India Suggests Small Nations Draft Peace

LAKE SUCCESS (AP) — India suggested Monday that the UN security council entrust to its six small-nation members the task of drafting a Korean peace plan. India's chief delegate, Benegal Rau, told the council frankly that the plan was designed mainly to end the procedural stalemate which has increased rather than reduced "tension between the two great powers."

Power to Recommend
The proposed committee would include representatives of India, Yugoslavia, Cuba, Egypt, Norway and Ecuador, and would act as a sort of "little security council" with powers to make recommendations to the full council. The main advantages, Rau said, would be that the committee could meet in private or in public, could hear any person it pleased, and none of the members could be suspected of any expansionist ambitions.

The Indian plan came as a surprise to all but a few delegates who had been consulted privately in advance. Rau said he would formalize the plan into a resolution if he received enough support.

Council Adjourns
The council adjourned until Thursday afternoon to give members time to study the new Indian proposal.

Chief U.S. Delegate Warren Austin issued a statement saying the United States appreciates the Indian suggestion and is prepared "to give sympathetic consideration to any proposal which holds promise of developments leading toward liberation of the Korean people from captivity and restoration of freedom and opportunity to govern themselves."

Primghar Girl Dies Of Polio; 7 Admitted

Nancy Anderson, 16, Primghar, died Monday of polio in University hospitals. She was the third to die of the disease at the hospitals this summer.

Seven new polio patients have been admitted to University hospitals, officials reported Monday. Listed in "serious" condition were Elaine Dvork, 7, North Liberty, and Donald Knudson, 25, Clinton.

Listed as being in "fair" condition were Mary Morgan, 26, Columbus Junction; Jean Carney, 25, Cedar Rapids; Sheree Knode, 7, Waterloo; Sandra Kienzle, 2, Wellsburg, and Dagmar Ingvaldstad, 40, Decorah.

Transferred to "inactive" status were Frank Svaboda, 24, Cedar Rapids; Gary Headington, 5, Decorah; Carol Spjut, 5, Cedar Rapids; Frances Spoden, 13, Janesville, Wis., and Willard Targim, 14, Decorah.

Congressman's Son Volunteers for Duty

Richard C. Martin, son of Republican Congressman Thomas E. Martin, Iowa City, has volunteered for active service with the army, it was announced Monday.

Martin, a 1949 SUI graduate, is a reserve second lieutenant in the infantry. He will report for active duty at Fort Bevens, Mass.

A veteran of five years' service, Martin is married and has two children. He has spent the summer working toward an M.A. degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

GREEN BAY, WIS. (AP) — Rep. John Walsh (D - Ind.) said Monday night he will be in Washington today to introduce a bill to reinstate two-a-day postal delivery service.

MOVING ALONG A ROAD at a Royal tank factory, somewhere in Britain, is Britain's new 50-ton super tank, the Centurion. It is followed by others enroute to test runs. An amphibian, the tank is powered by a 635-horsepower adaptation of the famed Rolls Royce meteor aircraft engine.

Former SUI Student, Father Toomey Dies After Long Illness

The Rev. J. Emmet Toomey, 36, former SUI student and long-time Iowa City resident, died Sunday at University hospitals following a long illness.

Father Toomey was a brother to Iowa City Atty. J. Newman Toomey. He has been on the faculty of St. Ambrose college, Davenport, for three and one-half years, serving as an army chaplain.

Funeral services are scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Patrick's church in Iowa City. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery at Parnell.

Father Toomey was born in Parnell Sept. 30, 1913, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Toomey. The family moved to Iowa City in 1921, where Father Toomey graduated from St. Patrick's high school in 1931. After attending SUI, he was graduated from St. Ambrose college in 1935.

Besides Atty. Toomey of Iowa City, Father Toomey is survived by a sister, Mrs. E.J. Wilkinson, Davenport; two other brothers, Atty. Paul Toomey, Manson, and Atty. D.C. Toomey, Los Angeles, two nieces and four nephews.

U.S. to Ask Increased Arms for West Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Monday was reported ready to call on its Atlantic pact partners to boost even further the stepped-up rearmament effort they have proposed.

Informed officials said the overall defense increases outlined by America's Atlantic pact allies appear to fall short of what the U.S. believes is necessary to forge an effective barrier to Communist aggression in western Europe.

American defense experts who have been analyzing the new programs, say that while they are "definitely a step in the right direction," few match in proportion the scope and speed of the U.S. rearmament drive.

The western European programs, they indicated, generally fail to provide enough additional manpower for defense forces quickly enough, in the judgment of American officials.

Catholic Church Adds New Belief to Dogma

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius has called a secret consistory to make belief in the bodily assumption of the Virgin Mary into heaven a dogma of the Catholic church, it was announced Monday.

The dogma will be the first added to the doctrine of the church in nearly 100 years. The last was that of the Immaculate Conception proclaimed on Dec. 8, 1854.

City Council Approves Record $820,649 Budget for 1951-52

The city council Monday approved a record Iowa City budget of $820,649 for the period from April 1, 1951, to March 31, 1952.

The new budget is $80,204 higher than that of the current year — $740,445.

Of the new budget $455,160 will be raised by taxes to be paid beginning next January. The remaining $365,489 will come from state revenues.

Parking Lot Bid
The new budget will provide additional funds for the fire department, police department, sewerage disposal plant, city library, municipal airport, city park and the community recreation center.

The council received and accepted a $637.50 bid from Joe Conway, Cedar Rapids, to remove a large house from the property recently purchased by the city at 311 E. College street for a new city parking lot.

A resolution was passed directing the city clerk to advertise for bids for the widening of Linn street — five feet on each side — from Iowa avenue south to Burlington street. Also, Washington street will be widened from Linn street east to the railroad tracks.

New Storm Sewer
The costs of widening the streets are to be paid out of the road use tax refunds from the state. The improvement work also will include installation of a new 12-inch storm sewer along Linn street from Burlington street to the alley north of College street.

Bids are due by 2 p.m., Sept. 11, on the new construction scheduled to begin by Sept. 25.

Democratic Leaders Predict Tax Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders predicted Monday the senate will pass next week the $5-billion "quickie" tax boost bill carrying a 10 to 20 percent hike on personal income.

House approval is expected to follow swiftly. President Truman asked for speed on the bill — a stop-gap measure to begin financing Korean war costs. Additional increases will be asked next year.

The senate time-table was outlined by his congressional leaders after their regular weekly conference at the White House.

Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas (Ill.) said he expects the senate finance committee to finish work on the measure this week so that it can be brought up for floor debate next Monday.

Vice President Alben W. Barkley said it can be put through the senate in "three or four days."

Both seemed to think the full senate will approve the recommendations of the finance committee without material change.

Committee Rejects Excess Profits Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate finance committee voted Monday against an excess profits tax at this time but ordered a study of the subject and the possibility of a general federal sales tax.

A committee spokesman said the action does not necessarily mean that either levy — an excess profits tax or a general sales tax — will be adopted.

Sen. Clyde R. Hoey (D - NC) a committee member, said, however, the action puts corporations on notice that "in all probability" the excess profits tax will be levied on their 1951 earnings.

It was generally agreed that the vote for a staff study will block attempts to tack an excess profits amendment to the $5-billion "quickie" tax bill the committee is drafting to start financing the Korean war.

They were confident, however, he would call off the speech and hurry back to the capital in time to call up the measure.

The decision to give the bill first priority today was taken over the strenuous objections of Chairman Tom Murray (D-Tenn.) of the house postoffice committee.

Murray and others said Donaldson's April 17 order should remain in effect to help wipe out the department's $500-million-a-year deficit.

Critics, who forced the bill out of the rules committee by getting 218 congressional signatures on a discharge petition, said the order was unnecessary and would save only about $70-million per year.

