'Stop-Gap Tax' Hinted as War Cost Measure

WASHINGTON (P) — Key congressional leaders indicated Monday that congress may rush through by Oct. 10 a "stop-gap" bill raising personal and corporation income taxes to finance the Korean war and expansion of the armed forces.

There was no indication how big a tax boost was in the works. But Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-OHio) called for steep increases "at once" to cover new preparedness costs. He said the cost would force federal spending to an annual level of $50-billion or more for perhaps 10 years.

President Truman called for "substantial" tax increases in his Korean war message to congress last week. Senate and house leaders previously had planned to defer tax legislation until late this year, with the boosts effective next Jan. 1.

Rayburn Gives Tip

House Speaker Sam Rayburn gave the first hint of a tax speed-up after Democratic congressional leaders conferred with Mr. Truman on plans for gearing the home-front economy to bear the strain of his $10,486,976,000 defense spending program.

Prospects of "interim" tax hikes also were discussed by chairmen of the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee after a meeting with Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the house committee said the higher rates might be applied to "part" of this year's income. Senator F. George, head of the senate group, said he doubted congress would impose a retroactive tax increase either on individuals or corporations.

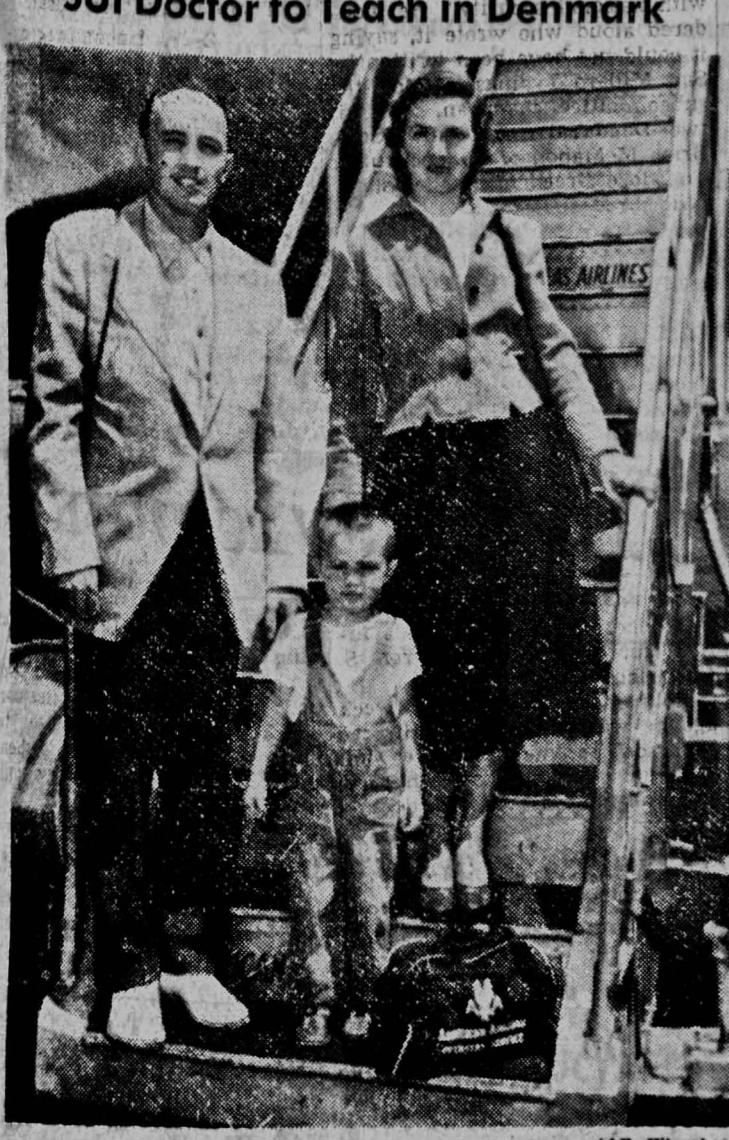

Brake on Inflation

Chairman W. Stuart Symington of the national security resources board said prompt tax increases would serve as a brake on inflation and that price controls and rationing may be avoided if the American people "play ball with the government" by resisting the temptation to hoard.

