SUI to Build Infirmary for Student Health

SUI's student health service will get its own infirmary "sometime this fall," SUI officials announced Friday.

The division of planning and construction Friday extended invitations to several firms to submit bids for the construction of the new student health building.

George L. Horner, division superintendent, said the bids will be opened Aug. 15.

Single Story Building
The new infirmary, he said, will be a single story building located at the present site of the state services for crippled children's offices, south of the General hospital.

The new infirmary will be 55 feet wide by 104 feet long. It will be constructed from four barracks buildings and will have two 11-bed wards, one for men students and one for women students.

Five offices, two treatment rooms and a reception room will be included in the new building, Horner said.

Barracks Building
The barracks type buildings referred to by Horner are similar to the ones in Pinkbine park and along Clinton street east of Macbride hall.

It was not announced whether the staff of student health would be increased. Both Gerhard Hartman, superintendent of University hospitals, and Dr. Chester I. Miller, director of student health, are out of town on vacation.

Truman to Request 4-Billion Arms Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) - A huge increase in foreign arms aid - reportedly as high as $4-billion - will be discussed with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders at a White House conference Monday.

President Truman, already firmly on record about the need for stepping up the common security program of non-Communist nations, will lay the projected increase before the lawmakers in the presence of Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

It would augment the $1,222,500,000 authorization already approved by congress to furnish arms during the current fiscal year to the nations abroad.

President Opposes Sweeping Price, Wage, Rationing Control

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new built-by-Baruch plan for standby price, wage and rationing controls hit the senate Friday, but the White House stood firm against such a sweeping measure.

President Truman's council of economic advisers, it was learned, believes the buying wave is a "speculative flurry" which will subside without serious inflationary harm.

Even with a possible $4-billion boost in foreign military aid still to come, the arms program is estimated to be only 20 percent or so of the World War II production effort.

When consumers and merchants realize that this is unlikely to cut deeply into civilian goods output, the council believes, much of the panic buying and hoarding should die down.

However, Bernard Baruch proposed that price, wage and rationing controls be approved on a "stand-by" basis, and the senate banking committee decided to vote Monday on the idea.

Baruch's plan calls for a rollback of prices to the highest level in the month preceding the Communist invasion of Korea on June 25.

The veteran industrialist telephoned the suggestion to Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) of the banking committee, urging that it be approved along with the limited controls sought by Mr. Truman.

He also wrote Maybank the "very least that should be done" at once is give President Truman powers "to control any or all prices" and "to ration scarce essentials to civilians when and if they become necessary."

"As to the timing when these powers should be put into execution, in whole or in part, I would leave that to the President," Baruch said.

The mere congressional approval of price-wage-rationing powers "may deter further price rises," he contended.

The administration is divided, even though the President himself has rejected an earlier Baruch plan for a quick "freeze" on prices and wages.

TWO DIE HERE
Mary Kelchen, 68, Farley, and Susan Palmer, 1 1/2, Ainsworth, died Friday night at University hospitals. Causes of their deaths were not reported.

Manpower - Army said it will need another 240,000 men. Navy said it hopes to enlist 70,000 reserve seaboats.

Controls - Senate committee put off until next week a vote on President Truman's request for limited controls over production and credit.

Rubber - Plans call for stepping up production of synthetic rubber to 675,000 tons annually, from 408,000 tons.

Stockpiling - Mr. Truman asked congress for $600 - million to buy and store strategic, critical materials.

Shipping - Mr. Truman asked congress for $18 - million to refit reserve merchant ships.

Spies - FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said each citizen should report all evidence of espionage and sabotage to the FBI.

Local Guard Leaves Today to Attend Two-Week Camp

Twenty-two officers and enlisted men from SUI will be among the 96 officers and enlisted men who will leave Iowa City today for a two-week summer training period with the national guard.

Officials of the 34th reconnaissance company of the Iowa national guard said four officers and 44 enlisted men will attend the encampment at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Nine officers and 39 enlisted men of the clearing company of the 109th medical battalion will go to the same camp. Both the reconnaissance company and the clearing company are stationed at the Iowa City armory.

Guard officials emphasized that the men are going to camp only for a two-week period. Should the national guard be inducted into active service, the men will be given leave to take care of personal business before going on duty, they said.

The guardsmen will travel to Ft. Leonard Wood by motor convoy. They expect to arrive there Sunday.

Speed War Materials Stockpiling: Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Truman Friday called for large increases in the government's stockpiling program of vital war materials and its output of synthetic rubber.

He also asked $18-million to expand the work of reconditioning merchant ships in the national defense reserve fleet.

Mr. Truman asked congress for $600-million to buy critical materials, which would make a total of $2,635,000,000 for stockpile programs since the last war.

The rubber directive aims at an annual production rate of 675,000 tons by Jan. 1. The present rate is 408,000. The White House said the increase would help meet demand for new rubber including the stockpiling purchases.

The $600-million for additional stockpiling is in addition to $500-million requested in the President's budget for the fiscal year which began this month.

SUI Instructor Gets Active Duty Call To Airforce Base

Harry Ainsworth, 35, instructor in the SUI college of commerce, received orders Friday to report Aug. 7 at Keesler airforce base, Miss., for one year's active duty.

Ainsworth, a captain in the inactive airforce reserve, has taught a course in principles of advertising here for two years.

He served about five years during World War II as an airforce intelligence officer and was stationed in the Pacific theater, he said.

Ainsworth, who is not married, said he planned to visit his home in Thomasville, Ga., as soon as he can make arrangements to leave SUI.

The SUI instructor, who said he had received no word from the airforce in more than two years, said he was astounded when he received the unexpected telegram Friday calling him to active duty.

Ainsworth was graduated from the University of Missouri school of journalism in 1937 and worked in the advertising department of Gimbel's department store, New York, until he entered the service in World War II.

Senate Okays 13-Billion For National Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) - The senate Friday approved the biggest item in the one - package appropriation bill - $13,294,581,821 for national defense.

This is the regular, initial fund sought under the 1952 budget request, and does not include the additional $10-billion that President Truman asked Monday to improve the nation's military set-up. That will be handled in later, separate legislation.

British Alert Force For Korean Duty

LONDON (AP) - The British war office Friday night halted release of all army regulars whose enlistments are expiring and told volunteer reserves to get ready for duty.

The war office said the order is "a result of the decision to send land forces to Korea." The ground force will number about 5,000, informed quarters said.

Brazilian Plane Crash Kills All 49 Aboard

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) - A Brazilian Constellation plane crashed and caught fire Friday outside Porto Alegre, killing all 49 persons aboard.

Among the 43 passengers was an American, Ralph Motley. All others aboard apparently were Brazilians. The crew numbered six.

The crash was the worst air disaster in Brazil's history and the fourth in 16 months. The big plane encountered bad weather while approaching Porto Alegre, a port city on the Atlantic ocean about 700 air miles southwest of Rio de Janeiro.

One report said the Constellation had circled an hour and a half before crashing on a hill near an airport built by the Brazilian army about 12 miles outside Porto Alegre. It may have hit a high tension line.

Woman Tries to Circulate Peace Petition in Classroom

An attempt to circulate a peace petition in an SUI classroom was made Friday in defiance of state board of education regulations.

SUI officials are said to be investigating the incident.

