Eight of 16 Teams Vie in First Round

By ALAN MOYER
(Daily Iowan Sports Editor)

The 23rd annual classic of Iowa high school basketball, the boys' state tournament, gets underway in the Iowa fieldhouse this afternoon and evening for eight of the 16 teams that have survived the long and arduous road to Iowa City and the state finals.

A month ago 919 teams had equal chances to become one of the select group that will battle for the crown won a year ago by Ottumwa's Bulldogs who this year were knocked out of the running by Keokuk. But sectional, district and sub-state tournaments cut that figure to the 16 finalists, each intent to return home with the huge gold cup that signifies the No. 1 cage team in Iowa.

This afternoon at 1:30 East Des Moines meets Winfield, followed at 2:45 by Albert City and Sioux City Central.

Tonight at 7:30 an estimated 13,000 persons will watch Loras of Dubuque and Marion battle. At 8:45 Melrose and Ankeny clash.

Others Clash Tomorrow

The other eight teams square off Wednesday afternoon and evening. Keokuk meets Shelby and Davenport meets Newkirk in the afternoon. The evening games are Dinsdale and Montezuma and Atlantic against Mason City Holy Family.

Ironically the school with the next to smallest number of students and the school with the largest enrollment meet in the first round when Davenport and Newkirk get together. Newkirk reports a total enrollment of 56, Davenport 1,958.

Two of the competing teams are returning to the fieldhouse for the second straight year while Ankeny is here for the third consecutive year. Davenport, almost an annual visitor to the state finals, is here for its fourth straight tournament.

Five New Teams

Returning to the finals after an unsuccessful try last year are Winfield and Montezuma. Winfield, a small but mighty B school from 45 miles south of Iowa City, won fourth place a year ago as well as winning the hearts of the thousands of fans who jammed the fieldhouse for the five-day tournament.

Five teams are completely new to state tournament play, two of them AA schools. East Des Moines and Keokuk are the big schools new to Iowa City, while Class A Marion and Class B Shelby and Dinsdale are here for the first time.

Only two of the 16 finalists are undefeated. Winfield hasn't been defeated since the consolation round last year. Ankeny last fell in the same tourney, losing to Forest City in the second round.

Jessup Denounces Senator's Charges; Backed by Generals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup Monday angrily denounced Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's charges that Reds infect the state department as "utterly irresponsible," a blow at American foreign policy and an actual aid to world communism.

Supported by Gen. George C. Marshall and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Jessup sweepingly denied the Wisconsin Republican's attack on him as having an "affinity" for Communist causes. He said the senator had shown "a shocking disregard for the interests of our country."

The state department's roving envoy and No. 1 diplomatic trouble-shooter topped off a 3,500-word blast against McCarthy by submitting letters from Marshall, former secretary of state, and Eisenhower.

Marshall said he was "shocked and distressed" by the attack on Jessup's integrity. Eisenhower said to one who has known Jessup would question "the depth or sincerity" of his devotion to "the principles of Americanism."

Upon questioning by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Jessup acknowledged that he appeared as a character witness for Alger Hiss, who was tried on charges of lying when he denied that he slipped out secret U.S. documents to a Soviet spy ring courier. Hiss was later convicted.

Asked by Hickenlooper whether he still has the same opinion of Hiss that he had at the time of the trial, Jessup replied slowly, "I never on any occasion made a statement made under oath as a witness."

Hancher Denies Extension of Easter Vacation

President Virgil H. Hancher Monday denied the student council's petition to extend Easter vacation one day, saying "that it would not be possible to alter Easter vacation this year."

Hancher said, however, that arrangements had been made for Easter vacation in 1951 to extend until Monday noon following Easter Sunday.

Nine religious organizations on campus had asked the student council to request this year's Easter vacation recess be extended one day. Such an extension would have enabled students who require a day to travel back to school to attend Easter services at home.

Explains SUI's Position

As the university calendar stands, Easter vacation will begin April 5, at 6 p.m. and end April 10, at 7:30 a.m., following Easter Sunday (April 9).

In a letter to Student Council President Richard Dice, A4, Marion, Hancher said he had consulted the university's calendar committee and all members of the board of deans.

Explaining SUI's position, he said, "When the calendar was prepared, allowance was made for sufficient class hours to provide an equal division between the two semesters and an annual total number of weeks appropriate to maintain a first class rating by the various accrediting agencies."

"Once the calendar was set more than a year ago many commitments were made on the basis of the calendar. It would be impossible to upset them without confusion in the university's program."

Reviewed Transportation

Hancher said consideration had been given to adjusting the schedule by a half-day in June, but present programs prevent this alternative.

"The suggestion that the Easter vacation begin Thursday noon (April 6) must be discarded because of the conflict with traditional religious observances on that day," he said.

"Aside from these problems of class schedules, I have reviewed the question of transportation. The greater part of the student body live in communities sufficiently accessible for them to reach Iowa City by the scheduled opening of classes."

House Group Cuts Marshall Plan Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Overriding administration protests, the house foreign affairs committee voted Monday to hand a billion dollars worth of farm surpluses to western Europe and cut that much cash out of the Marshall plan.

The committee agreed behind closed doors to provide the surplus commodities in lieu of a third of the money the administration had asked for the economic cooperation administration (ECA) for the year beginning next July 1.

If the house and senate go along, the action will mean that ECA will get $1,950,000,000 in new cash this year, plus $1-billion in surpluses now held by the commodity credit corporation.

Ankeny Prepares for First Round Play

Acheson to Remain in Office; Doing Admirable Job; Truman

KEY WEST, FLA. (AP)—President Truman demonstrated his all-out support of Secretary of State Acheson Monday with the declaration he is running the state department "admirably" and will stay on the job there.

A top White House source disclosed the President is considering giving senate Communist spy investigators limited access to loyalty files to help clear accused members of the state department.

Acheson has been under fire from Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) whose complaints of Communist links in the state department precipitated an investigation by a senate foreign relations subcommittee.

He also was bombarded with criticism recently in connection with failure to aid the Chiang Kai-Shek government of China.

The President through Secretary Charles G. Ross blasted reports that Chief Justice Vinson might replace Acheson.

Ross told reporters at a news conference: "Those rumors are completely without foundation."

"No change in the head of the state department is contemplated. All rumors to the contrary are complete fabrications. The chief justice's visit here is completely social."

