Mediator Confers with Lewis, Calls New Operators' Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) - Federal Mediator Cyrus Ching held a two-hour parley with John L. Lewis Friday and then called southern mine owners to meet in Washington on Monday in a drive to end the 47-day-old coal strike. Coal operators from other sections of the country will be called later, Ching said. In the steel strike, prospects for an early settlement remained uncertain. Two agreements have been reached between steel companies and Philip Murray's CIO united steelworkers, but U.S. steel, the nation's top producer, is not expected to resume bargaining with the CIO union until next week at the earliest. Union demands, shifting from the 10-cent package of free pensions and insurance recommended by President Truman's fact-finding board, were keyed to the terms of Monday's settlement with Bethlehem steel. Both Lewis and Ching were silent on details of their long talk behind closed doors at the Statler hotel. Ching would not comment on Lewis' reaction to his call for section-by-section conferences with the operator. He said he and Lewis

Communist Ousted, Nine Refused Seats On CIO Top Board

CLEVELAND (AP) - The CIO Friday ousted one admitted Communist from its executive board and refused to seat on the board nine other union leaders whose "eligibility" was questioned. Pres. Philip Murray and other right wing officers all were re-elected by acclamation as the CIO convention closed. The right of the nine left wing unionists to serve under a newly enacted constitutional amendment barring Communists from the executive board will be decided by the board itself, possibly at a meeting today. The unions they represent face expulsion from the CIO for violating CIO policies and programs. Among those whom the convention refused to approve for the board Friday were longshoreman Harry Bridges, Pres. Abram Flexer of the United Public Workers, and Pres. Donald Henderson of the Food and Tobacco Workers. The others were James Durkin of the United Office and Professional Workers, Joseph Selly of the American Communications Association, Morris Pizer of the United Furniture Workers, Joseph Jurich of the Fishermen's union, John Clark of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers and Hugh Bryson of the Marine Cooks and Stewards. Pres. Ben Gold of the Fur and Leather Workers, a Communist party leader, was ruled ineligible to keep his executive board post under the non-Communist amendment adopted Tuesday.

Cole Ticket Sales To Begin Nov. 14

Tickets for the Nat "King" Cole-Woody Herman concert will be sold to SUI students Nov. 14 at the Union desk for $1.80. Faculty members and Iowa City townspeople may buy tickets Nov. 15 at both Whetstone's and the Union desk. The Cole-Herman duo will perform at 7:30 and 10 p.m. Nov. 18 in the Iowa Union main lounge under the sponsorship of the Union central party committee.

Acheson to Urge Rapid European Integration

WASHINGTON - Authoritative U.S. officials said Friday night that Secretary of State Dean Acheson will urge at a Big Three meeting in Paris next week that western Europe speed up its political, economic and defense integration. They said he will tell foreign ministers Ernest Bevin of Britain and Robert Schuman of France that if Europe doesn't put its house in order now, it may never have another opportunity. Acheson will have no concrete proposals to lay before the Big Three. Instead, he will confine himself to stressing that the Europe must tackle its problems with a "new sense of urgency." These quarters said Acheson hopes that the two-day Big Three session will give "a shot in the arm" to current and coming efforts to tear down Europe's trade barriers, and build a united Europe politically as well. While Britain called for the meeting to discuss "German problems," Acheson's stand will be that the most important questions are "what kind of an organization is Europe going to have" and "how soon can it get going." Acheson probably will leave here Monday night. He will spend two days with Bevin and Schuman and return to Washington by the end of next week.

Faculty Group to Open SUI Television Series

Five SUI faculty members will be seen on television Sunday at 6 p.m. in the first of a series of programs featuring representatives from this university, Prof. Orville Hitchcock, speech department, said Friday. Station WOC-TV, Davenport, will present a half-hour program, Hitchcock said, in which he, as chairman, and four other faculty members will discuss the "educational impact of television upon the whole nation." The program will originate in the Davenport studios. Appearing with Hitchcock will be Dean Bruce Mahan, extension division; Dean Dewey Stut, college of liberal arts; Prof. John McAdam, education department, and Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger, speech department. "The first 10 minutes will be used to establish whether television is really significant yet as a medium of communication," Hitchcock said. The group will look at television's growth over the past six months, he said, and consider the increase of purchasers and the fact that more advertisers are moving into this area. The group will then look into television as a teaching device, Hitchcock said, and its possibilities and responsibilities in relation to education. He explained: "We'll look at television in terms of elementary and secondary schools and discuss the likelihood of networks and independent stations putting on broadcasts to schools. "There's also the question as to whether schools will set up television facilities for themselves. "We're also interested in the educational impact television will have on people generally." Hitchcock said that with television, adults and students alike can watch history being made. He cited examples such as Japan's signing the surrender in 1945 and the inauguration of presidents. The discussion scheduled for Sunday evening will be staged in a living room scene, he said, and the members of the group will carry on the discussion much as they would in a home. Discussion programs of the series will be aired every other week, with dramatic shows featuring SUI students on the alternate weeks. The series will continue indefinitely. Hitchcock temporarily is chairman of the discussion groups but other members will be changed for each program.

Reveal NSLI Refund Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - The lower the final three digits of his serial number, the sooner a veteran will get his National Service Life Insurance special refund. The order in which checks will be mailed, beginning in January, was announced Friday by the veterans administration. Under the procedure, veterans with 000, 001, 002, 003, 004, 005, 006, 007, 008 and 009 will be in the first group mailed checks. In the second group are veterans whose serial numbers end with 010 through 019. Next come those with serial numbers ending 020 through 029. This procedure continues until the final group - 990 through 999 - is reached. Approximately 16 million veterans are entitled to repayments totaling $2.8 billion. Checks will range from a low of 90 cents to a high of $528, depending upon the amount of insurance a veteran carried and the length of time he paid premiums. So far, nearly 13.5 million veterans have applied for refunds. Some applicants will miss early payments even if their serial numbers end in low figures. This is due, VA said, to the fact that additional information must be obtained from them. These applications will be handled separately.

