Dutch Won't Send Troops to Korea —

THE HAGUE, NETHERLANDS (AP)—A foreign ministry spokesman said Monday night the Dutch government has decided it is not possible to send ground forces to Korea to support the UN action there.

The cabinet came to the conclusion Monday that organization of a home army was the first necessity, the informant said.

Communist Jets Appear in Korea —

TOKYO (TUESDAY) (AP)—Communist jet fighter planes, the first to appear in Korea, were reported Monday near Chongju, Chongju is about 20 miles north of Taejon.

A headquarters communique said a "number of the planes had been seen. Whether they were in the air or on the ground was not stated.

The planes were described as smaller than the American F80s which have been raising such havoc with North Korean troops, their equipment and supplies.

House Kills Electoral Change —

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house Monday killed a proposal to abolish the electoral college system of electing presidents, in effect for nearly 150 years.

The members voted 210 to 134 against submitting a proposed constitutional amendment on the subject to the states for ratification. To have been adopted, the proposal would have had to receive a two-thirds majority of those voting. It failed to do so by 96 votes.

Each party registered a majority against the change. Eighty-seven Democrats and 47 Republicans voted for it; 116 Democrats, 93 Republicans and one American-Labor representative against it.

The senate had approved the proposed change Feb. 1 by a vote of 64 to 27. But it ran into heated objections in the house, particularly among Republicans who figured that the change would make it more difficult to elect a Republican president.

Find Bodies of Two Trapped in Mine —

LARK, UTAH (AP)—A mine official reported two of five men trapped by smoke in the Lark mine were found dead Monday. Search for the other three continued.

Their bodies were found 7,500 feet back in the Mascotte tunnel of the U.S. Smelting, Refining and Mining mine. The five men have been sought since early Sunday when a fire started in the timbering.

Believes He Owns Jinx Automobile —

OMAHA (AP)—Emmet Braumbaugh, former president of the Omaha Bar association, is about ready to believe he owns a jinx automobile.

Two months ago he bought a new car after measuring the length of the garage and determining that he could squeeze the car in. Then came the shocker. The car fitted lengthwise, but the garage was too narrow. The car doors would open only about four inches.

Braumbaugh had a door cut in the side of the garage but the contractor erred, putting it slightly in the wrong place. More carpentry and masonry put it where it belonged.

Saturday morning Braumbaugh took his car out for a spin. There was an accident and the car was tossed end over end. Braumbaugh escaped injury but the car was pretty well battered.

Lead 200 Years, Bach Honored by World

Throughout this Holy year of 1950, the music by Bach resounds more widely than at any time since it was written. Laymen and musicians alike delight to honor their master of masters in his 200th death centennial.

For it has been said that Bach is so music what Rembrandt was to painting, what William Shakespeare was to literature, and what Benjamin Franklin was to statesmanship.

His art stands almost alone in unassailable perfection. Its beauties are inexhaustible, both from the harmonic and melodic standpoint. However, once, when asked the secret of his wizardry, the modest Bach replied, "You merely strike the right note at the right moment."

Further, this staunch and simple man who found ecstasy through faith and peace through the full consciousness of his devout being, imparted some of the loftiest messages ever expressed in musical language.

His chief contribution as an innovator was to have transformed the fugue from a pedantic trifle into a stunning musical mosaic, ranging from sparkling merriment to architectonic grandeur. He also invented the clavier technique, the basis of modern piano playing. Though his favorite instrument was the viola, he was a master of every musical instrument then in existence.

The Reformation was the master-key to his art. He took most of his texts from the Bible and the hymn book, and gave them magnificent settings.

He is as famous for his high moral purity as for his music, and it is forgotten often that one of the greatest pieces of liturgical music of the Catholic ritual, the B Minor Mass, was written by a Protestant. It was composed originally for the private devotions of the Catholic royal Saxon family.

Bach's personal life was long, industrious, sociable, and contained no secrets or mysteries. Yet his biography is scant. Drama and

Distaff Side Attacks MacArthur's Ouster Of Woman Reporter

Women prominent in business, government and the press disagreed Monday with the action by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in ordering Correspondent Marguerite Higgins out of Korea.

Some denounced the action as unjustified. Newspaperwomen said the action would be justified only if she had demanded special accommodations.

A spokesman for MacArthur said the order was part of a plan to remove all American women except nurses from Korea.

Dr. Althea Hottel, president of the National Association of University Women and dean of women at the University of Pennsylvania, said:

"Unless Miss Higgins has been carrying out her duties in an unsatisfactory way that would reflect on her as a correspondent with integrity with reference to military movements that should not be violated, I would feel that she, just as any male correspondent, should be permitted to remain on duty at the front."

State Rep. Lottie Holman O'Neill (R), of Downer's Grove, Ill., who has introduced a "equal rights for women" bill in the legislature, said that "the toughest, roughest break a woman can get is to have her son killed in battle."

"If a woman can stand that shock there is no reason why she can't take anything in the experiences of a war correspondent. I think Gen. MacArthur's action in barring her from the front is a sin. I can't see anything in a war correspondent's duties being worse than what a nurse has to put up with."

Dr. Madeline O. Holland, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, said the action was "unjustified."

"I feel that women have just as much right to be there (in Korea) as the men... if the men are going to take chances why not the women?"

Mary Bryant of the St. Louis Star-Times, said:

"Barring women would be justified if arranging for their accommodations were troublesome," she said. "A good woman reporter should be capable of reporting the war, but demanding equal rights would seem foolish if the military finds it more convenient to have only men at the front."

