3 Democratic Aldermen Back Iowa City Re-Paving Proposal

Three Democratic city councilmen Thursday said they would support Alderman Charles T. Smith's project to have all local streets re-paved at a cost of about $100,000.

The project would not be assessed against property owners. Smith has proposed paying for it out of the city's street construction fund. About 50 percent of this fund could be bonded over a 10-year period to pay for the work.

Money from Gas Tax

The fund, which is expected to be about $30,000 this year, is made up of money the state collects from its tax on gasoline. The state turns part of this money over to Iowa cities in proportion to their populations.

Aldermen James M. Callahan, Frank Fryauf Jr., and Clark F. Mighell, councilmen who said Thursday they would support the project, were elected with Smith in March, 1949, on a Democratic platform that included re-surfacing all blacktop streets without cost to the property owner.

Smith announced Wednesday he would propose the project in place of former plans to repair the streets with a seal-coat of asphalt covered with sand at a cost of about $26,837.

Level Coat

Under the new plan, streets where the asphalt is not too bad would be covered with a "level coat" of asphalt about one inch thick.

Badly worn streets would be ripped up and resurfaced with a two-inch "mat coat" or mixture of rock, rock chips, sand and asphalt.

Truman 'Peace' Talk Baffles Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman stirred some bewilderment in capitol hill Thursday with his news conference statement that the outlook has improved in the cold war with Russia.

Mr. Truman said the situation is not nearly as bad as it was in the first half of 1946 and thinks it is improving.

He spoke out at a news conference against a reorganized United Nations with Russia excluded, as suggested by former President Hoover, and said the U.S. will continue to support the UN as long as he is President.

In most instances the UN is working well, he added. Legislators commented that apparently Mr. Truman did not see

Expect 17 Schools To Attend All-Iowa College Conference

About 65 representatives from 17 Iowa colleges and universities are expected to attend the second annual all-Iowa collegiate conference at SUI today and Saturday.

The group will register today at 10 a.m. and will meet for luncheon in the Iowa Union.

The conference, sponsored by the SUI student council, will open with addresses by Liberal Arts Dean Dewey B. Stuit, Student Council President Jack Whitesell, L. Davenport, and Conference Chairman Tom Olson, A2, Red Oak.

The conferees at 1:30 p.m. will separate into workshops for discussion of student government. The workshops will continue until 3 p.m., when the group will go back to the Iowa Union for a "coke hour."

The workshops will resume at 3:30 and continue until 5 p.m. Prof. Robert Ray, director of the SUI institute of public affairs, will address the group at a banquet at 6:15 p.m. in the River room of the Union. He will speak on the relationship of student government to later political activities.

Reds Say German POW'S Repatriated

FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP) — Russia announced Thursday night that repatriation of German war prisoners has been completed. The news chilled hundreds of thousands of Germans.

It killed the last hope of family after family that a missing father, husband or son might return from the war. The news came too late, almost midnight, for most Germans to learn of it immediately. Those who did were aghast.

The Germans generally had no idea repatriation was near an end. They thought hundreds of thousands of men who made Hitler's ill-fated drive to the east still were prisoners in Soviet territory.

eye to eye with his two highest military advisers, Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley, or with other defense chiefs who have made some emphatic remarks recently about the Soviet threat.

The President's statement particularly baffled congressmen working in a bipartisan effort to strengthen the nation's armed forces against a possible emergency.

It came shortly after a rather reluctant house armed services committee voted to extend the draft for two more years.

The committee acted after closed-door testimony Wednesday by Secretary Johnson, officials of the state department and the joint chiefs of staff. Bradley is chairman of the joint chiefs.

Summer Jobs Scarce Say Local Contractors

Student job openings on Iowa City's major construction projects will be limited this summer, according to local contractors.

Employers at the veterans hospital project, the new SUI library and the Hillcrest dormitory addition reported few potential job vacancies for students this summer, either for unskilled or skilled laborers.

Students who belong to the AFL laborers' union or other craft unions will have the best chance of obtaining summer work, they said. The major portion of construction hiring always is done through union channels, officials said.

Sprinkling of Jobs
Bob Spence, timekeeper with the Newburg Construction company, Des Moines, general contractor at the veterans hospital, said the total number of summer job opportunities cannot be determined, inasmuch as foremen demand additional help only as they need it. There is no standard hiring season, he said.

Spence added, however, that a few SUI students were employed by the company last summer and that a sprinkling of jobs should be open to them this summer. These jobs would be almost exclusively laboring, he said.

Wages for laborers now stand at $1.55 an hour according to a new basic wage scale contracted by the laborer's union last Saturday.

Openings Unpredictable
Officials of the Weitz company, contractors at the new SUI library, said that, while most employees are hired through the union, students have been known to obtain jobs, both as laborers and as skilled craftsmen, through applying in person.

B.K. Paulson, Weitz timekeeper, said manpower figures would fall off within two weeks, as the

Strikers' Wives Cheer Chrysler Settlement

WIVES ARE HAPPY, TOO, over Thursday's settlement of the Chrysler strike in Detroit. Strikers' spouses are pictured here working in the kitchens maintained by the UAW-CIO during the 100-day strike, which ended on notes of both bitterness and elation. Workers who return to work Monday, will get all they asked in the way of a $100 monthly pension, backed by a jointly administered trust fund. But Herman L. Weckler, Chrysler vice-president and general manager, said Thursday the strike need never have been called. "It is not a victory for anybody," he declared.

SUI Student Council To Discuss Omitting Race, Color Queries

The SUI student council Thursday night voted to call a special meeting May 11 to discuss the proposal by the YMCA racial equality committee to abolish information on race, creed and color from university applications.

The steering committee of the student council had originally planned the action for the next regularly scheduled meeting May 18. However, spokesmen for the committee on racial equality urged the council to act "as quickly as possible" on the issue.

The entire special meeting will be devoted to the problem of racial equality, according to Council President Jack Whitesell, L1, Davenport.

If the proposal is passed by the student council, the council will in turn recommend action on the proposal by President Virgil M. Hancher.

In other action of the council, Whitesell read a letter from the Associated Students of Alaska which offered a birch tree to SUI "as a token of friendship." The council voted to accept the offer and send ASA an "appropriate gift."

Grand Jurors Open May Session of District Court

The Johnson county grand jury began hearings on cases at 9 a.m. Thursday for the May term of district court.

The seven grand jurors were selected Monday. They will return indictments in cases which they find enough evidence to warrant district court trial.

The grand jury's duties also include inspection of the county jail and county home.

