Students, Iowa Citizens Invited to Participate In TV Reaction Test

SUI students and Iowa citizens will have a chance to view and give their opinion of television at a free audience reaction session 6 p.m. Sunday at the University theater.

An SUI alumnus' invention will be used to test the audience reaction to a student-produced show.

The invention is, in part, the product of Prof. Forest L. Whan, visiting lecturer from the University of Wichita. He received a Ph.D. degree here in 1936.

The audience will record their opinions of the weekly WOC-TV. Davenport show presented by the departments of speech and dramatic arts.

This week the speech department will present a forum discussion of the Korean crisis. Through the use of Whan's machine the reactions of 100 people can be recorded instantaneously and tabulated.

Whan said the voice and sound portion of the show will be tape-recorded and later presented to another audience. The purpose is to find out whether the TV or the radio presentation had the better audience appeal.

Mule Melee 20-Minute Traffic Tieup Donkey's Fault

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — A man with a mule and a dog wandered onto the big Pulaski skyway Friday and set off what police described as the worst 20-minute traffic jam in the history of the elevated super-highway.

The man, dressed in a battered top hat and assorted patched-up clothing, said it was all a mistake. He merely wanted to find the road back to Galesburg, Ill.

He identified himself as Clarence Hornbeck, 58, and said that nobody told him the Pulaski skyway wasn't for mules.

Police came upon him nonchalantly leading his mule and his dog at the head of a snail-paced line of motorists. That normally should have been the end of it.

But when police began to escort Hornbeck toward the nearest exit off the high-speed skyway, the fastenings holding the mule's towering pack suddenly let go. Assorted bundles of clothing and camping utensils went sprawling over the highway.

While Hornbeck tugged at the puzzled mule, two patrolmen scurried about the jammed-up highway, clearing up the debris.

From 2:15 to 2:35 p.m., the normally heavy flow of traffic out of New York City backed up on the big highway as far away as the Holland tunnel — about four miles — and onto numerous feeders.

CALLS FOR CENSORSHIP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas, Ill., called Friday for voluntary press and radio censorship of Korean war news to stop "almost criminal" disclosures of U.S. troop movements.

Baseballer to Go GI

— For Two Weeks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The pennant — driving Philadelphia Phillies are going to lose their good left arm come July 29. And it will happen right in the middle of the first flag scrap in which they've had a chance in 35 years.

Young Curt Simmons, the $65,000 bonus southpaw pitching ace leaves the team that day for a two-week encampment with the national guard at Indiantown Gap, Pa. It wouldn't be any exaggeration to say the Phillies — currently leading the National league by two games — conceivably could win the pennant while he's gone.

Simmons already has won 11 games. And the way he's been winning makes it a better than safe wager that the 21-year-old Egypt, Pa., youth will win one or two more before the fateful 29th rolls around.

During the period Curt is a soldier, the Phillies must play 17 games at home, against every team in the league except the Boston Braves.

It is doubtful whether Simmons can be available for any of these games, especially with the current war situation.

A club spokesman indicated the Phillies would not ask any special favors for Simmons.

"It wouldn't be fair," he said. "It would be bad for Curt and the Phillies."

Barges Explode In English Port

GOSPORT, ENGLAND (AP) — Eight ammunition loading barges exploded Friday night and started a raging harbor fire near a munitions depot at this English channel port.

Despite the series of heavy blasts, which scattered live ammunition for at least three miles, only seven persons were reported to have been injured, none seriously.

A British admiralty spokesman declined to speculate on the cause of the explosions.

No one was known to have been on the barges. An unconfirmed report by the navy said a loading gang had been at work on the first barge that caught fire but got off just in time.

They phoned police who investigated immediately and found McCarthy.

McCarthy was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Wood N. Taylor, 309 E. Harrison street, who heard groans while they took their two dogs for a walk.

Members of the "Iowa City for Peace" group made no appearance Friday at the office of student affairs to determine whether their peace petition had been approved for campus circulation.

A petition was delivered to the office for SUI consideration Thursday by Mrs. Stanley Ferber, 4 E. Market street, a member of the group.

The group Thursday issued a statement denying any connection with out-of-state groups. The statement came after the house un-American activities committee labeled a national "peace petition" plan as a "piece of Communist chicanery."

The group emphatically denied that their plans had any connection with the activities to which the house committee referred.

Group Not Recognized

Helen Reich, acting director of student affairs, said Friday she had not considered the petition since neither Mrs. Ferber nor Mrs. Bernard Baum, publicity director for the group and wife of an SUI English professor, had returned to the office.

The shipments will be part of the general U.S. military aid program. Razmara said it had been provided for in an agreement signed last March during the visit of U.S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins.

Russia Still Holds War Prisoners, Allies Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The three Western powers charged in substance Friday that Russia lied in saying she had freed all German war prisoners. They challenged Moscow to permit an on-the-scene investigation of its treatment of World War II captives.

The United States, Britain and France renewed their prodding on the issue in separate but similar notes which had the effect of a counter blow against Communist propaganda in the Korean crisis.

Authorities said Bert Sturm Jr., 8, and Nancy Cawiezell, 7, the victims, were playing on the trestle, although they had been warned not to do so.

Fred Brodnell, the engineer, said he had no time in which to pull the train before it got on the bridge.

