Bednasek's Hearing May Be This Week

Arraignment for Robert E. Bednasek, charged with the stragulation murder of Margaret Ann Jackson, will be sought this week, County Atty. Jack C. White said Monday.

White filed an information in district court Saturday charging the former SUI psychology student with first degree murder.

This action took the case out of the hands of the grand jury which was impanelled Monday.

and placed it in district court from the district peace court.

Bednasek's attorney, Clair Hamilton, said of the move, "This action was very unusual. Bednasek has been in jail all of this time, and now, two days before the grand jury convenes, an information is filed."

Miss Jackson was found dead Dec. 11, 1949, in Bednasek's rooming house after a fraternity party.

Dr. George D. Callahan, county coroner, attributed her death to murder by strangulation.

His attorney, Hamilton and Milo Hanzlik of Cedar Rapids, have indicated that Bednasek will plead innocent, when he enters a formal plea at his arraignment.

Select Grand Jury

The grand jury for the February term was impanelled Monday in Johnson county district court.

It will begin its hearings at 9:30 a.m. today.

The seven persons selected for duty are:

J. P. Burns, Hardin township, foreman; Charles L. Bartlett, Cedar; Lawrence Peters, Big Grove; William Raim, Monroe; Waldon Townsley, Pleasant Valley, Woodrow L. Weber, Sharon, and Oscar H. Wiese, Lincoln.

Tomash Condition Called 'Unchanged'

The condition of Anton Tomash, Oxford township farmer who has admitted attempts to poison his wife "remains unchanged," University hospital officials said Monday.

Tomash suffered a stroke and was taken to University hospital a few hours after he confessed to Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy. However, Coroner George D. Callahan said the stroke was from natural causes.

Tomash, whose chances of recovery are said to be critical, was arrested Wednesday after his wife filed charges against him in a local justice of the peace court.

Carol Ann Paigh To Be Tried Today For Mercy Murder

BRIDGEPOORT, CONN.

The mercy murder trial of Ann Paigh is due to re-open jury before nightfall today.

Final arguments over the 1-year-old girl's fate are set for morning session of her two old trial.

Judge John A. Cornell has delivered his charge to the nine women and three men in mid-afternoon.

Carol, admitted gun slayer of her 52-year-old father, Sgt. Paigh, is pleading temporary insanity to a second degree charge.

Conviction carries a maximum life sentence in Connecticut.

Defense witnesses have testified that the six-foot tall blond became insane when she put a gun to her father's head Sept. 23, after he learned he was incurably cancer.

However, the state of Connecticut offered evidence last week by a medical expert who said she was sane.

The trial has been in recess since last Friday.

Rent Office Holds Mis-Mailed Check

A government check for rent overcharges is held at the local rent office, Clinton street, T.J. Wilkinson rent director, said Monday.

The check, originally mailed to Benjamin F. Stratham, Manchester, was returned to the rent office here because it was incorrectly addressed. Stratham, a former Iowa City tenant, gave the rent office the Manchester address.

Wilkinson said that the amount of the check was $9.50 and that Stratham may have it upon presenting proper identification. He asked that anyone knowing Stratham's whereabouts come to the local rent office.

The office of the housing expediter, Washington, D.C., has unclaimed checks totaling about $24,000 for 515 tenants in 36 states, Wilkinson said.

GREEN BAY, WIS. (AP) — Bernard (Boob) Darling, former college and professional football star and a Big Ten grid official, will face circuit court trial in April on charges arising from the death of a 16-year-old girl, it was announced Monday.

Sixth 'Rub-Out' Attempt for 'Belm' to 'Lz' In SUI Fieldhouse

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mickey Cohen escaped another assassination try Monday, but he admits he's scared.

"I feel very sick in the stomach," he told irate police, "and my wife is suffering extremely from the jitters."

But the dapper little mobster said he doesn't have any idea who sneaked up in the rain to put a dynamite bomb under a dressing room window in his $100,000 home.

Cohen was called on the carpet by Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown a few hours after the explosion.

"A lot of innocent people may be killed or injured on account of you," Brown exploded. "Two children across the street were nearly killed. A piece of plate glass lodged against the throat of one of the girls. We want to know who is after you. We want to get this matter cleared up."

"I don't know," Cohen answered. "I'm as much in the dark as you are. I feel very bad about my neighbors. The section is one of homes in the $75,000-and-up class."

The blast blew a gaping hole in the corner of the house, but for the sixth time in four years, Cohen missed death or serious injury.

Even so, it was a near miss. Awakened by an alarm attached to a radar warning system, Cohen was padding around the house in his slippers trying to see the intruder. While his two watchdogs snoozed peacefully in the rain, the explosion went off on the opposite side of the one-story home, near the bedroom where Cohen usually sleeps.

Police found him, badly shaken, standing in the wreckage and muttering: "How can things get so tough?"

Mickey estimated the loss at $50,000, much of it to his expensive wardrobe. A dressing room adjoining the bedroom took the brunt of the blast, which police experts said came from at least 50 sticks of dynamite.

Students whose last names begin with Belm to Lz register today in the north gymnasium of the SUI fieldhouse.

Students in liberal arts, commerce, nursing, education and the graduate college will be admitted to the field house in alphabetical order on presentation of permit to register cards.

Today's registration schedule, by first letters of last names, is as follows:

8 a.m., Belm-Bore; 8:30 a.m., Borf-Bull; 9 a.m., Bulm-Cha; 9:30 a.m., Chb-Cou; 10 a.m., Cov-Der; 10:30 a.m., Dew-Eb; 11 a.m., Ecf-Fish; 11:30 a.m., Fisi-Get; 12 m., Geu-Grob.

12:30 p.m., Groc-Has; 1 p.m., Hat-Hog; 1:30 p.m., Hoh-Iz; 2 p.m., Ja-Kar; 2:30 p.m., Kas-Koh; 3 p.m., Kol-Led; 3:30 p.m., Lee-Lis; 4 p.m., Lit-Lz.

The alphabetical schedule is rotated so that each student has an opportunity to register early once.

Students unable to register at the scheduled time may register at any later time.

Ingrid, Son 'Weak'; Photos Forbidden

ROME (AP) — Ingrid Bergman and her four-day-old son are in "weak condition" and thus cannot pose for pictures, Rome press photographers were informed today.

Ugo Zatterini, reporter for "Oggi" magazine which is owned by one of the backers of Roberto Rossellini's films, said he had been authorized to hold a conference to explain plans for photographing the actress and her child.

"It is impossible at this time, because of the weak condition of both mother and child, to permit photographers to enter the room but I have been authorized to say that all press photographers will be admitted as soon as possible," he said.

Government Asks Delay in Coming Phone Strike

NEW YORK (UP) — The government asked CIO telephone workers Monday to postpone their nationwide telephone strike for days but a key union official said he felt nothing could be done by postponing the walkout.

A new threat arose Monday night when the union which renews long lines telephone workers served notice that its members would refuse to cross set lines and thus threaten ailment of long distance telephone traffic.

Also threatened would be private telephones and telephone service, press lines, over-telephone service, radio and television networks, wire service re-networks and teletypewriter service.

A key union in this dispute, the six of the Communications Workers of America (CIO), which insists installation workers and irmen employed by Western Electric company, is poised for a strike at 5 a.m. (Iowa time) today, affecting 100,000 directly, other 200,000 CWA members chiecnally not striking — were asked to observe the picket line.

Dr. Alton E. Braley has been appointed professor and head of the department of ophthalmology of the SUI college of medicine, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Monday.

Succeeding Dr. Cecil S. O'Brien, who retired last fall, Braley will assume his duties July 1. In the meantime, Dr. Glen L. Walker will continue as acting head of the department.

Braley comes to SUI from the post-graduate medical school of New York university at Bellevue Medical center, New York city, where he is now professor and chairman of the department of ophthalmology.

Graduating from the SUI college of medicine in 1931, Braley interned at University hospital and was in residence there from 1932 to 1934.

In 1937 he became an instructor in ophthalmology at SUI, later teaching at Wayne university in Detroit.

From 1941 to 1949 he served as assistant professor of ophthalmology at Columbia university, while he was assistant attending ophthalmologist at Columbia - Presbyterian Medical center in New York.

From 1943 to 1946 Braley served as a commander in the U.S. Naval reserve.

He holds membership in a number of professional societies, including the American Association for Advancement of Science.

He has done considerable research in the field of eye diseases and has written or co-authored more than 20 major articles on this subject.

Student Injured In Auto Collision

Walter E. Schluter, A3, Humboldt, suffered "loosened front teeth" about 9:30 p.m. Monday when the car he was driving collided head-on with a Sioux City furniture company truck driven by Kenneth Beck, Hinton, police said.

