Ditty Helps Denver Win

Jack Dittmer, former Iowa second baseman, helped Denver to a 21-4 win over Wichita Friday night with a double which drove in two runs. He collected one hit in two official trips to the plate. Dittmer also participated in a double play and handled eight chances without error. The game Friday was Dittmer's first starting assignment.

U.S. Troops In Action Against Reds

First Battalion Takes Position North of Temporary Capital

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA (Saturday) (UP) — American infantrymen, weighed down by battle packs and carrying full war equipment, were air-lifted to Korea today—and went into action.

The battalion of infantrymen took up defensive positions immediately along a line about 25 miles north of Teajon, the temporary capital of the South Korean republic.

The remainder of the division of which the battalion is part is following by ship.

The U.S. combat troops went into action after American headquarters were driven from the Suwon headquarters by a new South Korean collapse.

While the U.S. army girded for battle, the airforce steadily intensified the fury of its attack on the Communists.

Planes of five types from B-29's and rocket carrying jets to Mustang fighters flew 161 sorties

Moscow Almost Mum

OSLO, NORWAY (SATURDAY) (AP) — The White House announcement that President Truman has ordered Gen. Douglas MacArthur to use American ground troops in the Korean fighting was mentioned in a single sentence by radio Moscow today.

The broadcast, read here, did not comment editorially on the order.

LAKE SUCCESS — Egypt tells UN she will not support American-led action against North Korea. But 32 other countries are now behind the action, security council is advised.

UN Support . . .

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — Thirty-two countries have lined up in support of American-led military measures under UN auspices to save South Korea, the security council was advised Friday.

There was one flaw in the otherwise solid lineup of non-Communist nations offering material and moral support.

Egypt told the council she would not accept the council's resolution of Tuesday night endorsing American intervention in Korea and asking other nations to contribute their support.

Jerome H. Harrett, Canton, Mo., who has confessed the robbery, is now serving up to 25 years in a Wisconsin penitentiary for an armed robbery in that state.

He also is wanted in Illinois for parole violation, and in Mt. Pleasant for another armed robbery. Police here are holding a warrant charging him with the Iowa City crime.

MGM Chief Tells Judy 'No Reason to Worry'

HOLLYWOOD — Judy Garland's boss, Studio Chief Louis B. Mayer, assured the film star Friday she had no reason to worry about financial problems until she recovers from her suicide attempt.

The studio executive disclosed he conferred with Miss Garland for more than an hour in what friends said was a "very emotional" meeting.

Just Call Me John Doe

VALLEY FORGE, PA. (AP) — Thomas Jefferson had some trouble Friday calling his parents in Richmond, Va.

The telephone operator refused to believe he was Thomas Jefferson on Jr., wanting to call collect Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson at 3316 Loxley road.

"If you're Thomas Jefferson, then I'm Martha Washington," said the operator to the husky scuff attending the national jamboree.

"Well, if you don't like that name, then I'm John Adams Doe," replied the Virginia lad.

That retort got his call through.

Street Dance, Carnival, Fire Works Planned for Fourth

Iowa City's 4th of July festivities will rocket off to an early start with a real summertime street dance for students, faculty and townspeople at 8 p.m. Monday in front of the Iowa Union.

There'll be no rose petals and perfume on the pavement, but the street will be roped-off, scrubbed down, and "slicked" in the best ballroom traditions. Tables will be set up on the Union lawn under soft lights and decorations.

Everybody is welcome to this ultra-informal "come-as-you-are" affair, Dean Fritchen, C3, Decorah, Union board publicity chairman, said.

All Iowa City will have a fun-filled frolic if the Iowa City junior chamber of commerce, the SUI central party committee and the Iowa Union board have their way.

The junior chamber of commerce celebration committee, directed by Roy Mulford, has contacted the Model Shows, Texas, to visit Iowa City Monday through through 12 separate classifications, for each of which there will be an award.

Free ice cream and a can of dog food will be given each entrant and his pet.

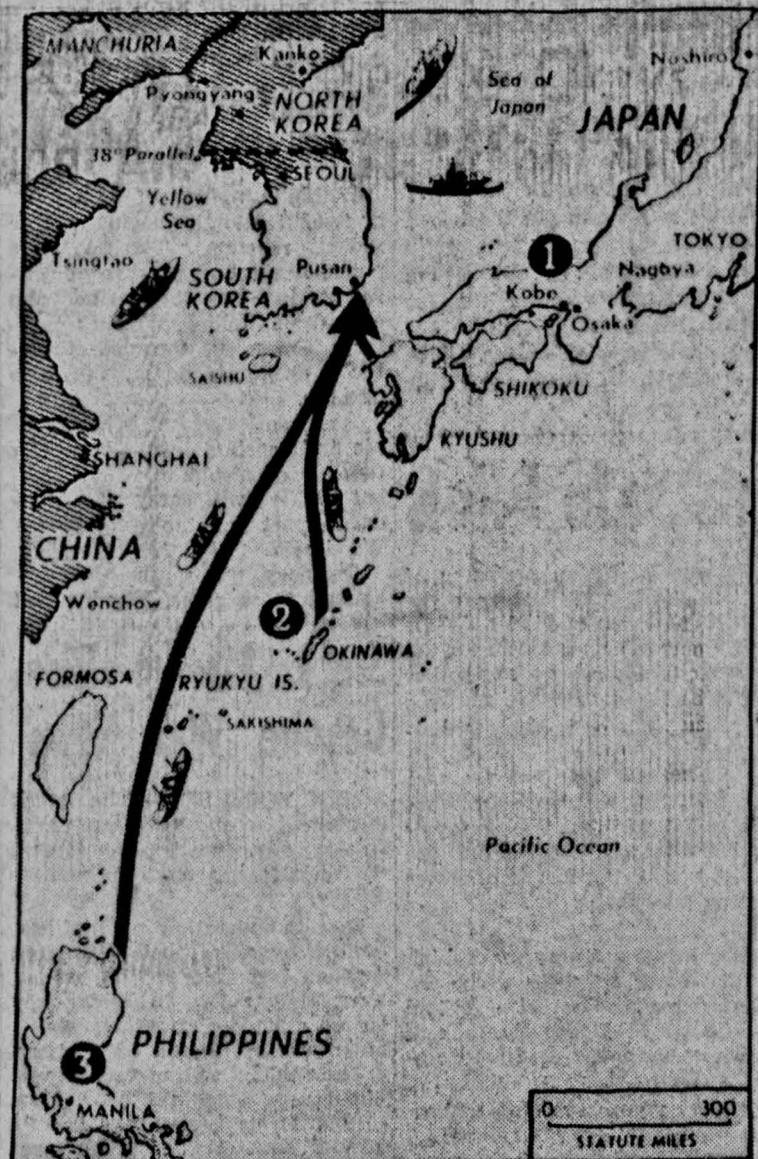

All animals must be kept on a leash, Floerchinger warned. According to an Iowa City ordinance, it is unlawful for any dog to remain unleashed in City park.