Pleads Not Guilty To Jury Charges

Kenneth Smith, Lone Tree, Friday entered a plea of not guilty to grand jury indictments charging him with illegal possession of gambling devices and intoxicating liquors. District Court Judge James P. Gaffney Thursday denied Smith's motion to set aside the indictments, in which he claimed he was forced to testify before the grand jury. The judge's ruling Thursday stated that Smith "was not compelled under ... the Code of Iowa, 1946, to testify or produce evidence tending to incriminate him or to expose him to public ignominy, and that he is not immune from prosecution under ... said code." The trial has been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday.

were reported urging him to proceed under the Taft-Hartley law, as he did once before, in an attempt to halt the crippling coal walkout. Lewis met a double-barreled setback Friday in a renewed bid to end the strike on a sectional basis. Only a few hours before Ching made his move, Lewis widened an earlier offer to talk with Indiana operators alone. This time he made it a two-state proposition, taking in Illinois. Both turned him down cold.

U.S. Clamps More Controls On Strategic Goods Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government Friday clamped new controls on strategic U.S. goods to keep them from slipping into Russia via Communist China - or by practically any other route. To prevent reshipment to the Soviet bloc in Europe already banned from getting direct shipments of strategic goods from this country - it decreed: A license must be obtained from the commerce department to ship to anywhere in the world except Canada any of a long list of goods classed as "highly important to the national security." That gives the agency a chance to "screen" all proposed strategic goods shipments and prevent them if it suspects the goods will be forwarded to Russian areas from the listed destination. Furthermore, it is now in position for the first time to keep strategic industrial as well as outright military goods from the Chinese Communists, whether or not there is ground for suspecting that reshipment to Russia is intended. Hitherto, the rigid license control precautions against reshipment applied only to exports to Europe and adjacent areas such as the southern rim of the Mediterranean sea. Thus, until Friday the barriers against re-shipment to the Soviet bloc applied almost exclusively to the Marshall plan countries which in most instances are now joined with the U.S. in a military aid pact.

Local Man Charged With Forgery Here

Charges of forgery have been filed against Rudolph Henry Krotz, 37, Iowa City laborer, police said Friday. Krotz is now being held in the county jail pending preliminary hearing in police court, police said. Krotz allegedly passed 10 checks totalling $80 in Iowa City. Seven of the checks had false signatures it is believed, police said. Three of the checks were signed by Rudolph Krotz and were returned from an Iowa City bank marked "no account." Krotz was convicted October 21 in Iowa City police court of passing a false check for $10 in an Iowa City cafe. He was sentenced to 10 days in jail. Four of the checks held by police were signed H.J. Chadek. Other signatures used were B.D. Schmidt, Bob Grant, and Bob Cromley.

SUI Football Team To Return Sunday

SUI's football team will return from the Iowa-Minnesota game at Minneapolis on a train scheduled to reach Iowa City's Rock Island depot at 8:10 a.m. Sunday. E.K. Jones, A3, Osceola, president of Tailfeathers, the official SUI pep-club, urged all SUI students to turn out to welcome the team back from their Gopher-trapping expedition. "With about 2,000 students at the depot to see the team leave, the only improvement that could be made would be to have over 4,000 a the depot Sunday morning to welcome them back," Jones said Friday. Jones and the SUI cheerleaders left Friday noon by car for Minneapolis. Earthquake Causes San Diego Workers To Rush to Streets

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (AP) - An earthquake rocked much of southern California Friday with a gentle swaying motion at 2:35 p.m., (Iowa time). It was sharp enough in this city, only 15 miles from the Mexican border, to cause downtown office workers to rush to the streets. The earth movement was recorded on seismographs at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, the University of California at Berkeley and Santa Clara university. Dr. C.F. Richter, seismologist at Cal-Tech, said the quake's center was 150 miles from Pasadena, placing it below or inland from San Diego. He said the quake was severe enough to have caused damage at its point of origin if that were a populated area. In Los Angeles the quake went unnoticed except by persons at the top of the 26-story city hall who thought they felt a slight motion. The Los Angeles weather bureau also believed it felt something but police did not receive the flood of calls they usually get when a pronounced earthquake is felt.

Minnesota Favored to Knock Hawks Out of 1st Place Tie

By ALAN MOYER Daily Iowan Sports Editor MINNEAPOLIS - Iowa's 36-man squad arrived here Friday afternoon by a special train, hopeful of making Minnesota football history - by presenting the Gophers with third successive defeat, a trick that hasn't been turned in many a year. A crowd of slightly more than 63,000 is expected to watch the high-flying Hawkeyes, tied with Ohio State for the Big Ten leadership, clash with Bernie Bierman's vaunted Gophers, whose early season Rose Bowl special was all but derailed by successive losses to Michigan and Purdue. The weather forecast for this afternoon is clear and cool, with the temperature at a nippy 50 degrees. It is the seventh straight Saturday of nice football weather for the Hawks. The Western conference battle, undoubtedly the most crucial Big Ten contest of the day, is the 43rd between the two schools and will go a long way toward deciding who will represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl. Minnesota, although fifth in the league standings with a two and two record, is rated from a nine to 18 point favorite, but the peppery Hawks, winner of three out of four conference games, are primed to win their first game here in the Minnesota stronghold since 1921. It was way back there - 28 years ago - that Iowa last won at Minneapolis, the same year the Hawks went on to capture an undisputed Big Ten championship. In 1939, '45 and '47 Iowa came out on top in games played at Iowa City. The all-over series, the longest of any loop foe for the Hawks, stands at 31 victories and 11 defeats, in favor of Minnesota. Also at stake in the contest that is scheduled to begin at 1:30 is Floyd of Rosedale, a 21 by 16-inch bronze pig that since 1935 has gone to the winner of the Iowa-Minnesota game. About 2,000 persons saw the Iowa team off at 7:10 Friday morning from the Rock Island railroad depot in Iowa City and 6,000 Iowans are expected to be on hand for the game this afternoon. Both teams are in near perfect physical condition and both are sure to be in top mental form. For three quarters against Oregon a week ago the Hawkeyes looked sluggish and as if they were thinking of Minnesota instead of the non-conference foe. Then with a sudden burst of life they scored four touchdowns and won the game, 34-31. Minnesota was established a pre-season favorite to play in the Rose Bowl and win the conference championship, however. (Continued, Page 4)

