Reds Put China Question Ahead of Korea in UN

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Soviet Russia disclosed Monday she is coming back to the United Nations security council primarily to reopen her fight to seat Communist China—and that she considers peace in Korea should be second on the program of business.

Jacob A. Malik, the Russian who is to be council president for August, announced the agenda. It foreshadowed a fight over the program at the opening of today's security council meeting—the first the Russians have attended since January.

A U.S. resolution offered at Monday's meeting, denouncing North Korean defiance of the UN cease-fire orders, was left over for discussion at today's meeting. It was designed to beat Russia to the punch in the new diplomatic battle expected to develop with Russia's return to the council.

But the language in which Malik framed his order of business makes no place for the U.S. resolution.

UN officials were unable to get Malik to agree to change his announced agenda. The entire security council has to approve the order of the agenda before discussion can proceed.

As Malik framed it, Russia wants to take up the question of seating the Chinese Communist representative. Up until now, all Russia has asked has been ousting of the Chinese Nationalist delegate.

The UN however, has both its military program and its relief aid program in shape to roll in high gear, and it appeared there was nothing that Malik could do to stop it.

The U.S. resolution, offered by Chief Delegate Warren B. Austin, does not rule out conciliation proposals. But the council has indicated generally up until now that it insists on a North Korean rollback to the 38th parallel.

Council Delays Action On Paving Issue

The city council Monday night failed to act on the objections of two property owners who protested against the paving of Prentiss street, from Dubuque to Gilbert street.

James J. Dalton, 521 S. Linn, and Harry Adair, 525 S. Linn, filed the objections to the proposed paving.

The council directed City Atty. William H. Bartley to canvass the Prentiss street property owners to determine their willingness to pay whatever costs might be assessed them after the street had been paved.

In the past some property owners on newly paved Iowa City streets have resorted to court action to avoid payment of the costs assessed to them by the city.

The city council hoped to avoid future court action by getting written consent that each property owner will pay the costs assessed him by the city.

County Goes 17 Percent Over on Bond Quota

Johnson county surpassed its savings bond quota from the Independence bond drive, amassing $325,681 in sales from May 15 through July 17.

The total was 117.56 percent of the $447,168 quota, according to County Bond Co-Chairman Frank D. Williams and Ben S. Summerwill.

Series E bond sales in Johnson county totaled $402,449, or 140.1 percent of the $287,435 quota.

Congress Readies Plans for All-Out Economic Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration forces in the house took steps Monday to broaden a proposed economic controls bill in an effort to satisfy swelling demands to get all-out anti-inflation powers ready for use.

In the absence of any definite word from President Truman's lieutenants, it appeared likely the changes might cover some form of standby authority for the President to control prices and wages and to ration scarce goods when he thinks those steps are needed.

The move apparently was designed to head off the possibility that Republicans may ram through their own control bill. Debate on the legislation is slated to begin today, with a vote probably on Wednesday.

President Truman has said on several occasions that he does not now need broader economic powers than the allocation and priority authority and credit controls he has asked congress to vote.

New word that he has not changed his mind but apparently will not seriously object if congress goes further came Monday night from chairman Burnet Maybank (D-SC) of the senate banking committee.

"The President has made it distinctly plain to me that whatever congress does is up to congress," Maybank told reporters.

However, sentiment for broader economic controls still faced stiff opposition.

The strongest came from Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, the senate Republican policy leader. Taft regards even Mr. Truman's request as too sweeping.

He voiced his opposition before the senate banking committee.

Leopold Agrees To Give Up Royal Powers

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM (Tuesday) (AP)—King Leopold III told Belgium's three major parties today he has consented to delegation of his royal powers to his son, Crown Prince Baudouin.

BRUSSELS (TUESDAY) (AP)—King Leopold III hedged today on his agreement to delegate his royal powers to his son, Prince Baudouin. The unexpected action threw open Belgium's explosive political situation.

Earlier, in conferences with parliamentary leaders, Leopold had agreed without condition to step aside in favor of Baudouin. A Socialist leader announced that the agreement provided that Leopold would abdicate when the Crown Prince reaches 21 on Sept. 7, 1951.

Then Leopold put in two reservations. He refused to be bound to abdicate the day his respected son reaches his majority. Leopold also did not agree with the nation's leaders over whether or not he should remain in the country during the rest of Baudouin's minority.

Before the king's bewildering about-face occurred, a special inter-party conference which had been grappling with the abdication crisis since Sunday had believed the question finally was decided.

They were standing by for Leopold's signature to the draft agreement and a radio announcement of the historic move to the nation.

Hoped to Quiet Belgium It had been hoped that the radio announcement would quiet the restless, divided nation teetering on the verge of civil war.

Instead Leopold pointed out he wished to include the same his and but in the agreement which had been discussed over his return from exile in Switzerland.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The defense department Monday announced that four national guard divisions, two guard combat teams and other supporting units are being called for active duty about Sept. 1.

The remaining nine enlistments are all "first-timers," Sgt. Miller said.

More U.S. Troops Land In Korea To Bolster Weakening Defenses

Two Veterans of Korea Come Home - Dead

FIRST KOREAN WAR DEAD BROUGHT HOME ARRIVED MONDAY in Seattle when the transport Gen. E. T. Collins docked. A white-helmed guard of honor saluted as a second casket was lowered to be placed on the white truck (left) beside another casket already unloaded. Identity of the bodies was not revealed, but one was a sergeant first class and the other a private first class. They were wounded in Korea and flown to Tokyo where they died.

Three Die in Flash Flood

EAST DUBUQUE, ILL. (AP)—Two women and a man drowned as a flash flood overturned a car in the East Dubuque business section Monday night.

Another man, Charles Ferris of Guttenberg, Iowa, escaped. He was pulled from the car and was released after treatment at a hospital.

Ferris identified the dead, all of Dubuque, Iowa, as: Henry Germain, about 80. Nellie Mullen, about 50. Marie Wasser, age unavailable.

Ferris said Germain was driving the car. It plunged into the street which had been flooded by a heavy rain lasting an hour and a half.

Ferris, who said he knew the two women in the car but had never before met Germain, said the party was on the way to a supper club to dance at the time of the accident.

"All of us in the car saw the flooded street and told the driver not to try to make it across," Ferris said. "People on the street also were trying by gestures to tell us not to try to go through."

"We hit the water and the car eased over on its side and was swept down to the viaduct. I don't know how I got out of there, but I did and climbed up onto the car."

"I saw a rope and hung onto it. A little fellow called to me to hang on and he'd get me out. A few minutes later somebody put another rope around me and pulled me away," Ferris said.

PORT LEONARD WOOD, MO. (AP)—The 34th national guard division from Iowa and Nebraska settled down here in a driving rain Monday for the regular two-week summer training session.

Maj. Gen. Ray C. Fountain of Des Moines, commanding officer of the division, assured the men they would not go directly from camp into the regular army. He said they would get to go home and stay for at least 30 days after receipt of mobilization orders.

But he warned them they were training for the "championship" and should work hard to be ready.