Communists Secure Bridgehead On South Bank Of Kum River

U.S. Says Reds Must Withdraw To Settle Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States served notice on the world Friday that its rock bottom requirement for a settlement of the Korean crisis is the withdrawal of the Communist invasion army from South Korea.

A state department statement prompted by speculation over the diplomatic activities of Prime Minister Nehru of India, plus information from other sources, disclosed a firm and unyielding American policy covering these points:

1. There can be no compromise with aggression in Korea as far as this government is concerned.
2. The United Nations is the proper forum for negotiation on the crisis and the United States will not negotiate directly with Russia.

3. The United States does not intend to enter into any deal with Russia for admission of Communist China to the United Nations in return for Russian intervention to call off the North Koreans.

Meanwhile, imminent calls for partial mobilization of national guardsmen and reserves and for up to $6-billion in new funds to meet the Korean war crisis were forecast on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said he has been informed by high administration officials that some national guard and reservists will soon be ordered to active duty.

Earlier, military spokesmen said there is "no Dunkirk" in Korea but outnumbered American G.I.'s may remain on Yugo-Slav border guards.

The charge was made in a formal note delivered to the Bulgarian legation here in the midst of a mounting war of nerves between Yugoslavia and her Cominform neighbors — Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania.

The note advised Bulgaria that one Bulgarian soldier was shot and killed by a Yugoslav guard when he tried to throw a hand grenade.

It said Bulgarian border troops staged "four armed provocations" and demanded "urgent measures be taken by the Bulgarian government to prevent the repetition of such armed provocations."

Bulgaria is an active member of the Moscow-directed Cominform. Yugoslavia was cast out of that international Communist organization two years ago on grounds Premier Marshal Tito wasn't loyal to the party line. The two nations share a 300-mile frontier, largely rocky, barren and mountainous.

Korean War at a Glance

Korean front — North Koreans slash across Kum river 20 miles northwest of Taejon, forcing outnumbered Americans to withdraw, and simultaneously unleash encircling drive on South Koreans on eastern flank. South Koreans call for American artillery support. U.S. jet and mustang fighters blast Communist bridgehead, knocking out four tanks. Earlier, Red forces, about 100 strong, crossed river Friday night and infiltrated American positions.

Lake Success — United Nations appeal to 52 member countries to rush aid to UN army defenders, particularly ground troops. UN Secretary General Lie calls Korea fighting "well-prepared, well-planned aggression" against South Korea.

Washington — State department lays down minimum condition for solution of crisis — cease fire and withdrawal of Communist troops to own territory north of 38th parallel.

Washington — Defense Secretary Johnson to ask for $6-billion to $8-billion to finance Korean war; Sen. Johnson of Texas says national guard units and some reserves may be called for service soon.

Earlier Attempt Repulsed with Heavy Losses

TOKYO (SATURDAY) — North Korean troops, smashed in one attempt to cross the Kum river, knifed over today and hurled back the American defenders before strategic Taejon.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiqué said the first Communist attempt to leap the river came late Friday and was

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN SOUTH KOREA (UPI) — A call by field telephone to his fox-hole ended the Korean war Friday for M-Sgt. William Mosby, Eldorado, Ill.

"thrown back with heavy losses."

The successful crossing was made near Samgyo, about 20 miles northwest of Taejon. The bridgehead appeared to be extensive. It already was under attack by U.S. fighter planes.

Pressure Eases

Front dispatches, apparently later than the communiqué, said the Communist pressure in the bridgehead area northwest of Taejon had eased somewhat during the morning.

Field dispatches said the Communists simultaneously opened a heavy attack on the American east flank. If successful, this attack might trap U.S. infantry and artillery along the river.

The South Koreans were under severe attack at the east end of the American positions along the river. The Southerners called for U.S. artillery support.

"No Cause for Alarm"

The headquarters communiqué declared that while the Kum river crossing was a setback, it was "no cause for undue alarm." The strength of the bridgehead forces was unknown.

The successful crossing was several miles southwest of where the first Red attempt met disaster.

Bad weather held down Allied aerial operations. However, jets, Mustangs and light and heavy bombers managed 190 flights. They attacked rear lines of communication and Communist bases. Six enemy tanks were reported destroyed and seven damaged.

Iowa Pays Off Last World War I Bonds —

DES MOINES (UPI) — State Treasurer John Grimes paid off the last of the World War I bonus bonds Friday.

Grimes sent a check for $22,495 to the office of alien property of the U.S. department of justice. He said the check represented final payment on WW bonds and $495 in interest which have been due since Dec. 1, 1939.

Cash Award for 'Flying Saucers' —

CHICAGO (UPI) — The University of Chicago announced Friday that it planned to release 25 hydrogen-filled balloons, carrying a 100-pound cosmic ray counter, from the university's Stagg field today.

The university said Marcel Schein, professor of physics in the institute of nuclear physics, predicted that the flight of the object would give rise to various reports of "flying saucers."

It is expected, the university said, that the contrivances may land any place within about a 200-mile radius of Chicago, from southern Illinois to Ohio and Michigan.

The university promised a substantial cash award to anyone finding the balloons and notifying the university once it lands. The ray-counter is used in nuclear physical research at the university.

'Hard Luck Special' Derailed —

FESSENDEN, N.D. (UPI) — Five cars of Soo line "hard luck special" were derailed here Friday only a day after the passenger train collided with a Soo line freight train near Paynesville, Minn.