Survey '50 Crop Plans, Expect More Surpluses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's farmers plan a 1950 crop planting pattern which could produce another potato surplus and add to an already big supply of livestock feed grains.

An agriculture department survey of producers March 1 planting plans indicated a potato acreage which, at 1948-49 average yields to the acre, would produce 54-million bushels more than the government's goal of 335-million.

Gubitchev Departs; Wishes Judy Luck

NEW YORK (AP)—Valentin Gubitchev went back to Russia Monday with a hug and kiss from his wife and a lukewarm good luck wish for the "other woman," Judith Coplon.

The stubby Russian engineer-diplomat, convicted with Miss Coplon of plotting to spy for the Soviet Union, was put aboard the Polish liner Batory by a small army of federal and city police and kept under guard until the ship was well out of New York harbor.

Py going home "never to return," the 33-year-old Gubitchev escaped a 15-year prison sentence. What he might be letting himself in for — A hero's welcome? Disgrace as a bungler who got caught? — No one this side of the Iron Curtain could say.

Twelve Juniors Seek Liberal Arts Offices

A slate of six men and six women, juniors in the SUI college of liberal arts, will seek officers' posts in the 1951 liberal arts class on all-campus election day, March 29.

The final ballot was submitted to the student council election committee after the liberal arts executive committee selected the best qualified people judged from letters submitted from each housing unit interested in the office.

President Jim McKenzie, A4, Appleton, Wis., said: "The candidates receiving the most votes from the liberal arts student body will become president of the class. McKenzie said those receiving the next highest numbers of votes will be named vice-president, secretary and treasurer."

Candidates are Robert Bryan Jr., E3, Moline, Ill.; James Donahay, A3, Des Moines; William Eads, A3, Ida Grove; Edward Garst, A3, Waco, Tex.; Robert Kramer, A3, White Plains, N.Y., and Ross Williams, A3, Davenport.

Margaret Foster, A3, Cedar Rapids; Mary Louise Anneberg, A3, Carroll; Patricia Morehead, A3, Cedar Rapids; Ellie Leedham, A3, Webster Groves, Mo.; Beth Louise Willmick, A3, Newton, and Marilyn Smith, A3, Rockford.

It's Spring!

But Look at Calendar, Not Thermometer

Spring danced in an soggy feet Monday night as a prankish winter that sunned flowers into bloom in January and froze legs off grasshoppers in March bowed out. Spring arrived officially at 10:36 p.m. (Iowa time) when the sun crossed the equator.

The sun moved on schedule. But the weather, for the main part, didn't get the word.

Iowa City had something to be grateful for Monday. Its 39 degree temperature was the highest reading in the state.

The weatherman, however, expects things to get worse today. He predicted rain and possibly snow for Iowa Citizens.

Two Babies, Six Others Die in Illinois Collision

ROCKFORD, ILL. (AP)—Eight persons, including two babies, were killed Monday night in a head-on truck-automobile collision on "death curve," 10 miles north of here.

Coroner David Klontz said six persons in the car apparently were killed instantly and the other two died in Beloit municipal hospital.

Bednasek, Gee-Gee Discussed Marriage, SUI Student Says

SUI student Joe Krapek testified Monday that Robert E. Bednasek and Margaret Jackson discussed marriage plans a few hours before the pretty, blonde SUI coed was found dead in an Iowa City rooming house.

Bednasek, a former SUI psychology student, is accused of strangling his campus sweetheart in the early hours of Dec. 11.

Krapek, A3, Osage, was one of five SUI students who took the witness stand Monday as the trial headed into its second week.

Krapek and Max Womack, A3, Dover, Tenn., described the events of the night of Dec. 10 when Bednasek brought Miss Jackson to the "Empty Arms" rooming house, 411 E. Washington street, for a candle-light dinner in their room.

"Going to Be Married"

After Bednasek and Miss Jackson arrived, Krapek said, he remarked to Bednasek in a low voice, "You look like you're going to be married."

He testified Bednasek smiled and translated this for Miss Jackson.

Defense Attorney Clair Hamilton then asked Krapek, "Didn't Bednasek say to you, 'We're going to be soon?'"

"I don't remember exactly," Krapek replied.

"Isn't it a fact," Hamilton continued, "that Gee-Gee smiled at you and nodded her head?"

"Yes," Krapek said. Krapek added that as he left the room and closed the door on the couple he heard Miss Jackson exclaim, "Oh, Benny, this is wonderful."

Krapek Recalled

In the afternoon Krapek was recalled to the stand by the state. Special Prosecutor Edward F. Ration drew from the witness an admission that he was following a "habit" of kidding Bednasek about marriage.

Miss Jackson's body was found at 2 a.m. after Bednasek notified police. Al Kloberdanz, A2, Osage, owner of the rooming house was also recalled to the stand by the state. He said he met Bednasek on the front porch as Bednasek returned from the police station.

Kloberdanz quoted the defendant as saying, "I think she's dead."

Other witnesses included Bill Rowland, A2, Roland Kammeier, A3, Walter E. Lievrouw, A2, all of Osage, and John Holwey, A4, Rye, N.H.

Lievrouw and Holwey testified that they spent the night in the three story rooming house because it was raining.

"Playing a Game"

Lievrouw stated that Bednasek came up after the police had entered the room where Miss Jackson's body, clad in a white evening gown, was found lying on a bed.

SPRING'S OFFICIAL ARRIVAL brought no flowers to the campus, but the season of Cupid and showers found the traditional SUI "riverbankers" emerging in Monday's warm sunshine before Sunday's snow had time to disappear. However, the weather man wasn't too willing to cooperate as the weather bureau said several cold locks were still left in the winter's system.

Platforms Revealed By Two Candidates For Student Council

(This is the first in a series of stories on candidates running for election to the student council in the all-campus elections March 29.)

The first name on the list of men candidates for student council will be Robert McCarville, A2, Jefferson.

(Robert Bryan Jr., E3, Moline, Ill., who won first spot on the ballot withdrew from the election.)

McCarville is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity and the student council sub-committee organizing the Iowa college congress to be held here later in the spring.

His platform calls for the extension of the recently adopted student grading of faculty to include the rating of examinations. It also requests a solution to the campus parking problem.

McCarville suggests the formation of an all-campus committee of activity leaders to meet once a month to talk over campus problems. The committee would be an appendage of the council.

McCarville proposes a council committee to help the faculty plan the university calendar to prevent scheduling important functions on the same day.

