Iowa Supreme Court Justices Listen to Student Arguments

SUI was host to Iowa's highest protectors of justice Thursday. The nine gentlemen of the state Supreme Court sat at a high bench in the senate chamber of Old Capitol, listening to arguments by four SUI law seniors.

The arguments were part of Supreme Court day, an event which has been observed by the college of law each year since 1927, with the exception of a brief period during the war.

The nine justices were: Chief Justice William L. Bliss, W. A. Smith, Oscar Hale, Theodore G. Garfield, Ralph A. Oliver, Norman R. Hays, John E. Mulrooney, Charles F. Wennerstrum and H. J. Mantz.

Students Honored The four students - John A. Stichoth, Iowa City; P. L. Nymann, Cedar Falls; Richard D. Hobbet, Eagle Grove, and Tom Stewart, Knoxville - received the honor of presenting a "case" to the justices by winning freshman and junior argument competition during their three years in the college of law.

Nearly 300 persons watched as the students argued a mythical appeal called "John Beck vs. the Town of Pumpkin Center," a case which involved the question of municipal immunity from civil suits.

The decision, which was announced at the Supreme Court day banquet Thursday night, was in favor of "the town," represented by Hobbet and Stewart.

Also included in the Supreme Court day program was the initiation of 16 persons into the Order of Coif, an organization for law students of high scholastic standing. The initiation was held at 10:30 a.m. in the house chamber.

Henry C. Shull, president of the state board of education, became honorary member, and Prof. John C. O'Byrne, assistant law professor at SUI, became an honorary faculty member.

The other fourteen initiates, recent law school graduates or members of the June graduating class, were Robert C. Reimer, Schleswig; Instructor Milo Smith, college of commerce, Aberdeen, S.D.; Marvin C. Hayward, Independence; Mary Ann Diehl, Davenport; Instructor Richard G. Huber, college of law, Charles City; Claire Ferguson, Des Moines; William E. Wallace, Williamsburg; Donald H. Sitz, Davenport; William B. Rutherford, Clarence; Lynn E. Rhoads, Des Moines.

Edward J. Hartman, Guthrie Center; Benjamin W. Brown, Shenandoah; Gilbert R. Caldwell, Humston, and Charles A. Schorr, Davenport.

Shull spoke after the ceremonies, urging the newly initiated Coif members to support SUI and other schools of higher learning.

He warned against hysteria like that which prompted a legislative investigation of SUI in 1931, shortly after it had been expelled from the Big Ten for a brief period because of alleged subsidization of athletics.

"However, the investigation hurt the university by causing 'internal disruption and reaction throughout the rest of the state' he pointed out.

It was partially responsible for the loss of an able president, Walter A. Jessup he said.

Following the initiation, the new members were honored at a Coif luncheon in the Iowa Union.

SUI Student Council Backs Political Days, Urges Participation

The SUI student council Thursday night "fully" endorsed the university political party days to be held May 9 and 23, and urged "all students to participate in the worthwhile university project."

Council President Jack Whitesell, L.I. Davenport, was asked by Prof. Robert F. Ray, director of the institute of public affairs, which sponsors the program, to give a welcoming address at each meeting.

Bill Eads, A3, Ida Grove, introduced the resolution to the council.

In determining which political parties to recognize, the council followed the procedure of Iowa state law which states that a party must poll two percent of the Iowa vote in order to be recognized as a party in Iowa.

In other action of the council, several members were appointed to committees. They were George Vuolich, A4, Chisholm, Minn., Homecoming committee; Ag Rovane, C3, Keokuk, chairman, Florence Schuck, A2, West Point, and Doug MacRae, A1, Eldora, faculty-evaluation committee. Vuolich also was appointed to serve on the parking committee.

Iowa Senator Asks Tax Loophole Plug

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Guy Gillette (D-Iowa) and George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) said Thursday they will ask congress to close a tax loophole that has allowed aliens to pile up millions of dollars of profits through speculation in this country without paying federal taxes.

They cited recently testimony before the senate investigation of soaring coffee prices that one Brazilian firm piled up speculative profits of more than $3-million in nine months and escaped both federal and state taxes.

Alfred Boettger, a member of the New York coffee and sugar exchange, explained that an alien or foreigner is not required to pay taxes on speculative profits if he has no office or place of business in this country and does not engage "in trade or business."

Both Aiken and Gillette expressed surprise at the tax free profits. Gillette said he is preparing a tax amendment that would require that 30 percent of such profits be set aside for federal taxes as is required from dividends and profits of domestic businesses.

Senate Kills Loan For Franco Spain

WASHINGTON (AP) - The senate blackballed Franco Spain for membership in the Marshall plan club Thursday and refused to endorse a proposed $50-million loan to that country.

It took this action in rejecting by a 42 to 35 vote a move by Sens. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) and Owen Brewster (R-Maine) to amend the foreign aid bill so as to include Spain in the anti-Communist ranks.

Chairman Tom Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee declared that Spain's inclusion would cause "serious interference" in the European recovery program.

High Grades Bring Honors to Law Students

ADDRESSING COIF INITIATES Thursday, Henry C. Shull, president of the state board of education, urged them to support SUI and higher education in general when they begin legal practice after graduation from law school.

Shull was one of 16 initiates into Coif, a legal scholastic order. Fourteen law students in the upper 10 percent of their classes became members in a ceremony in the house chamber of Old Capitol. The new initiates are sitting to the rear of Shull.

Hoover Recommends New United Nations 'Without Communists'

NEW YORK (AP) - Herbert Hoover called Thursday night for scrapping of the present United Nations organization and the setting up of a new one with the Communist countries shut out.

The former president said the need is great for a dynamic "new united front" against "creeping Red imperialism."

Republicans Back Spending Republican leaders who were talking budget cuts endorsed the defense fund hike after Johnson told emergency committee sessions that deterioration in relations with Russia and her satellites caused a reevaluation of defense plans.

Aside from his brief remarks on defense spending and the draft, which came in response to questions, the President refrained from commenting on the international situation.

New Envoy to Canada The President announced he is naming Stanley Woodward, chief of protocol of the state department, to succeed the late Laurence C. Steinhart, who died in a plane crash last month.

The President made a special plea for the 21 government reorganization plans he recently submitted to congress. He said with some feeling that if there is to be efficiency in government these plans should be allowed to take effect. A number of resolutions have been introduced in congress seeking disapproval of some of the plans.