Entries are due by 6 p.m. Monday at the Koza and McCollister Food market.

A costumed German band, led by Bill Meardon, Iowa City orchestra leader, will present a concert to begin shortly after 2 p.m. Tuesday near the baseball diamond at City park.

At 4 p.m. a parade of Iowa City beauties all riding in convertibles and representing Iowa City businesses and dairies will drive through downtown Iowa City to City park, where they will be presented and the Iowa City Dairy Queen announced.

Senate Okays $1-Billion Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a rare display of unanimity the senate Friday approved, 60-0, a $1,222,500,000 program to arm nations resisting communism, including South Korea.

Republicans who have heatedly assailed administration methods defending the free world against aggression suddenly closed ranks behind the bill, impelled by the Korean crisis.

The legislation now goes to the house. It is an authorization measure which requires separate action to finance it.

Although the bulk of the funds, $1-billion, would go to strengthen North Atlantic treaty allies, Sen. Tom Connally (D-Texas) voiced assurance that "the bill contains plenty of funds for Korea."

Connally, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said that the bill's $16-million earmarked for Korea and the Philippines could be increased at any time by a shift of funds.

Signs Draft Law . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman Friday signed the new draft law which leaves him unrestricted authority to order inductions resumed at any time.

The law, which runs until July 9, 1951, also empowers him to put the national guard and the reserves on active duty any time he sees fit to do so.

Males from 19 to 26 are subjected to induction.

Iowa Citizens See 'Flying Saucer'

Two Iowa citizens said they saw a "flying saucer" at 12:10 a.m. today.

George E. Golding, 409 S. DuBuque, and Howard Carroll, 25 W. Burlington, said they saw the "saucer" in the southeastern sky and that the object was emitting a "bluish light."

The "saucer" was moving at what appeared to be a terrific speed, they reported, and seemed to be at a "great distance."

The men said they were sitting on the east freight platform of the Grand station near the Burlington bridge when they saw the object.

PLUMBER ARRESTED

SUI Budget, Women's Gym Annex Approved

SUI's 1950 - 51 fiscal year budget and bids for construction of the addition to SUI's women's gymnasium were approved here by the state board of education Friday.

The board also appointed a new president for Iowa State Teachers college; approved 1950-51 fiscal budgets for Iowa State college, Iowa State Teachers college and Iowa state school for the blind; and delayed action on budgets for the Oakdale sanatorium and the state school for the blind.

William Maucker, dean of the college of education at the University of Montana, was named to succeed Pres. Malcolm Price at Iowa State Teachers college.

Price submitted his resignation June 20, requesting that it become effective Sept. 1.

Low bidders among the general contractors on the gymnasium project was the Morehead Construction company, Cedar Rapids.

The money for the approved budgets was appropriated by the state legislature at its 1949 January session.

The legislature appropriates money for the state school system every two years. The schools split the funds into equal parts for the two years for which they were allotted, and then budget the year's expenses, on the approval of the state board of education.

R. Wickam Baxter, Burlington, was named to succeed William G. Noth on the board's finance committee. Noth retires today after 20 years on the committee.

George L. Horner, superintendent of the SUI division of planning and construction, said final approval of bids for the women's gym have to be made by the interim committee of the state legislature.

Construction of the addition, which will house offices, class and locker rooms, will begin about July 15, Horner said. The addition will be located at the corner of Jefferson and Madison streets.

Successful bidders on the women's gymnasium include, in addition to the Morehead company, Carston Brothers company, Ackley, plumbing and heating; Davenport Electrical Contracting company, electric wiring, and the Barber Collins company, Moline, Ill., temperature controls.

Four buildings must be razed before work on the gymnasium can proceed. Deadline for removal of the structures is July 14.

Flier Swept to Death As Airliner Door Opens

ACCOMAC, VA. (AP) — The cargo door of an airliner winging over coastal Virginia flew open early Friday and a flier - passenger was swept to his death in the dark Atlantic ocean a mile and a half below.

The victim was James Trotter, 32, Miami.

The plane's steward, Carl F. Knight, Miami, said he saw Trotter squatting beside the door. Before he could ask him why he had left his seat, Knight said, "The door flew open and he was gone."

Street Dance —

SUI's fun program for the summer opens Monday night at 8 o'clock with a street dance near the Iowa Union. The Union board and the Central Party committee are behind the plans and the dance is for every student in the campus, whether old, young, married or single and for all townspeople.

A few days ago in this space there appeared an invitation to all SUI's "regular" students to give the welcome-hand to the students who come here only during the summers to work on advanced degrees. Now here's an opportunity for the summer-only students to take the old proverbial bull by the horns and really get into the swing of our campus life on their own.

You gals who teach school nine months during the year and feel you have to appear sedate and aloof to impress your own students ought to get down there and be co-eds again. And you folks who work in other businesses and are here on leave to get additional training, here's your chance to prove to these young "kids" around here that you're not so old as they think.

The Union board and Central Party committee plan these parties for the student, not themselves. The purpose of the parties is to help round out the student's life with some fun to go along with the books.

Success of this dance will be all that's needed to get the board behind more events of the same nature. For those of us who go to school the year-round, these parties will help alleviate that old "I'm so darned tired of studying" feeling. And for those who are here for the summer only, a program of fun events will make the eight weeks more like the vacation they wished they could have taken instead of coming to school. So there should be a real turn-out for the street dance. The only price of admission is your presence.

California Students Safe Pilots

By Central Press
BERKELEY, CALIF. — Flying is becoming one of the popular pastimes at the University of California.

A flying club, one of the fledgling extra-curricular organizations at the Berkeley institution, is growing steadily in membership and, recently, was awarded first prize for safety in collegiate competition.

Members include students with wartime training and "amateurs" who have a love of the air and take every opportunity to perfect their skill.

Bob Menke, vice-president of the club, outlined its purpose as "to try to encourage private flying in every way possible and to encourage safety in private flying."

As a characteristic of other activities at the university, co-eds are taking a prominent part in the organization. Ann Rodgers, a former president, recently was given a life membership for her success in building up the group.