No one was injured. The passengers — members of Eastern Hard-ware Dealers' associations and members of their families — were transferred to another train enroute to Seattle, Wash., by way of Baile, Canada. They plan to attend a convention in Seattle.

Plane-Watching Squall a Surprise —

CHICAGO (UPI) — A young Northwest airlines meteorologist testified Friday he did not "anticipate" squall lines through which a giant DC-4 airliner plunged into Lake Michigan June 23, killing the 58 persons aboard.

Don Wertz, on duty as meteorologist for the airline prior to the crash, testified as a civil aeronautics board panel concluded a hearing into the nation's worst airplane disaster.

Cold War Front—15,000 Miles of Tension

LONDON (UPI) — If you really want to know what's worrying the leaders of the west, get yourself a map of the world and a pencil.

Start at Alaska. Draw a line as follows — through the Aleutians and Japan to Korea, then to Formosa, Hong Kong, Saigon, and Singapore on to Burma and Lhasa in Tibet, across the top of India and Afghanistan to Teheran, and then through Istanbul and the Dardanelles and up into Europe — Belgrade and Berlin, over the Baltic to the northern tip of Finland.

That's it — the cold war front. As the crow flies it's more than 15,000 miles. Compare it with the hot war front in Korea — about 150 miles.

At the moment the west is losing the Korean war. That worries the west plenty. But at least the facts are known. American troops are outnumbered and outgunned. To turn the tide takes more men, more guns and better equipment.

But no one — except Stalin and his fellow Kremlinites — knows the comparable cold war facts, that is, Russia's intentions along that long line you have just drawn.

The line is pockmarked with soft spots and danger spots. Some, like Malaya and Indo-China are already inflamed.

Does the Kremlin intend to sponsor trouble elsewhere — in Persia, Tibet, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Germany, Finland, India? Is Russia's objective to try to get the west to deploy and scatter its strength — and thus weaken itself — along that vast semi-circle which runs from the Arctic circle in Alaska down to the tropical lands of the equator and back beyond the Arctic circle again?

No one in the west knows the answers. But the foreign offices and military staffs are losing a lot of sleep over the possibilities

Yugoslavia Adds to War Jitters

Korean War Shows More Men Needed To Defend Europe

LONDON (UPI) — The hard lessons learned in Korea caused western military observers to raise considerably their estimates of manpower needed to stop any Soviet invasion of western Europe.

Observers believed the Korean invasion was staged as a kind of "dress rehearsal" for a future attack on western Europe, but said the west can learn as much from the fighting as the Soviet observers.

Their only hope was that the price of lessons being learned in Korea will not be too great.

Every mile reeled off by Communist tank columns in Korea has exposed weaknesses in the tactical concepts underlying existing plans for western Europe.

It has demonstrated the futility of counting heavily on air power to stop an armored aggressor.

It has dashed hopes that new American anti-tank weapons can be counted on to neutralize Soviet tanks.

And it has underscored the obvious — that there is no substitute yet for the properly armed and equipped foot soldier.

As a result, western European military men are taking a long and hard look at existing plans for Europe's defense.

They have raised their estimates of the number of foot soldiers needed.

There may be new pressure from military men to rearm western Germany, in one form or another, to tap one of the world's largest pools of war-experienced manpower.

A new tank development program, called for by American officers in Germany as much as two years ago, probably will be started following the failure of American armor before superior Russian tanks in real fighting.

American officers who organized the U.S. constabulary in Germany as a special hard-hitting armored force reported after field tests that American armor was not matched for Russian and asked that something be done about it.

$32-Million Awarded Ute Indians by U.S. For Old Land Grab

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Ute Indians of Colorado and Utah struck it rich Thursday.

The Utes — mostly poor uneducated farmers — won a record breaking $31.7-million claim against the government.

This amount represents about $10,000 for each Ute as payment for the 6-million acres of land the U.S. took from his ancestors.

The court of claims handed down four judgments. One of these was for $24,296,127, which lawyers say is the biggest judgment ever handed down against the government. The three other judgments pushed the total up to $31.7-million.

Ernest Wilkinson, attorney for the Utes, told a reporter that the largest previous total was awarded only a couple of months ago. It, too, went to Indians — $17-million to the Timpanogos on the west coast.

The Utes have had their share of troubles with the white man's ways.

They started out dandy, with 15-million acres set aside for them in 1868. But after gold was discovered in Colorado, they sold back 4-million acres — at 17 cents an acre.

Then came an Indian uprising, a U.S. Indian agent and most of his employees were massacred, and the 11-million acres were taken away from them. Congress decided the land was to be sold, but made no arrangements for paying the Utes.

With one thing and another, the fuss has been sputtering along ever since.

Wilkinson said he had been working on this case for 15 years, including one trial which ran for 16 continuous weeks.

No Indians himself, Wilkinson never intended to be a lawyer for them. But he went to work for Charles Evans Hughes, who had among his clients the Menominee Indians of Wisconsin.

When Hughes went to the supreme court, Wilkinson took on the Indians. One thing led to another, and he now represents six tribes.

Although the Utes were happy over the verdict, it still may be some time before they have their own money.

Despite the court's ruling, they can't get their cash until congress votes it.

But the Utes can wait. By now, they should be used to it.

