Iowa City, Iowa, Friday, August 11, 1950 — Vol. 84 No. 262

92 Minute Storm Strikes; Brick Streets Washed Out

A thundering, hail-bearing rainstorm Thursday doused Iowa City for 92 minutes — washing out brick paving, flooding streets and basements and shoving the temperature down to a cool 65 degrees.

According to R. T. Craig, weather office official at the Iowa City airport, the storm began at 12:28 p.m. and continued until 2 p.m.

A total of 1.36-inches of water, and a scattering of quarter-inch hailstones, poured down during that time, said Craig.

The temperature — 88 degrees at 11:30 a.m. — took a fast dive down to 65 degrees by 12:30 p.m., but climbed back to 76 degrees by 4:30 p.m.

58 Mile Winds

Winds, whipping at 58 miles an hour, tore down at least one Iowa City tree located at the intersection of Muscatine and Seventh avenues.

Calls to the city engineer's office reported flooded basements, stopped-up sewers, clogged catch basins and washed-out paving soon after the storm began.

Street commissioner Willard E. Irvin, investigating complaints of a clogged street catch basin at the intersection of Dearborn street and Denter avenue, reported freshly cut, green grass clogging the sewer grates.

Grass Clippings

"People dump their grass clippings in the gutter, and it isn't long before they're washed into a catch basin during a rainstorm," said Irvin.

Five trucks, carrying 15 city streets workmen patrolled Iowa City during the storm. The men cleared clogged gutters and catch basins, and barricaded damaged streets.

Barricades were erected on a section of Grand avenue, Irvin said, after a 50-foot strip of brick

15 Go to Des Moines for Draft Physicals

Fourteen men from Johnson county and one transfer to the local draft board were sent to Des Moines Thursday for pre-induction physical examinations for possible drafting into the armed services.

The group was the first to be sent from Johnson county.

The men were Leo L. Cortimiglia, 209 E. Bloomington street; Leo E. Cech, Fairfax; Rudolph D. Miller, Kalona; James H. Smith, Box 162; Harold E. Swartz, route 2; Harold W. Sabs, route 3; Claude A. Schrock, Kalona, and Willard L. Christner, Wellman.

Edward J. Mougin, Oxford; Richard A. Lowenberg, 21 N. Dubuque street; Robert G. Zach, Fairfax; Donald E. Heybons, Solon; John H. Shetler, Kalona; Eugene F. Meade, Oxford, and George W. Simpson, transferred from the Paulding, Ohio, draft board.

Local draft officials said it is unlikely all these men will be drafted.

The county's first draft call probably will not be for 15 men, and some of the men may not pass the examination.

TRENTON, N.J. (P) — Leaders of New Jersey gasoline retailers, who shut down their stations Tuesday in a price war, agreed Thursday to reopen for business immediately.

Truman Says Soviet Blocks UN in Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman Thursday accused Russia of filibustering United Nations action in Korea.

By implication he suggested that the Soviets are hurting themselves more than anybody else by such tactics.

Mr. Truman commented on the Russian tactics at a news conference, in the course of which he expressed optimism regarding the actual progress of fighting in Korea.

On other foreign affairs matters, the President:

1. Declined to discuss the report on Far East political questions, including Formosa, which was given him Wednesday by Foreign Affairs Coordinator W. Averell Harriman.

2. Said he is satisfied with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's conduct of operations in the far east.

3. Refused to say whether the United States would use air and ground forces to turn back any Chinese Communists invasion attempt against Formosa. Questioned, he said simply he could not answer that now.

4. Declared it was unnecessary to raise queries about another meeting of the heads of states, meaning himself and Premier Stalin of Russia, because there is no going to be one.

They were headed west toward Tiffin when the accident occurred. "We were trying to pass a car that was traveling fast, then we struck a mailbox, careened off the road into the ditch and rolled over," Miss Brown said.

The car, a 1940 Plymouth, was a complete wreck. It belonged to Lyle Drongler, 249 Quonset park, who had loaned the group his car.