Local Guardsmen Return; Not Nervous Over Korean Situation

National guardsmen who attended the two-week camp at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., showed little sign of nervousness over the Korean situation, Capt. H. W. Dick, commander of the local reconnaissance unit, said Monday.

The Iowa City guardsmen, representing the 34th reconnaissance returned Sunday from the Iowa-Nebraska national guard encampment. They returned by convoy with units from Cedar Rapids, Washington, Dubuque and Oelwein.

"The people at home felt the Korean war more than the boys at the camp," Dick said. He added that many men at the encampment "seemed to show a keener interest" in the tasks assigned. This, he said, contributed to a "very successful" training period.

Dick said there was no indication at the camp when and which Iowa units would be called for duty by the army. The 194th field artillery, called last week to active duty, is the only Iowa unit to be affected so far.

The weekly training program for the local units will remain the same, Dick said. The men have been meeting at the Iowa City armory each Monday night.

Vote to Insure Profit For Meat Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate Monday approved a proposal to guarantee a "reasonable margin of profit" to the meat-packing industry under any wage - price control powers exercised by President Truman.

The action came by voice vote, over - riding Republican protests that the meat industry was being singled out for special favoritism if controls come. A supporter of the proposal said later it was aimed at preventing meat black marketing.

Also by voice vote, the senate batted down a demand by GOP leaders that a "reasonable profit" plan be extended across the board to cover all industries.

Both actions came late in the day as the senate quickened debate on a 1950 home front mobilization act which would give Mr. Truman authority to control prices and wages and impose rationing when he deemed it necessary, along with credit and production controls.

Student Killed In Auto Crash
Annabel Willis, P. Perry, was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Perry Saturday night.

She and Jake D. Stockerburger, 27, Perry, were on their way to a dance when the car in which they were riding and a taxi side-swiped on highway 141 two miles east of Perry.

Miss Willis, 20, was a member of Alpha Chi Omega social sorority, Kappa Epsilon, national pharmacy sorority, and the American Pharmaceutical association.

Reservists Not Getting Draft Calls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft eligibles who are members of organized reserve military units are not now receiving induction orders from selective service — as an administrative policy.

A selective service official made that statement Monday. But, at the same time, he concurred with defense department officials in saying that men within the draft age — 19 through 25 — are subject to the draft even though they may be members of organized reserve units.

The selective service law makes that clear. It says that men between the ages of 19 and 26, who were not members or organized reserve units when the law became effective June 24, 1948, are subject to draft and induction.

U.S. AND SOUTH KOREAN UNITS stood their ground Monday on all fronts as the Reds continued to build up strength on the central front (sawtooth) for expected drives (broken arrows) to encircle Taegu. On the Chinju front action was relatively light as U.S. forces consolidated positions.

Four Killed as Crippled B-29 Crashes in Texas

FORT WORTH (AP) — A crippled B-29 bomber crashed and burned in a field about two miles north of Carswell airforce base Monday, killing four crewmen.

Eight crewmen got away with minor injuries as the four-engined bomber struck the field and slid.

Other Air Crashes Cost 11 Lives

Crashes of three private planes in the midwest and south cost 11 lives Monday.

The worst mishap occurred near Kellogg, Iowa, when a new Beech single-engine plane crashed in a cornfield, killing Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wynes, Dubuque, and three children.

Three persons, tentatively identified as a Pontiac, Mich., family died when their small plane went into a tail spin and crashed and burned near Fayetteville, Tenn.

Three more persons lost their lives in a crash at Atlanta, Ga., when a Piper plane plowed into the ground only 220 feet from a large house.

THIS IS THE WRECKAGE of a private plane which crashed in a cornfield near Newton Monday killing five persons. The dead were Richard L. Wynes, 34, Dubuque city councilman; his wife, Evelyn, 33, their sons, Richard Jr., 7 and John, 3, and a niece, Brenda Bosley, 10. Witnesses said the plane swooped down out of the clouds and flew close to the ground, then appeared to explode and lose a wing.

1,000 More Cross Naktong Near Taegu

TOKYO (TUESDAY) (AP) — Bloody battles flamed in the curves of the Naktong river today as Communist commanders shoved more troops across in an attempt to breach Allied defense lines.

Field dispatches reported two battalions of Reds, numbering more than 1,000 men, poured across the Naktong Tuesday morning about 14 miles southwest of Taegu, key American communications base.

The crossing, in the Tuksong bend, is on the southern flank of the central front where the Reds have massed 60,000 men for an all-out drive on the river barrier protecting Taegu.

No Reports
A spokesman at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said he had no reports on today's battle in that area.

A headquarters operational summary said U.S. First Cavalry division troopers killed 1,000 Communists in the same area Monday in repulsing a previous crossing near Tuksong.

These crossings threatened the northern flank of the U.S. 24th division, engaged in a major counterattack against the North Korean Fourth division in the Changnyong bulge just to the south.

24th Resumes Push
The 24th beat off a series of tank-led counterattacks during the night, then resumed its push this morning.

The Americans have advanced roughly a mile along the front, squeezing the enemy into a narrowing foothold on the river's east bank. The front was narrowed to five miles — one mile less than when the American attack started Monday.

At its deepest point the Red foothold extends a little more than two and one-half miles from the river.

War at a Glance

Korean front — American troops hurl back North Korean counterattack and resume their push into Reds' Naktong river bridgehead 23 miles below Taegu. Americans already have gained a mile. Communists shove 1,000 troops over the Naktong near junction of U.S. First Cavalry and 24th Infantry division sectors.

Wave of Hysteria' —

Reprinted from the St. Louis Star-Times

President Truman accompanied his plea for stronger legislation against spying and sabotage with a warning that bears constant repetition: "We must not be swept away by a wave of hysteria."

Many of the men on Capitol Hill seem to have missed the warning, though. They are scurrying about in what's at least an imitation of hysteria to urge the passage of sweeping bills that might endanger all civil liberties.

Actually, the President marked well the limits of the new laws that are needed. He called for:

1. An extension of the statute of limitations on peace-time espionage. The present statute calls for prosecution within three years. Had that time been longer, Alger Hiss — to cite one instance — would have been tried for spying, not for mere perjury.

2. The registration of foreign-trained spies and subversives. There's no real hope, of course, that such persons would voluntarily register. A law requiring registration would, though, provide a new method of getting at such persons. At present a man can be arrested as a spy only after he has succeeded in his spying. Under the proposed law he could be arrested for failure to register even though he might have had no chance to start spying.

3. Presidential authority to plug loopholes in the security regulations on military bases and defense establishments.

4. Authorization for the attorney-general to supervise aliens who are subject to deportation. A Gerhard Eisler could escape from this country because the attorney-general had no power of supervision over him. There should be no more escaping Eislers.

Experience has shown the need for all these laws; it has not shown the need for any others. That the Smith Act, already on the books, is sufficient to check the really dangerous activities of Communists has been doubly proved. It was proved first in the conviction of the 11 top American Communists under this act; it was proved again in Judge Learned Hand's eloquent decision in the court of appeals upholding that conviction.

"It would be tragic in the highest degree," said President Truman, "if we were to frighten ourselves into destroying those very liberties which are the basis of our moral leadership in the struggle for peace." Some of the zealots in congress threaten just such destruction.

Civilian Shortages Won't Result From Government Buying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government buying for the Korean war and this nation's consequent rearmament may not result in as many civilian shortages as first expected, military and civilian economists agreed Monday.

After a carefully second look at the industrial demands of the six-week-old war effort, these experts presented a cautiously optimistic picture.

They said smaller — than — expected military requirements coupled with reduced demand for consumer goods because of credit restrictions and observance of President Truman's no-hoarding request might ease the situation considerably.

Here are the latest revised predictions on major civilian consumer goods:

Steel — Military needs will be stepped up from the current level of 2-million tons a year to only 5.5-million or 6-million tons. This is about 5.3 percent of the nation's total production of finished steel.

