McCarthy's 'Mystery Witness,' Budenz, to Testify Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Communist Leader Louis F. Budenz, billed as a "mystery witness," Tuesday agreed to testify on Thursday, April 20, on Sen. Joseph McCarthy's (R-Wis) charges against Owen Lattimore.

McCarthy has accused Lattimore of being the No. 1 Soviet spy in the United States.

Chairman Millard Tydings (D-Md) had previously issued a subpoena for Budenz to appear Monday before a senate subcommittee which has been investigating McCarthy's sweeping charges of communism in the state department.

On Speaking Tour
But late Tuesday Tydings announced that the date had been changed to three days later to accommodate Budenz, who is on a speaking tour.

Meanwhile, Budenz denied that he had ever seen or talked with McCarthy, and McCarthy agreed that was "absolutely correct." The Wisconsin senator said he has three former FBI agents helping him dig up information in connection with the inquiry, and he indicated that it was through them he had approached Budenz to testify.

McCarthy "Not Worried"
"I have copies of affidavits covering what Budenz knows about the Lattimore case," McCarthy told newsmen.

"Budenz' testimony will speak completely for itself. I'm not worried at all about it." Once a member of the powerful Communist central committee, Budenz renounced communism in 1945 after 10 years of party service. He is now a professor at Fordham university in New York.

Democrats Approve Special Committee For Crime Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leaders agreed unanimously Tuesday to set up a special five-man committee to conduct a full-scale investigation of interstate crime syndicates and their alleged effect on local politics.

The decision was announced by Democratic Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois following a meeting of the party policy committee. He said Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) who first proposed the crime inquiry, will "probably" head the committee, though Vice-President Alben Barkley will have a "free hand" in selecting its members.

The group will be composed of three Democrats and two Republicans. The action was intended to solve a jurisdictional dispute between the senate judiciary committee and the senate commerce subcommittee both of which had planned separate inquiries. Senate Republican Leader Kenneth Wherry (R-Neb) and Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) accused the Democrats of trying to "take jurisdiction away from the judiciary committee and block the inquiry."

Producer Shoots Self As Wife Telephones Him

NEW YORK (AP)—Hugh B. "Bud" Ernst handsome, man-about-town radio producer, killed himself with a shotgun Tuesday as his estranged wife, Actress Betty Furness, telephoned his hotel room in the frantic hope of stopping him. The 39-year-old ex-army flier, a New York and Hollywood intimate of Errol Flynn and other celebrities, telephoned the New York Journal-American only a few minutes earlier that he was dependent over the breakup of his marriage to Miss Furness.

1500 Students Need Counseling Aid: Shoben

Fifteen hundred SUI students could at some time in their college careers use help in working out their mental problems, Prof. E. J. Shoben, director of the SUI student counseling service, told Iowa City Kiwanis club members Tuesday.

(Shoben testified at the recent Robert E. Bednasek trial in regard to a conference he had with Bednasek. His testimony may have set a legal precedent. District Judge James P. Gaffney ruled that the relationship of a clinical psychologist, such as Shoben, to his "client" (in that case, Bednasek) could not legally be kept confidential.)

Shoben based his estimate on studies of college students by former Yale President James Angell. It has been estimated, Shoben said, that 10 percent of our popu-

Demo Group Plans Meeting to Discuss Manager Plan Issue

The Iowa City Democrats central committee will meet today to decide if the local party organization will take a stand on the campaign for adoption of the council-manager plan in Iowa City.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Johnson county courthouse basement.

The committee also will make plans to get out the vote for Monday's special election on the council-manager question, City Democratic Chairman William H. Bartley said.

He said he and Mrs. Don Borchart, local Democratic vice-chairman, have been approached by a number of local Democrats who think the party should take a stand on the question.

A public meeting will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Community building, sponsored by about 30 Iowa Citizens who oppose the adoption of the council-manager plan. Atty. Edward L. O'Connor said Tuesday.

O'Connor is chairman of the group, which includes both Democrats and Republicans. Speakers at Friday's meeting will include O'Connor and Austen Finnessey, Des Moines, director of the Iowa State Federation of Labor.

Koser, Hamilton To Debate C-M

Mayor Preston Koser and Atty. Clair Hamilton will discuss the merits of mayor-council government and council-manager government, respectively, at 11 a.m. today in the City high school auditorium.

Principal Ralph Austermler said Koser and Hamilton, chairman of the local Council-Manager association, each will be given 15 minutes to present reasons why their viewpoints should be adopted. Three minutes will be allotted to each for rebuttal.

A panel of high school speech students has prepared questions to ask the speakers, Austermler said.

"The students have been instructed that we are not looking for an answer to this question. We are not going to vote, but we are looking for the facts," he said. The assembly is open to the public.

Half-Million Tour Hyde Park Yearly

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—The Roosevelt mansion, which always welcomed visitors during the late President's lifetime, still plays host to 500,000 persons a year.

The boyhood home of the man who was elected president of the United States four times was dedicated April 12, 1946, the first anniversary of his death, as the Franklin D. Roosevelt National Historic site.

