13 Johnson County Demos Enter June Primary Race

(This is the second of a series of two articles on candidates seeking nomination in Monday's primary elections.)

Eleven Johnson county Democrats are seeking county administrative offices and two are seeking state offices in Monday's 1950 June primary election.

On the ballot for county officers, County Atty. Jack C. White is campaigning for renomination to the office he has held for three terms.

White, 37, was born in Iowa City and was graduated from Iowa City high school in 1930. He was graduated from the SUI college of law in 1936.

White was police judge for one year before being elected county attorney in 1944. He is married and has three children.

Seek Sheriff Post

Two candidates are seeking the Democratic nomination for sheriff: James G. (Gee) Donohoe, 608 Ronalds street, and Robert E. Rowe, 608 S. Madison street, both are campaigning for the nomination to oppose Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy in the November election.

Donohoe, 57, is a native of Holbrook and formerly farmed near Morse. He is married and has seven children.

Donohoe was in the purebred Angus cattle business for more than 40 years.

Rowe, 44, a paint contractor and decorator, has been in the painting business here for 28 years. This is his first campaign for a public office.

He served 34 months in the navy during World War II and worked with the security department which handles navy policing activities. He was in the Iowa national guard eight years before the war.

Rowe is married and the father of four children.

Asks Renomination

Ed Sulek, 75, is seeking renomination as Democratic candidate for county auditor. He has been Johnson county auditor since 1917 and was deputy auditor two years before that.

Sulek was graduated from the SUI college of law in 1906 and practiced law 10 years.

He is married and the father of two children. He lives at 729 N. Kimball avenue and is a member of the Odd Fellows lodge.

The Democratic candidate for county treasurer is Lumin W. Jansa, 46, who has held the office since 1941.

He was born near Cedar Rapids and was graduated from Washington high school. He studied electrical engineering at SUI four years. Jansa is married and lives at 314 Hutchinson avenue.

R. Neilson Miller, 52, is campaigning for his eighth term as clerk of the district court. He was deputy clerk nine and one-half years before being elected clerk in 1936.

Miller is married and lives at 14 N. Lucas street. He served two years in the marines during World War I.

Island Volcano Erupts, Kills 30, 75 Natives Flee

HONOLULU (AP) — Erupting Mauna Loa Friday sent a fiery, mile-wide river of lava to the sea, engulfing parts of several villages, trapping possibly 30 persons and forcing at least 75 others to flee.

The world's most active volcano broke an 18-month slumber Thursday night with a spectacular burst on its southwest flank. Witnesses said mushrooming smoke clouds towered 20,000 to 30,000 feet.

The 13,680-foot giant on the island of Hawaii, 200 miles from here, fed its destructive stream of molten rock with geysers spouting 500 feet into the air.

Mauna Loa last erupted Jan. 7, 1949. The warning of new trouble to come was sounded only Monday. A sharp quake shook Hawaii.

Hilo, the only sizable town on the island, was safe. It lies to the east of Mauna Loa. But the string of villages and plantations on the west were in for plenty of trouble.

Before long the river of fire and melted rock was a mile wide and at places 10 feet deep. Three and a half hours after the eruption the first arm of this river boiled into the sea, 25 miles away. Police said at times the lava ran at 40 miles an hour.

The Civil Air Patrol radioed that the village of Milolii was encircled by the lava. There are seven houses in the hamlet and the patrol said, "People are in them."

Acheson Requests Another Installment Of Armament Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson asked senators Friday to approve another $1,222,500,000 installment of foreign arms aid and told them frankly the future outlay may have to be larger.

He appeared before a joint meeting of the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees to make a formal presentation of the administration's request for the second section of the military assistance program, for the 1951 fiscal year which starts July 1.

Only nine of the 26 members of the two committees showed up, and questions were few. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) of the foreign relations group wanted to know whether the country could look forward to a time when it will not be necessary to spend so much arming friendly nations.

Acheson replied:

"We are, of course, looking forward to the time when it would be lowered, but I do not think, Senator, anybody could honestly tell you now that in the immediate future it would be lowered."

"In fact, I think that the most honest answer would be that in the immediate future it might be increased."

Veep Gets Medal For 'Public Service'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Alben W. Barkley handed a gold medal Friday to President Truman for "Distinguished public service," said modestly he did not know why Congress voted it.