The accident occurred about 70 feet north of the intersection of N. Dubuque street and Park road. Icy roads were listed as the cause, police said, but no damage estimate was given.

HICKENLOOPER BOOSTS GOP

WATERLOO (AP) — Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said Monday night that the Republican party "has always been in the lead in advancing the lot of the average citizen."

Total operating expenses for Iowa City during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1949, were $269,424, the Iowa Taxpayers association, Des Moines, announced Monday.

This figure, which is taken from official reports to the state auditor, represents a cost of $15.08 per person in Iowa City.

The cost per person for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1948, was $13.76, the association reported.

Each Iowa City resident, however, paid $2.56 less than the average resident of Iowa did for the maintenance of city government during the last fiscal year.

The average cost per person in the 44 cities in Iowa having populations of more than 5,000 was $18.24 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1949. For the previous fiscal year the per person cost was $15.86.

Total net operating expenses of the 44 cities during the last fiscal year were $16,795,748. This figure marks an increase of $2,186,784, or 14.97 percent, over the previous year's expenditures of $14,608,964.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Drastic new cuts in railroad service were ordered or forecast Monday in the wake of the all-out coal strike.

One New York central railroad official predicted confiscation of coal shipments being handled by the line.

John B. Delaney, superintendent of the New York Central's Syracuse division, said he expected confiscation within 48 hours — as a "last resort move" that had not been used by the road for 15 years.

The Association of American railroads said major lines have an average fuel supply of 14 days. The mines operating with John L. Lewis' blessing and the unorganized pits can't begin to keep industry humming and homes warm.

Bomb Demolishes Mickey Cohen's Bedroom

MICKY COHEN'S BEDROOM is a shambles after a dynamite bomb exploded there early Monday morning. The Los Angeles rambler estimated the damage to his property at $50,000. Cohen happened to be sleeping in another bedroom in the $100,000 radar-protected mansion. A smaller crater is just in front of the house at left foreground.

TOMMY ELLIS

Search Spreads for Widow Slaying Suspect

DES MOINES (AP) — A search for a 17-year-old soldier reported AWOL spread into four states Monday as police sized up clues in the knife slaying of Mrs. Flora A. Bryan, 85, a widow who lived alone.

Detectives said they wanted to question a soldier identified as Tommy Ellis, Fert Riley, Kans., about his activities last Saturday when someone entered Mrs. Bryan's small home and stabbed her to death in an apparent robbery attempt.

A newsboy told police that he saw Ellis talking to Mrs. Bryan in her home Saturday, which was the woman's 85th birthday anniversary. A five-inch hunting knife which had been plunged into Mrs. Bryan's chest was identified as one belonging to Ellis' brother-in-law.

The soldier's brother-in-law, Robert Smith, told police the knife had been stolen from his home. Smith's home is across the street

A Cult of Laziness —

(Reprinted from the Ottumwa Daily Courier)
The complacency which seems to exist among students and faculty in most of the nation's colleges and universities is disturbing to Dr. Samuel N. Stevens, president of Grinnell college. He says educational institutions should be "dangerous" environments in which young people live during the formative years of their lives.

In his challenge to "think and live dangerously," Dr. Stevens, in an editorial for the Grinnell alumni newspaper says, "Unless we can develop in the American college student an impatience with the status quo, a passion for change for the better, and a heightened critical judgment as to the direction in which social changes move, we who are responsible for the educational institutions of this country have failed miserably."

This seems to be revolutionary thinking, and probably was designed to be. But there is no need to get excited — the Grinnell college head is not a revolutionary, except in the constructive sense. It is a challenge, primarily to educators, but in the same sense to the whole American people, who have grown slipshod in their thinking and acting recently. Dr. Stevens adds:

"In the face of national financial disaster our politicians talk glibly of a welfare state in an era when discipline with responsibility on the part of citizens is one of the great needs, we see developing on every hand a cult of irresponsibility, with a dangerous willfulness on the part of many men and women pass their duty on to others, who, for purposes of power, are willing to assume it."

Some people have the idea if college students raise their voices in protest of certain trends, it is merely "juvenile prattling." Others declare "crazy," if no dangerous, ideas are developed. To this Dr. Stevens declares that even if much thinking has been wrong, it has at least produced a ferment out of which many positive values for society emerged.

He was speaking particularly of the tension which developed from the depression, New Deal efforts to resolve some of its economic difficulties.

Hot Potato Coming Up —

Within the next three or four weeks, congress will be faced with another political hot potato, legislation on fair employment practices in U.S.

The bill is one of the major elements in President Truman's civil rights program, and as usual, northern and southern states are expected to be battling along with the representative parties who are trying to shape the issue to their advantages.

Main points of the FEPC bill, as introduced by Rep. Adam Powell (D-NY) concern the individual "right to employment without discrimination because of race, color, religion or national origin."

Under our bill of rights, these rights are guaranteed, but from the opposition it is expected to meet in the senate, apparently no one realizes it, in congress or elsewhere.

The bill goes further by prohibiting labor unions from using the same discrimination in setting up a committee — FEPC — to protect segregation and giving the committee power to investigate and force employers comply with the rulings.

This is the stipulation at which the southern legislators are leveling their shotguns, whether there is enough powder in their gun muzzles remains to be seen.

At any rate, if they succeed in their fight against the bill, a major part of Mr. Truman's civil rights program will be shot full of holes. And, the anti-poll tax and anti-lynching bills may as well be shelved.

It's going to be an interesting brawl, but even include a senate filibuster, but if it ends up in basket number 13, racial equality in the U.S. will still be a vague dream.

Ivory Hunters Head East —

When SUI's ivory hunters headed toward the eastern seaboard on their search for a new football coach, the "bleacher experts" had new ammunition for their street corner conversations.

Paul Brechler and Prof. Paul Blommers left town Sunday, presumably for New York where they are reported to have a rendezvous with Denny Myers, head football coach at Boston college.

Myers is a former grid star at SUI, has shown an interest in the job opening here — but so have half a hundred other football coaches, to hear the "experts" tell it.

Probably our best course is to settle back and wait and leave the guessing up to expert experts.

Shadow of Things to Come?

Polk Co. Jury to Probe Seizure of Punchboards

DES MOINES (AP) — The Polk county grand jury started its investigation Monday into the seizure last Nov. 16 of punchboards and business records at the home of Herbert Wolf.

Following the seizure, Sheriff Howard Reppert said Wolf's business records revealed a $60,000-a-year punchboard business in Iowa and three other states. Wolf has never been arrested in connection with the seizure and no charges have been filed against him.

Moral Attitudes . . .

TO THE EDITOR:
There is no doubt in my mind that your editorial of Feb. 4, as well as many others I have read, are completely avoiding the basic issue of divorce.
Your article denotes a popular belief that moral attitudes in this country are getting lower and lower, that two different cases recently in the public eye have been embarrassing for United States internationally, and that the divorce courts have been too lenient in the past with little effort to improve them.
These things you wrap around your opinion of the coming meeting of the committee that is going to attempt a revision of Iowa laws on sex offenders by making the statement, "doubtless, revisions in the law code are in order; but it has often been the case that changing a statute remedies a situation about as much as shoveling a sidewalk during a blizzard."
It is perhaps true that moral attitudes are hitting a high low, but have you considered what is at the root of the trouble?
Professor George P. Murdock, Yale, anthropologist, has urged Protestant clergy to lead in removing society's taboo against pre-marital sex relations and has said that this would remove a major cause of divorce, lessen perversion, and provide a good basis for marriage.

All this and much more point out the fact that the social values of the United States are undergoing a period of enlightenment. It is perhaps better to face our problems factually and realistically. For instance, the approach to bringing divorces to an all-time low is not to make divorce courts harsher on couples who have found out too late that they could not possibly be happy going through life together.
The basic problem lies not in the leniency of divorce courts but rather in what has brought the couple to the point of parting or perhaps what possessed them to make the contract in the first place.
As to this committee, I think it is a grand thing that our society is attempting to change laws to meet the time.

We agree that something should be done but we believe that you cannot legislate morals.

