Sander Told Her Patient Died After Injection, Says Librarian

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — A young hospital librarian testified today she heard Dr. Hermann N. Sander say the cancer-tortured woman he is accused of murdering "died peacefully and quietly after the injection."

Miss Amelia Ducharme, 19, was called by the state in an attempt to counter defense claims that Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, was dead before air was injected into her veins.

The pretty assistant medical records librarian at Hillsboro County hospital corroborated testimony of her superior — Librarian Josephine Connor — that she heard Dr. Sander say he made the injection and expected a "reprimand."

Miss Ducharme said Dr. Sander told County Medical Referee Robert Biron it was "the first time he had done it."

Earlier, the husband of the woman the 41-year-old doctor is accused of murdering in "an act of mercy" testified that he still feels "kindly" toward Dr. Sander.

Much of the legal maneuvering was centered in attempting to pinpoint the moment of Mrs. Borroto's death.

Chief Defense Counsel Louis E. Wyman revealed to newsmen he will call two surprise witnesses — both nurses at the hospital — along this line.

Mrs. Ruth Ackerman, a night nurse who cared for the dying woman, testified for the prosecution that Mrs. Borroto was alive when she went off duty at 7 a.m. Dec. 4, the day of her death.

Earlier testimony by prosecution witnesses under cross-examination was to the effect that two nurses and another doctor were unable to detect Mrs. Borroto's pulse before Dr. Sander arrived at the hospital.

'Raff' to Address After-Game Party

Leonard Raffensperger, SUI's new head football coach will give a short talk at the "Welcome Raffensperger Party," a feature of the last after-game party Saturday night in the Iowa Union.

The party, sponsored by the Union Board, will begin at about 10 p.m., following the Iowa-Creighton basketball game. Board Member Mike Trueblood, C3, Sioux Falls, said the party would provide a good opportunity for SUI students to get acquainted with the new football coach.

Highlanders to Present Halftime Entertainment

Three dances by members of the SUI Scottish Highlanders will be presented between halves of the Iowa-Minnesota basketball game Monday night.

Pipe Major Bill Adamson, said two Highlanders will dance the "Sailor's Hornpipe" and two will dance the "Irish Jig."

A special wooden platform was built for the dancing, he said, to protect the basketball floor. Eight kilned lassies also will perform the "Sword Dance."

LIMP AS A RUG was this spotted feline after it was recaptured at the Oklahoma City Lincoln park zoo early Tuesday. The leopard, object of a three-day search throughout the state since it escaped from the zoo Saturday, died Tuesday night. It was found in a deper condition earlier in the day after eating some horse meat containing a knockout drug. Dr. W.D. Bowerman, veterinarian at the zoo, pictured here, checked the condition of the animal before it died.

Contrary to Reports, Lamb Comes in Like Lion

PRETTY SHEEPISH ABOUT THE WHOLE THING, this three-weeks refugee from a shepherd found he couldn't say "bah" to the affections of Jane Pinvec, A2, Des Moines—even though he should have acted like a lion on the first day of March. Jane anticipated counting many sheep this month while night winds rocked the rafters. She discovered March isn't as wild and woolly as the proverb says however, for the seasonal lion came in, like Samson, with a sheared mane. Weather prospects for the rest of the week are: relatively mild, but getting colder.

C-M Plan Needs Pledge by Council: Bartley

City Atty. William H. Bartley said Tuesday he would want to see Iowa City councilmen adopt the city manager plan by ordinance only if they publicly commit themselves to keep the plan in effect for the remainder of their terms.

At a council meeting Monday night Bartley had suggested that the council consider adopting the plan by ordinance.

Atty. Clair E. Hamilton, chairman of the local Council-Manager association and law partner of Bartley, warned Monday night that the council could adopt the plan to satisfy persons who would otherwise vote for the plan in a special election, then later repeal the ordinance and scrap the plan.

The Council-Manager association Thursday completed a campaign to get signatures on petitions which would require Mayor or Preston Koser to call a special election to determine whether Iowa City will adopt the council-manager plan.

Under Iowa law the council-election, must stay in effect for at least six years.

In Iowa City, five councilmen would be elected at large and their terms would be staggered. If the people were dissatisfied with the council, it would take at least four years before they could elect enough aldermen to constitute a majority on the council.

If the present city councilmen were to adopt the plan by ordinance, the council-manager system would be in effect only for the remainder of their terms.

Bartley suggested having voters decide, when they vote for new councilmen, whether or not they would want the plan to continue

Leopard Gets 'Mickey,' Dies

Recaptured Feline Grows His Last After Eating Meat Bait Loaded with Knockout Drops

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Mayor Allen Street announced that the wild leopard which terrorized a suburban area for three days died early Tuesday night of an overdose of narcotics which led to its capture.

The 175-pound spotted beast quietly breathed its last about 5:45 p.m., Street said. The animal had literally collapsed into captivity about 15 hours earlier, after eating a chunk of horsemeat containing an ounce of chloral hydrate.

The leopard's deep sleep had worried zoo officials throughout the day, and twice he was given injections of a heart stimulant in an attempt to counteract the dope.

Zoo Director Julian Frazier said he had no idea of the cause of the leopard's death, but Street was explicit:

"He ate too much of that drugged meat. Just a glutton, I guess."

Street said Park Superintendent R.R. Murphy suggested that the animal be stuffed, mounted and displayed in the lobby of the Oklahoma capitol building where a wild life exhibit is maintained.

Dr. W.D. Bowerman, veterinarian who had attended the beast, said he did not know the cause of death, but will perform an autopsy tomorrow morning.

"I saw him about 4 o'clock," Bowerman said, "and he was breathing fine. I turned him over on his side and he kinda growled at me. I was glad to see that he could make a noise. We thought he was out of danger from the narcotic."

Bowerman said the cat was "awfully depressed" and that may have contributed to his demise. "Of course he had plenty of

Dr. James B. Allen Resigns SUI Post

Dr. James H. Allen, professor of ophthalmology at the SUI college of medicine has resigned effective today, to accept a similar position at the Tulane university school of medicine in New Orleans.

