The Scottish Highlanders' trip to the British Isles has been postponed, Bill Adamson, director of the all-girl bag-pipe band announced Tuesday.

Inability to get adequate transportation at the time it was needed was given as the reason for the postponement. According to Adamson, confirmation of reservations on steamship lines was not received until January.

By that time, he said, sponsors of the appearances of the Highlanders in the British Isles had contracted for other talent.

The band was scheduled to appear at tourist resorts, parks, hotels and amusement areas in the British Isles. They had been invited by the Scottish Tourist board. Approximately 67 girls were scheduled to make the trip.

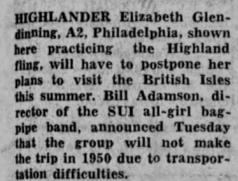

Adamson stressed that the proposed trip has not been canceled, but only postponed.

He said he is negotiating with steamship lines for transportation for the summer of 1951, when an extensive tour of the British Isles is planned, with the possibility of visiting the continent.

He is also beginning negotiations with overseas sponsors, he said.

Increased ocean travel due to Holy Year pilgrimages to Rome was a factor in the late confirmation of Highlander reservations, Adamson reported.

According to information he received, approximately 5-million people had applied for reservations to Europe this year. He said that he had contacted one steamship line in Chicago which had been forced to refuse 30,000 requests for transportation.

HIGHLANDER Elizabeth Glendinning, A2, Philadelphia, shown here practicing the Highland fling, will have to postpone her plans to visit the British Isles this summer. Bill Adamson, director of the SUI all-girl bag-pipe band, announced Tuesday that the group will not make the trip in 1950 due to transportation difficulties.

U.S., Bulgarians Recall Diplomatic Staffs, Legation

DR. PETER VOUTOV LEAVES WASHINGTON Tuesday in answer to a demand from the Bulgarian government for his recall. Voutov, charge d'affaires of the Bulgarian legation, was told to withdraw from this country after the U.S. broke diplomatic relations with Bulgaria.

Sofia, American Minister Donald R. Heath and his entire staff were ordered home.

Bulgarian Staff Recalled
At the same time, the state department demanded the recall of Doctor Peter Voutov and his smaller Bulgarian staff in Washington.

Officials indicated the move reflected a harder diplomatic attitude by President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson toward the Moscow satellites with which the U.S. has been waging postwar disputes.

Bulgarians Insulted U.S.
Since the legation was established in September, 1947, the department declared Bulgarian officials and the controlled Bulgarian press have been "constantly denouncing and insulting the United States." The Sofia government, it said, has carried on an "unprincipled campaign of persecution" against Bulgarian employees of the legation.

The department also renewed charges filed with the United Nations that Bulgaria has flouted its peace treaty obligations and supported the Communist guerrilla campaign against Greece.

The direct cause of the break was Bulgaria's demand of Jan. 19 that Heath be recalled for "interference" in Bulgarian internal affairs.

Alumni Groups Set Plans to Celebrate SUI's 103rd Birthday

SUI will be 103 years old Saturday.

Alumni groups have planned a full schedule to celebrate the occasion.

Alumni Secretary Loren Hickeron will give an address and show the movie "Football Highlights of 1949" to the Kansas City, Mo., alumni at their Founders Day meeting there tonight.

The Detroit alumni will meet Thursday for a program featuring slides of SUI's growth during the past half-century.

Leonard Raffensperger, SUI's new head football coach, will be guest of honor in Des Moines at a luncheon for the reorganized alumni groups there.

The luncheon is sponsored jointly by the Des Moines alumni association, the Des Moines branch of the "T" club and the Des Moines chamber of commerce.

President Virgil M. Hancher will speak Sunday in Atlantic City, N.Y., at a dinner held during the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

The SUI club of Washington, D.C. will hold a Founders' Day reception Monday. President Hancher will be guest of honor there.

The president also will be guest of honor and main speaker at an alumni dinner in Philadelphia, Pa., March 2.

Sanders Faces Second Day of Trial

PHOTOGRAPHERS WERE THE ONLY SPECTATORS as Dr. and Mrs. Herman N. Sanders entered the Manchester, N. H., court Tuesday morning for the second day of the "mercy killing" murder trial. The 41-year-old physician is accused of killing a cancer patient, Mrs. Abbie Boroto, by giving her air injections.

Jury Selection Slows Trial

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — The pace of Dr. Herman N. Sanders' "mercy killing" trial slowed noticeably Tuesday.

A British-born juror — oldest of the nine selected in Monday's opening session — was removed on a prosecution challenge. Hours later his replacement was chosen. Then, shortly before court adjourned until Wednesday a tenth juror was accepted.

Three jurors remain to be impaneled. One will be an alternate, to serve only if one of the others has to leave the case.

All of the jurors chosen to date are men. Nine are married; one is a widower, and five are fathers. Their average age is 53.

No Death Penalty

The death penalty will not be sought in the "mercy" death trial of Dr. Herman N. Sanders, prosecuting officials disclosed late Tuesday night.

Hillsboro County Solicitor William H. Craig said an agreement that the state would not press for the supreme penalty was reached even before the selection of prospective jurors began.

Seven are Catholics, one is a Protestant Episcopalian, one a Baptist, and one a Methodist.

The religious affiliation of jurors is considered significant because of the strong position taken by some sects on the subject of "mercy killing." The Catholic church, for instance, is irrevocably opposed to it.

Widower Louis C. Cutter, a 38-year-old Hillsborough mill worker, succeeded the juror removed at the morning session — Alfred Baines, 72, a Presbyterian. Cutter is a Methodist and the youngest accepted until now.

British Voters Go To Polls Thursday

LONDON (AP) — Britain's political orators returned from the hustings to their home stamping grounds Tuesday night to make eleventh-hour pleas for victory in Thursday's general election.