George A. Palmer, superintendent, says visitors have averaged a half a million each year. The park service plays host to more than 3,000 a day at Hyde Park during the peak tourist season.

Death on a Life Raft

COVERING THE BODY of one of four boys found dead Tuesday on a life raft drifting in icy, windswept Lake Erie is W.R. Carle, Cleveland coroner. Part of the raft is visible at the right. The boys, who chased a drifting canoe in Lake Erie, died of exposure on the small rubber raft before help could reach them. They had hoped to claim the canoe as theirs. Whether their raft overtook the canoe will never be known.

Teen-Age Boys Die Aboard Drifting Raft

CLEVELAND (AP)—Four small boys, chasing a drifting canoe into Lake Erie, died of exposure on a little rubber life raft before help could reach them Tuesday.

They had hoped to claim the canoe as theirs, but whether their raft ever overtook it will never be known.

Their adventure on the lake began shortly before dusk Monday night. It ended shortly before noon Tuesday when their cold, dripping bodies were plucked from the bobbing raft by the coast guard.

The four boys were huddled in the bottom of the small, air-inflated raft, which belonged to one of them. Apparently they had huddled together to retain the warmth of their bodies. Clad only in blue jeans and cotton shirts—two of them were barefooted when last seen—they had been battered by waves and wind. In the raft were two small wooden paddles, one broken.

"The boys seemed to have just fallen asleep," said one of the four crewmen of the boat which recovered the bodies.

Bridges' Citizenship Depends on Appeal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Harry Bridges will keep his American citizenship for a month at least. The federal court Tuesday overruled a move by the government to strip the CIO longshore union president of citizenship at once.

Bridges, 48, Australia-born, was sentenced Monday to five years in prison. He was convicted last week of perjury and conspiracy—accused of winning naturalization in 1945 by fraud in denying he was a Communist.

If the conviction is upheld on appeal, revocation of citizenship and deportation is possible. However, there is a possibility Bridges may become a "stateless person." He renounced Australian citizenship to become an American. Bridges currently is free on $25,000 bond.

Repair Phone Lines As Winds Diminish

DES MOINES (AP)—Winds were diminishing in Iowa Tuesday night after blowing from 30 to 40 miles an hour earlier in the day.

By late afternoon the strongest winds were reported in the Ottumwa area, blowing at 27 miles an hour. Most places reported winds of less than 20 miles an hour.

Telephone service, knocked out in many communities by the winds and an Easter ice storm, was being steadily restored. Northwestern Bell Telephone company said that by Tuesday night no large towns would be without at least partial service.

Several new circuits into Clinton restored that city's communication.

Only eight or 10 towns were without phone service Tuesday night and all of these were towns of about 100 population or less, the company said.

Unseasonably cool temperatures were expected to continue today after the weather bureau predicted lows for Tuesday night of 20 to 28 degrees.

Jobs Plentiful for June Grads, SUI Placement Director Says

Job opportunities for SUI's June graduates look good despite predictions by labor experts that the country's unemployment figures will reach 5-million by summer.

Helen Barnes, director of SUI's industrial and business placement office, expressed this optimistic view Tuesday.

"As long as students will be realistic," she said, "there is no good reason why they should not get jobs."

"There are plenty of jobs coming to the attention of the placement office for qualified individuals. Students should keep checking with the office regularly."

Offers to 15 Students
One national retail company made position offers several days ago to 15 SUI students who will graduate in June, Miss Barnes said.

There are opportunities for young women with art ability in the creative department of Hallmark brothers, a greeting card manufacturing firm, she said.

Interviews Thursday, Friday
Miss Barnes said the executive offices of the Boy Scouts of America are recruiting men with good scouting backgrounds for positions as professional leaders. A well-known life insurance company is looking for an Iowa City representative, she added. A salary is guaranteed by the company for the next three or four years.

A representative of the North American Insurance company will interview students Thursday and Friday for their training school in Philadelphia, she said.

Students interested in any of these positions should contact the business and industrial placement office, University hall, Miss Barnes said.

Russia Says U.S. Plane Forced Soviets To Shoot

It's a Democracy, Ain't It?

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP)—You can have your non-partisan candidates and civil service plans for doing away with partisan politics.

The student senate came up with the real fool-proof way to take campus politics out of the May queen selection at Ohio State university Tuesday.

Ohio State May queens traditionally are picked from among a group of pretty girls parading in their best formal gowns. But, the senate Tuesday by a vote of 23 to 10 decided the girls henceforth will parade—in bathing suits.

"When you look at a girl in a bathing suit, you don't think about politics," commented Phil Adler, president of the sophomore class.

Incident Marks First Gunfire In Cold War

By UNITED PRESS

The Soviet government charged Tuesday that a United States plane had "violated" Russian territory and had forced an exchange of gunfire with Soviet fighter planes.

It was the first shooting in the cold war between Russia and the United States.

The accusation brought an angry denial from the airforce and navy in Washington which hinted broadly the Russians may have shot down an unarmed American plane.

The Soviet charge was contained in a protest note handed U.S. Ambassador Adm. Alan Kirk in Moscow by Soviet Foreign Minister Andre Vishinsky.