Automobiles — Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, predicted auto production will be cut back only about 10 percent next year. He said manpower shortages will be more serious than any steel scarcity.

Lumber — The defense department says it will need 1.5-billion board feet in the next year, leaving 33.5-billion board feet for civilian use. Private industry experts claim this will be ample.

Textiles — Production facilities are described by industry spokesmen as sufficient for any immediate need. Shortages of nylon and bed linens are the result of scarce buying.

Food — No scarcities are anticipated because of this year's large crops, the increased mechanization of farms and previous surplus stockpiling.

Cigarettes — Manufacturers do not foresee any possible shortage.

Kansas Solving Physician Shortage in Rural Areas

By Central Press
TOPEKA, KAN. — Kansas is witnessing what a few years ago would have been regarded as a medical miracle. For the first time in the history of the state there is not only no shortage of doctors in the smaller communities, but graduates of medical schools in Kansas are showing a preference for locating in the rural sections — thanks to the revolutionary plan of a young army physician.

After World War II rural Kansas found itself in the same desperate medical situation as many other states. There were many small communities which were 40 to 50 miles from a practicing physician. In time of emergency this distance was a dire threat to the life of a patient.

Even among those rural areas which did have a physician, most of them did not possess either a hospital or proper medical facilities. The rural doctor was so isolated from modern medical practice that he felt like a professional exile.

In 1948, when the situation was at its lowest ebb, Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, a 32-year-old doctor in the army medical corps, was named dean of the University of Kansas school of medicine.

Before assuming office he toured the state, talked with citizens in rural communities, checked the facts, and came up with a startling medical picture of rural Kansas — one which it was believed was duplicated in many other states.

Dr. Murphy found that while the population of Kansas had increased some 500,000 between 1906 and 1948, the number of doctors practicing in rural areas had fallen from 1,366 to 437. The number of doctors in rural areas had fallen from 50 percent to 23 percent of the state total and was growing smaller every year.

The shortage of physicians was nation-wide — and the cities were getting the lion's share of the smaller number. Unless this trend was reversed the rural shortage of physicians, which had already become acute, would threaten the health foundation of the nation.

In order to get at the basic causes of lack of country doctors, Dr. Murphy asked the medical students why rural practice was not more attractive to them.

He found it was largely a financial problem. The young doctor just out of medical school has spent more than $10,000 on his education. Probably he is married, already may have a family and may be in debt.

Starting out in a small town alone requires an outlay, in most cases, of from $10,000 to $20,000 for modern equipment, office, car and perhaps a home.

The same young medical school graduate is offered many openings nowadays in urban or institutional practice and numerous business opportunities. These openings require little investment on his part and assure a good income immediately.

rural communities was the matter of isolation — particularly the absence of means to keep closely in touch with developments in medicine and surgery. atmosphere of medical talks by authorities in their particular field.

After analyzing the situation and studying the results of various attempts in other states to recruit doctors for rural practice, Dean Murphy came up with his Kansas plan.

Newspapers gave the plan their enthusiastic support. The state board of health and the state medical society got behind it, and the influential farm bureau which was deeply concerned over the exodus of country doctors was equally enthusiastic in its support.

In support of the Kansas plan there was evolved this three-part program:

1. Enlarge the state medical school to turn out more doctors.

2. Break down the medical isolation of the country doctor in Kansas.

3. Get the rural community to sell itself to the physician by offering the sort of inducements that will attract and keep him.

The state legislature enacted a bill appropriating $3.8-million for additions to the Kansas University medical center. With these increased facilities the school was able to accept 100 first-year students this year, rather than 80. As new buildings are completed and the teaching staff enlarged the output of young Kansas doctors will be increased.

To overcome the objection of young doctors to being medically isolated in rural communities, Dean Murphy proposed a circuit course which would bring medical lectures and discussions to the doctor.

Teams of physicians, general practitioners as well as specialists, delivered lectures in six strategically located towns in Kansas. Consideration is being given to making these lectures even more convenient for the country doctor, by delivering the circuit course in medicine over the radio.

Finally, and in some respects most important of all, Dean Murphy proposed to residents of rural communities that they spend $15,000 to $20,000 for a suitable medical office and equipment, so the new doctor could start work with the type of medical tools he needs.

The idea is these quarters should be rented to the new doctor at a modest rental, and then after a year or so if the doctor and community find they like each other, it should be sold to the doctor at cost, payment to be made on a monthly basis.

Although the idea is still young it already looks as if the Kansas plan may prove a pronounced success. Many new country doctors have taken root in Kansas and appear content to stay in rural practice.

GOP Playing Politics With Foreign Policy; Say Senate Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats angrily accused their Republican colleagues Monday of playing politics with U.S. foreign policy at a time when national unity is needed to win the Korean war.

They struck back vehemently at a weekend statement issued by four GOP members of the senate foreign relations committee.

It blamed the Roosevelt — Truman administrations for "disastrous" developments in the far east, and said the Yalta and Potsdam conferences of 1945 gave Russia "a green light to grab whatever it could in China, Korea and Formosa."

Committee Chairman Tom Connally (D-Texas) labeled the GOP document "a plain and palpable political statement, intended to influence the coming election."

He said what the country needs in the present crisis is "unity at home instead of quarrelsomeness and pettifoggery attacks on the administration by Republicans."

Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn) a member of the committee, also charged its Republican minority with a "crafty" attempt to "cozen a few votes in November."

He said the Republicans are seeking to "cut themselves in on the victories of our foreign policy" by claiming they were bipartisan moves, and at the same time "to divorce themselves from our defeats" by branding them administration blunders.

But, McMahon said, "the record shows" that a majority of the Republicans in congress have been "vigorously opposed" administration programs to fight communism, including the Marshall plan and the north Atlantic security pact.

He asserted that the Republicans are now trying to gloss over the record of the party as a whole by "clinging to the coat-tails" of Sen. Arthur W. Vandenberg (R-Mich) who fought for bipartisan support of anti-Communist cold war policies.

Coast Guard Checks 'Willing' Volunteers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The coast guard has begun a check on how many of its reservists are willing to volunteer for active duty.

It announced Monday that all coast guard districts have been directed to assemble a "ready" list of men and women reservists (all enlisted and commissioned officers through lieutenant) who have signified their willingness to go on active duty.

"No involuntary recalls are being considered at this time," the announcement said.

"The purpose of this list is to determine the amount of reserve manpower that can be anticipated on a voluntary basis.

"Recalls will be limited. Male reservists (enlisted and commissioned through lieutenant) must possess certain skills and qualifications, including previous sea experience and/or port security experience. Spars (women) will be called as needed."

Shoestring Tourist — Finds Countryside Beautiful

— Cycling in England

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles by Ruth A. Jackson, telling how it's possible to tour Europe "On a Shoestring."

By RUTH A. JACKSON
Central Press Correspondent
NEWCASTLE, ENGLAND

When you get out of London, out into the country, you see the true beauty of England . . . in quiet little villages with quaint names: Morton - in - the - Marsh, Stow-in-the-Wold, Once Brewed, with the stone houses along crooked cobblestone streets . . . with a mellow old church presiding at the end of a curving lane.

Out there you see stone fences around fields so green they look like parks . . . wild flowers everywhere, peaceful rivers . . . one so quiet I saw white petals floating on it. Here you'll find warm and friendly inns with huge fireplaces, with the glow from flowers and copper utensils. The food is better, too.

I latched on to an English bicycle (about half what I'd have paid in America) and cycled thru Jordans, Stow-in-the-Wold, Stratford and Warwick.

I took it easy, stayed at youth hostels, and my expenses were ridiculously low. Yet I met more interesting people and enjoyed myself more than in any other part of England.