The nation's No. 2 officeholder, was too choked up to give out many of his usual quips as he walked into Mr. Truman's oval office for a ceremony easily one of the highlights of his long public life.

He stood beside the President, with justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Cabinet, Democratic senators and their wives gathered to do him honor.

Mr. Truman presented him with the medal, for which Congress voted $2,500 last August. It bore a likeness of Barkley on one side, an American eagle on the other.

In presenting the medal Mr. Truman said he had never had a privilege he appreciated more.

And he added that he had handed out more medals than "all the Presidents put together."

Heads of the Senate and House committees stepped up drives to combat nationwide crime and gambling Friday.

The targets:

Slot machines.

Records of communications used by gamblers.

On the house side, an interstate commerce subcommittee heard testimony by Maryland Attorney General Hall Hammond in favor of a bill which would make it a federal offense to ship slot machines and other gambling devices into states where they are outlawed.

Across the Capitol, the Senate's anti-crime investigation committee moved to "freeze" Western Union telegraph files. The committee hopes the records will show how big-time gamblers are using interstate communications in their multi-million-dollar operations.

Spanish Shake-up Rumors

MADRID, SPAIN (AP) — The weekly meeting of the Spanish cabinet was postponed unexpectedly Friday, setting off rumors that Chief of State Francisco Franco is about to reorganize his government.

The committee voted to suggest to the city council that no action be taken concerning re-routing truck traffic. "With the stipulation," Mayor Preston Koser added,

"that the trucks are not to stop in the business district unless in the case of an emergency."

Should've Tried Brooklyn Bridge

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, it happened—in Brooklyn. Two jewelers were held on $10,000 bail each Friday on charges of grand larceny. Henry S. Wallach and Irving Levine were accused of paying $444 to put a veneer gold on 14 bricks made of bronze and lead and selling them to Harry Perlstein for $11,560.

He had been looking for a "safe investment."

Paternity Suit Falls when 'He' Judged 'She'

PULASKI, VA. (AP) — A pretty, 19-year-old girl whose paternity suit against Paul Hufford, 27, collapsed when Paul proved that "he" is a girl, too, said Friday she wasn't convinced.

Paul said her mother had dressed her as a boy when she was a child and she had continued the masquerade, working with men and dating girls. Her sisters called her their brother and no one knew the difference, she said, except the draft board and others who had to know.

"There's no question about his being a boy," said shapely Alpha Turpin. "I know he's a boy because I haven't been intimate with anybody else and I haven't dated anyone else since I met him."

Miss Turpin said she had decided not to reopen the case but said she was "interested in protecting other girls from the same fate."

"I will go back to court willingly to testify on any charge against him."

Paul had been accepted by the public here as a boy all his life.

Police Chief L.S. Boothe said he had known Paul for 10 years and he didn't know "he was a girl."

G.F. Creger, who works with Paul at a local mill, said the girl was the dare-devil type who liked to drive fast, could drink with the best of them and "isn't afraid of anything."

There is no question about it," Dr. Chitwood said. "It would be impossible for Paul to cause the girl to become pregnant."

Chinese Reds Seize ECA Supplies —

WASHINGTON (P) — The Chinese Communists seized $4-million worth of Marshall plan supplies, mostly cotton, in Shanghai, on March 17, after American officials refused to surrender them, Foreign Aid Chief Paul G. Hoffman disclosed Friday.

Officials in ECA's China division pointed out that not even a protest could be made since the United States has not recognized the Chinese Communist regime. Furthermore, all ECA officials have been withdrawn from China.

Britain Submits New Proposal —

PARIS (P) — The French cabinet met Friday to consider an "all new proposal" submitted by Britain in hope of ending the Anglo-French deadlock over the Schuman plan for pooling western Europe's coal and steel industries.

The new British plan was contained in a note delivered last night by British Ambassador Sir Oliver Stanley to French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

The French government cancelled plans to go ahead on the pooling project without Britain and immediately convened the cabinet to study the British note.

Socialists to Support Democrats —

DETROIT (P) — The National Socialist party was told Friday that it must "win those liberals and laborites who are now working with the Democrats" to form a successful party "along the lines of Britain's Labor party."

But at the same time, Harry Fleischman, the party's secretary, predicted that "the overwhelming probability is that labor will again stand along with the Democrats, not only in 1950 but also in 1952."