Polecats Invade — Gas Attack Gags Paris

PARIS, ONT. (AP) — An army of 300 skunks made an all-out attack on Paris Thursday, leaving hundreds of wounded human dignitaries in its wake.

The 5,000 residents of Paris were outraged at the unprovoked pungent assault. They organized a counter-offensive to wipe out the invaders, which indiscriminately victimized men, women and children from ambush under porches and in chicken coops.

Chickens were killed. Food was made inedible. Houses were unbearable. A skirmish between a group of girls and a family of skunks in the basement of the YWCA forced all residents to evacuate.

A bounty of 50 cents a head, dead or alive, was offered for every skunk presented to Paris Councillor Alan Clarkson, one of the worst hit victims of the invasion.

Clarkson was the target for a skunk which lay in wait outside his front door. Several other skunks contaminated his beehives. Cleaning firms had so much business they had to turn down many urgent pleas for deodorizing. Clarkson was one of those so affected.

He said he personally would dispose of any skunks brought in alive. He suggested, however, that traps be built for the pests and that he will give them a whiff of the exhaust from his automobile in retaliation for the whiffs they have been inflicting on the town.

FUND CUT DEFEATED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house tentatively approved a $622,134, 130 appropriation for the interior department Thursday after defeating an attempt to cut reclamation funds by $57,075,875.

Three SUI Students Suspended Until Fall After Fire 'Prank'

Three SUI students Thursday were suspended from the university for the rest of the academic year by Dean of Students Walter R. Goetsch after being found guilty of setting fire to the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house, 724 N. Dubuque street, as a "collective prank."

They were Donald J. Pyles, A1, St. Joseph, Mo., and Charles H. Reiderbecke, A1, Davenport, both members of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, and James P. Callahan, A2, Sioux Falls, S.D., a former pledge to the fraternity.

By the terms of the suspension, the three youths will be permitted to return to school in the fall term if they choose, Goetsch said.

The dean's decision followed Thursday morning conferences with Dean Dewey B. Stuit, college of liberal arts, Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger, liberal arts advisory office, M.L. Hult, men's counselor, and Graham Marshall, fraternity counselor.

The three students each were fined $100 plus $2.50 costs and ordered to pay the damages to the building by Justice of the Peace C. J. Hutchinson, acting police court judge, in police court Wednesday.

They appeared at a special hearing after admitting to police they splashed gasoline on the front steps and a panel beside the front door of the fraternity house, and ignited it by using a homemade fuse.

James W. Bawden, A2, Clear Lake, Beta Theta Pi president, said Thursday, "Pyles and Reiderbecke were suspended from all chapter activities for an indefinite period at a meeting Wednesday night."

Both Bawden and Richard Colville, president of Delta Tau Delta said there was no feud between the two social fraternities. The two houses are less than half a block apart on N. Dubuque street.

Jury Clears Teacher In Misconduct Trial

EUFULA, OKLA. (AP) — A district court jury Thursday took just 43 minutes to clear Teacher W.E. Dickey of a charge that he fondled an 11-year-old girl pupil.

Dickey had taken the stand briefly before to deny the accusation. Several students, many of whom had testified in Dickey's behalf, rushed to their schoolmaster and patted him on the back.

A lesser charge that he frequently poked the panties of his girl students still faces Dickey in county court.

LABOR MAJORITY INCREASES

LONDON (AP) — The governmental labor party raised its house of commons majority to six votes Thursday by winning a by-election for the vacant Brighouse and Spenborough district in industrial Yorkshire.

State Department Files Open To Senate Probe

Witnesses Call Economist Red

WASHINGTON (AP) — William W. Remington, commerce department economist, was accused Thursday of having been a Communist party member some 13 years ago. He denied it and Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer promptly indicated the department's loyalty board will reopen his case.

Charges that the 32-year-old official was a Communist in Knoxville, Tenn., while working for the Tennessee Valley authority were made public Thursday by the house un-American activities committee.

They were given to the committee last month in sworn statements by Kenneth McConnell who described himself as a Communist party organizer from 1935 to 1939, and by Howard Allen Bridgman.

Remington flatly denied the charges, which were the "new evidence" referred to by Committee Chairman John S. Wood (D-Ga) in reopening Remington's case.

Remington was suspended two years ago from his $9,870 a year government job, but was reinstated as an economist in the commerce department on another assignment after the government's loyalty review board had cleared him.

'Doc' Sick, Broke, Patients Won't Pay

ATLANTA (AP) — "The old doc" of Forsyth county, R. H. Bramlett, Thursday could count the blessings of his 63 years, but that was about all.

The doctor's newspaper ad plea to his friends and patients of 39 years to pay their medical bills so he could pay his was going unheeded.

From his hospital bed here, where he has undergone a serious operation, the still cheerful, ruddy-faced physician observed that he only ones who have answered the appeal "would have paid anyway."

Since 1911 when he hung out his shingle, the doctor figures he has accumulated some $28,000 in unpaid bills.

When he placed a notice in the News, the doctor observed mildly, "You might do better to settle with me than my administrator. Please don't disappoint me, my friends, for I love each and every one of you."

At last count, his debtors apparently preferred the administrator.

Humid 80 Degrees Follows Heavy Rain

Muggy and humid weather hovered over Iowa City Thursday as a result of the 80-degree temperatures and thunderstorms, heavy rains and scattered hailstorms which struck Thursday morning.

According to the civil aeronautics administration, a 9 inch of rain fell on Iowa City during the early morning showers.

More thunderstorms may hit Iowa City today, according to J.S. weather forecasters. The bureau predicted mostly cloudy skies with little change in temperature, and with occasional showers or thunderstorms likely becoming heavy here.

High today was expected to be near the 80-degree mark, with a low reading in the mid-forties.

Man Arrested Here For Disturbing Peace

A North Liberty man, Glen Bowers, was arrested Thursday night on charges of disturbing the peace, but was later released on $100 bond.

Iowa City police said Bowers is scheduled to appear in police court today at 5 p.m. Bowers' wife filed the complaint, police said.

Key Witness

FRANK BIELASKI, FORMER OSS agent, was named by Sen. Joseph McCarty (R-Wis.) as the witness who would testify that persons connected with the Amerasia magazine were "collecting and transmitting" atomic secrets to Russia in 1945.

Senate Inquiry Fails To Find Race News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles Tobey (R-NH) charged Thursday that officials of the big race news agency, Continental Press Service, are trying to lead senate gambling investigators "down a blind alley."

