18 Candidates File For Student Council

Eighteen candidates — 11 men and seven women — have filed petitions for the four student council positions to be filled at the all-campus elections March 29.

Two men and two women will be elected as delegates-at-large to one year terms on the council.

Gaige Walters, C4, Harlan, chairman of the all-campus election committee, listed 12 regulations governing campaign expenditures and publicity.

All campaign literature must be approved by the President's office before it is posted on university property, he said.

$25 Limit

The limit on campaign expenditures will be $25 and the election committee plans to check each candidate's expense account before the election, Walters said.

Those running for student council are: Don Guthrie, A3, Iowa City; James Bullard, A1, Beaver; Craig Harper, A3, Iowa City; Joy Wilson, A3, Ottumwa; Margi Foster, A3, Cedar Rapids; Kae Lynch, A3, Des Moines.

Nancy Adler, A2, Winnetka, Ill.; Louise Bekman, A2, Ottumwa; Richard Turney, A2, Oelwein; Barbara Campbell, A3, Clinton; Edward Diekmann, E2, Ottumwa; Bill Shields, C3, Newton.

Bill Ebert, C3, Mt. Pleasant; Darrell Croost, A3, Sioux City; Marjorie Irwin, A2, DeWitt; Bob Goode, A2, Des Moines; Bob Bryan, A3, Moline, Ill.; Bob McCarville, A2, Jefferson.

Election Eve Rally

These candidates will wind up their campaign with an election eve rally in Macbride auditorium, March 28, at 7:30.

Each candidate will be allowed five minutes speaking time that night, Walters said.

The student board of publication candidates are: for two-year term, two to be elected, Harry Grove, A2, Waterloo and Robert Coeboon, A1, Ames.

For one-year term, one to be elected, Elizabeth Thomsen, A3, Red Oak; Dean Fritch, C3, Dora; Tony Huebsch, A3, McGregor; Shirley Wood, A3, Davenport.

Czechoslovakia Expels Last Vatican Emissary

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA (AP) — The Vatican's last representative in Czechoslovakia left the country Saturday under an expulsion order.

Shortly afterward, Alexei Ceplka, justice minister and minister of church affairs, told the national assembly that Roman Catholic church leaders are engaged in anti-state activity and said they will be paid back "measure for measure."

INGRID'S RETURN UPHELD

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ingrid Bergman's attorneys said Saturday they would demand to be heard if anyone tries to bar her from returning to the United States to fight for possession of her first child.

Shoben Testimony Expected to Clear Legal Test Snarl

The possibility of a legal test loomed Saturday as time neared when Prof. E.J. Shoben Jr., is expected to take the stand in the Robert E. Bednasek murder trial.

Shoben, director of the student counsel office, is listed as a state witness in connection with the trial of Bednasek, charged with the strangulation slaying of Margaret Anne Jackson last Dec. 11.

Shoben has indicated that he will refuse to reveal the nature of a conference he had with Bednasek in October. However, County Atty. Jack White said he had a signed statement from a psychiatrist saying Bednasek had impulses to kill.

White released the statement Dec. 14, three days after the golden-haired Miss Jackson was found dead in a rooming-house at 411 E. Washington street.

A university official hinted that Shoben, a clinical psychologist—not a psychiatrist—is the man to whom White referred.

Shoben said, in a statement released Dec. 14, "nothing short of the most extreme circumstances" would make him divulge the nature of his talk with Bednasek.

(Iowa law provides that "attorneys, counselors, physicians, surgeons, priests and other ministers" are not required to violate professional confidences placed in them.)

All the Elder's crew of 40 were found safe late Friday, 26 of them in life rafts into which the skipper, Lt. William F. Adams, had ordered them when the fire spread March 10.

Lt. Adams and 13 volunteers who had stayed aboard and snatched the Elder from doom after a long struggle, were located 17 miles away aboard their charred and helpless ship.

The navy also started organizing an inquiry to find out why a military transport sailed near the stricken Elder Monday without responding to frantic distress signals that included gunfire and flares.

Lt. Adams in a radiophone interview was outspoken about his failure to attract attention of the transport General A.W. Brewster.

The transport is en route to Yokohama from San Francisco. When the navy began inquiring about the overdue Elder on Wednesday, the transport reported sighting the missing ship Monday in an apparent distress 700 miles from its destination — the atomic weapons testing island of Eniwetok.

Over 500 members of the faculty were polled, according to Frivol, editor Nicholas Thimmesch, A4, Dubuque. He said the results would be revealed in the May issue of the magazine.

The commentaries by the faculty members are unsigned and will remain anonymous, Thimmesch said.

Indications are that the trial will last another two weeks.

Profs Rate SUI's For Frivol Survey

Frivol, SUI campus humor magazine, is conducting a poll among faculty members to learn what troubles the faculty has with student activities both in and out of the classroom.

Over 500 members of the faculty were polled, according to Frivol, editor Nicholas Thimmesch, A4, Dubuque. He said the results would be revealed in the May issue of the magazine.

Premier Chen Cheng and air headquarters said they had no confirmation of this report.

Naval sources, however, gave it a wary, unofficial benediction.

