Coaching Prospect

Bernie Masterson, former head football coach at Nebraska, will visit Iowa City within the next few days presumably to discuss the Iowa head coaching job with SUI athletic officials. The Daily Iowan learned Wednesday night. (Story on Page 6)

Bednasek Formally Charged With First Degree Murder

Robert E. Bednasek, former SUI student, Wednesday was arraigned in Johnson county district court and charged with first degree murder of SUI coed Margaret Ann (Gee Gee) Jackson. County Atty. Jack C. White made the charge in a county attorney's information dated Feb. 4.

BEDNASEK

The 24-year-old Cedar Rapids youth and his attorney, Clair E. Hamilton, who appeared with him in court Wednesday, were given until 2 p.m. Feb. 15, to enter a plea of guilty or innocent to the information, or to file a demurrer or any other legal paper affecting the information. Bednasek will be tried within 30 days of Wednesday's arraignment if none of these steps are taken by Hamilton, Gaffney said. When the information was filed against Bednasek Feb. 4, by White, the case was removed from the schedule of the Johnson county grand jury which convened Monday. Hamilton protested the move at that time saying, "This action was very unusual. Bednasek has been in jail all this time, and now, two days before the grand jury convenes, an information is filed." Bednasek has been held in the county jail without bond since Dec. 11, when he was accused of the fatal strangling of the SUI girl, a native of Burlington. Miss Jackson was found dead Dec. 11, 1949, in Bednasek's rooming house after a fraternity party.

Butler Resigns Job As Jaycee President

Larry Butler, president of the Iowa City junior chamber of commerce, announced his resignation at the chamber's meeting Tuesday night. He will leave Iowa City late this month to become commercial manager of radio station KDDN at Salinas, Calif. KDDN is a 5,000-watt station owned and operated by Speidel Newspapers, Inc. Butler has been sales manager for a local radio station. He is a member of Kiwanis, the American Legion and the VFW. He served as chairman of the business district division of the 1949 Red Cross drive.

Missing Student Talked Of Suicide, Says Coed

EVANSTON, ILL. (AP) — Threats of suicide by Leo M. Baker Jr., 24-year-old Northwestern university cheer leader who disappeared Tuesday night, were disclosed Wednesday night by a coed. Baker's roommate, Richard Trullitt, 17, related that the older student was drowned in Lake Michigan despite Trullitt's efforts to rescue him. An all-day search by firemen and coast guardsmen disclosed no sign of Baker's body in the water off the ice-fringed campus shore.

FIVE ARRESTED

DETROIT (AP) — Four men and an attractive night club singer were seized by police Wednesday with $27,150 crammed in a paper bag and questioned about the $1-million Brink's Inc. holdup.

Prof. H. T. Muhly Appointed to Faculty Of Math Department

Prof. H. T. Muhly has been appointed to the faculty of the mathematics department, Prof. Lloyd Knowler, head of the department, announced Wednesday. The newly-appointed professor will teach algebraic geometry. Muhly received his undergraduate training at Johns-Hopkins, graduating from there in 1940. He took graduate work at Johns-Hopkins, while working there as a graduate assistant, and at Princeton university as a National Research fellow.

In 1947, Muhly was a Naval Research fellow at Harvard, doing research in algebraic geometry. Later he taught geometry at the Naval Academy at Annapolis and lectured at the University of Maryland. Muhly wrote a mathematics textbook while at Annapolis that is still in use there.

Other publications of his have appeared in the Annals of Mathematics, the Bulletin of American Mathematics society and the American Journal of Mathematics. A native of Baltimore, Muhly is married and has three children, including 8-month-old twins. He said his family will join him here as soon as he can find an apartment.

Registration Changes Acceptable Saturday

Change-in-registration forms will not be accepted by the Registrar's office until Saturday.

Assistant Registrar J. Harvey Croy said Wednesday that students may add or drop courses during the first two weeks of the semester with the consent of their advisers. After the second week of the semester, students wishing to add or drop courses must have the consent of both instructor and adviser and the approval of the dean or of the administrative committee.

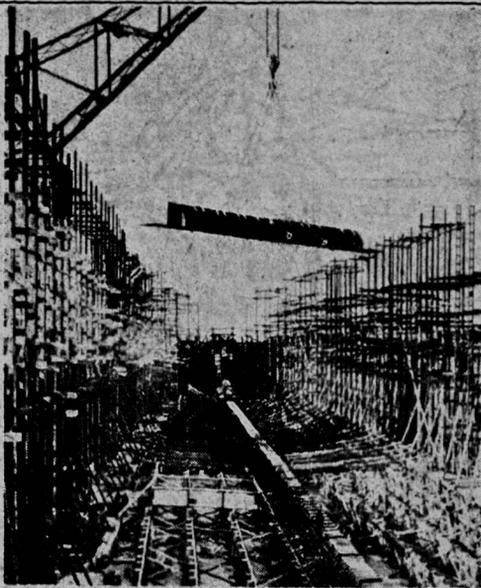

During the first six weeks of the semester students may drop courses with the grade "W" if the signatures of the adviser and the dean or the administrative committee are obtained.

After the first six weeks, students who drop courses will be assigned the grade "W" only if the course instructor will certify that the student's work up to that time is passing. A grade of "F" will be assigned if no certification is obtained, Croy said.

Hillcrest Addition Work Divided into Two Phases

Construction work on the new addition to Hillcrest dormitory has been divided into two phases, Construction Superintendent Harold Van Horne said Wednesday.

The lounge section, which will be attached to the dormitory, is being erected as a division from the rest of the building, he said.

'Largest Liner' on the Way

A GIANT 75-TON CRANE lowers a 108-foot, 55-ton vertical steel section for the 980-foot super-liner, United States, onto keel blocks at the Newport News, Va., shipyards. The vessel will be the largest ever built in this country and will be operated by United States Lines.

Tomash Dies in U-Hospitals

Anton Tomash, 65-year-old Oxford township farmer who admitted trying to poison his wife, died in University hospitals at 3:55 a.m. Wednesday, hospital officials said.

American Mormons Arrested by Czechs

PRAGUE (AP) — Two young American Mormon missionaries have been arrested by Czechoslovak police in Moravia on unspecified charges and all efforts by American officials to see them have failed, diplomatic sources said Tuesday. The missionaries are Stanley E. Abbott, 23, of Lehi, Utah, and C. Aldon Johnson, 22, of Idaho Falls.

The Mormon church — officially the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints — announced Abbott and Johnson disappeared under mysterious circumstances Jan. 28 while traveling through Moravia to visit church members living near the Polish border. The church has been meeting with difficulties from Czechoslovakia's Communist government since last May.

(Church authorities at Salt Lake City expressed confidence the two will be released soon. David O. McKay, second counselor of the church's first presidency, said he was informed from Prague that they "are being held temporarily" by the Czechs.)

Tickets Still Available For SUI Play Tonight

Tickets for the University theater's presentation of "King Lear" are still available at the Schaefer hall ticket office for tonight's performance.

No seats are available for Friday night but single seats for Saturday can still be obtained. Tickets for performances from Monday through Feb. 18 are still available.

Tomash was taken to the hospitals by Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy Feb. 3, suffering from a stroke which Coroner George D. Callahan said was from "natural" causes. The stroke followed Tomash's confession to Murphy by a few hours.

"Home Trouble" — In the confession, Tomash admitted attempting to poison his wife with strychnine on three occasions, Jan. 19 and 23 and Feb. 1. He gave "home trouble" as his reason.