Tobey, exasperated as the inquiry tried without success to trace all channels through which track information flows to the nation's bookie joints, urged the return of Continental officials for questioning.

But the investigation shut down its hearing indefinitely Thursday, on schedule. It has been studying legislation to halt the flow of gambling information across state lines. Soon a special senate committee will launch an overall inquiry into organized gambling and crime rackets in general.

The Western Union Telegraph company has told the inquiry that its lists of circuits leased for racing news shows 17 names not on Continental's list. Senators are trying to find out where the 17 get their news.

Predict History's Worst Teacher Shortage in 1951

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national education association warned parents Thursday that the shortage of elementary school teachers next year "will be the worst in history."

A grim outlook was sketched in a statement by Ralph W. McDonald, executive secretary of the NEA's national commission on teacher education and professional standards.

Officials at St. Mary's hospital here said, "It's pretty much a matter of time" before Kronenwetter dies. His family has been with him ever since Thursday noon.

Ohio State Cut-Ups —

Raid Girls' Dormitory

— Swipe 'Unmentionables'

COLUMBUS OHIO (UP) — Some 200 men students invaded women's dormitories and sororities in unscheduled Ohio State university May week activities Thursday, doused pajama-clad coeds in showers and fled with the girls' "unmentionables."

Five of the men students were suspended from classes indefinitely by the council of student affairs after the second invasion in as many nights. Their names were not made known.

The second raid got underway Wednesday night when 100 boys stormed through Baker hall, the largest women's dormitory on campus, and attempted to throw the coeds into the showers. However, many of the coeds who weathered a similar experience Tuesday night, turned the tables and threw the invaders into the showers, University spokesmen said.

Tear gas was used to repulse the men at Neil hall, another girls' dormitory, Tuesday night, they added.

The May week horseplay sent four police cruisers to the university district. Police said 25 or 30 men climbed a fireescape at the Pi Beta Phi sorority, where one girl was slightly injured. There were no arrests.

Former OSS Man Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman reversed his stand Thursday and threw open state department loyalty files to senators investigating charges by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that the department harbors scores of Communists.

The move was followed by the justice department announcing Thursday night that no atom bomb secrets were uncovered in FBI raids on the magazine "Amerasia" — named in McCarthy's spy charges on a transmission belt for atomic information.

Magazine Accused
McCarthy claimed earlier Thursday that Frank Bielaski, former official of the Office of Strategic Services, has informed senate investigators secretly that he found evidence in the magazine's office that state department personnel were helping siphon A-bomb secrets to Russia six months before the bomb drop on Japan.

The justice department's announcement dealt with FBI raids on "Amerasia" in 1945, which led to the arrest of six persons on charges of stealing secret government documents.

"When the FBI made their investigations and their search of the Amerasia headquarters there was no information contained in any documents or otherwise relating to the A-bomb," the justice department said.

Transmitting Bomb Secrets

McCarthy said Bielaski uncovered evidence in a raid March 11, 1945, that "Amerasia" with the aid of some state department personnel, was "collecting and transmitting" bomb secrets to Russia. The OSS raid was three months before the FBI stepped into the picture with a raid of its own, McCarthy said.

Bielaski promptly announced that he would "have to qualify" McCarthy's version of his testimony. He said McCarthy's statement represented "an enlargement" but that there was "something to the atomic respect."

Mayor Near Death After 'Red Revolt'

WAUSAU, WIS. (AP) — Mosinee, Wis., Mayor Ralph Kronenwetter, who suffered a stroke as his town was ending its mock Communist "revolution" Monday, was "sinking rapidly" Thursday night, hospital authorities said.

The 50-year-old mayor has been practically unconscious ever since he was stricken at a rally where the townspeople cast off the voluntary one-day Communist dictatorship to which they had submitted.

Officials at St. Mary's hospital here said, "It's pretty much a matter of time" before Kronenwetter dies. His family has been with him ever since Thursday noon.

GOP Battle Hymn, 1950 Style —

President aspirant Harold Stassen burst forth with a multi-meaning statement Tuesday when he declared Truman is "the worst president and cleverest politician" ever to occupy the White House.

The "clever politician" phrase was aptly aimed at Truman's forthcoming tour during which, the President has openly admitted, he will campaign for Democrats "who need his help."

Stassen also insinuated that the tour was somewhat of a mid-term presidential campaign with an eye to the 1952 election. All this is probably justified and undoubtedly Truman is playing some clever politics—the same kind of politics which won the last presidential election.

Obviously and rightly, the Republicans are worried, and Stassen's speech is an excellent example of the poorly aimed mud-slinging frightened politicians often resort to.

Republican tactics lately have certainly fallen short of "clever politics." A notable example is their consent to McCarthy's "Reds-in-the-state-department purge."

Guy G. Gabrielson, Republican national chairman, promised to go Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) one better and start purging the Socialists.

Cried Gabrielson, "Let me emphasize this point, for the Socialists, boring within for government ownership of industry, first, and agriculture, second, are not as well known. We haven't got to spotlighting them. But I promise you we will."

Gabrielson was also responsible for inept political double-talk. He said the administration was responsible for violating "the bi-partisan spirit in foreign relations."

Gabrielson proposed to discard bipartisanship and announced his own "all-American non-partisan" international program.

There is no practical difference in a bi-partisan foreign policy and a non-partisan one. But Gabrielson seems to think the bi-partisan policy is "un-American" along with everything else that disagrees with his 19th century thinking.

End of a Fiasco —

After 100 days of strike and labor-management negotiations the CIO United Auto Workers and Chrysler corporation reached an agreement Thursday.

Eighty-nine thousand workers, each with an estimated loss of about $1,000 in wages, will be back on the job Monday, and they are returning with a somewhat improved pension plan plus a boost in medical and insurance benefits.

The strike obtained for them a $100 monthly pension, including social security, at the age of 65, with 25 years' service.

Following the settlement, labor and management leaders made the usual derogatory remarks, each accusing the other of causing prolonged disagreement.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, said Chrysler had sunk to a low never before attained in the auto industry. Herman L. Wecker, vice president and general manager of Chrysler Motors, renewed his accusation that the UAW had been "stalling."

Another remark Wecker made was much more logical. He said the strike was unnecessary and that "no one wins a strike."

Of course this rebuff was aimed at the un-

There may be some reasoning in the Stassen blast at Truman as worst president, but this statement might better be "the most dogmatic president."

Perhaps Truman would be having more success with the present congress if he could "bend" his programs slightly. But, to call him our worst president puts him in a category of stiff competition—including the numerous "do nothing" leaders.

