Floods Kill 11 in Nebraska; Endangers Part of Winnipeg

By United Press
Floods Tuesday took at least 11 and possibly 16 lives in Nebraska, cut off the eastern suburbs of Winnipeg, Man., drove out more families in Minnesota and North Dakota and threatened Wisconsin and Iowa.

Flash floods in southeastern Nebraska following rain fall-talling up to 7 1/2 inches killed 11 persons, including three children. At least five persons were missing.

The torrents caught two cars and a bus on the highways. Four persons drowned in one car, two in the other. Of the nine occupants of the bus, three escaped.

More than 17,000 volunteers and troops fought the flood waters of the Red river at Winnipeg. Twelve thousand persons were driven from the homes in the worst flood in Canadian history.

The Mississippi river was spilling over at Brainerd and Aitkens, Minn. A dike was hastily put up to protect the Brainerd power and pumping station.

The Mississippi river was rising rapidly along the Minnesota-Wisconsin border. The U.S. weather service at Milwaukee issued a precautionary flood warning for the stretch from above St. Paul, Minn., to below La Crosse, Wis.

In Iowa, heavy rains sent streams and rivers rising. Some overflowing was anticipated along the Des Moines, Raccoon and Iowa rivers. Two creeks overflowed, forcing five families to flee at Glenwood. The state highway commission announced several roads have been closed because of high water.

Highway 34 was closed near Hastings because a temporary bridge over the Nishnabotna river was washed out. Traffic was being routed over highways 275, 184, and 59. Highway 34 was closed west of Lucas and traffic was routed over highway 69, 2, and 14 between Osceola and Chariton.

Senate Group Votes To Drop Postal Cut

WASHINGTON — The senate postoffice committee voted unanimously Tuesday to cancel the postmaster general's April 18 order to cut postal service.

Before twice-a-day home mail delivery could be reinstated and other postal service reductions set aside, both the senate and house would have to agree to the two bills and a resolution approved by the committee.

Donaldson ordered the cutbacks in service April 18, explaining they must be put into effect to prevent another big deficit in postal operations.

The cut-back order holds home deliveries to one a day and reduces services to business establishments.

3 Youths Admit Stealing Cars, Cash, Food

Three train-age Minneapolis boys were arrested in Iowa City Tuesday and signed confessions of stealing two vehicles and breaking and entering two buildings.

The boys were turned over to Dubuque police about noon Tuesday. Dubuque police charged the youths stole a truck in that city.

They committed the thefts, the boys told Iowa City police, because they had "always wanted to see the southern states."

Signed Confessions
Policemen Ollie White and Herman Parrott arrested the boys about 6 a.m. in front of the Northwestern Bell Telephone building at the intersection of Burlington and Linn streets.

In signed confessions the boys told police the following story. They had stolen a panel type truck in Minneapolis late Sunday night.

War Planning Czar Requested by Truman

WASHINGTON — President Truman asked congress Tuesday to make W. Stuart Symington a virtual war planning czar and to transfer a stripped-down reconstruction finance corporation to the commerce department.

The proposals were included in four new government reorganization plans. They become effective within 60 days unless vetoed by an absolute majority of either the house or senate.

Symington, as chairman of the national security resources board, would have almost complete responsibility for gearing the nation for any war emergency. The board itself now has that chore.

He would be assisted by a new vice chairman to be appointed by the President subject to senate confirmation.

Police Judge Fines Graduate Student

Daniel A. Reinman, G, Leipsic, Ohio, was fined $100 plus $2.50 costs for disorderly conduct Tuesday. Reinman agreed to enter Iowa Psychopathic hospital for examination, and to give a report of the examination to the court.

Reinman appeared before C. J. Hutchinson, acting police court judge, at a special 3:30 p.m. hearing Tuesday.

Reinman withdrew from the university Tuesday, SUI officials said.

Reinman was arrested about 12:30 p.m. Tuesday by City Detective Harland Sprinkle and Highway Patrolman Virgil Johnson near Newton park, an SUI married students housing area.

Medical Society Expels Dr. Sander as Member

MILFORD, N.H. — The Hillsborough County Medical society revoked the membership of Dr. Hermann N. Sander Tuesday night at a special meeting called to discuss the case of the 41-year-old physician who was acquitted on a murder charge in March.

About 100 of the society's 175 members attended the 75-minute session from which newsmen were barred and afterward Secretary Lloyd L. Wells issued this statement:

The bill finances almost all federal agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The final total agreed on tentatively after a month of house debate is $451,207,844 more than the appropriations committee recommended. Most of the increase was voted Tuesday to buy more planes for the navy and the air force and to expand the army's anti-tank warfare program and the navy's anti-submarine activities.

The GOP policy committee agreed at a meeting to try slashing the bill before final approval.

GI LIFE INSURANCE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Checks have been mailed to almost 95 percent of the 14.5-million veterans who have applied so far for GI life insurance dividend refunds.

Gov. Beardsley said in Des Moines Tuesday he regretted official duties would keep him from speaking at the Iowa Federation of Labor convention.

Party Leaders Welcomed by SUI Young Demo

Democrats Open SUI Political Party Days

The Democrats drew first blood Tuesday in SUI's spring Political Party days, a new university program giving both major parties one day each to educate students in the art of practical politics.