Taylor Refuses to Admit Defeat in Idaho Election

BOISE, IDAHO (AP) — Cowboy Sen. Glen H. Taylor (D - Idaho) refused Thursday to admit defeat in his bid for renomination. He still hoped the primary election tide would shift in his favor.

Unofficial returns from Tuesday's balloting gave Taylor 25,600 votes. Former Democratic Sen. D. Worth Clark polled 26,761 votes.

The count included returns from 810 of the state's 839 precincts.

House Votes Control Of Prices, Wages, Rationing to Truman

WASHINGTON (P) — The house by a smashing 383 to 12 vote Thursday passed a bill to give President Truman a free hand to clamp on sweeping price-wage-rationing controls if he deems necessary.

The house action went far beyond powers Mr. Truman had requested to control production and credit in view of the nation's preparedness drive.

But Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) appealed to congress to keep for itself the right to invoke such drastic powers, and not give the choice to President Truman.

Congress, Taft said, would be completely abdicating its authority and its duty" if it gave Mr. Truman such a free hand. No individual should have it, he said, and argued that congress could impose controls by joint resolution if necessary.

In this, he took direct issue with the senate banking committee which said in a report that congress would be remiss in its duties if it did not provide the President enough power to meet potentially serious inflation dangers.

The committee chairman, Sen. Burnet Maybank (D-SC), told the senate that the nation's economy is so intricate that congress cannot draw inflexible plans to cover all situations.

The house, reaching its decision after six days of squabbling, withheld from Mr. Truman two items of control:

Authority to regulate speculation on commodity markets, and curbs on real estate credits to new construction or major remodeling started after noon on Aug. 3.

That was the nub of a battle of words in which the council again got virtually nowhere in the immediate business at hand — discussion of a United States resolution to call on all nations to avoid supporting the North Koreans.

The Soviet Union replied with charges of "slander," but acknowledged the Russian forces sold war materiel to the North Koreans in 1948, when Moscow announced withdrawal of its occupation troops.

That was the nub of a battle of words in which the council again got virtually nowhere in the immediate business at hand — discussion of a United States resolution to call on all nations to avoid supporting the North Koreans.

Earlier Thursday the nine non-Communist members failed in a concerted attempt to stop what the Americans call "obstruction" of the work of the council by Russia's Jakob A. Malik. The council bogged down once more in procedure, with no end in sight before Sept. 1, when Sir Gladwyn Jebb, of Britain, relieves Malik as council president.

In a 3,000-word speech outlining the American stand, Austin made it clear that Washington:

1. Considers the Soviet Union responsible for the "unprovoked" attack of the North Koreans on the South.

2. Knows that the Russians and international communism could lift the fear of war from the peoples of the world if they wished to do so.

Austin took the floor after getting the nod from Washington to open a full-fledged campaign against Russian tactics and speeches in the council. The Americans were said to feel the time has come to slap back vigorously in the verbal battle, no matter what the state of procedure in the council.

They were headed west toward Tiffin when the accident occurred. "We were trying to pass a car that was traveling fast, then we struck a mailbox, careened off the road into the ditch and rolled over," Miss Brown said.

GI's, Tanks Rushed To Pohang; Advance 13 Miles Near Chinju

U.S. Charges North Koreans 'Red Zombies'

LAKE SUCCESS (P) — The United States Thursday called the North Korean regime a Russian zombie spearheading a new imperialism organized to wipe out the Republic of Korea with Russian-made tanks and guns.

The American delegate, Warren R. Austin, told the UN security council the Soviet Union could call off the North Koreans — if they chose — and keep the war from spreading.

The Soviet Union replied with charges of "slander," but acknowledged the Russian forces sold war materiel to the North Koreans in 1948, when Moscow announced withdrawal of its occupation troops.

The American tank-led reinforcements were rushed into the Pohang battle to bolster South Korean forces who were surprised in a Communist night attack.

The Communist attack appeared well planned. Some American units moving to the front were ambushed and cut off but reportedly fought their way back to the main U.S. forces.