That Truman is a "post graduate of the Pendergast school of Kansas City" was probably the most unjustified complaint on the President's administration. Despite that fact that Truman got his political start under the Pendergast regime, his ethics as top executive have been, for the most part, above board.

His backing of the Hoover commission's report, sincere effort for aid to underdeveloped countries, and overall handling of the executive branch have been aimed at better government.

What Stassen had in mind in calling Truman our "worst president" was probably an advanced bid for nominating votes at the 1952 national Republican convention.

But what would it take to elect a Republican president and congress? Writing in the April Harpers, Herbert Agar, liberal historian, said:

1. The Republicans must remember they are a party of "all sorts of views" and that their job is not to please a few millionaires but to find bargains and concessions with which to woo all discontented minorities.

2. They must notice that strong central government and a strong executive have come to stay—so long as world dangers surround us.

3. They must learn to say "me too" and make it sound like "Wasn't I smart to invent it!"

4. They must look and live as if they enjoyed democracy, and stop their mournful nonsense about the corrupted voter.

But the GOP's sour face looked for all the world like it had already lost the 1950 elections.

Its attitude could be summed up: "Everybody's out of step but us."

but it might also be taken seriously, by management. The fact that no one wins a strike has never been more obvious than in the 14-week Chrysler fiasco.

What does the Chrysler corporation have to show as a result of the long deliberation? It has lost over a billion dollars in production and business. It has finally compromised on a pension plan and practically granted the amount asked for by the union when the walkout began.

Hard feelings have been instilled among its workers who have been forced to lose $89,000 in wages.

What has the union gained? Certainly not enough to make up for the great loss of much needed worker wages.

A poorly managed mediation with both sides butting almost endlessly to attain a questionable goal while their constituencies—the workers and stockholders—sat by and wished for a reasonable and rapid settlement, was at the root of the trouble.

The settlement was finally forthcoming, but a 14-week stall, regardless of what caused it, certainly throws a wrench into the cog wheels of an industry, and makes a worker's pocket sag—with emptiness.

Tie Vote Causes New Quad Election

A special election to select the president of the South Quadrangle dormitory council will be held Monday.

A tie vote Wednesday night by the South Quad council made the new election necessary. Robert Kramer, A3, White Plains, N.Y., and William Schmelzer, A3, West Union, tied for the presidency.

All South Quadrangle residents are eligible to vote in the election.

Three proctors and five student representatives make up the council.

The rest of the executive council will be named following Monday's election.

Civil Service Announces Jobs Open in 4 Fields

Salaries for the positions range from $3,825 to $10,000 per year. Application forms and further information may be obtained from Lester J. Parick, civil service secretary, at the local postoffice.

Interpreting the News —

Question Hoffman's Optimism

By J.M. Roberts Jr., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Paul Hoffman, leader of America's economic effort in the cold war, and Gen. Omar Bradley, charged with responsibility for the nation's military safety, apparently do not see eye to eye on the world situation.

Hoffman's optimism over the prospects that Russia's postwar empire will crack under the weight of its own excesses is not shared in the state department.

On the other hand, Secretary Acheson, while not exactly endorsing Bradley's statement that the situation is worse than it was a few months ago, did say that it was no better.

Hoffman told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Russia's satellites would break away from their thralldom "within the foreseeable future." Walter Lippman told the chamber the crackup already had begun, referring to Yugoslavia.

Bradley told the house armed services committee Tuesday the outlook in the cold war has worsened recently, and that he saw no letup in Russia's "aggressive extension of communism toward the goal of world domination."

In all the talk of peace with Russia one of the great problems is whether American's traditional attitude would permit her to recognize Russian conquest of eastern Europe as permanent, abandoning countries like Czechoslovakia and Poland to a regime which is believed fundamentally repulsive to them.

That these countries would break away, given the opportunity, is generally accepted. But what will provide that opportunity?

There are plenty of anti-Communists. Probably a vast majority. But their opportunities for organization are limited. There is the Catholic church, which also becomes more and more limited.

LIFE IN AN OYSTER

By GIL PEARLMAN
I had every intention, today, of reporting, play by play, stimulation by inspiration, one of the greatest sporting events ever to take place in the accumulated history of athletics.

My intention found its roots in an inquiry. My inquiry found its seeds when, one day, I was passing through the portholes of the art building.

All South Quadrangle residents are eligible to vote in the election. Three proctors and five student representatives make up the council.

The rest of the executive council will be named following Monday's election.

WELL SUPPLY UMPIRES

THE DRAMATIC ART students softball team, incorporated DARES any art department team to drop their berets, beards, and easels and meet them on a field between the aforementioned buildings for a softball game, April 3 - 3:30 p.m.

THE NEXT DAY, for a change of atmosphere, I walked through the curtains at the University theatre. And on the notice cork of those bricks laid together for an "aesthetic representation of life, I found something to support my great expectations:

The art department Tigers gladly accept the foolish challenge of the Dramatics Department Pink Sox. To make things easier we are willing to spot you five runs. If you wish, we can provide make-up kits in case you get mugged up. Also, Mr. Dewey will have spotlights on each batter of your team to keep up your morale. Be sure to read the baseball rules.

IMMEDIATELY, I pursued the trails of E.C. Mable and L.D. Longman, heads of the dramatic and art departments, respectively.

With statements from each of these gentlemen, I visualized myself as the Bill Stern of the Midwest. But, due to the fact that I wasn't in reality a second Daniel Boone, I never caught up to either of the two said men.

Hence, logically, no statements. Now, Stern can relax his nerves for another year (or so against the background of organ music.

THEN, HAL TULCHIN, whom I have a class with asked me to umpire the game. Hal was the manager or the outfielder or something for the Pink Sox.

Me? I don't know baseball rules from Stromboli, but I accepted since the traits attributed to umpires took complete control of my aggressive inhibitions.

I could see it, plainly... "Strike three! (Boo!) (Boo!) Man and Superman are both out! After all, You Can't Take It With You. This is a Command Decision."

"Ball Four! Take your base Rembrandt!"

AS I SAY, I had every intention of reporting this event. But, somehow, I missed the game and missed the opportunity knocks but once' of being umpire. As it stands, this is probably the most unauthorized, most inaccurate pregame color, after the game, ever to appear in print.

Oh yeah, I hear from the grapevine, that the art department won 10-5. G.B. Shaw won't like that.