Allen had been a member of the ophthalmology department staff at SUI since 1934. He was appointed full professor in 1946.

He will be head of teaching and research in the department of ophthalmology at Tulane.

A native of Chattanooga, Tenn., Allen graduated from the University of Michigan school of medicine in 1930. He received his specialist training at SUI.

Allen is North American commissioner of ophthalmic education in the Pan-American Association of Ophthalmology, to which position he was appointed last year. He also is a member of numerous medical societies and boards.

LA Hoodlum Slain After Turning States Evidence

FRESNO, CALIF. (AP) — A small-time hoodlum was slain Tuesday night by a gangland bullet after he turned state's evidence and threatened to pin a federal narcotics rap on notorious Joe Sica, associate of Los Angeles mobster Jack Dragna.

The narcotics case against Sica, former henchman of Los Angeles racketeer Mickey Cohen, virtually went "spiff" when Abe Davidian, 28, was murdered in his sleep by a stealthy intruder who crept into the Davidian living room and put a slug in his head at close range.

The loaded meat left the jungle feline too groggy to snarl or scratch when he was recaptured.

Lewis, Operators Meet Again In Strike Talks

Stocks of Coal Below Normal Week's Supply

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis' miners and the operators met today in another effort to settle the strike that has reduced his nation's coal stock to less than a normal week's supply.

The announcement that the two sides had agreed to resume their interrupted talks came almost simultaneously with the conclusion of the second day in the contemplation of the United Mine Workers.

The government neared the end of its argument that the union has been in contempt for refusing to obey a federal court no-strike order issued Feb. 11.

It is expected to wind up its case this morning, and the union has said it may need less than a day to present its side.

Henry Cartwright, an operator spokesman, told reporters the contract talks will be resumed at 10 a.m. (Iowa time).

Lewis, the boss of the miners, is expected to be back in time for the negotiations. He has been in Illinois to attend a brother's funeral.

The coal picture drawn in Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech's court Tuesday was far from bright.

In its effort to prove that the union had disobeyed the court no-strike order, the government presented statistics from the bureau of mines.

The bureau estimated that, as of last Saturday, the coal stocks were down to 7.8-million tons. Normally this would last only 5.6 days, the bureau said, but conservation measures have cut down the daily consumption rate.

Judge Keech did not rule formally on another issue: Should the evidence include the fact that this is the third time the union has been brought into court on a contempt charge?

Dormitories at Illinois U. To Receive Needed Coal

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP) — The University of Illinois said Tuesday it will donate coal to fraternity and sorority houses and dormitories which are in need.

Officials said they had received reports of some students getting cold from lack of coal. The coal will be given to any building housing more than six students.

12-Minute Meters Installed Near Banks

Motorists needing a parking place for a few minutes may be able to find it near one of the city's two banks, beginning today.

Ten new meters, which are for pennies only and give only 12 minutes time were installed near the banks Tuesday, Police Chief E. J. Ruppert said.

The purpose of the short-time limit is to make it possible for more people to park downtown for quick business errands, he said.

The plan was approved by the city council at a meeting Feb. 15. Six meters were installed near the Iowa State Bank and Trust company building. Three are on Clinton street, and three are on Washington street, Ruppert said.

Four meters were installed near the First National bank building. Two are on Dubuque street, and two are on Washington street, the chief said.

Illinois U. Betatron Successful in Test

URBANA, ILL. (AP) — Science's newest big gun in atomic research — the 300-million volt University of Illinois betatron — was turned on Tuesday in a successful test.

Because the machine can produce cosmic rays in the laboratory, scientists hope it will help unlock the secret of matter and energy.

The giant betatron uses electrons for bullets. It whirls them around in a doughnut-shaped vacuum tube until they reach almost the speed of light. When these electrons hit a target they give off super X-rays.

'To Each His Own' Department

Decapitated rabid dogs and cats may not be able to bite, but the U.S. postoffice department doesn't want to have anything to do with them under any conditions.

A bulletin issued from the postmaster general's office Tuesday reminded postmasters that heads "from suspected rabid dogs and cats are not mailable."

If you want to send animal heads, local postoffice officials said, use the railway express system.

Does Not Condone Acts By Hiss, Says Acheson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson testified Tuesday that he does not condone the offenses of which his friend Alger Hiss has been convicted.

At the same time he denied he had challenged any actions of the court in which Hiss was convicted of perjury for his denial that he passed on state department secrets to a confessed courier for a Soviet spy ring.

Acheson declared further that he would "never knowingly tolerate any disloyal person in the department of state."

He said his attitude toward Hiss is governed by "Christ's words setting forth compassion as the highest of Christian duties." His statement on the matter would be valid, he said, whether the conviction stands or is reversed.

The discussion of Acheson-Hiss relations arose in testimony by the secretary of state before a senate appropriations subcommittee in connection with department requests for operating funds.

It revolved around Acheson's declaration, before Hiss' conviction, that the former state department official was and is his friend, and his statement after the conviction that he would not turn his back on Hiss. In the latter comment on the case the secretary had cited censure on the quality of compassion.

The Hiss matter came up after Deputy Undersecretary of State John E. Peurifoy had testified that in the last two years the department has rid itself of 202 employees who were under security investigation.

One was fired and the others were allowed to resign, he said.

A $5,000 grant from the Bristol Meyers company was assigned to research in the study of the common cold. Dr. W.D. Paul, associate professor of internal medicine, will direct the research.

A $200 grant for a project in speech correction at the Iowa State School for the Blind, Vinton, was made by the Johnson County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Housewife Phones for Needed Coal

I NEED COAL, MR. MAYOR! Mrs. Dorothy Myers, 17 1-2 E. Washington street found Monday she had only enough coal for one day, and local supplies controlled by the mayor. She phoned the mayor's office and explained her plight. Clerks in the mayor's office asked her what kind of coal she needed (lump or stoker) and who her regular coal dealer is. After a policeman checked on Mrs. Myers coal supply, the mayor approved her request and a local dealer delivered a week's supply.

On Student Rating —

(Prof. Norman C. Meier, associate professor of psychology and public opinion expert, served as technical consultant for the student council in 1947 during the formative days of the faculty-rating program.)