For most of them, it was their next-to-the-last big speech-making fling before the nation's 34-million voters decide the fate of the Socialist labor government.

Candidates from more than 30 political parties of all hues and shades of opinion will make their final bids to the home folks Wednesday for election to the 622-member house of commons.

The party that comes through with a majority in the country's ruling lawmaking body will emerge as masters of Britain.

Quad Group Gives Rental Scholarship

Robert Ellyson, A3, Springfield, this week received the first scholarship awarded by the Quadrangle association, Council Pres. Robert Yackshaw, G, Clinton, said.

The new scholarship is valued at about $65 and is to be used for dormitory room rent. Yackshaw said the award will be given each semester.

The three requirements for receiving the scholarship are a two-point grade average, prior residence of at least one semester and need for the award.

A seven-man committee picked the recipient of the award, Yackshaw said.

Showdown Nears In Coal Deadlock As Layoffs Mount

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fast-spreading chill of fuel famine brought a showdown in the coal dispute nearer Tuesday as striking miners stiffened their stand in the face of a contempt of court threat.

These were the developments: John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers maintained chilly silence on Monday night's federal court contempt citation, with no sign of any new moves to get the miners back to work as the court has ordered.

Lewis and the coal operators argued their way fruitlessly through two long sessions of court-ordered bargaining and after both of them, operator spokesman George H. Love said he saw no sign of progress.

Layoffs in affected industries, outside the mines themselves, amounted to 55,500 with a faster spread of joblessness an immediate threat.

The 372,000 striking soft coal miners, already idle for five weeks, stayed stubbornly out of the pits with occasional acid comments about the difficulty of jailing that many men and about how little coal a contempt order will dig up.

Talk of legislation for seizure of the mines, often batted down by the White House, rose again above the whisper state. But Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross referred inquirers to President Truman's statements that he does not have nor want seizure powers.

When asked how soon construction could get underway, Harper said, "If the board of education approves the plans this spring, and if we can get a consulting architect soon enough, and if we can let bids at an early date, construction could start by the spring of 1951."

There will be no collection of student fees before actual construction gets underway, Harper emphasized.

Tentative approval has been given to the plans by the student Union board, the executive committee of the university, the board of trustees of the Iowa Memorial Union corporation, the campus planning committee, the Union advisory committee and the state board of education.

"Everything is now in the hands of the administration," Harper said, referring to the final approval yet needed from the university executive committee and the board of education.

The proposed building will face south, toward the new library that has been under construction for the past several months. The addition will be approximately 300 feet square, Harper said.

The campus planning committee has said that future plans call for removal of the building that now serves as the library annex.

"We will have one of the most majestic approaches to a university anywhere in the world," Harper said.

The program caps a 12-year planning campaign by Harper and the student Union boards. Each board has contributed ideas and made changes in the plans until they have reached their present status, Harper said.

Prof. George Horner, university architect, drew plans for the proposed addition. They are now in the "final - tentative state," Harper explained.

"The underlying philosophy of the addition," the Union director said, "shapes up like this: too often we have to close the Union when we have a big party here. We just haven't the facilities to accommodate all the students."

"If the plans go through, we'll be able to handle all the students all the time in several different parts of the new building."

College Fire Ruins $500,000 Buildings
BIG RAPIDS, MICH. (AP) — A $500,000 fire wrecked two big buildings of Ferris institute Tuesday night, injured at least six and threatened for a time to engulf the entire college.

Four of the injured remained hospitalized with severe burns, and doctors said they would recover.

Firemen from Big Rapids and nearby Reed City brought the blaze, which left two classroom structures in ruins and slightly damaged a third, under control after three hours.

Charles Fairman, a member of the Ferris board of control, said the buildings themselves were valued at $450,000. He said the cost of replacing their contents will push the loss "well past" the $500,000 mark.

The fire apparently began in defective wiring on the top floor of the three-story commerce building.

FEPC Faces Committee

The U.S. house of representatives rules committee will vote again today to let the fair employment practices commission bill come before the house for action.

Job discrimination still is a shameful blot on America's record of freedom and equality of opportunity.

Such discrimination is practiced in three main ways. A study of help wanted ads in eight major cities showed biased practices in hiring. Many ads stipulated "only gentiles need apply."

The same survey showed that minority workers were first to lose their jobs when an employer began cutting his payroll. In other words the "last hired, first fired" situation still exists.

A recent study in Houston, Tex. showed that white war veterans earned an average weekly wage of $49. Negro war veterans performing the same jobs earned an average wage of only $30.

Job applicants should be hired on the

Communist Hysteria

Adm. William H. Standley last week caused the San Diego, Calif. city council to reject two of Franklin D. Roosevelt's four freedoms. The retired admiral said freedom from want is a "Russian communistic slogan."

The council's action is an extreme example of the psychopathic fear of communism which afflicts a large section of the American public.

Hysterical overtones were obvious in the college textbook inquiry of the house un-American activities committee. If continued it might easily become a threat to freedom of inquiry.

Even more irresponsible was Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper's (R-Iowa) charge of "incredible mismanagement" in the atomic energy commission. Such charges tend to keep the country's

Two-Bits for Clean Conscience

The city council's recent decision to lower the price tags on parking fines strikes us as a good idea.

Forking over a dollar every time the overtime flag popped up on the parking meters got to be a pretty expensive proposition. It always seemed that the nickel in the meter could get its job done before we were able to take care of our business.

Many times each day, an observer could spot a dramatic incident on the streets of downtown Iowa City. Mr. Citizen could be seen scurrying along the street in what looked like a fat man's version of the 440-yard dash.