HOW DO THEY THINK 'EM UP: Wacky song titles are back. Every once in a while the nation's composers go through a phase which finds them trying to outdo each other in creating goofy labels for their songs.

Two current tunes even have similar titles. They are "Tzena Tzena Tzena" and "Tzin - Tzin - Tzin" — neither of which I know the meaning.

Bill to Jail Criminals Awaiting Deportation Passed by House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house overwhelmingly passed Monday a bill to allow the justice department to jail criminal and subversive aliens awaiting deportation.

The bill passed by a roll call vote of 325 to 15 despite claims by opponents that it is "palpably unconstitutional." The measure was taken up out of order—a procedure that requires a two-thirds vote for approval.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said it would apply only to aliens who are prostitutes, procurers, narcotics dealers, or subversives, or who have served more than a year and a day in jail.

He said deportation orders now are outstanding against more than 3,000 people of those types but that the justice department has no authority to jail those believed to be dangerous to national security.

Sponsors claimed it would have prevented Gerhart Eisler, former top Communist leader in this country, from escaping last year on the Polish liner Batory. Eisler was free on bail pending appeal from his passport fraud conviction.

Walter explained that aliens under order to leave the country frequently remain here without making any effort to obtain admission to another country. The bill would permit them to be jailed until they do arrange to leave.

"There are records of one crime after another committed after an order of deportation," Walter said.

TB Vaccine Reported Released by Government

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Sun-Times said Monday it had learned that BCG, a vaccine, has been released by the federal government for general use in preventing tuberculosis.

The newspaper said release of the vaccine, reported as 80 percent effective in prevention of the disease, had been approved by the biologic division of the national institute of health, a federal agency.

BCG is manufactured by the Tice laboratories of the Cook county hospital here in cooperation with the University of Illinois and other research groups.

Tire, Clothing, Sugar Price Rises Blamed On War, High Costs

CHICAGO (AP)—A flurry of price boosts were reported in the tire, clothing, chemical, metal and sugar industries Monday and some of the increases were attributed to the Korean war.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber company jumped prices on all types of replacement tires from 5 to 7 1-2 percent due to higher costs of raw material, labor and transportation. General Tire and Rubber company also raised prices on tires and tubes 5 to 12 1-2 percent.

Trading in sugar futures soared to new seasonal highs on the New York market and cotton futures leaped almost the full daily permissible limit of 200 points. The active trading was attributed to the "world situation" and to technical factors.

Coffee futures also zoomed to new seasonal highs Monday, climbing the daily permissible limit of two cents a pound.

The Revere Sugar refinery at Boston announced that it was boosting prices on some types of sugar but said the rise was necessary due to factors not connected with the war.

At New York, the American Woolen company hiked prices on worsted fabrics for men's and women's clothing. The price boosts ranged from 12 1-2 cents to 17 1-2 cents a yard. The increase was blamed on a shortage of fine wools for worsteds.

War buying sent grain, soybeans and lard futures skyrocketing on the board of trade at Chicago. New highs for the season were set on all deliveries of soybeans and lard on July and September wheat.

Trade circles said the aggressive buying reflected the bad news of new American defeats in Korea as well as persistent talk of inflation.

Defense Secretaries Form Unified Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The secretaries of army, navy and air disclosed Monday that they have set up among themselves a counterpart of the military high command, the joint chiefs of staff.

One purpose of this "new joint secretaries" organization, formed before the outbreak of the Korean war is "to assess problems that have broad scale international political implications" beyond the purely military matters that confront the joint chiefs of staff.

The announcement was made at a news conference by Army Secretary Pace, Navy Secretary Matthews and Air Secretary Finletter. They said that among subjects considered by the "joint secretaries" organization so far has been the foreign military aid program, allocation of funds among the armed forces, the opening or closing of various army and navy hospitals and similar problems.

Whatever decision the three secretaries reach are referred to Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

NSLI Dividends

WASHINGTON (AP)—Future dividends on National Service Life Insurance would be applied to payment of premiums under a bill passed Monday by the house.

Dividends could be paid in cash only to those veteran policy holders who request it in writing.

Milkman's Lot a Trying One

The early rising hours for a milkman has led many to believe that they lead a lonely existence. Not so, says Fred Clever, sales representative of one of the country's leading milk companies.

"Our men are on a friendly basis with our customers that can be topped by no others. Day after day the man who delivers the bottles to your doorstep comes in contact with the hills, chills, happiness and sadness of the populace.

"It all comes about by the hundreds of notes that are included in the empty bottles which are being returned," says Fred.

The requests, sometimes strange and sometimes wonderful, are the basis for Fred's hobby. For he's been collecting the notes for years.

Extra chores for a milkman are now becoming routine. There are no end of notes that leave added instructions on the care of pets, as witness:

"Dear Cliff—Go to Montgomery's for key hanging inside screen door. Feed bird. Seed in jar on dining table. Put milk in the refrigerator."

Or the one that read "The key is under the mat, unlock the front door, put milk in the refrigerator, then go down into the cellar and put three shovels of coal in the furnace, lock the front door and put key under the mat."

Milk officials say their drivers always strive to be courteous, but requests to wake up Joe on the night shift, or please run down to the store and get me a loaf of bread, slow up their schedules.

The milkman is often called upon to be an interpreter of sorts. This little letter could have been confusing, but not to the driver who figured his customer wrote the same as she talked. It did take a minute though, to get the right answer.

"Mr. Milkman — Kindly despatch the milk until foider poles bekos my fregradar is out of order and Searz and Robok lady at desk said its impossible to talk order this weeks. She promet me for Monday to sand the mekanded orders ar already taken for the hall weeks. I hope I mad it kleg to you. May father well pay for the 2 quarts of milk IOU."