Boxoffice Receipts Dropping —

Atmosphere Unpleasant in Movie Theaters

By ARMAND ARCHERD, Central Press Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Boxoffice figures are down. Once again theater owners (and everyone else) are sounding off on what's wrong with Hollywood. Well, I'm here to tell you there's nothing wrong with Hollywood — nothing serious, that is.

Every major and minor studio is attempting to produce better pictures for less money. Producers continue their public polls to find out what the public likes and dislikes. Incompetent executives and waste labor are falling by the wayside.

Then why the slack season? Two reasons: television and the movie houses themselves. As for reason No. 2 — take it from a former movie usher. I worked my way through college as one.

It is easy to see why folk who own television sets go to fewer movies. This may be considered a normal reflex action.

THE DURATION of this stay-at-home malady lasts six months to a year, depending on the intellect and sociability of the set owner. It is a problem right now for the movie industry, but I am certain it will be pleasure in the future.

The more frightening problem is the state of our movie houses today. Flushed with the prosperity of the past decade, theaters have forgotten how to cope with poor business. Not only have they forgotten, but they've encouraged it.

Years ago, a theater owner was considered a showman. If he wasn't, he lost his house.

Do you realize that today's theater owner not only receives his film from Hollywood, but also gets all the printed ballyhoo necessary to advertise the films? In other words, after a manager rents a film, all he does on his own is put the feature up in lights and punch a cash register.

THAT IS where the trouble lies, for that has been all the action taken by most of the nation's theater owners. When they made money, they took the credit. But now that business is off, Hollywood's getting the blame.

I say people are tired of some of the treatment they have been getting at theaters. Exteriors and interiors are unpleasant. The employees have been so accustomed to crowds that the customer has been put in a secondary position.

In other words, the theater is doing you a favor if they find you a seat. Brother, that is all wrong!

When is the last time you heard the cashier say "thank you" after you purchased a ticket? And how about the ushers, have they sealed you politely, and with such adroitness that you never knew you disturbed other patrons?

Even the exteriors and interiors of our neighborhood theaters have become unappetizing. Torn rugs, dirty seats, unpleasant rest rooms and untidy employees, all these factors have made theaters unattractive places to go for an "evening out."

The smart theater owner applies the same rules to his theater. But he also has to do more. He is a part of show business and he must be a showman.

IN ORDER to encourage families to visit his theater, he should supply a baby-sitting service. This will relieve parents of that extra expense. He should make his theater the neighborhood gathering place—essentially for seeing the movies, but also a civic center.

A theater's lobby and stage are of inestimable value. It could well be the scene for the community flower show, cooking contests, Boy Scout, Girl Scout, Kiwanis, etc., rallies.

The local theater can donate a half hour to an hour once a week to the P-TA or any other local group for their presentations. In other words, the manager must get to know his patrons and make them feel at home in the theater. That's how the theaters will get back their business.

COLD FORMALITY of larger theaters repels—not attracts—patrons.

Orchests to Present Own Music, Dance Interpretation

Original music and dance interpretations will be featured in the Orchestrated program tonight at 8 p.m. in Macbride auditorium.

Orchestrated, a Women's Recreation association club, has helped present these programs from time to time for 23 years, according to its director, Janet Cumming of the physical education department.

Last year Seals gave the program and Hick-Hawks have been featured in other years.

Twenty Dancers
Aesop's fable about a donkey, directed and staged by Deborah Cohen, A4, Brooklyn, N.Y., highlights the program. Music for this number was compiled by the group's pianist, Mrs. Jewell Wintermeyer, from folk tunes.

Twelve of the 20 Orchestrated members will dance in the program. Miss Cumming directs the girls, but they originate the dances.

"They have been working on the show for much of the year," she said.

Interpret 'Lord's Prayer'
Other dance interpretations will be "Passing Fancy," to the tune of "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," "Arabian Dance," "Chinese Dance" and "Trepak" from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite," a theme and variations by Britten; Malette's "The Lord's Prayer" and a group of studies set to the music of Freda Miller.

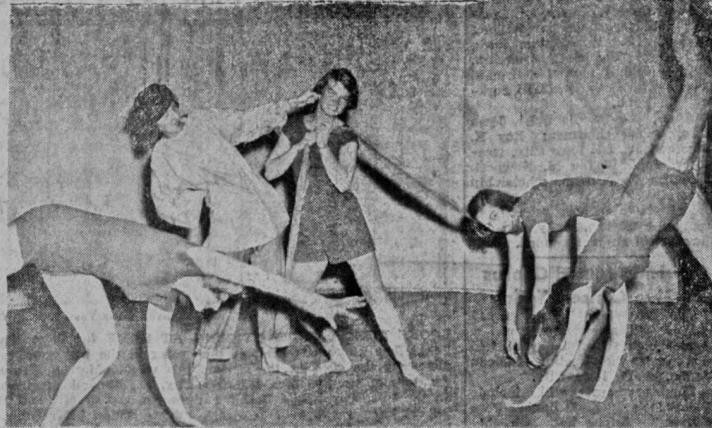

Members of Orchestrated participating in the show tonight are:

Connie Jewett, A2, Des Moines; Paris Zentmire, A3, Audubon; Madeline Kao, G, Kiangu, China; Shirley Wolfson, A2, Des Moines; Patricia Pierce, A3, Independence, Mo.; Mary Louise Thomas, A4, Marengo.

Betty Laurer and Jo Fran Kouba, both A2, Cedar Rapids; Naida Hardinger, A1, Albia; Bea Ann Vandenburg, A1, Jolley, Ill.; Holly Mundt, A2, Rapid City, S.D., and Miss Cohen.

ENACTING AN AESOP FABLE are these members of Orchestrated, a modern dance group, who will present a program tonight at Macbride auditorium. Left to right are Mary Louise Thomas, A4, Mar-han, an acrobat; Jo Fran Kouba, A2, Cedar Rapids, the old man; Carmie Jewett, A2, Des Moines, his stubborn son; Paris Zentmire, A3, Audubon, the donkey, and Holly Mundt, A2, Rapid City, S.D., an acrobat.

VA Engineer Says - Hospital One-Fourth Finished

Approximately 25 percent of the $8-million Iowa City veterans' hospital project has been completed, veteran's hospital assistant engineer Ralph Brooks said Thursday.

Speaking before the Iowa City Rotarians, Brooks said the project is scheduled to be completed May 10, 1951.

Each of the hospital's 500 beds will represent a construction expense of $15,566, he explained.

Brooks said about 500 men are now working on the project. The crew will be enlarged to 800 or 900 for the summer months, he added.