The petition was presented to a group of students in the college of education in room 224 of the university experimental schools building between the 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. classes.

Prof. Mabel Snedaker, college of education, instructor in the class, was absent from the classroom at the time.

Eyewitnesses reported that the woman who attempted to circulate the petition was elderly.

When a number of students greeted the petition with "cat-calls" and "boos," she reportedly lectured the class about peace.

About 75 students are enrolled in the class.

GI, Southerners' Counterattacks Stall All-Out Communist Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) - There is a strong possibility that the army may issue another draft call this year.

This became apparent Friday after Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house armed services committee gave this breakdown on the army's plans: present strength, 594,000; proposed strength, 834,000; recruits needed, 240,000.

Thursday the army asked selective service to draft 50,000 men in September, another 50,000 in October.

This will leave the army 140,000 men short of its goal unless there is a flood of volunteers.

Vinson talked with reporters after Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, had explained the army's plans to the committee.

The army expects to get $3-billion of the $10.5-billion in extra military funds which President Truman asked Monday.

More than half the army's share - $1,651,000,000 - will go for tanks, guns and field artillery. It is understood that a considerable amount will go for a new anti-aircraft gun, the "skysweeper."

The navy disclosed Friday that it plans to recruit 70,000 skilled construction men - builders, mechanics, steelworkers, electricians, surveyors - in a seabee reserve force.

Dispatch Says Central, North Fronts Stable

TOKYO (SATURDAY) (AP) - Slashing U.S. and South Korean counterattacks today appeared to have stalled the big Communist attempt to overrun the shrunken Allied foothold in southeast Korea.

Field dispatches and a U.S. Eighth army communique reported a stabilized front except far to the south. There small but virtually unopposed Red forces were about 50 miles west of the main port of Pusan.

U.S. counterattacks hurled back the Red push in the center of the flaming, 200-mile front. South Koreans along the eastern segment of the line likewise were attacking.

The 90,000 or more Red troops involved in the North Korean drive still kept up the pressure, particularly on the American center.

Regain Positions

A field dispatch said an American counterattack regained positions lost Friday night in furious fighting.

Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead in a dispatch declared the line now was stabilized.

He presumably referred to the critical Hwanggan sector 95 miles northwest of the American supply port of Pusan.

The latest information at U.S. Eighth army headquarters in Korea said both the U.S. First Cavalry and the 25th divisions had restored the positions they held when the big push by an estimated 90,000 Reds began Friday.

This word came from Associated Press Correspondent Leif Erickson.

Second Counterblow

Whitehead said the first American counterattack by both divisions had checked the Communist Friday after some ground was lost. A second counterblow today smashed the Reds back to their original positions.

Air observers said that a Red column had pushed into the communications center of Kochang, 38 miles south of the Hwanggan sector and 75 miles west of Pusan.

These observers said at least seven tanks were in the Red column, which was brought under aerial attack. One Red tank was left burning in the town.

West Meets to Combat Possible Russ Sabotage of UN in Korea

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (UP) - The western power members of the UN security council held a private meeting Friday to work out plans for countering any possible Soviet sabotage of the UN's Korean war effort when the 29-week-old Russian UN boycott is broken Tuesday.

American, British and French delegates got together with council President Arne Sunde of Norway at Sunde's New York office following a formal morning meeting at which the Soviet chair still was empty.

None of the attending diplomats would disclose what plans had been made for what promises to be a climactic series of council meetings.

One high delegate, voicing the opinion of several persons at the UN, said the so-called Stockholm peace petition campaign by the Soviet Union has failed and the Russian must try something else.

Another envoy, who has a background of four years service in Moscow, said he believed Soviet military leaders figure the Communists may win the Korean war soon and that the Kremlin had decided to step back to the council and demand peace at that stage.

It was noted widely the announcement of Russia's decision Thursday came about the time the North Koreans launched a major offensive in a tremendous effort to drive the Americans and other UN forces off the Korean peninsula.

Square Dance Party Scheduled Tonight For Union Bandshell

A free square dance party will be held this evening beginning at 9 a.m. on the lawn in front of the Iowa Union bandshell.

The dance, called the "Grass Hop," is sponsored by the Union board and the central party committee.

A caller and a three piece orchestra will be on hand for the second informal dance of the summer session.

In case of rain, the party will be held in the River room of the Union.

Fritchen said square dancing instructions will be given for beginning dancers.

Tables and lights will be set up outside the Union as they were for the street dance, the summer session's first party July 3.

Do We Really Want War? —

(In Friday's editorial columns The Daily Iowan answered charges made here recently against the press, radio and movies. Frieda Schwenkmeyer, officer in the National Labor Conference for Peace and speaker at a recent "Iowa City for Peace" meeting, said these media of mass communication are trying to make working for peace subversive. Being a part of the press referred to, we took the charge as an insult in view of our efforts to be fair to the "Iowa City for Peace" group from the first news of its existence.)

"The idea," Miss Schwenkmeyer said of the media "is to make peace subversive, so there will not be peace, so there will be war, so there will be huge profits for the wealthy capitalists, so we will suffer in the next depression."

This comment is ridiculous as a blanket accusation against the media. In the first place, Miss Schwenkmeyer, despite what you say, The Daily Iowan, which is part of that media, would like very much to be peace, and there are a number of evidences of why this is true.

Every male staff member stands a chance of serving in the armed forces in the present Korean conflict or in the event of all-out war.

None of us WANT to be in war, although we'll serve if necessary. Those of us who are veterans already know too well what war means. Neither the veterans nor non-veterans have any desire to be yanked from their efforts to get an education. We all realize that in most cases being in the service is the same as marking time in terms of careers.

Secondly, Miss Schwenkmeyer, which capitalists are we trying to aid by bringing another war? We can't think of any. As a matter of fact, we think your statement has no meaning except to arouse dissension. The words are strangely familiar. It seems we've heard them many times before—intended, then, too, we believe, only to arouse dissension.

And, lastly, you said we wanted to suffer in the next depression. Tsk! Tsk! First we want war for the huge profits and then we want war so we'll suffer in a depression. What does it all mean? And what sort of people are we? Even if we are normal enough to hope to make money, would we be silly enough to hope we could someday go hungry?

Miss Schwenkmeyer, we realize the press has been guilty of many wrongs in the past. We realize there are papers today which slant the news unmercifully. But we resent your implying that The Daily Iowan was unfair to the "peace" group to whom you spoke, and we think your other accusations against our profession don't make sense.

However, we're not sure you intended to make sense.

How to Keep Cool —

An Associated Press feature recommends 20 pointers to beat the heat.

High on the list were "don't overwork," and "keep cool-tempered; don't fly off your handle." Pleasant advice in any weather.

But the other 18 suggestions leave us with the impression that either the advice was intended for the fabulously wealthy—who couldn't possibly keep cool in this age of high taxes—or the AP doesn't quite grasp the meaning of "work."

To keep "cool" they recommend insulating walls and ceilings; closing doors and windows during the day, opening them in the evening; hauling out heavy rugs and putting down lighter ones; taking down heavy draperies; re-covering the furniture; hosing down the house, driveway and walks in the late afternoon; replacing all light bulbs with smaller ones, and hanging wet sheets in doorways—but don't overwork.

AP recommends also that no less than eight electric fans be placed strategically in attics and doorways, blowing over bowls of ice, into wet sheets and out windows.

