Children Keep Vigil for Missing Flier

LOOKING FORLORNLY OUT OF A WINDOW at their Fort Worth, Tex., home are the three children of Lt. Freeman Horner. Horner presumably was killed Friday when he was sucked from a B-36 bomber 28,000 feet in the air. No trace of the missing airman has been found.

SUI Physicist Roberts Resigns To Take Key Rochester Post

Prof. Arthur Roberts, director of research in nuclear physics at SUI, has resigned to accept a position at University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y.

Roberts, who will leave for his new post this summer, will work on Rochester's new 250-million volt cyclotron, the third largest in the United States.

At SUI, Roberts worked in research in two phases of nuclear physics, microwave spectroscopy and radioactive isotopes.

His studies in microwave spectroscopy were under a navy contract let by the office of naval research. Roberts studied properties of radioactive isotopes from material used at the atomic energy plant in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

He joined the university staff in 1946 after doing radar research at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for four years.

Last summer Roberts blasted the government's overemphasis on secrecy in atomic research. At that time he emphasized that actual knowledge of how to make the atom bomb is undoubtedly possessed by such countries as Russia.

Dr. Rutledge Free On $40,000 Bond

FORT MADISON (AP) — Dr. Robert Rutledge, convicted murderer, walked out of the gates of the state prison Saturday, free on a $40,000 appeal bond, and sped away to an unknown destination.

Rutledge, serving a 70-year sentence for second degree murder, appeared guant and pale as he rode away from the prison where he has served nine months of his sentence.

Rutledge will remain free on bond at least until the Iowa supreme court has ruled on his appeal from his conviction. The high court probably will consider the appeal in November.

The St. Louis physician was convicted at Cedar Rapids last May for the hotel room knife-slaying of Byron Hattman, St. Louis, alleged seducer of Rutledge's wife. Rutledge maintained throughout the trial he stabbed Hattman in self-defense. His wife, Sidney, took the witness stand in her husband's defense and admitted intimacies with Hattman.

NEW NAVY UNIFORM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews approved Saturday a new naval officers' full dress uniform without the gaudy cocked hat, elaborate epaulets and gold striped pants which date back to pre-Spanish-American war days. The new evening dress uniform is similar to the civilian "tails" with white tie.

Beardsley Orders Probe of Recordings Made at Reformatory

DES MOINES (AP) — The case of a prisoner who used an "electric grapevine" to listen in on secret parole board sessions and smuggled wire recordings outside the walls set Iowa officials buzzing Saturday.

Gov. William S. Beardsley, who said he was intrigued but not amused by the prisoner's feat, ordered an immediate investigation.

The governor said he was particularly interested in the question of how 47-year-old Pete Hellyer, a life-terminer, was able to smuggle out the spoils of wire recordings.

Broadcast Copyrighted
The story was disclosed Friday night in a copyrighted broadcast by Jim Bormann, news director of radio station WMT at Cedar Rapids.

Bormann interspersed his broadcast with excerpts of recorded interviews between parole board members and prisoners seeking clemency.

Bormann related the story as follows:

Hellyer entered the Iowa men's reformatory at Anamosa 19 years ago to serve life for a sex crime. Later, he was placed in charge of the prison radio shop which pipes standard broadcasts through the institution. In this shop he built a wire recorder and a powerful radio transmitter.

Other Prisoners Helped
Months ago, with the connivance of other prisoners, Hellyer's microphone was planted in the warden's conference office. His electric eavesdropping on parole board interviews was recorded on wire smuggled into him.

When he was not busy recording, Hellyer was working on his radio transmitter and making hand-tooled leather bags which he permitted to mail to friends and purchasers. In some of these bags, Bormann said, the prisoner ingeniously concealed the wire recordings.

Reformatory officials, meanwhile, apparently considered Hellyer a model prisoner.

On the very day Hellyer planned to go on the air with his transmitter, he was caught, Bormann said.

Mississippi Surges To Record Heights

By United Press
The Mississippi river surged to new record heights at Aitkin, Minn., Saturday, while the Red river of the north appeared to have reached the crest of its second flood in less than a month.

The Mississippi rolled into the low-lying north sections of Aitkin where it was at 18.14 feet, 7.14 feet above flood stage and its highest level in recorded history.

A crest of 18.5 feet was predicted for Monday.

Authorities said 37 farm families had been evacuated from flooded farms in the vicinity, 10 in the Palisade section, and 50 in Aitkin proper. The number was expected to rise.