He would often break into a full trot as he neared his car only to find a police officer slipping a pink slip under the windshield wiper.

basis of their ability instead of on the basis of race religion or class. But in many places a Negro, a Jew, a Catholic, a Mexican-American and members of many other minority groups need more than ability to get and hold a job.

Briefly, the provisions of the FEPC bill are: 1. It forbids discrimination in employment by a labor union of more than 50 members, or a firm with more than 50 workers.

2. It forbids employers or unions to take action against persons for their opposition to discrimination.

3. It establishes a commission of five members to investigate and settle complaints of unfair practices and to order their cessation.

4. Employers or unions which ignore the commission's orders may be held guilty of contempt of court.

Southern Democrats and a few northern Republicans have seen to it that FEPC is pigeonholed in the house rules committee.

Only an aroused public can prod the committee and congress into acting upon it.

best scientists from accepting government employment.

Topping the list of communist hysteria was the charge of Rep. John E. Rankin (D-Miss.) that "Albert Einstein is a Communist and ought to be deported."

The public will get nowhere in its fight against communism by adopting some of the very worst features of communism itself.

The United States has nothing to fear from communism if it makes democracy work, if it has faith in the American form of government to prove its values in the free market of ideas.

It is high time that men and women in responsible positions learn that the only effective way of fighting communism is to remove those injustices in America on which communism thrives.

Unpleasant looks would pass across his face. Silently, he probably cursed the clerk who took so long to serve him, or the woman who was ahead of him at the postoffice window.

One police officer reported he once saw a man, who was seconds late, kick first the meter post and then his own car.

Now, however, with the council's new ruling which went into effect Monday, mental anguish is considerably reduced.

Routine violations have been cut to $25, from the former price tag of $1—that is, if the fine is paid within an hour from the time the ticket is written.

In a world full of machines and their inhuman ruthlessness, it's heartening to see the city council project a touch of human thoughtfulness into the parking problem.

British Campaign Phrases Dodge Issues

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.

As the British election campaign goes into its final hours more and more attempts are being made to classify the issues.

It has been called a contest between socialism and individual enterprise, between justice and liberty. Actually, just as in U.S. political campaigns, catch phrases are somewhat less than fully descriptive.

The Conservatives have, it is true, played heavily upon the theme that the Labor party program threatens Britain's traditional concepts of liberty. Churchill accused his opponents of trying to create a "monster state monopoly owning everything and employing everybody."

But that is the worst end of socialism, and a result which the labor leaders disavow. They say they intend to confine nationalization to basic industries, and to apply controls only for the purpose of obtaining a fair shake among private enterprises. The trouble with that, of course, is that controls beget controls, and such a program cannot always be stopped at will.

As for this present election, it hardly seems the be all or end all of either system. If the Socialists win they will nationalize the steel industry, which is about the last such big project on their agenda. If the Conservatives win steel will not be nationalized, but the system already established by the Laborites will be little changed.

In the field of foreign affairs the election will have little effect. British foreign policy is always British foreign policy, never partisan, although its habiliments may at times reflect certain party tinges.

Churchill has sought to make it an election issue, and apparently with great success; through his suggestions that new high level attempts should be made to reach an understanding with Russia on atomic and other cold war matters. The Laborites stick to the Washington line of keeping the door open for Russia but not trying any stunts, less they be mistaken for weakness and lead to failure, thus actually intensifying the conflict.

Slogans become particularly inept when discussing the state of Britain's traditional individual liberties.

If there has been any real lessening of liberty in Britain under socialism it has been largely an extension of wartime controls into a period which is, for Britain, almost as full of perils as war itself.

There is danger in concentration of power and controls in central government. It opens the door to the possibility that at some future time a would-be dictator or dictatorial group could foment the people, get into power, and then use it for totalitarian purposes.

But there is one thing which tends toward safety under the present sort of limited socialism in Britain. The Magna Charta is a lot older and more firmly imbedded in British tradition than are Keynes or Marx. If a real conflict develops between them it can be remembered that the Britisher has more than once turned down the buttered side of his bread in favor of liberty.

City Engineer Issues 4 Building Permits

Four building permits involving $12,500 were issued during Saturday and Monday at the office of City Engineer Fred E. Gartzke.

Stevens, Inc., was granted a $5,000 permit to remodel the former Ricketts and Sheldahl Clothing store, 20 S. Clinton street. Gartzke said the new concern is in the retail clothing business.

Monday's permits include two for the moving and repair of houses owned by Jacob P. Wegmuller, 802 S. Summit street, from their present locations on South Madison street to 811 and 815 Page street. Each permit was for $3,500.

Gartzke said Monday Wegmuller planned to move the houses early this morning. A $500 permit was issued Monday to William Novotny, 111 S. Clinton street, for the remodeling of a second floor apartment.

Survey of Davenport Planned for Academy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The air force notified Sen. Guy Gillette (D-Iowa) Tuesday that Davenport, Iowa, is one of the places which will be considered as a site for the proposed air academy.

Gillette's aides said a survey of Davenport will be made "in the near future" by the army engineers' division office at Omaha. Congress is considering proposals that the academy be established. Meanwhile, the defense department is looking into hundreds of proposed sites.

Official Declines To Sing State Song

DES MOINES (P) — Secretary of State Melvin D. Synhorst agrees that Iowa is the "best state in the land," but it's not his job to sing about it, he said Tuesday.

The secretary of state said he declined an invitation from a Raleigh, N.C., radio station to sing the "Iowa Corn Song" over a telephone hookup.

Officials of station WRAL of Raleigh, he said, told him they were planning a "Salute to Iowa" program Thursday. They wanted Synhorst to take part in the show by singing the song.

Synhorst said he told the radio men that "The Song of Iowa" is the state's official song. He added that the Iowa development commission could furnish program material.

