'Liberal' Slate Conceded Win In Pennsylvania GOP Primary

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Gov. James H. Duff and his liberal ticket was conceded victory late Tuesday in the bitter Pennsylvania Republican party fight over the old guard candidates of former U.S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy.

Jay Cooke, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination against John S. Fine, conceded shortly before 1:30 a.m. (Iowa time).

He said that it "was obvious" on the basis of latest returns that Fine had been nominated at Tuesday's primary.

Duff, running for the U.S. senate nomination, had a lead of more than three-to-one over his opponent, Rep. John C. Kunkel.

Urges GOP Support
Cooke urged full support of Fine, Duff and "the entire Republican ticket" in the November election against the Democrats.

The balloting indicated that the voters were giving their blessing to Duff's bid to wrest control of the powerful state GOP organization from Grundy, who put him in power.

Big and buff, with a temper to match his red hair, Duff campaigned on a liberal platform. During his four-year term as governor, he completed a vast public improvements program that brought criticism that he was a spendthrift and "a dictator."

Repeatedly in the primary campaign, he said he would rather lose with his running mate, Fine, than win with Cooke, an independent who ran with Grundy's support.

Opposed Grundy
"Defeat Grundyism in Pennsylvania or the Democrats will win in the fall with dire prospects for the 1952 presidential elections," Duff said.

His bitter hatred of Grundy stemmed from the 1948 Republican party convention in Philadelphia when he was outmaneuvered by the wealthy, 97-year-old Grundy.

At the time Duff was determined that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York should not get the nomination. Duff favored Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and when Vandenberg declined to run, switched his support to Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio). At this point, Grundy swung the Pennsylvania delegation to Dewey which resulted in a bandwagon victory for Dewey.

The Trumanite charge was lodged against Duff when he and five other Republican governors suggested a new liberal policy for the GOP. The plea fell on deaf ears but resulted in a bid from Mr. Truman for Duff to join the Democratic party.

Yugoslavs Charge Russ Massing Tanks, Troops

BLEGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA (AP) — Marshall Tito's government Tuesday reported Soviet tank movements in Bulgaria, pontoon bridging on the Danube and airfield construction along Yugoslav-Russia frontiers.

The reported moves were cited officially as proof that Russia continues "war-mongering" toward Yugoslavia.

Auto Salesman Fined $100 for Molesting SUI Woman Student

James A. Miller, 22, Washington, Iowa, auto salesman, was fined $100 and costs Tuesday on assault and battery charges filed by an SUI coed Monday night.

Miller appeared before Justice of the Peace C.J. Hutchinson at a 3 p.m. hearing and pleaded guilty to the charge. He gave no reason for his actions, but did tell the judge "some of my friends have told me I should see a psychologist."

Miller also was ordered to pay $10 for damages done to the coed's glasses which were shattered.

The incident took place about 10:10 p.m. on West Market street near the chemistry building. Miller was arrested about one hour later.

Miller, married and father of an infant son, told police he had never seen the coed before the incident.

Mrs. Miller, a small red-haired woman, appeared at the hearing and agreed to pay the fine.

Police said Miller told them he had parked his car near the scene of the incident, and when he saw the coed coming towards him up the hill, he got out of his car and walked to meet her.

As the two met, Miller said, he suddenly grabbed the girl putting his handkerchief over her mouth so she could not scream.

The coed about a foot shorter than Miller, struggled to get away and was knocked to the ground. Free from Miller's grasp, she began to call for help, and Miller got in his car and fled.

Police, with only the knowledge that Miller was driving a green Kaiser sedan with a demonstrator's license, and a very vague description of the man, were able to find Miller in about an hour.

Taken to the police station, Miller at first denied any connection with the incident, but after telling several conflicting versions of his activities in Iowa City since leaving Washington earlier in the day, he confessed.

Sidener said he complied with this order, but later he and about 130 other members of his local tried to return to their jobs. He said they were turned back by a roadblock and a picket line.

UAW President John L. Lewis, who publicly ordered compliance with the court's back-to-work order, denied Sidener's charge in advance, but rejected an invitation to attend the subcommittee hearing.

In a letter to Subcommittee Chairman Andrew Jacobs (D-Ind), the mine leader denied flatly that the UMW had given any "whistle stop" instructions to Sidener, either directly or indirectly.

Sidener, testifying under oath, said he got his orders to disregard the injunction and to call remaining men from their jobs from Bernard J. Beasley, a UMW district official in Illinois.

He said Beasley told him by telephone that "John L. said the whistle blew once for Monday."

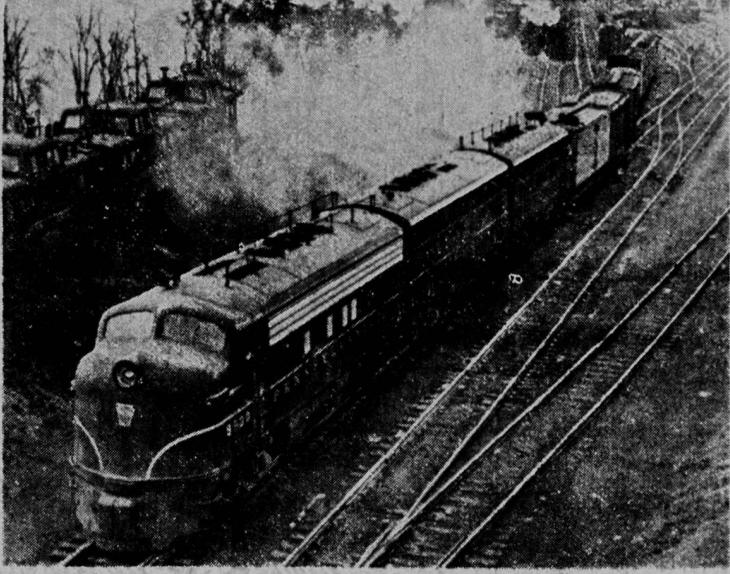

16 Prep Seniors Try For Kinnick Awards
About 16 Iowa high school seniors will visit SUI Monday and Tuesday to take tests and be interviewed for the five Nile Kinnick scholarships to be awarded later this year.

The scholarships are awarded to freshman students as a memorial to the late Nile Kinnick and other SUI men who died in World War II.

The 16 seniors will be honored at a coffee hour and luncheon and will stay in SUI fraternity houses while here.

The candidates are John Tarr, Fort Dodge; William Stenger, Davenport; Russell Schaub, Northwood; Carroll Sawin, Anthon; Don Preuss, New London; Douglas Lawson, Council Bluffs.

Strike Over, Trains Start Moving West

HIGHBALLING WEST exhaust smoke rises from one of the first Diesel-powered freight trains to move westward as it leaves the Pennsylvania railroad's mammoth Enola yards near Harrisburg, Pa., Tuesday, a few hours after settlement of the strike of locomotive firemen and engineers. Harrisburg was the western terminus of the road's operation during the seven-day strike.