We respectfully submit that this "technique" is a bunch of balderdash in the tradition of Rube Goldberg.

It seems to us anyone owning a house with several rooms and an attic; a complete change of rugs, draperies, slip covers, and enough extra sheets to hang in doorways—to say nothing of eight electric fans—either has enough money to vacation in a cooler climate, or he's working so hard to pay for it all he seldom gets home.

Even so, we rather imagine being slapped in the face with a cold clammy sheet every time we walked through a door would have anything but a cooling effect on the average man.

Come out of that air-conditioned ivory tower, AP, and take a look around!

No Cut in U.S. Foreign Aid

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

President Truman has said it again.

The "raw aggression" in Korea does not lessen this country's concern with other areas where aggression also would affect the security of free nations.

That is reiteration to Russia that from here on out force will be met with force, and to the free nations that the United States will not become preoccupied with one area to the exclusion of whatever help they need to defend themselves.

The President also called pointed attention to the overwhelming approval of congress for the $1,222,500,000 bill for current aid as a reminder to "those bent on aggression that they dare not count on a division among our people to help them gain their evil ends."

Military vs Economic Aid
At the same time Secretary of State Dean Acheson was talking about releasing ECA counterpart funds for European rearmament. Counterpart funds are the "matching" money put up by Marshall plan countries against the dollar aid supplied by America. Under the present arrangements, they are supposed to be spent for economic advancement. That they may be diverted to rearmament serves to point up the new shift from economic to military resistance of Communist expansion.

If there still remains any question about the reason for all this, it is only necessary to take a look at the figures given by the British government to the house of commons Wednesday.

Only 12 U.S. Divisions
Russia has, the British defense minister reported, an army of 2.8-million men in 175 divisions, of which a third are mechanized. He didn't mention various para-military police and other organizations or the armies of Russia's satellites, about which the democracies have had occasion to learn in the past month. Nor that the United

War Threat Spurs British Mobilization

LONDON — Britain moved fast Friday to build up her armed forces against the "dread possibilities" of a third world war.

The war office cancelled the release of all regular army troops and announced that a limited number of regular army reserve officers and troops will be ordered back into service Aug. 1.

King George VI signed a proclamation freezing the demobilization of royal navy and marine officers and men and calling back to the colors key reserve and retired seamen.

The government already has placed the far eastern fleet on a war basis, increased its defense budget by $280-million, revived civil defense schools to train for possible atomic attacks and provided higher pay and quicker promotions in the royal air force — to reinforce that arm of defense.

The RAF, which will get the big share of the defense budget increase, said its records of reservists was up to date and men can be called back "at a moment's notice."

States, second most heavily armed nation in the world, has only 12 divisions.

He lists 19,000 military planes for Russia; 25,000 tanks; reserves for immediately doubling the strength of the army; a considerable naval force including strong fleets of modern submarines.

French About-Face
The urgency with which Europeans look at the situation is exemplified by word from Paris that the French government now is able to consider letting German industry convert to production of war material for the allies. Only a few months ago such a suggestion would have sent French temperatures skyrocketing.

There are times when this urgency seems to go over and beyond the facts which are evident to the layman, when governments seem to operate under knowledge, or fear, that is not fully apparent to the general public. This is one of those times. In no other would it be permissible to consider a slowdown in the economic development of the world which is recognized as the true long-range answer to communism.

U.S. Opens Spy, Saboteur Hunt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Friday opened a drive to catch and prosecute spies and saboteurs on the home front.

This was disclosed in two separate announcements.

1. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, said each citizen can play an important part in stopping Communists who would bore from within.

The citizen's job: To report quickly to the FBI any evidence of subversion or sabotage.

2. Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath announced that the justice department intends to be ready for any evidence that might be turned up. Effective Oct. 1, he said, four federal grand juries — instead of the usual two — will be kept on duty here.

At least one grand jury will be used exclusively to deal with charges of subversive activity.

McGrath said top priority will be given "to all criminal matters in the internal security and defense fields."

In New York, U.S. Atty. Irving H. Saypol said that of six grand juries sitting in his district "some have been listening to evidence concerning espionage and subversive activities."

He would give no details. Congress, too, was worried about security.

The senate took final action on a bill which has this purpose: To kill off the chances of an enemy ship launching a sneak atomic bomb attack on the United States.

The bill now goes to the White House, and Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D - Wash.) predicted that President Truman will sign it.

Under the bill, the government will have authority to search and control the government of all foreign ships entering American waters.

Nation's Polio Total Below 1949 Figure

CHICAGO (AP) — The number of polio cases in the nation this year is running below 1949 despite serious outbreaks in isolated cities, it was reported Friday.

Health officials are guardedly hopeful that this is not a "polio year" but they agree that it's too early to tell.

Reports to the U.S. public health service and a survey by United Press showed that the worse outbreak in the nation at present is in Wythe county, Va., where 81 persons have been stricken and 11 died in 24 days. The situation there boosted Virginia's incidence this year to 168, compared to 43 during the corresponding period of 1949.

The national polio foundation said 5,151 cases had been reported up to July 22, against 6,232 to the same day last year. Foundations officials said, "We can't tell whether this will be a good year or bad."

The U.S. public health service said that from March 18 until the present time there have been 3,669 new cases compared to 4,990 in the comparable period of 1949.

Gadgets' Heaven —

Patent Models Up for Sale

— Some Really Work

A truly novel grab bag of Nineteenth Century American inventors' models is being emptied piecemeal onto the bargain counters of a New York department store.

Adults and youngsters alike enjoy a field day as 150,000 original United States patent office models are unpacked in lots of 5,000 for sale at a few dollars each to as much as $1,000.

Also interested in this slowly unfolding gadget-tease, are manufacturers of items whose early patents many well be buried in the vast collection of which the full content is not known even to its overwhelmed owners.

All of the models work and are on a scale of less than 12 inches, but exactly what may pop out of the grab bag, no one will venture a guess.

While the optimists do not expect the "better mouse trap" which Ralph Waldo Emerson predicted would bring "the world to one's door", already dozens of other animal and insect traps have come to light.

Most ingenious among them is that combination animal trap and henhouse patented in 1883 by Samuel Rawson of Peoria, Ill. Each compartment has a label telling what the hen will do in it, and the door, when opened by the hen, displays a sign: "I am out. You may have my eggs."

The serious story behind these 150,000 models vividly records the birth pangs of modern American mechanical achievement. Until 1890, our patent office required a working model for each patent. Eventually the government had so many on hand that it cost $200,000 just to house them between 1884 and 1925.

In that year Sir Henry Wellcome purchased the entire lot at auction with the intentions of erecting a museum as a present to the American people.

When he died in 1936 his widow sold the models and, except for scattered showings of a part of them at fairs and museums, they remain uninvited and mainly unseen in various warehouses.

Covering 80 percent of all patents issued between 1820 and 1890, the models prove that Nineteenth Century inventors were eager to help the housewife. Washing machines, stoves, beds and chairs in almost limitless variety outnumber any other invention among the first 5,000 uncrated.

How inventive American minds were beamed is partially illustrated by the models of an 1829 railway cooking stove, corn planter of 1860, voting machine of 1871, bilge water alarm of 1876, rubber hose making machine of 1860, horse renovator of 1878, ice cutting attachment for ships of 1857, and an electric telephone machine of 1879.