Army Will Accept Enlisted Reserves

Interpreting the News —

U.S. Holds A-Bomb in Reserve

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The United States has reserved the right to use the atom bomb whenever it seems called for.

Col. Granger Anderson, chief of the Iowa military district, announced Friday that his office has just received special instructions from Fifth army headquarters in Chicago.

Anderson emphasized that the instructions do not permit him to accept members of the Iowa national guard for active duty.

Enlisted reservists who are eligible to volunteer must qualify in one of 101 military occupational specialties.

Col. Anderson stressed that this in no way constitutes the general mobilization of units of the reserve corps in Iowa.

What's the Difference?

It also happened to coincide with a 500-ton bombing raid by B-29s on a North Korean rail center which naturally raised the question, "what's the difference, except that one A-bomb would have done four times the job?"

Well, I think there is one difference. The people who live around those railroad tracks are just as much the victims of their Communist masters who started the war as are the people below the 38th parallel. If precision bombing can do the military job, then it is better politically to wipe out either the lives or homes of those people indiscriminately. Beyond that, it should be strictly a military decision. Certainly no timidity about any weapon should outweigh the lives of American troops through prolongation of the fighting.

A-Bomb Ultimatum Urged

Use of the A-bomb as an interdiction is one of the most frequent and most interesting proposals put forward since its development. A lot of people thought an ultimatum to Japan, backed by threatened use of the bomb, would have had the same effect as to ending the war that was provided by the demonstrations at Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Talks of such an ultimatum to Moscow regarding her actions has popped up repeatedly since 1945. Now if it is proposed in congress with regard to Korea.

Aside from any question of morality, the cold-blooded answer to the idea as applied to Russia is that it wouldn't work, any more than such a threat would cause the United States to surrender to a foreign power. And that we would then be forced to go through with the threat, starting a world war ourselves, or suffer the ignominy of backing down.

That is not the answer, or the whole answer, regarding Korea, where it just might work. Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. (D-Texas) wants to tell the North Korean commanders either to withdraw beyond the 38th parallel within a week or use the time to evacuate their cities in preparation for receipt of atom bombs.

Portrayals of the various townspeople are etched convincingly and distinctly. Each characterization creates a personality. Each is well-grounded in a basically humorous conception of character; of those too prone to the usual foibles of human beings.

On the debit side of the film is the occasional, if infrequently, unintelligibility of the dialogue.

The ending is excessively "huky-dory." As each complication resolves itself, only the angel Gabriel seems to be missing.

However, aside from its many virtues, "Saints and Sinners" has one other strong recommendation: It is a REAL Irish picture.

It is without references to the Blarney Stone, without renditions of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and above all, without Bing Crosby or Barry Fitzgerald.

An American Weapon

If the military people think it will end the war, or if American forces are on the verge of losing South Korea as a base for their assigned job of clearing the country of Communists, the question of using the bomb may come to a head.

But the bomb is everywhere considered an American weapon, rather than an adjunct of the UN under whose auspices the U.S. escapes the taint of imperialism in Korea. The Oriental mind is not something for an Occidental to pass on hurriedly. From a political standpoint, any decision about the bomb will be very dangerous unless the opinions of our friends in China, the Philippines, India and such places are first given very careful consideration.

MacArthur Headquarters Fly UN, American Flags

TOKYO (UPI) — The United Nations flag was raised Friday alongside the American flag which waves over Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

As a display of down-to-earth humor, "Saints and Sinners" is the genuine article. Its humor is intrinsic in the plot situations, so that it emerges naturally through a manipulation of its very human people in their natural environment.

The Palestine flag was brought here by Army Chief of Staff J. Lawton Collins. MacArthur accepted it in ceremonies this morning, in which he pledged that his command will try to uphold the "noble idea" it represents.

UN Requests Ground Troops

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — The United Nations appealed Friday to 52 member countries to rush effective aid, particularly ground fighting forces, to a UN army trying to stop the North Korean Communists.

Secretary General Trygve Lie announced the step at a somber news conference, his first since the outbreak of the hostilities which he again called a "well-prepared, well-planned aggression" against the republic of South Korea.

Lie said telegrams were sent to every nation that supported the security council action authorizing a collective army to throw the North Korean invaders back of the 38th parallel. The aid provided, he said, "should be effective forces, not token forces."

Soviet Bloc Excluded

The action was decided, he said, at an informal meeting he called last Monday, attended by representatives of the United States delegation, Security Council President Arne Sunde of Norway and himself and his executive assistant, Andrew Cordin.

The Soviet bloc and Yugoslavia, which opposed armed resistance to the North Korean Communists; were not included in the newest bid for help to the retreating forces under the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The invitation did not go, of course, to the United States, which has furnished the bulk of the UN resistance.

Hopes for No Atrocities

To statements that it may take three to six months to end the Korean conflict, he answered: "I am not a military expert. I can only express the hope it won't take that long."

Quick replies from both sides in the fighting heartened him that there would be a curb on atrocities, Lie said.

Beaded, Novelty Jewelry Popular for Summer Wear

It's a good bet that Delilah wore her earrings when she gave Samson a hair-cut, and that Cleopatra donned them when she sailed down the Nile. Taking a tip from history, the smart girl wears earrings for beauty and allure.

For summer cotton frocks and sheers, she has a choice of beaded and other novelty jewelry. Moonstones of a watery effect are wound into strings of tiny stones or used in huge balls.

