Faunce, Loehwing Named New Deans

Two new deans have been appointed to the SUI faculty, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Tuesday.

Dale Faunce, now counselor for men at Michigan State college, has been named dean of students, and Prof. Walter F. Loehwing, head of the SUI department of botany, has been appointed dean of the graduate college.

Loehwing has been acting dean of the graduate college since April, when H.H. Davis, former executive and graduate dean, was named SUI provost in an administrative reorganization.

Loehwing will continue for the time as head of the botany department.

Succeeds Goetsch
Faunce, 39, succeeds Walter R. Goetsch, who was killed in a highway crash May 8. Faunce's appointment is effective about Sept. 15.

He has been at Michigan State college since 1946 as consultant in adult education, assistant counselor for men, and counselor.

He is a graduate of the Western Michigan college of education, and coached and taught physical education and social science at Sturgis, Mich., from 1935 to 1937 and from 1939 to 1944.

Taught in Michigan
From 1938 to 1939, Faunce was coach and social science teacher at Dearborn, Mich., and from 1944 to 1946 he was coach and counselor at East Lansing, Mich.

He is married and has three children, Stephen, 12; Susan, 9; and William Dale, 2.

Loehwing has been at SUI since 1925, when he was assistant professor of botany. In 1928 he was associate professor and in 1930, a professor. He has been head of the department of botany since 1940.

Graduate of Chicago
Before coming to SUI, Loehwing was professor of chemistry and dean of the Oklahoma State school of mines.

He is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and received master of science and Ph.D. degrees there.

Senate Approves Loan Of $100-Million to Spain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate voted 65 to 15 Tuesday to lend Spain $100 million after Democratic leaders withdrew their objections in the face of appeals that Generalissimo Francisco Franco's aid is vital to the fight against communism.

If the house agrees, the move may force a major shift in United States policy toward Spain.

The senate agreed to the Spanish loan after taking steps to make sure the money is not taken out of the $2,726,000,000 approved Monday for a third year installment of the Marshall plan.

Truman Asks for O.K. To Arm Our Allies To Beat Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said Tuesday that the best way to prevent future outbreaks against the peace of the world is to see that our allies are properly armed.

That's why, he said, he's asking for $4-billion to arm anti-Communist countries.

"It is now clear," Mr. Truman said in a letter to Capitol Hill, "that the free nations must accelerate the efforts they are making to strengthen their common security."

Mr. Truman said he isn't sure how much each nation will need. But he gave this breakdown on the areas to be helped: North Atlantic, $3,504-million; Greece, Turkey, Iran, $193-million; Philippines, Asia, $303-million.

Mr. Truman scarcely had finished making his request before Chairman Millard Tydings (D-Md.) of the senate armed services committee said $4-billion isn't enough.

He said he wishes the President would ask for more. Tydings did not say how much he thinks Mr. Truman should ask for.

Truman Senatorial Choice Falls Behind In Missouri Election

From The Wire Service
President Truman's personal choice for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Missouri fell behind late Tuesday night after taking a lead in early returns.

Three other states — Kansas, Virginia and West Virginia — held primaries Tuesday. Voting was light in all four.

State Sen. Emery W. Allison, backed by the President, trailed former U.S. Rep. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., of St. Louis in 1,948 of the state's 4,678 precincts.

The vote gave Hennings 83,643, Allison 82,869. Three other candidates were far behind in Tuesday's balloting, regarded as a test of Mr. Truman's influence in his home state.

Kansas Gov. Frank Carlson, in a battle with old guard GOP leadership pulled ahead in the Republican primary battle for U.S. senator.

Republicans in Virginia picked their candidates in three congressional districts in the second GOP primary in the state's history.

Former U.S. Sen. Rush D. Holt who held office as a Democrat fought for nomination as a Republican congressman in West Virginia.

Missouri's incumbent Republican Sen. Forrest C. Donnell was assured for renomination with a 15 to 1 lead in the GOP contest.

Vets Service Office Pre-Registers 300

About 300 veterans who expect to attend SUI's fall semester have pre-registered at the veterans service office, 110 Iowa avenue, since Monday, an office official said.

The office will be accepting veterans pre-registration until the opening of the fall semester.

Purpose of the registration is to aid veterans in obtaining their aid checks on time, the spokesman said.

All veterans receiving degrees at Wednesday's commencement who expect to continue their studies this fall must apply for supplementary certificates of eligibility, the official said.

False Alarm

Firemen were called to the SUI theater about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday when clouds of steam pouring from a ventilator vent were mistaken for smoke.

Louis Buffington, A, Iowa City, said he saw the steam, assumed it to be smoke from a fire and rushed to a phone to turn in the alarm.

Firemen took three fire trucks to the theater. While water hoses were being connected to hydrants, two firemen gained entrance to the building and discovered steam escaping from what appeared to be a broken steam pipe.

Truman Sure To Get Price, Wage Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Standby powers for President Truman to invoke price and wage controls and rationing if he sees the need became a virtual certainty Tuesday.

Two developments created that prospect despite the stand of solid blocs in both houses of congress against even the limited economic curbs the President has proposed:

1. The house Republican policy committee agreed to it.
2. The President himself sent the lawmakers word that he has no objections provided addition of the extra authority does not slow up action on the allocation, priorities and credit curbs powers he has asked.

The President wrote to Chairman Burnet Maybank (D-S.C.) of the senate banking committee as that group neared a decision on expansion of the Truman proposals. A copy went to Chairman Brent Spence (D-Ky.) of the house banking committee.

The GOP policy group's views were set forth at the house end of the first session just before the house itself started debate on the plan. The house committee already has approved the administration bill, watered down in some respects from the White House recommendations.

Tentatively the senate committee has okayed it too, in about the same form.

Graduating Seniors Requested to Claim Their 1950 Hawkeyes

Seniors expecting to graduate this month, and graduates of June, 1950, have been requested to pick up their Hawkeye annuals in The Daily Iowan business office in the basement of East hall.

Only graduates and graduating seniors who have had their eligibility for the annual approved by the SUI registrar and business office will be given annuals, according to Bernard Stern, administrative assistant to the Student Board of Publications, Inc.

To receive a Hawkeye now, the senior student must have filled out a card during registration requesting a book.

The publications office is not responsible for annuals held more than 90 days, Stern added.

The Daily Iowan business office is open from 8 a.m. through 6 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. Saturday.

IRAN LOANS OKAYED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Tuesday notified the government of Iran it is willing to lend funds for development of productive capacity and to raise Iranian living standards.

B-29s Blast Korean Metal, Chemical Plants

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE IN JAPAN (AP) — United States B-29 superfortresses made their second mass attack in three days on the North Korean war production center of Hungnam and preliminary reports indicated they almost blotted it out of existence.

Targets were the chemical and non-ferrous metal plants of the Chosen (Korean) Nitrogen Fertilizer company.

Fifty superfortresses dropped more than 400 tons of bombs, added to 500 dropped Sunday.

The weather was perfect. The first planes saw their targets clearly. Their bombs started a series of explosions. Flames spurted 500 feet in the air. Smoke rose to 8,000 feet. The rest of the planes had to bomb by radar because of it. By the time the last plane left the smoke column was 15,000 feet high. Explosions were still rocking planes flying at that altitude, approximately three miles above the target area.

Jubilant bomber crews said they believed it was the most successful aerial attack since the Korean war started.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur had announced that aerial observation showed the Hungnam war production area 85 percent damaged in the first raid — 30 percent wiped out, 40 percent heavily damaged and 15 percent less seriously damaged.

The area contains the most important chemical works in the entire far east, and, Gen. MacArthur said, one of the most important in all Asia.

Army Names Units Of National Guard In Mobilization Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The four national guard divisions called to active service were identified by the army Tuesday as the 28th of Pennsylvania, the 40th of California, the 45th of Oklahoma and the 43rd of Rhode Island, Vermont and Connecticut.

The army also disclosed that the two guard regimental combat teams called up are the 198th of South Dakota and the 278th of Tennessee. All are due to be federalized on or about Sept. 1, but division commanders may grant individual deferments for as long as six months.

An army spokesman said the units will be kept on active service for "at least one year." He was unable to say where they will be sent after training. The army disclosed earlier that some guardsmen "may go overseas."

All four divisions boast brilliant combat records in past wars and are led by men who figured prominently in the allied victory over Germany and Japan in World War II.

"We are sure they will attain a very high standard of combat efficiency in a very short time," a spokesman said. "Just where they will be used after completion of training will depend on the situation."

War at a Glance

Korea — American troops and tanks launch counterattack west of vital port of Pusan at southern end of battlefield. South Koreans and U.S. 25th Infantry division pull back in northwest corner of front to straighten link with U.S. First Cavalry division. North Korean Communists drive to within 40 miles of Pusan and 25 miles of Taegu. About 50 U.S. B-29s fire North Korean explosives center at Hungnam with more than 400 tons of bombs, making the second raid there in three days.

