Doubt In Lattimore's Story: Hickenlooper

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) Friday night challenged an assertion by Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md) that secret FBI information given to the senate investigators clears Owen Lattimore of spying charges.

Tydings immediately repeated his conclusion announced Thursday which he said is shared by four of the five members of a subcommittee hearing the accusations made by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis).

Hickenlooper, the fifth committee member who Friday looked into the FBI's summary of Lattimore's loyalty file, declared in a statement that the announced conclusion is not warranted by the information presented.

Hickenlooper said he himself has not reached any conclusion on the case of the far eastern expert who McCarthy asserts is Russia's biggest spy in America.

The Iowa senator said a full check of the actual file — not the FBI's summary of it — together with all other "available information" is essential before reaching a decision.

This coincides with the contention of McCarthy who says his whole array of charges of communism in the state department will stand or fall on the Lattimore case. But President Truman has reaffirmed his stand that congress isn't going to go looking into FBI files.

Tydings said in reply to Hickenlooper:

1. Two weeks ago all committee members but Hickenlooper (he was out of town) heard read in the presence of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover a complete summary of the FBI file on Lattimore.

2. Then "we exchanged certain opinions. Subsequent to that Sen. Henry Lodge (R-Mass) made a speech on the floor of the senate in which he said that none of the charges made by Sen. McCarthy had thus far been proved."

3. "Thus, when I said that four members of our committee who were present when the file was read saw nothing in the file to prove that Mr. Lattimore had ever been a Communist, a Communist sympathizer or a Red spy, I expressed the combined opinions of the committee which I think speaks for itself."

State Solons Okay Dam Site Change

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa legislative interim committee Friday approved a request from the conservation commission that the site be changed for a proposed dam on Rock Creek in Jasper county.

Bruce Stiles, conservation commission director, asked that the dam be relocated a mile to the north of its original proposed site on highway 6.

Construction of the dam at the original site would have totaled $552,480, but at the new location costs would come to only $275,000, Stiles said.

Bunny Repaired for Easter

A COAT HANGER WIRE SPLINT saved this Easter bunny from a permanently damaged leg Friday after the rabbit had broken his leg on an Easter package. Kenneth, 2, and Donald, 7, fondle the bunny after a veterinarian fixed up the bunny. All in all, it looks like a happy Easter for the sons of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Giek of Syracuse, N.Y. Total cost of the accident: $5. Total cost of the rabbit: $2.

Dangerous Epidemic of Spring Fever Hits Here

LET SLEEPING DOGS AND HUMANS LIE when spring forces their eyelids closed with its warm sunshine. Easter shoppers passed by the lounging pair without disturbing them. Joe Meca, A3, Binghamton, N.Y., and a four-legged friend take advantage of SUI's campus that is slowly but surely trading a snow white complexion for a bright green look. Joe, one of the university students stranded in Iowa City for Easter vacation, said, "I've got everything I need for Easter as long as the sun shines." His companion's only comment was full-faced yawn.

SUI Law Alumnus, Class of '97, Dies In Davenport Home

Alfred C. Mueller, 74, 1897 SUI law graduate and four times mayor of Davenport, died Thursday at his Davenport home of heart disease.

Mr. Mueller, a member of the Iowa Alumni association and prominent in Scott county civic affairs, had been ill since last September but continued working in his Davenport law office until a few days before his death.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. today in the Hill and Fredericks mortuary, Davenport. Burial will follow at Oakdale cemetery.

Two Successive Terms
Mr. Mueller was chosen for his first term as mayor in 1910 and was re-elected for two successive terms. He held a single term of office again in 1922.

Active in local and state politics, he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in 1938. In 1947 he was elected "governor of the State of Scott" an annual honor bestowed on outstanding citizens of Scott county.

Headed Settlement
Much of his public service revolved around the Friendly house, a Davenport settlement project. He served as president continuously since its organization in 1911.

Mr. Mueller was described by members of the SUI President's office and alumni office as a "very loyal and devoted alumnus."

He is survived by his widow, Hilda; three nieces and four nephews. He had no children.

Activities Listed
Mr. Mueller was a member of the Davenport chamber of commerce; the Rotary club; the Outing club; the Town club; the "High Twelve"; and the Central Turners club.

A member of the Scott county bar association and the Iowa bar association, he also belonged to Masonic Fraternal lodge 221, AS and AM; Kaba temple; Zarepath Consistory, and the Mohassan Grotto.

While mayor, he organized the Davenport levy improvement commission and was a member when not in office. Mr. Mueller was one of the organizers and supporters of the Tri-City Symphony orchestra.

New York Water Bubbles Over Top

NEW YORK (AP) — New York had too much water Friday — in the wrong place.

Water Commissioner Stephen J. Carney stood by the banks of one of the city's reservoirs and watched millions of gallons flow over the top. It was enough to make tears flow from strong men.

The Schoharie reservoir — one in a chain of reservoirs feeding New York City nearly one-billion gallons of water a day — rose above its 19-billion gallon level early Friday.

The city managed to salvage some 600 million gallons from the Schoharie reservoir by drawing it into the Big Ashokan reservoir, which contains only 83 percent of its capacity, but millions of gallons just went over the top and were lost.

Police Search for Roommate In College Student's Death

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UP) — A University of North Carolina student was shot and killed in his rooming house Friday and police launched a statewide search for his roommate who dropped out of school in December.

Police listed the victim as George Lemuel Benett, Jr., 22 of near Wadesboro, N.C.

They said they were searching for Len Broughton Smith, 27, whose address they gave as Chapel Hill.

The address was that of the large frame rooming house in which the two boys shared a room in this quiet college town.

The killing came while a Wake Forest college student, Raymond W. Hair of Fayetteville, was being tried in superior court for the murder of Roy W. Coble, 20, last December on the Wake Forest campus.

Police said B.A. Hill, owner of the house, found the body.

Hill said he heard a shot about 2:50 p.m. and looked out an upstairs window to see Smith leaving the house. He went downstairs, he said, and found Bennett shot three times.

Hill's wife was listed as the secretary of the education department at the university.

Police Chief W.L. Sloan called highway patrolmen into the search for Smith.

Fellow students said Smith was a graduate student who flunked out of the university last December.

Soviet Claims Sub Scare Trumped-Up

LONDON (SATURDAY) (AP) — A Soviet radio commentator today accused the United States of inventing a "submarine scare" to obtain congressional approval for a "monstrous military budget."

The charge was made in an English language broadcast over Moscow radio by the Soviet Commentator Skyrabin.

He said "the old moth-eaten trick is again being dragged out of the junk closet" for the purpose of "augmenting the wealth of clique generals and Wall street brokers."

FEW Calls CR Walkout, Gives No Strike Reason

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — About 400 members of the farm equipment workers union drew their pay and walked off work Friday at the Laplant — Choate Manufacturing company after a meeting of the membership.

Union officials declined to comment on the work stoppage. Negotiations are underway between the company and the FEW on a new contract.

Archie Dennis, company spokesman, said the men reported to paymaster windows for checks, then left the plant.

Hot Blade Brings Golden Silence

CHICAGO (AP) — Finding of a hacksaw blade on the ground below death cell windows of the county jail Friday prompted Warden Chester Fordney to stroll to the tier with the blade in hand.

Missouri Gangland Silent; Police Hunt Binaggio Murderer

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — The underworld was ominously silent in Missouri Friday night as the investigation into the slaying of Kansas City northside political boss, Charles Binaggio, and his strong-arm man, turned on gambling and racket dealings.

Police worked around the clock to try to get a line on Binaggio's out-of-town connections, particularly those in St. Louis and Denver, as there were hints that the underworld intended to avenge the double murder in its own way.

In St. Louis, the Star-Times in a copyrighted story, said it had learned Binaggio had practically received his death sentence in a room in a prominent hotel there last January.

Binaggio, the newspaper said, had failed to appease the demands of underworld bosses, who had poured between $100,000 and $200,000 into the 1948 Missouri Democratic campaign on the assurance Binaggio would see that St. Louis became a "wide-open town."

Shot Four Times
Binaggio's body and that of ex-convict Charles Gargotta, his right hand man known as the enforcer and executioner, were found in their Democratic political club rooms on Truman road Thursday. Each had been shot in the head four times.

Police Friday combed the underworld here and questioned Binaggio's closest associates to try to find out more about his out-of-town contacts. The associates were sorry about the deaths but police said they gave no information of value.

