BADGERS SUBMERGE HAWKS, 35-13

Iowa's 41 Pass Attempts Set Western Conference Record

By ALAN MOYER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

MADISON, WIS. — Iowa's Hawkeyes set a new Big Ten mark for passes thrown here Saturday afternoon but not enough of them found receivers and Wisconsin romped to a 35-13 Homecoming victory before 45,000 fans.

Coach Ivan Williamson's underrated Badgers showed from the beginning that they weren't going to disappoint the big Camp Randall stadium crowd as they quickly pushed over for a touchdown then added another before leaving the field at halftime with a 14-0 lead.

Mostly on the right arm of Quarterback Glenn Drahn, the Hawks looked like they might get back into the game midway in the third period, but too many of the record-breaking 41 passes thrown by the Hawkeyes failed to click.

Trailing at the time, 28-0, while the running either stalled or was stopped by the fast rushing Badger forwards, Drahn tossed a pass after pass, hitting Halfback Don Comack with a 29-yard heave to score the first of Iowa's two touchdowns.

Five minutes later, with Iowa beginning to show a little of the spark that has marked rallies in other games this season, Fullback Gerald Nordman cracked over from the one-yard line, putting the score back to the respectable class, 28-12.

Bill Reichardt booted the extra point and the Hawks were as close as they ever got, 28-13. Reichardt had missed his first try, which if good, would have tied the Western conference mark of 16 consecutive successful placements.

Nordman's tally was set up by the passing attack — the only attack Iowa could muster on the soggy field.

Drahn hit Jack Dittmer with one of his 31 passing attempts on the Wisconsin 34, a play which netted Iowa 24 yards. Then he found End Bob McKenzie clear and completed a pass on the Badger 20.

On fourth down, after three straight passes had gone astray, Drahn spotted McKenzie again, this time on the Wisconsin five.

It then took Nordman four smashes at the line to score. The over-anxious Badgers were off side on one play, but even on the touchdown buck, Nordman barely crossed the double stripe.

The aerial circus put on by Iowa eclipsed the team mark set by Michigan in 1947 and tied by Minnesota last season. On both of those occasions, 32 passes were tossed.

Drahn also set a new individual record, by personally accounting for 31 of the 41 heaves. His mark snapped the previous high of 29, tied by Iowa's Jerry Niles in '45 and set by Northwestern's Otto Graham in 1942.

The soggy field didn't seem to bother the inspired Badgers, who won their third straight conference game and took over third place in the league scramble. A victory string of these proportions hasn't adorned the Wisconsin record book since 1940.

Minnesota took care of the streak in that year. Wisconsin plays Minnesota at Minneapolis next week.

The loss dropped the Hawkeyes to sixth place in the Big Ten chase.

Wisconsin came back after the halftime intermission apparently just as eager to satisfy the Homecoming throng who had braved an early afternoon downpour as they had been in the opening half.

The Badgers scored to two third period tallies, one on a 10-yard jaunt by Halfback Gwynn Christensen and the other by Bob Teague, on a beautiful 34 yard pass from Quarterback Bob Petruska.

Starting on their own three, the Badgers took only eight plays to score the first one. Petruska passed for 18 yards to Teague, fumbled on a second down handoff but picked up the pigskin and dashed off 26 yards to the Hawkeye 16.

On a third down, with Iowa's line tightening, Christensen picked his way off tackle and scored. Lisle Blackburn, the first-string fullback whose actions were held to kicking because of an injury, neatly put the slippery ball between the uprights, making the score read, 21-0.

The pass play that added another six points, and the tally — not sealed Iowa's fate and conference title chances, came just a minute and a half after Christensen had scored. It took but one play from scrimmage.

Jim Hammond, a sophomore Badger halfback, picked off one of Drahn's passes and raced to the Hawk 34 before Earl Banks and at least three teammates snowed him under.

With such a fortunate turn of events to give him inspiration, Petruska stepped back and threw a high, lazy pass that was timed to perfection. It landed in the outstretched arms of Teague. The speedy senior had outrun two Iowa defenders to snatch the ball in the end zone.

The more than 3,000 Hawkeye fans who made the trip had little to cheer about when the Badgers got off to a flying start. Even when Iowa got two touchdowns, the real spark that might have meant a rally was quickly smothered.

Iowa won the opening toss for the second week and this time chose to do the first offensive work. But after two punt exchanges the Badgers got off on a touchdown drive.

Petruska completed a pass to Tilden Meyers on the Hawkeye 16, good for 28 yards. Then, after one try at the line, Christensen sliced through for a 14 yard run and Wisconsin's first tally. The last Badger score was strict-

Ohio State Man Killed By Fraternity Brother

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — The managing editor of Ohio State university's student daily was shot and killed early Saturday by a fraternity brother.

The shooting followed a cocktail party and dance of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, celebrating Homecoming, members said. University regulations forbid intoxicating liquor in fraternity houses.

Jack T. McKeown, 21-year-old senior from Newwood, a Cincinnati suburb, was shot once with a .45 caliber automatic pistol on the Delta Tau Delta house lawn at 2:30 a.m.

Dies in Hospital
McKeown, who died a few minutes later in University hospital, was trying to take the pistol from James D. Heer, 20, a freshman veterinary student and an ex-marine.

Heer dashed away in a taxi-cab, then surrendered to police peacefully, five miles from the fraternity house. He admitted the shooting, said Detective Kenneth Anderson, and remarked: "When I get drunk, I get trigger-happy."

Capt. Glenn C. Hoffman, chief of detectives, said a first degree murder charge would be filed against Heer Monday morning. He said the investigation is not expected to be completed before that time.

The first degree charge was decided upon, Hoffman said, "because Heer threatened others after shooting McKeown."

While three detectives went through the Delta Tau Delta house, questioning members, the fraternity cancelled the remainder of its Homecoming program, including an open house for parents.

Heer, still attired in the tuxedo which he wore to the fraternity dance, was confined at police headquarters. Even his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Heer, of Euclid, a Cleveland suburb, were not permitted to see him immediately.

Joyce Crafton, 22, of Cleveland, Heer's "date" at the dance, was taken into custody as a material witness; then released on $300 bond. She is not an OSU student.

'Went Berserk'
Fraternity brothers said that Heer apparently "went berserk" after escorting Miss Crafton to the home of an aunt. They had argued during the evening, students said.

Heer took the pistol from the room of Richard Moore, 20, of Portsmouth, Ohio, another fraternity brother.

Moore said he and several other members had tried to get the gun away from Heer, chasing him outside and down the street.

Then McKeown came around the house with the idea of circling around behind Heer.

"That is when McKeown was shot," Moore related.

Claims Ship Line Aided Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former official of a Polish shipping line has charged — and two top officers of the company have denied — that the line broadcast propaganda here and helped finance a Communist newspaper in the United States.

The testimony, involving the Gdynia - America line, was taken earlier this fall and released Saturday night by a senate judiciary subcommittee studying proposals for new laws to block the entry of subversive aliens and to toss out any already here.

One of Gdynia - America's ships is the Batory, aboard which Gerhart Eisler, high ranking Communist stole away from the United States to beat deportation proceedings.

Nazi Shipbuilders Guilty Of Dismantling Swindle
HAMBURG, GERMANY (AP) — The owners of Germany's largest shipyard, which turned out Nazi submarines and flying boats during the war, were found guilty Saturday of trying to dodge allied dismantling orders.

The prosecution offered evidence that machines were removed from the shipyard to cheat the dismantlers and were listed in false invoices as having been legally bought for the Soviet zone.

Vishinsky Hits A-Bomb Use Against Japan

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky Saturday deplored American use of the atomic bomb against Hiroshima and Nagasaki contending the death of "scores of thousands" served no legitimate war need.

Vishinsky, pursuing the stepped-up Soviet "atomic peace offensive," told the United Nations, Russia was not using atomic energy "just to shake air," but for constructive peaceful purposes.

The former nurse-trials prosecutor added the Soviet atomic requirements are "enormous" and growing rapidly.

He issued a new warning that only a ban on atomic weapons and "the control and enforcement of such a prohibition" can avert "the terrible threat of an atomic war."

Vishinsky emphasized that Russia was concentrating on peaceful uses of nuclear energy.

"After all, we are not just going to shake the air," he said. "That would be economically unprofitable, although there have been cases in history where atomic bombs shook the air rather than do good for mankind, and in addition to shaking the air, they killed scores of thousands of persons without any need, militarily speaking, from the point of view of prosecuting the war or from the point of view of anybody's war aims."

After the meeting adjourned, Vishinsky accented the Soviet diplomat to pin down his meaning, but he did not completely clarify his point.

He said he was referring to what Generalissimo Stalin said in a newspaper interview with British Correspondent Alexander Werth — that A-bombs cannot decide the outcome of a war.

When asked if he had meant that atom bombs did not decide the outcome of World War II, he said he was "not referring" to that question.

Producers Reveal TV 'Black Market'

CHICAGO (AP) — A fledgling "black market" in television sets reared its head this week — with Christmas buying still around the corner.

