Council Okays $140,000 For Re-Surfacing Streets

A $143,906.14 expenditure for street re-surfacing of 107 blocks in Iowa City was approved Monday night by the city council.

The program, dating back to May 4 when Alderman Charles T. Smith asked for the improvements, will begin shortly after the bids for construction are opened July 10. Work is expected to last about two months.

City gas tax refunds will pay for the re-surfacing over a 10-year period, and at no expense to the property owner.

Oppose Financing

The local chamber of commerce, expected to provide the greatest opposition to the Smith-sponsored re-surfacing plan, Monday night objected only to the method of financing the plan.

The chamber's committee on good roads backed the re-surfacing program asked by Smith but asked the money to pay for it be raised by revenue bonds up to 75 percent of the entire amount.

Bartley Backs Proposal

The remaining 25 percent, committee representatives said, should be assessed to the property owner (totaling about $30,000).

The council ruled in favor of Smith's proposal, however, when City Atty. William H. Bartley explained it is impossible to obtain any money from the gas tax refunds for any other than basic improvements. The project, he said, could not be bonded according to state rulings.

Commentator Opens Lecture Series Friday

Robert Kazmayer, world affairs writer and radio commentator, will open the SUI summer lecture series Friday evening.

Kazmayer will speak on "The Changing European Picture" at 8 p.m. from the platform of the band shell south of the Iowa Union. In case of rain, the lecture will be held in Macbride auditorium, Prof. M. Willard Lampe, summer lecture chairman, said Monday.

Kazmayer's views on the post-war world will be based partially on recent travels in the Far East, Europe and Russia.

His travels started when he worked his way on a trip around the world before starting college.

In 1930 he was employed for 11 months in a Russian automobile factory.

After studying at the University of Rochester, New York, and the Colgate - Rochester Divinity school, New York, he was a Methodist minister in Rochester.

Kazmayer left the ministry in 1938 to devote his full time to lecturing and writing. He is the author of "Out of the Clouds," a book on the post-war period. He publishes a news letter for American businessmen, "Things to Watch and Watch For."

Conferees Agree On Rent Extension

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A compromise extension of federal rent controls through 1950, and for another six months in communities which want them, was agreed upon Monday by a conference committee of the senate and house.

The two branches of congress still must approve the measure. The house will act first, it is said.

There was every indication that the completed bill will be on President Truman's desk well before June 30, when the present law expires.

No doubts have been voiced that Mr. Truman will sign the bill, although it falls short of the full one-year extension he had urged in a special message to Congress.

Lend A Hand —

The "regular" SUI students (those not here just for the summer) have the opportunity to do a little of the joy-spreading we hear so much about, and also to spread the word that living and studying here is a pleasant experience.

There are hundreds of persons enrolled for the summer that work during the months of our spring and fall semesters. They're here working toward advanced degrees, finishing up study interrupted earlier or studying to enter another field than the one they're in now.

Many of them come here alone. Many of them are acquainted with no one on the campus. And all the pretty scenery and academic records a university could offer would soon come to mean very little to many of us if we had to feel we were strangers as we looked upon them. And seeing some of the summer-only students wandering around alone, you really get the feeling they're strangers.

A little volunteered friendship from us might give them, instead of just a summer of study, a summer of pleasant study. Hospitality is a pretty wonderful thing. In most cases it brings out the best in a person receiving it, so in that sense it's repaid.

Our hospitality should be such that our summer-only students will never go home and say, "It was okay, but I felt a little out of place and alone among the college kids." Instead, we should send them away with the good word that "Those kids at SUI really make you feel at home. I had a wonderful time studying in such an atmosphere."

ECA Spreads U.S. 'Know-How'

BY THE CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON—Some 854 European specialists from 16 countries have come to the United States during these Marshall plan days to collect American know-how.

What they are taking back to their homelands are hundreds of ideas, some big and some small, to increase the productivity of their soil, their industries and their public administration.

They also are taking back something less tangible but perhaps more important to the basic understanding of peace-seeking European countries and the United States. It could be called psychological know-how.

Technical know-how can lift the standard of living, but it takes a different variety to create the desire in a war-tired people to lift that standard.