Then there's the one that read: "Wan Bad! Mil."

Relief drivers who fill in on all doors. Feed bird. Seed in jar on dining table. Put milk in the refrigerator.

Now and then patrons go a little artistic on the milkman. One young man drew a hand holding five cards — three aces and two kings. Underneath was penned: "Will stand pat today. Deal me in Friday."

Reds Aim to Cut Supply Line

WITH CAPTURE OF Tanyang, Red forces are driving southward toward Hamchang, aiming toward eight-ply rail hub of Kumchon, southeast of Taejon. Capture of Kumchon would sever main supply — and retreat — route of American forces at the Kum river line. U.S. forces have retreated across the Kum at Konju. South Korean forces are setting up new defenses along Kum tributaries to the northeast. U.S. B29s bombed Chungju, north of Taejon, and other towns occupied by North Koreans.

FAVORITE STORIES WERE RETOLD and plenty of food consumed Sunday when some 100 graduates of the Iowa City academy picnicked at City park. This was the third annual reunion held by the group which attended the school founded in 1870. The Academy was a college preparatory school and many of the former students are graduates of SUI.

Academy Graduates Attend Reunion

At least 100 aging but still young-in-heart graduates of the Iowa City academy gathered from several Iowa towns for their third annual reunion in City park Sunday.

The academy, one of the early secondary schools in Iowa, was founded in 1870. The principal and owner from 1890 through 1915 was Prof. W. A. Willis. After his death, his daughter, Bertha, sold the school in 1916.

Sale of School
The sale was made through the intervention of Dean Walter A. Jessup, later president of SUI. According to Prof. Forrest Ensign of the college of education, a new University high school was needed, and in a sense the University high school can be traced to the closing of the academy.

In 1916 there were four secondary schools in Iowa City — the Public high school, two parish schools and the academy. None could trace their history beyond that of the academy. Since the community was too small to support a fifth school, Dean Jessup persuaded the board of education to purchase the academy from Mrs. Willis.

The academy occupied rented quarters in the City hall block and District GOP Begins 1950 Campaign Drive

Republican party workers from the first district, which includes Johnson county, are scheduled to meet Monday in Hotel Burlington, Burlington, to begin their 1950 campaign drive.

The meeting will be one of a series of eight district meetings throughout the state to plan organizational techniques, State Sen. Alden L. Doud, Douds, said in Des Moines Monday.

Doud, state GOP organizational director, will be in charge of the meetings.

Doud was one of six Iowans who attended the Republican school of politics for instruction on precinct and county organization. The school of politics was held in Washington, D.C.

Student Pair 'Dress Up' Trailer Yard with Flowers

A trailer home may be a challenge to expansive ideas, but Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, 464 Riverdale park, have met this challenge.

Taylor, a graduate student in education, started landscaping on a small scale and entered the small plot in the beautification contest sponsored by the Iowa City Women's club. Although the July hail storm "peppered" the plants with holes, the garden seems undaunted.

Taylor not only has planted a border of flowers around his trailer, but is going to "beautify" the fence bordering the river bank nearby.

Small flowers, such as nasturtiums, pansies, pinks, zinnias and marigolds are in bloom. Soon the tall flowers, gladioli, snapdragons, sweet peas and asters will cover the black trailer border behind them.

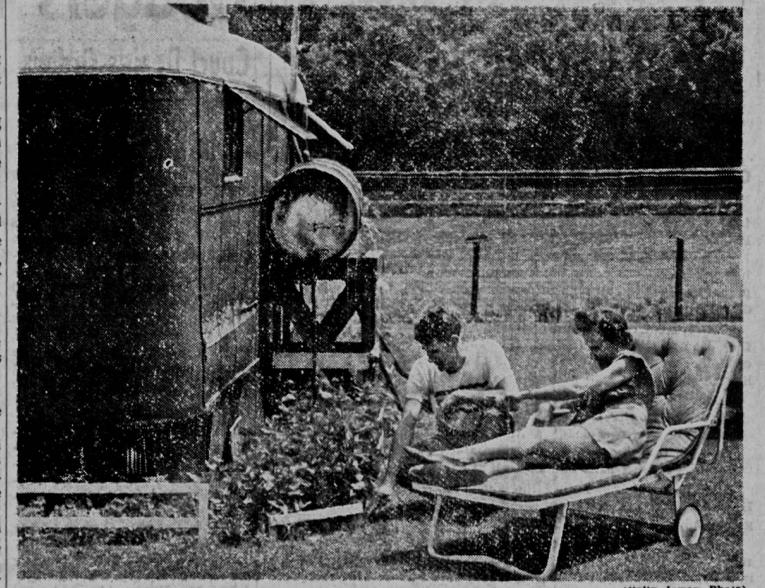

Petunias and bachelor buttons are blooming at the side of the trailer home. Dwarf marigolds and the tall Riverside variety are also in bloom.

Along the wire fence he has planted sweet peas, larkspur, petunias and hollyhocks. The hollyhocks are not very high because they were planted from seed.

The contest will be judged in August and includes prizes of $10, $15 and $25.

Mrs. Taylor says they like living in a trailer. Her husband does the gardening but she arranges the bouquets. Before coming to SUI Taylor was principal of the Marengo junior high school.

The Taylors have entered the Iowa City beautification project which will be judged in August. Although the hail storm earlier in July damaged their flowers, they hope to have a good showing of tall plants—snapdragons, gladioli, sweet-peas and asters—to set off their small varieties bordering the trailer and the fence behind it. Taylor is a graduate student in education at SUI.