He was arrested Feb. 1 on his farm three miles north of Oxford after his wife, Sadie, filed charges against him in a local justice of the peace court. SUI Dean Emeritus Wilber J. Teeters, consulted by the state as a toxicologist, examined a cup used by Mrs. Tomash and reported he found "enough poison to kill several persons."

Tomash was born June 4, 1884, on a farm near Oxford, the son of Joseph and Anna Tomash. He grew up and remained in Oxford township as a farmer all his life. He is survived by his widow, Sadie; a brother, John Tomash, Cedar Rapids; sisters, Mrs. Tracy Dvork, Swisher; Mrs. Lydia Kral, Iowa City; Mrs. Anna Reha, Swisher, and Mrs. William Quinlan, Oxford. Several grandchildren also survive.

Final rites are tentatively scheduled to be held at the Oshoutz funeral home at Oxford, with burial to be in the Grabin cemetery north of Oxford.

"STILL DON'T REMEMBER" — STAMFORD, CONN. (AP) — Carol Paight, 21-year-old acquitted "mercy slayer" said Wednesday she still does not remember killing her dying father and hopes she never does.

Lewis, Owners Break Off Talks; May Force Truman To Use T-H

Striking Miners Get $500,000

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The big CIO united steelworkers came to the aid of striking coal miners Wednesday with a $500,000 check to relieve distress. The steelworkers promised there is more to come.

President Philip Murray of both the CIO and the USW said his union wants to "assist the needy miners and their families in their struggle against the coal operators."

The million members of the USW were urged by Murray to "make substantial contributions" individually to help "the gigantic struggle against the powerful coal industry."

Murray's half-million dollar gift to the UMW came after the plight of miners in several sections of the country drew attention.

UMW Chief John L. Lewis had no comment on the USW gift. Before 1940, Lewis and Murray were friends. Murray was once Lewis' chief lieutenant in both the UMW and the CIO.

'Power' Will Be U.S. Policy In H-Bomb Age, Acheson Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a sweeping statement of U.S. foreign policy for the H-bomb age, Secretary of State Dean Acheson Wednesday rejected all suggestions for new American peace appeals to Russia. Instead, he based this country's anti-communist strategy squarely on a policy of power.

Four years of experience, Acheson told a news conference, "have brought us the realization" that progress toward world peace simply by making agreements with the Russians is impossible. But the Soviet government is "realistic," he said, and adjusts its policies when compelled by facts to do so. Therefore, he declared, American basic policy is:

"To build situations which will extend the area of possible agreement, that is, to create strength instead of the weakness which exists in many quarters." To make his policy declaration, Acheson chose his regular Wednesday news conference, a device which he frequently prefers to any other. He simply walked into the conference and after one or two preliminaries began talking informally about the public debate which has been going on for weeks both before and after President Truman's decision to manufacture the hydrogen bomb.

Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.), charging opponents of mail rate increases had been "gagged," prevented a vote by demanding a printed copy of the bill containing all amendments approved during the day's debate.

A-Bomb Threat ...

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of America's top atomic scientists told congress Wednesday there is a real danger of Soviet tramp steamers delivering A-bombs into U.S. harbors.

The warning came from Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel prize-winning atomic physicist, along with an admonition that defenses against such a threat should be erected "soon."

Testifying before a senate foreign relations subcommittee, Dr. Urey said he does not believe

Long Discussion Proves Futile

WASHINGTON (AP) — (THURSDAY) — John L. Lewis and northern and western operators broke off contract negotiations early this morning only hours after they had begun new talks in an effort to end the walkout of 400,000 United Mine Workers.

Chairman David L. Cole of the presidential fact-finding board set up to investigate the eight-month-old wage contract dispute which has reduced coal supplies to the danger point, said the talks had convinced him "further negotiations would be fruitless. He blamed both Lewis and the producers for the breakdown.

The seriousness of the 400,000-man mine strike was underscored earlier when the inter-state commerce commission ordered a flat 50 percent cut in coal burning railroad passenger service and a 25 percent reduction in coal-burning freight passenger service.

Mr. Truman has made it plain all along that if no agreement is reached, he will ask the federal courts for an injunction next Monday. The order would be aimed at forcing Lewis' 400,000 idle United Mine Workers to resume a full five-day week.

Lewis broke off his talks with the northern and commercial producers at 11:35 p.m. (Iowa time). His lieutenants had broken off discussions with the southern coal producers associations a few minutes before.

Cole said no further bargaining sessions are scheduled and that as far as he is concerned, a full breakdown had occurred. This presumably means the board will proceed with its fact-finding procedure at 9 a.m. (Iowa time) this morning.

Ogden Nash to Speak In Iowa Union Tonight

Free tickets can be obtained today by the general public at the Iowa Union lobby desk for tonight's lecture by Ogden Nash, Prof. Earl E. Harper, chairman of the committee on university lectures, announced Wednesday.

Nash, writer of light verse, speaks at 8 p.m. today in the main lounge of the Union. His subject will be "Midway Thru Nash."

Co-author of "One Touch of Venus," Nash also is author of about 10 books, the newest of which is "Versus."

Find Searchers Safe On Yukon Mountain

WHITEHORSE, YUKON (AP) — All 10 Americans and Canadians aboard a crashed U.S. airforce C-47 were found alive Wednesday huddled on a mountain slope near the wreckage of the plane they were using in a search for a missing American transport.

Three of the crewmen, all Americans, were reported injured, the RCAF joint-search headquarters announced in paring down the crewmen aboard from the 12 originally listed on the Manifest to 10—five American crewmen and five Canadians.

In Tick-Tock Silence Through a Long and Boring Class

THE HONEYMOON IS OVER but some people just can't — or won't — believe it. A semester begins with about as much pep as a wet cornflake and that's just what the brethren shown above feel like. Off on a dreamer's holiday as those first classes sneak into sight are: Dick Orth, C3, Waterloo (in bed left and center pictures) and Joseph Polzer, G, New York (in chair, picture at right) Orth silently curses the arts of modern technology in which alarm clocks and other sinister contraptions wreck the homespun revelries of bygone days. He shouldn't worry — his professor probably missed that 7:30, too. Philosophy Prof. J. L. Cobitz (chalk in hand and "Sleepers, Awake!" on his lips) tries vainly to transform Polzer from a state of "inarticulate certainty to articulate uncertainty." Now, who'd be sadistic enough to wish him success?

A Shadow on Human Life —

The acquittal of Carol Ann Paight, 21-year-old college girl who was accused of the "mercy" slaying of her father, throws a different and dangerous light on the value of human lives.

With three exceptions courts have traditionally held that Hammurabi was right when he produced his "eye-for-an-eye" code of laws. Killing in war, in self-defense and in execution of a convicted criminal have been the three departures from the ancient Hammurabi rules of human conduct. In short, the only justification for killing is the protection of innocent lives.

Each man has a right to his own life, and an obligation to protect it. Convenience has never been justification for killing.

If convenience were to be admitted as grounds for killing, then it would be all right to kill persons in any of the following instances:

1 — The mentally deficient or the insane, because those persons can never function to aid society, rather they are burdens on society.

2 — Suicide could be condoned when life becomes a burden.

3 — Unjust wars would be right because the power and wealth that might be gained are certainly desirable.

4 — It might even be all right to kill any unjust and selfish person whose life can only cause trouble for other persons.

Obviously, convenience is no justification for taking a life.

And yet, convenience is the only justification for "mercy killing" yet offered by its advocates. Death should often be preferred to lengthy periods of agony, but convenience is the criterion, not necessity.

The acquittal of Miss Paight might well mark a trend in U.S. jurisprudence — that trend that Adolph Hitler fostered a few years before, when old and feeble-minded persons were put to death, because they had outlived their usefulness.