Torrential Rains Hit Nebraska —

OMAHA (P) — Residents of nearly a dozen northeast and central Nebraska communities Friday were assessing damage done by torrential rains which hit the state Thursday night and Friday.

Towns hardest hit by the rains, ranging up to more than three inches, were Madison, Lindsay, Newman Grove, Creston, Tarnow, Humphrey, Boone, Petersburg, Genoa, St. Edward and Spalding.

Moviemakers Running Out of Oldtime Indians

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Western moviemakers wail that Hollywood is running out of oldtime Indians. The directors have to teach modern Redskins how to act like Redskins are supposed to act in the movies.

Motion pictures have lost nearly every other minority that used to play villain. Most of them object. And now Hollywood's discovered that new-fangled Indians have forgotten how to play the cinematic version of their ancestors.

Director Robert Wise just returned from making a super-western, "Two Flags West," near Santa Fe, N.M. The big scene, he said, was of 300 Pueblo Indians shooting flaming arrows over the wall of a fort and scalping the poor pioneers.

"My toughest job," said Wise, "was to keep the Indians from laughing. They thought it was all very funny."

The Indians were furnished with spears from the 20th Century Fox prop department and war paint from the make-up man. Several wore long black wigs to disguise their crew cuts.

In another western, "Broken Arrow," the Redskins in the east had to be schooled in the art of acting like movie Indians, too. They didn't know how to make pinebough beds, build wickups (tepees), or bow and arrow, sighed Prop Man Skippy Delfino, who went with the company on location near Flagstaff, Ariz.

"I hired some Indians to make bough beds," he related. "When I went back to see how they were doing, they were reading the instructions out of a Boy Scout handbook."

UN Martyr's Widow To Dedicate Memorial

ST. PETER, MINN. (P) — The widow of the late Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden will arrive here today for ceremonies establishing a memorial to her husband, who was slain while trying to bring peace to the Holy Land.

COUNTESS Bernadotte and her younger son, Bertil, will drive here from Minneapolis after arriving there at 12:15 p.m. today by plane from New York.

Her elder son, Folke Jr., was prevented by illness from making the trip as scheduled.

The countess and Bertil will attend a buffet luncheon in Minneapolis at the Swedish-American Institute, then come here for dedication of the Folke Bernadotte Memorial library at Gustavus Adolphus college Sunday.

Speaker at commencement exercises preceding the dedication will be Dr. Ralph Bunche, Bernadotte's successor as United Nations mediator in Palestine.

New Atomic Arms May Revolutionize Warfare, Defense

WASHINGTON (P) — Atomic artillery shells and atomic warheads on guided missiles have been developed by the United States.

These advancements, which might revolutionize warfare and defense to a degree second only to the influence of the original atomic bomb, became known Friday.

They gave military planners of the Atlantic pact countries new confidence that western Europe can be made secure against Russia's huge army and airforce without bankrupting the U.S. and its allies.

Military planners do not expect the new atomic weapons to be a substitute for strengthened ground armies and tactical airforces in western Europe, nor for a stronger United States airforce and navy. They explain that atomic weapons would not be effective against an attacking army unless strong defending ground and air power was present to force the aggressors into vulnerable concentrations.

Combination Needed

However, military planners of the Atlantic pact countries regard the combination of strong conventional forces and atomic weapons as the way to achieve and maintain an adequate defense of western Europe within the means of the North Atlantic allies. They believe tactical atomic weapons — which are weapons suitable for use against troops — will enable the west to match the strength of Russia's army and airforce with numerically much smaller units.

U.S. officials have placed the Russian army's present strength at 170 divisions, which compares with U.S. strength of 10 divisions plus a number of other units of less than divisional size. The Russian airforce is also rated by U.S. officials as the largest in the world. Its long range airforce contains planes similar to the U.S. B-29 Superfortresses of World War II, which have an operating radius of about 2,000 miles. It is generally believed to contain no planes of such range as the American B-36.

Tactical Use Possible

News that this country has developed atomic artillery shells and warheads for guided missiles recalls the report Defense Secretary Louis Johnson made March 31 to President Truman. He said at that time that the United States is developing a wide variety of atomic weapons of different type and size, some of which promise to have tactical as well as strategic significance.

Tactical weapons are employed against troops, tanks, reinforcements and supply lines. Strategic weapons, which include the original atomic bomb, are more suitable for use against industrial sources of military strength far behind an enemy's lines.