(He expressed his views in the following guest editorial.)

The current interest in facilities whereby teaching effectiveness can be reflected back to the instructor by the impression made on students is not new on this campus. During the period of 1947 - 49, the Student Council and The Daily Iowan attempted to stimulate interest in the project and considerable progress was made.

Study was made of devices in use or tried at other institutions. Surveys of opinion of both faculty and students toward some acceptable plan were made, covering a systematic sample of faculty (every fifth name) and a sampling of the student body. In addition to obtaining an evaluation of proposed traits of good teaching, critical comment and views were obtained. Dean Earl J. McGrath (former dean of the college of liberal arts) backed the project wholeheartedly while disclaiming any intent to use such ratings for administrative purposes.

Because there seems to be much confused thinking, considerable misunderstanding, and even alarm on the part of many persons, both faculty and student, some clarification appears overdue.

The views stated herein are those of the technical consultant and represent the basic experience gained by study of rating projects in other institutions and from an analysis of the data emerging from the surveys made here.

The basic philosophy of student rating of effective teaching assumes that education is a joint enterprise involving teaching and learning. There can be no university without faculty; the university can have no real academic standing without a measure of good instruction. Obviously also, there can be no university without students. The key figure in any educational program is the individual professor.

It may be assumed that the typical student is a reasonable person, intent primarily in getting a good education. The professor is presumed to be competent and interested in doing the best job of which he is capable. In many instances he has sacrificed much for the privilege of instructing youth, as financial reward commensurate with long and exacting preparation, with little hope of financial competence in later years. Because of this he should not be harassed by any unproved device to assess his worth; hence any student rating plan which provides the administration with a sword of Damocles will defeat the primary purpose and perhaps the sole justification for student rating. In three known instances in institutions such as SUI the rating schema failed for just that reason.

Experience has amply demonstrated that the clear and perhaps only sanctionable objective of student ratings is to provide the professor with reflections of his effort on the recipient of that effort, namely the student in his class. Only in that way can he ever know how well or otherwise is his effort succeeding. This applies not only to the inexperienced instructor but to the professor with decades of experience. The earnest and sincere teacher should welcome the opportunity. With such information he can seek to improve his instruction along the lines indicated, if improvement seems in order; if the ratings are generally good he can have the satisfaction of KNOWING that he is doing a good job.

The professor, and he alone, should have possession of the ratings. Rating sheets, once worked out and tested adequately should be available at the registrar's office on request, with no record kept of who asks for them or who does not.

Those who believe the university should be constantly concerned with doing the best job of educating of which it is capable can at least try the rating plan. Some, equally concerned with good teaching, may feel quite justifiably that their subject matter is not amenable to rating so done. Their views should be respected. A consensus of opinion holds that it would be fatal, unnecessary and undesirable to make the matter mandatory or administratively imposed.

A satisfactory rating scheme can presumably be developed, utilizing the experience and format of those in existence, the experience already attained on this campus, and additional ideas. At best, however, it cannot be regarded as an accurate or adequate instrument, inasmuch as it reflects impressions of variable competence.

The recent survey indicates that the student himself forthrightly recognizes limitations on his own complete objectivity and competence. But, when utilized with sincerity, it should even with these limitations provide useful information obtainable in no other way, for the betterment of instruction, improve the instructor professionally, and redound to the credit of the institution.

Faculty Has It Rough, Too —

(Faculty rating, which may be in the offing on the SUI campus, necessarily means that students have some sort of a yardstick to measure their instructors. The bulletin of the American Association of University Professors recently published some comments that might be of help.)

If he's brand new at teaching, he lacks experience.

If he's been teaching all his life, he's in a rut.

If he dresses decently, he's trying to be a fashion plate.

If he thinks about something besides clothes, he's a bum.

If he seldom admits a mistake, he's arrogant.

If he ever admits a mistake, he ought to go back to bricklaying.

If he plants an occasional joke in his lectures, he's a comedian.

If he never condescends to an academic nifty, he's duty dull.

If he goes to chapel with regularity, he's a hypocrite.

If he shies at sermons, he's a heathen.

If he writes books, he's neglecting his teaching.

If he never publishes, he never had a thought worth printing.

If he hands out plenty of high grades, he has no standards.

If he hands out plenty of low grades, he's a butcher.

If he uses notes, he's unoriginal.

If he gets along without notes, he's an ad-libber.

If he sticks to his specialty, he's got a one-track mind.

If he tours the encyclopedia, he's a show-off.

If he listens to sports broadcasts, he's illiterate.

If he can't identify Fritzie Zivic and Jack Kramer, he isn't human.

If he does outside work for nothing, he's a sucker.

If he gets paid for outside work, he's money-mad.

If he stands up while teaching, he's oratorical.

If he sits down while teaching, his feet hurt.

If he's young, he needs more seasoning.

If he's old, he's seen better days.

If he gives a lot of quizzes, he's a slave-driver.

If he seldom gives a test, he's too lazy to read papers.

If he gets his name in the newspapers, he's publicity mad.

If he never appears in public prints, he's so much dead wood.

If he takes an active part in faculty business, he's a politician.

If he never serves on a committee, he's a work-dodger.

If he's on good terms with the president, he's a sycophant.

If he doesn't wear out the stairway from Old Capitol, he's disloyal.

U.S. to Start Flow of Arms to Europe

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union boosted the official value of the ruble Tuesday night in terms of the dollar, and switched from the dollar to gold as its monetary yardstick.

The ruble was declared worth 25 cents, compared to the old rate of a little less than 19 cents. At the same time, sweeping price reductions to the Soviet consumer were ordered.

The decree of the council of ministers marked another step in what apparently is an effort to establish the Soviet currency as an international competitor of the dollar and British pound. This idea appears to have dominated Russian financial policy since December, 1949.

A statement from the council of ministers said that, effective today the value of the ruble in foreign exchange will be calculated according to "the more stable gold standard."

Greece Faces Election 'Blues'

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

If you think the British election last week produced a hopeless mess, wait until you see what happens in Greece next Sunday.

