Quirino Leads Critic of U.S. In Philippines

MANILA (Wednesday)— President Elpidio Quirino, friend of the United States, today swept into a 35,000-vote lead and his backers claimed victory in Tuesday's presidential election.

Jose P. Laurel, critic of U.S. policy in the Philippines, refused to concede defeat. Laurel had held a 10,000 early vote margin as a result of returns from Manila, where he had a good lead.

The balloting was marked by bloodshed and wholesale charges of election irregularities.

Latest unofficial figures gave Quirino, Liberal party candidate, 126,802, Laurel 91,168 and Jose Avelino, political foe of Quirino, 33,599.

House Speaker Eugenio Perz, Liberal party campaign manager, said on the basis of the trend so far Quirino would be retained.

In the race for vice-president, unofficial totals gave Sen. Fernando Lopez a small lead over Nationalist Manuel C. Briones, while Vincente J. Francisco was trailing. Lopez is Quirino's running mate in the Quirino wing of the Liberal party. Francisco is Avelino's running mate.

Violence was widespread. Nine persons were killed and eight wounded in the town of Narvaan in Ilocos Sur province, where the constabulary fought an armed band that allegedly terrorized the area.

Mayor Higinio Obsum and two of his relatives were killed at Buluan in Sorsogon province. Another mayor, Roman Perez, was shot at Balangas, south of Manila. A third was kidnapped at Santa Maria, Bulacan province.

Numerous persons fled from Zamboanga in fear of violence.

At Tacloban, on Leyte Island, acid was thrown into a ballot box.

Three others were killed and one wounded in another election clash at Tiaogin in Quezon province.

A slight earthquake that struck Manila late Tuesday added to the election excitement.

Kaiser-Frazer Loan Supported by RFC

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Reconstruction Finance corporation Tuesday turned down a request from Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) that it hold up a proposed $44.4-million loan to the Kaiser-Frazer Auto corporation.

Fulbright asked Monday that the RFC withhold final action on the loan. He said there was question in his mind whether it was in accord with the RFC law.

Tuesday, RFC Chairman Harley Hise telegraphed Fulbright at Little Rock that the RFC "cannot comply with your request" because its board of directors "already has finally approved the loan."

Kaiser-Frazer sought the loan in order to build and finance distribution of its proposed new car in the low price field.

Man in Iowa City Jail Sought in Wisconsin

Police said Tuesday that Hosea Bes, Steele, Mo., who is being held here on a charge of grand larceny, is wanted in Kenosha, Wis., for a burglary committed there Oct. 15.

Bess and Joseph Coleman, Kansas City, Kan., who is also charged with grand larceny, were arrested by Iowa City police Oct. 30 in a box car on the Rock Island railroad.

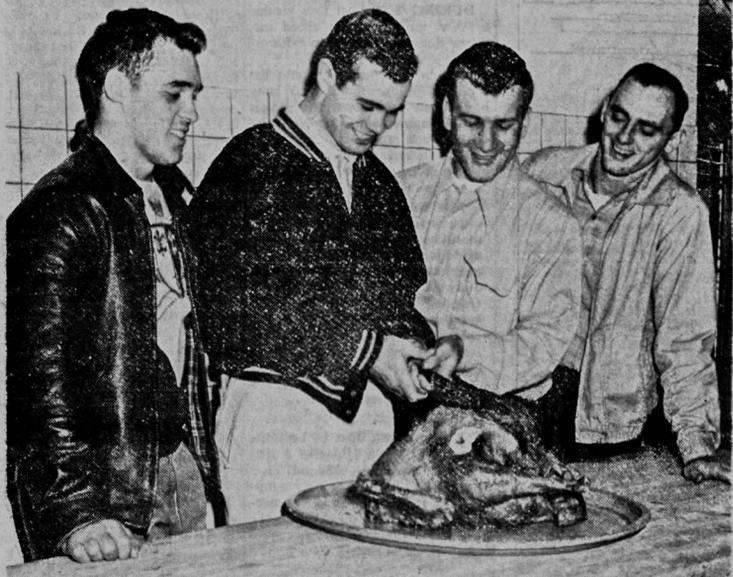

Police recovered two jackets, five pairs of trousers, and five pairs of socks believed stolen from two department stores and a parked car here.

Non-Partisan Group Picks Committeemen

Atty. Clair Hamilton was named chairman of the advisory committee of Iowa City's non-partisan executive group favoring the council-manager form of government at a meeting in Hotel Jefferson Tuesday noon.

Other officers of the organization elected Tuesday were Mrs. Don Lewis, vice-chairman; Myrtle Kitchell, secretary; Roy Ewers, R. P. White, and Mr. Alexander Kern, members of the finance committee, and Clark Caldwell, publicity chairman.

The executive committee made plans to hold regular meetings each Friday noon at Hotel Jefferson. The group was formally organized last week.

Just What the Doctor Ordered

FOUR HUNGRY HAWKEYES clustered around one of five 25-pound turkeys which provided the main courses for the football team's annual turkey dinner Tuesday night. Jerry Long, A3, Ottumwa, (center, dark jacket) and Lou's Ginsberg, C4, Cedar Rapids, took care of the carving chores. Anxious audience include John Towner (left) A2, Des Moines, and Bob Lengley, C4, Davenport. The turkeys were contributed by Dr. Wayne Foster, Cedar Rapids. Foster, who originated the dinner idea in 1939, has provided the turkeys every year. He is a member of the SUI board in control of athletics.

Ching Invites Lewis, Owners to Meeting

By HOWARD W. WARD

WASHINGTON (AP)— Convinced that the steel strike was nearly over, government mediators turned to the soft coal deadlock Tuesday, calling John L. Lewis and operators to a meeting here Thursday.

The fact that three major steel companies have now reached agreements with Philip Murray's CIO steel workers was regarded by government officials as a sign of a quick end to the 39-day-old steel walkout.

The coal strike, which has now lasted 51 days, was not so easily written off. But Consultation Director Cyrus S. Ching tackled the problem. In a telegram to the contending parties he noted that collective bargaining "has failed to result in an agreement," and asked spokesmen for each side to a mediation meeting.

When Ching issued his invitation to the conference, Lewis was in Chicago where he had called a meeting of his 200-man UMW policy committee for Tuesday afternoon, only to postpone it until today.

2 Students Listed As Polio Patients

Joy Schroeder, A1, West Point, admitted to the active polio ward at University hospitals over the weekend, was still in "serious" condition Tuesday, according to Dr. W.D. Paul, chairman of the division of physical medicine.

Paul said Tuesday there "had not been much change" in Miss Schroeder's condition since she was admitted to the active polio list.

Larry C. Willmack, E3, DeWitt, reserve lineman on the SUI football squad, also was still in "serious" condition Tuesday.

The number of active polio cases under treatment at University hospitals rose Tuesday to 10 as two new patients were admitted to active wards and one person was transferred to the inactive list.

Admitted Tuesday were Mrs. Lucille Owens, 28, Winfield, and Craig Jannusch, 3, Ottumwa. Both were in "fair" condition, hospital officials said.

Sharon Metzler, 6, Coralville, was the patient transferred to the inactive list.

Two Men Trapped In Tunnel Cave-in

SEATTLE (AP)— A conduit tunnel cave-in Tuesday trapped two workmen 60 feet below the surface on the University of Washington campus.

Constantly slipping sand in the vertical shaft from which the tunnel branched blocked rescue efforts.

Dr. Charles Kruse, who risked his own safety to go down the shaft in the early rescue operations, said "there is very little chance they are alive."