At Winnipeg, Manitoba, flood conditions remained serious. The army Saturday gave up its fight to reopen a main bridge across the flooding Red river, and a flood expert warned Winnipeg it will be in a "serious predicament" for at least two weeks.

FARM BUREAU DIRECTOR DES MOINES (AP) — Appointment of Allen Hagen as director of the Iowa farm bureau organization department was announced Saturday.

Mrs. Edwards Elected Demo Vice-Chairman
CHICAGO — Mrs. India Edwards was elected vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee Saturday by acclamation of the committee.

Mrs. Edwards, executive director of the Democratic national committee women, spoke at the SUI campus Tuesday during SUI's Democratic party day.

National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr., nominated Mrs. Edwards for the new post to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Gladys A. Tillett.

Republican State Chairman Robert K. Goodwin and Prof. Robert F. Ray, director of SUI's institute of public affairs, announced Saturday that the former chairman of the Republican national committee will speak at the evening session of the Party day in the Iowa Union.

Scott has represented a Philadelphia district in Congress since 1940.

The political party program is designed to give SUI students a chance to learn from party leaders the structure, functions and objectives of political party organization.

A Democratic Party day was held May 9 on the campus.

Goodwin will speak on the organization and functions of the party during the afternoon session of Republican party day in Old Capitol.

Big Three Ends Parley Sure of West Security

LONDON (AP) — The big three foreign ministers ended a three-day cold war council Saturday night confident the west can build freedom into a dynamic force that will secure defenses against communism and win prosperity at the same time.

The whole sickle-shaped realm of struggle ringing the Russian-led Communist world was the field of their discussions.

"The ministers agreed upon the main lines of their policy in all parts of the world," said a communique — the fifth and longest since Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman began their deliberations.

They expressed determination to fight "Communist imperialism" in southeast Asia with firm encouragement and support for new independent states there.

The three ministers decided to set up a committee of experts to consult with other interested governments, particularly Germany and Italy, on increasing migration from overcrowded Europe.

They declared themselves basically in agreement on the importance of the "political development of the peoples of Africa" and the improvement of their economic and social conditions.

The desire for an early treaty of peace and independence for Austria was reaffirmed.

And finally, the three diplomatic chiefs agreed to meet again in New York before the next meeting of the United Nations in September.

Fordham President Raps Charge Against Budenz

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of Fordham university, The Rev. Laurence J. McGinley, Saturday denounced as "slandrous and cowardly" an attack made against Louis F. Budenz by Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM).

Chavez accused Budenz last Friday of using the Catholic church as a "shield and cloak" in the senate's probe of charges of communism in the government.

CHICAGO (AP) — A state Democratic leader who closely predicted President Truman's 1948 victory in Iowa said Saturday the Democrats will capture "from five to eight" congressional seats in the state this fall.

Jack More, Iowa Democratic chairman, here for the party's political rally, said Democratic strength in Iowa has increased since 1948, when the state voted for President Truman but failed to send a single Democrat to the house.

Hopes For Railroad Settlement Increase Despite New Strike

CHICAGO (UP) — The coast-to-coast railroad strike spread to a fifth major system Saturday night but hopes for a settlement increased with an announcement that joint meetings between locomotive firemen and rail executives were resumed.

Firemen walked off their jobs on the Union Pacific's Salt Lake City - Los Angeles division and tied up traffic there.

Meanwhile Leverett Edwards of the national mediation board said that settlement efforts "were going in the right direction" but he would not comment on any specific progress made.

Night Meeting Off
He said that a three hour joint session was held Saturday. A tentatively scheduled night meeting was called off.

Union Pacific spokesmen said the striking Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen gave them enough notice so that all freight on hand was disposed of and no perishables were endangered.

The strike began at 7 p.m. (Iowa time). Railroad spokesmen indicated they would be "forced to close shops, stations and offices throughout the division, and that layoffs might "snowball into the thousands."

The union moved immediately to set up picket lines at passenger stations, freight yards, shops and roundhouses.

Meanwhile, other struck roads sought to restore a measure of normal service. The New York Central announced it will put one passenger train a day into service between Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, starting Monday.

The Southern railway said its situation is "spotty but improving." Southern President Ernest Norris said the road is operating 42 passenger trains.

'Case 2' Answers McCarthy Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Diplomat John Carter Vincent, who is reported to be "Case No. 2" in Sen. Joseph McCarthy's charges of widespread Red influence in government, said Saturday the state department would make a statement on the matter when warranted.

Vincent, who is minister to Switzerland, made that reply in a cable to The Associated Press, which had sent a message to Bern asking him for comment.