There, more than 100 parties are offering more than 2,000 candidates for 250 seats in parliament. The voting will be on a proportional representation basis, with any person or party which receives 8,000 votes entitled to one seat.

Hollywood: Target Of All Wiseacres

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood has no mayor or boundaries, and isn't even a real city, but it has more names than swimming pools.

The name of Hollywood has been banded around for so long that original thinkers from Bob Hope to Aimee Semple McPherson have thought up new handles for the place.

Hope calls it smog-with-palms. The late evangelist said Hollywood was "not the city that God forgot, but 'the city that forgot God.'"

Hollywood also bears the labels of Plaster City, Celluloid City, Cinema City, Movie Mecca, Movietown, Glitterville and Cinderella City.

Damon Runyon once called it Follywood. The famed wit, Wilson Mizner, settled for Sucker-ville. In the old days, Hollywood was termed "Sodom and Gomorrah," after the biblical cities that were destroyed by fire because they were sinful.

Other wits have named the place Bagdad - on - the - Pacific, Bridgeport - with - Palms and Cleveland - with - Searchlights. Ex-novelists - turned - screen-writers have called Hollywood "the warm Siberia."

A silent era reformer described Hollywood as "the land of fruit without flavor, flowers without fragrance, men without money and women without honor."

One comic, Lew Parker, calls Hollywood "the sound - and - fury stages" and "the land of the double cross and double costs." Other quipsters have cracked it's the only madhouse in the world operated by its own inmates, also applied to Washington; the land of mink-and-money and the sinema city.

Hollywood has been branded the land of the sky-blue Cadillac, and the city where streets are lined with palms, all of them itching. Movie gagwriter Martin Ragaway, who is fast becoming Hollywood's own wit, calls his town Neurotica or Santa Benzendrine. Ragaway also says Hollywood is where the ulcer half of the people live.

Monty Woolley calls Hollywood the city where you can lie under a rosebush and freeze to death.

The name of Hollywood, incidentally, was originated by an early settler, Mrs. Davida Wilcox Beveridge, at the turn of the century. The corner of Hollywood and Vine streets then cost $1.25 an acre and Movietown consisted mainly of avocado trees. Mrs. Beveridge called her ranch Hollywood, borrowing the name from a friend's Chicago home. She said she thought the name was cute.

Later Mrs. Beveridge planted English holly on the ranch. It died.

Planes to France Start Arms Flow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will start a billion dollar flow of arms to western Europe next week-end when a French aircraft carrier arrives to pick up a cargo of American navy fighters, and bombers.

These initial supplies for France will set into motion the much-delayed American program for bolstering the Atlantic area against possible Russian aggression.

Top government officials reported the first consignment for France probably will be about 50 Corsair fighters and Helldiver bombers from the navy's reserve stocks.

New Salesmanship Replaces 'Pressure Boys' Survey Shows

DETROIT — If you're shopping around for a new automobile, don't be afraid to cast longing looks at the shiny 1950 models in dealer's showrooms.

You won't be dragged in by the scuff of the neck and subjected to a mile-a-minute sales talk that threatens your checkbook.

Oldtime, high - pressure car salesmanship is on the way out.

A United Press survey reveals that new car dealers across the country are seeking smother, gentlemanly salesmen to man their display rooms.

"They drag them off the street and sell them quick" operators of the old school are changing their ways or losing their jobs, most dealers agreed.

Jim Moran, Chicago dealer, said: "The fast-talking salesmen is all through as far as we are concerned. We try to tell the customer, not push him around."

"Our salesmen are gentlemen, with pressed suits and neat ties, a sweet-talking crew making no excess promises to close a sale," commented one Dallas, Tex., dealer.

"The public's wised up to the cutthroat salesman of the old days. Our new young men are getting more sales than the old hands in the business," a Detroit sales manager said.

This doesn't mean that dealers are going soft.

"All our salesmen are aggressive. They wouldn't be here if they weren't," said W. E. Weber, a sales manager in New York.

For more than three years after the war, car demand was so much greater than the number of vehicles auto makers could turn out that many dealers forgot how to sell. All they did was to take orders.

That situation has been changing rapidly for the last year, and this spring dealers are geared for one of the toughest fights for sales in auto history.

"We'll be more aggressive when we can get more autos," said Les Kelley, Los Angeles dealer. "Every dealer here has to be more aggressive than in other towns in order to survive. Los Angeles is the greatest chiseling town in the world."

Most dealers said their factories had urged them to hire more salesmen. But the majority are in no hurry to increase their staffs.

"We're building a different caliber men, stressing quality more than quantity," a Minneapolis dealer said. "We want fewer men making more money."

SUI Students Wed Friday

GEORGIA BETZ AND Len Skinner Bond, both SUI students, were married Friday in the Little Chapel of the Congregational church with the Rev. Robert H. Biekford officiating. The bride is the daughter of George Betz, Tama. Mr. Bond is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bond, Indiana, Penn. A 1949 graduate of the SUI school of nursing, the bride is employed at University hospitals. Mr. Bond graduated from State Teachers college, Indiana, Penn., is a senior in the SUI college of law. He is affiliated with Delta Theta Phi, professional legal fraternity. The couple resides at 103 N. Clinton street.

Jewish Fund Drive, Sponsored by Hillel, Begins Here Today

The fourth annual United Jewish Appeal and Jewish Welfare fund drive on campus will begin today and continue through March 9, according to Co-chairmen Ellen Sideman, A2, Des Moines, and Jack Kutcher, A2, Sioux City.

A part of the national UJA and JWF drive, the campaign is sponsored on campus by Hillel foundation, Jewish student center.

"The national goal this year is $250-million," Miss Sideman said, "while the campus goal is $1700."

Hillel Director Judah G'ldin said the money will be used to further Jewish cultural life in the United States.

While most of the funds will be sent to UJA, some of the money will be divided among Jewish charities, Miss Sideman explained. Charities receiving money will be decided by the committee in charge when the drive ends.

The committee consists of the following SUI students: Harrison Mitnick, Millie Rubinson, Helen Goldberg, Florence Goldberg, Janet Kabakoff, Harriette Shapiro, Marilyn Wintroub, Norman Doronin, Sally Ullman, David Buckbinder, Marvin Pomerantz, Beverly Robinson, Gordon Chapman and Sol Nagorner.