Underworld Roundup
After police screened the politician's closest friends they began a roundup of gangland's fringe. There was that ominous silence which led the Kansas City Star to say:

"Such reticence indicates that the local underworld plans to take care of the double murder of its leaders in its own way. Investigating forces therefore found themselves in a race against time to forestall a blood bath here."

Tired of Waiting
The St. Louis Star-Times said Binaggio had been told there that gangsters and gamblers at that end of the state were "tired of waiting;" that he had better deliver.

That trip three months ago to St. Louis had a strange effect on Binaggio. Binaggio appeared under a severe nervous strain. His one-time calm was broken on occasions by outbreaks of temper. He had let the word out that he would like to quit.

The Star-Times said the stumbling block to the underworld's plans was Gov. Forrest Smith's appointment of a political unknown, William Holzhausen, as head of the St. Louis police board. It said Binaggio, who had supported Smith for governor, thought he could handle Holzhausen but instead found a "sub-bornly righteous man — almost a reformer."

Iowa Citizen Arrested For Disturbing Peace
Jack Hull, Iowa City, was arrested late Friday night by police and charged with disturbing the peace after he assaulted 18-year-old Jerry Haynes, also of Iowa City.

Police said Haynes was beaten and kicked on Dubuque street near the Iowa theater. He was taken to University hospitals where he was X-rayed for possible internal injuries and treated for minor injuries.

Iowa Citizen Heads 'Model Legislature'

DES MOINES (AP) — Boy officers who will lead a Hi-Y youth and government model legislature at the statehouse April 21 and 22, met with their real-life counterparts Friday to discuss their coming responsibilities.

Boy Gov. Bob Ballantyne, 17, Iowa City, met with Mrs. Norma Mathes, secretary to Gov. William S. Beardsley in the real governor's absence. Ballantyne is the son of R.L. Ballantyne, manager of the SUI business placement office.

Lt. Gov. Kenneth Evans discussed senate procedure with Boy Lt. Gov. George Webster, 17, Muscatine. House procedure was discussed by Boy Speaker of the House Bill Schumacher, 16, Dubuque, and Gus Kuester, real speaker of the house.

The youths, elected at a recent pre-legislative session at Drake university, will lead about 150 young people during the model legislature.

The youngsters will draw up prospective bills, then put them through the same law-making channels and procedures followed by real-life legislation.

Announces New Reserve Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army announced Friday a five-year plan for doubling the number of organized reservists who are paid for drilling. The aim is to be in a position to throw 25-fully-manned divisions into emergency action.

It calls for an increase from 170,000 to 367,000 in the number of men eligible for drill pay. In addition there would be 625,000 in the volunteer reserves who would not receive drill pay but would be eligible for 15 days' paid active duty a year.

Schools would be provided for most individuals unable to get training in units.

President Truman has approved the sharply increased reserve training schedule, Karl R. Bendetsen, assistant army secretary, said. In 1948, Mr. Truman strongly criticized the army's reserve program as inadequate.

The program would give the army a nucleus of 25 divisions in case of war, and 25 others which could be rounded out, Bendetsen explained.

The fully manned 25 would be made up of the army's 10 regular divisions, and 15 from the national guard.

The army has the plans, but completion of the program depends on congress providing the money from year to year. This means voting $115-million in the pending budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, and rising to a peak of $180-million five years from now. It would take an average of $153-million to maintain the force thereafter.

Cedar Rapids Driver Sentenced to 30 Days

Robert F. Curtis, Cedar Rapids, was sentenced to 30 days in Johnson county jail on each of two counts by a Justice of the peace in West Liberty Friday.

Curtis was charged with leaving the scene of an accident without leaving his name and with reckless driving on highway 218 about 13 miles north of Iowa City, highway patrolmen said.

Curtis hit and forced into the ditch a Winfield Farmer's cooperative store truck driven by John A. Ferrenoud, Winfield, patrolmen said. The truck overturned and spilled its load of livestock feed into the road.

Curtis then attempted to avoid arrest by traveling country gravel roads from the scene of the accident to Cedar Rapids, patrolmen added. He was arrested in Cedar Rapids and taken to West Liberty by highway patrolmen. He was committed to jail late Friday night.

Three Men Kidnap, Shoot Cop, Steal Car

ABINGDON, VA. (AP) — Three men kidnaped a police officer Friday, snatched him in their car, shot him, and then used his police car in an armed highway holdup.

Policeman Roscoe Mutter of Damascus, Va., said the trio overpowered him as he questioned them at a filling station and drove him to Backbone Rock, Tenn.

Two-Year-Olds Bite Off More Than They Should

LANSING, MICH. (AP) — Two two-year-olds swallowed their way into trouble here Friday.

William Little ate nail polish remover, Michael Babcock gulped down some cold tablets. Both were released after undergoing stomach treatment at a Lansing hospital.

New Weapon — Faith in Humanity —

Wednesday night a little boy got lost. Wandering away from his home in Finkbine park on a jaunt to see the railroad trains, two and a half-year-old Christopher Griffith caused considerable anxiety for his parents when he couldn't be found in the late hours of the cool night.

Well, most of us know that little Chris was found early Thursday morning lying in some bushes on the Finkbine golf course and that he was returned to his home cold and exhausted, but little worse for wear.

A lost child always makes good news copy, but this case was even more interesting to Iowa Citizens because there was a lot of human interest involved. That's because a lot of adult human beings were also involved.

For up to 200 men and women of varying ages and station spent most of Wednesday evening scouring the golf course looking for Chris. They were uncomfortable, cold and tired, but they forsook their sleep and warm beds to continue the search until the boy was found and returned to his parents.

Apathetic! Self-centered! Materialistic! Grubby!

These are some of the adjectives hurled at the much-maligned human race these days. Well, maybe we are these things, but 200 people didn't give much indication of that Wednesday night.

When her sleepy son was placed in her arms, Mrs. Griffith gratefully exclaimed, "It really renews your faith in humanity."

Mrs. Griffith's statement would indicate that this faith in humanity needed some renewing, and she's right.

In these days of mass destruction of whole cities, and talks of newer and more potent weapons of war for the wholesale death of even more people, one's faith in humanity gets pretty well tarnished.

But while some of us are discussing how to make the most efficient H-bomb or the most effective germ warfare, there are also quite a few of us around who sincerely worry about the life or death of one little boy.

Maybe it's the beautiful spring weather, maybe it's the coming Easter season, but it all sort of makes us feel pretty good.

Blisters, Chuck Holes, Pock-Marks —

Spring brought to Iowa City Friday one of the most pleasant days of this year. The sun, with its warm invigorating rays, should have brightened the spirits of everyone — the Iowa City street department included.

Could it be possible, now that the weather is pleasing and that "get-out-of-doors" feeling is prominent, that some work might be done to remedy the "chuck-holed" condition of the Iowa City streets?

You'll have to admit it's a bit frightening to see a car breezing along an Iowa City street then, all of a sudden, it passes from view as it dips into one of the holes in the pavement.

The other day, so the story goes, a group of 10-year-olds was playing baseball in the street. There must have been a dozen or more on each side and the kids were playing in one of those holes in the pavement.

The story isn't too far beyond the realm of possibility, in these early spring days.

Blisters and pock-marks cover even the main east-west thoroughfares through Iowa City. Burlington street, however, has several barricades around the worst holes in the pavement. But in other bad road spots in town, there is no warning at all.

Warning or no warning, the streets should be repaired. It "shore" is tough on the cars.

For the benefit of motorists, here are some of the streets that might wisely be avoided at present: Burlington street, from Clinton street to Riverside drive; Washington street, from Linn street to Muscatine avenue; Iowa avenue, from Gilbert street to Muscatine avenue; Jefferson street, throughout; Market street, from Dubuque street to Ellis avenue, Riverside drive, from Iowa avenue to River street.

Madison street, from Burlington to Jefferson streets; Capitol street, from Benton to Burlington streets; Dubuque street, from Iowa avenue to Market street; Gilbert street, from Bowery to Brown streets; Dodge street, from Bowery to Brown streets, and various secondary streets on the west and east sides of town.

A Nation of Bridge, Canasta Players? —

A sophomore international relations student at Mills college in Oakland, Calif., recently decided to survey her fellow students on world events.

Her finds astounded the campus and created somewhat of a stir in other Pacific coast colleges also.