Here's the Three Point Grade Point Smile

FLASHING A $100 WINK. Donna Bell Jones, A4, Missouri Valley, attests to the fact that it pays to be smart, not ignorant. Miss Jones Saturday received the first $100 Margaret Fowler award for outstanding scholarship, leadership and service. The award was presented at the Mortar Board "Smarty Party" in the Iowa Union. A memorial fund from which the annual Fowler award will be drawn was established this year by friends of the late Margaret Sayer Fowler, former national vice-president of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary fraternity. About 250 SUI "high - pointers" attended Saturday's luncheon honoring women students who drew a 3.0 or higher grade point average last semester. (See story on page six.)

Lawyers Strike Back —

Porker Gets in Act

— At Mecca Ball

The baby pig, groomed and beribboned, was smuggled into the engineers dance at the Iowa Union by a law student dressed in a waiter's uniform, just as Mecca Queen Jean McCart, A2, Iowa City, was being presented with her loving cup.

Porky didn't leave until he had been photographed with her Royal Highness, Queen Jean.

The lawyers also attempted to get some white mice into the act, but didn't get to release them onto the dance floor as planned.

The high jinks were retaliatory moves after the engineers had hoisted a fire-proof Mecca flag to the flag mast of the law building, and greased the pole on the way down. This was to prevent the lawyers from burning the flag down as they did last year after a similar act by the engineers.

The engineers and lawyers are arch rivals during Mecca week because they both claim St. Patrick as their patron saint.

STUDENT SEEKS POSITION John J. Duhigg, L1, Emmetsburg, will seek a position on the Iowa commerce commission. Duhigg said Saturday he has applied for nomination papers for the commission candidacy.

She held herself erect, and she walked dry-eyed out of the courtroom from which she had to be carried several times during the two-week trial.

He was John Wilber Goddard, 30, laboratory assistant in the university's institute for nuclear studies.

Police said a "beaker of chemicals" was on the floor near the body, found in the Sigma Chi fraternity house.

Sgt. Edward Humphrey said Goddard's associates told him the young scientist had been despondent since his failure last December to pass a qualifying examination for a master's degree. The degrees were awarded Friday in Rockefeller chapel.

"Will they let me see my babies before they send me away?" the 22-year-old mother of two asked her lawyer as they left the court.

The question went unanswered. The children are under the care of her mother in Brooklyn.

After breaking up several court sessions with hysterical outbursts of weeping and fainting, Mrs. Madsen was surprisingly calm at the verdict.

She held herself erect, and she walked dry-eyed out of the courtroom from which she had to be carried several times during the two-week trial.

Tells Plans for Iowa City Census - Taking

By JACK BERNET

SUI students, to be counted as Iowa City residents in the 1950 census, will be contacted by local census-takers during April, George W. Kanak, 805 E. Washington street, said Saturday.

Kanak, who will supervise the census-taking operation in the rural areas and small towns of Johnson county, have not yet set the time at which the examination will be given.

Eight - Hour School

Census-takers, chosen by Kanak and Krall will attend a training school the last week of March in the gas and electric company's assembly room.

Will Give Examinations

Other enumerators will contact students living in university housing units.

Kanak and George R. Krall, 512 E. Davenport street, will administer an examination Thursday to persons wishing jobs as censustakers. The examination, similar to a civil service test, will be given in the assembly room of the Iowa Illinois Gas and Electric company, 211 E. Washington street.

Boys 'Smoke Out' Hunted Murderer, Aid Law In Capture

ST. PAUL, MINN. (UP)—One of the nation's 10 most wanted criminals was captured Saturday after six grade school boys literally smoked him out of a well-stocked cave in which he had been hiding four months.

William Nesbit, 50, convicted murderer and escaped convict, surrendered without struggle on a Mississippi river bluff where he had been spotted by boys who had visited with him and given him gifts because they thought he was "just a bum who didn't have much."

Nesbit later admitted to Police Chief Charles Tierney that he was the man who escaped from a Sioux Falls, S.D., prison in September, 1946, while serving a term for his part in the sensational "powderhouse dynamiting murder case" at Sioux Falls 14 years ago.

Fourteen-year-old Jimmy Lewis first suspected Nesbit's identity after spotting a picture of him in a newspaper "wanted" column. But he wasn't sure, so he and five friends who had visited with Nesbit and run errands for him stuffed snow down the stovepipe leading from his cave to "smoke him out and get a good look at him."

When he came out, they got the look, then ran to call police. Officers arrived shortly thereafter and arrested Nesbit, who offered no resistance although he was armed with a razor-sharp hunting knife.

"We weren't really scared," young Lewis said, "because it was still hard for us to believe that he was a criminal. But we found out for sure later he was."

Nesbit had been hiding since November in a cave formerly used by a brewery. He had laid a wooden floor and installed a cot, stove and cupboard. He had plenty of food and a pail of fresh water from a nearby spring.

Also inside the cave were a hatchet and a canteen which Chief Tierney said the boys who played near the cave had given him because they "felt sorry for him."

Chicago U. Student Fails; Found Dead In Fraternity House

CHICAGO (AP)—The body of a young atomic research assistant at the University of Chicago was found on a fraternity house couch Saturday morning.

He was John Wilber Goddard, 30, laboratory assistant in the university's institute for nuclear studies.

Police said a "beaker of chemicals" was on the floor near the body, found in the Sigma Chi fraternity house.

Police Sgt. Edward Humphrey said Goddard's associates told him the young scientist had been despondent since his failure last December to pass a qualifying examination for a master's degree.