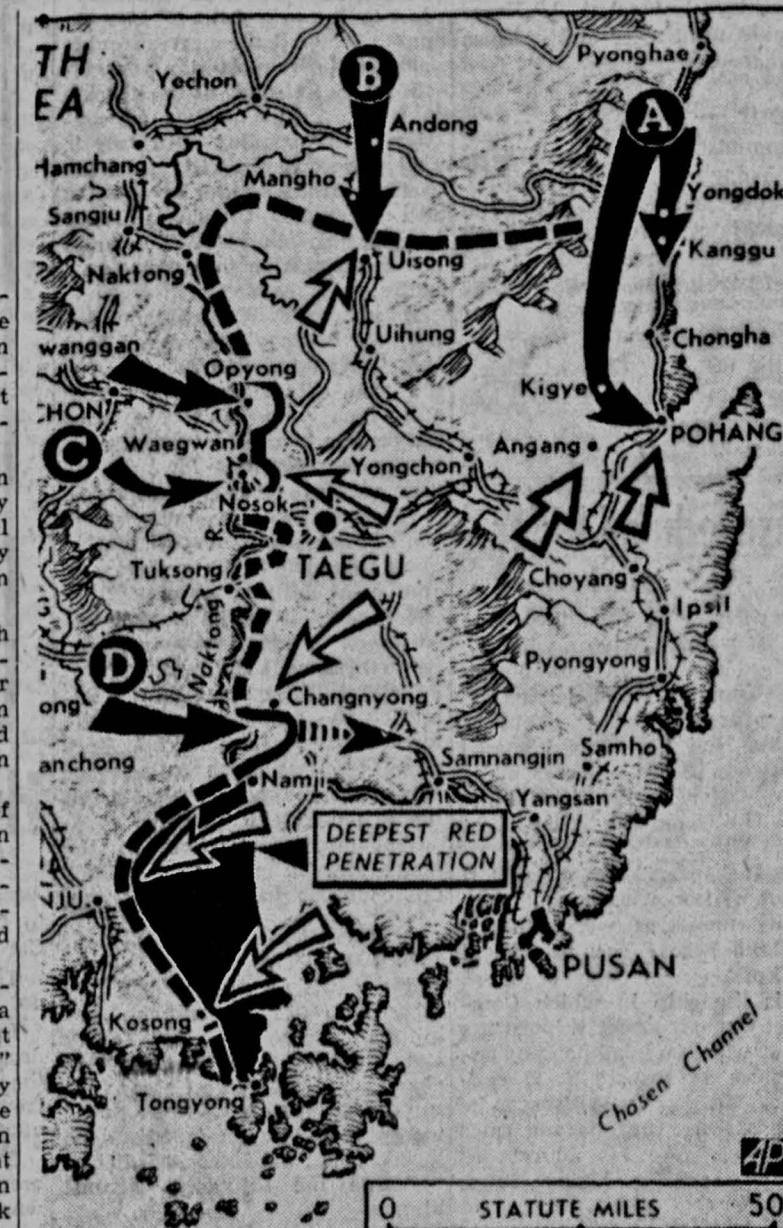

U.S. warplanes roared into the battle raking the enemy with rockets and machineguns while American artillery pounded the advancing force.

The Red column, which thrust deep into Allied territory, Thursday pushed South Korean forces out of Kigye, eight miles northwest of Pohang.

Pohang, where the first U.S. amphibious landings were made last month, is 65 air miles north of the main supply port of Pusan.

To the north of the bitter fighting, another Red column advanced across the Nakdong river near Opyong and Waegan (C) were threatening U.S. troops. Reds were attempting to extend a third bridgehead (D) near Changnyong for a drive (broken arrow) on the highway to Taegu. U.S. forces in the south drove within six miles of Chinju, where Reds had prepared defense positions.

Mexican Farm Laborers Leave for Deportation

Twelve Mexican farm laborers apprehended Wednesday near North Liberty and charged with illegal entry into the U.S. left Iowa City in three cars Thursday about 3 p.m. in the custody of federal immigration inspectors.

The group was bound for Omaha.

The Mexican "wetbacks," 11 men and one woman, were held over night in Johnson county jail here.