Democratic Party day, to be followed by Republican Party day May 23, officially opened at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Old Capitol's house chamber, where President Virgil M. Hancher welcomed visitors and participants to the campus.

President Hancher, citing Political Party days as an "innovation" at SUI, said he hoped the spring program would mark a "long series of Party days at Iowa."

Program's Purpose
Academic prejudice against student political activity has vanished, he said. "The basic idea behind Iowa's Political days is to enable the legally constituted parties of Iowa to explain their structure, functions and organization" to the students.

Highlighting the afternoon sessions in the house and senate chambers of Old Capitol were speeches by Mrs. India Edwards, executive director of the Democratic National committee women; Jake More, chairman of the Democratic state central committee of Iowa; U.S. Rep. Richard Bolling, Democrat from Missouri's stormy fifth district, and Prof. W.J. Petersen, Iowa State Historical society superintendent.

Women Speak
Mrs. Edwards was pinch-hitting for Mary Shadow of the Tennessee house of representatives, who did not arrive in time to give her scheduled afternoon address. Both women, however, spoke in the main lounge of the Iowa Union Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Edwards attacked the "stupidity" of persons who "inherit" politics.

"I am a great believer in the necessity of every voter going back and studying the history and philosophy of the two major parties before he makes up his mind which party he is going to work for," she said.

Brannan Plan
She urged support of President Truman's farm program and national health insurance plan. She said every major depression has been preceded by the fall of farm prices.

The Brannan plan is nothing new, Mrs. Edwards said. "It advocates no new administrative control." Under the plan the government would pay farmers the difference between the price they receive at the market for perishable crops and a predetermined "fair return."

Urges Party Support
More urged students to "get out and work" for whatever party they were affiliated with. He maintained that "many elections have been lost" because of the apathy of the voters.

He said he hoped "the Republican party never becomes so weak the Democrats don't have to go out and work to win an election."

Mary McMahon, A3, Manning, president of the SUI Young Democrats, told Tuesday night's audience the Young Democrats "have a role as citizens" to be active in the party of their choice, vote intelligently, learn to interpret mass media and get out the vote.

Professors Preside
The Young Democrats worked in planning Tuesday's program with the SUI Institute of Public Affairs, which is sponsoring the Political days here.

Prof. Robert Ray, director of the institute, and Prof. R.G. Whitesell, of the political science department, presided at Tuesday's afternoon sessions.

SUI Student Council Pres. Jack Whitesell, LI, Davenport, extended the welcome of the student body to visiting delegates and guests.

Appropriation Bill Gets House Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house tentatively approved Tuesday a one-package $29,496,238,008 appropriation bill providing $14,296,487,000 for national defense.

A final test on the bill may come today after action on a Republican attempt to cut its overall total by $996-million.

The bill finances almost all federal agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The final total agreed on tentatively after a month of house debate is $451,207,844 more than the appropriations committee recommended. Most of the increase was voted Tuesday to buy more planes for the navy and the air force and to expand the army's anti-tank warfare program and the navy's anti-submarine activities.

The GOP policy committee agreed at a meeting to try slashing the bill before final approval.

Returns to Former Post; O'Connor to Be Assistant

By ALAN MOYER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Rollie Williams, Iowa assistant athletic director and former Hawkeye basketball coach, returned to that job Tuesday night when he was named the new cage leader by the board in control of athletics.

The announcement was made by President Virgil M. Hancher following a four-hour meeting in the Iowa Union by the athletic board Tuesday night.

Williams, 52, was head basketball coach here from 1929 to 1942, when he entered the navy. July 1, 1947 the popular mentor was named assistant athletic director by Athletic Director Paul Brechler.

No salary terms were mentioned Tuesday but it is understood he will receive a raise in pay. His present position pays approximately $6,900. He will continue as assistant athletic director.

Varsity Assistant
Bucky O'Connor, who with Williams handled the Iowa cagers this past season after Pops Harrison "tragic."

But he made it clear that the United States, working through American private agencies still in China, will do what it can to feed hungry people there, irrespective of their form of government.

Speaking to a crowd that overflowed the 2,000-seat University of Wyoming auditorium at Laramie, Mr. Truman departed from his earlier prepared text to assert that Secretary of State Dean Acheson has the support of a majority of the American people in international conferences now under way.

A White House aide traveling with the President denied that the insertion has anything to do with published reports that Acheson offered to resign before he left for Europe. The reports had the President telling Acheson he could not quit.

The White House official poured cold water on the report. Acheson has been under fire from Republicans in congress with attacks centering on the administration's China policies.

Rail Strike Nears As Talks Continue
CHICAGO (WEDNESDAY) (AP) — Federal mediators raced against the clock early today in attempts to avert a crippling strike by firemen against four major rail lines, set to start at 6 a.m. (Iowa time).

But as talks continued past midnight only slight progress was reported toward breaking the deadlock over seven-year-old issues.

With the strike deadline a few hours away, the four railroad systems curtailed service and planned further cuts in their schedules. And the union reported its members were ready to leave their jobs at dawn.

