Oregon Stops Commack But Not the Hawks

IOWA'S DON COMMACK IS HALTED after a short gain in the second quarter of the Oregon game Saturday afternoon as Woodley Lewis, Webfoot halfback, comes up from his secondary spot to make the tackle. Shown behind Lewis in the foreground is Oregon Center

Dick Patrick. Other players pictured are unidentified. The Hawkeyes fashioned a thrilling three-touchdown scoring spree in the fourth quarter of the game to edge Oregon, 34-31, before a Dad's day crowd of 37,976.

Hawks Trail 24-6, Then Boom! Longley Runs 94, Reichardt 99

After looking like a beaten ball club for three periods Iowa's Hawkeyes Saturday put on the most devastating display of offensive power ever seen in the Iowa stadium and edged fighting Oregon university, 34-31.

The Hawks caught the enemy with just under six minutes remaining in what was undoubtedly the wildest football game ever seen here, breathed defeat when backed to their own three-yard line, then won the contest by taking advantage of an Oregon fumble.

BILL REICHARDT . . . Goes 99 yards to TD

The Dad's day crowd of 37,976 watched the Hawkeyes rip Oregon to shreds in the final quarter with a 21-point barrage after Co-Captain Bob Longley had raced 94 yards for a touchdown on the last play of the third period.

In pulling the game out of the fire in a contest that was complete with long touchdown runs, one a 99-yard thriller by Fullback Bill Reichardt, and at times ragged football, the Iowa crowd was left spellbound.

Purdue's almost unbelievable upset of Minnesota and Ohio's win over Northwestern lifted the Hawkeyes into a first place tie in the Western conference race. Each team now has won three and lost one in Big Ten competition.

For three periods Iowa played uninspired and listless football, seemed unable or unwilling to play to the limit and appeared to be headed for an upset defeat at the hands of the Pacific Coast conference eleven.

Then the roof raved in on Coach Jim Aiken's outfit. Longley grabbed a spiraling punt on his own nine-yard stripe, evaded a tackler and started on the 94-yard spring that carried him to a new Iowa record.

That was the spark that ignited the explosion. Oregon's lead, 24-13, was still a mighty obstacle, but to a team that had discovered its power, points were meaningless.

Three minutes later the Hawks scored again, after an on-side kickoff by Reichardt had worked to Iowa's favor when Tackle Don Winslow recovered Sam Nevill's fumble.

Reichardt, Jerry Faske and Don Commack powered the pigskin to the Oregon 21. Faske then started around left end, suddenly stopped and let his left-handed pass go. Jack Dittmer, behind the defender, leaped for the throw and grabbed it just inside the end zone line.

Reichardt's extra point try hit a lineman but bounced through the uprights and the lead was cut to 24-20.

With renewed hope the Hawks got over-anxious in their desire for the ball, let the defense lapse for a moment and John McKay, Oregon halfback, skirted right end for 37 yards, to score untouched. On his way he got into trouble once, faked two Iowans out of position and went on unmolested.

Chet Daniels, a sure-footed Webfoot, added the extra point, one of four placements plus a fieldgoal that he contributed to what was entirely too close to an upset for Iowa comfort. The tally made the score 31-20.

Chinese Communists Nab U.S. Consulate Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chinese Communists have seized the American consul general at Mukden and four members of his staff. It was disclosed Saturday. The state department at once ordered intervention with the highest Communist authorities.

Truman Signs Bill For Military Funds; Limits Air Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman overrode congress Saturday on the hotly-debated 58-group airforce issue. He signed a $15,585,863,498 military appropriation — the biggest in peacetime history — but in doing so he ordered the secretary of defense to impound $615-million.

The President's action will hold the airforce to 48 groups instead of the 58 recommended by congress. In a statement accompanying the signing of the bill, the President made no mention of the bitter unification row touched off by the army-navy-airforce squabble over division of the defense dollar.

He said the extra money for the airforce would provide "a major shift" in the defense program and, "if fully utilized" would result in a serious lack of balance in our defense program and would require much heavier expenditures in the future than we now contemplate.

The frozen funds, if spent, would have been a long step toward building a 70-group airforce, which both Presidential and congressional commissions held to be the minimum required for national security. But Mr. Truman, in contemplating only a 48 group airforce this year, said he took into consideration the need for a "relatively high level of military preparedness" under existing world conditions.

Heads of the house and senate appropriations committees did not question the validity of the President's action. Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.), who has led a fight to cut federal costs, praised it.

The freezing of the airforce funds came during a relatively calm interlude in the armed services unification row which already has resulted in the scrapping of the navy's super aircraft carrier, the replacement of Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan by Francis P. Matthews, a name-calling congressional investigation, and finally the dismissal of Adm. Louis E. Denfeld as chief of naval operations.

Yugoslavs Charge Hungarians Fire on Border

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA (AP) — Yugoslavia charged Saturday night that Hungarian troops fired automatic weapons and threw grenades toward Yugoslavia for eight hours Thursday night in a new outbreak of the "little cold war" between Marshal Tito and the communists.

An interior ministry communiqué said Hungarian soldiers and frontier guards laid down a heavy barrage along a front 220 yards wide, but made no attempt to cross the border.

Ex-Klansman Free On Flogging Count

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (AP) — A self-identified ex-klansman Saturday was acquitted of masked flogging.

The jury's verdict freeing Coleman A. (Brownie) Lollar was greeted with loud applause by courtroom spectators.

Lollar, former special sheriff's deputy, was accused by the state of participating with other robed and masked men in the manhandling of Mrs. Hugh McDaniel June 10.

The state said the band broke into Mrs. McDaniel's home and forced her to watch a cross-burning.

Lollar was the first of 18 men to be tried on flogging and related charges. All were indicted after an outbreak of floggings and burnings, mostly in the hill country west of Birmingham.

Two Des Moines Men Killed in Auto Smashup

DES MOINES (AP) — Two men were killed Saturday when a car in which they were riding overturned after crashing into a Chicago and Great Western railroad concrete underpass abutment here.

The men, both salesmen, were identified as Homer E. Hubbert, 46, and Everett L. Gunther, 39, both of Des Moines.

IOWA INDUSTRIAL SHOW

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa's first industrial display — the Mid-century Industrial exposition — will be held on the Iowa State fairgrounds next spring.

Attorneys Plan Appeal of Beckwith Conviction

WATERLOO (AP) — Edward J. (Buddy) Beckwith, convicted of murder Saturday by a district court jury which recommended he be hanged, was advised his attorneys would seek a new trial.

He was convicted of the June 22 mutilation slaying of pretty Mrs. Irma Jean Stahlhut, 22. The nearly nude body of the young mother was found in a walk-in refrigerator of a Morrison, Ia., tavern which she and her husband operated.

The 29-year-old former artilleryman, who showed no emotion when the verdict was read in court Saturday morning, later sat silent in his cell in the county jail.

Advised by his attorneys of a planned appeal, Beckwith only replied: "Thank you."

The jury of eight women and four men returned its verdict at 9:13 Saturday morning. It took the case at 2:26 p.m. Thursday and deliberated through the night.

Unable to reach a verdict by late Friday evening, the jury retired after dinner and returned to its deliberations at 8 o'clock Saturday morning.

A dozen ballots were taken, according to reports. District Judge Shannon B. Charlton set Nov. 14 as the last date for filing motions and Nov. 21 for sentencing and ruling on motions.

Truck-Car Collision Damage Total $1,200

A westbound automobile and an eastbound semi-trailer truck loaded with cattle collided about 6:45 p.m. Saturday on highway 6, 17 miles west of Iowa City, Highway Patrolman J.L. Smith said.

Driver of the car was Jack L. Good, 24, Colfax, who was charged with reckless driving and held on $125 bond in Iowa City jail, Smith said. Good and two young men passengers suffered cuts and bruises.

One Person Killed, 33 Injured When Truck Rams Train

BLUFFTON, IND. (AP) — One man was killed and at least 33 persons were injured when a truck loaded with rock crashed into the fifth car of a westbound Erie passenger train north of here Saturday.

The train, enroute from Jersey City, N.J., to Chicago, stayed on the tracks almost half a mile before the last six cars left the rails, narrowly missing a control tower at the Kingsland crossing.

The diesel engine and first four cars remained on the tracks, however, and the uninjured passengers were loaded into baggage cars and taken to Huntington, where a new train was made up and continued on the journey to Chicago.

The truck driver, Raymond Strahm, 25, Bluffton, was decapitated when his vehicle slammed into a coach car of the train. Authorities said it was impossible even to determine the make of the truck, so badly was it demolished.

One passenger car toppled over on its side but the other five, though listing heavily, remained upright.

Many ambulances from nearby towns sped to the scene, removing the injured to two hospitals and a clinic, but none of those injured was believed seriously hurt.

Mrs. R. D. Woodward, who lives next door to the Kingsland station where the train finally left the rails, said the truck was torn up for nearly half a mile. Only one line was damaged, however, and other trains were able to bypass the wreck on a second track toward their destinations.

Ambulances removed 21 of the injured to the Huntington county hospital and 12 others to a hospital and clinic in Bluffton.

REVOLT TOLL CLIMBS

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA (AP) — Thirty-five additional persons were reported Saturday to have been killed and 200 wounded in Colombia's political disorders. The unofficial toll for the past 36 hours stood at 234 dead.

Union Fight in CIO As Strikes Cripp'e Nation's Economy

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harry Bridges' longshoremen got little comfort from CIO President Philip Murray Saturday in a last minute effort to stave off threatening ouster at the CIO convention.

There seemed little doubt of the CIO president's firm determination to penalize the leftists for rebelling at CIO general policy mainly in U.S. politics and on relations with the Soviet union. Murray accuses the left of harboring pro-Communists and following the line of Communist sympathizers.

AFL longshoremen, meanwhile paralyzed the port of Houston Tex., with a surprise work stoppage. Union leaders said that their men had "gone fishing" and would be back on the job Monday.

Longshoremen from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex., are scheduled to strike Tuesday morning over a wage demand.

Full effects of the big coal and steel strikes were yet to be felt, but already they were applying a slow stranglehold on other industries.

John L. Lewis said Saturday night that the soft coal strike would continue "until the battle over the welfare fund is won" and indicated he may call on the anthracite miners to join in the walkout a second time.

Meanwhile, the million-worker automotive industry was re-aligning itself for one of the biggest shutdowns in its history.

In the steel and coal capital of Pittsburgh, requests for jobless aid are flooding state employment offices at the rate of 10,000 a day, most of them as an indirect result of the strikes. That's the pattern elsewhere.

While President Truman says the strikes do not yet add up to a national emergency, more than a million workers are idled and losses are in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

The Ducks piled up a commanding lead during the first three periods by simply playing far superior football to what the Hawkeyes could muster.

Trick or Treat Highlights Kids' Halloween Fun

By DICK JACKMAN

If you hear a sudden clamor at your door Monday night, don't bother to fix your tie or hurriedly remodel the house in anticipation of unexpected guests.