Letters to the Editor

Schwenkmeyer Sponsorship . . .

TO THE EDITOR:
Once again attempt has been made to distort the truth. This has reference to the article appearing in The Daily Iowan on July 28, 1950, regarding NAACP sponsorship (of Frieda Schwenkmeyer).

The NAACP meeting, held Thursday evening, was not reported. If it had been, I am sure it would have made much more interesting "front - page" news. No questions regarding sponsorship of Frieda Schwenkmeyer were raised on the floor during the meeting, because the members were in agreement with the executive action.

I would like to clear up a misquotation. Although Mrs. Helen Lemme is not a member of the executive committee, as an adult member of the local organization, and a person of long experience in NAACP work, she has, according to records, served in an advisory capacity to the executive committee. When The Daily Iowan reporter contacted me, I am sure that I told him Mrs. Lemme has served in this capacity.

I have not been placed in a defensive position. It is not necessary to defend myself, since I have the full support of the majority active membership.

The reporter assumed the responsibility to judge NAACP's sponsorship of Frieda Schwenkmeyer who addressed the "Iowa City for Peace" group. By doing so, he has said, at least by implication, that NAACP has sponsored a subversive group. I do not feel that "Iowa City for Peace" is subversive or has any subversive connections. I sincerely believe that their actions are in good faith. Until it has been proved that the group's beliefs are detrimental to the general welfare, I am strongly opposed to any unfounded accusations.

In these critical times, it is my belief that everyone in the world should begin now to endeavor to arrive at valid procedures whereby the differences among the nations can be resolved without resorting to mass violence and destruction. The peace and the freedom and a closer nexus of all the peoples of the world should be our highest goal.

Alonzo H. Smith Jr. (G)
B203 Quadrangle
Vice - President NAACP
(Editor's comment: We did not deny the group's good faith nor the sincerity of their beliefs. However, we do feel methods and results demand scrutiny as much as opinions and beliefs demand respect.)

Slim Lines, More Brilliant Tones-Fashion Word for Fall Wear

Fashion Experts Predict Popularity Of Dress 'Frills'

Fall fashion reviews by national designers have revealed an increasing importance of trimmings, and have predicted new fabrics and slim lines will find popular acceptance with American women.

Braids, appliques and fringes are showing a healthy revival, and dress fabrics themselves are being used for trimmings to point up color and texture contrast or to stress waist or neckline accents.

Linon for collars and cuffs on wool, and velvet, and eyelet embroidery on taffeta are outstanding. Quilted trimmings will also be used widely.

One designer is using braid and velvet accents on tailored suits, and another uses black braid on high color corduroys.

Ribbon is another trimming to watch, particularly as a neckline accent.

Fur Popular
Fur fabrics will be even more popular this year than last for trimming purposes. Other accents will be lace, fringe and satin for texture contrast and emphasis.

The "look" for fall will be the slim, slender-skirted line. Rayon suits with long length jackets hugging the waist-to-hip line, or belted in and slightly bloused will be fashion highlights.

Two piece suits in pin-checked, pin-striped, nailhead or glen plaid men's wear will be good fall investments.

Wool jersey will be a high scoring fabric, and a preference for dark colors such as navy and bright red is predicted.

Ash blond, bronze and maple sugar are new gold tones that will be used widely in matching ensembles.

Buttons will carry the eye to important silhouette treatments in the fall dresses and suits of one designer. Long rows of buttons to point up snugly wrapped apron skirts, irregularly cut necklines and side-wrapped panels on slim crepe dresses will be used.

That Neckline
Necklines will follow deep-rounded or V-plunged lines, but the high neckline flowing into long dolman sleeves will be the newest treatment.

Although the majority of the dress skirts will look very sleek and straight, their line will be broken by soft hemline flounces, pleated panels and side drapes.

Scarves will be smart for accessories. Striped taffeta scarves stem from the shoulder, are caught under the belt, and fall to the hemline, in one designer's creations.

Cottons will fall in step with the most popular fabrics this year. Cotton sude will be one of the newcomers to the fashion scene. Resembling suede leather, it is a napped and sheared pile fabric, richly colored and perfect for fall suits, coats and separates.

Plaid cottons will make a debut on the ballroom floor in bright formal, and black poplin and corduroy will appear in smart date dresses, as well as velveteen.

U-Hospitals Admit Four Polio Cases

Four new polio cases, two of them sisters, have been admitted to University hospitals, officials said Friday.

The sisters were Carol J. Carlisle, 5, and Ruth Carlisle, 1, Attalissa. Others were Robert Koenig, 14, Muscatine, and Mrs. Arlene Baumgartner, 22, Cedar Rapids.

All were reported in "fair" condition.

Patients discharged were Laura Baker, 30, and Eva Hampton, 24, both of Cedar Rapids and Phillip Funk, 36, Mason City.

Active cases in the hospitals Friday totaled 24, an increase of four from Thursday.

Rollod Roast Beef Proves Weekend Favorite

ONE OF THE TASTIEST roasts on the market is rump roast of beef. In cooking this cut, you should remember that high grade roasts may be oven-roasted. Less tender ones should be braised (cooked like a pot roast). For a change from potatoes, try serving rich brown gravy over hominy.

Rollod rump roast of beef is a popular weekend meat buy because it has wonderful flavor and can be readily carved.

This is an easy roast to prepare, but you should remember that the grade of meat will determine how it should be cooked.

A high grade of beef will respond best to oven roasting while a low grade should be braised.

For an oven roast, set the meat on a rack in a shallow roasting pan and place it in a 325-degree oven. No flouring, searing or water is necessary.

If you have a meat thermometer, use it in this roast so you will know when it is cooked the desired amount.

To carve a rolled roast, slice it across the grain. A delicious gravy can be made from the rich brown drippings.

Iowa City Private Held On Army AWOL Charge

Pfc. Dean R. Burkett, 1312 Kirkwood avenue, was picked up by Iowa City police Friday morning on an army warrant charging him with being absent without leave from Camp Carson, Colo. Army authorities were notified, and Burkett was being held in Johnson county jail waiting arrival of MPs to escort him back to the camp, police said.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyal I. Burkett, 1312 Kirkwood avenue.

Iowa City Buyers See Varied Cottons, Exciting New Wools

When waning summer becomes brilliant with approaching harvest, women begin to think in terms of fall fashions.

Autumn fabrics will be different and exciting in 1930, buyers in Iowa City stores say.

The range of materials includes cotton velvets, cotton sude, cotton-backed corduroy, dark ginghams, satens, cashmeres and jerseys.

Most popular shades for early fall will be "jewel tones" similar to pastel shades but more brilliant. They will precede the later deep greens, maroons and rusty reds.

Lines will be "somewhat modified" with shoulders slightly padded or sloping. Skirts will be "fairly straight with a pleat in back," one buyer said. They give the illusion of slim lines and afford plenty of room for walking.

Emphasize Slim Hips
In general, lines are chosen which tend toward boxiness above the waist and slimmness around the hips.

Dolman or "bat wing" sleeves, and pleats emphasize the slim silhouette. One buyer said skirts that are extremely full tend to flare rather than cling to the figure.

"Probably the greatest influence on fall fashions is Molyneux, the French designer," she said.