SUI Doctor to Teach in Denmark

SETTING OUT FOR DENMARK Sunday from New York City were Dr. and Mrs. Jack Meyers, 228 S. Summit street, and their son, three-year-old John. Meyers is a graduate resident in the anesthesiology division in the SUI college of medicine. He, along with his family, was on his way to Copenhagen, Denmark, where he will teach a five-month course in anesthesiology at the World Health Organization school of the United Nations. He will join Dr. Stuart Cullen, head of anesthesiology at SUL who has been teaching at the school since May 1.

Wounded Yanks Come Home

WOUNDED G'S FROM THE KOREAN WAR were returned Monday to Fairfield-Suisun, Calif., by this Boeing Stratofreighter. This first group was enroute to military hospitals throughout the U.S. They made the 7,000-mile hop with two stops, in Japan and Hawaii. (See story page 6).

Prof. Edward Moore Quits for Idaho U. Job

Prof. Edward C. Moore, philosophy department, announced his resignation Monday. He will head the philosophy department at the University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho.

Moore, who has not been teaching at SUI this summer, said he will leave Iowa City Sunday.

His wife, Eileen, secretary in the student counseling office, also will leave her SUI post.

Striking Ship Workers Will Talk —

NEW YORK (AP)—About 1,700 idle Brooklyn ship workers voted Monday to try to resume contract talks with the big Todd Shipyards corporation, if striking Hoboken, N.J., workers are willing.

At a union meeting, workers at Todd's Brooklyn yards decided to continue their unofficial walkout, pending discussions with strikers at the firm's Hoboken yards on the plan to call off the stoppage which began Monday morning.

Officers of the two locals of the CIO marine and Shipbuilding Workers union, Brooklyn Local 39 and Hoboken Local 15, were to meet Monday night on the matter. The Hoboken men are officially on strike.

Rods Barred From U.S. Ships —

WASHINGTON (AP)—A security system for barring Communists and subversives from American ships was agreed upon Monday by management and unions of the maritime industry.

Under a voluntary pact, worked out under the guidance of federal officials, the Coast Guard will be in charge of the actual policing.

Absent from the meeting and uninvited were elements of the left wing CIO Longshoremen's union, headed by Harry Bridges, together with the left-wing CIO and Stewards union.

British Labor Party Splits —

LONDON (AP)—Some of the 300 planks proposed by the rank and file for the Labor party's platform call on Britain to move closer to Russia, get out of the cold war and outlaw the atom bomb.

The suggested resolutions were submitted to Labor party chiefs before the Korean outbreak and were released for publication on Monday night. They will be considered at the annual Labor party conference Oct. 2-6, when domestic and foreign policies will be outlined for the coming year in which a new general election may be held.

History Records —

Many Invasions of Korea

Pawn of Neighbors

By Central Press

For the third time in 60 years, powerful forces alien to the land, have fought on Korean soil.

Korea, about the size of the state of Utah, has, because of its geographical location, become the focal point of all clashes of interest in the Far East. A mountainous peninsula jutting from the Asiatic mainland between China and Japan, it forms a dagger which unfortunately can be pointed either way.

It is one of the oldest countries of the world, dating its history back to 1122 B.C. Much of its early history is clouded by legend but recorded history dating back to 100 B.C. It is noted that it was then annexed to China.

Genghis Khan invaded it in the Tenth Century. The Ming Emperors of China did the same 400 years later while the Japanese invaded the area in the Sixteenth Century.

For the next 200 years it shut itself off from the rest of the world and earned the title of the "Hermit Kingdom." In 1876, Japan was able to conclude a treaty opening the territory to trade and within the next 10 years the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Italy and Russia followed suit.

At that time the western powers were unable to comprehend the system of government whereby the Koreans claimed to be independent and at the same time acknowledged subservience to the Chinese emperor. Its closest companion is the present dominion system of the British empire.

So when China sought to reassert itself in Korean affairs, the action was interpreted by the Japanese as a threat to Japanese interests.