TV set makers in the Chicago area, who produce more than a third of the nation's output, revealed some retail dealers in various parts of the country are getting prices at $20 to $40 or more over list on the more popular sets.

The Corsair arrived Wednesday on one of its periodic cruises with 55 passengers, nine of whom decided to remain here longer. The yacht left dock at 11:45 p.m. (Iowa time) Friday night and 35 minutes later struck the rocks of Point Coyuga, half a mile from where the vessel lies with her bow low in the water, grounded on "Ensenada de los Presos" (Bay of the Prisoners).

The passengers, few of whom had gone to bed, were taken off in life boats to the beach a few hundred yards away.

Truman May Order Injunction To Block Coal Miners Walkout

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government Saturday planned its next move in the soft coal wage dispute and officials believed President Truman soon would direct federal lawyers to get a court order forbidding the miners to strike again Nov. 30.

Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation director, said there would be no governmental action in the coal dispute before Monday.

Ching is expected to decide then whether to make one more try to get John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators to re-sume contract negotiations.

Meanwhile, justice department attorneys continued work on a Taft - Hartley act court order which could delay the threatened new strike for about 80 days.

White House aides said President Truman will order the lawyers to get the court injunction if no agreement is reached between Lewis and the coal industry in the next week or so.

Some officials believe the President may first suggest that Lewis and the industry agree to let a special presidential board study the dispute and make settlement recommendations.

Lewis, however, already has indicated he will not go along with a special panel.

Toward Normal . . .

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The steel industry — backbone of the nation's economy — roared toward normal Saturday as the CIO united steelworkers predicted a quick cleanup of the most costly strike in steel history.

Production will pass pre-strike levels, probably in three weeks. Only 70,000 of the 549,000 workers who joined in the strike for pensions and insurance remained idle, according to the union.

The union predicted all major companies will be in the fold by the middle of the week. Wheeling Steel corporation, which employs 20,000 in five Ohio valley plants, met with negotiators Saturday and was expected to sign shortly.

U.S. Steel said it would be producing steel by Tuesday. The company accounts for a third of the nation's steel production.

N.J. Governor Hits GOP For Improving Policy
HADDONFIELD, N. J. (AP) — The Republican party must stop being the "party of expediency." It must stop improvising as it goes along. It's got to get rid of the reputation of always being "against" and start being "for" its worthwhile philosophy of government.

That was the blunt criticism and advice given Saturday by New Jersey's Gov. Alfred Driscoll who won the only important GOP victory this past week in what he frankly terms a "tide" of Democratic election triumphs.

All-Day Investigation By Police Discounts 'Plot' to Kill Medina

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn police announced Saturday night, after an all-day investigation, that there definitely has been no plot to "do away" with Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, presiding judge at the recent trial of 11 top U.S. Communists.

The announcement came after lengthy questioning of two men who reported the alleged plot to the FBI, and two girls who, the men said, told them of the plan.

Police said the four principals made "wild statements" during their questioning, but that the girls denied ever having made any statements concerning a plot against Medina's life. Police said the girls claimed they were members of the Young Progressive league, but denied that they were Communists.

The two men went to the FBI this morning, police said, and reported that two feminine acquaintances, sisters aged 18 and 22 had told them on several occasions in the past two weeks that the 61-year-old judge would be killed.

The sisters, identified as Audrey Gordon, and her older sister, Marlene, were picked up later by police for questioning. Police said Audrey was a student at Abraham Lincoln high school and that Marlene was a women's shop clerk.

The men were identified by Acting Police Capt. William Kimmins of Brooklyn as Dennis Schuster, 24, and Melvin Cohen, 23, both of New York. Kimmins would give no further details or the alleged assassination plot as to when or where it was to take place.

Czech Communists Rule on Marriages

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA (AP) — The Communist government announced Saturday that church marriages will not be recognized in this country after Jan. 1.

At the same time, it declared it will not accept the qualified oath of loyalty which Catholic bishops had advised their priests to take.

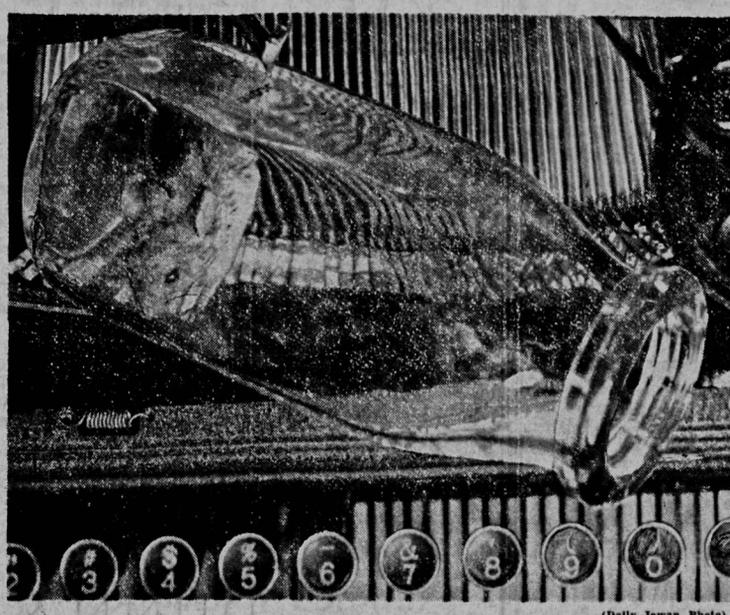

Both pronouncements were made by Minister of Interior Václav Nosek.

Nosek asserted that only marriages performed before the Communist-created national committees (town and village authorities) will be legal after Jan. 1.

The powerful interior minister said Czechoslovakia's 7,000 priests must swear complete allegiance to the Communist state.

"The state does not acknowledge and does not accept any amendments to the oath formula," he said.

(Daily Iowan Photo)

A SMALL GRAY MOUSE was sitting in "Jail" Saturday night, and it was all on account of his craving for drink. He was minding his own business when he spotted a half-pint bottle with a few drops left inside. But, alas for the imbibing Mr. Mouse, the walls of the bottle were too slippery to climb. If he gets out of this cue he says he's going to join Milkaholics Anonymous.

Dizzy Says Dance Fans 'Really Make Us Play'

By DRAKE MABRY

Jazz musician Dizzy Gillespie has been made quite a character by over-zealous press agents, newspaper men, and various others in this "hassel-happy" world of music.

But underneath all the horseplay, the horn-rimmed glasses, the beret and goatee, is a realization that something has to be done to remedy the present situation of "bop," the dissonant, nervous music he helped originate.

"People want to dance," declared Dizzy whose band played the "Spinsters Spree" here Friday night. "They want to hear that 'beat' in music. If they don't — well, they can't tell where to go.

"This is what we have done. Say a musician walked into a ballroom where my old band was playing. If he got there while we were in the middle of a number he would be completely lost as to our rhythm because it was all chopped up, never consistent. "Nowadays if he walked in, he would know exactly where we were. Our beat is such that it is possible to do this."

Crowds have a great deal to do with the way a band performs, Dizzy claims. "If the crowd is enthusiastic from the start, if they are really ready to go, then you can start right out with a bang too. None of this wishy-washy 'stuff' to feel them out."

"I like to see people dance," he continues. "I like to see them jump and holler, pull hair and scream, and really get a lot of 'kicks' out of our music."

About the present "bop" situation, Gillespie feels that George Shearing's combo is the best thing that the music has had for the last year. "He plays 'bop' to the average person can understand," he says.

"Bop after all is just another interpretation of jazz, just as the blues and spirituals. But that doesn't explain why some bands put no 'beat' in it."

Paul Parker, Dizzy's band manager, chimed in with, "If a band is to make any money they have to go commercial . . ."

Dizzy immediately cut in and protested. "Don't use that word commercial. When the public reads that they think of bands like Guy Lombardo and Wayne King. We are not commercial. We haven't changed our style, we just put a steady beat in our music. Ours is a distinctive style, and we want to keep it."

At the "Spree," Gillespie demonstrated pretty well what he means. He played some danceable music that was easy to the ear.

His sections played well together, especially the trombones. His trumpet playing was in the usual vein, but the band did their best to let the dancers know what was going on.

To the apparent satisfaction of the dancers and bandstand "standees," the band mixed its program with danceable ballads and the wild, driving numbers that have gained the group world-wide recognition.

Hampered somewhat by a poor public address system, the dancers in the rear of the lounge sometimes had difficulty hearing everything.

"The crowd was great," said Dizzy. "They were enthusiastic from the start, and they made us really want to play. They made things a lot easier for us."

Council Asks Groups to Fill NSA Positions

Between 35 and 40 letters have been sent to housing groups and organizations on campus to announce the deadline for applying for National Student association committee posts.

Student Council Pres. Dick Dice, A4, Marion, said Saturday that all applications for the posts must be filed by Nov. 22.

Council members decided Thursday night to place all NSA matters in the hands of a committee composed of two council members and four others who would be appointed later.

SUI's student council became affiliated with NSA by a vote taken earlier in the semester.