Of 100 girls surveyed, 70 confessed they had no idea what bi-partisan foreign policy is; 28 were totally uninformed about the Atlantic pact; 39 couldn't name the president of Argentina — though one girl said she knew he had "a pretty, young wife — nine never read the newspapers, and 56 merely glanced over the headlines.

Though only girls were polled on world events, a similar poll of male students at any college might prove equally as startling.

Wrote the Mills college weekly: "It costs our parents $1,550 a year plus transportation, clothes, allowance and incidentals to send us here to be educated . . .

"Educated for what? To become a nation of bridge and Canasta players?"

Since this is the age of specialization, according to the late Chic Sale, concentration should be in one area. Which will it be — bridge or Canasta?

Interpreting the News —

Dulles Appointment Adds Reality to Policy

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Foreign Affairs Analyst

Appointment of John Foster Dulles as a top policy adviser in the state department adds reality to Secretary Dean Acheson's recent call for "total diplomacy."

It was obvious, when the secretary outlined his idea for mobilization of the country's energies for cold war just as though it were hot war, that such mobilization had to begin at the top. The American people and their component parts, such as business and labor, could hardly be expected to throw in their undivided support so long as there was so much confusion in Washington.

The growing division between congress and the administration on foreign affairs had become serious. Not only the program of aid to free nations, but the entire atmosphere of confidence produced by the unified effort to stop communism, was threatened.

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) stepped in to suggest a return to bipartisan foreign policy-making.

In the eyes of a great many people, President Truman stands a little taller today because of his response. It first produced the appointment of a former Republican senator, John Cooper, to assist Secretary Acheson in the forthcoming London conferences of the Atlantic pact and Big Three foreign ministers.

That appointment, however, was taken by many to mean that Dulles was definitely frozen out of the picture because of the bitterness which developed between him and the President in last fall's New York senatorial election. Dulles accused the administration of leading the country down the road to "statism," and was bitterly rebutted by the President.

Only a few hours before announcement of his new appointment the President's associates were saying that Dulles could hardly be a key man in bipartisan circumstances. The President is known for his strong personal loyalties, and vice versa.

But, says Dulles, "President Truman recently confirmed to me that bipartisanship is the policy of the administration and that partisan considerations will not, under any circumstances, influence his conduct of the foreign policy of the United States."

"Secretary Acheson in his recent California speeches discussed the nature of Soviet-American tensions in terms that were profound and enlightening and with which I am in full accord."

So here we have the forming of a new team, backed by Sen. Vandenberg, whose health does not permit him to undertake the heavy campaign work he was doing a year or two ago. But he still stands as a powerful liaison between the administration, and what is hoped will be, as the British call it, the "loyal opposition."

Peep's Diary

SUI Nose Counters Take Easter Break

Local census-takers whose territories include sections of towns where large numbers of SUI students live have not been working since the university Easter vacation began. George W. Kanak, local census supervisor, said Friday.

Kanak said one census-taker reported he could not cover his route adequately because about 50 SUI students living there had left Iowa City until Monday.

Few SUI students who live in university housing units have been contacted by census-takers, according to Kanak.

He said Friday census-takers will try to talk individually to as many of these students as they can. They will leave "individual census report" cards at dormitory offices for those students they cannot contact individually.

Enough to Confuse the Census

Armigerous College Says — Americans Seek Banners — To Impress Friends

LONDON (AP) — If your neighbor proudly comes out with a coat of arms don't be too surprised. Many Americans have been writing quietly to the College of Heraldry asking whether they are armigerous.

The college, final authority on whether a family is armigerous, has the right to bear a coat of arms — deals with these American inquirers just as discreetly. It suspects most of them want to surprise their friends back home.

In its ancient red-brick building amid the wharves and warehouses of London's old "city" district the college is preparing its priceless files for the spring and summer tourist rush.

Private enterprise has taken some of its trade away, especially genealogists who advertise in American periodicals. But the college is serene in the knowledge that it is the ultimate body in determining whether an ancestor carried arms in the days when killing with lance and broadsword was too good for the average man.

If a person can trace his lineage to such an ancestor, he is solidly armigerous. But a family also can be one of those granted the right to a crest for public service or other distinction back through the centuries.

And falling descent from either of these two broad lines you can ask the college to check your family and consider whether it rates a grant of arms for yourself and your heirs.

Although the college receives a steady number of inquiries from the United States all through the year this tends to step up in the spring and summer. And in the tourist season some Americans even wander by personally "just sightseeing" and manage to ask a few diffident questions about how crests are awarded.

Some of them say they are merely curious whether grandpa's stories about how important the family was in England are true. Besides a colorful crest sure would startle the home folks blazoned above the mantelpiece or on the side of the family automobile wouldn't it?

The original building of the college was burned in the great fire of 1666 but the records were saved by floating them down the Thames river on a barge.

These accounts of knights who partook in tournaments of jousting (when the College of Heraldry's job was to identify the dead by their crests) and old Paris registers are the main sources for tracing families.

The college is a little medieval island in the London of today. Its head, Sir Algar Howard, is called "Garter King at Arms."

Some of his subordinates carry the ancient titles of Rouge Dragon, Rouge Croix, Portuculis and Blumentantle.

But despite its antiquity it is a most flexible institution. It has to be under socialism when newly created labor barons and knights often demand coats-of-arms containing pickaxes, miner's lamps, gate porters and horny-handed workmen instead of heraldic griffins, leopards and unicorns.

Machinists Back All Union Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Association of Machinists — world's biggest independent union — Friday threw its 600,000 members behind CIO President Philip Murray's proposal for an immediate alliance and ultimate merger of all labor unions.

Its approval followed John L. Lewis' endorsement of Murray's suggestion that union men band together immediately in a permanent joint committee to coordinate political, economic and legislative activity, and at the same time work for "organic unity."

Murray also submitted his proposal to the AFL and the big railway brotherhoods. The rail unions have not yet replied, but AFL President William Green said he will discuss the question with Murray before the AFL's executive council meeting May 8.

It is the dream of Murray and some other leaders in the labor movement to weld the country's 16-million union workers into one huge labor organization — no matter how far off the day may be.

If anyone throws a hitch into Murray's idea for immediate formation of the joint committee it probably will be Green and the "gold guard" of the AFL who have insisted throughout the years that "organize unity" — or one big union for all — must come before any attempt at joint political action.

Cancer Drive Goal Set at $14,565,000

"Strike Back, Give to Conquer Cancer" is the challenging slogan of the 1950 Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society. April is National Cancer Control Month, authorized by Congress and Presidential proclamation. Goal of the fund-raising drive is $14,565,000 for research, education, and service.

With the appeal for funds got an intensive campaign to spread facts that may save lives. Last year more than 200,000 men, women and children died of cancer; one-third could and should have been saved by early diagnosis and prompt, proper treatment.

Today we bring you most important information: The cancer danger signals, symptoms that may mean the disease is present, and that should always mean a visit to your physician.

The danger signals are: 1. Any sore that does not heal. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. Unusual bleeding or discharges. 4. Any change in a wart or mole. 5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 6. Persistent hoarseness or cough. 7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

Learn this. If one should develop any of these, a physician. And remember, also that a complete physical examination once a year, is one of the best precautions against cancer or any other disease.

Frozen Orange Juice Creates Citrus Boom

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frozen orange juice was credited Friday with touching off a big citrus boom in Florida.

Reports reaching the agriculture department said the selling price of Florida citrus groves has soared. "Big business" interests are buying up properties in "multi-million dollar" deals, the reports said. California's orange industry, it was reported, is becoming concerned lest the drink, produced largely in Florida, cuts into demand for the west's fresh oranges.

The booming product is frozen concentrated orange juice. It was developed by the Florida Citrus commission and the agriculture department and placed on the market about 4 1/2 years ago. The infant industry has grown into a giant.

A department survey indicated that about one out of every three grocery stores are selling frozen orange concentrate. The purchaser adds three parts of cold water to it and gets a drink which, the department says, tastes very much like fresh orange juice.

Last season 10 percent of the nation's oranges went into the production of frozen concentrated orange juice. About 80 percent of them were Florida oranges. Now the new industry is talking about

Hickenlooper Examines Files on Lattimore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) checked over an FBI summary on Owen Lattimore Friday but had "no comment" on Democratic contentions that the data "cleared" the far eastern expert of Communist spy charges.

Hickenlooper is a member of the senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating charges by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) that the state department is a hotbed of Communists and Red sympathizers. Lattimore is McCarthy's "make or break" case.