Planes Not Armed
Authorities in Washington and also in Europe said that, if any American planes had "violated" the Soviet frontier they certainly were not armed.

However, American officials expressed fear the plane referred to by the Russians was a U.S. navy B-24 with 10 men aboard which disappeared on a flight from Wiesbaden, Germany, to Copenhagen, Denmark, Saturday.

The Russians hinted as much in their note to Kirk which said a four-engined American plane flew over Libava, Latvia, Saturday and refused to heed orders from a Soviet fighter plane group to land at a nearby airfield.

A Discrepancy
There was one discrepancy, however. The Soviet note identified the American plane as "a four-motored plane of B-29 type."

The missing B-24 is smaller than a B-29 with a shorter nose. But American aviation authorities believe the Russian pilots may have erred in their identification.

"The American plane not only failed to comply with this demand but opened fire on Soviet planes," the note said.

"Owing to this, an advance Soviet fighter plane was forced to open fire in reply, after which the American plane turned toward the sea and disappeared."

The B-24, as far as can be ascertained, was the only American plane within hundreds of miles of Latvia at the time. "Its 'firepower'" officials said, consisted only of a pistol carried by Lt. John Henry Fette, Connelsville, Pa.

Demos Postpone Action On Civil Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman's legislative chiefs Tuesday agreed—at his urging—Tuesday to sidetrack senate action on a controversial civil rights bill and give priority to a foreign economic aid measure.

Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois announced this decision after meeting with the Democratic policy committee. Earlier in the day he and Vice-President Barkley discussed the legislative timetable at a White House conference with Mr. Truman.

They told reporters the President had said the Marshall plan legislation is "more important at this time than any other."

But Sen. Kenneth Wherry (R-Neb) asserted the Democrats were only seeking to delay a showdown on the civil rights fight until after their party primaries in the south are "out of the way."

He told newsmen the Democrats were only making a "gesture" in promising to bring up a proposed fair employment practices bill at this session, which is due to end July 31.

Lucas, however, had declared earlier that the FEPC bill will be brought up as quickly as possible despite the certainty of a filibuster by southern Democrats.

Bolivians Outlaw Communist Party

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA (AP)—The Bolivian government outlawed the Communist party and "all its activities and subsidiary organizations" Tuesday. It charged the Communists of 10 nations were conspiring to set up a South American Soviet Union under a Brazilian, Luis Carlos Prestes.

The ban was officially linked to labor unrest in this Andean republic, which produces 15 percent of the world's tin and various other minerals including wolfram, silver, gold, antimony and lead.

Forty-nine labor figures were arrested Monday night in a police raid from which one of the wanted men, Victor Hugo Libera, escaped in an exchange of shots that killed a bystander.

'World Citizen' Davis To Wed Californian

ELLSWORTH, ME. (AP) Marriage intentions of Garry Davis, and Miss Audrey Peters of Bonita, Calif., were on file Tuesday with the city clerk.

Vandenberg Satisfactory After Removal of Tumor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Arthur Vandenberg was reported in "satisfactory" condition Tuesday after an operation for removal of a tumor near his spinal cord.

This is the second operation the 66-year-old Michigan Republican has undergone in the past seven months. He had part of his left lung removed last October.

Aftermath of Easter, 1950

NEW YORK (AP)—It took Lee motors just one day to clear 22 rattletaps off its used car lots in a good-natured Easter egg sale.

"You bring the eggs—we've got the crates," the firm advertised Sunday. "Down payment—one dozen eggs."

No claims of greatness were made for the cars. "We'll get 'em started—you keep 'em running," the company said. By ones and by lots they went, and by nightfall Monday all 22 crates were gone.

But the eggs—22 dozen of them—remained. So the company donated them to a hospital.

'Lady' Lives After Leap

A YEAR-OLD ENGLISH POINTER, "Lady," is lifted to safety from Crooked River gorge south of Bend, Ore. The dog is the first known canine survivor of a frolicking leap that has meant death for at least 10 others. Luckier than other dogs that have leaped playfully over the parapet to find a 300-foot chasm below, "Lady" landed on a ledge 80 feet down.

Second Class Citizenship —

Mayor Preston Koser aimed a blast at SUI students at a city council meeting Monday night because, he said, the students don't pay for street repairs, despite their protests that the streets are in poor condition.

What the mayor apparently overlooked is that students do pay for street repairs and other municipal improvements through the hundreds of thousands of dollars they pour into the city each year.

A student renting a room, for example, may pay $20 per month for use of the room. Some of that money is earmarked for property tax which is used by the city in various ways.

The mayor mentioned the possibility of levying a discriminatory wheel tax, or a tax on student-owned automobiles. The suggestion was referred to the committees on ordinances and streets and alleys.

Enactment of a city ordinance that would give students second-class citizenship would be difficult to enforce.

Besides, that it would work a hardship on students over and above the seriousness of the mayor's charges.

Student motorists pour huge sums of money into parking meters that ring the campus and cover a large section of the town.

Students go a long way toward supporting many business establishments in Iowa City.