Dice asked all interested persons to file their applications at the Student Council office in the northwest corner of the Old Dental building.

Letters should contain a statement of individual qualifications, SUI classification and a summary of experience in student council work here or in other schools.

Immediate selection of the two sophomores and two juniors to be appointed will be announced, Dice said, following their selection by the council soon after the application deadline.

Explorer to Give Lecture On African Expedition

Murl Deusing, explorer-cameraman, will present his illustrated lecture, "Safari in Africa," tonight as the third travelogue in this year's Iowa Mountaineers series at Macbride auditorium.

Deusing's program will deal with a recent three-month African expedition led by James L. Clark and sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History. Mountaineer officials said.

Clark's party explored southwestern Kenya and the trackless veldt with three trucks, two hunting cars and a power wagon.

Deusing recorded the entire trip on two reels of colored film and adds his own accounts to them.

His pictures include a brief encounter with a rhino, plus the first filmed battle of two bull giraffes.

He also filmed the daily life of explorers on safari and the antics of the native gun bearers, porters, baggage carriers and hunters.

The second reel of the film follows the party into Uganda, the Belgian Congo and French Equatorial Africa.

The natives in this area practice an ancient form of agriculture and native birds such as the crane, vulture and stork are plentiful, the officials said.

Concluding scenes in the movie show the difficult training of African elephants in the northern Congo region.

Deusing is now curator of education at the Milwaukee museum of natural history. He is noted for the humor and informality of his lectures, Mountaineers said.

'Fuzzy Wuzzies' Capture Coeds' Hearts

Toy Animals Adorn Coeds' Dorm Rooms

Fuzzy Wuzzy was a bear, but Fuzzy Wuzzy wasn't the only toy bear to capture the hearts of SUI coeds.

The song goes on to ask "But Fuzzy Wuzzy wasn't fuzzy, wuz he?" Some of the toy pets are furry, it's true, but pedigree animals with homes in dormitory rooms are made of everything from calico and felt to knotted yarn.

Pandas seem to be most popular with coeds, but teddy bears haven't lost much of the popularity they enjoyed when the girls were only three.

You can say it's a dog's life, but toy dogs live royally. Souvenir canines with fraternity Greek letters often are presented to coeds as favors at dances. These take their places on desks and bookshelves, and often are looked upon with more favor than the books.

Sizes of these personality pets range from tiny to several feet high. Keeping some of the SUI toy animal corps in dormitory rooms is like having a St. Bernard in a trailer.

A toy animal contest would bring out pets in every color, size and shape imaginable, and the toy animal brigade wouldn't be complete without nicknames for the pets. One especially large furry dog has a tongue that moves up and down. He's called "Stupid" by his owners, who won him at a carnival.

Married couples as well as SUI coeds house these toy pets, either for their youngsters, or because they're sentimental about the toys.

It may be a carry-over from pre-bobby sox days, but some coeds still sleep with their toy animals beside their pillows.

'Kapers' Announces Directors for 1950

Plans for the 1950 "Kampus Kapers" variety show got underway this week with the announcement of the appointment of Jack Pedersen, A4, Marshalltown, and Robert Gaines, A3, Detroit, as co-producers and directors for this year's show.

"Kampus Kapers" is sponsored by the Newman club, Catholic student organization, and is scheduled to run from January 17 to 20 this year.

Auditions for persons interested in taking part in the show will be held in conference room 1 of the Memorial Union on Nov. 28 and 30, Newman club officials said.

Music for the production will be arranged and presented by Jack Davis and his orchestra.

U-COUNCIL TO MEET

The University council will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the house chamber of the Old Capitol, Council Secretary L.K. Tunks, college of law professor, said Saturday. He said all faculty members are invited to attend and participate in the meeting.

"NOW WHICH ONE SHALL I CHOOSE?" puzzles Mrs. Richard V. Theovald before the array of toy animals sold by local shops. The furry kittens are ideal for dormitory bed decorations, but the "Iowa" dog, bull and kangaroo add a touch of school spirit, and the curly, wire-haired terrier is too "adorable" to leave. Coeds facing a similar dilemma may wind up with a menagerie.

What's in a Name? Don't Ask the Registrar

By JOE MAY

Maybe you think Pocahontas had her troubles with John Smith, but if she attended SUI today she'd really have troubles with John Smith — all 10 of them.

Hang on! The 10 John Smiths are just a beginning. There are also 10 James Smiths or no less than 19 Robert Smiths, three of them named Robert Lee Smith.

SUI also has eight Charles Smiths, eight Dorothy Smiths, eight Joan Smiths, eight Mary Smiths, eight William Smiths, six Richard Smiths, five Paul Smiths and five Jean Smiths.

That's confusing to say the least, especially to the office of the registrar.

"In cases of exact names we add the name of their home state or city. Only in Iowa City have we had duplicates of this," Asst. Registrar Harvey Croy reported.

If you think he's kidding, listen to this: there are two SUI students named Don Edward Strub, both born in 1930, both from Iowa City. The registrar's office lists their fathers' names to help distinguish between the two.

Then there are the two John Joseph Murray's, both born the same year, who are identified by listing their respective states.

"We have to keep watch on the Andersons also," Croy said. For instance, there are 10 Robert Andersons, eight John Andersons, seven Bette Andersons, six Don Andersons, six Richard Andersons and five Mary Andersons (three of whom are named Mary Louise).

SUI also has the Adams. Four are named Donald and three others John. And here is really a combination to give any file clerk eyes — George Lovell Adams and Georgia Lovell Adams.

At last count there were six students named Robert Baker listed at the registrar's office.

Then there are the Davis boys — four named Dan, four named Don, four named James and four named John. They are rivaled by the Millers, Jack J., Jack Louis, Jack Lynn, Jack Miles, Jack Richard and five other Millers named John.

Six SUI students are named Robert Green and three others are named Robert Greene.

Brown seems to be another popular name as there are 14 Robert Browns and two James Browns.

Further confusion is caused by the similar spelling of various names, such as Christensen, Christenson, Christiansen, Christianson, or Callaghan and Callahan. Of course, there is also Houlihan and Houlihan.

But just get a load of these: Donahy, Donahoe, Donahue, Donohoe, Donohue; Brookes, Brook, Brooke, Brookes, Brooker and Brookes; or Doohen, Dooly, Doolin, Doolittle, Dooly, Dulin and Duling.

If you're still not impressed, watch what happens to Dixon: Dixon, Dickison, Dickson, and Dickason.

First names also vary sometimes, as in Mearl, Mryl, Merle, Mirriel, and Meryl.

Office of the registrar personal who juggle these names around every day for a living have concluded that (1) for the average name in their files there are usually at least two persons using it, and (2) 20 years ago almost everybody called their sons Donald and now they prefer the name Dean.

Nurse, SUI Student Wed Here Saturday

Susan Anne Neuwoehner, SUI graduate nurse, and Otto D. Easterday, G, Kokomo, Ind., were married Saturday at 7 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Grandrath, 520 Grant street.

The Rev. Fred W. Weite officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Neuwoehner, Sioux City.

Erma Jean Williams, Iowa City, served as maid of honor. Bill Bass, Iowa City, was best man.

Mr. Easterday is a graduate student in the SUI department of pharmacology.

The couple will reside at the Burlington apartments, 232 S. Summit.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fox, 103 N. Clinton street, are the parents of a girl born Saturday at Mercy hospital.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sedlacek, Oxford, Saturday at Mercy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Frank Smith, 206 E. Bloomington street, are the parents of a boy born Friday at Mercy hospital.

Third of Students Have Aided Chest

Thirty percent of the SUI student body had contributed to the Campus chest by Saturday, General Chest Chairman Bob Kramer A3, White Plains, N.Y., announced.

Monday will be the "big push" day in the drive that ends Tuesday. The primary aim will be to contact the estimated 4,000 students who live in off-campus housing and have not been reached by Campus chest workers, Kramer said.

Dormitories will be contacted Monday or Tuesday to give students missed the first time a chance to contribute. No goal was set for the drive this year, but 100 percent cooperation from the students is the aim, Kramer said.

Campus chest contributors on Monday will be given a ballot so they can vote for SUI's favorite song for 1949.

Research Director To Talk on Physics For Lecture Series

W.F.G. Swann, director of the Bartol Research foundation of the Franklin institute, will give a graduate college lecture series talk, open to the public, Monday at 8 p.m. in room 301 of the physics building.

He will speak on "New Horizons in Cosmic Ray." These rays enter the atmosphere from interstellar space. They have very high energies, as is demonstrated by the fact that some of them penetrate far into the earth's surface.

In recent years discoveries have been made in cosmic rays which are of the greatest importance for the interpretation of nuclear and sub-nuclear structure, according to Prof. J.M. Jauch, SUI physics department.

Swann will also speak in the same room at 4:30 p.m. Monday on "Certain Matters Pertaining to the Philosophy of Physical Theories."

The speaker has worked with the Bartol Research foundation at Swarthmore, Pa., since 1927. He has held positions at Minnesota university, Chicago university, Yale university and has given summer lectures at the universities of Columbia, Cornell, California and Ohio State.