Relaxing Psalm — Profs Sing Joyful Song

(Last Saturday's Daily Iowan carried a biased story on the joy of students at the conclusion of examination week. Prof. Dorrance S. White, of the SUI classics department, has written a rebuttal from the faculty point of view. (Said Prof. White in a preface: "Profs Try Out Souls' started my dormant Muse sufficient to compose the Songful Psalm. We've got to have some fun somewhere along the academic road.") (Herewith is the printed product of the Muse.—THE EDITORS)

Songful Psalm (P as in Smith)
Students Are Kaput
By PROF. DORRANCE S. WHITE
Department of Classics
1. Rejoice O ye Profs and sing a glad song!
The dumb and drowsy are departed. Yea, they are gone out of our lives — at least for two days!
2. Now may ye toil at things that count. Rest back in your swivel chairs. Finish those dust-covered manuscripts. Answer those year — old letters. Yea, gloriously relax.
3. Forget misspellings and pidgin English. Rest your eyes from sweater shirts and wrinkled overalls. Air out the halls! Let in fresh oxygen! The oscillators are gone!
4. Lift up your voices to the smiling skies! The tests are scored. Stupid answers are forgotten. He of the un-cracked book has paid the price. Ease your conscience. Let not denial of mercy assail your troubled heart!
5. Sweet is the reward of the righteous. Ye have succumbed! Soft ones, ye have changed that F to D, that D to C! The tears of the penitent loafer have pierced your hearts! What odds, you say, will it make in 1950?
6. And now may prof and student in unison (come on, let's hear the tenors!) Cry out:
All this makes up the warp and woof of life;
To struggle, rest, then toil again.
To try, to fail, then try with might and main;
To be at peace, and then at strife;
To be reminded—how rude!

February Frivol Dedicated to 1920's

All Frivols for February have been distributed, Editor Nick Timmesch, A4, Dubuque, said Monday.
Timmesch said this month's issue of the humor magazine is devoted to a parody or imitation of the 1920's. Much pictorial material also is contained in this issue, he added.
Business Manager Robert Alter, C4, Brooklyn, N.Y., said winners in the January Chesterfield contest may pick up their cartons of cigarettes at The Daily Iowan business office in East hall.
Entries in this month's contest must be sent to box 552, Iowa City, Alter said.

Plan Offers Russia $10-Billion

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
What would Joe Stalin do if he were offered a $10- or $12-billion — dollar development program in return for cessation of Russia's revolutionary and imperialist activity?
That's about what the Russian sphere share would be — more if you count China a full-fledged part of it — under Sen. Brian McMahon's (D-Conn) $50-billion suggestion for a "peace offensive."
To get it, Joe would have to divert a similar amount from his own military budget to peaceful development projects among others.
Senator McMahon recognized that his suggestion would be termed impractical, and put it forward merely as the type of thing people should be thinking about instead of concentrating entirely on the cold war. But it embodies the perpetual dream of peace — loving people that some day the resources wasted in a world constantly preparing for war will be expended for constructive benefits.
We have been given many statistics on the amount of housing, schooling, medical care and all the better things of life which would be the world's but for these expenditures on arms.

Washington (AP) — The government began "dumping" some 25 to 40-million bushels of surplus potatoes back on the farm Friday at practically giveaway prices just to get rid of them.
Potatoes which cost the government $1.25 a bushel on a national average under price support programs will be sold back to the farmer at one cent per hundred pounds.
The hopes are based on the results in Germany, studied last fall by Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw of Stanford university, and Dr. Walsh McDermott of the New York hospital — Cornell Medical college.
German doctors reported remarkable recoveries of many patients with lung TB after getting TB-1 pills along with bed rest for four to six months.
This is exciting because lung TB is the hardest type to cure with present drugs. But TB-1 was used at a time when the German people began getting better food and care. So there's a question how much the recoveries were due to better living, and how much to the drug. TB-1 also wasn't as dependable or as quick in action against lung tuberculosis as streptomycin, German doctors said.
One big hope is that TB-1 will be a helpmate for streptomycin in fighting lung TB. Streptomycin usually loses its punch after a few weeks or months.
What happens seems to be this: There may be billions of TB germs in the lungs, most of them exactly alike. They reproduce rapidly. Streptomycin hits most of them, slowing or stopping their growth. Some of them vary from normal, like humans born with one eye, or three legs. They are what geneticists call mutants.
One or more of these altered breeds of germs apparently aren't affected by the drug and are able to produce more and more germs just like themselves. After a time, there are billions of altered germs that resist streptomycin.
But these altered bugs may be vulnerable to a different drug. Doctors already have one such drug, para — amino — salicylic acid, or PAS for short. It can

Fashion Experts Remind Coeds —

Applying Lipstick Really an Art

By ANN RUSSELL

Women continue to spend dollars on cosmetics and improvement in their appearance, but they feel they don't have extra moments to use in making the final outcome perfect.

That's the opinion of fashion experts who recommend better care in applying lipstick. Minutes are precious when it's nearly time for that 7:30 class or during exam week. Yet proper application of lipstick in the morning can save time by preserving make-up longer.

Painting lips, like any other painting, begins with an outline. Also like the artists, women should use a sable brush or a pencil-like stick.

Keep Lips Closed

Begin by putting plenty of lipstick on the brush to trace a smooth line. Lips should be kept closed and in repose while drawing the outline, experts recommend.

Starting with the upper lip the line should be drawn from the outside corners to the center. If lips are to be drawn fuller, a slightly darker shade is suggested for outlining to compensate for lighter flesh outside the natural lip line. Finish filling in the outline with lipstick, not the brush.

Take Your Time

With lipstick, as with any other pigment, the more that is put on the longer it lasts. Blotting lipstick is as obsolete as pressing the lips together to leave the upper imprint on the lower lip.

Some experts recommend leaving a coating of powder on the lips as a base for lipstick. They claim this makes lipstick go on smoother, last longer and keep a more even line.

No one ever looks attractive with February's signs, the "blue" look, on their lips. It is better to choose an oily lipstick to keep lips from cracking or a colorless stick over regular lip-coloring. Above all, authorities say, don't form the habit of licking the lips, for this is certain to cause chapping.

Fill-In After Meals

With any lips a perfect shape and luster may be obtained by following these simple routines.

After meals the mouth will need only a quick fill-in, since the outline remains intact. The few minutes spent in morning art-work will require less time than finding yesterday's notes—and the results will be evident all day.

Open House Feb. 20 For Faculty Wives

Third in a series of four parties for wives of full-time liberal arts faculty members will be presented at 7:30 p.m. February 20, at the women's gymnasium.

This was announced by members of the women's physical education department, who are making preliminary plans for the open house. They are Marion LaFuze, Dudley Ashton and Mary Ella Critz.

Ten departments of the college of liberal arts will be represented on the hostess committee. They are history, journalism, library education, mathematics, military science, museum methods, music, philosophy, physical education for men and physical education for women.

FRATERNITY RUSHING

Students interested in joining a fraternity may sign up for rushing at a table outside the registration room in the fieldhouse, Chuck Dodd, president of Interfraternity council, said Monday.

(Daily Iowan Photo)

ARTISTS' BRUSHES HAVE INVADDED THE BOUDOIR of beauty-wise women like Phyllis Ginsberg, A2, Ottumwa. Phyllis is shown applying lipstick with a small sable brush to create a long lasting outline. Carefully painted lips may require a little more time, but they pay big dividends because the lipstick will last all day.

U-High Delegates Chosen or 'Youth-Government'

Representatives and delegates to the Iowa Hi-Y "Youth and Government" program have been chosen from University high school, according to J. R. Skretting, Hi-Y advisor.

Bluehawk Y representatives are Steve Hulme, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hulme, 530 N. Clinton street, and Nick Johnson, son of Prof. and Mrs. Wendell Johnson, 508 Melrose court. Donald Hall, son of Prof. and Mrs. Everett Hall, 414 Brown street, has been chosen as alternate.

University high school delegates are Robert Ballantyne Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ballantyne, 516 E. College street, and Karl Harshbarger, son of Prof. and Mrs. H. C. Harshbarger, North Liberty. Alternate is Tom Brown, son of Mrs. H. C. Harshbarger, North Liberty. Alternate is Tom Brown, son of Mrs. Mary Brown, 318 Jefferson street.

Model Legislation Johnson will run for speaker of the house, Hulme will run for clerk of the house, and Ballantyne and Harshbarger are candidates for governor, Skretting said. The government program consists of a pre-legislative training conference Feb. 18 and a "model legislature" April 21 and 22.

The training conference will be held at Drake university in Des Moines, where the young legislators will learn about the problems of government and the drafting of legislation from department heads of the state government.

Prof. Jack Johnson of the SUI political science department will act as chairman of a discussion panel at the conference, Skretting said.

Prepare Model Bills After the training conference, youth senators and representatives will return to their homes to spend eight weeks in the study and preparation of model bills.

At the end of that period they will return to the state capital to follow their bills through committee, house and senate debate. After this session, they are expected to reproduce the "Youth and Government" program on a local level.

Skretting said he will work with the department of public instruction consultation group for the conference.

Says American Relief Worthwhile to Europe A visitor to Europe told Rotarians last week that money and goods sent to Europe by both private and public agencies have been worthwhile.