Western Europeans who get an almost free visit in America via ECA, pack something into their hearts and spirits as well as material data into their luggage.

This technical assistance program of the Economics Cooperation administration is a two-way street.

As TAD Director William Jay Hoff puts it: "By facilitating the agricultural and industrial rehabilitation of war-torn Europe and by making our technical advances available, ECA is helping the 18 countries participating in the Marshall plan to help themselves and us too! After all, the most highly developed countries are our best suppliers and customers."

ECA recognizes that these countries to become self-supporting cannot just go along as in the past. They must produce more, not only for themselves but also to have a surplus to sell to other nations.

The United States can, by sharing its hard-won knowledge of more and better productivity with Marshall plan countries, help preserve and improve a peaceful world.

Psychological know-how encourages that state of mind which can eventually win the tough cold war.

During 1949, more than 450 Europeans made visits to the United States under ECA auspices for observation and instruction. Approximately 800 more are expected before June 30, Hoff estimates, on projects currently in an advanced stage of discussion.

Hungary Demands 'Ransom' for Vogeler

VIENNA (AP)—The United States government has agreed tentatively to the "ransom" Communist Hungary is demanding for the release of Robert A. Vogeler, reliable reports said Monday.

Vogeler, assistant vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation, may be freed this week if premature publication does not jeopardize delicate negotiations going on in Budapest, London reporters said.

The price demanded by Hungary for Vogeler's release from prison was said to be 100 million pengo.

1. Release of war reparations

Hungary has asked from Germany and the German-held Hungarian crown jewels, including the historic crown of St. Stephen.

2. Permission to reopen Hungarian consulates in New York and Cleveland, closed in January.

3. Lifting of the state department's ban on American travel in Hungary, imposed in December.

The last two were ordered after Vogeler's arrest.

Vogeler, 38, was arrested Nov. 18, 1949 by Hungary's secret police and charged with sabotage and espionage for the U.S. Held incommunicado for three months, he was tried in February, convicted and sentenced to 15 years in prison.

Vogeler's British associate in I. T. and T., Edgar Sanders, tried on the same charges, was sentenced to 13 years. Two Hungarian co-defendants were sentenced to death.

British authorities are hedging on the high price of Sanders' release, the London reports said. Informants expected Sanders to be freed shortly, but not at the same time as Vogeler.

In London, the British foreign office declined comment, except to recall its March 20 statement that the government was "doing everything in their power" to secure Sanders' release.

Both American and British officials here said the disclosure of the negotiations and the hoped-for imminent release of Vogeler and Sanders "could be very harmful."

"We hope to spring Vogeler," Walter Dowling, U.S. deputy minister to Austria, said, "but these published reports are not helpful, either to the state department or to Vogeler."

The reports followed a confidential press conference here Saturday in which M.J.A. Cheetham, British charge d'affaires, was said to have told British reporters that Vogeler and Sanders may be freed soon.

Lucille, Vogeler's blonde, Belgian-born wife, the mother of his two children, also was afraid the news leak had hurt her husband's chance for freedom.

"Robert's release is my only aim in life," she said.

Bitterly, she added, "A so-called scoop means more to the American commentator than a man's life." She referred to the first broadcast out of Washington by Commentator Drew Pearson.

His formula for victory was a platform that goes like this:

"I am opposed to government doing for people which the people can, should and have done for themselves. I am definitely opposed to free government handouts."

"On the other hand, I definitely believe that it is the business of government to do for people, within a sound financial framework, those things which they can't do for themselves."

The string of his administration's accomplishments runs from cleaning up Pennsylvania's long-polluted streams to mitigating conditions in the state's over-crowded mental hospitals.

The son of a Presbyterian minister, Duff learned about politics in an academic way as a Princeton student under Woodrow Wilson in the early 1900's.

The political side came as a precocious worker in his hometown of Carnegie, a Pittsburgh suburb. In 1912, he was in the camp of Teddy Roosevelt's Bull-Moosers.

He was in and out of active politics as a Republican presidential elector. He read his favorite classics at home, practiced law in Pittsburgh and took a flyer in oil wild-catting, was wiped out in the 1929 crash.

