By JOE BROWN

MANY TIMES I've wondered how the members of a show's cast can muster any enthusiasm on opening night after having to hear the same songs and see the same dances so many times during rehearsal.

And the jokes must be terribly stale to them after listening to the same punch lines over and over.

But I saw a rehearsal Thursday night that convinced me you folks are in for a good time next week when Kampus Kapers opens Tuesday night.

There's a fellow named Mel Donnelly in that show who puts on such a rollicking, rambunctious and satirical take-off of King Richard the Lion Hearted that even members of the cast explode in laughter and hold up the dialogue.

Admittedly, some of the campus efforts at comedy we see don't drive us to hiccoughs with mirth. But that Donnelly boy's going to make you forget approaching finals when he goes into his drooling portrayal of ole King Dick's frustrations from lack of enough hugging and kissing.

THERE'S a real professional touch to his singing and acting. You might even catch yourself humming his tune later. And then there's a comedy team which I promise will be good for some real knee-slapping stomach ticklers. Dick Shull and Jerry Handman put on a skit built around the witch who tried to foul up Snow White's romance, and, again, even the staff members, themselves, got the guffaws Thursday night from watching.

You might have read, too, of Jack Brooking's portrayal of Hollywood's Larry Park's portrayal of Al Jolson. I saw it and the boy can sho' make with the mammy.

I don't know how many of the Jolson songs the show will carry, but he'll add a lot to the evening's fun with any of them. Then there's Jack Miller. I've seen Jack around the campus quite a bit and have been impressed with his friendly nature and good looks.

But it never occurred to me that the fellow was carrying around as nice a voice as I heard the other night.

If you ask your date a question on the way home from the show, fellows, and instead of answering she simply stares straight ahead, singing "Look for the Silver Lining" softly to herself, you'll know what she's thinking of.

I'VE GOT a word of warning here for you and it shouldn't be taken lightly. I want to quote one of the laws of Iowa.

"If any person be found on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, engaged in... dancing, hunting, shooting, horse racing... or in buying or selling property of any kind, or in any labor except that of necessity or charity, he shall be fined not more than five nor less than one dollar, and be imprisoned in the county jail until the fine, with costs of prosecution shall be paid; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent... keepers of toll bridges, toll gates and ferrymen from attending the same."

You know what our attorney general's been doing about violations of certain laws lately. Somebody might get in trouble from something other than playing pin-ball machines, too.

If you know what's good for you, you'll stay away from those Sunday afternoon tea dances. Getting thrown in the ole' county jug could be right uncomfortable. And you can see the risk you're running.

And fellows, no more hunting. The rabbits aren't worth it. Stick to fishing.

However, don't feel badly. All isn't lost. If you're determined to be active on Sunday, the law leaves an opening for you.

It would involve breaking a lot of ice, but for those persons who don't want to waste time walking to bridges crossing the lower river here, you can set up a ferry service.

TO THE EDITOR: Early this morning, having arisen at 3 a.m. to contemplate my navel and the ills of the world respectively, I had sunk to the nadir of apathy, when the arrival of the morning paper caused my soul to leap up with joy.

Fie for shame. What had I been thinking of? No more sound of the tinkling cymbal and the sounding brass. For we have, right here on the campus, multitudinous organizations that are dedicated to much nobler purposes. Obviously.

Having reflected further upon the idea, I would like to add my modicum of praise to the apnegetic "Lessons in Living" as found in the editorial columns of Friday's Daily Iowan. As a barbarian, I thank thee, O magnificent Greeks, for:

1. Maintaining the American superstition of the inherent unsoundness of the Negro, thus giving to the lowly barbarians a greater percentage of diverse associates.

2. Maintaining the Jewish people as a self-conscious minority group which may not be a bad idea, a from this minority have come many great men, and who know; if some one changed their minor status, perchance they would not contribute as much. Let us uphold the status quo.

3. Drawing the line of fraternal acceptability at the point of economic means. This is a very good point, as obviously, people of high economic standing and social position have but little in common with those of the inferior bracket.