A spokesman for the prisoners, Jesus Mirales, 20, Mexico City, said the group had been working on a farm owned by the H. F. Moffit Realty company of Iowa City. One of the men, Tony Zemirripas, about 45, San Luis Potosi, Mexico, had with him a letter from his wife Virginia addressed in care of the Moffit company.

Letter Delivered

This letter was brought to Zamarras by a man whom the Mexicans called "Mr. Sullivan." They said he was a foreman for the Moffit concern.

The woman, Delores Mesa de Mirales, is the wife of one of the group and the mother of Jesus Mirales.

She was held in a separate cell together with her husband, Manuel Mirales.

The youngest member of the party, Ricardo Mesa, 15, Mexico City, had his right arm in a cast. He said it had been broken when he was thrown from a horse.

The immigration inspectors said about 200,000 people enter the country illegally each year.

Senate Committee Approves Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (P) — President Truman's program for a $1.5-billion tax increase was approved unanimously Thursday by the senate finance committee. It would raise the top levy on corporate income from 38 percent to 45, effective as of July 1, 1950.

The men admitted entering the country illegally. Jesus Mirales said the group entered the U.S. by swimming the Rio Grande river with their belongings strapped to their heads.

Young Mirales said he did not know that passports were required for entry into this country.

More Money

Juan Zamarras, Torreon, Mexico, said the men came to this country because they could make more money here. He said they were being paid $4 a day here.

Mirales said he is a painter.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that if congress wants to act on a $3-billion increase in individual income taxes, hiking some taxpayers' burdens as much as 20 percent.

Communist-Control Bill Introduced into Senate

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Pat McCarran, (D-Nev.), of the senate judiciary committee, Thursday introduced a sweeping Communist-control bill that wraps into one package a half dozen measures to curb subversive activities.

McCarran described it as his version of the legislation needed to carry out President Truman's anti-Communist proposals.

AFL Urges Controls But Not on Wages

CHICAGO (UP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor Thursday urged immediate price controls and higher taxes but said "wages must be permitted to rise" to catch up with the cost of living.

These recommendations were contained in a Korean emergency program unanimously adopted by the council at its quarterly meeting.

The McCarran bill is a combination of six bills which have been before congress during the past two years. They are:

1. The Mundt - Ferguson bill which would require the registration of Communists and Communist-front organizations; outlaw conspiracies to establish a foreign-dominated dictatorship in the United States, withhold federal jobs and passports from Communists, and require Communists to label all their propaganda.

2. An alien control bill which would authorize the justice department to withdraw diplomatic privileges from second - string diplomats and lower - echelon United Nations employees found guilty of subversion or espionage. In addition, it would suspend the immigration quotas of countries which refuse to accept their nationals when deported.

3. A measure to permit the attorney general to retain in custody aliens who have been ordered deported but who cannot be ejected physically from the United States for technical reasons.

4. A justice department sponsored measure which would require the registration of all foreign-trained spies in this country.

5. A bill to ban the picketing of federal court buildings on the residences of federal judges or jurors.

In addition, the measure would provide the first specific ban against the naturalization of Communists. In the past, they have been excluded on the general theory that they advocate the overthrow of the government by force.

Testimony Ordered From Police Chief

DES MOINES (AP)—Police Chief Frank Mabee testified for more than an hour before the Polk county grand jury Thursday on his investigation of a tavern row involving a police detective and two sheriff's deputies.

Mabee was ordered, Wednesday by District Judge Russell Jordan to tell the grand jury about statements made to him by various officers in connection with the tavern incident. Earlier the police chief had refused to answer questions before the grand jury on the grounds his investigation is "confidential."

The altercation occurred about 1 a.m. July 21 in the Nook tavern. Involved were Detective Lt. Stanger Geyer, Deputies Frank Vivone and Arvid Mellin and the tavern operator, Theodore Vivone, brother of the deputy.

Theodore Vivone was found guilty last week on a charge of assault and battery. Charges of intoxication and disturbing the peace are pending against Geyer.

Princess Elizabeth's Second Child Due Soon, Doctors Say

LONDON (AP)—Princess Elizabeth was reported Thursday night to be expecting her second child in a matter of hours.

A spokesman for the royal family told newsmen:

"We shall not have long to wait."