Breathing Spell Indicated —

U.S. action to recognize and perhaps aid the three independent republics of Indo-China amounts to drawing the line in the Orient.

By this action we are saying, in effect, to Communist China: this far you have gone, but further you may not go. What this amounts to in practical diplomacy is laying down the law and stating our intention to permit no further inroads of communism in the east.

We may have a real job on our hands when we try to enforce this dictum. We have given up for lost the cause of Nationalist China — even as other world powers foresaw we must give it up.

We will lose — in fact we are even now losing — the fight in the United Nations to keep Communist China from gaining a seat in the security council.

Our hand was forced by the British government in their earlier recognition of Communist China and its announcement they would recognize the three Indonesian republics.

We have hinted a retaliatory move by giving aid to the republics but the type of aid remains unclarified. Whether we are doing the right thing in offering aid remains to be seen. Right now it is the move of a desperate state department which seeks to regain some of the prestige we have lost in the Orient.

Actually, the move may have been for the best. We have shown positive evidence we are through pussy-footing. Now the line is drawn both east and west. The world knows how we stand. The move is kind of unification gesture, a corollary to the Russian move to consolidate its gains before anything more is done. Look on it as a breathing spell and you won't be far wrong.

As Dollars Wash Away —

Budget bills, acts of expenditure, and bills to save bushels of money constantly draw the biggest attention in congress, but there is a bill now resting in the senate that could save the U.S. millions of dollars going unnoticed.

It is legislation for the furtherance of soil and forest conservation, pigeon-holed somewhere in a senate committee mainly because of pressure from lumber interests.

Thousands of tons of U.S. soil are washed away each year by unintelligent farming and promiscuous cutting of timber. Most of this soil is lost. Some collects again over a period of years, in deltas and river bottoms, but the use of it is gone as far as short range economic conditions are concerned.

Not only does this erosion lower the national output, but it also effects the water table, and hence, the amounts of available drinking water.

The bill, now reclining in the senate, would make it imperative that states enforce lumber conservation and managed farming.

G. M. Browning, manager of the outlying experimental farms at Iowa State college, said recently that managed farming would increase the production of an individual farmer 10 to 25 percent per year. Throughout the U.S. this would amount to a considerable sum.

Even while the bill now rests with the legislators, water is running in the southern states washing away more possible revenue, but the badly needed action on conservation is stymied.

Interpreting the News —

German Complaints Dey Occupation Statute

By J.M. ROBERTS, JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

If there are any Germans who are surprised by the warning given them Monday by the U. S. High Commissioner, John J. McCloy, they might take a look at the occupation statute.

McCloy told them to stop agitating in international affairs, to remember that they brought their trouble on themselves, and that the occupation authorities would not tolerate a revival of anti-democratic movements.

Some German officials have complained about allied intervention in affairs of the state, governments, have condemned the return of Nazi-like bureaucracy and actual Nazi infiltration into public jobs, and others have been agitating about such things as an army and return of the Saar to German control.

They have been trying to make it appear that the allies are renegeing on the occupation statute which went into effect with establishment of the new western German government at Bonn, defining the authority retained by the occupation commission.

ISC President Lists Top TV Programs

AMES, IA. — President Charles E. Friley of Iowa State college announced Wednesday that the college's new television station will carry shows televised by the nation's four big networks.

He said that contracts have been signed with the National Broadcasting company, Columbia Broadcasting company and Dumont. Specific shows, he said, will be arranged after a conference with network officials.

WOL-TV, the college station will inaugurate television programs in central Iowa. Regular broadcasts will begin as soon as present test patterns indicate that equipment is in shape.

Network shows will be brought to the station by the kinescope or "tele-transcription" method. The process puts television shows on film for later use, a method corresponding to radio transcriptions.

Direct network television shows, however, will be carried on WOL-TV upon completion of a coaxial cable. Officials said the cable probably will be in use by next October.

Woman Draws 3-Year Sentence for Bad Check

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — Roberta D. Young, who was released in January from the women's reformatory at Rockwell City, was given a three-year sentence Wednesday after she pleaded guilty in federal court to a charge of writing a forged check.

She admitted writing the forged check in Denver on a California bank in November, 1948. She was arrested in Des Moines, in December, 1948, after trying to pass a bad check there and was sentenced to 12 months at Rockwell City in connection with that case.

This document made it perfectly clear that the Germans would have a certain autonomy strictly at the sufferance of the occupation.

After outlining specific fields in which the allies retained control, such as foreign affairs, trade and the Ruhr, the statute says: "It is the hope and expectation of the governments of France, and the United States and the United Kingdom that the occupation authorities will not have to take action in the fields other than those specifically reserved above."

"The occupation authorities, however, reserve the right, acting under instructions from their governments, to resume, in whole or in part, the exercise of full authority if they consider that to do so is essential to security or to preserve democratic government in Germany or in part."

The Germans to whom General McCloy was talking Monday might do well to notice, however, that the review clause contains a two-way sword. Revision can take either a relaxing or a restricting direction, depending upon the Germans.

Editor Says Fans to 'Stick By' Bergman

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD — Movie fans, though "saddened" by the headlines, will stick by Ingrid Bergman and Shirley Temple if their next pictures are good, a fan magazine editor said Tuesday.

Bergman's baby "probably" won't drive away her pre-Rosellini followers, said Adele Whitney Fletcher, editor of Photoplay magazine.

"It's a little early to tell, since letters are just coming in," she said. "But so far in the mail, her fans are disillusioned and some disapproving, but few indicate they won't see her movies any more. It depends on whether her next movies, if any, are good."

Producer Jerry Wald agreed. "The public has accepted the idea that stars have private lives," he said. "If Bergman's next picture, 'Stromboli,' is good, they'll flock to it. If it's bad, they won't."

The magazine has received "very few" letters on Ingrid's romance compared to an avalanche of missives when Shirley Temple divorced John Agar. Mrs. Fletcher thinks that's because Ingrid appeals to a "smaller, more intellectual segment."

Shirley was the American idyll," she said. "She was a legend. She appealed to people of all ages. People regarded her as one of the family."

"Her fans were saddened by her divorce. They regretted that she was unhappy and that it happened to someone they loved. But, suance of the international obligations of their governments."

Well, that just about covers everything, doesn't it?

That was a sincere allied statement. The desire was to give the Germans as much autonomy as their new government was prepared to handle, within the framework of western security.

The allies went farther. They agreed to review the statute within 18 months in the light of experience "with a view to extending the jurisdiction of the legislative, executive and judicial fields."

The Germans to whom General McCloy was talking Monday might do well to notice, however, that the review clause contains a two-way sword. Revision can take either a relaxing or a restricting direction, depending upon the Germans.

State Bar Group To Back Switzer

CEDAR RAPIDS — The Iowa State Bar association said Wednesday that it will send opinions on the nomination of Carroll O. Switzer, Des Moines, for a federal judgeship to the senate judiciary committee.

T.M. Ingersoll, Cedar Rapids, association vice president, said statements received from 22 members will be sent on Friday to the judiciary committee in Washington.

Sen. Pat McCarran, (D-NeV.), judiciary committee chairman, asked the bar association for statements. The senate committee has delayed action on Switzer's nomination since last summer.

Meanwhile Switzer has served as a federal judge in the southern Iowa district under an interim appointment by President Truman. Whether he retains his position ends on senate action.

Nevada Senator Named to State Safety Post

DES MOINES (AP) — State Sen. John Hattery (R-NeV) Wednesday was named general chairman of the first annual Iowa safety congress to be held in Des Moines March 29-30.

