A jury of four women and eight men, two of whom said they objected to the death penalty, was selected here Thursday to try Robert E. Bednasek for the strangulation slaying of Margaret (Georgie) Jackson.

The panel was chosen after three days of careful questioning by state and defense lawyers. The job of selecting the 12 jurors lasted 14 hours and 15 minutes.

The jury includes C. Jay Miller, 44-year-old Menonite father of seven children, who told the court he was "firmly against capital punishment." Miller works for the Gay Locker company in Iowa City.

Vernon Moore, a Sharon township farmer, indicated that he also was opposed to the death penalty during questioning by County Atty. Jack C. White. Defense lawyers said they will call about 20 witnesses. They also said Bednasek will take the stand in his own defense.

Previously, White named 50 persons as possible witnesses for the state. Defense attorneys said they were not certain if Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bednasek, parents of the 31-year-old former SUI psychologist, will be called to testify. They said they believed it would not be necessary.

Mrs. Bednasek, an immigrant of Czechoslovakia, said Thursday her only son "is a good boy."

"He always has been a good boy, and we are sure this trial will prove he is innocent." She said the girl's death "could have been nothing else" but an accident.

"And I would feel that way even if I were not his mother," she added.

The defendant's parents have sat near Bednasek inside the courtroom railing since the trial opened.

Four of the jurors selected are farmers, one of the women is the wife of a retired farmer and another is the widow of a farmer.

Those selected to hear the case, which is expected to last at least two weeks, include:

Mrs. Ellinor Green, an SUI graduate and husband of a graduate student and instructor in the history department. When Mrs. Green was attending SUI, she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

C. Jay Miller, 44, Frytown Lock plant employee.

Mrs. Merle Dewey, 412 N. Linn street.

Glenn P. Wentzel, foreman of SUI plumbers and steamfitters; Robert D. Bothell, transfer company office manager.

George Hasley, 58, Lone Tree school bus driver.

Harold W. McGinnis, Coralville farmer; Robert Breese, carpenter and farmer.

Mrs. Irene Cogan, North Liberty, wife of a retired farmer; Mrs. Elizabeth Greer, Iowa City housewife and former school teacher.

The jury will not be locked up during the trial, but Judge James P. Gaffney said he would "order segregation later if it becomes necessary."

He also warned jurors about reading newspaper stories of the trial, listening to radio news broadcasts or attending movies where the drama might be similar to the case.

Judge Gaffney took the occasion to speak to the press again. Pointing a stern finger at newsmen covering the trial, he said he would permit no eavesdropping at his law library door, where he said reporters had been hovering when he was in conference with attorneys.

Judge Gaffney warned that if any newspaper published anything about what took place in the library, "someone is going to be called here to account for it."

In thanking members of the jury panel for their service, the judge commented on the "patriotic" attitude of the jurors in Iowa. Jurors are paid $3 a day in Iowa.

Hamilton rebuked newsmen after a reporter attempted to interview Bednasek Wednesday. "If any of you fellows get around Benny and talk with him," Hamilton said, "I shall report it to the court (Judge Gaffney), and I will assure you there will be some action."

Hamilton referred to a statement quoting Bednasek as saying about Miss Jackson, "I think of her all the time, every minute—especially at night."

Hamilton also said there will be no insanity plea, despite Bednasek's two-week examination at the psychopathic ward of University hospitals.

"We never had a suspicion that he (Bednasek) is insane, and we have never intended to use that as a defense," Hamilton emphasized.

Captain of Big Mo Ordered to Stand Trial for Grounding

NORFOLK, VA. (AP)—The veteran navy captain who requested that he alone bear the blame for grounding the 45,000-ton battleship Missouri will be tried by general court martial March 27, along with two of his officers.

Capt. William D. Brown, 47, a veteran of 30 years in the navy, Cmdr. John R. Millett, the Missouri's operations officer, and Lt. Cmdr. Frank G. Morris Jr., the navigator, will be tried in separate court martials here beginning at 10 a.m. March 27.

The Big Mo went aground on Thimble Shoals in Hampton Roads last Jan. 17 while trying to run an acoustic range. There she sat for 15 days while red-faced admirals listened to the blithe suggestions from other services, notably the airforce.

It cost the navy $178,000 to haul the mighty Mo free and repair the damage.

Rear Adm. Allen E. Smith did not reveal his formal charges and specifications but said "the individual officers concerned... may release the charges and specifications in their respective cases at their own discretion."

The fourth defendant in the hearings, Lt. John E. Carr, combat operations center officer, was given a letter of reprimand which will go into his record.

Co-op Stockholders To Receive Refund On Original Shares

Stockholders in the married students' cooperative grocery store will receive 87 cents per share on the original $25 invested for each share of stock.

Richard Sweitzer, 102 Riverside park, member of a three-man board of trustees, said checks were sent to the 239 stockholders by mail late Thursday night.

The final act of the trustees will be to post financial statements, he said.

The statements will be posted in the offices of married students' housing areas and the office of student affairs when the final audit of the books is completed by the SUI business office, Sweitzer said.

Members of the board of trustees, besides Sweitzer, are William Middlebrook Jr., 105 Finkbine park, administrative resident at University hospitals and Sid Goldberg, who graduated in February.

The trustees were named Jan. 11 after stockholders voted 112 to 24 to dissolve the cooperative store, when they found the store was $3,240.02 in the red.

The co-op store, which was located in the limestone skating lodge just south of Riverside park, was started in 1946. It closed Jan. 18.

1,797 Students List No Religious Choice

About 1,797 SUI students have listed no religious preference, according to figures released Thursday through the SUI school of religion.

Figures were obtained from the registration forms each student fills out at the beginning of each new semester.

The Methodist faith led the list with 2,209 students, followed by 1,471 Catholic and 1,051 Presbyterian students.

Students in other faiths include 544 Lutheran (National Lutheran council), 448 Congregational, 360 Jewish, 355 other preferences (smaller faith groups), 347 Episcopalian and 284 Baptist.

Others include 284 Lutheran (Missouri Synod), 155 Disciples of Christ, 99 Evangelical and Reformed, 82 Unitarian, 61 Science, and 33 Nazarene.

Dean Dawson Appointed To Resources Council

Dean F. M. Dawson of the SUI college of engineering has been appointed to the Iowa natural resources council, Gov. William S. Beardsley announced Thursday.

Dawson succeeds L. C. Crawford, formerly of Iowa City, who resigned to devote more time to other business.

The council has final jurisdiction in the state over such matters as flood control and related problems.

Beauty Admires Prize-Winning Beard

THE WINNING BEARD ADMIRER BY MECCA PRINCESS Glesna Witherow, A2, Oak Park, Ill., belongs to Cyrus Spear, E4, Davenport. Spear raised the hirsute adornment for the Mecca beard-growing contest. Miss Witherow was one of the 12 Mecca princesses who selected the winning beards at the Mecca smoker Thursday night. Other beard winners were Willard Sayre, E1, Cedar Falls, fullest for freshmen and sophomores; Clyde McMillan, E1, Cedar Rapids, most unique; and David Jacobs, E3, Cedar Rapids, thinnest. Other highlights at the smoker were the presenting of the Theta Tau achievement award to Gerald Luecke, E4, Matteson, Ill., for being the "outstanding engineer" of the year, and the unveiling of the elusive Blarney stone which senior engineers found Wednesday.