Nine Polio Patients Enter U-Hospitals

Nine new polio patients, all in "fair" condition, were admitted to University hospitals over the weekend, officials said Monday.

Five of them were from Cedar Rapids. They were Nicky Haren, 3; Theresa Myers, 19 months; Harlan Brumwell, 24; Philip Comes, 12, and Melinda Miller, 7.

Others admitted were Larry Minks, 9, Waterloo; Robert Whipple, 21 months, Traer; Marie Wharton, 12, Ft. Madison, and Lee Bostock, 3, Bonaparte.

Total active polio cases in the hospitals Monday were 27.

Professor Wants Economic Workshop in '51

Prof. C. Woody Thompson, director of the SUI workshop on economic education, held here June 26 through July 15, said Monday he hopes to hold another such workshop in 1951.

Thompson, director of the SUI bureau of business and economic research, said the workshop has proved itself a valuable aid in taking economic education to high school students.

Thompson said the 51 high school teachers and administrators who attended the workshop will use the information which they gathered at SUI to instruct their students in some of the intricacies of American economics.

Most persons do not attend college, Thompson said, so they must be taught about economics while still in high school. The workshop was addressed by 20 guest lecturers and instructors.

Professor Returns From Active Duty

Prof. Walter R. Livingston, SUI history department, has completed 36 days of active duty with the United States air force's special staff school at Craig air force base, Alabama.

While at the airbase, Livingston, a lieutenant colonel in the air force reserve, did research on the history of the academic instructor division and on the background of teacher preparation in the air force.

At SUI he serves as liaison officer between SUI and the air force. He also is curator of British documents at SUI.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHITNEY DARROW, JR., the famous cartoonist, met his bride in the editorial sanctum of a magazine. She was running an entertainment department when young Darrow spied her and demanded of some underling (the boss possibly), "What's the name of that attractive girl?" "Middy," was the answer. "How's that?" said Whitney. "Middy," repeated his informer, "as in blouse." So for three weeks Whitney wooed her in the belief that her name was Middy Asinblouse.

A leading magazine sent a trusted operative to cover the dedication ceremonies of a new amusement center in Miami Beach this winter. There was all the hoopla once reserved for successful Channel swimmers. A couple of thousand good-natured kibitzers even consented to learn a special song for the occasion. It was called In Miami Beach the Sun is Shining. Unfortunately, the rendition of this song was delayed by a slight technicality—a torrential downpour. Natives are convinced California scalawags had something to do with it!

'Tops' in Frozen Desserts

ICE CREAM PIE has become a dessert favorite in many families especially when "Mom" stirs it up herself. For a delicious frozen dessert try adding mashed bananas and chopped nuts to vanilla ice cream. Stir the mixture until it is creamy and smooth. After lining the pan with chocolate cookie crumbs, pour the ice cream mixture into the pan and freeze the pie in the ice cube compartment of your refrigerator. Sprinkle some of the crumbs over the top of the pie for a final attractive touch.

Cubs Show a Lot of Hustle

The 34,000 persons at Wrigley Field Sunday who saw the Cubs take a doubleheader from the Phillies, wouldn't have known that Philadelphia was in first place and the Cubs in fifth.

We went in to the games — our first taste of major league baseball this year — and saw the Cubs out play and out hustle Philadelphia. For a young ball club in pennant contention, the Phillies looked dead and lifeless.

On several occasions, Philadelphia outfielders let Texas league flies drop at their feet for base hits and on one occasion, a Phillie outfielder went back to the wall and then failed to field a ball which hit the base of the wall and went for extra bases.

The Cubs were just the opposite Sunday in the hustle department. And as a result, several nice catches were made at critical points. Hank Sauer made a fine back handed catch along the left field foul line in the first game and Bob Borokowski turned in a nice leaping back handed stab at the wall.

Gran Hamner was one Phillie who showed a lot of drive Sunday. He came up with two fine plays at shortstop — one a back handed grab, a pivot in the air, and a throw to second base for a force out.

Chicago lost the services of Phil Caverretta, veteran first baseman, in the first game Sunday. Caverretta's right wrist was fractured in the first game when one of Ken Johnson's erratic left handed pitches hit him.

The Cubs got surprisingly good pitching from Walt Dubiel and Doyle Lade Sunday. Several Cub fans in the stands were willing to wager before the first game that Dubiel wouldn't survive the first inning.

He not only survived the first inning, but went the route, hurling a nine-hit 8-0 shutout. Then Lade took over in the second game. He went all the way, limiting Philadelphia to 8 hits in registering a 10-3 win. If Bob Rush and Johnnie Schmitz continue to be hit like they have been in their last few outings, Dubiel and Lade will be the aces of the Cub pitching staff.

Carmen Mauro, Cub left fielder, had an embarrassing experience sliding into third base Sunday. Mauro, who had a perfect four for four day, tore his pants in a very obvious place in the slide. Many of the fans didn't realize what had happened until they saw Mauro, buckling his belt, emerge from the Chicago dug out with clean white pants.

Apparently Mauro grabbed the first pair of pants he found in the dugout. He played the rest of the game in pants so large that they were pleated around the waist.

We got a letter Monday from Jack Dittmer, former Iowa second baseman who is now playing with Denver of the Western League. Jack said that he suffered the leg injury which kept him out of the lineup for over a week reaching for a throw. "I was covering second on a steal," Jack said, "and reached toward the plate for a low throw and ended up pulling something. I made the same play dozens of times in college and nothing happened but then I guess that's life."