Strings of seed beads — pastel pinks and blues, chartreuse and mixed colors — are appropriate fashion jewelry to set off daintily apparel.

"Flat" white in beaded and pebbled design affords neutral accessories. Even tiny navy beans have become a thing of beauty through multiple — color dye process.

The latest bulletin on autumn fashions from local stores includes three trends.

Designers say earrings will be very extreme, very long and very heavy.

"They will hang all the way down to the shoulders," a buyer for one store said.

At a buyers' showing in Chicago she saw one design featuring a "button" stone with wide bar and six long spangles. Some had one long pendant dropping from the bar, and on others, the spangles were cut on the diagonal.

"Gold" and silver are still popular, she said, but imported stones are shown, especially Czechoslovakian gems.

Imported stones are small, bright colored and worked into long strings. American women buy the bright stone earrings for variety, but the plain gold and silver ones along tailored lines are more steadily popular, she said.

Two Titles Decided In Valley Net Meet

Some Favorites Beaten; Play Approaches Climax

By HOBERT DUNCAN
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

There were five major upsets and two championships decided Friday as play approached a climax in 10 divisions of the 44th annual Missouri Valley tennis tournament.

Sallie Ann Rielley of Kansas City, Mo., took the girl's under 15 title and Mrs. Lucille Davidson, Kansas City, and Mrs. Nora Prosser, Marion, Kan., won the women's doubles crown.

Miss Rielley defeated Suzy Hamilton, surprise finalist from Iowa City, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2. Later in the day, Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Prosser, top seeded in the women's doubles, defeated Doris Popple, and Mrs. Joanne Gibson, both from Des Moines, 6-4, 8-6.

Five Championships

Five more championships will be determined in today's play with semi-finals scheduled for the remaining five classes.

Two top seeded doubles teams—in the mixed and girl's class—fell by the wayside Friday. Phyllis Vance of Omaha was a member of both winning teams.

In the mixed doubles, Miss Vance teamed with Ben Bishop of St. Louis to defeat Nora and Len Prosser, Mission, Kan., won the 6-0.

Mrs. Vance then paired with Sue Ruddell of Omaha to defeat the strong duo of Mary Vassely and Martha Goebel, St. Louis, in the girl's doubles division. Both Misses Vassely and Goebel are ranking players in the girl's singles.

Another surprise was in the men's singles class where unseeded Clinton Nettleton of Austin, Texas, whipped fourth seeded Dick Mechem, Topeka, Kan., 6-1, 6-4. Dick Hainline, Rock Island, Ill., odds on favorite to keep the singles title he won last year advanced effortlessly over Ward Parker of St. Louis, 6-1, 6-1.

Side Line Smashes

Hainline treated the crowd to a series of accurate side line smashes and lobs in defeating his St. Louis foe.

The Rock Island dentist's doubles match with Frank Wilkinson, Kansas City, against Nettleton and Mechem was called because of darkness Friday evening with things all even in the third set.

Hainline and Wilkinson won the first set, 6-4, lost the second, 6-3, and battled to a 8-8 tie in the third set when tournament officials called play. The entire third set will be re-played today.

Dave Snyder of Winfield, Kan., registered another upset of the meet Friday. Snyder, unseeded in the junior's boy's singles, outlasted fourth seeded Ellis Bryant, Kansas City, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Art Andrews of Iowa City, and Eddie Hoffman, Council Bluffs, posted a surprise win over Leigh Strassner, top seeded in the boy's singles, and Jim Singer in the boy's doubles division.

Continues Drive

In a women's singles match, Doris Popple continued driving toward her second straight title. The

Jacobs Takes State Golf Title

MASON CITY (AP) — John Jacobs of Cedar Rapids won his sixth Iowa amateur gold championship by defeating Tom Crabbe, also of Cedar Rapids, 4 and 2 in the scheduled 36-hole final Friday at the Mason City country club.

Three times during the match, Jacobs was 4 down. The last time was after 20 holes. But for the afternoon round he was 1 under par and Crabbe bogied the final five holes as Jacobs had an easy time winning.

Jacobs' putter was extremely hot and on the first 9 of the afternoon round, he used only 11 putts. He was forced to scramble on several holes, but came in with a 36, even par.

Jacobs was never ahead until the 31st hole. Jacobs was 1 under par for the 34 holes played Friday.

The first of his six championships also was won on the country club course in Mason City and that was in 1939.

Braves Drop Reds

CINCINNATI (AP)—A home run and a double by Del Crandall, driving in four runs, sparked the Boston Braves to a 4-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Friday. DICK HAINLINE WON HIS THIRD straight match of the Missouri Valley tournament Friday with an easy 6-1, 6-1 victory over Ward Parker of St. Louis. The Rock Island dentist, former net star at Iowa, is shown smashing a hard drive in his Friday's match. Hainline is the defending champion in the men's singles class and is favored to repeat.

Cards Cut Lead, Dip Phils, 4-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals cut Philadelphia's National League lead to one game by beating the Phillies 4-2 Friday night with big Bill Howerton driving in three runs on three hits, including a homer. The victory may have proved costly to the Redbirds, however. Stan Musial left the game with a wrenching knee and Pitcher Harry Brecheen was retired with a sore throwing arm.

Granny Hamner hit a home run for Philadelphia in the third with a man on, giving the Phils a lead which was tied by the Cardinals in the fourth.