Mrs. Ethel Blythe Penningroth said the feelings Europeans have for America throughout Europe is one of kindness. She visited the continent as a member of a Quaker non-sectarian committee last fall.

She emphasized in her noon talk to the Rotary club that although things are far from being good in Europe, they are much better than they have been.

Local Women's Group To Discuss Gardening

"Ideas for a City Lot Garden" will be presented by G.D. Grunewald at a meeting of the garden department of the Iowa City Women's club. The group will meet at 2:30 Thursday in the community building.

Also featured on the program will be the second report on the "Federation Study of the United Nations," which will be given by Mrs. Robert G. Caldwell.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Howard Crew and Mrs. C.E. Beck.

Mrs. L.V. Dierdorff, Mrs. E.F. Wickham and Mrs. C.S. Williams will be in charge of flower arrangements.

East, West Style Painting SUI Instructor's Hobby

By JULIE JENSEN

East is east and west is west, but Chong-Rwen Kao, G, Chinkiang, China, can achieve the style of either in his paintings.

Kao, an instructor in the SUI department of geography, is a self-taught artist who has followed painting as a hobby since childhood.

He graduated from the University of Nanking, where he later taught geography and acted as secretary of the college of science. He also taught in the college of art there.

Kao explained that Oriental painting requires more steps than occidental art, which involves only two.

One reason for this, he said, is that the paper used for Chinese painting is too delicate to stand erasure.

Sketching must first be done with charcoal made from willow branches, so that unwanted lines can be flicked away with a cloth. Then the sketching is redone in ink.

Kao prefers to paint landscapes, but also does many other kinds of painting, including portraiture.

An exhibition of his paintings may be seen in the window of the Bookshop, 114 E. Washington street. It includes a goddess, a lady, typical Chinese landscapes, a piquant Siamese cat and a delicate butterfly group. "I was interested to see the reaction of an American education center to Chinese art," he said.

Kao, who has also exhibited his work in China, does not sell his paintings. He does them chiefly for the "visual pleasure" of his friends.

In China he decorated fans for his acquaintances. In this country he has obliged friends requesting their likenesses by painting in what he calls the "western style."

Slim Skirt

THE SLIM SILHOUETTE, despite the recent circular skirt rejuvenation, is still very much "in" for winter wear, claims the New York designer who fashioned this ensemble. This red wool tie-bow cape edged with black fox is worn over a long-sleeved, slimly tailored wool dress. The dress has side kick buttons.

House Group To Study Co-op Tax Question

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tax-writing house ways and means committee agreed Monday to study taxing cooperatives.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton (D-NC) said hearings have been scheduled tentatively for Feb. 22 and 23.

Many Republicans and business organizations have been clamoring for an end to the tax-free status of co-ops, non-profit organizations of producers, processors or consumers who band together to do business for themselves.

Business groups argue the tax exemption gives such groups an unfair competitive advantage. GOP tax spokesmen add that taxing co-ops would mean more government income and plug one of the "loopholes" in present tax laws.

Most Democrats are against taxing cooperatives, many of which are farmer-controlled. The question got a going-over in the 1948 Republican congress, but no action was taken.

President Truman did not name co-op taxes among the "loopholes" he asked congress to close in his recent tax message.

Rep. Noah M. Mason (R-III), author of a bill to tax co-ops, tried recently to draw out Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder on the subject, but Snyder declined to give the administration position. He said the problem is tied up with farm policy.

Doughton also announced that hearings on excise tax repeal will run from Feb. 15 to 21.

Substances in Onions Fight Fungus Disease

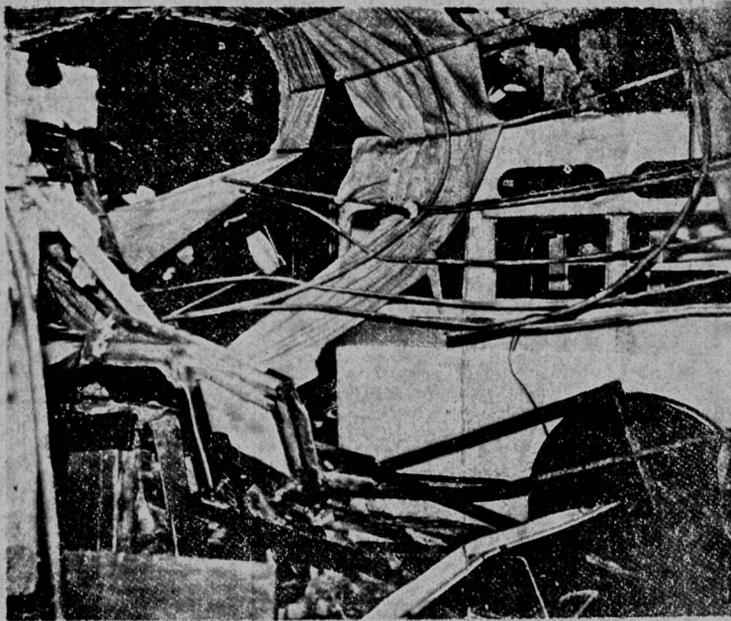

MADISON, WIS. (AP)—Onions have their own antibiotics to prevent disease, J.C. Walter, H.H. Owen, and M.A. Stahmann of the University of Wisconsin, report.

Six different varieties showed differences in susceptibility to two fungus diseases, they told the American Phytopathological society. Those that were most resistant had carbolic acid substances in the dry outer scales of the bulbs.

The fleshy inner scales had volatile sulfides that gave some protection against the diseases, especially neck-rot fungus.

FRENCH BIRTH RATE HIGH
PARIS (AP)—France, whose low birth-rate caused concern to national leaders before the war, is now producing more babies. Official statistics for 1949, just issued, show 840,000 births during the year as compared with an annual average of about 630,000 in the immediate pre-war years. The number of marriages in 1949 was about 320,000, a slight decrease as compared with 1948.

Where Did It Leave the Watermelons?

TWENTY-FOUR PERSONS were injured Monday when a Miami Transit company bus crashed into a building in Miami, Fla. But before the bus finally buried itself in the building, it collided with a car and smashed through a watermelon stand. Of those injured, three were hurt seriously.

Local Tailor Recalls Past

Describes Days of 'Stiff Katies,' Fire Horses, Nickelodeons, Masquerade Dances

By BILL HOLLANDER

An Iowa City tailor took time out from mending patches and sewing buttons the other day to pull a few stitches from the cloth of the past.

The seam-sewer, who prefers to remain anonymous, said a man could buy a suit in 1900 for $32.50 "that he couldn't buy today for $7,500."

"Those were the days," he said, "of cutaway suits, high shoes, and 'stiff katies' what you youngsters call derbies."

He then worked for John Coast's, an Iowa City haberdashery.

Last to Leave

He smiled and said, "I was the first man they hired, and the last to leave them."

Women at the flip of the century wore puffed sleeved dresses. And the dresses swooshed in a ladylike fashion over the sidewalk's surface.

"Iowa City was a small town in those days," he remembered. "The only things I can remember on the west side of the river were two lonely farmhouses."

The man who has sewed many a stitch in his time said the first car he can remember in Iowa City came chugging along somewhere between 1908 and 1914.

A Born Fire Horse

"It had a steering wheel that stood at a 90 degree angle from the ground and the driver hunched over it at a perilous altitude," he said. "I think it was a Columbia."

Iowa City's fire-fighting equipment was mostly hand-drawn, he recalled.

"But there was one horse-drawn hose cart. And one of the horses in the team was a born fire horse. He'd whinny and kick at his stall everytime he'd hear the alarm blast from the water-

Dr. W. L. Bywater Last Rites Wednesday In Iowa City Church

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Presbyterian church for Dr. W.L. Bywater, 82, 226 Magowan street, who died at University hospitals at 8:10 p.m. Sunday following an illness of several months.

Born in Garwin, March 18, 1867, Dr. Bywater went to high school in Gladbrook and later attended Cedar Falls Normal college, Western college, Toledo, Iowa; SU's homeopathic college of medicine, and the New York City Ophthalmic college.

In 1897 he married Jessie Cannon in Toledo. In the same year he began his medical practice in Lake City. He moved to Iowa City in 1900 where he practiced as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist until June, 1949.

Prominent in civic affairs, Dr. Bywater acted as a city council member from 1929 to 1931. He was also chairman of Iowa City's original airport committee, which accomplished the establishment of Iowa City as a stopping point on one of the first airmail routes.

He was president of the Iowa City chamber of commerce in 1926, and he established the West Liberty Rotary club during his term as Rotary president here in 1924 to 1925.