The degrees were awarded Friday in Rockefeller chapel.

Dr. A.C. Webb, coroner's physician, said an autopsy indicated that Goddard died of unnatural causes. He said there was no evidence of disease or death from natural causes. The physician said he will perform a chemical analysis on vital organs.

Hyde Park police said part of the contents of the beaker had been consumed.

Lent Brings Carnival Time to Mexico

By ALBERT S. KESHEN
Central Press Correspondent

MEXICO CITY — Lent is carnival time in Mexico. This is the occasion when cares, restraints and everyday routine are left at home and the great king, Good Humor, rules the land south of the Rio Grande.

Poets and peasants, philosophers and politicians, businessmen and bureaucrats join hands to have a rip-roaring good time into which typical Mexican hospitality visitors are invited to join.

Although Lent in every Catholic country is a period of self-denial and penitence, in Mexico the season is the time for the gayest and most continual fiestas. Indians have been quick to adapt the white man's religion to their own uses and it seems likely that some ancient tradition of dancing during the early spring was too strong for even the church to overcome.

Every fiesta, of course, centers in some church and honors some saint. If no saint's day falls conveniently they have a fiesta anyway because it is the first, second or some other Friday in Lent.

At that time the streets are alive with confetti and fireworks, brass bands blare, the music of the marimba, violins and drums is heard throbbing from dawn to midnight and on to dawn again.

TINSEL MASKS and sequined gowns are worn by gay señoritas in the passionate masquerades where strangers meet like long-lost friends and romance weaves a subtle spell. It is the season of joy and revelry.

In night clubs and private homes there are gala festivities. In every town, large and small, there are native dances, balls, intricate firework parades, special ceremonies and rodeos.

MEXICO CITY, as the nation's capital, is the center of elaborate and lively fun-making. The merry-making, however, is especially animated at the colorful port towns of Mazatlan, Manzanillo, Acapulco and Vera Cruz.

The Veracruzanas are "muy alegres" and go in for fiestas of many kinds. Above all they love to dance, whether the musicians strike up one of the torrid hot-country tunes, a waltz, a "danzon," the "jarabe tapatio," a "pase doble" or American "swing."

In Taxco, former silver center of New Spain and now a tourist mecca, the carnival is pure Indian and held in the chapel of La Chavarrilla.

THE FESTIVITIES are witnessed by a large colony of Americans, most of them permanent residents and engaged in the fine arts, such as painting, sculpture or the metal crafts.

One of the most interesting of the rural carnival celebrations takes place at Huejotzingo, a picturesque little village just an hour's drive from Mexico City on the Puebla highway. There several hundred inhabitants erect a three-day drama whose setting is the entire village.

The letters — 85 percent of those Roosevelt wrote after he went into politics — became public property at brief ceremonies in the Franklin D. Roosevelt library.

Some were withheld lest they embarrass persons still living or affect our relations with other countries. Herman Kahn, director of the library, said the letters withheld — in red folders — would not, however, "knock you out of your chair." Kahn said not a one was sensational.

SHE PERFORMS, however, some startling acrobatic feats, descending from a second-story balcony of the city hall to a fiery steed on which she rides off with the daring Augustin.

A señorita is serenaded by Taxco during a Lenten carnival

On the third day, after considerable blood and thunder and after a series of stirring events which include the actual burning of the honeymoon hut, all ends well. The girl's parents are reconciled to her marriage with the daring young bandit, and the tempestuous romance ends on a happy note.

Meanwhile there have been exciting encounters between the French and Spanish soldiers and the Indian warriors portrayed by hundreds of local participants.

The Indians, resplendent in many-colored plume headdresses, their faces painted in intricate white and gold designs, perform a series of beautiful native dances.

SOLDIERS, mounted on horseback, stage mock combats with real rifles. Natives and visitors take the all-star cast of several hundred local artists through the streets and plazas of the town as the play unfolds.

FDR's Letters Open to All

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) — More than 5 million of Franklin D. Roosevelt's letters — to kings and coal miners, to prime ministers and political foes — were opened Friday to the eyes of the world.

And Harry Truman, who followed F.D.R. into the White House, said the scorn of secrecy demonstrated America's faith in the future and in the truth.

Some were withheld lest they embarrass persons still living or affect our relations with other countries. Herman Kahn, director of the library, said the letters withheld — in red folders — would not, however, "knock you out of your chair." Kahn said not a one was sensational.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN sent a message to the ceremony:

"In a world where millions are living under the horrors of Communist torture and terror, this action we are taking is a simple indication of the faith of democracy in truth."

"In America we believe that there should be full and free access to knowledge, for knowledge is the strength of democracy."

The letters, in boxes lining shelves all around four rooms of the library, hereafter will be available to all qualified students.

Iowa's First Railroad Developed Slowly

DES MOINES (AP) — The growth of Iowa's first railroad was so slow it took 14 years for it to get from the Mississippi river to Des Moines until 1866.

The colorful history of Iowa's first railroad was reviewed this week by the Iowa Historical Society. The society based its report on a recent article by Dwight L. Agnew in the Iowa Journal of History.

The first delay was caused by a rivalry between towns, Agnew reported. Muscatine, Washington and Oskaloosa wanted the route to follow the east bank of the Mississippi and cross the river at Muscatine. Iowa City and Davenport wanted the road to Davenport and proceed directly to Iowa City.