Washday Blues

TO THE EDITOR: I have been both moved and amused at the diverse issues which have appeared in your common repository for frustrated and unfulfilled conditions. This letter may seem equally trivial or equally crucial as it relates to the particular individual.

The Quadrangle is unique in that it is, so far as my limited knowledge extends, the only university housing unit without a washing machine. There has been a faint glimmer of hope, however, in the form of a proclamation declaring that ample funds have been designated for the purchase of such a mechanism as well as a complementary device for de-saturating the materials under process.

This tentative condition has been dangling for a long time, and a reliable source has informed me that this prospective unit will not materialize this semester. Why, for the sake of my bulging laundry bag, if it is going to happen, can't it happen now?

Perhaps this still small voice will serve as a modern counterpart to the classic gad fly in arousing, persuading and reproaching those in charge into performing the steps necessary to enable us at the Quad to participate more fully in the American-way-of-life.

This little matter seems much more immediate to me than such things as the well-regulated sale of hot pop and ice-cold popcorn. Harold Gaarder, Quad 58-A University officials report that the Quad council is working toward a solution to the Quad's washday blues. Patience, Reader Gaarder.

LIFE IN AN OYSTER

By GIL PEARLMAN

YOU MAY NOT BELIEVE this, but two weeks ago Skip Faske, whom you will immediately recognize as SU's man-of-power on the gridiron, spent 20 cents . . .

yes he did! I met him in Cedar Rapids on a Sunday evening. We were both waiting for the world's greatest transportation vehicle, the "Crandle."

"TOPS ATLANTIC MONTHLY."

EVIDENTLY HE WASN'T in the mood for enlightening conversation from yours truly . . . for the minute he saw me he flew for the magazine counter, in search of a wee-bit of literature to pass the time away.

I guess he felt if he occupied himself with a "weekly" it wouldn't be rude to ignore me. So, I repeat, he spent 20 cents and bought a "Police Gazette." And, true philosophers of the world — if any man can spend 20 cents on a more worthy cause — I have yet to find it.

BUT, BLESS HIS little, husky soul, he still found it extremely difficult to ignore me, since, being a great fan of the "Gazette," I immediately began reading over his shoulder . . .

after, of course, I hoisted myself on a chair. We looked at a few pictures, but didn't read a story. However, we enjoyed the advertisements in said magazine even more than the pictures, if you can imagine that. As we read the ads we held the tears back from laughter . . . hoping you will find them equally amusing, I pass a few on to you . . . and I quote:

Public Instruction Head Seeks Re-election

DES MOINES (P) — Miss Jessie M. Parker announced Tuesday her candidacy for a fourth day-year term as state superintendent of public instruction. She is a Republican.

Her statement expressed confidence that the 1951 legislature would adopt her recommendation that a state board of public instruction be established and the superintendent become appointive. If that is done, she said, she would not be a candidate for the appointment.

Miss Parker related she made her suggestion to the 1949 legislature "in all good faith." She added, "This proposal was not adopted owing to opposition centering on the section requiring sections (of board members) to be made at a general election.

"It should be clear that I have no selfish interest in this. I shall be happy to step aside inasmuch as I feel the newly consolidated system should be wholly free to organize without commitments," Miss Parker said that when she

Local Woman Stitches Betsy Ross Flag

WHEN GEORGE WASHINGTON needed a flag, Betsy Ross made it for him; but when Mrs. Clark J. Sloan, 43 Hawkeye village, needed a Betsy Ross flag, she made her own. Here she displays the flag which was used as decoration for the Gamma Eta Gamma Wives' club party held Tuesday evening in the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company. The hand-stitched flag is made of taffeta ribbon.

Hand-Sews Copy of First U.S. Flag

Mrs. Clark J. Sloan, 43 Hawkeye village, is a modern Betsy Ross in sweater and skirt.

Although she didn't come to the aid of George Washington and the 13 colonies, the local woman followed in the footsteps of Betsy Ross by hand-sewing an imitation of the nation's first flag. It was used as a decoration at Gamma Eta Gamma Wives' club party Tuesday night.

The 18 by 12 inch flag is made of moire taffeta. Its seven red and six white stripes are the same as the present flag, but on the blue field there are thirteen white stars.

Completed in One Week
Mrs. Sloan stitched the flag in her free time. It took about a week to complete, she said.

Displayed with the flag will be a Gilbert Stuart reproduction of an unfinished bust portrait of Washington.

The legendary story about the flag's design originated when Washington, accompanied by Robert Morris and Gen. George Ross, called at Betsy Ross' tiny upholstery shop and asked if she could make a flag.

They produced a roughdrawn design with six-pointed stars. She suggested five points would be better and with a single clip of the scissors made a star.

After their visit, a new design painted by William Barrett was sent to her and she fashioned the flag.

Hatchet and Cherry Theme
Following the Washington theme, the refreshments for the Gamma Eta Gamma party included a cherry tart dessert, and tally cards were in the form of red hatchets.

The monthly bridge meeting of the Gamma Eta Gamma Wives' club was held in the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company building.

Refreshments, entertainment and decoration were under the direction of Mrs. Sloan, Mrs. Beverly Andich, Mrs. Frances Hawley and Mrs. Reda Newport.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Conklin Jr., 307 1/2 N. Capitol street, are the parents of a son born Monday at Mercy hospital.

A daughter was born Sunday at Mercy hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Donohoe, 224 N. Dodge street.

COUNCIL-MANAGER SPEAKER

Clark Houghton, Iowa City, will discuss "The Council-Manager Plan" today at the noon meeting of Iowa City Lions at Reich's Pine room.

Dessert Features Washington Theme

No matter how cold it gets outside, ice cream will always be an all-American dessert choice. George Washington's birthday inspires a variation in the ice cream common taste treats.