Catholic Medical Guild Hears Priest Lecture

Nearly 60 SUI medical students, doctors and nurses attended a lecture by the Rev. Gerald Kelly, S. J., at the monthly meeting of the St. Albertus Magnus guild in the Catholic student center Friday night.

Father Kelly, of St. Mary's, Kansas, spoke on the relationship of current medical and theological problems and then led a discussion within the group.

Hawkeyes Tab Wisconsin as Rose Bowl Timber

By JOHN HOLWAY
Iowan Sports Writer
MADISON — The Iowa dressing room was like the weather here Saturday after the Wisconsin game. Both were damp. Damp in spirits and sweat, but not in tears, the battered and breathless Hawks gasped out profound praise for the Badgers and tabbed them Rose Bowl material. There were no crying towels.

Iowa City Fighter Hits Contract Snarl

Bob Rossie, the middleweight boxing champion of Iowa and former student here, has come to a parting of the ways with his manager and will not get back into the ring until a new agreement is reached.

Bob turned professional about a year and a half ago, after winning the Golden Gloves title here. He has proven popular in Minneapolis and in Chicago's Marigold Gardens, but difficulties over who gets what percent of the earnings has snarled up the arrangement.

Bob says his present manager is willing to part with his contract, but at twice the price, somewhere in the 3,000 dollar neighborhood, a newly interested party is willing to pay. The new party is Jack Hurley, the man who managed the late Vince Foster of Omaha, the headliner who was killed in an auto accident earlier this year.

Hurley is an old-time manager who's been quite successful in the fight game. Twenty years ago he handled Billy Petrolle, better known as the "Fargo Express." Both made good money fighting, then Petrolle bought into an iron company in Duluth with his fight earnings. Just recently he sold out, to the tune of half a million dollars.

Rossie may be out of action until next fall or late summer if his three-year contract with his present manager can't be fixed up. In that case he may enroll in school again in February. To date the Iowa City welterweight has had 19 fights, 13 of them taking place while his father, a man who knows boxing from A to Z, was both manager and trainer since the present contract was signed.

The NCAA "Sanity Code" gets a new blast in the November issue of Sports magazine, by Ed Danforth, sports editor and columnist of the Atlanta Journal. His viewpoint is very well told in the title "The South Vs. The Sanity Code."

Dr. Karl Leib, president of the NCAA and Iowa commerce professor, pointed out several small places to us where Mr. Danforth's statements are not quite complete. In one place he says thousands of dollars are given "battered athletes" on what the code calls "a basis of need." He says, "More often than otherwise, that means the college needs a fullback."

What he left out, and what leads to a misunderstanding, is the full statement from the code, which reads: "... on a basis of need by the regular agency established in the recipient's institution for granting of aids to all students, provided, however, that the aid thus awarded shall not exceed the amount of tuition for instruction and for stated incidental institution fees."

On the whole, however, Dr. Leib thought the article was fairly accurate and presented the points that will be cussed and discussed at the winter meeting Jan. 13 and 14 in New York's Commodore hotel. At that get-together the NCAA will take up the violators, reported to be more than a dozen, and the problem of how to get the few (mostly southern) schools to cooperate fully with the code.

Some schools want to have a training table for athletes the year around, instead of just during the particular season. Some want to furnish the athlete with three meals per day in place of one.

"The session in New York probably won't be as heated as some persons believe it will be," Dr. Leib says. "Most schools are anxious to cooperate in a program to keep college athletics amateur."

It takes a two-thirds vote of the Compliance committee to expel or suspend a school for recruiting or "entertaining" prospective athletes. But because a two-thirds vote can be mustered by schools willing to cooperate there may be a minor explosion or two from New York in January.

Dr. Leib explained why the name "Sanity Code" was given to the amendment tacked on the NCAA constitution that has caused so much comment. "Sports writers started calling it the 'Purity Code' shortly after it was made up, just to make fun of it. Now anybody knows that even Ivory isn't 100 percent pure," he said, "so we officially called it the 'Sanity Code.'"

Iowans will address the Quarterback club in Chicago both this week and next. Monday it'll be Dr. Paul Brehler, director of athletics here and next Monday Dr. Eddie Anderson will be the featured speaker.

Our vote for the prize statement on football coaches comes from the Minnesota daily of a week ago, in an article about Dr. Anderson. The Iowa coach is called "one of the sport's prize ODDITIES—a football coach who has battled the second-guessers and won." Later the writer says, "he (Anderson) might well offer a few enjoining words today to the white-haired gentleman across the field, a fellow who could use a little encouragement." Bernie Bierman? Encouragement?

Frank Kramer and Pancho Gonzales, the touring professional tennis players who liked the facilities when they appeared here last year have indicated to the university they'd like a return engagement next spring. Notre Dame, Iowa's next and last grid foe for '49 gets a big spread in the Nov. 22 issue of Look magazine.

French Franchimont and Gene Milzer, first line subs on Ohio State's basketball team last year, transferred to Cincinnati university this fall, probably hopeful of playing in the city's new 14,000 seat arena.

Iowa City's Dr. Dunnington suggested in his sermon a week ago that Floyd of Rosedale be renamed "Little Orphan Annie, because its been away so long." Floyd, you'll remember is the little bronze pig that Minnesota now owns for at least one more year.

Gene Ring, a starting guard on Indiana's basketball squad, underwent an operation for the removal of bone spurs in both feet recently and will be lost to the Hoosiers at least until conference competition starts, Jan. 7. . . . Iowa, before the Wisconsin game, had scored 11 touchdowns via air lanes and 11 touchdowns by rushing, plus one each by kickoff return and by punt.

GRID EDUCATION—George Smith, Michigan State's conversion specialist, never kicked an extra print as a high school football player. All he could do then was hold the ball for the guy who did the kicking. Now his "educated toe" does the work.

Beavers Drop Michigan State

PORTLAND, ORE., (AP) — The chest and toe of Stan McGuire and the long legs of Ken Carpenter carried the underdog Oregon State Beavers to a spectacular 25-20 football victory Saturday over the mighty Spartans of Michigan State college.

Michigan State held grimly to a 13-7 halftime lead, but the determined Beavers unleashed a powerful ground attack that produced a touchdown seven plays after the start of the second half.

An Oregon State field goal and a safety gave the Beavers an 18-13 margin before Michigan State snarled back to score and go into the lead once again after a pass interception.

Oregon State smashed 33 yards for the final marker that insured the stunning victory over their midwest rivals.

Cornhuskers Push By Iowa State, 7-0

AMES (AP) — Little Harry McGinnis, darted 70 yards on a punt return Saturday to give Nebraska a 7-0 victory over Iowa State.

The touchdown spurt by the former Big Seven conference sprint champion came in pelting rain in the third period. That telling blow stunned the Cyclones.

Although the air arm of Bill Weeks was virtually grounded by the weather and an alert Nebraska defense, Iowa State had controlled the contest up to McGinnis's run.

But Iowa State never fully rebounded from McGinnis's blow. The Cyclones twice later shot deep into Nebraska territory only to fail as they had four times in the first half.

McGinnis, a 157-pound senior playing his first year on the varsity after two years on the "B" squad, did his spectacular stint with six minutes left in the third quarter.

Horned Frogs Nip Texas, 14-13

AUSTIN, TEX. (AP) — Homer Ludiker's expert toe brought Texas Christian a 14-13 victory over favored Texas before 40,000 fans here Saturday.

Outfighting Texas most of the way, the TCU Horned Frogs won their second Southwest conference game against two defeats.

Texas took the lead, 7-0, in the third period on Paul Campbell's touchdown pass to End Ben Conner and Randall Clay's conversion.

TCU pounded right back, and the great Lindy Berry scored on a sparkling 33-yard run behind fine blocking.

Southern Methodist Hits Arkansas, 34-6

DALLAS, TEXAS (AP) — That man Doak Walker shocked Arkansas into a 34-6 defeat Saturday as Southern Methodist clung to a bare chance of the Southwest conference football championship.

The great one scored three touchdowns and passed for another with a typical Walker show. He also booted three extra points.

A crowd of 42,000 roared approval of the All-America's mighty play.

The Methodists stormed to 240 yards on the ground and 177 passing to thoroughly pulverize the Razorbacks.

Confederates Aiming For Grant's Tomb?

NEW YORK (AP) — Police stood an all-night guard at Gen. Ulysses Grant's tomb here Saturday night to prevent any attempt by pre-game celebrating North Carolina fans to drape it with the Confederate flag.

Ten policemen and a sergeant were assigned to the tomb in uptown Manhattan after they received a tip it would be a target for "rebel" partisans in town for the Notre Dame game.

Tulane Mauls Vandy

NASHVILLE, TENN. (AP) — Tulane finally regained its early season power and mauled Vanderbilt, 41-14, Saturday in a game that started rough and got rougher, with a platoon of police coming in on the final play.

Only momentarily in the second period, after the Boiler-makers had run up a 27-0 lead, did Purdue let up. It was then that Marquette scored its lone touchdown.