Dr. Bywater acted as relief administrator in Johnson county from 1933 to 1939. He was also a trustee of the Presbyterian church from 1918 to 1939.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Robert A. Olson, Kansas City, Mo., and several nieces and nephews, including Raymond L. Bywater, Iowa City, and Willis E. Bywater, Lone Tree.

SUI Bacteriologist to Direct Regional UN Influenza Study

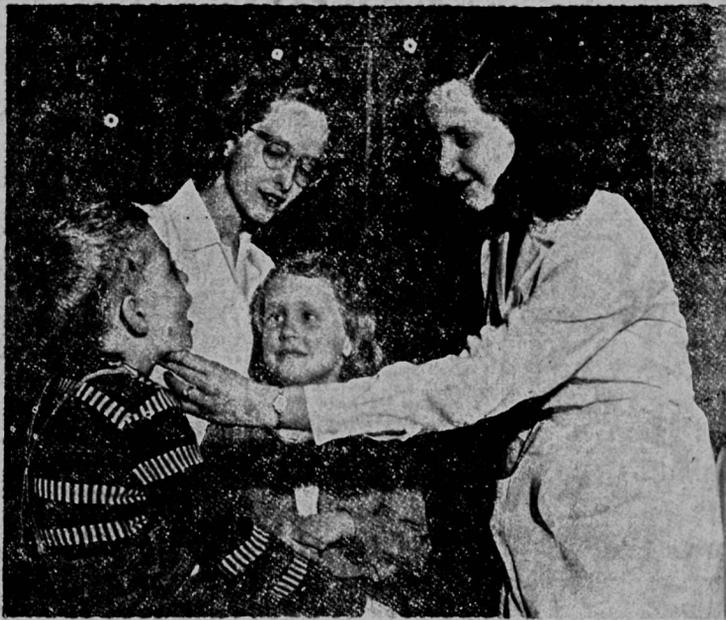

SUI has joined a world-wide fight with "the flu."
The SUI department of bacteriology in the college of medicine has been chosen as one of nine special North American regional laboratories for the influenza study program of the World Health Organization (WHO).
SUI's selection was announced Monday by the WHO advisory committee.
The studies at SUI will be under the direction of Dr. Albert P. McKee, associate professor of bacteriology and an SUI graduate. He will be assisted by Mrs. Sally Foster, research technician.
McKee did extensive research on influenza at SUI during the war under the influenza commission of the army epidemiological board. A native of Brandon, he received his degree in medicine from SUI in 1941.

Part of World Study
The study program is designed to facilitate world-wide reporting of influenza outbreaks and research on newer and broader vaccines for its treatment.
The region serviced by the SUI laboratory includes: Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming and Colorado.
The remaining eight regional laboratories will be in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, California, Georgia, Canada and Puerto Rico.
Will Report Outbreaks
State health departments and medical laboratories in the SUI region will act as "listening posts" for influenza outbreaks. In some cases they will isolate virus from influenza patients.
The SUI regional laboratory's function will be confirming the diagnoses of the cooperating area laboratories in the region and determining the particular type or strain of influenza virus encountered.
Findings will be relayed to the Influenza Information center at Bethesda, Md., and the National Influenza Strain Study center at the Long Island college of medicine.
Immunization procedures in epidemic areas could be planned through rapid transmission of viruses and information, McKee said.

Hope for Better Vaccines
Present vaccine for the "flu" immunize a person for only from six months to one year. Therefore, the ideal time to vaccinate the population in an area is within the relatively short period before the epidemic moves into the area.
Also, by isolating different strains of virus, the formula for influenza vaccine can be broadened and improved.
Some strains of the virus have better immunization properties than others, McKee said. By combining the better and more representative strains in the vaccine, more complete immunization can be achieved.

The mild 1947 outbreak, McKee said, might be an example of an epidemic that could have been lessened in severity had the vaccine used for immunization been broader in its coverage.

Dental Survey Opens, So Does Jimmie

Dental Students Check Grade Schoolers' Teeth

SUI dental students were out in force Monday, checking the teeth of Iowa City's 1,870 grade school pupils in a project sponsored by the SUI college of dentistry.

The effort was part of National Children's Dental Health day, intended to increase interest in children's dental health, according to Prof. Kenneth Wessels, head of preventive dentistry at SUI.

Wessels and Instr. Robert Leighton, preventive dentistry, were in charge of the check-ups. Wessels said there were 110 dental students on the job Monday, 55 seniors and 55 juniors. This was the first time the project has been tried here.

The students were separated into nine groups, a group going to each Iowa City grade school. The seniors examined the children's teeth and the juniors recorded their findings.

The two main objectives of the project, Wessels said, were to give the college an idea of the need of Iowa City children for dental care and to give the parents of each child a report.

The project was begun at 9 a.m. and completed by 2:30 p.m., Leighton said.

Wessels said it is very important to begin a preventive program while the children are still young. There has been a lot of talk about a "panacea," such as fluorides, in preventing dental trouble, but early examination and prompt treatment are the only effective means found so far, he said.

PROPOSES WORLD'S FAIR
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lloyd J. Cobb, president of International House in New Orleans Monday proposed a St. Louis-New Orleans world's fair in 1953 in observance of the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana purchase.

Bridge Tournament Deadline Thursday

Registrations for the annual all-university duplicate bridge tournament will be due Thursday at the lobby desk in the Iowa Union.

Betty Jane Johnson, A4, Bedford, chairman of the bridge committee of the Union board announced the deadline Monday. The tournament will be held Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in the YMCA conference room off the lobby. Any student may enter.

Registration blanks have been mailed to the housing units and also can be obtained at the desk in the Iowa Union.

Duplicate bridge is a game of skill rather than luck, Miss Johnson said. The hands will be determined before the tournament and each contestant must play each hand.

There will be from 13 to 18 tables. The eight high scorers will play by mail with high scorers from other schools and the winners will compete in Chicago in the inter-collegiate bridge tournament.

Two seven-inch trophies will be awarded the local high scorers. The two runners-up each will receive a double-deck of cards.

Conservation

County Wildlife to Get Natural Cover

Johnson county wildlife that has been house-hunting like everyone else this winter is due for a break.

C.F. Balloun, county farm planner, said last week that conservationists will furnish natural cover for wild game this spring by planting vegetation on 11 local farms.

The Isaac Walton league will set about 10,000 multiflora rose plants in areas selected by the soil conservation office for wildlife habitats. These plants form tight hedges, six to eight feet high which serve as permanent fencing and excellent game cover, Balloun said.

Similar Program
A similar program has been underway since 1947 at Oxford in Johnson county, and at Marengo and Ladara in Iowa county. Last year the Isaac Walton league planted game cover on three nearby farms.

The purpose of the game-planting program is twofold, Balloun said. First, wild animals who could not multiply and might perish without shelter are given a boost on the road to survival.

Second, multiflora rose with its vigorous root system, puts a brake on soil erosion.

Multiflora rose also provides food for wildlife. Its abundant lower branches are eaten by songbirds in winter and early spring. Rabbits sometimes utilize the bark and young stems when food is scarce.

Balloun said the game-planting program will be limited to farms where the soil conservation department has mapped out

Gompers Commemorative Stamps Go on Sale

Twenty-one thousand new three-cent Samuel Gompers commemorative postage stamps went on sale Monday at the Iowa City postoffice.

Postmaster Walter J. Barrow said Monday an issue of 112-million stamps honoring the founder of the American Federation of Labor was authorized by the Washington, D.C., postoffice Jan. 27.

Initial demand for the stamps at the postoffice Monday morning was reported "heavy."

Central design of the stamp is a portrait of Gompers arranged in a frame of colonial design with a spray of laurel leaves over the lower left portion.

Stamp collectors seeking first day cancellations of this stamp may send a maximum of 10 self-addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Washington, D.C., with postal note or money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps desired.

Postage stamps and personal checks will not be accepted in payment, Barrows said. Envelopes to the Postmaster should be addressed "First Day Covers" and order should not include requests for uncanceled stamps.

Gompers stamps also are available at the Philatelic agency, Postoffice department, Washington 25, D.C., for collectors desiring stamps of selected quality for philatelic use.

Marvin Novak Files $160 Damage Suit

Marvin J. Novak, 1015 N. Dodge street, filed suit in district court Monday against Glenn Shalla, Corralville, for $160 allegedly owed him for two stokers purchased in September, 1947.