Although the ice cream idea wasn't new back in Washington's time, it has come a long way from a handful of mountain snow flavored with honey and fruit juice to a smooth, velvety product packed in handy cartons.

Now it is easy to just pick up two or three pint packages of ice cream while shopping for desserts and in-between refreshments for days to come.

Old Recipe

Americans have come a long way in preparing ice cream. Martha Washington might have had to contend with the following recipe for her ice cream desserts.

"To Prepare Ice for Icing:
Get a few pounds of ice, break it almost to powder, throw in a large handful and a half of salt. You must prepare it in a part of the house where as little of the warm air comes as you can possibly contrive. The ice and salt being in a bucket, put your cream into an ice-pot, and cover it; immerse it in the ice, and draw that round the pot, so as to touch every possible part."

George Washington would probably appreciate the modern partied-up ice cream with little red hatchet cookies and stemmed maraschino cherries around the base.

Easy to make, it provides a fitting dessert tribute for his birthday today.

George Washington Dessert
2 pints of pre-packaged ice cream
Maraschino cherries with stems
Hatchet cookies

Place two pints of pre-packaged ice cream together on serving platter to form loaf. Place cherries around loaf. Make 4 cuts in top of ice cream; press cookie hatchets upright in ice cream. The recipe provides from six to eight servings.

Hatchet Cookies
1/2 cup butter or margarine

1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
3/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
Cream butter. Add sugar gradually and cream thoroughly until light and fluffy. Mix in egg and vanilla. Sift in flour, baking powder and salt; blend well. Chill dough about 1/2 hour. Roll dough to about 1-8 inch thickness on a lightly floured board.

Cut the dough with a hatchet-shaped cookie cutter and bake on an ungreased baking sheet in a moderate oven (350F.) about ten minutes. If desired, when cookies are cold you can cover them with a thin layer of melted fondant tinted red. The recipe makes three dozen cookies.

Bradley Replaces Holy Cross As Nation's Top Cage Team

Ohio State Keeps 3rd Place Rating

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley's bustling Braves head the nation's basketball parade Tuesday because of a skinny southpaw and a little round man.

Paul Unruh is the lean scoring ace, little Gene (Squeaky) Melchoirre, a mere 5-foot-8 — is the dynamic, "midget" who sometimes plays the big fellow's game at center.

Primarily through the efforts of these two, Bradley (24-3) Tuesday replaced Holy Cross (22-0) as the No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Bradley by 135 Holy Cross, which led for five straight weeks, attracted more first place votes — 44 to 28 — but the Peoria, Ill., Braves finished on top by 135 points, Bradley gathered 1,268 points to Holy Cross' 1,134 from 170 sports writers and broadcasters.

Ohio State — the only other team to receive more than 1,000 points — placed third with a 1,061 harvest. The Buckeyes (18-3), who are assured of at least a first place tie in the Western confer-which is almost impossible to stop.

Little but Mighty Melchoirre, a tremendous rebounder for his size, is Bradley's second leading scorer this season with 317 points.

Bradley, tops in the Missouri Valley conference has lost only to Purdue, Kentucky and Detroit. Holy Cross, though the nation's only unbeaten squad, had a difficult time last week with Rhode Island (13-6), winning, 70-62, in overtime.

Pride at Peoria . . .

PEORIA, ILL. (AP) — Bradley university's Braves, newly acclaimed the nation's No. 1 basketball team, Tuesday greeted their ascendancy to the top of the Associated Press weekly poll with mingled pride and concern.

"We're mighty happy that the sports writers think we're the best team in the country," said Coach Forrest Anderson, "but that coach comes just as we are preparing for our biggest challenge of the season — Oklahoma A & M at Stillwater, Okla., Saturday night."

ence, drew a dozen first place votes.

In order, the other teams in the select circle are: 4-Duquesne, 5-Kentucky, 6-St. John's, 7-UCLA, 8-Western Kentucky, 9-North Carolina State and 10-LIU.

Unruh, a strong candidate for all-America honors, is the greatest producer of points in Bradley history. The 6-foot-4 senior has scored 1,703 points in four years, including a team-leading total of 256 this season. His patented shot is a two hand jump

Helpful Hawkeyes Hustling Hurdlers

DOUBLE-TROUBLE FOR THE OPPOSITION takes the form of Iowa's Merkel twins, John (left) and Russ. The pair of hurdlers have placed one-two in both indoor meets this year. Besides winning the highs twice, Russ has also copped both low hurdle events. Russ owns four of the six new records set by Hawkeyes this year. Three of these marks are in the low barriers and the other in the highs.

'Code' Discussed By League Officials

CHICAGO (AP) — The chief executives of three major collegiate athletic conferences met Tuesday to discuss "matters relating to National Collegiate Athletic association business generally and the sanity code."

The day-long session occurred between Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson of the Western conference, Commissioner Bernie Moore of the Southeastern conference, and Executive Secretary James H. Steward of the South-west conference. The trio conferred in Wilson's office.

"It was purely an informal unofficial visit," Wilson said. "All three men also hold official positions in the NCAA. Wilson is executive secretary — treasurer while the other two are on the executive committee."

What IS the Basketball Scoring Limit? —

In this age of high-gear basketball teams there is no telling where the stars are going to quit making points. Nowadays when a reader glances down the box score his eye isn't caught until he spots the guy who scored in the double figures in the first column — the one marked FG.

Ten to 15 in the field goal column, then at least seven or eight in the free throw column and the modern basketball star has had a fair evening. Gone are the days of "led by Joe Doakes" scoring spree of 15 points." Do that now and he either had one hand tied behind his back or fouled out in the first half.