For when you answer the door you will probably see a masked armada of neighborhood kids out on their annual "trick or treat" Halloween excursion. They will offer you a polite choice of giving up morsels from the pantry or of getting your windows soaped.

Those who know tell us this yearly "crusade for calories" is not something new just dreamed up by a hungry generation. It has been going on for hundreds of years throughout the world.

In his reliable best-seller, Mr. Webster tells us simply that Halloween is the Feast of All-Hallows, All Saints Day. However, it goes deeper than that.

In England Halloween was known as "Nutmacker Night," an eve when the family sat around the fireplace ducking for apples and playing other games — games not quite so common to the modern fireplace.

Superstition has always shrouded Halloween. The people of the old world believed that on this night the witches and spirits stepped out for their yearly convention.

For instance, they believed if you were born on Halloween you had the power to see into the future at all times, an accomplishment which might increase one's popularity around exam time at SUI.

And if you lit a bonfire on Halloween night this was supposed to afford you the chance of seeing who your life partner was to be. If unsatisfied, the gullible offered an easy way out.

Some of these old practices have now given away to plans of wholesale destruction. The protection racket is here to stay.

The trade of a few cookies for clean windows is rather mild. Children of the future may carry atomic grenades around the neighborhood and demand caviar.

Dental X-Ray Course Offered to Assistants

A non-credit refresher course in dental X-ray techniques is again being offered to dental assistants by the SUI college of dentistry.

The course consists of personal instruction and clinical practice in dental X-ray work, under the direction of Dr. D. W. Lovett, department of oral diagnosis and radiology.

Clinical practice will include cases of all types and ages.

The one-week course is limited to one student each week. Beginning dates for the year's course are Nov. 7 and 14, Dec. 5, Jan. 9 and 16, Feb. 13 and 20, March 6 and 13 and April 17.

Lovett said applications should be made by letter to the office of the dean, SUI college of dentistry, and they must be received at least 15 days prior to the scheduled date of the course.

Renovation Planned For Local Armory

Plans will be completed in about two weeks for the renovation and repair of the local national guard armory, Architect Henry Fisk said Saturday.

Contracts for the work will be let only after the state armory board has approved the plans, he added.

The board has authorized the armory to spend between $35,000 and $40,000 on the project.

The local armory was the first in the state to be designated as a cavalry armory in 1937. It also will be the first to be renovated in a new program to remodel the armories to accommodate mechanized units.

Community Chest Total Hits $22,025 Saturday

Contributions to the Iowa City community chest Saturday totaled $22,025.24 or about 80 percent of the $26,045.74 goal. General Chairman Graham C. Marshall said.

Letters had been sent to 92 workers in the business and professional division of the fund drive urging immediate remittance of contributions.

Workers said chest headquarters in the city hall would be open Monday and probably all of next week.

IOWA BONUS BONDS
DES MOINES (I) — State Treasurer John Brink said Saturday at least five banking syndicates, including Halsey Stuart and company, Chicago, will bid for the second bloc of Iowa soldiers' bonus bonds next Wednesday.

Handicapped Children Prepare for Halloween

BUSILY PREPARING FOR A HALLOWEEN PARTY are these youngsters from the school for severely handicapped children. On the table are nut cups, a mask, a jack-o-lantern and other decorations. When asked if the jack-o-lantern was unhappy, one little girl replied, "Yes, but he's smart!"

Mechanical Engineers Name Chapter Advisor

Prof. J. M. Russ, SUI mechanical drawing department, is the new advisor for the Omicron (SUI) chapter of Pi Tau Sigma, national mechanical engineering honorary society.

Russ' election to the post, according to Chapter Historian James Better, E4, Winslow, Ariz., fills the vacancy created when Prof. Huber O. Croft, former advisor, became dean of the college of engineering at the University of Missouri this fall.

Russ came to SUI in 1935. He received his college engineering education at Ohio State university.

Clinton Trucker Fined For 2 Motor Violations

Emmas C. Otis, Clinton, was fined $75 and costs Saturday for overloading and failing to have proper registration on his truck, Justice of the Peace C. J. Hutchinson said.

He was arrested by Sgt. J. Clark Hughes of the Iowa state highway commission.

First Jailbird Makes Jail-Less Jailbreak

By BOB HENNESSY

Trying to hold a prisoner without a jail can be an expensive proposition.

Johnson county law enforcement officials found that out during the county's first criminal case, in 1839.

It cost the county more to keep their first prisoner, Andrew J. Gregg, than the year's total receipts. And then the captive finally escaped.

Gregg had broken jail in Coldwater, Mich., in the mid-1830's and escaped to Iowa, according to an account in the History of Johnson County.

He became a member of Stotenburg's gang, which had its headquarters near what is now Cedar Bluffs, in Cedar county.

On one of their forays through Johnson county, Gregg and his followers met an Iowa citizen named Joseph Eagan.

As they rode along, Gregg offered to trade horses with Eagan, and was even willing to give him money to boot.

The trade was completed, and Eagan rode off on his horse.

What he didn't know was that the money he had received was counterfeit. And he also didn't know that he was being followed by the gang.

The gang caught up with Eagan in Iowa City, clubbed him and stole his new horse, leaving him nothing but the counterfeit money.

Col. Sam C. Trowbridge, sheriff of Johnson county and one of its leading citizens, formed a posse and set out after the men.

The posse captured Gregg, but the rest of the gang escaped.

Now that Johnson county had a prisoner, the problem was where to keep him.

Trowbridge was a resourceful gentleman, and lacking a jail to accommodate his prisoner, fashioned a crude pair of handcuffs.

Gregg's wrists were placed about 40 inches apart in slots in a hickory stick, so he couldn't chew off the things that bound him, or rub them off against a tree.

This temporary arrangement sufficed until a West Liberty blacksmith made a pair of iron manacles for Gregg's ankles.

Sheriff Trowbridge could then take his prisoner with him when he worked on his farm. Gregg would lie on a buffalo robe, chained to a tree, with a Bible and a deck of cards to amuse himself while Trowbridge worked in the fields.

Gregg was a handsome fellow, though, and didn't look at all like a crook. Consequently he awakened a great deal of sympathy in some of the townspeople.

They were outraged that Gregg should be chained like an animal, and demanded that his manacles be removed.

Trowbridge gave in to public sentiment and appointed guards to watch Gregg to see that he didn't escape.

Here was where the expense was incurred. The cost of hiring guards for a period of about six weeks was $122.55, more than the county's total revenues for that year.

One day while a guard was watching him, Gregg pulled a bowie knife — where he got it was a mystery — and escaped.

Interest in the case had died down by this time, and when a search for him was fruitless, no one was very disturbed.

Many of the townspeople had decided the county could not afford to hold Gregg any longer, anyway, at the rate his guard's wages were depleting the treasury.

Original compositions by a club member will be a special feature of the Music Study club program when the group meets at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Himmie Voxman, 821 N. Linn street.

The original compositions were composed by Mrs. C.L. Robbins and will be presented as follows: "Suite for Cello," played by Mrs. Betty Ollivier, accompanied by Mrs. Robbins; two German songs — "Meiner Mutter" and "Ein Gebet" — sung by Mrs. Inabelle Morris, accompanied by Mrs. Robbins; "Two Intermezzi for Piano" played by Mrs. Robbins; three songs — "Evening Song," "Radiant Dreams" and "A Little Song of Life" — sung by Mrs. Inabelle Morris, accompanied by Mrs. Robbins, and "Five Bagatelles," played by Mrs. Robbins on the piano.

Mrs. Voxman will present a violin solo, Beethoven's "Sonata No. 5, Opus 24," accompanied by Mrs. Hugo Sippel.

The program will also include a review by Mary Love of Composer Frederic Chopin's life.

SUI Physicist to Speak At Department Meeting

Prof. Fritz Coester, SUI physics department, Monday will speak at a physics department colloquium in room 301 of the Physics building at 4:30 p.m. Prof. Louis A. Turner, head of the physics department, has announced.

Turner said the subject of the talk would be "Stark - Zeeman Effects on Symmetric Top Molecules with Nuclear Quadrupole Coupling."

For Campus Chest

Names of 10 students who will act as sectional chairmen in the campus chest drive were announced Friday by General Chairman Bob Kramer, A3, White Plains, N.Y.

Jane Buckley, A3, Woodstown, N.J., will direct solicitation in Currier hall, Currier cottages and annex, Chesley house, McChesney, Hutchinson and Howard houses.

Betty Jane Rehemke, A3, Oxford Junction, will coordinate the work in Dean, East Lambert, Fairchild, Russell and Currier houses.

Virginia Hymans, G, Hull, will work in Eastlawn; Joanne Mundt, N2, Waterloo, in Westlawn, and Carol Jackson, A3, Des Moines, in sororities and on campus for town students.

Luther Smith, E4, Des Moines, will direct the drive in the Quadrangle; Al Thimmesch, A3, Dubuque, Law Commons; Robert L. Wells, A3, Chariton, Hillcrest; Kramer South Quadrangle, and Lee Duncan in the fraternities.

Sectional chairmen will appoint their own workers this weekend.

Chemists to Announce Award Winner Tuesday

The Iowa Section of the American Chemical Society will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in room 303 of the chemistry building, Prof. George Kalnitsky, SUI department of biochemistry, said Friday.

Kalnitsky, secretary-treasurer of the Iowa section said announcement of the recipient of the 1949 Iowa award will be made at the meeting.

The award is to be presented to the Iowa chemist or chemical engineer voted most outstanding. The formal presentation will be held in December, Kalnitsky said.

Personal Notes

Mary Beth Johnson, 1949 SUI graduate in speech, visited at the Alpha Xi Delta sorority house this weekend. She is teaching in Grundie Center.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding Saturday of Patricia Ann Grote to Dr. Killian N. Kruse included Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Grote, Robert and Jack Grote, Lena and Mary Aster and Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Aster, all of Yellow Springs, Ohio; Arthur J. Kruse, Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Kruse, Mrs. G.W. Kruse and Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Kruse, all of St. Lucas, and Mr. and Mrs. P. Balk, Waucoma.

Dr. and Mrs. E.E. Pangborn, Buffalo, New York, visited at the college of dentistry Friday and saw the Oregon - Iowa game Saturday. Dr. Pangborn is a 1912 graduate of SUI.

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. George S. Easton, 1006 Highwood drive, this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Easton, Chicago, Ill.

Spending the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.J. McNamara, 532 S. Dodge street, are Jean McNamara, attending Marycrest college, Davenport, and Connie McNamara, a student at Mt. Mercy academy, Cedar Rapids.

Waterloo Women's Club To View SUI Sculpture

The art study group of the American Association of University Women, Waterloo, will visit the SUI sculpture studios Nov. 6, Prof. Humbert Albrizio, SUI art department, said Friday.

The group is making a study of contemporary sculpture as part of its program for the year.

