Youth Bound to Grand Jury On Charge of Manslaughter

Charles Yordi, the driver of the truck in which 17-year-old Irene Crow was killed Friday, was charged Tuesday with manslaughter and bound over to Johnson county grand jury on $2,000 bond.

Yordi, 21-year-old Riverside youth, pleaded not guilty to the charge before Justice of the Peace C.J. Hutchinson. Yordi was represented by Atty. Will J. Hayek.

The manslaughter charge resulted from an early morning accident when Yordi's truck is alleged to have gone out of control and overturned about one mile west of Tiffin, killing Miss Crow and injuring two other girls.

One of the girls, Dolores Holstead, 18, Livermore, Calif., was still under treatment at University hospitals Tuesday. She suffered fractured vertebra and cuts and bruises about her head, hospitals officials said.

Miss Crow's death followed by less than 12 hours her graduation from City high school Thursday.

According to investigators, Yordi finished work at a Riverside tavern about midnight Thursday and went to the "Nibble Nook" on highway 22 between Riverside and Lone Tree where he met Miss Crow, Miss Holstead and Doris Dolezal, 22, Iowa City.

The youths said in a signed statement they were at the "Nibble Nook" until about 2:30 a.m., when the Dolezal and Holstead girls left.

Yordi and Miss Crow stayed until about 4:30 a.m., then drove to Iowa City and picked up the other two girls at the Crow home, investigators said.

From the Crow home, the youths went to an all-night restaurant in Iowa City and then rode in the truck to Oxford and back. They were in Oxford for about 30 minutes, the statement said.

At about 7:20 a.m. Friday investigators said the four approached Tiffin on their way to Iowa City, rounded a curve, zig-zagged and overturned.

The statement made to police by the youths said Miss Holstead was sitting on the Crow girl's lap, Miss Dolezal was sitting in the middle of the car seat, and Yordi was driving at the time of the crash.

Johnson County Coroner George D. Callahan said Miss Crow's death was caused by a crushed chest and internal hemorrhages.

Miss Crow was the daughter of Charles E. Crow of Ft. Myers, Fla., and Mrs. Edith Crow, Iowa City.

War Not Inevitable; Peaceful Negotiation Necessary: Acheson

DALLAS (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Tuesday night that war is not inevitable and that it is the problem of the U.S. to find ways of solving problems without resort to war.

The secretary said there are four ways the United States can meet Soviet pressure — but he immediately ruled out isolationism, appeasement and the idea of a "preventive war" with atomic bombs.

"Fortunately, there is a fourth way of dealing with these problems, and that is to work on them in cooperation with other nations, and by means of peaceful negotiation to resolve our differences. This has been and is our policy."

The United States, he said, will continue to follow a realistic policy of peaceful negotiation and strengthening of free world, in the hope that Russia some day will become "our good neighbor."

In a major foreign policy review prepared for the civil federation of Dallas and the community course of Southern Methodist university, he said that "Soviet imperialism" is challenging the free world by military preparations which "have gone far beyond the reasonable requirements of defense," and by the international communist movement.

"I do not believe this creates an immediate danger of war," he went on. "But it is being used as a pious bludgeon to intimidate the weak, and it does confront the world with the possibility that the Soviet leaders may be tempted to make use of military force as an instrument of policy."

U.S.-ISRAEL PACT — The United States Tuesday signed a commercial air agreement with Israel providing for reciprocal landing rights.

Early A.M. Reveille — And Back to School

YOU GOTTA' GET UP if you intend to make your first 7 a.m. class. Norman Traynor, G. Iowa City, was only one of many SUI students who had to leave the sack early today for the first time since their last final exam at the end of the spring semester. Jerry, wife of Norm, demonstrated Tuesday night what she expected to happen when the alarm sounded at 6:30 a.m. today.

Two Senators Flay British

WASHINGTON (AP)—The British Labor party's turndown of the Schuman plan to pool Europe's coal and steel brought sharp suggestions from U.S. Senators Tuesday that if Britons want such independence than perhaps independence from dollar aid is a good idea too.

Reaction among American diplomatic authorities indicated about as much disappointment as appeared in the senate. But state department officials shied away from any idea of Marshall Plan pressure or retaliation.

Senate comment, however, made it clear that Monday's party pronouncement, even as it was softened in Tuesday's government policy statement by Prime Minister Ailes, will put rocks in the roads for Britain's allotment of foreign aid funds.

The Labor party said in effect that Britain's Socialists would not be willing to go into any such scheme unless it is dominated by the Socialist idea of state planning.

Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif.), a member of the appropriations committee which will pass on foreign aid funds, included those for Britain, made one of the most direct suggestions as to the sort of hornet's nest the British have stirred up here.

"Perhaps the time has now come to give Britain Socialism a chance to demonstrate its ability to function on its own feet without being encumbered by dollar aid from free enterprise America," he told a reporter.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), also an appropriations committee member, had much the same idea, plus a way to put it to a test.

"They cooperate to get donations from the Capitalists but not to work with the Capitalists," Ferguson said, and added: "I'm damned mad."

Senate Debates Bill On Social Security Extension, Pensions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate started debate Tuesday on a plan to bring 10-million more persons under social security and pay bigger old age pensions.

Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.), chairman of the finance committee which has approved the measure, opened the drive for it with a plea of need.

Increased benefits to meet rising costs of living are long overdue, he told the senate, and the millions now without retirement income protection are a drain on public relief agencies.

The bill, a principal item in the administration's program, is a revised version of one the house passed in October. Senate leaders hope to get it through by early next week and make a quick start on obtaining agreement with the house on it.

The two big changes the bill would make in the present system are: A. Extension of coverage on a compulsory basis to about 8.3-million persons and on a voluntary basis to about 1.6-million more. Regularly employed farm and domestic workers, plus many self-employed people, would make up most of that addition to the 35-million now under old age and survivors insurance.

B. Raising by an average of 85 to 90 percent the monthly benefits to the 2.9-million persons now receiving old age and survivors insurance payments. The average payment to retired workers, now $26, would go up to more than $48.

45 Persons Missing After Plane Crash

PARIS (AP) — Forty-five persons, including high French officials from Indochina, were reported killed or missing in the crash of an Air France Skymaster early Tuesday in the Persian Gulf.

One was Henri Maux, a chief French conferee on American aid to war-torn Indochina. Only six of the 51 aboard are known to have survived.

The crash of the four-engine C-54, enroute from Saigon to Paris, raised to 61 the total lost in two widely separated French air mishaps Tuesday and Monday.

A French military plane disappeared with 16 men on a flight from Tananarive to Tamatave in Madagascar, the huge French island colony off the East Coast of South Africa.

Of the 51 in the C-54, six were reported saved from the Persian Gulf by fishermen in the old home waters of Sinbad the Sailor three miles off the oil refinery island of Bahrain near the Saudi Arabian coast.

SUI's 1950 Hawkeye Available to Seniors

The 1950 Hawkeye, SUI yearbook, is now available to all seniors and to those students who signed up for a Hawkeye during the 1949-50 school year.

They may be obtained at The Daily Iowan business office in the basement of East Hall daily from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.

House Votes To Extend Rent Controls 7 Months

People Are the Cwaziest Monkeys

MUSCATINE (AP)—Weed Park's gadabout monkey returned to his cage Tuesday, apparently bored by freedom and life in the world outside.

Zoo officials said the monkey was found in his cage after a voluntary return from his lone existence in the tree-tops of the park. The holdout was one of five monkeys who fled their cage a week ago. Three returned a few hours later and the fourth was lured into a trap Friday by a banana.

Thousands of persons swarmed to the park Sunday to feed the freedom loving monkey, but none could catch him. It took the attraction of family life to lure him home.

Justice Department Hit By New Inquiry Demand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-one Republican senators demanded in the senate Tuesday that a broad new inquiry be launched into the justice department's role in the Amerasia secret documents case of World War II.

Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md) immediately tried — and failed — to sidetrack the GOP move.

Tydings pleaded with the senate to "just be patient" and let his five-man subcommittee complete its current investigation of the Amerasia incident, and he told the chamber: "I think we will bring in a comprehensive report."

But Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind), co-sponsor of the 21-man Republican resolution for a new inquiry, blocked Tydings' request that the matter be held "on the table."

Majority Leader Scott Lucas (D-Ill) told newsmen later, however, that even if the measure should be approved in committee, its chance of reaching the senate floor are slim.

"We are certainly not going to have two Amerasia investigations going on," Lucas said.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich), one of the GOP sponsors, told the senate that the justice department's conduct in the case should have the "separate and special attention" of the senate judiciary committee.

With Lucas signalling disapproval, the only way the resolution could be brought up for a senate vote would be on one of the so-called "calendar days" — and then a single objection could stymie it.

Meanwhile, Tydings disclosed that the White House has asked his subcommittee to speed up its examination of state department reply files on 81 persons cited as pro-Communists by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis). Joseph Truman opened the files to the subcommittee in April.

Pennsylvania Police Jail Milk Strikers As Violence Flares

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Police arrested at least 10 milk strike pickets Tuesday to nip budding violence in a walkout which has cut off milk and dairy products to 2.3-million people in a seven county western Pennsylvania area.

All available state police are patrolling highways to prevent violence. One county ordered its sheriff to raise posses, if necessary, to enforce a court order banning picketing interference.

Capt. Andrew J. Hudock, in charge of state police in western Pennsylvania, said intensive police patrols are expected to bring picketing to a standstill. In the past two days, a dozen milk trucks have been dumped, roads blocked and drivers threatened.

Negotiators debating the union's wage demands recessed after a 10 minute meeting Tuesday night. They reported no progress, but will meet again at 1:30 p.m. today.

With normal milk supplies cut off, an emergency supply system for children, invalids and other essential consumers appeared to be working with more smoothness. Earlier in the five day old strike, frantic mothers besieged doctors for the emergency permits required to buy milk.

Plate glass windows were smashed by bricks in two Pittsburgh suburban dairies. Both plants have been selling milk.

In Washington, another milk strike went on without concrete steps toward peace. Most of the capital's dairy workers walked out Saturday in a dispute similar to the one in Pittsburgh.

Local 5-Month Extension Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Tuesday voted a seven-month extension of federal rent controls, with communities having the power to continue the controls for an additional five months.

The vote was 202 to 163. Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) voted with the majority, but Iowa's other congressmen, all Republican, voted against the bill.

The bill now goes back to the senate. Monday that body had approved by a 36 to 28 vote by a somewhat similar bill calling for a flat six-month extension and another six months at local option. The house changed the figures to seven and five months.

The senate may either accept the house changes or send the bill to a conference to iron out differences.

The House version would give the new congress meeting in January, a one-month look at the picture before controls expired for communities which did not take positive action to extend them.

The house bill would continue until Jan. 31, 1951, the federal rent control program which is now slated to expire at the end of this month. Some 8-million rental units are now covered. But cities, towns or villages, by referendum or by a vote of their governing body, could retain the controls until June 30, 1951.

The house voted also to allow counties to decontrol themselves at any time, an option previously given to states and cities.

The house defeated by voice an amendment for an outright one-year extension of controls. The proposal was offered by Rep. Isidore Dollinger (D-NY).

Also knocked down, by voice votes, were these proposed amendments:

To require area housing expediter to observe provisions of state control laws when notice is served that such laws are to go into operation.

To allow the federal housing expediter to reestablish controls in defense areas which have been decontrolled.

To eliminate from the present law a provision to give landlords a fair return on their investment in property.

To allow landlords to appeal to courts from area rent directors' orders if maximum rentals approved are considered confiscatory or do not permit a fair operating income. The courts would have been empowered to order higher rents.

Student Named Prince Of Cavalcade of Music

Richard I. Williams, A1, Iowa City was chosen prince of the Cavalcade of Music held in Drake Stadium, Des Moines, Saturday.

Williams was rated superior in the adult baritone bass solo division, and was picked as one of the six Cavalcade winners to appear on a network radio broadcast.

Richard M. Caplan, G, Des Moines, was rated superior in the adult piano solo class of the Cavalcade.

Milk Pickets Shy from Camera

STRIKING MILK TRUCK DRIVERS shun camera at Greensburg, Pa., as they are escorted to jail for threatening a non-union dairy trucker. An unidentified state policeman follows them. Officials said the truckers would be charged with contempt of a court order banning interference with milk deliveries.

Enrollment Drops Slightly; Estimate 3,800

Registration is down in nearly all departments for SUI's summer session, a survey of department heads and faculty members disclosed Tuesday.

An unofficial source close to the registrar's office estimated the total enrollment at 3,800 — 3,800.

Registrar Ted McCarrel pointed out, however, "While registration is down slightly from the peak of the past few summers, it is still far above the pre-war level. Our biggest summer session before the war had only 3,000 students enrolled."

The only college reporting gains in registration was the college of education. Dean E.T. Peterson said, "Registration is heavy. We have been too busy to even estimate the number as compared with past years."

Commerce enrollment also appeared to be holding up well. Prof. E.W. Hills reported that enrollment seemed "well distributed in all departments, with the graduate enrollment about the same as in past years."

Prof. Wendell R. Smith, marketing, reported his registrations "about the same as in other recent summers."

The department of home economics expects transfers to bring its total up to the level of the last two years, according to Prof. Sybil Woodruff.

The department of communication skills, although refusing to make any predictions of total registration, announced that the number of transfers was greater than expected.

SUI's college of nursing announced that 265 degree and diploma candidates had been signed up. Jean Buer, counselor of the college, said that unprecedented numbers of transfer students may bring the enrollment to a new high.

Graduate registration in the majority of schools and colleges rose to new high levels. Commerce and the Department of Geography were the only divisions which did not experience a gain in the proportion of graduate enrollment.

The general trend in the college of liberal arts seemed to be somewhat downward.

Prof. Arthur Wimer, head of the editorial sequence in the school of journalism, reported the only abrupt drop in registration. He said, "Registration for the news workshop courses is lower than at any time since I have been connected with the university."

Only two departments listed closed courses at the time registration closed. The zoology department reported that general physiology, 37:105, and arthropods and disease, 37:117, were filled. Print workshop, 1:165, was listed as full by the art department.

General physiology is a required course for zoology majors, and the other courses are limited to a small number of students because of their technical nature.

Classes will begin at 7 a.m. today in all schools, colleges and departments.

The main reading room in Macbride hall will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday. Saturday hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m.

Reserve library hours will be the same as the hours posted for Macbride except that reserve will not be open on Sunday.

Departmental library hours will be posted on their respective doors, Mrs. Stahlecker said.

Youth, 19, Admits Iowa City Hold-Up

John H. Harrett, 19, previously identified as the armed bandit who robbed John Alberhasky's grocery here May 23, confessed the robbery to Milwaukee, Wis., police, local officers said Tuesday.

Harrett confessed to Milwaukee police after being picked up on a charge of shooting a Milwaukee grocer in an attempted hold-up.

Alberhasky earlier identified Harrett's picture as that of the man who took about $130 from him at gun point as the grocer was closing his store May 23.

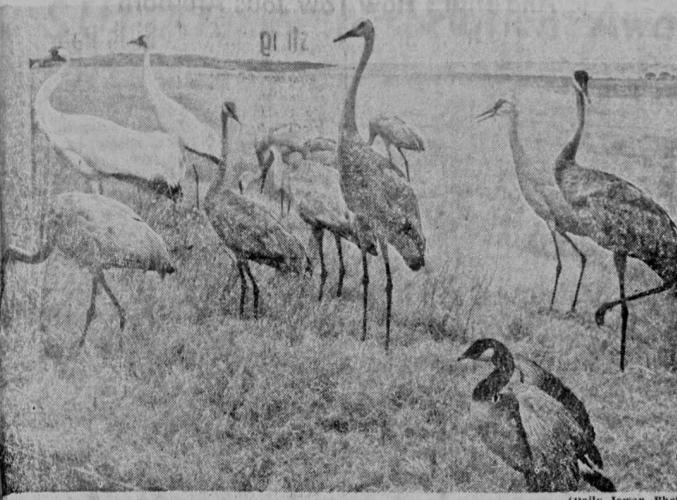

Remington Pleads Innocent of Lying

NEW YORK (AP) — William W. Remington pleaded innocent Tuesday to a perjury indictment charging he lied to a federal grand jury when he denied he ever was a Communist.