It isn't always the George Mikans, Alex Gorzas or the Nate DeLong who whip up the fancy scoring dishes, either. Not long ago the protege of an Iowa student who doubles as a coach made figures like 50 points in a ball game look sick.

And it was a girl who did it, too. Not only are the girls taking over all kinds of jobs heretofore left strictly to the men in the business world, now the gals are taking away the scoring records, as Hartwick's Lavona Wauters did against Chelsea the other night.

You might say her 98 points led her team to victory. The score was 100-33. Among three of the players some 1,550 points have been sent through the nets this season, although the team has been eliminated from state title chances.

Her coach is Kenny Berg, a candidate for a PhD in the school of religion. His Hartwick teams have won 49 games in the past two seasons, while Coach Berg doubles as minister of the Congregational church in Hartwick.

Right now Berg is taking his work from the university by extension but he plans to resign his coaching job next year and come to Iowa City to finish his schooling.

You never can tell how a visit to the Iowa fieldhouse will turn out. Ronald Feldman, a lophomore from Flushing, N.Y., didn't.

He walked over on Thursday last week, innocently picked up one of those instruments fencers use on each other and presto, he was on the first fencing traveling squad Iowa has had in 20 years.

And to top it off, when Iowa lost to Wisconsin Friday night, Feldman, who one day earlier wasn't sure of the difference between epee and epic, won two of Iowa's five and a half meet points. The Hawks took two and a half points in epee (the division of fencing that isn't saber and isn't foil).

You might say he wasn't foiled by inexperience.

One of our sports staffers, a real professional basketball enthusiast, has been busy the past few weeks compiling a National Basketball association all-star team, from letters he has received from the individual coaches.

Within the next few days the product of his efforts, and the good will of coaches who have made possible a strictly Iowa all-star team, will be printed.

Wanted by Vogel: Pitchers

Ineligibilities Hit Hawkeye Baseball Team, Only One Veteran Pitcher Remains

WANTED: Any number of pitchers, preferably right-handers, but lefties will do. Qualifications: ability to throw a baseball 60 feet with some degree of speed and accuracy, good scholastic standing. Inquire at office of Otto Vogel, Iowa baseball coach, Iowa fieldhouse.

Don't be surprised if you run across such a want ad one of these days. It won't be anything out of order and it will be more than appropriate, says Vogel, who wonders what he is going to do for pitchers this spring.

Four Ineligibilities Consider Vogel's plight: Four pitchers counted upon to carry most of the Hawkeye pitching burden ran into scholastic barriers last semester and are ineligible. That leaves only one veteran pitcher with any heavy service and three other letter-winners who have had only limited action.

Three of the four lettermen are left-handers: Dick Hoeksema, Davenport; Dick Orth, Waterloo; and Rod Marsh, Wilmette, Ill. Glenn Drahn, Monona, is a right-hander. Hoeksema is the only true veteran of the quartet. Marsh was a minor leaguer, Drahn has been counted on mainly for outfield duty. That leaves Vogel with a trio of lefties, only one of whom can be classed as a starter.

The Hawkeyes play 16 games in the first 21 days of the season so Vogel would like to be able to count on at least six hurlers.

Five newcomers to the pitching staff may solve part of the problem, but they cannot be counted on too strongly until they prove their value. Vogel is trying to build a group of eight infielders and outfielders on throwing, in hopes he can uncover a "find."

Trying Infielders Included in this group are infielders Arnold Espe, Radcliffe; Merlin Kurt, Cascade; George Schamberger, Cedar Rapids; Al Lenski, Chicago, Ill.; and Jack Carpenter, Cedar Rapids and outfielders Frank Bok, Berwyn, Ill.; Bob Beals, Iowa City, and Jim Schick, Davenport, all right-handers.

The five newcomers who may help are left-handers Bill Andrews, New Castle, Pa.; Jack Wick Dick Moines, and right-handers Dick Deichmann, Lowden; Duane Brandt, Waverly, and Dick Green, Sutherland.

Vollers Averages 12.3 Bob Vollers is second for all games played, with 233, and a 12.3 average, and Chuck Darling is second in conference play with 121 points and an average of 12.1.

The scoring of Bob Clifton, who made 11 field goals in 16 shots, was a highlight of the Minnesota game. His percentage of .688 was the best by an Iowan this season.

WRESTLING Purdue 25, Indiana 5

League Wrestling Meet Here

Iowa athletic officials Monday moved ahead with arrangements for the Big Ten wrestling tournament to be held March 3 and 4 in the Iowa fieldhouse.

BOB BRABENDER
Hoosier 128-pounder

Coach Mike Howard, meet manager, said entries from the nine universities are due Thursday.

Preliminaries in the eight weights will start March 3 at 2 p.m. with the semi-finals being wrestled that evening, beginning at 8.

Title bouts and the matches for the third and fourth places are set for 2 p.m. March 4. The tourney will decide the 1950 champion and the next four ranking men in each of the eight weights.

Last year's winner, Purdue, will be out to win its third straight team title. The Boilermakers won in 1948 with 24 points, followed by Iowa, Illinois and Michigan who shared second with 23, and last year scored 19 points with the next five teams successively ranked one point down: Minnesota, 18; Michigan 17; Ohio State, 16; Illinois, 15, and Indiana, 14.

All bouts will be held on the basketball court with two mats being used simultaneously. Staff "I" cards and student ID cards will not be valid for the tourney. Tickets will be sold separately for each session.

4 Iowa Teams Out-of-Town

Five contests involving Iowa teams are on the sports schedule this week but only the swimming meet with Minnesota Thursday is slated at home.

The meet, scheduled for 8 p.m., concludes the dual season for the tankers.

Iowa's cagers wind up their road trips for the season Saturday when they meet the Indiana Hoosiers at Bloomington. Iowa tripped Indiana in an upset earlier this season, 65-64.

