Court Sets Bednasek Trial for March 14

The Robert E. Bednasek trial will begin at 10 a.m. March 14, Judge James P. Gaffney ordered Monday morning, after Bednasek pleaded "not guilty" to first degree murder charges in district court.

Shortly after making his plea, the former SUI student was taken to the SUI psychopathic hospital by Deputy Sheriff Don Wilson to undergo examination.

Bednasek, 24, has been charged in a county attorney's information with the first degree murder of Margaret Anne Jackson, 20, SUI coed. Miss Jackson was found strangled to death in a rooming house where he lived Dec. 11, 1949.

One of Bednasek's attorneys, Clair Hamilton, said he could not say how long the examination at the psychopathic hospitals would take.

"It could be a day — it could be two weeks," he said. "I don't know."

Hamilton represented Bednasek when the "not guilty" plea was entered.

He protested entering a plea until County Atty. Jack C. White filed Bednasek's diary and photographs of the rooming house, which Gaffney ordered Friday.

Gaffney then ruled the defense would have the right "to file a supplemental bill of particulars" and the plea was entered.

(This means Hamilton can make a request for more specific information on the diary and the photographs, which must be filed in the court clerk's office by March 3.)

Milo O. Hanzlik, Cedar Rapids, Bednasek's other defense counsel, was not present at Monday's hearing. William H. Bartley, who has entered the case as an assistant to the defense, was there, however.

County Atty. White and his court-appointed assistant, Atty. Edward F. Rate, also were present when Bednasek entered his plea.

Bednasek's attorneys were turned down twice by Judge Gaffney in the last two weeks when they filed motions to have White's information dismissed.

White filed the information Feb. 4 to take the case to court without going through the grand jury, which met Feb. 6.

The defense attorneys charged White was withholding the names of witnesses and testimony he was expecting to use in the trial.

While Gaffney overruled these two motions, he did order White to file data on the autopsy reports on Miss Jackson's body and the diary and photographs.

White filed the autopsy reports with the clerk of court Feb. 20.

SUI to Purchase Land and Building Valued at $55,000

Authorization for the state board of education to purchase $55,000 worth of property for SUI was granted Monday by the state executive committee, SUI Business Manager Fred Ambrose said.

The property includes 78.5 acres of land, costing $41,000, to be used as an addition to SUI's Finkbine golf course. The tract, now owned by Mrs. Orrilla F. Lewis and son, Roy, is located south of the Rock Island railroad.

Buy Apartment House

Also approved was purchase of a $14,000 apartment house, located on College street between Capitol and Madison streets. The property presently is owned by the Bankers Life Insurance company of Illinois.

The golf course property is the third such tract purchased by the state board of education in the last two years, Ambrose said.

To Enlarge Athletic Fields

"These purchases are part of a plan to enlarge the intramural and athletic practice fields," he said. The other two tracts were about 92 and 76 acres respectively.

These make a total of 250 acres of land to be added to the golf course. Plans for the new course are incomplete, Ambrose said, but specialists in designing golf courses have been consulted.

The 55 by 150 foot apartment house purchased will be rented by SUI, Ambrose said. No immediate plans for its use have been announced.

U.S. Ship Strafed Off Coast of China

TOKYO, TUESDAY (AP) — The skipper of one of two American merchant ships attacked from the air Monday off Communist-held Tsingtao, China, charged that planes—presumably Chinese Nationalist—"deliberately and heavily strafed" his vessel on the high seas.

J. J. Doyle, skipper of the Isbrandtsen Lines' Flying Clipper, radioed the line's agents here that the ship suffered "numerous holes in the hull and superstructure."

He said there was one near-miss from a bomb.

The skipper did not mention any casualties, and "apparently none were hurt," a spokesman for the lines said.

Two Dead, Two Hospitalized in Bus Crash

A DEMOLISHED SCHOOL BUS LIES near the railroad tracks after having been hit by an eastbound Rock Island Rocket near Grinnell. The school bus skidded onto the crossing after the driver unsuccessfully tried to stop it on the grade to the left and then tried to beat the train to the crossing. Two children were killed and two children and the driver were hospitalized as a result of the collision.

Two Grinnell Children Killed In Train and Bus Collision

GRINNELL (AP) — A schoolboy and his sister were killed Monday when their partly-loaded bus skidded out of control on a snowy road and was hit broadside by a streamliner train.

Jerry Hay, 10, Grinnell was killed outright and his 12-year-old sister Shelia died a few hours later without regaining consciousness. Their mother has been hospitalized in Des Moines and the children had been living temporarily with an aunt and uncle. Their father, John Hay, works in a Newton factory.

Two other pupils and the driver, Denny Gains, 22, were injured seriously.

Sheriff Ray Barber of Newton said Gains told him that when the bus skidded as he attempted to stop for the crossing he "gave it the gun" in an unsuccessful effort to get across the tracks in time.

The bus, which had just begun its morning route, was demolished by an eastbound Rock Island Rocket on the Des Moines to Chicago run.

The accident occurred just south of highway 6 five miles west of here.

Hospitalized in Grinnell with Gains were Shirley Taylor, 15, of the Turner community, and Joyce Weidendorf, 14, of Kellogg.

The Taylor girl, a high school student, suffered a compound fracture of her lower right leg and deep cuts to her left leg. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Taylor, farmers near Grinnell.

The Weidendorf girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Weidendorf, suffered facial lacerations and shock.

Gains suffered fractured ribs and a possible spine injury. He is a Grinnell college student from Bishop, Calif.

All three were seriously hurt but the attending physician said that barring complications, they were expected to live.

Rains Make Mud To Aid Tracking Oklahoma Leopard

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The weather came to the aid of Oklahoma's frustrated leopard hunters Monday night. It began to rain.

Zoo Director Julian Frazier joyfully said: "That'll mean fresh tracks tomorrow and good hunting."

Just before the shower began officials directing the widespread search for the jungle-bred leopard which bolted the city zoo here Saturday held a strategy huddle.

Frazier decided to send a group of park department employees over a 20-mile area long Deep Fork creek putting out doped horse meat as "bait" for the beast. Knock-out drops were injected into the meat.

The zoo chief theorized the fugitive cat — believed "ready to kill for food" — would go for the meat. The drugs would then "take care of him."

Rain was really welcome news. It hasn't rained here for more than a week. Hard red clay terrain in the search area made tracking difficult. Dust hampered dogs being used to trail the 200-pound cat.

No Reds Here — City's Colors In Directory

According to Iowa City's new directory, there are three Pinks in town, but no Reds.

This isn't political information, but a listing of local residents' names. Blacks, Whites, Browns, Greens, Grays, Goldens and Rusts also are well represented.

R. L. Polk and company, Omaha publishers of the directory, have just begun delivery of the directory to local subscribers. The new 1949 edition lists 16,484 names, beginning with Aaron, Martin L., and ending with Zwigg, Ed A.

Publisher's reports show this to be an increase of 884 names over the 1946 edition. Only persons over 18 in Iowa City and Johnson county are listed.

Iowa City has 300 distinct categories of enterprise listed in the directory. They are catalogued from "Abstracts" through "Women's Apparel" in the classified section.

According to the regular practice, Iowa City's new directory will be distributed to the free reference libraries of other cities in the midwest and the larger cities of the country.