With the exception of that brief spell, it was strictly a rout. It gave Purdue its fifth straight victory in an inter-sectional series with the Hilltoppers.

Purdue stuck to the ground most of the game and left the ball carrying to a trio of seasoned backs — Harry Szulborski, Norb Adams and John Kerestes.

Purdue Ground Arm Raps Marquette, 41-7

LAFAYETTE, IND. (AP) — Purdue's Boiler-makers unwrapped a smooth - working ground attack and walloped Marquette Saturday, 41-7, before 30,000 fans in Ross-Ade stadium.

The visitors from Milwaukee were no match for the Big Ten club, which took control at the opening whistle and kept it throughout.

Only momentarily in the second period, after the Boiler-makers had run up a 27-0 lead, did Purdue let up. It was then that Marquette scored its lone touchdown.

With the exception of that brief spell, it was strictly a rout. It gave Purdue its fifth straight victory in an inter-sectional series with the Hilltoppers.

Purdue stuck to the ground most of the game and left the ball carrying to a trio of seasoned backs — Harry Szulborski, Norb Adams and John Kerestes.

Women Call for Dates in Style — 1880 Style

A TOUCH OF THE BIZARRE was added to the Spinster's Spree Friday night when two SUI students called for their dates in a "surrey with a fringe on top." Later the surrey was parked in front of one of the establishments serving that foamy brew, parked on the strip between the sidewalk and the curb, mind you. Left to right are Mary Ann Jolly, A3, Moberly, Mo.; Pete Coquillette, A2, Central City; Betty Kenry, A1, Highwood, Ill., and Jack Worley, G, Ely.

Small Fry Demand Calendar Check

"NUTS, FELLERS, IT'S GOING TO KEEP RAINING," 5-year-old Mike Lewis, 1032 Finkbine park, tells his playmates. All of the Finkbine small fry have been thinking their parents are slightly wacky for raving about Iowa's November Indian summer. Summer's swell, the kids agree, but now it's time for snow and sledding. At left is Jimmy Curran, 3, of 722 Finkbine, and Sue McCabe, 3, of 1031 Finkbine.

Pep Generators 'Take Ten'

DROOPING TAILFEATHERS show little of their usual enthusiasm after an early rising Saturday morning to catch Wisconsin-bound buses. The trials of a Tailfeather are displayed by several of the 111 who took part in the Student Council-Tailfeathers sponsored trip to the Madison campus.

Fascinated 'Spree-ers' Hear 'Bop' King

SUI JAZZ FANS crowded around the bandstand and listened intently Friday night as the "hop" artists in Dizzy Gillespie's band took off on a wild number for the "Spinster's Spree" in the Iowa Union. Famed Trumpeter Gillespie gave his views on his new type of music to Daily Iowan Columnist Drake Mabry in a special interview Friday. (See page 2.)

Women, Wisconsin, Weather--Wow

The registrar's office reports that there are more than 10,000 students enrolled at SUI this semester. Ten thousand students usually have almost 10,000 different ideas on how to spend their spare off-study moments.

This weekend women chased men at the "Spinster's Spree;" men chased pheasants; the weather chased kids indoors and the Wisconsin Badgers chased the Iowa Hawkeyes all over the football field.

And The Daily Iowan photographers were all out of breath trying to keep up with this cross-country chase.

Prize-Winning Corsage at Spree

TEST TUBES AND RUBBER GLOVES made up the corsage Carl Jesina, A3, Cedar Rapids, wore to the Spinster's Spree at the Iowa Union Friday night. Tongue depressors and forceps were added to the conglomeration to make the corsage Jesina's date, Dorothy Nicola, N3, Clinton, made for him the winner in the contest. The couple was awarded twin mugs engraved with "Spinster's Spree, '49" as winners of the most original corsage.

Pheasants, Football Worry Sportsmen

"WE STILL HAVE TO HEAR THE GAME." Hunters Charles Harrington, P4, Newton, and Robert Simpson, G, Madison, couldn't decide whether to hear the game or go hunting, so they just took along a portable radio on their hunting trip Saturday. The wet weather didn't dampen their enthusiasm for shooting pheasants, it seems, but no one knows if they got any game. When queried on the subject of a full or empty bag, their answer was, "no comment."

'On, Iowa, On Forever More, On Iowa, Proudly...'

BOLD-FACED BOOSTERS decorated the four buses which carried Hawkeye fans to Wisconsin Saturday morning. Student Council Pres. Dick Dice, A4, Marion (right) told, 111 students made the trip to back up the valiant efforts of the Hawkeye grid-derers who nevertheless fell before the Badgers, 35-13, on a cloudy, gloomy day. Osceola, (left) was in charge of the group's activities after its arrival in Madison.

Unique Sunday School Visits Children

YW Brings Hymns, Bible Stories to Tots

Since most of the children in the hospital school for severely handicapped children can't go to Sunday school, the Sunday school has come to them.

Every Sunday morning at 9:30, two girls from the YWCA group go to the school to help conduct services for the Protestant children there.

The Catholic children from the hospital school go to the Children's hospital on Sunday mornings for services conducted by the Rev. J. Walter McElhinney, chaplain at University hospitals.

Joann Knox, A2, Stuart, chairman of the Y's Sunday school program at the school this year, has charge of a group of about 35 girls who take turns teaching the class.

Lois Longley, A2, Omaha, serves as one of the teachers every Sunday.

"The children enjoy the singing most," Joann said. "Their favorite hymn is 'Brighten the Corner Where You Are.'"

The children also listen to Bible stories, watch color pictures and learn prayers during the class.

Four lighted candles and an open Bible beneath a picture of Christ provide an impressive background for the Sunday school class.

The YWCA girls have been conducting Sunday school classes at the hospital school since last year, shortly after the school opened.

Last year's chairman was Joy Wilson, A3, Ottumwa.

Harper to Inspect Oregon University

Prof. Earl Harper, director of the Iowa Union, will visit extensive construction programs at two western universities this week.

Harper will arrive Thursday at the University of Oregon at Eugene to inspect new music, dramatic arts and union buildings.

On Nov. 21 he will visit a recently completed union building at the University of Washington, Seattle.

Harper also will conduct a seminar on church music and liturgy at Salem and Portland, Ore. The seminars are sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches.

On Nov. 20 he will conduct a city and regional choral festival in the Municipal auditorium, Portland, Ore.

County Library Given Geographic Magazine

Fourteen bound volumes of "National Geographic" magazine a gift of Rep. Thomas Martin, (R-Iowa), now are on the shelves of the Johnson county rural school library.

County Supt. of Schools Frank J. Snider said rural school teachers would use the books to brighten classroom studies of various peoples and countries.

He said Martin, who himself attended a rural school as a boy, wanted country school children to have access to supplementary material.

Chemical Society Elects Three SUI Professors

Three SUI professors were elected 1950 officers of the Iowa Section of the American Chemical Society Friday evening.

The new officers are Prof. George Kalnitsky, department of biochemistry, chairman; Prof. R.E. Buckles, chemistry department, vice-chairman, and Prof. Elizabeth Knapp, college of medicine, secretary-treasurer.

GETTING READY to sing a hymn during their Sunday school class are children of the hospital school for severely handicapped children. While Joann Knox, A2, Stuart, plays the piano, Lois Longley, A2, Omaha, prepares to lead the children in singing. Both girls are members of the YWCA group who help teach the class each Sunday.

Student Engineers Taught Paycheck Respect

Students in the SUI industrial engineering division are taught respect for one of an individual's most important possessions — his paycheck.

Laboratory work in time and motion study gives the students an inside track on understanding one of industry's most effective tools — incentive wage.

The basic principle of any incentive wage plan, according to Prof. J.W. Deegan who heads the division, is to provide a reward for accomplishment while reducing costs to employer and consumer.

This is usually done by setting a decent living wage on a fixed output. When the fixed output is exceeded during a certain work period, the employe gets a proportionate boost in his pay.

A sound plan is successful because an employe's incentive for more money moves him to be more effective in his work.

It is the industrial engineers' role to determine what a fixed output is.

Motion study, theoretically, comes first. Briefly, it consists of breaking down an operation into its many small elements and then developing better work methods. Some of these elements are simply grasping, lifting, or turning an object.

In one laboratory study, SUI students analyze the motion elements involved in a bolt-and washer assembly. By doing this, they eliminate unnecessary elements and set the assembly up for the most efficient production.

If motion study is done first, then a time study must follow.

The conventional time-study engineer observes the assembly operation closely and clocks in seconds the time required to perform each time-study element.

To this base time is added, or subtracted, allowances for the engineer's rating on the employe's effectiveness including skill, effort and working conditions.

Other time-study methods utilize standard times or combined standard time-motion units determined from past studies.

The net result is a standard production rate for the average employe doing a similar operation.

A recent survey among approximately 90 companies showed incentive employes earned 25 percent more than the base wage rate set for the standard production rate.

Iowa City Geologist To Represent State On Highway Board

State Geologist H. G. Hershey, 329 Beldon avenue, will go to St. Louis Monday and Tuesday as an Iowa representative on a planning commission for the proposed Mississippi River scenic highway.