Members of the national (railway) mediation board reported "some progress" shortly before midnight Tuesday night, but they suggested they might be trying for a strike postponement and that quick settlement was unlikely. They met separately with the union and carrier negotiators.

was forced to retire temporarily because of illness, was named varsity assistant.

Williams was in Charlotte, Iowa, on a speaking engagement Tuesday evening and was not immediately available for comment.

Both Williams and O'Connor were known to be extremely popular with the players. Williams was in charge of spring basketball practice, which closed April 27th.

O'Connor had been freshman basketball coach and at present is varsity golf coach. O'Connor was named temporary head basketball coach last Jan 15 less than an hour before the team left for a conference game against Purdue at Lafayette, Ind.

Callahan Denies Charge About Garbage Contract

Alderman James M. Callahan Tuesday denied telling Ira W. Montgomery he would not get the local garbage collection contract unless he paid Callahan money.

The alderman demanded retraction of the statement within five days.

In a letter which Callahan said he wrote to Montgomery Tuesday, Callahan charged Montgomery had made the statement "willfully and maliciously."

Montgomery is reported to have made the statement at Monday night's city council meeting during an argument between himself, C.G. Sample and City Atty. William H. Bartley.

Montgomery and Sample criticized the council for awarding Clifford Esterday the three-year garbage contract for $22,980 when Montgomery had bid only $20,000.

Montgomery charged Callahan had told him April 17 at the Johnson county courthouse that he wouldn't get the contract unless he paid the alderman money. The courthouse was a polling place for the special election April 17.

basketball coach. He graduated from Drake in 1938.

When Harrison underwent an operation in mid-November, 1949, Williams was named acting coach, working with the squad until Dec. 23, when Harrison resumed work.

No Action Taken
No action was taken in naming a freshman coach to replace O'Connor. Jack Spencer, former Hawkeye star, coached the freshman after O'Connor took over the varsity.

Iowa finished the Big Ten season in fifth place with a 6-6 record. The Hawkeyes won 15 and lost 7 during the entire campaign. Williams was considered the

Mobile Clinics Set For 2 Iowa Towns

Mobile clinics will be held today through Friday in two Iowa towns by the Iowa State Services for Crippled Children. The clinics will be in Carroll today and Thursday. Friday they will be in Atlantic. The primary purposes of mobile clinics are to give diagnostic services to crippled children in rural areas and to bring these patients under better medical care than is available in the community, according to Dr. R.R. Rembold, medical director of the SUI Hospital School for Severely Handicapped Children and director of the state crippled children's services. The clinics usually are held at local hospitals and use the facilities of those hospitals. They are staffed chiefly by doctors from the state services office.

DOWNNEY, CALIF. (AP) — For trimming his wife's tresses to keep her at home with the baby, Edward L. Bruce must spend 10 days in jail. Bruce, 26, pleaded guilty to clipping his wife's luxuriant locks "so she wouldn't run around with other men."

Mortar Board 'Tapping' Often Surprise to Initiates

A colorful SUI tradition of many years' standing will be continued Saturday afternoon when new Mortar Board members are "tapped." Originated in 1926, the "tapping" ceremony this year will be held at 2 p.m. on the west approach to Old Capitol. In case of rain, "tapping" will be held in the Iowa Union lounge. The event is part of the Mortar Board-sponsored Mother's Day weekend. Active members, garbed in their traditional caps and gowns, will circulate through the audience and "tap" new members by placing the Mortar Board cap on the head of each one. "An element of surprise is always present," Joelle Hansen, present Mortar Board president, explained, "because none of the chosen group is told beforehand." Members are chosen by the active chapter guided by faculty recommendations and student opinion as expressed through the junior vote. Scholarship, leadership ability and service to the school — the watchwords of Mortar Board — provide the basis for choice. Junior women students in the upper 30 percent of their class are eligible for membership. Mortar Board membership may vary from 5 to 20 members. At present, 15 SUI women are members.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Hormones Cure Alcoholics

— Hangovers, Too

NEW YORK (UP)—A cure for alcoholism and the hangover was announced Tuesday at the opening session of the New York State Medical society annual meeting.

The report came from Dr. James J. Smith, director of research on alcoholism of the New York University-Bellevue Medical center. He said flatly that both alcoholism and the hangover could be cured through treatment with hormones.

Smith said research has shown that alcoholism is the result of an unbalanced production of hormones, particularly those of the pituitary gland.

Aid in 24 Hours

He said two "wonder hormones" — ACTH and cortisone — had been used experimentally, but that they were so scarce that their value could not be determined fully. However, other hormones from the adrenal glands, such as ACE and desoxycorticosterone, will bring persons with acute alcoholism under control within 24 hours. In addition, he found that injection of vitamin C is helpful.

"The treatment of acute alcoholism no longer presents a problem," he said. After the patient is given the hormone-vitamin C treatment his "craving for alcohol disappears, a sense of well-being is induced promptly, appetite is restored, the nervous tension and jitteriness disappear, the patient becomes calm and usually sleeps without sedation."

Hangovers

Of hangovers, he said: "Hangover, which is not peculiar to alcoholics but which is a sequel to over-indulgence in alcohol by any person, can be abolished quite readily with the use of ACE, either intramuscularly (injection into a muscle) or intravenously (injection into a vein) depending on the severity of the symptoms."