Bethel Webster, Remington's attorney, told reporters that 14 surety companies had refused to put up bail. He quoted them as saying they would post bond "for prostitutes and murderers but never where loyalty is questioned."

MAN WITH THE SOFT JOB was Harold R. Colwell, G, Iowa City, in charge of the closed section bulletin board at registration Tuesday. Registration was lighter than usual in most departments and only one course, Arthropods and Disease, was listed as filled at 1 p.m. Two other courses were reported filled by the end of the day.

Ul Fine Arts Festival Features Bird Exhibits

SUI ornithologists will find that the twelfth annual fine arts festival hasn't forgotten them. The first festival exhibition by the university museum features a group of American and Asiatic birds.

"Cranes on the South Dakota Prairie" displays seven species of Dakota fowl. The collection was mounted and composed by Curator W.C. Thietje. All birds, with the exception of the white whooping crane, were collected during the migration season.

The whooping crane is a rare American fowl; the exhibited birds from the museum collection. Sandhill cranes and a Hutehins goose compose the rest of the exhibit.

The background was painted by F.L. Jaques from a natural photograph. The exhibition is in Bird Hall on the third floor of Macbride hall.

The second exhibition was prepared by Prof. Homer R. Dill, director of the museum. It is a group of birds found on Laysan Island in the Pacific. Dill collected these fowls while studying life on the island in 1911.

Charles A. Corwin, painted the background. The display is called "Island Cyclorama."

The University museum became a part of the school of fine arts in 1947.

Prof. E. E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, said of the exhibit, "This is one of the new aesthetic features that have been brought to the campus during the festival's 12 years."

Cleaning of Gas Range Saves Work

A gas range can be washed like fish. Giving the stove a light cleaning after each meal and a thorough cleaning once a week is a work-saver for the housewife.

It's fairly easy to keep the porcelain enamel shining — just like shining glassware or dishes. An easy habit to form is that of wiping off the top surface and burner heads after each use. By that time the porcelain has cooled.

Porcelain should never be scrubbed when it's hot from cooking. Accidental splatters while cooking can be sponged off with dry paper towel.

The top surface will mark if food such as milk, vinegar, fruit juices are spilled and left standing. Use a paper towel for quick wipe-ups.

Washing top burners each day saves time and effort when you clean your range thoroughly. Top burners and grates may be washed soapy, warm water.

Cast iron burners with a baked-on coat of enamel may be washed with warm sudsy water, turned up and down for quick draining. Aluminum burner heads should be cleaned with a mild cleanser or steel wool as an aluminum oxide is scoured.

Chrome burners should not be scrubbed with steel wool but with mild type abrasive. If chrome aluminum burners become dull, use them with ordinary metal polish.

Removable drip trays under burners are as easily cleaned as roasting sheet. Wipe with warm water, and dry on the bottom and top before replacing.

Cleaning oven and broiler sections is easier if you pour a detergent and hot water into the burner pan right after the food is removed. The detergent acts as a degreaser, and washing with water gets the pan shining again.

The interior of both broiler and oven section can be wiped with sudsy water and cloth. If it is baked on the porcelain finish, use a light abrasive.

When spilled-over food is dried, wet a clean piece of muslin with household ammonia, place over the burned area and wipe until the cloth is thoroughly

"DISHWASHING" THE KITCHEN RANGE will make the porcelain sparkle. This housewife finds stove-cleaning a pleasant task when she wipes off the top surface and around the burners whenever she finishes cooking. The best time for the wipe-up is after each dishwashing when warm water and soap are handy. Spillovers may be washed away with paper towels or a cloth.

For hardened grease in oven and broiler interiors, put open dishes while you're cleaning. Grease collects there from food vapors rising from the hot baking food. Ammonia fumes loosen the accumulated grime and make cleaning easier.

Propose Playground For Southeastern IC

Children in the southeastern part of Iowa City may have a city operated playground soon.

The city council Monday night referred to the planning and zoning commission from the Playground and recreation commission a recommendation for the establishment of a playground in an area bounded by Muscatine, Bradley and Lee streets and Fifth avenue.

There is need for a playground in this area, the recommendation read, because the nearest playground for the children is at the Longfellow school. This, it was pointed out, is too far from the children's play area in the southeast part of town.

The Playground and Recreation commission recommended the city purchase the property and the commission supply the playground equipment.

Eye Specialists Pass Final Exams

Three resident physicians in the SUI department of ophthalmology (eye specialists) have passed their examinations in ophthalmology. They are Dr. Jack Weib, Dr. Phillip Knapp and Dr. Luciano Barrere.

Written examinations were given here in January and the oral examinations were in Boston, Mass., last month.

Dr. Barrere plans to go to New Orleans Monday to study with Dr. James Allen, formerly with University hospitals. A native of Lima, Peru, Dr. Barrere will teach at San Marcos university there after he finishes research work in New Orleans and Europe.

80 M.D. Aspirants End Exams Today

Eighty hope-to-be doctors will finish their three-day Iowa state medical examinations today at the SUI medical laboratories.

June graduates from the SUI college of medicine, interns and persons from outside the state are among those taking the exams, according to Dr. M. A. Royal, Des Moines, a member of the Iowa board of examiners.

Tests are being given in 10 areas — public health and hygiene, obstetrics and gynecology, biochemistry, physiology, pathology, anatomy, bacteriology and immunology, medicine, materia medica and surgery.

Summer Desserts Require No Baking

NO BAKING IS REQUIRED for preparing this summer treat, a Mocha Chiffon pie. A quick and easy solution for that dessert problem, the no-baking secret to this pie is the crust prepared with corn flakes, and chilled to set.

You can beat the heat and dread of facing a hot oven to prepare that extra fancy dessert by taking advantage of a wonderful new idea.

A recipe for Mocha Chiffon pie requires no baking at all. The secret is in the pie shell — it's made with corn flake crumbs and is chilled to set.

Mocha Chiffon Pie
For one nine-inch pie:
4 cups corn flakes
4 cups sugar
1/3 cup melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
2 cups strong, hot coffee
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs. Add sugar and butter; mix well. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of pie pan, saving two tablespoons for topping, if desired, and chill.

Soften gelatin in cold water; add to hot water and stir until dissolved. Beat egg yolks slightly; add sugar and salt. Add coffee mixture gradually; mix well and cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in beaten egg whites, whipped cream and vanilla. Pour into crumb crust; chill until firm, and serve.

Engaged

The wedding is planned for July 24 at St. Patrick's church.

Homestead Woman Files Suit for Divorce Here

Mrs. Helen M. Warren of near Homestead Tuesday filed suit for divorce in Johnson district court, charging her husband, David J. Warren, left her in June, 1948, taking their four children with him.

Mrs. Warren claimed her husband failed to support her, and said she did not know where he has lived since 1949, when he lived at Independence.

The petition stated the couple was married March 2, 1945, at Cedar Rapids. Attorney for the plaintiff is Shirley Porter.

School Grooms Future Homemakers

Modern educators are agreed that 30 children in a classroom are not as like as peas in a pod.

Besides difference in social and economic backgrounds, they discovered differences in experiences and interests must be taken into consideration.

Classes are set up in many schools for their therapeutic value. Henry Sabin school has a class for this purpose, according to Mrs. Glen Krogh, 516 E. College street, who is in charge. Each child gets special attention.

Future Homemakers
Teaching the girls to become future home-makers is stressed, and considerable emphasis is placed upon crafts and cooking. For example, children have woven mats on looms, and made fringed and hemmed table cloths.

By a process of "tie dyeing," the children tie knots in cloth and dip it in dye. It makes splashy patterns for table cloths or drapery. The pupils also make feather-weight bowls and ash trays by shaping bits of paper mache with clay and painting them in gay colors.

Last semester Mrs. Krogh's group formed a unit to study Indian culture. Each child made a contribution such as drums, head dresses, tepees, wooden carts, bracelets and belts.

Change in Outlook
They played Indian games and used Indian names, "learning by doing." The general idea is to make the children feel more secure.