A local branch of this nationwide service is maintained at the local chamber of commerce office.

Purser's Alertness Saves Stewardess

MIAMI, FLA. (AP) — A pretty Pen American stewardess owed her life Monday to a quick-thinking purser who grabbed her as she was being blown through the broken window of a pressurized-cabin airliner flying at 20,000 feet.

Dark-haired Josephine Pau was sleeping next to the 15-inch window in the Lockheed Constellation on a ferry flight from New York to Miami when the window blew out.

The sudden release of the pressure slammed her against the window and was pulling her out when Purser Michael Mari yanked her back to safety.

Truman Gets Nomination For Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO, NORWAY (AP) — Twenty-eight persons, including President Truman and Winston Churchill, were nominated Monday night for the 1950 Nobel Peace Prize. Six institutions also were nominated.

The names of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister of India; Herbert V. Evatt, former foreign minister of Australia and former president of the United Nations assembly; King Paul I of Greece; George C. Marshall, former U.S. secretary of state; and Dr. Ralph Bunche, the Negro diplomat who negotiated the armistice settlements in Palestine, also were included on the list released by the Nobel Peace Prize institute.

32 Measles Cases Reported Monday

After a gradual decline last week in the number of measles cases in Iowa City, 32 new cases were reported here Monday, City Clerk George J. Dohrer said.

Only three other days during February had higher totals of measles cases than Monday, Feb. 16 had 60, Feb. 6 had 45 and Feb. 20 had 43.

A total of 375 cases have been reported here during February. Last month the total was 37, and during February, 1949, only one case was reported.

Iowa City's measles outbreak was considered an epidemic by the local health department Feb. 6. Earlier, the department notified schools of the state health department's regulations about the handling of pupils during the outbreak.

SUI Debate Teams Win Superior Rate

Two SUI debating teams won superior ratings in an Intercollegiate Speech conference at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Friday and Saturday, the speech department announced Saturday.

Iowa debaters won nine out of the 10 debates in which they participated.

They were Edward Diekmann, E2, Ottumwa; Murray Kniffen, A4, Rock Rapids; Gil Pearlman, A3, Des Moines, and Charles Thodt, A4, Walcott.

Instructor Ray Sandefur accompanied the speakers and was one of the judges at the conference.

The SUI representatives took part in debate and extemporaneous speaking. Approximately 50 schools attended the annual conference.

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA (AP) — The U.S. embassy reported Monday a naturalized American was sentenced to a year in a Slovak labor camp for saying, "In America we throw away better food than they eat in Czechoslovakia."

UMW Says 'No Strike,' Enters Not Guilty Plea

Argues With Waitress — 'Courts' Disaster

Richard S. Schmidt, Oxford, was fined $20 in police court Monday, Judge Emil Trott said.

Schmidt told the judge he ordered ham and eggs in a local cafe on the night of Feb. 26, and "got mad" when he "got more bone than ham."

"I argued with the waitress about it," Schmidt said. "Then I threw the ham at her."

"But she got even," he added. "She threw a glass of milk in my face."

Bartley Says IC Could Get Council-Manager Plan Now

City Atty. William H. Bartley informed city council Monday night that they could, under Iowa law, adopt the council-manager form of government for the remainder of their terms.

This statement came just as the local Council-Manager association is preparing to present to Mayor Preston Koser petitions requiring him to call a referendum to determine whether Iowa City will adopt the city manager plan.

Atty. Clair E. Hamilton, chairman of the association and law partner of Bartley, made the following statement late Monday night:

"I can understand why Bartley brought up the discussion. In our office he always admits the council-manager plan is sounder than the present form."

Bartley is a member of the law firm of Meser, Hamilton, Cahill and Bartley.

Two Alternatives

"If the council were to adopt the council-manager plan by ordinance," Hamilton said, "it would be doing one of two things: 'It either would be admitting the city manager plan is a sound one and Iowa City should have it permanently, or it would be saying that for political purposes we'll pass the ordinance and when the referendum comes up we'll be able to tell the public we already have the plan. Then after the referendum we can repeal the ordinance.'"

Three Advantages

Bartley said at the council meeting three advantages of the council-manager plan rather than the city's voting it in are:

1. There would be no need for a costly election.

2. The trial period would be for the remainder of the present aldermen's terms, not for six years as in the case of adoption by special election.

3. Both aldermen-at-large and aldermen from wards would be on the council.

Suggests City Clerk

Bartley suggested that if the council were interested in adopting the city manager plan it might consider the appointment of City Clerk George J. Dohrer as city manager.

Bartley pointed out that Dohrer long has been associated with most aspects of the city's purchasing and management policies.

The council voted to refer Bartley's suggestion to the ordinance committee.

Officials Fear Fining Might Prolong Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine workers pleaded innocent Monday of contempt charges, insisting that the union had called no strike and that each of its 372,000 members individually had decided to knock off work.

The union argument: Since no strike officially was called, the union can't be in contempt of federal court which on Feb. 11 ordered the men back to their jobs.

Government attorneys began to build up their argument: The men all quit at the same time, and the union is responsible for its members' actions.

Actually the trial was but one prong of a two-pronged effort the government is making to get the miners back on the job before the nation's alarmingly low soft coal supplies give out.

Federal conciliators again arranged for contract talks between the miners and the operators. But these lasted only an hour — some of the negotiators had to testify in the contempt proceedings.

A contempt conviction could cost the union millions of dollars.

Officials have been pressing hard for an agreement, some fearing that a staggering blow at the union treasury would make the miners more defiant — and perhaps make negotiations even tougher by causing John L. Lewis, UMW president, to increase his demands.

On a third possible settlement front — government seizure of mines — there was this report:

Presidential Press Secretary Charles Ross told reporters there was "nothing here on coal" Monday.

Local Situation . . .

Coal stocks in Iowa City Sunday were pooled and put under a city-administered control plan, Mayor Preston Koser said Monday.

City coal dealers met with the mayor in his office at 3 p.m. Sunday and decided on the plan. "Everyone will get a large enough share to last a few days," Koser said.

He said control is under his direction and the coal dealers agreed not to sell coal without an order from him.

No Immediate Danger

"There is no immediate danger," he said, "but, by pooling the supply and conserving what we have, we will avert acute shortages."

The plan works like this: A person who finds his coal supply running low will phone the mayor's office and report his need, and the amount of coal he has on hand.

Price to Check Supply

The mayor then will send a policeman to the home to see how much coal is on hand and how big the house is, he said.

Police Chief E. J. Ruppert said, "the officer who does this job will make no recommendations, but merely report to the mayor's office on the fact."

If the person needs coal, the mayor will approve the request and the dealers will deliver a week's supply.

The buyer will get his coal from his regular dealer if possible, but if not, another dealer will supply him, Koser said.

Report Emphasized

The mayor emphasized that persons requesting coal must report how much coal they have on hand, what kind they use (stoker or lump), and who their dealer is.

Fuel dealers had two of their clerks in the mayor's office Monday to receive the approved orders and coordinate supply.

One of them, George Dane, said he had a very busy day, but had heard no "big, bad-luck stories."

Will Have Enough Coal

J. Wendell Thomas, president of Iowa City Coal Dealers association, said, he didn't "believe" the situation would become more serious than it is, and everyone will have enough coal under this plan.

"I feel better about the situation today than I did Sunday," he said.

