California Votes to Discharge 157 for Loyalty Oath Rejection

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The University of California board of regents Friday upheld a recommendation by President Robert Gordon Sproul that 157 employees of the university - less than 100 of them teachers - be fired for not signing anti-Communist statement.

In a heated session, often punctuated with clashes among the regents, the board voted to defer action until July 21 on six other employees whom Sproul had recommended be fired. The board deferred until the next meeting, action in the case of 73 other non-signers, 62 of whom had been cleared by the academic senate committee on privilege and tenure.

Also put off until the July 21 meeting was the re-hiring of 11 employees who objected to signing the statement because of religious scruples.

Warren Present

The meeting was so important that Gov. Earl Warren flew back from an eastern trip to be present and preside.

Sproul said that 9,929 letters were sent to university employees asking them to state as a condition of employment that they are not members of the Communist party.

There were 9,963 letters returned agreeing to the contractual condition.

All non-signers were given the right to a hearing before the committee on privilege and tenure of the academic senate.

Ignored Right

Sproul said 157 ignored this right. He recommended they be fired. Six others, he said, stated outright that they would not sign the statement and did not want their cases reviewed.

Of the others, Sproul said, there were 11 who had religious scruples, 18 on which no action has yet been taken, two others who are out of the country on leave and 10 cases still under consideration.

Semester Grades Available Monday

Grade reports of the 1950 spring semester will be available Monday, Registrar Ted McCarrel said Friday.

Students in the colleges of liberal arts, commerce and graduate college may obtain their grades by presenting student number cards at the windows in the hallway to the office of the registrar, room 1, University hall.

Grades for students in other colleges will be available at the office of the dean of their college. The registrar's office will be open Monday from 8 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Degree Candidates

All persons who expect to be degree candidates at the August commencement must file applications at the registrar's office, room 1, University hall before 5 p.m. Wednesday, J. Harvey Croy, assistant registrar said Friday.

About 100 persons who have not filed applications are being notified by mail, Croy said.

Housewife Burned As Stove Explosion Ruins Trailer Home

Mrs. Courtland Johannsen, 424 Riverdale village, received first degree burns on her right arm Friday at 10 a.m. when a gas cook stove in her trailer home burst into flames.

A neighbor took Mrs. Johannsen to the University hospitals where she was treated and released an hour later.

'Beyond Repair' The trailer was "damaged beyond practical repair" according to J. Robert Cotter, manager of married students' housing.

The Johannsens had several immediate offers from neighbors for lodging until they can move to another home.

Mrs. Johannsen said she was pumping air into the pressure octane gasoline, when it exploded and the tank cap flew upward. She tried to carry the flaming tank outside but dropped it near the stove.

Blames Gasket

Firemen said the blaze was "a flash fire in the stove generator." Cotter said the fire might have been caused by a "faulty gasket" in the stove.

He said Mrs. Johannsen had been advised Thursday to change the gasket in the stove and she said she planned to have her husband do so Friday noon.

Before leaving the trailer, Mrs. Johannsen closed all windows. Neighbors praised her quick thinking and said it probably stopped the flames from spreading to nearby trailers.

Personal Damages $1,000

Courtland Johannsen, a graduate student from Dubuque who works at Whiting Electric company, estimated the damage to personal effects at $1,000.

Cotter said damage to the trailer was between $400 and $500. It probably will not be repaired. He said SUI carried a "very small amount of insurance on the trailer, and the Johannsens had no insurance."

A next door neighbor said "as soon as the fire started, I saw Mrs. Courtland in the door and the whole trailer was in flames." A few clothes in a closet were all that escaped the blaze. A portable typewriter was a mass of melted steel, and the telephone receiver had been melted to the telephone base.

Mother Looks Over Contract

JACK DITTMER'S MOTHER looked over the professional baseball contract her son signed Friday with the Boston Braves at their home in Elkader. The former Iowa athletic great will report to Denver in the Western league Monday. While at Iowa, Dittmer played four years on the varsity football and baseball teams and was on the basketball team in his senior year. He was the sixth athlete in Iowa history to win six major letters.

Railroads Gear Dittmer Signs Baseball Contract with Braves For Strike Tieup

CHICAGO (AP) - The deadline for a strike against five big railroads drew nearer Friday without any indication that the government might interfere to stave off the walkout.

Freight embargoes announced Thursday began pinching the flow of goods over all but one of the rail networks well in advance of the threatened tieup.

Four of the five railroads involved went ahead with plans to halt operations if the AFL Switchmen's union of North America proceeds with its strike, set for 6 a.m. (Iowa time) Sunday.

The midwestern and western roads selected as targets for the walkout are the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, the Chicago Great Western, the Western Pacific, the Great Northern, and the Denver and Rio Grande Western.

The strike was called to enforce the switchmen's demand for a 40 hour week with 48 hours pay. A presidential fact - finding board recommended the 48 hour week be cut to 40 hours with an 18 cent hourly increase in pay.

The union contended this would cut their take - home pay. All but the Great Northern railroad have announced plans to stop running trains if the strike takes place.

Dixie Reports 'Flash'

LAKE CHARLES, LA. (AP) - A Civil Aeronautics administration official said Friday night that a "brilliant flash" with a long, curving vapor trail was observed in Houston, Texas, Montgomery, Ala., and New Orleans Friday.

The CAA official said the object was being investigated.

Press Club Backs Fund for 6-Year-Old

The Iowa City Press and Radio club is sponsoring a campaign to buy a wheelchair-stretcher so Judy Dittmars, a convalescent polio patient in University hospitals, can go to school, the club announced Friday.

Contributions may be mailed to the "Fund for Judy," Iowa City, Iowa, officials said.

The plucky little six-year-old was stricken with polio two years ago and totally paralyzed. She has regained the use of both arms but she remains paralyzed from the waist down.

She is unable to sit erect for more than three hours each day. Authorities at the hospital school for severely handicapped children said she needs the stretcher to attend classes.