Stanley and Rodney Skolnik are in charge of publicity for the campaign.

SUI Author to Lead Discussion of Book

Prof. Wendell Johnson, director of the SUI speech clinic, and three members of the Demosthenes club will discuss Johnson's book, "People in Quandaries" at the Information First program Thursday.

Sponsored by University Women's association, the program will begin at 4:30 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The discussion will include the problem of anxieties and tensions which lead to stuttering. Demosthenes club members participating are Dean Brown, G. Iowa City; William Trotter, G. Ottawa, Ontario, and Arnold Golub, G. Boston, Mass. The three representatives form the stuttering team of the club which is composed of stutterers and people interested in promoting speech correction on a nation-wide scale.

Johnson, professor of psychology and speech pathology here, is president of the American Speech and Hearing association.

24 New Measles Cases Bring Total to 398

Twenty-four new cases of measles reported Tuesday in Iowa City brought the total for February to 398, City Clerk George J. Dohrer said.

Daily totals higher than Tuesday's were reported six other days this month. Beginning Feb. 21, however, the number of measles cases reported declined daily through last Saturday, when only two new cases were listed.

The total number of measles cases reported during January was only 37, and during February, 1949, only one case was reported.

Other contagious diseases reported here during February were six cases of chicken pox and five of mumps.

CANCER SPEAKER

Dr. R.H. Blocks, head of the SUI urology department, will speak on "Cancer, What Is It?" at the Madison township farm bureau meeting, 8 p.m. Thursday at the Clarence Meka home.

Wrestlers, Thinclads, Swimmers in Conference Title Meets

Hawk Grapplers Hosts to Big Ten

Three of Iowa's varsity athletic teams will compete in Western conference championship meets this week, with the Hawkeye wrestlers host to the Big Ten grapplers in the fieldhouse, starting Friday afternoon at 2.

Coach Dave Armbruster's swimming team leaves today for Ann Arbor, Mich., where his 12-man crew goes into action Thursday in the start of three-day competition. Last year the tankers finished second, a position they must fight for to retain this season.

The track team travels to Champaign, Ill., where it will probably get out of the Western conference cellar, the spot handed the Hawkeyes last year at Champaign.

Wrestling Here

For the first time since 1936 the Iowa fieldhouse Friday and Saturday will be the scene of the Big Ten wrestling championships.

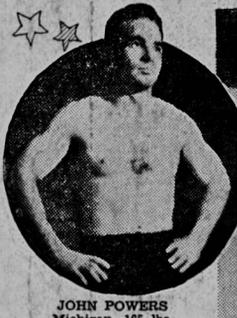

There has been no advance sale of tickets and no reserved seats are available for the meet, according to Business Manager Frank Havlicek. Staff "I" cards and student ID cards will not admit to the meet, but tickets will be sold at the lobby ticket offices for each of the three sessions. Tickets are $1 for adults, 60 cents for students.

Preliminaries get started at 2 Friday afternoon, followed by the semi-finals Friday evening and the finals and third-place bouts Saturday afternoon at 2.

Joe Scarpello is the only Iowan that will be defending a title won at Bloomington, Ind. last March. The 175-pound champ will be after his fourth straight conference crown, as will be Purdue's Arnold Plaza, who won the 121-pound title last year and who has won all 26 dual meet matches in four seasons.

Scarpello has won 21 dual meet matches over his four-year Iowa career. He was a member of the U.S. Olympic team two years ago.

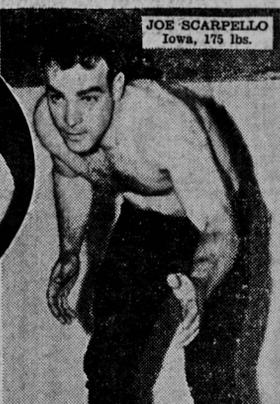

At least eight men enter the tournament undefeated, including Scarpello and Plaza. Five others have lost only one dual meet bout. Iowa's 121-pound Vern Mc-

Six Champs to Defend Titles Here

SIX OF THE EIGHT 1949 CHAMPIONS will defend their titles in the Big Ten wrestling tournament in the Iowa fieldhouse Friday and Saturday. Joe Scarpello of Iowa and Arnold Plaza of Purdue will be seeking their fourth straight championships. Preliminaries start Friday, with finals and consolation bouts scheduled Saturday afternoon at 2. Purdue's team will be after its third successive team championship.

Coy is one of the five who have lost once.

Purdue has won the title for the past two years. This year there is no clear-cut favorite, although Illinois has won seven of eight dual meets. Iowa has won four and lost two, three of the wins in conference competition. Last year Iowa finished seventh, after a second-place finish the year before.

Thinclads Prepare

Iowa's track team is laying its final preparations for a strong bid to a higher ranking in the Big 10 championships than was attained last year.

The Hawks' gained a tie for second place with Purdue, 43 1-2 all Saturday in a quadrangular meet at Champaign, the site of the league meet.

In two dual engagements this year, the Hawkeyes are unbeaten. They romped over Marquette, 74 1/3 - 39 2/3 and then smothered Northwestern on the following weekend, 73-41.

Iowa power lies mainly in the 60-yard dash and the hurdle events with additional strength in the half-mile, 440, broad jump and mile relay team.

Russ Merkel is undefeated in the high and low timbers this year and holds the lowest times posted so far for both. He has skinned the lows in :07.9 and topped the highs in :08.6.

The third strong point in the Hawkeye camp is Marcellus Boston, the fleet Negro sprinter. Boston's clocking of :06.2 ranks second to Indiana's Charles Peters who sped over the turf in :06.1 against Purdue last week. Clark Rice of Minnesota also has a :06.2 time for the 60.

In the 440, veteran Tom Sangster sprinted twice around the fieldhouse oval in :51.1 Tuesday night for his best time.

Claims Ski Mark

OBERSTDORF, GERMANY (AP)—Willy Gantschnitt of Austria claimed the world's long distance ski jumping record Tuesday with a leap of 406 feet.