Washington — Defense department announces call of 28th, 40th, 43rd and 45th infantry divisions and two regimental combat teams of the national guard to active duty. Australian Prime Minister Menzies tells U.S. house Australian and possibly New Zealand troops will be sent to Korea as soon as possible.

It's a Boy, Mrs. Cornelius

DURANGO, COLO. (AP) — A young man hurried into the Western Union office, scribbled a message, slapped a handful of change on the counter and hastened out again.

The telegram read: "Mrs. Cornelius. It's a boy (Signed) Johnny." Western Union decided regrettably Mrs. Cornelius would have to get the good news some other way. Nobody in the office had any idea where Mrs. Cornelius and Johnny are.

Russia Fails to Eject Chinese UN Delegate

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — Russia's speech here since he began his boycott last Jan. 13.

Charges U.S. Imperialism
Malik charged the United States is trying "every way to broaden the warfare, not only against the people of Korea but also against the people of Vietnam, China and Indo-China."

"The United States aims at seizing Korea," Malik argued. "The ruling circles are not at all concerned with ending hostilities."

The council voted eight to three against Malik's ruling that T. F. Tsiang, of Nationalist China, is an "usurper" and "represents nobody."

The United States, Britain, France, Nationalist China, Cuba, Ecuador, Egypt and Norway voted against Malik's expected ruling that Tsiang was not a member of the council.

At that time Iowa Water service company workers had just succeeded in stopping a 20-foot spray of water from a pipe under Washington street near the north entrance to the library.

The leak began about 4 p.m. when a mechanical ditch digger struck the pipe, a three-quarter inch service line, whose existence has been forgotten.

JAKOB A. MALIK (right) is welcomed back to the UN by Secretary-General Trygve Lie. The Russian delegate ended his seven-month boycott as he returned to take his seat as council president Monday. Malik renewed his fight to seat Red China in the world peace organization, but was voted down Tuesday.

Herky's Creator Takes Colorado University Job

Herky the Hawk will get a buffalo for a half-brother this fall when Herky's creator, Richard Spencer III, leaves his SUI school of journalism post for a new position at the University of Colorado.

Spencer will become editor of university publications at the Boulder, Colo., school beginning Sept. 1.

His resignation from SUI's faculty will take effect Aug. 31.

Spencer has been managing editor of SUI Information service, and a member of the school of journalism faculty for three years. He has taught classes in editorial cartooning and magazine production.

Herky entered the world in 1948 when Spencer was asked to submit a design for a symbol for the SUI athletic department.

Spencer studied stuffed hawks in Macbride hall and turned in seven designs. Six of the drawings were of conventional hawks, but as an afterthought he included a caricature version.

The caricature won hands down and Herky was born.

Spencer was born in Dallas, Texas, but he spent most of his early years in Fort Worth, Texas.

He entered his first rodeo at the age of eleven. Specializing in bareback riding and bull riding, Spencer spent most of his summers for the next ten years as a rodeo performer. He participated in rodeos throughout the southwest, and rode in Iowa state fair rodeos several times.

He entered SUI in 1939, enrolled in journalism and worked on The Daily Iowan. He was a member of the advanced infantry ROTC unit here.

Spencer graduated from SUI in December, 1942, and was immediately commissioned an infantry second lieutenant. Later he became an officer in the paratroops and served in Italy, France, Belgium and Holland during World War II.

After his discharge from the army, he obtained work in the promotion department of Look magazine. He spent two years there doing layout and design.

Spencer returned to SUI in 1947.

In addition to teaching, he enrolled for graduate work at SUI.

There are no teaching duties connected with Spencer's new assignment. He will be concerned primarily with pamphlets and booklets of a promotional nature, and may serve in an advisory capacity for student publications.

Spencer is married, and has a daughter, Barbara Jo, 6, and a son, Richard IV, 2.

(Daily Iowan Photo)

FACING THE FUTURE is Richard Spencer III, SUI journalism instructor and creator of Herky the Hawk. Spencer announced his resignation Tuesday. He will become editor of university publications at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo. He is surrounded by his collection of original cartoons by such prominent cartoonists as Al Capp, George McManus and Ham Fisher. And peering over Spencer's right shoulder is Herky.

GI Bill's Sixth Year —

This summer marked the sixth birthday of the GI bill, the law passed in 1944 to aid World War II veterans in their swing back into civilian life. With the bill now about halfway through its scheduled operation time, it seems time we took stock of its success and printed a few congratulatory handshakes.

Inspired and written by the American Legion, the bill was aimed at preventing a repetition of the post-World War I days when the discharged veteran, lacking care and benefits, was pushed around. The experience and knowledge gained in those days went into the writing of the GI bill. Now, after six years in effect, the bill has aided a large majority of the 15.3-million veterans eligible under the act.

A breakdown of the bill's three major provisions shows:

1. Some 7-million veterans, men and women, have attended school or trained on-the-job or on-the-farm under the educational benefits. All together veterans spent 95-million months in the classrooms, at the workbench or on the farm. This is an average of 15 months training per veteran. Only four percent—around 300,000 have exhausted their enlistments, but under present regulations most veterans must begin their courses by July 25, 1951, if they wish to continue under the bill. Final cutoff for most veterans comes on July 25, 1956.

2. Over 2-million World War II veterans have obtained loans under the bill. The majority of these have been used to build homes and the rest to open businesses or to equip farms. Less than one percent of the loans were defaulted to the extent that the veterans administration had to make them good. The loan program still has seven years to run and VA officials have urged veterans to think things over carefully before requesting a loan. There is plenty of time to make a wise decision.

3. The third major GI bill benefit—unemployment and self-employment allowances—ended for most veterans in 1949. About 9-million men drew readjustment allowances with the average veteran finding employment after only a month and a half on the VA rolls.

The GI bill has affected the lives of nearly 15-million men and women directly. It has cost a great deal of money, but where could such money be invested more wisely?

Even though the bill was designed in appreciation to the veteran, we believe that some feeling of gratitude should exist on the part of the veteran, himself.

U.S. Policy in Asia . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

The policy of the American government in Korea is another grim testimony to the fact that our state department and other policy-making agencies have completely disregarded fundamental historical truths relative to Asia and have again underestimated the impact of the well integrated Communist program on the minds of King — suffering peoples.

Our leaders have obviously learned nothing from the colossal error we pulled in China. They have tightly closed their eyes to the social, economic and political facts of life in Asia and have repeatedly brushed off the frantic warnings from veteran far eastern observers who have long seen the Oriental conflagration in the making.

To say . . . that the North Korean offensive "couldn't" possibly have started except with Russian instructions and that the Soviets could call the whole thing off with a snap of their fingers, is pure fantasy. The Korean struggle has all the earmarks of both a genuine civil war and another showdown between the USSR and this country.

It seems unlikely that the successful North Korean offensive . . . is due entirely to the superior weapons of the invaders. The North Koreans obviously have found a vital and dynamic faith for which they are willing to die. The South Koreans have demonstrated graphically they have no stomach for this war and have no faith in their rightist leader, the aged and unpopular Syngman Rhee. To make matters worse, they probably have no more love for their western allies than do the great mass of Asiatics who for years have been systematically exploited by American, French, Dutch and English imperialists.

It's no secret what is needed in Asia . . . Radical, widesweeping reform is essential to start the Asiatic countries out of the depths of unspeakable poverty and suffering. Apparently the Soviets have realized the intensity of the Chinese and Korean problems, The Communist program of land reform at least seems to be the sort of tangible remedy desired by these desperate peoples.

If we are to turn the tide in the ideological war between the Communist and non-Communist worlds in our favor, we must recognize change and must be sensitive of national peculiarities. We must remember that what is applicable and good for the United States is not necessarily so in the Orient or in Europe. We must realize that vague generalizations about the "democratic way of life" will not go over with people who are aware of the undemocratic treatment afforded the Oriental on the west coast and the Negro everywhere in this country.

The Asiatics are . . . seeking self-determination as America did in the 18th century. The Asiatics demand a radical economic realignment and extensive reform and generally seem to want no part of the "free enterprise" system. The Oriental laboring classes can't wait fifty years or so to achieve recognition (as did American labor), they can't afford to dump vegetables in ditches and let fruit rot on the trees when the price isn't right, and above all their plight is so critical they can't possibly entrust their sensitive economies to the caprice of individual entrepreneurs.

The U.S. government could, with political and technological know-how and American dollars, support a great, wide-sweeping socialistic-type reform for Asia. This program could be carried out effectively within the democratic framework. The cost, if tremendous, would still be much less in terms of cold cash than all-out mobilization — to say nothing of the millions who will most certainly be murdered if we have a third world war.

We cannot stamp out the idea of communism with tanks, planes and troops. We must formulate a program that is concrete, fast-moving and progressive to offer the have-not nations of the world. Only by removing the causes that drive men to communism can the western world hope to achieve victory.

Peace Group . . .