Economics of Money-Making

NEW YORK (AP) - The South African mint for the time being isn't going to make any more silver florins (worth about 28 cents.) The government information office explained Friday that it's because the cost of making the money is too high to make money, what with the rising price of silver and all.

Loyalty Files Too Incomplete To Use: Lodge

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) said Friday that state department loyalty files on 81 persons accused by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) are too "unfinished" to settle the issue.

By saying so, Lodge contradicted Sen. Millard Tydings (D-Md.), chairman of a senate committee investigating McCarthy's charges that the department is a Red haven. Tydings contends the committee's study of the files will show a complete "true or false" picture. Lodge is a member of the five-man investigating group.

Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa, the other Republican on the committee, also contends the files won't "by any means" give the final answers to McCarthy's charges.

In another phase of the long investigation of McCarthy's attack on the state department and its officials, the committee tried Friday to pry loose from the justice department a record concerning John S. Service, Far East diplomat accused by McCarthy as pro-Communist.

It purports to be the transcript of a 1945 conversation between Service and Philip Jaffe, Amerasia magazine editor. Investigators said they had received testimony that he never knowingly did so; that he had no such secrets to impart.

The committee put off questioning Service about it until Monday in closed session. By that time, Tydings said, he hopes the department will turn over the transcript. A government official said it was against department policy to make public such information but that the committee request is being reconsidered.

Immigration Service Opens Drive Against Big Smuggling Ring

DETROIT (AP) - The U.S. immigration service announced Friday night it has seized more than 80 persons including a notorious Italian gangster in a drive against a new alien - smuggling ring.

The ring has been pouring Italian aliens into the Detroit area for months, District Director James W. Butterfield said. Five of the arrests were made here, the rest in New York and elsewhere.

Butterfield said those who in custody are aliens who were slipped into the country through eastern and southern ports. The ring responsible for the smuggling has not been cracked, he said.

"The case is far from closed," he added, "and there will be further arrests."

Butterfield identified one of the aliens as Gaetano Badalante, a former lieutenant of Sicilian Gang Chief Salvatore Guiliano. Badalante was arrested in suburban Wyandotte, Mich., last month.

He was ordered deported, Butterfield said, but appealed and is now in jail awaiting further action on the case.

Strike Still Set

DETROIT (AP) - The CIO United Auto Workers Friday night accepted economic terms of Briggs Manufacturing company's latest offer but refused to call off a strike set for Monday.

Minister Held

THE REV. MERRITT KIRKS, 27-year-old pastor of the Christian church at Mendon, Mo., was charged at Brookfield, Mo., Thursday with the rape of a 16-year-old girl and felonious assault on two others. Rev. Kirks is married and the father of two small children.

Sen. Connally Urges Billion Dollars Aid For Foreign Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.), urging more military aid to Europe, told the senate Friday that "you cannot afford to spend time discussing fire prevention methods when a criminal is, at that very moment, setting fire to your house."

He spoke on the opening day of the Senate debate over whether to authorize $1,222,500,000 for a second year of arms aid to friendly foreign countries.

Connally, who is chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said Soviet attempts to undermine world peace had left the free nations with no alternative but to build up a collective defense capacity "sufficient to meet the needs of the hour."

As he spoke, American arms were pouring across the Atlantic under the $1.3-billion program voted by congress last year. Twenty-four ships are reported to be en route to various nations including Belgium, France, Britain, and Italy.

One theme of Connally's speech was: "This is no time to quibble over details."

But some details of the $1.2-billion bill were expected to meet Republican opposition later in the debate. Republican senators announced Friday that they will meet Monday to discuss their position.

The bill would merely authorize; the actual appropriation of money would come in a later bill.

Connally said that according to a recent report, Russia is spending the equivalent of $45-billion a year for military purposes. He said that while this may be exaggerated, the situation is difficult and calls for "unity," "courage," "action."

Enroll Fifty Percent Of SUI Employees For Insurance Plan

Nearly 50 percent of SUI's eligible employees have enrolled in the employee group insurance and disability benefit plan, Charles DeWinter, Bankers Life representative in charge of the plan, said Friday.

Employees from nine departments and one college are 100 percent enrolled, he said. Exact figures on the total number enrolled to date were unavailable, he added.

He emphasized that all full-time SUI employees are eligible to participate in the insurance program, regardless of length of service. Employees become eligible for disability benefits after serving either one or two years, depending upon classification.

Employees ineligible for disability benefits because of short service, may enroll in the insurance plan now and participate in the disability program when they gain eligibility, he said.

Cost of the insurance is 50 cents for each $1,000 of insurance carried. The maximum amount of insurance which one employee may carry is $6,000.

Premiums for the disability plan are graduated according to salary and years of employment. Premium payments for those enrolled in the program will be handled through payroll deductions in the SUI business office.

Departments listed as complete according to Arlyn C. Marks, head of SUI's personnel office, include student health, chemical engineering, geology, mathematics, German, dermatology, radiology, ambulance drivers and hygiene and preventive medicine.

The college of law also is listed as complete, Marks said. He said information on the program is available in the personnel office. Enrollment cards may be mailed direct to the office.

Indiana VFW Convention Votes Down Bonus Plan

FORT WAYNE, IND. (AP) - A resolution which would have requested President Truman and congress to provide a federal bonus for World War II veterans was voted down Friday by delegates to the Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars convention.

The resolution, which asked $3 per day for home service up to a maximum of $3,500, $4 per day for overseas service up to $4,500 and $500 for every wound received in combat lost.

THE TELEPHONE AND TYPEWRITER MELTED from the heat of the fire Friday that started in a gas cooking stove in the trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Johannsen, 424 Riverdale village. Mrs. Johannsen suffered burns on the right arm when she attempted to carry the flaming gas tank from the trailer. The trailer was termed "damaged beyond practical repair" by J. Robert Cotter, manager of married students' housing. Johannsen is a graduate student.

Student Residents —

Students now are residents of Iowa City according to the Bureau of the Census. This is a seven-league step in breaking down the cleavage between "town" and "gown" that has plagued this city and other college communities. The split was about as real as whipped cream on fried eggs but it helped to foster an odious stranger-in-town feeling on the part of the students. Prior census definitions failed to recognize that young people in universities and colleges were achieving independence and that home ties were in the process of being weakened or actually broken.