The jump was made on Oberstdorf hill, especially built for attempts against the record. The listed world mark is 350.96 feet, achieved by Austria's Joseph Bradl of Planica, Yugoslavia.

12 Iowans Entered; Ohio Divers Could Decide Swim Title

Coach Dave Armbruster and 12 Hawkeye swimmers will embark this afternoon for Ann Arbor, Mich., where they will compete in a field of nine Big Ten schools in quest of the 1950 conference title.

The Hawks will go after the title "tooth and nail" despite the fact that three of the team's top sprinters have colds. Rusty Garst, the Hawks' undefeated 50-yard sprinter, has been bothered by a cold this week as has sophomore Wally Nicholson and Bob Busch.

"Pick Ohio State to repeat as champion if the Buckeye divers are in form," advises Armbruster.

Harlan Leads Way

The dean of conference swimming coaches forecast that the Bucks will have a rough time in the swimming events but that they will score more than 30 points in diving with Bruce Harlan. Olympic diving champ, probably showing the way.

Armbruster rates his Iowans, Michigan and Purdue as candidates for the runner-up spot, adding that Michigan and Iowa are possible title darkhorses.

"Dual meet scores are not true indicators for the championship meet. Ohio State has beaten Iowa, Michigan and Purdue but there are four additional events in the conference meet and there is no way to measure the closeness of dual meet events," the coach said.

Two New Events

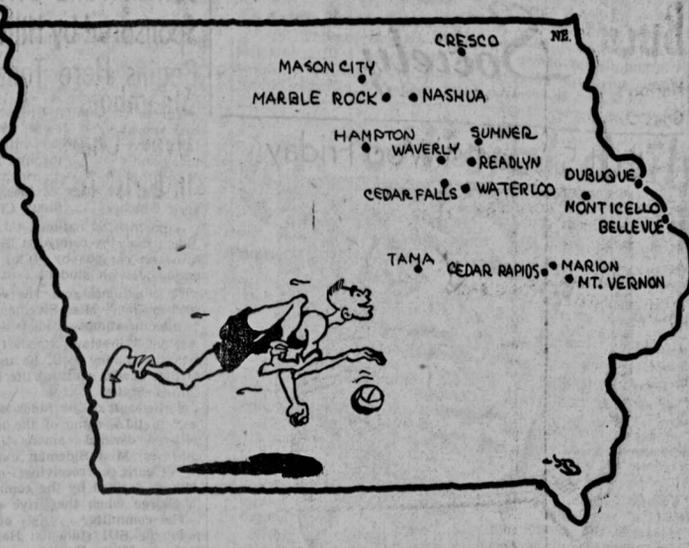

The 100-yard events in the backstroke and breaststroke are new events in the conference meet. Another event, the 150-yard medley swim, was installed in loop competition last season.

Iowa has a good chance for champs in the 50 and 100-yard sprints, 100 and 200-yard breaststroke and the 100 and 150-yard backstroke events. In the sprints will be Garst, Larry Dunbar and Nicholson while Duane Draves and Bowen Stastforth will try for individual titles in the back and breaststroke events, respectively.

The meet will open Thursday with the 1500 meter race which will be the only swimming event that day. Herm Lehman and Don Watson are expected to come through with places in the event for the Hawks. Jack Wilson will compete in the high and low board diving which is also being held Thursday.

The remainder of the conference championship races will be extended over Friday and Saturday. Assistant Coach Jim Counillman will take Wilson, Lehman and Watson on the 9:15 Rocket this morning as they will have short workouts in the Michigan pool today.

Armbruster will accompany the remaining nine tankers on the 4:15 train this afternoon. The remainder of the traveling squad consists of Draves, Stastforth, Busch, Garst, Dunbar, Dick Keith, Henry Griesbach, Bill Hark and Nicholson.

Waterloo West, Marion Rank As Top Northeast Contenders

This is the third in a series of articles on leading high school basketball contenders for the prep state basketball championship.

By DON MOYER

Northeast Iowa is usually well represented in the 16-team state tournament field and this year again should send three or four clubs to contend for the state crown.

Among the AA schools West Waterloo draws top consideration. Rated first in the Northeast all season by the Associated Press poll, West stopped the Davenport Blue Devils in Davenport's second game of the year. The Wahawks also hold an exhibition game win over the defending state champs, Ottumwa.

Mason City Threatens

Mason City looms as the greatest threat to West. The Mohawks started slowly but showed a great deal of improvement in the latter part of the season. Mason City lost two games to West but they were close contests, one of them an overtime game.

Cedar Falls, Northeast Iowa conference winner, might come through but it has already lost to West and Mason City. Loras academy, which lost to Davenport by one point in the state finals of 1948, looms as a darkhorse.

Of the four Cedar Rapids' AA schools Wilson looked the best winning the city title but McKinley showed its stuff in bumping Davenport, 48-47, in a late season game.

Marble Rock is also a contender. It boasts a 24-1 record after losing its opening game of the season. Holy Family of Mason City will add good opposition among the B schools, as will another strong outfit, St. Joseph's of Bellevue.

Another capable class B unit is McGregor. It advanced to the second round of the state meet in 1949 and is making a strong bid to return.

Marble Rock is also a contender. It boasts a 24-1 record after losing its opening game of the season. Holy Family of Mason City will add good opposition among the B schools, as will another strong outfit, St. Joseph's of Bellevue.

Frank Calsbeek leads the Hawkeye scorers in both conference and all games totals, according to statistics released Tuesday.

Chuck Darling is close behind in conference summaries but is fourth in all games played. The 6-foot, 8-inch center also has a .364 shot percentage in conference games.

Bob Vollers has the best all game field goal percentage with .343 and is second high in total points.

The best free throw marks in both sets of statistics belong to Skip Greene. In 18 games he has hit 26 of 34 attempts and in the 10 conference tilts in which he has seen action, he has cashed in on 10 of 14 tries.

Hampton, a loser early in the season, has made a comeback and Cresco has its best team in many seasons. Monticello was beaten only by Marion and took second in the WaMac conference. It too will be battling for a state berth.