The result was the Chinese - Japanese war of 1894-95, which eliminated the Chinese from the region.

Later on, the Russian push south from Siberia again challenged Japan's control and another war, the Japanese - Russian war, halted the Russians and secured Japan in her position. In 1910, Japan annexed Korea to the Japanese empire.

World War I removed the Germans from the area and, with both Russia and China in the throes of civil strife, Japan was supreme in Korea.

Since Japan was the only powerful nation in the Far East until August, 1945, when she collapsed before the American forces, there was a period of calm in Korea.

However, the Russians entered the war during the last days, pushed down from Siberia, captured Manchuria and continued until they met the American forces entering from Japan and the south. Again two powerful forces met in Korea, the dagger between Russia-controlled China and American-controlled Japan.

Today there are about 20 million Koreans. About two-thirds of them live in South Korea and the remainder in the Russian-dominated north. The country is mountainous and has large deposits of coal, iron ore, lignite and much heavy industry. Practically all of it is in the Russian zone.

The south of Korea is the granary of the Far East. Rice, the staple food of the Orient, is grown in abundance. In spite of the terrible tenant farmer situation, the population as a whole is well fed. In the Orient that is unusual.

The people appear to be poverty-stricken even when they possess the wealth to dress or to act up to their income. Any display of wealth or surplus cash is likely to bring a call from the local tax collector, who either taxes it or borrows it. In either case the results are the same, so a premium is placed on the art of "living down to the Joneses."

Two Iowa Towns Listed To Get New Postoffices

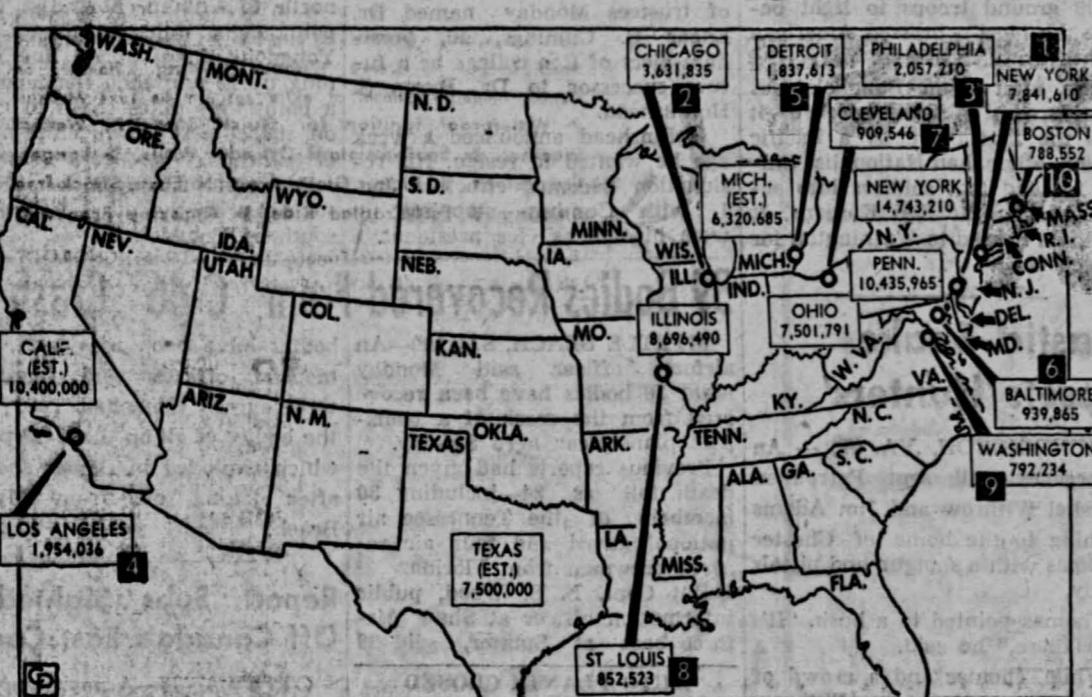

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first steps toward building 19 new postoffices in 15 states were taken Monday.

The general services administration and the postoffice department jointly announced that sites will be acquired and specifications prepared for future construction of the 19 buildings.