TO THE EDITOR:

The following statement was adopted by 30 townspeople and students at the July 19 meeting of Iowa City for Peace:

"Iowa City for Peace is a local organization intent upon securing a permanent world-wide peace.

"We believe that a fundamental and necessary part of achieving peace is control of weapons of mass destruction, including atomic weapons, and the limitation of conventional armaments through the mediation and arbitration of the existing United Nations organization; that the strengthening of and working with the agencies of international cooperation and aid can serve in attaining our purposes.

"We believe that only by registering their sentiments can the American people be heard; that in taking this position we are at one with the peoples of the world.

"If enough people fight together for peace they will never fight each other in war."

In accordance with the expressed desire of the group at this meeting, Miss Frieda Schwenkmeier was invited as the first of a series of speakers on peace. We plan to continue our sponsorship of various speakers with divergent views, all basically interested in the cause of peace.

We chose to support the sentiments of the International Red Cross resolution adopted at Geneva in 1949 and reaffirmed in April 1950, asking governments . . . to do everything possible to bring about an understanding on the atomic bomb . . . Before our utilization of this resolution, the local Red Cross chapter was consulted but it had no information.

Contrary to unverified accusations directed at our efforts, we are a non-partisan group supporting only the peace sentiment of the world's population. Thus far 224-million people all over the world have signed world peace petitions.

We offer our support to any individual or group working for peace.

Our petition reads:

- 1. The atomic bomb and all weapons of mass destruction be banned.
- 2. An agreement be reached for weapons.
- 3. Peace be insured through full employment of arbitration and mediation.

We urge all people who oppose war and wish to insure peace to sign our petitions.

Dakota Farm Reaps Missing $170 in Field

AMIDON, N.D. (AP) — A north Dakota farmer harvested a cash crop the other day — $170 worth of cash.

Martin Steiner, who farms near Amidon, N.D., lost his billfold containing $170 while discing a field. The next day he went back with a hayrake and "harvested" his crop.

Return of the Native

By TOM DORSEY

THE TRUTH HURTS: Lauritz Melchior, the noted opera singer, says the current headlines indicate once again that war is better at abolishing nations than nations are at abolishing wars!

THAT'LL FIX YA: A restaurant owner in Milwaukee served a chicken dinner to a graduating class of 40 boys. The father of one of the boys said he would take care of the check.

The restaurant owner handed him a bill for $140. The father then smilingly handed back a $20 bill and a faded check more than two years old.

The restaurant owner recognized the check as one he had written and the father remembered it as one that had bounced twice.

The restaurant owner had a fit and called police; they told him to take the $20 and "shut up." So the bad check came home to roost. And another guy found that "crime does not pay."

THEY'RE NEVER TOO OLD:

One SUI coed was saying to another, "I know he's rich, but isn't he too old to be considered eligible?"

Said the other, "Honey, he's too eligible to be considered old." Filthy lucre has a habit of making 'em eligible.

IT SEEMS TO ME: That if you always watch the clock, you'll always remain one of the hands.

SAME STORY, NEW WAR: The top sergeant lined up a new bunch of draftees after a day of drilling. They were footsore, hungry and weary.

"Any of you guys know anything about shorthand?" asked the sergeant.

Seven eager young patriots stepped forward.

"Okay," grinned the sergeant. "Report to the kitchen. Cook says he's short-handed on dish washers."

SHE FOOLED 'EM: In 1895, when she was 46 years old, Mrs. Emma Card was told by her doctors she had less than 24 hours to live.

Yesterday, 55 years later, she celebrated her 101st birthday at a rest home in Attleboro, Mass.

NO WASTE HERE: The Merchandise Mart in Chicago, which rents out 2,973,386 square feet of floor space and is the world's largest commercial office building, leased its roof this week to Socialite Philip D. Armour Jr.

Armour said he'd use the Mart roof as a private landing field for his helicopter when he commutes between his suburban Lake Forest home and his LaSalle street office.

What will they think of next?

DID YOU KNOW THAT: Schaeffer hall, which houses the administrative offices of the college of liberal arts among other things, is named for Charles Ashmead Schaeffer, who was president of SUI from 1887 to 1898.

TSK, TSK: One woman asked another if she thought "my husband will love me when my hair is grey?" The other replied, "Why not? He's loved you through three shades already."

BEST YOU TELL THE TRUTH: A masked man visited a grocery recently and pointing a pistol at the grocer said: "You told police I got $50, but I didn't get that much when I robbed you the other night. I came back for the rest."

ABOUT TOWN: Typical shopper — "It's so hard to find just what you want these days!" Weary clerk — "Yes, especially when you don't know what it is."

OH, WHAT YOU SAID: In Chicago Saturday night, a WGN announcer introduced Iowa's Democratic Senator Guy Gillette as a distinguished Iowa Republican. Guess he's just worked for Col. McCormick so long that he doesn't realize Dewey and the Republicans didn't win the last election as the Colonel's paper said.

War Scare Buying Of Food Declining, Retail Check Shows

CHICAGO (AP) — A material decline in war scare buying of food was reported Tuesday by the National Association of Retail Grocers.

Mrs. R. M. Kiefer, secretary-manager of the association, said the report was based upon a telegraphic survey of key retail outlets in all sections of the nation. Replies were almost unanimous in reporting little or no hoarding indications and normal buying during the week-end.

Mrs. Kiefer said her query brought no reports of scarcities of any kind. Even sugar, the item in greatest demand during recent weeks, she said, is in good supply, although some stores have not restocked fully as yet.

The survey also checked on retail and wholesale food prices. Price increases at supplier or wholesale level were reported in Minnesota, Idaho, Michigan, Massachusetts, Washington, Iowa, Texas, New York, Oklahoma, Virginia, Ohio and Maryland. The advances, in terms of retail prices, amounted to five to 10 percent on coffee, two to 10 percent on sugar, one to three percent on butter, 10 to 18 percent on round and sirloin steak, 10 to 12 percent on bacon, and four to eight percent on soap. Milk and bread prices also have increased at wholesale levels. Retail prices were up on these items, Mrs. Kiefer said, but store owners reported they were trying to hold the line against rises.

Excess Profits Tax Demanded in Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Insistent demands were heard at the capitol Tuesday for a stiff excess profits tax to curb profiteering, and for a deep slash in non-defense spending.

Today the senate finance committee takes up President Truman's proposal for a $5-billion tax boost, mostly on normal individual and corporation incomes, and the house ways and means committee studies curbs on defense contract profits.

In advance of these committee sessions, there were these important developments Tuesday:

1. Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.), a member of the finance committee, said he wants the jump in taxes increase effective Oct. 1. But he said he wants the jump in taxes accompanied by a $5-billion reduction in government non-defense spending.

2. Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.), a house ways and means member, gave notice that he will insist that an excess profits tax be levied on corporations, effective on 1951 income.

Byrd told newsmen he is appealing to the President to join in a move to slash non-defense spending. He said the present budget calls for $11.6-billion in non-defense spending by the same government agencies that got only $6.4-billion in 1948.

Soviet Fighters Based in Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — American authorities say they believe that Russian fighter strength superior to anything the United States now has in the far east is based in Asia not far from the Korean conflict.

They think the Russian planes are in eastern Siberia and possibly elsewhere.

So far, the temptation to Russia to reinforce the feeble North Korean air force has not been great. With the advantage of initiative and large quantities of Russian-made tanks and artillery, the Communist army has achieved victory after victory almost without air support.

Now, however, Pentagon officials say they are convinced that American reinforcements will stop the drive to throw the U.S. and South Korean troops into the sea.

Assuming that they are correct, the North Koreans ultimately should face a counter offensive by built-up American ground and air forces.

If the Americans and South Koreans ever succeed in driving them back out of the mountains, the chances of getting the Communist on the run would be increased. And an army on the run is highly vulnerable to air attack.

Under such circumstances, the Korean Communists undoubtedly would clamor increasingly for air protection.

In such a situation, would the Russians move to bolster the North Korean air force, whose Russian and Japanese-made planes have been almost ineffective since American planes went into action?

Available information indicates that the necessary trained pilots are not available among the North Koreans. American authorities also doubt that the Russians have trained enough Communist Chinese jet pilots to challenge the U.S. far eastern air force.

A third possibility is that the jet planes might be flown by Russian "volunteers," who would step out of the regular Russian air force to perform this duty.

Still another possible Russian move would be direct intervention with Russian pilots operating the planes. Such a move is anticipated only in case the Kremlin wants a general war.

the College Home Front by MARY QUALLEY

If you can't afford a television set, don't feel abused. You may be preserving the reading habits of your youngsters according to a New York educator.

Prof. Florence Brumbaugh, director of Hunter college elementary school, has made several statements based on a survey of 375 of the school's pupils from eight to eleven years old.

The youngsters, all having IQ's of 130 or more, were asked to choose their favorites from a list of diversions including television and books.

Forty-one 7-year-olds voted for television and 18 preferred books, while 24 11-year-olds choose television and 39 voted for books.