U.S. Sends Warning to Southern Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has warned southern Korea in bluntest terms to get its economic and political house in order immediately or face a drastic cut in U.S. aid, it was disclosed Friday.

Both the state department and economic cooperation administrator Paul G. Hoffman took the Korean government to task in harshly worded notes. Seldom has the United States used such strong language in diplomatic communications — and almost never with a friendly nation.

Southern Korea is one of this country's buffers in the cold war against communism. Most observers believe Communist-controlled northern Korea would be in an excellent position to "capture" the country were it not for U.S. aid.

The state department's warning was an aide-memoire to Korean Ambassador John Chang. It was made public here after it was read to the Korean assembly by Korean President Syngman Rhee.

The note advised the Koreans to act immediately to control inflation, balance the budget and to hold national elections in May. If the Korean government fails to act, Secretary of State Dean Acheson said there may be a "readjustment" in the dollars this country is sending to aid Korean recovery.

Solid Pastel Tones to Keynote Pigtail Easter Parade

When the local shutterbugs gather to focus on the Easter parade the little pigtailler will make a mighty fetching picture too.

From the top of their head to their toes they'll look just like they stepped out of an old-fashioned daguerreotype. Its buttons and bows, frills and fancies in the roundup of Easter styles for the pre-schooler.

The full skirted dress with ruffles, giving a lamp-shade effect, exemplifies this trend. To add a practical note, the invisible hem underneath solves the "too short" complaint voiced by many mothers. The hidden handkerchief pocket in the side seam is another boon to the mother.

Solid Colors, Pastel Tones
Tiny pearl buttons marching down the basque bodice and Peter Pan collars with a fancy lace trim carry out "old-fashioned" theme too.

Most of these "pretty Easter" dresses are shown in solid colors with pastel — tones and bright red the most popular. One local saleslady attributed the popularity of pastels to the sharp restriction on their use during the war.

To add an extra note of interest to the small — fry's outfits are the Matalay weave or pine-apple cloth dresses. These are particularly practical because they keep "fresh as a daisy" for hours.

Little — Boy Look
Another special feature for little girls is the little — boy look. This is shown in the basque bodice and big pockets.

Enchanting bolero suits add charm to the fashionable young lady. The plain bolero tops a whirl of companion-checked wool.

Add one navy blue coat with a flared back and your fashion picture is almost complete. These are shown in all the little girl's shades of blue but navy seems to have taken the country by storm.

As for accessories, the round roller hat and basket bag set topped with a perky flower seem to be the most popular. Often this is trimmed with straw braid matching the predominant color.

WITH FASHIONABLE FRILLS AND PERT BONNETS, the toddlers, like their elders, have begun primping for the annual Easter parade. With some, it will be the wheeled pram, others the haughty jouncing pigtail promenade. Whatever the case, the jeans and jumpers will be junked for the white and the smell of fresh starch will predominate. Claudia Chuklas (left), 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Chuklas, 124 1/2 Iowa avenue, gives Iowa Citizens a preview of her Easter-best bonnet with a bell bottomed, fire-engine red and white dotted Swiss dress. Three-year-old Diane Steninger (left above) caught the Easter bunny off-guard and gave him an early look at her dotted Swiss orandy frock with wide ruffles and puffed sleeves. The wide-eyed beauty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steninger, 729 E. Washington street. Apprehensively, Sandra Lee Mann (above) 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Mann, 720 E. Washington street, is anticipating the early arrival of the long-eared visitors. Sandra's Easter best is a round roller hat topped with a bolero jacket and a checked wool jumper skirt. A basket filled with flowers sets off her Easter outfit.

Easter Sunday Named First Daughter's Day

Young ladies of the nation will come into their own Sunday when the first Daughter's Day will be observed throughout the United States. The observance will be held on the second Sunday of April each year thereafter.

The day was created to pay tribute to the nation's daughters who will be America's homemakers and mothers. It is especially set aside to allow other members of the family to pay tribute to the young women who make up the home. It will also allow retailers to make more money.

A joint resolution has been prepared for Congress to have the day officially set aside as an annual event. In the resolution it is urged that the day be observed "in recognition of the daughters of America and the outstanding contributions they have made to the American home."

Principle highlight of the observance will be the selection of a daughter of the year from nominations submitted by retail furniture store owners through the nation. The winning girl will be presented with a cedar trousseau chest and a complete suite of bedroom furniture.

A special committee has selected typical daughters of professions that have placed them before the public eye during the past year.

These include Elizabeth Taylor, MGM star, movie daughter of the year; Arlene McQuade of "The Goldbergs" fame, television daughter of the year, and Norma Jean Nilsson of NBC, radio daughter of the year.

Catholic Daughters Plan Meeting in KC Clubroom

Catholic Daughters of America will hold a business meeting 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Knights of Columbus clubroom.

Mrs. Loretta Leonard is committee chairman. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Celeste Pechous and Mrs. Bessie Stockman. On the committee are Mrs. Anna Baldwin, Mrs. Margaret McCabe, Mrs. Ramona Barry, Mrs. Anna Bauer, Mrs. Geraldine Sheridan, Mrs. Kathleen Graf, Mrs. Filomena Rohner, Mrs. Blanche Gibson and Miss Ethel Collins.

Nationalists Report 3 Red Ships Caught

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP)—China's Nationalist navy headquarters Friday reported capture of three of a fleet of 30 Communist junk discovered off the south coast of Hainan island.

This was the first mention of Communists south of that big island, although they have made several landing attempts on the north, which is only 10 miles from the Red mainland.

Dispatches from Hainan also said ten Communist spies were executed Thursday at Hothow, the capital.

Nationalist air headquarters in a review said it had sunk more than 270 Red junks, destroyed 40 buildings and killed more than 800 Communist troops in the week ended April 5.

Dispatches from the Nationalist air base on Chushan island, 189 miles southeast of Shanghai, alleged that the new Communist airforce was avoiding combat.

The Nationalist government has alleged that Russia has supplied planes and pilots to the Communists and that two Nationalist planes were downed last Sunday by Red fighters.

The Chushan dispatches, however said that, warned by Soviet-manned radar, Communist planes were hurrying away these days when Nationalist raiders approached their fields.

Nurses to Attend West Coast Parley

Three Iowa City residents will attend the 1950 bi-annual nursing convention in San Francisco May 7 through May 12, Mrs. Katherine Gay, nurse at Mercy hospital, said Friday.

They are: Dean Myrtle Kitchell, director of the SUI school of nursing; Prof. Amy Frances Brown, school of nursing, and Miss Emily Hanson, head nurse in orthopedic nursing.

Other local people who will attend the convention are: Miss Mildred Shaffer, Oakdale; Mrs. Leona Barker, Sister Mary Maureen, and Sister Mary Barbara Ann, all of Cedar Rapids.

Miss Frances Higgins, Winthrop, president of the Iowa student nurses' association and senior student nurse at Mercy hospital, Cedar Rapids, also will attend, Mrs. Gay said.

Divorce Suit Filed in District Court

Poets associate warm spring days with love and romance, but Friday, with a high of about 65 degrees, Johnson county clerk's office reported one divorce suit filed and no marriage licenses issued.

Bessie M. Bibbens, Johnson county, sued for divorce from Weldon R. Bibbens, out of state. The couple was married Nov. 9, 1940 in Reno, Nev. and lived together until December 1948. They have no children, the petition states.

Fire Breaks Out in Woolworth Building

NEW YORK (AP)—A spectacular fire roared Friday through the 23rd floor of the Woolworth building, once the world's tallest. Flames bursting from windows turned the upper portion of the 60-story tower into a giant torch that was seen for miles in the pre-dawn darkness.

Firemen put out the blaze after it raged out of control for more than an hour. Two standpipes burst under terrific water pressure, cascading tons of water down elevator shafts and stairways to lower floors. Damage was heavy.

Two workmen were overcome by smoke and a fireman was slightly injured. It was the highest blaze firemen had fought since a bomber crashed into the 73rd floor of the Empire State building in 1945.

The fire broke out in the offices of the F.W. Woolworth Co., owner of the 37-year-old skyscraper, shortly after midnight (Iowa time). The cause was not immediately determined. Damage was largely confined to the suite of executive offices.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

CYRUS CHING, the government's ace labor mediator, faced one of his toughest problems when he came to grips with a stubborn Sioux Indian negotiator in a Southwestern strike recently. The Sioux, representing a thousand defiant strikers, presented his demands in writing, and would not budge an inch. Furthermore, the only answer Ching could extract from him was "Ugh."