The rubber game of the series will be played this afternoon.

Friday night was proclaimed Robin Roberts night in honor of the 23-year-old Philadelphia hurler. Fans from Roberts' hometown will be re-played today.

The first of his six championships also was won on the country club course in Mason City and that was in 1939.

injuries. Only Jack didn't suffer his on the playing field. The 26-year old pitcher for the St. Louis Browns was cut on the lip and leg last Wednesday when his car went out of control and hit a tree near Joliet, Ill.

Bruner told state police officers he was driving to St. Louis to rejoin the Browns.

He suffered a bad gash on the lip and chin which required 13 stitches to close.

Tigers Tip Senators, Hutchinson Gets Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Freddie Hutchinson posted his tenth victory Friday night, limiting Washington to six hits as Detroit edged the Senators, 2-0. The win was Detroit's seventh straight without a loss at Griffith Stadium.

Hutchinson allowed one runner to reach third base and walked none in finishing his first game since June 15.

The league leaders nicked Connie Marrero, the loser, for an unearned run in the second inning when Hoot Evers reached first on Mickey Vernon's error, went to third on a Johnny Groth single and scored when Aaron Robinson grounded out.

Hutchinson's double, Johnny Lipinski's single and Jerry Priddy's grounder accounted for Detroit's second run in the fifth inning.

Lipinski accounted for three of Detroit's eight hits, with Groth adding two others.

Ingenuity Can Provide Crime Solutions, Peace Officers Told

Ingenuity is the answer to the solution of most crimes unsolvable by ordinary routine, FBI Agent William Hopkins said here Friday.

Hopkins spoke to more than 100 peace officers attending the 14th annual peace officers short course, which opened Monday and closed Friday.

"We as officers too often follow a routine that in the past has led to a solution in ordinary cases, but which doesn't work for some cases," he said.

He urged the officers to break away from tradition and use their imaginations for the solution of crimes, each of which is different.

Told of Crimes

Hopkins then related numerous crimes which had been solved by the application of special or unique investigation methods.

He told how a want ad in a Los Angeles newspaper had been instrumental in capturing a confidence man.

The criminal was lured to a downtown hotel, where he was captured by an ad stating a wealthy woman wanted to invest in a growing business.

Another unique method was used by Hyattsville, Md., officers in solving a series of burglaries.

Merchants placed bent and marked coins in their cash drawer. After a burglary, the guilty persons could be detected quickly by watching for the marked coins.

He said newspapers had aided law enforcement greatly by "breaking" stories at times convenient to law agencies, or through the use of their classified columns.

The FBI is now engaged in circulating new and different methods that have worked in cases among law officers in all parts of the country, he said.

Mock Armed Robbery

Preceding his lecture, Hopkins supervised the staging of a mock armed robbery.

Officers of the basic investigation class and the advanced general police class played parts in all phases of the demonstration from the actual armed robbery through apprehension and prosecution.

Officers in the basic general police class heard lectures on presentation of evidence in court by Dean Mason Ladd of the SUI college of law, and finished the day with a test over the week's work.

Scouts Increase 35 Percent in Valley Council

Total membership in the Iowa River Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, has increased 35 percent during the past 12 months, according to a report of Atty. William Meardon, organization and extension chairman.

Scouts included in the council are from Johnson, Washington and Iowa counties.

The increase brings the total number of boys participating in council activities to 666.

If the expected 740 membership goal is reached by Dec. 31, the number of boys associated with the council will be the highest in the history of the local organization.

The report shows that 119 Boy Scouts and 71 Cub Scouts have been added to the council, while 17 boys have dropped out of post organizations. The council has gained two Boy Scout troops and four Cub Scout packs.

Cost of the council's Boy Scout program for 1951 will be $14,938, a slight decrease over this year's budget, Walter F. Schmidt, finance chairman, reported Friday.

The money, to be raised through campaigns in the communities of the three counties, will be spent on various activities conducted by the council throughout the year.

Librarian to Attend Cleveland Institute

Mrs. Leota Stagg, librarian in University hospitals' patients' library, will attend the American Library Association institute, July 16 through 22, at Cleveland, Ohio.

She will discuss values of music to hospital patients at the council of hospital librarians division, of which she is a member.

She and her husband, Norvel, will visit hospital libraries in Cleveland and Chicago on the way to the meeting.

Judge Trott Finds Correll Not Guilty

Dale E. Correll, Iowa City, Friday was found not guilty of a charge of disturbing the peace.

He appeared before Police Judge Emil G. Trott.

Correll was involved in a scuffle with William Baldwin, 525 S. Clinton street, July 7 in front of the Amvets club on South Capitol street.

Trott ruled that the testimony of the two men showed Correll's participation in the affair was only passive.

Baldwin was fined $12.50 by Trott Wednesday on the same charge.

University Theater To Present Movie

"The Maya Through the Ages," a documentary color film, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium of the University theater.

Admission is open to the public and free.

Prof. John Winnie, visiting speech instructor from the University of California at Los Angeles, served as technical director of the movie, filmed in the jungles of Guatemala and Mexico.

The United Fruit company produced the one-hour film with the assistance of the Carnegie foundation. The movie deals with the latest archeological discoveries on Mayan civilization, Winnie said.

The film, which took three-and-one-half years to make, is narrated by Vincent Price, Ralph Bellamy and Irving Pichel.