Dorothy Anderson, an attractive blonde, who has logged many hundreds of hours in the air, is one of the instructors.

Harvey E. White, professor of physics and faculty adviser to the club, is another and Mrs. White shows as much enthusiasm for the various activities as any other member.

Most of the enthusiasts anticipate a big increase in civilian flying during the next few years as manufacturers increase safety factors and bring down the cost of civilian flying by turning out air-planes within the means of lower income groups.

An educational program is high on the list of activities which the club sponsors. Ground school classes are held once a month at which some phase of pilot-training is discussed.

Twice a year the club makes an overnight flight in rented or privately owned planes to some scenic part of California and over the camp fires thresh out the multitude of problems related to keeping a plane in the air until it reaches its destination.

One of the major activities of the club is sharpening up members on spot landings, an important part of competition with other schools and flying organizations.

WAC Rookies Get Rugged Basic Training

FORT LEE, VA. — Are women as good as soldiers as men? Can women undergo the same tough training and hardships as their brothers?

With our shores invaded by enemy forces and the last reservoir of manpower required to save the nation from abject surrender, could and would American women bear arms and serve in the front ranks alongside the men as fighting soldiers?

Astonishing as it may seem, the answer to these questions seems to be an emphatic "Yes." This was the conclusion reached in the experiment here at Fort Lee, in the only all-woman military basic training center in the country.

Newly enlisted Wacs undergo at Fort Lee 13 weeks of basic training that is as rugged, informative and disciplined as the indoctrination given men recruits.

Under the command of women officers, many of whom saw service in North Africa and Italy, the recruits are schooled in rugged living and working conditions. The experience is valuable to the Wacs because it allows them to put into practice things they have learned in theory.

The 13-week course is climaxed with five days and nights in the field. Bivouac week begins early Monday morning, when an entire company marches out with full pack. It ends on Friday afternoon when they retrace the two-and-a-half-mile journey to barracks.

On their backs the Wacs carry blankets, spare shoes and Archie overshoes, clothing for a week and other impediments. They also carry gas masks and wear the standard helmet.

While some of the men doubted at first that the Wacs could take it lying in the field, they were soon disillusioned. One hundred and forty-seven Wacs started the first bivouac week and 147 marched back to the barracks when it was finished. Not a single one failed because it was too tough.

The Wacs sleep in the field and camouflage their sleeping quarters. They learn how to use foxholes just as the soldiers in the South Pacific learned to jump into scratchy coral ditches.

'Nerve' Gas Known To Potential Enemy, Claim Army Experts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Devastating nerve gases, "well known by our potential enemies," were described by army chemical warfare experts at the American Medical Association convention here.

In the first public disclosure to the medical profession, Col. John R. Wood of the army chemical center in Maryland outlined the effect of these gases, the most deadly known.

Described as virtually odorless and colorless and hence extremely difficult to detect, the gases are most deadly when inhaled or absorbed in liquid form through the eye, and almost as lethal when absorbed through the skin.

Victim Chokes
Within a matter of "a minute or two," the victim begins to have violent reactions. Terrible eye pains, headaches, a sense of confusion, inability to breathe and convulsions follow. Within a matter of minutes, the victim virtually chokes to death, unable to breathe.

Treatment consists of immediate and constant intra-muscular dosages of atropine, which combat soldiers will carry as a standard part of their equipment, Wood said.

Ordinary gas masks protect against these gases, Wood added.

Stock Market Rises Despite War News

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, in an abrupt change of direction, advanced for the largest overall gain in over three months Friday.

Despite a noontime selling blast, ignited by news that President Truman had ordered U.S. ground troops into action in Korea, key issues advanced fractions to a maximum of around $3 a share.

The midday selling was intense but prices were no more than jostled. Some issues gave a little ground but it was quickly regained. The recovery was extended a little further during the afternoon, helped along by a last-minute flurry of buying. At the final bell the market was headed upward at a lively clip.

Trading slowed somewhat from Thursday but sales still reached a hefty total. Turnover of 2,660,000 shares compared with 3,040,000 Thursday.

'Point of No Return'

House Passes Bill To Expand Airforce

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house unanimously passed and sent to President Truman for his signature Friday a compromise bill authorizing a 70-group airforce.

The measure was drafted by a joint house-senate committee recently after more than a year of stalemate. The senate approved it Thursday.

While the airforce still must obtain the actual cash from congress before it can start expanding its present 48 groups to 70-group strength, the new authority is a potent argument for such a request.

President Truman has said repeatedly that the nation cannot afford a 70-group airforce.

That was before the outbreak of war in Korea, however. If the conflict continues for any great time he may reconsider his earlier decision. There is no indication now, however, that he will.

U.S.-Russian Situation in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The use of American ground forces in Korea increases the global risks the United States has to take in its efforts under the UN to stem Communist conquest.

As between the United States and Russia, the basic situation is this: The United States, the most powerful of the anti-Communist nations, having undertaken to assure the independence of South Korea, has been forced to broaden the scope of its actions in order to keep open the chances of victory.

Russia, the power center of the Communist world, is in position to remain aloof from the Korean conflict. It can hold its forces in reserve for whatever war-of-nerve maneuver or other uses the Kremlin may have in mind.

The forces against which the United States is engaged together with allied nations of the UN do not represent the main body of Communist strength, but a secondary body.

American officials still believe that the Soviet Union does not want to see world conditions degenerate now into a general war. But they also believe that the Soviets may try to use the present situation to keep American forces tied up in Korea and on the alert elsewhere and, as far as possible, to impose a drain on the nation's total strength.

The United States has been drawn into the Korean situation to a far greater degree than it was ever involved in the somewhat comparable struggle in Greece. On the Communist side, however, the commitment of forces is similar to that in Greece.

In both cases Moscow arranged things so that native Red troops, Communist-trained and partial Russian-equipped, undertook the actual fighting. Russia is remote and, except in a political sense, detached from the Korean struggle. Her freedom of movement to threaten other areas — such as Yugoslavia, Turkey, Iran and Indo-China — is unimpeded.

There are considerations which figured in decisions on the two

By TOM DORSEY
KOREAN COMMENT: Referring to the present chaos in Korea, one SUI'er said, "Things don't look too red-hot, do they?" It seems to me that things look awful "red" and awful "hot."

KOREA AND WAR is about all Iowa Citizens and SUI'ers are talking about this week. Everywhere you go, someone yells, "What's the latest?" "Are we at war yet?" Around radios, newsmen and street corners the tension rises as people await the latest news.