The division came into camp during the night, traveling by train and truck. The big day for the 34th will be Friday, governors' day. The present schedule indicates both Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska and Gov. William S. Breales of Iowa will attend.

The 35th division of Missouri and Kansas follows the 34th, starting its two-week encampment Aug. 13.

CAMP MCCOY, WIS. (AP)—Wisconsin's "Red Arrow" division is not one of the four national guard divisions ordered to active duty about Sept. 1, Maj. Gen. Jim Dan Hill, commander of the 32nd division, said Monday.

He said the 32nd division, entering its second week of training here, has not been alerted.

Red Tanks Capture Chinju

CHINJU, N. KOREA (AP)—The North Korean tank-led forces captured Chinju (A) after a three-day battle. The Communists also kept up a three-way drive at Kumchon (B) and attacked generally in the Hamchang-Yechon sector (C). The Red forces also still held Yongdok (D) on the east coast, as sarging U.S. and South Korean lines were bolstered by fresh American troops.

WASHINGTON (AP)—More reinforcing American troops poured into South Korea today as North Korean Reds were reported knocking through a break in the U.S.-manned western front to occupy Hyophon, 33 air miles southwest of the key communications center of Taegu.

Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert reported fresh U.S. manpower coming ashore fully prepared—like those of the Second infantry division Monday—to run into combat. United Nations lines were pressed hard all along the Korean warfront, hammered down by the Reds to about 100 miles in length.

He noted, however, that these well-equipped and physically fit troops—including a sprinkling of veterans of World War II's hottest European campaigns—"should provide increased competition for North Korean Communists who so far have had almost their own way."

Reports to U.S. Eighth army headquarters said the North Koreans reached Hyophon by exploiting their Monday breakthrough at Kochang, 16 miles to the northwest. At Hyophon the Reds were 26 miles north of Chinju which other Communist forces took after a three-day battle, then pressed on five miles to the east.

These two drives again compressed the shrinking UN line and increased the flanking threat to the main U.S. supply port of Pusan and to the vital rail and highway routes leading northward from Pusan to the front. Chinju is 55 miles west of Pusan. Hyophon is 35 miles west of Yuchon which is also 35 miles north of Pusan astride the railroad and highway. Taegu is 24 miles northwest of Yuchon.

The Red advance into Hyophon represents a new gain of about eight miles in the breakthrough which Monday carried the North Koreans eight miles beyond Kochang.

The North Korean radio at Pyongyang said Yechon at the northern tip of the front in the South Korean sector had been recaptured by the Reds. There was no confirmation from any source. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters earlier Tuesday had placed the front just north of Yechon, which is east of the American-held sector and 52 miles north of Taegu.

Allied aircraft kept up their pounding of the Reds along the front in close support of UN ground troops Monday despite bad weather. Fifth air force headquarters said fighters and light bombers flew 170 sorties, destroying six tanks, damaging four others and shooting up other Communist targets in the battle zone.

Fighters attacked small boats at Yosu, south coast port, through which the North Koreans appeared to be moving seaborne supplies for their southern drive east of Chinju.

There was no formal announcement from Gen. MacArthur's of Eighth army headquarters that troops of the Second division under Maj. Gen. Laurence D. Keiser had arrived Monday.

Neither was there any formal announcement that more reinforcements came ashore today. There was no indication in either case that a full division (normally 12,000 to 15,000 men) had debarked.

Move to Jail Bridges —

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The government moved Monday to jail Harry Bridges.

The justice department said Bridges, president of the CIO longshoremen's and warehousemen's union, is a threat to the national security.

He is at liberty on bond of $25,000 while appealing his conviction on perjury and conspiracy charges.

The conviction stemmed from his sworn statement in his 1945 citizenship hearing that he wasn't a Communist. He is under sentence of five years in federal prison. An order stripping the Australian-born Bridges of U.S. citizenship was signed after his conviction.

F. Joseph Donohue, as special prosecutor for the U.S. attorney general, filed the motion in federal court Monday demanding that he be revoked and Bridges be placed in the hands of the U.S. marshal.

German Reds Urge Western Resistance —

BERLIN (AP)—The Russian-backed East German Communists Monday called Germans to outright resistance against the western occupying powers and promised protection for anybody who got into trouble doing it.

The call was issued at a meeting of the national council of the Communist-controlled national front in the Russian sector.

Otto Grotewohl, prime minister of the Communist government of East Germany, promised that his government would protect any German who joined the anti-west campaign. But he failed to say how this would be done in West Germany, where Communists would run afoul not only of an anti-Communist German government but the western occupation armies.

House Eyes Appropriation Cut —

WASHINGTON (AP)—The house appropriations committee decided Monday to take another look at non-military appropriations and cut them where it can.

Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) said the committee has no fixed savings goal but is determined to "cancel all possible appropriations that are not related directly to defense and that can be cancelled."

The idea is to knock out non-essential spending to offset some of the huge new outlays that must be undertaken as the United States rebuilds.

While this economy proposal seemed to have broad backing, other drives for savings have flopped this session. The senate only last week rejected half a dozen proposed cuts.

MacArthur, Chiang Meet —

TAIPEI, FORMOSA (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur conferred here Monday with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in secret rapid-fire talks on the role of the Chinese Nationalists in the fight against Communist aggression in the far east.

MacArthur plunged into the vital talks immediately after his arrival early Monday afternoon from Tokyo, accompanied by key aides. He met with the Nationalist leader throughout the afternoon and until almost midnight Monday night.

Their discussions were veiled in official secrecy. But they were believed to hinge on the Communist threat to invade Formosa and on the Nationalists can play in the Korean fighting.

The meeting, which may write a major chapter in the history of the far east, was MacArthur's first with Chiang.

Pentagon Believes News From Korea May Improve Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The latest news from Korea has perked up the spirits of Pentagon officials who have been concerned at the possible effect on the home front of the continued American reserves in the field.

While military leaders were stimulated by the somewhat more encouraging weekend developments, there was no disposition to say this was the end of bad news.

But there were growing indications that an improvement might be expected in the days just ahead, with more fighting men and weapons appearing on the hotly contested perimeter of American-South Korean defenses.

A Pentagon briefing officer, asked about this, replied cautiously that "you can expect continuous landings of reinforcements and materiel."

Added to this was the declaration of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, 8th army commander: "We will not give up an inch of ground that's not already lost. Everybody in this army knows we must hold along the lines we now have."

An army spokesman here told reporters that this fight-to-the-death order was an encouraging sign, not a discouraging one. He expressed belief the order means Walker has decided the present line can be held.

"I don't think he would butt his head against the North Koreans on a line he can't hold and thus get a lot of people killed," the spokesman said.

Before the developments of the past day or so, prolonged bad news from the front created apprehension in large Pentagon circles that "retrogression" and "setbacks" might begin to linger thinking at home. In addition, there was some fear that an "isolationist" sentiment might develop because American soldiers have been doing all of the fierce ground fighting in the absence of swift aid from other UN members.

Atom Industry Sets Production Record, See New Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's mighty atomic industry this year turned out record-smashing amounts of the stuff that bombs are made of — at the same time giving attention to new weapon possibilities.