JINGLING SLEIGH BELLS AND SHOUTS of children were heard in Iowa City Monday, following Saturday's five-inch snow blanket. If the prediction of snow or rain by the weather bureau holds true for today, Dobbin probably will be called on for another sleigh ride. Temperatures rose to 37 degrees Monday, making the outing quite pleasant even though streets were slushy. The mercury was expected to go above the freezing mark again today.

Yardstick for Faculty —

What makes a college professor tick? About 90 percent of them don't — that is, they don't do an adequate teaching job, according to Dean Marion R. Trabue of the Pennsylvania State college school of education.

Trabue made this charge at the annual conference of the American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education in Atlantic City, N.J., Saturday.

He said many professors are either bores in the classrooms or simply don't know how to inspire students. Many of them might profit by going back to school themselves to learn how to teach effectively.

Probably most colleges and universities have a few persons on the faculty who ought not to be; but by the same token, those same institutions have some individuals who are students, and ought not to be.

SUI probably is not unique in either respect, but if the scale is unbalanced, it is probably on the students' side. The student council's proposed faculty rating program should prove conclusively what SUI students think of their

- individual instructors.
- However, if more attributes are necessary to rate your instructors adequately, 10 points which Trabue says were listed by the nation's best educators as being "essential" for a good professor are:
1. Inspires students to think for themselves and to express their own ideas sincerely.
  2. Is emotionally stable and mature.
  3. Has an infectious enthusiasm for teaching that inspires students to want to learn.
  4. Is friendly, democratic, tolerant and helpful in his relations with students.
  5. Understands the problems most often met by college students in their work.
  6. Organizes materials and prepares carefully for each meeting with the class.
  7. Regards himself as primarily a college teacher, rather than as a subject-matter specialist.
  8. Takes a broad, rather than departmental, view of educational problems.
  9. Leads students to take responsibility for planning and checking their own progress.
  10. His behavior reflects high ideals.

Buck Rogers, Move Over —

In a recent True magazine article, Cmdr. Robert B. McLaughlin of the United States navy claims he has seen a "flying saucer" and expresses belief that the so-called saucers are really space ships from another planet, operated by living, thinking beings.

The 37-year-old commander reportedly is an expert in guided missiles and other naval ordinance. He viewed the "flying saucers," he claims, while conducting guided missile research at the White Sands, N.M., proving ground.

Other observers at the proving ground saw the same flying objects, McLaughlin asserts.

Several other allegedly qualified observers have reported seeing "flying saucers" in recent months. Almost to a man, these observers have sworn the objects were technically advanced aircraft, manned by living, intelligent beings from another planet.

Several theories of propulsion also have been advanced for the space ships, all of them seemingly as plausible to the layman as the existence of the space ships themselves.

Perhaps there really is something behind the recent wave of "flying saucer - space ship" stories. On the other hand, maybe the saucer stories are "just the vogue" at this time, and really are nothing but figments of over-active imaginations.

Some of the observers who have supported the space-ship theory, admit they may be wrong and their minds may be playing tricks on them. However, most of them say they will stick by their theories, until such time as conclusive proof is offered that the "flying saucers" are anything but space ships.

The possibility of space travel has fascinated generations of Americans. Periodically, someone advances a theory on what life on the moon would be like, or how impossible life on Mars would be, even if we could get there.

Such things merely serve to increase our interest in space travel and its possibilities, rather than to discourage such thoughts on purely logical grounds.

Then too, perhaps the flying-saucer observers and space-ship theorists know what they are talking about. Never having seen a flying saucer, most of us don't feel qualified to comment on the subject.

In his magazine article, McLaughlin admits he may not have seen a "flying saucer - space ship," but he says he will continue to believe the flying objects came from another planet.

"So far, all I have suffered is a little hurt pride. They got here first," he concluded.

Crommelin Gag: A Navy Headache —

Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, has ordered Capt. John G. Crommelin, outspoken critic of armed forces unification, to pipe down.

By the use of dictatorial methods, the navy runs the chance of making a martyr of Crommelin, a role which ill becomes the rebellious captain.

Responsible brass in the armed forces take the position that Crommelin's charge that the navy's aviation is being destroyed under the guise of unification and that the joint chiefs of staff are pursuing "Prussian Pentagon policies" could do grave damage to the national security.

To others, however, Crommelin is a hero. His impetuous revolt against civilian control of the armed forces has made him the darling of a small segment of the navy, especially of navy airmen. Retired Adm. William F. "Bull" Halsey has publicly lauded Crommelin's "wonderful courage" and said he "deserves the help and respect of all naval officers."

Crommelin's fight seems hopeless, for the navy's role in the nation's global strategy has already been decided with congress, the President and the joint chiefs of staff in basic agreement.

Crommelin's actions are hardly calculated to win much sympathy for the navy. He and a few other naval officers have become used to the fact that the airforce, by the advance of the science of warfare, is moving in ahead of the navy.

Rather than gag Crommelin, the navy would be wise to let him blow off steam where it will do less harm.

Tradition on Their Side —

The embryo engineers on our campus have engineered an operation that deserves the envious applause of those of us who aren't taking engineering.

Steeplly couched in tradition is the annual Mecca week, which comes up during the middle of next month. A skirmish with the law students is one almost-regular feature of the week; a full-blown Mecca ball where a queen is named, is another highlight, and there is a lot of other ballyhoo.

But, for our money, the greatest thing about the celebration is the multi-week vacation the engineers take from the razor.

A few weeks back the engineers, with tradition on their side, started on a no-shaving binge. Part of the week-long festivities is a judging of face foliage grown by the engineers. Therefore, all good men in the engineering college, set aside their razors and watch the hair grow all over their faces.

The rest of us males, if they have a face like ours, look on with vicarious pride as our fellow-students cultivate beards that we would like to try to grow.

It's downright disheartening to get up every morning and be forced to face the tug-and-pull process that goes with shaving. Yet, we're victims of social mores.

People have a tendency to talk about other people who wear beards. The beauty of the engineers' status is that no one can complain about their furry faces for the next few weeks — they have tradition to fall back on.

Nebraska Governor To Seek Gas Blend

LINCOLN, NEB. (AP) — Gov. Val Peterson said Monday he is considering asking the next Nebraska legislature to enact a bill requiring a 10 percent blend of alcohol in all gasoline used in motor vehicles in the state.

He said he will ask governors of all other farm states to study similar bills.

The governor told a news conference he believes such legislation would put surpluses of farm grain to use. The grains would be used to make the alcohol.

Block Measure To Limit Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate Monday killed a proposal by Senate Republican Leader Kenneth Wherry (Neb) to ban all Irish potato imports when a surplus exists in this country.

The vote was 45 to 31.

Wherry offered his proposal as a rider to a cotton-peanut acreage bill. Opponents said it would have been a "slap in the face" for Canada, the principal exporter of potatoes to this country.

Elections Cause Problems Here and Abroad

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The indecisive result of the British elections creates difficulties for the country both at home and abroad, and for the United States as well.

It appears that Clement Attlee will be able to organize a government, but one which will probably be unable to stand a vote of confidence on the first close issue which might arise in parliament.

Attlee appears to have the choice of hanging on for a time under extremely adverse conditions or of calling for a new election immediately.