The new trends in education are an indication of mass education versus consideration for the individual. They reflect a change in outlook and a change in attitude toward the individual.

Spare the rod and spoil the child also has gone into eclipse. In its place emphasis is placed upon reward for the child. The idea of reward applies especially to the child who doesn't do well in school or is isolated from his social group.

Former German Teacher Studies PTA at SUI

German parents want to join the parents of the world in seeking the common aims of peace and child welfare. Hans Bolten, chairman of the Stuttgart, Germany, Parent-Teachers association, said in an interview here Tuesday.

Bolten is visiting SUI this week as part of his nation-wide study of American PTA functions. His tour is sponsored by the U.S. office of education.

"After years of government control, German parents want a voice in school affairs. This is one way of bringing democracy to Germany," he said.

SUI professors R. H. Ojemann, of the child welfare department, and Bruce E. Mahan, dean of the extension division, met Bolten at the 54th annual convention of the American PTA, at Long Beach, Calif., last week. They asked him to visit the SUI campus.

The Stuttgart PTA chairman spoke of the economic and political problems facing the German PTA groups. "The number one problem is lack of funds for such organization work. Taxes are high and incomes low and what there is goes for the necessities of life."

"There is also the problem of getting along with the old generation of teachers and administrators, who don't favor PTA work," he added.

PTA started in Europe after the first world war, he said. The group collapsed with the economic and social conditions of the period between wars.

Bolten left the teaching world when the Nazis took over the system because he was not a member of the party.

During World War II Bolten served with a medical corps unit of the Luftwaffe, and in the allied prisoner of war camp at Sagan, Silesia.

Thousands of American and English airmen were interned at this base, Bolten said. He left the base with the coming of the Russians and was captured by the Americans near Munich in February, 1945.

PTA activities in Germany are largely centered in two fields, reconstruction and relief.

Reconstruction of war damaged school buildings was one objective of the group. First, however, was providing relief to orphans and dependent children.

"A European PTA along American lines would be very difficult," Bolten said, "owing to language difficulties."

Speaking of the economic and political troubles facing West Germany today, Bolten said the worst problem is unemployment.

"Here in the United States if you are willing to work there is a job for you, but in Germany that is not the case."

Unemployment has been complicated by the large scale emigration from the Russian zone. "As many as 2,000 have entered the western zone in one night. This has created a severe housing problem," he said.

Bolten hoped that the U.S. would allow German immigration to this country as one solution to this problem. "There should be immigration not only for scientists and skilled workers, but also for families," he added.

"The Germans don't want war; we only want peace and work. The Germans can't change the East-West cold war, only the U.S. and Russia can do that," he said.

"An economically strong Germany is the best wall against Russia, but with unemployment and poor conditions there is no telling what will happen."

Bolten holds a Ph.D. from the University of Freiburg.

Japanese Actress Recovers for Love

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Shirley Yamaguchi, 24, Japanese film actress who says she came here to study the love making techniques of Hollywood he-men, was recovering Tuesday from minor surgery.

"She is doing very well and will be out of the hospital today or Wednesday," her physician, Dr. John C. Eagan, said.

The five-foot, brown-eyed Japanese beauty arrived here four days ago. She said she hopes to meet Charles Boyer "because he makes the type of love women all over the world can understand; not only with his arms and lips, but with his eyes. He is a real man. Your Van Johnson, on the other hand, makes love with his freckles."

Monday Mrs. Kiger, who later married, said that Tibbetts had been courting her when her mother "cut me out."

Judge Roy C. Fenters ordered the jury removed from the courtroom during an argument over admission of a signed statement by Mrs. Osborn confessing the poisoning.

Harvard Birds No Fools

Professor Teaches Pigeons to Play Piano, Ping Pong, Tell Time and Read Stop Lights

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. (AP) — Well, sir, you'd never guess what a pigeon can do when he really sets his mind to it.

And in case you have any doubts about pigeons' minds, just ask B. F. Skinner, professor of psychology at Harvard, who has a flock of pigeons that play tunes on a piano, play table tennis, push buttons to get food, tell time, and understand changing colors — like traffic lights.

Dr. Skinner is using pigeons to discover new methods for studying human behavior and he's already arrived at the theory that reward is more effective than punishment.

It was in testing this theory that he taught his pigeons not only to do a considerable amount of work for the reward of food, but also to cooperate with each other, to match colors, and to play a table tennis game.

Fundamentally, the experiments involve getting a pigeon to go through some action to get a reward. Sometimes they must work together for the reward, or must compete. One pigeon pecked away more than 35,000 times in a five-hour period for a third of an ounce of food.

In another experiment, pigeons are placed on either side of a glass partition. The panel has three buttons on either side of the glass. To receive food, both pigeons must strike simultaneously certain matching buttons in the separated cages. Then a light flashes, a buzzer sounds, and the door to the food chute opens. Only one pair of food-producing buttons will work each time. But two birds have little difficulty in exploring the pairs together and selecting the right buttons.

Other pigeons have learned to peck signs labeled "yellow," "green," "blue" and "red" always picking the proper sign when a light of the same color is flashed on.

Prof. Skinner has taught pigeons to play a modified table tennis — without net — on a two-foot-square table. One pigeon, using his beak, tries to bat the ball past his opponent. Rallies sometimes go to three or four shots — though most are "aces". Each successful shot brings a food-reward.

An advanced lesson is to play a tune on a piano of seven keys. By rewarding the pigeon when he strikes the keys in a certain se-

Ohio Police Chief Accused of Affair With Mayor's Wife

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some of the villagers in tiny Highland Heights backed Mayor Clem Ley Tuesday in his efforts to fire his police chief for "consorting with my wife."

Councilmen in the village, with a population of around 400, had a petition from 56 residents demanding that Chief Fay Dalrymple, 58, be ousted.

The papers were handed to council Monday night when a hearing was opened on Ley's request. However, the hearing was postponed until next Monday, giving Dalrymple time to get his lawyer there.

But Mayor Ley, who is 40, told council, anyway, how he feels about Dalrymple.

"The chief," he said, "has embarrassed me by consorting with my wife and their affair has caused me great discomfort. They're the talk of the town."

Ley claimed that, for the past 12 months, Dalrymple made it a practice to park his police car in the mayor's driveway, running the motor and radio full blast. While the chief was parked there, said Mayor Ley, the people of Highland Heights were left unprotected.

Council upheld the suspension of the chief, as of June 1, as ordered by Mayor Ley, who runs Ley's Body Shop in addition to the village. The vote was 5 to 1.

Last week, the feud came into the open when the mayor's wife, Fay, sued her husband for divorce. Then Ley filed a cross petition, outlining his grievances against Dalrymple.

Girl Blames Mother, Charged in Death, Of Stealing Suitor

COVINGTON, IND. (AP) — Mrs. Grace Kiger, 19, testified Tuesday that her mother, on trial for murder, went off to Wisconsin with an apple picker soon after her husband died of poisoning.

The daughter claims that her mother, Mrs. Mary Osborn, stole the affections of the apple picker, Robert Tibbetts, 30, who once was her boy friend.

Mrs. Osborn is accused in the murder trial of feeding arsenic to her husband, Amandus, 49, last November and December, including a fatal dose Christmas Day.

Mrs. Kiger testified Monday that Tibbetts, while courting her when she was single, carried on a clandestine romance with her mother.

On cross-examination Tuesday, she said that last January her mother and Tibbetts went in another car, the girl testified.

However, she said she "couldn't remember" telling authorities about a visit to her mother's home one night after her step-father's death in which she found George and Tibbetts asleep in a bed that appeared to have been holding three before her mother answered the door.

Monday Mrs. Kiger, who later married, said that Tibbetts had been courting her when her mother "cut me out."

Judge Roy C. Fenters ordered the jury removed from the courtroom during an argument over admission of a signed statement by Mrs. Osborn confessing the poisoning.

STUCK IN THE MUD, a semi-truck loaded with clothes hangers Tuesday threw two wheels and plowed deeply in the ground on highway 218, one mile south of the Iowa City airport. Army of Termites Eat Kentucky Tax Blanks

Suffering from Shell-Shock?

SOUTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—This city of 10,000 still is acutely explosion-conscious.

No wonder. On May 19 a munitions shipment blew up here, killing 31, injuring more than 300, and causing damage running into millions of dollars.

Monday night, police broke into a sidetracked railroad boxcar after a number of worried residents called them about a sign on the car reading: "Danger—Explosives."

Inside the car was a 10-pound box of fireworks.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE Christian Science Monitor tells about the sweet little housewife who found her husband tearing up the den. "What's the idea?" she demanded. "I've lost a twenty-dollar bill," he explained. "I was sure I put it in this desk drawer in case of emergency." "You can stop looking," his wife informed him. "I had to use that twenty dollars this morning. The emergency came C.O.D."

Major Putney May, the Wall Street statistical wizard, took his daughter Patricia to the opening of a lavish Broadway musical. To the conservative Major's embarrassment, the show proved raucous and vulgar. Toward the end of act one, he confessed to his daughter, "I'm sorry I brought you, Pat. This is not a show for a young lady like you." "Don't give up so early, Pop," the unperturbed Pat assured him. "Maybe the second act will be livelier."

Earl Wilson announces that it was none other than William Shakespeare, in Winter's Tale, who first defined a Broadway gossip columnist as "a snapper-up of unconsidered trifles."

SUI Alumni Association Awarded Prize for Production of Iowa Review

The SUI Alumni association has a prize package. The package is the Iowa Alumni Review, a 32-page publication distributed to the alumni, and the prize is a first place award in the annual contest conducted by the American Alumni council.

The prize awarded, the Review was for excellence in the area of covers and illustrations for publications with less than 4,000 circulation. The bi-monthly Review has a circulation of 2,700.

The magazine also won a special citation for effective and discriminating use of color in its makeup. It was one of fifteen given special awards.

The history of the Review in its present form is a relatively short one. It dates back to Dec. 1, 1947, when Bob Noble, a 1942 SUI graduate became managing editor.

Noble said, "Our first two issues had ordinary display covers. Then we changed to a combination literary and display. This issue was sent to 10,000 people with the hopes of increasing the size of the alumni association." The covers have been printed in two colors since that time.

The Review contains six departments and usually a half dozen feature stories.

Standing departments are a summary of university events, "On the Campus"; a personal note from the director of the alumni association, Loren L. Hickerson, "Notes on Old Gold"; an alumni activities section, "The Association"; a running sports story, "The Hawkeyes."

A round-up of letters and clippings from alumni, "The Alumni Family," and a report on authors who are university graduates, "Books by SUIowans."

Some material is contributed by alumni and university news sources, but most of the writing and reporting for the magazine is done by Noble.

"Now and Then" was cited by Noble as one of the most interesting sections in the Review. It consists of two pictures of a campus scene, one taken several years ago, and the other a current picture.

Recently included in the magazine was a series of stories written by Darby Smith, an Iowa City barber, Smith, who has lived in Iowa City since 1870, related several sidelights of the university faculty and student life.

Smith has been a barber since 1888 and has known thousands of students and can relate hundreds of stories about little known incidents.

Two prints of etchings of campus buildings were included as a special Christmas present in the 1949 December issue. They were suitable for framing.

Noble said he seldom has to "stretch" his material. "I always plan for too much," he said. "Frequently I have to discard up to half the contents I collect. Therefore, I usually print the most important events for the two-month period."

When the American Alumni council judges alumni publications again this summer, Noble and the Iowa Alumni association will be looking forward to another prize package.

South Dakota Invites Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman was invited Tuesday to visit South Dakota this summer or fall.

The Democratic candidates for South Dakota governor and U.S. senator—Joe Robbie and John A. Engel—issued the invitation during a visit with the President at the White House.

Robbie told a reporter Mr. Truman told them he is interested in going to South Dakota and talking to the farmers there.

Mr. Truman told his visitors, Engel said, that he had always wanted to see Deadwood, S.D., where Calamity Jane lived, and to visit the Black Hills. Engel said he suggested that the President spend his vacation in the Black Hills as did President Coolidge in 1928.

Robbie said Mr. Truman suggested they talk with National Democratic Chairman William Boyle and Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman on arrangements for a possible Presidential trip to South Dakota.

"I am personally confident the President will visit South Dakota this year," Robbie said.

He added that he told Mr. Truman the President would have carried South Dakota in the 1948 election if he had visited the state "or even waved his hat across the border." Robbie said Mr. Truman agreed.

Engel and Robbie discussed South Dakota power problems with secretary Chapman, Tuesday afternoon they talked with Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan.

Engel said they sought approval of an $8-million rural electrifi-cation administration loan to the east river electric power cooperative for construction of a power generating plant at Sioux Falls.

Dubuque U, Wesleyan Male Graduates Tied In Size of Families

WASHINGTON (AP)—Men who graduated from Iowa Wesleyan college and the University of Dubuque in 1940 are tied for top honors in Iowa in the size of their families.

They have an average of two children each, the population reference bureau reported Tuesday. The bureau, a non-profit organization which has been conducting annual surveys of birth rates among college graduates, made a national study last year among both men and women grads of the years 1940 and 1925.

First place ranking in the state for alumnae of 1940 went to the women members of the 1940 class of Luther college who have an average of 1.45 babies each.

Luther men of 1925 are ahead of their brothers in the state for that year with 1.78 children each but the women who were graduated from Westmar college are far ahead of them with an average of 2.40 children apiece.

The men of Iowa Wesleyan and Dubuque university ranked fourth in the nation among graduates of 171 classes of 1940 who were interviewed. The women of Luther ranked twenty-third among 173 classes of 1940 graduates. Both the men and the women were above the national averages.

Other Iowa schools listed in the survey and the number of children per graduate are:

Upper Iowa: (1940) men 1.56, women .73; (1925) men 1.58, women 1.14.

Central: (1940) men 1.53, women 1.17; (1925) men 1.20, women 1.18.

William Penn: (1940) men 1.50, women 1.27; (1925) men 1.58, women .77.

Cornell: (1940) men 1.49; women 1.24; (1925) men 1.20, women 1.13.

University of Iowa: (1940) men 1.44, women 1.12; (1925) men 1.71, women 1.16.

St. Ambrose: (1940) men 1.40; no other listing.

Grinnell: (1940) men 1.34; (1925) men 1.45.

Coe: (1940) men 1.20, women 1.29; (1925) men 1.56, women 1.11.

Wartburg: (1940) men 1.20, women 1.29.

Kansas City Official Says Missouri Flow Fits Flood Program

SIoux CITY (AP)—The water flow of the Missouri river is adequate for a multiple purpose development program, the presidential water resources policy commission was told Tuesday.

The claim was made by John B. Gage, member of the greater Kansas city flood protection planning committee, and a former mayor of Kansas City.

Gage appeared before the first conference of the commission named by President Truman to tap the thinking of Americans in various parts of the country on the nation's water use program. Eight public conferences are planned in various parts of the country.

"You have seen statements and articles questioning the adequacy of the water for the multiple purposes of irrigation, flood control, power and navigation," Gage said. "Those authors have not studied the basic data regarding the river's runoff the last 46 years."

Gage said he believed the river development program is a government responsibility, "because the government retained control of the Missouri and navigable tributaries when the basin states were admitted to the union."

He contended the responsibility is "just as great as for improving seacoast harbors."

The Sioux City chamber of commerce also declared it believed "conservation of soil and water resources is a national problem."

Recommendations by Managing Director Harold L. Murphy said: "Our organization maintains that projects should be authorized only by acts of congress and not through delegation of authorizing power to any administration officers."

He was referring to valley authorities but did not mention them by name.

Ken Everhart, Des Moines, secretary of the Iowa State Industrial union council, CIO, urged a "re-examination and replanning of the Missouri basin program." He suggested halting appropriations until that is done. He said Oahe dam, near Pierre, S.D., should be halted because it did not warrant the cost.