The new list, which brings the total of projects selected to date to 510, includes Marshalltown with the estimated cost of the buildings and land placed at $625,000.

Also postoffice projects estimated to cost less than $200,000 each, with final figures to be determined later included Indianola.

Quick Meat Dishes Choice of Busy Housewives

Canned Meat Dishes Answer to Problems Of Busy Housewives

Saving precious minutes in meal planning and preparation is one of the goals of the busy housewife who attends school or works all day, and if she is wise she will use canned meats to help her minimize time spent in the kitchen.

A corned beef hash casserole is a good canned meat special. The only ingredients needed are two cans of corned beef hash, six canned peach halves and catsup.

Pack the corned beef hash firmly in a well-greased square baking dish and make indentations for the peach halves with the back of a spoon.

Place the peaches in the indentations, fill the centers with catsup and bake in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes.

Cut into Squares

After baking, allow the hash to stand 10 minutes on a rack, and then cut into squares around the peaches. Remove the sections with a pancake turner.

A wonderful idea for a cheery summer dinner or luncheon are savory meat and fruit morsels on skewers, dipped in sauce and deliciously broiled.

Here are the ingredients for six skewers of meat nuggets:

1 can luncheon meat

2 bananas

1 1/4-ounce can pineapple chunks

1/2 cup brown sugar

2 tablespoons vinegar

2 tablespoons catsup

1 tablespoon water

1/8 teaspoon ground cloves

For the sauce, mix the brown sugar, vinegar, catsup, water and cloves. Cut the meat into one-inch cubes, slice the bananas into three-fourth inch pieces. The one can of meat should make 18 cubes.

Alternate Meat and Fruit

Alternate the meat and fruit on skewers, using three meat cubes, two banana slices and one pineapple chunk on each skewer.

Place the skewers in a shallow pan, pour some sauce over each and broil three inches from the heat, two minutes on each side. Serve with the remaining sauce.

When "it's later than you think" and you want to prepare a one dish meal in a jiffy, fix a Vienna sausage and corn casserole.

2 one-pound cans of whole kernel corn

2 cans Vienna sausage

3 tablespoons catsup

3 tablespoons finely chopped onion

1 can mushroom soup

1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

Drain the corn and empty it into a mixing bowl. Add the contents of one can of Vienna sausage, cut into half - inch lengths. Add the onion, catsup, Worcestershire sauce and undiluted mushroom soup.

Pour the mixture into a well-greased casserole and arrange the second can of Vienna sausage on top, spoke fashion. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Handbook Mailed to Prospective Rushees

A handbook, published annually by the SUI Women's Panhellenic association, is being sent to women students who have indicated they will participate in rushing this fall.

The handbook is designed to provide these students with information about the SUI social sororities.

Jacky Malloy, A2, Marshalltown, was editor of the 1950 booklet, and Donna Gow, A3, Webster, was art editor. Helen Reich, assistant director of student affairs, is the Panhellenic advisor.

Pictures of the sorority houses, and lists of the presidents, rushing chairmen and housemothers are included in the introductory part of the handbook.

The Iota chapter of Delta Zeta, active at SUI from 1905 through 1933, will be re-established at SUI this fall, according to the handbook.

General rushing rules concerning eligibility requirements as well as formal rushing information is explained. Initiation requirements are also listed.

For those women who do not participate in the formal rush week, information about informal rushing is added.

Pirates Down Phils In 6 Inning Game; Cards Lead League

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rain wiped out Eddie Waitkus' two-run homer in the top of the seventh Monday night and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 six-inning triumph over the Philadelphia Phils. The loss knocked the Phillies out of the National league lead. The contest, previously halted for 34 minutes by rain at the end of the second inning, drew 15,431 fans.

The game was held up for an hour and two minutes before it was called.

Cards in Front

The Philly loss put the St. Louis Cardinals two percentage points in first place.

Pittsburgh got off to an early lead when Bob Dillingham tripled to open the first inning and scored a few minutes later on Ralph Kiner's long fly to right.