He could count, however, on an early and determined opposition effort to repeal the nationalization of the steel industry. And this could be the fatal issue. The old parliament voted for nationalization, but set the effective date for next January. The Conservative, in their new strength, can be expected to bring the matter up again in the hope of modification or further postponement even if outright repeal could not be won.

From the American standpoint, the seriousness of the situation goes beyond any thought of the immediate governmental prospects. The trouble lies in the close vote itself, indicating that any British government is going to be unstable, and unable to take decisive action in precarious international affairs. Experience with France has made Americans well aware of what such a situation can mean.

Exams Announced for 5 Civil Service Jobs

Examinations for filling positions with five government agencies were announced Monday by the U.S. civil service commission.

The positions are archives and library assistants, paying $2,450 to $3,100 a year; herbarium aid (plant mounting), $2,450 and $2,650; museum aid, $2,450 to $3,825; medical officers, $5,400 to $6,400 and tobacco inspectors, $2,650 to $4,600.

Applicants for archives and library assistant positions must pass written tests to qualify and have educational or practical experience, or a combination of both. Age limits are from 18 to 62 years.

No written examinations are required for medical officers. Applicants must be graduates of a medical school and have a doctor of medicine degree. For most positions paying $5,400 applicants must have completed a full internship, and for those at $6,400, they must have had professional medical experience.

To qualify for tobacco inspector positions applicants must have experience in handling or marketing tobacco. No written exam will be given.

Details and application forms may be obtained from Civil Service Secretary Lester Farizek at the Iowa City postoffice.

Milk Formulas Solve Babies' Diet Problems

SUI Hospital Uses 80 Different Types

By JEAN SMITH
In the early hours of the morning four ladies don uniforms and masks to begin their daily duties of preparing 80 different formulas for approximately 80 hungry babies.

They are the "ladies in white" in the formula room of the Children's hospital.

"Each formula is treated under separate conditions," Doris Ott, pediatric dietitian at the hospital, said. "Some are for healthy newborn infant, some for premature babies in incubators and some for sickly newborn children," she explained.

Formula Makeup
The majority of formulas are made, cooked, cooled and poured separately, the dietitian added.

Formulas are made by computing the amounts and types of food required under specified conditions, she said. Complex chemical compounds make up some of the feedings. "In weighing out ingredients we have to be just as painstaking as a chemist in a laboratory."

When this job is done, "Operation Formula" is ready to begin.

Bacterial Danger
Each milk mixture is boiled three times. "Since milk is an excellent culture-media for bacteria, particular attention is paid to the cooking time," she said. After cooling, the bottles are capped and taken to the ice chamber. There, the acids and vitamins are sometimes added to fortify the baby's diet.

"Keeping down the bacteria poses one of the problems," the dietitian said. Each time milk is handled there is an increase in the number of bacteria. Bottles are washed and sterilized in a steam sterilizer.

Accidents, Sick Babies
Sick babies provide another headache. Despite the fact that formulas are constantly checked with an eye toward improvement, some need to be changed as many as three times a day, she said.

Accidents fail to respect formula deadlines, Miss Ott said. Work may proceed in the normal fashion until someone opens a 10 gallon can of cream instead of milk. Twelve gallons of whole milk and 10 gallons of skim milk are received from the dairy each day.

SUI Nurses to Tour State Mental Hospital

Twenty-four student nurses "taking affiliations" in psychiatric nursing will tour the state mental hospital at Mt. Pleasant Saturday, Gwen Tudor, superintendent of nursing at SUI Psychopathic hospital, said Monday.

The tour is a regular part of the training of psychiatric nurses, Miss Tudor said.

About 24 girls will make the trip, accompanied by Nurse Jean Butler of the hospital.

Since the war's end there has been a great boom in the birth rate, putting a heavier responsibility of work on the formula room, Miss Ott said.

Despite the early hours and exacting demands of the work, expecting junior happy is reward enough for the ladies in white in the formula room of Children's hospital.

U-High to Present 'Gondoliers' Friday

University high school will present Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Gondoliers," Friday at 8:30 p.m. in the school auditorium, Lois Brandt, director of vocal music, announced.

The plot revolves around Gilbert and Sullivan's favorite device, mistaken identity.

Cast members are: Duke of Plazo-Toro, Karl Harshbarger; Duchess, Leanne Irwin; Casilda, Mary Ellen Walker; Luiz, Bob Balantyne; Gianetta, Louise Hagler; Marco, Bob Peters.

Tessa, Letitia Dawson; Guiseppe, Dave Bane; Fiametta, Rolanda Ringo; Antonio, Curt Miller; Victoria, Lynn Cullen; Inez, Esta Clippinger; Don Alhambra, Hugh Anderson, and Giorgio, Bob McCarty.

Prof. M.F. Carpenter, head of the University high school English department, will assist Miss Brandt in producing the operetta.

'Shadow and Substance' Production Crews Named

Production crews for "Shadow and Substance" have been announced.

"Shadow and Substance," a play by Paul Vincent Carroll, will be presented at the University theater March 9 through 18.

Members of the building crew are Robert Carter, A3, Stockport; Gwendlyn Davenport, A4, Sturgis, S.D.; Mary Louise Evans, A3, Minneapolis; Andrew Krawetz, A3, Joliet, Ill.

Angeline Thomas, A1, Cedar Rapids; Jack Vrieze, G, Quincy, Fla.

Paint Crew
Working on the paint crew are Clifford Ashby, A4, Effingham, Ill.; Ralph Borck, G, Detroit; Jack Brooking, A3, Wataga, Ill.; Deborah Cohen, A4, Brooklyn, N.Y.; William Countryman, G, Eugene, Ore.

White Jacob, G, Reading, Kan.; Richard Lemburg, A3, Davenport; James McKenzie, A1, Muscatine; William Molyneux, G, Iowa City, and Donald Mullin, G, Madison, N.J.

On the light crew are Roy Richardson, G, Scarsdale, N.Y.; William Countryman, G, Eugene, Ore.; Claudie Lottiss, A3, Cordell, Okla.; Jean Longwith, G, San Antonio, Tex.

Tickets are still available at the Iowa Union service desk for Wednesday's University Symphony orchestra concert, ticket clerks said Monday.

The orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, will play at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of the Iowa Union.

Clapp said the opening number, "Brandenburg Concerto No. 3, for strings" by Bach, was one of six concertos written by Bach for various combinations of instruments.

Three sections of violins, three of violas, three of cellos and one of bass will be used in performing the number, Clapp said.

As the second selection, the orchestra will play d'Indy's "Symphony for Orchestra and Piano opus 25."

Clapp said d'Indy spent most of the summers of his life in the mountains of southern France. Many of his works express his reactions to the beautiful surroundings.

This symphony has not been performed previously in Iowa City, Clapp said.

Hospital Nutrition Head To Speak over WSUI

"Applied Nutrition" will be the topic of Prof. Kate Daum, director of nutrition at University hospitals, when she speaks over WSUI at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The program is part of a monthly series sponsored by the American Association of University Women. "What Are Women Doing Today?" is the title of this year's series.

Professor Daum is the recipient of the Borden award for research in home economics on thiamin, one of the "B" vitamins essential for growth.

Six Students to Hold Music Recital Today

Six SUI students will present a vocal and instrumental recital today at 4:10 p.m. in the north music hall.