And, as if this weren't enough I read: "Emphasis has been shifted to personality development of the individual." By George, a bit of all right, that. Reminds me of the last stanza of a poem in "Frisvol" last year.

Or will he end, like you and me, R.A., J.C., and G.O.P.

English Professor To Lecture Here On Poets' Writings

Cleath Brooks, author and literary critic, will be at SUI this weekend and Monday to visit creative writing classes. He is a professor of English at Yale university, a leader in the "New Criticism" trend in literary criticism and author of poems, essays and books.

Prof. Paul Engle, director of the SUI writing program, said Brooks will lecture here Monday night on several poems by Robert Penn Warren and Andrew Marvell.

This program will be at 6 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol, and is open to the public. Mimeographed copies of the poems will be distributed at the lecture, Engle said.

Two of Brooks' most recent books are "The Well Wrought Urn" and "Modern Poetry and the Tradition."

Brooks and Robert Penn Warren, Pulitzer prize-winning novelist, were co-authors of "Understanding Fiction" and "Understanding Poetry," texts used in writing classes here.

Engle said Brooks will meet with and discuss the work of fiction and poetry workshop classes and also confer personally with some student writers while here.

Brooks was scheduled to visit SUI in October but had to cancel the trip because of illness in his family.

Program Starts March of Dimes

A polio treatment demonstration at the SUI hospital will feature a public meeting launching the 1950 March of Dimes campaign in southeastern Iowa Monday evening.

Sponsored jointly by the Johnson county chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis foundation and the University hospitals, the meeting will also include a discussion of campaign plans by Wesley Altenberg, regional director of the foundation.

Dr. William D. Paul, chairman of the university physical medicine department at the hospitals, will conduct the demonstration assisted by Mrs. Olive Farr, chief physical therapist at the hospitals.

Jim Shank, former Iowa City high school football player who has almost recovered from polio, and patients now in the polio ward will aid in the demonstration.

Civic and local organizations from eight Iowa counties have been invited to the meeting.

Mrs. J. K. Schaaf, Iowa City, chairman of the Johnson county chapter, announced the Johnson county goal in the 1950 campaign will be $10,000.

Although last year's goal of $5,000 was over-subscribed, Mrs. Schaaf announced, more than that amount was spent, depleting reserve funds.

Half of the $10,000 to be raised will stay in Johnson county while the remainder will be turned over to the national organization.

New Ice Skates Offer Comfort, Longer Wear

Comfort and protection are the key words in the ice skates for 1950, but other than more support for tired ankles and generally better material, skaters need fear no drastic change in the new designs.

Though Iowa's summer-influenced skating season this year has offered ice enthusiasts few opportunities to bring their blades out of storage, observers here estimate that at least a month of good skating weather remains.

Endurance
If the ice man stayeth, skaters can step on the ice with an exhibit of the latest styles in blade beauty. Both figure and speed skates have been built for good looks as well as endurance this year.

One of the changes from last year's models is in the ladies' skates. Manufacturers have decided to allow the girls a little more room in which to move their toes. Previously only a single seam had extended from the bottom of the shoe to the end of the toe, but this year midday's skates feature a double seam up front to give more comfort and room.

Warmly Lined
Arch supports are built up and the tongue is warmly lined with sheepskin. In both men and women's figure skates, the toe of the blade has eight indented ribs for figure work.

The actual shoe for the girls is made of white elk leather and has a soft toe with glossy finish. For adventure-minded gals who wish to spend more time resting on the ice on parts of the body other than the feet, there is a wide selection of hockey skates. These "sounded-up" models flash chrome-plated blades well-ripped to the shoe.

Stronger
Men's figure skates are showing better arch supports and stronger construction to protect the top of the foot. Semi-closed hard toes round out the black leather shoes.

Two-toned models in light and dark brown. Built for speed, they are light and snug around the ankles, and made of full grain leather.

Despite Iowa City's toasted winter, the demand has been heavy for skates of all kinds, even the new styles for Junior. These have all the features of the larger skates, except that there isn't room for so much foot.

Childs to Lecture At Union Monday

Marquis Childs, SUI graduate and Washington news columnist, will return to SUI Monday to deliver a lecture in the Iowa Union main lounge at 8 p.m.