He also proposes the establishment of a "ride clearance" office to help students find rides and riders home every weekend.

Richard Turney, A2, Oelwein, is another of the 10 running for two student council positions open for men.

Turney is a member of the Hillcrest council and was president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary fraternity. He is a member of the all-campus men's orientation committee.

Turney's platform says he will strive to get a larger appropriation for the student council so the council can more adequately fulfill its responsibilities.

He proposes a definition of the council's specific aims and policies so it can better represent the student body.

ASKS EXCISE TAX CUT

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP)—Sen. Scott Lucas (D-Ill) called Monday for 50 percent cuts in some excise taxes.

Movie Czar to Give Commencement Address

Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, will deliver the SUI June commencement address, it was announced Monday.

Johnston, internationally-known figure and former president of the U.S. chamber of commerce, will address SUI graduates in the fieldhouse at 1:45 p.m. June 9. The subject of his speech was not announced.

(Date of the commencement was announced in SUI publications erroneously as June 10. Prof. James Jordan, head of the SUI information service, said Monday.)

A 1917 graduate of the University of Washington, Johnston began his career as a door-to-door vacuum cleaner salesman. He rose to head four business concerns with 1,700 employes, become the youngest president in U.S. chamber of commerce history and in 1945 was named czar of the $2-billion movie industry.

He ran on the Republican ticket

ERIC JOHNSTON Will Address 1950 Grads for U.S. senator from Washington in 1940 and served on several wartime government boards. Among these were the economic stabilization board and the war manpower commission.

An ardent champion of the capitalistic system, Johnston went to Russia during World War II to confer with Joseph Stalin. He reportedly told the Communist premier:

"I like your manganese. It doesn't know it's socialistic. You like our machine tools. They don't know they're capitalistic."

In 1944, after years of globe-trotting as a representative of American business, Johnston received the Capt. Robert Dollar Memorial award for "distinguished contribution to the advancement of American foreign trade."

Upon his selection as president of the Motion Picture Association of America, succeeding Will H. Hays, Johnston said the movies are "America's greatest salesman, her most natural and convincing ambassadors of good will."

Three Sizes Too Big —

John L. Lewis, who has been subjected to the fire and brimstone of coal interests, frowned upon by the government, and questioned by the public, is now being attacked from the rear.

A former president of a United Mine Workers' local, Lloyd H. Sidener, originated a movement Sunday to "kick John L. Lewis out of the union."

Of course the fact that this instigator was ousted from his presidential seat not long ago may have something to do with his bitterness against Lewis.

He claims Lewis gave a secret signal to the miners to ignore a back to work order during the last strike.

Lewis responded logically and intelligently — he declined to comment.

Regardless of how exasperated we may get at some of Lewis' tactics, we cannot lose sight of the fact that labor must have intelligent leadership.

Often of late, its present leaders have acted in discordance with what we consider the best interests of the nation, but what happened behind the scenes in opposing them could hardly be called sympathetic toward society.

If Lewis were ousted, as Sidener hopes, where could the UMW turn for another competent leader? Perhaps Sidener has more hopes. But, if his present mud-slinging is an indication of his leadership ability, the UMW had better stay with Lewis.

Although Lewis seems to be suffering from an overdose of power, he still has the solid support of his union and the miners themselves, a point which cannot be overlooked when considering leadership.

If another competent man were available for his job, ousting Lewis might be a good move, but with conditions as they are, John L.'s shoes seem about three sizes too big for anyone else.

Ahead in Protein —

The huge meals Americans are supposed to have eaten 40 years ago are something of a legend.

However, this year the average American is expected to eat about five more pounds of meat than his forebearer consumed in 1910. According to legend, grandpa's table groaned three times a day under the weight of large quantities of steaks, roasts and fowl.

Our human population has increased by 63 percent since 1910, while the meat animal population is only 27 percent greater, according to meat packers.

Enormous progress has been made in the meat industry in 40 years. Loss of animals has been reduced through better sanitation and handling methods, and refrigeration has reduced spoilage to an almost non-existent level.

All this has made it possible for Americans to eat better, more healthful and more nutritious meals than ever before. We consume more vital proteins, which are supposed to have direct bearing on stamina and physical well-being.

We're ahead of grandpa!

A Look at the Pulse —

Tom Martin, Iowa congressional representative from the first district, recently conducted a survey of voters in this area to check the pulse on about 20 provisions of President Truman's state of the nation address.

Some of the more notable answers that showed up indicated Iowa voters felt pretty much as you'd expect.

Nearly 4,000 persons answered that federal spending should be reduced. A slim 72 thought present administrative financing was all right.

Among the nine possible cuts listed on the questionnaire, national defense was the only area where Iowa voters felt the government should not reduce its expenditures.

Items that could be trimmed, the survey showed, include veterans benefits, foreign aid to civilians, foreign arms aid, farm subsidies, social security, federal housing, public works and general cost of government.

The Brannan plan took a beating from the survey. Approximately 2,701 persons disapproved of the farm subsidy program, while 798 favored it.

All in all, the survey provides an indication that Iowa is still just as much of a Republican stronghold as it ever was.

TV in Automobiles? —

Through Iowa television is still in the experimental stage, some phenomenal progress has been shown in the industry in other parts of the nation.

Cross-country TV recently was enjoyed by passengers on a New York-Los Angeles airliner. Reception was reported excellent from New York to Chicago.

Though TV technicians admit they've scratched only the surface of the new medium's possibilities, engineers already are predicting TV sets soon will be installed in automobiles.

Foreseeing a rapid increase in traffic accidents if that prediction comes true, the legislatures of seven states have introduced bills to prohibit installation of television sets in autos where the driver could see the screen.

Not too many years ago, radios were prohibited in autos in some states so the driver could keep his mind on his driving and his eyes on the road.

Perhaps the automobile of the future practically will drive itself. If so, TV screens could be installed where the windshield is now. Some drivers never look straight ahead anyway.

Grass Ain't Riz —

This is vernal equinox time. That's spring to you.

It's almost time to put away the long woolen underwear, skis, sleds, overcoats and mittens. Spring officially arrived at 10:45 p.m. Monday.

As usual, the weatherman refused to cooperate, so spring had to sneak into town late at night — an odd hour even to sneak in. But don't rush off to the river bank! That season isn't open yet.

SUI students will find the Iowa river water a little too cold for canoeing or swimming, the ground too damp for riverbanking, and the weather too cold, in general, to do much of anything.