Enthusiastic Fans See Hawkeyes Off For Today's Game

About 2,000 football fans swarmed over the Rock Island depot at 7 a.m. Friday to stage an enthusiastic sendoff for the Hawkeyes' important engagement with Minnesota this afternoon. Thirty-six players, university officials and the coaching staff boarded the train that will take Iowa to its most important game of the season. The excitement that has filled Iowa City during recent weeks, as Iowa's football team has taken on the luster of a Cinderella team, bubbled over at the pep rally. Pandemonium reigned during the 30-minute demonstration. Tailfeathers were on hand early to rally the near-dawn risers. The University high school German band under the direction of Bill Luckenbill were ready to sound their "A's" and get the singing started, but the fans didn't need them. Cheerleaders just suggested singing "California, Here I Come" and "On Iowa", and they were drowned out in song. Enthusiastic students from the north - east part of town formed an impromptu parade as they marched to the depot. Residents of fraternities, sororities and Currier hall joined the growing parade as it passed their doors. Noisy fans surrounded the railroad car where the Hawks were seated and demanded to see the team captains. They kept up their cries till Co-Captains Bob Longley, Don Winslow, and Bob McKenzie stepped out to say hello and promise to work for victory. Then "We Want Eddie" went the chant, and Dr. Eddie Anderson, Hawkeye coach, came to the platform to assure the folks the Hawks would be in there fighting. Later in the day, SUI Young Republicans sent this telegram to the Hawkeyes at the Hotel Curtis in Minneapolis: "This is one time when we'd approve of something like Truman did to Dewey. Make it 14 over Minnesota."

New Law Won't Affect Students

3,000 SUI Workers Get Same Wages

By MART BAILEY

You'd have to scratch pretty hard to find more than ten or a dozen SUI students who will be directly affected by the recently-passed national minimum wage law, according to several SUI officials.

The bill, which was signed into law Oct. 26, pertains only to persons engaged in production for interstate commerce. That quickly rules out the vast majority of SUI students who are working their way through school.

Robert Ballantyne, director of student placement in the office of student affairs, said he knew of "perhaps ten students" who were working at such jobs as trucking, freight handling and form printing that would come under the act which, after Jan. 26, will guarantee a minimum of 75 cents an hour.

Those persons, Ballantyne said, already are getting more than the minimum wage. Because Iowa City is not an industrial center it is doubtful that many more will become eligible for the guarantee under the present law.

Prof. Russell M. Ross, of the political science department, suggests the possibility of a change in the law. He said recently that U.S. Representative Tom Martin of Iowa City had indicated that "Congress was not completely satisfied with the bill."

But that is only a future possibility. The present law does stimulate some discussion, however, in the job and wage situation here.

Wages paid to students of SUI are decidedly lower than those paid to students in most other major universities, Ballantyne said. It is primarily because Iowa City does not offer major competition in industrial opportunities, he added.

Of the nearly 3,000 students who are working through the SUI placement service only about 400 are working off campus. The others are on the university payroll doing work which ranges from teaching and highly skilled labor to part time, intermittent jobs such as raking leaves and putting up storm windows.

Most of the students working regularly off campus are board-jobbers at Iowa City restaurants. In general the students are working for their meals, but a few also get small weekly pay checks.

Those students who work only for their food put in three hours a day for three meals. A fairly standard schedule exists in the restaurants, Ballantyne said. Students work a half hour for their breakfast, an hour for their lunch, and an hour and a half for supper.

A few board-jobbers who carry a little additional responsibility receive pay besides. A few others work three hours for two meals (lunch and supper) and get cash to cover breakfasts purchased elsewhere.

Slight deviations from this general rule exist in widely scattered instances but remain a relatively minor factor.

Many student board-jobbers are fairly well satisfied with their work and with the meals they receive in return.

However, three students in one SUI dormitory agreed their board jobs were like play because "there are so many students working there is not enough work to keep us busy." They said they stood around tossing drinking glasses back and forth a large share of the time.

The vast majority of students working, both on and off campus, are doing so to "make both ends meet."

At the same time most employers seemed pretty well satisfied with student help. One reported having had difficulty keeping enough students working.

On campus, the story is more complex. Wages generally range from a low of 50 cents an hour to a high of $1.25.

In the bottom bracket are jobs which require only a part of the student's time while on duty. An example is the checker who keeps students from carrying off library books.

The other extreme includes graduate teaching and research assistants and assistants in engineering and sciences.

Average wages run between 60 and 75 cents an hour.

Students finding jobs through the placement bureau often find they can utilize their learned skills to advantage. Ballantyne told of one boy who sought a board job in the downtown district. After questioning the boy about his major and year in school, Ballantyne arranged for him to work in scientific work which both paid more and gave him practical experience.

Ballantyne said wages here are "up about a nickel" since 1947.

A Look at Student Wages —

Hundreds of SUI part-time student workers might now be benefiting from the 75 cent minimum wage bill had not the senate and house disagreed on the extent of coverage during the waning days of the 81st session.

As it is, only a handful come under the provision of the new law, and most of them are already making more than the 75 cent minimum. SUI students continue to work at jobs that pay all the way from a top of $1.25 to a low of 50 cents an hour. The average hourly wage falls between 60 and 75 cents.

Had the house bill been adopted, approximately 3-million more persons would have been included within the scope of the bill. It would have included more persons in the retailing and merchandising businesses.

The present law will aid about 1.5-million workers — few of them SUI part-time workers. Law Prof. C.M. Updegraff said recently the majority of SUI students, if affected by the law at all, will be affected through "indirect competitive results."

In other words, some students may try to move into jobs where the minimum is in effect. These jobs would have to be "producing for commerce," however, and are so limited in number for students that such changeovers would probably be negligible.

Why are student wages at such relatively low levels? Why did you work for $1.25 during the summer and work nearly as hard now for half as much?

First of all, most students work at part-time jobs that are not highly skilled. Waiters, bus boys, dishwashers, janitors, messenger boys, yard workers, etc. do not receive high wages in any city.

Secondly, in Iowa City there is an abundance of available labor. It might be called an employers' paradise. Competitive conditions dictate low wages. This is the case in most college towns where the student population bulges the population.