Hattery was named at a meeting held in the house of representatives Wednesday as a preliminary to the statewide congress. Veterans groups, women's clubs, parent-teacher organizations, and business groups were among the organizations represented by 170 persons at the meeting.

Gov. William S. Beardsley, who called the meeting, emphasized the seriousness of its purpose and reviewed statistics which showed that 1,822 persons were killed in all kinds of accidents in Iowa last year.

He praised the efforts of law enforcement officers, press, radio and all organizations interested in safety but said: "Help from everyone everywhere is needed to carry home the message of safety."

He pledged the aid of state departments but said congress alone cannot meet the challenge. The governor said the purpose of the March congress would be to devise means of extending safety education to all levels and provide the ways and means of carrying the program forward.

Letters to the Editor

The American Home . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

Your editorial of Feb. 4, on the "Question of Moral Attitude" in the United States today, pointed out a position apparently prevalent in the minds of many of our citizens, which, however, I feel will accomplish nothing of importance. That is the belief that we should strengthen our divorce courts in order to reduce our rate of legal separations, which, as you pointed out, is one of the highest in the world.

As you stated, we continually bury our heads in the mud and attempt to remedy effects rather than causes. Very true! But, I contend that is exactly what we would be doing again if we attempted to make it more difficult for incompatible couples to dissolve their marriages in the divorce courts.

Why should two people who cannot live in harmony together and mould a strong family be forced to maintain their marital status, and yet live separately — a likely consequence of stronger divorce legislation? If they can't live together why prevent them from legal and complete separation? True, such a solution might decrease the divorce rate, but would it help to strengthen family life?

It seems to me that the proper remedy for the situation must go further than this. Wouldn't it be wiser to prevent these people from starting a family which may be so easily undermined by conflict, thereby resulting in serious handicaps to the normal growth of children born into this wedlock. The tougher it is to get married, the fewer hasty marriages and ill-fated couples, and consequently the more lasting families.

Perhaps this still wouldn't eliminate causes, and certainly it is no panacea for curing all our society's ills in this respect. It does, however, seem that if strengthening our home life will reduce sex offenses, juvenile delinquency, and moral offenses, then rigid divorce legislation is not the correct method of attaining this goal — rigid marriage rules established by society or enacted by law will be much more successful.

Well Dressed

Poll Indicates 'Ike' Best Attired

NEW YORK — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower edged out Secretary of State Dean Acheson Tuesday as the "best dressed man in public life."

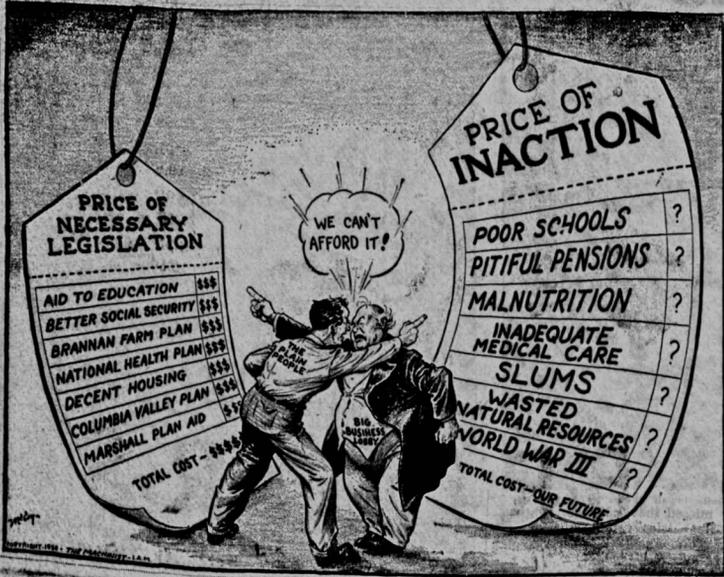

The Custom Tailors guild said in its annual poll Eisenhower "emerged considerably ahead of last year's favorite, Dean Acheson, who several guild members noted "sometimes overdresses."

The guild said Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university, "shows perfect judgment in wearing clothes which reflect the dignity of his office . . . and his role of elder statesman."

Other men in the top 10 were: screen — Clark Gable; popular music — bandleader Sammy Kaye; opera — tenor Lauritz Melchior; sports — Dan Topping, president of the New York Yankees; dancing — instructor Arthur Murray; law — U.S. Attorney Thomas F. Murphy; radio — master of ceremonies Ralph Edwards; society — candy heir George F. Schrafft; business — paper magnate Harry E. Gould.

The guild had this suggestion to less well-dressed men: "leave your wife at home when you visit your tailor."

Bandits Take $116,2 In Arizona Bank Th

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (UP) — Two men, carrying a gar between them, walked out of the Bank of Douglas We with $116,250, their haul in an early-morning holdup.

Draped over the garbage can was a white cloth and was just unusual enough to attract the casual attention erby but not sufficiently to alert anyone outside the ban major holdup had occurred.

Inside the bank, seven persons were bound and jammed into a closet, unable to spread an alarm until other bank employes arrived at about 8 a.m. within minutes after the bank robbers drove off in a car with California license plates.

Squads of police and deputy sheriffs searched for the two bandits, one a Negro and the other a Mexican. Roads leading out of Phoenix were blocked off and every car carrying California license plates was halted. Federal Bureau of Investigation agents joined police on the case.

Officers, from the stories told them by bank employes, said the men apparently pulled up in front of the bank at about 6:20 a.m. and waited until janitor Clinton Wade arrived. They pulled a gun on Wade, forcing him to let them in. Once inside, they made Wade show them around the interior, pointing out the location of the bank's vault and questioning him when other employes would arrive.

"Then they tied my hands with a rope and my feet with my own belt and dropped me in a small closet," Wade said.

Bank Teller James Wise arrived at 7:40 a.m. He said he noticed nothing out of the ordinary until he got inside and was walking towards his cage.

"A man came out of a door," he said. "He was masked and wore gloves. He had a pistol and told me, 'I want that vault door opened fast and no funny business.'"

Wise said he had no choice but to open the vault. Because of the time mechanism, he was a little slow getting it open and one of the bandits growled at him:

"Better snap it up, your life is at stake."

Seven employes including three women herded into the closet with Wade by one of the men while the other loaded the garbage can be brought with him. Bank officials said the loot included $3,000 in $50 and $100 bills and the rest in small denominations ranging from $1 to $20.

Icy Streets Cause Two City Accidents

Two of the three accidents reported to the police Wednesday listed "icy condition of streets" as a "contributing factor." Total damage was estimated at $855.

Dale E. Correll, A2, Vinton, caused $700 damage to his car, but escaped injury, when it skidded at the intersection of highway 218 and Melrose avenue and struck a light post.

Cars driven by Ramon C. Nelson, P1, Clinton, and Homer M. McIntire, Waseca, Minn., collided Tuesday at the intersection of Byington and Quadrangle roads causing an estimated $100 damage.

In a collision near the Crandic underpass on North Riverside drive, a car driven by Evelyn Luymes, 211 Riverside park and a parked car belonging to Richard Hornaday, A3, Des Moines, were damaged to the extent of $55, police said.

Injured City Employee To Undergo Operation

P. J. Bream, 504 Bowery street, city employe who was injured while helping clean streets Jan. 5, will undergo an operation in Mercy hospital today, hospital officials said.

He was taken to Mercy hospital Jan. 28 where his condition was reported as "good" by officials.

The nature of the operation was not revealed.