In fact, spring is here in name only. With apologies to the author:

Spring is sprung,
But the grass ain't riz.
There's no need to wonder
Where them flowers is.

'New Glory'

"NEW GLORY WOULD LOOK like this with stars added for Alaska and Hawaii as states, according to a design suggested by Chester Allen of Chicago, but experts differ on the designing. There is now a bill resting in a senate committee to admit the territories as states.

Interpreting the News —

War Threatened in Morocco

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Old Abdel Krim's eyes may be bigger than his stomach when he talks about starting, at 67, a new war with France in Morocco, but he was quite a boy in his heyday a quarter century ago.

First he got mad at the Spaniards among whom he had been educated and with whom he was working. He took a few hundred tribesmen and drove an army of 19,000 men out of Spanish Morocco. At least he drove out those who lived, only about 3,000.

Through this debacle, and without ever putting foot in Spain, he caused the collapse of the Spanish government and set the scene for Primo de Rivera's dictatorship.

At the height of his success then, he objected as France's increasing occupation of her protectorate began to crowd his Rif mountains.

Many an American, some of whom had worn the insignia of the Lafayette Escadrille on the western front against Germany, remembers the war that followed. Troopers had joined the Foreign Legion after World War I because they had nowhere else to fight, fliers because they had nowhere else to fly.

It was an amazing war, particularly for the fliers. Seeking little bands from the air. Improvising bombs. Flying crates which had been obsolete even before they reached the flying fields of France and Flanders seven years before. Bomb racks frequently were improvised. More than one plane came home to land with potential death dangling half-loose from releases which had failed to work.

The pilots fired at Rifis through gun barrels deeply pitted with age. The observers fired rifles and pistols and threw hand grenades.

Always they saved a bullet or two for themselves in case they were forced down among the tribes. For the men of Abdel Krim worked horrible and highly skilled vengeance on prisoners, and the women camp followers were worse than the men.

But the "rules" were known on both sides, and that was a direct war. In some ways the sands of Morocco provided a cleaner battlefield than the miasma of cold-war, with its eel-like issues slithering through sandpiles of propaganda to avoid direct action.

Abdel Krim's warriors were elusive. But they used no warped theories to cut a throat. No fifth columnists in Paris cried, "Vive le Patrie" as they undermined the pillars of their own temples.

But this time Abdel Krim threatens to accept the aid of communism in an effort to throw off French control. He threatens war, both direct and indirect, throughout all north Africa.

There is doubt that, after his long exile, he can do any more than talk.

But if he should be able, it will be a different war for him. Last time he fought to soldier's surrender. In a Communist war he would merely become the ignoble captive of his own allies.

Dr. Sander Banned From 2 Hospitals

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Dr. Hermann N. Sander, acquitted mercenary murder trial defendant, has been banned from two Catholic hospitals, and a charge has been made against him by a member of the Hillsborough county medical society, medical officials announced Monday night.

The Sacred Heart and Notre Dame hospitals banned the 41-year-old Candia, N.H., physician as a result of his first degree murder trial in the death of a cancer-stricken patient, Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto, 59, of Manchester. Dr. Sander was acquitted March 9.

The county medical association did not disclose the nature of the charge against Sander, nor would a spokesman for the association announce who filed the charge. It was learned, however, that the charge was made by officials of the two hospitals which barred the doctor.

To Migraine Sufferers —

Super-Headaches Torment

— But Have Bright Side

By RUSS GREENLEE

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP) — It seems that when many a popular writer on medical subjects is hard up for a theme, he decides to do an article on migraine. That's the super-headache which baffles the doctors.

This harping on migraine creates a happy situation for its victims. It: (A) Makes the general public sympathetic. (B) Gives us a sort of privileged class feeling.

Migraine is not always fun, but it's always interesting. Not infrequently, you feel as if some mad master of the xylophone were hammering out "the burning of Rome" on the inside of your skull. Occasionally you wish you were dead.

There's a brighter side, however. For instance, you can be thankful that you don't have two heads.

Then there are the lights. They are always interesting, in a tormenting sort of way.

Some migraine sufferers can tell you about seeing flashes of colored light when the pain in their noddles has reached the jiving point. Some even see designs in these lights, or say they do. My lighting effects are on a practical rather than artistic plane, probably stemming from a middle-class background. They're just lights.

Moreover, there's a camaraderie among us who are subject to migraine. We have something in common — and how! However, the onset, the aura or height and the conclusion or wearing off of an attack vary with individuals. This makes a good subject for long and earnest comparisons wherein Republicans can hold Democrats spellbound and vice versa.

I began my career as a migraine subject before there was much interest in it. In fact, I never even heard of the word until I was earning enough salary to finance a trip through an allergy clinic.

"I was 15 years old when I had my first attack. My mother diagnosed it as biliousness and administered a racking dose of castor oil. Three hours later, except for wear and tear, I was back to normal. She never got over the idea that it was castor oil that straightened me out.

Opinions as to why human beings have migraine seem to vary. I have been told that: Migraine is hereditary and you can't do anything about it; it is not hereditary, but you still can't do anything about it; it is an allergy, a symptom of your body's protest to certain foods; it is not an allergy, but a symptom of nervous strain; it is a symptom of eyestrain; it tends to taper off as you grow older; it is likely to grow more severe with age.

Thanks to the speculation that keeps interest in migraine alive, persons who don't suffer from it feel compassion for those who do.

The boss will tell you to be sure to stay in bed for a while and for heaven's sake not to show up at the office again until you feel absolutely all right. Maybe somebody will offer to take the early shift that would have got you up at 4 a.m.

The kids learn to shut up and behave after a fashion when daddy comes home looking as if he'd just witnessed a double hanging. Even your wife is kind to you. You could do worse than to have migraine!

UN Letters

Lots of Mail from U.S., None from Russia

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — The United Nations gets many letters from far away places but never one from Ivan, Russia's man-in-the-street.

UN officials say they don't remember so much as a postcard from a private citizen of Russia among all the 150,000 communications that have come here from the general public during the last four years.

The UN receives about 750 letters a week from non-official sources. They deal with everything under the sun. Some are serious proposals from well-informed persons, some are from obvious cranks, some from persons who are all but illiterate, some from authors who write with tongue-in-cheek.

The UN officials who handle these letters give them all careful and courteous attention, but they get a laugh now and then.