IOWA CITY'S MAYOR Preston Koser described the Korean situation as a "powder keg with a man standing on it lighting a cigarette." He, like most of us, hopes the guy doesn't flick his ashes and ignite the powder.

ONE IOWA CITY MAN said the "British are really behind us. Yes sir, when they heard that Truman ordered the U.S. armed forces into action, parliament got up and cheered.

"That's really backing us up!" he said.

WAR AND PEACE: I don't often delve into the history book but with World War III knocking at the door I have done some digging and come up with several quotations about war and peace which I thought you might find interesting.

A man named Swift calls war "the mad game the world so loves to play."

And wise, old Ben Franklin said, "There never was a good war, or a bad peace."

About soldiers, Albert Einstein had this to say: "The man who enjoys marching in line and file to the strains of music falls below my contempt; he received his brain by mistake — the spinal cord would have been amply sufficient."

I think Oscar Wilde took a modern approach when he said, "As long as war is regarded as wicked, it will always have its fascinations. When it is looked upon as vulgar, it will cease to be popular."

Apparently the first president of the United States would have issued similar orders to those Truman handed out this week. Gen. George once said, "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual ways of preserving peace."

I hope he's right.

DURING THE KOREAN election last May 30, a 32-year-old Seoul farmer's wife gave birth to a son in a voting booth.

So determined was the Korean woman to vote in south Korea's second election that she walked six miles to the voting place. She named the son "Ee Sun" — meaning "second election." Even then the situation there was crucial.

DID YOU KNOW THAT: Korea's ancient name is "Cho-sen." The Japanese gave it this name, meaning "land of the morning mists."

The Chinese also called it "Cho-sen" because Koreans do all their cooking in the morning and eat cold food the rest of the day. The clouds of smoke over each Korean town in the early hours of morning gave rise to the name, "Cho-sen" or "land of the morning mists."

TIME TABLE: In case you are interested, events in Korea are 15 hours ahead of Iowa time. When it is midnight here, it is 3 o'clock the following afternoon in Korea.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED: A marriage license was issued Friday in the county clerk's office to Frank Spratt and Grace Coulter, both of Iowa City.

U. S. Navy Keeping Tab on Gulf Stream

By Central Press
Our gulf stream "is not doing anything it should not do," according to United States navy hydrographers, nevertheless its study is about to become of age and is being newly activated.

"Operation Cabot" is the designation of the new international Gulf Stream survey, since one Canadian research vessel has joined the five American ships which concentrate on the stream's behavior from Cape Hatteras to the Grand Banks.

Uncle Sam's oceanographic fleet based at Woods Hole, Mass., includes the 142-foot ketch, "Atlantis," which is in its 21st year as a floating experimental laboratory, developing basic scientific methods and instruments solely for this project.

Studies have shown that the Gulf Stream meanders very much like an inland river, while it is considerably narrower and swifter than any one had thought it to be.

The "U. S. S. San Pablo," research vessel of the Hydrographic office, is headquarters ship when the fleet is at sea. A staff of Gulf Stream experts on board keeps a plot of the location, strength and direction of the stream as radioed from the other ships.

To scientists, the Gulf Stream ends at the Grand Banks, and from there is called the North Atlantic Drift. However, its students frankly admit that little is known about that part of the North Atlantic current system.

The crew of the "Atlantis" is a hard working lot as their ship is at sea on an average of 231 days each year. In her long service she has tracked nearly 750,000 miles over the Gulf Stream.

Experience gained during this prolonged traveling has resulted in confirmation that the Gulf Stream "loops through the Atlantic for 1,500 miles like a large river."

This fact was determined in part by "finding" the edge of the stream. Subsurface temperature measurements made possible by the "bathythermograph" showed the "front" of the stream. This "diving thermometer" was able to track the "front" by zig-zagging along its edge with the aid of another scientific innovation.

That was Loran, or long range navigation, one of the newer electronic inventions. The "echosounder" is another instrument aboard the "Atlantis" which searches out submarine mountains, some of them several thousand feet high.

On the survey ship, the "echosounder" makes a continuous tracing of the ocean bottom to determine if the path of the Gulf Stream is influenced by the shape of the submarine floor.

From the "diving thermometer," the hydrographers record temperatures as deep as 6,000 feet, affording valuable data, since the Gulf Stream's flow is expected to be at a minimum at such depth.

Steel Threatened By Rail Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — The six-day-old strike of AFL railroad switchmen will threaten a major portion of the nation's steel supply by next week, iron ore shippers warned Friday.

At the same time, International Harvester reported that a "serious" tie up in shipment of farm tractors and other farm machinery has developed since the strike was called against five western and midwestern railroads.

Harvester said hundreds of tractors and combines have been held up at its Louisville, Rock Island, Ill., and East Moline, Ill., plants.

Crates Converted to Cheap, Cute Catch-Alls

"Invention, thy name is woman!" — especially when it comes to orange crates.

Orange crates are a boon to SUI co-eds at the beginning of the year when they seek containers for odds-and-ends in their rooms. They cheerfully lug the boxes from the grocery stores and convert them into catch-alls, usually leaving the crates in the "raw."

But in one instance orange crates were the basis for an attractive dressing table which cost $3.48. The orange crates are concealed by a gathered cotton print "skirt."

For Student Room

The dressing table was fashioned by Clara Hinton, 123 E. Davenport street, head of the acquisition department of SUI libraries, for the room she rents to students.

She applied one coat of walnut stain to two crates. Three feet of wall-board which cost twenty-three cents were cut at the lumber yard for the table top.

The ends of the crates are one foot square. When set upright under the wall-board top, a one-foot space is left between the boxes.

The middle sections of each crate make excellent storage space for books or cosmetics. The shelf partitions are sturdy and smooth, and the outside boards are rough and light weight.

Cotton Print Skirts

For the full skirt of small-print cotton, Miss Hinton used two and one-half yards of material in three lengths. The three strips cost forty cents a yard.

The panels are not sewed together, so the shelves are easily reached. Plastic might be used instead of the cotton material, she pointed out.

Cloth of contrasting color was used to cover the top. To fit over that, she had a glass cover (2.25) cut. The glass protects the cloth surface from stains and is easily cleaned.

Miss Hinton said she gets color schemes and ideas from library books and from the booklets put out by paint stores.

ORANGE CRATES IN DISGUISE are the basic structure of this dressing table in the room of Betty G. Baker, G. Cleveland, which she rents from Clara Hinton, 123 E. Davenport street. The gathered paneled skirt was made from inexpensive cotton, and a glass cover is fitted over the wall board table top.