ASME's to Hear Technician Lect

SUI Student Branch American Society of Mechanical Engineers will be hosts at dinner meeting of the ASME Society for Metals and the American Society of Tool Engineers Tuesday.

The dinner will be held in River room of the Iowa at 6:30 p.m.

The joint meeting is known as "John Fielding in honor of the late John Fielding former SUI engineering instructor."

Prof. Edward Mielenk of department of mechanical engineering is in charge of arrangements.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. Harry B. Osborn, technical director of the Technical Division of the Ohio Crankshaft Company of Cleveland, one of the country's foremost authorities on induction heating.

Osborn's talk will be followed by a demonstration of induction heating in the SUI mechanical engineering laboratory by representatives of the Ohio Crankshaft Company.

Myron J. Bennett to Address SUI's Young Democrat Club

Myron J. Bennett, Des Moines safety commissioner and self-announced candidate for governor, will address members of SUI's Young Democrat club today at 7:30 p.m. in room 221A Schaeffer hall.

Bennett is one of the Democratic candidates seeking nomination at the primaries who have been invited to present their platforms to Young Democrat members. President Robert Cosgriff said.

Bennett, 42, onetime Des Moines radio "disk jockey" announced Jan. 13 his intention to run for governor as a "liberal, independent Democrat."

He has stated that his personal experiences show: "It is impossible to enforce the present liquor laws in this state because people are going to drink and they are going to play bingo."

He said he favors the issuance of liquor licenses to places operated by "persons of high repute and unquestionable character."

He also has asked for a requirement that colleges and universities pay taxes on property used for commercial purposes.

Other measures he supports are: restrictions against tax levy increases, an enabling act to let cities and towns substitute a two percent "salary tax" for the resi-street Boyle was violating the zoning ordinance.

City Engineer Fred E. Gartzke issued a building permit for $12,000 to Boyle Jan. 13. Boyle applied for the permit to convert a present structure into a "two-family duplex."

The building now evidently contains three different living units, Gartzke said.

The fund's total current assets now amount to $267-million. However, in order to amass this total the 102,458 members have deposited only $46 million out of their wages and salaries.

SUI to Offer New Residency

A new "general practice residency" training program to prepare doctors for general practice in Iowa will begin July 1, SUI college of medicine and University hospitals officials announced Wednesday.

Six doctors will be trained for general practice by the new program between July, 1950 and June, 1951, the announcement said.

The opportunity offered in the Iowa plan is unusual, because the residency is offered in a large general hospital in conjunction with a college of medicine.

The plan anticipates arrangement of a preceptorship with a general practitioner in Iowa or a residency in a community hospital after completion of the general practice residency.

Such arrangements help young doctors gain first-hand experience in working with and assisting the general practitioner.

The residencies will be open only to doctors who have completed a general rotating internship at an approved hospital. This internship for most students follows immediately upon graduation from medical school.

SUI's 40,000-book medical library and its 450 current journals on medicine and related fields will be available to general practice residents.

The opportunity to attend clinical and basic science classes for review or special study, and the opportunity to attend classes, special clinics, staff conferences and the SUI medical lecture series, are further advantages.

The general practice residents will also be able to attend the college's post-graduate courses given several times yearly for the benefit of the doctors of Iowa.

The one-year general practice residency will be divided into six two-month periods. One period will be devoted to each of the following areas: general medicine, medical out-patient clinic, traumatic surgery and orthopedics, otolaryngology, and obstetrics and gynecology. Substitutions will be allowed in some cases if the resident desires, officials said.

270 Med Applicants

Between 260 and 270 applications have been received for admission to the SUI college of medicine class beginning September, 1950, Prof. W. W. Morris, assistant dean of student affairs of the college, said Wednesday. Last year 303 applications were considered, Morris said. From this year's applicants, 120 will be selected in compliance with a request by the last Iowa general assembly to expand the enrollment. The expansion program began last fall with the admission of eight additional freshmen and nine additional transfer students to the advanced classes.

The admissions committee will now begin a series of interviews by which selection will be made. Each applicant will be given two interviews, Morris said.

The committee has started processing applications earlier this year, he said, to allow applicants to learn the results of their application sooner.

Union Plans Party After Illini Game, Kapers to Perform

The third after-game party of the season will be held Saturday night in the Iowa Union following the Iowa-Illinois game.

The party, sponsored by the Union Board, is the only all-university event scheduled for this weekend with the exception of sporting events, Board Member Don Guthrie, A3, Iowa City, said Wednesday.

The open house will follow the same pattern as the two previous parties, with dancing in the Union's main lounge and in "Club Hawkeye" in the cafeteria.

All facilities of the game room will be available during the party. In the river room, an hour-long film will be shown twice. A talent show consisting of Kampus Kapers performers will be presented at 10:45 p.m.

The newly redecorated rooms north of the lobby will be used for community singing.

The fourth and final party of the after-game series will follow the Iowa-Creighton basketball game March 4.

10 New Appointments To Daily Iowan Staff

Seven new appointments to the editorial staff and three to the advertising staff of The Daily Iowan were approved Wednesday by the student board of publications, President Fred M. Pownall said.

Leonard Mozer, A4, Chicago, former news editor, was named managing editor and Jack Orris, G, Iowa City, was appointed photo editor.

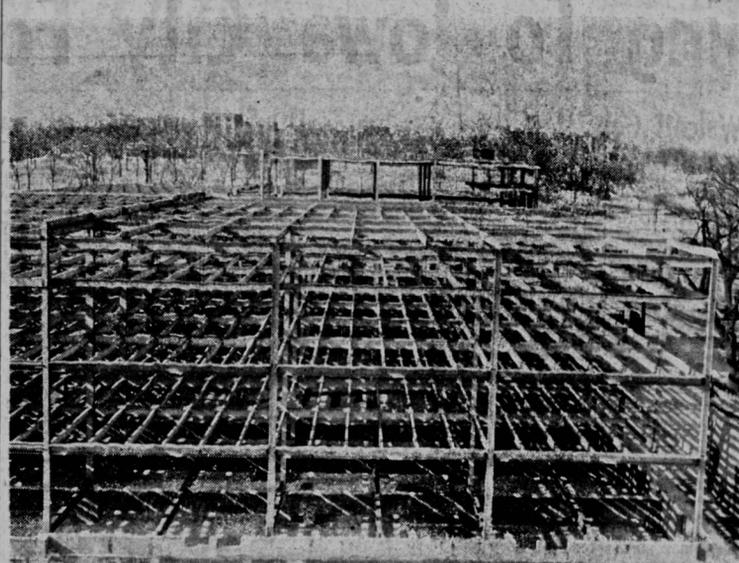

News editors appointed were Mary Nell Gray, A4, Estherville; Van Richmond, A4, Beloit, Wis., and Reynold Hertel, A4, Amana.

Joseph Brown, A4, Memphis, Tenn., will be assistant city editor and Donald Key, former photo editor, will be editorial assistant. In the advertising department Jack Dyer, A4, Sioux City, was named business manager; Ward Crowley, A4, Des Moines, classified manager and Howard Olaneky, A4, Dubuque, campus consultant.

ASME ELECTS OFFICERS

Luther Smith, E4, Des Moines, was elected president of the SUI American Society of Mechanical Engineers for the spring semester at an ASME meeting Wednesday afternoon. Other officers elected were Earl Compton, E3, Iowa City, vice president; Howard Pleshwood, E4, Sioux City, secretary, and Robert Murphy, E4, Austin, Minn., treasurer.