Another run crossed the plate for the Buccos in the second. Wally Westlake singled. Danny Murtaugh walked. Jack Phillips popped out but Catcher Ray Mueller singled to score Westlake.

Richie Ashburn's 11th triple of the year scored Mike Goliat with the first Philly run after play resumed in the third. That made the count 2-1.

Rally in Seventh

The Phils began to rally in the seventh. With two gone, Eddie Waitkus smacked a home run into the right field stands, scoring Pitcher Bob Miller ahead of him. Then came the showers. Under league rules, the score reverted back to the sixth—the last completed inning.

Fischer said the organization let Brock go "with great reluctance" but "in the best interests of harmony and for the release of tension."

Brock, former University of Nebraska star, joined the Packers in 1939 and played until 1947. He then coached in Omaha, but returned to the Packers last year as assistant coach under Curly Lambeau and continued under new Coach Gene Ronzani.

Jackie Robinson Tops National Hitters; Kell Leads American

CHICAGO (AP) — George Kell of Detroit still leads the American league batting race with .344—but Detroit's Hoot Evers and Cleveland's Lary Doby are only one point behind.

Kell slipped 14 points in games through Sunday, but this didn't prevent him from setting the batting pace for the fourth straight week.

Dropy Slumps

Ever climbed eight points to tie with Doby for second place with .343. Doby fell eight points, but did better than Boston's Walt Dropo, who slumped 10 points to a .342 percentage and third place.

Kell, the 1949 American league batting champion, has now divided into a sizzling .375 three weeks ago.

In fourth place with .337 is Boston's Al Zarilla. Others in the top ten include:

Phil Rizzuto, New York, .324; Yogi Berra, New York, .322; John Pesky, Boston, .321; Ted Williams, Boston, .321; and Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .318.

Kell also is a double leader in specialized performance with most hits, 124 and most doubles, 28. Boston's Vern Stephens leads in runs, 81 and RBIs with 97. Evers has the most triples, 8.

Home Run Leader

All Rosen of Cleveland is the home run leader with 27. In the pitching department, Boston's Maurice McDemott has a record of 6-1 for the best percentage of .857, followed by Cleveland's Bob Lemon with 15-4 for .789.

Larry Doby Beamed In Exhibition Game

BROOKLYN (AP) — Larry Doby, Cleveland centerfielder, was beamed by Joe Hatten, Dodger lefthander, in the eighth inning as Brooklyn defeated the Indians, 6-5, in an exhibition game Monday night.

Felled by a blow on the right temple, Doby was carried off the field and immediately removed to Swedish hospital, where he will spend the night. Pending X-rays, Dr. Dominic Rossi, Brooklyn club physician doesn't believe that his condition is serious.

Green Bay Packers Fire Charley Brock

GREEN BAY, WIS. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers fired assistant Coach Charley Brock Monday "in the interests of harmony."

Packer President Emil Fischer said Brock, former center on the Green Bay team, didn't fit into the new coaching setup as well as had been expected.

Fischer said the organization let Brock go "with great reluctance" but "in the best interests of harmony and for the release of tension."

Brock, former University of Nebraska star, joined the Packers in 1939 and played until 1947. He then coached in Omaha, but returned to the Packers last year as assistant coach under Curly Lambeau and continued under new Coach Gene Ronzani.

Ferrier Defeats Snead In St. Paul Open Meet

ST. PAUL, MINN. (AP) — Big Jim Ferrier putted home for a birdie four on the 21st hole Monday to beat favored Sammy Snead in a close sudden death playoff for the St. Paul Open golf championship.

The Australian-born Ferrier who led through the tournament's four regulation rounds only to have Snead come from six strokes behind on the final day to force a playoff, never was behind in Monday's play although Snead twice rallied in the match.

Ferrier pocketed first place money of $2,600 in the $15,000 tournament to boost his 1950 earnings to $16,246 and place him second only to Snead among the year's professional money winners.

Snead, favored after his brilliant comeback Sunday, beat hot and cold Monday. He putted beautifully at times, but in other instances, was far off form on both his putting and approaches.

Ferrier, also had his ups and downs, particularly on the first nine, when he often was wild off the tee. He recovered nicely to finish the twenty-one holes four strokes under par.