Consequently, employers secure the student's services for a small amount of cash or even on a meal-an-hour basis. This latter situation in reality finds the student working for as little as 40 or 50 cents an hour, depending on the production cost of the meal.

Many students have to work to stay in school. An elaborate university set-up helps many to find employment both with the university and Iowa City firms.

The work of Robert L. Ballantyne and the office of student affairs is to be highly commended along this line.

It would be ridiculous for the student to refuse to work because he cannot secure a wage as high as the wage he was getting during summer employment. Sacrifice is bound to accompany higher education.

However, it seems the working student should be entitled to a minimum wage of 75 cents. Employers sometime say they cannot trust the student, that he will "cheat" when he gets a chance. Some say they are not dependable. The working student justifies this behavior by saying he is "being paid so little." It all boils down to the vicious circle sort of thing.

The same day president Truman signed the minimum wage bill, Pres. Emil Rieve of the CIO Textile workers renewed demands for a $1.00 minimum wage.

It seems ridiculous to plug for such a measure when there are so many yet not covered by the 75 cent minimum. If we have a minimum wage, it should be a minimum wage — for everybody.

Apparently it will not come from Washington for a while, although congress is reportedly dissatisfied with the present bill and may do something about it. President Truman would like to see broader coverage.

Until the time that an all-inclusive national minimum wage law is put into effect, the student labor situation might be improved by a voluntary minimum wage requirement.

With no student bargaining power, this would be difficult to put into effect.

Fire Victim Identified As Itinerant Worker

MOORHEAD, MINN. (AP) — The body of a man who died in a fire here Thursday was identified tentatively Friday as that of Donald (Superior Whitey) Driscoll, 49, itinerant laborer and railroad section hand.

The identification was made by Lester Young, who told police he was with Driscoll until Young left for Detroit Lakes, Minn., Wednesday.

PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Solomon Guggenheim, 88-year-old copper tycoon, philanthropist and patron of the arts, died early Thursday.

Plan Change Of Price Index

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because Americans are changing their buying habits and revising their living standards, the labor department announced Friday that it is starting a major overhaul of its "consumers' price index."

The index, issued monthly, reflects the approximate cost of living on the basis of reports gathered from representative city areas across the country. The latest report last week showed general living costs at 169.6 percent of the 1935-39 average, which is used as a base figure.

Since some labor contracts are tied to the index, with wage adjustments made periodically in relation to it, the department stressed that the big job of recalculation will take three years, and that the continuity of the index will be preserved when it is shifted over to a revised base. This will be done by a period of overlap for old and new calculations.

"The index now is still the best in the world," said the announcement, "but we want to make it a more useful measure in the light of current conditions. Therefore, we are putting everyone on plenty of notice about proposed changes, so that proper provisions can be included in any contracts being negotiated in relation to the cost of living figure."

Chief reason for the overhaul, Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics told a news conference, is the evident major change which has taken place in American living standards since 1936 when the last major revisions were made.

He explained that the index is kept current by obvious developments (nylons were substituted for silk hose in the charts a long time ago), but that the department now desires a much more comprehensive sampling of the public taste.

The proposed three years of surveying for this purpose will cost about $4-million and will involve collection of facts on living habits in a half million homes, detailed records of expenditures from some 20,000 families and some 600,000 price quotations from thousands of retail stores and service establishments.

The first point of attack will be a survey, beginning Nov. 14, of the rents charged in 11 cities for houses and apartments built after 1946 and which are exempt from rent controls. This will start in Baltimore; Birmingham, Ala.; Boston; Cincinnati; Detroit; Jacksonville, Fla.; Memphis; Minneapolis; Mobile, Ala.; Portland, Me. and St. Louis, and subsequently go into other metropolitan areas.

Wisconsin Residents Asked for Cash to Fight Phone Hikes

FOND DU LAC, WIS. (AP) — Wisconsin cities and villages will be asked to raise a "war chest" to fight proposed new telephone rate hikes.

Representatives from 45 municipalities Friday voted to ask local governments to contribute one percent per capita immediately and an equal amount later if more money is needed.

The money will be used to hire experts to combat the Wisconsin Telephone company's and Commonwealth Telephone company's applications for rate boosts. The Wisconsin company recently asked the state public service commission for a $6-million-a-year rate hike and the Commonwealth company asked the PSC to set the figure.

Both companies were granted rate increases earlier this year. Hearings on the new applications will be held by the PSC next month.

Some 80 officials from the 45 communities met here Friday to map strategy for their fight. Their "defense committee" has the backing of the league of Wisconsin municipalities.

Milwaukee City Attorney Walter Mattison, defense committee head, urged the group to fight also for an investigation of the Bell Telephone system's interlocking companies. He said Wisconsin should take the lead in urging the American Municipalities association convention at Cleveland Nov. 29 to demand the investigation.

SO PRINCESS Margaret placed a cigarette between her lovely lips?

Reading that brought to mind several questions I've wondered about for a long time.

Despite all the stories you hear of her gay ole' times, I wonder if Her Highness ever really lets her hair down and says "dawgonnit to heck!"

And I wonder if she ever calls another royal girl friend to tell all about a new charmer who's "so different."

And, you men, imagine going to call for a girl of Maggie's standing. To maintain her "normal" reputation she'd have to keep you waiting while she applied the last few touches.

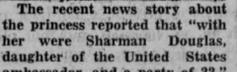

There's nothing unusual about that. But imagine yourself in such a position.

While you wait for you home town girl, you probably bat the breeze with her father, which can be good or bad.

While waiting at Eastlawn you probably twiddle your thumbs.

But while you waited for Margaret, you'd have to make idle talk with the King of England.

I'VE ALSO WONDERED if the "good-nights" on the palace steps (if there are any steps) are ever interrupted by the Queen's voice breaking the night's stillness: "Margaret, get yourself in here. It's ten minutes till two!"

The recent news story about the princess reported that "with her were Sharmar Douglas, daughter of the United States ambassador, and a party of 22."

This brings up another point. Could a princess go for a romantic stroll with only one young man, or must she always stick close with a large party?

If the latter is true I wonder if her suitors have adopted as their theme song: "I Never Saw Maggie Alone."

AN OTHERWISE perfectly nice young fellow told me the other day of a joke he and others used to play on a friend.