McCarthy has said that "Case No. 2" was that of a "foreign agent" who slipped secret government documents to Russia. He did not put Vincent's name on the public record but it has been widely known in government circles that it was Vincent he referred.

Told of Vincent's cable, McCarthy said:

"If the committee and the state department do not conduct a real investigation of case No. 2, I will have to take the senate floor and name the man. I hope the committee won't force me to do that."

U.S. Orders Ouster Of Czech Diplomats
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Saturday ordered a wholesale ouster of Czech diplomats from this country and charged that Czechoslovakia's Soviet satellite government is unable to control its own foreign policy.

The American counterstroke, following a Czech ejection of about 40 U.S. diplomats this week, will send an estimated 22 out of the 33 Czech representatives homeward "within a reasonable time."

The Prague government was ordered to close its consulates in Pittsburgh and Cleveland, leaving only the Washington embassy and the New York consulate to operate at a reduced level.

Previously the United States had closed the Czech consulate at Chicago after the Czech government had cracked down on the United States information service offices at Prague and Bratislava and forced the recall of American Press Attache Joseph C. Kolarek.

No. 2 German Red Arrested
FRANKFURT, GERMANY (AP) — The Communist east German government Saturday solved the mystery of the disappearance of Kurt Mueller, long the No. 2 Communist in west Germany, by announcing his arrest.

High American official expressed belief the arrest signalled a sweeping new purge of "Titoists" in the west German party. They said they had information that 31,000 members of the party have deserted or been expelled since June, 1949, cutting the roll to 185,000.

Soon after the Berlin press printed the announcement of the arrest, Hanover police disclosed that a girl friend of Mueller, Hedwig Fischer, has been missing two days. She is an employe of Communist party headquarters in that city.

Social Democratic party officials in Frankfurt said they believed Mueller, 47, was kidnapped and spirited into the Eastern zone.

JUST LIKE THE MOVIES
COVINGTON, KY. (AP) — In a real-life movie comedy chase, a Covington policeman commandeered a railroad switch engine Saturday to capture a man wanted for robbery.

Robert Rohret, Tiffin, was injured at 9:30 p.m. Saturday when his car collided with one driven by Robert C. Jensen, route 6, about four miles west of Iowa City.

Rohret was taken to Mercy hospital. Hospital officials early today declined to disclose Rohret's injuries or condition.

The cars met on the crest of a hill on a gravel road one mile west and quarter of a mile south of Oak Grove cabin camp on highway 6, highway patrolmen said.

Mary M. Haman, 240 Marietta street, who was in the Rohret car, Betty Schintler, 20, route 1, in the Jensen car, and Jensen escaped serious injury, patrolmen said.

Mothers' Influence Varies Among Great U.S. Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five years ago 92-year-old Martha Truman flew to Washington from her home in Missouri to spend Mother's day with her son, the President of the United States.

The presidency had come suddenly to Harry Truman the preceding month. The visit of the little old lady, with much of his own amiable homespun manner spotlighted relationship of mother and prominent son.

This relationship was further dramatized two years later. In the spring of 1947 Mr. Truman took his work with him to Missouri and kept a long watch at his mother's bedside during her last illness.

The mothers of America's two most famous men — Washington and Lincoln — lived and died long before this country thought of celebrating Mother's day. Neither ever visited her son in the executive mansion.

Sentimental early-day writers gave Nancy Hanks Lincoln and Mary Ball Washington extravagant credit for their sons' successes.

There is scant historical evidence, however, that either Nancy Lincoln or Mary Washington had great influence, except possibly through heredity, in shaping the destinies of their sons. Actually very little is known about either woman.

Nancy Lincoln may have hoped that her boy would go places, but she never knew he was on the road to greatness. She died at the age of 36 in a backwoods Indiana cabin when Abraham Lincoln was nine years old.

Mary Washington lived five months after her son became the first president.

George Washington apparently did not spend much time with his mother after he was 22. He was respectful and kind but never chummy with her.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, in his biography of Washington, says: "By the time George is 27 the reasons for his lack of warm affection for his mother began to appear.

"Although he believed that ample provision was made for her, she was constantly asking for something more. For a present from her half-brother to her daughter, for timber with which to erect a house, for butter and a servant from the frontier, for money whenever George came to visit her."

Dr. Freeman says that "while Washington supplied his mother with what she asked if he possibly could, and tried to show patience toward her, he did not wish to be with her and he seldom gave her his confidence if ever he did."