The matter of the road's routing was settled at a conference in Davenport. It was agreed the main line of the road would go through Iowa City with a branch line extended to Muscatine.

Even then not all Iowans were eager to see the first railroad. Agnew reports that Hiram Price, one of the chief promoters of the road, argued that "a railroad would raise the price of farm produce 50 to 100 percent."

COUNCIL CORNER

By MURRAY SEEGER

As this is written, there are between 12 and 18 petitions being circulated by prospective candidates for student council.

The campaign will get into high gear this week.

To the student council hopefuls, a few sobering words must be addressed. These, I think, are the things the student council faces.

First, a well entrenched set of committees on campus who have their spheres of activity which they guard very closely.

The best example is the Union Board. They were created long before the student council and therefore are very jealous of their position.

An example of what can happen in that situation was last year's Christmas sing.

Gay Colors Hold Spring Fashion Spotlight

Slim, Trim Lines Remain in Vogue

Coeds and career girls will find it easy to keep in tune with the times if they heed the expert's word on fashion trends this spring.

Styles will adhere to the American formula of slim, trim lines with the ever-necessary trait of good grooming an important highlight. Fashion experts predict a "smart but not extreme" trend.

Bright Colors

Primary hues will lead the featured color parade, they say. Blue will take predominance with navy, skipper, heaven, aquamarine and popular spring pastels bursting in the fashion limelight.

Clear bright red, as well as intense coral and hot pink, promise to provide a striking contrast. Yellow in every shade from wheat to gold will be found in the bright array. Of course, the two classic neutrals, gray and beige, will be welcome returnees, according to the stylists.

Leading the coat fashion parade will be the casual short full coat in lengths from bolero to fingertip. A belt may be used to complete the finger-tip variety. Suit jackets will follow a similar theme and provide double duty as separate coats. Fleece, lightweight chinchilla and tweed are "fashion first" materials this spring.

Boxy Jacket Versatile

Suits are the perennial favorite in the spring roundup. The brief bolero jacket, the snug-fitted jacket — all are good bets. The boxy jacket is a versatile choice since it may be worn with or without a belt and as a separate coat. Particularly notable are small checks with gabardines, flannels and tweeds figuring heavily.

White accents add spring freshness, say the fashion specialists. White pique and white organdie may be used for collars, cuffs, bibs and yokes on dresses with eyelet, embroidery or crocheted lace as edging. Large pearl buttons provide an added white touch.

The shirtwaist dress, a unique American style, may be worn any hour of the day or night, fashion experts say. Variations on this theme appear in woolens, soft crepes and prints.

Dress-Jacket Combinations

Soft easy shoulders, long full sleeves ending in cuffs, full slim skirts with gathers or groups of pleats — these features add grace and flowing movement to the shirtwaist dress. For evening, this style may be found in sheer fabrics from organdie to chiffon with either cap sleeves or none at all.

Leading a double life are the dress + plus - jacket combinations which may be worn for daytime or evening. Scheduled to appear soon are woolens, dark failles and sheers. Cottons and linens in this type of dress will make their debut later on. Jackets will be brief and fitted, often with three-quarter sleeves, and dresses will have cap sleeves if any.

Sleeves Disappear

Blouses, sweaters, dresses — all will go sleeveless this season, say the stylists. Featured collars will be the Peter Pan type with rows of buttons in front. Full circular skirts in bold Mexican type cottons may be added to form a peasant costume.

Four important details to emphasize good grooming are belts, buttons, pockets and pleats. Narrow belts are the vogue — one inch is the average width — often in patent leather, braid or grosgrain.

Tiny buttons used in groups and larger buttons for a dramatic appearance will be featured. Pockets may be found everywhere in any shape, size or place. To lend grace of movement pleats have been added to slim skirts.

Additional short hints have been added by the stylists: notice the "middy" look in blouses and sweaters, bare arms, belts, bracelets, bright flower at the collar or belt, lighter stocking colors, dark print dresses, small geometric prints, pleats, sheer fabrics and small scarves.

Keokuk Bumps Ottumwa, Joins Marion In State

Chiefs Repeat Triumph Over State Champions

By HOBERT DUNCAN

Iowa was assured of a new state champion Saturday night when Keokuk weathered a desperate fourth quarter rally by defending champion Ottumwa to gain a 37-36 win in a hectic class AA final at the fieldhouse.

Keokuk enters the state tournament, for the first time in the school's history, with a 15-7 record for the season.

Ottumwa Catches Fire

A semi-stall in the last period nearly cost the win for Keokuk who had led and dominated play most of the way. The Chiefs held what appeared to be a comfortable 33-22 margin heading into the final quarter. Then Ottumwa caught fire to gradually shorten the gap until Bill Orman's one hand push shot from the corner with 28 seconds left pulled the Bulldogs to within one point, 37-36.

Keokuk's Bob High was fouled by Orman with eight seconds left but High missed the shot. The Chiefs then took the ball out of bounds and managed to hold onto it until the final buzzer although the ball was in mid-air under the Ottumwa basket at the end of the game.

Duplicate Performance

The victory was a duplicate performance by the Chiefs of a one-point triumph posted over Ottumwa in regular season play.