Tito Plans New Drive For Greek Friendship

BELGRADE (AP) - Premier Marshal Tito announced Thursday Yugoslavia plans to resume full diplomatic relations with Greece, a neighbor with whom she has quarreled bitterly in recent years.

The premier said his country will name a diplomatic envoy to Greece within a few days and also expressed hope for better relations with Italy and Austria.

The Yugoslav-Greek situation has gradually improved since Tito was expelled from the Soviet-dominated Cominform in 1948 as a deviationist from Leninism.

Union Charges Railroads with 'Intimidation'

From the Wire Services A new issue arose to jar labor peace hopes Thursday as federal mediators opened talks in Chicago aimed at sidetracking a major rail strike set for May 10.

The major rail dispute is over demands of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen and engineers for an extra fireman on big diesel locomotives.

Violation of Spirit A walkout on four big rail systems was set for last Wednesday but was postponed until May 10 while the national (railway) mediation board suggested new peace talks.

But as the board assembled in Chicago for these peace efforts, the union accused the railroads of attempted intimidation in violation of the spirit of the two weeks' strike truce.

Truman Asks Draft Renewal Backs Defense Fund Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Truman renewed his plea for extension of the draft Thursday and backed up a statement by Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson that the "force of events" warrants an increase in defense spending.

Johnson made the statement Wednesday in urging an addition of $350-million to the defense budget, mostly for new planes. A house committee gave it quick approval.

Republicans Back Spending Republican leaders who were talking budget cuts endorsed the defense fund hike after Johnson told emergency committee sessions that deterioration in relations with Russia and her satellites caused a reevaluation of defense plans.

Aside from his brief remarks on defense spending and the draft, which came in response to questions, the President refrained from commenting on the international situation.

Rubber Suits Linked To Lost U.S. Plane

COPENHAGEN (AP) - Three more yellow rubber suits which may bear on the fate of the U.S. navy's missing Privateer plane were found Thursday on Denmark's Langeland Island.

The suits bear English lettering. They were found near the point where the first one was picked up Wednesday on Langeland, situated off the Danish mainland about 350 miles west of the Latvian territory where Russia said her fighters exchanged fire with a U.S. plane April 8.

Police said a small book which appeared to contain a list of names in English also was picked up on the beaches.

The biggest item in the collection of scattered clues is part of a plane's landing gear, picked up by a Swedish fishing vessel in the east Baltic near the coast of Soviet-held Lithuania.

Doctor Pleads Guilty To Abortion Charge

WATERLOO (AP) - Dr. Gabriel B. Lichty, 46, Waterloo, decided not to stand trial and pleaded guilty Thursday to a charge of attempted abortion.

District Judge E. T. Evans sentenced the doctor to five years in Fort Madison penitentiary and fined him $100, but Lichty was released on $5,000 bond pending an appeal to the governor.

Charges were filed against Lichty involving a young Minneapolis woman.

Lattimore Called An Anti-Red; McCarthy Opens New Charge

WASHINGTON - Earl Browder testified Thursday that he knows of no Communists in the state department, and a short time later Sen. Joseph McCarthy launched a bitter attack on the department and the investigating committee.

Browder, ousted chief of the Communist party in America, called Owen Lattimore, McCarthy's chief target, an anti-Communist in contradiction to testimony of Louis Budenz, former Red party editor.

Bridge Improvements On Burlington Street Urged by Professor

Prof. Ned L. Ashton of the SUI college of engineering has recommended the Iowa City council immediately undertake the planning and construction of all or a part of the proposed overhauling of the Burlington street bridge.

Ashton, in a letter to the council, said the project could be started under some agreement with the state "whereby the city will be reimbursed for its expenditures" when the state can include the work in its regular budget.

Last March, city officials began working with Ashton on the project, which would widen the bridge to 48 feet, provide four lanes for traffic and overhaul the Riverside drive intersection.

Federal government officials last summer told Mayor Preston Koser the national government would handle 50 percent of the projects' cost as soon as the state highway commission is ready to begin work. The commission has said the work could not begin this year.

If the city does begin planning and construction, it should submit its plans to the commission for approval before any actual work takes place, Ashton said.

As an alternative to his recommendation, Ashton suggested the city undertake the construction of only the most essential parts of the project, such as widening the intersection, and leave the rest for the state when it takes over.

'Mother of 1950' Title Goes to Oregon Indian NEW YORK (AP) - An American Indian was named the American Mother of 1950 Thursday.

The American Mother's committee awarded the title to Mrs. Henry Roe Cloud of West Linn, Ore. The 59-year-old mother of four daughters was born on the White Earth Indian reservation in northern Minnesota.

Her mother was a Chippewa Indian and her father a German homesteader.

Mrs. Cloud is the widow of Henry Roe Cloud, a full-blooded Winnebago Indian, the first Indian ever graduated from Yale university.

Attacks Newspaper

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. McCarthy Thursday called the Madison, Wis., Capital Times, published by William Evjue, a "poisoned waterhole of dangerous Communist propaganda."

In a senate speech McCarthy savagely attacked the Times and its city editor, Cedric Parker, whom he accused of being a Communist. He pledged to waive congressional immunity so Evjue could sue in court.

McCarthy, however, did not call Evjue a Communist, saying he could produce no documents to back up such a charge.

On the Hatfields and Coys —

Herbert Hoover, just lately coming into popular acceptance after his malignment as President, struck a pose as the "Voice of World Experience." Thursday night in a speech before the American Newspaper Publishers association meeting.

Hoover has been a world leader during two world wars and their aftermaths. He seems qualified to speak as the voice of experience.

The most notable suggestion Hoover made concerned the United Nations. He advocated scrapping the present organization and setting up a new one with the Communist countries excluded.

However, instead of drawing lines against countries that preach communism, the former President suggested that lines be drawn on a moral and spiritual basis.

"It (the proposed reorganization of the United Nations) is a proposal to redeem the concept of the United Nations to the high purpose for which it was created," Hoover said.

This suggestion seems to be in contradition to the "high purpose" of the United Nations.

One goal of the UN was to blend the nations of the world into a cohesive family dedicated to the prevention of war. In this way, the founders of the UN reasoned, the "family" would be able to iron out squabbles without resorting to war.