When students comprise a large segment of the town population, help support the town and, in many ways make Iowa City the bustling community it is, it seems more than unwise to consider any legislation which would discriminate against the students.

Insurance for 400,000 Iowans —

Do you know that 3,905 Iowans died last year of cancer? And, do you know that an estimated 400,000 Iowans now living will die of cancer unless something is done to curb the present cancer death rate?

These are two facts that Gov. William S. Beardsley recently mentioned in his proclamation of April as Iowa Cancer control month for 1950.

The governor said, "I understand that over one-third of the Iowans who died of cancer in 1948 could probably have been saved through early detection and treatment. The Iowa division of the American Cancer society for the past few years has undertaken an extensive educational program. I believe this program should receive part of the credit for producing results shown by a report for 1948. . . . This report states that for the first time in history there was an actual decrease in the cancer deaths among Iowa women.

"I am particularly impressed with the amount of money that the Iowa division is earmarking for research."

SUI has received $104,000 during the past two years to expand and equip its radiation laboratory. In addition, the Iowa division of the society has awarded 50 nursing scholarships at a cost of $25,000.

Thousands of dollars more are spent yearly in our state on treatments, education of the public, and establishing and financing of 102 chapters engaged in a program of cancer service.

Iowa's quota in the nation-wide cancer crusade is $301,900. The Iowa division of the American Cancer society wants to top this amount.

Why not top it? We spend much more than this sum on insurance — and what better insurance is available? This is insurance that may eventually aid 400,000 Iowans.

A Talk with Buck Rogers —

The SUI campus has not escaped the mass hysteria that has been sweeping the country during the past couple years.

Tuesday afternoon a fellow we know, a pretty sensible fellow at that, was willing to testify that he had seen — of all things — a flying saucer soaring over Old Capitol.

It was early in the afternoon, he reported, when he was walking out of University hall. In the sky he noticed a star shining brightly. A closer look showed it wasn't a star, he continued, so he thought it was an unusual airplane.

Another look assured him it wasn't an airplane, nor a zeppelin either. "It was . . ." he paused. We supplied the answer, "A flying saucer?"

"Yep," he replied and left. We still don't know whether he was kidding or if an interplanetary missile really was flying around the campus Tuesday.

Keep your eyes open because he might have been telling us the truth.

Brickbats to Koser . . .

Brickbats to Mayor Koser. I certainly hope that the hogwash about wheel tax for student vehicles is a joke.

The only thing that makes Iowa City, Iowa, any different from Toadstool, Tennessee, is the fact that 10,000 students populate this town nine months of the year. What makes this tick? The students. They pour one million dollars into the businesses of this town each month. It is hard to tell exactly the number of outsiders that SUI draws into the town, over and above the students, to basketball, football and baseball games, etc. Outsiders who also spend their money in Iowa City while they are here.

One may say that the students don't pay for the privilege of living in Iowa City. But, they put money into those parking meters just like the rest of the Iowa Citizens; they buy more books, clothes, food, and incidentals from the businesses in town than the citizens do. Anyone who has stayed here in the summer can testify to the fact that Iowa City is DEAD when the students leave.

One sure way to have money to repair the streets is to spend the money you have prudently,

Can the city council call the purchase of three unused stop signs at the end of Burlington street prudent? Can they call the purchase of a parking lot so far from the town that no one uses it prudent?

Can they call the purchase of three trucks for the city prudent, when the lowest bid was not accepted? The council might have the money for the repair of the streets had they thought first and then acted.

When you buy a car nowadays you get taxed and taxed and taxed. The city council seems to be for bigger and better chuck-holes.

Equality Question . . .

Miss Petersen's indignant letter in the Tuesday issue of The Iowan seems to call for some reply from a member of the sex which allegedly has subjected womankind to the "role of man's servant or follower."

Miss Petersen has written about 300 words in defense of the status of women, asserting that they should use all their abilities and talents to make themselves "whole persons." She stated further that every woman is "a person, an individual, a whole being all of her own, and should be considered and treated as such."

I will agree with her that perhaps it should be so. But I can agree only on the condition that women begin to consider and treat men as equals. This may grate harshly on the ears of Miss Petersen and other advocates of equal rights for women, but the statement still stands.

The point is that for years women have expected and received considerable babying at the hands of their men and of men in general. Women expect their husbands and escorts to foot the bill for their every whim, which might conceivably be one cause of the financial and moral downfall of many unfortunate men. Most men are apparently content with, or resigned to, the role of family breadwinner. But women, it seems, are not content with bread; they must have cake.

I have no quarrel with our tradition which states that man is to earn the family living, pay the cost of dates and to defer to women through the myriad chivalrous acts which have been passed down through the ages and incorporated into Emily Post's rules of etiquette. But I resent the desire of equal righters to be equal in all respects, while retaining the privileges they now enjoy.

In brief, when women are ready to accept the responsibilities of equality in all things, as well as the privileges they would gain, I will be ready to accept and even campaign for the platform of equal rights. Though I am a poor man, I would (with apologies to Atty. Gen. Larson) bet a million dollars with complete assurance that I will never live to see that day.