THIS ORANGE CRATE DRESSING TABLE was fashioned by Clara Hinton, 123 E. Davenport street, head of the acquisitions department of the SUI libraries, for a room she rents to SUI student girls. Costs of materials, which included yard goods, wall board and plate glass, totaled only $3.48.

LOUIS (AP) — Opening a stand, the St. Louis Cardinals broke out of their batting and mauled the Pittsburgh Pirates 9-4 before 12,631 spectators today night. The triumph the Cards into second few percentage points before the leading Philadelphia Stan Musial slammed a home run in the eighth. Pirates were in the lead times in the first four innings. But four errors, two by first baseman Dale Coogan, cost them.

Cardinals broke a 3-3 dead-end sixth. Rocky Nelson, called from Columbus, Ohio, first when Coogan fumbled grounders. Then Coogan ate on a sacrifice and both were safe. Tommy Glavino then home with a double.

BOSTON OUTFIELDER DOM DIMAGGIO looked up inquiringly at the umpire in Friday's game with the Yankees and he didn't like what he saw. Umpire Charlie Berry called DiMaggio out in his attempted steal of second base. Yankee second baseman Jerry Coleman took Yogi Berra's throw in time for the putout. New York broke Boston's seven game winning streak with a 9-6 victory in the first game of a double header.

Indians' 14th Win In Last 17 Games

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians scored seven times in the second inning on five hits and five walks off Detroit Pitchers Hal Newhouse and Paul Trout Friday night and went on to win, 11-3. Luke Easter hit two home runs and Al Rosen slugged one four-bagger for the Tribe.

Cleveland's 14th win in 17 games was before 50,882 and opened an important four-game series with the league leaders.

Pitcher Mike Garcia gave up five hits in picking up his sixth victory of the season and his fifth win in a row.

Newhouse was chased in the second after giving up three walks and two singles. It was his third straight loss.

Easter's 13th and 14th home runs accounted for two Indian runs in the first two innings. Rosen's 21st homer came in the eighth after Doby had singled.

Vic Wertz' eighth inning double scored two Detroit runs and Don Kolloway's double scored Aaron Robinson with the other in the seventh.

Larry Doby went bat-in-hand after Trout after being sent sprawling to the dirt in the second by a close pitch. Players from both clubs poured onto the field but umpires quieted the fuss before any fists were thrown.

Yanks, Bosox Split Twin Bill

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox rebounded for new Manager Steve O'Neill by defeating the New York Yankees 10-2 Friday night. A few hours earlier they dropped a day game to the world champions 9-6, making their first stumble in eight games under O'Neill's direction.

Homers by Walt Dropo, his 17th, Dom DiMaggio and Matt Batts were among the sockers dozen floodlight hits. Joe DiMaggio poled his 16th four-bagger for the Yanks' final tally against Walt Masterson in the eighth inning.

Starter Ed Lopat, who had beaten the sockers in his three previous tries this season, left the mound for Joe Ostrowski after the fifth while trailing, 5-1.

Dom DiMaggio greeted Ostrowski with a homer into the left field screen and before Ostrowski could complete the inning, Dropo homered with Junior Stephens aboard.

Matt Batts' four-bagger came against Tom Ferrick with Zarilla on base in the seventh.

Cliff Mape's two-run single in the eighth inning of the afternoon game moved the Yankees into a 7-6 lead.

Joe DiMaggio, who had three hits, scored Mape's with a single to center. The Yankee Clipper tallied on Hank Bauer's third safety, a single to left, to wrap up the Yanks' sixth victory against Boston this season. They've lost twice to the Sox.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philadelphia moved out of the American league basement Friday night by taking both games of a double-header from Washington, 7-6 and 4-2. Eddie Joost's eighth inning homer with Ferris Fain aboard, broke a 2-2 tie to give Alex Keller his fifth victory in the night-cap.

The A's twice came from behind to win the first game for Hank Wyse, who required relief by Lou Brissie. They battered Connie Marrero for four runs in the fourth inning, then clipped him for three runs in the sixth after Washington had hammered Wyse for three runs in the first inning and three in the fifth.

West Coast Writers Want "Real Truth"

Eric C. Wilson, sports publicity director at Iowa, remarked the other day about the difference in attitude between mid-western and west coast sports writers.

"Here in the midwest, the writers are a lot more cooperative," Wilson said. "On the west coast, they seem to feel that no news source is telling the truth if the facts aren't spectacular."

Wilson feels that the Hollywood influence on the west coast is at least partially responsible for this condition. "The west coast writers are so accustomed to the glowing publicity out of Hollywood that they are naturally suspicious of any unspectacular report," he said.

One of the best illustrations of this occurred last fall when Jim Lawrence, former Hawkkey player, was accused of spying for UCLA. The west coast sports writers were here in force to cover the game and weren't very polite in their demands for what they called "the real truth."

"The midwestern writers, including those from Chicago, were content with the information we gave them," Wilson said, "but not those from the west coast."

"I told them everything I knew about the situation but still they weren't satisfied and continued to demand for the truth."

Finally Dr. Eddie Anderson, then head football coach at Iowa, became irritated at the bullying tactics of the west coasters and demanded to know, "Who's on trial here, Iowa or UCLA?"

There seems to be a natural hostility between representatives of the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast conference. And this hasn't been helped by four consecutive Big Ten wins in the Rose Bowl game.

These defeats naturally irk the west coast teams and especially when a team from the Big Ten which isn't the champion goes out and wins.

Iowa meets its third Pacific Coast opponent in two years this coming season when the Hawks travel to Los Angeles for a game with Southern Cal. Last year, Iowa lost to UCLA and whipped Oregon. Both games were played in Iowa City.

The Hawks have yet to win a game on the Pacific coast. They were beaten in 1925 by Southern Cal, and 1938 and 1947 by UCLA.

When Iowa played in the Los Angeles Coliseum in 1947, a crowd, swelled by transplanted Iowans living in California, of 90,910 saw the game. This is the largest crowd ever to see an Iowa team play.

Dick Hoekema, ace left hander on Iowa's 1950 baseball team, isn't finding the hitters in the Three I league too tough. The little lefty registered his third win Thursday night, a 5-1 job over Evansville.

Hoekema has allowed only two earned runs in the 38 innings pitched so far. His only defeat was a 1-0 loss to a pitcher who hurled a no-hitter.

If he keeps pitching like that, Dick will soon be advanced to a faster league.

