied."

He gave no estimate of how soon a practical test could be made of his beliefs. But in an interview, he told a reporter:

"If we had a small, two-story building and $65,000 a year available I feel we could develop at a rate that would produce some practical results in about four years."

So far, he said, no tests have been made nor has equipment been perfected. But Krieg said scientists already have made these demonstrations.

A person who has become blind may again obtain the sensation of light if a point at the back of the brain is stimulated electrically. Electrical stimulation of different areas of the cortex also will cause persons to smell, hear sounds, move limbs, talk and dream.

In any of the training programs, students who for any reason fail to complete the work, are returned to civilian life, Mestemaker said.

Dean Harvey H. Davis of the SUI graduate college will discuss the basic principles of taxation at the noon luncheon meeting of the Iowa City Kiwanis club today at the Jefferson hotel.

Davis is also the executive dean of research and training at SUI and has made several extensive studies of taxation.

Swarms Rush to Alaska Gold

Airplanes, Taxicabs Shuttle Prospectors

Iowa-Born Woman Ambassador

FISHWHEEL, ALASKA (AP) — A frenzied gold rush by grizzled prospectors, gamblers and green-horns swelled Monday toward this mushrooming tent city where peace-size nuggets were found four days ago.

More than 100 claim-stakers have already arrived. Their tents dot the south bank of the fabulous Yukon river for eight miles.

Trappers, storekeepers and college students feverishly sought transportation regardless of cost.

A taxicab load of prostitutes enroute from Anchorage said they planned to set up shop in tents here.

Nearly half a hundred planes are taking part in an impromptu air lift. Arriving and departing aircraft have turned the makeshift landing strip here into a scrambled scene similar to a war time air evacuation.

Seven cabs left Anchorage for Fairbanks Monday carrying gold hunters. One company loaded up two cabs with men and a large amount of gambling paraphernalia including a four-five-six game, dice and a roulette outfit.

Within a few hours cab drivers boosted the price for a one-way 250-mile trip to Fairbanks from $235 to $450. The cabs were hired to take passengers from Anchorage to Fairbanks 150 miles south of here where they hoped to charter planes.

Zero temperatures failed to halt the thickening stream of humanity converging on this windswept tide flat of the Yukon.

The territory's fastest-growing community sprouted up after fisherman Clifton Carroll reported discovery of nuggets the size of peas clinging to the webs of his fish-trap, a wheel contraption operated by the river's flow.

Within a matter of hours, the news had spanned the territory, electrified residents and by Saturday the rush was on.

Thus far no blood has been spilled as often occurred in past gold rushes when the cry of "Gold!" echoed throughout the territory.

As "Ramblin Sam" Gamblin, a veteran of the Sushana strike of 1913, put it:

"They're not jumping each other's diggins like they did in the Klondike rush of '98 and the Sushana strike of '13."

STOP SPENDING MONEY for washables that won't wash!

Do you know there's a simple test you can make right in the store to tell whether a sheet will wash and wear? Do you know how to be sure about towels you buy before you buy?

You'll learn these and many more valuable tips about linens, shirts, dresses and all washables in the new How to Buy and Care for Your Washables booklet now being distributed free by laundries who are members of the American Institute of Laundering. This helpful booklet tells how fading, shrinking, and all the heartbreaking disappointments caused by faulty washability can be easily avoided through careful buying and proper care.

Come in and ask for your copy of these money-saving tips today. And in the meantime, to be sure about every washable you buy before you buy, look for the familiar Certified Washable Seal of the American Institute of Laundering on the label or tag. It means the article has been laundry-tested to give perfect washability and wear.

And for the best of care, always send your washables to the place that knows them best.