Library Framework to Be Completed This Week

(Daily Iowan Photo)

THE HONEYCOMBED STEEL SKELETON of SUI's new library will be completed this week, George Horner, university architect, announced Wednesday. No estimate of the library's completion date is yet available, as brick work, floors, electrical and mechanical construction and other inside features remain to be finished, Horner said.

Tryouts for WSUI Shows to be Today

Tryouts will be held in WSUI studio A from 3 to 5 p.m. today for parts in next week's Fiction Parade and Drama Hour programs, Drama Director Glenn Starlin, G, Iowa City, said Wednesday.

Starlin emphasized that the tryouts are open to anyone enrolled at SUI.

Today's readings will be for parts in an adaptation of Mildred Cram's "Forever"—a fantasy dealing with predestination of two persons' lives.

Starlin added, however, that anyone interested can try out for any Fiction Parade or Drama Hour program.

Fiction Parade is heard over WSUI every Tuesday from 3:30 to 4 p.m. Drama Hour is a regular Thursday program from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

Arrange Interviews For June Graduates

Job interviews arranged for June graduates by the SUI bureau of business and industrial placement began this week with representatives of several large companies—including Eastman Kodak Co. and General Motors Corp.

Director Helen Barnes said Wednesday General Motors' representatives Kenneth Meade and Richard Smith will interview prospective June graduates today and Friday.

One day will be devoted to interviewing engineers and the other to students trained in accounting and the finance field, she said.

A meeting was held Wednesday night in Old Capitol for all applicants to General Motors' positions. Eastman Kodak Co. representative F. W. Harris interviewed students Monday from the placement office and the chemistry department, Miss Barnes said.

Twice as many job requests were received by the placement office during January as were received last year at the same time, Miss Barnes said.

Iowa City Boy Scouts to Take Over City Hall Jobs Saturday

Elections will be held today from 3 to 7 p.m. to determine Saturday's Boy Scout mayor who will preside over Iowa City in observance of "Boy Scout Citizen Day" according to John M. Kelly, neighborhood Scout commissioner.

The observance is part of the program to carry out Boy Scout week in Iowa City, Kelly said.

Party caucuses met at City high school, he said, to determine their respective platforms and party candidates.

Eager enthusiasm was shown at the caucuses, the commissioner reported, as the scouts anticipated "digging-in" and learning how city government actually works here.

Saturday will be a high point in some scout's life as Mayor Preston Koser will turn over the gavel to his youthful substitute at 9 a.m. Other elected officers will assume their respective duties at the same time.

Several of the proposed platforms dealt with present city problems, including better street lights in residential sections, Kelly explained.

Some of the planks on the Citizen's party platform were to keep magazine sellers out of Iowa City; better roller skating and ice skating facilities; school patrol on streets, and raising the age limit for children's prices at the movies. The People's party proposed to

Bach to Broadcast Religious Program

Prof. Marcus Bach of the SUI school of religion returns to the air this morning with his Religion of America program, according to WSUI Promotion Director Roger Hipsley, A2, Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

The program—a classroom broadcast—will be heard over station WSUI every Tuesday and Thursday morning from 8:30 to 9:20.

Bach broadcast the program in 1948 under the title, "Little Known Religions of America," and it proved very popular, Hipsley said.

Bach spent the last six months in Haiti doing research in the religious practices of the people there.

DULUTH BUS FIRE

DULUTH, MINN. (AP)—A trolley bus caught fire Wednesday night and 20 passengers escaped injury. The Duluth Superior Transit company estimated damage at $500.

Starlin emphasized that the tryouts are open to anyone enrolled at SUI.

Today's readings will be for parts in an adaptation of Mildred Cram's "Forever"—a fantasy dealing with predestination of two persons' lives.

Starlin added, however, that anyone interested can try out for any Fiction Parade or Drama Hour program.

Fiction Parade is heard over WSUI every Tuesday from 3:30 to 4 p.m. Drama Hour is a regular Thursday program from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

Job Interviews Arranged

Job interviews arranged for June graduates by the SUI bureau of business and industrial placement began this week with representatives of several large companies—including Eastman Kodak Co. and General Motors Corp.

Director Helen Barnes said Wednesday General Motors' representatives Kenneth Meade and Richard Smith will interview prospective June graduates today and Friday.

One day will be devoted to interviewing engineers and the other to students trained in accounting and the finance field, she said.

A meeting was held Wednesday night in Old Capitol for all applicants to General Motors' positions. Eastman Kodak Co. representative F. W. Harris interviewed students Monday from the placement office and the chemistry department, Miss Barnes said.

Twice as many job requests were received by the placement office during January as were received last year at the same time, Miss Barnes said.

Announces Deadline for Play Festival Here

Registration blanks for the 22nd annual Iowa Play Production festival to be held at SUI from March 24 to April 1, must be mailed before March 1, according to Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, dean of the extension division.

The high school division will compete March 27 through April 1 and the community drama groups will participate on March 24 and 25, Mahan said.

The community division is comprised of all drama groups interested in amateur play production, he explained. All residents of the community represented except professional players, university and high school students are eligible to participate.

Other rules governing the festival specify that playing time for each one-act play should be kept within a maximum of 35 minutes, he said. Only one play from each school may be entered.

Several plays are listed in the information pamphlet. However, another one-act play or a cutting from a three-act play may be substituted upon approval by the committee, Mahan said.

The SUI Extension division, the department of speech and dramatic art and the community drama committee of the Iowa Federation of Women's club are co-operating in producing the festival, he said.

Bernie Masterson Coming To Iowa City For 'Introduction'

Brechler, Blommers Still On 'Interviewing' Tour

By ALAN MOYER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Bernie Masterson, former coach at Nebraska who Wednesday declared himself a candidate for the Iowa head football coaching job, will visit Iowa City within the next few days to discuss details of the job with Iowa athletic officials.

The Daily Iowan learned Wednesday night that Masterson, now in Spencer, asked Lyell Bremser, a sports caster for radio station KFAB in Omaha, to call a friend in Iowa City and arrange for an introduction to Iowa athletic officials.

It is not known when Athletic Director Paul Brechler and Paul Blommers, chairman of the athletic board, would be back in Iowa City from a flying trip to the east coast, among other places, to interview prospects for the job vacated two weeks ago by Dr. Eddie Anderson.

Called Cretzmeyer
Bremser, a friend of Masterson's and the first to announce the Nebraskan's aspirations for the Hawkeye job, called Iowa Track Coach Francis Cretzmeyer Wednesday afternoon shortly after 2:30 and asked that Cretzmeyer introduce Masterson to the right people.

"I'm as interested as anyone in

... Now Dawson

Another name popped into the scramble for the Iowa coaching position Wednesday night when Red Dawson, a former assistant to Bernie Bierman at Minnesota and the coach of the Buffalo Bills professional team for the first half of 1949 was added to the list.

Friends of Dawson's have reportedly approached Athletic Director Paul Brechler while on his eastern tour and made it known to him that Dawson is available for the Iowa job.

seeing Iowa get the best football coach possible," Cretzmeyer said Wednesday night, "so I'll certainly do the introducing."

Cretzmeyer said he didn't know when Brechler and Blommers would return to Iowa City nor

... Faurot Out

COLUMBIA, MO. (AP)—Don Faurot said Wednesday night his present plans are to continue as athletic director and head football coach at the University of Missouri in 1950.

That eliminates him from consideration as successor to Eddie Anderson at Iowa. Faurot made it clear that he meant "present plans," but indicated that he was not considering a job at Iowa or any other place at the time.

did he know Masterson personally, but that he has known Bremser for a number of years.

Bremser was working for station KRNT in Des Moines in 1944 and later was with WHO in the same city. Cretzmeyer was then coaching in the Des Moines high school system.