IC Council Passes Employee Pay Boost

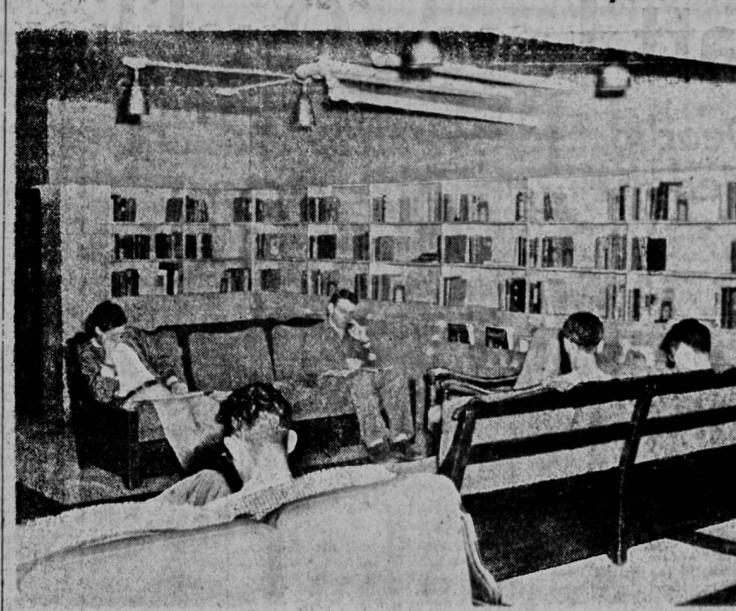

Iowa City council members Monday recommended salary increases for city employed personnel—but failed to give themselves a pay boost.

Councilmen receive $300 a year for their services, the lowest wage paid by the city except for the city street commissioner, who receives $1.

The following salary increases were recommended to keep the city wage in balance with the present standard of living:

City clerk, from $2670 to $2820; city engineer, from $3980 to $4110; assistant to the city engineer, from $3575 to $3725; superintendent of the sewage plant, from $4,092 to $4242; fire chief and chief of police, from $3234 to $3384; and street laborers, from $1.05 to $1.11 an hour.

Acheson Blasts Reds for Strong Mobilization

DALLAS (AP)—Russia has built up her military machine "far beyond the reasonable requirements of defense" and is using it in an attempt to cow weak nations into swallowing Communism, Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Tuesday.

While the Kremlin's course does not hold "any immediate danger of war," he said, war could result if the western democracies relaxed their drive to unify their military, economic and moral defenses.

He said the Soviets are using their armed might "as a poised bludgeon to intimidate the weak, and it does confront the world with the possibility that the Soviet leaders — may be tempted to make use of military force as an instrument of their policy."

Acheson made the statements in a guardedly optimistic speech before the Civil Federation of Dallas and the Community course of Southern Methodist university. He said the key to peace is a determination to carry the cold war to a successful conclusion.

"War is not inevitable," he said. "It is our responsibility to find ways of solving our problems without resort to war and to exhaust every possibility in that effort. This is what we intend to do."

He said Moscow is counting on collapse of the western world to create a vacuum to be filled by Communism — a process which the politburo is "not hesitant to assist" by outside pressure and internal politicking.

Acheson flew here from Washington to make the speech — one of a series on U. S. foreign policy. He said the west made great strides toward meeting both Russian threats at the recent London conferences.

He specifically cited the decision by the 12 North Atlantic security pact nations to set up "balanced defense forces." The Schuman plan for pooling western Europe's iron and coal resources, and the new European payments union.

Temperance Group Proposes Merger

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Two national temperance groups will merge into the National Temperance League, Inc. The Rev. Herbert H. Parish of Chicago, Ill., said Tuesday.

Parish now is administrative director of the National Temperance Movement, Inc., and had been executive director of the United Temperance movement in Minnesota.

He said a convention will be held Nov. 19-22 at Oklahoma City, Okla., to prepare for the merging of the Temperance League of America with the National Temperance Movement, Inc. He said the merger will be complete by the first of next year.

A nominating committee for the new group has been meeting to select personnel for the combined organization.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Gayle L. Gupton, Nashville, Tenn., won the national speaking contest Monday, sponsored by the American institute of banking.

Eleven Demos Urge Veto of Price Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eleven congressional Democrats urged President Truman Tuesday to veto the Basing Point pricing bill on grounds it would promote monopoly and weaken the anti-trust laws.

The president has until midnight Friday to decide what to do about the political hot potato which would allow manufacturers to absorb freight costs and sell their products on a "delivered price" basis any place in the country, provided no collusion was involved.

If he fails to sign or veto the measure before the deadline, it will become law automatically.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), one of the White House callers, denounced it as "a device to create, foster and further monopoly" and predicted it would lead to the restoration of nationwide retail chain stores.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), voiced fear it would suppress competition and deny various areas of their "natural and rightful development."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), called it "one of the most open attacks ever made on the anti-trust laws."

Former Marine Ace Keeps Shooting Eye

CAMP WILLIAMS, WIS. (AP)—Pilots of the South Dakota air national guard are in the midst of their annual air gunnery practice here, led by Lt. Col. Joe Foss, World War II marine ace.

The pilots, members of the 175th fighter squadron, began practice Sunday on the Lake Michigan range where Foss said he fired the highest score. He said he will be outshot before the practice ends, however. The squadron will return to Sioux Falls, S.D., June 25.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

OFFICIALS of a New York department store are wondering how to make advertising capital of a recent contretemps with the minister of a little church in an upstate village. The minister returned five of six bath towels he had purchased in 1931, because they showed obvious signs of wear and tear. "I'd have sent the sixth too," he wrote, "but that would have left me none at this end."

The store replied that 18 years' service for towels that had retailed at less than a dollar apiece in the first place was not a bad record; they proposed, indeed, to send him six brand new towels in exchange for a testimonial.

The reverend accepted the proposition, specified that the new towels should be red, and saved his killer-diller for a postscript: "It may interest you to know that those towels were seconds when I bought them!"

A bookseller near the Communist official headquarters in New York complains, "Even those fellows won't buy leftist literature any more. Radical books sell so poorly now that with every copy I have to give an extra pair of pamphlets."

Platt, whose hot putter gave him an advantage over some of the pre-meet favorites, was only two over par for the 6,002 yard course.

Tie for Second

Tom Washburn, Davenport, and George Clark, Ottumwa, tied for second place among the qualifiers, each with a 73.

A single hole play-off between tight golfers was needed late Tuesday afternoon to round out the 32-man championship flight. Only one of the eight players tied at 81 could be admitted to the championship flight.

Russ Meyer of Davenport won the sudden death playoff with a birdie three on the first hole, one stroke better than Don Terrell of Oxford and Bob Overholser of da Grove. The other golfers in the play-offs were John Wall, Cedar Rapids; Bob Sunstrum, Oskaloosa; Jerry Bailey, Mason City; Jim Lynch, Waverly and John Izem of Ottumwa.

Match play in all flights starts this morning. Championship rounds will be played Friday to determine Iowa's entrants in the national junior amateur tournament in Ames this August.

Top Seven

The top seven golfers in this tourney, plus two alternates, will be chosen.

One of the biggest surprises of Tuesday's play was the flop of Tap Miller, Miller, from West Waterloo, was the high school state champion this spring. In the qualifying round, he soared to an 83, landing him in the second flight out of title consideration.

A total of 120 golfers from 32 Iowa cities are entered in the tournament.

In today's match play, the field will be parred drastically. Both morning and afternoon rounds of 9 holes each are scheduled for the various flights.

Tourney Favorites

Most of the tournament favorites came through to gain the championship flight Tuesday. Max Shields of Oskaloosa, and Dick Ellinger, Waterloo, carded 75's; on Weber, Ames, scored a 76; Dale Kniss of Waterloo who will oppose Platt in the opening round is morning had an 18-hole total of 78. Don Kneeter and John McGuiness, both of Des Moines, had 78's.

At a banquet held in honor of tournament participants Tuesday night Platt was presented a trophy for the best medal score of the qualifying round. The trophy is being given for the first time this year as an added feature of the meet.

Joe Hogan, executive secretary of the Western Golf association, was the guest speaker at the banquet.