Canadian Spud Import Restrictions Asked

WASHINGTON (P) — Domestic potato growers urged the government Friday to grant no further concessions to Canada on potato imports in the negotiation of new reciprocal trade agreements.

At a hearing before the inter-departmental committee on reciprocity information gathering data for use by the trade agreements committee at an international conference at Torquay, England, next September, industry spokesmen urged instead that:

- Present quota and tariff regulations on Canadian potato imports be more rigidly enforced, or,
- That a specific quota be placed on imports.

Under the present treaty, importers of Canadian potatoes must pay a duty of 37 1/2 cents a bushel on the first 2 million bushels of seed potatoes and the first 1 million bushels of table stock (eating) potatoes. Imports above these quotas have a 75 cents a bushel duty.

Domestic producers contend present duties, because of lower labor costs and taxes in Canada, constitute only a slight barrier to imports and that Canadian potatoes are able to undersell American-grown spuds which receive a price support from the government.

The principal brief for the domestic growers was submitted by Herbert W. Moore, executive secretary of the Potato Industry Council of Maine, Inc.

Supporting witnesses included C.L. Fitch, of Ames.

Moore's brief contended the quality of potatoes produced in the United States is adequate and in fact is in surplus to the domestic requirements for seed and table stock.

Fitch stressed the need for controlling imports of seed potatoes carrying virus.

STUDENTS interested in working on a traveling crew with the Curtis Publishing company in Iowa and Nebraska this summer, contact the office of student affairs.

THE CLASS itself illustrated his point.

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, swore in 461 ensigns. But 171 were commissioned second lieutenants in the airforce. The marine corps, an arm of the navy, received 48 shavetais.

To others, including three from South America and one from the Philippines, won diplomas but no commissions. The four from foreign nations will be inducted into their own navies. Six U.S. middies were disqualified from service for physical reasons.

All 690 received bachelor of science degrees.

"I am not prepared to say that all differences among the services have been resolved or that none will ever rise again," Johnson said. "In fact, toward that kind of unification none of us aspires."

It's ridiculous mating dance and other antics provide the chief amusement for humans on the island. It amuses and vexes the aviator. He has to clear goonies off the runway with a jeep, but at the same time enjoys the way the birds have to run frantically to take off and often fall flat on their faces when they come in for a landing. In the old days before airplanes came to Midway, there was a golf course that had a "goony hazard" on every fairway. The birds seemed to think golf balls were oversized eggs and tried to sit on them.

Again the birds became the main life on the island. There were canaries, gannets, frigate and mooning birds, terns, boobies, boobies, and the unforgettable goony.

A Natural Clown

This last bird is an awkward, natural clown that has no fear of people.

Its ridiculous mating dance and other antics provide the chief amusement for humans on the island. It amuses and vexes the aviator. The birds seemed to think golf balls were oversized eggs and tried to sit on them.

Through the years, Midway's appearance has changed greatly. Wire grass from San Francisco's dunes were transplanted to keep its sand from blowing away. Ironwood from Hawaii and eucalyptus from Australia now give the island something of a tropic look.

After 1935 buildings went up at a great rate as Midway became first an important air stop and later another stepping stone on the long road back to Tokyo.

Firemen were called to the Dunkei hotel, College and Capitol streets, about 11:15 p.m. Thursday to investigate a room fire, according to fire officials.

The fire produced only minor damage to a mattress and bedding, a hotel clerk said. The clerk said that the fire started when someone left a flatiron on a bed and forgot to disconnect the electricity.

SETTLE UP. STRIKE

NEW YORK (P) — Members of division 47 of the Commercial Telegraphers' union (AFL) Friday ratified a memorandum of agreement for settling their 33-day-old strike against the United Press.

Five "Minstrel" crewmen tried to get away in a small boat and were never heard of again. Three months later two of them took Jorgensen in another small boat to settle up. The crewmen were found dead by the "Minstrel's" men on the lesser island.

Jorgensen was marooned by most of the Siegel's crew, who had left him behind when they left in a small boat for the Marshall Islands, 1,300 miles away. His captain and one crewman were found dead by the "Minstrel's" men on the lesser island.

No Walkouts for Peaceful SUI Union

By BARNEY SEIBERT

Fifteen years of friendly relations between management and labor is something of a record in this era of class discord, but that characterizes the history of the SUI employees union.