The players halved the first five holes before Snead three-putted the 180-yard sixth to bogey and give Ferrier one-stroke lead.

Snead got that one back on the ninth when Ferrier went one-over par by missing an 18-inch putt, but Ferrier once more gained the lead with a birdie three on the 345-yard 11th.

Ferrier went two-up on Snead with another birdie on the 510-yard 12th but Snead cut his opponent's advantage to a single stroke on No. 14 by sinking a beautiful 24-yard putt for a birdie three.

Snead evened the match on the 220-yard 15th hole, when Ferrier's drive landed in the rough behind temporary bleachers to the left of the green.

The players halved the next five holes. Then on the 21st, the par-five 533-yard third hole, Ferrier's second shot landed just to the left of the pin while Snead's was wild to the right.

Ferrier got down in two puts for birdie four. Sammy chipped nicely to within six feet of the pin. His putt rimmed the cup, but refused to drop and the match was Ferrier's by a stroke.

Police Report Second Break-in of Fraternity

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity house has been illegally entered for the second time since the start of summer school, it was reported yesterday.

The fraternity house, 729 N. Dubuque street, was locked at the end of the spring semester with many students leaving personal belongings in their rooms, police said.

Because of the absence of the students, it was impossible to determine whether anything had been stolen either time, police said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan said Monday there is no excuse for hoarding food and blamed middlemen and retailers for recent sharp increases in many food prices.

He told the house agriculture committee, for example, that his department has checked recent increases of one to two cents a loaf in bread prices in many cities and can find no justification for them.

Brannan went before the committee to plead for hurry-up action on legislation which would make it easier for him to give away government-owned food surpluses such as butter, dried eggs and milk which might otherwise spoil.

Cities Government Surplus

He said the fact that the government still has huge stocks of surplus food is the best proof there is plenty for everybody if consumers avoid war hysteria and scare buying.

"We have been trying to tell the people," he said, "that we do have adequate food and there is no reason for hoarding or, in my opinion, for an increase in prices."

In checking into bread price increases, Brannan said his experts took into account every conceivable factor, including labor and wheat costs, but "found no justification whatsoever" for the hikes.

Profit Not Going to Farmer

He said the profits from higher food prices definitely are not going back to the farmer but apparently are being pocketed by middlemen and retailers in the food industry.

Despite the government's temporary difficulty in getting rid of surplus foods, Brannan said the Korean war is proving the wisdom of the farm price support and storage programs.

Opera Requires TeamworkSecting, Lighting and Set Problems Test SUI Faculty Team's Ingenuity

Keeping SUI opera singers free of "charlie horses" and away from stray viruses is only one of the tasks facing Prof. Herald I. Stark.

Stark is conductor of "The Bartered Bride," Smetana's three-act opera which opens tonight and runs through Thursday in Macbride auditorium.

When the curtain goes up tonight, it will mark the culmination of many months of teamwork by more than 150 members of several SUI departments.

SUI audiences have little idea of the many production problems which had to be overcome before the completed opera can be brought to the stage.

Orchestra Position

One of the first problems which had to be tackled was that of a place for the orchestra.

Seats had to be removed from Macbride to accommodate the 45-piece orchestra which has been prepared by Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department.

Stark reported that all of the principals in the opera have had voice training, none of them less than three or four years. Several have appeared in opera before, he said.

Aside from the major production matters, Stark said he had to keep alerted for minor difficulties which could stall the show.

"Colds are always a danger to a voice production, but so is a game of chess."

Stark reported that one of the chief characters played golf one day last week and as a result was temporarily demobilized due to a stiff neck.

Voice Training First

The voice work was accomplished before any dramatic training was begun, Stark said.

Voice training proceeded without any action until the cast could sing their parts without music. Then they were turned over to Prof. Harold Crain of the SUI dramatics art department, dramatics director of the opera.

Rehearsals for the opera date back to May when two weekly practices were held.

Widow Tells Police of Murder Confession

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Rose Rankin, 37-year-old widow, Monday told police that Sam Sampson admitted killing his married sweetheart a few minutes after the slaying.