This friend happened to be a very short individual and was pretty sensitive about it.

The mere mention of short people always threw him into an arm-swinging, red-faced rage, during which he offered to whip anybody in the house.

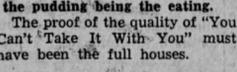

So from time to time his buddies cut clippings from magazines, mailed them to a certain manufacturer and signed them with the self-conscious fellow's name.

Imagine his indignation when he frequently opened letters and found in them numerous pamphlets advertising elevator shoes.

THEY'RE GONE and I'm glad: Jokes associating television with bars. They were becoming almost as numerous as those dealing with Bing Crosby's horses.

THEY'RE ALMOST gone and should be: Jokes about Dr. Gallup's errors in the last elections.

THERE ARE STILL a few and occasional good ones: Jokes about the "men of distinction."

It must be very gratifying to the kids in last week's cast of "You Can't Take It With You" to know their efforts were good enough and appreciated enough to actually necessitate additional performances.

I heard one fellow knocking the play but I remembered the old proverb about the proof of the pudding being the eating.

The proof of the quality of "You Can't Take It With You" must have been the full houses.

Legislator Asks State Buy Lincoln Papers

DES MOINES (AP) — State Rep. Fred Schwengel (R - Davenport) Friday showed statehouse officials facsimiles of original papers signed by Abraham Lincoln which he recommended the state buy.

He displayed a copy of a letter signed by the Civil War President which was written to Annie Wittenmyer, the woman who established Iowa's home for orphans of Civil War servicemen.

U.S. Leadership Expands

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. (P) Foreign Affairs Analyst

Is it true that the United States is on the way to "world dominance" such as no other nation ever enjoyed," as Sen. Herbert O'Connor of Maryland told the National Foreign Trade convention in New York this week?

The word "dominance" carries a traditional connotation which is unsavory. The diplomats use "leadership" instead, and "pre-eminence" probably better describes the goal toward which most Americans think they are headed. But that the non-Communist nations tend more and more to revolve around the United States can hardly be disputed.

And new strands of the ties by which they are bound are being woven every day.

O'Connor added that the country must become "import-minded" as well as export-minded, and Dean Acheson used almost the same words to emphasize it before the same group. The exporters were told that it was no longer healthy to sell more than you buy — that the "favorable" trade balance was too big, no longer means what it used to mean before the U.S. became the one big creditor for the world.

On the same day President Truman was stressing the importance of his "point four" program for development of underdeveloped areas as a market which could keep American industry running full blast into the indefinite future.

Acheson said trade barriers — tariffs — would be reduced to encourage this — to increase the market here for what the rest of the world produces so it can trade for what we produce.

There are a lot of conflicting interests involved. Some areas that produce the same things we do, will compete with American markets, and with American products for world markets. But a lot of people usually get hurt — and holler loudly — in such an adjustment.

Establishment of the United States in the role of customer as well as godfather will, however, add greatly to its pre-eminence. Godfathers, and the terms of their bequests, do not always produce unalloyed gratitude among their beneficiaries. The customer, however, though he may not always be right, always wields power.

Local Junior Red Cross Receives European Art

Three pictures, all painted by children of foreign lands, have been received by the Johnson county Junior Red Cross chapter, Mrs. Lorna Mathes, local Red Cross director, said Friday.

The paintings are products of children in Austria, Poland and Sweden, and came to Iowa City as a part of the exchange system in the International Art program of the Junior Red Cross.

Last summer a local painting was selected to be sent overseas and this year's art program is again in full swing under the direction of Mrs. Ellis Crawford, Johnson county Junior Red Cross chairman.

The new pictures received include a flower pattern, a child praying, and a snow scene.

The paintings soon will be on public display in the window of Scharf's Camera store, Mrs. Mathes said.

Mrs. Mathes said the International Art program is now in its third year. Begun in 1947 the program produced more than 3,000 contributions from Junior Red Cross members, of which the most representative were sent abroad. During the 1948-49 school year the total paintings submitted in the country totaled 5,000. The program is catching on and an even higher mark is expected this year.

The project was formed by the Junior Red Cross and Eastern Arts association with the purpose of promoting good will among children of all nations and thereby achieving international understanding.

Football Wives Lead Lonesome But Happy Life

'Widows' Say Men Rarely Talk Shop

By VIRGINIA BOYLE
Wonder what it's like to be a football player's wife? The wives of SUI's six married football players agree it's lonesome, it's socially limiting, but it's a wonderful life.

SUI's football wives have had no chance to be dressed up or go out much in the last few months. They have to eat dinners alone almost every evening and they can't help worrying about their husbands.

But they're still the greatest fans the SUI football team has.

All are looking forward to the season ending so they'll no longer be football "widows", but each with a tinge of regret, particularly the wives of senior members of the team.

If it weren't for a magic word — football, the lives of SUI's football wives wouldn't necessarily entwine. Three are housewives, two are career wives, and one is a student.

Length of time they've been married varies from three months to five years, but during the football season each of their lives centers around the sports page of the newspaper, the practice sessions at the fieldhouse, and the games.

All of the wives save clippings and game souvenirs. In most cases the 1949 clippings are shoved in a drawer for pasting in the scrapbooks another time, or for sending home.

SUI's football couples, with one exception, knew each other in high school. The Geigel's met on campus at SUI.

Strangely, football isn't the major topic of discussion in their homes. "Of course you hear a lot of football," Mrs. Bob Geigel said. But in general the wives agreed their husbands hear almost enough football before coming home.

"Probably because talking to me is just like talking to a stork is the reason my husband doesn't talk shop at home," Mrs. Don Gregory said.

SUI's football wives are great football fans, but each says her knowledge of the game has increased immensely in the last few years.

Cards and movies are the type of entertainment football couples enjoy during the season. "You get a chance to see a lot of old friends on game days," Mrs. Geigel said. All the couples play canasta and bridge either with each other or with other married friends.

The old stereotyped idea that football players demonstrate football and football plays even at dinner with salt and pepper shakers, knives and plates as the players, just isn't the truth. "While you can't depend upon the hours," Home Economics Junior Mrs. Glenn Drahn said, "it's just part of the job."