All available money was needed, Duff insisted, for a vast program of public improvements. When a Grundy emissary insisted that manufacturers be exempted from one of the corporation taxes, the governor blazed:

"If you think I'm going to give you a free seat in the grandstand at the same time I'm raising the price in the bleachers, you're crazy!"

That's what Duff calls his "average guy" philosophy that he prides himself on being able to make a contribution to the attainment of a peaceful world."

1950 Classmates Married

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Geiger

Student Leaves for International Work Camp

Carol Shuttleworth, A3, 106 Morningside drive, has gone to Europe to work this summer in an international work camp, the World Council of Churches reported Monday.

Miss Shuttleworth, along with other American work campers at Agape, Italy, will join with youth from European nations to aid in the completion of a Christian youth center located high in the Waldesian Alps of northern Italy.

The work campers do all the manual labor needed to complete the tiny mountain village of Agape, which was started four years ago.

The World Council of Churches sponsors 16 such work projects in Europe, Asia, and the United States. Men and women between 18 and 30 years of age will spend four to six weeks of their summer doing manual labor in international groups of 30 to 40 members.

Work campers represent 14 American Protestant denominations and come from 28 states and Hawaii.

Promoted to captain from first lieutenant were: Robert A. Wilcox, a physician at SUI student health center, 905 S. Summit street; Garfield Tourney, SUI resident psychiatrist, Quincy, Ill.; Donald C. Zavela, resident physician at University hospitals, 25 W. Harrison street.

George E. Scott, resident surgeon at University hospitals, and James A. Clifton, resident physician at University hospitals, 202 1/2 E. Bloomington street.

Promoted to sergeant first class, grade E6, was Melvin Parker, 312 S. Gilbert street; to sergeant, grade E4, Robert P. Thompson of Mt. Vernon, and to corporal, grade E4, Maynard Parker, 1829 F street.

Since leaving SUI he has been teaching at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Alberta Achenbach, Robert Geiger Wed; Both '50 Graduates

Alberta Achenbach, G, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Achenbach of Lisbon, and Dr. Robert C. Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Geiger of Sheldon, were married June 10 at the First Methodist church. Both are 1950 SUI graduates.

The double - ring ceremony was performed by Dr. L. L. Dunnington.

Dorothy Achenbach attended her sister as maid of honor and Eunice Achenbach, sister of the bride, and Virginia Geiger, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. Marcia Kaye Kroemer was flower girl and Tommy Staab was ring bearer.

Dr. Richard Geiger, twin brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Robert Abel and Whitney Campbell, both of Sheldon.

A reception was held after the ceremony for about 100 relatives and friends. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. William Leopard and Mrs. Richard Stevenson, cousins of the bride and Madge Jacobsen, Graettinger, Janice Payne, Exira and Charlotte Stelcik, Cedar Rapids, all 1950 SUI graduates, and Karyl McMinn, A3, Greeley.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, the couple will live in Iowa City. Dr. Geiger plans to take post-graduate work at SUI.

Announce Promotions for Eight in National Guard

Five officers and three enlisted men of the Iowa City National Guard Clearing company, 109th Medical battalion, have received promotions, the office of the Iowa Adjutant General has announced.

Promoted to captain from first lieutenant were: Robert A. Wilcox, a physician at SUI student health center, 905 S. Summit street; Garfield Tourney, SUI resident psychiatrist, Quincy, Ill.; Donald C. Zavela, resident physician at University hospitals, 25 W. Harrison street.

George E. Scott, resident surgeon at University hospitals, and James A. Clifton, resident physician at University hospitals, 202 1/2 E. Bloomington street.

Promoted to sergeant first class, grade E6, was Melvin Parker, 312 S. Gilbert street; to sergeant, grade E4, Robert P. Thompson of Mt. Vernon, and to corporal, grade E4, Maynard Parker, 1829 F street.