Iowa Authors Give Manuscripts to SUI Libraries

Manuscripts of recent novels by two Iowa authors, Merle Miller and Hartzell Spence, have been given to the SUI library, according to Assistant Library Director Grace Wormer.

Miller's book, "A Sure Thing," his fourth published, Miss Wormer said. Spence's latest novel is "Happily Ever After."

Both authors are former Iowa and SUI students. Miller lived in Marshalltown, and Spence, whose father was a Methodist minister, lived in numerous Iowa communities.

Spence received his B.A. degree here in 1930. Miller received his in 1929. He did not take military training and got no degree at SUI. He graduated from the London School of Economics, London, England, in 1941.

Spence has an apparent dislike for military training, Miller said. Spence distinguished himself as a Pacific combat correspondent for "Yank," serviceman's magazine. He later became editor of "Yank" and started its "continental" publication in Paris.

Both Miller and Spence worked on The Daily Iowan. Spence was managing editor in 1930 and Miller city editor in 1940. Miss Wormer, who keeps a collection of Iowa authors' manuscripts for the SUI library, said she now has four Spence manuscripts and two by Miller.

Spence wrote "One Foot in Heaven," "Get Thee Behind Me," and "Radio City." The first novel was made into a movie.

His latest book, "Happily Ever After," is an autobiographical story of a city couple who tried unsuccessfully to run a farm. Spence and his wife have a farm in Virginia.

Miller's four novels have dealt mostly with World War II and post-war problems, Miss Wormer said.

"A Sure Thing," his latest, is about a young and patriotic government worker in Washington. The main character has a promising future in the state department — before he undergoes a loyalty check. The book shows the effect of this check on his political future and private life.

Miller was an "Information First" speaker at SUI in 1947. Spence spoke here last year at a University Lecture Series program.

Nursing Students to Attend Cancer Meeting

Six SUI nursing students and four students from the Mercy hospital school of nursing will be guests of the Iowa division of the American Cancer society next Sunday at its third annual meeting in Des Moines.

The girls are among 53 Iowa nursing students awarded scholarships this fall by the Iowa division as part of its professional education program.

They will be honored at a noon-day dinner at the society's meeting.

The SUI students, all nursing freshmen, are O. Margaret Craig, Weldon; Darlene Hanan, Toeterville; Meri Hill, Nowaday; Aloma Frerichs, Lansing; Ruth Johnston, Missouri Valley, and Elizabeth O'Riley, Waukon.

Mercy hospital student nurses who will attend the meeting are Mary Boese, Muscatine; Ilo Larson, Eldora; Gloria Wilson, Wilton Junction, and Carolyn Jackson, Grinnell.

Leona Holdgrafer, instructor in the school, will accompany the Mercy hospital group.

Mefford R. Runyon, New York, executive vice president of the American Cancer society, will be principal speaker at the meeting.

Round table discussions will be held on Saturday. Committees in charge of research, education and service programs also will meet then.

The state board of directors will meet to elect officers and directors for the coming year Saturday night.

Boilermakers Startle Underdog Purdue Clips Gopher Big Ten Hopè

By MAURICE PUTNAM

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's bubble really burst Saturday. Purdue furnished the needle with a 13-7 upset victory. It was a keyed-up Purdue squad that took the field. They were expected to lose by two to four touchdowns. But the Boilermakers showed in the first period they didn't believe it.

They tested the Gopher line and found it could be penetrated. Then they tried passes and found that they worked. The combination produced a touchdown for Purdue in the second period, and but for a piece of bad luck, might have added another score.

To insure their victory, the Boilermakers intercepted a pass and added another score in the fourth period.

It wasn't until the last period that the Gophers averted a shut-out by throwing two long passes to get within scoring range. Halfback Dick Lawrence did all the passing, with the ball going to End Bud Hausken for the lone Gopher tally. End Gordon Soltau added the point.

Harry Szulborski, Purdue halfback who was reported in poor shape, wasn't slowed much as he went over from the three-yard line in the second period. It was the climax of a drive that started on Purdue's 25-yard line.

The passing of Ken Gorgal played a big part in the drive, with End Ron Bland doing the catching. Gorgal also tossed a pass to End Bob Whitmer but Whitmer was beyond the end zone and the ball was ruled out of bounds.

Guard Elmer Scallish set up the second Purdue touchdown early in the fourth period. He intercepted a Gopher pass on Minnesota's 47 and Purdue started down field. Szulborski and Halfback Norb Adams plunged for short gains and then Gorgal threw a 17-yard pass to Adams to put the ball on the Gopher 20.

More line plunges made it first down on the Gopher 10 and then Adams stabbed over in two plays. Skowron's attempted placekick was blocked.

By its victory, Purdue virtually ended any hopes that the Gophers might have had for a share in the Western conference title. It also put an end to talk that Minnesota might be a candidate to play in the Rose Bowl.

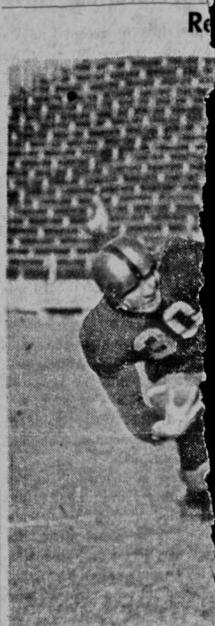

Purdue outplayed the Gophers from start to finish.

Jayhawkers Blast Kansas State, 39-0

LAWRENCE, KAN. (AP)—Kansas university employed two T formation quarterbacks in one backfield Saturday to humble its traditional intra-state rival, Kansas State, before a record crowd of 33,500. The score was 39-0.

The victors, gaining their first Big Seven conference win against three defeats, made a rout of it as Dick Gilman and Jerry Bogue left the Manhattan squad dizzy with their pass completions. Kansas completed 12 of 25 tries for 199 yards.

Kansas scored in every period in the 47th renewal of the series. The Jayhawkers needed only six minutes to gain a lead and from then on the faster, more alert Kansas team held the upper hand. Bogue, playing quarterback as Gilman shifted to fullback, tossed seven yards to Lyn Smith for the first score and Gilman threw a long one to Bill Shaake to set up the second Kansas score.

BILL REICHARDT COULDN'T time early in the game he was on halfback. Coming up to a 100, Hawaii. Iowa put on a

Unbeaten

Iowa's cross country team, led by the running of diminutive Earle Duggan, downed Marquette Saturday morning 22-36 on the Hawk course and kept their undefeated dual meet string intact. Duggan captured first place in the four mile event over a field of 15 runners. He was pushed closely in the final stretch by Marquette's Bob Mason, who was just seven seconds behind the winner.

The Hawks also captured third, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth places in the event. Jack Davis, Hawk sophomore, followed closely behind the two leaders with a time of 21:8. Duggan's victorious time was 20:55 over the long course and against a stiff south wind.

Other Hawk keys to gather points included Bill Bye, Ken Carman and John Collins. Collins and Carman tied for sixth place in rather a novel finish. The two Hawks came into the stretch holding hands and finished in that fashion.

Coach Francis Cretzmeier's team is now pointing for the meet with Minnesota Saturday in a clash which will be run over the Gophers' course. The classic will be run in the morning, preceding the Hawk-Gopher football game.

Marquette lost to the Minnesota harriers by nearly the same score as the Hilltoppers did to Iowa. This comparison brings visions of a great race in Minneapolis.

Marquette has also been shut-out by Wisconsin's strong long course team, and the Hilltoppers hold a victory over Lawrence college which gives them a 1-2 record.

Iowa now owns three victories in three outings. One of these was against a conference foe, Illinois, and the others against Notre Dame and the Hilltoppers.

Army Continues March By Beating VMI, 40-14

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The powerful Army Cadets coasted to their sixth straight victory of the season Saturday over a determined but outmanned Virginia Military Institute team, 40-14.

After the brilliant Arnold Galiffa had propelled the Army regulars to a safe 27-0 margin at half time, Coach Earl Blaik sent in all the players he could locate, including his son Bob, with the result that the red jerseyed visitors made quite a match of it in the last two quarters.

Toward the end of the third period, Taylor Hay, a substitute VMI end, made the longest run of the game, a 77 yarder, after snatching an Army fumble out of the air.

Oklahoma Smashes To Decisive 34-7 Win Over Cyclones

NORMAN, OKLA. (AP)—University of Oklahoma rolled over Iowa State, 34-7, Saturday in a Big Seven conference football game that was the Sooners' 16th straight without defeat.

Some 39,000 Homecoming fans saw Oklahoma fumble and fumble and falter in the first period, then break loose with its expected might for three second quarter touchdowns.

Halfback George Thomas raised his season's scoring to 12 touchdowns when he rammed over from the two for the first Oklahoma score. Fullback Leon Heath carried two Iowa State players with him as he charged over from the seven in the same period.

End Buddy Jones ran back an Iowa State punt 83 yards for another tally with only six seconds left in the half.

Iowa State got its only touchdown in the third period, on a long pass from Quarterback Bill Weeks to End Jim Doran. In all, the play carried 87 yards.

Oklahoma opened the third period by moving 71 yards in seven plays. Halfback Lindell Pearson made the final 10 for touchdown. Quarterback Claude Arnold wound up the scoring late in the third quarter by sneaking two yards through the line.

Iowa State lived up to its passing reputation, gaining 231 yards in the air, but it was smothered on the ground, netting only 23.

Oklahoma, with its star Quarterback Darrell Royal sidelined by injury, cut loose with its own passing attack, with Arnold throwing. The Sooners gained 115 yards in the air, but their greatest power was aground, where they gained 335 yards.

PARSONS DRUBBED, 31-0

QUINCY, ILL. (AP)—Quincy college cheered some 3,500 Homecoming fans Saturday by drubbing Parsons college of Fairfield, Iowa, 31-0, in Quincy's sixth straight football triumph.

IOWA...

zone catch by Commaek. Waterloo speedster made the dash on a fourth down desperate throw by Quarterback Glenn. It was the wide extra point that cost Reichardt his 15th row.

It took 21 plays to go 98 yards in the drive, mostly on the ground, the Hawks were led by an off sides penalty against Oregon on a fourth down at Chuck Denning.

The Ducks started on their 42 in the second stanza, kept Sanders busy hitting the Iowa line, and passes from Stelle coming at the right times. In 11 plays Sanders plowed over for his fourth touchdown of the year.

Daniels' extra point established new Pacific Coast mark, his 10 in a row and 22nd for the season.

When passes failed to produce a touchdown from the Iowa eight yards booted his fourth field goal of the campaign, making the score 10-6.

The crowd thought for a minute that Oregon had scored one before the field goal attempt was made. Stelle's pass over Longley's head, momentarily hid McKay from view and fans thought the pass had been good.

The ball passed as cleanly through McKay's arms as it had over Longley's head.

For almost the entire third quarter the Hawkeyes played their best half brand of ball — with perhaps, an imagined Gopher watching the proceedings.