The trapped workmen were identified as Ed L. Olson, Seattle, and James McNab, about 35, of Retsil, across Puget Sound.

Fans to Give Hawks Send-off with Parade From Currier Friday

A parade from Currier hall to the Hotel Jefferson will highlight the send-off rally at 8:30 a.m. Friday when the football team leaves for the Iowa - Wisconsin game at Madison.

Tailfeathers Pres. E. K. Jones said the send-off rally will be held at the Jefferson, from where the football team will leave by chartered bus at 8:45 a.m. He urged all members of the student body to turn out and help make the parade and rally a success.

The parade will begin at 8 a.m. Friday when members of all fraternities on campus will meet at Currier hall. They will be joined there by Currier women and begin the parade down Clinton street to the hotel.

"Students living in sororities and housing units along Clinton street and all other SUI students are urged to join the parade along with members of the Hotel Jefferson," Jones said. "The more students who turn out the more successful the rally will be."

SUI cheerleaders will take part in the parade and send-off rally. No formal program has been planned.

VIOLATORS FINED $35

The police docket for Monday showed 25 persons were fined a total of $35 for parking and meter violations. Four cases were dismissed and one safety check was ordered.

Mommy's Gone A Way for Awhile

"WHERE DID MOMMY GO?" three children of Mrs. Nettie Nantz, Tulsa, inquired anxiously after being awakened by officers investigating her death. Mrs. Nantz was found dead along a highway, a bullet in her chest. Her husband, Grafton, 32, was kneeling at her side. Investigator Brick Fowler said Nantz told him his wife shot herself at their home and he was rushing her to a hospital when a fire on their car threw out. Fowler said he would continue to question the husband. The children are (left to right) Bob, 10, Sandra, 4, and Don, 13.

Lehman Wins Senatorial Test; O'Dwyer Re-Elected As Mayor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrat Herbert Lehman won election to the U.S. senate from New York state Tuesday night, and President Truman hailed the victory as a big boost for his Fair Deal program.

Lehman, four-time governor of his state, piled up a big lead over his Republican opponent, Sen. John Foster Dulles.

In the bitter pre-election campaign, Dulles sharply attacked the domestic program of the Truman administration. He argued those policies were the way to "statism" and would curb individual freedom.

Lehman backed the President's program down the line and in turn got a plug from Mr. Truman.

The Democrats also came out on top in New York City where Mayor William O'Dwyer was re-elected by a large margin. He defeated Newbold Morris, Republican - Liberal - Fusion candidate and Communist-backed Vito Marcantonio, American Labor party.

The Lehman - Dulles contest was the high spot of Tuesday's elections scattered across the country.

Curley Loses . . .

Another struggle that attracted wide attention resulted in James Michael Curley — last of the old time political bosses still in power — being tossed out of the mayor's chair in old Boston.

Bidding for a fifth term, the 74-year-old Curley bowed to a comparative newcomer, City Clerk John Hynes. The latter had the backing of Secretary of Labor Tobin, himself a vote-getter of note in Boston.

Dulles conceded to Lehman at 9:44 p.m. (Iowa time) Tuesday night. In a telegram to Lehman, the defeated Republican said:

"Altogether, the Democrats found several causes for rejoicing. They captured a number of mayoral chairs from the Republicans in upstate New York, including Syracuse, Binghamton and Geneva. And they took several city offices in Philadelphia.

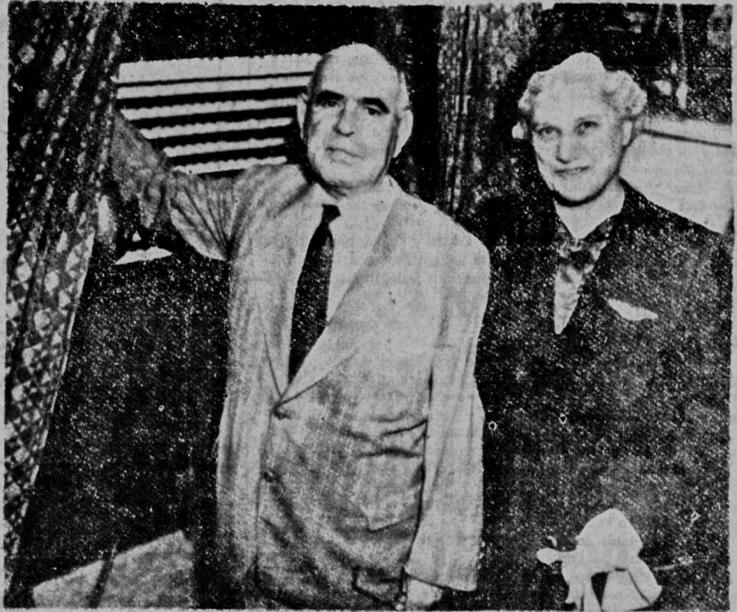

"The people of the state of New York have decided the election. I congratulate you and wish you well in this position of high responsibility."

When he had read the text of the telegram at his Hotel Roosevelt headquarters, Dulles commented that "this is the first round, not the last round," and he added:

"I believe with absolute conviction that the principles to which we fought will prevail."

Dulles, an architect of the bipartisan foreign policy, was appointed to the senate last July by Gov. Thomas Dewey, who campaigned for him in the race against Lehman. Dulles succeeded Robert Wagner, Democrat, who resigned because of illness.

Lehman Votes in Hot Senatorial Race

STANDING OUTSIDE A POLLING BOOTH in New York City are Senatorial Winner Herbert H. Lehman and Mrs. Lehman. The former democratic governor had just cast his vote in New York's hotly contested senatorial race. Lehman defeated Sen. John Foster Dulles in a race regarded as a preview of the 1950 campaigns.

Elections at a Glance

Here are the winners and apparent winners in Tuesday's elections:

New York State — Herbert H. Lehman (D) defeated Sen. John Foster Dulles (R) for a one-year unexpired senate term ending January, 1951.

New York City — Mayor William O'Dwyer (D) defeated Newbold Morris, (Republican-Liberal-Fusion) and Vito Marcantonio (American Labor party) for mayor; Mrs. Edna F. Kelly defeated two male opponents to represent the 10th district (Brooklyn) in the national house of representatives.

Virginia — State Sen. John S. Battle (D) defeated Walter Johnson (R); a proposal to repeal the state poll tax and give the general assembly broad powers over election requirements was defeated.

New Jersey — Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll (R) was re-elected for four year term, beating Elmer H. Wene (D).

Boston — City Clerk John Hynes (D) defeated Mayor James M. Curley (D) in a non-partisan mayoralty election.

Louisville — Mayor Charles Farnsley (D) defeated Sheriff Rees Dickson (R) for mayor.

Detroit — Albert E. Cobo held a substantial lead over George Edwards in the non-partisan mayoralty race.

Philadelphia — Democrats wrested four city offices from Republican control in an upset.

Bridgeport, Conn. — Socialist Mayor Jasper McLevy reelected for ninth consecutive term.

Syracuse, Binghamton, Rome, Port Jervis, N.Y. — Democrats ousted Republican mayors.

Gallup Says He'll Eat Pheasant Now

NEW YORK (AP)— Dr. George Gallup, who called them wrong in the elections last November, tried again Tuesday with a new method of poll-taking—and came close.

Gallup's final survey on the red-hot New York senatorial race made Democratic former Gov. Herbert Lehman the winner with 57 percent of the vote and Sen. John Foster Dulles, his Republican opponent, the loser with 43 percent of the vote.

With 4,215,602 votes cast Tuesday night, Lehman was leading with approximately 54 percent of the vote. Dulles was losing with approximately 46 percent.