For two solid days he grunted "Ugh" at the termination of every plea of Ching's, and stared stolidly into space.

Ching had one last conference with the owners and then approached the Sioux again. "I think I have good news for you," he smiled. "The owners will grant you men a two-dollar-a-day increase in pay." The Sioux again said "Ugh"—but this time he added, "Are they willing to make it retroactive?"

One of the news scoops of the year occurred at the Cochrane Dude Ranch in Idaho last August. A bull threw a Senator.

Youths to Offer Play For Easter Sunday

Three SUI students are among nine people who will present a mystery play, "Life in a Garden," at 9:30 a.m. Easter Sunday in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian church.

The Rev. P. Hewison Pollock, pastor of the church, wrote and directed the play.

Members of the cast are Jane Woodburn, A1, Iowa City; Virginia Sievers, A2, Iowa City; Virginia Lewis, A1, Iowa City; Barbara Clymer, Nancy Kay Ketelson, Roger Crull, Marlene Lewis, John Larew and Charles Larew.

Rev. Pollock said all church school members, their parents and friends are invited to attend both the play and the regular morning service at 10:45 a.m.

Fire Burns Paint Off Sorority Door

A small pile of blazing newspapers burned the paint off the front door of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house, 728 E. Washington street, about 2:30 p.m. Friday.

There was no one in the house at the time, and the door was locked, firemen reported. They attributed the blaze to a cigarette.

Firemen were also called out to three grass fires. At 10:20 a.m. they were called to the 400 block on Brown street, at 10:45 a.m. to the 800 block on N. Dodge street, and at 1:48 p.m. to the 900 block on Walnut street.

They reported minor damage from the grass fires.

Easter Seal Sales To Top 1949 Mark

This year's campaign to sell Easter seals in Johnson county probably will result in proceeds greater than last year's total of $3,200, James E. Stronks, campaign chairman, said Friday.

County residents, who were asked to send in their contributions before Easter, already have sent in 3,500 letters, Stronks said. Campaign Treasurer Mrs. Bion Hunter is counting the checks and cash these letters contain.

The Johnson County Society for Crippled Children and Adults is sponsoring the campaign. The Rev. Evans A. Worthley, pastor of the local Unitarian church, is campaign chairman.

State and national organizations with which the county society is associated sponsored the $750,000 Iowa Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children, which will be built on the west campus of SUI.

Horace Mann PTA Sets Potluck Dinner Meeting

Horace Mann P.T.A. will hold a potluck dinner 6:30 p.m. next Thursday. Second grade pupils will be hosts.

Theme of the meeting will be "The Freedom to Grow Through World Understanding." Mrs. T.C. Yu, SUI graduate student, will address the P.T.A.
Mrs. Arthur Barnes and Mrs. Clarence Studt are the room mothers in charge.

Hawks Shellack College of Ozarks, 18-3

Gives Vogel Men 5 Wins in 6 Starts

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
CLARKSVILLE, ARK. — Iowa's Hawkeyes continued their winning ways on their current southern tour Friday by trouncing College of the Ozarks, 18-3.

The Hawks now possess a record of five wins against a lone defeat.

Bill Andrews hurled a five-hitter for Iowa and had a shutout within his grasp until College of the Ozarks pushed across three runs in the ninth innings.

The Hawks wind up their two-game series at Clarksville, Ark., today before heading back towards Iowa City. Monday, they meet Concordia college at St. Louis and Tuesday make their first home appearance in the first of a two-game series against Notre Dame.

Big Ten Schedule

Big Ten competition for the Hawkeyes begins against Illinois at Champaign April 14, 15.

Iowa's only defeat came in its second game with Arkansas State at Conway. Glenn Drahn hurled a three-hitter, but that wasn't quite good enough in a 1-0 shut-out.

Previously, Coach Otto Vogel's men had beaten the same school, 13-3, and Washington U. in the opening game of the season, 6-5. The Hawks then traveled to Russellville and posted 6-1 and 7-1 victories over Arkansas Poly.

Before Friday's game Jack Dittmer, who last year led the Hawks in just about every record department, was again pacing the Hawkeye hitters with a .380 batting average. He had connected with eight hits in 21 trips to the plate.

Pitching, which was expected to be the major headache for Vogel this spring, has been faring out in good shape in early-season games.

Dick Hoeksema was the only starter left from last year's mound corps headed by Jack Bruner now with the Chicago White Sox. Behind Hoeksema on the mound so far this spring has been Dick Orth, George Schamberger, Drahn and Andrews.

Score by innings:
Iowa..... 18 0 0 230 — 18 18

Golf's Invalid Takes Over Second in Masters

(AP Wirephoto)

BEN HOGAN DRIVES from the third tee at Augusta, Ga., Friday, as he started the second round of the Masters Tournament play there. The Hershey, Pa., master-golfer shot the first nine Friday in 32, and ended up in second. Defending Champion Sammy Snead had to be content with a 71 in the opening round Thursday, which was good enough for a third-place tie with Toney Penna. Skee Riegel, new to the pro ranks, led Thursday's firing with a 69.

Red Sox Powerful But Can't Win Pennant

By JOE REICHLER
SARASOTA, FLA. (P) — The Boston Red Sox have the most powerful team in the American league. They have a highly skillful manager in Joe McCarthy. They may even possess the strongest pitching. But they probably won't win the pennant.

The reason? A thinness in reserves and a lack of adequate relief pitching. Then, too, they can't seem to get away to a decent start and they don't win enough games away from home.

"Of course, we have the best team in the American league — on paper, that is," second base star Bobby Doerr remarked. "The only thing we have to do is prove it on the field."

"If we had a relief pitcher like the Yankees' Joe Page, we would have won the pennant by 10 games," said Ted Williams, the team's top slugger.

After all, Boston had the same team last year — and the year before. Each time the Red Sox were favored to win the flag. Each time they were nosed out on the final day.

Take last year. They were 12 games behind on July 4 and apparently hopelessly out of the race. Miraculously, they made up the deficit, but when the chips were down, dropped the final two games to New York at the Yankee stadium to lose the pennant by one game.

That made it 42 defeats on the hand for them against only 35 victories. On the other hand, they won 61 at home against only 16 losses.

It will be different this year—McCarthy hopes. In a determined effort to strengthen his pitching, Marse Joe brought 20 hurriers to camp. He thinks he has come up with a couple of promising relievers in Charlie Schanz, a 22-game winner at Seattle last year, and Gordon Mueller, who had a 10-4 record at Louisville. Schanz is 30 and Mueller 27.

Purdue Reveals Name Of New Cage Mentor

LAFAYETTE, IND. (P) — Ray Eddy, who coached Madison high school to the 1950 Indiana high school basketball championship, was appointed head hardwood coach at Purdue university Friday night.

Guy (Red) Mackey, Boiler-maker athletic director, made the announcement at a banquet for coaches attending Purdue's annual football clinic. Eddy's appointment is effective July 1.

Eddy, who just last week signed a provisional contract with Kokomo high school, had been rumored the logical contender for the post vacated last month by Mel Taube.

Sialcup Declines Bid By Michigan State

COLUMBIA, MO. (P) — Wilbur N. (Sparky) Stalcup said Friday he has decided to remain at the University of Missouri as basketball coach and has turned down an offer for a similar job at Michigan State college.

Stalcup said he telephoned Ralph H. Young, director of athletics at Michigan State, late Friday and announced his decision.

Through a misunderstanding, Stalcup said, Young announced Thursday night that the appointment had been accepted.

He said the enthusiasm and fine spirit of Missouri fans urging him to remain here had a part in his decision.

It was understood that Missouri gave him a substantial increase in salary, but there was no official announcement.

"I am mighty glad that Stalcup has decided to stay at Missouri," said Athletic Director Don Farrot. Stalcup has coached at Missouri four years.

Pakfo Heads Cubs To 7-3 Win in Dallas

DALLAS (P) — Andy Pakfo got out of a sick bed Friday to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 7-3 victory over the Dallas Eagles of the Texas league.

The win boosted the Cubs' spring record to 15 victories, nine defeats and one tie.

Pakfo, star 29-year-old outfielder, had suffered an attack of tonsillitis Friday morning which team physicians said would require surgery. Instead, Pakfo reported for duty and singled in the second inning. He was thrown out at second base, but a teammate, Carl Sawatski, doubled and was driven home on a single by Bill Serena.