Local No. 12, American Federation of city, state and municipal employees, has been active on the SUI campus since 1935 with nary a strike, lockout or picketing.

According to both union officers and university officials, there has never been a serious disagreement between the university and the executive council of the union.

Arlyn C. Marks, director of the university personnel service, said, "The relationship between the university and the union has always been amiable in the past because of a reasonable attitude on both sides. We hope and expect this situation to continue."

Marks pointed out that the university neither discriminates against nor favors union members. "Anything done for one employee must be done for every employee," he said.

Ray Ipsen, recording secretary of the local, said, "The university has always been very cooperative. We are a non-striking union."

James R. Jordan, head of the university information service, said, "Simply because there is management and a union does not mean there must be conflict."

Local 12 is conducting a membership drive among all university employees. Two organizers, in the near future.) 4. A law to legalize signed agreements between employees and governing bodies.

5. Adequate legislative appropriations earmarked to correct inequities in salaries and increase basic salaries of lower-paid employees.

Officers in the local include in addition to Ipsen, George Parks, president, SUI plumbing department; Paul Scanell, vice-president, custodian at Westlawn, and Jim Van Scyoc, treasurer, custodian at University hall. Ipsen works in the university printing plant.

All university employees, including faculty members and office workers, are eligible for the organization, Ipsen said. They may join even though they already belong to another union, he said.

Soft Color Scheme In 1950 Bedrooms Makes Sleep Easier

Pleasing colors rate second to good bedding in creating a restful atmosphere in any bedroom. Experiments have shown that sharp, bright colors stimulate, while the more soothng colors encourage a relaxed feeling conducive to sleep.

In the 1950 color picture the beiges and tans continue popular, but they are darkening with a lot of brown being used. Chamois shade, neither cream nor yellow, is one of the newest colors.

Purple, another fashion favorite, is a dramatic but soothing color in shades from eggplant and plum to heliotrope and mauve. Pink is another popular color, especially in a mauve cast used with purple and purple blues.

A popular combination is a clear pink with brown and ink blue, or a soft tone of pink with clear blue. Among the greens, the off-tones, sage and moss, still are tops, but a light, lime green of a spring-like shade has also entered a new note.

In order to create a restful atmosphere it isn't necessary to use only the subtle colors. The more vibrant shades can be used as accents if they are used only on the headboard wall where they cannot be seen from the bed.

The upholstered headboard offers an excellent opportunity to introduce color accents. They are obtainable in any color and fabric desired.

Dodger Home Runs Drop Cards, 8-1

Win Puts Dodgers Full Game Ahead

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Homers by Jim Russell, Duke Snider and Billy Cox propelled Brooklyn to a 8-1 victory over St. Louis Friday night, giving the Dodgers a full-game National league lead. Marty Marion scored the Redbirds' only run, driving a homer in the second inning. The game was delayed one hour and seven minutes between the seventh and eighth innings because of rain. Don Newcombe allowed the Cardinals but five hits.

Each of Brooklyn's circuit clouts accounted for two runs.

Marion, who helped beat the Dodgers with a grand slam homer Thursday night, put the Cards ahead Friday night with his four-base blow, his third in four games.

The Dodger, bounced back in the third, however, putting two runs on a walk and Russell's home run, his sixth in four games.

The sixth inning proved disastrous for Southpaw Harry Brecheen, who had held the Dodgers to three hits up to that point. The Dodgers scored four runs in that inning to assure their victory.

Vogel Named Assistant Frosh Football Coach

Otto Vogel, Iowa baseball coach since 1925, Friday was named freshman football coach.

In this capacity, he will assist Wally Schwank, former Davenport high school athletic director and head football coach, who was recently named to the head freshman job.

Schwank was hired to fill a vacancy created when Leonard Raffensperger was appointed head grid coach replacing Dr. Eddie Anderson.

Detroit Takes Two From A's, 16-5, 8-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detroit advanced to within two games of the American league lead by soundly trouncing Philadelphia, 16-5, in Friday night's second game to gain a clean sweep of a two-night bill before 17,449 fans. Home runs by Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers featured Detroit's 8-2 first game victory.

The Tigers jumped on three Philadelphia pitchers, Starter Alex Kellner and Relievers Harry Lyd and Ed Klemm, for 21 hits as Freddy Hutchinson notched his fifth pitching decision. Ted Gray also picked up his fifth hill triumph with a six-hit job in the opener.