Bad Weather Keeps Illinois Voters Home

CHICAGO — Only a small number of Illinois voters turned out in blustery weather Tuesday to name candidates for congress and state and county offices in the nation's first off-year primary election.

Light turnouts were reported except in scattered areas where local issues were paramount, and observers expected that only 1.5-million of 5-million registered voters would cast ballots.

Few Democratic candidates were opposed, and the chief interest was in Republican races.

Between now and September the remainder of the states will hold nominating primaries or nominating conventions to select candidates for 36 seats of the U.S. senate and 435 house seats. In addition, 33 states will elect governors this year.

Interpreting the News —

War Dangers Creating Fear

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Little things picked up here and there suggest that there is more fear of war in high circles than at this time last year.

The statement of John McCloy, U.S. high commissioner for Germany, that Russia is pushing her program so urgently because she believes this is her time of destiny has received widespread consideration.

A situation such as that in China, with Russian technicians and military advisers pouring in, and Russian-type planes reported in the skies, always creates international nervousness.

The existence of a disarmed and disunited Germany on which even the occupying western allies are not fully agreed creates a vacuum which is recognized as a serious danger.

In the United States, the administration from the President on down has taken numerous recent occasions to emphasize that there is no sign of rapprochement with Russia. Secretary Dean Acheson has called for "total diplomacy" to win the cold war.

If "total diplomacy" is achieved and fails, then the logical inference is that war, that other extension of diplomacy, will be imminent.

Some observers are taking the Communist effort to drive westerners out of their sphere, reducing or closing down embassies and other political outposts, as designed to help cloak war preparations.

Russia's heavy buying in such strategic world markets as rubber and wool has led to conjecture that she is seeking to establish a vast stockpile for some emergency.

Preparedness seems to be gaining the upper hand over the economy desires of the U.S. department of defense, with indications that the administration will no longer actively oppose higher appropriations for a larger airforce and certain other activities.

Preparations to meet an emergency in Germany in May, when the Communists promise a great demonstration, include special training of American troops. This, too, has helped produce what seems to be a definite feeling of urgency.

All of these things, however, hardly seem sufficient to overrule the practicalities of the situation. Russia's own productive goals are still so far below the industrial powers of the west that it would take her years to catch up even with the west standing still. The danger of war will exist much more concretely when Russia begins to think that she can compete in this field.

Move to Return German Territory Reported

NEGOTIATIONS ARE REPORTED UNDERWAY in Berlin between Russia, Poland and east Germany for return of about a third of Pomerania and two thirds of coal-rich Silesia to east Germany. This is part of the territory lost by Germany after World War II, and return of it presumably would be intended to bolster sagging Soviet prestige in the "People's Republic." Such a move would also signify recent allied action in giving France special rights in the Saar, a move which already has stirred dissatisfaction among west Germans. Poland is reported resisting the move, but is expected to agree

London Professor To Lecture Here In Graduate Series

Prof. B. Efor Evans, principal of Queen Mary college, University of London, will give two graduate college lectures here Thursday and Friday, Prof. Balwin Maxwell, head of the SUI English department, said Tuesday.

Evans, who taught at SUI during the summer session of 1925, will speak in the Senate chamber of Old Capitol, Maxwell said.

His visit is being jointly sponsored by the departments of English and speech and dramatic arts. Thursday he will discuss "Literature in England Between the Wars," and Friday his topic will be "The Contemporary Theatre in England." Both lectures will be held at 8 p.m.

A writer of many volumes, Evans has been widely associated with the artistic life of England during the last 10 years.

His work as a writer has extended from "A Short History of English Literature," to detailed work which led to the discoveries of one new Elizabethan play and new Wordsworth and Coleridge material.

Evans' critical works have been widely distributed, Maxwell said. They include "William Morris and his Poetry," "The Limits of Literary Criticism," "Keats, a Biographical and Critical Study,"

"Tradition and Romanticism," "Literature Between the Wars," and "A Short History of English Drama."

Evans also had three philosophical novels published in which he attempted to make some compromise between the critical essay and fiction, Maxwell added. These novels were "In Search of Stephen Vane," "The Shop on the King's Road," and "The Church in the Markets."

Evans has traveled in the Orient and the Middle East, and has taught at several universities in the United States.

Dyeing Process Advised To Liven Up Old Linens

Dip and dye—that's all that is needed to liven up those winter-wear linens.

Just dip the white linens into a dye-bath and presto the fashion-lending transformation is complete.

Among 52 available colors those preferred for bed linens, include pink, tea rose, maize, peach bieve, light blue and Nile green.

According to one Home Economics bureau, the same tinting process may be used for colored sheets if the dye selected is in the same color-type as the sheets. If not, the use of a color remover first is recommended. The color remover demands no boiling and will take out most of the old color, the bureau said.

The Home Economics bureau recommends the automatic washer for dyeing bulky articles. It points out that for cotton, linen and rayon two $1.50 boxes of all-fabric dye are plenty for the first 12 ounces of weight, plus one such box for each additional 12 ounces. For acetate rayon ("celanese") and nylon, about twice this much is needed.