Opening the program, Mark Kelly, A4, Centerville, will play "Fantasia, opus 162" for clarinet by Andre-Thieriot.

Soprano Virginia Burt, A4, Ottumwa, will sing "Le Papillon" by Fourdrain.

Baritone Fred Nordstrom, C4, Shenandoah, will sing "The Wanderer" by Schubert.

The "Adagio" movement from Spohr's "Concerto No. 2, Opus 57" will be played by Clarinetist Donald Briceland, A1, Iowa City.

Offie Leeper, A4, Leon, will sing "Il Lacerato Spirito" for bass from Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra."

Concluding the program, Pianist Lois Wait, A3, Reynolds, Ill., will play "Les sons et les parfums tourment dans l'air du soir" by Debussy.

This program will be the 26th in the student series of recitals.

19 Colleges to Attend SUI Speech Conference

Representatives from 19 colleges have indicated they will attend the Intercollegiate Forensics conference here Friday and Saturday, Instructor Merrill Baker, conference director, said Monday.

The purpose of the conference, an annual SUI affair, is to encourage and promote leadership among college students through competitive experience in forensic activities, Baker said.

The two-day program will be designed to provide training and experience in all the major forensic activities, including debate, discussion, extempore speaking and original oratory. Baker said all the general sessions will be open to the public. They will be held in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Property Crew
The property crew consists of Julia McCarthy, A2, Erie, Penn.; John Kuehl, A2, Davenport, and Mary Joanne Schutz, A3, Sheldon.

Members of the costume crew are Elizabeth Engrav, A1, Iowa City; Sylvia Girsh, A4, Detroit; Jane Lekberg, G, Indianola; Gai McClintock, A1, Slingerlands, N.Y.; Robert Paulus, A2, Iowa City.

Heleen Pittas, A2, Erie, Pa.; Corinne Silberman, A3, Milwaukee; and Suzanne Susman, A1, Fairfield.

Tickets Still Available For SUI Orchestra Concert Wednesday

Tickets are still available at the Iowa Union service desk for Wednesday's University Symphony orchestra concert, ticket clerks said Monday.

The orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, will play at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of the Iowa Union.

Suds to Clothesline in One Step - New Washing Process Saves Time

Right out of the suds onto the clothesline! That's what some laundering authorities are recommending to revolutionize the family washing process.

The washing without rinsing process is only applicable when a soap substitute or detergent is used, experts explain. Suds should be very hot, as in all washing procedures. Then, instead of rinsing two or three times, clothes are wrung out directly from the sud: into a wash basket and hung out to dry.

Error in Last Step
However, a local launderer points out the error in this last step — the wringing process.

"Detergents cause suspension of dirt particles in the water, and as long as any water remains in the clothes when they are dried, the dirt remains too," he said. "Dirt will not evaporate like the water."

"But I won't say the no-rinse process will never work," he added. "It's just that our experience has shown it impractical."

One soap company has conducted expensive tests which show a favorable report for the time-saving method.

Germ Elimination
"Rinsing does not eliminate germs," they claim. "That is accomplished in the washing, drying and ironing processes by heat, detergents and fresh air."

If this omission of rinsing in the family wash can be proved successful, it would certainly bring about a big change in "blue" Mondays. It would eliminate lifting heavy wet wash through successive rinses. Eliminating the cost of heating rinse water would add up to a substantial saving.

"The idea of drain-drying dishes and not ironing nylon underwear was horrifying to some housewives," one expert points out. "Rinseless washings may be added to these soon."

Pre-Registration for Fall Begins Today at U-High

Preliminary registration for next fall will be held at University high school today, Principal Myron Olson announced Monday.

Grades 7 through 11 will be assembled separately for distributing and explanation of registration materials.

An effort will be made to give students more counseling on the preliminary registration than has been available previously, Olson said. Completed registration forms are due March 7.

Meat Thermometer Aids New Cooks

New cooks can stop worrying about their roasts being burned to a crisp.

A new meat thermometer will take the guesswork out of roasting, present-day cooking experts predict. The thermometer is an accurate instrument designed to take the internal temperature of roasts and to translate the temperature readings into tested standards for all types of roasting.

While pork roasts should be thoroughly cooked, they should not be overcooked to the point of being dry and tasteless. The correct procedure in cooking any type of roast is to roast it in an open pan in a moderate oven for exactly the right length of time.

Season First
Here the meat thermometer enters the cooking process.

First, season the pork roast with salt and pepper and place it — fat side up — on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer through the outside fat and into the center of the thickest part of the roast.

Place it in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) and roast until the thermometer indicates an internal temperature of 185 degrees F. To estimate the cooking time, allow about 40 minutes per pound for a center cut pork roast and about 50 minutes per pound for chunkier loin-end roast. This is only a timing guide, the accurate way is to use a meat thermometer.

Various Types Available
Various types of thermometers are available at houseware counters. Some have vertical glass tubes containing liquid. A newer type has a round, dial-type face and a pointed stainless steel stem which can be inserted directly into the meat without the need of making a preliminary hole with a skewer.

This thermometer is non-breakable and easy to clean. It shows the correct temperatures for cooking beef, lamb, veal and pork to the taste desired.

Bucks Set Scoring Mark, Whip Michigan, 69-58

Indiana, Wisconsin Post League Wins

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (AP)—Ohio State's Big Ten basketball champions, with an eye on the coming NCAA crown, defeated the University of Michigan, 69-58, for their 11th conference victory in 12 states Monday night.

Ohio State needed only 66 points to become the highest scoring team in conference history. The Buckeyes surpassed the mark by three points. Illinois set the old record with a total of 783 last season.

It was Michigan's second loss this season on the home floor, previously having bowed only to Minnesota at Ann Arbor.

Michigan took an early lead as Center Leo Vander Kuy dropped in the first goal. The Wolverines held a 11-5 lead after four minutes of play, but within the next three minutes the lead changed four times.

By 10:40 of the first half, the Buckeyes held a one-point, 22-21 advantage on a goal by deadeye Dick Schnittker, Ohio State's leading scorer with a 20.5 season average.

Ohio State led, 39-34, at the intermission.

In the second half the Wolverines fought on even terms with the Buckeyes until they finally tied the score at 47-all midway in the period.

It was tied again at 49. A basket by Fred Taylor sent the Ohioans ahead, never to be caught the rest of the game.

Schnittker was high scorer for Ohio State with 23 points. Vander Kuy was Michigan's point leader with 19.

second place in final Big Ten basketball standings Monday night, whipping Northwestern, 67-53.

The Badgers, winding up their home campaign, held a narrow 26-24 halftime lead but took over complete control of the game in the second half to win easily.

Big Don Rehfeldt, the conference's leading scorer, slammed in 20 points, all but four in the second half, to lead the Wisconsin attack and increase his 11-game league total to 244 points. He hit on eight baskets and four free throws.

Rehfeldt, making his final home appearance for Wisconsin, boosted his three-year conference scoring record to 606 points. He broke the old mark, set by Jim McIntyre of Minnesota, against Illinois last Saturday.

Illinois Loses, 80-66

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (AP)—Indiana university Hoosiers picked up steam at the opening of the second half Monday night and then coasted to an easy 80-66 win over Illinois before 10,560 fans.