I'd been warned Stratford-on-Avon was commercialized. It's still worth seeing (even in the rain). It's one of the loveliest sections of England. I'll never forget the swans on the River Avon, the famous thatched - roof Hathaway cottage, the play in the Shakespeare Memorial theater . . . the best staged, best acted, most enjoyable Shakespeare I'd ever seen.

From Stratford, I cycled leisurely to Warwick, another beautiful town, with the kind of castle to which you always imagined your prince charming would carry you. The castle grounds are lovely, with peacocks strolling about. The castle itself is filled with priceless paintings by Rembrandt, Van Dyke, Rubens . . . I vote it the most interesting castle in England.

I walked through the ancient old city of Chester, took a fast bus ride through wild, hilly Wales to Barmouth. Here stone houses cling to a hill so steep I didn't see how a blade of grass could stand upright.

Everyone has a few things they've always wanted to do. One of mine was to see Haworth, to walk on the wild, lonely moors that the Bronte sisters wrote about so movingly. I did, and I'll never forget it. The Bronte parsonage is still there, full of drawings and moments of the children . . . a graveyard in the front, a path in the back leading out to the moors.

It was in Haworth that a café owner put me up in a spare room — actors from the Bronte festival filled the town — plied me with innumerable teas and an excellent breakfast and wouldn't take a cent for it.

Then after cycling through the drizzly Lake Country I went on to beautiful Edinburgh. Here I saw kilts Scots dance in the amphitheater in gardens in front of the old castle. (A handful of people were seated). The majority, hundreds and hundreds of thrifty Scotchmen, preferred to stand outside and save their shilling apiece (14 cents).

Next day, while walking down the Royal Mile of old homes and castles to the Palace of the Holyrood, I saw a sign I've wondered about since. "Edinburgh City Police Department for aliens, firearms and dangerous drugs."

After visiting the Firth bridge ("Oh, you must see the Firth bridge"), which turned out to be a disappointing pile of pipes in the grotesque form of a bridge . . . and after straightening out a Scottish minister who had made a few inaccurate statements about America in a sermon (he invited me over to tea) . . . I entrained for Newcastle . . . and a boat for Norway.

All thru England I've met Americans making the trip on a shoestring, many a thinner shoestring than mine. They may go without baths, their feet may ache, but already they're talking about coming back here. Why don't you come with them?

Says Armed Services Shunned Food Surpluses
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Williams (R-Del.) told the senate Monday that the armed services spent $6-million in the last four weeks for food that could have been turned over to them as surplus.

Williams listed eggs, butter, cheese and potatoes among purchases he said the armed services had made at market prices. He contended that the department of agriculture could have provided such food from surplus stocks it holds.

Wisconsin Leads Air Raid Warning Race

MADISON, WIS. (AP) — Wisconsin is in the vanguard of the race to set up a regional civilian air raid warning network and can be ready for action in a few days, Col. E. Dee Ingold said Sunday.

In old, executive officer of the adjutant general's office, said the Badger state has 600 of its quota of 19 air watchers picked and installation of phones is being rushed at the "filter center" in Green Bay.

The plan, outlined by Defense Secretary Louis Johnson last March, calls for a special telephone network for each state and a standby communications system operated by radio amateurs, Ingold said.

Johnson's plan for a "dry run" invasion of U.S. planes to test the alertness of watchers has been delayed because some states are behind schedule in setting up the network, Ingold said.

He explained that the watcher has only to say "air flash" into his phone to be connected with the filter center at Green Bay where from 300 to 440 volunteers will be on hand to plot the approaching planes and relay information to the headquarters of the 21-state northeastern region.

Calls from northwestern Wisconsin will go to a filter center at Minneapolis, and those from southern Wisconsin will go to Chicago, he said.

Midway in the network are 10 key point air raid warning centers. At Milwaukee, Madison, Ashland, Appleton, Eau Claire, Wausau, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Stevens Point and Superior. Each warning center had supervision over counties in its area, Ingold said.

In addition, Wisconsin sheriffs are tied in with the network so they'll be able to speed to bombed areas.

Watchers are older persons and women who are draft - exempt. They also are screened to make sure no subversives are included, he said.

"We can be ready for a trial run a few days after we get orders," Ingold said. "Cooperation has been excellent right down the line."

Victory Assured, Truman Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said Monday "victory is assured" in the Korean war.

Mr. Truman made the prediction in a message to South Korea's President Syngman Rhee on the second anniversary of the founding of the little post-war republic.

Denouncing the "savage and ruthless Communist invader," Mr. Truman told Rhee: "I know that the aggressor will be repelled and that the people of Korea will achieve the freedom and independence which are their natural right."

Baltic Possible Scene of Red Drive in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is a long way from Korea, but since the Russians sit astride the top of the world and play an artful game of global divergencies, Uncle Sam's military strategists here are keeping a close weather eye on the Baltic sea.

They speculate that it is more than an even chance that the next Red move in the world-wide chess game of war may be to attempt what Hitler almost but not quite accomplished — make the Baltic a private lake.

In fact, the most dramatic Soviet offensive and defensive maneuvers in the last 18 months have not been in Red China or even Korea, but in the area where they have built the post-World War II version of France's Maginot Line and Germany's West Wall before the last war.

The most reliable reports received here indicate that from Hamburg to Leningrad stretches an unbroken array of Red submarine pens, forts, radar installations and naval bases.

They have mobilized in the most modern ways of present-day warfare the historical strong points of Czarist Russia in the region, and added the traditional German Baltic strongholds of Koenigsberg, Stettin, Rostock and Stralsund. Estonia has become the scene of extensive war games both summer and winter.

Most of the iron curtain is a flimsy screen compared with the blanket of secrecy that the Reds have draped over the entire region. Along this vital coastline no civilian may approach within five miles of the sea, and Stalin has extended the usual three- or four-mile territorial limit at sea to a self-appropriated 12 miles.

It was into this mesh of secrecy and intrigue that the United States plane, which was shot down last spring, flew. Recently fishing vessels of neutral Sweden have been disappearing with a regularity which has brought a sharp but so far futile protest from the Swedish government.

Russian forces may surge southward through Norway from Murmansk — the port through which the United States and Britain funneled so much war material to help Stalin stage off Hitler's attempted conquest.

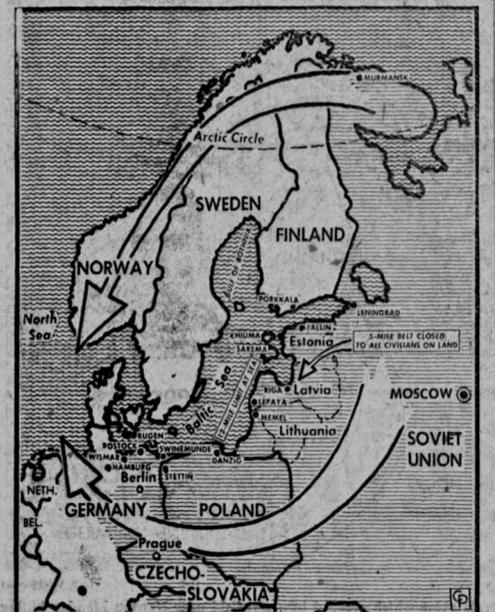

Simultaneously other Russian forces may move to the Atlantic coastal areas through Denmark and the low countries. The first tipoff might well be the sudden seizure of the Danish island of Bornholm, which stands like a cork in the sea bottle-neck to this new "Russian lake."

Occupying an uneasy ringside seat for all these menacing developments is Sweden, peaceful for 135 years. Unwilling to join its neighbors Norway and Denmark in the family of Atlantic pact nations, the Swedes have elected to go it alone and are making efforts to strengthen themselves militarily.

Plucky though these moves may be, they are viewed here as pitifully inadequate to contain any Russian thrust. The current Swedish military calling for 1,075,000, 000 kroner a year (a little more than $3-million in United States money) will be hiked to 1.3-billion kroner — a mere drop in the bucket.