His designs feature starched collar and cuffs of pique on velveteen garments. Velveteen trims are used extensively on both wool and crepe.

She described the dark sateen blouses arriving as being "tailored". They are reminiscent of the "gay nineties" era, with long full sleeves tightly cuffed, and tucked bosom yokes. Dark poplin is used extensively for sport blouses.

Wool jersey comes in "gorgeous, bright colors," according to another buyer. This "sunset shades" material is used for two-piece dresses with blouses and skirts used separately or together.

"T-Shirt" Sweater
A new sweater model of T-shirt style was pointed out. Manufacturers have found this style so popular they are using it in wool for fall merchandise.

Designed with long dolman sleeves and plunging neck line, the sweater will be a versatile topper.

Worn with a bright scarf tucked in at the throat it will be suitable for sports and worn with a swishy skirt and jewelry can be used for more formal wear.

A plaid sack jacket of wool, boxy above the waist, has three buttons, but should never be worn with all three fastened. The correct way is to leave it open or fasten only the middle button.

Pockets, in contrast to last season's bulkiness, are still large but

Civic Group Feels Re-Zoning Needed

Revision of Iowa City's zoning laws to meet present day housing needs was agreed upon recently by 15 representatives of various Iowa City civic bodies.

The meeting was called by the Iowa City chamber of commerce board of directors. No specific action was taken, but the group endorsed a new zoning plan presented by a subcommittee of the Iowa City real estate board.

The subcommittee plan suggested revision of the present zoning law, and strict enforcement of the revision after it is passed. It was proposed that the present ordinance also should be strictly enforced.

Those reported were construction of four-plex dwellings and the conversion of private homes into multiple dwelling units in class "A" residential districts.

By ordinance, not more than two families can live in one building in Class "A" districts.

Lyle Duncan, chairman of the Iowa City planning and zoning commission, reported that a subcommittee has been formed by the commission to investigate and draw up a long-range housing plan for Iowa City.

The 15 representatives agreed that if a new zoning ordinance is put into effect in Iowa City, it should provide for complete and strict enforcement.

Dr. E. D. Warner, head of the pathology department in the SUI college of medicine, left for Europe last week.

He is being accompanied by his wife and Dr. Kenneth M. Brinkhous, head of pathology at the University of North Carolina's school of medicine, Chapel Hill.

The doctors plan to attend the International Physiological congress in Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 15 through 18.

Brinkhous received his B.A. degree from SUI in 1929, his M.D. degree in 1932 and was an associate professor in the SUI pathology department in 1946 when he went to North Carolina.

modified to "hug the body and give a sleek effect."

"Dark ginghams, always a good "back to school" choice in materials, will be seen to a great extent. A new material, cotton sude, has the appearance of suede leather, and is used not only for suits and coats, but also for dresses.

Plaid slacks will be back both in bright and subdued colors, especially in corduroy.

Yankees Beat White Sox, 4-1, Cut Detroit Lead; Tigers Downed, 7-6

Bauer, Phil Rizzuto Homer for Yanks

CHICAGO (AP) — Hank Bauer and Phil Rizzuto hit home runs in support of Allie Reynolds' six hit pitching for his ninth win as the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox, 4-1, in the opener of a four game series before 33,058 Friday night.

The victory enabled the New Yorkers to pull within a half game of first place Detroit since the Tigers lost to Philadelphia.

Bill Wight duelled Reynolds even for five innings before the Yankees broke loose. After Gene Woodling fanned for the first out in the sixth, Rizzuto drew Wight's first walk. Bauer followed with his eighth homer, a drive into the left field lower deck which enabled Hank to score behind Rizzuto.

Rizzuto opened the eighth with his third round tripper, another drive into the left field lower seats. The Yankees pounded Wight for four more straight singles, but had to settle for only one run during this spurt as Dave Philley's fine throw cut Bauer down trying for third.

Howie Judson relieved Wight, and silenced the Yankees without further trouble.

Tiger Rally Falls Short in 9th Inning

DETROIT (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics chopped the Detroit Tigers' American league lead to half a game Friday night as they jumped into a five-run lead and hung on to beat the Tigers, 7-6.

Vic Wertz smashed his 17th and 18th homers and a double to lead a Tiger counterattack that fell just short in the ninth inning as Hoot Evers hit into a game-ending double play with the bases loaded.

The Athletics, who had won only two of 13 previous games with the Detroiters, got five runs in a hurry off Hal Newhouser who was driven to cover in the third inning.

Wertz got the Tigers back into the game with homers in the fourth and sixth, and his double started a two-run eighth that saw the Tigers take a short-lived 6-5 lead.

But the Athletics bounced back with two quick runs in the ninth as Elmer Valo singled and scored on Sam Chapman's triple. Chapman scored on an infield out, and the A's had their 7-6 lead.

Hal White, third Detroit pitcher, was charged with his fourth loss against two wins.

Snead Takes Over Lead in Sioux City Open Golf Tourney

SIOUX CITY (AP) — Sammy Snead stroked a six-under-par 66 Friday to shoot into the lead at the halfway point in the 72-hole Sioux City Open golf tournament.

Snead, who had opened with a 65 for the par 72 Elmwood course, had a 36-hole total of 131. But only's biggest money winner was only a shot ahead of Paul O'Leary, the 22-year-old from Bismarck, S.D.

O'Leary came home with his second straight 66 and found himself a stroke ahead of Skip Alexander, the first round leader with a course record 63, and Jack Burke Jr.

Alexander dropped back to a second round 70 and Burke had a 68 to go with a 65.

Henry Ransom held the fourth position with a 66-68-134. Dapper Lloyd Mangrum had the lowest score of the second round. He had a 65 after missing a 4-foot putt on the 18th green for his par 4. He clipped four strokes from par with a 31 on the first nine and was eight under par going to the short 14th hole. His tee shot caught tree branches and he bogeyed the hole with a 4.

Mangrum's performance landed him in a four-way tie for sixth place at 136. For company he had Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Texas; Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C.; and Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle.

A stroke behind that foursome were Chuck Klein of San Antonio and Bob Taski of Northampton, Mass.

It's Official Now —

Joe Louis Will Fight Charles for Title

Louis Fight Predicted in May

In May, Stanley Woodward, one of the country's great sports writers, made a prediction about Joe Louis that has been borne out by recent developments.

Woodward said then that Louis would come out of retirement and fight Ezzard Charles for the heavyweight championship—and if Louis has his way, that's exactly what's going to happen.

The writer even cited financial difficulties as Louis' reasons for fighting again. Once again he was correct. The former heavyweight king owes the government for back income taxes. He hopes that the government will accept his share of the purse in payment for the debt.

Many persons seem to feel that Louis must have squandered his money to be in such a financial position. The truth is, Joe invested his earnings in long range annuities which won't start earning dividends until about five years from now.

He wants to settle his debt now — not wait five years — and fighting is the only way he knows to raise the necessary money.

Woodward has been right so far. Let's take a look at his prediction of the outcome. He says that Louis will fail in his bid to regain the title and that Charles, being younger and faster, will administer quite a beating.

The accuracy of this latest prediction of course will only be determined by the fight. Louis at least seems confident of his chances against the present NBA title holder.

Charles, on the other hand, isn't publicly boastful about his chances with Louis.