Born in Clinton, Childs taught English composition at SUI after his graduation from the University of Wisconsin. He later worked for the United Press in Chicago and New York City after receiving a master's degree from SUI in 1935.

Childs' lecture will be "Washington Calling," the title of his daily column appearing in over 150 newspapers. The SUI library will set up a display of some of Childs' manuscripts, books and other writings Saturday at the Union. A display case in the lobby near the main lounge will show the steps from the author's typewriter to the finished book. Among manuscripts to be displayed are Childs' evaluation of Brooks Adams' "America's Economic Supremacy," and his book, "I Write From Washington."

Miss Grace Wormer, assistant library director, said the display would continue several days after the lecture.

Miss Wormer, who is in charge of the library's collection of manuscripts by Iowa authors, said the thesis Childs wrote at SUI will also be included.

Indiana Here for Iowa's Opening Big Ten Game

It'll be two Michigan victims getting together in the Iowa fieldhouse tonight when the Hawkeyes and Indiana meet in a Western conference basketball game at 8 before an estimated 13,000 spectators.

The Hoosiers defeated Wisconsin in their first Big Ten game, after winning nine pre-conference games without defeat, then lost in the last second at Ann Arbor Monday night, 69-67.

Iowa, sadly off in its shooting, lost to the Wolverines a week ago tonight, 66-44. In non-conference competition the Hawks had an eight and one record, the only reversal coming in Detroit, to Lawrence Tech.

Last Here Last Year

A year ago Indiana downed the Hawks, 76-60, here, in a fast-moving game. The Hoosiers are known for their willingness to fire from anywhere on the court and their hustling play under both backboards.

It will be the first home conference game of the year for Iowa, where in the last 36 league games the Hawks have come out on top 30 times. Indiana leads in the series, started in 1909, by a 36-20 margin but Iowa has won five of the last nine contests played in Iowa City.

Coach Branch McCracken's team, established as a strong contender for the Big Ten title now owned by Illinois, has three players who are running practically even in scoring. Bill Garrett, a short but agile center, leads with 145 points. Lou Watson, a guard, has 143 and Forward Jerry Stuteville has 134.

Two Hawks Over 100 Two Hawks are over the 100 mark. They are Center Frank Calsbeek, 155, and Forward Bob Vollers, 137. Bob Clifton started his Big Ten career at Michigan with a 25-point outburst and now has brought his season's total to 93.

Coach Pops Harrison warned Thursday that the players must rebound better and show more hustle under the basket if they are to hope for a conference win over Indiana.

In the first game of the evening the Iowa freshman team will play an intra-squad game. Early next week the team will be out to between 15 and 20.

Clinton Whips Little Hawks in Mississippi Valley Tilt, 60-50

By LEE OLSON

It is extremely unlikely that you can convince City high's cagers that "Friday the 13th" is just another day on the calendar. Friday night the Clinton River Kings invaded Iowa City and handed the Little Hawks their second setback in Mississippi Valley play, 60-50.

It was Clinton's Guard, Dick Goers and Center Don Ramig who did the damage. Goers poked in 19 points while Ramig, who is second among conference scorers, hit for 15.

Fenton Leads Scoring

The River Kings sputtered in the early moments of play while the Hawkeys, with the aid of Bill Fenton who scored 24 points during the evening, built up a 10-6 lead. At the end of the period the visitors had moved out in front, 14-10.

Trailing, 21-11, in the early minutes of the second period, it appeared it just wasn't City high's night. But some long shots by Jerry White moved the Hawkeys to within two points of Clinton, 27-25.

Hold Halftime Margin

That proved to be only temporary, however, as Clinton's Goers connected twice before the half ended setting the score at 31-26. Gradually building up their lead, Clinton held a 46-36 advantage going into the last quarter. City high fought back hard but it was too late as Clinton, rated as the third toughest quintet in this part of the state, coasted in.

Tonight City high will attempt to get back in the win column when it travels to Cedar Rapids to meet Roosevelt.