Since leaving SUI he has been teaching at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Shirley Schreiber, Norman Snider Married

The little chapel of the Congregational church in Iowa City was the scene of the afternoon wedding Sunday of Shirley Ann Schreiber, A2, Des Moines, and Norman E. Snider, G, Waterloo. The Rev. John Craig performed the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wathena I. Schreiber and the late Dr. C. C. Schreiber of Des Moines, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William Provau, Waterloo.

Mrs. Lowell Tainter, Port Washington, Wis., attended the bride as matron of honor and Constance Jewett, A3, Des Moines, was the bridesmaid. Mary Sue Minear Cleve, was flower girl.

Barry Bristol, C3, Des Moines, acted as best man and Richard Young, Des Moines, and Lowell Tainter, Port Washington, Wis., were ushers. The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Dr. J. W. Dulm, Iowa City.

A reception was held following the wedding in the Congregational fireside room. The couple will go on a wedding trip to a private family cottage on Lake Michigan.

Sgt. Doris R. Garner of the U.S. airforce has been assigned to the SUI department of military science and tactics, department officials announced Monday.

Garnier, a statistical comptroller sergeant, is expected to arrive in Iowa City July 1. He is now stationed at Maxwell air force base.

Market Out Of Big Ten--PCC Meet

TIVES in the 10th annual track meet at Madison, Wis., will compete in the 440; this team was Jack Simpson's record of :40.6.

Hitting Lead; Kell Tops American League

Triple Duty
Gehrmann will run in the half-mile and as part of the mid-westerners' mile relay team. Last year his triple duty was instrumental in defeating the PCC.

Experts predict one of the greatest assaults on Camp Randall stadium's record books will be made in today's affair.

Four national champions probably will be on hand to lead the record - smashing attack. The four NCAA champions are equally divided between the two teams.

Top man is Gehrmann who is teamed with Michigan's Don McEwen, the two-mile king. From the Coast it is Dick Attlessey, southern California's high hurdle champ and discus titlist Dick Doyle of Montana.

The sprints and the hurdles will probably be the most hotly contested events of the 14-event program.

Donnie Anderson of California and Bill Fell of Oregon will go against Charles Peters of Indiana. All three have run the hundred in 9.5 seconds.

These three runners will also meet in the 220-yard dash.

Attlesey to Run

The hurdlers will find Michigan's Don Hoover in a battle with Attlessey, current world record holder in the highs.

Pole - Vault Don Laz of Illinois and Broad - Jumper Jim Holland of Northwestern look like good bets to bring the Big Ten two firsts in their respective events. Laz has gone well over 14 feet and Holland has bettered 24 feet several times.

Minnesota's Byrl Thompson will see double duty since Clifton Anderson of Indiana has decided to pass up his entry in the shot put. Thompson will also compete in the discus.

LeRoy Collins of Wisconsin appears to be tops in the 440 field. His best time for the year is 48.1 at Minnesota's Memorial stadium. The PCC's No. 1 entrant Dave Henthorne of Oregon has stepped the distance in 48.7.

Iowa's Jack Simpson was a member of the 440-yard relay team, which holds the meet record. Along with Simpson were Bill Mathis of Illinois, Dick Houden of Wisconsin and Charles Peters of Indiana. The mark of 40.6 seconds was set in 1948.

The PCC, with four men who have done 40 seconds flat or better this year seems to be the logical choice for the mile relay. Two of the Big Ten's top quarter milers, Harry Cogswell of Ohio State and Herman Waarich of Illinois will not participate in the meet.

From all indications, it looks like the meet will be a battle of the seconds and the thirds since the firsts are almost equally split.

Bob Primrose, Moran Picked on All-Star Club

EAST LANSING, MICH.—Bob "Pinky" Primrose, Iowa third baseman, and Hawk Outfielder Murland Moran have been named to the NCAA district four all-star baseball team, it was announced here Sunday.

Jack Dittmer, Iowa second baseman, failed to repeat his 1949 selection to the first team. Pitcher Glen Drahm was picked for second team honors.

KID GAVILAN WINS
HARTFORD, CONN. (AP)—Kid Gavilan, the Cuban middleweight, outpointed Bobby Mann of Trenton, N.J., Monday night, in a 10-round feature bout in the Hartford Auditorium's outdoor arena. Gavilan weighed 155; Mann 154.