However, if Hoover's suggestion were carried out, we would no longer have one family. We would have two hostile camps ready to fight at the drop of a hat.

As soon as somebody starts drawing lines, passive parties are almost forced into choosing up sides and then the trouble starts.

If, as Hoover asserted, the United States is steadily losing ground to Russia in the cold war, our best bet would be to renew our efforts to woo other countries to our side.

We feel that "peace for all time" lies with one family, even though the family may have its fights. When we get two separate families the trouble can be expected to start.

Dangerous Trend for Europe —

Recent dust storms in the mid-west have been causing some concern in Washington and in Europe for a very obvious reason.

Huge food supplies will be needed in western Europe after the Marshall plan ends in 1952 and a serious crop failure this year could result in a drastic European food shortage and might even reverse the gains made there against communism.

The U.S. department of agriculture has estimated that at least 120-million bushels of grain already have been lost this year in the dust bowls. That amount is not serious, but the trend is dangerous, for in many sections of the midwest, adverse weather has caused delays in planting and has given the growing season a shaky start.

The ECA recently predicted that "food import requirements for western Europe will continue at a high rate after 1952 despite steady restoration of Europe's agriculture."

The agency said, "Should there be serious crop failures in Europe present possibility—economic gains in Europe not only can be halted, but reversed."

All this indicates that this year, more than ever, U.S. agricultural sections will be under pressure to rack up production records.

Anti-Rearmament . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

The question of Germany's rearmament has been in the limelight lately and as I happen to be a German I undoubtedly have quite a different outlook on the whole situation from the average American.

In all its decisions, the west does not seem to consider the question whether a German public could be won to fight against Russia, whether the German man is willing to be "rearmed."

My answer is No.

There are four reasons for it:

- 1 — After seven years of war and three years of inflation, the average German, the man of the street, who would be the man in the trenches, is war-tired. He would, for a change, like to live in peace again, build up his battered home and get back some kind of economic security.

- 2 — The military strength of the western European continent is, at the present time such that it could not hold out longer than two months against Stalin's armies. If, therefore, in a war, Germany should fight against Russia the battle on German soil would only last about a week. For this completely wasted effort Germany would have to smart for years under the Russian dictatorship with our men deported to Siberia and our industries taken over as punishment. Though the prospects are not too bright even if Russia should move into a neutral western Germany the condition will nevertheless not be as bad as if we would be treated as direct enemies.

- 3 — The rearmament of western Germany would be a wonderful opportunity for propagandistic exploitation of the east. And without the shadow of a doubt it would force all Germans living under their control in the Soviet sector of Germany into the Russian army. There would be Germans fighting against Germans and a civil war is exactly what every thinking German tries hard to avoid.

4 — After hearing for five years that Germany should be rearmed for "the world's welfare" it is not hard to see why the sudden change in western politics is at least regarded with some skepticism in western Germany. Idealism for a cause, which is only indirectly their own, can hardly be expected of the Germans.

So western Germany, in my opinion, has no desire to enter a war against Russia though its sentiments lie definitely with the west, because it has not the ghost of a chance to win it. However, the war might eventually end for the United States.

Palestine Policy . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

The Arabs feel it is a waste of time and energy to write about Palestine in this country, because unfortunately, the American press parrots the Zionist propaganda, while even the official statements of the Arabs are buried under the smallest possible headline or even ignored. However, I'll explain some facts regarding an article written by Miss Sophie Weiner and printed in "Letters to the Editor" on April 27.

Miss Weiner had enough nerve to deny that the United States was instrumental in the success of the Zionists in Israel. She forgot the large number of airplanes and war materials that were transported from the United States, during the Palestine war, even by violating the so-called UN truce.

She forgot the funds collected in New York and Hollywood to help the Zionists in their aggressive war. As a matter of fact, one colonel (the late Col. David Marcus, former commissioner of New York City) who was killed while leading Zionists forces in Palestine was a U.S. citizen. How many U.S. citizens were fighting then with the Zionists?

I assure you Miss Weiner, that if it had not been for the help of the U.S., the so-called State of Israel would not exist today.

The U.S. policy toward Palestine was simply joining with the Soviet Union in a race to gain the favor of the Zionists. Soviet Russia knows better than any other country that the Arabs are the last people on earth to accept communism. It is against their traditions and way of life.

Communism failed to be a problem of any significance in the middle east and this is why Russia is helping the so-called State of Israel. It will be, if it continues to exist, an open door for communism in the middle east.

If the U.S. wishes to continue its policy toward the Arabs, in the way it began, it will expose to danger the interests of the U.S. in the middle east. It is simply the politicians who are doing this. Even the people of the U.S. are not on their side; the great majority live in New York, but go into the interior and you'll find many people against the politicians. All because of the elections, these politicians, under the pressure of Jewish groups in New York City, are exposing to danger the friendship of 40-million Arabs.

To answer Miss Weiner's question about what friendship to lose, I would like to refer her to a book, "Palestine Is Our Business," written by a professor at the University of Yale, indicating the risks of losing Arab friendship. They might not be a real force at present, but they will be in the near future.

Questions Petitioners . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

Last evening a gentleman representing himself as spokesman for "some of the residents around here" called at our home in Manville Heights seeking our signatures on a petition the announced purpose of which was to block the erection of an apartment house in the neighborhood. We requested him to summarize the relevant pros and cons. The burden of his reply was that the value of certain properties in the immediate proximity of such an apartment would decline. We then inquired whether it is not true that many Iowa Citizens are in serious need of adequate housing. To this he smilingly demurred, assured us that we "need not sign the petition," made a remark on the weather and left.

We have a simple question to ask of this gentleman and those he represents: "Would you not find it difficult to imagine Jesus making such a request under similar circumstances?"

Russian Moves Upset Appropriations; Plans

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It happens every time. Just when congress is considering military appropriations or other projects having to do with foreign affairs, Russia applies the buzzer and opposition to the measure fades.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, asking for 1951 appropriations which the house committee has now boosted to more than $14-billion, said the defense program had been reevaluated because Russia produced the atom bomb earlier than expected.

Then, to clinch things, Russia has come along with a series of moves to create a crisis in the cold war. Renewed obstructionism in the United Nations. Shooting at an American plane. Putting the pressure on Iran and Turkey. Sponsoring a new crisis in Berlin. Pushing her "takeover" in Asia. And a lot of other things.