College Student Guilty In Slaying of Secretary

LANCASTER, PA. (UP)—Edward Gibbs, Franklin and Marshall college senior, was convicted of first degree murder Thursday night in the bludgeoning-slaying of pretty college secretary Marian Baker.

The jury set the death penalty. The jury of seven men and five women returned the verdict, the first Lancaster county murder verdict in 28 years to carry the death penalty, after deliberating four hours and 27 minutes.

Gibbs, a 25-year-old married GI student, sighed and leaned forward as he heard the verdict.

"Guilty—Death" The jurors were polled immediately and each replied: "Guilty, first degree, death."

The commonwealth had demanded this verdict. The prosecutor called Gibbs a "ruthless slayer" and insisted he pay with his life for the killing of Miss Baker last Jan. 10.

Gibbs confessed the slaying near a lovers' lane in a summer resort section two miles from here, but he blamed his act on an "impulse."

"Something Snapped" He had said "something snapped inside me" when he choked the 21-year-old secretary and she blanked out until he found himself standing over her body with blood drenched hands and holding a lug wrench.

When Gibbs heard the verdict Thursday night, he turned white and slumped forward in his seat. His brow twitched nervously and he rubbed his face with his hand. Tears came to his eyes and he buried his face in his hands as the jurors solemnly announced their verdict of death.

Police at Ann Arbor, Mich., seat of the university, had been baffled for clues ever since the girl vanished from a dormitory Monday. The school learned of her whereabouts when she telephoned her parents that she was "all right" and ready to come home.

Ingrid Can't Return, Says U.S. Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Col.) said Thursday Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini cannot set foot on American soil because they are guilty of moral turpitude.

He said it would be "most unfortunate" if the American television industry "were to be unwise enough to deal with such immoral characters."

Johnson denounced Miss Bergman and Rossellini in a letter to Chairman Wayne Coy of the federal communications commission. He placed a copy of the letter in the senate record.

And he added: "Since both of these alien characters are guilty of moral turpitude, they cannot set foot on American soil under our immigration laws."

Miss Bergman, who recently gave birth to a son fathered by Rossellini, is the star in the picture "Stromboli" which is now showing in American theaters. The picture was directed by Rossellini.

St. Pat's Day U.S. Celebration Might Amaze Irish

Today's green beer and shamrock shindigs would no doubt bewilder St. Patrick, who was actually a very serious saint.

Citizens of the Emerald Isle are taken aback by our celebration of St. Patrick's day. In Ireland it is just a regular holy day with no extra trimmings.

"Yankee ingenuity" however, has given the day new twists. Americans who claim to be sons of Erin, and even those who don't wear the green and celebrate with gusto.

The traditional shamrock came into the limelight when St. Patrick, a missionary to his own country, picked one from the roadside, using the three leaves on one stem to illustrate the Holy Trinity.

Today Iowa City's florist shops are displaying shamrock plants in cream bricks embellished with hampocks of green pineapple ice cream are available, and artificial shamrocks flourish on many a large.

Menswear shops are prepared to further "a wearin' of the green" with large selections of green neck ties, bow ties and pocket handkerchiefs. The clerks are glad to include a bit of blarney in their sales talks too!

School "doesn't keep" today at St. Patrick's school and the students feel kindly toward the good saint for a day's vacation.

Good Irishmen will gather to exchange blarney and sing some of the good ole tunes like "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," and "My Wild Irish Rose."

"Sure, and 'tis a grand day!"

Local Lawyer Lauds City-Manager Plan

Council-manager-government "has worked and is working in cities of all sizes," Atty. Dan C. Dutcher told the Iowa City Rotary club Thursday.

A member of the local council-manager association's executive board, Dutcher said one of his main reasons for supporting the council-manager plan is that it has "proven itself in hundreds of other cities."

It is difficult to see the logic in the idea that the plan will not work here, Dutcher said. He then cited Dubuque and Cincinnati as successful examples of the system.

Mayor Preston Koser told the Iowa City Lions club Wednesday that the council-manager plan "isn't the best thing for Iowa City."

"It might possibly be advantageous in a small city of 5,000 that owned its own utilities," the mayor said.

LEGAL DEDUCTION
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Federal income tax clerks here puzzled over one deduction on a barely legible return Thursday before deciphering it as: "Food for kittens to catch the mouse in the store."

The claim of a foreign-born storekeeper was perfectly legal as a business expense, they said.

Tuition Raise Approved For Addition To Union

'I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a...'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Arthur Dunlap Jr., 20, stuck a gun in his father's face Thursday night and demanded his money. Incredulously, Dunlap asked, "You'd stick up your daddy?" His son only shouted, "Drop your billfold."

Mrs. Dunlap, 30, started up from her chair, hoping it was a joke. "Don't fool us with that gun, son," she said.

But Arthur turned the gun on her, took his 62-year old father's wallet and left the house. With him was a man unknown to his parents.

Dunlap told police that "My son robbed me... I didn't think he had had in him."

Senator, Peurifoy Swap Words on Red Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and the state department fired angry charges and counter charges Thursday in a running battle over McCarthy's allegations of Reds in the department.

McCarthy also turned his guns on the U.S. civil service loyalty review board, accusing the board of more than a year's delay in reviewing the case of one of his alleged pro-Communist suspects.

John E. Peurifoy, deputy undersecretary of state, opened the day's crossfire by charging McCarthy with reviving "dead, discredited, disproven charges" in his attacks on the department.

Charges Cover-Up The Wisconsin senator reported that Peurifoy was seeking to "cover up and confuse the issue."

"It would be amusing," McCarthy said, "if the situation were not so fraught with danger."

Meanwhile, Chairman Millard E. Eydings (D-Md.) said his special senate investigation committee will hear the state department's roving ambassador Dr. Phillip C. Jessup at a public session on Monday.

McCarthy has accused Jessup of showing "an unusual affinity for Communist causes" and said he once sponsored a subversive Communist front organization.

'No Substance' Jessup, newly returned from the Orient, has denounced McCarthy's charges as having "no substance at all."

Peurifoy, in a 400-word statement, said McCarthy's "techniques" have harmed the "conduct of the foreign relations of the U.S. government."

Peurifoy strongly defended John Stewart Service, U.S. career diplomat whom McCarthy had accused of being pro-Communist. Peurifoy declared:

"It's a shame and a disgrace that he (Service) and his family should have to face, once again, such humiliation, embarrassment and inconvenience, and I'd like to say that the sympathy and good wishes of the entire state department go out to them."

One-Inch Snowfall Here; Clear Roads

One inch of wet snow fell on Iowa City Thursday morning, according to Civil aeronautics administration officials at the airport.

Highway officials here reported trucks were out Thursday morning sanding and clearing the snowfall from the county highways.

Union Bus depot officials here reported no delay from the snow as most of the main highways cleared by the heavy traffic.

A high of 38 degrees was reported by CAA Thursday, but the mercury was expected to go even higher today. The weather bureau said the mercury might reach 50 degrees.

Crash Victim Resting

Walter Barkhurst, 36-year-old Atalissa farmer, was reported "resting easily" but still in "serious condition" at University hospitals Thursday afternoon from injuries suffered when he was thrown from his car.

The accident occurred Wednesday at 5:50 p.m. on a curve about one-quarter mile west of Scott's corner on highway 6.

ICC APPOINTMENT
WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate Thursday night confirmed the reappointment of Richard F. Mitchell of Iowa as a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Grateful to Architect
He also expressed his gratitude to Prof. George L. Horner, SUI architect. Without his help, he said, the project would have been impossible.