In dyeing in the automatic washer, according to the bureau, the first step is to thoroughly wash the articles to be dyed. After this operation dissolve the dye in a quart jar of warm water.

Search For New Coach To Start Soon

Brechler Denies Personality Feud

Athletic Director Paul Brechler announced Tuesday that the Iowa athletic board hopes to have a new basketball coach within two weeks to fill the vacancy created Monday when Lawrence (Pops) Harrison was discharged.

The staff committee of the board will meet within the next few days to begin preliminary work on the selection, Brechler indicated.

Answers Charge
Brechler partially answered Harrison's charge that he was fired because of a "personality dispute" between them. The athletic director referred Tuesday to Harrison's attempted resignation two years ago in the middle of the basketball season.

Brechler claimed that at the time he persuaded Harrison to drop the resignation.

"Certainly if I had anything against Pops personally I could have accepted that resignation," Brechler said. "I had the full authority of the board to do so."

"Pops has chosen to make it a personal issue between the two of us. There isn't much I can do about what he says. I don't want to get in a feud in the newspapers."

Brechler indicated Tuesday that Harrison would receive his full salary of $7,000 for the current fiscal year ending June 30, and an additional two months salary of more than $1,000 for July and August.

Bill of Particulars
Meanwhile reliable sources in the athletic department which declined identification were quoted Tuesday as saying that the athletic board had an extensive "bill of particulars" regarding Harrison's dismissal.

Specific allegations included:
1. That Iowa had received letters of complaint from Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth "Tug" Wilson threatening action against Iowa if Harrison's attitude toward conference officials and others was not corrected.

2. That Harrison had not attended many staff meetings called by Brechler.

3. That athletic staff members and students in Harrison's basketball theory class had not been held on its regular schedule. They reported that when it was held, sessions frequently lasted only 20 to 30 minutes instead of the scheduled two-hours. The students also charged that non-basketball playing members of the class didn't receive enough theory to prepare them for coaching jobs.

"Nothing to Hide"
Harrison retorted Monday after his dismissal that he "had nothing to hide."

Bucky O'Connor, Harrison's replacement this season, was the most prominently mentioned candidate for the head coaching post. O'Connor refused comment Tuesday on the coaching situation.

Paul Moon, successful coach at Davenport high school, was also mentioned as a possible successor to Harrison.

In Davenport, Moon said, "I haven't seen anything to the effect that I am being considered for the Iowa basketball job."

"I heard something about it, but as far as I know, I am not being considered for the position."

"If I were under consideration,

Rookie of Year Candidates

Hawks Slated to Open Home Season Today

A frozen diamond and chilly winds which forced cancellation of Iowa's opening baseball game against Notre Dame Tuesday, may again prevent the start of the 1950 home season this afternoon.

Coaches Otto Vogel of Iowa and Jake Kline of Notre Dame decided to cancel Tuesday's game after examining the diamond in the morning.

Today's game against the Irish is scheduled for 3:30, weather permitting.

Seven Wins
The Hawkeyes returned from their spring tour of Arkansas and Missouri with a record of seven wins in eight games. The only setback was to Arkansas State Teachers in a 1-0 game. Glenn Drahm went the route for the Hawks in that game and limited the opposition to three hits.

The team defeated Arkansas Poly, 6-4 and 7-1; College of the Ozarks, 18-3 and 16-1; Washington, 6-5; St. Louis university, 11-8, and broke even with Arkansas Teachers with a 13-3 decision.

Jack Dittmer, veteran second baseman, led Iowa hitters on the spring tour.

Wins Opener
Notre Dame, which arrived in Iowa City Tuesday, opened its season Monday at Bloomington, Ill., with a 4-1 win over Illinois Wesleyan. Bob Neme, who won five and lost none a year ago, is the probable starting hurler for Notre Dame today if the game is played.

The Irish lost three pitchers from the 1949 squad and their second baseman, shortstop, third baseman and centerfielder.

Bad Weather Prevails; Gridders Stay Inside

Iowa's football squad resumed spring practice Monday following the Easter recess still confined to the fieldhouse because of bad weather and wet grounds.

Coach Leonard Raffensperger's charges have been handicapped in early season drills having been able to work outdoors only a few days this spring.

Glad to Talk
"Should Iowa officials desire to talk to me about it in the future, I'll be glad to talk to them," Moon said.

Rollie Williams, assistant athletic director, said Tuesday that he "wouldn't even consider" the position. "I want to help Iowa basketball in any way I can, however," Williams said. "That's why I'm coaching the freshmen this spring."

Injured Player Settles Dispute Out of Court

ST. PAUL (AP) — An out-of-court settlement for $67,500 ended the trial of a former Duluth baseball player's $100,000 damage suit against the Liquid Carbonic company of St. Paul.

Joe Becker Jr., 21, former shortstop for the Duluth Dukes of the Northern league, was injured July 24, 1948, in a collision between a truck owned by the St. Paul firm and a bus carrying members of the Duluth baseball team.