Now, more realistically classified as residents of the city in which they spend most of the year and are most active, students may develop a deeper feeling of "belonging." They will want to take a part in the affairs of Iowa City and let's hope the community will welcome them. The young men and young women of the university need to experience the duties and responsibilities of citizenship and Iowa City can effectively use their energy and enthusiasm.

Community and university leadership should give thought to additional means of bridging the gap between "town" and "gown." Barriers should be torn down; ties of mutual interest should be strengthened. Iowa City can benefit socially, economically and politically from a happy union of the major elements of the community.

Coffee Investigation —

Brazil's "awful lot of coffee" seems to be causing worries of the same magnitude for the Gillette subcommittee of the senate committee on agriculture.

Fortified by a several months' probe of the coffee market, the committee has reported its indignation concerning the fabulous profits of coffee speculators, and the contract forms used by the New York Coffee and Sugar exchange.

The gist of it all is that Americans have become hopeless coffee addicts, their habit is outrageously expensive, and that congress should enact a law on the subject.

While begrudging the humble coffee bean a higher pecuniary status, the committee should be mindful of certain economical factors which have made the price boom unavoidable.

Within the past few years, Brazil has undergone a vast self-improvement program. Marginal coffee plantations have been sacrificed for crop diversification, industrial development, and a greater domestic production of foodstuffs.

Fifteen years ago Brazil had three billion coffee-bearing trees. Now it has only two billion — a reduction of one third.

Equally responsible is the fact that Americans have contracted a severe case of caffeinitis. Before the war the U.S. imported 14-billion bags or less annually. Now the annual rate is about 21-billion. Great Britain and Canada have stepped up their consumption in like or greater proportions.

The Gillette committee and congress will win a round of applause if they can cut the cost of filling the American breakfast pot.

But when the producers of a commodity must import attempt to bolster prices by keeping some of their product off the market, American legislative officials should mind their manners. Someone might mention potatoes.

Interpreting the News —

Europe Council May Get Teeth

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AF Foreign Affairs Analyst

France's proposal for an international parliament to act as the legislative arm of the Schuman plan has aroused speculation that what she is really doing, in addition to working for an industrial pool, is designed to give the council of Europe, now merely an advisory body, some real authority.

The proposal is also believed to have been produced in the hope that Britain would take a more favorable view of industrial control by a body in which her parliament would be represented than of the bare executive control which the French outlined originally.

The system described to the Paris conference by Jean Monnet, France's economic "idea man," and co-author of the plan, bears some resemblance to the American governmental system. There would be an executive authority to do the work, a parliament to review its activities and lay down policy, and a court to which members could appeal decisions which they felt infringed on their interests.

As outlined by Monnet, the proposed parliament would be composed of delegates appointed from national parliaments or elected by them from among their own members. This is the same setup as that for the advisory council of Europe now established at Strasbourg, and the next logical step would seem to be to incorporate the proposed steel and coal control in that group's power.

Lovers' Leap

Ex-Reporters Glean Broadway Hit Plots From Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP) — Bella Spewack and her husband, Samuel Spewack, are two ex-newspaper reporters who learned how to take inconsequential news items and pyramid them into a fortune.

The plot of their Broadway plays began as items which they likely would have written into a compact single paragraph in the days when they were top flight leg reporters for the old "New York World."

Now, successful in show business, they have expanded those small personal stories they covered as reporters into such full length show hits as their "Two Blind Mice," "Boy Meets Girl" and "Clear All Wires."

At the present moment "Two Blind Mice," following its long run on Broadway, is playing in Chicago with Melvin Douglas still in the starring role. Their "Boy Meets Girl" and "Clear All Wires," both of which had long runs on Broadway, are now booked in stock and municipal theaters in several cities.

A pertinent point about a play the Spewacks write is that it is not confusing or complicated. And, more important, their plays do not have involved or expensive scenery and the cast of players is small.

"A stage setting can come between a play and an audience," Mrs. Spewack said. "You can get a tremendous amount of scenery on a stage, something like one of those luxurious Hollywood film productions. And, in doing this, you lose the whole point of the story you want to tell."

That explains why their current Broadway musical comedy hit, "Kiss Me, Kate," probably has less scenery and other trappings in it than any musical show that has been seen on the Rialto in years.

Although the musical "Kiss Me, Kate" combines portions of Shakespearean scenes with a modern story about a theatrical company playing a production of the Bard, all the audience sees today in "Kiss Me, Kate" are a few inexpensive stage props and settings strewn about the stage.

Mrs. Spewack explained that she and her husband are not the only ones who have used this interesting, if inexpensive, method of presenting a show. She recalled Thornton Wilder's prize winning play, "Our Town," which was played mostly on an almost bare stage when it was such a Broadway hit back in 1939.

Ain't No Saint Nick, Pastor Tells Flock; Winds Up in Court

KANSAS CITY, KAN. (AP) — The twinkle became a brittle gleam in the eyes of Santa Claus Friday. Santa was peeved, and not by the June heat, either.

For seven years Charles Bye, a railroad employe and active in the work of the Argentine Baptist church here, donned his red suit and whiskers and chuckled his way through the annual Christmas eve program at the church.

Friday Bye was a witness in the district court of Judge William H. McCale, testifying how the new leader of the flock called the myth of Santa "a dirty lie" and slew good Saint Nick.

No Mixed Sunday School

The Rev. Del A. Fehsenfeld became pastor of the church of about 300 members last September. He promptly made bitter enemies of one group, friends of another. Those who don't care for him filed suit to oust him on the ground he led their church from its doctrines, customs and usages.

Bye had two points as a witness for the plaintiffs. First, he described how Fehsenfeld ended Santa Claus. Then he related how Fehsenfeld broke up a mixed Sunday school class for adults. "Santa Claus has always been a custom of the church," Bye said. "Shortly after Fehsenfeld came, he said a sermon that the myth of Santa Claus is a dirty lie. "Then he cupped his hands and shouted: 'Do you hear me? It's a dirty lie!'"