Another Iowa star, Jack Dittmer, got a base hit last Monday night in his first appearance at the plate in professional baseball. Jack, who signed a Boston Brave contract last week, singled as a pinch hitter for the Denver Bears the night he joined the team.

Denver is in the class A Western league.

All indications would point to another dog fight in the National league this year. After Thursday night's games, sixth place New York was just as many games behind the leader as the second place club in the American league.

The fourth, fifth and sixth place clubs have been knocking off the top three teams regularly. The St. Louis Cardinals, who have lost 12 of their last 16 games as of Thursday, were still only one-half game out of first place.

U. S. Track Stars Rout Finland's Team

HELSINKI (AP) — Paced by John Twomey of the Illinois A.C. who scored an upset victory in the 1,500 meter run, a U.S. track and field team won eight out of nine events from Finnish athletes Friday in Helsinki Stadium.

Thursday, Uncle Sam's track and fieldsters swept all nine events from the Finns.

Running in a drizzling rain, Twomey, the U.S. 1,500 meter champion, beat both of Finland's favorites, J. Taipale and D. Johansson, in 3:52. The only American loser of the day was Jack Razzetto, the San Diego State high jumper. He leaped 6 feet 2 3/4 inches but was beaten by the Finnish ace, K. Nicklen, who soared 6 feet 4 inches.

One of the highspots of Thursday's sweep was a Finnish record 13.9 performance by Dick Atlesey in winning the 110-meter high hurdles.

Reds Stop Chicago Assaults, Win, 8-5

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds scooted to a four-run margin in the first inning and then threw back three Chicago Cubs' rallies to win, 8-5, Friday night. Phil Cavarretta and Hank Sauer hit successive home runs with none on for Chicago in the fourth.

Kenny Raffensberger wilted in the eighth and was yanked for Herm Wehmeier, but was given credit for his sixth win.

A double, an error and a hit batsman filled the bases for the Reds in the first and then Terrence Kluszewski cleared the decks with a double. Ted rode home on a Connie Ryan single.

The two Chicago homers made it, 4-2, in the fourth. The Redlegs, however, stretched their lead to 8-2 with two two-run upsurges in the fifth and seventh.

A walk, a triple and a single brought in two more runs for the Bruins in the eighth and they added a final marker on three singles in the ninth.

Boston Belts Giants on Sisti's Homer, 8-4

NEW YORK (AP) — Pinch-hitter Sissy Sisti belted a grand slam home run in the ninth inning Friday night to break a tie and give the Boston Braves an 8-4 triumph over the New York Giants. The blow was Sisti's first homer of the season and was yielded by Lefty Dave Koslo who relieved Sheldon Jones after the righthander had loaded the bases with walks.

Eighteen walks were issued, nine by each side.

The Braves got away to a three-run lead in the first inning sparked by Earl Torgeson's two-run homer. Three singles gave them another run in the fifth.

Starter Bob Hall, who had been pitching one-hit ball, weakened in the sixth as the Giants sandwiched three hits around three walks to score three runs. In the seventh, two walks and a single by Monte Irvin tied the score.

All-Star Balloting Concludes Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — The national All-Star poll to determine the starting lineups selected by the fans for the American and National leagues 17th annual inter-league game at Chicago's Comiskey Park July 11 roars to a climax tonight.

Promptly at midnight the ballot boxes will be sealed in 288 centers, representing newspapers and radio stations in 47 states, District of Columbia, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The 11th hour returns will decide the issue on some hotly contested spots in both leagues.

Phil Rizzuto, a top flight major leaguer with the New York Yankees since 1941, but never a participant in an All-Star game, probably will start at short. He leads Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox by 19,251 votes, polling 706,351 to 687,101 for Stephens.

Discuss Nerves, Cancer — SUI Doctors Address AMA

Treatment for cancer of the bladder should be "fitted" to the individual patient, Dr. R. H. Flocks, head of the urology department in the SUI college of medicine, said Friday.

Flocks reported at the American Medical association meeting in San Francisco on studies of 540 University hospitals patients suffering from cancer of the bladder.

Age, general condition of the patient, location of the growth within the bladder, how deeply it has penetrated the bladder wall, and how much the cancer has spread are conditions governing treatment, Flocks said.

Causes of failure in treatment of patients with this type of cancer — incomplete destruction of the cancer and damage to the upper urinary tract — have been partially overcome by diverting the urinary stream into the intestinal tract, he said.

Flocks' study showed that five-tenths of one percent of all cases admitted to University hospitals from 1932 to 1942 and five percent of cases in the urology department were patients with cancer of the bladder.

Nerve injuries in the hands or arms should be repaired immediately unless other treatment of the patient is more urgently needed, Dr. George Perret, assistant professor of neurosurgery in the SUI college of medicine, said Friday.

Perret spoke at the American Medical association meeting in San Francisco.

Early repair of nerve injuries prevents broken ends of nerves from retracting and growth from forming on the ends or withered muscles, he said.

Development of new antibiotics may combat infection, allowing the neurosurgeon to repair nerves immediately even though danger of infection in a wound may be present, he said.

Student Fined $9 On Five Charges

Herbert H. Smith, a Sioux City, was fined a total of $9 on five charges in police court Friday by Judge Emil G. Trott.

He was charged with a meter violation, ignoring the violation, carrying delinquent auto license plates, ignoring the summons for the delinquent plates, and ignoring a notice to remove his car from police station grounds, where police towed it.

Smith said he had declared to Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy he was not going to buy plates or use the car this year. Judge Trott pointed out that a car not in use cannot be left on a public street.

In other action, Norman E. Berren, Clinton, forfeited a $15 bond. He was charged with failing to observe a stop light at Iowa avenue and Riverside drive.

No Injuries Reported In Two-Car Collision

Cars driven by Dan Jens, 42, 804 S. Gilbert street, and George W. Kanak, 56, 805 E. Washington street, collided on Governor street near the Washington street intersection Friday at 2:30 p.m. No one was injured.

Kanak said damage to his car was $50. Damage to Jens car was not known, police said.

Friday Fire Singes Medicinal Storehouse

An empty house at 19 Bloomington street, used by the SUI college of pharmacy to store medicinal supplies, was damaged slightly by fire about 10 a.m. Friday.

The fire started on the front porch and damage was restricted to the porch, the front door and part of the roof, firemen said.

"Someone evidently tossed a cigarette on the porch," Prof. R.A. Kuever, dean of the college of pharmacy, said. He said between $500 and $1,000 worth of parent medicinal substances, used in making medicines, were stored in the building. Two men delivering coal next door attempted to beat out the fire with shovels, after children playing near the house called their attention to the fire.