The atomic energy commission disclosed this Monday in a report for the first half of 1950.

The new weapons under study are:

1. The projected hydrogen bomb.

2. Substances designed for radiological warfare — that is, radio-active poisons that might make a target area uninhabitable for a time without destroying it.

Meanwhile, a commission scientist said that radiation from an unexploded A-bomb is so weak that if one were smuggled into this country by a potential enemy — and were created in the hold of a ship — there would be no way of detecting it without opening the crate.

The Geiger counter and other presently-developed radiation detection instruments would be powerless to ferret out such a hidden bomb, declared Dr. Karl Z. Morgan of the commission's Oak Ridge, Tenn., staff.

The AEC told congress that from January through June, the production of uranium-235 and plutonium was at "the highest rate in the history of the project" — exceeding the output for the entire year 1949.

As to actual bomb numbers, the AEC said only that "atomic weapons and fissionable material were produced at the rate authorized by the President for the calendar year 1950."

But it appeared to hint at accelerated production of A-bombs — because it declared that during the half year, the rate of "current operations" throughout the whole project had "accelerated."

ME GET LOST? HA! Maury Kent, SUI's assistant in about all sports once landed a pitching job with Brooklyn in the National league. On his first road trip, the Bums stopped at Boston. After supper he told his boss he was going for a walk but would make it a short one. Maury also scoffed at the idea he might get lost and started on his way.

THAT NIGHT HE GOT BACK TO THE hotel at 2 a.m. He had walked all that time having gotten lost in the maze of streets.

OVERHEARD ON THE SUI RIVERBANK: "Am I the first girl you ever kissed," said she. "You might be," said he, "your face is familiar."

IT SHOULD HAPPEN HERE: Wellesley college protects the grass on its campus with a variety of humorous signs.

FOR EXAMPLE THERE IS ONE THAT reads, "I want to be a lawn."

I HOPE WELLESLEY'S LAWN LIVES a longer and greener life than SUI's.

GENERAL TALK: Gen. Eisenhower says, "The South Koreans' only crime has been the desire to live their own lives as they choose, at peace with the rest of the world."

I GUESS WE AMERICANS HAVE committed the same crime. It really is a strange and unpredictable world we live in.

OUTRANKED AT HOME AND AWAY: The bride at a recent wedding in Maryland was not only the center of attraction, as usual, but also outranked everyone present.

THE GROOM AND HIS BEST man were lieutenants. The chaplain wore captain's bars. The bride is a WAC major. She will continue to keep her rank too — not only in the services but also at home, no doubt.

DID YOU KNOW THAT: One of the most famous collections in Iowa is the Matt Kieckels gun collection at Iowa Falls. A 22-page brochure has recently been issued describing in detail the 1200 guns which comprise the collection.

THAT'S A REAL ARSENAL and may come in handy with this war threat over our head.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH: One Iowa City traveler says a detour is the roughest distance between two points.

SCHOOL DAYS: Now that school days for the high school and elementary guys and gals are not too far away, one family was talking about their coming.

One son said, "Dad, you're a lucky man," and his father wanted to know how come.

"Well, you won't have to buy me any school books next fall. I'm still in the same class I was in last year." I guess that proves one does get a break now and then, or does they?

IT MUST BE: He listens to her telling how a girl friend's dress is

Hoarding Down; Prices Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Hoarding began to slack off in a few cities Monday but prices were still spiraling upward with food costs showing the greatest increases.

The big buying spree was reported waning in Chicago, Dallas, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, Los Angeles and Kansas City. But at St. Louis, Albany and Buffalo, hoarding continued unabated.

A United Press survey showed that beef and pork showed the sharpest price boosts since the outbreak of the Korean war. Bread, sugar and milk prices also climbed in most cities.

Round steak went up an average of about 10 cents a pound from June 23 to Monday but these were wide fluctuations in the various cities. Bread was up one cent a loaf in most towns and sugar was up one-half to one cent a pound. Milk went up a penny to 19 cents at Indianapolis Monday.

In the livestock markets, where hogs sold for about $20.50 at the war's outbreak, they were selling for about $25 a hundred-weight last week.

Flat goods such as cotton sheets and wool blankets showed no increases but automobile tires were up five percent and gasoline was boosted at Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Chicago, New York and Washington. Standard Oil of Ohio raised the price of gasoline a half-cent Monday.

The price of tin, a war item, rose on the New York and London markets but buyers were resisting the new price.

Makers of economy-brand cigarettes raised their prices Monday, keeping pace with price boosts announced earlier for popular types of smokes.

At New York, meanwhile, Ody H. Lamborn, president of a sugar firm, said hoarders are wasting their time and money by trying to buy up all the sugar in sight. He said there would be enough available in 1951 to give every person 50 pounds more than the 100 pounds they normally consume.

"There will be no shortage of sugar," Lamborn said, adding that hoarders are kidding themselves for the longer they hold onto the sugar, the harder and lumpier it will get.

At Dallas, a number of ministers devoted their Sunday sermons to criticisms of hoarders. The Rev. Richard Irvin of the Memorial Methodist church said "a city of hoarders is possibly as damaging as a division of Communism."

The Rev. Joseph Brown of the church of prayer said Premier Stalin of Russia should give a medal to each hoarder.

Leading grocers in Dallas reported that sales were almost back to normal after a period of panic buying on sugar, coffee, and black pepper.

Hoarding on coffee and sugar tapered off in Kansas City but wholesalers were sold out on tires and retailers had no automatic clothes washers or driers to offer. Los Angeles reported that tire and car sales shot up during the past week but buying decreased in sugar, canned goods, meats and staples.

'Peace' Answers . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

In regard to Mr. Kelly's letter concerning the Iowa City for Peace group, I submit the following answers to the questions which he said "must be answered."

Q. Are the members naive?

A. No. They are merely aware of the urgency for peace.

Q. Who gives them directions?

A. No one does. Decisions are made and in the group itself.

Q. Are any of the members carrying Communists?

A. No. Although I have not searched their persons or homes to establish this fact, as the tone of Mr. Kelly's letter would seem to indicate, it is not advisable.

Q. Affiliations with the World Peace congress?

A. None.

Q. Who are the members?

A. Iowa City citizens, students, and thinking people mindful of the horrible affects of atomic destruction.

Q. Similarities to the Communist supported peace petition?

A. The International Red Cross passed a resolution at their meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, which urged outlawing the atom bomb and establishing international control of atomic weapons by the United Nations. This is the basis for the petition which is being considered by the Iowa City group.

I'm certain Mr. Kelly will agree the Red Cross is not Communist-dominated.

Q. What penetration has been made into Iowa City and university circles?

A. If by "penetration" Mr. Kelly is referring to the function of a sharp instrument, I suggest that "intelligent reflection and objective analysis" be submitted.

Certainly Iowa City citizens and students should be given credit for the amount of intelligence necessary to decide for themselves their position on issues of war and peace. I might further state that these people will not be intimidated in their judgement by rabble-rousing and Red-baiting.