She has caused a revival of war fears. Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) of the house armed services

Demo Leader Says GOP Using 'Scares'

MILWAUKEE — Atty. Gen. Thomas Fairchild said Thursday night that the Republicans are basing their campaign on "scares and slogans."

Fairchild, candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination, told Milwaukee Democrats that the GOP is founding its hopes on the type of "cares" generated by Sen. Joseph McCarthy and "ridiculous slogans."

"Our party has come up with a realistic program to meet the very real problems our country faces at home and abroad," he said. "We do not contend that it is a perfect program, but it is positive and forward-looking."

"The Republicans, on the other hand, seem to be basing their hopes for November on scares, such as the one generated by Sen. Joseph McCarthy and on ridiculous slogans, such as the 'Liberty versus Socialism' masterpiece of National Chairman Guy Gabrielson."

But the Republicans' strategy won't work, Fairchild said.

"They should know from bitter experience that the American people don't scare easily — neither do they fall for epithets and false slogans."

"It would be a healthy thing for our party and the whole country if the Republicans produced some constructive issues and decided to be for something, rather than merely against the Democratic program."

The marriage was scheduled to take place later in the day at the Grant Park Church of Christ here.

"We just became tired of living alone, now that both our families are married and away," May told Clerk Michael Doyle.

"We have known each other for years, you see, my first wife and Mr. Boese were sister and brother," May related, "thus the children of the two families are cousins."

Richard E. Boese, a son, who was a witness for the marriage license, said his father died four years ago while his aunt died 12 years ago.

Religious Foundation Awards Student $1,500

Elizabeth McQuade, A4, Iowa Falls, has been awarded a Danforth foundation gift of $1,500 and a year's residence at a college or university somewhere in the United States.

Prof. M. Willard Lampe, head of the SUI school of religion, and Danforth sponsor on the SUI campus, said the St. Louis foundation is designed to foster practical experience in self-dedicated Christian service.

"The purpose of the award is to give a graduating senior a chance to meet religious workers, students and teachers, who are working toward building a better world through a vital faith in God," Lampe said.

Free from Prejudice
"Miss McQuade has been winning honors ever since her high school days and I am happy that this new and well-deserved honor has come to her," he said.

To receive a Danforth award, the student must be an active member of a Christian church, free from prejudice toward minorities whether racial, political or economic, and must be of unquestioned intellectual and moral integrity.

Only 15 students in the entire country are chosen for this award, Lampe said. After consulting with the leading Protestant religious leaders in Iowa City, Miss McQuade was picked for our nomination.

High Credentials
Prof. Marcus Bach, assistant head of the SUI school of religion, said:

"Miss McQuade has met the requirements and we of the school of religion, who have long been aware of her high credentials, join her classmates and friends in wishing her great success and the very best of good luck during her Danforth year."

The Danforth foundation has made a distinctive contribution to inter-religious relations and Miss McQuade represents the high calibre type of student which makes this work so effective across the campuses of American schools.

Most Wonderful Moment
When Miss McQuade was asked how she felt about winning the award, she said, "This is the most wonderful moment of my life."

She hopes to be able to live up to the expectations of the award. Miss McQuade has been employed as a part-time secretary in the SUI school of religion for a number of months. She has been active in both campus and religious activities.

She held the office of secretary of the SUI Student Christian council during the 1949-50 school year, and is still an active council member.

In 1948, she was committee chairman for SUI's "Religion in Life" week. In 1949, Miss McQuade was general chairman for the week, and in 1950, she served on the committee as a member. She is also active in YWCA work and a member of Delta Delta Delta, social sorority. She is majoring in economics.

Med College Adds Two Iowa Citizens To 'Accepted' List

Martha Adrian, A4, and Philip McLaughlin, L1, both of Iowa City, are among 18 additional persons selected to complete the 1950-51 freshmen class in the SUI college of medicine, SUI officials said Thursday.

Miss Adrian has attended SUI since 1946, and McLaughlin received his B.A. degree here in 1949.

The admissions committee of the SUI college of medicine will accept 120 students for the fall enrollment, an increase of 30 over the number previously admitted.

Classrooms have been enlarged and laboratories are being expanded to accommodate the increased number of students.

Admission to the college of medicine is based on a thorough investigation of the prospective student's background, personal interviews by two staff members, grades received in college work and individual results of national medical college admission tests.

In addition to the 120 applicants admitted, 20 alternates will be selected to fill vacancies that may occur before the fall semester starts.

Plane Brings Profs To SUI Conference

Iowa City probably witnessed a preview of the "college of tomorrow" Thursday.

Three Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college professors arrived here in their school plane for a short conference with SUI engineering faculty members.

The men said that Oklahoma A & M has three four - place planes for use by school officials and faculty members on official business trips.

They will return to Stillwater, Okla., Friday afternoon.

M. R. Lohmann, vice - dean of Oklahoma A & M and two other faculty members were in the group.

The men conferred with Dean F. M. Dawson and Prof. J. W. Deegan, both of the SUI college of engineering, on the summer management course to be offered here next summer. Deegan will be in charge of the summer course.

Campus Gets in Trim for Spring

(Daily Iowan Photo)

DESPITE THURSDAY'S COLD WEATHER, a physical plant employe started mowing the lawn in front of Macbride hall. Grass cutting on the SUI campus started about two weeks later than usual but cold weather still plagued the machine operators. About seven power mowers and 20 hand-mowers will be used to clip the grass. It is a continuous task to cut the more than 30 acres of grass on the SUI campus. College students may receive part time jobs about May 1 pushing lawn-mowers and doing other out-of-door jobs for the physical plant. About 13 high school boys will be employed during the summer for cutting grass.

SUI Campus Given First Spring Haircut; Mow Jobs Available

Clipping of more than 30 acres of SUI campus lawns began this week and will continue until late in September by physical plant employes.

Joe Crumley, foreman of general campus maintenance, said the mowing of the grass started about two weeks later than the usual time.

The SUI physical plant uses seven power - mowers, 20 handmowers and numerous cycles and scythes for cutting the grass.

Three of the machines are tractor - powered while the other four are self-powered.

When the high schools are dismissed for summer vacation, most of the power - mowers are taken off to give boys work pushing hand mowers.

About 10 high school boys, making 65 cents an hour, push the hand-mowers over the campus.