Miners Ignored Court, Cabre Pinned

WASHINGTON (UP) — An ousted United Mine Workers official asserted Tuesday night the union answered a federal court's back-to-work order during last winter's coal strike by calling additional men from their jobs.

Lloyd Sidener, who said he was removed as president of a UMW local at Canton, Ill., after leading an unsuccessful back-to-work movement, told a house labor subcommittee that maintenance men had been left on the job in the strip mine where he was employed near Canton.

He said a few hours after a court here enjoined the strike he was directed to call them out.

Sidener said he complied with this order, but later he and about 130 other members of his local tried to return to their jobs. He said they were turned back by a roadblock and a picket line.

UAW President John L. Lewis, who publicly ordered compliance with the court's back-to-work order, denied Sidener's charge in advance, but rejected an invitation to attend the subcommittee hearing.

Clipped Bull Horns Into Love Squabble

TOSSA DEL MAR, SPAIN (AP) — Mario Cabre, the bullfighter who is in love with actress Ava Gardner, escaped death Tuesday when a bull pinned him against the wooden rail of a ring at Gerona.

The fact that the animal's horns had been clipped — by the barber of Gerona — saved Cabre's life, according to reports.

It happened during the main bullfight scene for the film, "Pandora and the Flying Dutchman," which co-stars Miss Gardner and James Mason, and while the actress and crooner Frankie Sinatra chatted and dined at a seaside town 35 miles away.

Miss Gardner, who denied she loves Cabre but is reported to be "intrigued" by him, could not be reached for comment on the incident. She and Sinatra, who leaves today for Paris, lunched after they cancelled a sailing date because the wind was too strong.

Cabre's narrow escape was the main topic of conversation in this town of 1,500 on Spain's Costa Brava (wild coast).

Sinatra, who decided his trip to Spain was a mistake, prepared to leave 24 hours ahead of schedule.

Rejection of the President's proposal for new estate and gift taxes — shouted down without a committee rollcall — raised new doubts that congress will produce a tax bill that Mr. Truman will approve.

The administration had proposed that estate and gift tax exemptions be decreased and the tax rates increased.

Another Tax Proposal
Still awaiting committee action is one big revenue proposal by the President — that an additional $650-million tax be put on corporations by raising the corporation income tax rate from 38 to 42 percent.

There is no proposal before the committee to raise individual income taxes.

The corporation dividend withholding plan is patterned after the present tax withholdings on wages and salaries.

Prof. Parker Resigns To Take Eastern Post
Prof. Edward M. Parker of the civil engineering department has resigned to accept a position as research engineer at the Washington, D.C., operations research office of Johns Hopkins university.

Parker has been on leave of absence from SUI the past year doing work at Johns Hopkins. His resignation will become effective at the end of the present academic year.

DOUKHOBORS SENTENCED
GRAND FORKS, B.C. (AP) — Sixteen Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, 10 of them women, were sentenced Tuesday to maximum three year prison terms on charges of nude parading.

Speaking at a dinner celebrating the 25th anniversary of International House, an institution of 525 students from more than 50 countries, Dulles warned:

Rail Strike Settled; Loss to Business, Labor, $50-Million

CHICAGO (AP) — The strike against five key rail systems — the nation's most crippling rail tieup in four years — was settled Tuesday with the loss in business and wages estimated up to $50-million.

The struck lines began rolling with passengers and freight a few hours after the settlement. Operations were being stepped up swiftly and all the lines said they expected to be virtually back to normal by today.

The carriers claimed the locomotive firemen's union dropped its principal demand for a second fireman on big diesels, and declared, "The losses, inconvenience and interruption of production occasioned by this strike simply do not make sense."

"Stood Ground"
They said the railroads had "stood their ground against the feather-bedding demands" of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers "only at tremendous cost," and added: "This experience should end any illusion that the railway labor act assures healthy labor-management relations or protects the public against paralyzing strikes."

However, David B. Robertson, union president, said the union merely modified its demand, and that a board of arbitration will decide whether the railroads are using supervisory personnel to do the work of a second fireman on the big diesels.

He termed the agreement "satisfactory."

18,000 Struck
Some 18,000 firemen struck May 10 against parts of the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Santa Fe and Southern railway systems. The strike was extended to a part of the Union Pacific railroad May 13.

The Pennsylvania estimated Tuesday that its freight and passenger loss was $15-million. It estimated its 85,000-mile employees lost $6-million in wages.

The other roads involved did not announce their estimates, but the Chicago Tribune said before the Pennsylvania and New York Central estimates were announced that the cost of the walkout had been estimated variously at from $40-million to $50-million.

Lines Recall Crews
Minutes after word of the agreement was reached, the struck lines began recalling engine and train crews.

They rushed empty freight cars to idle western Pennsylvania coal mines, where more than 20,000 miners have been made idle and to industrial concerns in desperate need. Some affected auto parts producers called back their furloughed employes.

Showers, Clouds Soothe Sunburns
Cloudiness with occasional light showers Tuesday broke the five-day spell of sunny skies and shirt-sleeve temperatures which sent trees into bloom and blistered many arms and noses.

For today, U.S. weather forecasters predicted partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures, with a few rain showers along the eastern border early in the day. More showers were expected late tonight.

High temperature Tuesday was 57 degrees at 11:30 a.m., an 18-degree dip from the 75-degree high recorded at the civil aeronautics administration Monday.

High today is expected to hit the 70's by late afternoon.

Primary Vote Deadline
May 26 is the deadline for registering to vote in the June 5 primary election, the city clerk's office announced Tuesday.

Local residents who have not voted within the past four years or who have changed their addresses since last voting must register to be eligible to vote in the primary.

Dulles Asks Central Planning for Cold War
NEW YORK (AP) — John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the state department, called Tuesday night for a supreme allied military command of western forces, a bi-partisan American foreign policy, and a single national planning staff in the U.S. government for the cold war.

Speaking at a dinner celebrating the 25th anniversary of International House, an institution of 525 students from more than 50 countries, Dulles warned:

"Soviet communism is in deadly earnest, whereas the so-called 'free world' is lackadaisical. . . in this cold war is a serious business. . . By it, Soviet communism is rapidly advancing its program of encirclement and building up its manpower, natural resources and military and industrial power so stances of our time require that certain enjoyments and prerogatives should, to a small degree, be temporarily foregone if we are to preserve the great body of freedom," Dulles said. "This is not a prospect which should dismay us."

"As far as the Soviet Union is concerned, we have reason to be confident. We have shown in every field the capacity to do better. . . The Russians . . . hope to take over domination of the world. That project is fantastic except as our lethargy gives it scope. It is time to end that lethargy, to play to game and play to win."

Omicron Delta Kappa Initiates 17 Members

Rail Strike Delays Casey Jones Here

"Casey" Jones the engineer who once brought his trains into stations before time, is 16 days late in arriving at Iowa City.

"Casey" was scheduled to steam into the Iowa City postoffice May 1 by way of U.S. postage stamp but there has been no sign of him, postal officials said.