Keokuk gradually built up a lead in the second and third quarters over Ottumwa. The Bulldogs suffered frequent defensive lapses that freed Keokuk men in scoring position and failed to hit on scoring opportunities of their own.

The Chiefs held an 8-7 lead at the end of the first quarter and built this into a 23-15 halftime advantage. Jerry Pryor, Keokuk center, was instrumental in the Chiefs' domination of play in this period. Pryor rebounded viciously under both buckets and hit two baskets. Bob Williams popped in two long shots from his guard post and High added a pair from the field to give the winners their lead.

Offense Stalled

Ottumwa's offense was stalled by the aggressive Keokuk defense and only Jerry Davis, all-state forward, and Tom Ramsey could score.

Davis again sparked the Bulldog attack in the third period with a five point barrage. Keokuk enjoyed its largest margin of the game in this quarter, 31-18.

Davis led all scorers with 12 points, followed by Keokuk's Lou Younkin with 11.

Olympic Diving Champ

Vicki Draves Visits Iowa City

By JACK SQUIRE

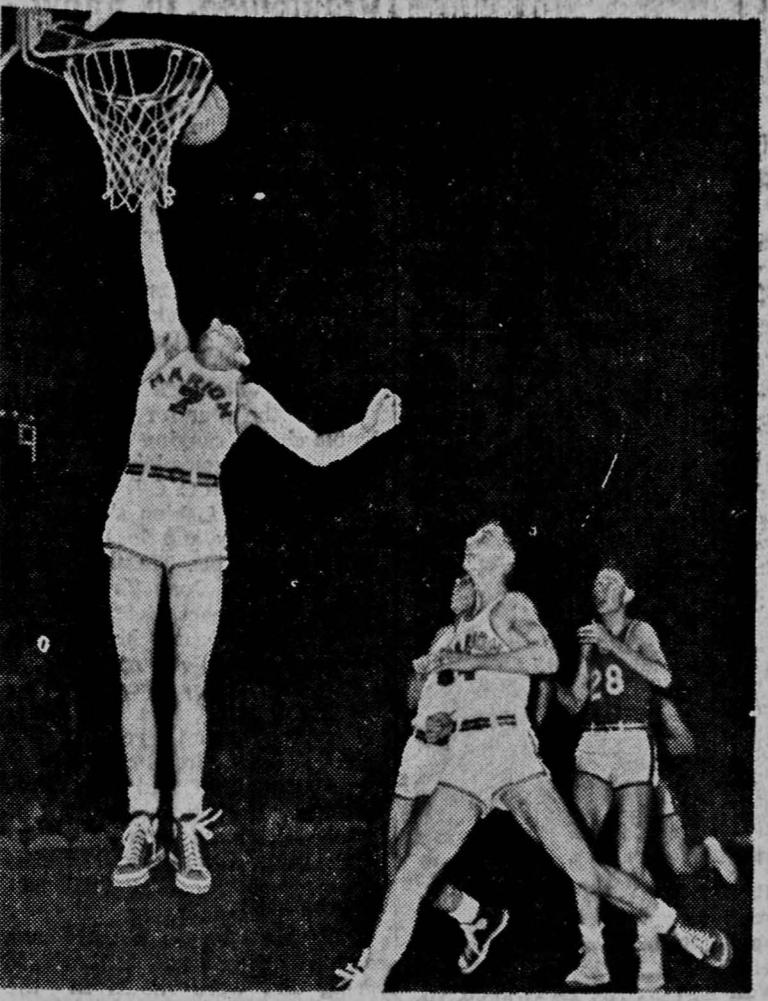

Oakdale sanatorium Saturday became, for a day at least, the scene of great swimming interest.

The state tuberculosis hospital was graced by a visit of that comely lass and world-famous diving star, Vicki Draves, and her husband-coach, Lyle. Add to that the object of their visit, Jack McGuire, and you have quite a concentration of tank talent.

Iowa Swimmers

McGuire, a patient at Oakdale since October, was captain of the 1932 Iowa swimming team and a leading sprinter of the day. More recently he had been coaching the sport at Iowa State until his illness forced him to the sidelines.

"Being in Iowa City we naturally wanted to see Jack," said Vicki, who's a sister-in-law of

CCNY Downs Bradley, 69-61

NEW YORK (AP) — The sizzling sophomores from CCNY staged a brilliant second half comeback Saturday night to defeat favored Bradley and capture the 13th National Invitational Basketball tournament, 69-61.

Thus CCNY, like San Francisco last year and West Virginia and Utah before that, wrote a Cinderella finish to the Madison Square Garden event that first was staged in 1938.

First for Beavers

It was the first NIT championship for the CCNY Beavers, and the fifth failure for Bradley — rated the nation's No. 1 team this season — to come through in this event.

Jittery and outplayed in the first half, Nat Holman's inspired Beavers came back with a rush to add the top-seeded Braves of Peoria, Ill., to their impressive list of tournament scalps.

Irwin Damrot stoked the furnace for unseeded "dark horses" who weren't given a chance

McKenzie Honored

Bob McKenzie, former Iowa football end, was presented with the individual "good sportsmanship award" at the YMCA sponsored Gold Medal basketball tournament in Washington last week.

The senior from Tonkawa, Okla., played on the Washington Shamrock team which won the consolation round of the tournament.