DON RYAN
... Badger from Iowa

Hawkeye Grapplers Entertain Wisconsin

Iowa's wrestling squad will get its first test of the season today at 2 p.m. in the fieldhouse when it meets a strong Wisconsin team which has already won three of four meets.

The Badgers won over Northwestern, 24-6; Indiana, 17-9; Wheaton, 21-10, and lost to Illinois, 22-8.

Joe Scarpello, 175-pounder, heads the 1950 Hawkeye team. The Olympic team member has not lost a dual meet bout in three seasons and has also won three Big Ten titles in his class.

Other veterans include Vern McCoy at 121; Captain George Tesla, 145, and Russ Tharp, 155. The four other matmen are making their first starts.

One of the Badger stars is Don Ryan, 155-pounder from Council Bluffs, former Iowa high school champion. He has won all four of his bouts this season and is called one of the greatest wrestling prospects in Wisconsin history.

The lineups:
IOWA McCoy 121, Macias 128, Carman 136, Tesla 145, Tharp 155, Benda 165, Scarpello 175, Paulsen 175.
WISCONSIN DeWitte 121, Spicuzza 128, Coetzee 136, Peterson 145, Ryan 155, Peterson 165, Falter 175, Levitin 175.

Iowa Swim Team Opens at Madison

Coach Dave Armbruster and a 17-man swimming team left by chartered bus this morning for Madison, Wis., where this afternoon the Hawkeyes and Badgers tangle in a Big Ten meet.

Armbruster had said that Wisconsin has one of its strongest teams in years. In their only start this year the Badgers were downed by Purdue, 51-31, one of the better teams in the league.

Iowa holds a 10-5 margin over Wisconsin in meets and has won 19 of the last 20 dual meets.

Iowa's team, handicapped somewhat at present because of cold, is built around Captain Duane Draver, the back-stroker who was part of the 1949 team, one of the greatest in Iowa history.

Gymnasts Arrive

LINCOLN, NEB. — A 10-man Iowa gymnastics team arrived here Friday night, ready to meet Nebraska this afternoon in gymnastics competition.

Coach Dick Holzaepfel, hopeful that his young team will gain experience for the approaching Big Ten season, said Thursday that Nebraska has one of the better gymnastics teams in the Midwest.

Deny Report Anderson Agreed to Coach Cards

CHICAGO (AP) — Ray Bennigsen, president of the Chicago Cardinals professional football team, said Friday night there was no basis to a report that Iowa Football Coach Eddie Anderson had agreed to coach the Cardinals.

"We've talked about Anderson among ourselves, but have not talked to him. We don't even know that Anderson is looking for a change," Bennigsen said.

"I don't know if he would sign him up if he were willing to take the job," Bennigsen said.

Hack Chosen Pilot Of Springfield Club
CHICAGO (AP) — Stan Hack, former star Chicago Cub third baseman, Friday was handed a managerial berth just one notch below the major leagues after only two years of field boss experience. The Cubs named the 39-year-old Hack to pilot their Springfield, Mass., club in the triple A International league next season. Hack managed the Cubs' Des Moines team in the class A Western league for the past two seasons, producing a pennant winner in 1948 and a fourth-place finisher last year. Before that, Hack had spent all of his 15 major league seasons guarding third base for the Cubs. Hack's appointment followed by just one day the Cub's purchase of the Newark International loop franchise from the New York Yankees and its switch to Springfield. No successor to Hack at Des Moines will be named immediately, the Cubs office said.

South Prepares for Sanity Code Battle
NEW YORK (AP) — The south's sanity code rebels girded for today's showdown in quiet, private caucuses Friday while learning three eastern institutions probably will line up with them in their fight against the NCAA. Boston college, Villanova and Maryland were reported to be the other three teams on a list of seven scheduled to face the wrath of the National Collegiate Athletic association in its windup meeting. The other four recommended for expulsion because of admitted violations of the sanity code have been known for weeks. They are the Citadel, Virginia, Virginia Tech and Virginia Military Institute. The matter is to be brought before the convention today with a two-thirds vote of those present needed to expel. Boston college's Athletic Director John P. Curley admitted Friday morning his school was one of those on the griddle. Boston informed the NCAA, as did the others, it could not conform with the new code relating to athletic subsidies. Villanova had made no official statement but Coach Jim Leonard said, "Sure, we make no pretense. We are paying the tuition and board of some of our athletes."