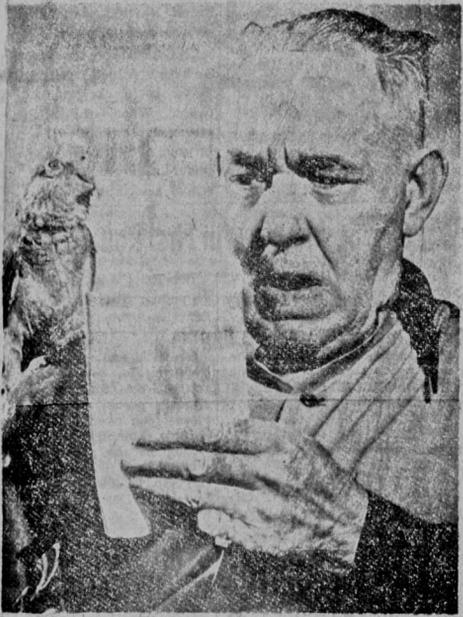

Shalla Monday filed an answer and counter claim for $585 plus interest and costs, charging Novak had misrepresented the stokers.

The cost of the stokers was $560, according to Novak's petition, and Shalla had made two payments of $200 each, leaving $160 unpaid.

Shalla's answer said the stoker placed in his home was defective.

It added that Novak had begun to tear his furnace apart to install a new stoker, and then, had changed his mind, leaving Novak with the expense of replacing the inner lining.

Hawks Scramble Past Purdue, 66-60

Darling, Calsbeek Lead Iowa to Conference Win

By ALAN MOYER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Iowa raced to a 44 point first half splurge Monday night, then snowed the pace to a walk before defeating last-place Purdue, 66-60.

The Hawkeyes, paced by their two big boys, Frank Calsbeek and Chuck Darling, hit the basket with unending accuracy for 20 minutes while the Boiler-makers couldn't even make a game of it. Darling finished the evening's work with 26 points. Calsbeek gathered 20.

Second Half Dull

The Big Ten game, played before a fieldhouse crowd of 11,822, was as dull and listless in the final half as it was bright and interesting in the first half.

Purdue, with a lone victory over Iowa to its conference credit, cut the 24 point halftime lead to a scant six points before the game-ending buzzer dismissed the faithful who sat out the last few minutes.

With slightly over 10 minutes of the second half played, Iowa was cruising along, 62-39. Big Darling had hit 11 of 14 shots from the field and his sky-scraping buddy, Calsbeek, had claimed 20 points. A minute later Calsbeek fouled out and Iowa all but faded from the fieldhouse floor.

In the last nine minutes and 10 seconds the Hawks did not score from the field. All they could do was make four of 10 free throws and watch Purdue tally 21 points.

and the clever guard from Davenport stepped up the scoring pace by hitting Darling with deceptive passes that caught the Purdue defense off its feet.

435 at Halftime
At the halftime Iowa had a shooting percentage of .435, compared to Purdue's chilly .182. Darling, with eight baskets in 10 attempts was leading the point-getters with 17 points. Calbeek had 10.

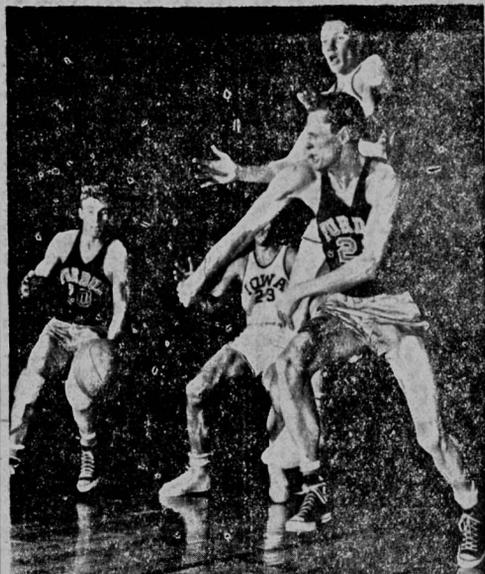

When Iowa appeared to have forgotten to return to the floor for the second half Purdue was awarded a free throw on the technical foul. Williams obliged by missing the toss. By that time the Hawks were back but did not get time for any warm up.

It was the first time Iowa had run up as many as 44 points in a single half in league play this year, causing some observers to believe the Hawks were under the tip-off when he betted Calsbeek's shot into the net. He followed that with two more tip-ins while Calsbeek tallied twice from close in. Bob Vollers scored on a one-hander and Bob Schulz made good on a one-handed set shot.

All Purdue could gather during that time was field goals by Williams, Axness and Martin Horn. It made the score 15-6.

Calsbeek's tip upped the count to 24-14 a few minutes later and the starting combination of Coach Bucky O'Connor began to click. His opening five consisted of Vollers and Calsbeek at the forwards, Darling at center and Schulz and Bob Clifton at guards.

Tourney Bans 2-Minute Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — Collegiate basketball's controversial two-minute rule will be abandoned for the National Invitation tournament, Asa S. Bushnell, tournament chairman, announced Monday.

"Throughout the entire game all foul shots must be attempted and none may be waived," said Bushnell.

"During the final two minutes of the second half, and of each overtime period, after every single foul shot, whether made or missed — the ball shall be put in play by a jump, at the nearer foul circle, between opposing players designated by the respective team captains."

This is a departure from the rule book under which the National Collegiate Athletic association tournament will be played. The rule book says the team shooting a foul in the last two minutes retains possession of the ball whether the shot is made or missed.

The National Invitation tournament, an annual Madison Square Garden feature, is scheduled March 11, 13, 14, 16 and 18. Two first round games are listed for March 11.

Other football players to finish were Dick Laster, Des Moines, center for four seasons and Bob Geigel, Algona, tackle. Laster won a B.S.C. and Geigel bachelor of science in physical education.

From the 1949 swimming team, the degree winners were Dave Brockway, Marshalltown, who placed in two NCAA diving events and Ervin Straub, St. Louis, Mo., member of the NCAA champion medley relay team.

Otis Finney of Chicago, Ill., track quarter miler, won the advanced degree of master of arts. Other graduates were Wesley Demro, Nashua, baseball pitcher for four years and Larry Gernuska, Raritan, N.J., pitcher and outfielder.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Completion of a trade which would bring Pitcher Paul (Dizzy) Trout to the Washington Senators in exchange for Hurler Paul Calvert awaited only the approval of Detroit Manager Red Rolfe late Monday.

Vice-President Calvin Griffith of the Senators told a reporter that the Senators had offered to trade and that General Manager Billy Evans of the Tigers has approved the deal pending final approval from Rolfe.

Unless the Bengals' pilot receives a better offer for the 35-year-old right hander he is expected to OK the deal. Rolfe and the veteran hurler have been at odds since early last season when Trout was relegated to the role of a relief pitcher despite his vigorous objection.

Trout, who comes from Sandeet, Indiana, broke into organized baseball with Terre Haute in 1935. He moved to the American association and Texas league in 1939. Last season he appeared in 35 games, all in relief. He had a 3-6 record.

Calvert, like Trout had a none too brilliant season last year. He lost 14 straight games to finish the campaign with a 6-17 record. He came to the Senators from the Cuban winter league.

Five Hawkeye Clubs Scheduled in Seven Week-End Contests

The busiest weekend of the winter sports season is coming up for Hawkeye teams between Feb. 10 and 13, with seven contests, five of them at home.

Here is the lineup:
Marquette track, Friday at 7 p.m., fieldhouse.
Ohio State swimming, Friday at 8:15 p.m., fieldhouse.
Western Illinois Teachers gymnastics, Saturday at 2:30 p.m., fieldhouse.
Illinois basketball, Saturday at 8 p.m., fieldhouse.
Northwestern wrestling, Saturday at Evanston, Ill.
Wisconsin basketball, Monday at 8 p.m., fieldhouse.
Michigan wrestling, Monday at Ann Arbor.

The highlights of the activities are the basketball games with Wisconsin and Illinois, both strong title contenders. All tickets for the Illinois game have been sold.
Iowa's swimmers, winners of three straight meets, take on Ohio State, Big Ten and NCAA champions of 1949. The Buckeyes likewise are unbeaten in dual meets this season, with five victories, two over conference teams.

The track team, apparently strengthened by some good sophomores, opens its season with Marquette's Hilltoppers. Shortly after the last track event, the Ohio State-Iowa swimming meet will start.

Coach Mike Howard's wrestlers, who won two of three home meets, conclude the dual season with road meets with Northwestern and Michigan on this trip, and Minnesota, Feb. 25.

The grapplers won from Wheaton and Wisconsin but dropped a meet to Illinois in the fieldhouse Saturday night.

Eight Iowa Athletes Join Alumni Ranks

Eight former Iowa athletes joined the ranks of alumni and another received an advanced degree at the mid-winter commencement Saturday.

Al DiMarco of Mason City, who broke Iowa forward passing records in 1948 when he was named Iowa's most valuable football player, received the bachelor of science in commerce degree, as did Bob Longley, Davenport, holder of the stadium record for long punt return.