Prof. Brumbaugh feels this survey indicates that television is lessening the 7-year-olds' desire to read. "Teachers must take into account this new stimuli. Reading matter for small children must compete with television," she said. Little lost kittens and puppies lack the punch of a television western.

"It's too hot to eat," are words that challenge any housewife's imagination and zest for cooking. But if you have a few reserve ideas for light summer meals, you can interest the family in eating when the thermometer soars.

Try arranging a round platter with a ring of canned sardines, stuffed eggs topped with canned anchovy and tomato wedges.

Heap potato salad in the center of the platter, garnished with parsley. Add a few lemon or lime wedges and you will have a very appetizing main dish.

Enough of this dog's life business department: Vacationers will welcome a new unit that will feed puppy or tabby while the family is away.

The gadget is equipped with a time clock which rings at the appointed hour and the puppy's tray of food pops out of its hiding place in the unit.

When you want to remove grease from the top of your stove in a jiffy, dampen your wiping cloth with vinegar to cut the grease.

Here's good news for the gal with a slim budget and a tired-looking fall wardrobe. Designers have met them halfway with necktie scarfs that can be knotted at the throat like boy ties or looped over, four-in-hand style. Small touches like this do wonders to brighten a plain dress or blouse.

Sewing nylon material? Then be sure to use nylon thread. This is a good tip for mending too.

For a new taste treat, add some finely-chopped apples to your potato salad. They will lend a spicy flavor.

Keep this in mind when you serve cool drinks. Add chopped preserved ginger to cream cheese and use it as filling for nut bread sandwiches.

A vertical blind that can be taken down, laundered and returned to the windows in a matter of minutes is one of the newest developments in home decoration.

The blind is made of rayon fabric slats that are available in more than 20 different colors.

To wash or dry clean the slats, you remove them one at a time. A concealed rod will open or close the slats to any degree, permitting greater control of the daylight, than with horizontal blinds.

Red Cross Swimmers to Get Certificates

One hundred thirty seven Johnson county Red Cross-trained swimmers will be sent their certificates by mail today according to Gladys Scott, water safety chairman for the Johnson county Red Cross.

The swimmers, ranging from beginners to senior life savers and from children to adults, began their free training June 19, and finished with final tests last Friday.

Each student swimmer attended a total of 15 sessions.

This was the second summer swimming course was offered. It was begun last year with the opening of the new city pool and the local Red Cross offices hopes to conduct the course again next summer, Miss Scott said.

The Johnson county chapter of the American Red Cross provided instruction and the Iowa City recreation commission made the pool available without charge to the swimming group for morning classes.

This year was the first time classes were formed. Adults were placed in beginning and intermediate groups, separate from children's classes.

Instructing the classes were Philip Cady, G. Des Moines; Betty Everett, Iowa City; Jeanette Gund, G. St. Louis; June Korab, G. Iowa City and Betty McCue, G. Desaver.

All were experienced swimming instructors and hold Red Cross certified water safety instruction permits, officials said.

New Designs in Mind?

AN "ANNIE GET YOUR GUN" theme aids record sales when used by Sol Simkin, G. Chicago. Window displays that Sol has designed for a local record shop have been based upon many principles Sol has studied in commercial art. He is shown here critically surveying some of his work in process.

Student Window Decorator Inspired by Popular Tunes

Subject matter influences his selection of materials and theme in planning window displays for an Iowa City record shop, Sol Simkin, G. Chicago, says.

Sol plans to receive his master's degree in August. He prefers studying at SUI because of the "contemporary attitude" prevailing in the art department, he said.

Often the theme of commercial window displays is "dictated by the important thing at the moment," he said. For example, song-hits from currently popular Broadway plays are often featured in the window displays.

He is planning a special window to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the death of Johann Sebastian Bach. At that time his window will highlight Bach's compositions.

Music from popular movies coming to town are also often featured.

Eye Doesn't Focus An important factor in planning is the "idea of a unified window," he pointed out. Otherwise, the result is that the passerby is "psychologically uncomfortable." His eye doesn't focus on any particular thing in the window.

"Sometimes this disunity is desirable to convey a certain amount of excitement," he added. "This principle applies to displays of records from 'Annie Get Your Gun'."

Colors he uses for his designs are often determined by the color of the record albums. If the albums are a dull color, they are posed against a bright background to set them off. Black often makes an effective background, he said.

One of the chief aims is to achieve variety in height. Articles should be arranged in order to be seen easily from all directions and attract enough attention to retain interest.

On Modern Music When modern music is displayed, the window should be as "contemporary" as possible. In such an instance he aims to achieve an abstract design by the use of such material as string.

This gives the effect of "spatial depth," he pointed out. The window is not over-crowded and appears to have greater depth, or "streamlining."

Another important factor is the lettering on signs. The lettering should harmonize with the thing sold, he said. It must be simple and easy to read.

Sol has not used colored lighting yet in his windows, but is experimenting with it. However, he always "spot lights" the most important part of the entire display.

"The best window is one which is most effective and easiest to install," Sol said.

First of Three SUI Junior Music Shows Opening Here Today

The first of three junior music concerts this week sponsored by the SUI music department will be presented at 1 p.m. today in North Music hall.

Concerts are also scheduled for Thursday and Saturday. Admission to the concerts will be free.

The concerts will be presented by Johnson county high school and grade school students, who are participants in the SUI junior music program.

Today's concert program will include the following soloists and ensemble groups:

Annette Trachsel, flute, and Evelyn Lehman, oboe, "Sonata in D-minor," by Lucilliet.

Henry Holdt, horn, "Concerto," by Strauss, and Maurice Fahrney, clarinet, "Concerto No. 1 in F-minor, Opus 75," by Weber.

Violinists Sharon Thornberry and Carol Warner, "Violin Duet, Opus 38, No. 2," by Mazas.

Juanita Crow, baritone - euphonium, "Morocou Symphonique," by Guilmant.

Leora Lehman, bassoon, "Solo de Concert, Opus 35," by Pieve, by Boyce, and Howard Berg, cornet, "Don Quixote," by Smith.

An ensemble of Judy Hamilton, flute, Bill Webster, oboe, and Karen Paris, clarinet, "Allegro," by Lotti.

Playschool Parents To Meet Tonight

Parents who have children enrolled at the Veteran's Playschool will meet today at 8 p.m. in the playschool barracks, 12 E. Bloomington street, to discuss plans for the school's fall session.

Those who intend to enroll children in the fall are also invited to attend the meeting, according to Mrs. John Hummel, chairman.

The playschool was organized in 1947 as a supervised playgroup for children, between 2 1/2 and 5 years old, living in crowded trailer villages and barracks areas.

At the meeting, the parents will decide whether they want to operate a nursery school under the supervision of a trained teacher, or a playgroup which does not require specially trained personnel.

Medical Graduate To Practice Here

Dr. John R. Maxwell, a 1947 graduate of the SUI college of medicine, has announced he will begin practice in Iowa City as a pediatrician this week. His office will be in the Paul-Heien building.

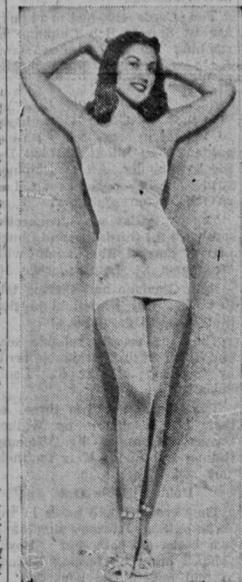

After graduation from SUI, Maxwell interned one year at Harper hospital, Detroit, and was resident physician two years at the Childrens Hospital of Michigan, Detroit.

Maxwell, 26, is a member of Alpha Kappa medical fraternity and Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholarship fraternity.

His wife, the former Marian Getman, received her B.A. degree from SUI in 1947. The couple is living at 635 S. Dodge street.

Maxwell was born at What Cheer, about 50 miles southwest of Iowa City. His father is a physician at What Cheer.

Professor to Discuss Mathematics Skills Study

Prof. H. Vernon Price, SUI department of mathematics and astronomy, will speak August 24 at the 10th summer meeting of the National Council of teachers of mathematics at the University of Wisconsin.

Price will discuss the SUI program of mathematics skills, of which he is supervisor. He will present some results of a study of the program, which was established by the college of liberal arts in 1944.

Something New for Fall

CORDUROY WILL GO FORMAL this fall, designers predict, in new bare-backed fashions. The new horseshoe neckline is shown here, with a provocative lace ruffling. Rhinestone buttons add just the right amount of dress-up air, and the full skirt is perfect for dancing.

It's Easy to Make Mayonnaise at Home With This Recipe

Many homemakers steer clear of making their own mayonnaise, probably because they think it is too expensive or too much trouble to do so.

However, here is a recipe for a tart mayonnaise that you can make in less than 30 minutes. It will yield approximately three and one-fourth cups of dressing, and the cost of ingredients is less than 25 cents.