No Dancing

Fehsenfeld, dancing with his two attorneys and his attractive wife, smiled. There was a Christmas program last December at the church — without Santa. Malloy S. Hagemann told of a sermon in which Fehsenfeld denounced dancing as "tending to excite emotions and passions."

Hagemann said Fehsenfeld said "the girl kisses the boy good night, trips off to bed and he goes to a red light district" after the dance.

"I have more respect for a harlot in the red light district than I do for that so-and-so girl," Hagemann said Fehsenfeld shouted.

The trial was recessed at noon Friday, until Monday morning. Fehsenfeld is expected to testify in his own defense later in the trial.

The Amputee

A VERY DETERMINED little six-year-old girl is getting ready to go home for the first time in two years. She is little Judy Dittmars who was stricken with polio in September, 1948.

When polio struck Judy, it completely paralyzed her. For a year she lay in an iron lung at a Council Bluffs hospital. Today, she has the use of her arms but still cannot use her legs.

Judy is going home to Malvern July 21 to visit her six brothers and sisters and her father, Guy, who drives a truck there. But Judy will be back at the SUI hospital school for severely handicapped children Sept. 11.

When Judy gets back, she would like to learn to read and write. She can learn if you and I will help her.

Since Judy can't use her legs, she will need a pushcart on which to ride to and from class.

The pushcart is a bed on wheels which has a headrest just high enough to hold Judy's head so she can see and take part in class. If you would like to help little Judy get her pushcart so she can learn to read and write let her know by sending your contribution to:

FUND FOR JUDY, Iowa City, Iowa.

Let's help Judy by giving what we can. Judy will thank you.

CHEAPER BY THE HALF-DOZEN: A Pottsville, Pa., man reasoned recently that "If they're cheaper by the dozen, then how about a half-dozen." So he sent six of his nine children off to Pottsville hospital to have their tonsils extracted.

And all six — aged six to fifteen — are doing nicely, thank you.

BOB HAWK, the CBS quiz-master, said the other night that this was the machine age — and asked a contestant if he believed we would ever have a machine to do our thinking for us. "We have one now," said the contestant. "It's known as the political machine."

IOWA CITIZENS call the police for everything from "what time does the ballgame start" to "come quick, I've been held up" and yet they curse that "awful old policeman" when they have to pay a quarter for overparking. It just depends on who's wearing the shoes as the old saying goes.

GRAB THE GUN, MAMA! For 46 years, Joseph Barron and his wife have been running a grocery store in Detroit. And they have had their share of holdups. But they really felled the latest.

Recently two thugs came into the store demanding money — but Mama Barron just pushed the gun aside. The hoodlum fired it wildly and then it jammed. The incident didn't upset the Barrons though — even if Joseph is 81 and Mama 75.

Fur Farmer Grips —

Money-Making Minks Stink

— Russia Floods Market

DENVER (AP) — There's nothing like a mink coat to make a girl happy. But to men in the mink raising business, minks are nervous, vicious animals who can spray an odor rivaling that of a skunk. And they can bite right through a leather glove. The little animals' unpleasant nature, however, is the least of the hazards facing the fur farmer. The most formidable is Russia — and perhaps the fickleness of women's tastes. The flood of pelts from Russia and other countries since the war has hit the industry a hard blow. First off, the fur farmer tells you, he doesn't want price supports. Like the wheat or potato farmer gets, for example. Want Fair Share "We just want to get out fair share of the American market," says Harry Lee, president of the Rocky Mountain Fur Farmers association. To get it, he says, the fur farmers want: 1. Relief from the 30 percent federal excise tax on furs. 2. A tariff or quotas on imported furs. 3. A "truth-in-labeling" law which would force furriers to label their fur coats with the true American name of the fur, country of origin and whether the fur is new, old or dyed. Lee raises silver foxes and mink in the mountains west of Denver, center of Colorado's fur raising industry. He formerly raised 1,000 silver foxes a year. Before the war he got about $40 each for the pelts. Now, silver fox jackets aren't as stylish as they once were and they're available from other countries. All silver fox pelts sold for an average of about $11 last year — part of a decline which set in after the war. No Profit Yet As a result, Lee has trimmed his operations to about 250 foxes. The only reason he keeps any is that he and his wife have developed some good blood lines in 10 years in the business. He couldn't replace them if women start wanting long-haired furs again. Meanwhile, he has switched to mink raising — which still is profitable — and will harvest 1,000 pelts this fall. He has been raising mink for five years and hasn't made any money on them yet. It takes that long to get started. Maybe he'll profit this year — if prices stay good. The fur farmers fear that imported pelts can do to the mink market what they helped do for silver foxes. There are now less than 500 fox farms where 7,000 existed before the war. The United States imported $161,775,000 worth of furs in 1948. Nearly one-fourth — $38,823,000 — of that amount was paid to Russia, Canada, China, Norway and Sweden accounted for the bulk of the other three-quarters. The fur farmers claim the other countries must subsidize their fur industry to compete with Russia. Cannibalism The mink and foxes bear their litters of one to 10 pups in the spring. There's an average of three in a litter. The baby mink weigh less than an ounce — about like an infant mouse. If the mothers — both foxes and mink — get upset, they eat their young. There have been several lawsuits after low-flying airplanes frightened mother foxes into cannibalism. For eight months the fur farmers baby the animals along, feeding them horsemeat, fish and other food. Tendons are cut in the foxes' claws so they can't dig out of their pens. In the fall, when the fur is just right, the animals are pelted and the fur sent to auctions, most of them in New York. If the minimum set by the farmer, he can refuse to sell. However, the farmers don't like too many resale — handling by the buyers damages the fur.

Cookbook Feature Anecdotes, Recipes Of Gay Nineties

Alexander Kirkland, professor and actor and director, came fascinated by Victorian manners and mores a few years ago and decided to write a cookbook. Just about everyone who reads cookbooks these days, but Kirkland seems to have a unique bias in his own interpretation of the nineties life with famous Geocretor's recipes.