He said that usually five to 15 cubic centimeters of ACE in divided doses over a 12-hour period "abolish the hangover and the patient feels well." In addition, vitamin C in doses of 100 milligram tablets may be taken every three hours.

Bing Crosby, Wife Scoff at Reports Of Marital Trouble

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Bing Crosby scoffed Tuesday at reports their 19-year marriage was on the rocks, and a lawyer who had said their relations were strained said he was "ticked to death" to hear they weren't.

Mrs. Crosby, the one-time actress Dixie Lee, said she was "still very much in love" with the crooner and had no intention of ending their marriage.

And the crooner chorused from Paris that he didn't "know anything" about a statement from his lawyer, John O'Melveny, that there were "strained relations" in the Crosby love nest.

O'Melveny admitted he didn't know much about it, either.

"Bing knows more about it than I do," he admitted. "I'm tickled to death that everything's all right."

Der Bingle admitted that Dixie "was mad at me" for leaving her at home while he toured Europe on a "bachelor's vacation." But, thousands of miles away, she laughed that they hadn't even had a spat.

"We have not quarreled," she said. "I'd certainly like to find out how those stories got started."

"It must have been when we juggled our money around a couple of months ago. We were trying to separate money and set up a trust fund for our sons. I suppose that's how it all started."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

LUCIUS BEEBE once checked his imposing fur-lined winter overcoat at a busy, brash Broadway night-club. When he sought to retrieve it, the check girl couldn't find it in her overcrowded cubicle. Lucius stood around impatiently for a half hour, and finally strode out into a snow-storm without it. The girl called after him, "Hey, you cheap skate! No tip?"

A columnist who is so busy claiming he "originated" every anecdote current on Broadway that he hasn't time to check any facts or even to get his grammar straight, was called on for a few remarks at a dinner recently. "What did the so and so say?" asked a fellow journalist the next morning. "Just a few appropriated words," was the reply.

Anatole Litvak, the man who directed "The Snake Pit," claims he saw a hippopotamus in the zoo at Paris that was so ugly, even the other hippopotamuses didn't care to which sex it belonged.

Couple Dismisses Suit for $15,000

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Marshall, Burlington, Tuesday dismissed a $15,000 suit in district court against Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Frantz, Hills.

This was the second suit filed by the Marshalls after their six-year-old son, Gerry Francis, was killed while walking across Burlington street Oct. 22, 1948.

The plaintiffs claimed Mrs. Frantz was driver of the car involved in the accident. The car was owned by her husband.

In dismissing the action, Marshall, a former SUI student, and his wife acknowledged the payment of the $7,000 judgment awarded them in district court Nov. 4, 1949, on the first suit against Mr. and Mrs. Frantz.

Mothers to Vie in Radio Quiz

Mothers will have a chance to show their offspring at SUI how much they know about current news and sports events at a special mother's quiz program, over WSUI at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

The quiz show will pit a team of students' mothers interested in sports events against a team interested chiefly in general news.

The contest idea rose when Sports Director Hal Hart, A4, West Branch, said mothers were more interested in his "sports-time" broadcast than in other news.

News Bureau Editor Rod Gelatt, A4, Des Moines, accepted the challenge on his newscast, and called for a contest in which "sports mothers" would vie with "news mothers."

Hillel to Sponsor 'Parent's Banquet'

The annual "Parent's Banquet" sponsored by Hillel foundation will be held Sunday at 5:30 p.m. in the Rose room of the Jefferson hotel.

Prof. Arnold Fox, of the SUI English department and assistant director of the foundation, said purpose of the banquet is "to provide an opportunity for the parents and students to get together and introduce the parents to the work of the foundation."

One of the highlights of the banquet will be presentation of Hillel keys. These keys are given to students who "have done the most for the foundation during their years at Iowa," Fox explained. Honorable mention awards also will be presented, he said. A skit, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," will be presented by four students under the direction of Leatrice Shay, A4, Belvidere, Ill.

Panacea Plans Script, Lyric Contest for Fall

The Panacea committee Tuesday announced a script and lyric writing contest for the next Panacea show which may be produced in the fall.

Sue Gronna, A4, Minot, N.D., chairman of the committee, said the contest is open to all SUI students. Entries should be submitted by Sept. 30.

Application blanks may be obtained at the office of student affairs, she said. Scripts must be submitted complete with lyrics.

"The Panacea committee wants SUI students to feel this is their show," Miss Gronna said, "so we want to encourage everyone to enter the contest, submit a script, and get in right at the start."

No 1950 Show

The last Panacea show scheduled for the spring of 1950 did not materialize because the show lacked a director, money, an orchestra and staging personnel.

March 9 a majority of the Panacea committee voted it would be impossible to produce a show this year.

Student interest was aroused on campus by the "no show" announcement and caused the Panacea committee to investigate the possibility of reviving the show in the future.

All the problems have not been overcome, Miss Gronna said, but the committee has been meeting regularly during the past two months in an effort to solve them.

Two New Committeemen

Two new members appointed by the student council are serving with the Panacea committee. They are Ed Diekmann, E3, Ottumwa, and Dick Turner, A3, Oelwein. Both students will assist the six members of the 1949-1950 committee and assume full scale duties in the fall.