Authentic information about Nancy Lincoln is scarce. Legend has it that she told Bible stories to little Abe and sent him to country school with the admonition that he learn all he could about "writin', readin' and cipherin'."

She was remembered by neighbors as a sweet, melancholy woman who lived in pioneer poverty and drudgery. She was uneducated but was said to appreciate beauty and to yearn for better things for her family.

It was reported that Lincoln once said: "All that I am and hope to be owe to my angel mother."

Some students of Lincoln's life point out, however, that he had only hazy recollections of his mother and that the "angel" statement, if he made it, probably was one of the conventional deference or defense of a mother who had been maligned by some of his political enemies who whispered that she was an illegitimate child.

Franklin Roosevelt lived a considerable part of his adult life with his mother, Sara Delano Roosevelt, in her Hyde Park home. His widow, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says there was a very close bond between them although he had grown away from his mother in some ways and that in later years they often had not been in sympathy about policies on public affairs.

"In her book, 'This I Remember,' Eleanor Roosevelt says that "Franklin's attitude about letting his sons make their own decisions and own mistakes came very largely from the fact that his mother had wanted to direct his every thought or deed and that he had to fight for independence.

"She did a great many things out of devotion to him that were difficult for her. But she never accepted the fact of his independence and continued to the last to try to guide his life."

Not So Hot!

Weathermen Say Earth Getting Warmer

WASHINGTON (AP) — You're right, old timer. The earth is getting warmer. The weathermen now agree.

If the world's temperature keeps rising at its present, or a faster rate, many things will happen, mostly bad.

Glaciers Melting
For instance, glaciers are melting, making the oceans rise. If the polar ice caps start melting more rapidly their waters could send the seas so high that places like Coney Island or Washington, D.C. would disappear unless somebody built gigantic dikes.

One scientist has estimated that if only the ice in Greenland melted — which isn't likely for several thousand years — it would cause all the oceans of the world to rise about 150 feet.

Might Drown Seaports
Countries like Holland or cities like Washington, that are below sea level or right at sea level, would be more than 100 feet under the water. Many seaports around the world would be "drowned."

There could be some good effects, too. More land would appear from under the world's ice sheets, covering many millions of square miles.

This would mean more land to farm. The world would have more food. There would be more fish in the seas as the oceans grew larger and warmer.

Authorities Weigh Data
H.W. Ahlmann, Swedish authority on glaciers, has assembled information showing most of the glaciers of the world are melting.

Ivan R. Tannehill, chief of reports and forecasts at the U.S. weather bureau, says weather men have been aware of this for some time.

There has long been evidence that weather changed frequently. There were mild winters and there were severe winters.

But Tannehill says most weathermen believed these different types of winters — and summers, too — cancelled each other out over a long period of years. They believed the average between these extreme winters stayed rather stable, that "average" weather had been about the same for a long time.

Mother of Year Says — Parenthood A Privilege

— And Grave Responsibility

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written for The Associated Press by Mrs. Henry Roe Cloud, of West Linn, Oregon, who has been named the American Mother of 1950 by the American Mothers committee. Mrs. Cloud, mother of four daughters, was born on an Indian reservation. Before her marriage to the late Dr. Roe Cloud, a full-blooded Winnebago Indian, she taught school among the Blackfoot Indians in Montana. Dr. Cloud founded a school for Indian boys in Wichita, Kansas. Mrs. Cloud, a graduate of Wellesley, has been prominent in church work and in farm and women's organizations.

By MRS. HENRY ROE CLOUD
American Mother of 1950
My acceptance of the honor of being named "American Mother of 1950" by the American Mothers committee was made first of all with a profound sense of humility, for there is no one American mother.

Across our great land in its country places, its small village hamlets, its bustling cities, American mothers, unknown and unnamed, daily and faithfully fulfill all that is finest in responsible parenthood.

"For all of us it is a privilege, indeed, to be called 'Mother,' a privilege which is at one and the same time a grave responsibility. It is a responsibility which carries with it the richest satisfactions in life, the deepest joy in creating for our children, for our families, the security and warmth of love, the awareness of spiritual values so essential to continuous growth for all of us.

The development of real integrity in our children fulfills the deepest longings and needs of the human spirit, and it can only come through love, courageous and noble love within the family circle where the knowledge of God in life makes of living a glorious adventure.

The great responsibility American mothers and fathers share in parenthood is met only as we enable our children, in the words of the children's charter, "to stand firm under the pressure of life" — this as we give each child our compassionate love and understanding, as we share our awareness of the meaning of love of God and love of man.