Stressing the precautions used during the hospital's construction, Brooks said the building rests on concrete caissons three to five feet in diameter. The caissons are set in solid rock.

"This was done to prevent the possibility of rock slippage," Brooks said. The entire building is tied together by steel buried six feet in the concrete caissons and extending to the roof.

Describing the finished interior of the 13-story hospital, Brooks said there would be three boilers in the sub basement, 40 feet below the first floor. One of the boilers will be steam operated so that in case of a power failure the hospital will still have heat and electricity.

Self-Contained Floors

The hospital's first floor will have the main kitchen, examining room and visitors' waiting room. Of the hospital's eight elevators, five will run from the waiting room, Brooks said.

The third floor will have the hospital soda fountain and library and about 12 guest bedrooms.

The other floors will be self-contained units, each with its own service kitchen and dining room.

The ninth floor psychiatric ward and the fifth floor nursing ward will have two solariums.

The per cubic foot cost of the hospital is $161, Brooks said.

Young Progressives Plan Protest Against 'Thought Control Bill'

Signatures are being sought today by the SUI Young Progressives for a petition in direct protest of the Mundt-Ferguson "thought control bill" aimed at "mandatory registration of Communist-political" and Communist-frontal activities.

A booth has been set up in front of Old Capitol by the group, where students opposing the bill may sign the petition.

The petition will be sent to Iowa Senators Guy Gillette and Bourke B. Hickenlooper, according to member Charles Muhlstock, A2, Woodmen, N.Y.

Pamphlets published by the Civil Liberties Union of Massachusetts have been circulated to the group. In essence, the pamphlet charges that the bill "imposes harsh disabilities upon the members of these organizations."

According to the pamphlet, "the registration of members would effectively destroy the organization, because the opening of membership lists to employers would certainly entail wholesale job dismissals and blacklisting against future employment."

The pamphlet further charges that "an individual may be punished not for acts of his own but for mere association with others."

Hawks Face 30-Year-Old Sophomore In 1st of Michigan State Series Today

The newest member of the Big Ten, Michigan State, will visit Iowa City today and Saturday for a two-game non-conference baseball series with Coach Otto Vogel's Hawkeys.

Iowa will get a chance to improve on its 11-4 season's record but not its 3-2 conference mark, good for a third-place tie. Not until 1951 will the Spartans' baseball games be counted in the Western conference standings.

30-Year-Old Starter
Lefty Dick Hoeksema, with a 4-1 record, will start on the mound for Iowa. He'll be opposed by a 30-year-old collegian, Herb Schroeter, sporting a 2-0 record. Schroeter is a right-hander.

The two schools have not met in baseball since 1942 although a

JOE BARTA, Michigan State shortstop who will be in the starting lineup for the Spartans this afternoon on the Iowa diamond, shows the stance that enabled him to bat .314 last year and .340 in the southern training trip this spring.

two-game set was scheduled for East Lansing last spring. That series was cancelled by rain and cold weather.

Since 1921, when the first Hawkeye-Spartan game was played, Michigan State has won 10 Iowa nine.

For the first time in several weeks the weatherman promises warm weather for this afternoon's game, scheduled to start at 3:30.

Two second team all-Americans will be performing, one for each team. Iowa's Jack Dittmer will start at his usual second base position and Jack Kinney, captain and second string all-American is scheduled to be in right field for Michigan State.

Met Notre Dame
Today's game is the second of the Spartans' current three-game road trip.

Michigan State rolled up eight runs in the first inning, adding three more in the second and held the lead the rest of the way to defeat Notre Dame Thursday, 11-10.

Michigan State has won four out of five from Big Ten opponents since returning from a southern training tour.

Included in that set of victories is a 6-5 decision over Michigan, currently leading the Big Ten with a 4-0 record.

Iowa's lineup will remain the same as it has in the past two series, with the exception of John Sullivan, who will be in right field if Michigan State starts a right-handed pitcher.

Netmen Meet Purdue Today

Iowa's tennis team faces a full weekend of competition away from home starting with a match at Purdue this afternoon.

Saturday the Hawkeye netmen meet Indiana and wind up their tour Monday against Notre Dame. Coach Don Klotz and a six man squad left by car at 1 p.m. Thursday.

Klotz said that Don Lewis of Fort Madison will play the No. 1 position, with Bill Ball of Cedar Rapids in the No. 2 spot. Lewis and Ball will also form the No. 1 doubles team.

At the other positions will be Gordon Chapman, Des Moines, No. 3; Bruce Higley, Iowa City, No. 4; Al Pierce, Los Angeles, Calif., No. 5, and Mike Trueblood, Sioux Falls, S.D., No. 6.

Pierce and Chapman will form the No. 2 doubles team and Higley and Trueblood make up the third duo. The men played these same positions against Illinois last Saturday, with the exception of the No. 6 singles spot which was filled by Jack Fletcher of Cedar Rapids.

Klotz said he was well satisfied with the Hawkeyes' performance against Illinois, even though the Iowans lost 5-4. He said that Purdue, fairly strong last season, had lost many of their players by graduation, Indiana, he said, has strength in almost every position, and Notre Dame should also furnish strong competition.

Iowa's next home tennis match is with Minnesota, May 13.

White Sox Slaughter Champ Yanks, 15-0

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago White Sox handed the world champion New York Yankees an unmerciful 15-0 drubbing Thursday to even the series at one game apiece.

Two pitchers—Lefty Ed Lopat and Righthander Don Johnson—received the full charge of the White Sox onslaught, a total of 23 base hits. In the meantime, Bob Cain, rookie southpaw, stifled the Yanks with five hits, three of them by little Phil Rizzuto.

It was one of the most lopsided linnings for the Yankees in recent years and their biggest shutout loss in history.

Big Gus Zernial and rookie Outfielder Jim Busby led the Chicago attack, collecting four hits apiece. Cass Michaels and Hank Majeski got three each. Every man in the White Sox lineup got at least one hit and all but Catcher Ed Malone scored. Zernial clouted a double and triple and drove in three runs. Majeski also batted in three runs with his home run and single.

Sparked by Bruce Edwards' double with the bases loaded, the Dodgers drove Cub starter, Walter Eubel, from the mound in the third as they scored five runs off their old team mate, Paul Miner, and another off Frank Hiller, the ex-New York Yankee.

Peewee Reese, Dodger captain, celebrated his 1000th major league game by being thrown out by an umpire for the first time in his career. He tossed his bat in the air after questioning Umpire Babe Pinelli's decision on a third strike in the fifth inning.