The baby will be third in line for the British throne, ranking behind Princess Elizabeth, the heir presumptive, and her 21-month-old son, Prince Charles.

In an atmosphere of mounting excitement, thousands of Britons were drawn to the mall in front of Clarence house, the 18th century London home of the Princess and her husband, Prince Philip.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth drove down from Buckingham palace to visit the Princess for 45 minutes this evening. They were loudly cheered.

Prince Philip, a lieutenant commander in the royal navy, left Clarence house in early afternoon to make a couple of private calls. He was back before sundown.

Errol Flynn Arrives Quietly in Kansas

SALINA, KAN. (AP)—Film hero Errol Flynn found Kansas Thursday, but those Kansans who cared had a hard time finding him.

It was late in the day before Flynn got a real life glimpse of the 40-year-old actor, who came here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Wymore, parents of his bride-to-be, actress Patrice Wymore.

Flynn remained in bed most of the morning.

Meat Packers Strike Looms

CHICAGO (UP)—The possibility of a nationwide strike against major meat packers loomed Thursday as CIO and AFL unions reported mounting rank-and-file pressure for a showdown on expiring contracts.

Contracts covering about 120,000 CIO and AFL employees of Armour and company, Swift and company, Wilson and company expire at midnight today.

Negotiations were in stalemate after the two unions, the CIO and AFL amalgamated meat cutters, rejected an offer by Armour for an 8-cent monthly wage increase.

Spokesmen for both unions said there has been heavy rank-and-file "pressure" against extending the contracts.

David Dolnick, research director for the AFL union, said all its locals have asked the international to follow a policy of "no contract, no work."

Ralph Helstein, president of the UPWA, said he has received telegrams and telephone calls from locals demanding that the contracts be terminated at expiration.

Neither of the unions, once bitter rivals who joined forces in negotiating this year, has announced its specific wage and welfare demands.

The AFL union represents 40,000 employees of the "big four" packers, while the CIO represents about 80,000 Swift, Armour and Cudahy workers.

College All-Stars Meet Favored Eagles Tonight

CHICAGO (P) — A streamlined squad of All-Stars, the pick of last year's outstanding collegiate players, oppose the Philadelphia Eagles, twice champions of the National Football League, in floodlighted Soldier Field tonight.

A crowd of 90,000 is in prospect for the season's first major football game.

Clear, cool weather, with the temperature in the low 60's is forecast for the 7:30 p.m. (Iowa time) kickoff.

The professional champions have had all the best of the All-Star scrapping in previous years, winning nine times and tying twice.

But in this 17th annual spectacle, the All-Star squad may be the best of all. Instead of 70 players, the 1950 stars were restricted to 50.

Instead of training at suburban Northwestern University, and running afoul of social diversions, the players trained at Delafield, Wis.

For tackles Anderson selected Leon Manley of Oklahoma and Don Campora of the College of Pacific, with Porter Payne of Georgia and George Hughes of William and Mary as guards. Minnesota's giant Clayton Tonnemacher is the center.

The Mutual broadcasting system of 550 stations will carry accounts of the game by Harry Werner and Harold "Red" Grange.

The Eagles, defending professional champions, will take the field 14-1-2 point favorites. This is virtually the same Eagle outfit which slaughtered the All-Stars 38-0 a year ago. The Eagles are established stars, with a background of playing together several years. Their success in sweeping through the National Football League was built around a rugged, fast line behind which Steve Van Buren, one of the game's greatest backs, operates. That line also amply protects Tommy Thompson, who has few peers as a forward passer, and whose particular target is Pete Phinos, one time Indiana university end.

The All-Stars, winners of five games in the series, are determined to blot out the sorry showing of the 1949 All-Stars made. Dr. Eddie Anderson of Holy Cross, former Iowa coach, head coach of the college aggregation, and his assistants have devoted their energies toward a forward passing

Philadelphia Defeats New York, 5-3

NEW YORK (P) — The Philadelphia Athletics put together a three-game winning streak for first time this season Thursday when they defeated the New York Yankees, 5-3.