Detroit Man Admits Strangling Woman

DETROIT (AP) — A man who borrowed $10,000 from two women to finance his grocery - meat market confessed Friday the strangulation slaying of one of them.

Chief of Detectives Jack Harvill said Sam B. Sampson, 42, admitted killing Mrs. Vivian Stanley, attractive 37-year-old housewife during a scuffle in his car. Her body, clad in night clothes, was found in a weed patch Thursday.

Harvill said Sampson was irritated because Mrs. Stanley had hired private detectives to follow him and the other woman who had loaned him money, Mrs. Ruth Rankin.

After driving Mrs. Rankin, a widow, to her home Wednesday night, Harvill said, Sampson went to see Mrs. Stanley and picked her up in his car.

"During the quarrel she slapped me," Harvill quoted Sampson. "She slapped me and hit me with her purse. I held my hands over her mouth and pushed her head down on a pillow in the seat.

"I then carried her out of the car and dumped her on the ground."

"I took off my belt and tried to wrap it around her neck. She grabbed the belt and tugged at it. I put it around her neck finally and pulled it together. The belt broke and she went limp, unconscious.

Lecturer Arrives in Iowa City by Plane

MAX LERNER, WRITER AND TEACHER, was greeted by Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the SUI school of religion, Friday as he arrived by plane in Iowa City. Lerner told a university lecture series audience Friday night that the real crisis in the world today is not military, diplomatic or economic, but a moral crisis.

Undecided Nations Hold World Balance — Lerner

The most important force today in the conflict between Russia and the United States is the third force, those people who have not yet taken sides in the matter, said Max Lerner Friday night.

A large part of the people in the world form this third force, and the only way to win their cooperation is to show them that we are on the side of the common man, the underdog, he said.

The author, teacher and New York Post columnist told a university lecture series audience of about 1,000 at the Iowa Union band shell at present India and Indonesia are the two most important elements in the third force.

America must "persuade or perish" in Asia, he said. This country must commit itself to the struggle for the ideas in the hearts and minds of millions of people.

"America and Asia are only kidding themselves if they think the conflict is divided into only two camps," Lerner said.

If the U.S. doesn't win the allegiance of those people who are undecided, the clever Russian propagandists will turn them against America, with not only dislike, but hatred, he said.

"Russia is so strong because it uses ideas as weapons," he said, "and because Asia is such a good arena for that weapon."

"We in America must become Asia conscious, because Asia is the turning point in the world today. She has the people, she can have the resources and she is in social ferment," he said.

Lerner, who has been editor of the Nation, columnist for the New York Star and chief editorial writer for PM, a New York newspaper, told about 500 persons who gathered in the Iowa Union after his speech that the picture is very dark.

Under the circumstances, the U.S. had no choice but to defend South Korea, he said, but it was a mistake to pledge to defend Formosa and Indo-China.

Russia will not precipitate World War III to save Korea, but she will go to war to defend Communist China and Formosa, he stated.

The articulate Lerner said he favored admitting Communist

China to the UN because it would help us convince the smaller people in the Far East that we are on their side.

We must understand that people all over the world want much the same thing — a combination of freedom and groceries. We must convince the world that we stand for freedom and groceries more than the Russians do."

PICKPOCKETS FIELD DAY

ROME (AP) — Pickpockets had a field day at the opera Friday night as crowds came to gape at Rita Hayworth and Ingrid Bergman attending an outdoor performance of "Aida" at the ancient Caracalla.

William R. Hartman, 27, Franklin, Ind., was held in the county jail Friday night pending posting of a $500 bond on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Hartman escaped injury when his car overturned early Friday morning at a curve known as Wayne point, opposite Loghry's drive-in-restaurant, a mile west of Iowa City on highway 6.

Highway patrolmen said Hartman was driving west when the car left the road and went into the ditch.

The left side of the car was damaged to the extent of $300, patrolmen said.

In another accident on highway 6 Friday, Ricco R. Mordini, 38, Madrid, received bruises on the head when his car smashed into the rear of another car which had stopped to allow horses to cross the road.

Police said Minnie M. Langland, 48, Madrid, was driving Mordini's car, and Charles D. Keef, Omaha, was driving the other car.

The accident occurred about 7:50 a.m. Damage to each car was

Sally Rand Nabbed 'In Birthday Suit'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sally Rand told a judge that she intends to perform her fan dance "as usual."

According to police, this means in her birthday suit.

Officers arrested the veteran fan dancer at a lakefront carnival Thursday night and brought her before District Judge Harvey Neelen on a disorderly conduct charge Friday.

Sally, it was alleged, had nothing on under the fans, despite a chill lake breeze.

Friday she appeared before Neelen in a modest, long-sleeved dress and pleaded innocent.

"I can't understand it," she said. "I've played here before and never had trouble. There's more to this than meets the naked eye."

Neelen continued her case to Aug. 3, after she posted $150 bond and warned her that if her next dance is indecent she will be arrested and charged again.

But Sally said she intended to go on Friday night with the dance she has performed for the last 17 years.

How many tanks have been knocked out for good?

Answers to these questions would be worth a lot of lives to hard-pressed Americans and South Koreans trying to halt the Communist advance.

There's no doubt that the defense has learned more about the Communist armor than has been disclosed, but the Communists have moved forward and have not had to leave their damaged and destroyed tanks on the field for the Southern forces to count.