Luck came his way when Lillian Shaffer, housewife, good cook and former newspaperwoman, him use her treasure - filled of recipes and food correspondence by the late Rector, reputed one of the world's greatest of 1890 Cookbook.

Kirkland immediately came with the idea of an 1890's cookbook, a combination of recipes and reminiscences of the boys and girls of the era.

The result of "Rector's Nineties Cookbook" (Doubleday with Kirkland contributing the reminiscences and nostalgia Mrs. Shaffer some 400 of Recipes.

His own favorite recipe is "Pretzel Steak" a la Gentleman Corbett, which involves thick steaks, cutting pockets same and stuffing with oysters. Mrs. Shaffer likes Breast of Chicken a la Anna Held. The bottom to top layer, toast, chicken breasts and Sauce preme.

Essays Divide Book

Short essays and profiles by Kirkland divide the book into sections on hors d'oeuvres, soups, fish, meat, etc. He writes of nineties figures Diamond Jim Brady, Lillian Russell, Lily Langtry and Richard Harding Davis.

Brady not only ate four big meals a day - some with 14 courses - but nibbled his way through many dozens of wafers and oysters between meals.

Glamorous Lillian Russell liked to stow it away, too. She once had to retire from the stage for a couple of years to reduce.

Filled Peppers Appetizing In Warm, Hurried Days

Filled peppers are ideal for hot days which are extra hot and leave you little time for meal preparation. Twenty minutes should be sufficient time to prepare the entire meal. Boil macaroni, corn and carrots to cook. While they are boiling, slice off the tops of the peppers and remove the seeds. Parboil the peppers about 10 minutes, or until they are still crisp. While the macaroni and peppers are cooking, make the cheese sauce and add a bit of pimiento to it. Drain the macaroni and carrots into cheese sauce and green peppers. Arrange the macaroni and vegetables on individual plates in the kitchen, rather than in bowls and platters on the table. This saves dishwashing and the prepared plates make an attractive table. Add sliced crab apple for garnish. You serve buttered hard rolls, their crunchy texture is a fine contrast to the smooth macaroni and macaroni. Good ert would be fresh rhubarb, chilled and served with ice-box cookies.

Remove the seeds from the peppers, and wash and parboil in salted water for 5 minutes. Melt butter or margarine in a double boiler and stir in flour, salt, pepper and mustard. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly until thickened. Add pimiento, cheese and macaroni. Fill the peppers with the macaroni mixture. Set in a shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) 25 minutes. These proportions are sufficient for four servings.

3 tablespoons enriched flour
1-2 teaspoons salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
1-2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1-2 cups milk
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 cup grated American cheese
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender (about 8 minutes). Drain and rinse.

Boxox Manager Says 'This Is Final'

Joe McCarthy

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Declaring he is "physically exhausted," Joe McCarthy retired from baseball for the second time Friday.

Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, immediately named Coach Steve O'Neill to replace McCarthy as manager.

The ailing, 63-year-old pilot, who had seen the Sox lose 11 of their last 14 games, said when asked whether he planned to return to baseball:

"No, this is final."

The announcement of McCarthy's resignation, made in St. Louis, came shortly after he had scoffed at reports that he was quitting. He had said then, at his home in East Amherst, N.Y., that he would rejoin the Sox for their game in Philadelphia next Tuesday.

He was reported ill with pleurisy and flu when the Sox reached ed Chicago last Tuesday. He remained in his hotel room Thursday when he took a plane for his home in East Amherst, suburb of Buffalo.

Following the announcement of his retirement, McCarthy asked about his plans for the future and he replied:

"I am sorry Joe had to step out, but I am very glad to get another job as manager," was Steve O'Neill's comment Friday when advised of his appointment to succeed Joe McCarthy as manager of the Boston Red Sox.

"It feels mighty good to be back in managerial harness," O'Neill said. "This is quite a break for me."

O'Neill, to whom managing a major league club is nothing new, said he hoped to get the Red Sox back in winning stride very shortly. The team has lost 11 of its 14 last games. He said, however, that he did not plan any immediate lineup changes.

Maurice McDermott, who allowed only two hits in 3 2-3 innings, was the winning pitcher. Jo Brownie relief hurlers held Boston hitless in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings.

While Boston couldn't hit one out of the park for their new manager, Steve O'Neill, doubles were collected by Dom DiMaggio, Ted Williams, Walt Dropo, Bobby Thoenes, Mat Batts and McDermott.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Roy Smalley's ninth home run with two on base, hit off Relief Pitcher Blix Donnelly in the seventh inning, provided the Chicago Cubs with their winning margin Friday night as they defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-4, before 21,030 fans.

The Phils knocked Starting Pitcher John Klippstein out of the box in less than two innings. Doyle Lade held them in check until hurt by a batted ball and was relieved by Frank Hiller. The latter was driven to the showers but Paul Minner stopped the threat.

The Cubs in turn jumped on Southpaw Curt Simmons for 12 hits and drove him from the mound in less than seven innings.

Klippstein and Bob Ramazotti drove home two Cubs runs in the second but the Phils came back with three as Klippstein walked three straight men. Gran Hamner's single off Lade sent two of the runs home.

Favored Snead Loses in PGA Tourney

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Samuel Jackson Snead, the long-hitting and heavy-moneyed hillbilly from West Virginia, surrendered his PGA championship Friday in one of the most startling, star-spangled finishes the play-off-pay classic has ever witnessed.

Eddie Burke, 43-year-old Union City, Conn., professional, fashioned the upset in second-round match play as he chipped in a 31-foot shot on the par five finishing hole at Scioto Country club for an eagle three and a one-up conquest.

It was a $5,000 shot for Burke, younger brother of Billie Burke of Cleveland's country club.

Burke, pro at the Woodridge Country club in New Haven, Conn., said he was told just before the match by Henry Winski of Michigan City, Ind.: "Beat Snead and I'll give you a $5,000 Cadillac."