Alex Kellner, in winning his seventh game against 13 losses, held the Yankees to five hits in eight innings.

It was the sixth loss in the last nine games for the slumping Yanks who dropped into a second place tie with the Cleveland Indians.

Ed Lopat started for New York but left after three innings with the A's in front 2-0. Sam Chapman lashed his 20th home run into the lower left field seats in the second. A triple by Eddie Joost, plus a scoring fly, accounted for the other run in the third.

He held scoreless for four innings by rookie Ed Ford, the A's jumped on Joe Ostrwski for three runs in the eighth.

Rickey Lashes Team For Poor Showing

BROOKLYN (P) — Brooklyn Dodger President Branch Rickey unleashed a bitter tirade against his ball players Wednesday night for their faltering performance in the National league race.

Speaking to a dinner audience, Rickey explained the trouble as "complacency." The solution, he intimated, is to collect "hungry" ball players with a will to win, not self-satisfied men.

"A championship team is no accident," Rickey said. "It is not a dream but an organization."

The Dodgers of a year ago was what happened when men sweated and worked. The Dodgers of 1950 are what is left of a team with complete satisety and where a complacency has set in. It can be a championship club, and it still can repeat, but I have a sincere doubt that it will do so."

starting backfield as quarterback Travid Tidwell of Auburn, right half Hall Hayes of Santa Clara, fullback Fred Morrison of Ohio State, and left half Doak Walker of Southern Methodist.

Anderson picked a hard-hitting and fairly speedy offensive line to work with the flashy backfield. North Carolina's Art Weiner, rated as the best pass receiver to come out of college since Don Hutson, was placed at left end and Notre Dame's Jim Martin, who played end for two years before finishing at tackle last season, was assigned to the right flank.

For tackles Anderson selected Leon Manley of Oklahoma and Don Campora of the College of Pacific, with Porter Payne of Georgia and George Hughes of William and Mary as guards. Minnesota's giant Clayton Tonnemacher is the center.

The Mutual broadcasting system of 550 stations will carry accounts of the game by Harry Werner and Harold "Red" Grange.

Rain Storm Cancels First Day Scores At Golf Championship

CHICAGO (P) — The sponsors of the "World's Championship of Golf" at Tam O'Shanter cancelled the first day's scores in all but the women's amateur section Thursday after a violent thunderstorm made the course "unplayable."

Tail-enders were still out when the storm struck, although 90 percent of the players had posted scores.

The same pairings and starting times will go out today and the tournament schedule will be moved back one day to finish on Monday.

The women's amateur will end on Sunday as scheduled.

Leading the women's amateur carnival were Mrs. Lily Bowman of Portland, Ore., Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., and Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, all with 70's after one round of play.

Hard-luck man of the postponement was amateur Wilford Wehrle of Ormond Beach, Fla., who finished just before the storm broke with a brilliant four-under par 68. As the wind howled around him and a crowd of 5,000 watched he capped his round on the 18th hole with a 25-foot downhill putt.

Frankie Stranahan, the Toledo, Ohio, amateur, was right behind him with a 69.

No Hitter Tossed By Miller's Pitcher

MINNEAPOLIS (P) — Gangling Millard "Dixie" Howell of the Minneapolis Millers pitched a 6-0 no-hitter against Columbus Thursday night in the American association game at Nicollet park.

The tall righthander's perfect nine-inning stint was his 13th win of the season against a single defeat and was the second Miller no-hitter of the year.

Kirby Higbe, sent down from the New York Giants to the triple-A Minneapolis club, pitched a perfect game against Toledo July 27. However, Higbe's 3-0 win was in a seven-inning contest.

Fall From Horse Fatal to Jockey

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (P) — Apprentice Jockey John Glisson, younger brother of national riding champion Gordon Glisson, died Thursday from injuries he suffered when thrown by a horse in race Thursday afternoon at Del Mar Racetrack.

The 17-year-old rider never regained consciousness after his fall during the running of the fourth race at Seaside track 20 miles north of here.

Glisson died less than a half-hour after he was injured. He was brought here in an ambulance after the track physician quickly diagnosed his injuries as critical.