Four-Act Show To Be Featured At Union Party

Ten student performers will provide a half-hour variety show tonight at the Union Board's first post-ballgame party of the year. Master of Ceremonies Don Van Atta, A3, Davenport, will begin the four-act show at 10:45 p.m. in the Iowa Union main lounge, Party Chairman Mike Trueblood, A3, Sioux Falls, S.D., said Friday.

Barbershop Quartet

"Three Jacks and a Joker," student barbershop quartet, will contribute four-part harmony in the show's first act. Members of the quartet are John Craven, G, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Jack Miller, A3, Newburgh, N.J.; Dick Lutton, G, Evanston, Ill., and John Heineman A3, Dubuque.

Part two of the variety show will be a magician team, formed several years ago by two SUI students. They are Chuck Hanson, 24, Rock Island, Ill., and Jean Gordon, A4, Moline, Ill.

Also included in the show will be piano selections by Marge Campbell, A4, Jefferson, Iowa, and vocals by Willis Volkmer, A1, Washington, D.C.

Tonight's open house will begin in the Iowa Union immediately following the Iowa - Indiana game.

In addition to the talent show, shortened versions of "Treasure Island" and a Laurel and Hardy comedy will be shown in the River room.

Other features of the party will be "Club Hawkeye" in the Iowa Union cafeteria, community singing, card games and ping pong.

Administratrix Asks Return of Property To Bouck's Estate

The administratrix of the George H. Bouck estate filed suit against Bouck's widow in Johnson county district court Friday, asking that certain property previously transferred to Bouck's widow be declared part of his estate.

Mrs. Gertrude K. Gruwell, 1861 Magazine avenue, administratrix and former wife of Bouck, charged the transferee made impossible the payment of a $3,000 alimony judgment previously awarded her by the district court.

She charged that on Feb. 9, 1942, Bouck delivered a bill of sale on the Hilltop Tavern, 1100 N. Dodge street, to his wife, Edna Bouck, 1100 N. Dodge street.

On June 25, 1945, the petition stated, a deed for the real estate on which the tavern was situated was delivered to Mrs. Bouck.

Mrs. Gruwell claimed that at the time of Bouck's death, Nov. 12, 1948, he owned an undivided half interest in the real estate.

She charged that the conveyance of the real estate and property was made in full knowledge of the $3,000 judgment. She protested that unless the property was made available as part of Bouck's estate, the judgment could not be satisfied.

Local Voters Group To Hear Discussion Of City Government

A discussion of the council-manager form of city government will feature a noon luncheon meeting of the Iowa City League of Women Voters Monday, Member Mrs. Don Lewis said Friday.

The group will hear three Iowa Citizens who have had managerial government experience. A discussion of the plan will follow.

Mrs. Don Guthrie, 1634 Morningside drive, will speak on the plan's operation in Cushing, Okla. It was adopted there in 1929.

W.D. Perrin, 1 Bella Vista Place, A2, Iowa City, will discuss attempts to adopt the plan in Waterloo. He helped organize a campaign for the council-manager plan there.

The third speaker will be Prof. Samuel Fahr, SUI college of law, who assisted managerial plan campaigns in Cambridge, Mass., in 1942. He lived in that city after the plan's adoption there.

The discussion will begin at 12:45 p.m. and will be concluded by 1:25 so league members may adjourn to the community building to take part in a scheduled council-manager training program.

Reservations for the luncheon can be made by calling Mrs. Frank Burge at 80989 by noon today. The public is invited.

SUI Concert Band Names Selections

Nine selections, new to SUI's concert band repertoire this year will be played at Wednesday's band concert at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Union.

Opening the program will be Handel's "Prelude and Fugue in F Minor" and Dukas' "The Sorcerer's Apprentice."

Tanelev's "Entr' Acte" from "Orestes" will be followed by Milhaud's "Suite Francaise." The five movements to the suite are entitled, "Normandie," "Bretagne," "Ile de France," "Alsace-Lorraine" and "Provence."