Dips Albia, 45-41, For Class A Title

By DICK MAU

Marion's smooth, well-balanced basketball aggregation earned a berth in the state high school finals next week by ousting Albia, 45-41, in the class A sub-state finals on the Iowa fieldhouse floor Saturday night.

Keokuk First Team

In School's History To Advance to State

By DON MOYER

"We're the first team to make it," was the shout of the Keokuk basketball team after its narrow 37-36 victory over the 1948 state champions Ottumwa in final sub-state play in the fieldhouse Saturday night.

What the happy Chiefs meant was that never before had a team from Keokuk placed among the 16 entries of the state tournament field.

Second First Trip

For Marion, 45-41 victor over Albia, it will be the first trip to the state meet also, but the Indians seemed to be less hilarious over their good fortune.

Coach Les Hippie's boys entered the dressing room with hardly a word being uttered. They offered a loud cheer for the photographer and then continued quietly to dress.

The biggest shout went up when Mr. Swartzendruber, the Marion physics instructor who handled the scorebook Saturday night, announced, "There won't be any test Monday." That drew three or four loud hurrahs.

Barrie Gable, Indian forward, wanted to know, "Now who do we have to play? Montezuma?" (Marion has drawn Loras of Dubuque in the first round of state meet play.) Jack King, Gable's running mate at the forward post, said, "I didn't realize how close they (Albia) were until after the game was over."

Hipple Calm

Coach Hipple was apparently just as unmoved by it all as were his players. " Didn't know it could get so warm out there," he said as he removed his suit coat. His only other comment was, "I'm glad we won."

As the Keokuk players came through the locker room door, they were slapping each other on the back and shouting, "We made it." "One of the sweet 16." "To the state." "The first time."

Center Jerry Pryor seemed the most elated as he ran around slapping his teammates and hollering, "Let's go all the way, fellows."

Bill Logan had a big grin on his face as he said, "I never thought we'd make it, the first of the year. We were supposed to be a bunch of scrubbs." Bill, a 6-foot, 3-inch sophomore, is only 15 but he has been playing regular guard for the Chiefs most of the season.

Forward Lou Younkin looked at the score book and then said in amazement, "Don't tell me I was high point man tonight." He was though with 11 points.

Coach Don Shupe was obviously happy as he congratulated his boys. When asked if the boys were confident about beating Ottumwa, he replied, "Sure they were. Ever since we went down there and beat them on their home floor we knew we could do it again."

High for Iowa City was former Hawkeye Bob Vellers with 16 points. Buckey Harris followed with 12. Rog Finley held Big Pritchard to six points while dumping in nine counters.

The local All-Stars play a Davenport all-city team today at Davenport.

Cloudy at 'Clearwater'

The Iowa All-Stars slipped by the Pella All-Stars, 61-58, in a basketball game Thursday night at Pella.

Players on the Pella team included Ward Gibson, former Waterloo Hawk forward, John Pritchard, 6-foot, 10-inch center, who formerly played for Drake, and Gene Olrich, another ex-Drake star. Gibson scored 25 of his team's points.

YM-YWCA Plan Vacation Tour

The annual YMCA-YWCA sponsored 11-day trip through Washington, D.C., and New York will begin March 31 and last through April 10.

The trip will be limited to a total of 48 students and faculty members, according to YMCA Vice-President William Davis, A4, Burlington. Davis said Saturday about 20 students had signed up for the trip.

Applications for the tour may be left with a $10 deposit in the YMCA office in the Iowa Union, Davis said. The deposit will not be refunded after March 22, he said.

The cost of the tour is $85, including the $10 deposit which covers all expenses of travel, lodging, food and even subway fares, Davis said.

The group will travel in both the YMCA bus and the YMCA travel truck.

Permission has been granted by SUI officials, Davis said, for students to miss classes April 3, 4, and 5 before Easter vacation, and April 10 following the vacation.

Davis said the purpose of the inter-racial tour was for students to gain an understanding of the federal government and of the United Nations.

Highlights of the trip will be visits to the White house, Pentagon building, Library of Congress, numerous other national shrines and to see the Supreme Court in session.

The group will visit Lake Success, N.Y., and see the United Nations in action. Students on the tour will be given a full day of free time to visit the interesting points in New York City.

Presbyterians Plan New Student Center

By CHARLES MICK

Informality, gaiety and fun are the keynotes for over 1,000 SUI Presbyterian students, who relax and enjoy themselves at the Presbyterian student center, 36 E. Market street.

Students who frequent the center play ping-pong, read magazines, listen to records and the radio, and gain spiritual guidance.

The present Presbyterian center is located in the church building. Construction of a new center will start in 1951, Wilma Grossheim, Presbyterian student director, said.

Building to be L-Shaped The Presbyterian church in Iowa City has raised about $50,000 for the new center, and the other Presbyterian churches in Iowa are expected to contribute a similar amount toward the project," she said.

"The Presbyterians have started bringing in university pastors for the express purpose of taking care of students."

Lampe said he remembered that during the first World War, the Presbyterian church had the Rev. Elmer A. Bess for its university pastor.

"Rev. Elmer Bess served in only one capacity, and that was as a counselor for individual students. Students were eager to get his advice on problems, and the students signed up for interviews weeks in advance," Lampe said.