Dittmer says he likes Denver fine and the "players and fans sure have been swell to me."

Court Denies Order Preventing Waterloo From Raiding NBA

WATERLOO (AP) — A federal district judge Monday denied the Tri-City Blackhawks a temporary order restraining the Waterloo Hawks from making offers to basketball players now under Tri-City contracts.

Judge Henry N. Graven ruled that evidence presented at a preliminary hearing was insufficient to warrant issuance of the order. He said a formal hearing on the Blackhawks' suit for a permanent injunction would be held in the fall.

Lure Players
Tri-City, a member of the National Basketball association, alleged in its petition that the Waterloo club and National Professional Basketball league officials had attempted to lure players away from Tri-City and other NBA teams.

In an affidavit accompanying the suit, Blackhawk Manager John M. Fitzgerald said the Hawks and NPBL officials had offered contracts to Dwight Edleman, Walton Kirk and Noble Jorgensen, all Blackhawk players.

The affidavit said the offer to Edleman was made by Lawrence (Pops) Harrison, manager of the Waterloo team. It said offers to Kirk and Jorgensen former Iowa player, had been made by Doxie Moore, NPBL commissioner, and John Smiley, Waterloo player-coach.

Harrison testified at the hearing that he had talked with Edleman, Murray Wier and Jorgensen early in May "about everything but contracts." Wier and Jorgensen played basketball at SLU when Harrison was coach here.

However, Jorgensen testified Harrison in a telephone conversation offered him $8,000 to play with Waterloo next year. Jorgensen said he said he was not interested. In another telephone conversation later, Jorgensen said, Harrison offered him $10,000 and said he would mail Jorgensen a contract. No contract ever was received, Jorgensen said.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Behind the five-hit pitching of Preacher Roe, the Brooklyn Dodgers crushed St. Louis, 7-1, in the night game of a day-night doubleheader Monday dropping the Cardinals into a second-place tie with Boston — a half game behind Philadelphia. It was the Dodgers' seventh straight triumph over the Red Birds. Brooklyn won the first contest Monday, 6-3.

In gaining his eleventh victory, Roe struck out five men, walked but one.

Leadoff Homer
On the first pitch of the night game, leadoff man Bobby Morgan hit a homer to the right field roof. Carl Furillo slammed one into center field, Chuck Diering lost it in the lights and it fell for a triple, scoring Duke Snider who had walked.

The Dodgers made it 3-0 in the third with Jim Russell scoring after an infield error and a single by Jackie Robinson.

A walk by Roe helped the Cardinals to their only run in the fourth. Diering was given the pass and he scored on a double by Stan Musial, who was out trying for third.

Two More Runs
Brooklyn counted two more in the seventh. Roe got a single and Morgan walked. Batting for Jim Russell, Eddie Miksis bunted safely, filling the bases. Then Duke Snider singled to right center, putting Roe and Morgan across.

A walk, a sacrifice, Morgan's double and Gene Hermanski's single gave the Dodgers two insurance markers in the eighth and spelled the end of Howard Pollet, who went down to his seventh defeat after giving up 11 hits and 5 walks.

A crowd of 19,341 saw the Brooks score four times in the first inning of the first game.

Cleveland, Red Sox Split Doubleheader; Rosen Hits Homer

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox coasted to a 7-5 victory in a floodlight contest after being out-slugged 11-6 by the Cleveland Indians in a day-night doubleheader.

The after-piece was a rather drab affair after the day set that saw Al Rosen's 26th homer, moving the Cleveland third baseman into a tie for the major league lead in that department. The Boston Junior Stephens belted his 22nd homer, with one on, to pull into the major leagues' runs-batted-in lead with a 92 total during the day game.

The Red Sox combed Mike Garcia, appearing here for the second time in two days, in the first inning for five runs on four hits and a walk. In the seventh, against Chick Pieretti, Walt Droppo clinched the game for the Red Sox by hitting his 23rd homer of the season.

Petzel, Smith Take First in Tank Meet
Duane Petzel, representing the Iowa City swimming club, won the 110-foot free style race for boys 12 and under in the Good Park swimming meet held at Des Moines Sunday. Dave Colbert, also from Iowa City, took fourth in the race. Petzel's time of 23.5 set a new meet record.

Swimmers from four states competed in the meet. It is considered one of the most important meets in the mid-west.

Kinnie Smith, unattached from Iowa City, won the men's 100-meter breaststroke event. Willis Weber, swimming for the Iowa City club, took third in the event. In the preliminaries, Weber tied the course record of 1:15.9.

Boudreau Reaches, Tebbetts Safe

LOU BOUDREAU REACHED high for a wild throw from Catcher Jim Hegan in the Cleveland-Boston game Monday as Red Sox Catcher Birdie Tebbetts slid safely into second base. Boston's Pletcher Joe Dobson started the play when he bunted in front of the plate. Umpire Bill Grieve called the play. The Indians won the afternoon half of a doubleheader, 11-6.

Tigers Capture Two From A's

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detroit Tigers picked up ground in the American league pennant race by taking both ends of a two-night bill off the Philadelphia Athletics Monday night. Saul Rogovin hurled Red Rolfe's Tigers to a 3-1 second game triumph after a three run eighth inning rally had gained an 8-6 first game victory.

Rogovin scattered seven A's hits and was in serious trouble only in the sixth inning as the Athletics' lone run crossed the plate on two walks, an infield out and Catcher Joe Astroth's single. A toss by Hoot Evers to Bob Swift cut down a second possible Philadelphia run at the plate.