A survey of routes for this highway was authorized by congress. The proposed road has been named the Mississippi River parkway and would run from the river's headwaters to its mouth.

The congressional proposal allowed each of the 10 states bordering the river to name 10 members to the MRP commission. Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana will be represented.

Hershey, head of the Iowa Geological survey, and nine other Iowans were chosen for this commission by Gov. William Beardesley, nearly a week ago. The St. Louis meeting is the first on the commission's planning program.

Some difficulty is expected among the states in deciding on the route of the parkway, but due to the Mississippi's winding course, Hershey said, each state should be able to get a fair length of highway on its side of the river.

However, the parkway is still just a plan, he added, and the commission will probably decide only if and where such a road could be built.

Freshman YWCA Elects Officers for Next Year

Freshman YWCA members recently elected officers for the coming year, the YWCA office announced.

Elected to offices were Bea Ann Vandenberg, Joliet, Ill., president; Marilyn Giles, La Grange, Ill., vice-president; Barbara McKown, Davenport, secretary, and Nancy Hall, Mason City, program chairman.

Marian Neff, A4, Ames, was elected freshman Y adviser.

Davenport Officials To Talk to IC Club

Two Davenport city officials will speak on "Problems of City Planning" at the first fall meeting of the Engineers Club of Iowa City at 8:15 p.m., Monday, in Iowa Union.

Club Pres. Philip Morgan said a dinner will precede the talks. Mayor A.R. Kroppach and City Planning Engineer Robert Jones, both of Davenport, will talk about some of the problems in connection with that city's $100,000 city-planning program.

Morgan said this year's programs will be arranged to the interest of all Iowa City engineers, whether associated with SUI or not.

The 1949 club officers, all professors in the SUI college of engineering, are Philip Morgan, president; D.E. Metzler, vice-president; Robert Sutherland, secretary; and M.C. Boyer and J.M. Trummel, directors.

Hunters Must Ask Landowners' Okay

Hunters should be careful before taking to the first field that looks full of game, the Iowa state conservation commission warned Saturday.

According to the commission, 97 percent of all land in Iowa is privately owned. Unless the hunter is on his own land, he must ask the farmer for permission to hunt.

More hunters than ever are entering the fields this year and so farmers want to know who is hunting on their land, the commission reminded.

If hunters cooperate with the farmers, the many "no hunting" signs in the state may disappear, the commission said.

SUI Instructor to Talk On Art in Cedar Rapids

Delmar Nordquist, SUI art department instructor, will speak today at a meeting of the Cedar Rapids Art association, Cedar Rapids.

Nordquist's address, "Antecedents of Contemporary American Painting" will be given in connection with a showing of the 1949 Corcoran Biennial exhibit of contemporary paintings.

The exhibit is being circulated by the Corcoran galleries, Washington, D.C., and includes an oil painting, "White Circle," by Prof. James Lechay, SUI art department.

Iowa H.S. Journalism Guide Compiled Here

The third annual directory listing Iowa high schools having a journalism activity reveals that a school annual is the most popular type of high school publication.

Compiled under the direction of Prof. Edward F. Mason, SUI school of journalism, the directory was recently distributed jointly by the school and the SUI extension division.

Of the 499 schools listed, 358 published an annual or yearbook. Schools publishing mimeographed papers numbered 208 and 74 published printed school papers.

The directory lists four schools with papers printed by the offset method and 12 printed by duplicator methods. A section of the town newspaper served as the high school publication in 165 cases.

Your brakes are good. Only last week you had them tested and you know you can count on them in a pinch. So why should you worry about a little rain on the streets? What if you are doing 45! Accidents never happen to you.

Or do they?

The driver of this car had good brakes, too. But they weren't good enough to stop him in time on the slippery pavement. He thought he wasn't going too fast, but it was too fast to live! Don't count on your car to save you from your own careless driving habits. Drive carefully—the life you save may be your own!

Darkness doubles danger to both drivers and pedestrians. Be extra careful at twilight and dawn when visibility is poorest, danger greatest.

Truck drivers know that a bouncing ball is invariably followed by a child. Many motorists do not. Drive cautiously near schools and wherever children play.

Question: What type of play would you like to see presented at the University theater?

Lois Miller, A1, Sioux City: "I would like to see some light musical comedies on the Rogers and Hammerstein variety, also more of the contemporary drama."

Lois "Rusty" Johnson, A2, Zealing: "The modern stage and screen is too superficial. What is needed is more of the serious mature drama. A larger repertoire of Shakespearean plays would be beneficial."

MILLER

Mike Goldstein, A2, Brooklyn: "I would like to see a combination of two plays, plays which have been proven as good drama and experimental theater. The later plays give neophyte playwrights of the university a chance to display their talents."
Wes Blomster, A3, Wetonka, S.D.: "While I agree with the need for an amount of comedy to brighten our gloomy world, I feel that there is a large amount of other types of matter being grossly ignored, specifically older classics."

Delphia Norman, A4, Marshalltown: "More of the serious but not melodramatic theater like the works of Thornton Wilder would be welcome. 'Our Town' is my favorite play. The university should also try to show more of the works of Shakespeare."

NORMAN

Marilyn Adams, A1, Des Moines: "I like something with a little 'meat' to it. Though I didn't like 'Command Decision,' I would like more of the successful Broadway plays such as 'I Remember Mama'."
Dick was born in Mapleton, up near Sioux City, which is the home of many good territory bands.
It was here that Tripp gained much of his experience behind a trumpet. He played with the bands of Larry Herman and Doc Lawson among others. In addition he, of course, played while attending high school.
His present group includes Jim Conrad, Larry Novy, and John Kacere on tenor saxes. Bob Williams holds down the piano chair and Bruce Cutler is the drummer.
Cutler is a Chicago product, and once played with Johnny Palmer's fine band on the Northwestern campus. Dick is on trumpet, and Kacere handles the vocals when needed.
The band's arrangements are of a special nature, having been originally slated for a three sax, three trumpet, three rhythm affair. But Tripp feels that this sort of band would be hard to book around here so he cut it down to the present size.
"Ye way we have it now," says Dick, "we fit into fraternities and sororities perfectly. We're not a big ballroom band, but the small dances and the like are what we aim for. Chris Peterson by the last week in the Communist-controlled press of eastern Germany. The story was that the Soviet Union was blasting away mountains and diverting rivers and creating a great channel where once there was nothing but wasteland.

This was picked up and elaborated upon before the United Nations at Lake Success by Soviet Foreign Minister A.Y. Vishinsky. Russia, he said, uses the power of the atom to move mountains, to irrigate deserts, to cut through jungles and arctic wastes, to spread happiness and prosperity.
It may be significant that Vishinsky's speech was an unscheduled one. It might have been the result of a sudden decision—or a sudden word from Moscow. It also may be significant that Vishinsky, when asked by reporters to tell where the Soviet Union was making this use of atomic energy, replied: "I can't say. I only know about it in a general way."
Even while he spoke these words, Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper and believer of the Communist press throughout the world, expressed the same theme: Russia is using atomic power to advance mankind, while the west is using it for international power politics.

This is the way Soviet propaganda campaigns develop: the keynote and then the choruses throughout the Communist propaganda channels of the world.
Let's examine the statements of the Soviet foreign minister and the Communist press:
1. Atomic explosive is among the most expensive commodities in the world. To use it for blasting would be like using cold powder—not that cost is any object with the Russians in the field of atom competition.
2. If atomic explosive were used in special circumstances for such purposes, the ground would become radioactive and this condition would persist for years, with annoying hazards always present.
3. A river diverted through an atomic cut would carry large quantities of radioactive materials, dispersing them widely at the risk of much harm. Nobody knows today just what these risks would entail.

5. One atom bomb, so far as the published facts in the United States indicate, could do more than make a small dent in a mountain. How many would be needed to topple a mountain or blast a channel is not known. The bomb which exploded in New Mexico in 1945, 100 feet above ground, made a shallow saucer in the earth 12 feet deep at the center.
If the bomb were buried in rock it would blow a greater crater, but not particularly greater than that which would be made by burying 20,000 tons of TNT. That much TNT is the equivalent of an atom bomb explosion.
If the Russians have solved these problems, they have made discoveries unknown or secret in the United States. If they have made cheap atom explosions possible, they have made discoveries in production methods unknown in the United States.