The champion, who will be 29 this month, has faced Louis once in the ring, and that was a three-round exhibition at Fort Clark, Tex., in 1943. Charles weighed only 165-pounds at the time, compared with his present fighting weight of 180.

"It was a pretty rough three rounds, but not as bad as I thought it would be," he said. "I was on my feet at the end. I won't say I can take Louis, but I never enter a match without confidence."

Quite a few other sports writers agree with Woodward that Charles will win because of his comparative youth and speed.

As long as we're on predictions, let's take a look at a few others Woodward made in the Argosy magazine article titled, "This Will be Sport's Hottest Year."

He predicted that the Boston Red Sox would beat out the Yankees by three games and the Cleveland Indians by four. Apparently Woodward made the mistake, as did many, of under-rating the Detroit Tigers. As of Thursday's games, the fourth place Red Sox were five and a half games behind Detroit. The Yanks were in second place one and a half games out and Cleveland, in third, two and a half games off the pace.

The writer, who authored the popular book, "Sports Page," also predicted that Brooklyn would win the National league flag.

He felt that the Giants would make a bid for the pennant and finish in third place behind the Dodgers and the Phillies. Woodward thought that the Cardinals would collapse and finish out of the first division. The Giants are currently in fifth place, the Cardinals in second.

Fee Wee Day, Northwestern football and baseball player, signed a contract Thursday with the Quad City Quads of the Three I league. Day, who formerly lived in Davenport before moving to Mason City, graduated from Northwestern with a degree in physical education this spring.

Jack Dittmer is continuing his excellent play for Denver in the class A Western league. In a game against Sioux City Thursday night, Jack collected five hits in six trips to the plate, one a double, and drove in three runs.

If he can continue the pace he's set so far this season, we wouldn't be surprised if he was moved up to the parent Boston Braves before too long.

Bruner Wins in Relief

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ken Wood singled across the winning run to break a ninth inning deadlock, Friday night, giving the St. Louis Browns a 5-4 decision over the Washington Senators.

Wood's blast came with the score tied at 4-4, with two men out and two on. The winning pitcher was Jack Bruner, who allowed but one hit in 5 2-3 innings of relief pitching. That hit was a homer by Mickey Vernon.

The home run, with no one on, locked the score in the seventh. Rookie Bruner, former Iowa pitching star, who took the mound from Harry Dorish, registered his first victory of the season in winning Friday night. He came to the Browns from the Chicago White Sox.

Pafko Leads Cubs Over Dodgers, 12-5

BROOKLYN (SATURDAY) — The Chicago Cubs ended a seven game losing streak today by smashing the Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-5, in a game that was held up for well over an hour because of rain.

Andy Pafko led the Cub attack with a pair of home runs, his 20th and 21st of the season. The Dodgers out-hit the Cubs, 15-12, but veteran Dutch Leonard checked a Brooklyn uprising in the sixth inning and pitched shut-out ball the rest of the way to gain the victory.

Erv Palica, who was knocked out in the seventh, was the loser. The defeat pushed the Dodgers five full games behind the league leading Philadelphia Phillies.

Battle Scheduled For September

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis made it official Friday.

The former heavyweight champion, now 35 and beset by income tax troubles, notified the international boxing club that he is going into training in an attempt to regain the title he surrendered in March, 1948.

His opponent will be Ezzard Charles, the lithe Cincinnati Negro who is recognized in 47 states as the successor to the crown which Louis held for 11 brilliant years.

Idolized Louis Barring the unforeseen, Charles and the old warrior whom he idolized as a youngster will meet late in September either at Yankee stadium here or in one of the Chicago ball parks.

"It all depends," said President Jim Norris of the IBC, "whether we are successful in signing Ray Robinson and Jake LaMotta for a middleweight championship bout. If we do, then I rather think we will send the Louis-Charles fight to Chicago."

Charles is booked to fight Freddie Beshore at Buffalo, N.Y., on Aug. 15, but Norris and his associates are confident he will hurdle that one, especially now that he faces the prospect of the biggest payday of his ring career.

Might Prefer Savold If Beshore should upset Charles, the IBC officials would huddle the next day to decide what to do. A sensational Beshore victory might earn him a Louis bout. However, it is more likely that Joe would prefer to meet Lee Savold, recognized as world heavyweight champ in Britain. Savold still is in England.

"It would be up to Louis," said Al Weill, IBC matchmaker.

Louis, in a telephone conversation with Norris Friday, declared he will enter the ring in good shape and added that he expected "to be the first retired heavyweight champion to regain the title."

Welcome Opportunity Charles, in Cincinnati, said "I welcome the opportunity to settle in the minds of boxing fans whether I am the undisputed champion. It's an opportunity for me to determine for myself whether I have been wasting my time in boxing for the last 10 years."

Louis told Norris he was motoring to West Baden, Ind., Friday, to begin preliminary training. He expects to lumber up and down the hills around that resort city until about Aug. 24, and then to transfer to Pompton Lakes, N.J., for the final, serious phase of his workouts.

Louis, whose difficulties with the tax authorities have been a matter of common knowledge, said frankly that his comeback was dictated by necessity.

Joe's account with Uncle Sam is reliably reported to be in the neighborhood of $200,000. He has had an emissary in Washington trying to arrange some sort of package deal whereby the government would agree to take his end of the purse against Charles and call it even, but so far with no success.

"Whether a deal is made or not, Joe still will fight Charles," Norris said. "They certainly can't forbid him to fight."

Sorry to See Joe Back PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — National Boxing Association Commissioner Abe J. Greene said Friday he was "sorry to see Joe Louis coming back — because I still remember him as the superb fighter he was."

"But if Joe decides that he does want to come back," Greene said, "anything he does is perfectly satisfactory to me, as it will be to all men in boxing."

Rosen Homers Twice, Indians Belt Red Sox

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Rosen smacked out his 28th and 29th home runs Friday night as the Cleveland Indians belted Boston, 13-1. Larry Doby, Joe Gordon and Luke Easter also got four-base hits for Cleveland. Early Wynn, the winning pitcher, allowed the Red Sox only five hits.

Rosen's two blows put him in the lead in the major league four-base hit derby, one round trip ahead of Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner.

Wynn, in winning his 10th game, had a shutout with two out in the ninth. Then Tom Wright singled, scoring Vern Stephens, who had doubled.

Three of the Indian hotshots came in succession in the eighth inning, tying a major league record which had been performed 25 times before. Doby, Rosen and Easter got the hits off the pitching of Boston's rookie, Dick Littlefield.

Bob Miller Gets Credit for Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The league leading Philadelphia Phillies made three hits good for three runs in the third inning Friday night and went on to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-1, for their fifth straight victory.

Rookie Bob Miller chalked up his ninth pitching triumph against two setbacks as the Phils finally beat Bill MacDonald after bowing four times to him.

Miller was touched for eight hits, the same number the Phils got off MacDonald and Vic Lombardi, but the big rookie right-hander was tough in the pinches. He left 10 Pirates stranded on the bases.

Pittsburgh got its run in the fourth on Dan O'Connell's triple and Murtaugh's fly.

AAU Swim Meet Here Today

The Iowa AAU swimming meet, biggest event of the summer swimming season, will get under way at the Iowa City municipal pool this afternoon.