Most of the wives find, as Mrs. Gerald Nordman does that there's not enough time to watch practice sessions at the fieldhouse. But they're either listening to or watching the games, and most of them eat at the training table with the players on Sundays.

Mrs. Earl Banks, who lives in Chicago, saw the Illinois and Northwestern games here. The Banks' whole lives are built around football. Their friends include great football stars like Buddy Young, Duke Slater, George Tallafiero, and Sherman Howard, so football discussions flow freely in their lives.

Football isn't the only sports in which the football husbands are interested, their wives said.

"If we ever have a son, I think Bob will teach him to play football the minute he's old enough to walk," said Mrs. Bob Longley. Most of the wives agreed to this. "I don't see how any son

ANOTHER FOOTBALL PROGRAM will be added to the collection of Mrs. Bob Longley, 119 S. Linn street, wife of Football Player Bob Longley, when he returns from Minneapolis. Mrs. Longley saves clippings and programs. She'll be listening to the game at her home in Davenport this week-end.

A SPECTATOR AT TODAY'S Iowa-Minnesota game, and a most interested spectator at that, will be Mrs. Glenn Drahn, 318 Brown street. Mrs. Drahn, A3, wife of Quarterback Glenn Drahn, is driving to Minnesota for the game with relatives from Macona.

of ours could escape," Mrs. Gregory said. "Not with Don a prospective coach, and a father-in-law who is a coach in the family." "Definitely" the wives would like to see Iowa's football team spend New Year's in the Rose Bowl, but it's quite far to have their hopes too high, it was agreed. All would like to be there if — well, just if!

Personal Notes

Mrs. James Dwyer, Des Moines, is a guest of Sigma chapter of Alpha Xi Delta, 114 E. Fairchild street, this weekend. Mrs. Dwyer is first national vice-president of the sorority.

Mr. L.L. Miller, an SUI graduate from Los Angeles, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Winters, 14 S. Clinton street, last week.

SUI Graduate Nurse Appointed Supervisor

Anna E. Overland, SUI graduate, has been appointed to the staff of the University of Cincinnati college of nursing and health, Dean Laura E. Rosnagle announced Thursday.

Miss Overland will be an instructor in nursing and health and will be supervisor of nursing in the obstetrical department.

An army nurse during the war, Miss Overland received training at SUI and received the diploma of graduate nurse and the bachelor of science degree in nursing here.

She received a master's degree at Columbia university teachers college and did post-graduate work in obstetrics at the University of Oregon.

Campus Chest Donors to Pick Song of '49

What's your favorite song this year?

In a contest to be conducted next week with the campus chest drive, "SUI's favorite song of '49" will be determined.

Drive Chairman Bob Kramer, A3, White Plains, N.Y., said Friday that solicitors will carry ballots and everyone who contributes will get to vote for his favorite song, whether it's classical, popular or jazz.

When every member of a dormitory or housing group has contributed to the chest drive the favorite song of that group will be announced and played over WSUI.

Kramer said. The campus chest is sponsoring "Campus Shop" over WSUI at 9:15 each evening.

At the end of the drive the official favorite song of SUI will be announced, he said.

Nation's Grid Powers Face Rough Tests Today

Now This Is the Way We'll Beat 'em, Boys

Longley. A sellout crowd of 63,000 is expected at Memorial stadium to watch Coach Bernie Bierman's big, tough Gophers attempt to shake a slump that has cost them their last two games. The Iowans will be trying to shake a jinx of 28-years duration in which they have been unable to win a football game at Minneapolis.

ever, after Michigan extended its mastery over the Gophers the fight seemed to disappear and winless Purdue applied a 13-7 upset one week ago.

Now the biggest team in the conference — with a line averaging 216 pounds per man — must win or abandon all championship or Bowl honors. For Iowa, figured for a second division finish, it is the chance to rise to undreamed of heights.

Dr. Eddie Anderson and his staff of coaches have done their best to bring the team to a peak for today's game. Past records and statistics can be thrown out, the game the Iowa players have been pointing for ever since the upset over Northwestern two weeks ago is here.

Jack Dittmer, the fleet end who has snagged a touchdown pass in every Iowa game this year, will start at right end, while Bob McKenzie, the other half of the best end combination in the league will share the captain's duties with Don Winslow and Bob Longley.

Bob Geigel and Don Winslow, veterans of Iowa football wars, will start at the tackles.

Dick Laster will probably be the starting center and will play on offense. Joe Paulsen and John Towner share the defensive center assignment. "Junebug" Perrin and Austin Turner, whose play has meant a lot to the yardage gained by Iowa runners, are slated to start at the guards.

Glenn Drahn and Fred Ruck will handle the quarterbacking job, with Drahn starting and also doing a great deal of the passing. He'll have Don Commack and Mearl Naber at the halfback spots, with Bill Reichardt at fullback.

Jerry Faske, the speedy halfback, will also see heavy offensive duty, while Longley, Fullback Mike Riley and Gerald Nordman will be ready for action.

Longley has been mainly a defensive halfback but after last week's 94-yard touchdown dash, may be inserted into the offense. Bill Greene, Duane Brandt and Chuck Denning comprise the defensive unit with Longley.

Bierman has warned his Gophers that drastic changes are in store for his team, in an effort to bring his powerhouse out of their power dive. Last week Bud Grant and Buster Mealey started at the ends, Leo Nomellini, the 270-pound all-American and Dick Munding, a 245-pounder, at the tackles, Tom Hendrickson and Gerry Lundin at guards and Clayton Tonnemaker at center.

The backfield whose publicity hasn't been near as extensive as that of the line, supposedly the best in the nation, was made up of Bill Thiele, quarterback, Ralph McAlister and Billy Bye, halfbacks and Frank Kuzma at fullback.

Both clubs are geared to high scoring games, with Iowa averaging 26 points per outing. Minnesota's line has been the strong point, allowing the opposition an average of less than 100 yards rushing per game, but the team has averaged 22 points a game in winning four and losing two in six games played.

Irish, Army, Michigan, Baylor Set for 'Knock-Down' Battles

NEW YORK (AP) — By tonight it may be possible to say with some assurance whether Notre Dame and Army really are colossal and wonderful, as has been suspected, or merely great.