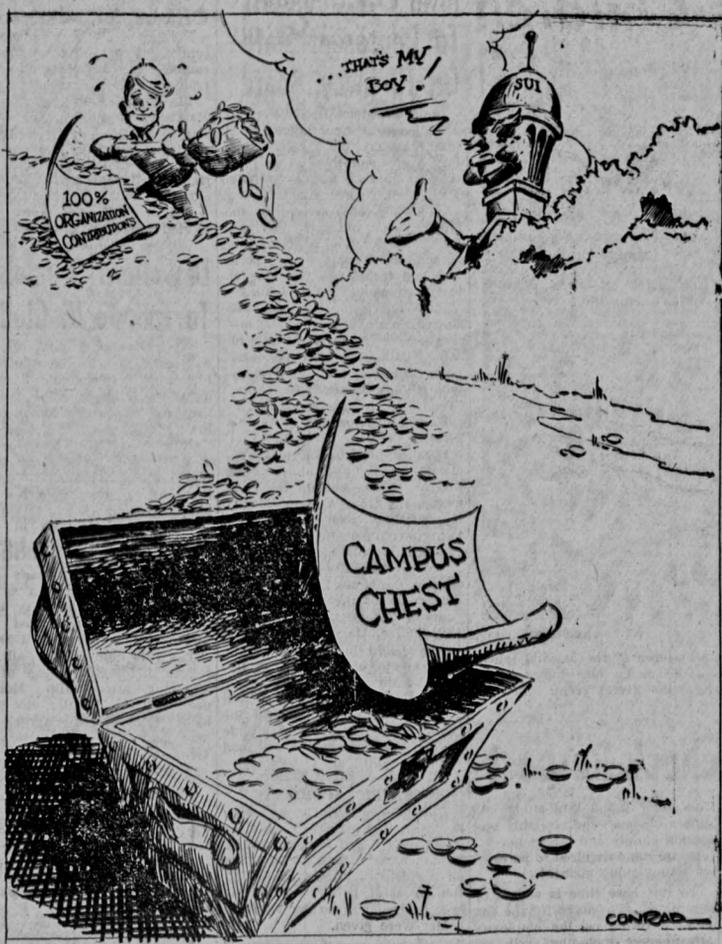

taxes on cigarettes, beer cost Iowans nearly $10-million
DES MOINES (AP)—Smoking cigarettes and drinking beer are costing Iowans close to $10-million a year in taxes alone.
This was indicated Saturday in state tax commission reports on collection of revenue from such sales in the first four months of this fiscal year. Compared with last year the collections were running about the same.
A commission representative said there is little fluctuation in the monthly revenue from cigarettes. Collections are running about $425,000 a month.
Beer revenue goes up in the summer and down in the winter, but neither variation is extreme. Collections of taxes from the sales of beer are averaging about $325,000 a month.
Cigarette revenue last month, however, dropped to $371,780. This was nearly $55,000 less than for September and nearly $20,000 less than collections in October of last year.

Photo of Capital Gave Away Height
WASHINGTON (AP)—The story behind the picture of Washington taken from 52,000 feet by a navy P2H Banshee jet fighter several months ago apparently was not the photograph itself but the plane that climbed so high.
As far as can be learned, that is the greatest altitude achieved by an American military plane in operational flight. The two-engine Banshee has hit that altitude on other occasions. The best mark reported for the B-36 is 50,000 feet.

Are you sure we're doing this in the correct procedure? That's usually my line. Pay attention to your script.
I would like to know if you will go with me to the Spinster's Spree.
That sounds yummy. I'd be delighted, but I'm dated up for five weeks in advance. I don't know. If it would be such a good idea or not.
What do you mean?
Well, it's like this. Long ago you women began agitation for equality. Having it granted, females being the opportunists that they are, weren't satisfied with equality, they went on to supremacy.
If I go, I'll never hear the last of it. I've told you I call you up and ask you to spend the evening at the library because I'm short of cash. I won't even be able to finish before you interrupt with, 'You beast!'
Here I've given you the best years of my life and you're afraid to spend a little of $20-bill on me. Besides, you should have plenty of money, didn't I pay the way last Friday and take you to the Spinster's Spree?"

Does this mean you won't go with me?
No, honey, you misunderstood. Of course I'll go.
Okay, Burton, I'll pick you up at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night.
Pardon me, what did you call me?
Burton. Isn't this Burton Lancheater?
No, this is Burtese Lancheater. I didn't think I knew any Barbara.
Sorry, wrong number!"

Give Now to Campus Chest

Russia's Atom 'Gains' Unlikely

By HOWARD BLAKESLEY AP Science Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Moscow's peace propaganda offensive has taken a bold step into a new field. But the venture does not stand up well under critical examination, unless Russian scientists know far more than those in the United States know, or have told.
For months the Russian propaganda drive has centered about the theme that the Soviet Union alone among the big powers, is the champion of world peace.
Now, with general acceptance of the report that the Soviet Union has an atom bomb, the pattern has developed further. It pictures Russia, alone among the big powers, as using atomic energy strictly for peacetime projects.
Unless the Russians have a much vaster knowledge of atomic energy and its uses than any scientists in the west, the latest Russian pronouncements on the atom — from Lake Success, from east Germany and from Moscow — must be looked upon primarily as a propaganda maneuver.
As propaganda, the Communist pronouncements fall into the familiar, logical pattern.
The keynote first was sounded

last week in the Communist-controlled press of eastern Germany. The story was that the Soviet Union was blasting away mountains and diverting rivers and creating a great channel where once there was nothing but wasteland.
This was picked up and elaborated upon before the United Nations at Lake Success by Soviet Foreign Minister A.Y. Vishinsky. Russia, he said, uses the power of the atom to move mountains, to irrigate deserts, to cut through jungles and arctic wastes, to spread happiness and prosperity.
It may be significant that Vishinsky's speech was an unscheduled one. It might have been the result of a sudden decision—or a sudden word from Moscow. It also may be significant that Vishinsky, when asked by reporters to tell where the Soviet Union was making this use of atomic energy, replied: "I can't say. I only know about it in a general way."
Even while he spoke these words, Pravda, the Soviet Communist party paper and believer of the Communist press throughout the world, expressed the same theme: Russia is using atomic power to advance mankind, while the west is using it for international power politics.

This is the way Soviet propaganda campaigns develop: the keynote and then the choruses throughout the Communist propaganda channels of the world.
Let's examine the statements of the Soviet foreign minister and the Communist press:
1. Atomic explosive is among the most expensive commodities in the world. To use it for blasting would be like using cold powder—not that cost is any object with the Russians in the field of atom competition.
2. If atomic explosive were used in special circumstances for such purposes, the ground would become radioactive and this condition would persist for years, with annoying hazards always present.
3. A river diverted through an atomic cut would carry large quantities of radioactive materials, dispersing them widely at the risk of much harm. Nobody

Trail's End Oldtimer Gives Up Harness Making

GREELEY, IOWA (AP)—William Goldsmith says harness making is as dead as the onetime popular phrase, "Thanks for the buggy ride."
He should know. At 84, and after 53 years in the business he's retiring because of the lack of business and because his eyesight is failing.
A sign made with a pencil and another printed with homemade implements spell out the end of the trail for a business that at one time was one of the liveliest in town.
Harness making was one of the best trades going when Goldsmith started about 1896. It was still booming pretty well as late as 12 years ago, before almost every farm was mechanized.

Clapp, will feature John Simms, pianist, as guest soloist. Simms, a graduate instructor in piano at SUI since 1947, will play the ever popular Chopin 'Concerto in F minor' for piano and orchestra. For several years before coming to SUI, Simms played as a professional accompanist for such artists as David Lloyd and Francis Greer. Last season he inspired Iowa City audiences with his performances of the Liszt piano concerto in A Major with the SUI orchestra and the playing of 'Gaspard de la Nuit' by Ravel, in a recital. The concerto, which Simms will play Wednesday is the second of two concertos for piano by Chopin. Concerning the work Simms said, 'In style, the concerto represents perfection in the use of ornamentation. The second movement is probably unique among Chopin's music in that it contains long, broad melody with elaborate embellishments.' On the orchestral side of the program, the famous 'Scherzade' by Nicholas Rimsky-Korsakoff will be the major work. So much has already been said about and done to the story of the

Such is the philosophy of Dick Tripp, leader and trumpet player of his own band here on campus. Dick was born in Mapleton, up near Sioux City, which is the home of many good territory bands. It was here that Tripp gained much of his experience behind a trumpet. He played with the bands of Larry Herman and Doc Lawson among others. In addition he, of course, played while attending high school. His present group includes Jim Conrad, Larry Novy, and John Kacere on tenor saxes. Bob Williams holds down the piano chair and Bruce Cutler is the drummer. Cutler is a Chicago product, and once played with Johnny Palmer's fine band on the Northwestern campus. Dick is on trumpet, and Kacere handles the vocals when needed. The band's arrangements are of a special nature, having been originally slated for a three sax, three trumpet, three rhythm affair. But Tripp feels that this sort of band would be hard to book around here so he cut it down to the present size. 'Ye way we have it now,' says Dick, 'we fit into fraternities and sororities perfectly. We're not a big ballroom band, but the small dances and the like are what we aim for. Chris Peterson by the

Her Master Has Gone Away Dog, Left Behind, Hasn't Lost Hope

By PHIL BLUMER
Brownie is a wistful-eyed cocker spaniel with a man-sized problem. She lost her boss. Prof. Howard Meredith, the problem in her life, up and left her last summer when he accepted a position at the University of Oregon.

The former member of the SUI child welfare service couldn't house the dog at Oregon, so he left her with his daughter, Mrs. Robert Stewart, 1038 Muscatine avenue.