Sampson is charged with strangling Mrs. Vivian Stanley and breaking her neck during an argument. Her body, clad only in a lace-trimmed blue night gown, was found lying in a vacant lot July 13.

Mrs. Rankin first told police that Sampson was with her during the time that Mrs. Stanley was killed, when police questioned her immediately after the slaying. Later, Sampson broke down while undergoing lie detector tests and admitted strangling Mrs. Stanley.

Mrs. Rankin then refused to talk to police and her statement Monday was the first she had made in the past week, despite almost continuous questioning by

THE late Paul Armstrong, a famous playwright a generation ago by virtue of his The Valentine, had more trouble with his producers than Bette Davis Deep Purple and Alias Jimmy Cagney had with his. When The Deep Purple wowed an opening-night audience, George M. Cohan told Armstrong, "It's great, kid. You ought to thank George Tyler and the entire cast!" "I'm not speaking to them," snapped Armstrong.

"Then thank Hugh Ford for his direction," urged Cohan. "I'm not speaking to him either," said Armstrong. Later Cohan was asked why Armstrong hadn't made a curtain speech. " Didn't you know?" grinned Cohan. "He's not speaking to the audience."

"I'm getting old, boys," admitted Squire Farnol as he huddled close to the pot-bellied stove in the Centerville general store. "I kin tell because there's three things I never kin remember: names, faces, and—and—consarn it, I kain't even remember the third thing!"

Music for the songs in the Shakespearean play were composed by Harold Shiffner, G. Des Moines.

"As You Like It" is directed by Prof. Lewin Goff, dramatic arts. Shiffner is assistant director.

Settings were designed by Prof. Arnold S. Gillette, dramatic arts. The show was costumed by Helen Forrest Lauterer, visiting lecturer in speech.

Wise Old Owl Snared By Puzzled Fisherman

PENACOOK, N.H. (AP)—Fisherman Peter Murphy thought in the dimness of dusk that he had caught a bass.

When the catch began to rise from the water he thought he had hooked a flying fish.

But when he had reeled it in to his boat the "fish" had feathers instead of scales.

It turned out to be a sadder and somewhat wiser owl with the plug's barb through its leg.

After a minor surgical operation with a jackknife the owl flew off with a farewell hoot.

Wounded GI's Return; Say Korea Fighting Worse Than Pacific'

FAIRFIELD AIR BASE, CALIF. (AP) — The first large group of wounded GI's from the Korean battlefield arrived by plane here Monday en route to military hospitals throughout the country.

"That's really rough fighting over there. Hell, we killed 20 for every one of our casualties but they still kept coming," Sgt. Thomas Corn, 30, of Avon, Ohio, said. He was wounded in the leg by a rifle bullet.

The other 10 men on the plane, all litter cases, shared his opinion.

"We underestimated those North Koreans," Pfc. Gabriel Patricko, 22, of Freeland, Pa., said.

Pvt. Henry Duckett, of Newberry, S.C., said, "I don't really want to talk about it. All I want to do is get well and go home."

The 24-year-old veteran of the Pacific war and six years service in the army termed the Korean fighting "worse than the Pacific."

Most of the men in the group were in their teens, some of them in their twenties. They included Pvt. James Smith, of Madison, Wis.

They made the 7,000 mile hop from Korean in a huge C-96, going to Japan, then Hawaii and here. The first wounded soldier to arrive at this base was Pvt. Paul Jackson of Shelbyville, Mich., who arrived Saturday.

School Board Votes Budget of $19,350

The Johnson county board of education Monday night approved the proposed $19,350 budget for the fiscal year of July 1, 1951 through June 30, 1952.

No dissension was voiced at a public hearing Monday in County Superintendent Frank J. Snider's office in the courthouse.

The meeting was made open to the public so that taxpayers could voice their opinions on the proposed budget, Snider said.

The budget, prepared by the five-man board of education, is exactly the same as the budget for the fiscal year of July 1, 1950 through June 30, 1951.

Expenses of operating the county superintendent's office and some supplies to county schools are covered by the budget, Snider said.