Woodley Lewis, a senior halfback from Los Angeles, brought the crowd to its feet midway through the period when he sliced through the Iowa line, picked up speed and was off to a 74 yard scoring sprint.

Iowa's Bill Greene gave chase to the six-yard stripe, made one last plunge but fell short. The placement upped the score to 17-6.

The touchdown was Lewis' third of the year, although he later added his fourth on a scooped-up fumble and subsequent 33-yard ramble.

The two others were run-backs of kickoffs, one for 102 yards and the other 94. His running isn't limited to the gridiron, as his 9.9 hundred yard dash time indicates.

Later, when he picked up McKay's fumble and went to a touchdown, Iowa hopes hit an all-game low. Less than two and one half minutes remained in the third quarter and the Hawks trailed, 24-6.

Then came the explosion that practically rocked the staid Iowa stadium, sent the pages of record books flying and an Iowa crowd home with a smile.

Adequate football seating for students here is taken for granted. Of course you have to get to the stadium by noon for the choice locations, but actually all the seats are pretty fair. We think it's a much better setup than the one at Minnesota.

Up in Minneapolis officials save 15,556 seats for students, about 8,000 short of the total enrollment and even so, you must be seated according to class rank.

In other words, seniors get the best seats, juniors the next best and so on down to the freshmen. A total of 4,414 seats are reserved for the faculty. That's a "broad" seat of education up there, a faculty seat for every four student seats.

Grantland Rice, the writer who immortalized the "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame was a special guest at the Zuppke day banquet at the University of Illinois this week.

This is the lead he wrote on the day the Irish defeated Army, 13-7, Oct. 18, 1924: "Outlined against a blue, gray October sky the four horsemen rode again."

"In dramatic lore they are known as famine, pestilence, destruction and death. These are only aliases. Their real names are Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden."

Cerdan Had a Double—Here

Marcel Cerdan, the French middleweight who was killed in an air crash Friday, had a double, a fellow well known on the Iowa campus. We mean Joe Scarpello, Hawkeye wrestler, three time Big Ten 175-pound champion, Olympic wrestler, etc.

"While I was in Paris," Joe said Friday, "people used to see me in a club where Cerdan was seen pretty often, slap me on the back and say, 'Hello, Marcel.'"

Pictures, at least some pictures, show how the two looked alike. Although Scarpello didn't get a chance to meet Cerdan, he became a fan of the once middleweight champion of the world through the people who did know the boxer.

CERDAN SCARPELLO

Received a letter, plus column, from "a couple of Iowans who are in Tennessee" the other day. Seems Ray Johnson, sports columnist for the Nashville Tennessean, was a bit upset over our piece two weeks ago on the visit here by two men who said they were from the University of Tennessee.

In devoting his column, "One Man's Opinion" to our article and to the various football greats who were brought south only to slip away, he tries to tell us Jim Lawrence was "lured" from Vanderbilt in 1946.

He fails to mention that Lawrence was born in Cedar Falls, Iowa, lived in Iowa City and whose wife and parents have been long-time residents of Iowa City.

Because Lawrence was given a trip to Vanderbilt, fed and shown the set-up in fine southern style, but decided on Iowa anyway, he was "lured" from Vanderbilt.

The players Johnson assumes were "taken away" by the Big Ten include Leo Nomellini of Minnesota, Bob Tonnoff of Notre Dame, and Julie Rykovich, formerly of Illinois. Now neither we, or Mr. Johnson, knows the exact reasons these boys didn't go to school in the south. Mr. Johnson believes it was strictly a case of being "outbid." We don't.

Maybe they wanted to go to school nearer home, the schools these boys finally attended are all closer to home than the schools in the outland were. Maybe, and this is what hurts the Southeastern conference, the boys wanted to play in the best football conference in the nation, the Big Ten.

Mr. Johnson finishes up by calling us a liar, something any schoolboy knows you shouldn't do in print, but anyway, he doubts the presence of the two Tennessee officials on the Iowa campus.

Johnson concludes that the treasurer of the University of Tennessee, the job one of the men here claimed, doesn't know a football player from a "Tennessee mule." You don't have to know football talent to hand out money for scholarships, other "officials" will take care of the selecting end of the job.

The Hawkeyes got a nice compliment from the Milwaukee Sentinel this week. A fan sends a clipping from the Wisconsin paper, stating that the "Iowa-Northwestern game was as good as anyone should care to see anywhere, anytime."

"Iowa," it continues, "as it performed Saturday, could have held its own against any team. Taking the front row bows for the Hawkeyes were Jerry Fiske, one of the hardest driving backs in the game and a pair of sophomore collaborators, Fullback Bill Reichardt and Quarterback Fred Ruck."

Adequate football seating for students here is taken for granted. Of course you have to get to the stadium by noon for the choice locations, but actually all the seats are pretty fair. We think it's a much better setup than the one at Minnesota.

Up in Minneapolis officials save 15,556 seats for students, about 8,000 short of the total enrollment and even so, you must be seated according to class rank.

In other words, seniors get the best seats, juniors the next best and so on down to the freshmen. A total of 4,414 seats are reserved for the faculty. That's a "broad" seat of education up there, a faculty seat for every four student seats.

Grantland Rice, the writer who immortalized the "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame was a special guest at the Zuppke day banquet at the University of Illinois this week.

This is the lead he wrote on the day the Irish defeated Army, 13-7, Oct. 18, 1924: "Outlined against a blue, gray October sky the four horsemen rode again."

"In dramatic lore they are known as famine, pestilence, destruction and death. These are only aliases. Their real names are Stuhldreher, Miller, Crowley and Layden."

Spirit Spurs Hawkeyes Victory Drive

Iowa Celebrates Victory Over West Coast Rival

By ROBERT DUNCAN

The Iowa dressing room was the scene of an impromptu celebration Saturday afternoon as the Hawkeyes, owners of a 34-31 triumph over Oregon by virtue of a rousing fourth quarter surge, entered amid shouts of congratulations.

Dr. Eddie Anderson paid tribute to the battling Hawks who repulsed a deperation challenge by Oregon in the closing seconds when he said, "It was nice to see the boys come back like they did. I was satisfied with their spirit."

The spirit that Anderson was referring to swept the Hawks from a seemingly insurmountable 24-6 deficit midway in the third period to a win that gave Iowa four victories in six starts this season.

Bob Longley, Iowa left halfback who added fuel to the Hawk attack in the third quarter with a 94 yard punt return, said, "When I got the ball I had no idea of going all the way until I got a couple of blocks and then it was easy."

Don Cammack, the Waterloo speed merchant, expressed the prevailing sentiment among Iowa players when he said, "I didn't think that Oregon was as tough as Northwestern but they were one of the toughest teams we have played this year. They had a good line."

Many of the Iowa players made respectful reference to the strength of the Webfoot line that held the Hawk attack in check until late in the game when Iowa stripped off the fetters of listlessness which had stalled their offense.

Iowa City's Bill Reichardt, Hawk fullback who swept Oregon's kickoff on his own one-yard stripe and dashed 99 yards for a touchdown in the hectic final quarter said, "At first I was going to let the ball roll into the end zone, but then I thought that would only put us on the 20 so I decided to pick it up and run it."

"I wasn't tired when I was running but I certainly was later. I think Oregon was almost as tough as Northwestern."

Jerry Fiske, versatile running and passing halfback said, "When Reichardt and I were in the safety positions just before the kickoff, Bill asked me if he could take the kick. I told him the pleasure was all his and he ran it back for a touchdown."

Iowa's Quarterback Fred Ruck of Davenport asserted that he remained optimistic throughout the entire game despite Oregon's scoring supremacy until the last stanza.

"I thought we would win all the way," Ruck said, "even when we were behind."

Earl Banks, right guard troubled with a knee injury suffered in the Purdue game, thought the Oregon line "was pretty good," but added, "I wasn't in there long enough to find out."

Jack Dittmer said "I had plenty of trouble getting out for passes today. They had two men on me all the time but they fell asleep on the touchdown play."

A shout of surprise and wonderment rose from the Hawkeyes when it was announced that underdog Purdue had dropped Minnesota—Iowa's foe next week—by a 13-7 count.

When queried concerning what effect the defeat of the Gophers would have on next week's game, Ruck said, "Minnesota will still have a lot of fight left and they will try to make it tough on us."

Dittmer stated, "I think Purdue's win today will make it Minnesota next week."

Reichardt and Longley collaborated to establish a pair of Iowa stadium kick return records Saturday with dashes of 99 and 94 yards respectively.

Both marks eclipsed the 14-year-old record Hank Vollenwieder made against South Dakota in 1935 when he returned a kick 90 yards.

The Dad's day crowd of 37,976 that witnessed the Oregon game also produced a new season's attendance mark in the annals of Iowa football history, surpassing by 37,648 the former mark of 212,298 established last season.

Saturday's point total of 65 fell seven short of the current Iowa record, set in 1945 when the Hawks were drubbed by Indiana, 52-20.

Jack Dittmer's fourth quarter touchdown was his sixth of the campaign. He has scored in each of Iowa's games this season.

Missouri Rallies to Nip Underdog Huskers, 21-20

COLUMBIA, MO. (AP) — Missouri's erratic Tigers Saturday staged a two-touchdown last-quarter rally to squeeze by the underdog Nebraska Cornhuskers, 21-20, before a Homecoming crowd of 21,000.

Missouri fans looked on this one as a breather, with Nebraska figured at least three-touchdowns behind the Tigers. But that rating must have pleased the Nebraska fans, as they controlled the play during the second and third quarters and moved into the final stanza with a seemingly comfortable 20-7 lead.

Then Missouri turned loose a pair of snappy broken field runners and passers in Hal Backs Dick Braznell and Johnny Glorioso, to drag it out of the fire with less than seven minutes of time remaining.

Jack Dittmer said "I had plenty of trouble getting out for passes today. They had two men on me all the time but they fell asleep on the touchdown play."

A shout of surprise and wonderment rose from the Hawkeyes when it was announced that underdog Purdue had dropped Minnesota—Iowa's foe next week—by a 13-7 count.

When queried concerning what effect the defeat of the Gophers would have on next week's game, Ruck said, "Minnesota will still have a lot of fight left and they will try to make it tough on us."