Scramble in B Field

The B field is in for a wild scramble. Readlyn looks to be the strongest. It lost to Ankeny by only two points in an exhibition game and has shown power all season. Our Lady of Victory academy of Waterloo, winner of the class B division of the Dubuque diocesan tournament, is of the same caliber.

The best free throw marks in both sets of statistics belong to Skip Greene. In 18 games he has hit 26 of 34 attempts and in the 10 conference tilts in which he has seen action, he has cashed in on 10 of 14 tries.

Hampton, a loser early in the season, has made a comeback and Cresco has its best team in many seasons. Monticello was beaten only by Marion and took second in the WaMac conference. It too will be battling for a state berth.

Grid Team, Golfers To Meet Thursday

First meeting with Coach Leonard Raffensperger and the football staff has been set for all candidates Thursday at 4 p.m. in Room 200 of the fieldhouse.

Earlier in the same afternoon at 2:30, Coach Bucky O'Connor will meet with all freshman and varsity golf candidates in Room 300 of the fieldhouse.

Raffensperger said all men interested in playing football should plan to be present at the grid meeting. A six-weeks spring practice session, opening Monday, March 6, will be discussed.

Bowls Perfect Game; First in Iowa City

George O'Harra, a local bowler, achieved the life-long ambition of every kegler Tuesday night, rolling a perfect game on the Plamor alleys. It was his first 300 game.

The 42-year-old righthander, in the Strikers league, had a previous high of 286 two years ago and a 1950 high of 229.

This is the first perfect game turned in organized league play on these 15-year-old alleys. Another perfect game was recalled by bystanders but was in a practice game and was not officially recorded.

O'Harra took up bowling three years before the war and although inactive during the war has been bowling since 1945. His average this season is 175.

His hook shot is his bowling specialty.

He is employed by Rongner's cleaners.

Big Money Gone, Says Pro Gridder

CHICAGO (AP)—Ziggy Czabowski, who drew a reported $15,000 a year as a lineman for the Chicago Rockets, now is ready to settle for a modest $6,500.

Czabowski, former Notre Dame tackle, said Tuesday the day of "big money" in professional football is all over.

Czabowski, now 26, was a star on Frank Leahy's 1946 team.

He once signed a three year contract with the old Chicago Rockets of the all-America conference at a reported $15,000 a year.

Now he says he is willing to come to terms for $6,500.

"After all," he says, "I don't want to work for peanuts."

Bucks Named to NCAA Tourney

Nation's Best, Bradley, Goes Only to Invitational

NEW YORK (AP) — The NCAA basketball tournament picture was clarified somewhat Tuesday with the selection of Ohio State for one berth and the decision to pick the Big Seven conference champions for another.

Ohio State's nomination for the district four berth was a foregone conclusion. The Buckeyes, ranked second nationally and winners of the Big Ten title, officially were named Tuesday by the district four committee, headed by Doug Mills of the University of Illinois.

Paced by Dick Schnittker, a great all-around player, the Buckeyes won the Western conference flag with an 11-1 record and posted an 18-3 slate for the season.

Playoff Usual

The decision to pick the Big Seven champions for the district five spot was announced by Bruce Drake, chairman of the area's selection committee and coach at the University of Oklahoma.

Normally there is a playoff between the Big Seven winner and the Missouri Valley kings. But Bradley, No. 1 team of the nation and Missouri Valley titlist accepted a place in the National Invitational tournament in New York, and the committee apparently figured that was enough.

Nebraska (8-2) currently is pacing the Big Seven race with Kansas State (7-2) right on the Cornhuskers heels. Nebraska is ranked 16th nationally and Kansas State 12th.

Holy Cross Selected

Holy Cross already has been chosen for the district one position.

The other districts shape up this way:

District two — Duquesne favored, with St. John's, LaSalle Syracuse and Princeton among the contenders.

District three — Kentucky and North Carolina State favored.

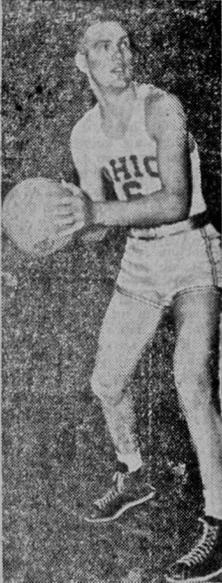

District six — Between Arizona and Southwest conference champion.

District seven — Wyoming or Denver of the Skyline Six.

District eight — Probably UCLA or Washington State of the Pacific Coast conference. Goes to the P.C.C. champion.

Meanwhile the N.I.T. had three of its 12 teams in the fold. Bradley, Duquesne and St. John's were named Monday.

The N.I.T. will be held in Madison Square Garden, March 11, 13, 14, 16 and 18. The eastern NCAA is ticketed for Kansas City March 24-25 with the championship game to be played in New York, March 28.

Raffensperger to Hold Grid Clinic

High school coaches will be welcomed at a football clinic at the University of Iowa March 23, 24 and 25, Coach Leonard Raffensperger announced Tuesday.

It will be conducted by the Hawkeye varsity staff and will be held from 10 a.m. to noon on the last three days of the high school basketball tournament.

Coach Raffensperger said that the clinic will be a combination of discussions and movies. A luncheon and smoker for the coaches will end the affair Saturday noon.

The clinic will be open without charge to all high school coaches.

Raffensperger will be assisted by Pat Boland, line, Bob Fitch, ends, and any additional staff members yet to be appointed.

Oskaloosa Cagers Here Against Little Hawks

Star of last year's Hawkeye basketball team, Charlie Mason, returns to Iowa City tonight. This time in the role of coach instead of player.

Iowa City's Little Hawks wind up regular season play against Mason's strong Oskaloosa quintet at City high gym.

The Hawkslets seek to protect a record of 12 wins against 5 setbacks against a team which has beaten such clubs as Burlington and powerful Boone this year.

City high coach, Howard Moffitt, also a former Hawkeye cage star, indicated he plans to start his regular lineup of Bill Fenton, Gene Brawner, Bob Fry, Mickey Moore and Ken Hay.

Steamboat Rock Wins Over Charter Oak In Girls' Tournament

DES MOINES (AP) — Steamboat Rock, a former champion, edged Charter Oak, 47-45, Tuesday night in a first round contest in the girls' high school championship basketball tournament.