Miriam Johnson Seeks Divorce in Court Here

A divorce suit has been filed in district court by Miriam Johnson against Wilbur Johnson.

The petition, which charged cruel and inhuman treatment, said the two were married Aug. 21, 1946.

Mrs. Johnson asked custody of the three children, Karl, 3; Linda, 2; and David, 5 months, but that Johnson be given the right to visit his children.

DAMS CLOSED TO PUBLIC DAVENPORT

All locks and dams on the Mississippi river between Minneapolis and St. Louis were closed to the public Friday as a military precaution.

Reds Teach Hate, Truman Tells Scouts

VALLEY FORGE, PA. — President Truman said Friday night that Communist youngsters abroad "are deliberately being turned into instruments of Red aggression but he warned against returning 'hate for the hate' they are being taught."

In a temperately-worded speech that made no mention of Korea although it was clearly in his mind, he told 47,000 boy scouts attending their second national jamboree that such Red youngsters must be made to see they are pawns of "cynical leaders."

"We must make it clear to them," he said, "that we believe in the fellowship of human beings, in the possibility of cooperative human action, and in peace based on mutual understanding."

Mr. Truman was presented with the scouts' award for "distinguished service to boyhood." The President, who came here from Washington by train, left immediately afterward for Philadelphia.

County Political Conventions Back Truman's Korea Decision

GOP Criticizes Deficit Spending

Johnson county Republicans denounced federal deficit spending, opposed the Brannan farm plan and approved the President's decision on the Korean crisis Friday at their county convention.

Local Republican party leaders called the two-hour session in the Community building their best convention in several years. Nearly 250 persons attended, they estimated.

Larson Speaks
Iowa's Atty. Gen. Robert L. Larson, Iowa City, spoke at the convention, stressing morality in government.

"The people will endorse any man who occupies a public office as a public trust and they will back him to the limit as they have done with me," Larson said.

When queried about his own anti-gambling crusade, Larson said, "The policy of my office has been completely endorsed by the people and I will continue to stamp out racketeering in Iowa."

"I have emphasized gambling rackets because they were the most prevalent in Iowa."

Larson said he has stopped organized gambling "absolutely cold" in Iowa. "Now we have to deal with those who will try to get their foot back in the door. We are especially watching carnivals to keep outsiders from bringing gambling into the state."

The attorney general said he has been working with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, leader of the senate's inquiry into organized crime, in stamping out interstate racketeering in Iowa.

Resolutions Committee
The resolutions committee, composed of Atty. J. Newman Toomey, Mrs. Elmer DeGowin, Mrs. Howard Elye, James Shrocks and Hugh Dunlap, submitted nine resolutions at the convention.

Several of the resolutions caused considerable discussion. One delegate objected to the committee's declaration that "government governs best which governs least."

He said it conflicted with the party's resolution favoring farm price supports.

After much discussion the objection was voted down.

The Dr. L.L. Dunnington, pastor of the First Methodist church suggested that the resolution favoring a stronger United Nations be changed to favor a UN organization in the direction of a federal world government "with the power to make, interpret and enforce world law."

Dean Mason Ladd, SUJ college of law and Earl E. Harper, director of the SUJ school of fine arts, participated in the ensuing argument. After a close vote, Dr. Dunnington's motion carried.

The resolutions in brief were:

1. We regret the present Democratic organization has only formed a policy in the Far East after the outbreak of war in Korea. The policy now being followed is the one originally urged by our Republican members of congress. We favor a stronger and more effective United Nations that may move in the direction of world government.

2. We denounce the ruinous spending of the federal government and the constant deficits of the last 16 years. We vigorously support the Hoover commission reports. We unalterably oppose the Brannan plan and urge adoption of a farm program providing fair market prices on farm products aided by price supports, soil conservation, reclamation and rural electrification.

3. We stand strongly for individual initiative and freedom which is being stifled by the policies of the Democratic party.

4. We uncompromisingly support the great religious principle of complete equality for all races and creeds. We urge immediate enactment of a fair employment practices commission act, a federal

"WE HAVE STOPPED ORGANIZED GAMBLING ABSOLUTELY COLD" in Iowa, Attorney General Robert L. Larson said Friday, as he addressed the Republican county convention in the Community building. Larson said he will continue his fight, however, to keep gambling out of Iowa. At the convention the Republicans approved President Truman's decision to aid South Korea, but denounced deficit spending and the Brannan plan.

anti-lynching bill and other civil rights measures.

5. We urge continuing and improving the Taft-Hartley law.

6. We advocate better maintenance of all rock roads and surfacing of all farm-to-market roads not now improved in Johnson county.

7. We urge upon the state legislature that more adequate funds be furnished to all state-supported colleges and state hospitals.

8. We particularly endorse the candidacy of Rep. Thomas E. Martin and Atty. Gen. Robert L. Larson.

9. We urge all citizens to participate in government, realizing that this is the strongest weapon against totalitarianism and the surest means of preserving our liberties.

Atty. William L. Meardon, the GOP candidate for county attorney, said at the convention that he had often been asked why he was "silly enough to run for county attorney in a county so predominantly Democratic."

"My answer is — all personalities aside, that I think Johnson county needs a new county attorney and a change in that office," Meardon said.

Morrison Re-elected
Atty. William F. Morrison was re-elected chairman of the Republican county central committee at a meeting following the convention.

Also re-elected were Mrs. Minnie B. Hunter, vice chairman; and Dean Emeritus Wilber J. Teeters of the SUJ college of pharmacy.

Mrs. G. M. Ludwig was elected secretary, succeeding Mrs. Ida Murphy, and Merton Spicer was elected GOP committeeman from the first ward, second precinct, to fill a vacancy.

GOP Delegates . . .
The 36 delegates elected to the Republican state convention to be held July 21 in the KINN radio theater, Des Moines, were:

Dean Mason Ladd, SUJ college of law; Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of SUJ political science department; Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of SUJ school of fine arts and Evan L. Hultman, L2, Waterloo.

William F. Morrison, Minnie Hunter, R. J. Phelps, Mrs. V. A. Gunnette, William L. Meardon, J. Newman Toomey, Chas. F. Coulter, R. M. Work, Wayne Putnam Jr., George Williams, Harold Knotts, Aida Crew, Fred V. Johnson.

Carroll Allen, H. J. Dane, G. M. Ludwig, Ted Johnson, Jack Barber, Helen Thomas, Horace Stuck, Edna Pixley, Mrs. Joseph Negus, Lou Clark, Ruth K.