It wasn't perfect, but pollster Gallup said, "I feel that I can now quit eating crow and try a little pheasant for a change."

Kansas Senator Dies In Fall Downstairs

PARSONS, KAN. (AP)— Sen. Clyde M. Reed (R-Kan) was killed Tuesday night in a fall downstairs at his home. He was 78.

The senator, who returned to his home from a hospital only last week after an attack of influenza, apparently died instantly. Dr. Guy Cramer said the cause of death was not immediately determined.

Mrs. Reed was the only other person in the house at the time. She was in an upstairs bedroom and did not witness the accident.

Navy Scolding For Crommelin

WASHINGTON (AP)— Navy Capt. John G. Crommelin got off with a severe reprimand instead of a court martial Tuesday for his action in blowing the lid off the bitter row over national defense policies.

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, stiffly rebuked the 48-year-old navy crusader on three counts:

1. Insubordination.

2. Violation of naval secrecy regulations.

3. "Deliberate" circumvention of an order expressly forbidding Crommelin to take part in the inter-service controversy.

In a letter entitled "subject: reprimand," Sherman told Crommelin he had "deliberately ignored" his responsibilities to his naval superiors, and declared:

"You brought into question your fitness to exercise command or to occupy a position of trust and confidence under those superiors or elsewhere within the naval service."

Then, after the cold phrase "you are hereby reprimanded," Sherman notified Crommelin that his suspension was lifted and that he was restored to duty.

Why Must We Say Good-Bye?

By GIL PEARLMAN

DURING THE past few weeks, a few people have asked me, "How does one become a columnist?"

So today I thought I would list for my fellow men, who may have such ambitions, the stages of development present in the process of training oneself to write a column. Such is the magnitude of my philanthropy!

THE BASIC pre-requisite you must have is a definite humanitarian goal in mind — such as I do. If by chance, someone ever asked you in what year Judy Garland starred in "Beau Geste," and I had helped you supply the answer through this column, life would be worth living.

The first real problem a columnist faces is that of selecting a title for his essays.

I REMEMBER that to be quite an obstacle when I needed a title for these writings. "Secret Files of the FBI," seemed quickly adaptable. Except the only connection I have ever had with the FBI was with a female narcotics agent in Minneapolis.

She caught an uncle of mine smuggling dope to jobless musicians in Ontario.

THERE ARE, I have been told, three elements necessary for the presentation of a column. A newspaper, a writer, and readers. A newspaper should not be too difficult since there are exactly 1,313 published in the United States alone. This listing does not include the 65 horse racing dope sheets and the "Daily Worker."

A writer is also found with ease. Almost everyone I know knows how to write, except Rudolph Schmetz, who was my roommate last year. Of course, the fact that Rudolph couldn't write seems very minor when you consider the fact that he couldn't read.

FINDING AND keeping readers poses, if you'll excuse the expression, the real problem. Many people just don't like to read, which is very understandable. I, myself, hadn't read the works of Aristotle or Homer until I was at least five. Maybe six.

In order to keep what readers you obtain, there are a number of taboos that have been handed down through the years to members of the journalistic caste. A columnist must observe these taboos. He is bound by custom.

1 — Never speak derogatorily about children. Most people love children and you would only create a feeling of antipathy.

2 — Never speak derogatorily about adults. Most people love adults and you would only create a feeling of antipathy.

3 — Never speak derogatorily about people you love. Most people love antipathy and you would only create a feeling of children and adults.

IF YOU ADHERE to these "mustn't do's" the only thing you have left to write about are flowers and animals. Thus arises a delicate situation. Very few people are interested in flowers and animals, except maybe Frank Buck. You could write about Frank Buck.

If you follow these steps and observe these rules, you are then ready to become a full-fledged columnist. Then, I sincerely invite you to join me on my moonlight strolls.

On moonlight nights I cover the waterfront, in solitude, munching what little food I have, and wondering how am I possibly going to meet tomorrow's deadline.

Group to Nominate Boy Scout Officers

The nominating committee for the Iowa River Valley Boy Scout council will meet tonight at Washington, Iowa, to submit candidates' names for next year's officers.

Council Scout Executive Martin Hunter said Tuesday all council members are expected to attend. Tonight at the Henry Sabin school here parents will hear an explanation of Cub scouting by Cub Master Bob Snider.

Prices of Farm Products Rise

A three percent rise in the prices of Iowa farm products was recorded from mid-August to mid-September by the SUI bureau of business and economic research.

The composite farm price index, based on 1939 prices, rose from 274.2 in August to 282.5 in September. The September figure was the same as the March index and almost five percent above the post-war low recorded last February.

These statistics were reported Tuesday in the Iowa Business Digest, the monthly publication of the bureau. It reported that Iowa farmers have received prices so far this year that are 175 percent higher than 1939 prices.

Nationally, farmers' cash receipts for the first eight months of 1949 were 10 percent below the receipts in the same period last year. In Iowa, receipts for the first seven months were about 11 percent below receipts for the same period last year.

Consumer prices have remained fairly stable on a national basis since February, but have been about three percent below last year's peak.

A slow recovery from this year's recession was indicated in the Digest. Employment in Iowa, although six percent below last year, was up two percent since August. Bank debits in 11 Iowa cities rose two percent in September over August, one percent higher than in September, 1948.

Kirk Porter to Attend Des Moines Meeting

Prof. Kirk Porter, head of SUI's political science department, will leave Friday to attend a meeting of the Western Policy committee at the Hotel Savery in Des Moines.

The closed meeting of about 40 Iowa leaders in industry, agriculture, journalism and education will be addressed by U.S. state department officials, Porter said.

These government leaders will explain the foreign policy plans of the department to the group.

Pres. Virgil Hancher was invited to the meeting but is unable to attend, Porter said.

Addressing the meeting will be Isadore Luben, economist; John Evans, chief of the division of international resources, and Mrs. Margaret Carter, chief of the public liaison division of the state department, Porter said.

Back to the Indians?

Normally, around the first of November, winter has already aimed a few blasts and the ear muffs and overcoats have been hauled from the moth balls.

This year, however, a delayed-action Ind an summer is making us think of swimming and crocuses (albeit not too seriously) even before we've had to walk home in the slush without our overshoes.

Indian summer, similar to "spring fever" in that it gives one an excuse for not doing anything but to think profound thoughts, is certainly one of the nicest times of the year.

Clear skies, floating cobwebs and a warm sun offer one of the best reasons we've ever heard for not spending the afternoon at the library.

And, it all is, though, we know what's going to happen. We'll take Saturday off, grab a shotgun and a light coat and take off for the open fields. And they'll have to send out a St. Bernard to break a track for us to get home.

For Barkley: A Triumph

In a couple weeks Vice-President Alben Barkley will wind up one of the most famous courtships of a decade when he marries Mrs. Carleton S. Woody of St. Louis.

Barkley's personal triumph might be chalked up as a victory for the fair deal program. The senate didn't treat the fair dealers very well during the turbulent session of the 81st congress.

However, Barkley has emerged with a victory—a victory that had all the earmarks of a Hollywood courtship. The whole world was certainly tuned in on the developments of the courtship.

Barkley claims to be a great believer in the power of public opinion. He said he knew he couldn't fall to win Mrs. Hadley's hand with so many people "pulling for him."

So, as the 72-year-old vice-president and his new wife settle down to marital bliss and grow old gracefully, they will be able to look back on a congressional session that just about wrecked the Democratic party. However, a victory will have been salvaged by the "Veep." He got his woman.

No Basis for Fear

Those persons who have berated the unions for being "hot beds of sedition" and Communist-controlled must have received quite a shock from the recent CIO Cleveland convention.

