Big Ten Moves to Aid Chances in NCAA

CHICAGO — Evanston — "Try Whisen, Big Ten conference, and let students see what they can do," said University of Illinois President Paul J. Angell, chairman of the conference's athletic council, in a special session of the council here yesterday. Angell made the suggestion during a meeting to discuss the financial crisis facing college football programs.

"The need is immediate," Angell said. "The conference is faced with a situation in which it must take action to help its football programs.

"The council has already agreed to a plan to help the programs. The plan includes a reduction in the number of games played, a reduction in the number of games played at home, and an increase in the number of games played away from home.

"We are also considering the possibility of expanding the conference to include more schools that participate in football.

"This is a difficult time for our football programs," Angell said. "But we must do everything we can to help them.

"We have a strong conference and we believe that we can weather this storm.

"We are confident that our football programs will be able to continue to compete at a high level."