The federal government honored the railroad engineers of America by printing 115-million commemorative stamps bearing "Casey's" picture. Iowa City's share has gone astray.

Method in the Madness —

Sen. Joseph McCarthy's (R-Wis.) many-sided charges of communism in the state department have by this time fallen into a fairly consistent pattern.

The McCarthy method ought to be studied at length because it is an almost perfect demonstration of the type of political demagoguery Fascists and Communists often use.

The Wisconsin senator has copied an effective technique. He has an answer for everything. Most of the time it is not a direct answer and he is proved to be wrong more often than right. He ignores evidence that does not support his charges or that proves him wrong.

But he is never on the defensive. He keeps attacking and repeating his charges. The net effect is that he is convincing to many people who already are jittery over alleged Communist infiltration into government.

One example of McCarthy's technique gives a clear picture of how he operates. On April 25 a witness before the Tydings subcommittee made a pointed and convincing denial of Mc-

Carthy's charges. But McCarthy stole the whole show by a sensational new charge. He said a "mysterious high official" in the state department had been named as pro-Communist in secret testimony, from which McCarthy was excluded. But without his cloak of congressional immunity McCarthy refused to name the "mysterious high official." Almost every metropolitan newspaper in the country front paged McCarthy's charge.

The next day McCarthy revealed the man's name in libel free senate proceedings. He was Haldore Hansen, whom the subcommittee had already cleared once. Speaking for the subcommittee, which included both Democrats and Republicans, Sen. Brian McMahon (D-Conn.) declared McCarthy's assertion "not accurate." In other words, McCarthy had lied.

To underestimate McCarthy would be a dangerous mistake. He is the first man in top public life to use the rabble rousing technique Hitler made famous. The nation's inability to handle him is all too evident.

Stealthy Invasion —

Stealthily, insidiously, like a Communist underground movement, it creeps up on you. And before you know it, you are lost.

A golden-haired girl cruises by in a canary-colored convertible.

A baseball spats against a glove in a vacant lot.

The smell of green grass and freshly-plowed earth drifts through an open window.

And the feeling creeps over you, like an anesthetic just starting to take effect. Is it just psychological or is it biological? No one seems to know. You can fight it if you like—it will do you no good.

For the tears of anguish will mingle with the sweat of despair to stain the pages of your book. The wet stains will form strange designs and soon your mind will be beside a cool stream or deep in a wooded wilderness.

Spring fever is here and this dread disease is no respecter of students.

So put away those books and bask in the warm sun, stroll by the riverbank with a pretty girl, or take a canoe out on the river; enjoy the balmy, ambitious-less days.

But there will be the cool, small hours of the morning. Then, in the quiet broken only by the occasional chirp of a cricket—then you can study.

—And shucks, it's still two weeks 'till finals.

Smathers' 'Give 'Em Hell' Tactics Salted Down Pepper in Florida

MIAMI (AP) — Tall and handsome George Smathers whipped Florida's Sen. Claude Pepper with lots of "give 'em hell" against the FEPC, the CIO and Russia.

The chap who exploded the "myth that Claude Pepper couldn't be beaten" — Smathers' own words — also was favored with a good speaking voice and a strong pair of legs.

Two - Term Congressman

Of course the rangy 36-year-old ex-marine was a two-term congressman. True, he had whipped an eight-year man in congress for the job. But when it came to politics on a statewide Florida level, George Smathers was pretty much of an amateur.

He made up his mind to campaign for the Democratic senatorial nomination solely on Pepper's 14-year record in the senate. He came out swinging from the start. There were lots of wild punches, but he kept Pepper off-balance trying to explain things.

Hits Pepper's Speeches

The young man from Miami bore down on Pepper's past friendship for Russia and his speeches before many Communist - front groups. He said Pepper backed the FEPC — a bad-sounding name to some "hog and hominy" rural areas. Then Smathers went after the CIO political action committee and what he called "big labor bosses."

All this was a bitter dose for Claude Pepper.

The two once had been close friends. Smathers said the break came in 1945 when Pepper "began running around with the Henry Wallace crowd and consorting with Communists."

Former Campus Hero

The six-foot-three Smathers had been a campus hero at the University of Florida where he captained the college basketball team, was a track man and a champion debater. No one would run against him for presidency of the student body.

A warm Pepper-Smathers partnership was formed in 1938. Pepper was running for re-election and although Smathers was still a student he became a Pepper county campaign manager. He stumped around the state for his friend.

Successful District Attorney

A year out of law school and Smathers became an assistant U. S. district attorney — with Pepper's help. He did a successful job of prosecuting.

Sathers volunteered for the marines, spent 39 months in the service. He served 18 months in the Pacific. After separation he went to work as a special assistant attorney general handling war fraud cases, then resigned to run for congress.

Smathers has voted with the Truman administration much more often than against. He went down the line on foreign issues. He calls himself a "middle-of-the-road liberal Democrat."

GEORGE SMATHERS, Florida congressman gives the "OK" signal after winning the Democratic nomination of a seat in the U.S. senate over Florida's famous Claude Pepper.

Supports Taft - Hartley

Generally, Smathers preaches less deficit spending and more free enterprise. He promises never to vote for repeal of the Taft - Hartley act. He's against the national health insurance plan and of course the FEPC. He calls the Townsend plan, which Pepper favors, a "cruel deception."

This young man who was referred to in the campaign by the other side as "George George" and "Georgie Profile" never had to worry about money. His father, Judge Frank Smathers, bedridden for 11 years for arthritis, saw to that. But the judge made his children toe the mark and learn how to take hard knocks.

Smathers married Rosemary Townley in March 1939 and the couple has two sons, John, 8, and Bruce, 6.

Smathers has been trying out speeches on his wife ever since he first entered public life and slender, blue-eyed and pretty, Mrs. Smathers confides:

"I think he believes that if he can convince me, he can convince anybody."

Puzzled 12-Year-Old Honored by Group As 150,000th DP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dace Epermanis, a puzzled but game 12-year-old Latvian girl who is the 150,000th displaced person to reach these shores, held a news conference Tuesday and disclosed that:

She likes television very much. She likes New York City very much.

She likes America very much. A cute blonde, with her long hair in braids, Dace (pronounced "Dabtz") is being given the all-out treatment, as befitting the 150,000th displaced person to arrive here.

She was brought to Washington by the National Capital Sesqui-centennial commission, an outfit set up to help this city celebrate its 150th birthday.

The Sesqui people have a week-long program lined up for her that would stagger an ox. It includes everything from meeting the governors of Virginia and Maryland to getting an honorary membership in the 4-H club.

All of which is quite a load for a little girl who has spent five of her 12 years in a displaced persons camp.

But she is bearing up well, as is her family.

This includes her father, Bernhards, and 15-year-old brother, Juris who has decided he'd rather be known as George. Father and George have gone on to Perry, N.Y., to work on a dairy farm.