If in my own small way I can make any contribution at all, it would be my hope that we realize again and anew that the survival of our American democracy depends upon our response as mothers and fathers to the momentous challenge of our world.

We must as parents free ourselves from self — in the home, in our churches, synagogues and cathedrals, in our communities, in business, in all activities of life.

Intellectually we must be creative, and that can come only as we illuminate our efforts and our powers through faith. We shall have little to fear if we provide the spiritual guidance for our children which alone gives unwavering strength, the steadiness of vision, the clarity of perspective so needed by a world confused in its values.

I am sure that mothers everywhere share the fervent hope that one day the peoples of the earth may dwell in peace, engaged in constructive, fruitful, and lasting endeavor.

I am an Indian mother, and it has been a deeply moving experience for me to know that the American mothers committee makes its choice without regard to considerations of race, creed or color. I know that it means immeasurably much to Indian mothers throughout the land, and that they will value the more the responsibilities that they share with all mothers as they strive earnestly to make their homes a source of strength, a first citadel of their native land.

Our children are the men and women of tomorrow. May we all of us set our stone, humbly try to give full measure in building a better world, a world upon which our sons and daughters may look with clear eyes, and in meeting its challenge, find it good.

LIFE IN AN OYSTER

By GIL PEARLMAN
THE ROMAN EMPIRE WENT PITH! WHY?
Installment No. 3 — "The Double Cross"

SYNOPSIS of Installment No. 1 and 2: We left the Roman Empire in, once again, a state of unity. This unity was brought about by the ingenious plan of planting petunias on every fertile acre of the capital grounds. This gave rise to the mechanization of the Western Hemisphere as two great industries emerged; perfume factories and narcotics syndicates.

THE REASON FOR naming this last installment "The Double Cross" is based on syllogistic logic.

1 — All last installments of great serial stories are entitled, "The Double Cross."

2 — This is a last installment of a great serial story.

3 — Hence, this must be entitled "The Double Cross."

The reasoning here might appear to some impulsive individuals as faulty. But, then, so was the Roman Empire; justifying this habeas corpus upon the most solid foundation.

I PERUSED many volumes (some not even worth a good peruse) to discover a contributory incident to the "Pitting" of the ancient regime, which would fit under the assumed title.

I found no real double cross. Nothing that could compare to the antics of Dan Duryea or Maria Montez.

The only thing that came close to this took place in the days of Pompey the Elder. It was then that Pompey the Younger promised Pompey the Elder, in exchange for a new bow and arrow with his fraternity letters initialed on it in gold, that he would not disgrace the family by marrying Hortense Schmaxzilli, the daughter of a most promiscuous wine distiller who was also an independent.

The irony in the situation is this: After the wedding of Pompey the Elder and Hortense Schmaxzilli, Pompey the Younger kidnapped the bride, who, then, was legally his mother.

He fled to a little known land, later designated Cal City, where he gained fame as a playwright with his production of "Oedipus Rex." Pompey the Elder spent his last days as a test pilot in a local wine factory.

Even this, actually, has little to do with the real decline and fall of the Empire in question, and why it is even mentioned here is far beyond my wildest imagination.

IN CONSIDERING the last days of Rome it is only fair to mention Julius Caesar.

I am trying to be fair. Julius Caesar.

BUT THE REALLY important thing to keep in mind, and one must never lose sight of this, and one never will is — Cleopatra. The mere name of Cleopatra will suffice for historical (and other-mentioned) purposes. Because of her the Roman empire was lost.

But because of her abilities and attitudes the world gained much, so . . . ALL WAS NOT LOST IN VAIN. Indeed, most of it was lost in vice.

EPILOGUE
Today is Mother's Day! There were mothers in the days of the Roman Empire; Cleopatra among others.

I'm not inferring a thing, but a dangerous and significant conclusion can be drawn from this analogy.

Hello-o Mother, dear.
— Voice echoed from Philadelphia — "Ya little brat! If ya wuz here, I'd take ya over my knee. Home wasn't good enough for ya . . . ya had to go to college!"

'Big Blow' Damage Nears $73,500 Total

DES MOINES (AP) — The state board of control reported Saturday the recent terrific wind storm in Iowa did an estimated $73,500 damage at the 14 institutions under its jurisdiction.

"The damage probably was the worst to the institution, from wind in the history of the state," Board Chairman Henry W. Burma commented. "An exception might have been a storm in 1882.