The fee boosts approved Thursday mark the first increase for resident students since 1938, SUI officials said. At that time fees increased from $40 to $50. In 1929 they increased from $45 to $48, and in 1936 they rose from $48 to $49.

In 1941 all fees were consolidated to make the present total of $65 a semester paid by resident students.

Ambrose said the board postponed action for about 10 days on proposed plans for a $750,000 Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children here.

Additional $3-billion for Marshall Plan aid to other countries and some $9-billion for permanent appropriations and trust funds. Congress must pass a separate bill approving more Marshall plan aid before additional cash is voted for that.

Appropriations committee members said the fund approved tentatively for the defense department is $12,839-million compared with the $13,028-million that was requested. They said the airforce would get around $4,600-million, the army and navy some $4-billion each, and the office of secretary of defense would get the rest.

Another Rise Okayed for Education Costs

Plans to finance the proposed $3-million addition to the Iowa Memorial Union by increasing SUI tuition fees were approved Thursday by the Iowa state board of education.

The board, meeting at the Oakdale sanitarium, also approved an additional increase in tuition to cover the "rising costs of education and of educational functions which are supported by student fees."

Beautiful Union "SUI will have one of the finest and most beautiful unions in the country when the addition is completed," Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts and the Union, said Thursday night.

Tuition for students in all colleges of the university, both resident and non-resident, will be increased $6 a semester and $3 a summer session to cover costs of the new construction.

The increase becomes effective beginning with the fall semester of 1951.

Seven Dollar Increase The second increase, to cover the rise in education costs, will amount to $7 a semester for all students and will become effective at the beginning of the fall semester this year.

Harper said the board's action "gives the necessary approval to go ahead with plans for the Union addition at once."

Construction, which will triple the present building's size, will begin in about a year, he said. Architectural plans are in the "final tentative" stage, he added, and the way is now open to complete the financial plans.

Direct Borrowing He said immediate financing will be done by "direct long term borrowing from financial institutions," rather than by the sale of bonds.

The securing of money for the project is in the hands of a special committee composed of Harper, Fred W. Ambrose, SUI business manager, and Ben Swisher, president of the Iowa Union corporation.

Harper said he had almost unanimous approval and support from SUI students, alumni and officials, Iowa City and state officials, and business men and groups since starting the drive which led to the board's approval Thursday.

He also expressed his gratitude to Prof. George L. Horner, SUI architect. Without his help, he said, the project would have been impossible.

House Group Votes Slash in Truman Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house appropriations committee has approved tentatively a four percent, $1,213-million cut in a big one-package money bill which contains much of President Truman's budget.

As the bill stands now, it would allow government agencies $29,113-million in new appropriations for the year starting July 1—nearly half of it for the defense department.

That points toward a budget that would put the treasury $3,920-million deeper into the red—unless there are larger cuts later or congress raises taxes.

Top O' the Morning —

There is a very large school of thought in these United States that thinks there are but two types of people: the Irish and those who wish they were Irish.

But today is the day the Irish really strut their stuff. Today is the day green neckties, shamrocks and sox take over the sartorial spotlight.

A hearty "top o' the morning t'ya" will probably replace the conventional "waddya say" greeting throughout this day.

Celebration of St. Patrick's Day will take on various forms on this campus. Classes will meet right on schedule, according to the university schedule.

But there are many students, who will claim Irish ancestry today, who have said they will go out looking for banshees and the other little people who inhabit the world — or so the Irish say.

Far away in the lush green valleys of old Killarney, when St. Patrick walked the earth, he could hardly have realized how widely celebrated his feast day would be.

Between driving the snakes out of the Emerald Isle and converting the Irish, St. Pat had little time to worry about an American celebration.

Anyway, we think it's a good idea to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. The only trouble is, there isn't enough recognition of the Irish.

High Oil Pressure —

A bill is now before the U.S. senate which exempts so-called independent producers of natural gas from rate regulations by the federal power commission. Sponsored by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) millionaire oil man, the bill would allow gas producers to charge consumers what the traffic would bear.

The Teapot Dome scandal will look like peanuts compared to what the "independent" gas companies are contemplating.

Kerr says the bill is designed to help the little man, the independent producer. The committee on interstate and foreign commerce dug up some interesting information on these little "independents." They include 35 companies who supply 72 percent of all the natural gas going into pipelines.

Among the "independents" are Standard, Gulf, Shell, Sinclair, Phillips, Texas and Cities Service. Kerr's own firm, the Kerr-McGee Oil company, owns 74 gas wells and more than 500 oil wells.

Based on calculations of known natural gas reserve, the bill would yield gas and oil companies about $10-billion. The oil leases involved in Teapot Dome were worth about $1-billion.

More important, the legislation would boost the gas bills of 40-million natural gas consumers by $130 to $550-million annually. Consumers in the midwest would have to shell out about $27-million more annually.

How did the house of representatives happen to pass the consumer gouging bill in the first place? Kerr has done some slick horse trading.

He has gone all out in favor of most administration legislation. In return he has cornered considerable support for his bill. He can count on support from the big natural gas producing states — Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Kansas, New Mexico and Mississippi. Senators from both parties who are susceptible to pressure from the big oil companies will also support the bill.

The bill can be defeated. Sen. James Murray (D-Mont), Paul Douglas (D-Ill) and Francis Myers (D-Pa) are leading the fight against it. Consumers and labor unions are beginning to oppose it.

Depressing Depressions —

Remember the old street — dancing days when couples "turned to the right" and changed partners gaily on Iowa City's streets?

It's a good thing those days are over or a considerable number of dancers might easily be lost in the depths of chuck holes.

Today, during the era of the automobile, the condition of streets often goes unnoticed or at least unmentioned while Henry Fourpally and his tire colleagues take a thorough beating from the cracks, crevices, holes and canyons which decorate Iowa City's byways.

If Fourpally could register a complaint, his tired voice would probably cry out in defiance, "For the love of all that's 'holey,' please consider Iowa City's byways."

The streets, including downtown intersections, are not alone neglected. Sidewalks, with poor drainage, cracked out pieces and depressions, are so unkempt in many sections of the city that pedestrians are forced to blaze trails across lawns and curbs to get out of mud.

The intersection of Iowa avenue and Duquesne street is disfigured by a chuck hole which extends from one curb to another — impossible to avoid it.

Iowa avenue, from Gilbert street east provides a similar situation with holes so large and passage so narrow that a motorist would have to drive on the center parkway to miss the depressions.

Thousands of dollars have been spent recently for new street lights, traffic signals, bridges, and other needed improvements and accommodations. Why, if so much can be spent for new equipment, can't the streets be kept in better repair?

Street and sidewalk maintenance is a major function of city government. They should be cared for.

Time-Wasting Maneuvers —

Congressmen must have a great deal of time on their hands these days. At least, they always can find time to investigate something or someone.

Sen. Edwin Johnson (D-Colo.), chairman of the senate commerce committee, Wednesday took time out to call for a mid-April airing of Hollywood filmland morals.

He erupted in the senate about Ingrid Bergman's romance, and demanded the movie industry be called on the carpet to explain why the morals of some of its stars aren't better.

It would seem that even the most inexperienced senator could make better use of his time. It is unlikely that the most sweeping congressional investigations along those lines would be worth the effort.

In lieu of a filmland investigation and other time-wasting maneuvers, Johnson and his colleagues might exert themselves a little more toward solving excise tax problems.