Five persons were killed in the crash. Becker suffered loss of four fingers on his left hand, injury to his throwing arm and a broken leg. He sued for $100,000, claiming his baseball career had been ended.

Dodgers 22, Greensboro 0

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Carl Erskine, young righthander from Anderson, Ind., pitched a one-hitter Tuesday as Brooklyn smothered the Greensboro class B Carolina league team, 22-0, for the National league champions' eighth straight victory. There was a paid attendance of 8,435. Erskine had a no hitter with two out in the eighth and two strikes on Normal Wilson, Patriots' catcher, when the latter lined a clean single to center.

PHILLIES 9, MEMPHIS 0
MEMPHIS, TENN. (AP) — Curt Simmons hurled six innings of no-hit, no-run ball and Mike Gollat cracked out two homers Tuesday as the Philadelphia Phillies shut out the Memphis Chickens of the Southern association, 9-0. Memphis' two hits came off Rookie Ed Wright who pitched the last three innings. Simmons struck out seven and walked three.

Schedule Golf Meeting At Finkbine Clubhouse

All varsity and freshmen wishing to try out for the golf team should report to a meeting today between 2 and 3 p.m. at the Finkbine clubhouse, Coach Bucky O'Connor has announced.

The golf team starts its season Saturday against Bradley at Peoria, Ill., then follows with a home meet with Notre Dame Monday.

Report NBA Plans To Drop 3 Teams

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Russ Lynch, Milwaukee Journal sports editor, said Tuesday the National Basketball association will be reduced to 14 teams, operating in two divisions, for the next season.

"Anderson, Ind., and Denver Colo., are two of the franchises to be dropped and a third will be dropped from two cities under discussion," Lynch said in a signed story.

(Anderson dropped out of the league Monday at a meeting in New York. The NBA bought the franchise, then junked it, and announced players would be disposed of later.)

"Big city operators in professional basketball put the squeeze on small towns at an executive committee meeting in New York over the weekend," Lynch continued.

"The Sheboygan (Wis.) Redskins had to fight for their lives in the face of a determined move by the big city owners to cut off all small towns and get down to a 10 or 12 team circuit for next season."

Braves Rally to Whip Reds

CHARLESTON, W. VA. (AP)—The Boston Braves broke loose for six runs in the ninth inning Tuesday for a 10-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the windup of their 10-game exhibition series.

The Braves took the series, six games to four, winning five of six encounters played after the two clubs left Florida.

Ragged relief pitching wrecked Cincinnati Tuesday. Harry Perkowski and Eddie Eratt were clubbed for six of the Braves' 15 hits in the big ninth. Those blows included a two-run homer by Bob Elliott.

INDIANS 6, GIANTS 1
WICHITA, KAN. (AP) — Two three-run innings gave the Cleveland Indians a 6-1 victory over the New York Giants Tuesday before 8,600 fans. The game was limited to seven innings because the clubs had to catch a train.

Sheldon Jones, in a trial that was supposed to give an indication of his qualifications for the Giants opening day pitching assignment, was bruised for three runs in the fourth inning.

YANKS 5, INDIANAPOLIS 3
INDIANAPOLIS, IND. (AP) — A three-run homer by Joe DiMaggio gave the New York Yankees just enough momentum Tuesday to defeat the Indianapolis Indians, 5-3, before 2,640 shivering spectators. Cadets May Resume Relations With Irish

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retiring Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray Tuesday foresaw peaceful football relations between Army and Notre Dame if their games are played someplace other than New York City.

He said the same is true of Notre Dame and North Carolina. Gray is leaving the Army post to become president of North Carolina.

In a farewell chat with reporters, which swung around to football, Gray said he favors a resumption of the Army-Notre Dame grid series; but he added: "I'll have to leave that to my successor. Whatever friction did exist would be removed if the games were played in South Bend and West Point."

Gray blamed the 1947 break in football relations between the Cadets and the Irish on New York City's subway alumni and their "intense feeling," plus the commercial atmosphere of Yankee stadium games.

The new UNC president said Notre Dame and North Carolina "will have no trouble if the games are put on a home-and-home basis."

Student Talent to Keynote Musical Air Show Tonight

Student talent keynotes a lively new musical show hitting the local airwaves over WSUI this evening.

Lovely blond thrush Jane Pinneo, A2, Des Moines, combines her throaty vocalizing with the crooning of Hank Cutler, L1, Waterloo, for an entertaining 15 minutes starting at 7:30 p.m.

Musical accompaniment for the two is provided by Jack

Davis, A4, Ft. Dodge, at the piano and Harry Mitchell, G, Conellsville, Pa., on the bass viol. Boyd Workhoven, A2, Iowa City, WSUI staff announcer, writes and reads the script and continuity for the broadcast.

Miss Pinneo's voice probably is not new to SUI students. Featured singer with Leo Cortimiglia's small musical dance group, she has sung at a number of university social functions, including the all-university party which introduced Hawkeye grid coach Leonard Rafensperger.

With Meardon's Band Cutler has been giving out with his baritone around the SUI campus since 1947 as vocalist with Bill Meardon's dance band. Before that, he sang with a number of Iowa territory bands while attending West Waterloo high school.