Preliminaries will start at 2 p.m. with the finals scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. Jim Counsilman, meet manager, and assistant Iowa swimming coach, announced that admission would be free and that bleachers would be provided for spectators.

Twenty-six events are scheduled for the meet. There will be competition in eight age divisions. The age groups for boys and girls are 12 and under, 13 and 14, and 15 and 16 in addition to the men's and women's classes.

Two of the best known competitors in the meet are Paul Slack, Des Moines, and Roger Watts, formerly of Iowa State college.

Slack was picked for all-American high school honors while attending North high in Des Moines. Watts holds several Big Seven conference swimming records.

In the women's division, Ann Cooper of Cedar Rapids and Iowa City's Ruth Ashton are two of the top entrants.

Miss Cooper, only 12 years old, won two first places in the recent Goode park meet in Des Moines.

Miss Ashton will represent the newly formed Iowa City swimming club, which is expected to make a strong bid for the team championship.

Top ranking teams for the meet, in addition to Iowa City, are Clinton, Des Moines and Cedar Rapids.

The local swimming club registered an easy win over Clinton in the Davenport Open meet Wednesday.

Besides Miss Ashton, other expected point winners for Iowa City are Freestyler Kenny Marsh, Breaststrokeer Kinzie Smith and Larry Larrimre, an Iowa swimmer, and Backstrokeer Willis Weber in the men's class and Freestyler Duane Patsel in the boy's division.

A trophy will be presented to the winning team. Medals will be awarded to the first three finishers in the individual events.

Jansen Pitches Giants to Win, 8-3

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Jansen pitched the New York Giants to their eighth straight victory Friday night as he turned back the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-3, for his 11th victory. The setback dumped the second place Cards two and one half games behind the league-leading Philadelphia Phils.

Al Brazle started for the Cardinals and was driven from the mound in the sixth when the Giants sewed up the decision with a four-run rally.

The Giants collected nine hits off Brazle and his successors, Ery Duskat, Ted Wilks and Fred Martin, with Jansen hitting the only home run of the game.

Reds Whip Braves

BOSTON (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds supported Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell with an 11-hit attack Friday night as he gained his first 1950 pitching win over the Boston Braves, 8-5, before a 13,505 gathering. Blackwell had a shut-out until the eighth inning when Earl Torgeson sparked a four-run rally with a three-run homer.

That mighty blow enabled Torgeson to extend his consecutive hitting streak to 18 games and Roy Hartsfield singled to hit safely for his 15th straight game.

Blackwell, beaten by the Tribesmen three previously, gave up but two hits until the eighth, when the Braves banged him for five of their seven safeties.

Kiner was told that it was nothing to worry about although he was forced to miss the Friday night game between his Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Phillies. Dr. Gaynor told Kiner he could resume play after a day or two of rest.

Strikers Terrify Brussels

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM (AP) — Riots broke out Friday in the Belgian capital as Communist demonstrators operating in defiance of a strike call in Belgium's capital. Then the government called troops for the first time in two days to keep disorders from getting further out of hand.

Opponents of King Leopold III, who returned from exile Saturday, have resorted to violence to support the strike in an attempt to force the king's abdication. Premier Jean du Vieuxart warned over the radio the government would take energetic measures to protect vital installations. Within an hour troops started occupying Brussels' main telephone building.

Ap unconfirmed report said troops also were being brought from their occupation sector in the British zone of Germany. Government officials declined to comment.

Throughout the afternoon windows were smashed, smoke and stink bombs were hurled, police whistles shrilled and ambulance bells clanged. The violence was a follow-up to the battle anti-

Army Readies Plants To Produce Modern Light, Medium Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army is ready to start building new light and medium tanks on a grand scale — one model believed to be the best in the world — as soon as congress grants President Truman's request for $10,517,000,000 in new military funds.

This was disclosed Friday as a military official said army ordnance has no intention of spending any money now on production of heavy tanks. Instead, he said, it will concentrate on light and medium models with their much greater maneuverability.

The Korean war caught the United States flat-footed as far as tanks were concerned. New and improved models were in the planning stage — but the best that could be sent to Korea immediately were World War II models.

However, some of the post 47-ton Patton tanks, with their powerful 90 mm. guns now are on their way to the Korean front.

The army's pride is the T-41, now in the experimental stage. About all that is known about it is that it carries a 75 or 76 mm. gun. The army has made no secret of the fact that it considers the T-41 the best light tank in the world.

Limited orders were placed for the T-41 before the Korean war and a spokesman said their procurement will be stepped up immediately.

American tank production now is limited to the army's own tank arsenal at Detroit. It was turned out only about a dozen 47-ton Pattons and 25-ton Chaffees a day at the outbreak of the Korean war, but the plant now is working two 10-hour shifts a day instead of a single eight-hour schedule.

SUI Study Finds Brain Area Needed for Consciousness

By ANN RUSSELL

The hypothalamus, a tiny area of the brain deep beneath the surface, was found essential to consciousness through an SUI study.

Dr. W. R. Ingram, head of the anatomy department in the SUI college of medicine, reported the study this week at the International Anatomical congress in Oxford, England.

Others who worked on the study were Dr. John R. Knott, associate professor of clinical psychology at psychopathic hospital; Dr. Max D. Wheatley, assistant professor of anatomy, and Dr. T. D. Summers, instructor in the physiology department.

Very little has been known previously about mechanisms which control consciousness. The SUI study dealt with changes in the electrical activity of cats' brains after destruction of various deep brain centers.

Electrical impulses from the brain change radically during unconsciousness and sleep. Activity of the cortex or outer layer of the brain previously was thought to determine consciousness.

Democrats Choose Iowa City Lawyer As Judicial Candidate

Veteran Iowa City Atty. Frank F. Messer, 61, was one of three Democrats named this week as candidates for the Iowa Supreme court. Nomination was at the Democratic state judicial convention in Des Moines.

Republican candidates named were District Judge G. King Thompson, Cedar Rapids; and incumbent Justices William L. Bliss, Mason City, and Norman R. Hays, Knoxville.

Thompson won the third nomination in a lively contest for the place being vacated by Justice Oscar Hale, 83, Wapello. The three Republican candidates will be opposed in the November general election by Democrats Messer, Leonard L. Ryan, Audubon, and Peter J. Siegers, Newton. There are no Democrats in the nine-man supreme court at present.

Messer, who has practiced law in Iowa City 41 years, is a partner in the firm of Messer, Hamilton, Cahill and Bartley. He was graduated from the SUI college of law in 1909.

He has been primarily a trial lawyer during his years of law practice, doing very little probate work.

Recently, Messer has taught several short law courses at Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind. He was born near Bloomfield.

Boost SUI Atom Work University Hospitals Using New Medicines

SUI atomic research soon will be speeded up, when the new Van de Graaff "atom smasher" goes into operation.

Finishing touches are being put on the 6-million volt machine, under a recent $40,000 grant from the U.S. atomic energy commission.

The grant also has been used to add personnel to the SUI staff. Nine men will soon be working full time on SUI nuclear research.

The new equipment will have voltages about 10 times more than that now in use at SUI, according to Prof. James A. Jacobs, director of research in nuclear physics here.

He said the present work is "pure" research. The commission is interested in aiding research, not directing it, and researchers select their own projects.

Resembling a huge cigar, the Van de Graaff machine is 50 feet long and more than 8 feet in diameter. It has steel walls 7-8 inch thick.