That's just what Burke, a professional for 25 years, did. A gallery of thousands roared its approval as the black-shirted, white-trousered Burke, calmly five-ironed his ball into the cup for the pay-off punch.

Snead was not the only champion to fall in Friday's pair of 18-hole matches.

With him went Vic Ghezzi of Inwood, N.Y., Paul Runyan of Pasadena, Calif., Jim Ferrier, the transplanted Australian from San Francisco, and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., all former winners of the professional classic. Also ushered to the sidelines who now moves in as the PGA favorite with Snead out of the way, Henry Picard, Johnny Palmer and Claude Harmon.

Second round survivors included such hot shots as Denny Shute, Jimmy Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum

Senator Asks Hearing On AEC Appointment

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa political circles began speculating Friday about the state's Republican senator, Boukre B. Hickenlooper and an old target of his, the chairmanship of the atomic commission.

It started when the senator arrived in Des Moines and a news dispatch arrived from Washington.

The dispatch said Hickenlooper had requested a hearing next week on the re-appointment of Sumner T. Pike of Maine as chairman of the atomic energy commission. It attributed this statement to Sen. Brien McMahon (D - Conn), chairman of the senate atomic energy committee.

Local Flying Service Files Retrial Motion In Air Crash Suit

Motion for re-trial of the air crash suit of Mrs. Neva Creno, West Liberty, against the Iowa City Flying service was filed Friday in district by the defendants, Robert J. Jehle, 1024 Highland avenue, and George Nagle, 342 Lexington avenue.

The defendants charged in their motion that the $25,000 awarded Mrs. Creno June 24 by a jury was an excessive amount.

The suit resulted from the crash of an Iowa City Flying service plane Sept. 4, 1949, near Downey, in which four men were killed.

Mrs. Creno, as administratrix of the Glen E. Creno estate, brought suit for $35,000 against Jehle, surviving partner in the flying service, and Nagle, administrator of the Ruard W. Cochrane estate.

Cochrane, the other partner in the service, was killed in the crash.

Jehle and Nagle claimed that it could not be determined which of the men was piloting the plane when it crashed.

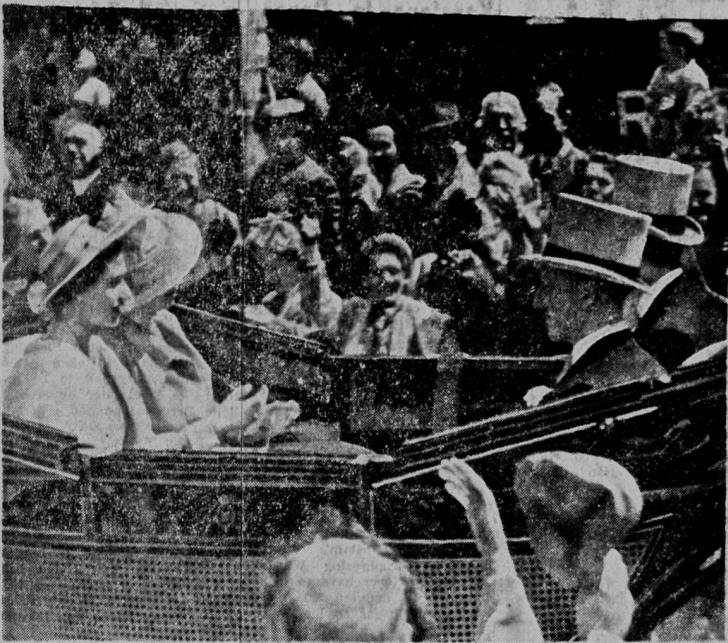

The crash occurred during a flight to demonstrate the plane to prospective buyer Wayne Kennedy, his brother Gale, and Creno, all of West Liberty.

The suit asks payment of $20 plus interest for the balance due on farm equipment allegedly sold Vitroubek on Oct. 5, 1949.

Botany Department Installs Plant Study Room

An air-conditioned room for plant study is being installed in the Botany plant house near University hospitals. Prof. Robert M. Muir of the botany department announced Friday.

Muir said the room will be used "to study plant growth and development under carefully controlled climatic conditions."

The temperature, light and humidity will be under constant regulation. This will provide uniform conditions for the study of the growth or enlargement of plants, and the way they develop through the seedling, vegetation and reproductive periods, he said.

Some of the plants which probably will be studied when the room is completed this summer will be salvia, soy beans and various grasses.

Muir said from the studies made in the room, the staff of the botany department will be able to tell which plants will be best suited for any specific locality.

The idea for such a room, originated with F.W. Kent, professor of botany at the California Institute of Technology, where the largest such room in the United States is in operation.

Working with Muir will be Prof. Walter F. Loehwing, chairman of the botany department.

Best Friend

One-Year-Old Mourns Missing Collie

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "Rusty" still was missing Friday and year-old Karen Voegelé mourned for her life — long companion as her parents spent countless hours searching for the lost collie.

Ed Voegelé, father of the child, said he'd used 75 gallons of gasoline, burned out a generator on his car and had one flat tire in the week — long search. His wife hopefully answers calls in the day hours and Voegelé spends much of his nights looking for Rusty.

Karen, always a perfect baby, is distraught. She doesn't eat much. She is fussy. When the dog next door comes over to play, she gurgles merrily for a time and then "the saddest sort of look comes over her face," her father said.

"Of course, she doesn't say much yet, just two or three words," he went on. "But after the dog disappeared, she began to say 'Rusty.' She didn't do it before."

She pushes food away and says "Rusty." A pediatrician examined her. Nothing wrong, he said, except a "severe emotional illness induced by the dog's absence."

Voegelé purchased display advertising space in the Kansas City Star to show Rusty's picture. So far, no trace of Rusty has been found.

"But I think we've heard from about every other dog running loose," he commented.

Lone Tree Man Granted Divorce

Lewis Moberly, Lone Tree, was granted a divorce from his wife, Leona, Friday in Johnson county district court on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Judge Harold D. Evans granted Moberly custody of the two children, Robert, 9, and Ralph, 7. The decree also gave Moberly the couple's farm machinery, automobile and other possessions, except the defendant's personal belongings.