Right-winger Philip Murray was elected to his 10th term as president of the national CIO. Walter Reuther, another outspoken anti-Communist, was re-elected vice-president, and the whole convention was marked by the strong treatment Communist factions received.

The electrical workers, led by leftish Albert Fitzgerald, were ousted from the CIO for failure to conform to general CIO policy. The nationwide strife that has followed this move has been caused by the right-wing locals attempting to get back in the parent CIO. A new CIO international electrical workers union was created for this purpose.

Approximately 800,000 workers, belonging to party line unions, were expelled from the CIO. Most of the leaders of these unions had Communist leanings if they had not openly declared Communist party support. Murray said he thought one-half of this number would be re-admitted to the CIO as they cut their affiliation with the Communist cells.

All this indicates that the CIO, long accused of being run by Moscow puppets, is not spreading the Communist doctrine in the nation's labor ranks.

Certainly there were Communists in key positions. The national convention successfully eliminated them. Board membership was denied to Harry Bridges, longshoremen leader; Pres. Abram Flaxer of the United Public Workers, and Pres. Donald Henderson of the food and tobacco workers. All are self-avowed Communists.

The Cleveland convention, attended by 600 delegates representing 4-5-million union members, demonstrated that any fear of Communist domination of the CIO is fantastic.

New Day Ahead

The Institute of Life Insurance has come up with some surprising figures about government costs. The day is soon approaching when the government will take a bigger slice out of our pocketbooks than the amount we spend for food, the institute claims.

For every dollar spent on food in the U.S. in 1948, 98 cents went to the government; for every dollar spent on food in 1947, 90 cents went for government expenditures.

Joker in the Deck

Monday's supreme court decisions may set the pattern for settlement of the current coal strikes blocking production the nation over.

The High court decided to block the fines levied by Federal Judge Alan Goldsborough against Mine Chief John L. Lewis stick once and for all. The fines were levied when the magistrate decided, in 1948, that the federal government does have the power to step in with injunctions to halt the progress of a strike thought to be harming the national welfare.

The joker in the deck may be the legality of strike-stopping injunctions using different powers of the Taft-Hartley act. The court hasn't said whether it will consider the constitutionality of these provisions.

Perhaps the $1,420,000 fine that Lewis and the miners will have to pay will make the UMW chieftain aware that the public is mad abut the whole business. There's more tied up in this strike business this time than rises to the surface.

Although President Truman has not said he will step in and stop the strike with his powers from the Taft-Hartley act, that threat has been in the back of everyone's mind.

The results of Monday's supreme court decision and their bearing on the eventual outcome of the current strike will bear watching.

Cabbages or War

A curi-ous chap wearing a long robe and sandals arrived in New York the other day, advocating cabbages and cauliflower as a means of preventing war.

He was Raymond Duncan, philosopher-boet who came to this country from France. A confirmed vegetarian himself, Duncan said wars are started by meat-eaters, and that no vegetable-growing nation ever touched off a war.

With the price of meat what it is, Duncan may find a following of gigantic proportions among us hungry people.

Cautious Nehru Bewares Of Cold War Activity

Jawaharlal Nehru has ended his goodwill tour with assurance that it will greatly improve relations between India and the United States, but state department officials undoubtedly wish that he had been more specific.

India, of which Nehru is prime minister, is the key to non-Communist Asia. The United States would like to see her take the initiative in building up a bloc designed to contain communism within the borders of China.

Nehru opposes communism. But he is carefully avoiding participation in the cold war, prefers the middle role which some European countries including France thought they could play in the early post-war days.

NEHRU TOLD Americans that India would fight against aggression, but made no promises of political support in the meantime.

Some of his speeches were interpreted to mean that India would help steer Asia away from any Kremlin tie-up. But no western tie-up was promised, either.

Nehru stressed that Asia is interested in food and the other necessities of life, not in ideologies. It may have been a hint that India would ultimately side actively with those who helped her materially. He didn't say for sure. He always stressed that friendship would be returned for friendship, but that no charity would be accepted with strings attached.

Nehru didn't ask for anything.

But he did outline some of the things his country needs. He promised fair treatment for American investment in development of industry.

While Nehru was here, Washington let it be known that work was going forward on a trade program under which India would get some of the things she needs in return for raw materials.

THERE WAS an unusual atmosphere about the visit of this man, one of the world's most powerful. One of his powers derives from the fact that he is adored by India's millions.

Because of this he has the prospect of a continuity in office unique among republican governments. And because of India's position as the Orient's rapidly advancing industrial heart, he is a prime figure in all Asia.

For once, then, instead of carefully scrutinizing a visitor who needs help, the United States seemed herself to be under scrutiny. Newly independent peoples of the east want to take no chances on western ties which contain the slightest hint of revived imperialism.

Maybe if they can be satisfied on this score there will come a time when Nehru and the people he represents will be less wary of the active anti-Communist partnership which America would like to see formed.

Organized Bands Sell Valuables

Organized bands of thieves regularly comb the interior of the huge stone building in Berlin for scraps of copper, tin, lead, and zinc.

Carried off under cover of darkness, this booty is peddled surreptitiously to small German manufacturers of electrical equipment and precision tools.

Even in broad daylight, you can stand outside the Reichstag, with the single West-Berlin policeman on duty, and hear the clang of hammers and picks within.

"Yes, there's thievery going on," the policeman admits. "But if I were to go in, they'd run out the other side. Most of the Reichstag is here in the British sector, but the east wall is in the Soviet sector, and I would never dare to go there."

The looters chop up bronze statuary to convenient size. They scale the highest steel girders above the historic hall of deputies to rip off leaden rain gutters. They pull out copper wiring from recesses of granite walls.

The Reichstag has not been used for legal purposes since the great fire of February 27, 1933, which Adolf Hitler blamed on Communists and made an excuse for seizing power.

The fire wrecked the Reichstag's copper dome and many of its central rooms. Shells and bombs had added to its scars. Thousands of Russian soldiers scrawled their names on the Reichstag following the conquest of Berlin.

West Berlin authorities say it is hopeless to think of repairing the 55-year old Reichstag. Its destruction is too far advanced.

Bankfire's 'Luck Piece' Sackfires on Newsman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward Johnson (D-Col.) crosses the lawn between the senate office building and the capitol every day. En route he picks up a few large horse chestnuts. He presses them on office visitors as "luck pieces."

Last week a reporter accepted one, arose to go, tripped over a lamp cord. The lamp fell on the floor and broke into a thousand pieces.

From Surplus Navy Goods —

Doctor Designs Pint-Size Room

Here's a room built especially for a size three boy and a size one girl!

The boy and girl are Jerry and Sally Schrock, aged 3 years and 14 months, respectively, and the room is a combination bedroom-playroom in their barracks home at Stadium park.

Their father, Dr. Christian Schrock, is a resident physician at University hospitals. He constructed all of his children's equipment out of surplus navy material.

Some of the items include a midnight blue and white enameled bookcase, built especially for "little people", a miniature clothes tree and clothes chest, a table and chair set and a hobby horse.

The table and chair set carries out the Mother Goose motif of the room. "Not only are the children provided with a suitable place to 'let go in', but they invite friends over and throw small tear parties," said Mrs. Schrock.

The clothes tree, cut down to their size, eliminates the pick-up problem. Mrs. Schrock pointed out. It really saves work in the long run, because the youngsters learn how to keep their belongings in a neat and orderly fashion, she added.

The most creative venture is the highly prized hobby horse, designed by Schrock also. It is built sturdily enough for not one but two junior bronco-busters.