Quick Mayonnaise Dressing 2 tablespoons evaporated milk 2 tablespoons water 2 eggs, beaten 1/4 cup flour 1/2 cup sugar 1 teaspoon salt 2 teaspoons dry mustard 1 cup vinegar 1 1/4 cups cold water

Dilute the evaporated milk with water, and combine it with the eggs. Mix the flour, sugar, salt and mustard thoroughly and add them gradually to the eggs and milk.

Bring the vinegar and water to a boil and stir into the egg mixture gradually. Cook the mayonnaise in a double boiler, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Then chill before serving.

Dr. Rembolt Speaks To Monticello Rotary

Dr. R. R. Rembolt, director of the state services for crippled children, spoke Monday night in Monticello at a Rotary club meeting.

He described work done for crippled children in Iowa by the services' mobile field clinic and hospital school for severely handicapped children, and by the orthopedics and pediatrics departments at University hospitals.

Rembolt is an assistant professor of pediatrics in the SUI college of medicine.

Brazil Nuts Trim Salads, Pastries, Sundaes

Every homemaker likes to beam on her family when they greet some new dessert or fancy dish with exclamations and compliments. And so she is constantly on the look-out for new ideas that she can try some day "when I've got time."

Rich, generous-sized Brazil nuts are good for decorative uses. When sliced lengthwise, they make attractive "petals" for food garnishing. The thin wafers may be salted and toasted for trim on cakes and cookies, or for nibbling.

There's a trick to shelling Brazil nuts easily. Cover them with cold water, bring to a boil slowly and cook for three minutes. Then drain, cover with cold water to chill quickly, drain again and crack the nuts immediately.

This process causes the nutmeat to shrink away from the shell. One pound of the in-the-shell nuts gives about one and one-third cups shelled.

To make salted Brazil nut chips, the nuts should be sliced, salted and carefully toasted. If one and one-third cups of the salted nuts are boiled two or three minutes in water, they can be cut in neat lengthwise slices.

Cut them about one-third inch thick and spread them in a shallow pan. Dot them with tablespoons of butter or margarine, sprinkle with one teaspoon of salt and toast in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 15 to 20 minutes. Stir the chips occasionally so that they will toast evenly.

Plain or salted, the Brazil nut chips make attractive garnishes for salads or casserole dishes as well as for pastries. Try them on ice cream sundaes too.

Iowa City Teen-Agers Attend Red Cross Camp

Two Iowa City teen-agers will represent Johnson county at the Junior Red Cross training center which began Tuesday and continues through Aug. 11 at Clear Lake camp, Dowling, Mich.

The two, Robert Reider, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Reider, 1181 Hotz avenue, and Julia A. Fay, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fay, 429 Kirkwood avenue, will be among the 120 boys and girls expected to attend the leadership camp.

General subjects to be covered at the camp are Red Cross — national and international, American Red Cross chapter organization and program, Junior Red Cross councils, international activities and community service.

Children to Discuss SUI Speech Clinic

A group of ten students attending SUI's summer speech clinic will participate in a discussion of the clinic Thursday over station WSUI during a 30-minute program beginning at 11:15 a.m.

The students, who range from 12 to 16 years in age, have been working as a group since the opening of the clinic June 14. The clinic closes Friday.

McKenzie William Buck, Iowa City, a graduate assistant in the speech clinic's division of organic disorders, will serve as moderator during the program.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

RANDY WILLIAMS declares that selling books requires the power of suggestion rather than a ton of equipment. As an example, he tells how his firm sold 200,000 copies of 'The Secretary's Handbook'.

"There was no such thing as a list of private secretaries," says Williams, "so we acquired the next best thing: a list of important men who certainly had one secretary, and probably more. To each of these gentlemen we addressed a letter with the slogan, 'Don't Fire Your Secretary!' emblazoned on the envelope.

"Of course, nine out of ten secretaries tore open the letters themselves to see what was inside. What they found was so glowing a tribute to 'The Secretary's Handbook,' they insured ordering a copy immediately."

An eager student drank in Mr. Williams' words, and wrote in her notebook, "Always open the boss's mail."

Gene Fowler says it's harder to keep a secret from his wife than to smuggle daylight past a rooster.

Tigers Down Yanks, 7-3; Indians Win

Trout Hurls Detroit Into One-Game Lead

DETROIT (AP) — The veteran Paul (Dizzy) Trout, with a big assist from Vic Wertz's booming bat, turned back the New York Yankees, 7-3, on a six-hitter Tuesday night as the Detroit Tigers boosted their American league lead to a full game over the New Yorkers.

Trout was a last-minute pitching selection when young Art Houtteman, who was supposed to start, came up with a sore muscle in his side an hour before game time.

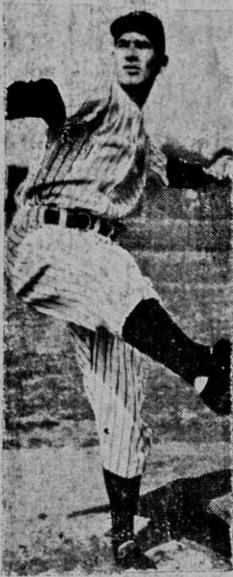

The 35-year-old veteran responded with a nifty pitching effort as he notched his seventh win as against two losses.

Tommy Byrne, victor in four previous appearances against the Tigers, was knocked out in the sixth.

Wertz continued torrid hitting streak with the sparkplug of the Tiger attack as he slammed out a pair of homers to run his total to 22, seven of them in the last five games. That tied a record set by Babe Ruth in 1921 and equaled by smiling Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1929.

His first four-bagger came in the third inning after Jerry Priddy had singled and it sent the Tigers into a 2-0 lead.

Red Sox Down Browns Again

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Boston Red Sox continued their domination over the St. Louis Browns Tuesday night as they scored an easy 7-3 victory. It was their 14th win in 15 games with the St. Louisans this season.

Mel Parnell, although plagued with wildness, coasted to his eighth victory. Extra base blows by Walt Dropo and Bobby Doerr accounted for four Redsox runs.

Parnell gave up eight bases on balls, but pitched shutout ball after the second. In that frame he filled the bases and Don Lenhardt unloaded them with a 3-run double.

Dropo's second double followed two Brownie wild throws to account for three runs in the third. Al Zarilla singled home a run in the fifth and Boston iced the contest with a three-run blast in the eighth. Dom DiMaggio doubled home one run and Doerr tripled in two more. Of nine passes given by Cuddles Marshall, five blossomed into runs.

Early Wynn Pitches Tribe Past Senators

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland shot to within one game of second place Tuesday night in the knottiest American league pennant race, defeating Washington, 8-2.

Before a crowd of 16,864, Early Wynn pitched his 11th victory, and the only man he had real trouble with was his old roommate, Mickey Vernon. Mickey tagged him for four hits, including a homer and a double that accounted for the Senators' only runs.

Wynn himself belted a homer in the third inning to open Cleveland's scoring, but the big noise in the Indians' attack was made by Catcher Jim Hegan.

Big Jim socked four hits — a homer, a triple, a double and a single — knocking in four runs. In all, Cleveland got 11 hits off Sid Hudson, the loser, and Al Sima.

Working himself smoothly out of a couple of tight spots, Wynn scattered 10 hits among the Senators. He struck out seven.

Hudson, Sima (6) Singleton (8) and Evans; Wynn (11-2) and Hegan, L.P. Hudson (10-8). Home runs — Vernon (4th), Wynn (2nd), Hegan (12th).

Pierce's Five-Hitter Sets Down Athletics For White Sox, 8-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Lefty Billy Pierce limited the Philadelphia Athletics to five hits and pitched the Chicago White Sox to an 8-1 victory before 8,079 persons Tuesday night to gain his eighth triumph.

Chico Carrasquel, rookie White Sox shortstop, extended his consecutive hitting streak to 20 straight games by collecting two of Chicago's nine safeties off starter Ed Burtschy and Bobby Shantz. Shantz allowed but two hits during the final five innings.

Switch-hitting Dave Phillely started the White Sox offensive with his No. 12 home run into the right field seats, batting left handed. It came in the first inning against the right handed Burtschy, the A's starter who was kayoed in the third.

A walk and three straight singles produced a pair of Chicago runs in the second, and Burtschy left during the third when the White Sox shelled him for three hits in making the score, 6-0.

Champion Open In Junior Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Unheralded Don Pauley of Des Plaines, Ill., upset defending champion Dean Lind of Rockford, Ill., in the first round and easily breezed through his second round afternoon match to top 16 survivors Tuesday in the 15th annual Chicago district golf association's junior open tournament.

Lind, co-medalist in the recent Illinois state men's meet and winner of the junior open the last two years, was upset in a 20 hole battle. Pauley went on to whip Gene Dannenberg of Waukegan, Ill., 6 and 4 in the second round.

Lind's defeat was ranked as one of the biggest surprises ever recorded in the under-21 tournament. The 19-year-old University of Michigan star was erratic off the tee and around the greens; he three putted from 15 feet to allow Pauley to square the match on the 18th.