One man in Wauwapon, Wis., for example, asked for six copies of the universal declaration of human rights.

"I wish them for our relatives," he explained. "A right affects me."

A writer in the Ozarks sent the UN a volume of her poems. She said she hoped the delegates would find inspiration to deal with H-bomb problems.

"I wish also to call attention to the scenic beauty of the Ozarks," she added.

Correspondents send in all sorts of gifts, mostly poems, songs and new designs for a world flag. Right now the UN is flooded with offers of art and furniture for the new skyscraper headquarters nearing completion in Manhattan.

Most mail comes from the United States. The remainder is divided pretty evenly among the rest of the world; no one country consistently sends a heavy volume.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Four marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk's office Saturday. Obtaining licenses were Francis McLaughlin, 19, and Marcella Hackman, 18, both of Cedar Rapids; Arthur Geiger, 29, Moline, Ill., and Ruby McDaniel, 31, Iowa City; LaVerne Olson, 23, and Evelyn Johnson, 22, both of Grinnell, and Harry A. Klindt, 51, Davenport, and Mary Russell, 17, Moline, Ill.

Americans Blocked In Leaving Shanghai

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evacuation of 2,000 Americans and other foreigners from Shanghai was blocked Monday by refusal of Chinese Communists to let two U.S. rescue vessels enter the port.

The state department said the Communists apparently feared the rescue crafts, two LST's, were warships rather than commercial boats. It instructed diplomats in Shanghai to press the Communist authorities to reconsider their decision.

Student Writes Music, Speaks Chinese

By JEAN SMITH

Joyce Ann Sutter, A1, St. Louis, Mo., thinks it's a shame she can't live 10 lives at once.

An art major, she should have enough to keep her busy. But she's a student with energy plus and does everything from composing music to speaking Chinese.

Joyce explained her art interest by saying "it isn't abstract or realistic. It's just me. My interest stems partially from my third grade rebellion against my instructors," she continued. "They tried to force me to use my right hand although I'm left-handed. The result was that I rebelled and refused to use either hand."

Composes Music

"Our family doctor suggested work with plastiline clay. The work caught my interest and I've stuck with art ever since," she added.

Not the least of her accomplishments lies in the music field. The amateur composer describes her original pieces as "just doodling."

Most of her original compositions in both music and art show a combined Oriental and Spanish influence. About two years ago, Joyce went to Cuba where she acquired a Congo drum, moroccos and castanets.

These rhythm inspirations introduced the Spanish touch to her work and the drum provides many a welcome moment of diversion from the daily routine, she said.

Speaks Chinese

Joyce displays an intense interest in primitive cultures and languages. To date she can speak Chinese and French and last summer she attempted to learn Portuguese and Swedish.

Voodooism also has captured her fancy. "Originally voodooism was an African and barbaric religion but now is found chiefly among Haitian peoples," she explained.

Her interest in Oriental influences has led to her pastime of cooking Chinese food when she has the chance. "I don't think I could cook an American dish if I tried," she laughed.

Joyce also has her favorite books, although her many interests exempt her from being called "bookish." "Something that has impressed me particularly is Socrates' account of death," she said, "but the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam is my bible."

Home Museum

The collecting urge has been added to her long list of interests. "I have my own art studio at home and use it as a museum for my relics which include hunting knives and antique instruments, one of which is an old ebony flute. The studio has been patterned after a Haitian hut."

At present she is concerned with the collection of odd cigarette brands.

Joyce has even developed an interest in amateur photography with basket weaving and pottery as one of her past diversions.

Member of Highlanders

Of Scotch ancestry, Joyce is a member of the campus-famed Highlanders. To relax her nerves she often squeezes a tune out of her bagpipe. "In addition, I'm learning to strum the guitar, not as a serious subject, but as a sideline for my free moments," she explained.

This coed - of - varied - interests plans to study the primitive art of an African tribe sometime in the future.

"Of course, if I develop any other interests, I may find myself pretty busy, but right now I don't have time to worry about being busy," she concluded.

(Daily Iowan Photo)

PONDERING OVER HER MANY HOBBIES is Joyce Ann Sutter, A1, St. Louis, Mo. Unlike most curriculum-conscious students, she maintains a wide field of interests. Art, music (amateur composing), Highlanders, languages and primitive religions are just a few. In her spare time she practices on her bagpipe and is learning to strum the guitar.

It's Tournament, Not Spring Fever Today

Seven Squads Practice At Fieldhouse Monday

By DON MOYER

Today may be the first day of spring but the arrival of the new season is apt to go virtually unnoticed in Iowa City. Basketball "fever" will replace the usual spring malady as eight of the 16 state boys' tournament entries begin action in the Iowa fieldhouse starting this afternoon.

Seven teams took their 45-minute practice workouts on the fieldhouse floor Monday afternoon and evening and seven more will take their practice shots on the large court today. Davenport and Winfield did not participate in the drills but both teams played here in sub-state competition.

Five Teams Arrive
By Monday night five teams had checked in at the Hotel Jefferson with the rest expected to arrive today, except for those teams which are commuting.

Albert City took the floor first Monday after arriving about noon following a long drive by car. For the Hurricanes it was an initial look at the big court. An Albert City team was last here in 1940.

Coach Steve Everett's boys pulled one of the top sub-state upsets, defeating Sioux Center, 50-43. "There's quite a story there," said Everett. "Last year we were rated No. 1 in the Northwest and Sioux Center beat us out. This year they were rated tops and we pulled the upset."

Watch Gridders
After their drills the Albert City crew wandered to the west end of the armory where they watched the Iowa football team work out. They would have liked to see their first round opponent Sioux City Central in practice but the Sioux City team was not due to arrive until 8:15 p.m.

Les Hipple's maroon quintet, which should be quite familiar with the Iowa court after two sub-state wins here, followed the Hurricanes.

The First Round

1:30 p.m.	East Des Moines (AA) vs. Winfield (B)
2:45 p.m.	Albert City (AA) vs. Sioux City Central (AA)
7:30 p.m.	Dubuque (Loras) (AA) vs. Marion (A)
8:45 p.m.	Melrose (B) vs. Ankeny (A)

with the Iowa court after two sub-state wins here, followed the Hurricanes.

The Indians, who have lost only one game this season, narrowly missed the state meet last year with a sub-state loss to Montezuma, which is back again this year. Following the practice they returned to Marion to spend the night at home.