The game was the last of the season for the Hoosiers, who wound up Big Ten conference play with a seven-and-five record and finished the season with 17 wins and five — all conference — defeats.

Fouling was heavy, particularly during the second half, with the officials calling 62 personals in all. Bill Garrett paced the Indiana attack with 23 points and Bill Erickson was high for the losing Illini with 13.

The Hoosiers held Illinois scoreless at the opening of the third period while they piled up seven points to take a 49-36 lead and that was the ballgame.

Hawks Point for Third Place

Iowa's Hawkeyes, who have discovered in the last two conference games that winning on the road isn't impossible, are looking toward the Minnesota game next Monday night with hopes for a third place tie in the final Big Ten standings.

A victory Monday would give the Hawks a 7-5 mark in loop play. Illinois, Indiana and Iowa are now all in a contending position for third place honors.

Late Season Gain

Prior to the triumph over Minnesota at Minneapolis, the Hawks hadn't won a conference game on a foreign court since February of 1948. Iowa then demonstrated its late season improvement by dumping Indiana at Bloomington Saturday night. The Hawks squeezed past the Hoosiers by a single point on the Iowa court earlier in the season.

The Indiana victory immediately started a wave of enthusiasm for next year's team on the part of many veteran observers. They point out that while most of the other Big Ten teams lose key players, Iowa will have three starters returning along with several substitutes who have gained valuable experience this season.

Two Seniors

Bob Vollers and Bob Schulz are the only seniors on the starting team. Chuck Darling, sophomore center, and Frank Calsbeek, junior forward, will both be back next year to give Iowa one of the tallest teams in the conference and also rebounding and scoring strength.

Meanwhile, Iowa's immediate objective is preparation for the Creighton game scheduled for Saturday night. The game was scheduled to conform with league rules making it mandatory for Big Ten teams participating on Monday evening to be active the preceding Saturday.

IOWA'S GIANT FRONT COURT combination of Frank Calsbeek, left, and Chuck Darling were instrumental in the Hawk's upset win over Indiana Saturday night. Between them, Calsbeek and Darling pushed in 23 points in the second half to let Iowa post its second consecutive road win. Calsbeek has another year of eligibility while Darling has two seasons remain.

Prep Basketball Roundup — Sioux City, Sioux Center Lead Northwest's Tourney Powers

This is the second in a series of articles on leading high school basketball contenders for the prep state basketball championships.

By DON MOYER

In the Northwest district, which has placed at least one challenger as far as the semifinals of the state boys' basketball tournament in each of the last six years, it is going to be a dogfight all the way for the right to represent the area at Iowa City.

It's anybody's guess as to who will come up with the title bids.

Most of the class AA power is concentrated in Sioux City with Catholic high on top. Sioux City Central rates right behind the Crusaders, beaten only by Catholic in Iowa competition. East of Sioux City has had a bad season.

Mid-Year Graduation

Boone, from the opposite corner of the district, was hurt by mid-year graduation but still remains a threat. Fort Dodge, a member of the title field last year, and Ames are two other double AA schools not to be considered lightly. Both are good tournament teams.

In the class A ranks the fight will be the roughest. Always powerful Sioux Center probably rates a slight edge. Last year it lost to Ankeny in the first round of the state meet. In play this season it has lost only once to Sac City by two points.

Alta and Albert City, rated fourth and fifth respectively in The Associated Press poll of the Northwest, can't be counted out. Both were sub-state victims of Sioux Center in 1949. Alta was beaten only by Sioux Center. Albert City's second of two losses came at the hands of Alta in the county tournament, 49-48.

Forest City Strong

Forest City, from the district's northeast corner, is also a strong outfit. It has been defeated only by Boone. St. Joseph's of Mason City and Belmond. Last year Forest City went all the way to the state finals before losing to Ottumwa.

Sac City is in the fight too. It lost two contests this season, each by one point. The 1948 champion, Manning, seems to have come to life in the sectional and is another club to watch along with Webster City, leader of the North Central conference and always a dangerous club at tournament time.

Rockwell City and Spirit Lake might also make a showing.

Leading the class B hopefuls in the area is Roland which came through the season with only one VILLANOVA, PA. (AP)—Villanova college can not comply with the National Collegiate Athletic association's sanity code in its present form, Rev. Father Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., president of the school, said Monday. Villanova was one of seven schools charged by the NCAA with violating the sanity code.

Track Teams Shiver In Unheated Armory

Track meets may have been held under rather adverse conditions in the past but the quad-rangular meet at Champaign Saturday will go down with the best — or the worst — of them.

The temperature in Illinois' massive armory hovered around 40 degrees. The only difference between the inside and the outside was that it was snowing outdoors.

The coal shortage had hit Illinois but good. Athletes donned topcoats over their warm-up clothes. Ed Tunnicliff, one of Northwestern's sprinters, put on his topcoat, muffler, gloves and a cap with the ear tabs pulled down over his ears.

Even with the frigid temperature, 3,681 loyal Illini fans braved the cold to see the host team pile up 73 points and win the four-way meet in a walk.

Iowa might just as well have had second place by itself but had to settle for a tie with Purdue, both clubs getting 43 1/2 markers. Northwestern finished last with 33.

Tom Sangster became sick on the trip over and DeReef Green pulled a muscle in the 440-yard dash. This not only knocked Iowa out of the quarter but crumpled the Hawks relay team.

DuWayne Dietz was forced to take fourth in the low hurdles even though it looked as if he beat Illinois' Bob Hinkle by two strides. The Hawks showed in the meet that they will not be counted completely out come the Big Ten championship.

Freshman Tankers Capture Two Wins

Two freshman swimmers, Ronald Johnson and Herb Martin captured first places over the week end in an open AAU meet held in St. Louis.

Johnson established a new mid-western AAU record formerly held by Iowa's Bo Stassforth by swimming the 100 - yard breast stroke in 1:02.7.

Martin won in the 100-yard back stroke event in 1:04.2.

Other Hawk freshmen to place were: Dick Labahn, second in the 100 and 200-yard free style; Harold Bielefeldt, second in the 100-yard back stroke; Herbie Kern, second in the 100-yard breast stroke and Paul Hattinger, fourth in the 100 and 200-yard free style events.

Minneapolis Symphony To Give Concerts Here

The Minneapolis symphony orchestra will play three concerts March 7 and 8 in the Iowa Union.

Antal Dorati is conducting the symphony orchestra this season for the first time, after his appointment late last year. He replaces Dimitri Mitropoulos, who is now with the New York Philharmonic symphony orchestra.

Students may obtain tickets for one concert by presenting I.D. cards at the Union desk Friday. Remaining tickets will be sold Saturday at $2, including tax.

The first program, to be presented at 8 p.m. March 7, will contain the overture "Benvenuto Cellini" by Berlioz, "Symphony No. 7" by Beethoven, Richard Strauss' "Til Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks" and "Symphonic Metamorphosis" by Hindemith.

For the second concert at 2:30 p.m. March 8, the orchestra will play "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell, "Symphony No. 34" by Mozart, the tone poem, "Don Juan," and "Dance of the Seven Veils," both by Richard Strauss.

On the final program at 8 p.m. March 8 will be the overture "The Secret Marriage" by Cimarosa, Bartok's "Concerto for Orchestra," "The Afternoon of a Faun" by Debussy and "Pictures at an Exhibition," Moussorgsky-Ravel.