Other football players to finish were Dick Laster, Des Moines, center for four seasons and Bob Geigel, Algona, tackle. Laster won a B.S.C. and Geigel bachelor of science in physical education.

From the 1949 swimming team, the degree winners were Dave Brockway, Marshalltown, who placed in two NCAA diving events and Ervin Straub, St. Louis, Mo., member of the NCAA champion medley relay team.

Wolverines Run Over Northwestern 59-44

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP) — Michigan outclassed Northwestern 59-44 here Monday night and handed the Wildcats their fifth straight Western conference basketball loss. An estimated crowd of 5,100 fans saw the contest.

The loss, Northwestern's fifth in seven starts in league play, pushed the Wildcats right to the edge of the Big Ten cellar, currently occupied by Purdue. It gave Michigan a 500 record in conference play with three wins and three losses.

From start to finish, Michigan had little trouble with Northwestern, whose Doug Bielenberg carried the brunt of the weak attack and finished the night with a high of 16 points. The Wolverines had a 50-25 lead with 10 minutes of the game remaining.

Right behind him was Michigan's Leo Vander Kuy with 15 points, scored on three baskets and nine of 11 free throws.

Free throw production was the key to Michigan's success. Each team connected for 18 baskets from the floor, but Michigan counted 23 of 34 free throws. Northwestern, on 15 attempts, added 8 points to its total by this method.

Neither team could claim any shooting honors. Northwestern hit on 24.7 of its attempts and Michigan, 22.5.

Athletic Office Doesn't Sell High School Tickets

The Iowa athletic department handles no tickets for the boy's state final basketball tournament, Frank Havlicek, business manager, said Monday.

The office of the Iowa High School Athletic association in Boone is in charge of sale of tickets. When the tournament opens any tickets available will be sold at the lobby ticket office under supervision of the high school association.

Swede Wins Ski Crown

RUMFORD, ME. (AP) — Gunnar Eriksson, never a champion in his native Sweden, became the world ski marathon titleholder Monday.

The dark haired Swede, who stopped six times for a drink of warm water and honey, raced through the 50 kilometer (31 miles) in an unofficial time of 2 hours, 59 minutes and five seconds as he and his countrymen swept the first four places.

The marathon, raced in 10 degree temperature over a hard course, completed the Nordic phase of the world championships sponsored by the Federation Internationale de Ski.

The Alpine events, downhill and slalom racing, will be decided as Aspen, Colo., starting a week from Saturday.

Only individual titles are determined in FIS meets, but if a team title were decided on a 10-6-4-3-2-1 basis for the first six places the unofficial laurels would go to the Swedes, 57 to Norway's 42 1-2. Finland would be third with 23.

St. Pat's, St. Mary's Win First Round Contests

Both St. Patrick's and St. Mary's high schools of Iowa City scored opening round victories in the annual Davenport Diocesan tournament Sunday.

The Ramblers rolled to an impressive 55-32 win over Catholic Central of Fort Madison while St. Pat's slaughtered St. Joseph's of DeWitt, 53-21.

St. Mary's got off to a 11-9 advantage in its game with Fort Madison, a team the Ramblers defeated by a 51-36 score earlier this year, then raised the tally to 28-13 by halftime.

Bob Long was high scorer with 14 points, while Teammates Bud Lenz and Bob Suplepp had 11 each.

St. Pat's had even less trouble trouncing St. Joseph's. The varsity ran the score to 13-2 in the opening period, before the reserves took over.

Jerry Cunningham and Leo Sorenson of the starting five accounted for 10 and nine points, respectively. Two reserves, Duane Loney and Dean Kelsey, followed with nine and eight points.

Wisconsin Tramples Michigan State, 66-46

EAST LANSING, MICH. (AP) — Wisconsin took a breather from Big Ten basketball competition Monday night and ran circles around an outclassed Michigan State team for a 66-46 win.

Michigan State, although elected a member of the Big Ten, doesn't get into Western conference basketball play until next year.

It was the 11th win of the season against four defeats for Wisconsin, second in the Big Ten competition. The loss gave Michigan State a dismal record of two wins and 15 defeats.

Don Rehfeldt, the high scoring Wisconsin center, was allowed to rest a good part of the evening as two of his understudies relieved him. Although he only worked about half the game, Rehfeldt still made 18 points.

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Wilt and Curtis Stone will renew their two-mile feud in the New York A.C. meet Saturday at Madison Square Garden.

Wilt originally was entered in the Baxter mile, but he told meet officials Monday to shift him in the Toussaint two-mile event so he could get another crack at Stone, who beat him in a great race at Boston last Saturday night.

In beating Wilt, Stone ran the distance in 8:55.1.

Delicate Eye Operation Televised

Surgery on Blind Woman Successful, Doctors Hope

ATLANTA, GA. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Ella Sams appeared on a television screen as she underwent an operation for removal and replacement of a clouded cornea. When the eye heals, doctors will operate on her other eye to correct the same condition.

The demonstration was in color television, one of a series in the new technique of teaching surgery which scientists hope will replace the old amphitheater method.

It was a dramatic moment in the basement of the municipal auditorium, where the video crowd watched, when the clear blue of Mrs. Sams' iris flashed upon the screen, the clouded tissue stripped away.

Tragedy played a part in 33-year-old Mrs. Sams' performance. A baby died Monday at birth at Grady hospital. Its parents consented to the use of one of its undamaged corneas in Mrs. Sams' operation. Doctors had been unable to find a cornea at nearby eye-banks.

The eye, when doctors opened it with forceps, filled the entire screen. The doctor in charge narrated the course of the operation through a microphone under his sterilized mask.

The television audience saw every detail with vivid clarity. In a month, when the eye has healed and rested, Mrs. Sams will learn whether she won her prize on the television show.

Corn Loans Exceed Last Year's Figures

Loans to Johnson county farmers on corn sealed by the production and marketing association during December and January exceeded last year's ceiling for the same period by 100,000 bushels.

Ray Smalley, county PMA chairman, said Monday the totals filed by his office through Jan. 31 for Johnson county's 21 townships show loans of $603,869.85 have been made on 447,311 bushels of corn.

The increase over last year's total might be explained, he said, by an increased rural outlay for tractors and other farm equipment.

Other inventory figures showed: $8,642 loaned on 3,996 bushels of beans; $6,419 loaned on 9,304 bushels of oats, and $1,485 loaned on 732 bushels of wheat.

Payment agreements have been made through Jan. 31 on 12,500 bushels of oats, 2,850 bushels of beans and 14,400 bushels of corn, Smalley said.

A total of 289,141 acres are under cultivation in Johnson county, he added. Of this, 119,402 acres of corn were planted in 1949. The average number of corn acres planted each year since 1947 is 118,542, representing approximately 41 percent of the total Johnson county crop acreage.

Twelve Bidders Apply For Road Oil Contract

Twelve bids on fuel, oil and grease for use on secondary road construction were received Monday by the Johnson county board of supervisors.

Final action on the bids probably will be taken today, County Engineer R. H. Justen said Monday.

The bids were offered for six categories — diesel fuel, gasoline, grease, lubricating oil, regular transmission oil and extreme pressure transmission oil. The names of the companies awarded the contracts will be announced when the final decisions are made, Justen said.

No Driver, Car Runs Off, Rams House

A driverless car Sunday night went over a curb, struck a parked car, careened through an icy lot and ended up against a front porch.

Donald M. Day, L3, Council Bluffs, put his car in gear, pulled out the hand throttle, and stepped out to give his car a push on icy Richards street, police reported.

The push did it. The car took off, knocked Day to the ground, and went on its wild drive, causing an estimated $200 damages.

Day Not Hurt

Attorney and Mrs. Robert Osmunson, 225 Richards street, heard Day's car crash into theirs and rushed to the window in time to see the driverless car, with its dome light on, run through a hedge, miss a tree and hit the front porch of Miss Susie Marner's house, 211 Richard street.

By the time the car came to a stop Day had recovered from his shock and surprise and drove his car away. Day said he did not require medical attention.

Other accidents over the weekend caused a total $320 estimated damage.

Three Other Accidents

Monday morning, cars driven by Ralph E. Price, A4, Muscatine, and Leroy Bender, Parnell, collided at the intersection of Clinton and Court streets causing an estimated $55 damage. "Icy roads" were listed as the cause, police said.

Saturday, a Limited taxi driven by Irving Justice, Iowa City, collided with a Farmer's Rendering works truck, driven by Robert Geddes, 630 E. Bloomington. The accident happened in front of Priebe Hatchery on Benton street, and "icy roads" were given as the reason, police said.