Golfers Leave Today For Michigan Meet
A six-man Iowa golf team is scheduled to leave Iowa City today for a dual meet with powerful Michigan in Chicago Saturday.

The Hawks will oppose the defending Big Ten team champions on the Bob O'Link course at Highland Park, Ill. Michigan recently defeated Northwestern, which holds a win over Iowa.

The Iowa team has beaten Bradley, Notre Dame and Indiana and lost to Illinois and Northwestern.

Those named for the trip by Coach Buckley O'Connor are Dick Anderson, Skip Carlson, Bill Ferguson, Charles Kromer, Dick Miller and Gene Slack.

Anderson is top winner to date, with victories in three of four dual meets.

The same group will be used against Minnesota Monday in a match on the Finkbine course here, O'Connor said.

The Gophers have not yet met a conference opponent.

GOLFERS TO COLORADO
Coach Buckley O'Connor will take his Iowa golfers to Colorado Springs May 12 and 13 for an intercollegiate tournament. It will be the first trip for an Iowa golf team to Colorado.

Dodgers Whip Cubs, Newcombe to 'Resi'

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers overwhelmed the Chicago Cubs, 10-2, Thursday but uncovered another sore arm case.

Dan Bankhead, making his first major league start in place of the ailing Don Newcombe, had to quit with two out in the Chicago half of the sixth inning. He allowed one run, four hits and walked as many batters.

Bankhead complained about his right shoulder a few minutes after the Brooklyn club announced that Newcombe had been sent home for a complete rest and that Malcolm Mallette was put on the disabled list, pending an operation on his right shoulder.

Sparked by Bruce Edwards' double with the bases loaded, the Dodgers drove Cub starter, Walter Eubel, from the mound in the third as they scored five runs off their old team mate, Paul Miner, and another off Frank Hiller, the ex-New York Yankee.

Peewee Reese, Dodger captain, celebrated his 1000th major league game by being thrown out by an umpire for the first time in his career. He tossed his bat in the air after questioning Umpire Babe Pinelli's decision on a third strike in the fifth inning.

Sisler Paces Phils Past Cardinals, 9-6
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dick Sisler, batting in five runs with five hits at five times at bat—including a home run—led the Philadelphia Phillies in a 9-6 assault against the St. Louis Cardinals here Thursday night.

Sisler's bat came in mighty handy because the Cards were hitting a vicious ball. Curt Simmons, Philadelphia's left hander, held the Redbirds to eight hits, but six were doubles, one was a home run and the other was a single.

Simmons was in trouble at various times and attracted real fire in the ninth. He was relieved by Jim Konstanty, who finished the game after the Cards had scored two runs in that frame.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joe Ostrowski stopped Washington with five hits Thursday night as the St. Louis Browns defeated the Senators, 5-1. Ken Wood led the Browns' 9-hit attack against Dick Weik, Lloyd Hittle and Joe Haynes with a double and two singles.

The Browns shoved across two runs in the first inning on two walks, a passed ball, Ray Coleman's infield grounder and Wood's single.

A walk and two singles fetched St. Louis a 3-0 lead in the fourth and the Browns boosted it to 5-0 in the eighth on Leo Thomas' single, Ostrowski's double and Billy DeMars' single.

Stassforth Breaks 2 More U.S. Swim Marks

Iowa swimmer Bowen Stassforth broke two more American breaststroke records Thursday, bringing to five the total number of U.S. marks bettered by the Hawkeye within a month.

Stassforth's latest records were for the 500-yard and 500-meter breaststroke distances, swum as a part of the Iowa AAU all-around championships in the fieldhouse pool.

His time for the 500-yard event was 6:40.4. The old mark of 6:41.4 was set by John Higgins of Ohio State in 1937. Stassforth clipped almost three seconds off the 500-meter record of 7:18.8 with a time of 7:16. This record was also established by Higgins in 1937.

The Los Angeles, Calif., junior broke Higgins' mark for the 400-yard breaststroke and tied the 400-meter record Tuesday. All times were set over a 75-foot course.

Stassforth broke the American 400- and 440-yard breaststroke records over a 20-yard course in a Cedar Rapids pool April 19.

Official record application forms will be filed with the Athletic Union in New York City, Coach Dave Armbruster said.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A home run by Third Baseman Nanny Fernandez in the ninth inning with two out and Ralph Kiner on base broke a tie and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-1 victory over the New York Giants Thursday.

The clout, carrying 400 feet over the left field foul pole, was delivered at the expense of Larry Jansen, Giants' star right hander. The only other Pittsburgh run, tying the score in the seventh, also came via a homer. Johnny Hopp hit it into the visitors' bullpen in left center.

Gilbert, who is 21, was purchased by the Giants for $50,000 in 1946.

Indians Stop Boston String at Six, 5-4

BOSTON (AP) — Right-hander Bob Lemon snapped the Boston Red Sox' six-game Fenway park winning streak Thursday as the Cleveland Indians took a three-game series finale by a 5-4 margin.

Catcher Jim Hegan opened the ninth with his second two-bagger of the game and, after being sacrificed by Lemon, registered the winning run after Dale Mitchell flied out to Ted Williams.

The Sox gave their Mel Parnell a three-run sendoff by bashing Lemon for three singles and they added their final marker by bunting three more singles to left field.

A pass to Luke Easter and Larry Doby's double gave the Indians a run in the third session and Mitchell clouted a two-run single with the bases loaded in the sixth. The Indians deadlocked matters in the eighth when Doby lashed another two-bagger into center and Joe Gordon singled to left field.

A's Fall to Tigers, 8-5, Dillinger's Streak Ends

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers combined their hitting power with Art Houtteman's effective pitching as Detroit handed Philadelphia an 8-5 defeat here Thursday before only 1,901 fans.

Wertz and Evers drove in seven runs between them. Houtteman doled out only five hits in gaining his third pitching triumph.

Only Mike Guerra was of any trouble to Houtteman. The Philadelphia catcher drove in all five of his team's runs. He belted three across with a fourth inning homer.

Bob Dillinger's 12-game hitting streak was broken when Houtteman held him hitless in four appearances at the plate.

Intramural Fencing Tourney Scheduled

Dr. Lucien Morris, Iowa fencing coach, Wednesday announced an all university fencing tournament to be held the week of May 22-27. The tournament will replace the intramural meet this year Dr. Morris said.