George Kell paced the Tigers with a homer, triple, double and single — the first time in his major league career he has hit for the cycle. Johnny Groth also clouted a second game Homer, as did Eddie Joost for the Athletics.

Scarborough Trips Yanks, 6-5

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Scarborough, Ed Robinson and Marv Rickert, all recent acquisitions, led the Chicago White Sox to a 6-5, 12-inning victory over the New York Yankees Friday.

The trio drove in all of Chicago's runs. Robinson knocked in three, two of which proved the winning tallies in the 12th inning with a smashing double to deep left field.

Scarborough went the distance and yielded 13 hits while the White Sox gleaned only nine off Vic Raschi who went the route for the Yanks.

With one out in the 12th, Rickert beat out a roller to second for a single. Gus Zernial followed with a one bopper to left, Rickert stepping at second. Robinson followed with a long double to left to score Rickert and Zernial and give the Sox a 6-4 lead.

Pinch-Hitter Tommy Henrich homered with one out in the Yankee 12th and Cliff Mapes doubled with two down before Joe Collins lined to Robinson to end the game.

The Yanks nicked Scarborough for two runs in the first inning on doubles by Phil Rizzuto and Cliff Mapes and a single by Yogi Berra.

Chicago came back with a run in the third when Rickert flied out with the bases loaded, Nelson Fox scoring after the catch.

Robinson opened the fourth with a home run and Scarborough singled across two more to give the Sox a 4-2 advantage.

Late Fashion Note - Navy Millinery Going Up

GRADUATES OF THE U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY staged their own version of flying saucers Friday when they shouted hats off to becoming commissioned officers in the navy, airforce and marine corps. The hat-throwing ceremony is a traditional one with the midshipmen. Graduation exercises for the new officers were held in Dahlgren Hall in Annapolis, Maryland. Anybody care to count 'em?

Psychiatrist Asks Parent-Child Understanding

Affection, opportunity to express hostility, discipline and freedom to grow up are four important needs of children, according to Dr. Frank Coburn, psychiatrist at SU's psychopathic hospital.

A child must understand that his parents love him. This can be shown by cuddling or rocking babies and playing games with older children, he said.

Anger and hostility in children can be driven away only by letting the child express these feelings. If suppressed, the child may become upset physically.

Discipline also is important because children must learn socially acceptable behavior. Total freedom may be fine, but only as the children stay home, he said.

If a child finds he can talk his way out of one order in five, he will rebel every time. When he meets consistent discipline, he will know what to expect from his parents.

However, children do need some freedom. Parents must make decisions for small children because their experience is limited. But as soon as they gain experience, they should be made responsible for their own behavior.

"Mothers' boys" who never learned to stand on their own feet were many of the psychiatric casualties in the army, Dr. Coburn said.

Parents should know what a child needs for emotional growth as well as physical growth. Raising children the way parents had been raised, or had not been raised, may not satisfy the child's emotional needs.

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS (AP) — Dikes built along the Rio Grande to keep the river out Friday helped trap a seven inch downpour of rain and flood the southeast tip of this Texas city.

The sewer system of this city of 35,000 was inadequate to carry off the 12 hour deluge and water flowed up to four feet deep in streets.

Water ran into hundreds of homes; business came to a virtual standstill; traffic was disrupted; and telephone service was spotty. But not a single injury had been reported to police.

Police Investigate 2 Local Break-Ins

Police were still investigating two local break-ins late Friday.

The first occurred Monday night when someone broke into the Jackson electric warehouse and took two electric fans, according to police.

The second break-in followed Tuesday night when the home of Harry Abbott, 219 E. Harrison street, was entered.

Abbott said he left the house for a few hours and when he returned someone had cut his back screen, broken the glass in the door and entered the house.

Youth Directs Police To Slain Aunt's Body

PORTLAND, ME. (AP) — A 14-year-old youth in bloody clothing led police Friday to a watery ditch containing the stabbed and bruised body of his aunt — a well-to-do Melrose, Mass., widow.

The battered body of Mrs. Viola Tully was found at Scarborough eight miles from her.

Her nephew, William Elwell, 18, of Brunswick, had been halted at gunpoint at Portland in his 56-year-old aunt's blood-stained car.

Elwell denied he killed Mrs. Tully.