When they return to high school in the fall, more power - mowers are used again.

Robert Ballantyne, manager of the SUI student aid and placement bureau, said about 20 grass cutting and other out-of-door jobs will be available for college men half-days a week and will be paid after Monday. They will work at least three half-days a week and will be paid 70 cents an hour.

Moon 'Only Coach' Interviewed So Far

Just Rumors, Says Brechler

Rumors were persistent in Iowa City Thursday that Paul Moon, successful Davenport high school basketball coach, will be the next Iowa cage coach.

From Paul Brechler, Iowa athletic director, came the word that there is no basis for the rumors, although he did admit that Moon has been the only candidate interviewed for the job so far.

Nothing Done
Brechler said almost nothing has been done yet to pick a successor to Lawrence (Pops) Harrison, since the university's athletic board has been unable to meet.

The new coach won't be named before next week, at the earliest, Brechler said.

Harrison was fired recently from the job he had held for eight years because the athletic board said he failed to conform to athletic department policies and to perform certain duties.

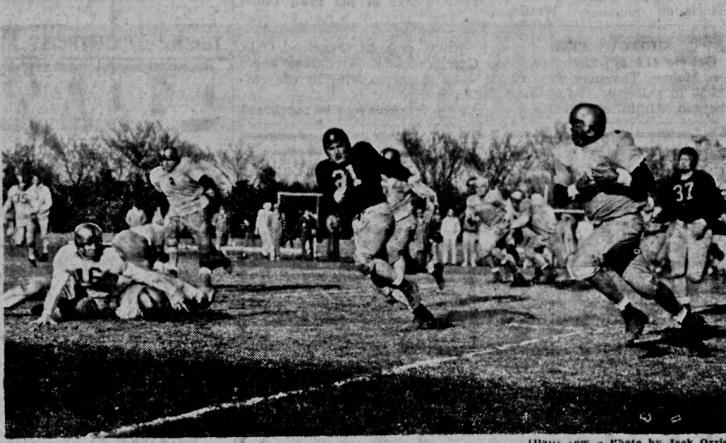

Moon became a candidate for the Iowa post as soon as Harrison's dismissal was announced. He and Bucky O'Connor, Iowa freshman basketball coach who guided the Hawkeye varsity this year while Harrison recovered from an operation, seem to be the front-runners.

The rumor sources, who have been surprisingly accurate in predicting Iowa's coaching switches, insist that Moon has the inside track. There's no question about it, they say.

A Davenport source quoted Mrs. Moon as saying that it looked like her husband would get a "promotion" and would be leaving Davenport.

Moon Interviewed
"So far Moon is the only coach we have interviewed," Brechler said Thursday. "He was in Iowa City to see us about the job. But there is no basis for the rumors that he will get the job. We just don't know yet." Brechler said several prominent midwestern college coaches have applied for the job since Iowa "is a good basketball state." He said the athletic board must decide how much consideration will be given to O'Connor before other coaches are interviewed.

Brechler also said that many high school coaches have applied, but Moon is the most widely known. In 22 years at Davenport Moon's teams won five state titles, including the 1950 crown.

Hawks Meet Purdue Today

Iowa's baseball team, now in a six-way tie for second place in the Big Ten pennant race, takes on Purdue today and Saturday in a two-game home series.

The Hawkeyes broke even with Illinois and Indiana in their first four conference encounters and a sweep of the Purdue series is almost a necessity for the Iowans if they are to remain in contention for the title.

Weather Bad
The weather, which has been a game-spoiler all spring, promises to cooperate today with 50-degree temperatures forecast. The diamond, muddy early this week after more than two inches of rain, is now thoroughly dried out. Today's game is set for 3:30 p.m. and the Saturday contest for 2 p.m.

Pitchers for today probably will be Dick Hoeksema for Iowa and Mel Henson for Purdue. Iowa collected 13 hits off Henson in a 6-1 win last season, while in the second 1949 game Purdue rapped Hoeksema for eight hits in a 6-3 victory.

Saturday's probable starters are Bob Whitmer for Purdue and Glenn Drahn for the Hawkeyes. Drahn pitched six-hit ball to beat Indiana, 6-1, last Saturday.

The Iowa series will be the first conference play this season for the Boilermakers. Their non-conference record stands at four wins and five losses. Last weekend Michigan State took two from Purdue, 8-5 and 9-3, blasting out 20 hits.

Purdue a Threat
Despite its mediocre showing, Purdue is a potentially dangerous team. The Boilermakers have six members of the 1949 squad which was leading the league until it lost its last two games to Ohio State, giving the joint title to Iowa, Indiana and Michigan.

Hooper's Relief Job Saves A's Win, 4-3
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Brilliant relief pitching by Bob Hooper helped the Philadelphia Athletics end a three game losing streak with a 4-3 victory over Washington Thursday night. Hooper hurled six hit ball over the last eight rounds in relief of starter Hank Wyse.

The series standings of the two teams now stand at six for Iowa, four for Purdue.

NCAA Queries Colleges On Television's 'Impact'
CHICAGO (AP)—Envisioning television as a menace "to the whole economic structure of athletics," a special NCAA committee Thursday circulated a video questionnaire among 390 colleges asking some "intimate" financial questions on football.

The questionnaire was authored by a committee on television. The group had been appointed to study the "impact" of television on college sports and report its findings to the 1951 NCAA convention at Dallas, Tex., next January.

5 Individual Champs To Defend Crowns In 41st Drake Relays

(Special to The Daily Iowan)

DES MOINES — No less than five 1949 Drake relays individual champions have returned this year to defend their crowns in the 41st running of the two-day classic that gets underway here today.

Probably the top member of this contingent is Denver's Jerome Bifle, a classy triple - threat. Bifle leaped 25 feet last Saturday to win the broad jump at Kansas. He also placed fourth in the 100 at Kansas.

Parker in 100
Speedy Paul Bienz of Tulane will attempt to make it two in a row in the 100. His chief competition is in the form of the Texas whirlwind, Charlie Parker.

The Longhorn's sprinter has failed three straight times here but is determined to change his luck this year. Parker has beaten Bienz twice this season — at the Kansas and Texas relays.

Also returning this year for the 100 is Indiana's Charlie Peters who won the 1948 blue ribbon. He competed at Penn in 1949.