Miss Gronna said the purpose of the new committee system was to allow members of future committees to become acquainted with problems and gain experience.

The Panacea committee consists of six members, two from each of three organizations — the student council; Mortar Board, SUI's national senior women's honorary organization, and Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership society for upperclassmen.

Student Publicity Applications Due

Deadline is 5 p.m. today for submitting applications to the office of student affairs for the post of student council public relations director for 1950-51.

All applicants will be interviewed by the student council and one person will be selected to fill the post vacated by Reynold Landon, A4, Council Bluffs.

Duties of the director include making publicity releases on all student council activities to the press and radio, serve as public relations advisor to the council, promote council projects and act as a public relations advisor to other campus groups.

Kramer Elected New South Quad President

Robert Kramer, A3, White Plains, N.Y., was elected president of the South Quadrangle in a special election for dormitory members Monday.

The special election was necessary when the dormitory council, which usually elects the president, tied in voting for that position.

Bill Schmelzer, A3, West Union, other candidate for the presidency, was elected vice-president. Philip Dandos, A3, Sioux City, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Both Schmelzer and Dandos were elected by the eight-man dormitory council.

Former Art Student Receives Fellowship For Print Research

Malcolm Myers, former SUI art student, has been awarded a John Simon Guggenheim fellowship for further work and research in printmaking, Prof. Mauricio Lasansky of the art department said Tuesday.

The Guggenheim memorial fund was established in 1925 by Simon and Mrs. Guggenheim to promote a knowledge, understanding and appreciation of beauty by aiding scholars, scientists and artists in their work.

Citizens of the United States, Canada, Mexico and certain South American countries are eligible to receive the fellowship for research in any field of knowledge or for creative work in any of the fine arts.

Was Grad Assistant

Myers was a graduate assistant in the SUI print workshop until he graduated in 1947 with an M.F.A. degree in printmaking. He then was appointed instructor and assistant to Lasansky.

In 1948, he left SUI or organize and direct a print workshop for the art department of the University of Minnesota, where he is present.

Work in Europe

According to Lasansky, Myers will use the fellowship for work in Europe next year. He is the first member of the Iowa Print group to win a Guggenheim fellowship.

Myers has exhibited prints and won prizes in the Northwest Printmakers Annual exhibition in Seattle, Wash.; the Library of Congress exhibition in Washington, D.C., and in the Philadelphia Print Club Annual exhibition in Philadelphia, Pa.

Student Appointed Mormon President

Lynn Richards Jr., M2, Salt Lake City, has been appointed president of the Iowa City branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, it was announced Tuesday by Vernon S. Flake, Bonaparte, president of the East Iowa district.

Richards will succeed E. LeRoy Jones, G, Logan, Utah, who has served as branch president the past year, and organized the local group in 1946.

Jones will return to his professorship at Utah State Agricultural college, Logan, Utah, after he receives his Ph.D. degree here in June, Flake said.

Other officers named to serve with Richards include Oliver Smith, G, Provo, Utah, and Dr. Robert Woolf, resident surgeon at University hospitals, counselors.

Norman Rogers, Coralville, was appointed Sunday school superintendent.

Rental Information Offered to Owners Planning to Remodel

Landlords can find out from the local rent office whether improvements they are planning to make to their rented property will be profitable to them, T.J. Wilkinson, director of the Iowa City rental area, said Tuesday.

Wilkinson said the office will give any landlord a "prior opinion" on the increase in rent he will be allowed to charge for specific improvements.

The owner then can weigh the prospective rent increase against the cost of the planned improvements and decide whether the improvements will be profitable for him, Wilkinson said. A landlord can get a "prior opinion" before any proposed work is begun on the property.

"Many local owners are taking advantage of this arrangement," Wilkinson said. "It provides both better investments for the owner and better living accommodations for the tenant."

Wilkinson pointed out, however, that a tenant has the right to refuse changes in certain services and furnishings within the dwelling. A landlord, for instance, cannot furnish a previously unfurnished house without his tenant's consent.

No consent is necessary if the housing unit is vacant or if the owner must make the changes to preserve the dwelling.

Schmitz Blanks Giants On 3 Hits, 6-0

Smalley, Terwilliger, Serena Hit Homers

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Schmitz, Chicago's willowy southpaw, checked the New York Giants with three hits Tuesday, 6-0, allowing only one New Yorker to reach third base.

Schmitz, in gaining his second victory, was helped with home runs by Roy Smalley, Bill Serena and Wayne Terwilliger.

Manager Leo Durocher, Second Baseman Eddie Stanky and Pitcher Sheldon Jones of the Giants were ejected from the game during a seventh inning argument.

Attempted Double
With Preston Ward on second, Hank Sauer lined out to Shortstop Alvin Dark, who threw to Stanky attempting to double Ward. Stanky dropped Dark's peg and Umpire Frank Descoll ruled Ward safe.

The Giants led by Stanky and Durocher, protested the decision, claiming Stanky held the ball long enough to make the out. After a long jawing session, he thumbed the two from the game.

Hank Edwards scored Ward with a single to left. Umpire Lou Jorda then went over to the New York bench and threw out Jones for jockeying.