The two big teams which have overwhelmed The Associated Press ranking poll in recent weeks face a couple of college outfits, Michigan State and Fordham, which have no fear in their bones and no intention of submitting without a kneec-down and drag-out battle.

Oklahoma's Sooners, No. 3 pin-up boys of the college circuit, are heavy favorites to bat Kansas State around; California, No. 4, is a four-touchdown choice over Washington State, and rebounding Michigan, No. 5, is a 14-point favorite over Purdue.

It will occasion no great surprise if Baylor, current undefeated leader of the Southwest conference and No. 6 in the ballot box, takes a painful tumble against Texas.

Cornell, seventh-ranked pride of the Ivy league, has a breather against weak Syracuse. So does Rice, No. 8, against Arkansas, at Houston, and Southern Methodist, No. 9 against the Texas A&M at College Station. Michigan State holds the No. 10 spot at least until Notre Dame gets hold of the ball.

Other major games today:
Midwest — Iowa at Minnesota, Indiana at Illinois, Wisconsin at Northwestern, Kansas at Nebraska, Iowa State at Drake, South Carolina at Marquette, Tulsa at Oklahoma A&G, Kentucky at Xavier (Ohio).
East — Ohio State at Pittsburgh, Penn State at West Virginia, Temple at Boston U., Brown at Yale, Colgate at Holy Cross, Dartmouth at Columbia, Princeton at Harvard, Rutgers at Lafayette.
South — Georgia Tech at Tennessee, Vanderbilt at Louisiana State, Mississippi State at Auburn, Wake Forest at Duke, Boston College at Clemson, Georgia at Florida, Chattanooga at Mississippi, Richmond at N. Carolina State, Davidson at VMI, George Washington at Maryland.
West — Stanford at USC, Washington at Oregon, Oregon State at Idaho, Denver at St. Mary's, Missouri at Colorado, New Mexico at Arizona, Colorado A&G at Utah, Utah State at Brigham Young, Wyoming at Colorado State.

Gerry Coleman Wins Top Rookie Award In American League

NEW YORK (AP) — Gerald Coleman, graceful second baseman of the New York Yankees, is the top rookie in the American league.

The 25-year-old San Franciscan was the pick of 40 of the 116 baseball experts who voted in The Associated Press poll to win out in a three-cornered battle with Roy Sievers of the St. Louis Browns, and Alex Kellner of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Sievers, the 306 hitting outfielder who banged out 16 home runs in his first year in the majors, drew 33 votes to nose out Kellner for second place. The A's southpaw star, who won 20 and lost 12, was named on 30 ballots.

Fourth place went to Mike Garcia, strong-armed righthander of the Cleveland Indians. Garcia received seven votes to five for Detroit Outfielder Johnny Groth and one for Chicago Flycatcher Gus Zernial.

Coleman, who hit 276 and fielded sensationally at times for the Yankees, played a prominent part in the team's terrific fight for the American league pennant. A surprise replacement for 1948 regular George Stinewiss, the Newark graduate was in the thick of the battle all the way.

ABOUT 2,000 HAWKEYE fans were on hand at Rock Island station early Friday morning to give the team a noisy send-off to Minneapolis. Pictured in a leather jacket with a microphone in his hand is Tailfeathers President E. K. Jones. The Hawks seemed happy and pleased to see the big crowd. (Story on page one.)

Freshmen Harrier Trial Pleases Cretzmeier

Coach F.X. Cretzmeier held the third freshman cross country trial Thursday. He reported that his fresh squad has shown great improvement since the first trial six weeks ago.

Gene Marchi, Fort Dodge, led the field with a time of 16:12 over the three-mile course.

Following Marchi (in order) was Jerry Stone, Sioux City; Bill Gibbons, Elgin, Ill.; Tom Ryan, Dubuque, who won the first two trials; Stan James, Iowa City; Wayne Emmons, Iowa City; Willie Zuek, Fort Dodge; Wayne Moldenhauer, Charles City; Reid Hartsock, Des Moines; Joe Houlihan and Frank Kindaid, both of Des Moines.

All of the boys ran their best races of the season in this trial with the top four men having a good time, Cretzmeier said. Gene Marchi's father was captain of the Iowa harrier squad when he was in school.

There will be one more time trial for the freshmen. It will be held sometime next week.

Ghan Brothers Lead Burlington To 19-0 Victory Over Iowa City

BURLINGTON — The Burlington Grayhounds found the Little Hawks to their liking Friday night and hung a 19-0 beating on the Mississippi Valley title contenders.

Sammy Snead Cops North-South Tournney

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Sam Snead had his putter working Friday, along with his famed long game, and romped in a six-stroke winner of the North and South Open Golf tournament with a rousing 70-66 finish for 274, fourteen under par.

In taking the $1,500 first money in this $7,500 event, the PGA champion from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., ended up only three strokes off the tournament record set by Ben Hogan seven years ago. His closing barrage, a six under par 34-32, was only one stroke off the course record.

The only bright spot in the Hawket offense was the running of Halfback Duane Davis but he found it too much to keep pace with Burlington's Ghan brothers, Jim and Don, who sealed the verdict with a touchdown each in the second quarter.

The Grayhounds were quick to take advantage of a City high miscue in the second period by converting a Hawket fumble on their own 11-yard line into a touch-down.

It took only two plays with Jim Ghan skirting right end from the two-yard marker to score. Brother Bob's placement was good.

Five and a half minutes later the Grayhounds marched 74 yards in nine plays to score again. This time Bob Ghan climaxed the drive on a 29-yard dash.

After battling on even terms through the third and most of the fourth quarter, Burlington's Tom Yager broke through to take a City high punt on the Iowa City 46. End Bob Darnold piked up the ball and ran to the 26.

From there John Wilson cut over tackle for the final score of the evening.

The only sustained drive the Hawkets could muster came in the fourth quarter.

Score by Quarters:
Burlington.....0 13 0 6 — 19
Touchdowns: Jim Ghan, Bob Ghan, Wilson. Extra points: Bob Ghan.

U-High Edges Wilton, 27-21

WILTON JUNCTION — University High squeaked a determined fourth-quarter rally to capture a 27-21 victory here Friday night in the Blue Hawks' last game of the season.