One of the top duals of the meet is expected to be between Byrl Thompson of Minnesota and Chuck Fonville of Michigan. The giant Gopher already owns two Drake discus championships and is out for his third. Fonville's speciality is the shot put but he could give Thompson plenty of trouble in the discus.

Cooper, Laz Duel
Illinois' Don Laz and Minnesota's Harry Cooper, two of the three co-champions in the pole vault, are both back for another try. The third member of this trio, Tom Bennett of Wisconsin, has graduated. Cooper and Laz have each cleared nearly 15 feet.

Texas A & M's two-mile run champion, J. D. Hampton, is set to give the long grind another try. Chances of his succeeding, however, are slim due to a Michigan entrant, Don McEwen.

Reds 20, Whites 7 in Spring Football

Iowa's Hawkeyes went through their second game-like football scrimmage of spring practice Thursday afternoon, giving Coach Len Raffensperger and his staff a chance to see what their prospects for next fall's rugged schedule can do under game conditions.

The game conditions were complete, right down to a freezing wind and 40 degree temperature. It felt more like November than April to the 300 or so persons who stood around and watched all or part of the hour and a half workout. Even the players had trouble keeping their hands warm.

The troublesome breeze put a crimp in the passing and kicking, when the offensive team happened to be going against the wind. Only one pass of any length clicked, and although completed, Jim Sangster to End Jerry Long, the pass was not allowed when Long was declared out of the end zone when he caught the ball.

If Sangster's pass, which was originally supposed to go to another receiver, had been good for a touchdown the Whites would have gone in front, 13-7. As it was the Reds scored twice more to win, 20-7.

The highlights of the afternoon, offensively, were long runs by Bob Bostwick and Don Commack, both halfbacks, and both plenty fast halfbacks. Bostwick, a junior from Washington, scooted 63 yards down the right sidelines before being caught about 15 yards short of the goal line.

Commack, a regular on last year's Iowa team that won four and lost five, broke through the right side of the line and ran 72 yards before Bostwick caught up with the flying junior from Waterloo. Commack had switched directions when he was about to be downed by two or three defenders and Bostwick was on him.

The Reds scored first when Chug Wilson went on Mike Riley's favorite play, the end sweep, for 20 yards and a touchdown. Big Mike had set up the tally by taking the ball on the first two plays of the scrimmage for 40 yards.

Jerry Nordman, a varsity fullback, scored the Whites' only touchdown, on a 15 yard run. He was helped by yardage gained by Bill Reichardt, switched to a halfback this spring from his regular fullback berth, and Halfback Jerry Faske, Iowa's leading ground gainer last season.

Frank Barile, a freshman from Newton, added the extra point from placement. Like Commack, who converted two out of three for the Reds, Barile was an extra point kicker in high school. Reichardt, Iowa's regular kicker, did not try a placement but did get off a 79 yard punt during the scrimmage.

Commack's third try was blocked by Jerry Long, although the Hawkeye regular looked to have jumped the gun when the play started. Raffensperger was pleased with the way Long hurried himself in front of the kicker and blocked the ball with his chest.

Riley scored the Reds' final touchdown, on a 10 yard push around the end. Riley hit at least six defenders on the way, and seemed to be almost downed more than once but he kept charging, ending up with a flourish that sent the last defensive man spinning to the ground.

The day was not without its laughs. Backfield Coach Bernie Masterson furnished the first, mostly for the players, when he searched the sidelines asking for Bostwick to get into the lineup. He was finally located—in the lineup.

Masterson was in on the second, too, when Fred Ruck, piloting one of the teams, had a punt blocked. Ruck held up on his kick at the last moment when he saw it was going to be blocked, then didn't have an answer when Masterson laughed and asked the quarterback just which side he was playing for.

The starting backfields were composed of Sangster (White) and Ruck at the quarterback. Faske and Reichardt halfbacked the Whites, Riley and Commack the Reds. Nordman and Wilson were the opposing fullbacks, respectively. Bert Britzmann, a freshman, saw plenty of action as a safety man for the Whites.

Right End B.B. Hof and Center Joe Paulsen made their presence felt among the opposing linemen. Missing from the workout was big Hubert Johnston. The 1949 regular tackle is nursing an infection in his right hand.

Rumor has it that Rudy Bukich, the transfer quarterback from St. Louis university, is now enrolled at Southern California. He left school shortly after Eastern vacation. In the early indoor workouts he had appeared to be a good prospect.

A final game-condition scrimmage is planned for next Friday, which will probably wind up the spring football drills.

Cards End Pirate Streak, 5-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Four singles in the fifth inning Thursday night gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 5-2 victory and stopped the Pittsburgh Pirates five-game winning streak. A total of 34,995 fans watched the Bucs' first home night game of the season.

The game cost the Cards the services of their star outfielder, Stan Musial, for at least a day or two. Musial took a tumble rounding first in the eighth inning and sprained his knee.

George Munger went all the way for the Cardinals, spacing out six hits, Murry Dickson, an ex-Cardinal who defeated the Redbirds in the second game of the season last week in St. Louis, started for the Pirates and went five innings; before being relieved by Vic Lombardi.

SKY SOX THINNED

Red Sox 'Walk' Away from New York, 7-2

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Red Sox "walked" over erratic Tommy Byrne and the world champion New York Yankees, 7-2, Thursday, winning mainly on a fat fifth inning when they scored five runs with the aid of only one hit.

Byrne was hooked up in a 1-1 duel with veteran Ellis Kinder going into the fifth when he went haywire. The big lefthander walked four, committed a wild pitch, balked home a run and then granted a two-run single to Tom Wright, Ted Williams' replacement in left field. Tom O'Brien flied out to end the Yankee nightmare. Errors by Yogi Berra and Joe Collins also figured in the uprising.

Kinder did not exactly cake walk into his first victory of the season. He yielded eight hits and walked seven but when the chips

Koslo Walks Winning Boston Run Across

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Braves defeated the New York Giants, 2-1, in the 10th inning Thursday when Pitcher Dave Koslo walked Willard Marshall with the bases full and one out to force home the winning run.

Warren Spahn, the Braves' ace southpaw, went all the way to hang up his third straight victory before 5,780 chilled customers. He held the Giants to six hits.

For seven innings Spahn was locked in a scoreless tie with Monte Kennedy, the New York left hander who was making his first start of the season. But Wes Westrum's lead off triple followed by Pinch Hitter Jack McGuire's long fly to right put the Giants ahead, 1-0.