At 3 p.m. Montezuma's Braves took over. Coach Irving Gabriel's squad made its first trip to the state last year. In returning this year the Braves also gained revenge for a 1949 tournament loss to Waverly by defeating the Go-hawks in sub-state play.

Will Commute
Gabriel also sent his team on its way home after the workout.

Keokuk, another Iowa City sub-state competitor, was the last team to go through its preliminary drills in the afternoon. The Chiefs edged the title holders Otumwa in the sub-state to clear the way for a new champion.

DRINKING A TOAST OF MILK while eating supper in the Quad cafeteria Monday night were these Albert City basketball players and their coach, Steve Everett (standing). The Hurricanes, winners of 24 of 26 games this season, meet Sioux City Central at 2:45 this afternoon in the second game of the opening day of the 1950 Boy's state tournament in the fieldhouse. Left to right are Everett, Nordine, Coach Everett, Bob Hussey, Dick Gustafson, Roger Olson, Duane Miller and Junior Young.

Coach Don Shupe said his team would commute also until Thursday but then they will be "up to stay, win or lose."

East high of Des Moines came on at 6:15. It's the first time to a state meet for the Scarlets. They are probably the tallest team in the state this year, with an average height of more than 6-feet, 2 inches. Wendell Webb, Scarlet coach, took his team to the hotel immediately following its drills.

Ankeny, perhaps better known as "Fontana and company," got its turn next. The Hawkeyes are here for the third straight year, the first as a class A school, however. Coach Merritt Parsons is in his first year with the team and it is his first coaching job, too.

The Hawkeyes boast a 28-0 record for the season. As a matter of fact they have lost only three games in three years, all tournament losses.

Ray Fontana, Ankeny star who has tallied 748 points in 28 games this season, said Monday night that the present Ankeny team has "better balance" than last year's state tourney outfit.

"I'd say we have a better team this year," he said, but he quickly added that Melrose (Ankeny's first round opponent) has a "tough ball club."

"We played them once this year and although we won by 10 points, it was a good game."

Sioux City Central wound up the practice sessions, coming directly from the train to the fieldhouse. The Little Maroons were somewhat amazed at the size of the floor even though Central is one of the larger schools in the meet.

Davenport, here for the fourth straight year, is fast approaching the all-time consecutive appearance record set by Mason City. The Mohawks came to Iowa City five times in a row from 1932 through '36.

The Blue Devils are the most frequent visitor to the state meet but it's a sure bet they'd like to win the championship by a higher score than they did in 1930. The score that year was 16-11.

Swim Team Ready For NCAA Clash

Iowa's swimming team will open its bid for national honors Thursday when the Hawks enter the opening events of the NCAA meet in Columbus, Ohio. The meet will extend over Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Coach Dave Arbruster and his assistant, Jim Counsilman, will leave with the squad of 10 Wednesday. The distance swimmers and divers will leave Wednesday morning by plane since the 1500 meter race and diving events will be the only events held Thursday. Wednesday afternoon the remainder of the squad will leave by train from Cedar Rapids.

Ohio State will be the favorites at the national meet. The Bucks are defending champions and have displayed ample power throughout the season to be tabbed as the top team in the large field.

Iowa's crew, headed by its ace sprinter Rusty Garst, have shaken most of the colds which have menaced the squad this season. Arbruster thinks that the team will enter this meet in peak condition.

Freshman Swimmers Get Six First Places

Iowa's freshman swimmers won six first places, three seconds and two thirds in the Mid-Western AAU championships held in Kansas City over the weekend.

Ronnie Johnson was the individual standout for the freshmen with victories in the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:04.7, the 150-yard individual medley in 1:39, and a second place in the 100-yard back stroke. He tied in total points with 13.

Dick LaBahn won the national junior 100-yard free style in :53.3 and the 50-yard free style in :24.3. He was second in the 220, one-tenth of a second behind the winner.

Other Hawk freshmen to place were Herb Martin, winner of the 100-yard back stroke in 1:04.7; Otto Broeders, diving; and Herb Kern, second in the national junior 100 and third in the 100-yard breast stroke and 440-yard free style.

Bradley Drops Kansas, 59-57

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bradley's Braves put on a driving finish to defeat the University of Kansas Jayhawkers 59-57 Monday night for the fifth district's berth in the western regional NCAA basketball playoffs.

The Braves, number one team in the nation, had the speed and stamina in the last four minutes to turn back Kansas' young Jayhawkers. Bradley's play was sharp despite last week's New York trip where they lost in the finals of the National Invitation tournament to City College of New York.

Western Playoffs
The Peorians now enter the western playoffs here Friday and Saturday with Baylor, UCLA and Brigham Young.

All-America Paul Unruh hit three field goals in 45 seconds to put Bradley ahead 56-54 with three minutes to play. Kansas' sophomore-studded lineup had led consistently after five minutes of play in the second half. But after Unruh took personal charge Kansas never could quite catch up.

Tied 14 Times
The score was tied 14 times before Unruh, who had 18 points for the night, hit a field goal on the dead run that proved the winning margin.

Bradley also needed a rally in the first half to gain a 31-28 intermission lead over the Big Seven conference co-champions.

A Big Clyde Lovellette, Kansas 6-foot 8 1/2-inch sophomore, scored 21 points, highest of the night.

Third Bankers' Crown for Don

By EVERETT MONTGOMERY

Three Bankers' mile titles to Don Gehrman!
Wisconsin's great miler Saturday night became the third man in the event's history to gain permanent possession of the huge bronze trophy, symbol of a three-time champion.

Gehrman's three crowns were captured in three consecutive years. Neither Gill Dodds or Lloyd Hahn were able to accomplish the same feat.

Not only did Gehrman win the 1950 Bankers mile, but he also gained some satisfaction by beating rival Fred Wilt. Wilt was ruled victor over Gehrman in the Wanamaker mile by the Milwaukee games committee.

Gehrman, who weighs 131 pounds, not only won the mile and trophy but also the hearts of the record - breaking 17,683 fans that jammed Chicago's gigantic stadium.

His victory left little doubt of his mile supremacy as he negotiated the distance in 4:09.5 — two-tenths of a second slower than he ran in the still-disputed Wanamaker.

Chicago's fandom let loose with a tremendous ovation as Gehrman snapped the tape. They continued to roar as the slender Badger trotted slowly around the track.