Until the Reds can be forced to abandon wrecked tanks, only part of the answers can be forthcoming.

The reports, which quoted well informed sources, said forces attached to Gen. Peng Teh-Wei's first field army had crossed the border into Tibet from southern Sinkiang province. No additional details were disclosed.

Many of the children examined were perfectly normal. Perhaps they had trouble gaining weight, or in the case of smaller children, they weren't placing their feet correctly in walking.

The doctors said they were pleased to find such cases at the clinic.

"It's better to see some of the children, even though they are all right. It shows the parents in the community are health conscious," one doctor said.

Reports will be sent to each child's physician, public health nurse and medical social worker. These local persons will check to see if the patient is following the clinic's suggestions.

Stolen AutoMissing for 29 Years— Found Buried

AITKIN, MINN. (AP) — Wisconsin and Minnesota authorities were trying to solve an auto theft Friday night — 29 years late.

A Foxboro, Wis., farmer turned up the ancient auto last weekend under nine feet of dirt. He was digging out stumps with a bulldozer when he ran across it.

Deputies traced the 1921 license plates to George Hammond, a 60-year-old MacGregor, Minn., farmer. Hammond said the car was his, all right. But he didn't know how it got underground.

Douglas, Wis., County Undersheriff Elton Eckroth said Hammond told him Friday that he used the 1920 Gardner touring car for carrying moonshine back in prohibition days.

But it really belonged to an Ernest Dryer, a moonshining confederate of Hammond's who put up the money and then registered the car in Hammond's name, Eckroth said.

Eckroth said the moonshining news was very interesting, but it didn't explain how the car got buried.

Hammond told me the last time he saw the car was in 1921 when he left Foxboro to work at his still one week," Eckroth said. "He came back and his wife told him it was gone. And that's the last anyone's ever heard of it."

The mysterious Dryer disappeared shortly after the car vanished.

Eckroth said he is searching for him in hopes of clearing up the matter. Douglas county authorities had not yet decided whether to do anything about the moonshining.

Hammond moved from Foxboro to a small farm 20 miles northeast of here in 1939. He is the father of 14 children.

Red Tanks Menace, Mystify Americans

ADVANCED AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS, KOREA (AP) — Those Russian-built tanks the North Koreans are using are a mystery, as well as a menace.

How many of these monsters did the North Koreans have when they launched their June 25 invasion?

How many have the Communists received as replacements for those knocked out, and how effectively have tank routes from the north been blocked by allied bombing?

Two Policemen Shot In Chicago House; Search on for Killer

CHICAGO (AP) — Two policemen were shot and killed Friday when they went to question a robbery suspect at an apartment house, and a city-wide search was launched for a gunman who was wounded in return fire of the officers.

Twenty squads of police tracked down a green coupe in which a man believed to be Bernie Davis, 22, fled from the scene of the shooting.

The gunman commanded the car from Lawrence Breckenridge 19, telling him:

"I just killed four people, and if you don't drive me away I'll kill you."

Breckenridge reported the man was wounded in the right knee.

Police Commissioner John Prendergast, personally directing the hunt, said he believed the gunman was badly hurt.

Edward Crowley, 41, and Don McCormick, 43, both members of the police robbery detail were killed when they went to Davis' apartment to question him.

Authorities said Davis was sought for questioning in a recent $2,500 robbery of the Weirton, W. Va., finance company, and an unsuccessful attempt the same day to hold up a Steubenville, Ohio, bank.

Clinic consultants from SUI were Dr. R. R. Rembold, director of the crippled children's services and assistant professor in the pediatrics department (children's specialist) in the college of medicine.

Dr. R. E. Votteler, resident in the pediatrics department; Dr. Michael Bonfiglio, associate in the orthopedics department (bone specialist); Dr. D. W. Blair, resident in the orthopedics department.

Josephine Simonson, speech and hearing consultant; William Johnson, instructor in the physical therapy department; Mrs. Inez Yost, medical social consultant; Mrs. Phyllis Mummery, dental hygienist.

Violet Kinstle, director of nursing at the clinic; Mrs. Mary B. Smith, nutritionist; and Betty Jean Stoley, Mona Early and Betty Amelon, secretaries for the clinic.

Other consultants were psychologists from the state division of child welfare and representatives from the state vocational rehabilitation division.

Local People Help

Many workers at the clinic were local women who volunteered their services. Some of them were nurses.

Others guided patients from one consultant to another, weighed and measured children, served coffee for the adults and kool-aid for the children, and comforted fretful babies.

Local workers are instrumental in carrying out recommendations of the clinic.

Hospital-on-Wheels Returns, Creates Stir

By ANN RUSSELL

Every few weeks the barracks behind General hospital becomes a beehive of activity as the state services for crippled children's mobile clinic returns.

Such a scene occurred Friday when the clinic returned from one-day stands in Webster City on Wednesday and Boone on Thursday.

The hospital on wheels — three automobiles and a station wagon — which has operated since 1936 except for the war years, serves 75 of Iowa's 99 counties.

Its services are free to children under 18 years of age who are referred to the clinic by their family physicians. The 24 cities which the clinic annually visits were established at the request of local physicians.

Most of the 200 children to whom the clinic took its services this week were old friends.

The three types of patients examined were: 1. former patients at University hospitals; 2. children who had come to the clinic in previous years, and 3. new patients.