However, the key to Russian intentions in the Baltic undoubtedly are its submarines, considered by the Reds' most potent striking arm at this moment together with their masses of land troops and capable artillery.

With the entire Baltic sea as a spawning ground for undersea craft, Russia may aim to make the U-boat depredations of the Kaiser and Hitler seem tame by comparison. This is one big reason why the spotlight of the stop-Russia strategy is quite as much on the Baltic these days as on Korea, where American - UN and Soviet arms already are clashing.

HOW RED Pincer could convert Baltic into a Russian lake.

Fire Destroys Carts at SUI Laundry

FIRE DESTROYED 32 CANVAS CARTS at the SUI laundry early Monday morning. The carts, used for transporting laundry about the plant, caught fire about 12:20 a.m. in a concrete washing room in the basement. Firemen, who had the fire under control by 1:15, were unable to determine the cause of the blaze. Extent of the damage was also unknown.

Rail Union Leaders 'Reluctantly' Agree To Continue Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union officials threatening a possible nationwide railroad strike of trainmen and conductors said Monday night they had reluctantly agreed to continue White House peace conferences.

Pres. W.P. Kennedy of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Pres. R.O. Hughes of the Order of Railway Conductors said they will meet again today with John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman, at 12 noon (Iowa time).

The two union leaders had gone to the White House Monday night intending to ask President Truman again to seize the railroads to prevent a strike.

Kennedy said, however, that they resumed talks with Steelman and did not see Mr. Truman, or formally ask for seizure. The unions had requested seizure on Aug. 4. Kennedy said that if the talks with Steelman become bogged down, the unions then will again ask seizure.

In these talks, Kennedy and Hughes have been conferring for the past week with Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman seeking a settlement of the dispute.

The controversy centers on the 40-hour week. It involves some 300,000 members of the trainmen and conductors unions. The unions are seeking a 40-hour week without loss of pay for workers in yard service, who have been working a 48-hour week.

The unions first asked Mr. Truman to take over the railroads in a telegram on Aug. 4.

The unions have been at liberty to strike since July 15, under operation of the railway act.

Lois Jean Dunlap, Harold Eakes Wed

Lois Jean Dunlap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Dunlap, 2018 E. Court street, was married to Harold Eakes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eakes, 516 S. Van Buren, in the Little Brown church, Nashua, late Sunday afternoon.

Dorothy Eakes, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor in the single ring ceremony. Robert Kinney, 740 Kirkwood avenue, served as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Charles City. After a wedding trip to Minnesota, the couple will live in Mt. Vernon, where Mr. Eakes will attend Cornell college. Mrs. Eakes attended SUI before her marriage.

SUI Department Reports Low Pollen Count

Hayfever sufferers just missed a "hey day" Monday, when the minimum pollen count in Iowa City was 45 granules per cubic yard of air. A count of 50 granules is considered the point at which hayfever sufferers find discomfort, according to SUI department of hygiene officials. The count was expected to rise from Saturday's 58 granule reading.

Graduate Students Engaged

MR. AND MRS. WRIGHT M. WELTON, of Luke, Md., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Ann Welton, to Willard A. Taber, G. Marshalltown. Mr. Taber is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Taber. Following the wedding late this month, the couple will live in Iowa City, where they will continue graduate work at SUI.

Beverly Slezak Wed To Richard Givens

In a double ring service at the Methodist Student center, Thursday at 3:30 p.m., Beverly June Slezak, daughter of Lt. and Mrs. Clyde L. Slezak, 1116 E. Burlington street, became the bride of Richard Dale Givens.

Mr. Givens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis R. Givens, Mercedes, Texas.

The Rev. Robert Sanks was the officiating clergyman. Serving as maid of honor was Patricia Price. The best man was Jack V. Buerkle, G. West Frankfort, Ill. Following a three-week wedding trip, the couple will live at 210 N. Dubuque street.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage licenses were issued Monday in Johnson county clerk's office to Charles L. Sieglaff, Waterloo, and Shirley M. Flemming, Iowa City; Ronald D. Young and Martha L. Lewis, both of Good Hope, Ill., and James Bowker and Edith Coonrod, both of Anamosa.

Banana Cake a Treat On Cool August Days

If this cool August weather seems to stimulate your family's appetite and sharpen its sweet tooth, the answer to your problem might be found in a banana cake.

Here's a tried and proven recipe, guaranteed to make mouths water.

Ingredients
The ingredients are as follows: 2 cups flour, 1/2 cup butter, 1/2 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons vanilla and 1 cup mashed banana (about three bananas).

Combine the shortening and sugar, and add the eggs. Mix the soda in the milk, and add it, alternating with the dry ingredients, to the creamed mixture. Add the bananas and the vanilla last. Beat the mixture for thirty seconds. Bake it as a layer cake or loaf at 350 degrees until the cake shrinks from sides of pan.

Tempting Frosting
For a tempting frosting, take 4 squares of unsweetened chocolate and add it to 1 1/4 cups cold milk, placed in the top of a double boiler. When the chocolate is melted, beat until smooth and blended.

Sift 4 tablespoons flour with 1 cup sugar, and add a small amount of the chocolate mixture to this, until smooth. Return this to the double boiler, and cook until thickened. Then add two tablespoons butter and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Let it cool, and then spread it on the cake.

Construction Boom Indicates Lively Iowa Business Period

The first six months of 1950 has been an active period for Iowa business and generally, above the level of the first six months of 1949.

In a statement released by SUI economists, comparison of the two years shows, that only farm prices, received by Iowa farmers, have shown a marked decline of 3.2 percent.

Prices paid by Iowa farmers have risen 0.2 percent, resulting in a 3.5 percent decline of the party ratio.

These findings were reported in the August issue of the business and economic research.

Construction Boom

The liveliest indicator of Iowa business has been construction. Contracts for the first five months of 1950 were 60.5 percent higher than for the same period in 1949.

Residential contracts accounted for almost 30 percent of this valuation of all building contracts.

An increase of 0.5 percent

Damages Unknown In Laundry Fire

A fire at the SUI laundry, 20 N. Gilbert street, destroyed 32 canvas clothing carts in a basement washing room about 12:20 a.m. Monday, but was under control before further damage was done.

No estimate of the damage was available, and the cause of the fire was unknown.

However, a laundry official said the blaze may have started from a lighted cigarette tossed into the basement from the alley north of the plant.

A concrete ceiling in the washing room probably served to keep damage at a minimum, the official said.

Rescuers Continue Search for Climber

LONE PINE, CALIF. — Rescuers slowly probed deep crevasses on the east slope of Mt. Whitney Monday for some trace of missing climber Christopher Reynolds, 17, while another group removed the body of Steven Wasserman.

The boy's frozen corpse was located late Sunday in a crevasse. So steep was the slope the two 17-year-olds set out to conquer eight days ago that a block and tackle had to be brought in to raise Wasserman's body 1,000 feet to pinnacle pass before it could be brought down to the base of the 14,496-foot peak, highest in the United States.

The search for Reynolds, son of torch singer Libby Holman, was pressed by veteran mountain climbers despite their belief the chances of finding him alive were less than one in 100.

Florida Watches, Waits for Hurricane

MIAMI (AP) — The first tropical hurricane of 1950 sent a coiling tower of 90-mile per hour winds swirling across the Atlantic northwestward toward the U. S. mainland Monday from an area north of Puerto Rico.

The Miami weather bureau said in a 5 p.m. advisory statement that the winds circulating around the center of the hurricane had picked up 15 miles per hour in velocity since they reached hurricane force of 75 miles per hour Monday morning.

It warned the storm would continue to increase in intensity during the next 12 hours while holding a northwesterly course. Ships in its path were urged to take precautions against high waves piled up by the hurricane. Florida residents maintained a watch - and - wait attitude toward the storm that still was 900 miles distant.