Dace and Mrs. Epermanis — like Dace, she's a nice looking blonde — came here

Father Dies While Saving Son's Life

OAKLAND, CALIF. (AP) — A father gave his life to save his son's here Tuesday, following a blood exchange operation.

The son, 11-year-old Robert Bruce Lawrence, probably will recover, physicians said. He has nephrosis, a kidney disease, and needed a complete change of blood.

Sidney E. Lawrence, 40, the father, volunteered for the operation. The bloods were of matching type. He was told that in such an operation, there always is some danger to the donor because of foreign material he is taking into his own system.

"Go ahead," he said.

The operation was performed several days ago, and for nearly three hours, father and son were linked together by exchanging their blood. Tuesday the father died.

"He died thinking he had saved his son's life. That was a wonderful thought to him," said Mrs. Norma Gene Lawrence, the widow.

Interpreting the News —

Mutual Benefits Interest Russia

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Trygve Lie is getting the headlines, but there is another United Nations missionary in Moscow now who has been receiving considerable Russian attention, too.

He is Gunnar Myrdal, Secretary of the United Nations Economic commission for Europe, which is seeking ways and means of breaking down the iron curtain insofar as it applies to trade between eastern and western Europe.

The two Scandinavians — Lie is a Norwegian and Myrdal, a Swede — have the common objective of easing tensions in the cold war. But whereas Lie works in the political field, where compromise seems almost impossible, Myrdal is dealing with concrete matters involving mutual benefits.

Europe's expanding industry needs eastern outlets where income can be obtained to offset expected reductions in American aid when the Marshall plan ends.

The Soviet bloc needs machinery and other things if its industrial objectives are to be attained. One of the great problems is the U.S. ban, under the Marshall plan, on shipments of "war potential" materials. So many things fit into modern "war potential" that the free list is mighty small.

This has resulted in evasions by western Europe, and in the development of a vast smuggling business on the part of Russia.

So far as the United States is concerned the effect of the ban is shown in the March trade figures, just announced, worth of American goods in that month, and the entire Soviet bloc only 2.7 - million

It's a profitable situation for Russia which, despite a retaliatory ban on manganese and chrome, sold the U.S. 3.5 - million

Night Clubs Crowded —

Burlesque Invades Germany

— As New, Added Fillip

FRANKFURT (AP) — The American strip tease has got German night life tied firmly to a G-string.

Nearly every big city night club features at least one dame who specializes in undressing in public.

It's a new wrinkle in German entertainment and it has the customers flocking in droves. The bug-eyed burgers eat it up.

Older Germans remember the rash of night clubs which sprang up after World War I. Entertainment was spicy and frequently on the commercial vice level.

A similar situation prevails in west Germany today, with the strip tease as a new and added fillip.

The girl most west Germans prefer to see is a sloop-eyed brunette named Laya Raki. She says she is half Dutch and half Indonesian.

She does a dance called "The Indian Gravestone" which definitely is out of the cemetery class and which leaves her quite chilly from the waist up. Since Miss Raki is a girl who might give pause to Jane Russell, the customers love it.

They blow foam off seidels of beer and applaud wildly when her gold scarf is discarded and she dances in a smile and a G-string.

A tour of Frankfurt night clubs yielded a bounteous harvest of undressed entertainment, but the German version of the American strip tease rarely is subtle.

In one night club a flashily dressed master of ceremonies announced Miss So-and-So would dance a tango.

A weary orchestra thumped away while a black-haired fraulein trudged aimlessly about wearing a G-string and two feather fans. Occasionally she dropped the fans to bare her chest to the enthusiastic audience.

It was anything but a tango but nobody seems to mind.

One night club ran by a German woman has run in another version of undressed entertainment.

Every night at 12 o'clock a ten-minute motion picture of semi-nude girls is shown.

The scenes are set in the night club. While a man and woman hold hands amorously, girls with bare chests and loin cloths made of artificial butterflies or orchids simmer daintily.

It has the place packed every night.

In adopting the strip tease the German clubs also have taken over other practices of American hot spots. The lowly gin fizz, for example, costs the equivalent of a dollar and a half and up. The drinks are so small one could be misled in a large spoon.

There are no complaints, however, when the dainty lady with the fan, scarf or balloon shows up to take the chill off the place.

Another club sandwiches old style German entertainment — an acrobat or two and a frozen-faced singer — along with the strip tease.

There are other clubs spoken of in whispers but they admit only special members. Some Germans say these go far beyond the strip tease and deal frankly in outright vice. The police frequently close in.

The garden variety of undressed entertainment, however, seems here to stay.

Pen to Pen

ALTUS, OKLA. (AP) — You can't beat the civic mindedness of one Altus citizen.

He asked and received permission to delay his trip until he could be counted for the census here.

Then he left for the McAlester state penitentiary to serve a term on a criminal charge.

Cedar Chest Helps Keep Wardrobe 'Good as New'

If college women follow the time-honored tradition of clothes storage, next fall they will find sweaters and skirts as good as new.

There are many methods of storage, the perhaps the easiest and most efficient is the cedar chest. Definite rules of storage have been set up by the cedar chest manufacturers to obtain the greatest results — moth-repellent storage.

These rules should be observed in storing winter blankets, coats, suits, draperies and other items to be saved until next fall.

Preparing for Storage
First of all, prepare an article for storage by having it dry cleaned or washed. It should be thoroughly brushed prior to cleaning, especially in folds and creases. If possible, all pieces should be sunned for a day after they have been cleaned, and brushed again before being placed in the cedar chest.

This is necessary because many times items are folded and piled up until they are ready to be stored. If stored in a dark place, moths again may attack and lay eggs regardless of sunning, brushing and cleaning done previously.

Second Item
Then arrange all items stored in neat piles in the cedar chest. Each should be folded neatly in order to consume as little space as possible. Do not pack the chest too tightly and cut off the cedar aroma within the chest. The aroma is the protective screen. Keep the chest closed as much as possible to prevent the important cedar aroma from escaping.

A few don'ts when it comes to storing are:
Generally speaking, nothing should be wrapped and placed in a cedar chest.

Have Loose Wrapping
If wrapping is necessary because of the delicate nature of the article to be stored, a tissue paper should be used and wrapping should be loose. Under no circumstances use newspaper as the cedar oil will cause the ink to run.

Silver or other metals never should be placed in a cedar chest because they will tarnish, and rubber articles such as bathing caps and hot water bottles will rot if placed in the chest.

If the above directions are followed — next fall's winter belongings will be found fresh and damage free.

Hancher Main Speaker At Fraternity Banquet

SUI President Virgil M. Hancher will be the main speaker at the annual Delta Sigma Rho banquet at 7:30 tonight in Hotel Jefferson.

Instructor Merrill Baker, speech department, said seven students will be initiated into the national honorary forensic fraternity.

Local Woman's Club Plans Petunia Contest

The Iowa City Woman's club, sponsor of the campaign to beautify the city by planting petunias, Tuesday announced a petunia contest.