If congressmen could find out why wartime excise taxes are still in effect, and do something about them, most of their constituents would be much happier.

East Europe — 'Adenauer Style'

MAP OF EASTERN EUROPE would look like this, with France and west Germany one nation, under the proposal of German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that they unite. Tension in Germany is high currently over France's acquisition of 50 years of special privileges in the Saar, a feeling which spurred Adenauer's offer. The chancellor would leave a un'cn step open to participation by Benelux countries and Britain.

Suggested Course . . .

TO THE EDITOR: Fie upon Mr. Wolfson. He preaches positivism, and practices superstition. After attacking a member of the classics department for his views on the English language, he quickly proceeds to lament that the classics have failed "to recognize the inevitability of change and scientific method." Is this a sample of the inductive method which Mr. Wolfson espouses? How many books by representative classics scholars has he read? How many classics courses has he taken at this university or anywhere else? Is he certain that he has collected enough data for his probability curve? Or has he fallen a victim to a myth as rigid and irrational as the tenets of his special enemy, doctrinaire humanism? To test his proposition, Mr. Wolfson owes it to himself to register for at least a minor in classics. If he does, I predict two alternatives: either he will not have enough spare time left to keep up his barrage of letters, or they will become easier to read. Thomas G. Rosenmeyer Classics Instructor

Interpreting the News — Acheson Pushes 'Total Diplomacy' Campaign

By J.M. ROBERTS JR. AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Secretary Dean Acheson has launched his campaign to mobilize the American people for "total diplomacy" with a general explanation of far eastern policy insofar as it has been developed.

Missing from his San Francisco speech is any disclosure regarding concrete steps to save Indo-China or for recognition of the Chinese Communists. Russia is expected to make the latter hard to do.

For the most part the speech was a presentation of the U.S. attitude developed in a series of moves climaxed by the Bangkok conference, covering military, economic and technical aid, within the limits of American resources, to fit the individual situations of non-Communist countries.

A hint of possible future relations with Peiping is the statement that the U.S. stands ready to trade with China, under certain conditions.

With regard to Indo-China, the secretary seems to be walking softly pending negotiations with France. One of the key questions is whether military aid is to be handled through the French or through the Vietnam government directly. To be consistent with the traditional American attitude toward independence movements, the Vietnamese should be encouraged. Under the practicalities of the situation, which requires an all-out military campaign to put down the Communists of Ho Chih Minh, the arms should go to the French.

To reassure the eastern peoples that this is an expedient which does not deny their aspirations for independence, the French may be asked to give a formal if posidated guarantee of independence. Without such a guarantee, Bao Dai may get small response to his appeal for the Nationalists among Ho's forces to rejoin the Vietnam anti-Communist movement.

Opening his tour on the west coast, it was natural that Acheson should emphasize affairs in the far Pacific. It is believed, however, that in subsequent speeches the secretary will get around to a topic which he has discussed recently and which now more generally occupies the mind of the American public — the Russian peace offensive.

It seems obvious that on this point public opinion is less solidly behind state department policy than at any time since the cold war became generally recognized as such.

To regain the full public support it has had during most of the cold war, the administration is going to have to either modify its stand in this respect or else explain it better than it has so far.

There is room for belief that the United States could obtain a temporary truce with Russia by negotiating for two spheres of influence.

The state department has only scratched the surface of what it needs to do to achieve "total diplomacy," which means public unity of purpose such as has been produced heretofore only by such things as Pearl Harbor.

By GIL PEARLMAN

Songs have been written about that "Russian Winter," many short stories have been penned concerning the advantages of the Florida and California climate . . .

Why then is nothing ever mentioned about Iowa weather? We have both of the aforementioned elements, both within a narrow enough time length to be observed with ease. The cycle usually running "Russian Winter" one day and "California Spring" the next.

BERKELEY, CALIF. — There are seven ways Russia can show she wants peace and less world tension, Secretary of State Acheson declared Thursday.

Completing his second day of foreign policy addresses in this area, Acheson spelled out the points of greatest difference which he said must be reconciled between Russia and the non-Communist world "if the two systems are to live together, if not in mutual respect, at least in reasonable security."

He held out little hope that the Russians would comply, but listed these things Russia could do:

1. Work with the west on peace treaties for Germany, Japan, and Austria which won't turn them into Soviet satellites.
  2. Stop using force or its threat on existing satellites. Let them be countries in their own right.
  3. Stop obstructing the United Nations and let it become, in Prime Minister Stalin's words, a serious instrument for building international peace and security.
  4. Join in seeking "realistic and effective" controls for atomic weapons and general arms limitations. "We believe," Acheson said, "that an authority could be established which would not be controlled or subject to control by either ourselves or the Soviet Union."
  5. Stop trying to undermine other countries through Communism.
  6. Quit treating diplomats as "sinister," and "criminals."
  7. Let the Russian people know what goes on outside Russia.
- These are the things, Acheson said, "which, while leaving much yet to do, would give the world new confidence in the possibility of peaceful change."

you will discover Indian summer outside.

If not . . . one will get you five . . . follow the same process and you will find a winter day equal to anything the Moscow press professes.

I'M JUST A GAMBLER at heart, I guess, but I feel fairly safe with this bet.

Anyway, 2-1 says the weather won't be the same as on Thursday . . . or Wednesday or Tuesday. Never, in the written chronicles of Iowa history has there been recorded two days of identical climatic nature.

Some say that Iowa weather changes faster than a woman's mind. This, I sincerely doubt. If it were true, the snow couldn't hit the ground before the warmth of summer took control of things.

But I don't doubt . . . that if you don't like the weather at any given moment in Iowa . . . all you have to do is stand outside for approximately fifteen minutes . . . and it is sure to change.

When it does change to your satisfaction — run inside with visions of same in your little mind, for it is certain not to last.

I GUESS THAT'S why stories or songs have not been jotted down carelessly about this heavenly Iowa climate. So many elements and so many changes are involved, that to do so would entail a set of encyclopedias and a score equivalent to five musical comedies.

Besides, when one talks about Iowa weather, the language one must use as proper adjectives could never be printed . . . or sung.

The official rumor reveals that upon the slightest urge, McNally often sneaks into the weather bureau and plays solitaire with the bureau's charts . . . mixing them beyond comprehension.

SUI Receives $12,000 Grant

A $12,000 annual grant was awarded to SUI last week by the children's bureau of the U.S. department of labor.

The fund, to be administered through the Iowa services for crippled children, will be distributed in the form of scholarships to a new graduate training program in audiology and speech pathology. Dr. R.R. Rembolt, director of the services at SUI, said Thursday.

The new course will feature professional training and related clinical aspects. Included will be specific courses of study, clinical work in speech and otolaryngology and some field work, Rembolt said.

It will be conducted under the joint direction of Dr. Dean M. Lierle, head of SUI's otolaryngology department, and Prof. Wendell Johnson, director of the SUI speech clinic.

Eleven $100-per-month scholarships, awarded under the new program, are effective from last February 1, when the program unofficially began, until July 1.

Scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic ability, ability to cooperate with others in allied phases of the work and interest in speech and hearing work.

Also considered is the likelihood that the training will be used in public service, or administrative or university teaching positions rehabilitating persons with speech or hearing disorders.

Scholarships are not limited to Iowa residents, Rembolt said. Applications may be made at the speech clinic office or in the department of otolaryngology.