Principal Named For Junior High

Robert K. Sorensen, 34, Spooner, Wis., has been named principal of Iowa City Junior high school, Supt. of Schools Iver A. Opstad announced Monday.

Sorensen succeeds Otis Walker who resigned earlier in the year to enter business. The appointment has been approved by the Iowa City school board.

Sorensen graduated from the University of Minnesota and received his M.A. degree from that school.

His teaching career began at Spooner where he spent two years as a high school instructor. After teaching for three years in other high schools in Wisconsin, Sorensen returned to Spooner and has been principal of the high school since 1947.

During World War II, Sorensen served for three years in the armed services. He is married and has three children.

Indians Slice Tiger Lead To 2 1/2 Games With Tight 3-2 Triumph

Detroit Loses In 10th Inning

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dale Mitchell grounded to Neil Berry in the bottom of the 10th Monday night sending in Roberto Avila with the winning run as Cleveland beat Detroit, 3-2.

Berry fielded the pinch hitter's ball at short but the throw to the plate was too late to catch Avila, who was running in place of Allie Clark.

Clark started the extra inning by doubling. He and Jim Hegan, who had walked, advanced a base each on Pitcher Early Wynn's sacrifice. After Ray Boone was walked purposely, Mitchell went to bat for Right Fielder Bob Kennedy.

Al Rosen forced the game into extra innings by belting his 31st home run of the season in the ninth after there were two outs.

Detroit had come from behind in the ninth to score twice when Johnny Groth hit his eighth home run of the season with Hoot Evers on base. Evers had singled on a bouncer over the mound.

From the second to the ninth, Cleveland had led on Rosen's score. Rosen doubled to the fence to tie the Indians' half of the second. He went to third as Joe Gordon flied to Vic Wertz and scored on Allie Clark's grounder to George Kell.

The win, which opened a two-game series, put the Indians back into second place, two and a half games behind the leading Tigers and one half game ahead of New York.

It May Be Rifles Next

TWO CHICAGO CUBS, Carmen Mauro, outfielder (left), and Preston Ward, first baseman, take aim on an imaginary target. But it may not be a joke. They may trade their bats for rifles pretty soon. Both are due to report today for pre-induction physical examinations in preparation for a possible draft call.

Reds Win With 11 Runs in 3rd

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An 11-run third inning permitted Cincinnati to stand off piecemeal rally efforts by Pittsburgh Monday and breeze to a 13-8 victory before 4,306 paid fans and 5,547 kiddies.

The Reds put their big frame together on only five hits, capitalizing on four walks and two hit batsmen contributed by a trio of Pirate hurlers.

There was a home run — a solo blast by Cincinnati's Joe Adcock in the eighth. It was his fourth of the year.

Pittsburgh chipped away with 13 hits, but the bulge proved too big. The Reds hammered 12 bingles.

Frank Smith, who relieved Howie Fox in the seventh, collected his second win of the season. He has four losses. Vic Lombardi, who started for the Bucs, was charged with his fifth loss, against no victories.

Iowa City Club Ties for Third in Swim Meet

DES MOINES — The Iowa City swimming club finished in a third place tie Sunday in the Iowa Open Swimming and Diving championships here.

The Omaha Athletic club won the meet with 41 points, followed by the Iowa State college team with 19. Iowa City, the Des Moines Olympic club and Davenport were third, all with 17.

Ruth Ashton was the top scorer for the Iowa City team with a second in the women's one-meter diving and third in the women's 50-meter back stroke.

Other Iowa City point winners were:

Willis Weber, second in the men's 100-meter back stroke; Larry Larimore, third in the men's 100-meter breast stroke; Dick Rouse, fifth in the men's 200-meter free style; Ken Peters, fourth in the 100-meter back stroke; John Rinella, fourth in the men's 100-meter free style, and Larry Lemme, fourth in the three-meter diving.

City High Invites 79 To Fall Grid Practice

Iowa City high school has invited 79 football players back for the 1950 season, Coach Frank Bates announced Monday.

The Little Hawks will begin practice Aug. 24, the earliest date possible under the Iowa High School Athletic association rules. They will receive their physical examinations Wednesday in the Junior high school gymnasium. The squad will draw equipment Thursday and Friday.

Ward, Pafko Lead, Cub Rally Over Cards, 7-6

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs were within one strike of defeat Monday, but with two strikes on him and the tying and winning runs on base, Preston Ward singled to give the Cubs a 7 to 6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

After tying the score twice, the Cardinals seemingly had won the game in the eighth with two runs on Marty Marion's walk, singles by Rocky Nelson and Del Rice, and a bad throw by Bob Borkowski.

But the Cards had reckoned without Andy Pafko and Ward. The former put the Cubs back in contention in the last of the eighth with his 27th homer of the season.

Then in the ninth, the Cubs disposed of Harry (The Cat) Brecheen when Mickey Owen and Hal Jeffcoat led off with singles. Carmen Mauro batted for Twig Terwilliger and struck out. Borkowski suffered a similar fate, but Jeffcoat stole second on the third strike.

There were two strikes on Ward when he won the game with his timely single which scored two runs.

In all, the Cubs delighted 14,646 constituents with 11 hits off Brecheen and George Mauer, three of them by Borkowski before he went swinging in the ninth.

Winner of the unexpected victory was Johnny Vander Meer, who had taken charge following Doyle Lade's dismissal in the eighth.

'Stanky' Maneuver May Bring New Rule

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Frick ruled out Monday the protest of the New York Giants over Saturday's wild game with the Philadelphia Phillies, and told Leo Durocher to curb the antics of Eddie Stanky.

Manager Durocher played the game under protest after Stanky was thrown out for jumping up and down and waving his arms to distract Andy Seminick, who was at bat. The Phillies won, 5-4, in 11 innings.

The "Stanky" maneuver may result in a new rule being written for baseball, said Charlie Segar of the National league service bureau in explaining the action of Frick, the league president. No rule now covers it, but it wouldn't be allowed anymore anyway.

The maneuver is only possible when the infield defense shifts for a right-hand hitter, placing the second baseman almost directly back of the bag and thus in the axis of the plate and mound.

It was evolved last Tuesday at Boston when Bob Elliott motioned Umpire Al Barlick in back of second, to get out of his line of vision. Stanky took over the spot and jumped up and down, waving his hands.

And one of the leaders got there with a set of borrowed clubs. He was Billy Sparks, 17-year-old Atlanta, Ga., lad. He scored a 72, one over par for the rugged Iowa State college course.

The 165 - pound southerner shared the front spot with Ken Scott, Rockford, Ill., 15-year-old, and Ron Hughes of Lawndale, Calif., another 17-year-old.

Young Billy's clubs were lost in transit from Atlanta.

Three Iowa youngsters shot 75's. They were Dale Kniss of Waterloo, George Clark of Ottumwa and Wayne Higley of Iowa City.

Other Iowa scores were: Don Weber, Ames, 79; Dick Schultz, Boone, 79; Max Shields, Oskaloosa, 80; Richard Bellinger, Waterloo, 86.

Ransom Takes Tam 'World' Golf Money

Nets $11,000 Over Harbert

CHICAGO (AP)—Henry Ransom of Dallas went six strokes under par on a sensational five - hole streak to blast Detroit's Chick Harbert 69-72 in an 18 hole playoff Monday and win $11,000 as Tam O'Shanter's "World" golf champion.

The first major triumph for the 39-year-old Texan netted him the biggest cash prize the sport has ever offered. It boosted him from 10th place on the pro's money winning list to second with a total of $18,885.

Snead Still Ahead
Sam Snead is still well ahead in the money chase with $29,048.

Jim Ferrier, the erstwhile runner-up, now is unofficially third with $18,771.

Harbert's second award Monday was $5,000, upping his earnings to $8,398.

Ransom, whose only prime victories in 13 years on the circuit were in 1946 at St. Paul and last year at Wilmington, made each playoff shot against the hard-hitting Harbert count for about $87.