St. Louis Takes Over 2nd Place

BOSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals regained the National league's runner-up berth Tuesday night when their rookie right hander Cloyd Bayler took back the Boston Braves, 6-1, with a six hit pitching performance. The last four Cardinals runs, however, were unearned because of Tribal infield miscues.

The Cards clinched matters against Starter Bob Chipman by combing his left handed slants for two runs on three singles in the fifth inning.

Nelson Triples
In the sixth Glenn Nelson bashed a triple to right field with one out and Bob Elliott bobbed Del Rice's grounder. After Chipman struck out Boyer, the roof fell in on the Boston southpaw.

Tommy Glaviano connected safely for the third time and Chuck Diering singled Rice home with the fourth St. Louis marker.

Both Glaviano and Diering tallied when Roy Hartford juggled Stan Musial's grounder.

Then the usually reliable second baseman drew a double error by throwing into the St. Louis dugout.

The Braves used up three of their hits, a double by Walker Cooper and singles by Tommy Holmes and Buddy Kerr for their one run in the fifth.

Holmes Fouls Out
They crowded the bases in the sixth, on Sam Jethroe's single and two bases on balls but Boyer escaped harm by forcing Holmes to foul out to Glaviano.

Boyer made Earl Torgeson end his consecutive hitting streak at 22 games while giving the Cardinals their ninth win in 16 starts over the Braves.

Tam O'Shanter Carnival Starts Thursday

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf's richest competition, the dove-tailed American and "world" championship tournaments, worth $75,000 starts its merry, marathon way at Tam O'Shanter country club Thursday.

A confusing spectacle normally, the Tam circus is even more bewildering in this, its 10th year. The lush 10-day outing which has drawn its largest entry, approximately 400 pros, women and men amateurs, was a staggered start.

Women Start Tourney
Some 43 feminine shooters start their phase of the 72-hole all-American Thursday. At the same time, 253 professionals will try to qualify for 36 berths in the $20,000 main event. Friday will bring the women's second round and the first round for 141 amateurs. On Saturday, the all-American will be in full swing with 76 pros, including 20 seeded stars, playing their first round.

A week from Thursday, the $55,000, 72-hole, world meet begins for 32 pros, eight women pros, eight women amateurs and 16 club. Slot machines and gaming

Dodgers Whip Pirates Twice

BROOKLYN (AP) — Erv Palica pitched Brooklyn to a 3-1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the regularly scheduled game Tuesday night after the Brooks had whipped the Pirates, 21-12 in the continued game of June 24. A home run by Pete Catigione prevented the young righthander from pitching a shut out.

The victory moved the Dodgers into third place past Boston's Braves who lost to St. Louis.

Preacher Roe received credit for the first game which was a continuation of the suspended game of June 24. It gave Roe a record of 14-6.

Palica spun a five hitter and struck out eight as he bested Cliff Chambers in a pitching duel. Carl Furillo and Roy Campanella provided the hits that enabled Brooklyn to win. Furillo scored Duke Snider and Jackie Robinson with a first inning double. Campanella hit his 21st homer with none aboard in the eighth.

Patricia Lesser Leads Western Golf Tourney

WINNETKA, ILL. (AP) — Medalist Patricia Lesser, 16, Seattle, Wash., eliminated a "deep south" representative, Mary Ann Villegas of the New Orleans, La., country club Tuesday, 4 and 3, in the first round of the Women's Western Golf association junior open.

Miss Lesser, whose three-above-par 79 won her medalist honors Monday, meets Barbara McIntire, of the Heather Downs country club, Toledo, Ohio, in today's quarter-final round. Miss McIntire Tuesday defeated Mary Ann McDonald of the Arlington Heights, Ill., Roy Roy club, 3 and 2.

Phils Split, Cards Trip Boston

Simmons Beaten; Blackwell Wins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Army bound Curt Simmons had a special pass from the national guard, a special airplane ride to Philadelphia but only a defeat for his efforts Tuesday night as the Cincinnati Reds drove him from the box and defeated the Phillies 4-1 in the second game of a double-header. His teammates pounded three Cincinnati pitchers for a 6-4 decision in the opener.

The defeat was Simmons' sixth of the year against 14 victories. But the Phillies held to their three-game first place margin as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Boston Braves.

While Ewell Blackwell pitched a four-hitter, Simmons, in defeat, was the whole story of the twin bill played before a standing room only crowd of 34,728.

The blazing fast baller just was not himself. On his feet from reveille at 5:15 a.m. until he arrived shortly before game time, Simmons fell before the Reds' bat, and a very humid night in the fourth inning.

Stan Lopata's first home run of the season was the Phillies only run off Blackwell.

Del Ennis continued his batting rampage in the opener, walloping his 23rd homer and fifth in six games as Bob Miller won his 10th game in 12 starts.

Art Andrews Wins in National Meet; Jamie Andrews Loses

KALAMAZOO, MICH. — Jamie Andrews from Iowa City, Iowa, was beaten in the junior boy's section of the national junior tennis championships here Tuesday by top seeded Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La.

Richardson beat the Iowa Citizen in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3.

Jamie's younger brother Art advanced into the third round of boy's play Tuesday with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Bob Ethridge of Ada, Okla.

Both players were representing the Missouri Valley tennis association.

Unseeded Ben Bishop of St. Louis, Mo., another Missouri Valley player, whipped twelfth seeded Ted Zax, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-4, 9-7, in the junior's class.

Second-seeded Whitney Reed, Alameda, Calif., easily mastered Bobby Payne, Richmond, Va., 6-2, 6-0.

Jacque Gregory, Alhambra, Calif., defeated John Zoski, Hamlet, N.C., 6-3. Sixth-seeded Wendland, Santa Monica, Calif., defeated Dick Potter, Hamlet, N.C., 6-2.

Person of Alameda, Calif., defeated Mike Weatherly, Alameda, Calif., 6-0. In the boys' division, all seeded players advanced. Top seeded John Lesch of San Francisco, downed Richard Norman, Green Bay, Wis., 6-1, 6-0, in the second round.

Players in Service Won't 'Lose Time'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball Commissioner A.B. Chandler announced Tuesday the national defense list rules, as adopted by organized baseball during World War II, have been re-activated as of Monday for major league baseball.

The original national defense list regulations, Chandler explained, were adopted so that baseball players called into military service would retain their status and "not lose any time in baseball" during the time they were in the armed forces.

Chandler explained that the order Monday affected only the major leagues but that it also would apply to the minors as soon as they vote approval.

Two of the major provisions of the World War II national defense list rules provided:

That any player accepted in any branch of the armed service "shall automatically be placed on the national defense list and shall not count in the player limits of his club until removed from such national defense service list."

"I'll do what thousands of other guys are going to have to do," said Curt as he rested in the dressing room before the game. "I'll make the best of it."

The Reds' bats and the humid heat caught up with Simmons in the fourth and after allowing a triple to Red Stallcup, single to Dixie Howell, and walking Bobby Adams, Manager Eddie Sawyer lifted Curt for relief Pitcher Milo Candini retired the side without further damage by getting Bob Usher to pop up to shortstop.

Break Camp Sunday
Because of the federal order Governor Duff announced, the division will cut short the scheduled two-week training period, and will break camp Sunday. Simmons — like other members — then will have some time at home to adjust his personal affairs and, presumably, pitch a few more games this month, and might reach the 20-game winner circle.

However he will be lost to the club for the September stretch drive when, as it now appears, the Phils, Dodgers, Cards and Braves will be battling for the pennant.

Wild Man Rex Barney

Lack of Control May Cost Pitcher Job With Brooklyn Dodgers

NEW YORK (UP) — The balls have 'em bawling in Brooklyn Tuesday, and one Rex Barney may hear the call of the open road as a result.

The faithful have been just that to Rex. Each year they've waited, with charity in their hearts, for some brilliant pitching. What they get mostly are bases on balls for the opposing side.

Learn to Pitch
They even sent Barney down to Vero Beach, Fla., early this spring — after the team had broken spring training camp — to "learn how to pitch." Rex remained amid the lonely expanse of Dodgertown, working out, throwing, throwing, throwing, looking for that strike zone which forever eludes him.

But, alas, the tedious efforts apparently have been in vain. As witness Monday night when the Dodgers, in a crucial stage of their pennant fight, lost to the Chicago Cubs, 8-5.

Barney wild-pitched in the winning run. Then he walked the next three batters in a row. He's supposed to be a relief pitcher — and you know who gets all the relief. In his last two relief tries he pitched to seven men. He walked six of them. The other? Oh, he hit a home run.

"I've Got the Stuff"
"I know I've got the stuff," Rex says. "Didn't I strike out Joe DiMaggio and those other guys with three men on base in the 1947 world series?"