The deciding three-run rally in the first game started off with Evers singling, Pinchhitters Charley Keller and Fred Hutchinson chipped in with a triple and single respectively while Jerry Priddy also contributed a timely base knock.

John Lindell Sold To Columbus Club
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Outfielder Johnny Lindell, who played on three world championships teams with the New York Yankees, was sold to the Columbus Red Birds of the American association Monday by the St. Louis Cardinals.

At the same time, the Cardinals put back on the active roster First Baseman Vernal (Nippy) Jones, who has not played this season because of a back injury.

The sale of Lindell and the return of Jones raised speculation that Stan Musial might be shifted back to the outfield from his present first base position.

Hainline, Poppie Win Championships In Missouri Valley Tennis Tournament

Ben Bishop Takes Junior Boy's Title

Dick Hainline, Rock Island, Ill., and Doris Poppie, Des Moines, came through with expected victories in the finals of the men's and women's singles of the Missouri Valley tennis tourney Sunday.

Sunday's five final rounds were played in the Iowa fieldhouse. Rain Saturday afternoon and evening, coupled with poor drying conditions Sunday, made the university's clay courts unplayable.

Hainline, who was complete master of the men's division in the meet, had little trouble with Ralph Hart, St. Louis, in winning 6-3, 6-0, 6-2.

Fourth Title
Sunday's victory marked Hainline's fourth Missouri Valley championship and his second in a row. He was top seeded.

Miss Poppie beat Lucille Davidson, Lee's Summit, Mo., 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, for her second straight tournament title. Mrs. Davidson was Miss Poppie's foe in the finals last year when the Des Moines shot master won her championship. Mrs. Davidson was the 1949 National Public Parks champion.

The top seeded men's doubles team of Ward Parker and Hart, both from St. Louis, was upset in the finals Sunday by Len Prosser, Mission, Kan., and Barbour, Winfield, Kan.

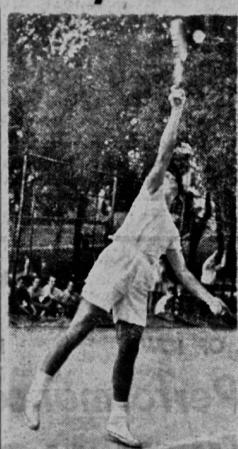

First Two Sets
Parker and Hart took the first two sets, 6-2, 7-5, before Prosser and Barbour rallied to win the next three and the hard fought match, 6-1, 11-9, 6-2.

In another final match, first seeded Ben Bishop of St. Louis, came through as expected to win the junior boy's crown over Gene Powell, Topeka, Kan., 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Parker, from St. Louis, took the fifth championship Sunday. The husband and wife team defeated Hart and Mrs. Davidson in the mixed doubles, 6-0, 6-3.

Other Championships
The championships in the other seven divisions of the week-long meet, decided Friday and Saturday, were: Natalie Coughan, St. Joseph, Mo., girl's singles; Dale Anderson, Shawnee, Okla., boy's singles; Art Andrews, Iowa City, and Eddie Hoffman, Council Bluffs, boy's doubles; Coughan and Shirley Anderson, Des Moines, girl's doubles.

Ben Bishop and Mike Weatherly, St. Louis, junior boy's doubles; Sallie Ann Rietley, Kansas City, girl's under 15 singles, and Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Nora Prosser, Mission, Kan., women's doubles.

Braves Score Five In 9th, Down Bucs 8-6; Kiner Homers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Boston exploded with five runs in the ninth inning to come from behind and defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-6, Monday night before a disappointed crowd of 21,450. Rookie Pirate Pitcher Bill Pirolo had allowed only six hits and three runs prior to the ninth when he weakened. Ralph Kiner got his 26th homer of the year for the Pirates in the first with one aboard.

Pirolo gave up a walk, single and double in the ninth before he was relieved by Hank Borowy. Willard Marshall was the big gun in the belated Brave attack. His double, followed by Torgerson's single, counted one Boston score in the seventh. Then he drove in two more with another double in the ninth.

Berra's Double Beats Chisox

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra's two-run double in the seventh inning snapped a 2-2 tie and gave the New York Yankees a 4-3 victory over Chicago's White Sox Monday night. A crowd of 24,218 saw Ed Ford register his first big league triumph. The rookie left hander needed help in the eighth inning from Tom Ferrick, who struck out Pinchhitter Marv Rickert with the bases filled.

Hank Bauer, sidelined since July 3 with a sprained right ankle, helped with three hits, and drove in one run and scored two.

Ford, a 21-year-old lefthander, gave way to Ferrick with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth. Chico Carrasquel had homered with none on at the start of the inning to pull the Sox within a run of a tie.

A single by Gus Zernial, a walk to Ed Robinson and Hank Majeski's infield hit filled the bases. Ferrick fanned Rickert and pitched a hitless ninth.

Curtain Up, House Lights Down at 'Life With Mother'

HOUSE LIGHTS DOWN, STAGE LIGHTS UP" was the direction from Rowland Chase, G. Grinnell, as the light control booth at the rear of the University theater. Chase is controlling the lighting for "Life With Mother," the Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse comedy which opens tonight and will run through Monday, excepting Sunday. Chase controls every light in the house from this pilot board, which is a remote control panel for the dimmer located in the basement.

CURTAIN GOING UP—THE HARD WAY via the muscles of Omar Lett, G. Eagle Grove. Located in the wings, stage right, Lett watched for the signal from the stage manager to raise the curtain at rehearsal for "Life With Mother." The signal is a light flashed to him from the pilot board. Lett remains at his position through the three-act production. He also serves as a fire guard, since the release on the asbestos curtain is located nearby. Tickets for "Life With Mother" are available at the theater ticket office, room 8A Schaeffer hall. The office is open week days from 9 a.m. until noon, and from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday hours are from 9 a.m. to noon.