A complete library of his own dominates Jerry's half of the bookcase. In addition, he owns kiddie cowboy records and many other story records which he plays on his own record player.

"We give them a space to play in and toys in that space which belong exclusively to them. In that way they learn respect for property very quickly," commented Mrs. Schrock.

In addition to decorating the children's room, Dr. Schrock has designed and constructed maple lamps and end tables to add an original touch to their barracks home.

Dr. Murray Franklin, associate in the department of internal medicine, was elected a member of the society.

Bean and Franklin both presented research papers at the meeting. Other members of the department who are members of the society are Drs. L.E. January, E.L. DeGowin and Willis Fowler.

Chest Chairman Asks Students To Back Drive '100 Percent'

As the 1949 campus chest drive opened at SUI Tuesday, Chairman Bob Kramer, A3, White Plains, N.Y., called on students "to keep up the good work" of previous years.

He urged them to accept the goal of "a contribution from everyone." "We have no monetary goal this year," he said. "Our goal is to get 100 percent cooperation from students."

Solicitors began their work Tuesday morning after the drive had been officially opened Monday night when U.S. Commissioner of Education Earl J. McGrath spoke over WSUI.

The national honorary chairman of the drive told students that from his experience here as liberal arts dean he "was sure they would get behind the drive and make it a success."

Kramer said he had recently received letters from three students in foreign countries who received CARE parcels from last year's SUI campus chest drive.

Olphonso Allee of France wrote saying he was "happy to see how the links of friendship uniting the American and French peoples have such profound roots in the hearts of everyone."

He received three packages from the 1948 SUI drive and in the letter asked Kramer to express his appreciation to students who contributed to the drive.

A CARE food package weighs 22 1-2 pounds and contains 42,649 calories. Included in 18 items packaged for distribution in Europe are basic meats, chocolate, fruits, egg and milk powders and soap. CARE will receive 20 percent of all SUI contributions, Kramer said.

Another French student, Jean Barloin of Paris, acknowledged the arrival of two packages "which brought joy" to his small family. He asked Kramer to "be his interpreter" in expressing his appreciation to SUI students.

From Li von Bulow, a German student, came an expression of "joy and jubilation" after having received his second CARE package from SUI. He said he had shared it with his brother's wife who has three children.

Bulow wrote that he and his friends are "glad there is love in the world" besides the hatred he has seen.

Other agencies receiving aid from the campus chest drive are the World Student Service fund, the United Negro College fund, and the American Cancer society.

Nursing School Gets Nation's Top Rating

The SUI school of nursing was one of two Iowa nursing schools rated in the top 25 percent in the nation in a recent classification by a committee on nursing services improvement.

The other school was the Iowa Methodist hospital school of nursing in Des Moines.

Jean Baer, nursing counselor, said Tuesday that the rating was not an official accreditation, but is intended to help schools of nursing improve their programs.

The ratings were made by the subcommittee on school data analysis of the national committee for the improvement of nursing service.

Voluntary reports from 1,155 nursing schools in the United States, Hawaii and Puerto Rico were the basis for the classification, Miss Baer said.

The report, called "The Interim Classification of Institutions Offering Basic Programs in Nursing," appeared in the November, 1949, American Journal of Nursing.

Psychiatrist Favors Cancer Education

Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb, professor of psychiatry, SUI college of medicine, endorsed the American Cancer society program of public cancer education Tuesday.

"As long as the program makes available examining clinics and other resources for care of the people, rather than inciting worry and anxiety, there can be no psychiatric harm," he said.

Mefford R. Runyon, American Cancer society executive vice-president, said Sunday that a recent survey of American psychiatrists showed 89 percent in favor of cancer publicity and educational material.

Speaking before a Des Moines meeting of the Iowa division of the ACS, he said the harmful effects of cancer publicity are no as serious as extreme critics believe.

Runyon also told the delegates Iowa has "one of the soundest cancer control programs of any of the ACS divisions."

"Significant research is under way at your state university," he said, "supported by your division grants totaling $80,000."

Cana Conference Slated for Couples

A pre-Cana conference, at which engaged couples of all religious beliefs are welcome, will be held Saturday from 7 to 10:15 p.m. at St. Mary school's auditorium, the Rev. J.P. Hines said Tuesday.

A Cana conference for all married couples will be held at the same location Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m., the assistant pastor of St. Wenceslaus Catholic church said.

Reservations must be made in advance at the Catholic Student center, 108 McLean street, and couples only may attend, Rev. Hines said.

The Rev. John J. McGrath, from Springfield, Ill., will conduct these conferences on married life, Rev. Hines said.

The assistant pastor explained that the significance of the word "Cana" in the titles of the conferences comes from Christ's performing his first miracle, the changing of water to wine, at the marriage feast in Cana.

City High to Trace Progress of Music

City high school's band and choir will present "Music and the American Secondary School" at 8 p.m. Thursday in the high school auditorium.

Theme of the musical program is progress in music and education from the 16th century to the present.

Historical sketches such as the American revolution and the Civil War will be tied in with the struggle for free education. Music typical of each period will be presented by the band and choir.

Glenn E. Jablonski, faculty member, will direct the choir. The band will be under direction of Paul W. Behm.

Richard E. Guthrie and Joanne Evans, City high students, will narrate the program.

Radio Drama Try-Outs Scheduled for Thursday

Glenn Starlin, WSUI-KSUI drama director, Tuesday said persons interested in reading for the parts of two men and four women in next week's half-hour radio drama should meet in studio A from 3 to 5 p.m. Thursday.

The drama, "The Man Who Was Born in Grand Central," will be broadcast Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. and Nov. 47 at 8:30 p.m.

'Command Decision' Gets Nissen Hut Set

BETTY KERR One of the newest buildings on the SUI campus will go on display Thursday night at the opening performance of "Command Decision."

The 700-pound Nissen hut is the first complete building ever to be constructed on the University theater stage, Director Gregory Foley said.

The round-roofed hut called for in the air corps drama posed a problem where the usual box-type setting and ceiling drop could not be used.

Setting Director William Molyneux, a veteran of 14 months overseas duty, lived in a Nissen hut but not unlike the one he has arranged for the forthcoming play.

Molyneux, under the supervision of Art Prof. A.S. Gillette, has spent the past five weeks planning an army atmosphere which would be accurately "GI" and still be pleasing to audience eyes.

The colored flight map, unheard of in real-life air corps headquarters, was not dreamed up to irritate ex-B-24 pilots. The map was intentionally created to vary the almost entirely olive drab set.

Air corps uniforms did not cause any major difficulties for Costume Director Ethelyn Pauley, thanks to SUI's ROTC supply rooms.

Most of the uniforms were provided by Capt. Joseph Faimon, ROTC supply officer, who also advised the costumers in the use of ribbons and insignia.

Variation in color is a problem shared also by the costuming crews.

Texas Oil Expert To Discuss Fuels

Harold V. Atwell of the Texas company will speak before the Iowa Section of the American Chemical society Friday at 7:30 p.m. in room 300, chemistry building.

The subject of his address will be "The Hydrocol Process." The Hydrocol process is used to convert natural gas into high-anti-knock gasoline suitable for automobiles and airplanes.

Atwell has been supervisor of the fuels research department at the Beacon laboratories of the Texas company since 1937. In 1945 he was a member of a U.S. technical oil mission which investigated the synthetic oil industry in Germany.

The hydrocol process is a greatly improved version of a German synthetic oil process. It is rapidly approaching commercial use in the United States.