"In the Race"

Masterson told Bremser Wednesday afternoon that "I'm going to declare myself in the race for the Iowa job, but it may be too late."

He was referring to the several candidates that Brechler and Blommers have already interviewed and statements by Brechler that the list, which once had some 60 names on it, had been cut to "around 10."

Bremser quoted Masterson, who was backfield coach of the now defunct New York Yankees professional football team last season, as saying he would like to get back into the college coaching ranks.

He resigned as head coach at Nebraska in February of 1948.

Masterson asked that his whereabouts not be revealed Wednesday afternoon but in a radio interview from Spencer Wednesday night Masterson said he had applied to Brechler "about a week ago."

He added that he had done nothing else about getting the job. It is the first indication of when Brechler and Blommers will return to Iowa City that has been known since the two left last Sunday, destination not announced.

Nebraska Graduate

Masterson graduated from Nebraska, quarterbacked the Chicago Bears for seven years and helped Clark Shaughnessy install the T-formation at Stanford in 1940. That same team defeated Nebraska in the Rose Bowl that year, 21-14.

Walcott Gets Third Round Knockout as Opponent Collapses

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Young Harold Johnson collapsed in the center of the ring without being hit and was counted out in the third round Wednesday night of a scheduled 10-round bout against Jersey Joe Walcott at the Arena. Johnson had been battling Walcott on even terms when at 1:03 of the third round he fell to the canvas and rolled over and over, obviously writhing in pain. Referee Dave Beloff waved Walcott to a neutral corner and counted the 22-year-old Negro out.

The verdict was announced as a knockout for Walcott who ruled a better than two to one favorite and held a 17 pound weight advantage. Johnson weighed 180, Walcott 197.

Johnson lay on the ring canvas for 10 minutes before Dr. Joseph Ivey, physician for the Pennsylvania State Athletic commission had him removed on a stretcher. Johnson tried several times to get up but was unable to stand up straight even with the aid of his handlers.

Dr. Ivey announced that a preliminary examination disclosed an injury to the intervertebral disc located in the small of the fighter's back.

Johnson won the first round with an aggressive style that momentarily surprised the veteran 36-year-old Walcott. The Philadelphia youngster flicked left jabs in Walcott's face and caught the Camden, N.J., boxer with hard rights.

Forced Joe Louis

Walcott, a cagey fighter who twice forced Joe Louis to the utmost, seemed to be catching on to his opponent's style in the second session. He stepped back and caught the youngster coming in with two vicious rights that dropped Johnson for a three count at the bell.

It was give and take in the early moments of the third round and Johnson appeared to be holding his own.

Buckeyes, Marquette Oppose Hawk Teams

It's double sports night in the Iowa fieldhouse Friday, the first two of five events there ending Monday.

The attractions: Ohio State and Iowa, the No. 1 and No. 2 collegiate swimming teams of 1949, in a dual meet; Iowa and Marquette, opening the indoor track season.

Field events of the track meet start at 6:30 p.m. and the first race is at 7 p.m. The swimming meet will start approximately 8:15 p.m. and will be broadcast by WSUI.

Ohio State, the Big Ten and NCAA team champion last season, has lost some of its stars but carries on with fine sophomores. The Buckeyes already have beaten five dual meet rivals while Iowa has disposed of two and won the Iowa AAU title. With some of their "name" swimmers gone, the Bucks have come up with some newcomers who have been reaping the points in large batches.

Olympic Champ Back

Ohio State, however, still has Bruce Harlan, Olympic low board champion of 1948 and second in the high board, who has won 12 NCAA and National AAU titles.

Iowa is set to give the unbeaten Buckeyes a strong fight, but Coach Dave Armbruster fears that the balance and depth of the visitors will be a large handicap to Iowa hopes.

Some of the better Bucks are Charles Stephanos, with time of 2:12.8 in the 220; Jack Taylor, good for 4:48 in the 440; Herb Kobayashi, 5:22 in the 100; Jose Balmores, 2:21.6 in the breast stroke; and Gordon Leaf, 1:37.6 in the back stroke. The Ohio relay teams have been timed in 2:53.6 for the medley and 3:28.6 for the 440.

Sprinter Garst Unbeaten

Ed (Rusty) Garst, unbeaten in the 50 and 100-yard sprints, will head the Iowans, aided by Duane Draves in the back stroke; Bowen Staforth, breast stroke; and Don Watson in the 440. Iowa will also have strong relay teams and a good group of sprinters to support Garst.

A close track meet between Iowa and Marquette is expected. The Milwaukee team has three first place-winners and four men who were second in the Marquette win over Iowa last year. However, Iowa probably is stronger than in 1949 because of the presence of some good sophomores.

Some Good Iowans

Among the better Iowans are Marcellus Boston, who has run the 60-yard dash in :06.2; Craig Harper and DeReef Greene in the 440; Keith Brown, Jack Davis, Bill Bye and Bill Snook in the distance runs; Russ Merkel and DuWayne Dietz in the hurdles; and Dick Erdenberger and Jack Weik, high jumpers.

Marquette's stars include Tony Glazer and Bob Mason, distance runners; Axel Johnson and Jim Dorsey, 440; Jerry Parr, high jumper; John Vishnevsky, shot put; and Dick Schmandt and John Smith, sprinters. The Marquette squad is reported to be stronger and better — balanced than the 1949 group which beat Iowa indoors and outdoors.

St. Pat's Wins Third In Diocesan Tourney

St. Pat's of Iowa City won third place in the Davenport Diocesan tournament Tuesday night with a 59-44 victory over St. Peter's of Keokuk in the consolation game.

St. Mathias of Muscatine, winners in three straight upsets, won the title by defeating St. Mary's of Clinton in the final round, 48 to 44.

St. Mary's of Muscatine won the consolation game in the losers' bracket with a victory over Catholic Central of Ft. Madison. In winning third place St. Pat's gave St. Peter's its second defeat of the season, the first coming Tuesday afternoon when the Gate city team lost to St. Mary's of Clinton.

Keokuk led in the early stages of the game but the Shamrocks put on a scoring spree before halftime to leave the floor with a 29-23 margin.

Earl Cooney finished the game with 23 points, while Leo Sorenson and Alvin Streb had 10 each for the Shamrocks. In the afternoon loss to St. Mathias Cooney scored 19 points.

Cooney emerged the individual scoring leader for the tournament. He scored six points against De Witt, although he saw very little action, then followed with 22 against Catholic Central of Ottumwa and 19 and 24 points in the two games Tuesday. It gave him a total of 71 points in four games.

Hudson Cuts Price On All '50 Models, Except Pacemaker

DID YOU READ THIS?

DETROIT (AP)—Hudson Motor Car company followed the lead of Studebaker Thursday, cutting $87.50 to $166.50 from the factory price of its 1950 cars.

Hudson's announcement, coming less than 48 hours after Studebaker chopped $82 to $135 from its price tags, indicated that further auto price reductions may be in the offing.

Prices of Hudson's new, shorter car, the Pacemaker, will remain unchanged. The Pacemakers, which cost from $1,675 to $1,795, account for more than half of the company's current production.

President A. E. Barit said the 1950 super and custom commodore series would retain Hudson's "step-down" styling but would have "more refinements, features and beauty." They will be shown to the public next Friday.

The cuts range from $87.50 on the super six two-door sedan, which will have a new $1,925 price tag, to $166.50 on the super six convertible, which will sell for $2,456. Eight-cylinder supers were trimmed $87.50 to $100, custom commodore sixes from $100 to $140, and the three commodore eight models $100 across the board.