The second half of the program will open with Kabelevsky's "Comedians' Gallop" and three dances from the "Gayne" ballet by Khachaturian. These are the famous "Sabre Dance," "Lullaby" and "Dance of the Rose Maidens."

Final two numbers on the program are Grundman's "American Folk Rapsody" and Glinka's "Jota Aragonesa."

Free concert tickets will be available Monday at the Iowa Union desk, Whetstone Drug company and the band office, room 15 Music building.

Fat Iowa Turkeys Win for Governor

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. William S. Beardsley's faith in the turkey-growing talents of Iowa poultrymen paid off Friday with a 45-1-2-pound bird from the Iowa Turkey Growers federation.

He was presented the gobble at statehouse ceremonies. Beardsley accepted a challenge last March from Minnesota Gov. Luther Youngdahl who proposed a contest between turkey growers in Minnesota and Iowa.

The birds weighed in last week at the National Turkey Growers convention in Minneapolis. It was no surprise for Beardsley when the Iowa entry proved to be heavier.

Under terms of the challenge, the winning governor was to receive the bird entered by the opposing state. But the Iowa Turkey Growers federation ruled that Beardsley should receive its bird.

Busy Secretary Aids Dental Campaign

STICKING STAMPS IS OLD STUFF for Mrs. Olive Springer, a secretary in the SUI dental building office of the Iowa state bureau of dental hygiene. She had to mimeograph, address and stamp about 1500 letters for a forthcoming dental health drive in Iowa. In case you can count the letters in the picture, only part of the 1,500 are shown. The rest have been mailed.

1,500 Postage Stamps Invested in Dental Care

By PHIL BLUMER
Mrs. Olive Springer is no stamp collector. In fact, she'd just as soon never see another uncancelled, unlicked stamp.
Mrs. Springer, secretary for the Iowa bureau of dental hygiene's office in the SUI dental building, has a pretty good reason for her aversion—she's just finished sticking 1,500 stamps on 1,500 letters.
Small Part
Of course, sticking the stamps on the envelopes was only a small part of the job. She also had to make a mimeographed form for each letter, address the envelopes and cart them all to the Iowa City postoffice.

The letters were sent out to county and town school superintendents, to public health nurses, dental health committeemen, school dentists and dental hygienists all over the state.
The job is part of the bureau's effort to make sure that Iowa's sons and daughters, kid-brothers and kid-sisters are getting the kind of care they need to grow good teeth.

One of the sources said: "The general opinion of dentists is that the frequent or excessive use of sugar favors tooth decay. If the intake of sugar is limited to meals, tooth decay will be reduced."
"It is the in-between-meal use of beverages, candy, gum, cookies, cakes and the like which is so destructive to teeth."
Mrs. Springer is in whole-hearted agreement with the campaign, but she sometimes gets tired of sticking stamps.
"I wish," she said, "that there weren't so many counties in Iowa!"

Guard Dismissed Prior to Tragedy

HAMMOND, IND. — Mrs. Katherine Samas, 24, slain with five others in her home here early Thursday, dismissed a police guard just before she walked into the house, it was learned Friday.
She told Robert Poteet, Hammond patrolman assigned to guard her from possible harm from her husband, that "everything looks quiet" and Poteet left.
Firemen and police found her body, that of her husband, Felix, 27, their two children and a young married couple in the dwelling seven hours later. Police said Samas shot or stabbed all five and then took his own life.
Hammond police officials had assigned Poteet to guard Mrs. Samas because her husband had threatened violence.

The Iowa City office is a branch of the Iowa state department of health. It is staffed by Elvira L. Grabow, nurse consultant, and her secretary, Mrs. Springer.

In cooperation with SUI, they recommend special plans to encourage and educate Iowa's small fry toward better teeth-brushing habits, better eating habits and to regard the family dentist as a friend.

Blame Sugar
The letters which Mrs. Springer sends out contain information compiled from several sources by Dr. Olin E. Hoffman, acting head of the bureau, showing that sugar in the diet may be destructive to children's teeth.