About six scholarships are expected to be continued after July 1.

The first 11 scholarships were awarded to the following graduate students:

Darline B. Moore, Maxwell Guy P. Jones, Burlingame, Calif.; Walter W. Amster, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Jean Parker, 418 S. Van Buren street; Mary Frances Dahl, Cedar Falls.

Mildred N. Smith, Kansas City, Mo.; M.W. Buck, 108 Stadium park; Ben S. Andrews, West Cornwall, Conn.; Loida M. Farrow, Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Carolyn Gustafson, Chicago, and Arnold J. Golub, Boston.

Sure, and It's Shamrocks

HERE'S A 'BIT OF GREEN' for St. Patrick's Day. Ted Kienle, 620 E. Church street, displays some shamrocks as shown in a local greenhouse. The "flowers that bloom in spring" have nothing on the Shamrock in respect to popularity because, according to Kienle, approximately 1,000 plants are sold every year to Iowa City customers. He added that the glorified clovers are sown in January in order to be ready for March 17 when they are purchased for personal decorations, parties and the "wearing of the green."

Party Line

HILLCREST ASSOCIATION — An informal party will be held in the dining room of Hillcrest, men's dormitory, from 9 to 12 p.m. today. Theme of the party will be "Shamrock Sweepstakes." Music will be furnished by Leo Cortimiglia and his orchestra. Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ballantyne, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Copeland and Mrs. Marie Swords.

DELTA CHI — An informal St. Patrick's Day party will be held in the Delta Chi chapter house, 309 N. Riverside drive, from 8 to 12 p.m. Saturday. Pledges are in charge of the party. Chaperons will be Mrs. Frank Silver and Sgt. and Mrs. Glen Howard.

PHI EPSILON PI — A "32nd Precinct Party" will be held in the chapter house of Phi Epsilon Pi from 9 to 12 p.m. Saturday. Guests are asked to attend in appropriate costumes. Prison food will be served. Chaperons will be Mrs. Sonia Sands, Mrs. Viola Heidenreich, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Glassman and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Dicker.

SIGMA NU — The annual "hotel party" will be held in the Sigma Nu chapter house, 630 N. Dubuque street from 8 to 12 p.m. Saturday. Leo Cortimiglia and his orchestra will play. Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Vic Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Running and Mrs. Arthur Guernsey.

Professor to Speak At Science Meeting

Prof. Stanley Wawzonek, SUI chemistry department, will speak Saturday at a science conference at Iowa State Teacher's college, Cedar Falls.

The conference is for elementary and secondary teachers.

Wawzonek will speak at a physical science sectional meeting Saturday morning on "Polarography, A New Tool in Chemistry," he said.

Prof. F. E. Brown, Iowa State college chemistry department, is scheduled to speak at the same meeting on "Accelerators Used in Atomic Study."

Wawzonek, Brown and Prof. Ira C. Davis, science education, University of Wisconsin, will participate in a roundtable discussion of teaching problems in the afternoon.

Community volunteer services will be discussed by Mrs. George Stoddard, wife of the president of the University of Illinois. The session will be held from 3:30 to 4:20 p.m. in the Senate chamber.

The homemaking section will feature Mrs. Gertrude Miner, instructor of home economics at Cornell college, Mt. Vernon.

Community volunteer services will be discussed by Mrs. George Stoddard, wife of the president of the University of Illinois. The session will be held from 3:30 to 4:20 p.m. in the Senate chamber.

Concluding the two-day conference will be a coffee hour from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. sponsored by the home economics department. The coffee hour will be held in the department dining room in Macbride hall and is open to all participants of the conference.

The secretarial division of Vocational conference will be discussed from 10:30 to 11:20 a.m. in the Senate chamber with Gretchen Vanderschmidt as featured speaker.

Director of Miss Vanderschmidt's secretarial school in St. Louis, she is also a lecturer in business correspondence at St. Louis university.

Prof. Wayne Vasey, director of the SUI school of social work, will lead the social services discussion from 10:30 to 11:20 a.m. in the House chamber. Prof. Vasey has taught at the New York school of social work and the University of California. A research associate for the Russell Sage foundation, Prof. Vasey was also county welfare director of Contra Costa county, Cal., and assistant regional representative for the bureau

Irish Stew's the Dish for St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick's day can be a meal-time celebration.

Mrs. Stephen O'Brien Jr., 208 Stadium park, has a menu that will follow the St. Patrick's day theme throughout the meal. Her husband is a senior in medicine from Mason City.

To start out the celebration she suggests a green salad and a main course of Irish stew.

Green Salad
1 package of lime jello
1-2 No. 2 can or crushed pineapple
1-2 envelope of gelatine
1 package of cream cheese
1-4 pint of whipped cream
nuts and olives

Dissolve jello and pour one cup into a mold and chill then add the gelatine to remainder of the jello and add the pineapple. Fork beat the cream cheese and add it to jello mixture. When cool add whipped cream and a few nuts and olives. Decorate with salad dressing, parsley or watercress for green effect. This serves five persons.

Irish Stew
2 lbs. shoulder or neck of lamb
4 cups water
6 halved potatoes
8 small onions peeled
1 1-2 teaspoon salt
1-3 teaspoon pepper

Cut meat into convenient pieces for serving. Place in sauce pan, add water, cover and let simmer three quarters of an hour. Add vegetables and seasonings and continue cooking very gently until tender or about one hour or longer. This serves four persons.

Magic Show Scheduled At Horace Mann School

Horace Mann Parent - Teachers association will sponsor a "magic show" at 3:30 p.m. today in the school auditorium.

Philip Marsh, A2, Iowa City, will present a program of sleight-of-hand and illusions called "Magic Unlimited."
Tickets will be available at the door.

Seven Measles Cases Reported by City Clerk

A 72-year-old woman, Mrs. Ed X. Boyles, 229 Melrose court, Thursday reported she had mumps, according to records in the office of City Clerk George J. Dohrer.

Only seven new cases of measles — fewer than for any other day this week — were reported here Thursday, bringing the total for March to 178. February's epidemic total was 398.

Three cases of mumps and four of chicken pox also have been reported here this month.

Roosevelt School Tots To Give Musical Show

A musical program will be held at Roosevelt grade school at 3:30 p.m. today, Mrs. Alan Lehman, principal, said Thursday.

Second and third grade pupils will sing a group of songs from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel."
They will also do the "Dance of Greeting" from "Hansel and Gretel," Mrs. Lehman said.

Art Classes Create 'Storybook' Curtains

New curtains, decorated with storybook characters, have been created for the Junior high school library by City high school art classes, Esther Reinking, librarian at Junior high, said Wednesday.

City high art students, under the direction of Mrs. William Chenoweth, designed the pattern on the basis of books most popular at Junior high school.

Stenciled figures include Robin Hood, Black Beauty, Robinson Crusoe, Huck Finn, Little Women and Pecos Bill.

The curtains themselves were made by Miss Reinking from natural colored denim. The pattern is done in green and brown.

Chiefs to Meet Ottumwa in Finals

By DON MOYER

A last minute basket gave Keokuk the necessary margin Thursday night to edge its Little Six rival Burlington, 46-44.

The Chiefs now face Ottumwa, 1949 state champions, in a sub-state final round Saturday night in the fieldhouse.

Drive - In Wins

The winning basket came on a drive-in shot by Guard John Ward with one minute, five seconds remaining. The Grayhounds from Burlington attempted to tie up the score, lost the ball and Keokuk then went into a stall for the remaining 40 seconds.