ISC Victor, 5 to 1; IOSTC Wins, 6 to 5

AMES (P) — Iowa State college defeated a Simpson nine, 5-1, in a lackadaisical fashion Friday on the Cyclone's home diamond.

Simpson didn't cross home plate until the seventh inning, and by that time its powerful Big Seven opponent held a three-run margin.

It was Iowa State's third game and second victory of the season.

And in Cedar Falls, Pitcher Don Dahlke singled in the winning run in the last of the 12th inning Friday as Iowa State Teachers college edged Minnesota, 6-5, in the first of a two-game series.

The Tutors had pushed in two runs in the ninth to send the game into extra innings. Catcher, Bob Dutcher sent two runners scampering home with his infield single with bases loaded.

Jim Ferrier Takes Over First Place In Golf's Masters

AUGUSTA, GA. (P) — Jim Ferrier, the gimpy-swinging, Australian-born San Francisco professional, stormed into the lead in the 14th Masters Golf tournament Friday as the weather became peaceful.

Shooting his second sub-par round, a five-under 67, on top of Thursday's 70, Ferrier reached the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament with a total of 137.

That's seven strokes under par for the testing, 6,900 yard Augusta National course.

Putting with remarkable precision and hitting his other shots well, Ferrier negotiated the first nine in 33, three under par. And this time he came back in 34, two under perfect figures.

It took Ferrier's remarkable round to overshadow the score of 32-36 — 68 by golf's interesting invalid, Ben Hogan. The little Texan, who was near death after an automobile accident a little over a year ago, gave evidence that his comeback will stick.

Hogan, who shot a 73 through Thursday's chilly, gusty winds, took over second place with a 36-hole total of 141.

Hogan, also approaching and putting beautifully, fired four birdies in succession, to reach the turn in 32, four under par and equal to the record for this half of the course. He was over par only once on his round.

Although the weather improved considerably Friday, with a brilliant sun warming the gallery of about 9,000, the scores in general didn't improve much.

Jimmy Demaret put an even par 72 on top of Thursday's 70 for a 142 total that was good for third place and Lawson Little, the greying Monterey, Calif., veteran, followed with 70-73 — 143.

Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., the first day leader with 69, had a wobbly 88-37 — 75 Friday for 144. That put him in a tie with Herschel Spers of Huntsville, Ala., who had 70-74.

The defending champion and pre-tournament favorite, Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., tripped on the back nine for 71-74 — 145, sharing seventh place with Henry Picard of Cleveland, and Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., both former winners of the Masters.

Showing considerable improvement, Picard came in with 74-71 and Nelson with 75-70.

BB Battle of Sexes Rules Boys Champs

VAN BUREN, ARK. (P) — The boys and girls' senior high school basketball teams of Van Buren both brought home state championships.

But the folks weren't completely satisfied. They felt that the state's top team still hadn't been determined whether it was the Van Buren boys or the Van Buren girls.

So the two were pitted against each other Thursday in a Red Cross game.

The boys won out but not without a strong female argument. The score was 40-36. And the girls produced the game's high scorer, Frances Garrouette, who made 18 points.

They played two quarters under girl's rules and two under boy's rules.

Southern Relays Set To Begin Today

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (P) — Hundreds of athletes poured into Birmingham Friday for today's third running of the Southern relays.

The university and college field was cut to 28 entries with late cancellations by Notre Dame and Virginia Poly. Notre Dame, which ran off with major honors here last year, notified relays officials injuries to several key men prevented the squad from competing again.

Top star of the galaxy on hand was Yale's Jim Fuchs, who has bettered the world record in the shot put with a toss of 58 feet 4 inches. Others considered cinches in their specialties included Don Laz, Illinois pole vaulter, who has cleared 15 feet in practice, and Yale's Vic Frank, a better than 177-foot discus hurler.

Staff Finds Itself — Under The Sports Desk

— While Boss Is Away

By JACK SQUIRE

The boss said do a sports feature. He didn't mention that every thing resembling an athlete had deserted our fair city seemingly ages ago. Just do a feature!

This is where our course in logic comes in. You can't interview anybody who isn't here, so the alternative is to round up a muscular hero who calls Iowa City home. But the textbook didn't mention a few things.

Let's see, we said, which Iowa Citizen would make a good story? Don Fryauf? Sure. He came out of nowhere in 1948 to become Iowa's leading halfback. Wasn't even noticed until half the season was gone. But then he proceeded to give a reasonable imitation of an all-American.

We could tell how he was figured to be one of the top backs in the conference last year, only to quit the squad in mid-season after a desultory year. He could give us the inside of his trouble with Dr. Anderson — yep, that's our story!

What's that you say, Mrs. Fryauf? Don is in Burlington? Won't be back till Sunday? Thank you! Heck, everybody knows about Fryauf anyway.

But are they familiar with Jack Davis, the greatest miler in Iowa track history? Say that would be all right, and Davis lives only a short hop from the office.

We'll have Jack tell how he developed into a 4:20 miler, what methods he uses to train, and what he figures to do in the coming outdoor season.

And we'll have him relate the background of his rivalry with Dean Pieper of Northwestern, the former Clinton star and state mile champ.

Everybody would like to know that these two lads have matched strides on numerous occasions with Pieper having a bit too much each time.

He left this morning and won't be back until late tonight? Thank you. Never did care for track.

Why have we been wasting our time with Fryauf and Davis when there's a great human interest tale in Jim Sangster, Jim Sangster, brilliant quarterback for City high in 1946. "One of the greatest prep quarterbacks I've ever seen," exuberated Frank Leahy about the local star.

Jim Sangster, the can't miss kid, who did miss when rheumatism fever forced him to the sidelines shortly after he entered SUI. The struggle to regain his health, his attempted comeback, and his fight for the first string quarterback position on next fall's Hawkeye eleven.

We could bring in backfield coach Bernie Masterson's appraisal that "he's been looking very well out there this spring," and have him speak about...

Not home. Thank you. Well, we're not licked yet. Iowa City is famous for its athletes. Why, there's Bill Reichardt, Bill Greene, Chuck Wilson, Gene Hettick, Whitey Diehl, Bill Fenton, Roy Shain, Don Winslow, Bob Freeman and many more.

Sorry, boss, no feature today. There just ain't NO ONE left in this burgh!

Grapefruit Results — Braves Edge Redlegs, 5-4

RALEIGH, N.C. (P) — Willard Marshall, leadoff batter in the last of the ninth, whaled the first pitch over the center field fence Friday, chauffering Boston's Braves to a 5-4 decision over the Cincinnati Reds.

It was the second victory in as many days for the Tribe over their fellow National leaguers.

Ferry Perkowski, who worked the last four innings, was the victim of the former Giant outfielder, as the Braves came from behind to win.

Vern Bickford went eight innings for the winners, longest any Braves pitcher has worked to date. He gave only six hits but walked eight.

Indians 12, Giants 12

SHREVEPORT, LA. (P) — Second Baseman Joe Gordon hit two home runs Friday as the Cleveland Indians beat the New York Giants, 12-12, in a wild ball game.

The Tribe offense, which had produced nothing better than a single in 30 innings, let loose Friday.

Bob Feller, who gave up 14 hits in six innings Sunday, allowed five runs on six hits in his six innings on the mound Friday.

Detroit 12, Montgomery 1

MONTGOMERY, ALA. (P) — Frank House, Detroit's $70,000 bonus baby catcher, put on a personal show for his admirers as the Tigers ran off with an easy 12-1 decision Friday against Montgomery of the Southeastern League.

Howard Jackson, secretary of the Keokuk Baseball association, received a proposal from Dan Ryan, Hamilton, Ohio, operator, which Jackson said was acceptable to Keokuk.

Ryan visited Keokuk last week to discuss taking over the Keokuk team and park but an agreement was not reached at that time.

Birmingham 8, Yonkers 4

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (P) — With the score tied in the eighth inning, the Birmingham Barons ripped into Don Johnson for four runs Friday to defeat the New York Yankees, 8-4, before a crowd of 4,070.

After a single, a fielder's choice and an error had filled the bases in the eighth, Charlie Harrington singled home two runs.

Although Joe DiMaggio insisted his leg was all right and denied a report that he had undergone an X-ray examination, the Clipper still felt inclined to rest the pulled muscle he suffered in his left calf last Wednesday and did not play Friday.

Prep Track Meet For Class A Crown Slated Here Today

A total of 611 athletes, representing 31 schools are scheduled to appear in the SUI fieldhouse today for the state high school class A indoor track championship.