The object of the fencing tournament is to provide experience to those interested in the sport Dr. Morris indicated. "We hope to get out freshmen and sophomores that don't know much about the sport but are interested," Dr. Morris said. "This year we started from scratch. We want to develop talent so there won't be so many inexperienced members of the team next year," he said.

Hogan Takes Lead In Greenbrier Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA. (AP) — Bantam Ben Hogan, still after his first comeback triumph, grabbed the first round lead in the $10,000 Greenbrier Open gold tournament Thursday with a six-under-par 64.

The plucky little Hershey, Pa., veteran had his irons game working beautifully as he took a two-stroke edge over host pro Sam Snead and Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., each of whom had a 66.

In all, 15 in the field of 27 cracked par.

Chick Harbart, of Detroit, was right behind Snead and Ransom with a 67 while five others were tied with 68's.

They included Norman Van Nida, of Sydney, Australia; Johnny Palmer, of Badin, N.C.; Clayton Haefner, of Charlotte, N.C.; Skip Alexander, of Knoxville, Tenn.; and Jim Ferrier, of San Francisco.

Hogan, who explained that he "just played around and hit a few in," had three birdies on each nine as he put together his best score since returning to the competitive wars early this year after a layoff because of automobile accident injuries.

Ol' Rockin' Chair — Has Rocks In Rockers

By MARY QUALLEY
There may be money in that there chair — or squirrels, termites and a snake.
That's the advice Mrs. Floyd Holladay is getting about her ever-moving rocking chair, in letters from all over the country.
The Muscatine housewife described the confusion fame brought her family to students in the "Protestant Faith" and "Religious Groups of America" classes Thursday.
The Holladay's bought the chair with rocks in its rockers for $69 about seven years ago. Until 29 days ago, the chair was well-behaved. Then it began to rock.

Money Motion?
Fifteen-year-old Kenneth Holladay thinks the rocking has a spiritual connection with the death of his uncle, Floyd Bossart, who often used to sit in the chair. The rocking chair began its motion in a two-inch arch a short time after Bossart died in March.

The spiritual theory about the chair so interested Prof. Marcus Bach, assistant director of the school of religion, that he invited Mrs. Holladay to talk to his two classes.

Wednesday, Mrs. Holladay said she received 48 letters. "Most of the writers thought there was money hidden in the chair, and a spirit is rocking it to call my attention to it."

Squirrel Squirm?
"When I go home I think I'll take out the tacks and have a good look inside," she said.

Others suggested a squirrel might be inside the upholstery, or termites. "Those would have to be mighty big termites," Bach laughed.

The chair rocked outside on the cement sidewalk too. This discounted the theory that the floor of the house was tilted because clay beneath the foundation was expanding and contracting with temperature change.

The water in the fishbowl on the table beside the chair doesn't move, so vibration isn't causing the motion, Mrs. Holladay said.

Spook Squiggle?
She has checked the chair in the middle of the night — still rocking. "That's when it bothers me," she said.

Hundreds have come to see the chair, among them ministers and scientists. Mrs. Holladay estimated the Sunday crowd this week at 1,200.
"Most of them want to sit in the chair," she said. As a result the chair, as well as the rest of the house is getting rough treatment. A couple of the chair "sitters" weighed about 300 pounds.

Last weekend, Mrs. Holladay finally put out a cup for contributions to repair the wear and tear on the house. She has collected $60 already.
They have been offered $1,000 for the chair. "I think I would be better off if I'd sell it," Mrs. Holladay said. "We haven't eaten a peaceful meal since people found out about it."

Students to Edit Fall, Winter Law Review

NEW IOWA LAW REVIEW STAFF MEMBERS were announced Thursday. They are (front row, left to right) John A. Stichnoth, L.S. Iowa City, comments editor; Richard D. Hobbet, L.S. Eagle Grove, editor-in-chief; Eugene A. Hoffman, L.S. Clinton, comments editor; (standing, left to right) Emery E. Davis, L.S. Marathon, notes and legislation editor, and Donald P. Lay, L.S. Iowa City, article and book review editor. The new staff will handle the fall and winter issues of the law review. The publication is edited by law students and appears quarterly.

Elect New Law Review Staff

Richard D. Hobbet, L.S. Eagle Grove, has been selected editor-in-chief of the Iowa Law Review, for the fall and winter issues.

Other newly elected staff members are Donald P. Lay, L.S. Iowa City, article and book review editor; Emery E. Davis, L.S. Marathon, notes and legislation editor; John A. Stichnoth, L.S. Iowa City, and Eugene A. Hoffman, L.S. Clinton, comments editors.

The Iowa Law Review, published by SUI law students, is the only law review published in Iowa.

The five students were elected by the retiring staff earlier this week on the basis of the quality and quantity of writing they have done on previous issues of the law review. They later were approved by the college of law faculty.

The new staff will have charge of the fall and the winter symposium issues of the review. This fall's number will mark the beginning of the 36th year of publication.

Approximately one-half of each issue is written by law students. All editing is done by them.

At the end of their freshman year, students with high grade averages are invited to write. After they have completed three units of work and have met certain standards, they are eligible for membership on the board of editors.

The other half of each issue consists of articles and commentary from law professors and lawyers all over the world.

Students are left largely to themselves in the management of the review, the faculty acting only in an advisory capacity.

The law review was complemented last week by Judge Henry N. Graven, federal northern Iowa district court, at the Supreme Court day banquet in the Iowa Union.

He said law reviews were the only media for calm, impartial appraisal of our law system.

In about a month, the spring issue of the Iowa Law Review will be ready for distribution, retiring editor Marvin C. Hayward, L.S. Independence, said Thursday.

CMA Plans Larger, Permanent Committee

The local Council-Manager association Thursday night authorized its executive committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws for a permanent organization that will work for good local government under the council-manager plan.

The present 15-member committee was ordered to enlarge itself to a total membership of 25 that will include equal representation for all city wards.

The executive committee will meet at 12:30 p.m. May 12 in the Hotel Jefferson to select its new members.

Atty. Clair E. Hamilton, chairman of the temporary association that won adoption of the council-manager plan here in an April 17 election, told the 80 persons who attended Thursday's meeting in the Hotel Jefferson that a permanent organization is needed to keep the people posted on city issues.

SUI to Hold Summer Counseling Workshop

SUI will sponsor its second annual summer workshop on guidance and counseling July 10 to 21.

Designed for guidance directors, counselors, deans of men and of women, and counseling administrators, the workshop offers participants two semester hours of graduate credit.

It is a project of the SUI college of education, department of psychology, and the student counseling office.