All 1949 Graduates Pass Nursing Tests

All 50 of the 1949 SUI school of nursing graduates passed their state board nursing tests, Jean Baer, school of nursing counselor, said Monday.

According to a report received from Vera Sage, executive secretary of the Iowa Board of Nurse Examiners, 37 of the SUI graduates received scores of 90 percent or better, Miss Baer said. This is 74 percent of the SUI students taking the tests.

Out of a total of 416 Iowa nursing graduates who took the tests in Des Moines Sept. 13 through 16, 367 passed.

One hundred-nine of them, or about 25 percent, received scores of 90 percent or better.

Hawkeye Guard Replacements Sought for Injury-Riddled Line

Vrame, Fairchild May See Action

Coach Eddie Anderson's big problem for the present is to hunt a pair of guards for the final Hawkeye conference game against Wisconsin at Madison, Saturday.

Among the top four Hawkeye guards, three are injured and the fourth, Earl Banks, still is not his old self after an injury in the Purdue game early in the season.

Junebug Perrin's knee injury suffered in the Minnesota game may keep him sidelined Saturday. Lou Ginsberg has a hand injury, and Bob Lage has been unavailable since the first game.

Sophs Move Up
Anderson said Tuesday that sophomores George Vrame and Ron Fairchild may be moved up to fill the gaps. Fairchild has played briefly in two games, Vrame not at all.

After looking over Wisconsin plays in defensive drills Tuesday, the Hawks went through an intensive scrimmage.

The line-backer situation has been complicated by the loss of John Towner with a broken jaw. It still is too early to say just who will relieve him Saturday.

Despite the bad day at Minnesota, numerous Hawkeyes still rank well up in the official conference figures. Bill Reichardt is first in the scoring department with 27 and Jack Dittmer with 24 points tied for second.

Brandt Tied for Lead
Duane Brandt's five pass interceptions gives him a first place tie in the conference. Bob McKenzie also has a first place tie in the pass-catching department with 15 for 188 yards and three touchdowns. Jack Dittmer's four catches for touchdowns is tops.

In kickoff returns, Reichardt is fourth with eight for an average of 23.7; Glenn Drahn is fourth in passing, and Denning third in punting with 39.6 yard average.

GEORGE VRAME

Badgers on Guard
MADISON, WIS. — Wisconsin stressed passing Tuesday with a watchful eye toward Saturday's important game here with Iowa.

The offensive backfield drilled on old and new aerial plays, while the defensive platoon looked somewhat weak against the reserves using Iowa's overhead game.

Coach Ivy Williamson said Fullback Lisle Blackburn probably would be lost for the Hawkeye game because of a knee injury.

Hawkllets Prepare For Title Contest
City high marched through its final "hard" workout Tuesday in preparation for the championship battle at Davenport Friday night.

A good portion of the practice was spent with the varsity attempting to smother Davenport offensive formations run by Hawkllet second stringers.

Coach Frank Bates said he will taper off contact work today as he builds his team up to the desired mental edge for the most important game of the year.

A preliminary game starting at 5:45 p.m. will be played between City high and Davenport freshmen — sophomore teams Friday. Kickoff time of the feature game is 8 p.m.

Corum Congratulated, Asked for Derby Tickets
LOUISVILLE, KY — Bill Corum, newly-elected president of Churchill Downs and head of the Kentucky Derby, arrived in Louisville Tuesday for his first look at the famous track since he succeeded the late Col. Matt J. Winn.

Corum said he had received more than 2,000 letters and telegrams congratulating him on the appointment, but he grinned that, "A good many of them also were requests for box seats at the Derby."

MEET "EDITOR" BOB WILLIAMS, the Notre Dame field general who has been calling the signals for this year's eleven, tries his hand at laying out a dummy newspaper page in a journalism class Tuesday. Karras Nearing Yardage Mark
CHICAGO—Johnny Karras, perhaps Illinois' most sensational halfback since Red Grange, can set a new Big Ten individual ground-gaining record by smashing 46 yards against Ohio State Saturday.

The slashing, power-running sophomore, has averaged almost 125 yards rushing in five league games. So his chances of cracking the 1944 record of 669 yards by Ohio State's Les Horvath seem sure-fire.

Fifth in History
Not only has Karras with his 624 yard aggregate become the fifth back in modern conference history to gain over 600 yards in a single league season, but his per carry average of 7.6 yards in 82 attempts tops that of any recent ball-toting star.

Here's the run-down of the previous "600" gallopers:
1942—Tony Butkovich, P. 4 65 625 6.6
1944—Horvath, OS 6 126 669 5.3
1945—Ollie Cline, OS 7 125 631 4.7
1946—Harry Szaibornyi, P 8 125 631 5.0

The 186-pound Karras developed a few sophomores do. Although he was a standout in the Illinois spring practice final game, Karras was regarded in the team's 1949 outlook as "a partial answer to the replacement question left by the graduation of Dike Eddleman and Paul Patterson."

In his first conference game, Karras carried the ball only eight times, but slashed through Wisconsin for 62 yards. Against Iowa, Karras hauled 20 times for 174 yards. He picked up 111 yards in 19 tries against Purdue.

Slow Against Wolves
Michigan, a bristling defensive team, stopped Karras cold on his first eight tries, but despite a 13-0 Illinois blanking Johnny wound up with 122 yards in 23 attempts against the Wolverines.

Last Saturday, against Indiana, Karras rambled 155 yards in only 12 tries for almost a 13-yard average.

Even if the Buckeyes shackle Karras Saturday in a key game in the race for the Big Ten team championship and a Rose Bowl bid, the Illini star still has a seventh game, against Northwestern, to surpass Horvath's record.

Burson Tops
Official league statistics released Tuesday listed Northwestern's Don Burson as the No. 1 passer in the conference. In six league games, Burson has connected on 38 of 77 passes for 575 yards, four touchdowns and a 4.94 average.

Karras, who has completed one pass in four tries for 14 yards, also leads in total offense with 635 yards. The top scorer is Iowa's Bill Reichardt with 27 points on

Hawks Lead Rivals In Victories; Trail In Most Statistics

In spite of Iowa's four victories in seven games, statistics reveal that the Hawks trail their opponents in most of the offensive departments.

The Iowans have an edge in kick-returns and are even in average rushing gains with 4.3 yards per play. The rivals have an edge in the remainder of the statistics.

Faske Leads
Jerry Faske, right halfback, continues to lead Iowa runners with a 6.8 average. His total is 369 yards.

In the number of pass catches, Bob McKenzie has taken the lead from Jack Dittmer, 16-15. He has only 194 yards and four touchdowns, however, as compared with Dittmer's 355 yards and six touchdowns.

43 for Reichardt
Bill Reichardt has scored 43 points, better than the total of any Hawkeye since Oran Pappas' 48 in 1928. The Iowa City fullback has made four touchdowns and 19 points after touchdowns in 21 attempts.

In the team passing department Glenn Drahn has 38 completions in 95 attempts for 524 yards, while Fred Ruck has completed 11 in 34 tries for 241 yards.

QUARTERBACK Eddie LeBaron (above), who has piloted the College of Pacific team to 24 wins in 28 starts over the past three years, is being supported by fans and many sports writers for a place on The Associated Press All-America selection. He has completed 150 passes in 322 attempts.

The spindly-legged Badger star holds the Washington four-mile course record of 20 minutes, 26.4 seconds which he set in 1947.

With exception of the 1947 meet won by Illinois, the Badgers have taken the team crown since 1944 although they shared it with Indiana in 1946.

St. Mary's Begins '49 Cage Campaign As Host to Oxford

St. Mary's high initiates the current basketball season in Iowa City by meeting Oxford Thursday at 8 p.m. in the junior high school gym.