Q. Does the group advocate suppression of means of communication?

A. In times of hysteria many misleading statements are made by press and radio. Intelligent consideration of these statements is the only issue as suppression is certainly not advocated.

Q. Why hasn't the group defined the word "peace"? Any Webster's dictionary will provide a definition for the word "peace" which the committee accepts as valid.

Q. How about Korea?

A. The group has taken no stand on Korea as a separate issue, but supports the United Nations as a strong hope for peace.

Q. What about Miss Schwenk-meyer's statements?

A. The group is a coalition and therefore not political in nature. Miss Schwenk-meyer expressed her own views on the subject of peace. The group, being a coalition, no doubt holds varying opinions on her statements. Therefore, future speakers on peace also will not represent the group politically as their views will be kaleidoscopic in nature, and only their contribution to peace is relevant.

In closing I would like to add the statement made by Maurice Chevalier, former worker in the underground movement against the Nazis in France, and an internationally recognized entertainer:

I should like to see the list of those who refused to sign. They must be people who want to commit suicide without having to take the initiative themselves. Myself, I just don't understand how anyone can refuse. If you do you must be for the bomb and willing to sign your own death-warrant. You are forced to be against the bomb unless you want to be blown up.

United Nations Pledged Military Aid in Korean Campaign

IN RESPONSE TO A UN call to arms against the Korean Communists, Secretary General Trygve Lie in New York has been swamped with assurances of aid in one form or another. Since ground troops, ships and planes are of immediate importance, the early score is something like this: Thailand, among the first to respond, offered 4,000 officers and men. Britain has promised a complete combat outfit, including everything from tanks to clerks, plus a far eastern fleet to pound at shorelines. Australia is readying 2,500 fighters and so is New Zealand. They have planes now in action and destroyers are due. Turkey has some 4,000 crack troops ready, equipped with modern weapons. Little Cuba was early with an offer of supplies and some 20 other nations were offering everything from field hospitals to air squadrons.

Both a senate seat and the governorship are at stake in the Kansas voting, with interest centered on the latter race, largely because Alf M. Landon, 1936 GOP presidential nominee, has taken a hand in it.

For governor, Landon is supporting Willard Mayberry, his former secretary. Gov. Frank Carlson and Sen. Harry Darby have teamed up behind Edward F. Arm, former Kansas attorney general.

The winner — provided he is elected in November — gets to name the Republican state chairman and thus control the state party machinery in advance of the 1952 presidential nominating convention.

In the Kansas Democratic primary, Paul Aiken, former assistant postmaster general, is running against National Committee man Carl Rice for the senate nomination.

In Missouri, the 12 Democratic and one Republican representative are running for renomination, but seven of them, including Dewey Short, the lone Republican, have no opposition in today's election.

Helen Gower Engaged

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE ENGAGEMENT AND APPROACHING MARRIAGE of Helen Gower to Richard Chadima is made by the bride-elect's parents, Prof. and Mrs. William Gower, 19 Evans street, Miss Gower, a 1949 SUI graduate, is an instrumental music instructor in Cedar Rapids public schools. Mr. Chadima, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Chadima, Cedar Rapids, is a 1949 SUI graduate and a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity. He is employed by the Hubbard Ice and Fuel company in Cedar Rapids. The wedding is planned for Oct. 8 in the Methodist church in Iowa City.

Iowa State Fair To Sponsor Show For Flower Raisers

Those with a talented "green thumb" will have an opportunity to enter their best specimens in the summer garden and flower show at the Iowa State Fair, August 25 through Sept. 1.

Nearly $2,000 in cash prizes will be offered for entries by both amateur and professional gardeners and flower growers, according to Fair Secretary L. B. Cunningham.

Nine Sections Planned

Awards will be given in the following divisions: arrangements, annuals and perennials, bouquets, table decorations, flower pictures and still life, mantel decorations, specimen rooms, outdoor living rooms and window gardens.

Special classes have been set aside for boys and girls under 16, and other contests are open for youngsters under 12.

Other special shows will be held for gladiolus growers, offering $637 in prizes. The dahlia exhibits will award $115 in prizes.

Entries Due Aug. 15

Entry blanks and information may be obtained by writing the State Fair board in Des Moines. The blanks must be returned by August 15, Cunningham said.

Phloxes Beautify Her Garden

THIS PRETTY PATCH OF POSIES is the hobby of Mrs. J. W. Meyer, 1811 E. Muscatine street, and magnet for the admiring glances of passersby. The multi-colored perennial phlox grow on each side of the grassy winding path, where Mrs. Meyer is standing. Meyer, a retired school superintendent, and his wife spend many hours gardening in their yard, which is shaded by three 112-year-old elm trees.

Frozen Banana Nut Pie Offers Another Ice Cream Dessert

As warm weather takes firm hold, ice cream becomes one of the family's favorite desserts, and most housewives are looking for new and interesting ways to use it to cool off summer menus.

Here is a pie you can make without baking.

Frozen Banana Nut Pie

1 1/4 cups finely crushed chocolate wafer cookies (about 15)

2 tablespoons sugar

1/3 cup melted butter or margarine

2 ripe bananas

1 1/2 pints vanilla ice cream (3 cups)

1/2 cup coarsely chopped nuts

Mix the cookie crumbs and sugar, add the butter and blend thoroughly. Press the mixture evenly and firmly on the bottom and sides of a nine-inch pie plate. Chill the pie in the refrigerator ice cube department while preparing the filling.

Cut the bananas in one-inch pieces and place in a large mixer bowl. Beat the bananas at low speed, increasing the speed until the bananas are mashed. Then add the ice cream and nuts. Beat this mixture at a low speed, scraping the sides and bottom of the bowl with a rubber scraper until the mixture is smooth and thoroughly blended.

The filling should not be melted and should hold its shape as you pour it into the chilled chocolate crust. Place the pie in the refrigerator and freeze until firm.

Let the pie stand at room temperature for 15 or 20 minutes before serving, so that the filling will soften slightly.

New Fabrics, Colors Brighten Carpets

New frontiers in fabrics, designs and colors go underfoot to enhance carpets and rugs shown for autumn.

Some new fabrics have a frosty appearance and are effective in the thick, high pile of the carpets.

These are straight from the test tube after five years of intensive scientific research, and have passed all tests for hard usage, soilability and crush resistance.

Cotton rugs are shown in heavily textured effects, such as loop pile shag and thick cut pile. These are available in pastels and more vibrant colors. Most of them are pre-shrunk and washable and will vacuum easily, according to the manufacturers.

Ranch motifs have taken over in rugs for informal living. Patchwork quilt designs and gay peasant themes are used. Wood-tones from pale beige to dark red-brown, olive green and clear red predominate.

Spicy colors, such as cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice and ginger will be shown for fall. Gold will be used as an accent in shades ranging from sunny lemon to mustard.

One new texture weave, Conferva, features three levels of tightly looped pile in a heavy ribbed effect.

At present this carpet fashion comes only in green-gold mounted on muted-brown-earth color. According to decorators this gold color affords a dramatic point of departure for other color elements in a room.