The track team, which holds decisive wins over Marquette and Northwestern in its two previous outings of the indoor season, is scheduled to participate in a four-way meet at Champaign, Ill. Saturday. The meet was originally designed as a triangular with Iowa, Illinois and Purdue, but Northwestern was added last week.

Iowa wrestlers will attempt to get above the 500 mark in conference competition this Saturday against Minnesota at Minneapolis.

The gymnastics team will oppose Michigan and Wisconsin at Madison, Wis. Saturday in a triangular meet.

Gymnastics Revived By Hawkeye Coach

Coach Dick Holzhaefer, Iowa gymnastics coach, this week came up with Step No. 2 in a long-range plan for a statewide revival of the sport.

Following a successful University of Iowa-sponsored open gymnastics meet in the fieldhouse, Feb. 11, Holzhaefer has revealed plans for three open gym meets each year.

"The meets, designed primarily to stimulate interest in the sport, will be open to junior and senior high students and open amateur contestants," Holzhaefer said.

The first of the annual three-meet series will not be held until next fall in order to allow teams to become better organized and to provide a bigger field. Senior and junior divisions will be run off if enough entries warrant such classes, said Holzhaefer.

Six teams totaling 26 individual entries, participated in the recent meet, the first such affair ever held in the Iowa fieldhouse.

Teams entered were: Davenport and Waterloo YMCAs, Cedar Rock association, Iowa City Recreation center, and the Turner societies of Davenport and Moline, Ill. The Moline Turner team won the team trophy. Top individual performer was Bob Franks, Moline, who won four of six events.

SOUTH BEND, IND. (AP) — With his parents and his brother at his bedside, football End Ray Espenan of Notre Dame remained in a critical condition late Tuesday afternoon from a neck injury suffered in a gymnastics mishap.

Gopher Tankers Here Thursday

The appearance of the Iowa swimming team against Minnesota Thursday will mark the Hawkeyes' last competition before the Big Ten championship. The meet is set for 8 p.m. in the fieldhouse pool.

The two teams have broken even in the last 20 meets, but Iowa came out the winner in 1948 and 1949.

The Hawkeyes and Gophers have met three common opponents: Michigan, which defeated Iowa, 52-32, and Minnesota, 38-25, Michigan State, which whipped the Hawkeyes, 56-28, and the Gophers, 68-25, and Wisconsin, beaten by Iowa, 54-30, but who downed Minnesota, 47-37.

Minnesota won its last two meets, beating Northwestern and Indiana by the same score, 45-39. The Gophers have been strengthened recently by several point-

Appendectomy Pins Cyclone Wrestler

AMES (AP) — Glen Brand, Iowa State college Olympic champion wrestler, had his appendix removed Tuesday, and will be out for the remainder of the wrestling season.

Brand underwent the appendectomy at the college hospital. Winner of an Olympic crown in 1948, Brand has a college record of 35 straight victories and only three losses in his entire college wrestling career.

The operation means Brand will miss both the NCAA wrestling championship tournament March 24-25 and the Big Seven wrestling meet March 10-11. He was out last year with a shoulder injury.

Teams Agree — Refs Sleepy In 'Sleeper'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The winning team agreed with the losing coach Tuesday that the officiating in the Duquesne-Indiana State basketball game was poor Monday night.

The officials had their defenses up. The furor was touched off after Duquesne squeaked through a "sleeper" Indiana State team for a 55-54 victory in the last 37 seconds of play.

John Longfellow, Hoosier coach, said he was "jobbed."

A Deliberate Job
"I've never had such a deliberate 'jobbing' — and I've been coaching basketball for 28 years," he said.

The winning Dukes agreed. "The officials (John Kostecki and Pete Gallo) ruined our game," they said.

Longfellow said, "This is the first time I've brought a team to Pittsburgh and I hope it will be the last. It was the most flagrant case of 'homers' I've ever seen."

Duquesne Coach Duddy Moore didn't go all the way with Longfellow.

"The officiating was bad, but I didn't see where we got the best of it," Moore said. "The way they called them we couldn't play our game. There were as many bad calls on us as on them."

Speaking in his own defense, Kostecki said:

They Play Rough
"Those Indiana kids are allowed to play a rougher game out there. They may as well learn they can't get away with it in the east."

"Yeah," chimed in Gallo, "they had one idea — stop Chuck Cooper and Ed Dahler. They didn't care how and that made it a football game."

Duquesne has won 21 out of 22 games.

Father of Country Speculated in Frontier Acraes — Washington Bought Land for Cent an Acre

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
WASHINGTON—George Washington—real estate operator, land speculator, developer and owner!

Few realize as the nation marks the 218th anniversary of the birth of the Father of His Country that Washington was also a businessman of considerable acumen.

Long before he led the raw forces of a new nation to victory and became its first president, Washington was a large-scale real estate operator.

Scattered throughout several eastern states, including Virginia and Pennsylvania, are numerous tracts of land whose first owner was George Washington.

Salary Small
It is interesting to note that Washington's interest in real estate arose out of his first government job. In 1749, when he was 17 years old, he was appointed official surveyor of Culpeper county, Virginia. The salary was 50 pounds Virginia currency a year, a small stipend even in those days.

Washington became a substantial land owner when he took over Mount Vernon with its 2,500 acres of land overlooking the Potomac.

At various times Washington was a partner in five great land companies—the Ohio company, the Walpole Grant, the Mississippi company, the Military Company of Adventures, and the Dismal Swamp company.

Gets 15,000 Acres
When the Ohio company received a grant of 300,000 acres of land in western Pennsylvania, Gov. Robert Dinwiddie of Virginia sent Washington in 1753 to warn the French to stop trespassing on British territory.