Started in 1910 The idea of doing something special for SUI Presbyterian students started in 1910, Prof. M. Willard Lampe, head of the SUI school of religion, and one of the older members of the church, said. "Before 1910, the Presbyterian church handled students through regular church groups and activities," he said. "In 1910, the church started bringing in university pastors for the express purpose of taking care of students."

Lampe said he remembered that during the first World War, the Presbyterian church had the Rev. Elmer A. Bess for its university pastor.

"It was in 1928 that the present system of having women student directors was instituted, and this system has been carried over up to date," he said.

An average week at the present center would be as follows: Each Tuesday at 8 a.m. there is "morning watch," a 20 minute worship period, followed by breakfast in the student center. Each student shares the cost of the food.

The breakfast usually consists of fruit juice, coffee and milk, and rolls or toast.

25-Cent Lunches

Every Thursday at 12:30 p.m. there is a 25-cent lunch served at the center. The average lunch consists of a hot dish of some food, salad, rolls, milk and coffee, and a dessert.

After lunch, from 12:55 to 1:20 p.m., the Rev. P. Hewison Pollock, pastor of the church, leads a Bible study program.

Friday is known as "fun day" at the center, and on this day informality reigns. The students listen to records, sing, play party games and receive refreshments.

On each Saturday from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. "open house" is held at the center. "Of course every day is 'open house' to all Presbyterian students, but this is sort of an official one," Director Grossheim said.

Vesper Service

At 5 p.m. each Sunday, a vesper service is held at the center, with a variety of programs being presented. Following the vesper service a 30-cent supper is held. After supper there is "fun singing" around the table.

Monday is the student director's day off, but students are welcomed in the center on that day, too. The center is never closed to students.

Besides the student center, the church has many other organized activities for SUI Presbyterian students. An annual workshop is held each fall and winter.

Four Sundays in each season, Rev. Pollock conducts a workshop program. The workshop held last fall was on "Prayer," and the one held this winter was on "Marriage."

Host to Conference

A highlight in Presbyterian student activity will come on April 28, when SUI Presbyterian students will be conference hosts to Iowa State Teachers college and Iowa State college students.

Besides the students from these schools, another group of students from five Iowa Presbyterian schools will be here to participate in the conference.

New Measles Cases Show Decline Here

Two new cases of measles reported Saturday in Iowa City brought the month's total to 182, according to City Clerk George J. Dohner.

Saturday's total of two, and Friday's two cases were less than any other daily totals during March. Cases reported last week totaled 47.

February's epidemic total was 398. During February and March, 1949, only three measles cases were reported here.

Five cases of chicken pox and four of mumps also have been reported here this month.

Nineteen Candidates Named for Union Board

Five commerce and 14 liberal arts students at SUI will seek positions on the Iowa Union board in the all-campus elections, March 29.

Vice-president Don Guthrie, A3, Iowa City, publicity chairman of the board, said Saturday two commerce and six liberal arts candidates will be elected from this slate by students of their respective colleges.

Eight more board positions will be filled by students in the professional colleges, elected this spring by members of these colleges.

The final slate was drawn after the Wednesday deadline for receipt of applications, Guthrie said. Twenty-two students were eligible for board positions but three declined to run, he added.

To be placed on the ballot, students had to have served one year on a Union board subcommittee, given 12 hours of their time to this committee and maintained a 2.0 grade point average.

Forty-eight subcommittee members, distributed among 8 subcommittees, are appointed each year by students in the housing units, Guthrie said.

All other student organizations holding elections March 29 have been invited to post pictures of their candidates in the Union, he added. The SUI student council already has said it will accept the invitation.

Guthrie stressed the importance of liberal arts and commerce students carefully selecting their Union board representatives especially in view of the proposal to build a $3-million addition to the Union next year.

The 19 Union board candidates are:

Commerce: Bob Wolford, C3, Shenandoah; Art Doran, C3, Dubuque; Doris Pletsch, C3, Tonica, Ill.; Dean Fritchen, C3, Decorah, and Dick Duncan, A2, Iowa City.

Liberals: Art David McClellan, A2, Council Bluffs; Norman Matlief, A3, Des Moines; Ann Lawson, A2, Iowa City; Kathleen Morrissey, A3, Cedar Rapids; Constance Jewett, A2, Des Moines; Marilyn Smith, A3, Rockford.

Elizabeth Thomsen, A3, Red Oak; Marian Rees, A3, Carroll; Dick Griffith, A3, Kansas City; Bob Hilliard, A2, Storm Lake; Barbara Jane Campbell, A3, Clinton; Kathleen Kelly, A3, Des Moines; Dorothy Danielson, A3, Fairfield; Gerald Febowitz, A3, Council Bluffs.

Style-Buys at Dunn's

Tuesday will be the first day of spring. Dunn's remembered you'd want something special for the lovely days ahead and found some nylon print blouses to replace those wintertime sweaters. The blouses of 100% nylon are the kind that go on dates or to the classroom. They'd be perfect under that spring suit. Some button down the front, others button down the back. You can have tiny flower prints or clear tailored stripes. If your wardrobe needs an added touch of brightness, these blouses will delight you. You'll find Dunn's prices are the kind you like, too.

SWANER'S

Even through Tuesday officially starts spring it looks like "Old Man Winter" will still be around. For the perk-up of the day it's Swaner's, 218 E. Washington St., just across from the Englert Theatre. What could taste better than a steaming cup of Hot Chocolate? It still rates as the best dime's worth around campus.