Reports from institution officials, requested following last week's storm, showed that the Mt. Pleasant hospital and the Woodward hospital and school suffered the greatest damage.

MOTHER'S DAY

This Sunday the nation will pay its respects to the greatest career woman of all — the average American Mother. She doesn't manage a huge corporation, paint priceless portraits, or write best-sellers. Her job is far more important than that. She runs a home and rears a family!

We should be thankful, too, that year after year her job has been made easier and more pleasant through the efforts of science and industry.

Take electric service for example. It has done wonders in increasing her comfort and convenience. For just a few cents a day, it can preserve her food, help her wash, iron, clean rugs and numerous other homemaking tasks.

Gas, too, has played an outstanding role in attaining Better Living in the home.

The folks at Iowa-Illinois are proud to have a part in helping the Mothers of this community in their job — by providing the best possible gas and electric service — at the lowest possible cost.

Ill College of Medicine Granted $14,385

A grant of $14,385 has been made to the SUI college of medicine by the life insurance companies participating in the Life Insurance Medical Research Fund of the United States and Canada.

Steven M. Horvath, associate professor of physiology, will use the grant to continue ongoing studies of the reaction of heart and blood vessels to temperature experiments which will seek to determine the effect of hot and cold on the heart, Horvath said.

It is one of 36 medical schools receiving a total of $548,000 for heart disease research from the life insurance companies.

will donate $610,000 for research during 1950, it was decided at a meeting of the Fund members Friday in New York.

Organized in 1945, the Fund's 1950 awards will bring the total donated to $3.2-million.

Pro Net Players Here on Monday

Bobby Riggs' professional tennis troupe makes its only Iowa appearance Monday night at the fieldhouse with a triple-header program featuring the nation's four top net stars.

Riggs, national professional champion, heads the group which includes Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, Jack Kramer and Frankie Parker.

Two singles and a doubles match will be played starting with Gonzales — Kramer dual at 7:30. Riggs will meet Parker in the other singles match and the doubles will pit Riggs-Kramer and Gonzales-Parker.

Reserved seat tickets are on sale at Racine's, Whetstones' and the ticket office in the fieldhouse. General admission and student tickets go on sale before the matches.

Austrian Students Dance in Native Costumes

BEDECKED IN THE GAY COSTUMES OF OLD AUSTRIA, this touring group of 31 Austrian students will bring a delightful brand of music, colorful dances and resounding yodels to SUI Tuesday. The group is pictured in front of the International House at Columbia university in New York.

Musical Show to Feature Touring Austrian Students

Rollicking country dances, folk songs and yodeling will highlight "Merry Scenes From Austria," musical show which 31 Austrian students will stage here Tuesday.

The students are touring the United States as a goodwill gesture to acquaint Americans with Austrian culture. The show will start in Macbride auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Although the tour is in its initial stages, critics have labeled it a "major diplomatic victory for the Austrian government."

Token of Gratitude
Prof. Erich Funke, head of the SUI German department, said the touring group was organized by the Office of Student Tours and Exchanges in Austria.

This organization was founded after World War I as a token of gratitude for aid rendered to Austrian students by students in the United States and England.

Prof. Oskar Bock, lecturer at the University of Vienna and founder of the organization, is director of the tour group. He has devoted most of his life to the education of college youth toward better international understanding.

"Merry Scenes From Austria" is a melodic tour of the romantic Alps, Salzburg, Tyrol, Styria, and legendary Vienna.

The musical show is built around a series of loosely-woven scenes which include courting peasant couples, dairymaids, forest rangers, poaching woodcutters, and pillantering village beaux.

Flirtation Dance
Among the colorful dances is the "Schuhplattler," humorous slap dance in which the dancers vigorously smack and kick themselves and their partners.

Other group dances include "Der Schweinherd," a flirtation dance, and several waltzes. Yodels and folk songs make up a major portion of the program. They are sung by Tyrolean, Carinthian and Styrian groups to the accompaniment of harp, zither, guitar and accordion.

Yodeling Pinnacle
Included in this group of songs are the courting song, "Annamir, Open the Window," "The Pipe-smokers," "My Happiness Is a Little Cabin," "The Cowmilkier," and Strauss' ever popular "Blue Danube."

High point of the yodeling usually is performance of the "Archduke Jihann Yodel," whose rendition is considered the pinnacle of success for any yodeler. The group will perform in authentic costumes loaned to them for the tour by the provincial museums of Austria.

Friend of Haid
Dr. Bruno Haid, resident anesthesiologist in University hospitals, and a former resident of Innsbruck, Austria, is a friend of Bock.