The meet, which gets underway at 1 p.m. and continues through the afternoon and evening, will feature 63 races, including preliminary heats.

Davenport, Mississippi valley champion, Clinton, and East, and North of Des Moines, are ranked as the top threats to dethrone defending champion Burlington.

The Greyhounds, lacking the all-around strength of last year, are not figured to repeat today.

Led by their outstanding mile medley relay team, Iowa City high has tentatively entered 22 men in the meet.

The Hawket mile medley quartet of Bob Moore, Jerry White, Duane Davis and Roy Ebert won the Mississippi Valley title last week in 3:53.1 and is expected to capture that event in the state meet.

Last year's City high entry in this race established a new state record of 3:47.9.

Coach "Chick" Forward is concerned over the condition of Davis and teammates Dick Oliphant and Jack Hoag who are recuperating from influenza.

Only one individual champion is on hand from the 1949 meet. He is Gary Mishler of Dubuque, high-hurdle star.

Entries have been received from Albia, Ames, Boone, Burlington, Cedar Rapids (Franklin, McKinley, Roosevelt, Wilson), Lincoln of Council Bluffs, Davenport high and St. Ambrose academy.

Vern Bickford went eight innings for the winners, longest any Braves pitcher has worked to date. He gave only six hits but walked eight.

Keokuk Changes Mind; Will Have Baseball Club

KEOKUK (P) — Keokuk, which more than a week ago decided not to field a baseball team this season, Friday arranged to operate one.

Whether it was too late to put the Central Association in operation this summer was not known immediately.

Howard Jackson, secretary of the Keokuk Baseball association, received a proposal from Dan Ryan, Hamilton, Ohio, operator, which Jackson said was acceptable to Keokuk.

Ryan visited Keokuk last week to discuss taking over the Keokuk team and park but an agreement was not reached at that time.

Senator Says Foreign Policy 'Playing into Hands of Reds'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Styles Bridges, (R-N.H.) leveled a new attack at the administration's foreign policy Friday with the demand for a congressional investigation of policies in Germany that are "playing directly into the hands of the Communists."

He asked Chairman Pat McCarran, (D-Nev.) to order his senate "watchdog" committee to investigate German plant dismantling and U.S. spending in Germany. Bridges wrote McCarran that U.S. policies threaten the fall of the western German government "in a few months."

"The indications of wanton destruction of Germany's industrial peace-time potential, and attempts to excuse it, are shocking," Bridges said.

His new attack may indicate that Republicans who have been criticizing Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the state department are not mollified by the administration's appointment of Republicans John Foster Dulles and John Sherman Cooper to department posts.

On the other hand, there are indications that the appointment may have had the desired effect on several GOP congressmen who once fully supported the bipartisan foreign policy, but had grown at least lukewarm in the past few months.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said Dulles appointment as consultant to Acheson Thursday "will strengthen the hand of those of us in congress, both house and senate, who have been insisting in this critical international situation that we must rebuild our badly-shattered bipartisan foreign policy."

Coralville to Open Bids, Hold Hearing On Sewer April 28

Coralville will take another step towards getting its new sewer system when it holds a public hearing on the question and opens bids for sewer construction at a meeting April 28 at 8 p.m.

The hearing will take place in the council chambers of the Coralville town hall, Mayor Merritt A. Ewalt said Friday.

Ewalt said sealed bids on the proposed sewer construction may be filed with the Coralville clerk until the time of the hearing.

A reasonable cost for the project would be $150,000 according to an engineering firm's estimate.

All bids submitted will be read at the hearing. The council is expected to take action on them as soon as they are read.

The proposed sewage construction, which calls for a sanitary sewer system, sewage lift station and pressure line, is to be completed by Nov. 1, 1950, Mayor Ealt said.

Work is to begin immediately after the execution of the contract and its approval by the town council.

Coralville sewage will be carried through part of Iowa City's sewer system and disposed of at the Iowa City sewage disposal plant. Coralville residents now use septic tanks and cesspools.

Local Police Court Installs New Flag; To Add Dignity

A new silk United States flag, about 3 feet by 5 feet, mounted on a 9 foot flagstaff, was installed in police court room Friday.

The addition is "in line with a new policy of increasing the dignity of the court," Judge Emil G. Trott said.

One person appearing in court told the judge, "You should have waited, we might soon have another star in the flag."

Four persons felt the dignity of the court.

James C. Gorvin, 712 Iowa avenue, was fined $27.50 for reckless driving; John Hollingshead, Iowa City, was fined $27.50 for leaving the scene of an automobile accident without leaving his name.

Louis Burlington, Chicago, was fined $17.50, but chose 5 days in the county jail, and Dan McCune, North English, was fined $7.50, but chose 2 days in the county jail. Both men were charged with intoxication.

Screen Star Huston Dies of Heart Ailment

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Walter Huston, whose brilliant portrayals of homespun characters kept him a movie favorite for more than two decades, died in his hotel room Friday of a heart ailment.

Death claimed the beloved veteran of stage and screen only a few hours after his 66th birthday party, which he missed Thursday night because he was feeling ill.

His son, Director John Huston, was at his side.

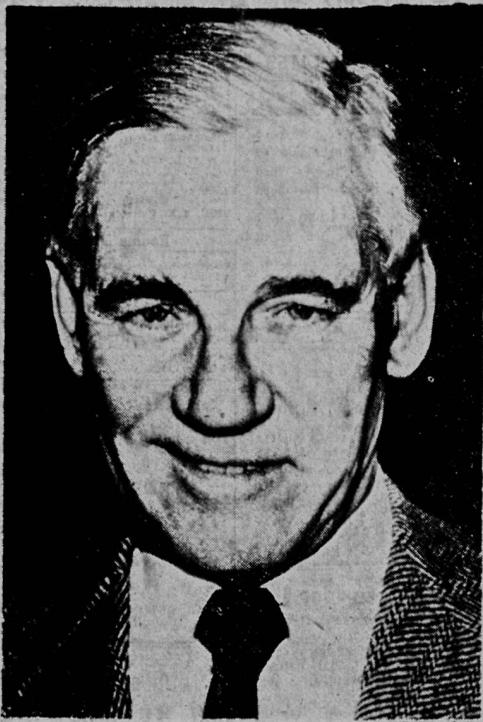

The younger Huston said his father awoke at 6 a.m. and complained of sharp pains in his back. His physician, Dr. Verne Mason, sped to his room at the Beverly Hills hotel. The actor died two hours later.

It was a sudden end to a career that last year brought Huston Hollywood's most coveted honor — the golden "Oscar" for his supporting role of a toothless grizzled prospector in "Treasure of Sierra Madre."

That night was Huston night in Hollywood. His son won two awards for the same picture. He directed it and wrote it.

Born in Toronto, Canada, April 6, 1884, Huston played in Toronto stock companies. He hit Broadway when he was 18 and on a three-line part in a play written by Richard Mansfield. Huston fumbled his lines so badly that Mansfield himself threw the actor out of the theater.

Huston's first stage success was in 1924 in "Mr. Pitt." This was followed by leading roles in many plays, including such outstanding ones as "Desire Under the Elms," "The Barker" and "Dodsworth." His first picture work was in 1928 when he was signed for two productions, "Gentlemen of the Press" and "The Lady Lies." Among his notable films were "Dodsworth," "The Virginian," "Abraham Lincoln," and "Rain."

VETERAN ACTOR WALTER HUSTON died Friday of a heart ailment in a Hollywood room. He was stricken at his hotel suite just before a surprise 66th birthday party planned for him by his son and friends. His son, John Huston, said his father awoke early in the morning and complained of sharp pains in his back. The actor died two hours later.

AP Chiefs Declare Further Obstacles Block News Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Further barriers to free, objective news coverage were erected in many countries during the past year, The Associated Press management said Friday.

Despite the new obstacles, Associated Press men succeeded in telling the essentials of the news. Executive Director Kent Cooper and General Manager Frank J. Starzel said in their annual report.

"We expect, of course, to persist in efforts to keep open the channels of news available to us, and to reopen those now closed," the report said. "We expect to pursue the battle for freedom of news with all diligence. But it must be said that it is impossible from this point to see much light ahead; there is little prospect that our job will become easier in the months to come."

The report was distributed to Associated Press members in advance of the worldwide news gathering cooperative's annual membership meeting in New York April 24.

"The world made little progress toward peace and understanding among nations in 1949," the report said. "Correspondingly, the path of free, objective news coverage did not become smoother."