Club officials said prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded winners who will be announced on or before Aug. 15. Entry blanks for the contest are available at the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company.

Entries will be judged on improvement of the planted area, general attractiveness of the area, and originality of the idea. A "before" and "after" picture may be submitted but is not necessary, club officials said.

Any local resident or organization may enter the contest. All entries must be mailed to Mrs. G.E. Grunwald, 509 Brown street, and must be postmarked before Aug. 1.

SUI Group to Present Music Recital Today

Two students and two faculty members of the music department will perform three numbers at 8 p.m. today over radio station WSUI.

Performing will be Prof. Hans Koebel, cello; Instructor John Simms, piano; Eugene Hilligoss, G. Ames, cello, and David Miller, A1, Davenport, cello.

Koebel and Simms will open the program with "First Sonata" by Martinu. Handel's "Sonata, opus 2 No. 8" will be played by Hilligoss, Miller and Simms. To conclude the program, Koebel, Hilligoss and Miller will play Popper's "Requiem, opus 66."

National Guard Ball Planned for Tonight

The National Guard military ball will be held tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock at the Community building, 204 S. Gilbert street.

Truman Converting U.S. To 'Handout State'--Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) charged Tuesday night that President Truman's policies would bankrupt the nation, convert it into a completely regimented "handout state" and possibly plunge it into World War III.

Taft, taking to the radio to answer the charges of GOP "obstructionism" Mr. Truman made on his cross-country stumping tour, angrily raked the "political immorality" of the administration.

He spoke of vote frauds in Kansas City and smuggling of secret documents in Washington. And he accused the president of a "promise everything" policy that "will wreck the United States."

Rubberstamp Congress
In an address prepared for a four - network audience (10:30 p.m. Iowa time) Taft charged that Mr. Truman's 6,400-mile trip—"taken at your expense"—was part of a crusade for a "rubberstamp congress."

The senator accepted the president's challenge to "come out for something and be a real opposition." "Mr. Truman hurried it Monday night in a major address at Chicago.

The Republican party, he said, stands for four - square resistance to Communism, an "all-powerful armed force," real freedom of the individual, equality between business and labor, and "a return to the principles of thrift and sound fiscal policy on which this nation was constructed."

Free Congress
"If we hope to progress in the future as we have in the past,"

Taft said, "we can only do so if we elect a free congress, one which will carry out a program of progress based on the principles of liberty and justice and equality on which this nation was founded."

The Democratic 81st congress, he declared, "has rejected the Truman program as definitely and conclusively as the Republican 80th."

The people, he said, are rightfully alarmed over "the uncertain basis of their prosperity" and, even more so, over "the threat of a third world war."

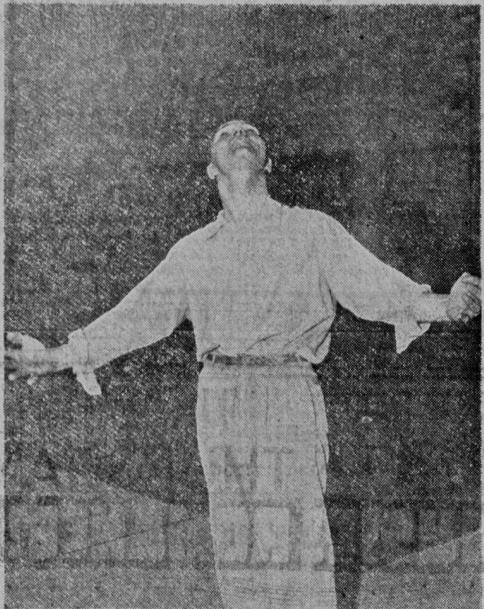

"I am myself hopeful that it will never occur, but it is the foreign policy of the Democratic administrations which has made it possible," the Republican leader said.

"The political immorality of the Truman administration," he said, "has shaken the confidence of the people in their government."

MEETING PLANNED

The student branch of the American Pharmaceutical association will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the chemistry building to elect new officers for next year, according to Pres. Larry Feagin, P4, Hendersonville, N.C.

Seeks Asylum in U.S. —

Czech UN Delegate Quits Job

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — Vladimir Houdek resigned Tuesday as Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations, severed all ties with his Communist - dominated homeland and appealed to President Truman for asylum in the United States.

He also sent a cable to Prime Minister Stalin warning that it is impossible in the long run to force Russian - style communism on European countries. The 38-year-old career diplomat told reporters he has no money and has made no plans for the future. In a statement issued at UN headquarters, Houdek protested against Soviet Russia's "Rokossovsky" tactics in eastern Europe. He was referring to the inclusion of Soviet Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky in the Polish politburo and to the reports of Communist party purges in Poland.

Police Guard Family
As the statement was handed out here, Houdek remained at home in Great Neck, where police guarded him his wife and two little daughters. Houdek's action drew a smile from Dr. Jan Papanek, who was the Czechoslovak delegate before the Communists took over in 1948. He was forced out when Houdek arrived as the Communist government's choice for the UN spot. Papanek now heads the American Fund for Czechoslovak Refugees.

Set to Sail
Houdek was scheduled to sail Tuesday night on the Queen Elizabeth for home. He had made plans for sailing but said in his statement that information received from Prague 48 hours ago made him change. Houdek said he expected denunciation from Prague, but that he never has been an agent of the western powers.

Houdek has lived in the United States five years. He followed the Soviet line of walking out of UN meetings since Jan. 10.

SUI Student Injured As Car Leaves Road
James W. Springer, A3, Charles City, was injured early Tuesday morning when his car went out of control and off highway 6 on a curve about eight miles east of Iowa City.

Springer was taken to University hospitals in an ambulance. Hospital officials said Springer suffered no serious injuries and was in "good condition." Highway patrolmen reported Springer's car rolled over three times, and struck and broke a telephone pole.

Books will be furnished by SUI library.

Esterday Sets Up Local Garbage Routes

Clifford Esterday, local garbage collector since May 1, said Tuesday he has set up permanent routes on which his trucks will pick up garbage twice weekly.

Esterday also posted with the city Tuesday a bond that will insure performance under his three-year contract, awarded by the city council.

Collection Dates
Garbage probably will be collected once a week all over town on Mondays and Tuesdays and a second time on Thursdays and Fridays, according to Esterday. He said the canning season may interfere with this schedule, however.

The contract between Esterday and the city calls for twice-weekly collections from March 21 to Dec. 21 and for weekly collections from Dec. 21 to March 21.

Esterday asked householders not to put broken glass or tin cans into their garbage because the refuse will be used as hog feed. Keeping garbage cans in easily reached places will help with the garbage collection work, he said.

Decrease in Complaints
Since the contract was awarded, Esterday has bought two sanitary packers, which have been mounted on his trucks. Three men work with each of these trucks. Another new pick-up truck is used to make collections in narrow alleys and other places where the larger trucks cannot go.