Keokuk, which trailed, 36-31, at the start of the final period, evened the count three times, at 40, 42, and 44 before it finally was able to score the winning basket.

The two schools, who split in regular season play and tied for third place in the Little Six conference, played a close game all the way.

Burlington held the widest margin during the game as they led the Chiefs, 15-7, at the end of the first quarter. Keokuk came back fast in the second period and at the half had gained a two-point lead, 24-22, after tying the score three times.

Ward Leads Chiefs

Four quick baskets by Forward Don Close in the closing minutes of the third quarter gave the Grayhounds a 34-31 lead as the third quarter ended. It was Close who led the Burlington scoring with 12 points, eight of them coming in the last half.

Ward, who hit for the game-winning basket, tallied 13 points for the Chiefs, followed by Forward Lou Younkun with 10.

One-Time Cedar Rapids Pitcher Dies in West

SAN RAFAEL, CALIF. (AP) — Norbert George Kleinke, 38, one-time baseball player, died Thursday of a heart attack on a private fishing yacht off the Marine coast. Kleinke came from Houston, Tex., in 1940 and played several seasons with the Sacramento Pacific Coast league team. Earlier he pitched for a Cedar Rapids, Iowa, club, and another at Elmira, N.Y., where he played for three seasons. He went to Columbus in 1938.

Schedule Coaches' Basketball Clinic

Coaches in Iowa City for the state boys' tournament will be welcome to attend a basketball clinic in the Hawkeye fieldhouse sponsored by the Iowa department of athletics.

The clinic, set for March 23 and 24, will be under the direction of Bucky O'Connor, basketball head coach and Rollie Williams, assistant director of athletics and Iowa's head cage coach between 1929 and 1943.

Sessions are scheduled for 9 a.m. on both days and the affair will close Friday, March 24, with a practical demonstration by the Iowa varsity team on the court from 2 to 3 p.m.

Coaches are invited by O'Connor and Williams to submit various game situations to be discussed. It is the first time that the athletic department has sponsored a basketball clinic during the final tournament.

Billy Herman Injured In Base Path Collision

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP) — Billy Herman was painfully, but not seriously injured in a base path collision during the New York Giants-Oakland Oaks exhibition baseball game here today.

The Giants won the contest, 4-3, with a tally in the ninth inning. Herman, former Chicago, Brooklyn and Boston major league player, crashed into the Giant's Monte Irwin during a force play at second base in the eighth inning.

He was knocked unconscious and removed from the field on a stretcher. At St. Monica's hospital, where he was examined by Dr. Anthony Palermo, team physician for the Giants, his condition was pronounced satisfactory.

GETTING SET for a rebound is Ron Veit of Maquoketa, in Thursday night's Class A sub-state game against Albia in the Iowa fieldhouse. Reaching in to fight for the ball is Larry Coady (31), Albia center. Watching is Jim Roan (28) of Albia and Bob Mitchell (12) of Maquoketa. Albia won, 59-33.

Bradley, CCNY in NIT Finals

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley's top-ranked favorites gained the finals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament along with red hot City College of New York Thursday night by humbly where there was plenty of elbow room. Gerry Calabrese, a gifted set shot artist himself, and big Bob Zawoluk, the 6-foot, 6-inch center, were the St. John's boys who kept things interesting.

First Time in Finals

For Bradley, this is the first time it has gained the finals in five times the school has played in the invitation. CCNY, in the tournament on three other occasions, also is making its first appearance in the finals.

The picture looked anything but promising for the nation's No. 1 basketball team when St. John's left the floor at the half leading, 37-36, and Bradley went to intermission with its stellar floor man, Gene Melchiorre, holding four fouls.

Defeats Maquoketa In Sub-State, 59-33

By OZZIE JENSEN

An 18-point barrage in the second quarter Thursday night gave Albia the necessary advantage to grind out a 59-33 victory over Maquoketa in the semi-final round of the sub-state tournament in the Iowa fieldhouse.

The victory earned Albia a crack at Les Hipple's Marion Indians in the class A finals Saturday night. Albia will match its 17-6 record against Marion (23-1), currently riding a 21-game winning streak.

First Trip for Winners

It will be the first trip to the state finals for the winners. Hipple sent his charges as far as the sub-state finals last year before dropping a two-point decision to Montezuma.

This is the third straight year that Coach Melvin Bonwell has advanced his Albia club to within one game of the state finals but he has never taken a team to the state.

The ball game was erratic throughout, though Albia was a sure winner after the first period. The clubs battled on even terms during the first five minutes, then Albia pulled away to lead 14-8 at the end of the first period.

32-10 at Halftime

Maquoketa just didn't have it in the second period and Albia romped to a 32-10 halftime advantage, out-scoring the Cardinals, 24-2, in the last 11 minutes of the first half.

Albia, taking mostly long shots and seldom trying for set-ups, was hot and hit a torrid percentage while its pressing man - to - man defense worried the cold Maquoketa club into taking desperation shots from far out.

In the third period the two clubs battled on even terms again.

Philly Pitcher Hurt

CLEARWATER, FLA. (AP) — Russ Meyer, Philadelphia Phillies' brilliant right hand pitcher, has a fractured elbow on his pitching arm and Thursday was sent to Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore.

Phillies' President Bob Carpenter disclosed Thursday that Meyer cracked the elbow in Wednesday's exhibition game against the New York Yankees. Meyer complained of the injury after hurling in the Yankee game which the Phillies lost, 23-6.

Hot Dog, Here Come the Globetrotters

For the first time in the history of Iowa athletics students, townspeople and basketball fans in the Iowa City area are going to be able to see the Harlem Globetrotters on an A-1 basketball floor and where thousands can attend the game—the Iowa fieldhouse.

The famous Globetrotters, by far the best known traveling professional basketball team in existence will play a game—and put on a show—here, April 29th. This is the real Globetrotter team, not one of the many traveling teams that play under the name "Globetrotters."

This is the team managed and promoted by Abe Saperstein, the man who has done so much to help Negro baseball and basketball. By the millions of persons who have seen and enjoyed Globetrotter basketball since Saperstein organized the team 23 seasons ago it is safe to say he's done more to curb discrimination than all the books and movies that have been produced on the subject.

The game here, which, incidentally, will carry a flat $1.20 general admission price, will be part of a doubleheader, all four teams being part of the Globetrotter troupe. In the first game the Philadelphia Sphas, champs of the American basketball league, meet the Toledo Mercurys. The Globetrotters play the Indiana Clark Twins.

All four teams are on a coast-to-coast tour and will play in Wichita, Kan., the night before the games in the fieldhouse. Many of the players are former college stars of one kind or another, except the Globetrotters, which, if you've got what it takes, is a basketball school in itself. No eligibility rules to contend with.

Saperstein just doesn't scour the country for a fellow who can make baskets. He must have a specialty—dribbling, passing, drop-kicking or end runs with a basketball. But in addition he has to be the caliber ball player who can play any professional team in the country on better than even terms. He can't fail when the Minneapolis Lakers happen to be the opposition.

In 23 seasons the team has done fairly well: 3,184 victories, 235 defeats and one tie (which probably occurred when the lights went out). Last season the Trotters won 146 and lost five, including a winning streak of 114 at one point.