The defendant entered a cross-petition which was dismissed.

The Moberly's were married in Aledo, Ill., on December 5, 1935, and lived together until March 3, 1950, the petition said.

Swisher and Swisher represented the plaintiff, and Ries, Dutcher and Osmundson represented the defendant.

Scouts Pitch Camp in Park, Prepare for Jamboree Trip

BUSIER THAN A HIVE OF MAD BEES were the 30 members of Boy Scout Troop 34, which "tented and pitched" Friday at 9:30 a.m. in City park near the banks of the Iowa River. They'll remain three days on a patch of ground 90 feet square, which is the space allotted when they reach the National Boy Scout Jamboree, June 30 through July 6, at Valley Forge, Penn. They are getting in shape for one week of out-door living.

"AWW, WHAT'RE A FEW POTS AND PANS among friends?" This group of scouts from City park encampment are pictured rail-roading a little legislation through on what gus scrubs what equipment during their three-day preparatory camporee.

Local Boy Scouts Open Training for Jamboree

By FRANK SLATTERY
Take 30 active young Boy Scouts, coop 'em up in 90 square feet of space, and three patient scoutmasters and throw in some trees, cooking utensils and mosquito repellent and you have a training camp for campers.

The camp, located in City park, Friday began preparing these scouts for the Second National Boy Scout Jamboree, Friday through July 6, at Valley Forge, Penn. marking the 40th year of scouting in the United States.

The scouts will live in the encampment along Park road, "roughing it" until Sunday, when they will literally pull up stakes and go to Marion, the first leg of the trip to Valley Forge. How they travel from there, nobody seems to know.

Originally, the group, Troop 34 of the Iowa River Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America, was to board the Chicago Rocket streamliner Sunday.

The scheduled switchmen's strike Sunday, which would shut down the Rock Island railroad, caused the new arrangement, and ensuing confusion.

"We're on our way, but we don't know for sure how we'll get there," said M.L. Hunter, executive secretary for the council. Hunter is directing preparations for the trip.

Scoutmaster G.D. Jablonski, of Iowa City assisted by F.W. Moore, Iowa City, and Harold Jazelett, Washington, will guide the troop for the trip and encampment, here and at Valley Forge.

Fifteen Get Expenses
Each scout participating must be 12 years or older and must have achieved a rating of Second Class Scout.

Fifteen of the boys are being sent as delegates by their troops, all expenses to be paid by the troops involved. The other 15 lads are paying the $175 all inclusive trip fee themselves.

At Valley Forge 47,000 Boy Scouts from all over the United States will pitch camp on the same ground occupied by George Washington and his Revolutionary army.

Second Jamboree
This is the second jamboree in 40 years, and national scouting officials don't plan on another for 15 or 20 more years. The first one was held in 1937.

Among their camp activities at Valley Forge, such as setting up and operating displays of outdoor cookery, handicraft and woodsmanship for the benefit of other scouts, the boys from Troop 34 will participate in a huge pageant of scouting history.

There will be four major displays or acts presented during the pageant.
Troop 34, dressed as Indians, will appear along with 16,000 oth-

Police Lead on Missing Boy Proves False

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit policeman reported Friday he thought he saw missing two-year-old Brian Marshall with a Gypsy fortune teller in Illinois but authorities there said it was a girl.

Son of a prominent Port Huron, Mich., clothing manufacturer, Brian vanished May 1.

Illinois police tracked the report down, however, and said the "boy" was a girl claimed by a gypsy couple as their own child.

Patrolman George King told the FBI he saw a boy "just like Brian's pictures" in a carnival he visited while vacationing at Litchfield, Ill., last week.

At East Alton, Ill., to which the carnival was traced, police found a gypsy couple with a two-year-old child. But the couple told police Chief Ed Abernathy it was a girl and their own child.

Abernathy said the child "looked like it might be a boy," but had brown eyes and light brown hair. Brian had blue eyes.

At the same time Brian's parents came here from Port Huron, Mich., after receiving a mysterious message that Brian might be in a Detroit rooming house. The boy disappeared May 1, from the fenced-in yard of his home on the St. Clair river in Port Huron. Police believed he had drowned but were unable to find a body.

Authorities were without a clue until a Port Huron woman, Mrs. Missie T. Reynolds, reported Wednesday she saw a blonde youngster boarding a city bus May 1, with a "swarthy, dressed-up woman" two blocks from the Marshall home.

She said it happened at about the moment Mrs. Helen Marshall, Brian's foster mother, missed the boy. Mrs. Reynolds said she hadn't reported the incident earlier on her husband's advice.

Court Denies Review In Korean Murder Case
DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa supreme court Friday turned down a petition for a review of murder charges against Duk Sung Choi, 35, a Korean student accused of slaying a fellow countryman.

E. Marshall Thomas, Duk's court-appointed attorney, contended in a petition for review that charges against Duk should be nullified because district court had no right to continue his case for three months.

Duk was charged with murder in the "honor slaying" of Chun Kuen Oh last Jan. 6 in a dormitory on the University of Duquesne campus. Both were students at the university.

ROLES REVERSED
DELAWARE, OHIO (AP) — Judge Fred McCallister Friday granted a divorce to Mrs. Almyra McClellan, 72, who filed suit after her husband, Harry McClellan, 74, hit her head with a rolling pin last February during an argument.

Strong, Sound U. S. Keystone to Peace, Kazmayer Asserts

The United States is the great question mark in the world today, Robert Kazmayer, author and commentator, told an audience of about 300 on the south campus of the Iowa Union Friday night.

Kazmayer spoke at the first of SU's summer lecture series on "The Changing European Picture."

"The greatest single factor in deciding the peace lies in whether the U.S. can remain externally strong and internally sound for the next 15 years. If we can, there is a chance we may win the peace," he said.

"Germany's younger generation is inordinately proud of the German war record. They do not feel that defeat was inevitable. This is not the reaction of a people who have renounced war," he said.

"There is a potential nationalism and a potential fanaticism in Germany today," Kazmayer said. He described Britain's condition today by paraphrasing Winston Churchill. "Never have so many voluntarily endured so much with so little for so long," he said.