For all you basketball fans and players visiting town for the tournament — take notice! You will find the tip of the week at Swaner's Dairy Store. For those who like dreamy taste treat that is truly nourishing, it's Swaner's Banana Split — half a banana, any three ice cream flavors, any three toppings and last, but not least, this taste delight is topped with Reddi-Wip. You can still beat those chlorine blues with a quart bottle of healthful orange juice.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

What are your plans for spring? Dear Fritcher: Indulge in those various niceties of spring that everyone is thinking about.

Jean Krambitt: Go sit on the campus with an ice cream cone.

Ted Seldin: Go to class as usual, and bask in the balmy sun.

Ellen Bell: Go to Texas for a vacation.

Angeline Thomas: Get out my new yellow gollashes and wear them because it'll probably be muddy.

Sally Finkbine: Get a sun tan.

Two SUI Students To Present Recitals Today in Music Hall

Planist Bette Neumann, A3, Iowa City, and Joan McNabb, A3, Seymour, contralto, will present a recital today at 7:30 p.m. in the north music hall. The recital will be No. 34 in the current student series.

Opening the program, Miss Neumann will play Mozart's "Sonata in C Major K 330." The movements are titled "Allegro moderato," "Andante cantabile" and "Allegretto."

On the second part of the program, Miss McNabb will sing Gluck's "Che faro senza Euridice (Orfeo)," "My heart even faithful" by Bach, and "Die Stadt" and "Muth" by Schubert.

Miss Neumann will play Brahms' "Rhapsody in G Minor, Opus 79, No. 2."

Miss McNabb also will sing "Amour viens aider" from "Samson et Delila" by Saint-Saens.

For her third group, Miss Neumann will play three Scriabin numbers. These are "Prelude in E Major, Opus 11, No. 9," "Prelude in D Flat Major, Opus 11, No. 15" and "Scherzo, Opus 46."

Miss McNabb, assisted by Patricia Trachsel, G, Iowa City, viola, will sing "La Cloches Felice" and "Danson la Gigue" by Charles Leoeffler.

Concluding the program, Miss Neumann will play Gershwin's "Prelude No. 2 and No. 3."

Missouri Valley Girl Wins Award at 'Smarty Party'

Donna Bell Jones, A4, Missouri Valley, received the first $100 Margaret Fowler award for outstanding effort and accomplishment in scholarship, leadership and service, at the Mortar Board "Smarty Party" luncheon Saturday in the Iowa Union.

The luncheon honored women students who attained a three-point or higher grade average last semester. About 250 of the 450 high pointers attended.

Before presenting the Fowler award, Mrs. Hugh Kelso, president of the Iowa City Mortar Board alumnae club, praised Miss Jones for "demonstrating ability, energy and enthusiasm in her many extra curricular activities" and for her fine grade average.

The Fowler award, Mrs. Kelso said, will be given each year to the outstanding member of Mortar Board, SUI national senior women's honorary organization.

The fifteen university women who made four point grade averages last semester received special mention for perfect marks. They were:

Mary Louise Annerberg, A3, Carroll; Alice Ferguson, A1, Ames; Ellen L. Fried, A4, Council Bluffs; Marian A. Godiksen, A2, Manning; Marie Jane Hark, A1, River Forest, Ill.; Mercedes Lovejoy, N3, Des Moines; Marjorie Lowry, N3, Los Angeles, Calif.; Patsy Merrick, N3, Cedar Falls.

Juanita Mortimore, A3, Iowa City; Margaret Ruth Pitts, A2, Rummels; Anna Marie Rider, A3, Iowa City; Naomi Sherman, A3, Stamford, Conn.; Mary Deane Vande Steeg, A4, Orange City; Elizabeth Wherry, A3, Mechanicsville and Janet May Whisler, A4, Manchester.

Following the luncheon, a skit

Former Reporter in Russia to Talk Here

Robert Magidoff, former National Broadcasting company correspondent in Moscow, will speak at 8 p.m. March 30 in the main lounge of the Iowa Union under the sponsorship of the University Lecture committee.

Prof. Earl E. Harper, chairman of the committee and director of the school of fine arts, said Magidoff would speak on "An Evening on Russia."

Tickets for the lecture will be available for students and faculty members March 27 at the Iowa Union service desk. Townpeople can obtain free tickets at the desk on the day of the lecture.

Russian-born Magidoff will be assisted at the lecture by his wife, Nilia, author.

She is now a faculty member at the University of Louisville where she teaches advanced Russian.

Magidoff spent 12 years in the Soviet Union before he was forced to leave the country in 1948 on charges of espionage.

He spent the entire war period in Russia and visited the Soviet German front, 14 times.

After the war he made trips to Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Finland.

Mrs. Magidoff, also Russian-born, came to the United States in 1941. During the war years she lectured for the United War Fund. While in Russia, she worked as an art critic, a journalist and as a sailor in the Russian Merchant Marine.

She is now a faculty member at the University of Louisville where she teaches advanced Russian.

TICKETS FOR THE LECTURE WILL BE SOLD AT THE IOWA UNION SERVICE DESK.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY MEMBERS ARE INVITED TO ATTEND.

ALL ARE WELCOME.