Celebrating his 24th birthday Thursday, Cutler has a definite eye on the musical entertainment field though he is presently concentrating on becoming a "legal eagle" (lawyer).

Right now he's organizing a musical group of his own composed of SUI students which he hopes to put on the road during the summer months.

Cutler says he likes to sing standard ballads, and good popular tunes in his own husky style. The best way to make him wince, he declares, is to say he sounds like Mel "The Velvet Fog" Torme. Cutler says he likes Torme's voice, but he doesn't think he sounds like him.

Miss Pinneo concurs with her vocal partner regarding selection of songs. She prefers "old standards," she says, "because today's popular tunes are mostly bad."

Bright Lights?
The 19-year-old Des Moines miss also has inclinations toward the bright lights. Besides her vocal talents, she is an accomplished dancer.

While attending Roosevelt high school, she appeared in the Kendall community theater's productions of "Beggar on Horseback" and "Lady in the Dark" where she not only danced, but sang a solo number.

Miss Pinneo states that she would like to attempt a musical career for a few years "just to see what I can do."

Local listeners can hear what she and the rest of the cast can do at 7:30 p.m. today over WSUI.

City High Instructors To Judge Music Meet

Glenn Jablonski, director of vocal music, and Paul Behm, director of instrumental music at City high school, will act as judges at preliminary state music contests Saturday.

Jablonski will judge mixed choruses and glee clubs at Waverly, and Behm will judge instrumental events and bands at Webster City, Jablonski said.

FILES DIVORCE SUIT
Wilmer McGlasson, Lone Tree, Tuesday in district court sued to divorce his wife, Mrs. Marjorie McGlasson, Lone Tree. He charged cruel and inhuman treatment in his petition and asked for custody of their three children.

Music, Moxie Make Up Student Talent Show

STUDENT TALENT provided by this group features a new musical show to be aired over WSUI at 7:30 this evening. Announcer Boyd Workhoven, (l-r) writes and reads the script for the broadcast highlighting the vocals of Jane Pinneo, A2, Des Moines, and Hank Cutler, L1, Waterloo. Music for the show is played by Jack Davis, A4, Ft. Dodge, at the piano and Harry Mitchell, G, Conellsville, Pa., on the bass viol.

Iowa Law Review Features Health, Insurance

The Iowa Law Review winter edition, featuring a symposium on health insurance plans and public health, was issued Monday, Editor Marvin C. Hayward, L3, Independence, announced.

The quarterly, which is published by the SUI college of law, will be distributed to SUI law students, members of the Iowa bar and libraries throughout the nation.

John Moss, British lecturer and author on social science, discusses England's health, welfare and insurance services.

Channing Frothingham, chairman of the committee for the nation's health, describes the need for health insurance in America. In another article, Alanson W. Wilcox, general counsel of the federal security agency, writes on the nature and constitutionality of proposed compulsory health insurance.

Also included in the law review is "Voluntary Health Insurance in the United States," by Edwin J. Holman, staff associate, American Medical association, and George W. Cooley, medical service council, AMA.

VA Specialist Dies Of Heart Disease

Edward E. Haase, 50, veterans administration training specialist at SUI, died Sunday in his Cedar Rapids home of heart disease, David R. Roberts, chief of education and training with the VA in Des Moines, said Tuesday.

Mr. Haase had been SUI training supervisor for veterans under public law 16 since June, 1949. Roberts said plans now are being formulated to replace Mr. Haase. Funeral services will be held today, 11 a.m., in the Turner funeral home, Cedar Rapids, with burial at the Cedar Rapids Memorial Park cemetery.

Mr. Haase graduated from Annapolis Naval academy in 1921 and was a veteran of both world wars. He is survived by his widow, Virginia Fry Haase, and an eight-year-old daughter, Marilyn.

Two YMCA Meetings To Be Held Thursday

Two YMCA meetings are scheduled for Thursday night.

An all-membership meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Iowa Union.

YMCA Vice-President William Davis, A4, Burlington, said members who went to New York City and Washington, D.C., over Easter vacation will report on their trip.

The second meeting will be held by the committee on racial equality at 9 p.m. in the YMCA office. The application committee will give reports, Davis said.

Editorialist to Speak Here

Forrest W. Seymour, editor of The Des Moines Register and Tribune's editorial page, will speak on "Experiences in Municipal Affairs" at a public meeting in the Community building today at 7:30 p.m.

Other speakers scheduled for the meeting, sponsored by the association chairman, said Tuesday Porter and Olson will discuss the council - manager plan with relation to Iowa City.

The association this week will end its campaign to promote adoption of the council - manager plan here. Local voters will decide in Monday's special election on the adoption of the system.

Forrest W. Seymour

Des Moines, where Seymour has been editor of the Register and Tribune's editorial pages since 1946, last year adopted the council - manager system and elected its first council under the plan March 27 this year.

In 1943 Seymour won the Pulitzer prize for distinguished editorial writing. Seymour was graduated from Drake university with a B.A. degree in 1929.