A clue to the Globetrotters' popularity is their one Madison Square Garden appearance this year, played before 19,000 fans, after 10,000 were turned away. The game was scheduled on a week's notice and still the turnout crowd. The record crowd for our fieldhouse here is 16,000.

The four-team troupe brings its own halftime entertainment, too. And you can rest assured there will be at least one football game, a drop-kick basket and passing and ball handling that will make your mouth drop open.

The three forwards, three guards and two centers which make up the Globetrotters are a story in themselves. We'll say something about Goose Tatum, Sweetwater Clifton and a guy from Horse Cove, Ky., in a day or so.

For now we want to congratulate the department of athletics and anyone else who was connected with getting the game. It's a great idea, you hear about the Globetrotters here but rarely get a chance to see them.

Outhouse Twins Win Exhibition Baseball

SIoux CITY (AP) — Gale and Gayus Outhouse, fighting twins from South Sioux City, Neb., won their co-feature bouts on a six-fight card here Thursday night.

Gale dropped Lewis Crumes of Ottumwa for counts in the first and second rounds and earned a decision. Gayus took a technical knockout victory over Jack McGinnis of Cedar Rapids in 2:47 of the third round.

Nine Iowa Gymnasts Entered in Big Ten Championships Here

A nine-man Iowa gymnastics squad has been entered in the Big Ten championship meet scheduled for the fieldhouse March 25.

Listed as Hawkeye entrants by Coach Dick Holzapfel were Bill Harris, Clair Jennett, Bill Lewis, Frank Engels, Don Casady, Paul Williams, Kenny McKenna, Dick Turchin and Earle Duggan.

Iowa hopes to score well in the trampoline with Harris as the star. Harris, who is nursing a slight knee injury, will be able to compete in the tourney.

Hawks Won in 1937
Holzapfel, who is meet manager, said that the tournament will be the first here since the Iowans took first place honors in 1937. The Hawkeyes are competing in gymnastics this season for the first time since 1942.

Three Big Ten powers were among the first entrants received by Holzapfel. They are Michigan, seeking its third straight title; Illinois, led by a national champion, and Michigan, with defending titlists in three events.

Strongest Threat
Illinois is regarded as the strongest threat to Minnesota's supremacy. The nine-man Illinois team has Irvin Bedard, twice National AAU tumbling champion. He was a member of the two-man team which last year won the NAAU title for Navy Pier, branch of the University of Illinois. Illinois has defeated Minnesota in a dual meet this season.

Other prospective Illinois stars include Gay Hughes, second in the Big Ten trampoline last season; Joe Fina, tied for second in tumbling and third in parallel bars, and Frank Dolan, second in the all-around competition.

Minnesota's star is Herb Loken, who has entered five events. He is the defending Big Ten side horse champion. Loken also took second on the parallel bars last year. Howard Swanson, second in the high bar last year, is another potent Gopher in that event and the all-around.

Michigan, the only undefeated gym team in the conference meet with five victories, is led by Captain Pete Barthell. Versatile Barthell won the parallel bars and tumbling titles last year for Michigan. Ed Buchanan returned to defend his trampoline title also.

Wolverine Hopes
Other Wolverine hopefuls include sophomore sensation Connie Etti, top performer on the parallel bars; Bob Checkley and Jeff Knight. Coach Newt Loken's charges defeated Ohio State last Saturday, 61-34.

Only Purdue, which doesn't have a gym team, and Michigan State, ineligible to compete until 1951, will not be represented at the conference tournament.

Ohio State, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Indiana have also sent in their entries making the list of teams for the conference meet total eight.

The eight schools have named a total of 60 athletes for the affair. The seven events on the program will be divided into morning and afternoon sessions in the north gym of the fieldhouse.

Slower, But Still Effective: Newhouser
LAKELAND, FLA. (AP) — Can a star speedball pitcher lose something off his fast ball and still remain as good as ever?

Hal Newhouser, great Detroit lefthander, answers "yes" and points to himself as an example.

Gains in Experience
"I'm not as fast as I used to be," he admitted, "but I believe I'm as good a pitcher now as I was back in 1944-45-46 when I won 80 games. What I lost in speed I've gained in experience, greater knowledge of the batters and improved control."

It is difficult to believe that this quiet-spoken veteran is the same hot-tempered, erratic kid who joined the Tigers in the fall of 1939 fresh from the sandlots. Today, Hal not only is one of the top stars of his profession but one of the best mannered and off the field.

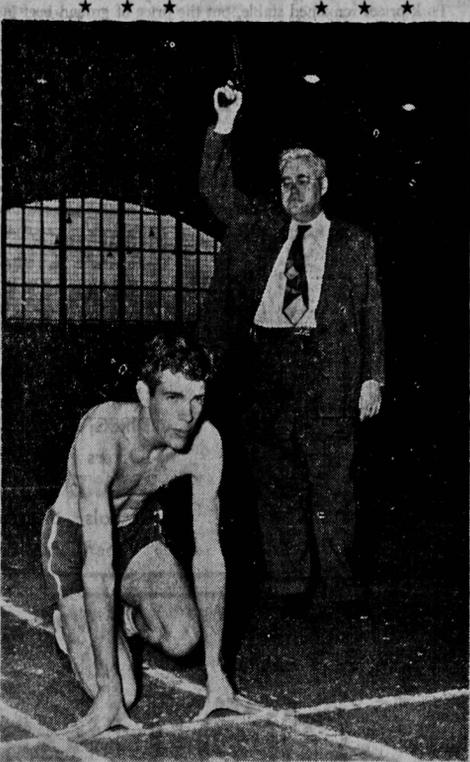

In ten full seasons, Newhouser has racked up 170 victories, second only to Cleveland's Bob Feller among the American league's biggest winners. He won 18 games last season. It marked the second time in three years, the tall-curly-haired hurler failed to reach 20.

Same Ability
"I had the same ability," he said, "it's just that I didn't get the breaks. I lost four games by one run and was taken out with the score tied in three others. We won those games, but another pitcher received the credit."

Pancho to Rest
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, freshman flash of professional tennis, explained Thursday why he will sit out his sophomore season.

"I'm pooped out and tired of looking at tennis balls," sighed Gonzales, who is in his first year of the play-for-pay game as a member of Bobby Riggs' tennis troupe.

Indiana State Advances to NAIB Semi-Finals
KANSAS CITY, MO. (AP) — A veteran tournament team from Indiana State Teachers college at Terre Haute stamped itself a title contender Thursday night as it won easily its quarterfinal NAIB tournament game, 61-39, from Baldwin - Wallace of Berea, Ohio.

Using some of the boys who played Indiana State's second place team in the tournament two years ago and who saw service again last year, the Terre Haute team displayed plenty of polish and ball control and unleashed an all-around attack which moved with the precision of a fine watch movement.

Jim Berger paced Indiana with 19 points. Baldwin - Wallace, which in two previous games in the tourney hit for a total of 166 points, stayed fairly close through the first half, trailing 29-23 at intermission.

Harlem Globetrotters Slated to Play Here

— For Spring Meets

The Original Harlem Globetrotters, Negro team which features basketball fancy variety, will appear in the Iowa fieldhouse March 29 as one of four teams in an exhibition double-header.

Iowa Athletic Director Paul Brechler said Thursday that the double-header, sponsored by the department of athletics, will feature the Globetrotters against the Indiana Clark Twins, national family champions.

Preliminary Game
The first game of the twin bill will pit the Philadelphia Spas, American Professional League champions, against the Toledo Mercurys, a team with numerous former midwestern college stars.