Tigers Shade A's On Evers' Homer In 10th Inning, 6-5

DETROIT (P) — Art Houtteman survived a three home run outburst by the Philadelphia Athletics as he paced the Detroit Tigers to a 6-5 10-inning victory Tuesday night. Hoot Evers, lead-off man in the Detroit team, hit his ninth home run to break the deadlock and give the Tigers their fifth straight victory.

The win, coupled with a New York Yankee loss to Chicago Tuesday night, increased the Tigers' American league lead. They now have a one-half game and a .622 percentage edge over the second place New Yorkers.

Seven in Row

A slender crowd of 31,894 fans saw the Detroiters turn their first night game of the year in Briggs Stadium into their seventh consecutive triumph over the A's.

This one came the hard way, however. All five Philadelphia runs were scored via homers. Elmo Valo hit a two-run homer in the first inning and duplicated that feat in the eighth. Sam Chapman got a homer with none on in the sixth.

It was Chapman's ninth and No. 3 and 4 for Valo.

Stingy With Hits

Pitchers Bob Hooper and Hank Wynn were stingy with base hits. They gave up only eight to the Tigers, but 10 walks hurt the Athletics considerably.

Evers' bat provided a dramatic finish when he led off the tenth inning by belting Wynn's 1-1 pitch into the left field stands to break up the game.

Browns Get Two Wins Over Senators, 8-3, 8-1

ST. LOUIS (P) — Still in fine form after finding a victory touch on the road, the St. Louis Browns disposed of the Washington Senators on both ends of a twilight-night doubleheader Tuesday night, 8-3, and 8-1. Harry Dorish had a five-hitter in the first game and Cliff Favin held the Nats to four in the second.

Washington won the first game, 3-0. St. Louis won the second, 8-1. St. Louis won the first game, 8-3. Favin and Lollar, Home run — Lollar, LP — Kuzava.

Cardinals Get Past Phillies On Sixth Inning Spree, 6-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals drove Curt Simmons from the mound with a six-run attack in the sixth inning Tuesday night as they defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 6-3 behind the six-hit pitching of Harry Breechen. One of the Phils' safeties was a two-run homer by Del Ennis in the ninth frame.

The victory was Breechen's fourth against three defeats and put the Cardinals three and one-half games in front of the third place Phils. Breechen did not walk a man and fanned four.

The Phils held a one-run lead, made on Richie Ashburn's double and two infield outs, until the sixth when the roof fell in on young Simmons.

Eddie Kazak started the big frame by walking with one out. Country Slaughter followed with a double and Johnny Lindell was passed purposely. Then came singles by Marty Marion, Breechen and Harry Walker. Simmons departed in favor of Bubba Church, who was greeted with a double by Red Schoendienst, good for the last two runs.

Eddie Waitkus was on base when Ennis hit his 12th homer of the season in the ninth with two out.

St. Louis won the first game, 6-3. Philadelphia won the second, 3-0. Breechen and Rice, Simmons, Church (6), Meyer (9) and Semick, WF — Breechen, LP — Simmons, Home run — Ennis.

New York Blanks Faltering Bucs, 7-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Right-hander Larry Jansen picked up his fifth victory of the season Tuesday night as he hurled the New York Giants to a 7-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Jansen, who gave up five hits, was helped by Tookie Gilbert's two-run homer in the second inning.

It was the Pirates' 17th defeat in their last 20 starts.

Jansen, hurling his first shutout of the year, struck out nine and walked only one.

Homers Give Braves Win Over Reds, 5-3

BOSTON (P) — Boston's Braves began a home stand Tuesday night by trimming the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, on bases empty homers by Willard Marshall and Earl Torgerson. Marshall's third homer of the season, his first at home, snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh and Torgy clouted his sixth in the eighth. The victory was credited to Left Hander Bob Chipman who entered the game in the first inning after the Reds had scored all their runs against Bob Hogue.

The Tribe tied it up in the sixth against the Reds' starter, an 7-7 loser, Willard Ramsdell, who had beaten the Tribe here 6-2, May 23.

Ramsdell's knuckler had bothered the Braves both nights. He had pitched eleven scoreless innings, six on May 23 and five Tuesday night, before the Tribe rattled him for three runs.

CHICAGO (P) — Catcher Phil Masi's ninth inning single off Joe Page scored Chico Carrasquel with the winning run and the Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees, 6-5, before 42,970 persons Tuesday night. It was Page's fourth loss. Bob Cain checked the Yankees on seven hits to post his third triumph.

The Sox got eight hits off Tommy Byrne and Page, who pitched the last inning. Each team hit two home runs.

The White Sox broke a 5-5 tie with only one out in the Chicago half of the ninth. Carrasquel opened with a single, Dave Philley sacrificed, and Masi singled to score Carrasquel and wind up the two hour and 31 minute contest, an estimated 380-foot swat.

Chicago Edges Brooklyn, 6-3

BROOKLYN (AP) — Roy Smalley's two-run homer highlighted a three-run rally in the 11th inning Tuesday night to give the Chicago Cubs a 6-3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The loss dropped the second place Dodgers three games behind the St. Louis Cardinals.

The early Chicago runs were also the result of homers by Bob Ramazotti, Phil Cavaretta and Bob Borkowski off Ralph Branca in the sixth inning.

A crowd of 22,631 saw Branca, who has failed to go the route in five starts, hurl shutout ball and lead Bill Voiselle, 3-0, until he started throwing home run balls.

A single by George Shuba scoring two runs in the third and Roy Campanella's 12th homer in the fifth accounted for the Brooklyn runs. Frank Hiller took over after Voiselle was lifted for a pinch hitter in the ninth and yielded one hit in three frames to register his fourth victory against one defeat.

Revision Looms for Army, Naval Academy Requirements

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy promised enthusiastically Tuesday to make a better showing in the Army-Navy football games if the senate passes a bill already approved by the house. The legislation would revise basic laws governing appointments of midshipmen to the naval academy at Annapolis, Md., and the military academy at West Point, N.Y.

Vacancies exist at each academy when regular appointees fail to qualify. Most of the appointments are made by congress members. It was explained that congress in 1942 gave the secretary of war (now the army) authority to fill such vacancies at West Point. The naval academy has had no such authority but would have under the pending bill.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) injected the football angle into a hearing on the bill. In answer to his questions, army and navy officers agreed that filling of all vacancies at the military academy, often running as high as 100 a year, resulted in West Point getting more football talent as cadets.

The best the Navy has done in the annual series since 1944 was 21-21 tie in 1948.

"You think you will get better football players" under the bill? Saltonstall asked a navy man. "Yes, sir," came the enthusiastic reply from Capt. W.G. Cooper of the naval academy.

Would that improve the grade of Navy football? Saltonstall pressed.

"Yes, sir," Cooper replied promptly. "The odds soon would be even again instead of about 10 to 1 for the Army."

Mrs. Gen. C.E. Byers, appearing for the army, said later he would like to get some of those odds.

The legislation would lower maximum age limits for entrance at West Point and Annapolis. They were raised during the war. Age limits would be from 17 through 22 years with July 1 as the determining date each year starting in 1951. The limit now is 24 years old for entering West Point and 23 for Annapolis.

New York Father Convicted by Jury For Starving Son

NEW YORK (AP)—A 30-year-old father, was convicted by a jury Tuesday of manslaughter for starving to death his three-year-old son.

The state had called his crime equal to any horror story that ever came out of a German concentration camp.

The defendant, Guy Scielzo, a textile salesman, also was convicted of neglecting his four-year-old daughter, Vincenza. He testified he was so busy making a living he seldom saw his children.

Judge James G. Wallace held Scielzo for sentencing July 12. Manslaughter carries a maximum of 20 years in prison and the second charge three years.

The salesman's wife, Mary, also 30, has pleaded guilty to a similar manslaughter charge and is to be sentenced also on July 12.

The children — two of four born to the couple — were found starving last Nov. 21 in a lice-infested room that the state called a "death chamber."

The other two children were well treated.

Scielzo earned up to $75 a week and he and his wife were described by authorities as healthy looking and well fed.

The state charged Mrs. Scielzo neglected the two children and that her husband knew it and did nothing about it.

The mother claimed the two starving children would not eat. So, she said, she gave food to the family cat. The boy, Guy, weighed only 14 pounds when he died.