Branch Rickey is baffled. "Two

Kansas Turnabout

IT'S USUALLY THE OTHER WAY AROUND, but the Kansas Turnabout in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. John Berglund of Kansas City. The couple, married Tuesday, stepped up the aisle because the bride was called to active duty with the Marines. The newlyweds hope to squeeze in a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls before S. Sgt. Berglund reports to camp. Her husband will return home to live with his parents.

Three Way Collision Causes Minor Damage City Police Report

Two cars and a panel truck were involved in a collision which caused only slight damage Monday at 7:30 p.m. on Iowa avenue just west of North Dubuque street. Robert Chavala, 31, 211 N. Dodge street, was attempting to park his panel truck, owned by Olson Brothers, Inc., Omaha, when the truck and a car driven by John G. Fay, 24, 946 Iowa avenue, collided, police said. The collision forced the Fay car into a car parked at the curb belonging to John H. Lohnes, Waterloo, according to the police report. Fay reported $55 damage to his car, and Chavala reported $8 damage to the truck. No damage was reported for the Lohnes car, police said. In another accident, a car driven by Beulah Dodds, 51, 505 E. Washington street, and a pickup truck driven by R. C. Lafferty, East Court, collided at Magowan and River streets at 8 p.m. Monday. The Dodds car, going north, was damaged on the right fender and the grill, and the Lafferty car was damaged on the side. No estimates of damage were reported, however, police said.

Iowa City Firm Files $7,259.33 Suit

A $7,259.33 collection suit was filed Tuesday in district court against Francis G. Seamans and Carl Williams by Priebe and Sons, Inc., Capitol and Benton streets. The local hatchery and produce firm asked judgment and collection for the full amounts named in the five-count suit against Seamans, a former manager of Priebe and Sons, Inc., and against Williams, a farmer near Iowa City. The suit charged that while Seamans was manager of the hatchery and produce firm, he wrongfully delivered to Williams company checks, baby chicks and feed without obtaining payment from him.

Bossy Milks as Farm Youth Rests

FINDLAY, ILL. (AP) — Herbert Bricker, 11, reported Tuesday that his cow, Blondie, milks herself. "All I do is set the pail under her," he said. "She does the rest." Herbert said that like other farmers, he milked only half the cow at a time when he got her as a present from his father. He noticed that Blondie produced from the other half with no help from him. "I tried just putting the pail under her," he said. "Sure enough, she milked herself." In fear that Blondie was sick, the boy's father called a veterinarian. "There's nothing wrong with her," the veterinarian reported. "She's just talented."

Army Starts Search For Missing Scribe

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA (AP) — The army began a hunt Tuesday for Associated Press Correspondent William R. Moore, last heard from Sunday when he went to the hard-pressed American southern flank. The search was being conducted at division and regimental levels. Moore was last reported at Chihju on the southern front with an element of the 24th division. Red-attackers split the American unit in two with a fierce drive and it withdrew from Chihju Monday morning. Moore joined The Associated Press at Denver in 1937. He served in the army from 1942 to 1946 and rejoined The Associated Press in New York. He was in Korea in 1946 as a major with the U.S. army of occupation. He returned there as Associated Press correspondent in April, 1948. When the Korean war broke out, Moore was on temporary assignment in Hong Kong. He was called immediately to Tokyo and was among the first correspondents to be sent from Tokyo to cover the fighting in Korea. Nine other correspondents have been reported killed, captured or missing in the Korean fighting.

State Fair Contest Open to All Photographers

A photographic contest for both amateur and professional "shutter-bugs", offering $123 in cash prizes, has been announced by the Iowa Mid-century State Fair board. Classes in the contest, for which no entry fee is required, include color, portraits, children, still life, human interest, commercial, scenic, Iowa pioneer and general. Rules stipulate only that the picture must have been taken by the entrant, excepting entrants in the Iowa pioneer class. There are no rules concerning developing and printing. All first and second place winners will compete for sweepstakes prizes. First, second and third place winners in each class will be awarded ribbons, and all prints hung will receive 1950 salon labels. Photographs will be on public display on the second floor of the Educational building, Des Moines fair grounds, throughout the fair, Aug. 25 through Sept. 1, officials said. Entry blanks may be obtained from the State Fair board, Statehouse, Des Moines, and must be filled in and returned not later than Aug. 14.

Suit, Cross-Petition Filed by Farmer

A Monroe township farmer Tuesday filed an alienation of affections suit against a former neighbor, and an answer and a cross-petition to the divorce suit filed July 26 by his wife. The farmer, Elmer A. Hospodarsky, asked $20,000 from Frank Pecka, 50, Curtis, charging that Pecka caused Hospodarsky's wife to leave him. Hospodarsky, who lives in the northwest corner of Johnson county, and his wife, Marian, have been married 12 years. In the cross-petition asking divorce, Hospodarsky charged cruel and inhuman treatment, and asked custody of the four children, Rosemary, 11; Joan, 10; George, 7; and Denver, 1 1-2. Hospodarsky claimed his wife abandoned their home July 24, taking the children to parts unknown while he was at work. District Judge Harold D. Evans set Aug. 5 as the date for hearing on Hospodarsky's motion to have the children put in temporary custody of his mother.

Work Never Done, Policeman Finds

Women and policemen have a lot in common — their work is never done. Laurance Ham, captain on the Iowa City police force, was on his vacation and fishing about 15 miles north of Iowa City Saturday when he found a billfold under a bridge. Tuesday afternoon, the owner, Ronald R. Cochran, 430 E. Jefferson, had the billfold back in his possession along with the dime and important credentials that were in the billfold. He said he had lost the billfold while fishing last Friday night, and had given up finding it.

Changing Scene at SUI as Veterans' Hospital Continues to Grow

THE LANDSCAPE ON THE WEST SIDE OF THE IOWA RIVER IS CHANGING, as the $8-billion Veterans' hospital begins to tower above surrounding buildings. The framework of the 13 story building, started last year, has been completed as far as the 10th floor, and frames and forms for the pouring of concrete for the 11th floor are now being put up. In the interior of the 500-bed brick, steel and concrete structure, work is keeping pace with the exterior construction, according to Ralph Brooks, resident engineer for the army corps of engineers. In the basement, the three steam boilers are 96 percent completed; they were connected to the smoke-stacks last week. Steam pipes and ducts have been installed as far as the fifth floor, and plumbing has been put in on the third floor, Brooks said. Ventilator ducts are in the first four floors. Partitions have been laid-out on the first three floors. The pneumatic tube system, which will carry messages from one part of the building to another, is two-thirds completed. Brick facing of the building has almost reached the sixth floor, and has been finished on the five-story south wing. Brooks said the storm sewers have been connected to the Iowa City storm sewers, and the sanitary sewers will be finished this week. Twenty-eight hundred feet of 10 and 12-inch pipe are being laid to supply the water for the hospital, he said. This work was to have been completed in July, but bad weather and excavation difficulties have delayed the work. ### Engle Writes Flair Article

The revolution in literature brought about by SUI's creative writing center and similar centers throughout the U.S. was the theme of an article in the August issue of Flair magazine by Prof. Paul Engle, English department.

Engle hailed the beginning of creative writing centers on college campuses as the outstanding literary development of this century.

Creative writing centers offer the young writer a chance to develop his talent away from the pressures and lures of the commercial writing world, Engle said.

In addition, he said, colleges and universities have assembled outstanding authors and poets to assist the student writer and constructively criticize his work.

He pointed out a list of outstanding novels written on college campuses during the past year, including "So Many Doors," by Oakley Hall, and "The Eagle on the Coin" by R. V. Cassil, both SUI English instructors.

Engle's article, entitled "Revolution on Campus," was illustrated with photographs, many of them taken on the SUI campus.

Among those whose pictures appeared were Jean Wylder, SUI journalism librarian, and her husband, Delbert E. Wylder, G. Iowa City.

Engle has taught at SUI since 1937. He was born in Cedar Rapids and received his B.A. degree at Coe college.

His master's thesis at SUI was a book of poetry later published by the Yale Series of Younger Poets.

Engle took further graduate work at Columbia university, New York, and was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford university, England, in 1933.

For several years he was master of ceremonies on a radio program featuring book reviews on Chicago's radio station WGN.

He has also been a regular book reviewer for the Chicago Tribune. Engle's published poetry includes "American Song," "Corn," "West of Midnight" and "American Child."

He has had one novel, "Always the Land," published.

Small Boy's Target Shooting Ends in Death for Neighbor

DAVENPORT (AP) — Sheriff Walter Beuse said Tuesday an investigation showed a small boy's rifle that discharged accidentally caused the death of a youth who was struck by a stray bullet as he sat on a sunporch.

Marion Duvall, 22, Rock Island, was wounded fatally last July 24 when a .22 caliber bullet whizzed through a screen on the sunporch of his father's home near Bettendorf.

Ballistics tests showed the bullet was fired from a rifle which Freddy Donaway, 8, Rock Island, had been using for "target shooting" at his grandmother's home near the Duvall residence, the sheriff said.