Two factors will decide the issue of war or peace, he said. These are: 1. Whether the Soviets believe they can wage a war successfully, and 2. Whether they believe "we will stand behind what we stand for."

Saved From Cancer, Girl Killed by Truck
STONEHAM, MASS. (AP) — A year ago, Little Kathleen Halligan, 3, underwent a successful operation for cancer of the brain.

Friday she left home with five pennies to go to the candy store. While she was crossing the street the pennies slipped through her fingers.

As she stooped to pick them up, a gas company truck turned the corner and struck her. She died instantly.

Double Take Cops Nab Car-Stealers On Lucky Day

DES MOINES (AP) — Two Iowa officers had "once in a lifetime" experiences Friday.

State Patrolman Byron Hockenberry and Dallas County Sheriff Evan Berger made arrests which developed like this:

Driving in Des Moines, Hockenberry heard a state police radio report of a stolen automobile. The license number: 25-1076. Hockenberry looked at the license plate of the car just ahead of him. It was 25-1076.

Hockenberry arrested Lodes Gorby, 16, the driver, who gave his address as Mount Pleasant, Mich. The boy was taken to the Des Moines city jail to be returned to Adel later by Sheriff Evan Berger, who had reported the car stolen from Dr. A. G. Felter of Van Meter.

As Berger was returning the youth to Adel, Gorby told the sheriff that he and a "buddy" had left Michigan Sunday night in a car stolen from Gorby's father.

The youths had been in several states since then. West of Adel Thursday night they had a flat tire, Gorby said and he started back to Adel to get a new tube. It was then he stole the Iowa car, he said.

A few minutes after the story was related, the sheriff spotted an approaching car with a Michigan license.

"That's my buddy," said Gorby. The sheriff arrested the driver who gave his name as Edward B. Lowry, 18, also of Mt. Pleasant.

Lowry said when Gorby did not return, he repaired the tire and started to Des Moines.

Methodist Clergyman Elected to State Post
The Rev. Robert Crocker, associate minister of the Methodist church here, was elected secretary Thursday of the Methodist Federation for Social Action at that organization's annual meeting in Et. Dodge.

Escaper Charged With Auto Theft

DES MOINES (AP) — A county attorney's information, charging Harry Clifton Paine Jr., 27, escaped Clarinda state hospital inmate, with auto theft, was filed in district court Friday.

Paine escaped a trap laid for him by sheriff's deputies June 8, and was arrested last Monday in Hollywood.

County Attorney Ed S. Thayer said he was preparing extradition papers to return Paine to Des Moines for trial.

Paine is accused in the information of stealing a car from a used car lot here after his escape from the state hospital June 8.

Deputy sheriffs had sought to arrest Paine here after Mary DeWitt, 22, complained he kept her prisoner for 24 hours at an isolated farm house east of Des Moines.

Couple Has Day At Chicago Fair

CHICAGO (AP) — It wasn't on the schedule but Friday was "Mr. and Mrs. George Baumann day" at the Chicago fair of 1950.

A one ton truck with Minnesota license plates pulled up at the fair's gate late Friday afternoon. Baumann said to a guide.

"Not much of a crowd. Are we too late to see the water show?" "The fair won't open until Saturday," the guide answered.

But the Baumans got in. Fair Manager Crosby Kelly personally escorted them. They saw the theater of the atom, the final rehearsal of the ice variety show, the big top circus and music in the ring — a show on a circular stage.

Not even the mayor or the governor will see them until today.

ANOTHER STRIKE

AGAINST THE PUBLIC AND INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE SERVED BY 5 WESTERN RAILROADS

President Truman's EMERGENCY BOARD recommends a 40-hour week and a pay increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 a day for switchmen represented by the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Notwithstanding the tremendous increase in their expenses involved, the Railroads' answer to Board is...

Union leaders' answer to Board is..

In face of Board findings to the contrary, union leaders insist on 48 hours pay for 40 hours work. This would be an average increase of 31 cents an hour, or $2.48 a day. So Union leaders have called a completely unjustified strike on 5 Western railroads, effective June 25.

On June 15, an Emergency Board appointed by President Truman under the terms of the Railway Labor Act recommended the railroads grant switchmen a 40-hour week and a wage increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 for an 8-hour day.

Despite the added financial burden involved, the railroads are ready to accept these recommendations, as they have always accepted Emergency Board recommendations on national issues.

But the leaders of the Switchmen's Union refuse to accept! They demand an average increase of 31 cents an hour or $2.48 a day — although their present earnings are substantially higher than those of workers in other industries!

Board Says Demands Unjustified
In its report, the Board declared this demand unjustified by all the evidence presented. It also pointed out that it would give the switchmen an unfair pay advantage over other groups of railroad employees, and would add too great a burden to railroad costs.

Here is another case of a railroad union flouting the findings of an Emergency Board — another case of calling a crippling strike in an outrageous and reckless attempt to force demands which the Board clearly labels as unjustified!

Leaders of the Switchmen's Union are calling this strike in defiance of the Board — in defiance of the facts — and at the expense of the public!

In its report on this case, the Board made this statement: "The railroad industry, the Board believes, needs above all else a period of relative stability to adjust and adapt itself to present competitive post-war conditions."

Despite this warning, the leaders of the Switchmen's Union are upsetting the apple-cart — forcing a completely unjustified strike against everybody who uses the railroads. It is time to put an end to such un-American tactics!

FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS AFFECTED BY THE JUNE 25 STRIKE

The five railroads affected by this strike, which goes into effect at 6:00 AM local time, Sunday, June 25, 1950, are:

- Chicago Great Western Railway Company
- Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company
- The Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad Company
- Great Northern Railway Company
- The Western Pacific Railroad Company

The Answer to a Raw Attempt At Dictatorship is "No!"

In the interest of the public who depend on the railroads every day, there can be only one answer to this outrageous and dictatorial action by the leaders of the Switchmen's Union. And that answer is — "NO!"

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk to you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.