City officials have said the number of complaints about garbage pick-ups has decreased steadily since Esterday began the work.

Committee Discusses Local Bus Service; Names New Officers

The committee representing Iowa Citizens who want bus service in the south and east parts of town met Monday night, elected officers and planned to make a detailed study of the local bus situation.

Earl Gifford, SUI technician of bacteriology, was named chairman of the group, which is known as the bus service committee. Wendell L. Coulter, 2117 Muscatine avenue, was named secretary-treasurer.

Committee Members
Other committee members are Mrs. Carl Chadek, 515 Third avenue; Hubert Smock, 2110 I street; Mrs. Joseph G. Wayner, 1921 F street; R.S. Macy, SUI chief technician of radiology; Wes McGinnis, 2213 H street, and T.J. Parker, 1829 F street.

Nearly 100 east Iowan Citizens who attended a public hearing on the bus issue April 24 selected this committee to represent them in future discussions.

Petitions Signed
City councilmen called the public hearing after two petitions with 560 signatures were presented to them earlier this year, asking that bus service be extended to east and southeast Iowa City.

The bus service committee will meet with Joseph E. Negus, manager of the Iowa City Coach company, the council's committee on parking, public safety and police, and three representatives of the local chamber of commerce.

Firemen Go to School

Assistant Fire Chief H.T. McNabb, 255 North street, and Lt. Gilbert Capps, 1112 Second avenue, will attend the 26th annual state fire school at Ames today.

Chief Al Dolezal, 428 Kimball avenue, and Asst. Chief Vernal Shiman, 1508 E. College street, will attend the school Thursday and Friday.

Company to Manufacture Atomic Toys for Children

OAK RIDGE, TENN. (AP) — Comes now real atomic toys for the youngsters. The atomic energy commission said Tuesday it is shipping radioactive isotopes to A. G. Gilbert Manufacturing company of New Haven, Conn., for use in making atomic toys.

The ray - emitting isotope is zinc 65, described by atomic scientists as a "harmless" isotope, or element, with a half - life of 250 days.

The AEC says the Gilbert company proposes to make toys in which kiddies can watch "atomic disintegration."

ZOOLOGIST SEMINAR
The last zoology seminar of the season will be held in room 201 zoology building at 4:30 p.m. Friday. Chester Roys, G. Moline, Ill., will give a talk on "The Sense of Smell in Insects."

Hotel Owner Starts Action on Eviction

Action to evict the present operators of the Reardon hotel, R.O. and Llewellyn Amish, was started Tuesday in district court by William J. Reardon, owner of the hotel.

Reardon, 25 E. Washington street, charged the two failed to comply with their lease on the hotel, located at 215 Iowa avenue. Hearing on the petition was set for May 26 at 10 a.m. by Judge Harold D. Evans.

Reardon claimed the lessees had failed to take proper care of the building. The petition said the lease was signed July 14, 1945. It said Reardon had served a three-day notice May 7 to the Amishes to leave, but they had failed to do so. Attorneys for the plaintiff are William R. Hart and Kenneth M. Dunlop.

Murray Urges Crusade For Civil Rights Law

CLEVELAND (UP)—CIO Pres. Philip Murray urged all organized labor Tuesday to start a "holy crusade" to defeat the Taft-Hartley law and "elect men who will enact civil rights legislation."

The labor chieftain told 1,500 cheering, table-thumping delegates to the 17th biennial convention of the CIO amalgamated clothing workers of America he "hoped" the CIO and the AFL would be ready at the end of June to talk about joining together, and even achieving "organic unity."

After his speech, which embodied all the ideals of his 53-year career as an active trade unionist, Murray said he "would be in favor of forming one labor organization from the present CIO and AFL."

He added that if other independent labor groups wanted to join such an organic body he would gladly welcome them.

"I am not particularly interested," Murray said during his address, "in anything other than the people of the United States of America, especially in these labor organizations getting together, working together — instead of fighting each other, fighting for the common good."

The appeal for unity was greeted with wild and prolonged applause as was the pledge of support offered immediately after Murray finished speaking by Jacob Potofsky, president of the ACW, who jumped to his feet and thundered a promise to join Murray's "holy crusade."

Murray said President Truman "is the only president I know of in American history who has fought the issue of civil rights even to the point of dividing his own party."

"If the President can do this," he added, "there is no reason why the man who bleeds and sweats and dies in this struggle, the man in mill and mine and factory cannot join with the President in a holy crusade to drive men like Senator Taft out of office and elect men who will secure civil rights."

There will be 11-million men jobless in 1956 unless the present rise in unemployment is checked, Murray warned. He said 11-million people out of work would mean "riots and bloodshed."

Organized labor must "suggest constructive means" to thwart this danger, he said.

Murray assailed "big business" for its fear of President Truman's fair deal program, adding that it "has reaped the greatest monetary gains from the fair deal in the past 10 years."

Court to Examine Prisoner's Parole

A hearing for Rudolph H. Krotz, 37, Iowa City, on a charge of violating parole probably will be held sometime this week, County Atty. Jack C. White said Tuesday.

Krotz is being held in the Johnson county jail on a charge of forging a check for $62.50.

White said he would seek a hearing before District Judge Harold D. Evans.

Krotz was sentenced to a term up to 10 years in the state penitentiary at Ft. Madison on a charge of writing a false check last November.

He was paroled to Thomas Kelley, Iowa City, for one year on good behavior by order of the court. At the time of the parole, Krotz was ordered to abstain from drinking liquors and to attend church every Sunday for the one-year period.

Rocket Goes Straight Up - 106.4 Miles

(AP Wirephoto)

CONDENSED MOISTURE in the form of frost and ice particles was shaken loose from the body of a Navy Viking rocket as it was launched amidst a cloud of smoke and steam from the USS Norton Sound in mid-Pacific on May 11. The rocket traveled to a height of 106.4 miles (right). At the left the rocket was clear of its launching platform and headed straight up to what the navy claimed was a record height for an American-designed single rocket. Frost and ice resulted from the liquid oxygen fuel and high equatorial humidity.

Fiancee Tells Flynn's Secret

Romanian Princess and Movie Star on Way To Hollywood and September Wedding

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Princess Irene Ghica said Tuesday that what made her fiance Errol Flynn an irresistible lover was his ability to keep his mouth shut when she wanted quiet.

Flynn, whose hair is greying a little, brought the 19-year-old princess into the United States for the first time Tuesday. Their plane from Jamaica was two hours late.

They missed the flight to Los Angeles they had reservations on, and had to wait for a later plane.

Flynn, complaining about alimony he has to pay to previous wives, said they'd probably be married in September.

Princess Irene said it was "very simple" how he wooed and won her.

Sent Flowers
"After we met, he sent me flowers," she said. "He took me skiing, swimming and yachting. In other words, he did the things I like."

"But there is something else very important that impressed me. He could be quiet. I like to be quiet often and he likes to be quiet. It sounds simple — but it is not everyone who can be quiet."