Playgrounds Open, 'Kids' Enjoy First Day's Spills, Thrills

By TROY ANDERSON

Nearly 300 children swarmed over the Benton and Brown street playgrounds Monday afternoon to help officially open the 1950 Iowa City playground program.

Plenty of activities kept all 300 busy until the 8 p.m. closing time. Most of the children expressed eagerness to come back again today — mother and weather permitting.

"Gee! This is fun!" one freckled, red-headed boy remarked after he hit a single in a softball game at the Brown street playground. And "fun" was what each seemed to be having.

Basketball and Checkers

The Brown street playground, under the direction of DeLores Moore, A4, 330 E. Church street, was crowded with about 150 children.

Basketball, checkers and croquet were the featured attractions Monday at the Brown street grounds, but ping - pong, archery, volleyball ball and football remained to be tried today.

The girls worked hard "pumping up" the swings, while the boys played a hotly contested softball game, the "Dixies" edging out the "Wildcats" 5-4.

Boxing and Softball

At the Benton street playground, supervisors Mrs. Dorothy Castle, SUI student from Des Moines, and Dick Jacobs, G. Atlantic, tried to keep another 150 children entertained.

Attendant Bill Winterle, G. 363 N. Riverside drive, showed one group of boys the rudiments of softball while another group of prospective boxers began their summer training.

Five-year-old Tommy Spurgeon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Spurgeon, 932 Webster street, displayed a "shiner" around his left eye after he sparred a few minutes with another lad about his own age.

But, Tommy insisted, he received his blackeye in a fall at home — and not in the bout.

Cars Collide

Cars driven by Dr. Douglas Eastwood, instructor in anesthesiology in the college of medicine, and Karl H. Nicholas, 49, Storm Lake, collided on highway 6 near the intersection of Burlington and Summit streets Sunday. Each driver estimated damage to his car to be $200.

Space in U-Hospitals

Added by Revamping Post-Mortem Room

A two - floor amphitheater in the medical laboratory building of SUI hospitals, formerly used as a post-mortem room, is being remodeled to enlarge the facilities of the building.

The room will be converted to two single-floor rooms. The lower room will continue to be used for post-mortems, and the upper floor will serve as research laboratories and offices.

The remodeling program has been necessitated because of the enlargement in the medical college enrollment. In the last two years, the number of students has been increased from 90 to 120.

Some of the present research laboratories will be moved into the remodeled post-mortem room. The old laboratories will then be revamped as pathology teaching laboratories.

The old partitions and flooring have been torn out of the room in preparation for remodeling. The work is expected to take another month or six weeks.

Thirty Attend School On Mental Hygiene

Thirty teachers and school administrators, and eight staff members of Iowa state institutions began a two-week workshop in education in human relations and mental health Monday at SUI.

Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann, educational psychology department, said representatives of the Glenwood State school, Woodward State hospital and school, Mt. Pleasant State Mental hospital, Iowa State prison at Ft. Madison, Cherokee State hospital and Clarinda State hospital registered for the workshop.

The workshop's purpose is to present recent developments in human relations and mental health, and teaching methods.

Faculty members of the SUI education, psychology and psychiatry departments and other teachers will instruct the workshop.

Benda Fined $27.50 For Causing Accident

W.J. Benda, Prairie du Chien road, was fined $27.50 in police court Monday by Judge Emil G. Trotter on the charge of driving on the wrong side of the road and causing an accident.

Benda's car collided with one driven by Kenneth L. Donelson, A4, Iowa City, Saturday at the intersection of Church and Dubuque streets.

Donelson said his car had $36.62 damage. Damage to Benda's car was unknown.

Cedar Rapids Horsemen Entertain Saddle Club

Iowa City Saddle club members were entertained by the Cedar Rapids Horseman's club Sunday. The guest trail ride included members from Iowa City, Toddville, Lisbon and Tipton.

Eighty - five riders met at 10 a.m. at Vern Upmeyer's stable near Solon for the ride to Western. The noon meal at the Western's Horseman's club was served for 200 guests including children and those who did not go on the trail ride.