Young Glisson was riding Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cya's Broker and was on the rail as the field went into the clubhouse turn. His mount apparently stumbled and threw Glisson into the fence.

Hoover's Birthday Marked in West Branch

More than 35 members of the Herbert Hoover Birthplace society were on hand Thursday to welcome Herbert Hoover Jr., eldest son of the former President of the United States.

The occasion was the annual meeting of the society and the 76th birthday of the native of West Branch.

In a formal ceremony at the historic birthplace, William B. Anderson, president; L. C. Rummells, secretary-treasurer, and W. I. Thomas, caretaker, gave reports on the society's activities during the past year.

Anderson read a poem by J. A. Swisher, retired SUI historian, dedicated to the former president. It was entitled, "Our Elder Statesman."

A 94-year-old Marion woman, Mrs. Robert Oxley, presented a needle-work picture of the historic site to Herbert Jr. on behalf of his father.

Hoover expressed regret that his father could not be present for the occasion.

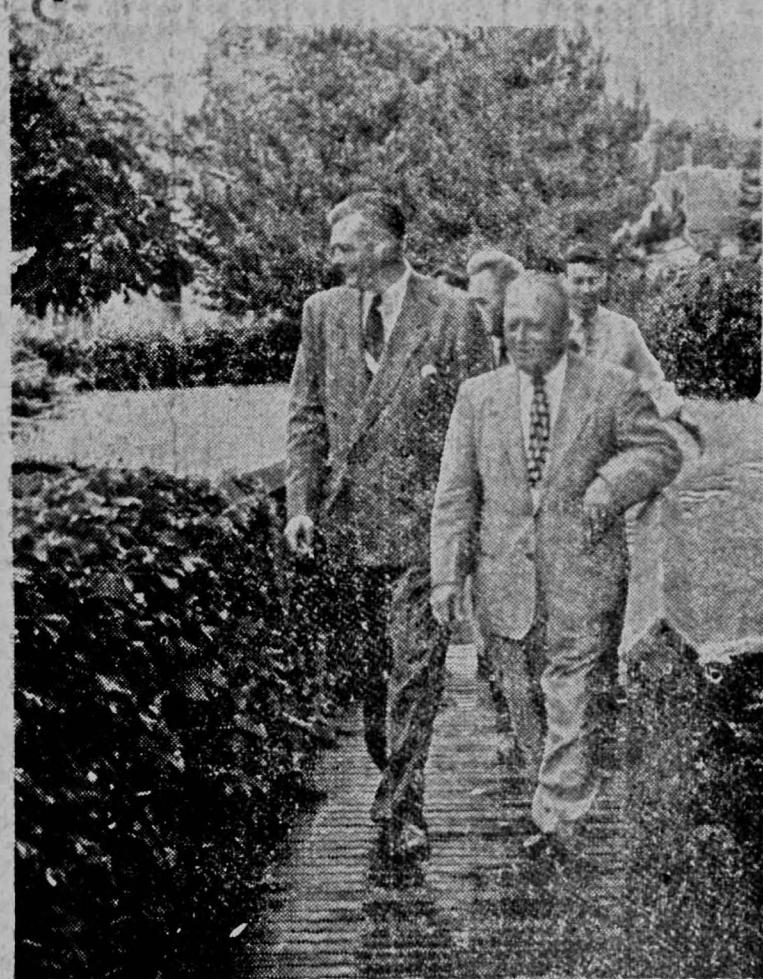

A trustee meeting held after the ceremony was attended by Herbert Jr.; Anderson, A. M. Leech, vice-president, L. C. Rummells, secretary-treasurer, and Mayor Anna Edwards, all of West Branch; Byron S. Hollingshead, president, Coe College, and Prof. H. J. Thornton, SUI history department.

Allan Hoover, the other son, was unable to attend. Thornton represented Prof. William J. Petersen, superintendent of the State Historical Society of Iowa. During the meeting, plans for the further development of the Hoover birthplace were discussed. All officers of the society were re-elected.

Herbert Jr. left West Branch after the meeting and boarded a plane for Denver, Colo., from Iowa City at 4 p.m.