Rambler Coach Francis Suplee, in his 24th year as mentor, is very doubtful of this year's squad.

"We're going to be young and inexperienced," Suplee said. "You can't expect too much after you've lost four of your first team players by graduation."

Hurt by Graduation
Suplee was referring to Paul Flannery and John Bauer, guards and Harold Black and Dale Seydel, forwards, who helped the Ramblers to an impressive record last season.

The current squad faces a 22-game schedule, including 12 home games.

Many hotly contested fights for berths on the Blue and White squad are in progress according to Suplee.

Bob Henderson, Tommy Gibbins and Don Kline are trying out for the center slot. Henderson right now is getting Suplee's nod. He stands 6-foot 2-inches and is a junior.

Gibben, also a junior, is a shade over 6 feet. Kline is a 5 foot 11-inch freshman, whom Suplee says could "develop into a fine player."

Rocca at a Guard
The guard spots are being contested by Seniors Joe Rocca and Leonard Mildern, Sophomore Bob Suplee and Freshman Tommy Black. Rocca and Mildern will probably start Thursday night, the Rambler coach said.

At forward, Suplee plans to start two seniors, Bob Long and Bud Lentz. Sophomore Gary Lentz and Freshman David Cahill are also trying for those forward positions.

Thursday night's game will be preceded by a reserve tilt, starting at 7 p.m.

Dittmer Planning Try For Basketball Team
Jack Dittmer, star Iowa football and baseball player, Tuesday said he plans to go out for basketball this winter.

Dittmer, a senior from Elkader, said he talked with basketball coach "Pops" Harrison Tuesday and would report for cage drills Nov. 21, the Monday following Iowa's final football game at Notre Dame.

Harrison said last week he thought Dittmer would have an excellent chance to make the basketball team if he wanted to go out. Iowa lost four of its five starters from last year's final game by graduation.

Dittmer earned all-state basketball honors in his freshman and senior years at Elkader high school. He scored 1,135 points in four years of prep basketball.

Have You Heard? —

To Avoid Aching Teeth Don't Run Cross-Country

Imagine you've just run six miles—I know it's painful enough just to think of it—but just suppose, anyway. The point is, how would you feel afterward?

Assuming you're like most of the rest of us and can't run a block after a bus without losing your breath, you might like to know what the general opinion is.

Jack Davis, one of Coach Francis Cretzmeyer's new cross-country men, knows how it feels.

"Everything aches," Jack says. "And, would you believe it, even your eyes ache, your wrists ache, sometimes your teeth ache."

But Jack wouldn't want you to get alarmed. All you have to do is walk across the track once, and you're back to normal.

Cretzmeyer will take seven men to the conference championships at Chicago Friday. The sophomore coach is hopeful that his sophomore squad will "get us out of the cellar."

Iowa's rock bottom position last year, though, may be misleading because three schools didn't race.

Earl Duggan, a solid little examinee, and Davis, who learned his running with the Iowa varsity while he was a City High standout, have led Iowa to three victories out of four meets this fall.

Duggan was unbeaten as a marine miler, and was running them around 4:28. The Davenport Irishman has taken two firsts and two seconds over the hill-and-dale route for the Hawkeyes.

Davis anchored the Little Hawks' medley relay to a Drake Relays second two years ago. The guy who beat him out was Keith Brown, a varsity trackman for the Hawks last year.

Except for Bill Bye, the Iowans who will run at Chicago Friday are all sophomores.

Some of those 10,000 Iowa fans who went to Minneapolis Saturday were muttering around town Monday and Tuesday about their seats at the game.

Those who bought their tickets at the Iowa athletic offices resented being split up and seated far down field. And those who bought them at the last minute through friends in Minnesota found themselves sitting outside the stadium behind a picket fence.

Besides not being able to see much of the play, they were further miffed because they had to squint between the pickets.

The fans didn't think it was strictly fair because, they said, Iowa always reserves good mid-field seats for its visitors.

Colgate Seeks 8th Win Over Big Ten
Northwestern departs from Big Ten competition this week when the Colgate Red Raiders invade Dyche stadium Saturday.

Coached by Paul Bixler, former Ohio State coach, the Easterners have had more than average luck against Big Ten foes. In 12 previous meetings, they have won seven, lost four, and tied one.

It will be Colgate's first visit to the Midwest since 1938 when it handed Iowa a 14-0 defeat.

Colgate will bring a high geared offensive team into Dyche stadium, which has averaged 23 points per game in six starts.

Gopher Spirit High For Pitt Encounter
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Physically sound and in high spirits, the Minnesota Gophers opened Tuesday's practice with one of their liveliest workouts of the year.

Coach Bernie Bierman then took the squad into the fieldhouse, presumably to adjust defensive assignments to meet Pittsburgh's single wing attack Saturday.

Kicking specialist Gordy Soltau appeared to be the nearest thing to an injury on the Gopher roster. Soltau, limping to favor bruises on both knees acquired in the 55-7 rout of Iowa, is expected to be in shape for the Panthers.

France Believed Set To Cease Dismantling Of German Industry

PARIS (AP) — France is ready to agree to a partial halt in the dismantling of German industries when the Big Three foreign ministers meet here today, provided it gets guarantees against the revival of German war industry, diplomatic sources said Tuesday night.

The dismantling problem is the most urgent one which Secretary of State Dean Acheson, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin will tackle when they meet at 9 a.m. today at the foreign office, the Quai d'Orsay.

The long-disputed issue is whether the western allies shall continue to dismantle German factories which might be used for war production purposes or to turn them to peaceful uses and fit them into a fully co-operating European recovery.

In addition to the dismantling problem, the western powers also may reach a decision to end the state of war with the new west German federal republic so it can play its part in rebuilding western Europe.

Details of the program are secret but it is understood that the foreign ministers will discuss:

1. The entire problem of the unification of western Europe.
2. Allied reparations problems.
3. Admission of the western German republic to the new council of Europe, the co-operative body of western nations.
4. The advisability of recognizing the Chinese Communists as the legal government of China.

Washington Disaster Averted As B-25 Almost Rams Liner

WASHINGTON (AP) — The pilot of a Miami-bound Eastern airlines passenger plane radioed the control tower at National airport Tuesday that an airforce B-25 bomber "almost ran into me" while flying at an altitude of 3,500 feet.

The Civil Aeronautics administration said the airline pilot, Capt. J.R. Richardson, reported that the airforce plane "had his landing gear down" and added:

"I didn't see him until he was almost on top of me."

The airforce disclaimed any knowledge of a narrowly avoided collision, but as a result of the incident all instrument flying by military planes in the Washington area was cancelled.

The reported near-accident occurred in the same general area south of Washington where another Eastern airlines plane was hit from above by a Bolivian-piloted P-38 fighter plane last Tuesday. Both planes plummeted to earth with a toll of 55 dead. It was the worst airlines disaster in history.

CAA said Captain Richardson radioed the control tower at Washington National airport saying the close brush with the B-25 occurred shortly after the take-off from the airport here. The takeoff was at 10:30 a.m., with the plane due to stop over at Atlanta en route to Miami. The big Constellation passenger airliner had come from Boston.

The pilot's message was received at 10:58 a.m., the CAA said.

Maj. Donald King, administration officer at Bolling field air base, gave an entirely different version of the episode.

King said he was practicing instrument landings with a shield over the windshield which blocked his vision, and with First Lt. Leslie Galloway sitting beside him as observer.