Steamboat took the thriller before 6,000 fans at the Drake fieldhouse after Winterset had opened the night show with a 64-55 victory over Deep River.

Tuesday night's winners joined Slater and Meservey in the quarterfinal round. Slater stopped Centerville, 35 - 31, and Meservey squeezed out a 57-56 triumph over Meriden.

Slater will meet Meservey and Steamboat Rock will play Winterset Thursday afternoon.

The first round activity will be completed today with this schedule: Wota vs. Runnells, Cogson vs. Kamrar, Sperry vs. Oakland and Launa vs. Mallard.

Top scoring honors in the first two sessions went to Pat Howell of Winterset with 33 points.

Reds Ready to Swap Cooper to St. Louis

TAMPA, FLA. (AP) — The 1950 major league training season which gets under way today is likely to open with a bang.

A rumor that seems almost certain to become a fact soon has it that the Cincinnati Reds are about to trade Walker Cooper, husky hard-hitting catcher to the St. Louis Cardinals for an unnamed pitcher and outfielder.

The heads of both clubs confirmed the trade talk, but neither would go into details.

It was learned however that Luke Sewell, Cincinnati manager finally has agreed to part with the 35-year-old receiver.

Cooper, obtained from the New York Giants last June in exchange for Ray Mueller, tailed off toward the end of the season after a rousing start. In one of his first games with the Reds, Cooper slammed three home runs, got three other hits and drove in 10 runs — all in one game. He wound up with a .258 batting average.

Schedule Two Freshman Telegraphic Track Meets

Coach Tom Whalen's freshmen track team will engage in two telegraphic dual meets this week. Opponents for the Hawk frosh are Purdue and Missouri.

The yearlings won their only outing this season. They stung Wisconsin's frosh outfit, 59-55, in a postal meet last week.

One of the leading Hawk freshmen is Gary Scott, former North Des Moines prep king, who has run the quarter-mile in :50.6 this year. Scott is also a sprinter and a member of the relay team.

PEP, FAMECHON MEET

NEW YORK (AP) — Wee Willie Pep, the busy world's featherweight champion, and Ray Famechon, confident European titleholder from France, Tuesday were signed to meet in a 15-round championship bout at Madison Square Garden, March 17.

Late Tuition Payers Waste Money; Deadline Thursday

About 250 SUI students toss away $2 apiece, or more, each semester by failing to pay their tuition on time, SUI Treasurer Flave L. Hamborg said Tuesday.

Late payments for this semester have averaged about the same as previous semesters, he added.

Most students who are late with payments usually pay on the first day fines are assessed; others pay within five days.

Veterans pay their fines out of their own pockets, he said. If a student hasn't paid his fee plus the fine by today, he will have to see the registrar to stay in school.

All records of tuition fee payments go to the registrar's office March 1, he explained, with the recommendation the registration of students who have not paid their tuition be cancelled.

This is not done to make life miserable for the student, but some control must be exercised. Besides saving money for the students, it "would be 10 times

Engineers to Select 1950-51 Transit Staff

Staff members for the 1950-51 Iowa Transit, monthly publication of the SUI college of engineering, will be chosen by the Transit board of control Saturday.

Applications for all positions on the Transit staff are now being accepted at the engineering library, Editor Warren K. Rogers Jr., E4, Mt. Pleasant, said Tuesday.

He emphasized present staff members, to be considered for their job on next year's Transit, also must apply.

Application forms may be obtained in the engineering library or in the Transit office, and must be turned in to Norma Englert, engineering librarian, by 5 p.m. Friday.

Student engineers chosen as editor, general manager and business manager for 1950-51 will be announced at the Mecca smoker, March 16.

More School Board Candidates to File Today for Election

The slate of candidates for the March 13 Iowa City school board election was not completed by the bi-partisan nominating committee which met Tuesday night at city hall.

A slate of three or four candidates will be filed late today, J.A. Swisher, committee chairman, said. Two school board members are to be elected from the state for three-year terms in the coming election.

The March 13 election also will decide the question of floating a $62,700 bond issue for a four-room addition to Roosevelt school.

Iowa City's bi-partisan nominating committee is an extra-legal tradition. Current members attending Tuesday's meeting were: Mrs. Joe Crumley, 221 E. Park oad; Mrs. S.A. Fitzgarrald, 335 S. Dubuque street.

Francis Suplee, 223 N. Dodge street; J.A. Swisher, 114 N. Gilbert street; R.H. Lind, 438 Lexington avenue; Mrs. Thomas Farrell, 10 Summit street, and Donald Jorchart, 1330 Cedar street.

Any legally qualified person may be nominated independently by submitting a petition signed by at least 10 qualified electors of the school district.

AN OLD HOUSE GETS A NEW LIFT in the hands of modern, mechanized house movers. The building, 212 S. Madison street, was purchased from the Sidwell dairy by J. C. Conway, Cedar Rapids, and is being transported bag-and-baggage to an unannounced location on Page street. Two trucks with power winches pull the house, which is supported by three sets of wheels and heavy timbers. Conway removed a second house from the lot earlier (base ment s h w n r g h t foreground) and Sidwell dairy officials said they probably will build a garage on the empty tract this spring.

Armory Corporation Authorizes Leasing

The Iowa City Armory corporation Tuesday night re-elected its present board of directors and authorized the board to lease the local armory to the state armory board for a 20-year period.

The state armory board will pay rental of $6,000 yearly for use of the armory, which is owned by Iowa City. The Iowa City council formed the armory corporation Oct. 24, 1949, and authorized it to lease the armory to the state board.

The state board will supervise remodeling and improvements on the armory. The work will be paid for with money obtained by the Iowa City corporation through a loan.

The corporation's board of directors Tuesday gave its president, Mayor Preston Koser, and secretary-treasurer, Lt. C. I. E. W. Paulus of the national guard, authority to transact a loan to pay for the improvements.

Koser and Paulus were authorized to mortgage the armory property to secure the loan. The corporation will use the rental money it receives from the state armory board to pay off the loan, Paulus said.