The Braves came back to tie the score. Then, in the 10th, Boston loaded the bases and Koslo threw four straight balls to Marshall.

Bantam Champion Suspended by NBA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manuel Ortiz, world's bantamweight champion, was suspended Thursday by the National Boxing Association.

The NBA said the suspension would be in effect until the El Centro, Calif., boxer fulfills a contract to fight for Promoter Jack Solomons of London.

The NBA took the action, National Commissioner Abe J. Greene said, at the request of the British Board of Boxing Control.

The British board claims that Ortiz had agreed by cablegram to defend his title in London against Danny O'Sullivan.

Instead Ortiz decided to fight Vic Towel in Johannesburg, South Africa on May 20 and left New York by plane Thursday.

Penn Relays Today, No Midwest Entries

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ten of last year's major event winners will be on hand today when more than 3,000 athletes from 500 schools and colleges start coveting around Franklin field in the 56th Pennsylvania relay carnival.

For the first time in years there will be no large school from the middle west in the two-day competition.

Five of the eight victorious championship relay quartets will be back, with New York university favored to repeat in the sprint medley and North Carolina the choice to make it two straight in the 480-yard shuttle baton event.

Individual winners of 1949 listed to toe the marks are, Charlie Moore, Cornell, 400-meter hurdles; Jim Gehrdes, Penn State, 120 yard high hurdles; Robert Kirk, North Carolina, javelin; Richard Phillips, Brown, high jump, and Martin Korik, Tennessee, pole vault.

A feature of the last day will be the Benjamin Franklin invitation mile — a new event that will be an annual fixture of the relays.

The two medley relays and the quarter-mile team event are down for decision today along with the 400-meter and 120-yard hurdles, two miles run, shot put and discus throw.

Juniors Take Tests in Stride As Comm Skills Exams Begin

Examinations in reading, writing and speaking for about 1,200 liberal arts students with between 56 and 90 semester hours of credit started Thursday and proceeded with only minor hitches. SUI examinations service Director Robert L. Ebel said Thursday. "Cooperation has been excellent," Ebel said. "No case has been called to my attention of a student declining to take the test."

To Finish Saturday
A few students missed tests Thursday because of schedule difficulties, but make up tests have been arranged for them, he said. The tests are expected to be finished Saturday as originally planned, he added.
The tests were planned to determine the ability of students to communicate, and to help establish levels of exemption from communication skills courses for future students entering SUI, according to Liberal Arts Dean Dewey B. Stuit.

Refresher Courses
Where tests indicate a lack of ability in any or all of the three fields, refresher courses will be offered by the communication skills department starting next fall, Stuit said.
The refresher courses will not be mandatory, regardless of student's score, the dean said.

SUI Basketball Star Frank Calsbeck, A3, Hull, who took a writing test Thursday said, "I think the tests are a good idea, and while I think I'm passing, I certainly would take the refresher course if I didn't pass."

Objective Tests
The writing test was administered by the examinations service, but will be graded by the communication skills department. Instructions called for an explanatory theme of not less than 450 words.

The reading tests were being administered and graded by the examinations service. The tests are

Look for Opportunity Instead of Security, Says SUI Graduate

Look for opportunity in business rather than security, Floyd A. Poetzing, Chicago sales consultant and SUI graduate, told more than 250 students at a session of the SUI business careers conference Thursday.

"Set yourself a goal and work for it," Poetzing said. "This does not mean taking a job that will offer the most immediate pay, necessarily, but the one that will let you realize your capabilities."

33 Speakers
SUI's fifth annual business conference, sponsored by the collegiate chamber of commerce, closed Thursday afternoon after two days of informal talks by 33 leaders of business and industry.

More than 1,700 students and faculty members attended the sessions held in Old Capitol and University hall.

"The conference was successful from the standpoint of gaining information from a reality point of view," Dan Hoffa, C4, Nevada, president of the collegiate chamber, said.

Jobs Available
"The speakers were neither discouraging in their presentation of job opportunities, nor were they overly optimistic," Hoffa said, "but they made the point that jobs are available in all fields for qualified persons and for those who are willing to start at the bottom and work up."

Poetzing, who spoke on selling during Thursday's sessions, is a member of the sales consultant firm of Poetzing, Diechert and Kelly, consultants to national firms.

He graduated from SUI in 1929. While a student here, he wrote the Gamma Phi international social sorority's sweetheart song, "My Gamma Phi Sweetheart."

Faculty, Graduates To Attend Meeting
Four members of SUI's Theta chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, national honor society for women in education, will attend the regional conference of the society at Washington university in St. Louis Saturday.

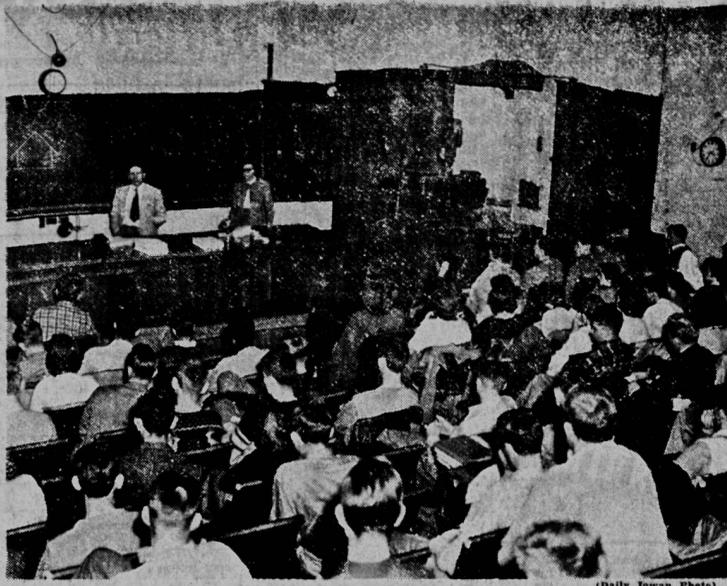

They are Chapter President Madeline Cuthbertson of the University high school faculty; Margaret Brennan, of Sioux City; Esther McKune, G, Binghamton, N.Y., and Prof. Margaret Lee Keyser, college of education.

The conference program will consist of professional lectures and group discussions of problems in education.