For some designs primitive patterns taken from Ecuadorian Indian carvings have been given unusual interpretations. These rugs come in vegetable dye colors of tan, brick, brown, gray, ochre, natural white and black.

Rhythm is the theme for one design. It comes in warm stone gray with thin pinkish gray wavy lines in frieze yarn. A neatly done Axminster in ash gray has a Greek key top design in darker striped gray framed by bands of clear aqua.

Novatwist is the name of a very shaggy new frieze twist with a cut pile. The fuzzy surface seems to run in all directions at once and there is no right or wrong way to brush the pile.

This surface answers the homemaker's query whether it will become flat, or "walk down." It won't, and the surface is hard to touch which means added soil resistance and no footprints.

Make or Break Drill Schedule For All-Stars

DELAFIELD, WIS. (AP) — The 1950 college all-stars headed into a make-or-break training regime Monday with some major problems still to be solved. "We haven't got everything settled yet," Coach Eddie Anderson said. "We still haven't got offensive and defensive positions set, and it looks like some of the boys are going to have to play both sides. "We've got a few weak spots left at some positions, and although we're working to try to pick them up, we might have to rely on some of the boys to play most of the time to straighten things out."

60-Minute Men

Anderson listed specifically as players who might be potential 60-minute men Center Clayton Tonnemaker, Minnesota; Harry Ulinski, Kentucky; End Leon Hart, Notre Dame, and Halfback Charley Hunsinger, Florida. "There'll probably be more," he said, "but it looks like these boys will be in there on both offense and defense. We need them to fill some gaps."

Anderson was dissatisfied with the progress his all-star squad of 51 has made in nearly two weeks of workouts. "We're still not in game condition," he said. "The boys are coming around, and we're in good shape for the time we've been working. But we're not ready to go out there and play a full game against the Eagles."

The all-stars will continue to work twice a day this week with emphasis on scrimmage.

Never Satisfied

"This is our make-or-break week," Anderson said, "and next Saturday we'll know pretty well where we are. The boys are coming along, and they have pretty good spirit. But you know how it is, you're never satisfied."

The all-stars' struggle with the National football league champion Philadelphia Eagles in Soldier Field Aug. 11.

"We've gained something in training here," Anderson said. "The boys know each other better than the all-stars usually do and we've had wonderful spirit."

Cooper's Single Beats St. Louis

BOSTON (AP)—Walker Cooper singled off Tommy Glaviano's glove in the last of the ninth to drive in Earl Torgeson with the winning run Monday night as Boston's Braves whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 and replaced the Red Birds in second place in the feverish National league pennant fight. Torgeson, who singled to keep the winning rally alive, now has run his hitting streak through 22 games.

The Braves held a one run lead three different times during the contest which was witnessed by 18,104, but each time the Red Birds came back to tie the score. The winning marker came in the ninth when Sam Jethroe led off with a walk. He moved to third on Torgeson's single to right.

Bob Elliott was purposely passed to fill the bases, but Sid Gordon's best was a hopper to Marty Marion whose throw, although bit away was held by Catcher Del Rice to force the fleet Jethroe at the plate. Big Walker then hit a high hopper which broke off Tommy Glaviano's upstretched glove to score Torgeson with the big run.

Simmons Has No Time for Baseball

INDIANTOWN GAP, PA. (AP) — National Guardsman Curt Simmons wishes star pitcher Curt Simmons could find a little more time to practice throwing that old ball.

The 21-year-old star hurler for the National league-leading Philadelphia Phillies says he likes his national guard tour fine, but observes ruefully that it is likely to play havoc with his pitching arm. Simmons, who currently boasts a record of 14 wins and five losses with the Phillies, arrived here Saturday for a two-week training session with the 28th infantry division of the Pennsylvania national guard.

Simmons said he will devote whatever spare time he finds to throwing a baseball.

Kell, Robinson Continue To Hold Batting Leads

CHICAGO (AP)—Detroit's George Kell gained seven points in the American league batting race last week for a pace-setting 351, three ahead of Cleveland's Larry Doby. Kell had 135 hits in 385 AB's, compared with Doby's 110 in 316 for 348. Doby, who trailed by a point last week, picked up five points.

Detroit's Hoot Evers, tied with Doby at 343 last week, slumped seven points to a third-place tie with Johnny Pesky of Boston at 336.

Others in the top ten include: Walt Dropp, Boston, who slumped another 10 points to 332; Yogi Berra, New York, 328; Al Zarilla, Boston, 324; Phil Rizzuto, New York, 321; Johnny Groth, Detroit, 320; and Vic Wertz, Detroit, 313.

Kell continued as a double leader in the specialized departments with most hits, 135, and most two-baggers, 31. Boston's Vern Stephens also kept ahead in two departments, runs with 85, and RBIs with 100.

Cleveland's Al Rosen remained the home-run leader, picking up two during the week for a total of 29. A batch of five triples in his last eight hits, put New York's Gene Woodling ahead in three-baggers at nine.

The league's best percentage pitcher with a 16-4 record for 800 was Cleveland's Bob Lemon.

NEW YORK (AP)—Back home at Brooklyn, Jackie Robinson continues to pour it on in the National league batting race with a 370 average. He's now nine points ahead of St. Louis' Stan Musial, a two-point gainer during the past week.

The Phillies' Del Ennis drove home 21 runs with 14 hits, nine for extra bases, to take over the RBI lead. Ennis hit five homers, two with bases loaded, during that period. Now he has driven home 89 runs, displacing the ailing Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh.

But that didn't hoist Ennis among the top 10 batters in the league. He is batting .293. Robinson at .370 and Musial at .361 are making a runaway of the race. Musial's teammate, Enos Slaughter, moved from seventh to third with an eight-point gain to 332. Then comes Whitey Lockman of New York, 330, and Andy Pafko of Chicago, 329.

Johnny Wyrostek of Cincinnati is sixth at 323, followed by Eddie Stanky of New York, 321. Duke Snider of Brooklyn, 318. Dick Sisler of Philadelphia, 316, and Carl Furillo of Brooklyn, 315.

The Phil's Willie Jones has scored the most runs, 75, and Richie Ashburn leads in triples with eleven.

Kiner, out with an aching back, still holds the home run lead with 28 but Robinson has passed Musial with 124 hits. Stan's 23 doubles still are good for the lead. Sam Jethroe, back in action again, stole three bases for Boston to make his leading total 27. Last year Robinson won with 37.

Cubs Score Four In 7th for Win, 8-5

BROOKLYN (AP)—Scoring four runs in the seventh inning on three hits, three walks and a wild pitch, the Chicago Cubs came from behind to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-5, Monday night in the first ladies game under the lights at Ebbets Field. Roy Smalley batted in four runs for Chicago and Dutch Hiller gained his third triumph over the Dodgers.

Chris Van Cuyk, who replaced starter Dan Bankhead in the sixth, was charged with the loss. However, the Cubs scored their winning runs with Rex Barney on the mound.

After three errors in the first inning gave the Cubs a run, the Dodgers leaped on Hiller for four hits and five runs in the fifth. Duke Snider's 20th home run with two on highlighted this attack.