One stroke behind at the 8th hole, the calculating winner, who registers from nearby St. Andrews golf club, uncorked one of the most blistering sub-par sprees in the books.

Scores Eagle 3
He knocked his four-wood second shot from the rough on No. 9 a dozen feet from the pin and was down for an eagle 3.

Ransom then birdied the next four holes. He missed a 10 foot putt on No. 10 which would have given him a consecutive eagle. He settled for a 4. He birdied 11 and 12 with 12 and 15 - foot puts, and added another birdie to the string on No. 13 by holding a 70 - foot pitch shot.

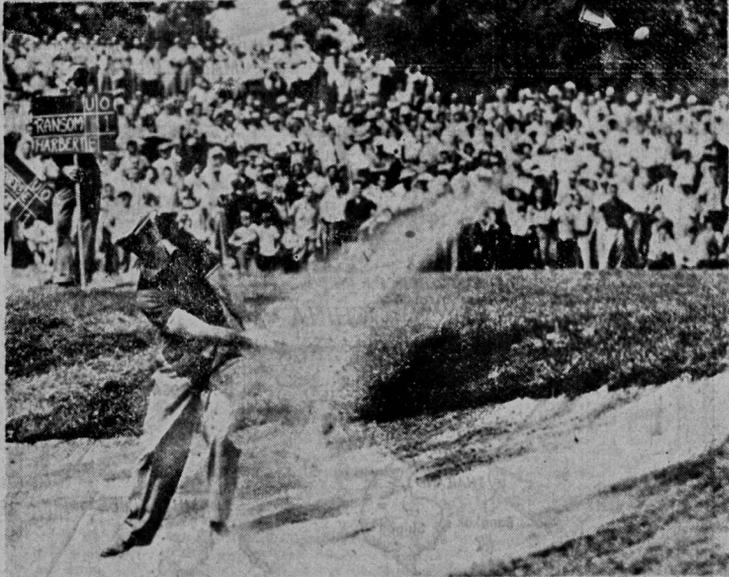

Earlier, Ransom had dropped a 60-foot chip shot on the fourth for another birdie.

Art Andrews Cops Open Tennis Title

DES MOINES — Art Andrews of Iowa City won the boys' singles title in the Des Moines Open tennis tournament here Sunday, defeating Larry Engman of Des Moines, 6-0, 6-0.

Art's brother, Jamie, combined with Gene Nadig of Des Moines to win the junior doubles crown over Art and Ted Dunington, also of Iowa City, 6-0, 6-2.

Jamie was upset in the junior singles. He lost a 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 decision to Nadig.

BLASTING FROM A SAND TRAP on his way to a giant $11,000 jackpot victory in the Tam O'Shanter "World" tournament is Henry Ransom, registered from the St. Andrew's club, near the Chicago site of the Tam tourney. Ransom blasted the ball (arrow) from the trap on the second hole of his championship battle with Chick Harbert. Ransom carded a 69, Harbert a 72.

Name U.S. Davis Cup Team to Meet Aussies

NEW YORK (AP) — Three veterans — Ted Schroeder, Gardner Mulloy and Billy Talbert — and Newcomer Tom Brown of San Francisco, were named as the United States Davis Cup team of 1950 Monday.

The foursome will defend the huge international tennis trophy against the challenge of Australia at Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 25-27.

It will be the fifth straight year since play was resumed after World War II that the same two countries have fought for the cup, with the U.S. the victor in the first four. Last year the score was 4-1.

John H. Bishop, chairman of the USLTA Davis Cup selection committee, said Budge Patty, who has homes both in Los Angeles and Paris, would have been named to the U.S. team except for his sprained ankle.

Tie for Sani Golf Title

DES MOINES (AP) — Amateur Jim English of Red Oak and Professional Jack Shields of Cedar Rapids tied for the Herman Sani Open golf tournament crown Sunday. Both shot 214s in the 54-hole meet.

Bud's Garage Wins Tourney

Bud's Garage of Iowa City won the all-day softball tournament Sunday at Kelly field, defeating the Coralville Merchants in the final game, 2-0.

The Garage nine was limited to one hit in the championship battle by Pitcher Tom Stahl of Coralville. Johnny Albert got the hit to start off the sixth inning. His single along with two errors and a hit batsman produced the winning margin.

Mel Stark hurled all three wins for Bud's. He defeated Muscatine Motors, 9-5, in the first round, and the West Branch Merchants in the semifinals, 8-2.

The Garage team picked up $80 for winning the meet. Coralville, sponsor of the tourney, was awarded $40. Each team paid a $20 entry fee.

Building Permits Given For Three New Homes

Building permits for three new homes in Iowa City were among those granted at the city engineer's office.

Carl Ahlgren was granted a permit to build a new home at 1120 Sheridan avenue at an estimated cost of $11,000.

Lee Siegling has been given a permit to build a residence and garage at 1523 Rochester avenue. Estimated cost is $7,000.

Lloyd Kahl was granted a permit to build a home at 806 Walnut street at an estimated cost of $8,500.

Mrs. Pearl Strand, 605 Riverside drive, was granted a permit to build a $2,000 garage. Garage permits also were granted to W. R. Sharp, 710 Clark street, with breezeway at $550.

Harry J. Swartzendruber, 1711 Morningside drive, was granted a permit to build a tool shed at $100.

A permit to build an enclosing porch at $300 was granted William F. Carstens, 825 Page street.

Vinton Woman in Fair Condition After Wreck

Mrs. Nellie Hilton, 61, of Vinton, remained in "fair" condition at Mercy hospital Monday night after suffering a broken back in the truck-car collision three miles west of North Liberty early Saturday afternoon.

The driver of the car, Ruth Ary, 29, also of Vinton, was released from the hospital Sunday. She suffered a fractured right elbow and abrasions of the thigh.

Mrs. Hilton was riding with Miss Ary when their car collided with a lime truck at the intersection of two county roads.

HOW TO VACATION

Prof. and Mrs. J.W. Howe, 205 Highland drive, will leave Wednesday with their children, Joe and Judy, for a two weeks' vacation to Cresco, Iowa, and Long Lake, Wis. The Howes' nephew, Jack, will accompany them on the trip.

UN Delegate Warren Austin Hits at Russia in Security Council

RUSSIA IS THE ONLY great power "on this earth" which refrains from condemning the aggression of North Koreans. U.S. Delegate Warren Austin declared in a tense Security Council session at Lake Success, N.Y. He emphasized that "refusal to condemn such aggression will make it clear who is for peace and who is not."

Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik, Council president, awaited instructions from Moscow, and Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb awaited his turn with the anti-Moscow oratory.

Red Claims GIs Oppose U.S. Stand

LONDON (AP) — Communist Daily Worker Correspondent Alan Winnington in a dispatch from Seoul claimed Monday he had failed to find a single American prisoner in North Korea who defended United States participation in the war.

Winnington quoted Maj. Charles T. Barter of the 63rd field artillery battalion of the U.S. 24th division, of Mount Vernon, Ind., as saying, "I am sick in my heart at what our people are doing."

"You can see for yourself that the South Koreans want to go with the North and the farther the Korean peoples army goes the more people they are going to get," Winnington quoted Barter.

"Not a man or woman supports Rhee, and if we had left them alone it would have all been over in 10 days."

Fines Total $26.50

Fines totaling $26.50 were levied in police court Monday by Judge Emil G. Trott.

Kelly Motors paid a $14 fine for five vehicle charges and failing to report when summoned.

William Hittler, 225 Grove street, was fined $12.50 and costs for inadequate brakes.

Armour Signs Meat Contract

By UNITED PRESS

Armour and company signed new contracts with CIO and AFL unions Monday in a move expected to assure labor peace in the meat packing industry, while wildcat strikers ended their tieup of the St. Louis transit system.