Chicago opened fast with three runs off loser Larry Jansen in the second inning. Smalley cracked a homer into the centerfield bleachers, scoring Sauer ahead of him. Serena then followed with his first homer into the left field bleachers.

Final Homer
Terwilliger closed out the home run bombing in the next inning, with a shot into left field. The Cubs picked up their other run in the fifth when New York third baseman Hank Thompson bobbled Smalley's grounder, which allowed Sauer to score.

Grid Coaches Still at Work WILLIAMS...

Hawkeye spring football candidates ended drills Friday, but the work of Coach Leonard Raffensperger and his four-man coaching staff is just beginning.

Raffensperger, who labeled the proceedings of the six-week session only "fair", Monday began daily meetings with his staff to iron out problems arising from the spring workouts.

No Surprises
"I've had no great surprises this spring," Raffensperger said. "I've worked with most of these boys during my two years with the varsity and two years with the freshmen, so I know about what they can do."

Biggest encouragement was the work of the freshmen, termed last fall by Raffensperger as being "at least a year away from varsity play." The Hawkeye coach now declares some of the fresh may be ready for regular competition.

A lack of offensive ends and tackle strength are the biggest worries of the staff, he said. "Our letterman list is rather deceiving," Raffensperger said. "Fifteen of 32 returning lettermen will be backfield men. The ideal ratio is two linemen to one back rather than one to one."

29 Lettermen
The Iowa coach listed 52 men, including 29 lettermen, as top performers of the spring practice. These men, plus three other letter-winners who missed most of the drills, are expected to form the nucleus of the 60-man squad he will call back in mid-August.

Missing from the list were Glenn Drahn, starting quarterback last year, and Duane Brandt, a No. 1 defensive back, both pitchers on the baseball squad; and Ron Petersen, a letter-winner at center last year who underwent a knee operation at the start of practice.

Top candidates as listed by the Iowa coach follow in alphabetical order:
Ends — Don Blork, Arnold Caplan, Dave DeProspero, Clyde Gardner, Bob Hoff, Jerry Loni, Dick Meyer, Don Wartzendruber and Tom Wegman.

Tackles — Bob Bain, Harold Bradley, Andy Bantz, Francis Burke, Robert Johnston, Dudley Noble, Harry Sievers, Pete Spaniers and Don Woodhouse.
Guards — Bill Beehr, Ron Fairchild, Lou Ginsberg, Roy Hutchinson, Bob Lage, George Meyers, Del Perrin, Austin Turner and George Vrame.

Quarterbacks — Bert Britman, Fred Ruck and Jim Sangster.

Lopat Gives 3 Hits In 4-2 Yankee Win
NEW YORK (AP) — Lefty Ed Lopat handcufted St. Louis with three hits Tuesday night as the New York Yankees took advantage of four Browns' errors to defeat the cellar-dwelling visitors, 4-2. Lopat fanned seven in registering his third victory.

Hank Bauer, back in the outfield after a brief layoff because of sacroiliac trouble, had a hand in all the Yankee runs. He hit a single and double, drove in two runs and scored two himself.

The Yankees collected nine hits and all their runs off lefty Joe Ostrowski, who went down in his first defeat of the season. Don Lenhardt, rookie outfielder, accounted for the Browns' last run with a home run in the ninth inning. It was his third.

It was the fastest played game of the season at the stadium, taking only an hour and 38 minutes.

logical successor to Harrison, who was discharged on April 16th from the job he held since 1942.

He is the second member of the athletic department to become a varsity coach this year. Leonard Raffensperger, freshman football coach, succeeded Dr. Eddie Anderson as head football coach Feb. 14.

Came Here in 1924
Williams came to the university in 1924 as assistant football and basketball coach. He was named head basketball coach at the beginning of the 1929-30 season and held that job until entering the service. His 1942 team finished second in the conference race with a 10-5 record.

While attending the University of Wisconsin, where he graduated in 1923, Williams won nine varsity letters, three each in football, baseball and basketball.

During the college year of 1923-24 he coached at James Millikin university at Decatur, Ill. Williams has two children, James, 23, and Nancy, 13. Mrs. Williams died April 30, 1950 after a long illness.

A's Edge Cleveland On Joost's Homer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eddie Joost's eighth inning home run, his only hit of the game, was the Philadelphia Athletics' margin of a 9-8 victory over the Cleveland Indians Tuesday night.

The A's scored seven runs in the fifth and the Indians countered with five in the eighth. Ferris Fain and Elmer Valo also hit homers for Philadelphia and Al Rosen did the same for Cleveland.

Joost's deciding wallop was at the expense of Al Benton, fifth Cleveland pitcher. Rosen's circuit blow in the ninth came after reliever Pitcher Carl Scheib, who took over for starter Hank Wyse in the eighth, had fanned two batters. Scheib then proceeded to strike-out Pinchhitter Jee Gordon.

Eleven men, with Wyse getting two hits, batted against Steve Gromek and his successors, Sam Zoldak and Marino Pieretti, in the A's big fifth. Valo's home run came in that frame with two on.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ralph Kiner smashed out two home runs Tuesday night, one with the bases loaded, to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 10-5 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Kiner's smashes accounted for seven of Pittsburgh's runs and gave him the National league lead in the home run department. A crowd of 26,734 saw the Pirates come from behind to trip the Dodgers with a big five-run eighth inning.