Barit said the company had spent "millions" in producing the 1950 models, but could lower prices in the face of higher steel costs and coming union demands because of "engineering ingenuity and production efficiency."

Bucks Headed for Title

Lead Conference In 3 of 5 Divisions

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten statistics showed Wednesday why Ohio State has a two and one-half game edge on second place Illinois in the race for the conference basketball championship.

Season long, the Buckeyes have the best record in the conference in shooting field goals, hitting on 37 of their attempts, and in single game performances, the Bucks top the league in three of five divisions.

Ohio State posted 83 points against Illinois for the highest total marked up this season, and in the same game connected for 30 field goals, another best performance. In accuracy in field goal shooting, Ohio State held the two best marks, 441 against Minnesota and 435 against Illinois.

The Illini had the record for most free throws in a single game, 26, against Northwestern, while Minnesota set the top free throw shooting average, also against the Wildcats, with .786. But Ohio State was runner-up to the Gophers in free throws with a .773 mark for the Purdue game.

In average points per game Ohio State also was in first place with a 63.9 tally.

FRANK CALSBEEK Leads Scorers

Yanks to Finish 4th, Says Hank Greenberg

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians made his 1950 American league pennant race selections Wednesday and picked the world champion New York Yankees for a dismal fourth.

The Tribe's new boss confidently predicted his own team would win up in first place. Then 2-Boston, 3-Philadelphia, 4-New York, 5-Detroit, 6-St. Louis, 7-Washington, 8-Chicago.

About those Yanks, Hank reasoned as follows:

"Most of them were playing way over their heads. They're not going to have Joe Page saving game after game, Tommy Henrich knocking in winning runs in the ninth inning and Joe DiMaggio picking them up just at the right time.

"That kind of luck can't last. If, on individual performance, the Yankees were that good, it would be different. But they aren't."

Hornsbys to Beaumont

DALLAS (AP) — Rogers Hornsbys signed a one year contract Wednesday night to manage Beaumont in the Texas League. Salary terms were not released by Guy Airey, owner of the Beaumont team.

All-America Drums Rolling for Schnittker

COLUMBUS (AP) — The All-America drums are rumbling along the Olentangy river, a tiny stream about five times wider than Dick Schnittker is tall.

Schnittker is the 6-foot, 5-inch forward who has led Ohio State university to the top of the Western conference basketball standings through a bewildering variety of hook shots.

The Bashful Blond Forward Schnittker — known in some quarters as the bashful blond from Elbow Bend — has banked field goals from just about every spot except the banks of the Olentangy, which runs by the Ohio State campus.

In 52 games since he broke into the Ohio State lineup as a sophomore, Schnittker has scored 938 points, an average of more than 18 points a game. He has scored 280 points in 13 games this season.

Latest record to fall to the Schnittker wizardry is the Western conference consecutive free throw mark for one game, Dick hit 13 for 13 Monday night against Indiana. His was a necessity since the conference-leading Bucks won, 56-55.

The previous record was seven straight by John Wallace of Indiana and Howard Williams of Purdue.

Schnittker also holds the Ohio State scoring record of 336 points in one season, turned in for 19 games last year. He counted 322 points in his sophomore year in 20 games.

Scored 33

And he holds the individual one-game scoring mark for the school: 33 points against Marquette Dec. 5.

This record, incidentally, came between the close of the regular football season and the Rose Bowl game, Schnittker, who originally came to Ohio State as a hot-shot football player, missed four games because of the Rose Bowl.

Perhaps Schnittker's football career could be considered even more remarkable than his antics on the basketball court.

In high school, in his hometown of Sandusky, Schnittker was

Hawkeye B Cagers To Meet Wisconsin

Only home game with a conference team will be played by the Iowa's B basketball squad Saturday against the University of Wisconsin JV quintet.

The game, preliminary to the Iowa-Illinois varsity game, will begin at 6 p.m. Iowa lost to Badgers at Madison Jan. 14, 57-32. Jack Miller of Lake Park, center, is one of the Iowans' best scorers, making 35 points in the last two games. Wayne Ryan, high-scoring guard, now has been moved to the varsity squad.

a slam-bang end rated as a red-hot college prospect. In his freshman year, he played on the junior-varsity. This troubled Dick, who decided he wasn't so hot in football. He decided to concentrate on basketball.

But, Ohio State lost its star left end, Sonny Gandee, through injuries before the football season was under way last fall. Schnittker volunteered to take up the sport as a replacement. He came back fast enough to play considerable offensive end for the co-champions of the Big Ten and the champions of the Rose Bowl.

Missed Four Games

Football, however, caused Schnittker to miss four games of the current basketball campaign. Many fans thought this would keep Schnittker from any chance at all-America this year. Last year he failed to make all-America, although he was all-conference.

The mid-season layoff, however, apparently hurt Schnittker not at all. He currently is averaging 21.5 points a game for 13 games. Nine times he has counted more than 20 points in a game, including Monday night when the scorer marked up 27 points for the 21-year-old blond.

"Dick's the best player Ohio State ever had," says Tippy Dye, coach of the Bucks. "He's the best player I've ever coached. I don't think Ohio State will have as high a scorer again."

Secret of the Schnittker scoring is a genuine ambidexterity. He is not only tall and fast, but he hooks shot with either hand with equal success. And he never seems to get tired. He has gone the distance several times this year — a season that marked the introduction of the platoon system in basketball.

Cooney Regains Scoring Lead

Passes City High's Fenton with 90-Point Outburst in Past Five Contests

By OZZIE JENSEN Little Earl Cooney, St. Patrick's diminutive scoring ace, has passed City high's Bill Fenton to regain first place in the two-man Iowa City high school basketball scoring race. He has 335 points in 24 games for a 14.0 average.

The 5-foot 5-inch 140-pound senior guard poured in 90 points in his team's last five games. That's 18 points per game. In those five contests he racked up 24, 22, 19, 19, and six points. He played only eight minutes in the latter game before he was removed when the Shamrocks' foe, St. Joseph's of DeWitt, offered almost no competition.

Tallied 24 Cooney's 24 points Tuesday night in St. Patrick's 59-44 conquest of St. Peter's of Keokuk in the consolation round of the Davenport Diocesan tournament equalled Fenton's best single-game spurge. Cooney hit on a net-scoring 82 percent of his shots in that game to make nine field goals and six free throws.

He scored 71 of the Shamrocks' 203 points in four games in the Davenport Diocesan tournament and made 23 out of 27 free throws.

Cooney moved into first place this week after champing-the-bit impatiently since Christmas when he relinquished the lead to Fenton.

Fenton in Second

Fenton, the Mississippi Valley league scoring leader is in second place with 190 points in 14 games for an average of 13.5 points per game.

Several lengths back, City high's Gene Brawner moved into third place with a 9.4 average, passing the 9.3 average owned by Bud Lenz of St. Mary's.

Cooney now leads in everything — total points (335), field goals (131), and free throws (73).

Lenz is second in field goals with 75, and Fenton follows with 70.

Alvin Streb of St. Patrick's is now second best in the charity lane with 65 free throws, Fenton is third with 50.

Streb is also second in total points with 197, Lenz follows with 196, and Fenton is fourth with 190.

City high still boasts the best team scoring average, 44.8 points per game. The Hawkslets have scored 627 points in 14 contests. St. Patrick's is right behind them, however. The Shamrocks have piled up 1,071 points in 24 games for a 44.6 average.

These tabulations include games of Tuesday, Feb. 7. The leaders as taken from official score books are:

| Player | Points | G | FG | FT | PP | OP | AVG. |