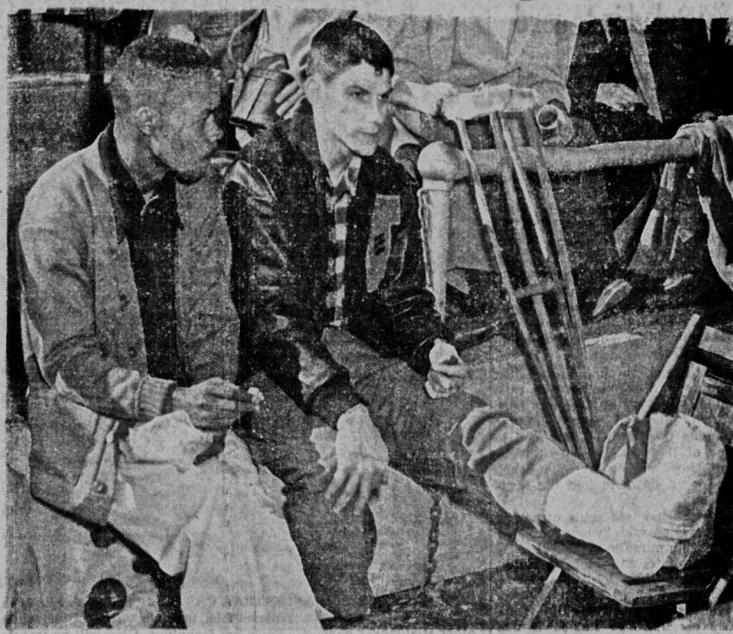

Dittmer stated, "I think Purdue's win today will make it Minnesota next week."

St. Ambrose Wins

OMAHA, NEB. (AP) — One of the giants of the nation's small colleges — unbeaten St. Ambrose of Davenport, Iowa — raced past Omaha university Saturday, 60-26, in a wild-scoring fray in Omaha U's new stadium.

DARTMOUTH SPILLS YALE

NEW HAVEN, CONN. (AP) — The Dartmouth Indians came down from the hills of Hanover, N.Y., Saturday to give Yale the second worst larpuring of their 65-year-old football series, 34-13.

"I WISH WE COULD HELP THE TEAM OUT," one time Iowa quarterback Johnny Estes, left, said to Ralph Woodard, injured Hawkeye end, while the going was rough in Saturday's game. Estes was a promising young Hawkeye star when he was injured in a sandlot basketball game in the summer of 1948. Woodard received a compound fracture of the left leg in the Indiana game two weeks ago.

Michigan Tumbles Illinois, 13-0

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP) — Michigan exploded Illinois' dreams of a return trip to the Rose Bowl Saturday with a nifty 13-0 victory before 71,119 fans in the Illini stadium.

The Wolverines thus knocked the Illini out of first place in the Big Ten and in addition ruined Bob Zuppke day, scheduled by Illinois to pay homage to its retired coach on the 25th anniversary of the dedication of the stadium.

It was not an easy win for Michigan, but it was obvious from nearly the opening kickoff that the Wolverines would triumph.

Illinois crossed midfield only once during the first half and Michigan held the ball in Illini territory most of the time. In the final 30 minutes Illinois was obviously more hepped for combat, but its lone scoring threat fizzled on the Michigan two when Halfback Ronnie Clark fumbled and Michigan's Walt Teninga recovered.

That was the last effort of the Illini and it took the heart out of them to lose the ball without scoring after marching 78 yards in six plays. A 56 yard dash by Johnny Karras accounted for most of the distance, and had Illinois counted, it might have been a different ending.

After that it was Michigan all the way, with Brothers Tom and Don Peterson, Chuck Ortmann, and Walt Teninga setting the pace.

Ortmann was unable to do much running against the charging Illinois line, but his passing accounted for the Wolverines' first touchdown. He flipped the ball to Harry Allis for a 51-yard gain and the counter.

Don and Tom Peterson combined to spark the final Michigan score after Chuck Lentz returned a punt 17 yards to the Illinois 25. Don passed to Tom for 11 yards, then picked up 13 yards in two plunges to set up a one yard scoring plunge for Tom.

Notre Dame Rolls Over Helpless Navy, 40-0

BALTIMORE, MD. (AP) — Machine-like Notre Dame bopped Navy Saturday, 40-0, handing the Middies the worst defeat in their football series that began in 1927. It was the 33rd game without defeat for the Irish who set a modern record.

Showing their gridiron wares to an eastern audience for the first time this season, the Fighting Irish broke the game wide open with a 20-point assault in the second quarter. They coasted from there on.

Navy made a game of it for one quarter, and part of the second. Then, zing, zing, zing, came the touchdowns. The befuddled Middies never knew from which direction they were coming.

The chief Notre Dame slasher was Ernie Zaleski, a skittering left halfback from South Bend, Ind., home of the big green gang that Coach Frank Leahy has welded into the Nation's No. 1 football outfit.

Zaleski scored three of the six Notre Dame touchdowns as he became the main factor in the affair put on before a sellout crowd of 62,413 in Babe Ruth stadium.

Ernie got Notre Dame out in front in 4:35 of the opening period. He grabbed a 22-yard toss from Quarterback Bobby Williams on Navy's 25. He was in the clear, and merely romped the rest of the way. The Irish probably would have scored sooner, but Navy won the toss and Notre Dame had to wait to get the ball. It took only five plays.

Teague, Badgers Go To 30-14 Conference Victory over Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP) — Fullback Bobby Teague cut curlicues in Indiana's turf Saturday and they spelled a 30-14 victory for Wisconsin's football team.

The Homecoming crowd of 9,000 watched the Indiana line take a beating in the 70 degree temperature. It was the 14th time Indiana had been beaten in its 25 Homecoming games.

Teague, a shifty 170-pounder, scored two touchdowns on long twisting runs and caught a 29-yard pass from Bob Petruska for another. That gave Wisconsin a 20-0 midway margin and the reserve-poor Indiana team's second half rally had too far to go.

Teague went 46 yards on his first scoring dash, six plays and two minutes after Wisconsin took the opening kickoff. He took Petruska's touchdown pass in the last two minutes of the period.

The Wisconsin fullback's fanciest running was in a 43-yard touchdown sprint in the last two minutes of the second quarter. He snaked among three Indiana would-be tacklers after taking a pitchout from Petruska near the sideline.

Wisconsin twice went into a field goal formation in the second half after slowing down on long drives. The first was a fake and Jim Embach scooted eight yards for a touchdown.

The second was authentic and Lisle Blackburn kicked a goal from the 19-yard mark, with the line of scrimmage at the 11.

The running of Indiana sophomores that upset Pittsburgh last week was considerably less effective against the alert Wisconsin secondary. They collected only 37 yards rushing to Wisconsin's 392. And Nick Sebek's passing produced most of the Hoosiers' yardage.

Bobby Robertson and Cliff Anderson scored Indiana's second half touchdowns. Anderson took a pass from Sebek in the third quarter for 35 yards and six points. An 11-yard pass from Sebek to Robertson helped set up Robertson's one-yard touchdown plunge in the fourth quarter.

Bowl Bound Bears Roll Over UCLA

California's Golden Bears swept past the Bruins of UCLA, 35-21, to remain undefeated in their march to the Rose Bowl.

The underdog Bruins held their Berkeley rivals to a first half 14-14 standstill but wilted before superior reserve strength as 58,668 persons watched the Pacific Coast conference game.

The hard-hitting California team cashed in quickly on a pass interception and a UCLA fumble converting both into third quarter touchdowns.

The Bears were sparked by Quarterback Bob Celeri, who completed 12 of 17 pass attempts for one touchdown and 214 yards. Celeri scored once on a plunge from the one-foot line and set up another touchdown with a 33-yard pass that carried the Bears to the three from where Moonachino scored.

Standouts for UCLA were Halfback Ernie Johnson and End Bob Wilkinson, who caught two touchdowns passes, one good for 62 yards, the other after a hand to hand struggle in the end zone with two defenders.

Pitt Whips Penn on Blocked Kick, 22-21

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A great run by Lou Cecconi and an equally great smash through the Penn line by Bernard Barkouskie provided a dramatic finish to a real football thriller Saturday as Pittsburgh's rugged team knocked Penn out of the unbeaten class with a 22-21 victory.

The winning points were scored just 35 seconds before the game ended as Barkouskie smashed through to block Ray Dooney's attempt to punt from behind his own goal line. The ball bounced out of the end zone for an automatic safety and the two points that meant a Pitt victory.

Getting the jump right at the start, Pitt scored in the first period and made it 13-0 before five minutes of the second quarter had expired. Then Penn took to the air, with Francis (Red) Bagnell throwing most of the passes, and gained a 14-13 lead at half time.

Powerful Ohio State Subdues Northwestern Wildcats, 24-7

COLUMBUS, OHIO (UP) — Tempers flared and fists flew Saturday as Ohio State's Buckeyes outpunched Northwestern's underdog Wildcats on the ground and in the air for a bitterly fought 24-7 victory that kept them in the race for Big Ten and Rose Bowl glory.

Both teams got off to a slow start and Ohio State had Northwestern with its back to the wall most of the first half while piling up a 10-0 lead. But the Wildcats came back with a roar in the second half. The 81,872 fans were up more than they were down as the referees called penalty after penalty against both sides for unnecessary roughness.

The third period had hardly gotten underway when Northwestern started a drive from its own 25 that ended with Fullback Art Murakowski going over from the five. But that was the only time the Wildcats ever seriously threatened while a slick-working Buckeye offense punched over one touchdown in the first period, added a field goal in the second, and two more touchdowns in the third and fourth frames.

Ohio State's big Fullback Fred Morrison kept the Wildcats at bay. It was Morrison who bulled over for Ohio's first score and it was his booming punts that kept Northwestern in its own territory most of the day.

The Ohio State line simply refused to yield to the thrusts of Northwestern's Art Murakowski and fleet Halfback John Miller when the chips were down. And the Buckeye secondary gave Northwestern's passing ace, Don Burson, one of his worst days this season.

A break set up the first Buckeye touchdown. Interference ruled on Panch Savie's pass to Ralph Armstrong on the Northwestern three and Morrison put it over. Jimmy Hague, who had a perfect day, kicked the point.

In the second period Pete Perini intercepted a Burson pass and it looked like the Bucks were on their way again. Jerry Krall passed to Armstrong on the nine, but the Northwestern line, which gave no end of trouble all afternoon, held, and Hague poked a sharp angle field goal through the cross bars from the 15.

After driving to the Ohio 34 Burson, who went back to pass couldn't find a target and in one of the best runs of the day, shook off tackle after tackle before he was downed on the five. Murakowski put it over and Guard Eddie Nemeth converted.

Ohio scored its final touchdown midway in the fourth period. Stanford, Broncos Play 7-7 Deadlock

PALO ALTO, CALIF. (AP) — In a game marked by costly fumbles, Stanford's Indians and the Santa Clara Broncos fought to a 7-7 deadlock in their annual football classic here Saturday.

A crowd estimated at 40,000 saw Stanford score in the third period to break a scoreless deadlock. Santa Clara came back in the fourth period, capitalizing on a recovered fumble, to tie the score at 7-7.

Stanford's touchdown in the third period followed a 75-yard drive. Quarterback Gary Kerkorian went over center for three yards to score. The march was highlighted by four passes thrown by Kerkorian.

Kickoff—Game Underway

HERE IS OREGON END DARRELL ROBINSON, who took the opening kickoff in the game which ultimately meant a 34-31 defeat for the Ducks. He was tackled by defensive halfback Duane Brandt after returning the ball to the Ducks' 26-yard line. Oregon continued the drive to the Iowa 6 before it was forced to punt, which rolled dead on the two yard stripe.