Dr. Boyd to Discuss Causes of Crippling

The third meeting of a seminar on the education of physically handicapped children will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in lecture room one of the SUI medical laboratories.

Dr. J.D. Boyd, assistant professor in the pathology department of the college of medicine, will discuss prenatal, natal and postnatal causes of crippling conditions.

Lectures in March will include "What the Teacher Should Know about Orthopedics" by Dr. I. Ponsetti, assistant professor in orthopedic surgery; "Psychological Testing and Behavior Problems of the Physically Handicapped Child" by Dr. A.L. Benton, professor in psychology.

"Occupational Therapy for the Physically Handicapped Child," by Marguerite McDonald, instructor of occupational therapy in internal medicine, and "Aims, Objectives and Methods of a Physical Therapy Program for Cerebral Palsied and other Severely Handicapped Children" by Charlotte Vasey, chief of physical therapy. The public is invited to attend the lectures.

SUI Student Participates in Montezuma Forum

The community's responsibility for Iowa's mental institutions was discussed during the adult forum of the Montezuma night school program Monday by Ruel Bell, A3, Lone Tree.

Bell, chairman of the YMCA committee to construct an institutional service unit, was a guest of the Lions' club. He spoke on the topic, "Out of Sight, Out of Mind."

FINED FOR INTOXICATION
John E. Stahle, 616 E. Bloomington street, was fined $12.50 in police court Monday for intoxication on the night of Feb. 26, Judge Emil Trott said.

Nobel Prize Winner Speaks on Metabolism

Dr. Carl F. Cori, Nobel prize winner, gave the 13th annual Paul Reed Rockwood lecture Monday at the SUI college of medicine.

Cori, professor of biochemistry and pharmacology at Washington university in St. Louis, spoke on the role of enzymes and hormones in metabolism.

Cori and his wife were jointly awarded the Nobel prize in medicine in 1947 for their work in carbohydrate metabolism and insulin action. As enzyme biochemists, their study was of the way sugar is burned in body cells.

A native of Prague, Czechoslovakia, Cori holds honorary degrees from Western Reserve, Yale and Boston universities. He is a member of numerous professional societies, as well as the National Academy of Sciences.

The annual lecture on medical research subjects is financed by an endowment by the late Dr. P. Reed Rockwood, a graduate of the SUI college of medicine. Dr. Rockwood died in 1927.

THREE DIE IN FIRE
MOORETON, N.D. — Two brothers and a sister died Monday in a fire which destroyed their farm home five miles north-east of here. Four other members of the family escaped.

Leadership to Be Panhellenic Theme

"Adventures in Leadership" will be the theme and title of the state wide Panhellenic workshop program at SUI Saturday. Helen Reich, assistant director of student affairs, said Monday.

Six Iowa colleges and universities — Simpson, Coe, Iowa Wesleyan, Drake, Iowa State and SUI — will be represented by about 75 delegates at the all-day program.

Mrs. Ivan L. Willis, national vice-president of Alpha Chi Omega, women's social fraternity, will give the main address, "Development of leadership through fraternity experience."

Registration for the workshop begins at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in Old Capitol.

Physics Colloquium Scheduled for Today

The Physics department will hold a colloquium at 4:15 p.m. today in room 301 of the physics building according to Prof. Louis A. Turner, head of the department.

Prof. J. Winkler, head of the University of Minnesota department of physics, will speak on "Charge and Energy Spectrum of Primary Cosmic Rays," Turner said.

Marengo Man Killed By Train Near Oxford While Fixing Switch

A Marengo railroad worker Sunday was struck and killed by an eastbound Rock Island passenger train while he was repairing a railroad switch near Oxford.

About three hours later, an Oxford man who helped identify the body, died of a heart attack at his home.

James Beardshear, 62, was found dead about 6 a.m. Sunday west of Oxford by the crew of a freight train, Johnson County Deputy Sheriff Don Wilson reported.

Beardshear apparently was hit about 5:10 a.m. by the 4:20 a.m. Rocket, running late from Des Moines. He was struck in the head and killed instantly, Wilson said.

George Roushar, 54, section superintendent, died about 8:30 a.m. at his Oxford home, after helping to identify Beardshear's body. Roushar complained he didn't feel well at the scene of the accident and was taken home, Wilson said.

Beardshear, railroad worker for 37 years, is survived by his wife and one son, Rex, of Marengo. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Hoover funeral home, Marengo.

Roushar is survived by his wife, two sons, one daughter, six sisters and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at St. Mary's church, Oxford, with burial at the Mt. Calvary cemetery, Oxford.

Five SUI Students To Run Broadcast

Five SUI Negro students, under the direction of Mrs. Allyn Lemme, 603 S. Capitol street, will be in charge of the morning chapel services over radio station WSUI this week.

The service is held from 8 to 8:15 a.m. The order of the service will be as follows: Today, Negro spirituals by Sylvia Rock, G. Montclair, N.J., Wednesday, inspirational readings by Albert Odell, G. Baton Rouge, La. Thursday, Negro spirituals by Richard Allen, A1, Davenport; Friday, inspirational readings by Sylvia Rock, and Saturday meditations by Allie Mitchell, G. Seguin, Texas, and Negro spirituals by William Shores, A1, Kinlock, Mo.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JOE KLINGENSTEIN was leaving his home in Harrison to catch the Banker's Special when his wife called out, "Please leave my shoes at the Grand Central repair shop on your way to the office." Joe tucked the shoes under his arm without bothering to wrap them, and climbed aboard the train with his mind teeming with details of million dollar deals.

A fellow commuter noted the shoes with obvious approval, however, and boxed enthusiastically. "That's the way to do it, Joe! Don't let her gad about."

Sophie Tucker, self-titled "last of the Red Hot Mamas," tells about the nouveau-riche lady who set about turning her fourteen-room Park Avenue apartment into a modern chamber of horrors. She descended upon Sloane's wanky emporium and demanded, "Show me your best period furniture." The suave salesman asked, "What period do you have in mind, madam?" She answered, "Furniture that when my old friends take one look at it they should drop dead with envy. Period."

University Opens Registration For Hancher Oratorical Contest

Students who plan to enter the Hancher Oratorical contest should register in room 13-A, Shaeffer hall, within the next 10 days, according to Prof. Orville Hitchcock of the speech department.

Any student is eligible who has not completed four years of college credit work or who has not yet received a bachelor's degree.

$25 Prize

The contest winner will receive a prize of $25 provided by President Virgil M. Hancher. The winner will be eligible to participate as an SUI representative in the Northern Oratorical League contest to be held here May 5.

The NOL has sponsored speech contests since the 1890's, Hitchcock said. Other members of the NOL are Wisconsin, Northwestern, Minnesota, Michigan and Western Reserve.

A double-spaced typewritten copy of the speech to be given will be due in room 13, Schaeffer hall, March 22, Hitchcock said.

Finals April 4

The elimination contest will be held March 23 in room 221-A, Schaeffer hall, and the finals will be held April 4 in Old Capitol.

Hitchcock said the speech should be between 1,200 and 1,500 words. It may be any significant topic and it must be the original work of the contestant, he said. Quoted material should not exceed 100 words and must be clearly marked, he added.

Prof. A. Craig Baird, A. Clay Harbarger, Hitchcock, and Hugh Seabury, and their associates will advise students about possible speech topics.