Flynn, who makes about $200,000 a year, complained he was paying a lot of alimony, he owed the government taxes and was going deeper into debt every day.

"Besides, there seem to be about 40 other people I owe money to," he said. "You'd think I'd paid enough to one of the ladies to whom I've been paying alimony for 10 years. Ten years' payment — at the kind of money I've been paying — is a terrible drain on a man's income."

Fled Russians
Princess Irene said she was a Romanian who fled to France to get away from the Russians.

She joined Flynn at his father's estate in Jamaica. There, Flynn said, "we had a big time yachting and fishing." He had to hurry back to Hollywood to finish production of a picture based on Rudyard Kipling's "Kim."

Flynn said he affectionately called Princess Irene "Geek" because the first syllable of her family name is pronounced that way.

Princess Irene said that when she found that a "Geek" is a person who bites off chickens' heads at carnivals, she threw a pan at him.

Princess Irene said she was a Romanian who fled to France to get away from the Russians.

Indian Teaching Posts Exams Set

Examinations for teaching positions in the federal government's Indian schools have been announced by the U.S. civil service commission.

Indian schools needing teachers are chiefly located in the rural areas of North and South Dakota. Vacancies are for elementary grade teachers at a salary of $2,650 yearly.

A college graduate with credits in the field of education or who has teaching experience may take the exams.

Application blanks and further information may be obtained from Lester J. Parizek, civil service secretary, postoffice.

Predicts Truman May Make Second Tour

CHICAGO (UP)—Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Tuesday described President Truman as the party's "best asset" and said the chief executive may make another barnstorming trip before the November congressional elections.

Boyle held a news conference as the final touch to a three-day political rally of the Democrats over the weekend that was sparked by Mr. Truman's address Monday night.

Cabinet officers, high administration leaders and party officials from over the nation and the territories who participated in the big rally had left to return to their desks.

Boyle said that the national committee, which met here to rededicate itself to Mr. Truman's "fair deal" program, probably will hold another pre-election meeting.

Referring to the prospect of another trip by the President, Boyle said that "I hope he will go out more than once, and Illinois being the cross-roads of the nation you can expect him here."

Homers By Williams, Stephens Top Tigers, 6-1; Roe of Dodgers Stops St. Louis on 4-Hits, 3-1

Red Sox' Dobson Hurls Six-Hitter

DETROIT (AP) — Ted Williams and Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox each bagged a pair of homers Tuesday as they helped sink the Detroit Tigers, 6-1, behind Joe Dobson's six-hit pitching.

All six Boston runs came via homers Tuesday with the Red Sox jumping on starting Pitcher Art Houtteman for two of those round-trippers in a big, three-run third inning.

Williams and Stephens homered consecutively in that Boston outburst and Stephens made it 4-0 when he lanced out another one in the seventh.

Williams got his second homer, his 11th of the season, in the ninth inning off relief Pitcher Hal White after Al Zarilla had walked.

Detroit picked up its lone run in the seventh on a walk to Johnny Groth, who moved to third on Aaron Robinson's single. When Bobby Doerr dropped the relay throw for an error on Robinson's drive, Groth scurried home to make it a 4-1 game at that point.

The victory boosted third-place Boston's percentage to .643, just seven percentage points behind the Detroiters.

Dittmer's .351 Leads Hitters

Although held to one hit in the two-game series with Wisconsin, Jack Dittmer continues to lead Iowa's hitters with a .351 average. The Elkader senior also leads in stolen bases, 14, times at bat, 77, runs, 22, hits, 27, runs batted in, 17, and home runs, 2. He is tied with Bob Primrose for most doubles, 4.

In the defensive department Dittmer leads the team in errors committed with 7. The second baseman trails First Baseman Merlin Kurt in putouts, 182 to 53.

Dick Hoeksema has won five of Iowa's 13 victories, while losing two, both conference games.

Brooklyn Moves To Second Place

BROOKLYN (AP)—Preacher Roe had more than a prayer Tuesday as he pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers into second place with a 3-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The slender southpaw from Hardy, Ark., stopped the high-flying Redbirds with four nits, no more than one in an inning, in registering his third victory against two defeats. Preacher now has both Brooklyn victories over St. Louis.

The Dodgers scored all their runs in the first two innings at the expense of starter Gerry Staley. With more alert fielding on the part of the Cardinal infield, the Brooks might not have scored at all despite their 12 hits off Staley and lefthander Al Brazie.

Peeewe Reese opened the Dodger half of the first by beating out an infield hit to Tommy Glaviano. When the third baseman threw wild into the stands behind first base, Reese took second. Duke Snider's single to center brought Reese home.

Gil Hodges beat out an infield single to start the second inning action for the Dodgers. On a hit-and-run play, right-handed hitting Billy Cox slashed a bouncer through the spot left vacant by Shortstop Marty Marion. The ball rolled to the left centerfield fence for a double, scoring Hodges from first.

Roe then sent an easy pop toward short left. Marion lost the ball in the strong sun. The blooper went for a single. George Shuba singled to score Cox.

Phillies Edge Blackwell, 1-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robin Roberts had the best of a brilliant pitching duel with Ewell Blackwell as the young right-hander held the Cincinnati Reds to two hits, both by Ron Northey and pitched the Philadelphia Phils to a 1-0 triumph.

The Phils made their only run in the first when scratch hits by Richie Ashburn and Gran Hamner and a walk to Eddie Walkus loaded the bases with none out. Ashburn scored when Del Ennis hit into a double play.

In chalking up his fifth victory against one defeat, Roberts was in trouble only twice. Northey doubled in the second with none out but got no further. In the eighth Dixie Howell walked and Herman Wehmeier, who ran for him, was sacrificed. But he too was left stranded.

Northey, the only Redleg to cause Roberts any trouble, was banished in the seventh by Umpire Frank Saccolli for heckling. Connie Ryan was spiked in the last half of the same inning by Willie Jones and gave way to Bobby Adams.

Sain Blanks Pirates, Scatters 6-Hits, 3-0

BOSTON (AP) — Big John Sain turned in his second consecutive shutout for the Boston Braves while blanking the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, with six hits Tuesday night before a chilled 10,273 crowd. Walker Cooper drove in the first run against Murry Dickson and Bob Elliott accounted for the other tallies with his sixth homer of the season.

It was Sain's fifth pitching decision of the year. His last start was also a shutout, a 3-0, four-hit victory over the Chicago Cubs. Dickson was called upon to face only 10 Boston batters until Earl Torgeson opened the Brave's side of the fourth by drawing the first of the two bases on balls issued by Dickson.

With two out, Willard Marshall singled and Cooper, who had batted in six runs in his two previous starts as a Tribesman, lashed a single into deep center to drive in Torgeson with the "clinch."

Freshmen Trackmen Divide Postal Meets

Iowa's freshman track team split two postal meets over the weekend, winning from Wisconsin, 83-49 and losing to Ohio State, 86-45.