Haid's home is in the same section of Austria from which many members of the student cast come. He came to the United States last summer on a Rotary Foundation fellowship for special training as an anesthesiologist.

Haid received his medical training in Innsbruck and Vienna.

Local Girl Awarded Nursing Scholarship By Cancer Society

Marina Alyce Strabala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Strabala of 1012 E. Washington street, has been awarded one of 50 three-year nurses' scholarships given this spring by the Iowa division of the American Cancer society.

Mrs. D.M. Lierle, chairman of the Johnson county chapter, announced the award which grants tuition, fees, books and uniforms for three years of nurses' training at any accredited Iowa school of nursing.

Miss Strabala indicated she will attend Mercy hospital school of nursing after graduating from St. Mary's high school this month.

The scholarship was awarded on the basis of character, aptitude, academic record and need of financial assistance. Miss Strabala submitted with her application an essay on "Why I Want to Be a Nurse."

Aimed at relieving the nursing shortage in Iowa, the scholarships are part of a long range program of the Iowa division of the American Cancer society to expand its service for needy cancer patients.

County Goal of $447,168 Set for U.S. Bond Drive

A goal of $447,168 has been set for Johnson county in the Independence bond drive, Monday Johnson county co-chairmen.

Bonds sold in the drive will be of the E, F and G series, the chairman said.

The quota for Iowa is $30-million for the series, but competition among states will be based on sales of E bonds only.

Students to Choose New Collegiate C of C Board

A new Collegiate Chamber of Commerce board will be elected between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Wednesday in University hall. One student will be elected from each of the six departments of the college of commerce and all students in that college are eligible to vote, Chamber President Everett Meeker, C4, Iowa City said Saturday.

A new Collegiate Chamber constitution was adopted at a meeting Thursday. One feature of the new constitution is that all students in the college of commerce are automatically members of the Chamber, Meeker said.

Board members elected Wednesday will serve until May, 1951, Meeker said. To vote, students must present their student number cards at one of the voting tables which will be placed in University hall.

Nominees for the board positions and the commerce college department they represent are:

General business — Lawrence E. Sjulin, C3, Hamburg; Ned O. Vitquin, A3, Ames; Robert J. Larson, C3, Fort Dodge; John F. Halberstadt, A3, Alden; and Edward J. Vavra, A2, Cedar Rapids.

Accounting — Charles J. Dress, C3, Dyersville; Donald J. Kolar, C3, Iowa City; Max S. Davis, C3, Iowa City; Robert Concannon, C3, Davenport; and Bernard J. Rehnstrom, C3, Linn Grove.

Secretarial — Mildred Casey, C3, La Porte City; and Janet Johnson, C3, Eagle Grove.

Marketing — Harry F. Eisele, C3, Grinnell; Norman R. Pegrarn,

A3, Carlisle, and Leo J. Boese, A3, Postville.

Economics — David A. Schoell, A3, Burlington, and Jane A. Gierke, A3, Davenport.

Labor - management's representative will be chosen on a write-in ballot.

Court Drops Charge Against SUI Student

A charge of resisting arrest filed by police Thursday against Jerome K. Sherman, G, 416 S. Johnson street, was dismissed Saturday by C. J. Hutchinson, acting police court judge.

The charge was filed against the zoology student after he and a policeman argued over an overtime parking summons the officer issued to Sherman.

Sherman, who said he is a research assistant in cancer at University hospitals, argued his own case in court Friday and told the judge "there is nothing in my character which would lead me to resist arrest."

After the Friday hearing, the judge set the decision for noon Saturday.

University Hospitals Establish Four Cancer Projects

A museum of pathological specimens from tumor tissue is being established at University hospitals to aid medical students and staff doctors in learning about cancer.

Financed with part of a grant of $24,426 from the U.S. Public Health Service, the museum is one of four projects undertaken to teach cancerology — the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

The projects are under the financial direction of Dr. Dabney H. Kerr, professor and head of the radiology department, Dr. Everett D. Plass, head of the obstetrics and gynecology department, and Dr. H. B. Elkins, assistant professor of radiology.

Colored Photographs
Colored photographs of pathological specimens from the patient's tumor, the history and photograph of the patient, a record of symptoms, treatment administered and results of the treatment will be included for each case in the museum displays.

In this way, students and doctors may study the entire course of the disease. Dr. Nathan A. Womack, professor and head of the surgery department, is in charge of the museum.