County Demos Back Brannan Supports

About 150 Johnson county Democrats Friday approved the Brannan plan and endorsed President Truman's decision on the Korean situation.

At the Democratic county convention in the Johnson county courthouse, John O'Connor Jr., a farmer near Lone Tree, said in the keynote speech that the Brannan plan "would make abundance beneficial to the nation."

Extolls Brannan Plan
He said the gap between farm and non-farm income is widening. Farm income has dropped 25 percent in the last two years.

"The Democratic party does not consider this a desirable trend because all past depressions have been farm led and fed," O'Connor said.

He said the Brannan plan would eliminate the colossal waste of products, insure parity prices for farmers and stretch the consumer's dollar.

The convention also urged the highway commission to begin immediately plans to widen the Burlington street-bridge and the approaches to it.

Messer Endorsed
Atty. Frank Messer, Iowa City, who has practiced law 41 years, was endorsed as a candidate for the Iowa supreme court. Messer announced his candidacy at the convention Friday.

Other resolutions passed at the convention were:

1. Every telephone user in Iowa has received a notice of a rate increase from the Northwestern Bell Telephone company. Iowa should have a public utilities commission to control fair rates for such services. We pledge our delegates to the Democratic state convention to work for the creation of such a commission and for establishment of reasonable freight rates.

2. We urge an expanded program for soil conservation and condemn the Republican party for not cooperating with the federal government on soil conservation matters and also on housing facilities.

3. We favor removing the office of state superintendent of public instruction from politics and recommend the appointment of that official by a non-partisan board.

4. We favor repeal of the county assessor law.

5. We favor repeal of the unjust and discriminatory anti-labor laws passed by the 52nd Republican-controlled general assembly and continued in force by the Republican-controlled 53rd general assembly.

6. We condemn both Rep. Thomas E. Martin and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (Republicans) as being faithless servants of the people.

(This resolution was based on the charge that both Martin and Hickenlooper voted for the Kerr bill which, if passed, would have exempted the major independent natural gas distributing companies from regulation by the federal power commission. It was vetoed by President Truman.)

7. We favor all measures which will increase the effectiveness of the state supported schools of higher learning.

Lucas Re-elected
Atty. Edward W. Lucas was re-elected chairman of the Johnson county Democrats Friday at a meeting of the county central committee immediately after the county convention in the courthouse.

Also re-elected were Isabelle

GOP, Demos Across State Back Action in Far East Area

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa Democrats and Republicans alike lined up in county conventions over the state Friday behind American policy in Korea.

The Republicans of Woodbury county described it as the boldest action possible under conditions now existing "in that divided nation. The Appomattox GOP, however, criticized President Truman for going ahead there without action of congress.

Indicating possible decisions by the state party conventions next month, other resolutions:

Condemned (Republican) and approved (Democratic) the Brannan plan for agricultural aid.

Called for a halt in deficit spending (Republican).

The Clinton GOP meeting asked the Republican state convention to support Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper for president in 1952.

Floyd county Democrats were told there was a chance President Truman might stop in Charles City during his fall campaign across Iowa on behalf of Democratic congressional candidates.

Webster County Democrats invited him to visit Fort Dodge on the same trip. State Democratic Chairman Jake More said other counties wanted Mr. Truman to include them in his itinerary.

Republicans of Des Moines county, Burlington, urged restoration of curtailed mail service and the prevention of either managemnt or labor getting too much power at the expense of the public.

Hunter, vice-chairman; Harry Schulman, treasurer; and Cora Umash, secretary.

Winter Replaces Phillips as Commerce Dean

CHESTER A. PHILLIPS Retires After 29 Years . . .

Prof. Sidney G. Winter becomes dean of the college of commerce today, replacing Chester A. Phillips who has headed the college since 1921.

Phillips had this to say about Winter:

"Able, scholarly, and endowed with a deep understanding of academic and human values, Dean Winter will meet the most exacting standards and the highest expectations of his ever expanding circle of friends and constituents."

Phillips, retiring from the dean'ship at 68, the age limit for administrative personnel at SUJ, will continue teaching in the college of commerce as a professor of money and banking.

Winter said he has no plans for making changes in the present policies of the college.

He said the college of commerce will continue in its program of helping Iowa business. No staff changes will be made, except for replacing faculty members who have left for other jobs.

Winter said he hopes to expand the staff and facilities within a year, if funds and qualified personnel become available.

Winter, a 1921 graduate of Colorado college, received his M.S. degree from the University of Illinois in 1923. He is a certified public accountant in both Iowa and Illinois.

He is a member of the Iowa board of accountancy and the National Association of Certified Public Accountant Examiners. He served as president of the latter organization in 1949.

Winter is a past president of both the American Accounting association and the Iowa Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Retiring Dean Phillips was an economist for the federal reserve bank of Chicago from 1937, until 1942. He is a member of the economists' national committee on monetary policy, and a director of the Iowa City First National bank.

Phillips plans to teach and write. He said he would teach an undergraduate course in money and banking, and probably later in the year, some advanced courses for graduate students.

When asked if he planned to take it easy after July 1, he said, "I will be just as busy as I have been."

Allies in Berlin To Counter Blockade

BERLIN (AP)—The western allies moved swiftly Friday to counter the Russian decision to cut off West Berlin's electricity and water supplies, making the surrounded city especially vulnerable to a new blockade.

Karl Strassman, city power chief, announced that western allies officials have promised the city a $5-million credit from Marshall plan funds to expand the capacity of power stations within the western sectors.

West Berlin's Mayor Ernst Reuter described the latest Russian move as an attempt to shift the focus of east-west tension from Korea back to Germany.

Western officials were not alarmed by the Soviet action, explaining that they have enough power plants operating in West Berlin to meet both industrial and normal living requirements in the American, British and French sectors.

However, in case of a new blockade, these plants would require thousands of tons of coal which could only be brought here by another airlift.

Mundt Bill Forces Special Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) upset the senate's holiday weekend plans Friday night and forced it to schedule a special Saturday session to discuss drastic new Communist-control legislation.

Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas angrily announced that he will move for adjournment as soon as the senate meets. That would postpone a final showdown until Monday. It was considered likely the measure would be pigeon-holed.

Mundt made his surprise motion to bring up the bill several hours after the senate had disposed of the $1,222,500,000 foreign arms aid bill. Only he and two other senators were on the floor. Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss) was presiding.

The strategy might have worked but for Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill), the only Democrat on the floor. He immediately demanded a quorum call — a device for getting absent senators back to their chairs.