When presented with the massive trophy, which is almost as big as Gehrman, the crowd thundered again. Don thanked the Daily News, the crowd, the city of Chicago and expressed hope that he would be able to return again.

As Gehrman started to carry the award from the arena, one of the officials stopped him, took the trophy and carried it to the end of the stadium.

The official placed it on a table along with the Gill award, Ned Merriam trophy and the John S. Knight Memorial trophy.

Gehrman strode slowly behind the official as though he didn't care for all the pomp.

Students Will Find Few 'Snap' Jobs for Vacation

Summer jobs for college students at national parks and resorts will be low paying, and hard to get and keep.

These points were emphasized in letters received from parks, resorts and employment agencies by Robert L. Ballantyne, manager of the SUI student aid and placement bureau.

Jobs are available at Bear Lake Lodge and Estes Park hotels in Colorado, and Yellowstone Park, Wyoming. The Estes Park Hotel association expects 10,000 applications for the 400 positions open in their group.

The high paying, little work jobs that students could get during the last war and early post-war period have disappeared, Ballantyne said.

Wage Rates Lower

At Yellowstone park waitresses will receive 49 cents an hour; bus boys, 61 cents; cabin clerks, 68.5 cents; and cafeteria cashiers, 64.5 cents an hour. Board and lodgings valued at $1.72 per day will be deducted from each pay check.

Pantry girls at Bear Lake Lodge will get $23.92 a week; waitresses, $20.80; bus boys, $20.80; and kitchen helpers, $23.92.

Bonuses ranging from $32 to $64 will be given to those completing the terms of their contract with the Bear Lake Lodge. Two dollars a day will be deducted for food and lodging.

"Summer employers want workers, not hired guests," said Ballantyne.

"Employers do not need good looking young men and women to amuse their guests," he continued. "Instead they want clean wholesome, healthy young men and women willing to do the more menial tasks that go with catering to vacationers."

Male Help Preferred

At two October conventions of main resorts west of Denver, resolutions were made that no college help would be employed this summer.

"We are bucking a good deal of college antagonism," one employment agency wrote Ballantyne, "but we believe we can get that straightened out by picking youngsters. In view of the many things that have happened we must be careful so people do not entirely cease employing college students."

Men will be hired instead of women for many jobs.

"We will have openings for cabin boys in preference to cabin girls this year," another agency said. "That was the girls' fault. We are putting on young fellows to replace the unreliable girls that have been coming in the past few years."

Students interested in summer jobs should contact the placement office in the office of student affairs, University hall, Ballantyne said.

Contact Placement Office

"Last year there were about 80,000 letters sent by SUI students hunting for summer jobs," said Ballantyne. "This number could be cut down and better results obtained if students would contact the placement office before they write."

Addresses of prospective employers and recommendations may be obtained at the placement office. "If we send our approval of a student to an employer," Ballantyne said, "before the student writes, the employer will more likely be on the lookout for his letter."

Include Information

Ballantyne suggested that students writing for summer jobs should include the following information:

1. The exact time the student will be available for employment.
2. A statement of the particular work desired by the student.
3. Names of former employers and length of employment with each one.
4. References from former employers and others.
5. The name of the church, sorority, fraternity, or other organizations with which the student is affiliated.
6. A picture of the student and also a statement of any special talents or qualifications he or she has for the work requested.

Exams Set for Census Takers

Persons wishing to work as census-takers in Iowa City and Johnson county during April must take an examination Thursday at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., George W. Kanak, local census supervisor, said Monday.

To qualify for the examination a person must be a U. S. citizen between the ages of 21 and 65 and must live in this vicinity, Kanak said.

Kanak and George R. Krall, who is in charge of taking the census in the rural areas and small towns of Johnson county, will administer the examination in the assembly room of the Iowa - Illinois Electric company, 211 E. Washington street.

Persons selected to be a census-takers on the basis of the examinations will attend a training school next week at the gas and electric company's assembly room, Kanak said.

The federal department of commerce recently estimated that census-takers this year will travel 25-million miles and call at 45-million dwellings in thousands of cities and towns and on 6 1-3-million farms.

It is estimated that the country's population will be 151-million.

SUI International Club To Hear Ballantyne

The SUI International club will meet Friday at 8 p.m. in the Congregational church to discuss summer vacation opportunities.

Richard Sweitzer, SUI foreign student adviser, said the program will be divided into three units. Robert Ballantyne, SUI manager of student placement, will speak on work opportunities for summer work.

The second unit will feature James Avery, A3, Rochester, N.Y., YMCA chairman of the summer projects committee, who will discuss summer "Y" projects.

Philip E. Spelman, 715 Iowa avenue, local Greyhound bus lines representative, will give a short talk and present the film, "The Shortest Way Home," at the third and last hour.

A social hour will follow the regular program, Sweitzer said.

Orientation Committee Applications Available

Applications for positions on the men's orientation committee for the fall semester will be available today in the office of student affairs.

Don Guthrie, A3, Iowa City, chairman of the orientation committee, said five to eight men will be needed to fill the executive committee and others will be needed to help plan next year's program.

Only 3 Measles Cases Reported Here Monday

Only three new cases of measles — one of the smallest daily totals this month — were reported Monday in Iowa City, according to City Clerk George J. Dohrer.

Although the total for March stood at 185 Monday, more than twice as many cases were reported during the first 10 days of the month than during the next 10 days.

Five cases of chicken pox and four of mumps also have been reported this month.

During March, 1949, two cases of measles, 14 of chicken pox and 12 of mumps were reported here.

Gas Company to Spend $480,000 on Expansion

The Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company has announced an extensive expansion program which calls for an expenditure of $480,000 during 1950.

R. H. Lind, district manager of the utility company, said Monday the program for the Iowa City and Coralville area was a continuance of a pre-war expansion.

This program would bring better services to consumers, but the program would not necessitate a boost in utility rates in Iowa City, he said.

He said the company had faced rising demands for gas and power and this new expenditure would take care of anticipated increases.

About $50,000 of the total amount would be spent in starting work on a new natural gas feeder line which will extend 42 miles from the main gas pipeline near Ainsworth to Cedar Rapids.

1951 Completion Date
Scheduled for completion in 1951 at an ultimate cost of $1-million, this line will provide additional gas capacity for Iowa City and Coralville as well as Cedar Rapids.

Set to be installed this year, Lind said, is a $75,000 3,900 kilovolt-ampere electric substation to be located at the southwest edge of the Iowa City business district.