Bob Hennard and Clyde Gardner were the only two Hawk yearlings to win first in both meets. Hennard leaped 22 feet 8 1/2 inches and 22 feet respectively in the Badger and Buckeye meets while Gardner's 138-foot heave won in both.

Virgil Van Asen was the big winner against Wisconsin, taking the 880, mile and two-mile runs. Gary Scott was clocked at 150.5 for the 440 in the Badger till. Scott also won the 100 in 10 seconds flat as Iowa swept that event.

Ohio State's frosh grabbed 12 of the 14 events to pile up their 41-point margin of victory. Two of the events were clean sweeps by the powerful Bucks.

Yanks Rip Browns, Take First Place

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The New York Yankees pounded their way into first place in the American league with an 11-0 shellacking of the St. Louis Browns Tuesday night behind the five-hit pitching of Alie Reynolds.

The Yanks first run came in the second inning on a pair of errors by Billy DeMars and Roy Sievers. They climaxed their scoring with a grand slam homer by Bill Johnson in the eighth.

Reynolds retired nine Browns via the strike out route and walked just two to post his third victory of the season and his second over the Browns this year.

Russia Accused of Taking $18-Billion Out of Germany

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. high commission declared in a statement Tuesday night Soviet Russia has funneled $18-billion worth of goods from east Germany since 1945.

That was one answer from the west to Prime Minister Stalin's announcement that Russia will halve reparations she still claims from east Germany, leaving $3,171,000,000 to be paid over a 15-year period from 1951 "with goods from current production."

A Tass dispatch broadcast by Moscow said east Germany will have paid by the end of this year $3,658,000,000 of the original claim of $10-billion. The propaganda machinery of the Communist east German government immediately went to work to sell this to the people as a generous act.

Both west German and Allied sources challenged the figures. A spokesman for the U.S. high commission said Stalin's announcement means Soviet-occupied east Germany will be so poor for so many years that unity with the west will be impossible. The reparations plan is a calculated step to accomplish just that, this authority declared.

Doctors Reveal — 'Burp' Leaves Germ Clues

BALTIMORE (AP) Dangerous disease germs sometimes reveal their identity by the way they "burp" after a full meal.

This was related Tuesday by medical detectives who announced a new and faster method of identifying man's worst method of enemies the "criminals" of the germ world.

The new technique is roughly analogous to the way the FBI spots human crooks through fingerprints, methods of operation and other give-aways.

It tags bacterial rascals through characteristic "ganging" habits, physical oddities, individual powers, and "complexion" colors.

Some bug bandits are then recognized by the amount of gas bubbles they give off after gorging themselves on a free lunch provided in laboratory tests.

Veterans administration scientists who described the new method said it would save from one to three days in identifying perplexing bugs thus allowing quicker starting of the correct treatment in many cases of serious illness.

The new method entirely eliminates microscopic work in the identification of bacterial microbes. It is restricted, however, to bacteria and fungi. It doesn't work for viruses or another class of germs called rickettsia.

The result of four years of research at the veterans' hospital, Fort Howard, Maryland. The method was described Tuesday to the Society of American Bacteriologists.

19 Students Receive South Quad Awards At Annual Dinner

South Quadrangle dormitory presented awards to 19 persons Tuesday evening at the dormitory's annual awards dinner in the Iowa Union.

The awards were for scholastic achievements, student activities and intramural sports.

Prof. A.K. Miller of the SUI geology department presented an illustrated speech on his trip over the Alcan highway in Alaska.

The scholarship achievement awards, for the two highest grade points in the dormitory for the past year, went to Allan Winick, A2, Des Moines, and Roy Ferber, A3, Valley Stream, N.Y.

Students receiving awards for student activities were Leo Young, D1, Graettinger; Hal Eschen, C4, Stanley; Douglas Freyer, C3, Onawa; Larry Walker, C4, Cedar Rapids; Julian Fisher, A3, Spillville; Bill Schmelzer, A3, West Union, and Bob Kramer, A3, White Plains, N.Y.

Intramural awards went to George Bartholow, A3, Yale; Arnold Tammes, A3, Sheldon; Meredith Saunders, A3, Mason City; Murray Rost, E2, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Welton Croissant, E4, Crete, Ill.; Bill Barry, P3, Monmouth, Ill.; John Murray, A3, Chelsea, Mass.; Bob Christoph, A3, Glencoe, Ill.; Jim McMahon, A2, Irwin, and George Hand, A2, Chicago.

Lattimore, McCarthy Feeling Owly Today

TWO BABY GREAT HORN OWLS have been adopted by Ellen Searby, 16, Sebastopol high school student at Santa Rosa, Calif. She found them on a riding trail four weeks ago, and named them Lattimore and McCarthy. Although Mother owl flies to her young and feeds them, Ellen also feeds them milk and dog food. Lattimore (left) is being fed while McCarthy waits his turn.

Student Engineers to Discuss Gas Turbines

Luther Smith, E4, Des Moines, will lead a panel discussion by four SUI engineering students on gas turbines at 1:30 p.m. today in studio E of the engineering building.

This is the second in a series of symposiums on gas turbines sponsored by the SUI student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, of which Smith is chairman. G. B. Hatch, gas turbine specialist from General Electric company, gave the introductory lecture May 2.

Panel members who have studied various phases of gas turbines for today's discussion are senior mechanical engineering students Warren Rogers, Mount Pleasant; Ellsworth Brown, Iowa City; James Kaulzarich, Cedar Rapids, and Frank Riedinger, Council Bluffs.

Rogers will speak on the "History and Development" of gas turbines, showing especially how it was intensified in recent years by wartime research.

Brown will discuss the "Theory" of gas turbine operation, and explain the different types now being used.

Kaulzarich will show how temperatures of 1,500 degrees and higher cause a critical material and design problem, in his discussion of "Design and Materials."

"Applications" will be discussed by Riedinger. The most familiar of these are the jet and prop-jet turbines used in military aircraft. Other uses in railroads, power plants, ships, and natural gas line compressors also are being developed, with indications pointing to eventual use in trucks and automobiles.

According to Smith, many problems remain to be solved, but the development program here and abroad is gaining momentum as the turbine begins to prove itself in new applications.

The last in the series of symposiums will be May 24 when Dr. J. T. Rettaliata, dean of engineering of Illinois Institute of Technology, will speak on "The Jet Propulsion Gas Turbine."

Woman Admits Killing Husband

MIAMI, FLA. (AP) A slender, gray-haired grandmother pleaded guilty Tuesday to killing her husband by running him down with an automobile.

Sentencing of Mrs. Jeffie E. McClure, 57, was deferred for 10 days. Her unexpected plea of guilty to manslaughter came during the second day of her trial. Penalty for manslaughter is one to 20 years or $5,000 fine.

The prosecution contended Mrs. McClure deliberately drove her automobile 15 feet off the wrong side of the highway to run down her fleeing husband, Andrew McClure, April 15, 1949. Witnesses testified the couple had quarreled violently shortly before the accident.