Elsewhere, more than 4,000 CIO workers went on strike against the Tennessee coal, iron and railroad company, idling mining and processing operators of the big U.S. steel subsidiary.

Auto Workers Threaten

The CIO united auto workers union threatened to take a strike vote unless Ford Motor company agrees to re-open its contract for wage discussions before next year.

Threats of a nationwide strike had rumbled from the CIO packinghouse workers union and the AFL amalgamated meat cutters before they settled with Armour for an 11-cent hourly pay raise.

The agreement covered 30,000 Armour employees and was expected to set a pattern for early writing of new contracts with other major packers — Swift, Cudahy and Wilson.

Busses Operate Normally

Busses and streetcars operated normally in St. Louis for the first time in three days after insurgent AFL drivers bowed to an ultimatum from Missouri Gov. Forrest Smith.

Smith, invoking the state's law against strikes and lockouts in public utilities, threatened a court injunction which would have cost the strikers their seniority and possibly their jobs.

The St. Louis operators had differed with the traction company on whether a 7-cent hourly pay increase should be made retroactive to Jan. 1.

Newton Youth Held in Detroit

By UNITED PRESS

DETROIT (AP) — A youth police identified as 17-year-old Gerald R. Burns, son of a Newton minister, was arrested here Monday "for investigation of auto theft."

Detective Sgt. Robert Smith said Burns admitted theft of a 1949 Cadillac in Des Moines and driving it here, and conceded he was the same youth arrested in the attempted holdup of a Murray, Iowa, bank last year.

Because he was 16 then, Smith said Burns told him he was placed on probation.

Offset Press Added To Printing Lab

A Multilith offset press has been added to the equipment in the newspaper laboratory at the SUI school of journalism.

Students in editorial and magazine journalism will have an opportunity to work with the press in learning the possibilities of the offset process in production of newspapers and house organs.

Since many Iowa country weekly printing plants are now equipped with units of this type, students in community journalism will also use the press.

The Linotype trainees will also receive experience with the press as part of their training for work in newspaper commercial departments.

Deadline Set for Construction Bids

By UNITED PRESS

Bids for construction of electrical services to the new SUI library and the women's gym addition must be submitted by Sept. 1, according to David Dancer, secretary of the Iowa state board of education.

Dancer said bids will be accepted until 1:30 p.m. on that date at the office of George Horner, superintendent of the SUI division of planning and construction.

The sealed bids will be opened at 2 p.m. at a public hearing in Old Capitol.

A five percent deposit of the total amount proposed must accompany the bids. Copies, specifications and other contract data are available in Horner's office.

Newton Youth Held in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A youth police identified as 17-year-old Gerald R. Burns, son of a Newton minister, was arrested here Monday "for investigation of auto theft."

Detective Sgt. Robert Smith said Burns admitted theft of a 1949 Cadillac in Des Moines and driving it here, and conceded he was the same youth arrested in the attempted holdup of a Murray, Iowa, bank last year.

Because he was 16 then, Smith said Burns told him he was placed on probation.

Sgt. Sprath said a pistol which Burns admitted stealing in a Des Moines holdup last December was found in the glove compartment of the Cadillac here after a police cruiser ran him down in a two mile chase.

Smith said Burns told police he took the Cadillac from a used car lot in Des Moines.

The sergeant said Burns told him his father is the Rev. Robert Burns, of Newton.

Thousands Arrive to Stand 'Vision' Watch

NECEDAH, WIS. (AP) — An estimated 1,000 carloads of pilgrims arrived Monday in the vanguard of thousands planning to stand vigil with a farm woman who says she will see the Virgin Mary for the seventh time today.

Henry Swan, in charge of arrangements, said 1,000 autos had arrived by mid-afternoon and that others were coming in a steady stream.

Although the Catholic church has said the claims of Mrs. Fred Van Hoof are "of an extremely questionable nature," her farm has been a shrine for devout and curious from throughout the United States.

Hundreds of people have visited her farm daily since June 17 when she said the Virgin appeared to her.

Swan said that a small number of crippled persons, including one woman in a wheel chair, arrived early hoping to be cured today by a miracle.

They will be allowed to remain in a fenced-off area with Mrs. Van Hoof near a statue of the Virgin in front of her small farm home.

Priests and nuns also were invited to stay close to the 40-year-old mother of seven children.

The area marks the rise of ground where Mrs. Van Hoof said she has seen the Virgin six times since last November. She said the Virgin told her she would appear again at high noon today and at the last time, Oct. 6.

However, in none of the cases has anyone else claimed to have seen the Virgin, nor has anyone claimed to have seen a sign that a miracle occurred, church authorities pointed out.

GIs Fight, Rest At The Front In South Korea

A BURNED-OUT RUSSIAN BUILT invader tank lay amidst the rubble of an almost leveled South Korean town after being blasted by U.S. airforce planes.

"SEOUL CITY SUE," the Korean war's counterpart of "Tokyo Rose" broadcasts to American and South Korean troops from this Seoul radio station. It's power is 50,000 watts, greatest in the east. It was once used as a Japanese propoganda station. "Seoul City Sue" broadcasts in good English, with a trace of unidentifiable accent. She urges Americans to "return to the corner ice cream store."

WHILE HIS BUDDIES SLEPT, Pfc. Johnnie Long, Byers, Texas, watched for the North Korean foe on the South Korean front.

NORTH KOREAN PRISONERS, after being stripped and searched, were marched to a prison compound behind U.S. lines.

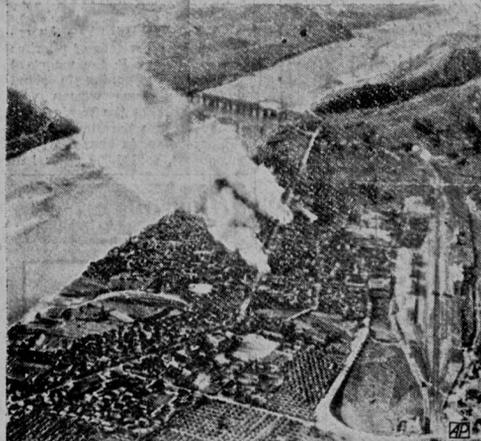

COMFORTING A WOUNDED GI, unidentified, was Chaplain Carl Hundson, Green Bay, Ala., and Cpl. Forrest Dougherty, Akron. Picture was taken at an advanced medical aid station.

BATTLE-GRIMED AND WEARY GIs answered mail call on the fighting front in South Korea. Their attention is riveted on the mail clerk as he sorted the letters from home. Young fighting man at right is a picture of expectancy.

AMERICAN GIs IN KOREA got their first news of how the battle was going on either side by reading the news in American newspapers, newly-arrived from home. Soldiers pictured were taking a break behind the lines.

THIS AIRVIEW SHOWS bridges and Nakdong river at a point about 10 miles southeast of Waegwan, in the area where Reds forced a full division across the river in their drive on the key city of Taegu. Smoke from artillery hits rise from village on east bank in region of Agok. Picture looks north and was taken from a U.S. observation plane.

AWAITING ORDERS to move into combat, troops of the 24th Infantry division, along with other units of the 5th Marine combat team, were lined up along a road at the front lines. The 24th likes to call itself the "Deuce 4." The division is fighting at Pugong-ni.

AN 'I AIN'T TALKING' look was evident on the face of this Korean being questioned by G-2 (intelligence) at an American front line post to determine if he is a Red who infiltrated U.S. lines. He was dressed in U.S. fatigue uniform and had two hand grenades in his possession.

SMOKE RISES SKYWARD from a factory in North Korea after a series of direct hits from rockets and bombs of United States carrier-based fighters and bombers.

DESTRUCTION WAS WROUGHT on this unidentified town between Yechon and Andong on the northern battlefield in Korea. Near here two Communist regiments moved unopposed in a gap 12 miles wide between the South Korean lines.