LINED UP HERE ARE DADS OF THE IOWA football team who were special guests for the Oregon game. This picture was taken at half-time while their sons were trailing, 10-6. After the Hawks thrilling fourth period comeback, you can bet that they were still prouder of their sons' performances on the field. Each father wore the numeral his boy wore on his football jersey.

Benton Street Tavern Permit Claimed Legal

The city council acted legally in granting Everett Hull a permit to sell beer at 316 E. Benton street, City Atty. William H. Bartley said Saturday.

Hull last week secured a permit to build a tavern at the Benton street site. Thursday 13 Iowa Citizens living in that vicinity petitioned city officials to prevent the establishment of a tavern in their neighborhood.

An Iowa City ordinance prohibits beer permits outside an area bounded by Burlington street on the south, Davenport street on the north, Capitol street on the west and Van Buren street on the east.

Hull formerly operated a tavern at 840 S. Clinton street, which is outside the ordinance limits, but his permit to sell beer there was granted prior to the passing of the limitation ordinance, city officials said.

The council Monday approved the transfer of Hull's permit from his former site to his new business location, which is in an industrial district according to the city's planning and zoning arrangement.

Mayor Preston Koser said the petitions will be heard at the next regular council meeting, Nov. 14. The issue will probably be referred to the council planning and zoning committee, Bartley said.

NEW IOWA PRESS COLUMNISTS' PRESIDENT is greeted by his predecessor at a noon luncheon Saturday in the Iowa Union. Former President C.C. Caswell, left, is publisher of the Clarinda Herald-Journal. The new president is R.O. Burrows, editor of the Belle Plaine Union. A cartoon by J.N. "Ding" Darling, pertaining to the Iowa columnists and his work, will later be presented the new officer.

Business BRIEFS

Carl Strub, 221 E. Fairchild street, announces the opening of a new office for his Econogas Service Inc. at 104 S. Linn street about Nov. 1. His offices have been previously located at 117 S. Clinton street.

Strub has completely remodeled his new offices in the Iowa Apartment building. He has sub-let part of the property to the Iowa City chamber of commerce where they will move their offices about Dec. 1.

J.E. Kenney, 1004 Kirkwood avenue, will open a new tavern to be known as "Kenney's" at 24 S. Clinton on Friday at 4 p.m. It is at the location formerly occupied by the Uptowner cafe.

Kenney also operates the Kenney Cigar store at 131 E. College street.

Fire Damages Home On Burlington Street

Fire caused considerable damage at 1:25 p.m. Saturday to a home at 109 E. Burlington street owned by Eli Braverman, fire officials said.

The fire apparently started in the basement and traveled up to the top floor before firemen stopped it.

Lass to Visit Castle Donbegan

Lair of MacLeods Shrouded in Legend

By BILL HOLLANDER
Castle Donbegan will echo to the rallying cry of the MacLeods when the SUI Scottish Highlanders arrive in Scotland next summer.

One of the kilted lasses, Elizabeth (Glen) Glendinning, claims the castle is the fighting lair of her maternal ancestors, the MacLeods, and she plans to visit the mystery-shrouded flaired turrets and dank dungeons.

As with most story-book castles, thousand-year-old Castle Donbegan has a legend, Glen says, — a legend that revolves around an ancient flag and an infant heir.

Long ago, no one knows just how long, a celebration was called shortly after an heir was born to the MacLeod clan. A nurse tending the newborn MacLeod in one of the castle's many turrets, left the babe on a stone bench and went down to join the festivities.

"The feast was going at a wild pace," Glen said, "when the laird saw the nurse and told her to rush upstairs and fetch the child." Obeying her lord's command, the nurse hurried to the tower where she found the child wrapped in a strange flag—a banner captured from the Saracens during the Crusades.

Terrified, the nurse hurried down stairs, but a voice followed her, saying the flag was to be waved to thwart three great dangers that would face the MacLeods.

Should the flag be waved at any other time, the voice warned, a three-fold curse would follow. First, the heir would die.

Then, the "three sisters" rocks—traditional property of the MacLeods—would be sold to their worst enemy, the Campbell clan.

Third, when a fox had given birth to its young in a turret of the castle, the fortune of the MacLeods would decline and there soon wouldn't be enough male MacLeods to row a boat across Loch Sligachan.

"This is fact," the slim, blond liberal arts sophomore emphasized. "The flag has been waved twice, both times effectively staving off danger."

The first time was when the MacDonalds invaded Waternich, near the castle. The flag was waved and the enemy hesitated, thinking the flag represented a larger force.

"But they hesitated too long," Glen said. "They were slaughtered to a man."

The second time, the flag-waving put a stop to a cattle plague. In 1699, an unbelieving soul tested the curse. The "factor," or caretaker of Donbegan waited until the laird had left the castle, then took the flag out of its case and waved it.

A short time later, the MacLeod heir was lost at sea. And

SOON TO VISIT HER ANCESTRAL CASTLE in Scotland, Elizabeth (Glen) Glendinning, A2, Philadelphia, polishes up her fling while other Highlander dancers admire her technique. Glen will be traveling to Scotland with the Scottish Highlanders next summer. Her maternal ancestors, the MacLeods, built a castle on an island off the northwest coast of Scotland which the kilted lassie plans to visit.

what's more, the "three sisters" were sold to Angus Campbell.

Later, when a friend visited the MacLeods and brought a tame fox with him, the animal gave birth to a litter of little ones in a castle turret.

Ever since then, Glen said, "The fortunes of the MacLeods have declined. At one time, there weren't enough male MacLeods left to row a four-oared boat across Loch Sligachan."

An old Skye man (the castle is on the island of Skye off the northwest coast of Scotland) was asked if he thought the flag would ever be waved again.

"Yer wrong if ye think the flag will na be waved again," he replied. "When the last MacLeod dies, the flag will be waved for the thur-r-d and last time — and it will crumble and vanish awa'."

District Court Drops Pacha Judgment Suit

A $191.07 judgment suit filed July 6 by the Rev. Ray J. Pacha, Iowa City, against Tom R. Pleasant was dismissed "with prejudice" in Johnson county district court Saturday.

In the original suit, damages were sought as a result of an auto accident involving the two parties.

Pleasant also dismissed his counterclaim, filed Aug. 17, in which he denied Pacha's charges of negligence, asked $500 judgment and a jury trial of the case.

Iowa Bishop Haines Dies in Los Angeles

The Right Rev. Elwood Lindsay Haines, 56-year-old bishop of the Iowa Episcopal diocese, died Friday night in a Los Angeles hospital, The Associated Press reported Saturday.

In Iowa City, a service of Holy Eucharist at 8 a.m. today will be held for him in Trinity Episcopal church.

Bishop Haines had entered the hospital for treatment of a lingering illness, the diocese office reported. He was consecrated in May, 1944, as fifth bishop of the Iowa diocese.

He came to Iowa from Louisville, Ky., where he had been dean of Christ Church cathedral. He had been a missionary in Liberia and had served his church in North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Ohio. He served in the marine corps in World War I.

Building Permits Total $34,000 Last Week

Building permits issued this week by the city engineer's office totaled $34,000, as prospective builders hurried to take advantage of favorable fall weather.

Records in the engineer's office show that no permits were issued during the last 10 days in October, 1948.

The Cline Farm Equipment company was granted a $11,750 permit to remodel their present building at 201 S. Capitol street.

A permit to build a $4,250 warehouse on Second street between Cook street and Maiden lane also went to the Cline company.

Eldon A. Memler received a permit to build a $9,500 duplex dwelling and garage at 1424-1426 Rochester avenue. An $8,000 residence permit went to Lawrence G. Swails, 1807 C street.

Eldon Miller Sales and Service company was issued a permit to place a $300 storage building on their lot, 1030 S. Riverside drive. A $200 permit for a utility shed went to Mrs. Blanch Bartunek, 520 Brown street.

Blood Bank Has 60-Pint Goal

Local Organizations Supply Blood Free

By BOB HENNESSY

Here's a bank whose assets are really liquid!

The bank is the new Mercy hospital blood bank, and its liquid assets are over 40 pints of blood in reserve at the bank.

Medical director of the blood bank is Dr. Helen Deaton. Virginia Burke is director of the laboratory where a staff of six receives blood for transfusions.

The blood bank, part of the medical laboratories at Mercy, occupies two basement rooms, and has been in full scale operation for about two weeks.

All the equipment has been obtained since this summer, when it was learned that Mercy hospital would have to set up a blood bank of its own, according to Miss Burke.

Previously blood for transfusions had been obtained from University hospitals.

Late in August, equipment started arriving and on Oct. 5, the first donor gave a pint of blood.

"Now, an average of six and seven transfusions a day use blood from our bank," Miss Burke said. "In the future, this figure may rise as more surgeons start to take advantage of the blood bank."

Here is the procedure of a prospective donor to bank.

First step is to fill out a medical history sheet. If a person is allergic to any of a number of things, has been in a malarial zone, or fails to meet certain other qualifications, he will not be eligible to give his blood.

"Some of these regulations may seem too strict, but we want to keep our record of no reactions as a result of transfusions from the bank," Miss Burke said.

After the medical history is completed and the lab technicians have a sample of the blood, they classify it according to the four main types—A, B, AB, or O. Each of these types is broken down according to positive and negative Rh factor.

Blood of different types cannot be mixed in a transfusion. Neither can positive and negative Rh factor blood be mixed.

When the supply of this particular type of blood runs low, the person may be called to give a pint to the blood bank. At least 90 days are required between donations to give the donor's system sufficient time to replace the blood removed by the transfusion.

The pint of blood is kept in the blood bank refrigerator along with a supply of all the other types.

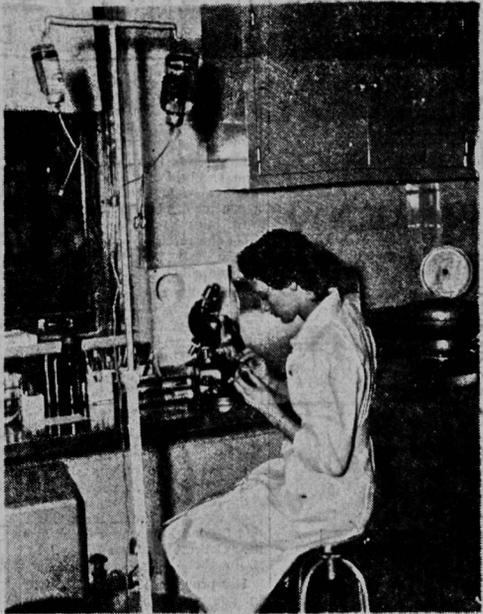

"Right now, we have between 40 and 45 pints on hand in our refrigerator. In the future we hope to keep between 50 and 60 pints on hand," Miss Burke said.