In another accident Saturday, Ken Deklotz, A2, Shellsburg, and Bill Hannah, route 5, were driving cars which collided at Gilbert and Bowers streets, causing an estimated $90 damage. The icy conditions of the street were listed as the cause, police said.

Prof. Davies to Speak At Luther College Education Conference

Prof. John L. Davies, director of the SUI bureau of correspondence study, will speak at a tri-state education conference at Luther college, Decorah, Feb. 20.

Davies will open the conference with an address on "In Service Training for Teachers."

"Recent studies show that while 60 percent of the teachers in the United States have college degrees, only 29 percent of Iowa teachers have degrees," Davies said. "In Iowa 51 percent of the teachers have had less than two years of preparation."

In his address, Davies will emphasize procedures to be used with faculty groups to develop interest in further study and in the study of actual teaching problems.

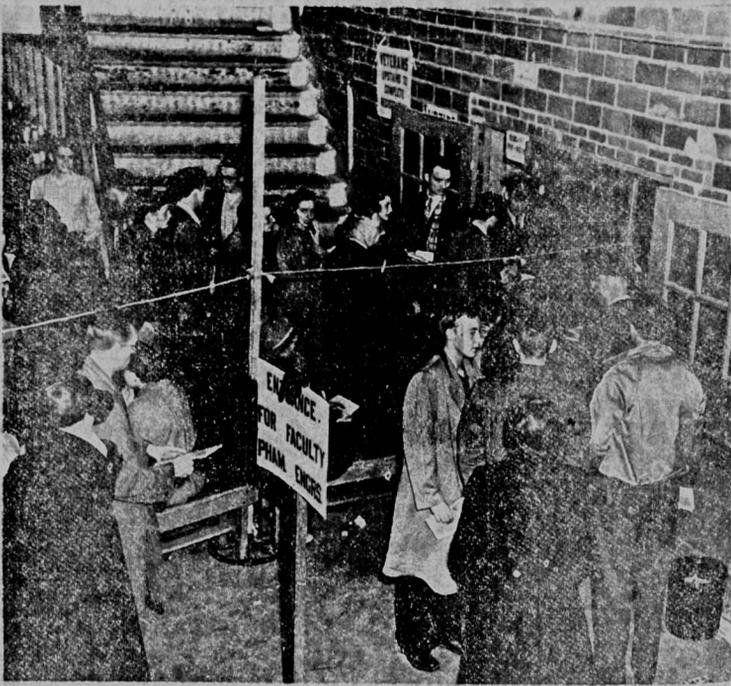

Some of these procedures are emphasis on summer school attendance, correspondence study and local faculty analysis of basic problems.

"It is important for teaching staffs to keep abreast of the times everywhere," Davies said, "but it is especially important here in the midwest where there is a minimum of pre-service training."

The conference, attended chiefly by school administration members such as principals and superintendents, will include delegates from Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

NEW IOWA POSTOFFICES
DES MOINES — Democratic State Chairman Jake More said Monday he had been notified the general services administration in Washington, D.C., has approved sites and buildings for several Iowa postoffices.

Second Semester — Here We Come

LONG LINES AND LONGER FACES characterized SUI's second semester registration Monday as students took a deep breath and braced themselves for four more months of labor and learning. Registration, which will be completed today, is being held in the north gymnasium at the fieldhouse because Monday night's basketball game would have necessitated removing and replacing tables if the main gym had been used. Classes will resume Wednesday.

Two Local Men Attending Soil Conference

Ray E. Smalley, chairman of the Johnson county production and marketing administration committee, is attending a three-day conference beginning today at Ames.

John O'Connor, another committee member, also is attending the conference, where topics in soil conservation and soil testing are being discussed.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the state production and marketing administration and the Iowa State college extension service.

The corn acreage allotment for Johnson county will probably be announced at the conference, Smalley said last week.

Acreage Reduction

At that time officials of the Johnson county committee said an acreage reduction of nearly one-fifth is likely for the midwestern "commercial corn area," which includes Iowa.

They added, however, the reduction for Johnson county could vary considerably from the reduction expected for the entire state.

Today Johnson county has more than four times as much corn involved in the government price support program as it did one year ago.

Early last year the total was 362,835 bushels. The total today, valued at more than $2,100,000, is 1,572,436 bushels which includes:

1. 325,125 bushels of 1948 corn re-sealed on the farm under the loan program.
2. 447,311 bushels of 1949 corn sealed on the farm under the loan program.
3. 800,000 bushels of corn turned over to the government last fall and stored in bins at six sites in Johnson county.

Recent Survey

The average acreage planted in corn in Johnson county during the last three years was 118,542 acres, Smalley said. This average represents 41 percent of the 289,141 acres of cropland in the county.

Smalley said these figures are taken from a recent survey, about 98 percent complete, of county farms. He added the average will be the key figure in determining Johnson county's 1950 acreage allotment which will be divided among individual farmers.

Individual allotments will be ready and announced by early March, Smalley said.

The county production and marketing administration committee has processed purchase agreements for 14,400 bushels. Both his figure and the corn loan total are expected to rise before May 31.

Varsity Rifle Team Takes Seventh Place

SUI's varsity rifle team placed seventh in the Western conference rifle league championship shoot held Jan. 14. Sgt. J. P. Anderson, coach, said Monday.

Scores returned from the conference scorer in Chicago showed SUI had a team score of 1,324 compared with first-place Illinois' 1,401.

Blaine Kearney, P4, Oakland, scored 271 to lead the SUI riflemen.

Other scores were Keith Nico-demus, E2, Vinton, 266; Don Ramsey, C4, Olin, 264; Harlan Bjork, E4, Wapello, 263, and Bill Olson, E3, Iowa City, 260.

Robert Best, P3, Webster City, scored 261 but his score was not counted for the five-man team. Illinois' 1,401 topped all conference schools. Others in order of finishing were Wisconsin, 1,384; Ohio State, 1,384; Minnesota, 1,377; Indiana, 1,371; Michigan, 1,360; SUI, 1,324; Chicago, 1,319; Northwestern, 1,319, and Michigan State, 1,314.

SUI traveled to Minnesota to do its shooting, shoulder to shoulder with the Gophers and Wisconsin. Other dual and triple shoots were held throughout the conference.

The conference title will be decided later when the top four teams meet at Northwestern, Anderson said.

Chamber of Commerce To Discuss 'Dollar Day'

Members of Iowa City's chamber of commerce retail trade division will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday to discuss plans for a forthcoming "Dollar Day" celebration.

Larry Housel, chairman of the division, announced that the meeting will be held in the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric assembly rooms.

Suggests Use of H-Bomb

DETROIT (AP)—The former U.S. military commander of Berlin said Monday that the H-bomb should be used indirectly to end the on-again-off-again Berlin blockade.

Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, addressing the Detroit Economic club, said that "we should sit down with the Russians, not as diplomats but as soldiers."

Appreciation Dinner Honors Boy Scouts

More than 200 persons attended the Johnson county Boy Scout appreciation dinner Sunday in the community building. District Chairman Harry B. Dunlap Jr., of the Iowa River Valley council said Monday.

Council Pres. Harold W. Vestermark spoke in tribute to the volunteer leaders in the Boy Scout movement. Scout Executive Martin L. Hunter explained the Boy Scout crusade, "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty," and the scout jamboree convening this summer.

"A court of honor was held," Dunlap said, "in which several scouts received awards from unit inspections held last fall." District Commissioner Raymond Culp presented the ribbons, he added.

In charge of the court was Alan Graves, district advancement chairman, assisted by John Kelly, Lyle Jones and Bruce Parker, all volunteer leaders, Dunlap said.

Dunlap served as master of ceremonies at the dinner. Glen Jablonski, leadership training chairman, was in charge of physical arrangements and group singing.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JUDGE MEDINA, who handled the Communist trial so brilliantly, once was confronted by a witness who insisted on answering his attorney in a low voice, and ignoring the jury entirely.

The judge finally pounded his gavel and ordered, "Speak to the jury, young man." The witness turned to the jury box and murmured affably, "Howdy." The judge was too amused to reprove him.

When Will Rogers made his sensational successful debut in the Ziegfeld Follies, Ziggy took it upon himself to give the drawing Oklahoman a course in table manners. "There's a proper way to do everything, Will," he instructed. "Take imbibing soup, for example. Always tip the plate away from you. That's etiquette." "Etiquette, my eye," said Rogers. "That's protection."

The Holeproof Hetry Company has thousands of letters from satisfied customers but one it cherishes more highly than most comes from Golfer "Chick" Evans. "A half hour after denning a pair of your socks," he testified, "I got a hole in one."