Audience Records Reaction to Video Show

Fifty people met Sunday night to record their reactions to SUI's television panel discussion on Korea. By means of Prof. Forrest Whan's audience analyzer, the group expressed word-by-word opinions of the show's interest value.

When set up a television receiver with an 18-inch screen on the stage of SUI's theater. An audience assembled to watch the discussion over WOC-TV by three SUI faculty members and one graduate student.

The fifty people were given individual control boxes to score the show. The control boxes will measure three separate reactions—like, dislike and neutral. Electric currents from the control boxes activate recording pens

Two Fined $130 In Police Court

Robert K. Poisal, Reinbeck, Monday was fined $102.50 by Police Judge Emil G. Trott on a charge of reckless driving.

Poisal was arrested at 4:30 a.m. Sunday after his car struck and snapped-off a light pole at Muscatine and Fourth avenues.

He was taken to University hospitals, x-rayed for possible chest injuries and then taken to the county jail.

In other action, Lovell Biggs, route 4, was fined $27.50 for intoxication on a public highway.

Humor was popular with Whan's audience but lengthy monologues rated low in favor.

There were more periods of enjoyment than periods of boredom according to the reaction record, Whan said.

SUI Backstage Crews Face 'Non-Glory' Production Tasks

The man behind the man behind the footlights—that's the stagehand.

He never wins prizes or takes a curtain call but without him productions at the $240,000 SUI theater would be impossible.

For example, in "Life With Mother," which opens this evening, for each member of the cast of 16 there are at least four persons working back stage.

These students help with arranging sets, costuming, the lighting and other countless jobs which are part of any SUI production.

The play, the second dramatic production of the 1950 fine arts festival, presents several unique problems to the "no glory" men and women backstage.

Search For Music Box

The 1880 setting of the play brought peculiar problems to Mazzy Weil G. Dreyel Hill, Pa. who heads the properties crew. The script calls for a music box and several other antiquated objects.

"We had to search every store in the Iowa city area for these props, and finally found an authentic music box in the possession of a local pawn shop," the prop mistress said.

There are problems in lighting too, according to Rowland Chase, G. Grinnell, who controls every light in the house from a pilot panel in the rear of the theater auditorium.

"When a woman wears white there is nothing I can do to play it down; she is really highlighted and radiates light.

"The poor male opposite in black dinner tails is lost to the shadows," Chase said.

Labor Shortage

The curtain raiser for the production is Omar Lett, G. Eagle Grove, who takes his signals from the stage manager. Lett remains at his "stage right" post throughout the program.

He also acts as a fire guard protecting the audience by being prepared to lower the asbestos curtain in case of emergency.

Another problem faced by the production crews is the understaffing this summer. The stage manager for the present show, Russell Swafford, A, Centerville, doubles as a character actor in the play.

While responsible for his own entrance, Swafford is also in charge of getting all actors on stage before curtain time. In addition he must cue the curtain raiser and supervise the general handling of props and sets.

So Little Time to Learn So Much —

Army Regulars at ROTC Camp Fear War 'Imminent'

(Daily Iowan Reporter Barney Seibert and Photographer John Sundberg attended a two-and-one-half day encampment at Camp McCoy, Wis. last week to report the training activities of SUI students who are in camp for six weeks ROTC training, ending July 27.)

By BARNEY SEIBERT
CAMP MCCOY, WIS.—There is a grim note of urgency in the summer training of SUI's ROTC detachment at Camp McCoy, Wis. There is too much to learn and too little time in which to learn it.

Among the regular army training personnel the attitude is one of resignation. All of them seem to feel war is imminent and inevitable.

The ROTC cadets have been infected by the regulars' beliefs, but they are reluctant to admit it—even to themselves. Every visiting civilian is asked, "What are they saying about Korea back in Iowa City?"

"I think we get an exaggerated view of the seriousness of the situation here. They are the men who will do the fighting and dying and they are naturally apprehensive," Cadet Walter McMahon, C4, Iowa City, said.

A regular army sergeant, one of the ROTC instruction team, expressed the predominant attitude among the regular personnel.

He said, "I look at these kids, all of whom will be infantry officers someday soon, and I can't help but wonder how many of them will be alive three years from now. It makes me sick."

Few, if any, of the army career men are looking forward to war. An infantry officer from the 14th Infantry regiment, the demonstration troops, said, "Sure there are more promotions during wartime out what good is a promotion if you don't live to enjoy it?"

Cadet Phillip D. Haun, A4, Iowa City, said, "I think Korea was inevitable. The present crisis has been building since the end of the war. I'm coming back to school in the fall unless things get worse. If they do I won't have much choice in the matter."

But Cadet William C. Haberman, A2, Clarksville, a veteran of World War II, said, "I don't think this is it. It will just keep building up for several more years until the whole thing blows up."

None of them seemed apprehensive about becoming infantry platoon leaders. Cadet Joseph R. May, A4, Lineville, said, "Leading men into battle is the greatest responsibility in the world. If you made a mistake you'd hate yourself the rest of your life. If we have to go I hope we get some more training."

SUI Men View Army in Mock Battle

CAMP MCCOY, WIS. — Company A of the ROTC summer camp battalion, which includes all of SUI's advanced infantry ROTC members, last week got an inside view of the way American troops look going into combat.

They were spectators at a tactical exercise called "An Infantry Battalion in Attack."