The Negro team, in its 23rd season, has a record of 3,184 victories against only 235 defeats and one tie. Last year the Trotters won 146 of 151 games and played to a million spectators. Their most treasured victory last season was over George Mikan and the Minneapolis Lakers before more than 21,000 in the Chicago stadium.

Two of the best-known stars with the Globetrotters are (Sweetwater) Clifton, 6-foot, 7-inch center, whose huge hands enable him to perform amazing ball-handling feats, and Capt. (Babe) Pressley, playing guard for his 13th season. Pressley, a giant showman, specializes in passing.

Seven Titles
The Philadelphia Spas have won seven titles in 16 years of play in the American league. They have such men as Mike Bloom, former Temple player; Joe Greenberg, formerly of LaSalle, and Red Klotz, one-time Villanova star.

Three sets of twins make up the Clark team, now touring for the second year.

Pep Favored to Keep Featherweight Crown
NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Pep, the great little featherweight champion, ruled a big 5 to 18 choice Thursday to repel France's confident Ray Famechon in their 15-round title bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

A crowd of more than 15,000, including thousands of Pep's loyal legions from Connecticut, and a gate of over $70,000 is predicted by the promoting International Boxing club. The fight starts at 9 p.m. (Iowa time). It will be broadcast by A.B.C. and televised by N.B.C.

Babe Leads
AUGUSTA, GA. (AP) — Babe Dicksion Zaharias came back to the golf wars Thursday with a superb par 72 to snag a first-round lead in the important Women Titleholders tournament.

Un-Expectant Ma Abandons Day-Old Twins

SOUTH BEND, IND., (AP) — A barefoot widow who abandoned twin blue-eyed girls a day after she bore them said Thursday she hadn't even known she was pregnant.

"I tell you, it was a shock when I woke up and found I had twins," said Mrs. Margie Johnson, 39.

She added that she has "absolutely no interest" in the future of the twins.

Mrs. Johnson greeted reporters in her bare feet when they found her in a one-room apartment, where she said she has been "keeping house" for a truck driver.

She left St. Joseph hospital at Mishawaka Tuesday after refusing to look at the twins and signing away her rights to them. She said girls were "too hard to bring up."

Mishawaka welfare officials were going ahead with plans to put the twins out for adoption. Mrs. Johnson didn't care to name them, so they have been dubbed "A" and "B."

The widow, who was married in Kentucky at the age of 13, said she was not interested in the future of her babies.

"How could I take care of them?" she asked.

She bore them Monday after she fainted in a Mishawaka restaurant and police took her to the hospital.

"Everything was a blank between the time I fainted in the restaurant and woke up in the hospital," she said. "Nobody was more surprised than me when they told me I had twins."

She emphasized that her late husband was the father of the twins. She said his name was Euel Johnson and that he was killed last Dec. 19 in an auto accident at Herrin, Ill.

Mrs. Johnson said she was born in Hancock county, Ky., and that her parents live at Dawson Springs, Ky.

Welfare officials at Mishawaka said scores of couples had offered to adopt the twins.

Brain Hemorrhage Fatal to IC Widow

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Smith, widow of Dr. Fred Smith, former head of the SUI department of internal medicine, are pending the arrival of her family.

Mrs. Smith was found dead at about 5 p.m. Wednesday in her apartment at 10 Woolf avenue by neighbors who had heard water running and noticed the lights in the apartment had been on all day.

The cause of her death was listed as cerebral hemorrhage.

Surviving are two sons, Frederick Richard, Sante Fe, N.M., and James Herrick, Berkeley, Calif., and a daughter, Mrs. Don Newland, Little Rock, Ark.

The body is at the McGovern funeral home.

BAREFOOT MRS. MARGIE ANDERSON JOHNSON, the woman who walked out of a Mishawaka, Ind., hospital 24 hours after giving birth to twin girls, said again she does not want the children and is "absolutely not interested in their future." Mrs. Johnson said she had no idea that she was pregnant. She identified the father as her late husband, Euel Johnson, who was killed last Dec. 19 in an automobile accident. The welfare department is caring for the babies temporarily. Mrs. Johnson is now living in a shabby one-room apartment in South Bend, Ind.

Col. Jenna Endorses World Government

Col. William W. Jenna, head of SUI's military science and tactics department, told Johnson county United World Federalists Wednesday night, "that any improvement over what we have is a step in the right direction," in endorsing UWF plans for world government.

Jenna made the statement at a UWF "Study Meeting" in which common questions of world government were discussed. The meeting was held in the Iowa City Community building.

Chapter members saw a UWF film entitled, "How to Conquer War," and heard a progress report by Attorney J. Newman Toomey, prior to the open forum discussion led by David Stanley, A3, Muscatine.

Honors Awarded Advanced Cadets

Advanced senior ROTC cadets, who received the distinguished military student award, and advanced junior ROTC cadets, who are in the upper one-third of their military class, have been awarded white and red identification ribbons, respectively, SUI military department officials said.

To be eligible for the distinguished military student award, a cadet must be in the upper one-third of his military class and also be passed by all his other instructors.

Local Price Survey — Cost-of-Living Drops Slightly

The cost of food items included in The Daily Iowan's market basket survey decreased slightly this week.

The cost-of-living index for a family of three is $15.30. Pork prices remained stable, but the price of ground beef increased 5 cents to 54 cents a pound.

Peas were down 3 cents a can, sugar dropped 2 cents for the 5-pound sack and Kraft Velveta cheese was off 8 cents for the 2-pound box.

Prices gathered in a survey of seven Iowa City stores are compared below with last week's prices.

Item	This Week	Last Week
1 lb. Iowa Brand Butter	58	57
1 doz. grade A eggs	35	35
1 lb. Hills Bros. coffee	79	79
1 lb. med. size oranges	45	49
10 lb. potatoes	48	49
10 lb. Gold Medal flour	16	16
No. 2 can Van Camp pork and beans	17	17
No. 2 can Tenderwest peas	16	16
No. 2 can Del Monte sliced peaches	27	27
1 can Campbell tomato soup	11	11
1 lb. spry	29	29
1 lb. can red sockeye salmon	69	69
Large size Ivory flakes	26	26
1 lb. Cold Medal flour	39	39
1-1 lb. 4 oz. Baker's choc. (unsweet.)	39	39
2 lb. Kraft Velveta cheese	79	87
1 lb. Armour lard	16	16
1 lb. ground beef	54	49
1 lb. choice round steak	79	79
1 lb. center cut pork chops	65	64
1 lb. 1st grade bacon	59	59
1 20 oz. loaf white bread	17	17
1 qt. grade A milk	17	17
Index Totals
This Week	$15.30
Last Week	$15.37

The Daily Iowan market basket INDEX is not an added total of the prices listed above. That is, the index figure takes into consideration both the costs of the items listed above and the amount of each item the student family of three uses in one week. The amount of each item the family of three uses in one week was arrived at in a survey conducted in cooperation with the university bureau of economic and business research.

Boy Hurt Slightly In Street Accident

Robert Danielson, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Danielson, 1322 Muscatine avenue, was injured slightly in an automobile-pedestrian accident Wednesday evening, police reported.

The child suffered scratches and bruises on his legs and ankles, but was not taken to a hospital, his father said.

The accident, involving a car driven by Wilford H. Emmons, 1137 E. Burlington street, occurred in the 1300 block on Muscatine avenue, police said.