Since this is the third year the Public Health Service has extended a grant to University hospitals, two of the projects have been in operation for some time.

Tumor Registry
Part of the grant is being used to modernize the hospital tumor registry, a system organized in 1930 to record every patient having a tumor and to investigate the action of the tumor over an indefinite period of years.

Every case of tumor is reported to the registry, according to Elkins. After the patient leaves the hospital, the registry writes him during the second, fourth and ninth month of the first year, and once a year after that.

Cancer May Reappear
The purpose of the letter is to discover the general health of the patient and keep him alerted to favorable or unfavorable conditions that may be developing.

Most patients return to the hospital for examination every six months for the first five years and after that, once a year.

It is necessary to check the patient often and over a long period because a cancer may reappear after seemingly being cured, Elkins said.

Approximately 20,000 tumor cases have been recorded by the registry since it was started. About 1,800 are added each year.

For five years doctors and technicians have been working on a third project financed by the grant. They have been evaluating the results of smear cytology in an effort to find an accurate test to screen large groups for cancer of the cervix. Cytology concerns the study of the body cells.

Fourth Project
A dependable vagina smear test can "weed out" persons suspected of having cancer as well as those who definitely have a malignant condition, Elkins said. Early cases can be detected this way.

Considerable training of personnel and extensive research has been necessary to accurately evaluate the test.

A fourth project, recently completed, involved administering a comprehensive cancer examination to SUI medical students, and members of the resident and teaching staff who wished to take it.

The test will be used to compare SUI teaching methods with other institutions in order to evaluate these techniques.

The University of California will evaluate the machine-graded tests since the project is a cooperative venture with that school. A preliminary report is expected in about a month, Elkins said.

LOWDEN AWARDS
Charles R. Beye, A2, Iowa City, and John O. Lenaghan, A1, Clinton, were named Saturday winners of Lowden prizes for efficiency in Greek and Latin respectively. Presentation of the awards will be at a later date.

Engineering Student Wins District Prize

Russell Soderquist, E4, Marshalltown, Friday night won first place in the Great Lakes district contest of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at Jackson, Mich., for his paper on "The Half-Million-Volt Selenium Rectifier."

Soderquist's paper was judged the best of 20 presentations by students from engineering colleges throughout midwestern states.

Prof. Lawrence Ware of the electrical engineering department described Soderquist's paper as "an outstanding paper which deserved honor."

Soderquist was selected to represent SUI at the contest after winning $25 first prize for his paper at an SUI - Iowa State college contest here April 25.

Last Tuesday the same paper won $15 first place in a contest sponsored by the Cedar Rapids section of the Institute of Radio Engineers held at SUI.

SWANER'S

Now that Spring is really here for sure and all the Joes and Janes on the Iowa campus are getting their sunbans in, it's about time for all of us to take a relaxing moment out between studying for all those finals. Where to meet your friends during these sunny days for that between-classes pickup is the big question. Where else but... Swaner's Dairy Store — located across the street from the Englert Theater at 218 E. Washington. Here in a clean and healthful atmosphere you and your friends will find healthful and tasty refreshment. Whatever your taste may be, Swaner's has a wide selection of dairy products.

This week there is no one tip-of-the-week, just stop in and you'll see what we mean. At the top of the list we find an especially nourishing treat, Swaner's Banana Split... it's made with half a banana, any three ice cream flavors, any three toppings, and last but not least, this taste delight is topped with Reddi-Wip. Another favorite with the campus crowd is Swaner's healthful and delicious Orange Juice. It can't be beat during this time of the year. Why not take a bottle of this nourishing drink up to your room?

In the line of ice cream sodas, let your eyes roam over this wide selection of flavors. You will find cherry, strawberry, raspberry, root beer, pineapple, vanilla, butter scotch, lemon, marshmallow, and chocolate. Those in the know prefer Swaner's delicious malteds, milkshakes, and sundaes made with real ice cream. Your heart's desire will be found at 218 E. Washington St., the home of good dairy refreshment at all times whether it be after a show date or between classes. Remember... "Meet you down at Swaner's soon" is the campus password. Be seeing you and your friends.

There is still time to order your Mother's day flowers. Curtis Florists are open this morning and will serve your complete needs. If you have forgotten to order Mom her corsage or bouquet, stop at 117 S. Dubuque this morning. What else could be more appropriate for Mom's gift than a lovely spring corsage or bouquet. It's not too late! Curtis has selections to fill your every wish for a beautiful gift for Mom. Come down now to Curtis Florists, 117 S. Dubuque or phone 6566!