Before blood is taken from the laboratory for a transfusion, final checks are made to make sure the donor's and recipient's blood are compatible.

This involves putting the samples in a water bath, kept at 37 degrees Centigrade (about 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit, normal body temperature.) The samples are also whirled in a centrifuge.

After each of these processes, the samples are checked under one of the lab microscopes for compatibility.

When the blood for a transfusion is completely checked and tagged, ready for the transfusion, it is set up on a standard and wheeled to the patient's bedside.

Every precaution is taken to insure the right type of blood gets to the right patient.

Although both professional and voluntary donors contribute to the bank, relatives and friends of a patient are usually contacted first to get blood for a transfusion, Miss Burke pointed out.

A number of local organizations now supply blood free to the bank. Members of these organizations can then draw against the group's supply in case of need.

Among these groups are the Iowa City National Guard medical clearing company and reconnaissance troop, the Iowa City Moose

Union Plans Show Of Building Photos

Enlarged photographs of about 30 college union buildings will be exhibited in the Iowa Union lobby Dec. 5 through Dec. 19.

The display is being circulated by the Association of College Unions, and will be sponsored at SUI by the house and library committee of the Student Union board.

Committee member Felicia Hope, N4, Corning, said the collection contains over 126 pictures showing activities provided in union buildings throughout the country.

Some of the buildings included in the collection have been built since the war, and others have added new billiard, bowling, party and music rooms in post-war redecoration projects.

Engineering Building Displays Information On Nation's Weather

If you're interested in what the weather was back in the 'ol home town, walk over to the Engineering building entryway and look it up yourself.

For on the left, as you start up the stairs, is a bulletin board with two weather charts. Each chart pictures one large map showing surface weather conditions over the nation, and four smaller maps showing specialized information.

The two charts may appear identical but one is 24 hours earlier than the other.

The large map on the latest chart (usually about two days old) shows the nationwide weather picture at 1:30 a.m.

Prof. J.W. Howe, head of the mechanics and hydraulics department, said the later chart is always about two days old because the charts are prepared daily by and mailed from the weather bureau in Washington, D.C.

Each of the four smaller maps tells a different story. For instance, one shows the high-low temperature range over the nation for the 24 hours previous to the time of the large map.

Another shows precipitation areas during the same period as that of the temperature map.

The third shows the wind pattern at the 700-millibar (about 10,000 feet above sea level) level, and the fourth shows the general conditions over the nation for a time 12 hours previous to that of the large map.

County AAA Ready to Grade Stored Corn

The Johnson county AAA office now has equipment to grade all the corn stored in the county. Ray Smalley, county director, said Saturday.

A new moisture meter has arrived to go with the new scales and other grading equipment received several weeks ago, Smalley said.

The laboratory for grading corn will enable Smalley and his staff to grade all the corn here instead of sending it to the state laboratory in Des Moines. A sample of 100 grams of corn will be taken from every load received for storage in the AAA bins. The unfit grain will be deducted from this, he said.

The corn then will be run through the moisture meter for water content. The number of pounds per bushel will be determined with the new scale.

All this data is put together to determine the grade of corn. For example, corn with no more than three percent damage, 14 percent moisture and weighing at least 54 pounds to the bushel would be number one corn, he said.

AJAX, THE strong man of the circus, once appeared as guest of honor on Milton Berle's radio program. In rehearsal, he read his lines perfectly, but when the show actually went on the air, Ajax froze completely at the microphone and couldn't utter a syllable. Berle fed him a line twice, and when no answer was forthcoming, saved the situation by exclaiming, "How do you like that! The strongest man in the world—and he can't even pick up a line!"

Ida Kay insists that this happened on a farm just outside Williamstown on Easter Sunday. A prankish youngster filled a chicken coop with eggs dyed every color of the rainbow. The rooster took one look at the dazzling display, ran straight out of the barn, and killed the peacock.

Mrs. Ray Washburn was sitting in her husband's sumptuous office when a beautiful, streamlined blonde undulated in. "I'm Mr. Washburn's wife," said Mrs. W. "That's nice," said the blonde. "I'm his secretary." "Oh," said Mrs. W., "were you?"

Dixie's, Of Course

DIXIE'S CARMEL CORN SHOP

By GIL PEARLMAN

MOST PEOPLE think that I am new in this field, but the truth is I'm an old newspaperman. I collect old newspapers. At 36-cents a hundred pounds, who can afford to throw them away?

The other day I was looking over my stock in much the same way a miser counts his money. I noticed on the society page an article dealing with the selection of perfume for the ladies.

The article stated that most males who have the prerequisite, that is, money or a charge account, take the purchasing of perfume for their best girl in too light a vein.

It went on to say that the selection of scented water is a very difficult process and it should be bought with the personality of the receiver kept in mind.

THE FIRST QUESTION that came to my mind was what is the difference between perfume and cologne. I discovered that perfume is a fluid preparation, as of the essence of flowers, used for scenting. The synonym given was SMELL. Does this bring to mind other synonyms?

Cologne, on the other hand, is composed of certain aromatic oils and alcohol. If your girl friend is a dipsomaniac she will prefer cologne. It mixes well with seven-up.

I also discovered that cologne is a less expensive gift. Therefore, I prefer a female companion who prefers cologne. You can purchase a quart of "apple blossom" for two Wheaties box-tops and a dime to cover mailing expenses.

A mere ounce of Chanel No. 5, however, runs up into the dollar figures. There is a constant reduction in price along with a constant reduction in quality, until you arrive at Chanel No. 1, which is designed solely for the less aristocratic playboys.

The first thing to consider, when walking up to the perfume counter in the nearest five-and-ten-cent-store, is what the girl friend is going to wear.

If she wears black, a narcissus scent would be most appropriate. If red, a water into which roses have been dipped. That's fine, but what if she wears a French bathing suit?

ASKING THAT question is enough on my part; you answer it. Here are two things to consider before arriving at your conclusion: (1) If she wears a French bathing suit who is going to notice her perfume? (2) You might try "Evening in Paris," sold at better drugstores everywhere.

The expert who wrote this article reveals that if the girl dresses in a tailored tone, your best bet is a woody scent with a spicy undertone.

All men who go with this type of woman needn't worry about financial considerations when buying perfume for her.

They can make the perfume best suited for her by simply squeezing the sap out of a maple tree and adding to that a bit of paprika, with a dash of nutmeg. Might try that myself.

Statistics also show that 85 to 90 percent of the women prefer lighter scents rather than heavy ones. This, I seriously challenge. Or maybe they do prefer light scents, but in heavy doses.

AN EVENING AT a formal dance will persuade you that the average female uses perfume to the extent that one would think she has just finished swimming through the vats at the local Faberge factory, or has accidentally collided with a fifth of "Desire Me."

When she tells you that she puts perfume on by a dab behind each ear, believe her. But feel certain that dab was made by the entire palm of the hand and not merely the tiny end of one delicate finger.

It is my contention that ladies who use perfume to excess don't read the newspaper ads or listen to the radio. When it comes to romance, what can a $5 one-ounce jar of Command Decision accomplish that a 10-cent eight-ounce bar of Lux cannot?

Expert Discovers — Short Cut In Math

NEW YORK — Mathematician John L. Garwood claimed Saturday that he has found the first short-cut in mathematics since the ancient Greeks made the revolutionary discovery that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line.

The Greeks had lots of words for things mathematical, but they all involved work — brain work. Garwood skipped words and mental gyrations and developed a way to eliminate most of the drudgery from multiplication.

He did it with a chart, and guarantees that anyone who can read eventually will learn to get the right answers without counting on a single finger or toe and in one-fifth the time it takes to multiply with pencil or abacus.

The wiry little mathematician who used to be a federal disbursement officer, hopes his chart may some day rescue children from the dreary business of learning what 2 X 2 make. He figures a lot of offices that can't afford mechanical calculators will pay $3 for his math chart too.

It took him 2,000 man hours, thousands of pencils and a bale of paper to make it and he worked and rechecked 7,200 problems before he demonstrated it for receptive students at New York university.

The chart is plastic, measures less than a foot square, weighs only three ounces, is washable and with gentle care will last longer than anyone who uses it. Garwood said.

On the front is the announcement that "on this page your multiplication difficulties ended forever... any answer within a few seconds! This chart eliminates page-turning, machine-noise, fatigue."

In the middle are nine squares of numbers, 10 across and 11 down. On the back are the directions, which guide you to the key numbers in the squares. But there is one catch. You have to add the key numbers found with the chart.

"I haven't found a way to do the adding for folks yet," Garwood said, "but I'm well along on a long division chart."

Student Forum

Question: Do you think slot machines and other forms of gambling can be successfully eliminated from Johnson county?

Ken Roberts, C3, Storm Lake: "It can't really be successfully done. People will gamble one way or another. The state might as well legalize it and make some money by licensing them."

Marilyn Boyle, A2, Iowa City: "I don't think there is enough gambling going on to cause any trouble."

Milton Gordon, A3, Council Bluffs: "It's not a matter of the law enforcement officials being able to stop gambling. It is rather a matter of their wanting to stop it badly enough and how long their enthusiasm lasts."

Fredda Bryson, A2, Newton: "I don't think you can get rid of gambling. Parlay cards will circulate anyway."

Chuck Miller, C3, Clear Lake: "I can't see that football parlays are out of line, but slot machines aren't good for anyone except their owners."

Don Johnson, A4, Spencer: "Like anything, it depends on the officials. If they are interested and the campaign is vigorous, it can at least be minimized."

CHORDS AND DISCORDS BY DRAKE MADRY

Larry Barrett possesses one of the oddest instrumentations of any band this campus has ever harbored.

Four trombones form the nucleus of the band with tenor and baritone saxes, trumpet and rhythm rounding out the group.

Larry is the trumpet man, occasionally doubling on piano. The four bones are Gene Grissom, Tom Richards, Jerry Slighton, and Dean Eberhart. Bob Spillman and John Walters man the tenor and baritone saxes. Harry Mitchell, bass, and Byron Burford, drums, complete the rhythm section. Grant Eastham provides vocals.

"We have some arrangements from the old book," says Larry, "and we have dressed some up to take care of the extra trombone and sax. Stuff like 'Summer-time' and 'When Your Lover Has Gone,' for Grant. 'Prelude to a Kiss' and 'Adios' are new too."

"I'm adding new things as fast as I can," Barrett explains. "Runs about one week for Eastham and two a week for the band. We worked out an adaptation of the old Count Basie tune 'Slider' that Ray Anthony recorded recently."

Barrett explains his band this way: "You see, we have unlimited possibilities to add depth to the band. Depth accounts for that surprisingly full sound we get."

"We can throw the bones against the saxes, or against my trumpet and Walters' alto, or Spillman's tenor and Mitchell's bass. Well, there isn't much we can't do. But the bones add depth to the band."

Personally, we're glad to see a guy like Barrett on campus. Not the most serious musician maybe, but extremely enjoyable. His ideas on how to run a band are his own, not Dizzy Gillespie's or Guy Lombardo's, but strictly Larry Barrett's.