The little girl was down to 20 pounds but recovered after hospital treatment.

Beware! They May Whistle Back

THESE GIRLS DO THE WHISTLING. Newly appointed women traffic officers start out in patrol wagon for their assignments at school crossings. A total of 20 women have been enlisted to aid in traffic duty. This is the modern replacement for schoolboy patrols and another step, the gals contend, towards "equal rights for women."

U.S. Agrees to Let Czech Diplomat Stay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vladimir Houdek, who broke with his Soviet satellite home government in May and quit his post as Czech delegate to the United Nations, can stay in the United States.

The grant of asylum combines a move to save the diplomat from Red executioners and a bid to other leaders to walk out on Russia.

But in granting Houdek's request to stay, the government attached strings. If he goes in for anything like Communist propaganda, he can be deported immediately.

That obviously is because Houdek didn't, at least in any public statement, renounce Communism along with his ties to the Red regime in Prague.

Holcomb Warns Motorists To Avoid Auto Accidents

"What a maniac can do to you with an axe doesn't compare with what a car can do to you in an accident," Prof. Richard L. Holcomb, director of SUI's institute of public safety, told members of Kiwanis Tuesday noon at the Hotel Jefferson.

Automobile accidents are sudden and final, he pointed out. A single second is all it takes to turn a wonderful family outing into a terrible tragedy.

"It won't happen to me," most people continue to think after reading about accidents or receiving warnings about highway tragedies, Holcomb said.

Manpower is one of the principal handicaps in the enforcement of traffic regulations, he said. In most instances, the police force is no larger now than it was before traffic problems became critical.

Holcomb said the Iowa highway patrol is doing a good job but lacks the manpower to do a proper job of law enforcement. The state highway patrol generally has one man for every two counties, he said. Although 167 men are employed, they work in two shifts, leaving the number in half. Sick leaves, special assignments and the fact that one-seventh of the men are off each day accounts for the thin spread of manpower, he explained.

The degree of speed is a factor in every accident, he pointed out. Severity of accidents could be reduced if speed could be cut.

"It is the increased speed which increases the percentage of fatal accidents outside of cities," he said. "It is silly to drive 65 to 70 miles an hour on Iowa roads, for if any obstruction shows up within 300 feet of the front of your speeding car, you're in for trouble."

N.Y. World-Telegram and Sun Strike-Bound by Guild Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators conferred Tuesday night with three World-Telegram and Sun representatives and six guild negotiators, but the session broke up with both newspaper and union groups saying they were prepared for a long strike.

Ezra Bryan, management attorney, told reporters the strike might last "a month, six weeks or two months."

J. Nelson Tuck, president of the guild's New York local, said the management "didn't budge an inch. They didn't come to talk negotiations."

Picket Lines

The big newspaper's 400 guildsmen — editorial and business employees — struck at 3:30 a.m. (Iowa time) in support of their demands for a 10 per cent general wage increase and other contract benefits.

The strikers immediately placed picket lines around the newspaper building and three branch plants. Printers, pressmen and stereotypers refused to cross the lines and a guild spokesman termed the walkout "completely effective."

Nine major newspaper unions, including the guild, negotiated a mutual aid pact last week in which they agreed to respect one another's picket lines.

Normally Seven Editions

"As long as the pressmen, the printers and the stereotypers stay out we cannot print," said B. O. McAnney, managing editor of the paper which normally publishes seven editions daily.

The World-Telegram and the Sun, a Scripps-Howard paper, claims a circulation well in excess of 600,000 daily. The World-Telegram bought the Sun last January.

The federal mediation and conciliation service, meanwhile, sent telegrams requesting both sides in the dispute to send representatives to the agency's offices late Tuesday.

The strike was called by the guild after three months of negotiations collapsed Monday.

Chilean Government Declares Emergency

SANTIAGO, CHILE (AP)—The Chilean government Tuesday night declared a state of emergency in Santiago province and put the military in control to deal with a spreading wave of strikes.

Employees of the government-controlled telegraph and postal services, 600 workers for the Santiago gas company, bus company employees in Santiago and Valparaiso, and about 10,000 miners at the Chuquibambilla and Maria Elena copper mines in Antofagasta province were on strike in Chile. The copper miners walked out seven days ago.

The national board of white collar workers also had called for a 24-hour general strike Tuesday to put pressure on the senate to pass a bill increasing the salaries of government workers. The white collar workers cancelled the strike call but telegraph and postal workers walked out anyway.

Offer Madison Man DM Manager Post

MADISON, WIS. (AP)—City Manager Leonard G. Howell told a special session of the city council Tuesday night he would resign as soon as he received a written offer for a similar post at Des Moines, Iowa.

The council said it would give him his release whenever he requested it.

The Madison Capital Times reported earlier Tuesday that Howell would quit his $12,000 a year post here in favor of the Des Moines managership. The paper said he would receive an annual salary of $20,000 at Des Moines.

After Howell confirmed the report, the council offered to boost his salary to $16,000. Howell said he could not accept it. He said when he resigned as city manager of Port Huron, Mich., to come here in September, 1947, the Port Huron city council voted to match Madison's offer.

The vote, however, was not unanimous and he felt he would be impairing the effectiveness of the Port Huron council if he stayed, he said, adding he felt the same now.

Iowa Health Council Names 8 for Study Of Future Health Bill

DES MOINES (AP)—The challenges presented in meeting health problems on a local level were discussed Tuesday by the Iowa Health Council at the statehouse.

Attending were 65 lay and professional health leaders from 45 voluntary and official organizations interested in health.

A committee was appointed to study a bill to be introduced by the state health council at the next session of the general assembly. It is a revision of a bill introduced at two previous sessions. The bill in general provides the following points:

Permissive legislation to petition a county board of supervisors to hold an election to determine whether a county health unit is desired; board of health elected by the people; board of health to employ fulltime health officer, nursing and sanitation personnel; permission for two or more contiguous counties to organize a multi-county health department; and authorization for the supervisors to levy not more than one mill to finance public health activities.

Named to the committee were: Dr. C.L. Putnam, director of local health service; state health department; Van Vechten Shaffer, Cedar Rapids, chairman of the Linn county public health council; W.C. Rathke, Glenwood, American Legion; Mrs. C.W. Maplethorpe, Toledo, Iowa Federation of Women's clubs; Dr. C.A. Nichols, Panora, Iowa State Medical association; Dr. George A. Hawthorne, Clarinda, State Veterinarian society; Mrs. Mabel Bunce, Des Moines Women's Civic council; and Dr. W.H. Stacy, Iowa State College extension sociologist.

The committee will present its suggestions to the Iowa Health Council in October.

Texans Stage Downtown Gun Duel, Farmer Killed

GONZALES, TEX. (AP)—A retired farmer and a liquor store operator staged a fatal shotgun duel on the town square Monday night, but authorities said Tuesday night they still don't know why.

Walter Kandel, 48, the retired farmer, was shot to death. I. W. Hutcheson, 60, the liquor store owner, was seriously wounded.

Beyond learning that Kandel and Hutcheson had been engaged in a "running argument" for some time, Gonzales county officers said they knew little of the circumstances that led to the duel.

Iowa Lions End Convention, Elect Officers

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—The Iowa Lions elected top officers for the four state districts of the organization the last day of their state convention here Tuesday.

New district governors are Wilbur R. Newlin of Johnson, southwest district; Dr. Roy Hinson of Fairfield, southeast district; G. F. Chiquet of Iowa Falls, northwest district; De Lyle Brady of Nashua, northeast district.

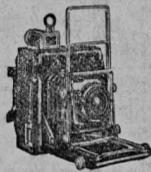

Delegates at the convention adopted four resolutions but tabled one which would have made Des Moines the permanent convention city for state Lions conventions.

One resolution adopted pledged the endorsement of Iowa's 7,716

Lions club members to introduction of a bill at the next state legislature session to create a state recreation board.

The proposed board was described in the resolution as one which would not supplant any existing organization but rather cooperate with state and local groups in helping to provide better recreational facilities by study and coordination.

Another resolution adopted called for an effort to bring before congress for consideration a bill to exempt from federal taxes all service club projects from which proceeds are used completely for community betterment.