When the machine is operating at full capacity, the 3 1/2 inch-thick door, four feet in diameter, weighing 1,500 pounds, will bend out noticeably under the pressure of compressed nitrogen used in the work.

The "smasher" works much like a cannon. Inside the cylinder is an endless belt traveling 60 miles an hour.

Electrical charges are carried by the belt to an insulated electrode in the center of the tank. As the charge accumulates on the electrode, voltage builds up. This high voltage is applied to an accelerating tube in order to bring particles of velocities of 10,000 miles a second before they strike their targets and smash the nuclei.

During the initial work, Jacobs and his associates will use two targets, lithium and boron, in their research.

Young Girl Admits Drowning Brother

MILWAUKEE, WIS. (AP) — A distraught mother brought her cute eight-year-old daughter to police headquarters Thursday night and related that the child had admitted drowning her ten-month-old half-brother 22 months ago.

The girl, evincing a jealousy complex, told her mother and repeated to authorities that she also has tried to do away with an 11-month-old half-brother and a three-year-old boy cousin.

"I hate them. My mother paid too much attention to them," the child told Acting Det. Capt. Charles Nowakowski.

Nowakowski, continuing the investigation today, said he was not convinced of the accuracy of the girl's statements. He added that some discrepancies had developed.

The mother said she coaxed her daughter into telling her story Wednesday but that she hadn't come to authorities sooner because "it was such a terrible shock that I wanted to think things over first."

Drowning of the ten-month-old boy occurred Sept. 26, 1948, at Knapp, Wis., a Dunn county village. The family moved to Milwaukee several months ago.

Dunn county officials had classed the drowning as accidental. The mother said she had long suspected her daughter in the boy's death because the girl never showed any grief or remorse.

Wednesday, the mother related, she came home to find the girl stepping on the chest of an 11-month-old step-brother. Instead of punishing her, the mother said she decided to "be nice to her" in hope of learning the truth about the drowning.

BABY STRANGLES
DES MOINES (AP) — A three-month-old baby died of strangulation Friday enroute to a hospital. Dr. Leo Luka, Polk county deputy coroner, said the child, William J. Zielinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Zielinski, Des Moines, was found in his baby buggy choking on regurgitated food.

Bus Firm Sues California Driver for $2,158

A $2,158.29 auto damage suit was filed Friday in district court against the owner of a 1948 Buick sedan which collided head-on with a Greyhound bus here July 5, 1949.

The suit was filed against Leslie John Buzzelle, Los Angeles, Calif., by the Interstate Transit lines, Omaha, Nebr.

Eight persons were injured in the crash which occurred in the west edge of Iowa City on highway 6 near the Melody Mill club. Buzzelle and his six-year-old daughter, Linda Ann, were injured seriously.

Mrs. Buzzelle, who was driving the car, and 5 of the 11 passengers in the Los Angeles-bound bus were taken to University hospitals with minor injuries.

The transit company sued for $2,158.29, which it alleged was the cost of repairing the badly damaged bus. Buzzelle's Buick was demolished in the crash.

At the time of the accident, highway patrolmen said the Buzzelle car apparently slipped off the edge of the pavement and went out of control as it travelled west.

The bus company charged in its suit that the car was on the wrong side of the highway when the collision occurred.

After the crash, the car came to rest in the Melody Mill parking lot and the bus careened into a ditch.

Prof. Albrizio Plans Sculpturing Lecture

Prof. Humbert Albrizio, SUI art department, will present a demonstration lecture in modeling sculpture this Sunday during the university's weekly television show over WOC-TV, Davenport.

Earl Hoover, G. Manhattan, Kan., served as a model for the sculpture work Albrizio will use during the program. Hoover, a student in speech and dramatic art, will also serve as interviewer on the show.

Another feature of this program will be the presentation of movies taken in the SUI sculpture studio by John Ross Winnie and his class in cinematography. Winnie is a visiting lecturer in speech at SUI this summer.

SUI students and Iowa citizens may view this program from the auditorium of the University theater. Albrizio said that those who wish to see the show free should meet in the lobby of the theater at 5:45 p.m. The television show goes on the air at 6 p.m.

ACTH and cortisone, two hormones which won nationwide attention last year by their ability to alleviate a variety of diseases, are being used now at University hospitals.

Dr. E. L. DeGowin, professor in the internal medicine department in the SUI college of medicine, said the drugs are being given to a few selected patients.

Certain types of arthritis, a disease which cripples 7 million Americans yearly; rheumatic fever, asthma, pneumonia and chronic alcoholism are some of the diseases which respond to the hormones.

However, the drugs are expensive and scarce, and they do not work permanent cures.

Need Injections Daily
Their effect is similar to that of insulin, a hormone which cures sugar diabetes. Insulin must be injected daily or diabetes returns.

The story of cortisone began at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., when a doctor began wondering why arthritis disappeared when a patient contracted jaundice or became pregnant.

He found that these two conditions caused an increased secretion of cortisone, which comes from the adrenal glands.

Cortisone was extracted from animals' adrenal glands and used on arthritic patients with spectacular results.

Pituitary Stimulates Adrenal
The next step was finding a way to stimulate human adrenal glands so they would produce cortisone, instead of injecting cortisone into the patient.

The pituitary gland, a tiny organ located within the brain, was responsible for setting the adrenal gland to work, scientists found.

As a result, they again extracted hormones from animals' glands this time the pituitaries. These hormones were ACTH (adrenocorticotrophic hormones).

Patients being treated with ACTH and cortisone will have to be kept under close observation, DeGowin said.

Because of this, treatments now are being given only in approved hospitals.

Brannan Labels Hoarding As Silly, Undemocratic
NEW YORK (AP) — Hoarders are "suckers," Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said Friday night. Furthermore, he said, hoarding is silly because it is unnecessary and undemocratic.

Also, Brannan added, it gives profiteers "the only excuse they can find for jacking up food costs."

Well-informed people are hoarding, and even they would know what items to hoard if they decided to do so, Brannan said.

Mexican Woman's — Dance Show Very Graceful

By BETTY McDANIELS

Teresita Osta presented a dramatically successful dance recital at Macbride auditorium Friday night.

The program was thrilling with graceful movement, emotional power and technical array of costumes. Variety marked the evening from start to finish.

A capacity crowd attended this final presentation of the summer lecture series.

Opening her program with "Baile de Presentation," Miss Osta brought to life a classical Spanish dance with superb grace. Switching to a comedy role, she next portrayed a girl gaily moving to a city fair with a toy on her head.

Interpretations of the pranks of coquettish gypsy girl which followed showed various moods of sadness, gypsy superstition and gaiety.

The Basque dances, which she recently gathered on a trip to northern Spain, followed. Here simplicity and unusual tempo were skillfully expressed.

A climax came in "Las Huarakkas," an Indian sling dance showing the frantic quality of the lament of the Indian for his lost land.

The final numbers included a maiden dance, imaginatively pictured in the shadows of a Moorish patio.

The reds and greens of the gypsy costumes, fine lace of the mantillas, and vividly dyed llama wools contributed to the effective colorfulness of the dance program.

Accompanying Miss Osta was pianist John Simms of the SUI department of music. He played several selections, which included Chopin's Balade and, appropriately, the Spanish dance "Malaguena."