The boy told the sheriff he had been shooting at several tin cans but the bullet which went wild was fired when the rifle went off accidentally after he placed it against a shed.

When he saw an ambulance and police cars pull up at the Duvall home, he ran into his grandmother's house, Freddy said.

His father later surrendered the rifle when police learned the boy had been shooting it, explaining that his son had taken the weapon without his knowledge.

Three Polio Patients Admitted to U-Hospitals

Three new polio patients have been admitted to University hospitals, officials said Monday.

Mrs. Geraldine Bridges, 26-year-old wife of SUI student Eldon Briggs, a Rockwell City, has been discharged from the hospitals. She was admitted as a polio patient July 24.

New patients are Marlene Hagan, 15, Manly; Leslie Squires, 4, Center Point, and Steven Kalisto, 7 weeks, Cedar Rapids. All were in "fair" condition.

SERGEANT RETURNS

Sgt. Robert McCollum of the SUI department of military science and tactics has returned from a six-week instructional tour of duty at Aberdeen Proving grounds, Maryland, department officials said Tuesday. McCollum left Iowa City June 10.

Study Unit Materials Ready

Registration materials for the graduate students' special summer study session are available in the registrar's office, Registrar Ted H. McCarrel announced Monday.

Completed registration forms must be returned Aug. 3 or 4, he said.

The special study period is open to all graduate students regularly enrolled at SUI who have completed some graduate work here, McCarrel said.

The session will last four weeks, from Aug. 10 to Sept. 6, and a maximum of four hours credit may be earned.

Students may enroll for from one to four weeks of the independent study period.

Registration will take place in the registrar's office. Each form must have the approval of the instructor supervising the work before the registration is completed, he said.

Students are charged a fee of $5 for each semester hour of credit given under the program.

Veterans may enroll for the plan under either the GI bill of rights or Public Law 16.

Representatives of the veterans administration will be present in the registrar's office Aug. 3 and 4 to handle veterans' registration, McCarrel said.

Airline Sets Date For New Route

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mid-Continent airlines has set Oct. 1 to start service over the Sioux City — Chicago and Rockford, Ill. — Milwaukee routes, President J. W. Miller said Tuesday.

These are portions of the North Central routes of Parks air lines, Inc., awarded to Mid-Continent Tuesday by the civil aeronautics board. The certificate of authority will be effective Sept. 26.

"We have sufficient 21-passenger Douglas DC-3 twin-engine planes available now to begin initial operations," Miller said.

He explained that purchase of four 40-passenger Convairs had made it possible to use five of Mid-Continent's 20 DC-3s on the new routes.

Miller said the airline must also procure and install radio and ground equipment, assign both ground and flight personnel and conduct proving flights to qualify pilots.

Bond Contract for School Awarded

The Iowa City school board Tuesday awarded a $62,700 bond contract to White-Phillips company, Davenport, for the financing of an addition to Roosevelt grade school now under construction.

The bonding company submitted a bid of 2 1/2 percent as annual interest on the bonds, and presented a premium of $195.

In accordance with the state tuition hike, the board raised elementary tuition fees from $18.65 to $18 per month. High school tuition was boosted from $29.10 to $31.50 per month. This will affect approximately 186 students.

Formally adopted was an 11 percent increase in budget expenditures for the 1950-1951 school year.

The $624,120.79 budget, largest in the history of the Iowa City school system, will boost local taxes for school support 6.7 percent. No public objections were voiced.

The board accepted "with regret" the resignation of Paul W. Behm, instrumental music instructor at City high school.

1,325 KOREAN CASUALTIES WASHINGTON (AP) — American casualties in the Korean fighting now total 1,325, an unofficial tabulation showed Tuesday.

Canadian Man Held After 'Selling' Sister To Aged Farmer

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A 15-year-old girl whose brother sold her to a 71-year-old pig farmer for $700 was held Tuesday on charges of sexual immorality.

Charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency by arranging a "fraudulent marriage" were Alec Gokey, elderly farmer of Edmonton, Alta, who bought her; Allen Ajas, the bride's 18-year-old brother; and Jesse Ajas, the girl's sister-in-law.

The bartered bride was being held in a juvenile home.

Police said the marriage deal was arranged for the financial benefit of the girl's mother, who knew nothing about it.

Authorities described the girl as "tall and slim, brown-haired and good-looking. She looks older than 15," they added.

The bride-for-sale story came to light when a Vancouver traffic constable stopped a car in which the elderly farmer and teen-aged girl were riding. They were taken into custody and questioned after the girl said the farmer was her husband — not her father.

Agreed to Pay $700 Police said the marriage was arranged in Edmonton where the girl's mother later reported her daughter missing. The farmer agreed to pay $700 for the girl, $500 going to the mother, $200 to the brother. In addition the farmer gave $100 to the girl for traveling expenses to Vancouver.

The girl left Edmonton last July 7 wearing an engagement ring the bridegroom had bought. She came here to wait for her brother and the farmer who was said to own a one-pig, three acre farm near Edmonton.

Police said the marriage was fraudulent because of false statements in the ceremony.

They said during the ceremony, which was performed last Friday, the brother posed as the bridegroom and the farmer as the girl's father.

Navy Calls Grandfather Of Eight to Active Duty

WATERLOO (AP) — A father of four and grandfather of eight children Tuesday received orders to report for active duty with the navy at Indianapolis, Aug. 7.

He is Glen E. Hartzberg, 57, Waterloo truck driver who served more than two years with the navy during World War II. He has a rating of personnel man second class.

Hartzberg is the first reservist of any service to be called from Waterloo.

Constructing New Storeroom at Quad

WORKMEN BARE THE LOWER WALL OF THE QUADRANGLE as they excavate for the construction of a storeroom on the inside of the quadrangle court, next to the grill and soda fountain. R. J. Phillips, superintendent of the SUI division of maintenance and operations, said the room will be nine feet wide, and 72 feet long, with a basement and one ground-level floor.

Guardsman Misses Second Graduation

WEBSTER CITY (AP) — Pfc. Boyd Hetland of the national guard will receive his second college diploma in absentia when he gets a diploma this month from Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls.

College officials have promised to mail the diploma to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., where he is attending a 34th Division summer training camp.

Two and a half years ago, Hetland missed his junior college graduation ceremony.

A navy veteran of World War II and a member of company 2, Webster City, national guard, Hetland was scheduled to graduate from Webster City Junior college in May, 1948. Two weeks before graduation, that company was called to Waterloo where difficulties had arisen from a packing plant strike.

Now, About Those Final Grades

GRADE INQUIRIES ARE ANSWERED at the Registrar's office by blond Jo Ann Hunter, Iowa City, who is summer receptionist at the office. Miss Hunter, who will be a junior at Drake university this fall, reported that the office of the registrar will send summer students their grades if they leave a self-addressed, stamped envelope in the basket on her desk.

5-Hour Night Battle — No Enemy!

By PETER KALISCHER

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION (AP) — A jittery engine command post behind U.S. lines fought a five-hour battle Monday night but the cold light of dawn revealed the only casualties were several dogs of unknown nationality.

"Never was so much fired at a little," said one sheepish major, his eyes red from lack of sleep.

"If we had hit a North Korean, with every shot fired last night, the war would be over today," said Pfc. Charles H. Guthrie of Beesonville, Ill.

Early Monday morning a squad of guerrillas sneaked through U.S. lines and raided the post, killing three Americans and wounding seven.

By Monday night the post's defense platoon was ready for anything. Cooks and clerks — every man available — took their positions in a big circle around the command post buildings. They were ordered to shoot at anything that moved after 9 p.m.

To add to the confusion for shells were lobbed into the area, apparently by an enemy railroad gun a few miles west of Yong-dong.

"The distinction of shooting at probably the only 'enemy' in the area went to the men of the division's public information office — the men who seek news but rarely make it.

"We had just started digging our slit trench when we heard automatic rifle chatter," said Sgt. Archie Ashworth, of Beaumont, Texas.

"The next thing I knew a man started rolling down the knoll above our position and landed right in our six-foot long trench. I yelled, 'What the hell is that?' and then saw he wasn't a GI.

Whoever he was, he landed in the trench next to Ashworth and two others.

There was one mad scramble while the three Americans fingered their weapons. But only Ashworth managed to fall flat on his face and fire six shots at the intruder at almost point blank range.

Whether his shots hit the target was another of the night's mysteries.

Andrews said the man kept right on rolling down the hill. The next morning his tracks were found leading away from the command post.

Reuther Peace Plan Praised by Politician

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Thomas E. Fairchild praised UAW-CIO President Walter Reuther's "100 year peace plan" Tuesday night as a "fresh approach to peace which goes beyond our present military and diplomatic efforts."

Fairchild, who is a Democratic candidate for the United States senate, backed up Reuther's foreign aid proposal in a speech before local 248 of the UAW-CIO here.

The labor leader's plan calls for contributing $13-billion a year into a special UN fund for economic and social construction throughout the world.