The defeat dropped the fourth place Dodgers four and a half games behind the idle pace-setting Philadelphia Phillies. ## A's to Remain In Mack Family

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics — the team that Mack built — is going to stay right in the Mack family where it's been for 50 years.

Connie Mack Jr., offered a 30-day option Monday to his brothers Roy and Earle, and they said they will buy controlling interest in two or three weeks. They also plan to keep their father as manager.

The action ended two months of reports that the A's might be on the block — even sold to a "stranger" — during the 50th anniversary year of their 87-year-old pilot, Connie.

There has been dissension at the top of the Athletics organization for several years. Roy said this year's poor showing on the field and at the gate brought things "to the breaking point."

Policy arguments lined up vice President Roy and deposed assistant manager, Earle, against the younger Connie and five relations of Benjamin Shibe, first A's president and builder of Shibe park.

Old Connie held a middle road in the disputes, concentrating his energies on the field. On a western tour with the club, he had no comment to make about the proposed sale Monday.

Former Big League Pitcher Lee Grissom Held for Manslaughter

RED BLUFF, CALIF. (AP) — Former major league baseball pitcher Lee Grissom was jailed Monday on a manslaughter charge arising from the death of a man in a bar at nearby Tehama.

Grissom's identity as the former Cincinnati Reds' southpaw hurler was confirmed by Sheriff James N. Froome.

Grissom was charged by district Attorney Edmund M. Moore in the death of Warren Shermmer, 27, of Los Molinos, Calif.

Sheriff Froome gave this account of Shermmer's death: Shermmer entered the bar about 9 p.m. Sunday night and offered to buy a round of drinks for the house. He turned to Grissom, a patron at the bar, and said, "I'll buy you one, too, Lee." At that, Grissom rejoined, "You talk too much, Arkie," and swung his fist at Shermmer. Shermmer fell to the floor. He never regained consciousness.

Since leaving baseball nearly a decade ago, Grissom has worked as a rancher and truck driver. He is married.

Washburn Medalist In Golf Tournament

CHICAGO (AP)—Tom Washburn of Rock Island, Ill., and Miles Schlapik of Chicago Monday shared medalist honors, each with two-over-par 72, in the qualifying round of the Chicago district golf association junior open.

Washburn, who attended St. Ambrose high school in Davenport, Iowa, competed in the state junior amateur golf tournament in Iowa City earlier in the summer.

In that meet, he tied for runner-up medalist honors. Nearly 200 players under 21 years of age competed over the rolling, 6,351-yard Ravisloe course with 64 making the championship match play action beginning today and running through Thursday.

Dean Lind of Rockford, Ill., seeking his third consecutive title, was not required to post a qualifying score. Lind's first round opponent will be Don Pauley of Mount Prospect, Ill., who qualified with 77.

Washburn faces Jim Love of Peoria, who had 77, and Schlapik meets Joe McInerney of Elmhurst, Ill., who also carded 77.

Archie Moore Wins

Cleveland Apologizes

Boston Protests 'Spy Glass Affair'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Embarrassed executives of the Cleveland Indians humbly apologized Monday for the public "humiliation" of Boston Red Sox Manager Steve O'Neill.

But they refused to name the Cleveland front office man who got stout Steve, a normally placid man, so hopping mad that the "spy glass affair" was taken to Will Harridge, president of the American League.

Steal Signals

On Friday night, in a Cleveland Boston ball game, O'Neill accused the Indians of employing a man at the scoreboard to steal signals through a spyglass.

Then, before the game Saturday, a package was handed O'Neill in a public ceremony before some 47,000 fans. It was supposedly a gift from some Erie, Pa. admirers. Steve made a solemn acceptance speech and sent the package to the clubhouse.

When he opened it, he found two telephone books, a toy pair of binoculars and a note suggesting they be left in Cleveland for further use.

"With cold fury in his eyes, Steve dashed over to the Cleveland club house and charged inside demanding to know who did it. Everybody looked innocent.

"Day or night," exploded O'Neill, "winter or summer, I'll catch up with the man who did that to me. It was the most disgraceful thing I've ever known to happen in a big league ball park."

Files Complaint

Boston's general manager, Joe Cronin, took the affair so seriously he filed a complaint with Harridge. Harridge asked the Indians for an explanation of "this uncalled-for humiliation."

Monday morning, Harridge said he had not yet decided what action he will take.

Ellis Ryan, Cleveland's president, said Harridge feels that I have taken the proper stand in withholding the guilty person's name.

Harridge said that to name the person would seriously hurt the Indians chances of winning the pennant because it would subject our team to jeering in every city in the American league.

"This is a serious thing, Cleveland is O'Neill's home town. I have apologized to Steve and Tom Yawkey, president of the Red Sox. The man will be severely reprimanded.

"As far as I'm concerned, the incident is closed."

Playgrounds Plan Movies, Craft Work, Sports This Week

Out-door movies, sports, and work are on the roster for this week's activities at Iowa City's Benton and the Brown street playgrounds, according to Playground Director Delores Moore.

Tuesday at the Benton street playground, supervised craft work will be from 2 to 4 p.m., and tennis will be taught and played until 5 p.m.

A movie will be shown at Longfellow school at 7 p.m. Tuesday said Miss Moore.

Softball Game Scheduled
A "Pee-Wee" softball game will be played Wednesday between teams from Benton and Brown street playgrounds at 1:30 p.m. The game will be played at the Benton street playground.

Craftwork will be open from 2 to 4 p.m. at Brown street playground Wednesday, and the Benton street playground roller skating club will skate at their playground during the afternoon.

There will be an out-door movie shortly after dark Wednesday at the Benton street playground.

Thursday will be a craft work period from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Benton street playground, and an out-door movie shortly after dark at the Brown street playground.

Bicycle Parade Planned
A decorated bicycle parade will be the feature attraction at 2 p.m. Thursday at both playgrounds.

Decorative materials are to be furnished by the bicycle riders themselves Miss Moore said.

Friday will be tournament day at both playgrounds. Carroms, checkers, horse shoes, ping-pong, and tether-ball contests will be played off.

Tournament day winners will compete in the final tournament day later in August.

Playgrounds are closed Saturdays and Sundays.

Iowa City Woman Hit By Sidewalk Cyclist

Mrs. Noble J. Sweeting, 415 E. Davenport street, received severe bruises Monday morning when she was struck and knocked down by a bicycle ridden by George Turecek Jr., 631 N. Dodge street.

The accident occurred at 11:10 a.m. as Mrs. Sweeting was walking on the sidewalk along the west side of East hall, police said.

CARS COLLIDE
Cars driven by Lester J. Bulman, 24, of Marion, and Clyde L. Johnston, C. Iowa City, collided at 5:45 p.m. Sunday on Washington street. Damage to each car was estimated at $50, police said.

Timber!

George Washington Never Did This

TRAVERSE CITY, MICH., (AP)—Offered only four cents a pound for his crop of sour cherries, Fred E. Reed of Sutton's Bay canned his pickers Monday and sent woodchoppers out to level his 250-tree orchard.