At a picnic supper at the Municipal building, residents of West Branch heard Hollingshead speak on "The Birthplace—Its Meaning to the State and Country."

Earlier in the day West Branch citizens sent a congratulatory message to the former president.

Lost 3-Year-Old Found Unharmed

WILLISTON, N.D. (AP) — Working in a driving rain, a 400-man searching party Thursday found unharmed a three-year-old boy who wandered away from home.

Little Tommy Kooken was found by Ruben Shelem, Williston, not more than a mile from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Kooken.

The chief said the breakins in six towns and the theft of a truck have been cleaned up with the arrest of two men in Chariton, Chief R.W. Nebergall of the Iowa bureau of criminal investigation, reported Thursday.

Nebergall said Floyd Geier, 26, of near Oskaloosa, and Gerald (Joe) Vaughn De Jong, 25, of near Pella, were being held at Chariton after being arraigned on charges of larceny in the night time. They were arrested in Chariton by local officers.

Geier had been released last May 10 from the state reformatory at Anamosa where he had completed a term for robbery.

The chief said the breakins to which the men had confessed were at Sigourney, Richland, two at Olney, Lockridge and Fremont. They included service stations and taverns. Nebergall said the truck was taken at Keosauqua.

The two also had admitted, Nebergall reported, stealing gas and tools at two farms near Ollie.

Question Man in Drowning of Girl Friend

MADISON, WIS. (AP) — State crime experts questioned Joseph Walker, 28, Thursday night to find out whether he pushed his girl friend into the Rock river at Janesville Monday.

The body of dark-haired Theresa Clark, 27, was found floating face up against a fishing dock a mile from the bridge a few hours after Walker was picked up in East Moline, Ill., Thursday.

Walker claimed he and the woman he had lived with as man and wife for six months had a drunken quarrel on the bridge near midnight Monday.

"She threatened to jump into the water," Walker said. "But I just laughed and walked on to our rooming house two blocks away."

He said she still was on the bridge when he returned. "We argued some more and then she jumped in. I saw her go under the bridge and she yelled to me that she could swim," Walker said three years ago.

At Summer Commencement...

THIS WAS THEIR BIG MOMENT Wednesday night when President Virgil M. Hancher conferred degrees on the white-robed graduates of SUI's college of nursing. It was the climax of a four-year study effort. The white robes of the graduating nurses offered a striking contrast to the black robes worn by the remainder of the 853 graduates awarded degrees in SUI's August commencement. The nurses who graduated Wednesday were the third group to be graduated from the college of nursing. The college was founded last December.

POUNDERING AN UNCERTAIN FUTURE was Ben Silver, New York, an English major who received his B.A. degree Wednesday at SUI's August commencement. President Virgil M. Hancher, in his charge to the graduates, said, "This may be the first commencement of World War III." A veteran of World War II, Silver was examining his new diploma when he suddenly realized he was standing next to one of the SUI ROTC's two and one-half ton army trucks. He stared long and hard at the vehicle and wondered whether this might be an omen of the future.

BOTH YOUNG AND OLD joined in the singing of "Old Gold" which climaxed SUI's August commencement ceremonies Wednesday in the fieldhouse. The above group was a small segment of the crowd of more than 5,000 friends and relatives of the 853 graduates. More than half of the degree candidates were graduate students. They represented 92 Iowa counties, 42 states and eleven foreign countries as well as the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

LOOK MA! I'M A BACHELOR said Mary Qualley, Des Moines, when she was handed her diploma Wednesday night by Ingmar Van Nostrand. Diplomas were passed out to all graduates except Ph.D.'s after the ceremony. Doctors of philosophy received their degrees individually from President Virgil M. Hancher. There were 86 Ph.D. degrees conferred at SUI's August commencement.

A PAUSE FOR REFRESHMENT about midway through the commencement exercises was in order for two-year-old Victoria Mather. It was a hot night but "gee that cold water was good." Victoria is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mather, Rolie. Mather received a masters degree in history Wednesday night. Victoria was being assisted at the drinking fountain by her mother. Later this week Victoria will accompany her parents to Cresco where Mather will teach in the high school.