Dinwiddie offered the officers and men who volunteered "to protect his majesty's soil" 200,000 acres of land as a bounty.

Washington was placed in command and received 15,000 acres as a military bounty, which he more than doubled by buying the land claims of fellow officers.

Buys More Land
Washington became impressed with the lands he saw in western Pennsylvania during the 1755-63 campaign against the French. He organized another land company and proceeded to purchase land in his own right.

On Sept. 21, 1767, Washington wrote William Crawford, a friend of the French and Indian wars, then living in Pennsylvania, to purchase land for him, especially near Fort Pitt, now Pittsburgh.

Washington cautioned him to do it quietly so others would not get wind of his plans. He suggested that when picking out the land he do so "under the guise of hunting game."

Penny an Acre
Crawford advised Washington on Jan. 7, 1769, that he had purchased some land at "from half-penny to a penny an acre." The retail price was three to five pounds per hundred acres, thus assuring Washington a good profit.

As Pennsylvania law limited an individual to 300 acres, Crawford filed six applicants in the names of Col. George Washington, William Athel, John Bishop, Thomas Jones, John Paty and William Brooks. This was done in accordance with Washington's suggestion.

After the American Revolution, on Feb. 14, 1782, Washington paid the Pennsylvania land office for six patents for the 1,643 acres purchased for him by Crawford.

The land patents cost him $1,325.64. He was then 50 years old, and his interest in real estate had not been dimmed by his military activities.

Rents Land
In 1785, Washington appointed a real estate agent in Pennsylvania, Thomas Freeman, to rent his land. He advised Freeman to rent "on the best terms you can obtain" the tract known as "Washington's Bottom."

Washington insisted that the rents be collected on time, except in mitigating circumstances. He wrote Freeman:

"Where acts of Providence interfere to disable a tenant, I would be lenient in the exaction of rent, but when the cases are otherwise I will not be put off because it is on these my own expenditures depend."

Judge James P. Gaffney Tuesday overruled a motion for a new trial in a $7,000 accident suit decided Nov. 4, 1949.

The suit resulted from an auto accident in which Gerry Frances Marshall, 6, son of a former SUI student, was killed while walking across Burlington street Oct. 22, 1948.

The car involved in the accident was driven by Mrs. Eldon Frantz, Hill. Her husband, who owned the car, was also named in the suit.

20 Scouts to Attend National Jamboree

A total of 20 Boy Scout reservations have been made for the national jamboree to be held from June 30 through July 6 at Valley Forge, Pa., Martin Hunter, local scout executive, announced Tuesday.

The second national jamboree ever held by the Boy Scouts of America offers a "once in a lifetime" experience for one or more boys in the Iowa River Valley council, he said.

Thirty-three boys and three leaders may go from the council, Committee Chairman E.R. (Stub) Williams said Tuesday.

"This is a ratio per troop and post that is much higher than that of other councils. This is to our boys' advantage if the men of the council make the representation possible," he said.

Williams said the deadline for reservations is March 1.

More than 6,000 copies of the handbook have been distributed throughout Iowa, and requests for the book have come from all over the U.S., Ray said.

A new handbook for county supervisors is now being prepared by the institute of public affairs, Ray added.

McNown said he had almost forgotten about the paper entitled "Fundamental Research in Sediment Transportation" which he submitted in April, 1948. He said the project which he describes in the prize-winning paper is being investigated under his direction by graduate students working on M.S. and Ph.D. theses at SUI.

Local Fire Department Orders 3 New Suits

Three new water-proof fire-fighting suits were ordered Tuesday by the fire department, Fire Chief Al Dolezal said. Each new suit will consist of a regular style helmet and coat, ankle length pants which fit over the boots, and two pair of boots, he said. One pair of boots will be hip length for day use, and the other will be knee length for night use, he said. The coat and pants will be made of a heavy, fine weave canvas-like cloth with removable cloth linings. The suits were necessary, Dolezal explained, because the suits the department now has are starting to lose their rubber coating and are no longer water-proof. The helmets were ordered from a firm in New Jersey, and the remainder of the suits were ordered from a supplier in Mackinaw, Ill., he said.

City Council Gets Bid for Street Markers

The Iowa City council Monday night received price quotations on zinc coated, sheet metal street marking signs from the Globe Machinery and Supply company, Cedar Rapids. Glenn Hall, 319 1-2 S. Gilbert street, the company's representative, said the signs are six inches high with four inch embossed letters. The length of each sign varies according to the number of letters in the name of the street to be printed on it. The price of the signs, Hall said, is $7.50 per sign when one hundred or more signs are bought. The street markers now used aluminum, City Engineer Fred E. Gartzke told the council. A report which Street Commissioner Willard Irwin presented to the streets and alleys committee showed that 95 street intersections in Iowa City do not have markers. The committee presented the report to the council Feb. 15. Mayor Preston Koser asked Hall to submit samples of the street markers to the council at its next meeting Feb. 27 or as soon after that as he could. Hall also submitted a price of $34.30 per hundred feet for two inch galvanized pipe. The city uses this type of pipe as posts for the street markers. The council Monday night passed a resolution authorizing Corralville to lay sewers along the part of U.S. highway 6 lying within the city limits. Corralville must also get the permission of the state highway commission to lay sewers along all parts of U.S. highway 6 between Corralville and Iowa City's Black Springs, circle sewer main.

Legislature Grants $3,267 to Oakdale

In the request, the institution said the additional funds were necessary for the sanatorium to continue operating until the end of the fiscal year, June 30. The interim committee will reconsider the two appropriations at the next meeting, March 17 in Des Moines, Mercer said. If the additional funds are granted, $80,000 will go for salary support and maintenance items and $40,000 for repairs, replacements and alterations.