But as far as Brownie's concerned, there's only one boss for her. And she won't believe he's in Oregon. Almost daily she waddles into East hall for one special reason — to see Meredith.

She'll stand by the elevator until she can hitch-hike a ride. Wherever her benefactor gets off, out she trots, no matter which floor.

Then Brownie runs down the corridor to a room two doors north of the elevator, on the west side of the corridor where she sleeps.

Jumping on her hind legs, she'll sniff the door knob. If it's room W519 — her master's former office — she starts whining. If her nose tells her it isn't W519, she'll retrace her steps and start all over again, looking for the right floor.

Sometimes she'll spend hours looking for that certain room.

And when she finds it, she just waits — Brownie has a date with a memory.

Extension Division To Offer Laundry Training Courses

The SUI extension division and the American hospital association will offer a special training course in hospital laundry management between Feb. 13 and April 7, 1950.

Courses in laundry chemistry, textiles, personnel management, recordkeeping and accounting, hospital organization and relations, engineering background, note-taking and report-writing will be offered during the eight-week period.

Facilities of University hospitals, the SUI laundry and laboratories will be available to students.

The course is offered to fill a wide-felt need for such training, according to SUI officials, since there are only two other schools in the country offering laundry management training.

Registration for the course will be limited to 35 SUI faculty members will teach the course.

Application for admittance to the course can be made to the SUI extension division, according to Lee W. Cochran, executive assistant, extension division.

Prof. Rouse to Visit West Coast Schools

Prof. Hunter Rouse, director of the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research, and Dale Harris, shop supervisor of the institute, will fly today to the west coast where Rouse will visit three California schools.

Rouse and Harris will inspect the hydraulic laboratories at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

From Pasadena, Rouse will go to the University of California college of engineering at Berkeley, and Stanford university, Stanford.

Rouse will confer with hydraulic officials at the three schools before returning by plane Saturday. Harris will remain in Los Angeles after the Pasadena inspection and will return Sunday.

Business BRIEFS

As work on the top of the Iowa State Bank and Trust company building was completed Friday, workmen began taking down the six story steel scaffolding.

After nearly a month's work, the loose cornices and masonry were removed and a brick parapet wall constructed. The parapet is complete with decorative designs of light-colored brick inlaid into the wall.

Recently opened on South Capitol street just off the campus is a new cafe called the "Student Lunch." It is located in the COD cleaning plant and is operated by "Mac" McCormick, owner of COD.

Something new in neon signs was erected Thursday at "Kenney's" new tavern at 24 S. Clinton street. The sign is seemingly suspended in the air over the sidewalk. The neon letters spelling the name of the owner are not supported on a metal sign but are fastened only by narrow metal strips.

More than 40 doctors attended the first post-graduate conference for general practitioners at the SUI college of medicine Saturday.

The conference was designed to acquaint doctors with the latest advancements in diagnosing and treating medical problems encountered by the general practitioner.

Members of the SUI college of medicine faculty led the discussions during the meeting.

Several of the doctors who attended the meeting will stay in Iowa City for the five-day post-graduate conference in obstetrics and gynecology beginning Monday at University hospitals.

Brownie makes the trip to her master's old office on the fifth floor of East hall as often as she can bum a ride in the elevator. When she finds the right door, she jumps up and sniffs to check her memory, then whines and goes back home still lonesome.

THEFT REPORTED

Delbert Snyder, 335 S. Clinton street, told police two red and green Indian blankets were stolen from his car sometime Friday night. The car was parked near his residence when the theft occurred.

Progressives to Show French Movie Today

Two showings of a French film will be presented today by the SUI Young Progressives in the Chemistry auditorium.

The movie, "Grand Illusion," will be shown at 3:30 and 8 p.m. Tickets will be on sale at the door and the public is invited to the movie. The admission is 40 cents, Barbara Rose, A3, Young Progressives' publicity chairman, said.

FROM AN IOWA CITY THEATRE MANAGER... TO AN IOWA CITY MOVIE-GOER!

Dear Friend:

Only once in a decade does Hollywood turn out that rare, wonderful and exciting drama, the truly great motion picture. This decade brings us "HOME OF THE BRAVE," a great picture. Our advertisements will do their best to tell why. They will speak of the drama, the suspense, the action and the daring of "HOME OF THE BRAVE," which by any standards would make it a highly successful film.

They will speak, too, of acclaim by periodicals, critics and columnists. The public rightly trusts these judges of what is worth while on the screen.

"HOME OF THE BRAVE" is a simple story of a small incident in a big war. It is the story of five men sent on a dangerous mission. Up to this point, the picture is like many another well-told tale of courage and adventure.

But here a larger, deeper drama enters the story. Four of these men are white, the fifth a Negro. In tough, smashing scenes and language, never seen or heard before on any screen, the story of unreasoning conflict explodes before you.

It will stir you. It may shock you. Certainly you will be absorbed as well as excited.

In "HOME OF THE BRAVE" the screen reaches new entertainment stature, and this is important to us all. You will see some new faces before you; also, perhaps, some older ones long absent.

We shall open "HOME OF THE BRAVE" at the ENGLERT THEATRE on WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16. It will prove a proud date for motion pictures.

Sincerely,
Albert Davis
Manager

"This film is plainly for starting impassioned discussion. For not only does it have forebearance for the youthful principles in an adulterous romance, but it lays bare the merciless irony in certain conventional attitudes. Perhaps the finest, most mature picture from post-war France."

The Veep 'Paces Floor,' The Fiancee 'Full of Life,' The Wedding Date -- Friday

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "I'll be pacing the floor until that day," said Vice-President Alben W. Barkley, with a spark in his eyes, just like any other man about to be married.

A stalwart, immaculate figure in blue, he was standing in his hotel suite. Sitting near, full of life, was Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, his handsome brunette fiancée. They were about to announce further details of their wedding plans.

She had told of the engagement just two weeks before, thereby settling a question which had been abroad in the land for some four months.

"That day" that Mr. Barkley referred to is next Friday, when the vice-president, approaching his 72nd birthday, and Mrs. Hadley, 38, will walk down to the altar of a Methodist chapel and be married, each for the second time, in the simplest, quietest ceremony in the book.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt is to pronounce the words in the Chapel of St. John's Methodist church, a large one in the west end of St. Louis, at 11 a.m. (Iowa time) in the presence of none but the immediate families and a restricted number of reporters, but no photographers.

This will be the culmination of a grand romance carried on, as Barkley once said, "in a goldfish bowl." It started last July, in Washington, when she was there on her vacation. As it developed, with a quickening pace, their best-made plans for privacy wound up in fairly full publicity.

She went right on working at her job, secretary to the general counsel of the Wabash railroad.

Her husband was the chief Wabash attorney when he died in February, 1945, of a heart attack. They had been married 14 years, and had two daughters.

Barkley's wife died in 1947, also of heart disease, after 44 years of marriage. After that, one of their daughters, Mrs. Max O. Truitt, became his Washington hostess.

He was much in demand as a guest, and he had a courtly gallant appreciation of womankind's charms—but there was no hint of romance.

Not until last July, when Jane Hadley visited Washington as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark M. Clifford, Clifford is special counsel to the president.

On a little trip down the Potomac the night of July 8, Mrs. Hadley's first night in the which he had not seen before. He told her — the story goes — that she must have had a wonderful power of resistance to have remained single until then.

Mrs. Hadley, who still likes to think of herself as a "plain, mid-western girl with a prosaic background," also had travelled well in St. Louis social circles but, so far as her friends could tell, never had seriously considered another marriage.

Her father, a lawyer, now lives in Kansas City. Her mother, a professional pianist, plans to keep her daughter's apartment here.

Jane was born in the small Missouri town of Keytesville. When she was 10 years old the family moved to Sedalia, Mo., where she went to high school.

For two of her school years she was in Europe with her mother.

With a brother and a sister she went to school one year in Rome and one year in Lausanne.

A friend points to these as some of her more important characteristics: an effervescent vivacity and love of life, warmth of personality, abiding kindness and unselfishness, and an ability to fit in anywhere, whatever the occasion calls for.

She's energetic, to be sure, but whether she can keep pace with the Veep is something to be seen. Four days after she announced her engagement she went into a hospital for a week with a touch of flu, but her mother said the thing she needed, as much as treatment, was rest. Doorbells and telephones had worn her down.

Barkley, taking in full stride the designation "grandfather of the year" by an organization of grandmothers and grandfathers in Chicago, never tried to back away from his role of a man in love. Over and over he acknowledged, with thanks, that he'd never had so many people pulling for him.

Late in September he told a St. Louis audience: "without intending to do it, one of your lovely ladies has driven the Duchess of Windsor and Rita Hayworth off the front page." He had kept himself on it all along, but marital speculation boomed the interest in him to a mere vice-president.

And so, next Friday is "that day," Barkley and Mrs. Hadley have said they want it to be as quiet and simple as possible, but with so many eyes on them they can't be sure that quietness and simplicity will be very possible.