Workers Drill Path for Conduits

(Daily Iowan Photo)

CITY HALL FOUNDATIONS SHOOK Tuesday as workmen from the Haeg Construction company, Cedar Rapids firm doing the conduit installation for Iowa City's new mercury-vapor street lights, bared into the paving in front of the city hall. Police Chief Ed Rupert explained the work was done to provide a new connection for the police warning lights to be installed on five corners in the business section. Used to notify beat policemen to call the police station when the lights are on, one bulb now juts from the Ford-Hopkins building. Four others will be mounted on the corners of the Hotel Jefferson, the Iowa State Bank and Trust building, Lubin's Pharmacy, the Strand Cafe and the University bookstore.

Jobless Gamblers Won't Hint Identity

DES MOINES (AP) — Any hope of locating Iowa gamblers through the records of the State Employment Security commission records appears slim.

There is still little likelihood, commission officials said Tuesday, that a jobless person would list his occupation as a "gambler." They don't know of any persons classified as gamblers among the recent applicants for unemployment checks.

Such a person in all probability would classify himself as a "clerk" or a "concessionaire," the officials said, and nobody would be the wiser.

City Health Physician Notes Disease Drop

More than $6-million is spent each year by Iowa City hospitals to care for the city's health, University Hospitals Supt. Gerhard Hartman told the Kiwanis club at Hotel Jefferson Tuesday noon.

However, this annual expenditure provides Iowa City people with a hospital system that "constitutes a truly modern medical center."

Hartman pointed out that the city was served by University general hospital, Children's hospital, the State Psychopathic hospital and Mercy hospital.

Cost per day of hospital care will probably increase in the future but with the progress doctors are making in shortening the average patient's stay in the hospital, the total bill for the individual patient should be smaller.

Doctors are achieving earlier patient recoveries and a quicker return of patients to productive life, he said.

One of every seven persons in the United States enters a hospital each year, an average of one admittance every 1.9 seconds, Hartman said.

Young Republicans To Hear Platform

The platform of the SUI Young Republican league will be revealed to members Thursday when the group meets in room 221A, Schaeffer hall at 7:30 p.m.

Publicity Director Stan Tripp, A4, Spencer, said league members will be informed of the platform and the group then will discuss its coming debate with the Young Democrats.

Arrangements also will be made for SUI representatives to attend the Big Ten Young Republicans conference at Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 2 and 3.

Tripp also said a revision of the organization's constitution will be considered later.

Services Thursday For Local Resident

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Thursday in St. Patrick's church here for Louis F. Scheetz, 36, Iowa City, who died Monday of a lingering heart ailment at University hospitals.

He was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and of the Loyal Order of the Moose here.

Surviving are his widow, Mildred; two children, Karen, 11, and Allen, 8; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Scheetz; two brothers, Robert of Omaha, and Jack of New London, Iowa; and a sister, Mrs. George Harms, Norway, Iowa.

Churchmen to Discuss Law at Catholic Center

A canon law seminar will be held at 7 p.m. today at the Catholic student center, the Rev. Leonard J. Brugman said Tuesday.

The discussion of Catholic laws will be led by the Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Feeney, J.C.D. The Rt. Rev. J.D. Conway and the Rev. Maurice J. Dingman will appear on future programs, Father Brugman said.

Engineers to Visit Sanitation Works

Five SUI senior engineering students and Prof. Philip Morgan, sanitary engineering division, will inspect water and sewage plants in Iowa and Wisconsin Sunday and Monday.

The field trip is similar to one taken annually by students enrolled in Morgan's course, water purification and sewage disposal.

Morgan said the itinerary will include Cedar Rapids and Guttenberg in Iowa, and Monroe, Plattville and Madison in Wisconsin.

Making the trip with Morgan will be Richard Burger, Iowa City; Charles Johnson, Fairfield; James Kimm, Marengo; Herbert Preul, Jolley, and Edwin Simmons, Marengo.

Professors to Attend St. Louis Meeting

Prof. Lloyd A. Knowler, chairman of the SUI department of mathematics, and Prof. Frank Kennedy, SUI law college, will attend the fourth Midwest Quality Control conference Thursday and Friday at St. Louis.

Quality control is a mathematical method used in industry to increase efficiency.

Kennedy will speak at an advanced clinical session on "Some Legal Aspects of Sampling" in connection with quality control.

The meeting is being presented by the 11 midwest sections of the American Society for Quality Control in cooperation with the Associated Industries of Missouri.

City's Health Costs $6-Million Annually

A marked decline in contagious disease in Iowa City was revealed in a report to the city council Monday by Dr. D.F. Fitzpatrick, city health physician.

However, Fitzpatrick urged officials here to take special care, particularly those connected with the swimming pool. Although next summer's opening is still a long way off, the report said, it is not too early to begin plans for precautions against disease at the pool.

Conditions at the pool are for the most part satisfactory and the recreation commission has shown fine cooperation with the health department, Fitzpatrick said.

Sanitary conditions in dairies, hotels, restaurants and taverns were reported to be "good", as was the city water system.

Some complaints were received about the garbage collection plan, but Fitzpatrick said these mostly were due to the collector's not understanding the provisions of his contract.

In general, Iowa City's health conditions are satisfactory according to the report, but increased care was urged by Fitzpatrick.

Worker Suspected Of Second Forgery

Rudolph Henry Krotz, 37, Iowa City laborer, was bound over to Johnson county grand jury Tuesday when he waived preliminary hearing on a forgery charge in police court.

Krotz was convicted on a false check charge October 21 and sentenced to 10 days in the county jail, police said.

He was being held in Johnson county jail Tuesday under $2,500 bond set by Police Judge Emil G. Trott.

Police have 10 checks totalling $80 which they believe Krotz passed in Iowa City. Four of the checks were signed H.J. Chadek and three others were signed B.D. Schmidt, Bob Grant, and Bob Cromley. Police also have three checks signed Rudolph Krotz which were returned from an Iowa City bank marked "no account."

Final Rites at 2 p.m. For Ralph Jarrett, 46

Funeral services for Ralph Jarrett, 46, Iowa City resident for the past two years, will be held at 2 p.m. today at the Oathout funeral chapel.

Jarrett died Saturday night at Mercy hospital. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Landlord Asks Court For Eviction Order

William I. Markle filed suit in Johnson county district court Tuesday asking eviction of Charles and Salley Fronde from property owned by him at 620 S. Gilbert street.

Markle claimed the Frondes had 30 days' notice to quit the premises by Nov. 1. On that date he claimed he gave them an additional three days' notice.

District Court Judge James P. Gaffney has set the hearing for 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Art Professor's Wife Injured in Auto Collision

Two persons were injured Tuesday at 2:30 a.m. in an auto collision at North Dubuque and Bloomington streets, police said. Mrs. Humbert Albrizio, 446 N. Riverside drive, suffered a shoulder injury and was taken to Mercy hospital. Her condition was described as "good" by hospital authorities. Mrs. Albrizio was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband, who is an associate professor in the SUI art department.

Paul Merritt, 624 S. Clinton street, driver of the other car, suffered a cut nose. He was treated at University hospitals and released. Damage to the two autos was estimated at $500, police said.

The kind of Comedy you just don't see every year!

PERSONAL

Dear Joe and Jane: Because Hollywood seems to have lost the knack of making talking pictures this funny... And because we haven't heard a preview audience roar so hard in years and years... And because this is one of those rare comedies where you laugh as much at what you see as what you hear... And finally because there are so many million Harold Lloyd fans all clamoring for the chance to cheer him again...

We're happy to be able to return to the screen the happiness and hilarity that Harold Lloyd stands for.

Always Capitol entertainment. As ever, Ernie Pannos