Local Woman Selected Church Meet Delegate
Mrs. L. R. Taylor, 1118 E. College street, has been elected a delegate to the national meeting of the Presbyterian Women to be held June 13 to 19 at Ocean Grove, N.J.

Mrs. Taylor will represent the Iowa City Presbyterian society at the national meeting. Over 2,000 women are expected to attend the meeting, including some from every state in the union.

Juniors Take Communication Skills Tests

EXPLAINING THE DETAILS OF THE WRITING TEST, J. F. Rummel and Mrs. Norma Fischer, both of SUI examination service, told a group of SUI juniors they had an hour and 45 minutes to write a 450-word explanatory theme on one of six topics. The test was part of a communication skills examination being given to all SUI liberal arts students who have more than 56 semester hours, but less than 90. Jeannine Walsh, A3, Albia, one of this group, said she thought the tests were a good idea, that she thought she would pass, but didn't know if she would take the refresher course if she didn't pass. Vincent R. Bacino, A3, Mt. Pleasant, also one of this group, agreed the tests were a good idea, but doubted they would prove "the point" because "the quality of my writing depends on my mood."

completely objective, Ebel said. The speaking tests are being administered and graded by Prof. Orville Hitchcock, speech department, and members of his staff.

Takes Two Tests
Ebel said one student reported that he expected to pass the test he was taking Thursday, but thought he was weak in another area and wanted to take the test in that field. The student was not scheduled to take the test he requested.

Also taking a writing test Thursday was Harriette Batipps, A2, Media, Pa., a technical assistant in the Spanish department, who transferred to SUI last fall. She said, "I think the tests are not necessary for me, because I took them last fall. I expect no difficulties."

ROTC Camps Set For 61 SUI Students

Summer camp locations for 61 SUI students enrolled in the medical and dental branches of the SUI ROTC unit were announced Thursday.

Military department officials said the men would be sent to four different sites for six weeks of training.

About 20 medical students and two dental students will be sent to the Medical Field Service school, San Antonio.

At Fitzsimmons General hospital, Denver, 17 medical students will study clinical clerkship.

Sixteen dental students will study clinical clerkship at Letterman General hospital, San Francisco.

Clinical clerkship will also be given at Madigan General hospital, Fort Lewis, Wash., for six SUI dental students in the ROTC program.

SUI Professors To Attend Meet

Dean R.A. Kuever, head of the college of pharmacy, and Prof. Louis C. Zopf, head of the SUI drug service, will attend three east coast pharmacy conventions in the next two weeks.

They will attend the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy convention Sunday through Tuesday at Atlantic City, N.J. Zopf is secretary of the association.

The second convention, also in Atlantic City, will be held Tuesday through May 6, Kuever said.

The final meetings, held May 8 through May 10, will be those of the 14th Decennial Convention of the U.S. Pharmacopeia committee in Washington, D.C. Kuever is a delegate to all the conventions.

Two Clubs to Sponsor 'China Night' Tonight

The SUI International club and the Chinese Student club will sponsor the program, "China Night," today at 8 p.m. in the First Congregational church, 30 N. Clinton street.

Members of the Chinese Student club will present the entire program. All SUI students are invited to attend, Pres. Kuo Chung Chen, G, Shanghai, China, said.

New and old Chinese fashions will be shown at a style show. Models will be Florence Fong, G, Shanghai; Pauline Wong Lin, G, Shanghai; Siao - Fen Chen Yu, G, Canton; and Lucia Ya - Ming Yu, G, Peiping.

Miss Kitchell will take part Thursday in a discussion on "How to Secure Continuity in Nursing Services."

Young Demos Seek End of Race Query

SUI's Young Democrats passed a resolution Thursday night to ask university officials to take necessary steps toward the eradication of questions on race, color and religion from the application blanks sent to prospective SUI students.

The resolution, a non-partisan measure, was passed earlier by SUI Young Progressives and the campus YMCA.

The Young Democrats also completed plans for "Democratic Political Day," here May 9. Pres. Mary A. McMahon, A3, Manning, said Jake More, state Democratic chairman of the central committee, has indicated students from other colleges in the state will attend the one-day political activities.

Rep. Richard W. Bolling, (D-Mo), will be the "Political Day," speaker, she said.

Democratic "Political Day" activities will be climaxed with a party dinner in Hotel Jefferson. Plans are being made to take care of 300 guests.

Demos Name County Convention Delegates

About three - fourths of the 156 committee men and women who will be delegates to the Johnson county Democratic convention which follows the June 6 primaries were selected at a Democratic caucus Thursday night.

County Chairman Atty. Edward W. Lucas said the remainder of the delegates would be selected within the next few days.

The 31 precincts in Johnson county, nine of them in Iowa City, are allowed the 156 delegates on the basis of one delegate for every 50 votes cast during the 1948 election. Iowa City was allotted 75 delegates.

Although the Brannan plan was the subject for discussion among the individual members attending, it was not a factor in choosing the committee members, several delegates said.

However, in an address to the group before the delegates were selected, Lucas referred to the Brannan plan as one of the key issues about which the senatorial primary campaign will turn.

A delegate who refused the use of his name because "this is a democratic meeting," said "we can't allow the senatorial race to be concerned with the Brannan plan alone."

Among delegates chosen were Atty. Clair E. Hamilton, County Atty. Jack C. White, Lucas, Dr. D. F. Fitzpatrick Iowa City health physician, and Francis Sueppel, city park commissioner.

Dr. "Flat-Top" asks: "What more Can I say?"

"If you wanted, I could bore you with the details of my pedigree . . . how my makers - the American Can Company - rigorously check me for hygiene from the time I start through the factory until Swanner's delicious milk is sealed inside my tough fiber sides. But let's sum it up this way:

"The sanitary quality of your Flat-top container is even higher than that required by the United States Public Health Service - America's final authority on sanitary purity.

"Let's go a step further, though . . .

"Let's talk about the part of dairy production that's really vital to you - the pure, sweet, fresh milk Swanner's brings to eastern Iowans. That's what your family is interested in . . . and you deserve the best.

"Voluntarily, Swanner's adopted for your protection the quality and sanitary standards of the United States Public Health Service. And, always, Swanner's healthful milk has topped even those standards. See for yourself. Drink Swanner's Home Town milk in Flat-top container or handy-square bottle."