To serve this substation, a new 13,200 volt line costing about $25,000 will be constructed. In addition, Lind said, $25,000 will be spent in rebuilding the distribution facilities in that vicinity, changing most of them to provide a three-phase service.

Other Projects
Other projects for this year include the rebuilding of alley circuits in the business district at a cost of about $50,000. Additional line extensions, betterments, and new services represent a $75,000 expenditure, he said.

At the Coralville power plant a grounding transformer will be installed at a cost of $25,000, Lind said. This will permit the supplying of electric requirements of the Iowa City area from the 161,000 volt transmission line independent of the Coralville plant.

In the gas department, plans for 1950 include the construction of a 6-inch high pressure feeder line which is to connect with the main feeder line just west of Coralville and extend three and one-half miles to the northeast section of Iowa City.

This $50,000 expenditure will assure adequate and satisfactory pressure conditions for the entire city, particularly the northeast section, as the use of gas increases, Lind said.

TOPCOAT LOSS REPORTED
Arnold R. Tammes, A3, Sheldon, reported to police Monday the loss of a grey-blue gabardine topcoat. He said the coat disappeared from a room in the chemistry building about noon Saturday.

High school coaches, press and radio men and officials for the western conference gymnastics meet will be housed in the South Quadrangle dormitory and study halls during the state high school basketball tournament this week.

A basement room in the South Quadrangle has been arranged to furnish sleeping quarters for 16 persons.

Mrs. Verne Spencer, manager of the South Quadrangle, said press and radio men, along with five western conference officials, will live in the basement room.

The South Quadrangle study halls will be occupied by 65 visiting Iowa high school coaches, Mrs. Spencer said.

In past years the coaches have been housed in the South Quadrangle basements. The present crowded conditions made it necessary to move the coaches into the two study hall buildings just north of the dormitory.

Iowa City Chamber of Commerce officials said they have rooms available for parties of two and three persons. Rooms are needed for larger groups, they said.

Hillcrest Vocal Group To Furnish Music For Alumni Movie

The Hillcrest dormitory chorus will furnish music for a movie being made by the SUI alumni service, Loren Hickerson, director of the service, has announced.

The chorus, under the direction of Eugene Thompson, A4, Garrison, will record the music Wednesday night in the Senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Thompson said the chorus, consisting of about 40 residents of the dormitory, will sing the SUI alma mater song, "Old Gold."

Hickerson said the music will be used at the opening and closing of the movie.

"A Letter to an Old Grad" is the title of the movie.

The purpose of the movie will be to inform SUI alumni of new buildings on the campus and also to show them that the traditional spots have not changed, Hickerson said.

Alumni clubs in Iowa and other states will see the color film, Hickerson said.

The movie will be narrated in the form of a letter. It will have scenes showing the physical changes, temporary housing, some of the older traditional buildings and a few athletic events.

It is not known when the movie will be completed, but Hickerson said he hoped that it would be shown before fall.

Deadline Wednesday For Hancher Contest

All manuscripts for the annual Hancher oratorical contest must be turned in to the speech department before the deadline Wednesday afternoon, Instructor Merrill Baker, speech department, said Monday.

Baker said the department had completed tentative plans for judging the manuscripts. The plan calls for a preliminary contest which will be held Thursday at 7 p.m. in room 221-A, Schaeffer hall.

This will be followed by the final contest April 4, at 8 p.m. in Old Capitol, he said.

Winner of the final contest will receive the $25 award donated by President Virgil Hancher and will have an opportunity to represent SUI at the Northern Oratorical League conference which meets here May 5, Baker said.

He said the manuscript may be written "on any significant subject." It must be limited to not more than 1,500 words, and quoted material cannot exceed 100 words.

Graduate of 1893 Dies in New York

Mrs. Margaret William Cooper, 87, holder of a Ph.D. degree from SUI in 1893, died Sunday at Mt. Vernon, N.Y.

Mrs. Cooper, who lived in Iowa City for many years, moved from here in 1923. During her undergraduate and graduate days at SUI, she majored in science.

Mrs. Cooper also attended the Willis Academy here. Survivors include her son, Clifton, also an SUI graduate. He, his wife and two children live in New York City.

Mr. Cooper's wife, the former Cristabel Loos, is the daughter of the late Prof. Isaac Loos, head of the department of political economy and sociology at SUI.

Group to Discuss D.C. Trip Absences

The adjustment committee of the college of liberal arts will meet Wednesday to discuss permitting students going on the YMCA-YWCA government tour to miss four days of classes, Prof. H.C. Harsbarger, executive secretary of the committee, said Monday.

Students taking the Washington, D.C., and New York tour would miss classes on April 3, 4 and 5 before Easter vacation and April 10, the day following vacation.

The 11-day trip is scheduled to begin March 31, lasting through April 10. The purpose of the tour is to gain a better understanding of the federal government and the United Nations.

The total cost of the trip will be $85. Applications may be left at the YMCA office in the Iowa Union with a deposit of $10.

Stooker Named Outstanding Fraternity Man

Stooker is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma. SUI President Virgil M. Hancher addressed about 90 persons attending the third annual banquet. He discussed the value of education in understanding the growing complexities of this age.

Delta Tau Delta won the cup for the most improvement in scholarship by bringing its collective grade average up .23 points.

Phi Kappa Sigma won the cup for the house having the highest grade point with an average of 2.5.

Phi Kappa Psi pledge class took the pledge cup with a grade point average of 2.64.

Vandecar said interfraternity council keys were presented to each of the 16 presidents of the SUI social fraternities last semester.

South Quad to Ease Tournament Housing

High school coaches, press and radio men and officials for the western conference gymnastics meet will be housed in the South Quadrangle dormitory and study halls during the state high school basketball tournament this week.

A basement room in the South Quadrangle has been arranged to furnish sleeping quarters for 16 persons.

Mrs. Verne Spencer, manager of the South Quadrangle, said press and radio men, along with five western conference officials, will live in the basement room.

The South Quadrangle study halls will be occupied by 65 visiting Iowa high school coaches, Mrs. Spencer said.

In past years the coaches have been housed in the South Quadrangle basements. The present crowded conditions made it necessary to move the coaches into the two study hall buildings just north of the dormitory.

Iowa City Chamber of Commerce officials said they have rooms available for parties of two and three persons. Rooms are needed for larger groups, they said.