"As the areas of political conflict broadened, so the areas of mistrust of unhampered reporting broadened. The spread of Communist domination brought a corresponding spread in the territories which barred free journalistic endeavor."

Censorship restrictions were stiffened, the report said, and new barriers, notably in China and Eastern Europe, were erected to keep reporters from gaining access to news.

There were evidences of additional harassment even in the western world, the report said, adding that the trend was toward "official secrecy, off-the-record confidences, anonymous statements."

A heavy strain was put on The Associated Press distribution of news abroad because of "mounting costs and the march of communism." The AP serves more than 1,200 newspapers and radio stations in 67 foreign countries.

Expecting Insurance Check, Gets Surprise

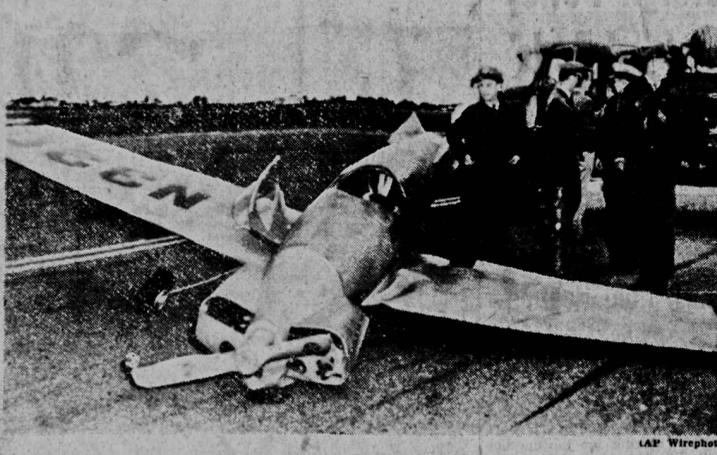

NASHVILLE, TENN. (AP) — Expecting a GI insurance check, Arthur Washington opened an official letter from Uncle Sam. "You owe the United States $5,680," he read.

Washington gasped, then read on. The letter, from the army finance center, St. Louis, said Washington's estranged wife had been paid $80 a month family allowance from the date of his army discharge, October, 1943, until Sept. 30, 1949.

That, the letter said, "created an indebtedness of $5,680." Washington, a hotel porter, said he supposed the army allowance stopped at the time of his discharge. He added that he and his wife separated in 1944.

He doesn't know what the outcome will be, but he's sure of one thing: He can't send the requested $5,680 to the Treasurer of the United States. "I haven't got 80 cents," he said.

Experimental Flight Ends in Disaster

AN EXPERIMENTAL FLIGHT proved a washout Friday when the Kysor I nosed over and crashed on the same runway from which it had taken off after gaining an altitude of only 150 feet. Clifford Kysor, designer and pilot, said he was "not too surprised" at the end results. His only injury in the crash which took place in Oakland, Calif. was a cut thumb.

Maritime Union Seamen Riot, Nine Arrested, Three Hurt

NEW YORK (AP) — Brawling CIO seamen fell upon one another with fists and clubs Friday in a series of fights that sent three men to hospitals.

Nine seamen were arrested during the day, eight at the point of a policeman's gun.

About a dozen seamen chased leaflet-distributors into a lower west side candy store, smashed the door with a battering ram and wrecked the interior as they beat the fleeing pair unconscious.

Police said the two beaten men were CIO National Maritime Union members opposed to the rule of President Joseph Curran.

The union has been split for months as Curran purged it of elements he has called pro-Communist. Mail-ballot election of officers now is underway.

Former union members were handing out anti-Curran leaflets near the union hall when a group of pro-Curran union men advanced on them. They fled into the candy store across the street, locking the door behind them.

Police said their pursuers used a four-foot length of heavy timber to smash down the door of the store. Then they smashed a telephone booth where one of them had hidden.

Using soft drink bottles as clubs, the invaders badly beat off leaflet distributors, smashing the candy showcase in the melee.

Patrolman Joseph Savino stopped them as they fled the scene and arrested eight of them at pistol-point.

Said Jack Lawrenson, an NMU vice-president and leader of the anti-Curran forces: "Curran will pay for every act of terror against the seamen."

Earlier, police reserves were rushed to the NMU headquarters as 200 angry pro-Curran seamen tried to rush a police captain.

The man had been arrested after allegedly assaulting a pro-Curran official of the NMU.

Belgian Move Afoot To Return Leopold

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM (AP) — A new bring-back Leopold cabinet of Social Christians and others was in the making Friday night. The exiled king gave his first hint of compromise in Belgium's politico-royal crisis.

Premier-Designate Paul Van Zeeland announced he is forming a government of his Social Christians and "some left wing non-parliamentary personalities."

He had failed to get the full Liberal party support he wanted. The "non-parliamentary personalities" to be called in would help avoid a one-party cabinet.

King Leopold, in a message from his exile in Switzerland, indicated he will consider abdication if and when he is returned to the throne.

Van Zeeland said his cabinet will ask parliament for a vote of confidence Tuesday if possible.

Perle Forgets Parties, Looks to World Affairs
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Perle Mesta, U.S. minister to Luxembourg, returned to the scene of her most spectacular party-giving triumphs with some disappointing news for the capital's social set.

"I am not thinking about parties now," she said. "I'm thinking about world conditions and things we have to do in the world today."

Danged Cold

Floridians Horrified, Truman Chilled

KEY WEST (AP) — To the horror of the local chamber of commerce, President Truman's daily visit to the beach was called off Friday on account of cold weather.

The navy weather station at nearby Boca Chica airbase admitted that the temperature dropped to 55 early Friday. But public-spirited residents went about the city in sports shirts and cotton trousers as though nothing had happened.

The President adopted no such attitude and spent most of the day inside his vacation quarters here at the naval base, foregoing his usual morning visit to the beach for a swim and sunbath.

"It was just too danged cold," said a White House official who asked that his name not be used lest he be blacklisted by the chamber of commerce as unpatriotic and anti-Florida.

One local leader denied indignantly that night club dancers along the town's main stem had switched to fur G-strings. Retired rum runners said they might go into business again — dealing in black market blankets and fire wood.

The chief executive got up early, felt how shivery it was outside and passed the word that he would spend most of the day indoors.

Set Mental Check For Korean Accused In Death of Friend

DUBUQUE (AP) — Duk Sang Chol, 36, was returned to University hospitals in Iowa City for further psychiatric examination after pleading innocent Friday to murder charges. Duk is a University of Dubuque student from Seoul, Korea.

Duk was arraigned on the murder charge before District Judge C. H. Chalmers. He was charged with murder in a county attorney's information for the razor slaying of a fellow Korean, Chun Kenn Oh, 24, another Dubuque student, last January.

Judge Chalmers said the trial date would be set later and ordered Duk held without bond. The judge permitted authorities to return Duk to the University hospitals.

Duk was arrested after Chun's body was found in a dormitory room with his throat slashed. Duk told police he decided Chun must die because both of them were "dishonored" when Chun would not believe he no longer accused him of forging an endorsement and cashing a check for $6.30.

American Lashes U.S. Policy, Asks Czechoslovakian Refuge

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA — George S. Wheeler of Rollingbay, Wash., asked the Communist Government Friday to allow him and his family to remain here as political refugees.

He worked for the U.S. military government's manpower division in Germany from July, 1945, until 1947 when the government did not renew his contract. He now teaches at the higher school of economics in Prague.

He said this action was a protest against "the brutal and unlawful treatment" accorded 58 Czechs who were unwilling passengers aboard three Czech airliners that a group of anti-Communists diverted to a U. S. air base in west Germany two weeks ago Friday.

Wheeler denounced aspects of American occupation policies, foreign affairs and racial relations at a news conference called by the Communist government's ministry of information. He said he "proudly and gladly entered the camp of peace and progress."

He implied, however, that he is not giving up U.S. citizenship. Asked by an American correspondent whether his request for asylum means he will never return and that he denounces his citizenship, Wheeler said he is convinced he will return to the United States because he loves the country. His action was actually a request to the Czech government to allow him to remain here indefinitely.

The Czech radio set forth that Wheeler "condemned the Marshall plan, the Atlantic pact and American espionage" and Mrs. Wheeler supported him in his statement.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL
CANTON, I (AP) — Canton McKinley, long a top bone crusher in Ohio high school football, Friday appointed a college coach to carry on for the enormously successful Herman (Bup) Rearick. Richard K.