"I'll raise strawberries," the disgruntled Sutton's Bay orchardist declared. And apparently he means it.

Last year Michigan sour cherries brought nine cents a pound at the cannery. This year's crop is estimated at 7,800 tons, a third larger than a year ago.

Governor Asks Support
Most packers now are offering four cents but have promised the growers additional payment later (possibly as much as three cents more) if the price they receive for the processed fruit warrants it.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan has appealed for federal price support. The production and marketing administration has agreed to purchase upwards of a half million pounds of processed Michigan sour cherries for school lunches, if packers pay growers at least seven cents a pound for the crop.

He Will Keep A Few
But subsidies don't satisfy Reed, they simply infuriate him.

"If I can't raise cherries at a profit without depending on price supports I'll quit raising them," he said with finality.

Choppers, following orders, went to work felling the 25-year-old trees. This afternoon most of Reed's cherry trees had been cut down. He'll keep a few for his own use.

Divorce Granted To Athlete's Wife

Patricia Shoener, A. 400 Finkbine park, was granted a divorce from former SUI football player Herbert G. Shoener, A. Iowa City, Monday in district court.

District Judge Harold D. Evans granted Mrs. Shoener custody of the couple's child, Scott Thomas, 1, and gave Shoener the right to visit his son.

Evans also granted Mrs. Shoener all the couple's furniture and household goods, ordered Shoener to pay $35 a month for support of the child and the sum of $300 to Mrs. Shoener in alimony.

Shoener and his twin brother, Harold, were ends on the SUI football team in 1946 and 1947. Herbert Shoener played for the Washington Redskins professional football team the last two seasons.

One Killed, Two Injured In Ottumwa Accident

OTTUMWA (AP)—Earl Shaw, Jr., 22, Chillicothe, Iowa, was killed and two companions were injured Monday when their car plunged off a county road six miles west of here.

Walter Jager, 38, Chillicothe, was hospitalized here with a fractured leg, but Eugene Johnston, 18, Chillicothe, received only cuts and bruises. He was released from the hospital after emergency treatment.

Authorities said the youths' car hurtled out of control as it crossed a railroad track and plunged over a 30-foot embankment.

Damage Suit Filed
A $772.04 auto damage suit was filed against Gerald J. Milder, route 2, Iowa City, in district court Monday by Norman E. Drew, Cedar Rapids.

The suit was for damage to Drew's 1949 Ford convertible allegedly received in a collision March 25 with Milder's 1939 Ford on highway 6 three miles east of Iowa City.

Rain Puts Damper On Peace Parade

CHICAGO (AP)—A "peace demonstration" on busy State street was rained out Monday.

A heavy thunderstorm struck the loop at 6 p.m., the hour when the "Women's committee of the Chicago Labor Peace conference" had announced that it would parade.

The women, it was announced, planned to wear mourning dress and carry signs that "Peace is possible" and "We don't want to be widows and gold star mothers of World War III."

News photographers and reporters had assembled to watch the proceedings but the marchers never showed.

The parade was billed as part of a "Women's Peace day" program in which "100 peace teams" would distribute 50,000 leaflets to women in the loop. The peace teams didn't show, either.

Most of the committee members listed on the news announcement were members of left-wing unions such as the united electrical workers, mine, mill and smelter workers and international fur and leather workers.

Iowa Citian Reports Attempted Car Entry

Mrs. Fanny G. Dunkel Monday reported to police someone broke the left front window in her car and tried to enter it Sunday afternoon while it was parked in front of the Dunkel hotel, 6 E. Capitol street.

Mrs. Dunkel, proprietor of the hotel, said the person didn't gain entrance to the car, however, and nothing was missing.

Long Dormant Alaskan Volcano Erupts

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA (AP)—Mount Pavloff, a long dormant volcano on the Alaska peninsula, erupted early Monday and sent a tremendous cloud of flame and ash 25,000 feet into the air.

The 8,900 foot peak was still spouting fire and lava at 5 p.m. Monday and dust and ash was settling on the surrounding area.

Fear was expressed here that the eruption might have inflicted casualties in the native village of Pavloff, 30 miles southwest of the peak.

Bob Reeve of the Reeve Alutian Airways, whose plane flew near the volcano early Monday, said the heavy flow of lava was pouring down the north side of the mountain. The village is on the north side.

"There was flame coming out from all sides of the peak," Reeve said, "and the huge cloud of dust from the explosion extended more than 3,000 feet above sea level."

"The whole top of the peak appears to have blown right off."

Senate Group Rejects Switzer for Judgeship

WASHINGTON (UP)—The senate judiciary committee voted Monday to reject the White House nomination of Carroll O. Switzer, Des Moines, for a federal judgeship in the southern Iowa district.

Chairman Pat McCarran, (D-Nev.), said the committee voted 10 to 0 to send Switzer's nomination to the senate floor with an unfavorable report. Three members of the committee were absent from the closed door session.

Switzer, now holding the judgeship under an interim appointment, received President Truman's nomination a year ago, but Sen. Guy Gillette, (D-Iowa), immediately put forth objections to the White House choice.

The senator, who said he considered the nomination a "personal affront," reiterated his opposition when Mr. Truman placed Switzer on the bench last winter under an interim appointment. At committee hearings, Gillette testified that he considered Switzer's nomination the result of political conniving. Gillette had recommended two others for the post.

Final action on Switzer's nomination still was up to the full senate, but it was considered unlikely the Des Moines lawyer would gain confirmation, particularly since Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, (R-Iowa) sides with Gillette in opposing the nomination.

At Des Moines, Switzer said he had no comment on the committee's action. Iowa Democratic Chairman Jake More said he would wait until learning the committee's reason for its decision before commenting.

As You Like It — Shakespeare Done Justice

By JACK LARSON
It's a pleasure to report that Shakespeare was done justice at the University theatre Monday night.

The occasion was the opening of "As You Like It," perhaps the Bard's silliest play but certainly one of the most ingratiating — if well presented.

After the all-time low registered by "Life With Mother," the Shakespearean comedy seemed to glow all the brighter — despite the dim, literally spotty lighting. A comedy requires illumination as much from electric outlets as from within its actors.

Arnold Gillette's set impressed one as more appropriate to tragedy, but it seemed more at home on the stage once action moved to Arden.

The cast is large and on the whole sufficient to the needs of this Shakespearean pastoral to end pastorals.

In the roles of Rosalind and Touchstone, which seem to be most coveted roles in "As You Like It," are two persons who are not speaking in their native tongue.

If one had seen Elisabeth Bergner in a film version where her accent precluded understanding, he might have come to the University theatre with misgivings.

But Sylvia Danilewski is a breathtaking Rosalind who reads her lines with spirit and meaning; and Tadeusz Danielowski's Touchstone is a brilliant comic characterization which consistently amused. Although Shakespeare is preferable in traditional British-style English, Monday night proved an unqualified triumph for the Danilewskis.

As Orlando, Robert Price is more than pleasing, earning the audience's approval early in the proceedings. As Celia, Frances Artley has a great deal of appeal and charm.