Kiner shared honors with Pitcher Bill Werle who took over with two out in the third and pitched shutout ball the rest of the way.

The Dodgers, who had taken two in a row from the Pirates, knocked Mel Queen off the mound with a five run explosion in the third. The big blow of the inning was Gil Hodges' triple with the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh came back with three runs in their half of the inning. Ted Beard and Johnny Hopp drew walks from starter Ralph Branca. Kiner then lined the ball over the left field fence for his sixth home run.

Nanny Fernandez singled home the tying runs in the seventh. In the big eighth, Pinchhitter Tom Saffell opened the inning with a walk. Clyde McCullough forced Saffell, and Werle also drew a pass from Reliever Erv Palica. That brought in Carl Erskine who walked Beard and Hopp, forcing in McCullough. Kiner then lined his grand slam homer into the extreme right center of the Dodgers' bullpen.

The blow gave Kiner eight grand slammers in his career, equalling the mark of Bill Nicholson, now of the Philadelphia Phillies, for players still active in the National League.

Rogers Hornsby, former St. Louis Cardinal player, holds the senior circuit record of 12.

Dittmer's .382 Mark Leads Iowa Regulars

Iowa's baseball team, third in the current Big Ten standing, will battle Wisconsin for a second place berth in a two-game series at Madison Friday and Saturday.

The Badgers have won two games from Northwestern and broken even with Purdue and Ohio State for a 4-2 record. The Hawkeyes defeated Purdue once and split with Illinois and Indiana.

Good hitting by the Iowans in the Michigan State series last weekend boosted their percentage from .246 to .258, according to official statistics.

Jack Dittmer is first among the regulars with .382 and leads in runs batted in, with 16; extra base hits, 7, and stolen bases, 14. His fielding average is .943.

The Hawkeyes' leading pitcher is Dick Hoeksema, with a 5-1 record. The left-hander has allowed 39 hits in 50 innings and struck out 42 while giving up only 11 walks.

Following the Wisconsin series, Iowa faces Minnesota at home May 19 and 20, Northwestern at Evansville May 26 and 27 and Western Michigan at Iowa City May 29 and 30.

The End of the Non-Conference 'Pushover'
The day of the non-conference pushover is fast drawing to a close for Iowa's basketball team. It will be completely over when the 1950-51 schedule, now being drawn up, is finished. The non-conference games for next winter will constitute the toughest, and most interesting, schedule of non-league games. Iowa has had in many years.

Not that the Hawkeyes will not roll over some team by 20 points on a particular evening. Nobody can tell a season in advance just how strong a team is going to be, but it is possible to schedule schools known to produce top flight basketball most of the time.

With three dates left to fill the Hawks are already billed to play UCLA, Pittsburgh, Butler, Western Michigan and Notre Dame. The Butler and Western Michigan games will be on the road, the other three at home. UCLA was one of the mighty few teams to bump CCNY, National Invitational and NCAA champion, in Madison Square Garden last season.

Possibilities for the three open dates are Marquette, Wabash, Missouri and Xavier of Cincinnati, among others. The last named is becoming so basketball conscious that two Ohio State varsity players transferred last year and will be eligible next season.

Attempts were made to schedule DePaul and Kansas State, among others, and although their non-conference schedule were filled it means they may be here in the future. DePaul, long a basketball power, wanted to play here but an earlier contract for the same date put the game off at least a year.

The men doing the scheduling, Paul Brechler and Rollie Williams, are in favor of a strong non-conference slate because they are convinced it does the team more good and that, win or lose, the Iowa crowd wants to see good basketball, not the 75-35 games that do the players no good and put the spectators in the mood for a good book.

Just as there are two sides to any question, so there is to the relative merits of the "pushover" and the power. It was pointed out that it gave a coach opportunity to experiment under game conditions, use more players, etc. But it got to the point where ticket sales plunged when fans knew that they were in for a dull evening of top-sided basketball.

The straw that broke the poor old camel's back came last winter when Creighton, long ago a basketball power but now in the pushover class, came to the fieldhouse and was slaughtered. At halftime a small group of men, five or so, left the fieldhouse, thoroughly disgusted, determined to do something.

That small group of men, members of the athletic board, decided then and there to see to it that better teams came to the fieldhouse. It wasn't long until a change was made. Pops Harrison, then head coach, was relieved of the scheduling duties and shortly thereafter Assistant Athletic Director Williams represented Iowa at the conference meeting in Chicago.

Harrison was an advocate of the one kind of early game, Brechler and Williams weren't. Which system better prepares a team for the Big Ten schedule is the tough question. We happen to think the tough games are better and are happy to know that top teams will be on the schedule. Basketball Coach Rollie Williams is glad, too.

It brings up our old friend—the 46 game home non-conference win streak. We agreed with Brechler recently when he commented that "the streak will probably be in for some rough treatment."

But who cares, that streak was getting more ridiculous every year and we think was doing more harm than good. Fans, in our opinion, are more anxious to see close, good ball games with Iowa winning its share than Iowa winning by crazy scores. It's nice to win, but isn't it better to beat Notre Dame by two points, or lose by two, than murder Podunk, 75-35?