On the last play of the contest, U-high quarterback Bob Ewalt intercepted a Wilton pass on his own 6-yard line to stop the Beavers' final surge.

U-high started out strong, building up an early 14-0 lead which grew to 27-7 in the third period, but the plucky Beavers were not to be denied. They caught fire in the third period, scored two quick touchdowns, and seemed well on their way to the tying score when Ewalt's game-ending interception halted the drive.

Ewalt, playing almost the entire game with a painfully bruised leg, was the mainstay of the Blue Hawks' offense. Other outstanding U-high men were Halfback Dean Evans, End Bob Ballantyne, and Guard Leslie Rohret, all seniors who played their last game.

U-high's first score came midway in the first period on a 41-yard dash by Fullback Ronnie Coldsnow. It was followed in the second stanza by a 31-yard touchdown run by Ewalt.

Wilton retaliated shortly before the half when a 9-yard pass from Charles Schroeder to Pete Birkhofer clicked for a TD.

Evans scored in the third period from the 1, and Carter Morgan's third true dropkick made it 27-7.

Score by Quarters:
U-high.....7 7 13 0 — 27
Wilton.....0 7 7 7 — 21
Touchdowns: Coldsnow, Ewalt, Evans, Ballantyne, Birkhofer, Duffy 3.
Extra points: Morgan 3, Schroeder 3.

Baseball Draft to Include 249 Bonus Players

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler announced Friday that 249 bonus players will be included among the minor leaguers eligible for the 1949 major league draft which will be held here on Nov. 17.

Some of those designated as bonus men in the higher minor leagues are former major leaguers and some became bonus players by signing contracts which guarantee them a share of their purchase money if they are drafted.

The major league council recommended Tuesday that the much criticized bonus rule be eliminated and the possibility that it may be dropped at the major and minor league meeting in December may help some of the former major league players to get another hitch in the big time.

Student Builds Midget Autos

Cost of Car Ranges From $44 to $6.50

By JULIENNE JENSEN

The SUI fieldhouse is the scene of some high speed thrills when Robert Brose, G. Iowa City, races his midget autos on a specially-designed race track in front of the north gym.

Brose, an education major who plans to teach general science, makes miniature autos as a hobby. He began building the model cars about two years ago as a result of his enthusiasm for midget auto racing. He is now building his fourth car.

The sample - sized auto average 12 oz. in weight, have an all-aluminum frame and operate on a one-cylinder model airplane motor. The direct drive engine has no transmission.

His most expensive car is a chrome model which cost him $44. Using some homemade parts, he was able to make another car for $6.50.

Brose buys the frames ready-made and alters them to accommodate the driving mechanism and exhaust. The original bodies are actually toys.

Tires for the miniatures are specially made and last for six hours of running time. About six times around the track will remove the tread.

The fuel used is a mixture of castor oil, methane, ether and turpentine. The midgets will run 75 to 80 miles per hour for about 10 minutes on a single tank of gas.

The fieldhouse track is 32 feet in diameter, painted and smoothed. It must be perfectly level, as the cars only clear the floor by 3-16 of an inch. A short steel rod is screwed into the floor in the center of the track to which the autos are fastened with strong wire.

"The cars make a terrific noise when running," Brose said. He added that if a car should break its tether while in motion and strike a person, the force would be enough to break a leg.

When asked if he would someday build a race track in his home in which to run his cars, he said, "No, my wife wouldn't like it. It's too noisy!"

Corn Picking Contest Judged by Iowa Citizen

Ray Smalley, director of Johnson county's production and marketing association, was a judge at the first corn picking contest sponsored Thursday by Cedar Rapids Station WMT.

He was in charge of counting the gleanings left on the stalks after the mechanical pickers went down the rows.

The contest featured several new models of corn pickers in action plus displays of other corn harvesting equipment.

Polio Case Total Drops As 3 Are Transferred

The number of active polio cases at University hospitals dropped to four Friday as three patients were transferred to inactive wards, hospital officials said.

Those transferred to the inactive list were Paul Tjeskoter, 30, Castalia; Jacob Mulford, 4, months, Bradford; and Joyce Faustman, 4 months, Traer.

Hunters Requested To 'Kill No Hens'

Pheasant populations in Iowa are increasing, but the State conservation commission still says, "Kill No Hens."

The commission says that when male and female pheasant populations are about equal, there is actually an excess of males and they should be hunted.

If hunters do not shoot the hens, next year's reproduction will be the same as if the males were not shot since pheasants are polygamous.

Police Find Stolen Car At Local Sales Barn

A car, reported stolen at 12:45 p.m. Friday, was located by a p.m. at the sales barn on South Linn street, police said.

The owner, Greg Halstead, Downey, told police the blue 1937 Chevrolet was taken from his parking place at 221 S. Dubuque street.

Legion Head Denies Daughter Threatened By Anonymous Notes

INDIANAPOLIS — National Commander George N. Craig presided over the American Legion's national executive committee meeting Friday while police investigated rumors his baby's life was threatened by anonymous letter writer.

Craig admitted he got several letters. But he denied they contained direct threats to him, his wife or their four-month-old daughter, Margery Ellen.

A state police detective confirmed that a trooper stood guard over the baby's crib Thursday while the Craigs attended a reception, parade and rally in Craig's honor at Brazil, Ind.

Some 35,000 to 40,000 persons attended the celebration. Craig refused to say what the letters contained. He said they obviously were "crank letters from religious fanatics," and that he didn't tell police and dismissed the letters from his mind.

Old Age Payments In Johnson County Hit $6,095 Monthly

Three hundred sixty-nine Johnson county residents are receiving about $6,095 monthly under the old age and survivors insurance program of the social security act.

Of the total, $3,686 is being paid each month to 185 retired wage earners and $574 to wives. The remaining $1,835 goes to 128 widows and children of deceased wage earners, he said.

Reid pointed out that amendments to the social security act passed by the house of representatives have no effect on the law as yet. The senate will not consider them until congress reconvenes in January.

Minimum monthly payment under the law is $10 and the maximum is now $45.20. Where the wage earner has a wife aged 65 or dependent children under 18, payment may total $85, Reid said.