Deserving citation, among the cast, too, are James Oyster, excellent as Frederick; Theodore Herstand, assured as the foppish LeBeau; Carmen Decker, riotous as Audrey; and Gene Whiteman, as both Adam and William, a typical country bumpkin.

Virgil Godfrey did not seem either melancholy or affectedly melancholy as Jaques, although his "All the world's a stage" speech was skillfully staged.

In fact, a vast measure of the success of the current "As You Like It" must go to Director Lewin Goff. Once an over-intense Act One has been breached, the action proceeds with desired lightness.

Goff's direction has never yielded less than a superlative production, and his "As You Like It" continues to evidence the enthusiasm and imaginative touches he seems to inject into his assignments, varied as they have been.

Helen Forrest Lauterer's costumes are up to her ever-reliable standards of good taste and attractiveness. Reactions to productions of Shakespeare depend much upon a "De gustibus" criterion. The University theatre's show, which runs through Saturday night, should please most tastes.

Proper Diet, Insulin Help Diabetics Live Says SUI Doctor

Well-balanced diets and daily administration of insulin can help prevent complications from diabetes, according to an SUI doctor.

He was Dr. Robert L. Jackson, associate professor in the pediatrics department, who spoke last week at the International Pediatrics congress in Zurich, Switzerland.

Jackson reported on a study of 75 diabetic patients at University hospitals.

He said 30 percent of the patients had maintained good, over-all control of the disease. No significant degenerative changes were noted in these patients.

The remaining 70 percent showed various complications such as effects on eyes, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and other metabolic disturbances.

Insulin dosage and length of time the patient had the disease influenced these changes. Earlier control of the disease with insulin increased chances for preventing the changes, he said.

The SUI study showed that food intake had to be adjusted to suit various physical activities.

Catholics Propose Central High School

Iowa City's Catholic community is considering building a million-dollar high school here, Msgr. Carl H. Meinberg disclosed Sunday.

The proposal calls for a central Catholic high school with a capacity of 400 students. Additional buildings would house teachers and the head of the school.

Iowa City has two Catholic parochial schools with high school facilities. However they are able to accommodate a total of only 200 high school students.

Msgr. Meinberg, head of the Iowa City Catholic district, said he favors a consolidated high school which would be open to students from parishes surrounding Iowa City.

He emphasized that adoption of the plan is dependent upon the approval of Catholic laymen here.

Ainsworth said he will visit his sister in Atlanta, Ga., and his mother in Thomasville, Ga., before leaving for Keeler airforce base, Miss., Aug. 7. He taught principles of advertising two years at SUI. Ainsworth, a captain in the airforce reserve, was in airforce intelligence during World War II. He said he planned to return to SUI to finish work on his M.A. degree when he is discharged from the airforce. Twenty journalism and commerce faculty members held a luncheon in Ainsworth's honor Monday in the Iowa Union.

Two Suspects Held In Atom Spy Case

NEW YORK (AP)—The two newest suspects in the Klaus Fuchs-Harry Gold atom spy case were held in $25,000 bail each Monday amid strong new indications that further arrests may be made soon.

Federal Judge T. Hoyt Davis fixed the bail for Abraham Brothman, 36, and Miriam Moskowitz, 34. He allowed them to wait until Wednesday — since Miss Moskowitz' attorney was not immediately available — before pleading innocent or guilty to conspiracy charges.

U.S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol told the judge the government's spy hunt still is "very actively" under way.

Saypol also asked and was granted an adjournment until Aug. 15 in the arraignment of Julius Rosenberg, 32, one of four U.S. citizens arrested earlier in connection with the Soviet atom spy ring.

"This case is still the subject of very intensive investigation," Saypol told U.S. Commissioner Edward W. MacDonald "There are intensive ramifications which I am not free to disclose. We are getting more information every hour."

Seven Fined Total of $127.50 in Police Court Monday by Trott

Darwin P. Cox, 1027 Keokuk street, was fined $30 on two counts Monday by Police Judge Emil G. Trott.

He was fined $12.50 for operating an automobile without a valid operator's permit, and $17.50 for failing to yield the right of way, thereby causing an accident.

The accident was one in which three teen-age girls were injured when their car and the truck driven by Cox collided at the intersection of North Dodge and North Summit streets July 6.

Two sisters, Pauline Sueppel, 16, and Alice Sueppel, 14, both of 233 N. Dodge street, and Beverly Treptow, 16, of 622 E. Market street were injured slightly in the accident.

In other action, Jesse Ray, route 4, was fined a total of $25 on charges of running two stop signs on North Dodge street July 30.

Joseph R. Pinney, 9 S. Linn street, was fined $27.50 on the charge of reckless driving on South Riverside drive.

Trott suspended the fine, however, on condition of "good behavior."

Robert W. Vander Zee, 915 E. Washington street, was fined $12.50 for driving without adequate brakes. He was also told not to drive his car until the brakes were repaired.

Gustaf G. Peterson, 315 S. Gilman, 303 E. Benton street, was fined $7.50 on a charge of intoxication. On a similar charge, Jack Callahan, 303 E. Benton street, was fined $7.50.

Street Marker Falls, Injures Student's Wife

Mrs. Rex E. Brisbee, 126 Quonset park, suffered a broken toe on her right foot and scratches on her right arm and left wrist Saturday night when a street marker fell from its post and struck her.

She and her husband, an SUI commerce student, were waiting for a bus on a corner at Park road and Park street about 7 p.m. when the accident occurred.

She said her husband had just finished touching the marker, and saying it "sure was loose," when it toppled and struck his back, bouncing against her. He was not injured.

Crandic Track Washed Out by Rain Sunday

Heavy rain early Sunday evening caused a 20-foot washout of a track section of the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City railway at Meyer's overhead, one and one-half miles south of Cou Falls.

All trains on the Crandic route were halted after 7:30 p.m., with traffic being resumed at 5:15 a.m. Monday.

35 Persons Aboard The washout was discovered at 8 p.m. Sunday when an Iowa City bound train was stopped near Cou Falls for safety purposes. The 35 persons aboard were returned to Cedar Rapids and had to secure other means of transportation.

According to V. R. Dvorak, general agent for the Iowa City Crandic branch, a similar washout occurred at the same place July 8. Since then a 10-mile speed limit has been placed on all trains approaching that vicinity.

Highline Pole Burns In Iowa City, a highline pole was burned when wind and rain allegedly shook loose a live wire of a 33,000 electric transmission line on the Crandic railway bridge near Westlawn dormitory.

Firemen were summoned to direct traffic while workmen from the Iowa City Iowa-Illinois Electric company repaired the damage. The transmission line is owned by the Iowa Electric company, Cedar Rapids.

Water backed up as high as two and one-half feet in east Iowa City at the intersections of Center and Dearborn streets, while 10 inches of water was reported at the Sheridan avenue bridge and at the intersection of Rundell and Center streets.

These were due to clogged sewers, according to Frank Michell, acting street commissioner. Two city street workers were called at about 9 p.m. Sunday to repair a tree damaged by lightning on the 400 block on Iowa avenue.

CAA officials reported .56 of an inch of rain fell at the airport Sunday evening.