Iowa's 6-5 baseball win over Purdue two weeks ago was an unusual event. The Purdue student newspaper reported this: "It is interesting to note that Bob Primrose, the third baseman who knocked in Iowa's winning runs, is from Norway where he had played no baseball until entering the University of Iowa."

Imagine the consternation if the Hawks had a player from Moscow, Iowa.

Red Sox Hammer Detroit, 6-1

BOSTON (AP)—Boston's Red Sox virtually took command of the American league's early pennant race Tuesday by hammering out a 6-1 verdict over Detroit's Tigers behind the able pitching of lefty Mel Parnell.

The two clubs are deadlocked with exact .667 percentages—the method used to determine a pennant winner—but on games won and lost basis, the Bostonians, overwhelming pre-season flag choice, have a one game bulge.

Walt Drogo, rugged rookie playing his eighth game since his emergency recall from Louisville, led the Boston attack. The big first sacker blasted his second homer and collected two singles to drive in two runs. He was the only player with three hits as each of the Sox collected at least one safely off three Detroit pitchers.

Bob Doerr also slugged a homer, his third. It was Boston's first run of the game and the first hit off Virgil Trucks who suffered his first loss. Trucks, who has won two, now has failed to finish four games.

Student, Two War Brides Get U.S. Citizenships Here

An SUI student and two war brides became U.S. citizens Tuesday morning after taking the oath of allegiance in a naturalization hearing in district court.

They are Joseph Polzer, G. New York City; Mrs. Daniel H. Wiltfang, 420 N. Linn street, and Mrs. William O'Hara, 921 E. Jefferson street.

Polzer and Mrs. O'Hara formerly lived in Vienna, and Mrs. Wiltfang lived in Paris.

The oath was administered by District Judge H. D. Evans. Representatives from the American Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Women's Relief corps took part in the ceremonies, which began at 9:30 a.m.

Polzer is a graduate student in are history. He said he left Austria in the spring of 1938 — two months after the Nazi army marched in.

He went to Switzerland on a traveler's visa and then slipped across the border to France.

The youthful art student has been in this country eight years, three of them at SUI.

Mrs. Wiltfang, a housewife, was an interpreter in Paris during the war. She met her husband in France, where he was attached to a U.S. hospital unit.

After going together for three years, they were married and flew back to this country together.

Wiltfang is a graduate student in history at SUI.

Met in Austria
Mrs. O'Hara, a housewife, also is a war bride. She met her husband while he was in the U.S. armed services in Austria.

Atty. Clair Hamilton, speaking as commander of the local American Legion post, compared a person changing citizenship to a young man just taking on family responsibilities.

"The new citizen still has love for the old country, as the young man has for his parents, but there is the more important duty to the new."

Citizens Ask Halt Of Driving Antics Around City High

A protest against spending and playing tag in cars without lights at night around City high school was made by a group of Iowa Citizens Tuesday night and capped with a prediction of tragedy if action weren't taken.

Mrs. Ivan Hedges, president of the Iowa City P.T.A. council, spoke for the group at a meeting of the local school board.

"Many of the parents whose children are doing this have no idea their child is involved," she said.

"There is going to be a tragedy and the parents of the child lost in that tragedy are going to be very bitter, naturally. Shall we let them go on and kill themselves and each other?" Mrs. Hedges asked.

Residents of the high school area reported that police squad cars patrolled the parking lots and nearby streets frequently, but an effective look-out system warned the "carousers" in time for a get-away.

Suggestions made by various board members included more lighting around the school at night, blocking off the high school parking lots after 11 p.m., hiring of a night watchman, and patrolling by Iowa City police and closing off Fourth avenue at the high school parking lots.

Iver Opstead, superintendent of city schools, said the school has jurisdiction over its own grounds, but not the streets away from the school grounds where much of the speeding takes place.

Blast Critically Burns Man Trapped in Well

NEW YORK (UP)—A well-digger buried to his waist 18-feet below earth's surface was critically burned Tuesday night by a flash fire in the narrow shaft where he had been trapped more than eight hours.

Dominick Atteo, 45, reached for a cigaret lowered to him by one of his sons. The cigaret, burning in an atmosphere heavy with oxygen that had been fed down the shaft, caused a flash fire that set the helpless man's clothes aflame.

Doctor Lowered to Victim
Rescuers who had been trying all afternoon to dig him out poured cans of water down the shaft. A doctor was lowered into the pit to put oil on Atteo's burns and give him a hypodermic. The man, still unable to move his legs in their mould of earth and rock, suffered second and third degree burns and shock. Dr. Harold Bergson said he was in a critical condition.

Until the fire hit, Atteo's chances to live were very good. At 8:20 p.m. (Iowa time), more than eight hours after a cave-in pinned him in the well shaft, the man was growing numb but he tried to be cheerful as police shoveled doggedly down to save him.

Refused Drugs
Atteo, father of six children, was buried in a squatting position with his legs apart. Only his head and arms were free, and he exhausted himself trying to scoop away the imprisoning earth with his hands.

While police worked slowly to prevent a new cave-in Atteo chewed gum and refused whiskey, sherry wine or pain-killing drugs. Oxygen fed down the shaft, freshened the air he breathed, but caused the tragic fire.