More Reported Jobs Less Now Than Last Winter

Unemployment in Iowa City last month was slightly higher than during January, 1949, according to Mrs. J. H. Verdin, Iowa City manager of the state employment agency.

Mrs. Verdin pointed out that the unemployment was only seasonal and that there should be no difficulty for job-seekers this summer.

Men, both single and married, are needed now for farm work, she said. There also are a few openings for secretaries, she added.

Yale Dean Explains Democracy Problem

"The constant lack of balance between liberty and equality is a problem of democracy," Dean Liston Pope of the divinity school at Yale university said Sunday at the closing convocation program of "Religion in Life Week," in Macbride auditorium.

Democracy is a belief in certain values such as faith and liberty and justice and order. It is a belief in liberty and equality, he said.

"Democracy is a set of values always used as standards to judge existing institutions. In some respects, the U.S. has one of the greatest democracies of all history," Pope said.

"We do not have a pure democracy however, we have a democracy that requires re-vitalization. We must go a long way to gain a balance between liberty and equality," he said.

One of the greatest problems is to abolish racial discrimination and come to the realization that all men are equal. "We must realize a man's a man regardless of his bank account. And men are also equal regardless of color," Pope said.

Champion Steer On Flying Tour

"Judge Roy Bean," over 1,300 pounds of aristocratic beef on the hoof will leave Iowa City sometime this morning by chartered plane.

The grand champion steer of Chicago's International Livestock exposition last December, was on display at the Lenthe Equipment company at 632 S. Riverside Drive Monday.

The prize steer was auctioned off at the record price of $11.50 a pound, a total of $13,800, to the Dearborn Motor Corporation of Detroit. The company is showing the steer throughout the country. The animal was brought from Cedar Rapids, where it was on display at the winter fair.

Train-School Bus Crash Kills Two Grinnell Children

(AP Wirephoto)

THE DRIVER "GAVE IT THE GUN" when his partly-loaded school bus skidded out of control in the face of an oncoming streamliner five miles west of Grinnell. Killed outright when the train struck the school bus broadside on the snowy crossing was 10-year-old Jerry Hay of Grinnell. His sister, Shelya, 12, died a few hours later without regaining consciousness. Two other school girls, Shirley Taylor, 13, and Joyce Weidendorf, 14, were hospitalized in Grinnell along with the driver, Denny Gains, 22, a Grinnell college student. All were injured seriously. ## C.M.A. to Sponsor Poster Contest

The local Council-Manager association is sponsoring a poster contest open to junior high school, high school and SUI students and to others interested, C.M.A. Chairman Clair E. Hamilton said Monday.

The posters are intended to attract interest in the council-manager form of city government. All posters submitted will become the property of the association and will be shown to the public after awards have been made to the winners.

Posters must be made on poster board about 22 inches by 28 inches in size. Any number of entries may be submitted by the same person, but each poster must carry the words, "Council-Manager Plan for Iowa City."

Two Groups

The posters will be divided into two groups, Hamilton said. One group will include posters of junior high school and high school students. The other will include posters submitted by SUI students and other persons.

From each group two prize-winning posters will be selected, Hamilton said. The first prize in each group will be $15, the second prize, $10.

One of the two first prize winners then will be judged the "best poster in the contest" and will be awarded an additional $10 prize.

The deadline for submitting posters to the contest is 4 p.m. March 15, Hamilton said. They should be turned in at the association's office, room 206, Hotel Jefferson.

Identification Numbers

Contest rules specify that each poster must be accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the name, address and telephone number of the person entering it. Posters and envelopes will be given numbers for identification.

Contest rules are available at the C.M.A. office, the Iowa Supply company, Schar's photo-supply store, Young's studio and the Bookshop.

Association officials will announce the contest judges within a few days, Hamilton said. The judges' decisions will be based on the design and effectiveness of the posters, he added.

COSGRIF TO RESIGN

Robert Cosgriff, C4, Tipton, president of SUI's Young Democrats, announced Monday that he will submit his resignation at the chapter's next meeting, scheduled for Wednesday night. Cosgriff said he is resigning because of his pressing duties with the state central committee.

Chemistry Safety Lectures Tonight

Safety in chemistry and chemical engineering laboratories and research rooms will be the subject of two lectures starting at 7:30 p.m. today in the chemistry auditorium.

Prof. R.E. Buckles will speak on "First Aid in Case of Chemical Accidents," according to Prof. George Gloeckler, head of the departments of chemistry and chemical engineering.

Dr. Colin Thomas, surgery department, college of medicine, will discuss the bandaging and treatment of cuts and burns, following Buckles' talk.

The lectures are sponsored by the safety committee of Alpha Chi Sigma, national professional chemical fraternity.

SUI Religion Week Stimulating: Lampe

"Religion in Life Week" at SUI has been a "stimulating experience" for many students and teachers, Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the SUI school of religion said Monday.

"The week brought students in contact with a group of religious leaders who had thought deeply on the subject of moral and spiritual values and on the importance of these values in the world today," Lampe said.

Lampe said of the guests who were here during the week:

"The leaders differed among themselves on many matters but they were devoted men and women and generated the spirit of devotion, showing how a strong mind and a warm heart can and should go together in an educated person in the interests of personal integrity and the greatest usefulness."

Frequency Check For WSUI Tonight

Station WSUI will go on the air tonight from midnight to 1 a.m. for its monthly frequency check program.

Program Director Richard Setterberg, G. Iowa City, said there would be a variety program of recorded music on the hour broadcast.

WSUI has its own equipment for measuring its frequency, according to Setterberg, but the federal communications commission requires that an outside company report on all radio stations' frequencies once a month.

During the 15 minutes of the program that actual checking takes place, announcers must identify the station after every song played. This is necessary so the monitoring station knows it is listening to the right station when the broadcast signal is weak.

WALLACE EXPLAINS AIM — Henry Wallace said Monday the Progressive party's plan to try to swing the "balance of power" vote in the 1950 elections "sounds like smart politics."

Knockless Gasoline Inventor to Speak Here Wednesday

T.A. Eoyd, co-discoverer of anti-knock and super-octane gasoline, will speak in the auditorium of the electrical engineering building Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Boyd first attacked the problem of power-limiting noise in combustion engines — known as "knock" — while he was head of the General Motors research laboratories' fuel department.

From 1923 to 1947 he worked with Charles F. Kettering, former Research Laboratories' general manager, in pioneer research leading to the discovery of tetraethyl lead used in ethyl gasoline.

During World War II this group developed the new superfuel called triptane. This fuel has an anti-knock rating three times as high as the 100 octane gasolines used in airplane engines.

Boyd is the author of two popular science books based upon his experiments: "Gasoline — What Everyone Should Know About It" and "Research — the Pathfinder of Science and Industry."

One of the highest honors given by the Society of Automotive Engineers, the Harry L. Horning Memorial award, was presented to Boyd several weeks ago. Ohio State university, Boyd's alma mater, awarded him the Lamme Medal for meritorious achievement in engineering in 1939.

FILM ON GARBAGE DISPOSAL

The board of directors of Iowa City's Chamber of Commerce will view a film on sanitary land-fill methods of garbage disposal in an informal meeting today at 10 a.m. in the Chamber office. Secretary Robert Gage, said.