Favorite band: Duke Ellington. "Even his old stuff is advanced," says Larry.

Favorite musician: "If it's possible to play trumpet like Lester Young — well, his tenor work interests me most."

You commerce students will lend an ear to Larry when your annual ball rolls around. Rest of us foreigners will just have to wait until someone gets wise and books Barrett. Should be worth it though.

Miss Norma Cross, assistant professor of piano in the SUI music department, will present a piano recital Monday at 8 p.m. in studio E of the Engineering building.

Miss Cross is an SUI graduate who received an MA degree in music here in 1946. She was an instructor of piano here from 1940 until this fall when she received an assistant professorship.

The young native Iowan, from Forest City, is especially well-known to Iowa City audiences for her interpretations of the piano works of Johannes Brahms.

On several occasions she has appeared as soloist with the SUI Symphony orchestra, presenting such works as the Brahms "First and Second Piano Concertos" and the "Concert for Two Pianos" by Brahms.

Her program Monday night will include a group of Sonatas by Domenico Scarlatti and the "Sonata, Opus 5" by Brahms. WSUI will broadcast the recital and a limited space is available at the studio for a radio audience.

Wednesday night, the SUI Symphonic chorus, under the direction of Prof. Herald Stark, will present its first formal concert of the season at 8 p.m. in the Iowa union.

Two works by Sir Arthur Sullivan, of Gilbert and Sullivan fame, are listed on the program. One, "When the Foeman Bares

"Ah — Rose — Blushing —"

His Steel," is from the operetta "The Pirates of Penzance." Scene for this chorus is in true Gilbert and Sullivan satire with a group of policemen about to engage in battle with a bunch of pseudo-ferocious pirates.

In all sincerity, the policemen's girl friends sing "go to death and go to slaughter—go ye heroes, go and die."

The other work on the program by Sullivan is "Oh Hush Thee my Babe." No satire intended.

"When the foeman Bares his steel"

Another work of special note on Wednesday's concert is "The Well Beloved," by Deems Taylor. Prof. Stark said this number was an Armenian folk song with words and harmonies by Taylor. "It is difficult to fit together," he said, "especially some of the humming parts which present some very lush chords."

'Dedee' Portrays — Girl Seeking Happiness

By VINCE BRANN

It is significant that the first bleak sweep of the camera in "Dedee," which opened Saturday at the Capitol theater, includes not only the Antwerp waterfront but Dedee herself. From the very first, she is part of the whole desolate dock area. It is as if we were being told outright how the movie will end.

What unfolds in the following ninety minutes is not a pretty story, nor is it intended to be. This is postwar Antwerp in its uglier aspects. The wharves of this Belgian city are allegedly the toughest in Europe, and the characters we are to meet in "Dedee" more than prove the truth of the statement.

In fact, Antwerp's city officials, none too anxious to have the seamy side of the city exposed, refused to allow the film to be shot there. Replica sets had to be built in Paris.

Dedee is a cabaret girl, though other names could be found for her profession. Life at the "Blue Moon," however, is only a temporary existence. Her principal desire is freedom and security, away from the sordid atmosphere of this low society. Her pursuit of the goal and ultimate failure form the main core of the film. The script is well built, moving slowly but steadily to two hammer-blow climaxes.

In the title role is Simone Signoret, a beautiful actress who is clearly aware of the difficulty of her role. Never does she allow Dedee to become a cheap girl in whom we lose interest. Miss Signoret makes us believe in Dedee's aspirations and hopes. And after all, Dedee's goal is a fairly universal one, regardless of the level from which one wishes to climb.

Admirable assistance is offered by "Rene," the proprietor of the "Blue Moon," sympathetically played by Bernard Blier. Marcel Pagliero plays "Francisco," the man who tries to help Dedee in her futile flight to a better world. His is a carefully restrained performance.

In the role of "Marco," Dalio gives us a capable portrayal of the boyfriend — consort who holds Dedee by an invisible rein to her environment.

As in the case of so many films from post-war Europe, this one distinguishes itself for its honesty and singleness of purpose. Not in the strict sense a war film, it is concerned rather with basic human desires for a happier existence.

Dedee's desires, however, seem doomed to frustration from the start. Whether this is fate or not is a question for the movie-goer to decide. Certainly as it is painted here, Dedee's environment is one which no one escapes easily.

Goethe Exhibition Opens Next Week

An exhibition of paintings, etchings and poetry by Johann Wolfgang von Goethe will go on display Monday in the Schaeffer hall Ranney library. Prof. Erich Funke, SUI German department, said Friday.

The collection of Goethe works is being sponsored by the SUI library in connection with the Goethe celebration.

Reproductions and first editions of Goethe works will be exhibited, as well as scenes from the German author's life.

The two-week display will open Monday and may be seen from 2 until 5 p.m. daily.

Prof. Thompson Attends Business Bureau Talks

Prof. C. Woody Thompson represented SUI at a national meeting of directors of bureaus of business and economic research which closed recently in New York City.

Thompson is a retiring director of the national organization.

Discussions at the three-day meeting in the Baltimore hotel centered around the projects being carried on by bureaus in various states.

The SUI bureau is currently conducting a survey in southwestern Iowa to determine consumer buying habits.

Local Children's Council To Hold First Meeting

The Iowa City chapter of the International Council for Exceptional Children will hold its first meeting Nov. 17, Chapter Pres. W. B. Schoenbohm said Friday.

The new group, fourth chapter in the Iowa Council, will meet at 7:30 p.m. in room 221A Schaeffer hall.

Arthur Hill, director of the Des Moines public schools' department of pupil adjustment, will talk on "Looking into the Future of Special Education."

'Buddy Poppies' Sell in Iowa City

(Daily Iowan Photo)

Historical Society Elects Newcomers

Prof. William Petersen, superintendent of the State Historical society, Thursday said 37 persons and 135 institutions were elected to society membership Wednesday.

The appointments were made at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Curators. Over 100 Iowa cities and towns are represented in the selections, including Iowa City which rated second highest with six new members.

The Iowa City list: Mrs. Robert Gibson; Prof. James Jones, chemistry department; Dean Mason Ladd of the SUI law college; James Wasley; Joseph Wayner and the Johnson county public schools.

CIO UNIONS MERGE

CHICAGO (P)—The CIO united farm equipment workers of America (FE) announced Friday that the union has merged with the CIO united electrical workers (UE).

Membership Opens For Home Ec Club

An SUI Home Economics club membership drive will be conducted this week, Club President Carol Chopek, A4, Iowa City, said Friday.

Membership is open to any co-ed, Miss Chopek said. No affiliations with the home economics department are required.

Tables will be set up in the home economics section of Macbride hall Monday through Friday for the convenience of anyone interested in joining the club.

The group meets once a month. Theme of the November meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 8, is an "Old Fashioned Style Show," featuring women's clothing styles from the nineteenth century to modern times.

Miss Chopek said authentic dresses from as far back as 1830 will be modeled at the style show. Time and place of the program will be announced later.

SUI Republicans Ask Debate on Farm Plan With Young Demos

A debate on the Aiken-Anderson farm program, a GOP measure, may be in the offing for SUI Young Republicans and Democrats.

Young Republican Chairman John Elliott, L.I. Ottumwa, Friday said he sent a letter to Bob Cosgriff, A4, Tipton, new president of the group, asking that the group to send representatives to the debate.

Date and place for the debate will be decided later and the arguments are to be open to the public.

Elliott was asked why the Young Democrats were chosen to participate in the debate.

"We wanted this to be a serious affair," he said. "So we chose a group we felt was genuinely and sincerely interested in such problems. We wouldn't care for a meeting with anyone whose chief motives might be along other lines."

The debate topic suggested is: Resolved: That the Aiken-Anderson farm program is economically sound and will preserve the freedom of the American farmer.

Hickenlooper, Roberts to Talk on Forum

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Prof. Arthur Roberts, SUI department of physics, Monday will speak at Waverly on the Waverly Public forum topic "Will Atomic Energy Destroy Us."

The Rev. George Schulte, Loras college, Dubuque, will also talk on the forum which is to be broadcast on station KXEL.

Hickenlooper is a member of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy. He has recently attacked policies of the administration's atomic energy commission.

Roberts, a nuclear physicist, previously had advocated fewer secrecy restrictions on atomic research information.

This last week has been a heck of a lot of fun for the pledges of several fraternities and sororities: The Alpha Xi pledges skipped with the DU pledges, all had a good time at Hell's Half Acre. The Alpha Chi pledges took off for C.R. with the SAE and Phi Gam pledges last Monday night. The women treated the men to dinner while the actives from the three houses moaned and groaned because they couldn't find their problem children. Monday night must have been filled with romance... the Zeta and ATO pledges skipped together. The next morning the actives had a sunrise breakfast. Must have really been worried about their neophytes... they didn't even notice that someone had mixed two cans of pepper with their coffee.

Just found stacks and stacks of corduroys at Dunn's and know you'll love them all so much you'll want several pieces so you can mix or match them at your whimsey. Dunn's has just everything in corduroy - jumpers, suits, weskits, dresses, skirts and jackets - and they all carry famous labels. Korday takes our eye in a wonderful manish jacket and a specially smooth flare skirt of Kordway with deep flapped pockets. Mary Muffet corduroy dresses and suits speak for themselves. Other popular styles are made by Mayfair, Bonnie Baxter and Mickey Miss. No need to mention color - Dunn's has every hue on the color wheel and such an assortment you're sure to find your size. Girls, these corduroys are at the lowest prices in town. Rush right down tomorrow. DUNN'S, 116 E. Washington.

Perk up your in-between class moments . . . drop in at Swanner's Dairy Store, 218 E. Washington. For those warmer days you'll find their tasty malts, shakes, and ice cream dishes really satisfy. When the weather is cooler try their delectable weather; Swanner's is your best bet . . . come in this week with the gang.

They say that if you don't drink, smoke or run around with women, you'll live longer. Actually, it only seems longer.

Last week the library in Macbride Hall was as crowded as one of the local taps on Sat. night. It was the result of a few phone calls made by several residents of Currier. Looking for laughs, the gals called about 40 fellows and informed them that they had books due at Macbride and huge fines had already amassed. It seems they had quite a turnout . . . those that had recently taken books out, those that hadn't, and others whose consciences left a slight twinge.

Cold winter nights become warm, friendly ones . . . when you have the gang over for an old fashioned popcorn party. And "our beautiful electric "Popper-Chet" will be the center of attraction, with its heat-proof glass top and smart yellow or blue finish. Only $5.95 at Mulford's. The "Popper-Chet" comes with four extra plastic bowls and has a long wearing spun aluminum base. Egg lovers will go for Mulford's new electric egg-cooker. Completely automatic, this cooker will turn out eggs that are cooked right. Just add a few teaspoons of water and that's all there is to it. Priced at only $3.95 at Mulford's.