The demonstration was put on by regular army troops of the second battalion, 14th Infantry regiment, the heavy tank company of the same regiment and Battery A, 537 Field Artillery battalion.

It was held in a natural amphitheater between wooded hills about ten miles from Camp McCoy's main post.

Artillery Barrage
As the exercise began, Battery A laid down an artillery barrage with its 105 millimeter howitzers on a hill which was the problem's final objective.

Following a lull to give spectators time to move to a better observing position, the heavy tanks, 48-ton M-26's and M-45's began firing. (The M-26's and the M-45's are identical except that the former mounts a 90 millimeter rifle in the turret while the latter is equipped with a 105 howitzer.)

The line of tanks was parked along a wooded strip near the spectators' left. They opened fire with cannon and machine guns on a hill which constituted the primary objective.

Soon they were joined by 81 millimeter and 4.2-inch mortars from the infantry's heavy weapons company.

Machine Gun Fire
Under this covering fire the infantry advanced in a long thin line toward the fill hill while reserve companies laid down a barrage of rifle and machine gun fire.

When umpires ruled the first hill captured, the tanks moved forward and artillery and mortars concentrated on the final objective.

The infantry stormed up the final hill and dug in to hold the ground as the tanks came forward with machine guns stuttering, simulating a final mopping up of enemy stragglers.

Spectators at the demonstration included all of the ROTC cadets, national guardsmen, organized reservists, newspapermen and a mobile unit from Pathe newsreels.

Man Charged With Ohio Larceny; Claims Bride Kidnapped

DANVILLE, ILL. (AP) — Marshall Clark, 33, who reported that his 'teen-aged bride had been kidnaped by a "red-haired stranger," was seized Monday on an Ohio warrant charging him with larceny.

Clark was charged with breaking into his father-in-law's home at Cable and stealing a billfold, clock, flashlight and other articles. Sheriff's deputies seized Clark at his home here shortly after he arrived from Indiana where he had told authorities that his wife Irene, 19, had been abducted by a man who picked them up as they hitch-hiked home from Michigan.

Police in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio were still attempting to find Mrs. Clark. The information charging Clark with larceny came from the sheriff of Champaign county in Ohio. Mrs. Clark's parents live in Champaign county on a farm near Cable, Ohio.

Officials here and in Indiana said that they did not know whether to believe Clark's story about the disappearance of his wife. But they said flatly that they feared for her safety.

Piney Woods — Singers Tell Story by Song

Music — the universal language — conveyed a success story in Iowa City Monday night when six mellow-voiced Negro girls sang to a capacity audience at the First Baptist church.

The six are students from the Piney Woods school in Mississippi, founded in a log cabin 40 years ago by an SUI graduate, Prof. Laurence Jones.

Enrollment then was one. Today it numbers 500 Negro boys and girls, whose tuition is taken care of by jobs offered at the school. Opportunity is its aim, and is denied to no one because of lack of funds.

The singers range in age from 13 to 17, and their job, in the words of their young assistant manager, Barbara Dishman, to "let people know about Piney Woods."

Such a group travels about the country each summer with funds provided through offerings taken at each performance. There is no director, no arranger. The girls "just sing," Barbara said. She explained that the intricate harmonies, and chorus and solo combinations have somehow developed naturally through the years.

The young singers demonstrated true showman's versatility. Moving spirituals were delivered with dignity and restraint.

Smiles and gestures animated the lively folk tunes, notably the familiar "Shor'nin' Bread."

Nearly one third of the program consisted of audience requests, all presented with ease. If Prof. Jones' dream, 40 years ago, was to give his people "opportunity," he'd have been gratified Monday night. Genuine enthusiasm — both of audience and singers — seemed to reflect the reality of that dream.

Cedar Rapids Group To Dance in SUI Opera

HEEL AND TOE AND DO-SI-DO—Czechoslovakian style was demonstrated by four couples from the Cedar Rapids Sokol organization as they rehearsed the polka and "furiant" they will dance in "The Bartered Bride," Smetana's three-act opera to be performed at Macbride auditorium July 25 through July 27. Dancers are pictured here in authentic Czech costumes to be worn in the opera. The opera featured event of the 1950 fine arts festival, is presented through cooperative efforts of the school of fine arts. The Sokol organization is a national educational institution for the preservation of Czech culture. The dance group is under the direction of Vera Machovsky, Cedar Rapids. The four couples pictured above are (left to right) Hermina Netolicky and Victor Naxera, Martha Pesek and George Naxera Jr., Paul Jerabek and Vera Machovsky, and Robert Klinsky and Mana Zlatohlavek. Tickets for the opera are on sale at the Iowa Union desk. Prices are $1 and $1.50.

Army Enlistments Jump In Fifth Army's Region

CHICAGO (AP) — A marked increase in army enlistments during the past weekend in the 13-state fifth army area (midwest) was reported Monday.

Lt. Col. Robert Hubbard, personnel procurement officer, said army recruiting figures for the various stations in the area were not available, but that they increased markedly.

Tipton Youth Held On Forgery Charge

Lester Kephart, 24, Tipton, was being held in Johnson county jail Monday night, pending preliminary hearing on a charge of forgery, police said.

He is charged with forging the name "Don Hunter" to a $90 check he cashed at an Iowa City bank April 29.

Steigleman's Article Appears in Newsweek

A digest of an article written by Prof. Walter Steigleman, visiting instructor in the SUI school of journalism, appeared in the July 17 issue of Newsweek.

The article, which originally appeared in the spring issue of the Journalism Quarterly, is entitled "Mortality Among Editorial Workers on Daily Newspapers."
